Demos Rally Party Members For Rent Fight

House Showdown On Extension Bill Scheduled Today

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP) Anxious Democratic leaders rounded up all available votes for a House showdown today on the bill to continue rent controls another 15 months.

Anticipating a close vote, party chiefs sent telegrams to all House Democrats asking them to be on hand. The House was called to meet an hour earlier than usual.

Controls on 14,350,000 dwelling places will end March 31, unless the rent law is renewed. The need for rent action was given by both northern and southern Democrats in the Senate as a reason for bringing the two-week-old filibuster to a close.

In the House, the big test was expected to come on a Republican demand for another vote on their proposal to continue controls for only 90 days.

On Friday, administration forces barely beat back that limit 178 to 163, after Republicans—with the help of about 30 Democrats—won the first test 165 to 161.

Powerful support developed behind an amendment by Rep. Williams (D-Miss.), to let states, counties and municipalities throw out federal rent controls in their areas any time they please, regardless of how the federal rent administrator feels about it.

But in the House, at least, Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) predicted the administration will come out "all right" when the votes are counted.

Continuation of rent control is the first major item in President Truman's economic program to come to a test in Congress.

The Senate banking subcommittee went on with its own hearings on rent control.

Six Changes Proposed In Education Bill

AUSTIN, March 15. (AP) — Six changes in the proposed Gilmer-Aikin school reorganization bill designed to meet major objections to it were proposed today by Rep. George Nokes of Corsicana.

They will be included in a substitute for Sen. Jim Taylor's Senate-approved measure to be heard at a House Education Committee meeting tomorrow night.

The elective state board of education proposal in Taylor's bill would be increased from nine to 21 members under the Nokes plan. It would add a new section making it clear that the act gives no authority to the board of education, the department of education, or the commissioner of education to close or consolidate any independent or common school district.

Any textbook or bond company would be forbidden to contribute to campaign funds for board of education members, and the new bill would clearly state that the state commissioner of education would be strictly subject to rules and regulations of the board.

The revised bill would also provide that the commissioner of education shall be a citizen of Texas, and that rules and regulations for issuance of teachers' certificates be set up by the board of education.

Byrd said in a statement, "I am reluctantly reached the conclusion that Mr. Wallgren does not possess the administrative qualifications from the standpoint of training, experience and competency to perform the extremely important functions devolving upon him should his appointment be confirmed."

Sen. Cain (R-Wash.) had accused Wallgren of being incompetent and of being "soft" toward Communists. The nominee had denied both charges.

Byrd said he was not swayed in his decision on Wallgren "by any unsupported charges made against him."

But he said he doesn't like the idea that three of Wallgren's Washington state assistants already have been put on the board's payroll at $50 a day.

Byrd said Wallgren had been defeated for re-election as governor in what amounted to a Democratic landslide in Washington.

Jester Comes Out For Omnibus Levy

'TEDDY' ROOSEVELT, JR. HEADED CAUCUS

American Legion Is 30 Years Old Today

PARIS, March 15. — The American Legion is 30 years old today. On March 15, 1919, about 1,000 soldiers of World War One met in the Paris Circus to found the organization which now claims over 4 million members. They were brought together by the late Theodore Roosevelt, Jr.

The old circus building has long since been torn down, but today Paris Post Commander C. Denby Wilkes, Navy veteran of both world wars, will place a wreath at the site.

The name American Legion was adopted on a motion made by Maj. Maurice K. Gordon, inspector general of the 36th Division. He is now a lawyer in Madisonville, Ky.

The late Alexander Woolcott, famous writer and radio's "town crier," opposed the motion. He said the name "American Legion" sounded "too silk-stocking."

Another delegate snapped "I fought beside the French foreign legion, and if that fat medico thinks those babies were sissies he is just nuts."

Woolcott was in the medical corps before he became a sergeant on the Army Newspaper Stars and Stripes.

Other delegates to the founding caucus were Harold Ross, editor of the "New Yorker"; the late John Winant, governor of New Hampshire and ambassador to England during World War II; Richard D. Patterson, radio executive and once assistant secretary of commerce; the late Ogden Mills, later secretary of the Treasury; Devereaux Milburn, famous polo player; the late Dwight F. Davis, later secretary of war; and William J. "Wild Bill" Donovan, head of the O.S.S. in World War II.

Woolcott and Ross, both enlisted men, were "ringers" at the founding caucus. They were smuggled in to represent their former units when Army brass kept doughboys from going to Paris for the meeting.

Roosevelt's original idea had been for each army division to send representatives of officers and enlisted men. Old timers here recall that the Army suddenly needed its enlisted men at their posts very badly. So the caucus was rounded out by letting stars and stripes men, already in Paris, represent former units. Other GI's got to Paris by devious means.

Governor Favors Broad-Based Tax

AUSTIN, March 15. (AP)— Governor Beauford H. Jester said today that if "needs and necessities" require a new tax, he will favor a "broad-based tax of the omnibus variety."

The amount of the levy, he said, should not exceed the amount of the state's actual need.

An all-purpose tax bill was filed in the house yesterday by Representative H. A. (Salty) Hull of Fort Worth. Hull said it was designed "to cover the whole field"—including higher levies on oil, gas and sulphur.

The Governor said he knew of the bill's being introduced but did not indicate whether he thought it followed his proposal.

An all-purpose tax bill was filed in the House yesterday by Rep. H. A. (Salty) Hull of Fort Worth. Hull said it was designed "to cover the whole field"—including higher levies on oil, gas and sulphur.

The governor said he knew of the bill's being introduced but did not indicate whether he thought it followed his proposal.

Jester said he was not in position "as of today" to say for sure what the solution of the state's financial problem would be.

"We won't know exactly where we are until the Senate Finance Committee and the House Appropriations Committee agree on definite figures for the state's big four money bills and single-shot appropriations," he said.

"As you know, I came into office as a no-new-tax governor a little over two years ago.

"I am still not for new taxes unless additional revenues are required for necessities of state government desired by the people and which are supported by public opinion and screened and approved by the legislature."

By necessities, the governor said he did not mean "just bare minimums for some things."

"There are some things in this state we ought to be ashamed of. The penitentiary system is one of them that we've done something about. Eleemosynary institutions are another," he said.

He said he believed Texas and the Legislature would not want the wards of the state to continue to live in firetraps and go without "the right sort of care and medical attention."

The governor said new demands being made on the state government for expansion will also require more money. This demand, he said, developed from three factors: Increasing realization that the state must care for its people's problems or the federal government will do it for them.

"I'm a governor who would prefer to see the state do it for them than to have our people have to ask Washington to do it," he said.

Among other "needs and necessities" listed by the governor were continued support and improvement of the state's educational system, continued road improvement and a "same" social welfare program.

Jester said that he and Lieut. Gov. Allan Shivers, who also suggested an omnibus type tax if a new tax is needed, are in "agreement" on the matter.

DREAM OF UNION NEARS REALITY Study Draft For European Council

LONDON, March 15. (AP)—The dream of a broad European union moves closer to reality today as foreign ministers of the five-nation Western European Union scan a draft constitution for a council of Europe.

Statesmen of Britain, France, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg went into the second day of a two-day meeting on the problems of the North Atlantic pact and the European union.

One problem is the conflict between the date previously set for a founding conference for the 10-nation council of Europe and the date for signing the North Atlantic Treaty.

The members of the Western European Union—or Brussels Alliance—have invited Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Eire and Italy to the founding conference March 28 in London. But the foreign ministers of the Brussels powers expect they will then be on shipboard bound for the Atlantic Pact signing in Washington.

They will have to decide whether to postpone the London meeting or turn it into a meeting of ambassadors instead of foreign ministers.

The Western European Union is a defensive, as well as a social and cultural alliance.

The Council of Europe would be strictly social and cultural at the start. It would consist of a committee of ministers with limited powers, corresponding to a cabinet, and a consultative body with merely advisory functions, corresponding to a parliament.

The meeting here has been secret but a communique will be issued tonight after the windup of the meeting.

Fruit Trees Face Icy Blitz

Winter chattered its teeth over blooming fruit trees today on the eve of spring's arrival.

While a high pressure area to the north forced in frigid air, orchardists in this vicinity eyed the thermometer and crossed their fingers in the face of a weather bureau forecast of 27 degrees by Wednesday morning.

G. A. McGahan, in charge of the weather bureau, said there was not much that could be done other than to cross fingers and hope. Winds might be of sufficient velocity to prevent frosting. He doubted the overcast would be sufficient to forestall frost. Warmer weather was in prospect for Wednesday afternoon.

The bottom fell out of the thermometer Tuesday morning. The minimum reading at 6:30 a. m. was 40 degrees. At noon it was 36, and had been one degree lower than that. Wind was out of the northeast and there was a possibility that the temperature would get down low during the night and stay below freezing for several hours—something that would deal fruit prospects a sore blow.

All this was on the eve of the day on which Big Spring was to come into balance between hours of sunlight and dark. Today sun sets at 6:54 p. m. and tomorrow it rises at 6:55 a. m. The sunset was then to move up a minute. Vernal equinox is not until March 21, but the sunlight balance may be taken as a spring marker. Old Man Winter apparently doesn't believe in it.

Senate Urged To Act Or Quit In Filibuster Peace Efforts

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP) — Sen. Lucas (D-Ill.) urged the Senate today to "fish or cut bait"—act or quit—in efforts to compromise a filibuster pointed at President Truman's civil rights program.

The Democratic leader told reporters he thinks there is "a fair chance" to win majority Senate approval of a proposal under which two-thirds of those voting could gag debate on all matters except proposed rules changes.

Earlier, in a session ending at 1:25 this morning, Central Standard Time, Lucas told his colleagues the time has come either to agree to a change in rules, which southern senators are fighting, or to lay the whole thing aside to take up rent control and other legislation.

Sen. Russell (D-Ga.), leading the southern Democrats who have tied up the Senate since Feb. 28, held out "very faint hope" for any compromise acceptable to his group.

However, Sen. Wherry of Nebraska, the GOP floor leader, said he thinks there still is a possibility of getting all factions together.

Wherry maneuvered through a weary day yesterday for a proposal under which the affirmative vote of two-thirds of the senate's membership—64 of 96—could halt debate on all business except rules changes.

Youth Admits Part In Robbery Of Liquor Store Here

Sheriff Bob Wolf returned here late yesterday with a 16-year-old Lubbock youth who signed a state lookout to the effect he served as lookout in the robbery of Bill's Liquor Store four miles north of Big Spring one night last week.

He involved four other Lubbock men, ranging in age from 18 to 21 years. They are James B. Jackson, Chester Wayne Morgan, Robert Lee Davis and Dwain McCreeary, all of whom have already been charged with car theft in Amarillo.

Local authorities said the four would be tried in Amarillo before being brought here.

Jackson dictated a statement to Lubbock authorities and then signed it, admitting he was in the party which stole a vehicle belonging to Johnnie Griffin here and then proceeded to the liquor store where they took merchandise and liquor valued at $1,000. He involved the others.

Two pistols, a watch, a black-jack, a key ring and sun glasses taken in the package store burglary was recovered in Amarillo and returned here.

Jackson lamented the liquor was later stolen from them.

TRUMAN'S NOMINATION LOSES Wallgren Rejected By Senate Group

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP)—The Senate Armed Services Committee today rejected President Truman's nomination of Sen. Wallgren to be chairman of the National Security Resources Board.

In advance of that action, Sen. Byrd (D-Va.) issued a statement saying that he is opposed to having Wallgren, former Washington governor, take over a post carrying "tremendous responsibilities."

"I have reluctantly reached the conclusion that Mr. Wallgren does not possess the administrative qualifications from the standpoint of training, experience and competency to perform the extremely important functions devolving upon him should his appointment be confirmed."

Sen. Cain (R-Wash.) had accused Wallgren of being incompetent and of being "soft" toward Communists. The nominee had denied both charges.

NEW AEC PROJECT TO PRODUCE MOBILE PLANTS

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP) — Atom-powered ships and submarines may be only five or six years away from reality.

Sen. McMahon (D-Conn.) announced yesterday that the Atomic Energy Commission is starting a huge new atomic project which may produce mobile atomic power plants within that time.

The chairman of the Senate House Atomic Energy Committee gave reporters these facts after a summed Westinghouse will continue these experiments at the new project.

The commission has made no final decision, McMahon said, on where the project will be located. Idaho has been mentioned as a possibility.

The selection of a site will depend on such factors as water supply, climate, population and security, McMahon said.

McMahon said meeting with Chairman David L. Lilienthal and other commission officials and engineers:

1. The multi-million dollar project will include new atomic reactors for stepped-up experiments in the use of peacetime atomic power and improvements in atomic weapons.

2. It will be located at one of three possible sites in a western state.

3. The project eventually will be about the size of the Hanford Wash., atomic development and

FEW STATISTICS ON THIS HAPPY DAY

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP) — Income-tax day note: The government's tax collections for last year, stacked in 11,000 bills, would make a pile 14,652 feet high.

That, said Rep. Mack (R-Wash.) respectively, would be "about 2 1/2 miles high, or 26 times as tall as the Washington Monument."

Mack prepared this interesting statistic in observance of the fact that this is the last day for tax payments. If you made over $600 in 1948 and don't file a return by tonight you're subject to a penalty of 25 per cent of the tax.

The revenue bureau said most taxpayers have paid up quickly in the expectation of getting refunds, but a lot of people always come puffing in on the last day.

Texan Faces 80 Years In Slaying

SAN ANTONIO, March 15. (AP) — Jack Hussung, 35, of San Antonio, faces 80 years in prison for the slaying of Master Sgt. Olen A. Jones, of Green, Iowa.

Jones, 38, a criminal investigator for the Fourth army, was killed last Dec. 21.

Hussung entered a plea of guilty in a district court trial yesterday. At the time of the pistol slaying officers said Hussung had been AWOL from Kingsbridge Veterans Hospital in the Bronx, N. Y., for more than a year.

The sergeant's body was found the morning of Dec. 22.

Ladies Club And P-TA Meetings Held At Lomax, New Song Books Ordered

LOMAX, March 14 (Sp1)—Mrs. Harrol Warron, Mrs. Evelyn Atkins and Mrs. L. A. Newman directed the program at the meeting of the Lomax Ladies club in the home of Mrs. Doris Blissard Friday afternoon.

Mrs. Warron discussed the various ways to plan a garden and to prepare the soil. She spoke on irrigation and drainage and the need for cultivation. Mrs. Atkins presented an outline of flowers and shrubs and the need for them as decoration. Mrs. Newman gave a discussion of the Irish potato. She illustrated how it would grow and the care it would require.

Mrs. Roy Russell presided during the business session and Mrs. Blissard conducted the game session.

St. Patrick's Day decorations were used in the reception rooms and in the refreshments. Secret pal names were exchanged.

Mrs. L. A. Newman will act as hostess at the next meeting of the club in April.

The local Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a 42 party in the school Friday evening. The public is invited. Members of the P-TA will meet in regular session Friday, March 18. Officers will be elected at the meeting. The program theme to be discussed will be "The Training of the Child."

A large crowd attended the singing at the church Sunday evening. New song books were ordered and are expected to arrive March 27.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS
 The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barocrate DOES take effect. It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no laxative. Barocrate, the original grapefruit taste, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.
 Here is proof
 Here is what Mrs. E. P. Bishop, Route 3, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:
 "I am very glad to endorse Barocrate, as please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but I looked and felt better in every way."
 "I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barocrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."
 At all druggists
 If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barocrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoons twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Here's a NEW party-line customer!

This little fellow may be enjoying the protection of a telephone because you are sharing telephone service with his family or some other family on a party line.

Were it not for party lines, thousands of people—now being served—would still be waiting for telephones despite all the effort we've been able to put into the manufacture and installation of new telephone equipment.

If you are on a party line, you'll find courtesy and neighborly co-operation pay big dividends in better service. A party-liner who is thoughtful of the other fellow may well find that the other fellow will be thoughtful of him.

Sooners Protest Processing Tax

TULSA, Okla., March 15. (AP)—A one-cent processing tax on every gallon of gasoline refined in Oklahoma would bring "industrial chaos" to the state, in the opinion of Sooner refiners.

Protesting a bill before the State House of Representatives proposing such a levy, refiners say they "cannot meet competition outside" if they must pay the state the extra penny per gallon.

The purpose of the fiesta will be to increase interest in the Spanish language and the customs of Latin American neighbors.

MOTHER FACES HEARING IN NEGLECT CASE

Held Captive 10 Years, Boy Finds World New, Strange

BOSTON, March 15. (AP)—Fourteen-year-old Gerald Sullivan—described by police as a "captive love child" for 10 years—clasped to his heart everything that came near him today.

The simplest things—a cat, a dog, and objects familiar to every child—were strange and dear to Gerald.

He fondled the cat, which he at first identified as "a baby," called for heaps of ice cream, and looked starry-eyed at a baseball and bat.

Police Capt. Francis W. Russell quoted the mother, Mrs. Anne F. Sullivan, 45, as saying the boy was illegitimate.

She told authorities, Russell said, that the child had been held in a dungeon-like room for a decade to hide her "secret sin."

She pleaded guilty to a charge of neglect in district court yesterday and was held on $2,000 bond for a hearing tomorrow.

Police quoted the mother as saying she had "hoped to keep it a secret until God might take the child, so it wouldn't bring disgrace on my other children."

But the other children—two Marine sons and a young daughter—were unaware of the boy's real identity. Even neighbors did not know of the child's existence.

The eldest—a 20-year-old corporal—told police: "We never knew who the boy was. We dared not ask."

The child lived in a bare room furnished only with a cot. He left it on rare occasions—and then only to go to one of the adjoining rooms with his eldest brother.

He said he "took pity" on the child.

The youngster was picked up Sunday in an alley near his home. He was wearing tatters of two girls' dresses. His long hair fell over his shoulders. He was barefooted.

The youngster escaped from the room in an unguarded moment. Police said he was "bright and inquisitive," despite his long imprisonment.

He could talk well enough to make himself understood.

"How did you learn to talk and understand?" Police asked him.

"By pressing my ear to the door

"WILD BOY" CLOTHED IN RAGS—Barefoot and clothed only in two torn dresses, 14-year-old Gerald Sullivan stands in the Boston police station after his escape from a locked room where police said his mother had kept him prisoner for ten years because she wanted to "keep her sin a secret." Police Captain Francis W. Russell quoted the boy's mother, Mrs. Anne F. Sullivan, 45, as saying the boy was illegitimate. The boy was found playing in the streets. and listening to others talk," he replied.

He told the seasons of the year by looking through a small slit in the bolted window of his room.

"I could see the top of trees from my window and when there were leaves and birds I knew it was summer.

"Then when it snowed and trees had no leaves, I knew it was winter."

He didn't know whether he was a boy or girl until police explained to him that he was a boy. It didn't seem to make much difference to Gerald.

The youngster played spiritedly today with other children in the home to which he was assigned.

Police said the child was conceived while Mrs. Sullivan was separated from her husband.

Texas Congressmen Hit Price Supports

WASHINGTON, March 15. (AP)—Texas congressmen who represent large areas producing grain sorghums criticized the price support program announced yesterday by the agriculture Department.

Cooperation By Citizens Can End An Offensive Practice

Howard county's commissioners court has bristled over the practice of a few thoughtless individuals and a few others who are downright anti-social.

The practice is that of dumping trash, tree cuttings and other debris in rural roadways. The court also indicated that the state highway department is wrought up over this uncouth business.

Doubtless the city is of similar mind, and particularly a few citizens who suffer the indignation and expense of having other people use their property for a dumping ground. To mention one by name, Fox Stripling had to go to considerable trouble and expense in tidying property between the West Ward school and Park Hill addition. There are other parcels which have suffered from this condition.

The city has a perfectly adequate dumping ground. It is far enough removed from the highway (US 80 east) to be out of sight and near enough to be handy to the city. Sanitation and pride demand that it be utilized as the disposal point for trash and other refuse.

Surely none who bothers to read editorials would be guilty of offense against civic and legal regulations. Thus, we propose that you can be of help in this campaign if you happen to chance upon anyone engaging in these practices, why not be a participating citizen to the extent of contacting authorities and reporting the incident? It is manifestly impossible for officers to be everywhere at once, and it is all too easy for individuals to dodge authorities. It is vastly more difficult to dodge the entire population, however. The sooner those who commit this breach of good taste learn it is too expensive, the sooner it will cease.

Memories Of Another Day Rise To Plague Pool Hall Revival

The author of a measure to legalize pool halls has asked that his bill be withdrawn because of a heatedly contested amendment which would have permitted beer to be sold in and on the same premises.

Happily, this probably means that there will be no effort made to press the measure with the amendment. Without it, the bill possesses some merit, although it may be vigorously debated.

Pool or billiards fell into disrepute many years ago because of the character of the establishments and many of those who frequented them. Actually, there was and is nothing wrong with the game itself, for it calls for considerable skill. It is fascinating recreation just the same as golf, tennis or other sports.

Perhaps some of the difficulty resulted from the inclination of many to utilize the halls as a loafing place. It always has been true that an idle mind is the devil's workshop. The practice of blinding the fronts to shield participants from prying eyes made halls a convenient place to loaf, and at the same time created the exterior appearance that a den of iniquity lurked behind.

Of course, there have been ways to satisfy the law. Clubs and associations have been formed. Many people have billiard tables in their playrooms, and they and their friends enjoy matching skill.

Whether public billiard facilities will find acceptance at the hands of the legislature remains to be seen, for sins of another era are being visited currently. With the alcoholic beverage provision apparently doomed, the measure has a somewhat better chance than with it.

U. S. Awaits Release Of Details On North Atlantic Defense

WASHINGTON, (AP)—WE'LL LEARN THE details of the Atlantic Pact soon, maybe Friday, from the State Department.

The pact is a military alliance worked out by the United States and other nations which border on or near the North Atlantic.

It has a double purpose: To make the allies so militarily strong that they not only can withstand an attack from Russia but even discourage one from starting.

(Communists claim its real purpose is to get ready for an attack on Russia.) The pact will not become a fact at all unless the U. S. Senate approves by a two-thirds vote. That may take months.

DETAILS ON THE PACT HAVE BEEN kept pretty secret. When they are released this week, they'll open a floodgate for news on the pact, interpretations, hair-splitting on the meaning of words in the pact, Senate debate, editorials, radio discussions.

Talks on the pact began last summer between the U. S., Canada, Britain, France, Belgium, Holland, and Luxembourg, Norway and Denmark joined the conversations later. Iceland, Portugal, and Italy may come in.

The pact is a treaty. Since the Senate must approve any treaties in which we take part, that's why the pact is not a fact unless, and until, the Senate agrees.

It's expected to in this case, but not before plenty of argument, because all those signing the treaty agree to help each other out in case of attack.

The 864 question, for the Senate, is now to help out.

If Russia attacks any of the allies, do we throw our armed forces into battle at once?

Or do we help out in some other way? But what other way is worth a dime if an ally is attacked?

AND THERE'S THE QUESTION OF arms? Do we start pouring arms into allies as soon as the pact is approved, so they can be prepared for any attack?

Unless the allies are strongly armed, would a piece of paper called a "pact" have any meaning for Russia. Her armies could overrun the unarmed pact-signers in no time.

Some friends of the pact argue this: Our joining—which means Russia would know she'd have to face us if she attacked our allies—would deter her from attacking.

They consider that the central, and most important, part of the pact.

All this is a long step from our old-time neutrality which kept us out of World Wars I and II so long.

But we've been moving steadily in this direction since the end of World War II. We've joined the United Nations, set up the Marshall Plan to help western Europe, thrown help and money into Greece and Turkey under the Truman plan to stop Russia, and have occupation troops in Germany, Austria, Trieste, Japan, and Korea.

If You're Planning On Painting House Yourself—Think Again!

NEW YORK, (AP)—PLANNING TO HELP the little woman with her spring house-cleaning chores?

Well, if you decide to save money by doing the painting yourself, better think twice. That is the advice of Fuzzy Macaskill, who had the same idea, too.

Fuzzy is a good friend of mine, a kind, generous man with a heart of pure gold—and five big thumbs on each hand.

The other day he had a week's vacation coming. He decided it'd be money in pocket if he spent the week repainting his home. With brush and can he attacked the kitchen and turned it a violent yellow.

SOMEHOW THE PAINT SEEMED TO get yellow near the bottom of the can. His wife took a look in the morning and said:

"I don't feel well, dear. I think I'll go over to daughter's and stay with her for the rest of the week."

Fuzzy, so paint-spotted he looked like a patch of dandelions, thought that would be fine. It would leave him free to assault the living room, bath, and front porch. The rest of the house wasn't in need of fresh paint.

At this point Fuzzy was still in love with his work. He had just finished daubing the living room when a neighbor called: "Your dog, Skippy, just ran up the street."

Fuzzy caught the dog after a two-block run. When he got Skippy in the house, he tried to chase him upstairs. Skippy thought it was a great game. He ricocheted off the newly painted living room walls several times.

THE BATHROOM CAME NEXT. FUZZY was tiring. He took naps between times as he painted the walls and ceiling. The result: three tones of an original color.

Absent-mindedly Fuzzy sat down on a toilet seat which he had trimmed in black enamel. It hadn't dried.

Fuzzy gazed around. He put away his paint brush in disgust.

"I am expecting my wife back any day now," said Fuzzy. "And there's a greeting for her as soon as she opens the door. I tacked up a sign that says:

"To Hell With The Front Porch."

Indiscriminate Pensioning Of Solons May Hurt Those Who Need Money

WASHINGTON — The list is supposed to be secret, but 39 former senators and congressmen are drawing retirement pay from the government. Several are independently wealthy; two have prison sentences hanging over their heads. Many others fully deserve pensions for their long service to their country. However, the greed of those who don't deserve pensions is likely to hurt those who do.

Only eligibility requirements are that the applicant must be at least 62 years old and have 6 years' service in Congress. The amount he can draw is figured at 2 per cent of his average salary, multiplied by the number of years he served. The average payment is $3,238 annually, but runs as high as $6,500.

Although the law went into effect only two years ago, these retirement benefits are retroactive. Two of the first to apply for the handout were former Congressmen Andrew May of Kentucky and James Curley of Massachusetts, whose 16th palms had already got both of them prison sentences. May was convicted of embezzlement and is waiting to serve a term behind bars. Curley served five months of a prison sentence for mail fraud, before it was commuted by President Truman. Now mayor of Boston, he is drawing retirement pay along with his mayor's salary—although he barely qualified for a pension with only six years of congressional service.

IN REVERSE Another who no sooner got voted out of Congress than he signed up for retirement pay is Minnesota's ex-Congressman Harold Knutson. A power in the 80th Congress, he fought brusquely against social benefits for others, and helped bar about 700,000 traveling salesmen from social security.

This is also true of Colorado's Robert Rockwell and Michigan's Bartel Jonkmann — both decorated veterans of the 80th Congress. Rockwell was the darling of the power lobby, and Jonkmann squeezed all he could get out of the government after the election by flying to South America as a lame-duck congressman — at the taxpayers' expense. They are now drawing pensions.

Also on the retirement list are former Senators Joe Guffey of Pennsylvania, Burton Wheeler of Montana, James Tunell of Delaware, Jim Mead of New York, George Radcliffe of Maryland, Peter Gerry of Rhode Island, a millionaire, Henrik Shipstead of Minnesota, and Raymond Willis of Indiana. The first five voted for social security for others so are not inconsistent today.

Some of the ex-congressmen, who also receive monthly checks from the government are: William Pittenger of Minnesota, Clarence Lea of California, J. Roland Kinzer of Pennsylvania, Butler Hare of South Carolina, James Wolfenden of Pennsylvania, Fritz Lanham of Texas, Hutton Summers of Texas, Hermann Koptelmann of Connecticut, Malcolm Tarver of Georgia, William Thom of Ohio, John Folger of North Carolina and Edward McCown of Ohio.

Also there are former Congressmen Louis Ludlow of Indiana,

George Gillie of Indiana, and C. Jasper Bell of Missouri.

FARM TELEPHONES While America is shooting through the air in jet planes and sitting on a nest egg of atomic bombs, many farmers a few miles off the beaten track can't get so much as a goose-necked, country telephone.

The amazing fact is that, by the last count, the U. S. A. had fewer rural phones in 1945 than in 1920.

To remedy this, President Truman had made up his mind to appeal for more phones for the farms in his state of the union message — that is, until some of the boys in the White House talked him out of it. Now, without any push from the White House, a few senators and congressmen are trying to work out a bill to increase telephone service to farms.

The blunt truth is that those in most urgent need of phones can't get them. Most farmers still have to hitch up a horse or wheel out the truck to get a message to their neighbors. In case of illness or disaster, they are cut off without any rapid means of communication.

Back in 1920, 38.7 per cent of American farms were linked with telephones. Then the depression hit, farmers couldn't pay their bills, and, by 1940, the percentage of rural telephones dropped to 25 per cent. This started picking up during the war until it reached 31.8 per cent in 1945, the last official count.

Telephone companies now boast that a record of 45 per cent of American farms have telephone service. This does not agree with the Agriculture Department's estimate, which is 42.2 per cent for 1949, or just a shade only what it was 30 years ago. In actual numbers, the Agriculture Department estimates there are still less phones on farms than in 1920. The department expects 2,473,000 farms will have phones this year — 25,493 less than in 1920. The reason for the difference in percentage is that America has fewer farms now than 30 years ago.

At best, rural telephone service is poor, the equipment antiquated. In some places, telephone lines do double duty as fence wire. For the most part, rural areas are served by hundreds of small, poorly staffed, independent companies, and co-operatives.

Note — State by state, the percentage of farms having telephone service ranges from 3.7 per cent in Mississippi to 79.3 per cent in Iowa.

PRICE FIXING The Justice Department is investigating a significant price-fixing scandal in Salt Lake City involving the Uptown Appliance and Radio Co. Brian Badger, president of the firm, has filed a $500,000 lawsuit, charging that he was forced out of business for refusing to take part in an illegal price-fixing scheme.

Losing Temper In Moderation Easier To Preach Than Practice

"All anger is the impulse to kill in self-defense. There are no different types of anger."

If you're guilty of losing your temper on occasions, and who isn't, this definition of anger may seem a little hard, but it's the meaning we found while looking through the current issue of a popular magazine.

Think if over for a minute, it may not be so hard to believe. A cave man walks down a path and meets an enemy. What does he do? If he doesn't turn coward and turn around and run, he will probably pick up the nearest club and let the enemy have it right between the eyes, the hard way.

The modern business man walks down the street, he sees one of his "enemies" and not having a club handy and fearing the cop on the corner, he just looks at the enemy, but if looks could kill, his enemy might be dead. We'd be willing to bet he would.

Having a head of red hair, yours truly has been told, like so many others with other colors of hair, to hold that temper. But by reading this article, we found that the best way to control anger is not to hold it and get others nor to start slugging it out, but to find some way of expressing your feelings without hurting anyone in anyway. Go ahead and blow your top, but do it tactfully and with dignity.

There's just one thing that worries us about this. How can a temper be a temper if it's dignified and tactful?

All of us see people do rather silly and foolish things every day because of their temper. We lose our own sometimes. Whether the loss is with or without cause, we're mighty glad to know that there's a reason for temper. It does come in mighty handy because it gives us the ability to say and do things in our own behalf, to defend ourselves. It's temper that gives us the courage to "toot our own horn" a little now and then.

It may be a harmful weapon at times, but it is also a valuable one.—MILDRED YOUNG

British Socialist Regime Expects To Be Returned To Power In 1950

BRITAIN'S FIRST SOCIALIST GOVERNMENT has been favored with so many smiles by fortune that the party now feels able to claim it will be returned to power in the general election scheduled for next year.

As things stand it would be difficult to controvert this prediction. Certainly it's clear that John Bull's famous Winston Churchill will have to perform the hat trick if he makes a come-back and regains the prime ministership for the Conservative Party.

The Socialists felt they had turned the corner a fortnight ago when they won the by-election in the strategic constituency of South Hammersmith, London, and thus retained the seat in parliament. This election was considered so vital that Churchill went all-out in campaigning for the Conservative candidate.

THIS WAS THE 31ST SEAT THE SOCIALISTS had defended successfully since they defeated the Conservative Party under Churchill as the war was ending. Now they have added another to this formidable list by capturing the St. Pancras district of London. This long winning streak is a record for Britain.

Francis Williams, former public relations adviser to Prime Minister Attlee, told some of us here in New York the other day that the by election figures make it practically certain that Labor (the Socialists) will be returned in the next general election. He thought that perhaps the party would have a slightly reduced majority, but that it would be large enough for working operations.

Williams is a shrewd observer and knows his British politics. I first met him while visiting Britain in 1945, shortly after the Socialists came to power. He then was adviser to the prime minister, with whom I had a long conversation. During that talk Mr. Attlee told one of his plans for Socialism.

IT IS WORTHY OF NOTE, BY THE way, that the program which Attlee then outlined to me has been followed closely. In other words, the Socialists knew what they were shooting for.

That program, of course, has represented a tremendous turnover for England, since a very considerable degree of nationalization has been carried out.

So the public has had a comprehensive sample of Socialist wares. And the government figures that, since a majority of the voters continue to express approval in by-elections, they must be willing to carry on.

THE REAFFIRMED ADHERENCE OF American Communist leaders to the Moscow axis doesn't alter, but merely confirms, the party's attitude towards the U. S. government. They owe allegiance first to Russia.

There's really only one unusual thing about the statement issued on behalf of William Z. Foster, national committee chairman, and Eugene Dennis, general secretary. This is that both already are under federal charges of conspiracy to advocate forcible overthrow of the U. S. government.

THEIR DECLARATION THEREFORE shows daring and vast determination.

The pronouncement by Foster and Dennis lines them up with the leaders of several European Communist parties who clearly have been acting in concert. Similar statements have been made by Maurice Thorez, secretary general of the French Communist party; Palmiro Togliatti, Italian Red leader; Harry Pollitt, general secretary of the British Communist party; and the German and the Austrian Communist parties. Such unified action has led observers to the conclusion that the various parties were acting under directions from Moscow.

Coincident with this flood of Red pledges, the Paris Communist publication France Nouvelle has published a month-old speech by Thorez advising his followers what to do in case of war. He quoted the following statement made by Lenin in 1907:

"IN CASE WAR SHOULD BREAK OUT, Socialists have the duty of interfering to end it promptly and to take advantage with all their strength of the economic and political crises created by war to stir up as many people as possible and bring on the end of capitalist domination."

This, of course, is one of the cardinal tenets of the Bolshevik creed. Whenever there is trouble, Communism is to capitalize it by strong-arm methods. Obviously should Russia, mother of Communism, find herself at war, the Communists of all countries would be expected immediately to adopt the attitude best suited to serve Moscow's interests.

Benny Rubin Acts Out Gags, He Also Is A Fancy Dancer

NEW YORK—Benny Rubin doesn't just tell gags; he performs them. With his moon face and his infinite number of dialects, he is the type of comedian who could tell a Cockney joke in Kiev and make the Russians laugh. He acts out a joke with the skill and fervor of a John Barrymore playing Hamlet.

Since the days when he was performing at Broadway's Palace Theater when it was the royal palace of vaudeville and later, in pictures, he has been spinning his jokes to delighted audiences.

The other night, unintentionally, this department made a change in Rubin's routine which had become as much a trademark for himself as is Al Jolson's routine of getting down on one knee to sing "Mammy." Preparing an article concerning the versatility of comedians, I called Rubin and asked if he was versatile if he could do anything other than make people laugh.

"I can dance," Rubin said, and he was very serious. "I really am a terrific dancer. But I seldom do dancing anymore because it upsets my laugh routine."

"Are you a Fred Astaire or Anna Pavlova?"

"You come down tonight and I'll prove one or the other," he answered.

So, the other night I stopped in for a look-see at Billy Rose's "Violins Over Broadway" revue at the Diamond Horseshoe and there was Rubin telling his gags. Very funny, but no dancing.

Then he stopped his gags and spoke to the audience.

"There is a cynic, a critic, in the house who does not believe that I can dance," he said. "He's been seeing me on the stage for twenty years. And now, after twenty years, I've got to prove that I can dance."

Benny Rubin is the best soft shoe dancer I've ever seen in show business—and I was fortunate enough to have seen George M. Cohan do his soft shoe dance. I had always considered Cohan the No. 1 man in a pair of soft shoes, but I think he would endorse my nomination today of Rubin for No. 1 in this particular art.

While watching Rubin, I got to thinking about a remark that his producer, Master Rose, once made. Rose wanted to know why a hooper could earn more in twenty minutes of dancing than a fine artist could earn in twenty hours or twenty days.

Well, in a brief dance—only as long as it would require you to play a popular song—Benny Rubin etched 25 years of Broadway show business in as eloquent and artistic terms as Degas could get into one of his own beautiful and all-inclusive portraits of a ballet dancer. That's about as much as any artist could hope to do.

Waterfront Blaze
Destroys Big Dock

OAKLAND, Calif., March 15. (AP)—A raging waterfront fire today destroyed the Army's largest West Coast dock and warehouse. Flames shot 700 feet into the air as the 2,000 foot pier in Oakland's outer harbor went up. Two ships warped alongside were damaged before they were towed to safety. Adjacent warehouses and the entire Oakland industrial waterfront were threatened for several hours by the spectacular blaze.

Court Refuses To Order Company
To Hire Man Back

DALLAS, March 15. (AP)—A federal court here refused to order the Texas State Life Insurance Co. to rehire Sebe J. Houghton, Jr., who had left the company for Army service, as its president. Judge William H. Atwell yesterday awarded Houghton $4,800, one year's salary, but refused to order his reinstatement. Houghton brought the suit under the Selective Service Act. He left the company for Army duty in the spring of 1942. He asked for his job back in the spring of 1946. In October of 1946 in the original suit Judge Atwell said the company didn't have to rehire Houghton because his job was an elective one. Houghton appealed and the Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans ordered a new trial and the U. S. Supreme Court also ordered a new trial on the company appeal of the circuit court decision.

O'DWYER FOE TESTIFIES BEFORE GRAND JURY

Ryan Says Informants Risking Lives In Wiretapping Mystery

NEW YORK, March 15. (AP)—Multi-millionaire Clendena J. Ryan, a key figure in the city's political wiretapping mystery, says 100 men are risking their lives to slip out information on Mayor William O'Dwyer's administration. Ryan, bitter foe of the mayor, claims to be getting information from "right in the middle of the O'Dwyer camp." His attorney, John G. Broady, is gathering the data, Ryan told newsmen late yesterday. And the undercover informants are risking the safety of their families as well as their own lives to provide it, Ryan declared. Ryan said he told a special grand jury yesterday about the undercover work, to explain why Broady did not answer a subpoena. Broady declined to waive immunity and appear before the grand jury as it opened a probe of an alleged plot to tap the telephone wires of Mayor O'Dwyer and other high city officials. Ryan, who has been steaming up a fusion movement to oppose the Democratic mayor if he runs for re-election next fall, he denied being involved in wiretapping—a felony in New York if done without a court order. Ryan said early today he had Charles M. Stoffers—long assigned to city hall—last night "was demoted and therefore was forced to resign, being accused of having tipped off decent citizens of having O'Dwyer's behavior." Kenneth Ryan, a former city detective and no relation of Clendena Ryan, was charged formally yesterday with tapping the home telephone wire of Hugo E. Rogers, Manhattan borough president and leader of Tammany Hall. Also, the former detective was indicted yesterday on a charge of fleeing from police custody after being picked up as a suspected wire-tapper. Pleading innocent to the escape charge, he was released on $7,500 bail for hearing March 28. Kenneth Ryan had surrendered earlier yesterday, after a wide-spread search for him following his disappearance through a city hall washroom window early Saturday during a lull in questioning by the mayor and high police officials.

STATE TO REST CASE IN MURDER TRIAL OF FORMER POLICE CHIEF

DALLAS, March 14. (AP)—The state expected to rest its case today in the murder trial of former Dallas Police Chief Robert L. Jones, 32. Defense attorneys said they plan to call approximately 30 witnesses. Jones is on trial for the fatal shooting of his son-in-law, George A. Vadere, last year. The former officer entered a plea of innocent when the trial began yesterday. Taking of testimony followed a week of careful juror selection. The state qualified jurors for the death penalty and the defense qualified jurors for the law of self defense. In first day testimony the state sought to impeach testimony of its first witness, Judge Robert A. Hall overruled the state's motion after a consultation in his chambers with state and defense attorneys. A state reporter was also present.

Kentuckian Held In Lubbock On Bank Theft Charge

LUBBOCK, March 15. (AP)—A man who identified himself as William Moore of Garrett, Ky., was in jail here last night charged with theft over $50 from a bank. His arrest followed loss of $250 in $5 bills from the Citizens National Bank here. A man presented a check for payment at the tellers window yesterday afternoon. The teller left to check the account and the man grabbed a stack of fifty $5 bills. He fled on foot outdistancing pursuers. He also broke away from two persons. The charged man was arrested about 8 o'clock last night in Ralls, about 30 miles from Lubbock.

More Indictments In Check Swindle

FRANKLIN, March 15. (AP)—Six more indictments stemming from the $81,000 worthless check swindle of the Franklin First State Bank are on the record against S. B. Jones, Hearne, Tex., insurance man. The six new indictments were returned yesterday. Jones was first indicted Feb. 21. County Atty. Bill Balmos at that time said three indictments had been returned against Jones in connection with the bank swindle. The prosecutor said two of the indictments were under the state hot check law and the third on theft. Harry Henry of Hearne, foreman of the Robertson County grand jury, signed the six new indictments charging "swindling by worthless check."

Bank Robber Faces New Indictments

SAN ANTONIO, March 15. (AP)—Ollie Otto Prince, convicted bank robber from Corsicana, faces two new indictments. A San Antonio grand jury returned the indictments yesterday. One charges Prince with robbery of the Malone State Bank in October of 1948. The other charges him with entering the First National Bank in Mountcalm in November of 1946 "with intent to commit a felony." Nearly $16,000 was lost in the Malone robbery.

The NEW 54 COTTON PLANTING SEED NOW AVAILABLE
The NEW Paymaster "54" is now available for the 1949 planting season—ready for farmers who want more profit from Cotton. This quick-maturing, high-yielding, better-staple-producing planting seed answers the demand for a variety that is tested and proved for West Texas growers. It is the result of scientific selection and painstaking experiments to develop a seed that will produce more money per acre planted.
Here's why the NEW Paymaster "54" is a money-making Cotton...
• EARLY MATURITY
Of 25 varieties tested recently... "54" was first in percentage of crop harvested in a four-month period.
• HIGH YIELD
In this same test, "54" was third among all varieties in yield per acre.
• BETTER STAPLE
"54" ran 1 1/16" to 1 inch throughout West Texas, assuring a better price.
• TESTED FOR DRY LAND
"54" has been proved successful for dry land farming as well as for irrigated Plains areas.
Be among those profit-minded farmers who demand a money-making Cotton planting seed—the NEW "54", order your supply of the improved, state-registered "54" NOW.
IT PAYS TO PLANT PAYMASTER "54"
Sold through your ginners, your seed dealer, all branches of the Western Cotton Oil Co., and at Lockview Farm, Plainview, Texas.

Kentucky, St. Louis Lose In First Round NIT Games

Cats Stunned By Loyola

NEW YORK, March 15 (AP)—Four outsiders who staged perhaps the greatest mass expulsion of favorites in the history of basketball will square off Thursday night in the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament.

Loyola of Chicago will meet Bradley University and Bowling Green of Ohio will face San Francisco in an all-Cinderella team lineup at Madison Square Garden.

Gone are Kentucky, the nation's No. 1 college quietest acclaimed in some quarters as the best ever; Defending Champion St. Louis University and the two other seeded entries—Utah, No. 3, and Western Kentucky, No. 4.

They went out in one giant sweep of the underdogs' broom in a matinee and evening quarter-final session yesterday that left huge Garden turnouts gasping for air.

Two of the survivors are clubs that got into the tournament on rain checks when the committee decided to pick an oversized field—Loyola and Bowling Green.

It was these two teams which knocked over the tournament's top-ranked powers—Kentucky and St. Louis, figured to carry an old rivalry into Saturday's final.

Loyola stunned the Kentucky Wildcats with a great surge in the final minutes, 67 to 56. Bowling Green, big and fast, manhandled a silk-smooth St. Louis, 80 to 74.

Oilers May Play Sunday, Mar. 27

FORSAN, March 15—The Forsan Oilers are in the midst of their second week of baseball drills under the watchful eye of Manager Wes Robertson.

Members of the Tri-County league, which doesn't begin operations until Sunday, April 17, the Oilers will play at least three practice games before the season gets underway.

The South Howard county team is tentatively set to meet Howard County Junior college here a week from Sunday, April 17, Robertson takes his boys to Ozona for a game with that Trans-Pecos league team. Indications are they'll play Texas here April 10.

Robertson will have a pitching staff composed of nothing but Southpaws. Newcomer to the staff this year is Lefty Shelton, a former professional. Lefty McCabe and Lefty Barnett will also be available for mound duty. McCabe and Barnett can both play other positions.

Work is continuing on the Forsan diamond, which may become the finest playing field in the league.

Webber Stops Hoosier Funk

Vic Webber of Plainview won a host of new friends at the local scrapple palace last night when he fought an uphill battle to defeat rugged Dory Funk, Hammond, Ind., in two of three falls.

Webber brought his famed Irish whip into play to cop the initial fall and then came from nowhere to finish the match when he looked as if Funk would make him say "uncle" with a Japanese toe hold.

The transplanted New Yorker somehow wiggled out of the predicament and had Funk's shoulders stitched to the canvas slacker than you can say "Jack Robinson."

The Indianan had evened matters with a top body pin.

In the opening match, Olan Boynton of Amarillo roughed up Balk Estes, Elk City, Okla., before winning the odd fall in a vicious if not exciting match.

Boynton made no effort to reform and had the crowd on him most of the time.

Big Spring (Texas) Herald, Tuesday, March 15, 1949 7

Looking 'Em Over

by Tommy Hart

As has been stated before, this Manny Mantaras, who'll do the catching for the Big Spring Broncs in the Longhorn baseball league wars this year, must be quite a boy.

Pat Stacey, field manager of the Cayuses, hasn't seen him in action yet but his fellow Cubans speak in glowing terms of him. Recently, Patrick wrote Bert Beez in Havana and asked him flatly, "Do you think Mantaras will make us as good a catcher as Tony Traspuesto?" Tony was a great Bronc backstop of the past two years who has been promoted to the Charlotte club.

Beez wrote back and, without qualifying his remarks, said he was of the firm opinion that Mantaras could do everything that Traspuesto could and probably had a better throwing arm than the fiery Tony.

One of those who is dubious about that claim is Dr. W. B. Hardy, probably Big Spring's top baseball fan. Hardy insists Traspuesto, for all his faults, is one of the great catchers in minor league baseball and certainly has no peer when it came to throwing, a point on which many fans will agree, both here and in other Longhorn league cities.

LEO WAS PLAYING IT SAFE, BUT NOT SAFE ENOUGH

Hardy likes to recall the time Leo Rheingans had reached first base in a Big Spring-Ozessa series here last summer and was being anchored to the bag by Manager Merle Coleman, who had a healthy respect for Tony's wing.

"Stick close to the bag, now," cautioned Merle. Leo, a fast boy afoot, thought he was playing it safe when he moved three or four paces away from the station. Justo Azpiazu, the Bronc first sacker, had moved in squarely across the hassock to take any possible throw-down from Traspuesto, who was faking a throw to first from time to time.

"Get on the bag, Rheingans," Coleman yelled, when he reasoned Leo was taking too many liberties. Reluctantly, Rheingans came back, tagged up and then momentarily dozed when he stepped off a bare 12 inches from the sack. The lapse on Rheingans' part was what Tony had been waiting for. He cannon-balled a throw to Azpiazu, who had set up a target about bell-high. Justo accepted the ball, spun without moving his arms away from his body and smeared Rheingans who still did not know what was up. The base umpire ruled him out.

Leo sheepishly heaved-and-tied it back to the Oiler dugout, where Coleman was waiting to hurl invective down upon his ears.

"But I was playing close," lamented a bewildered Leo.

"Next time, don't tempt him," advised Coleman. "No lead, understand. No lead."

JOSE CINDAN HARDEST FOR BOB COWSAR TO HIT

Bob Cowsar, the mighty slugger of the Longhorn league over two seasons, looked at a lot of good pitching during that time and has functioned from time to time in other circuits. Who does he think is the best hurler he ever had to face? Jose Cindan, ace of the Bronc staff two seasons ago.

Bob hit .408 for Sweetwater in 1947 but was rarely able to touch Cindan.

BOBO HARDY OUT FOR FOOTBALL AT SOUTHWESTERN

Bo Hardy, who, by the way, is Doc Hardy's son, is playing football again at Southwestern University.

Hardy, who was quite a player here, reported for grid practice his freshman year and injured an ankle that forced him out of action. He passed up the game his sophomore year but the urge to play hit him again this year. He tried out the ankle and found it good. He made such an impression, the Southwestern athletic department offered him a scholarship but he passed it up to take part in other school activities.

Bo, by the way, will do much of the passing and kicking for the Pirates in his two remaining years of eligibility. He did little of that here but has been working hard to become a triple threat since entering school. In a recent intra-squad game, Hardy scored two touchdowns.

Simms Plans To Carry On Circus With Laredo Valley League Team

LAREDO, March 15 (AP)—John Clarke (Mose) Simms, athlete and globe-trotter and always a promoter, is planning big things this year.

Mose is general manager of the Laredo ball club in the Rio Grande Valley League. He has some definite ideas on how to pack the park but knows that one of the chief ingredients is to have players who can elude the ball over the fence. He thinks he already has enough of those.

Simms gained his first fame as a promoter when he carried the St. Mary's University football team all over the nation. He accomplished such things as borrowing money from banks in rotation to finance spring training and making a trip with his squad by bus from San Antonio to San Francisco with nine dollars.

MOSE WILL MAKE ADMISSION to the ball park here cheap but will make his money in other ways. The concessions, he points out, pay real dividends if operated right.

He has worked out some novel stunts. For instance, he already is kicking this idea around:

He will put all the ball players on the base paths and turn loose a block of rabbits in the center of the diamond. The rabbits will have valuable prizes tied to their necks. The players will run the rabbits down.

There will be both a seven-inning stretch and a five-inning rest period during the ball game. The former is traditional; the latter will give the fans a relaxation period during which they will, of course, says Mose, go to the concession stands.

MOSE'S PROMOTIONAL IDEAS already are straining at the leash. "This Rio Grande Valley League is going to be the most colorful and interesting in the country," he says. "Think of it: there will be George Schepps, the great showman who will operate the Corpus Christi franchise; one club will be owned by the world's bubble gum king (think of the publicity possibilities!) and then, you know, I have been known to have some flair for showmanship, too."

The latter statement was putting it mildly.

Burns Refuses To Concede HR Crown To Witte

DALLAS, March 15 (AP)—Although the Dallas delegation has already staked out the 1949 Texas League home run championship for the Eagles' veteran Jerome Charles (Jerry) Witte, supporters of the Tulsa Oilers' Russell Burns refuse to become alarmed.

The burly 200-pound Burns will be up there taking his cuts come April 12. He quietly figures those cuts will be more productive than in 1948 when he led the Lone Star wheel in homers with 26 despite a broken hand that removed him from the Tulsa batting order the final three weeks of the season.

The TL home run derby should be one of the individual highlights of the approaching season. What the numerous power hitters moving out of the smaller leagues might do remains to be seen. But there are enough siege guns of proven ability at the double-A (and higher) level to make for interesting speculation as to the 1949 TL home run king.

Burns believes he can repeat. As the key figure in the best hitting club the league has known in the 1933-48 "modern" era, Burns has taken an added confidence for the tough job ahead. His .310 average and 113 runs batted in, the latter figure also a TL high in 1942, has brought him to the 1949 phase of his baseball career mentally easier and physically ready for the challenge.

The hand which was broken when hit by a pitched ball late in August has completely mended. Russ chopped wood throughout the winter in the forests near his independence, Kans., home to further strengthen the member.

Witte is coming back to the Texas League after three years in the triple A American Association and a brief fling with the St. Louis Browns. He has hit 90 homers in the past three seasons, compared to the 56 hit by Burns in 1946-47-48. And he has hit them in higher class baseball, including 46 in 1946 with Toledo and 29 last summer to set a new record for a Louisville player.

While the spotlight now plays on Burns and Witte, and the natural assumption is that they will fight it out for circuit hitting honors, there are other interesting angles and personalities in the situation.

For instance, the veteran Les Burge will be pulling at the 320 foot right field fence at Shreveport. Burge may not challenge for the top total, but he could threaten the best figure compiled by a left-handed hitter in the 1933-48 era. That would be the 18 four-ply wallop by Long Tom Winsett for Houston in 1940. Les hit nine last season and seven in 1947 in his Texas League debut after smacking 15 for a Little World Series championship club at Montreal in 1946. Don Bolweg, back with Houston where he hit 13 last year to tie Tulsa's Charlie Kress for long distance hitting honors among the left-handed swingers, also could get close to Winsett's total, but shouldn't threaten Burns, Witte and the rest of the righthanded power swingers.

A Weak, Run-Down Feeling Is Often A Warning

That The Red-Blood Is Getting Low

If you do not feel like your real self, do not have the urge to be up and doing, why not check-up on your blood strength? Look at the palms of your hands, your fingernails, your lips, the lobes of your ears—are they pale and of color?

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and other food-taste troubles.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

Sterilization Of Cottonseed Nears Completion

Machinery for sterilizing cottonseed against pink bollworm infestation was at work in Martin and Gaines counties today, as the huge task of treating all seed in this area neared completion.

Martin county locations for seed treatment today are in the Merriam school house, while operations for Gaines county were set up at Seagraves. Sterilization work already has been completed in Howard, Mitchell, Midland and Andrews counties and in four communities of Martin county.

G. W. Chownes of the agriculture department's bureau of entomology and plant quarantine, again expressed appreciation for assistance of several agencies in helping carry on the seed treatment work. County agents, the Farm Bureau, AAA, the press and several other agencies have been most helpful in expediting the work, Chownes said.

Borden Venture Shows Gas-Cut Mud On Test

Gas-cut mud was recovered in the Seaboard No. 1 T. J. Good, southwestern Borden county wildcat, on a drillstem test Monday. The tool was open for 90 minutes from 6,118 to 6,260 feet and recovery was 130 feet of gas-cut mud. There was a slight blow of air throughout. The venture, located 1,985 feet from the south and 2,004 feet from the west lines of section 37-33-4n, T&P, was drilling ahead below 6,360 feet in lime and shale.

On a 24-hour potential, Seaboard No. 2 H. N. Zant flowed 282 barrels of oil. The flow was through a 12-64-inch choke and gas-oil ratio was 1,260-1. The pay section is between 7,749 and bottom of hole at 7,812 feet. Location is 600 feet from the west and 1,985 feet from the north lines of section 28-32-3n, T&P.

Seaboard No. 3 H. N. Zant, 800 feet from the south and west lines of section 28-33-3n, T&P, was hooking up flow line. Seaboard No. 1 Mae Zant, which had shows in a porous section 200 feet above the Canyon line from which the Veal-moor pool produces, drilled cement plug. The venture was bottomed at 7,915 feet and is located 1,980 feet from the south and west lines of section 29-32-3n, T&P.

Seaboard No. 4 H. N. Zant, 1,980 feet from the north and west was running casing at 1,300 feet. Seaboard No. 1 Long, 600 feet from the north and west lines of section 33-32-3n, T&P, was digging rat hole.

Sun No. 1 Cosden, 660 feet from the south and 1,980 feet from the west line of section 38-33-3n, T & P lines of section 38-32-3n, T&P, was reported below 6,300 feet.

IT'S SUNDAY ON 'BACHELORS' ROW

Coal Towns Are Silent In Strike

COVERDALE, Pa., March 15 (AP)—This little town is like a ghost town, withdrawn and sombre, heavy with stillness.

Nothing moves in the black and rut-elashed lanes. Nothing stirs along "bachelors' row," where unmarried miners live in a line of huddling shacks.

Nothing ruffles the clean white curtains in the windows of the family homes. There are no crowds on the corners, no pickets, no police, no placards, bands or rallies.

Nothing moves except a pale blue shroud of smoke on the other side of the valley, the breath of a slag heap.

It is much the same in all the little coal-mining towns in western Pennsylvania. In Library and Sygan, in Morgan and Presto and Daisytown. They, too, are silent, and seemingly lifeless. It is like Sunday there, too.

John L. Lewis is the master here. The degree of his authority is apparent the instant you attempt to talk with the miners about the reason why he ordered them to stay away from the pits.

The announced reason was to mark a two-week period of "mourning" for the men who died in the mines. Coal commentators have suggested that the real reason was so much coal has been mined that the backlog is too big.

However that may be, the miner is not prepared to discuss it.

He may say, "well, we were only working two or three days a week, anyway." Or he may discuss his chances of getting state unemployment compensation. Or he may murmur that Easter is near, and it's a bad time to be losing two weeks' pay.

But he will not openly weigh the judgment and leadership of John L. Lewis.

He sits in the rickety beer-parlors, drinking straight whiskey with a "black strap" chaser, a heavy-muscled man, tight-lipped, suspicious and wary of strangers. He starts to talk a little.

Then the bar-tender calls him to the far end of the bar, leans across, cups his ear and whispers. They both look. The miner does not come back.

Another miner asks, "You from the FBI? No? Well, anyway, if there was anybody better than Lewis maybe we'd listen to him. As it is, we listen to John L. . . GET IT?"

This is not strictly true, according to a non-union man, an equipment man and not a miner.

"Ninety per cent of them would like to do as they please," he says. "They don't like to be told. But they wouldn't even say so. They just do what they're told, and I guess they wonder sometimes."

On the wall of the building where the non-union man works is a photograph of Lewis. It is not like the usual picture of him. Glowering, frowning and heavy browed. In this one, he is smiling broadly, with the stub of a cigar clenched between his teeth. The picture has a two-word caption overhead—"The Champ."

Kurland Paces Phillips' Win

OKLAHOMA CITY, March 15 (AP)—The Oklahoma City University Chiefs, lone seeded college team, meet their first test in today's eight-game session winding up second round play in the National A.A.U. Basketball Tournament.

It's been 24 years since a collegiate team last won the tourney, and while the Chiefs hardly figure to end the independents' rule, their record indicated they can cause trouble in a meet that so far has run strictly to form.

Their first opposition comes from the Billings, Mont., Stockmen.

Another seeded contender, the Hanes Hosiery team of Winston-Salem, N. C., is down for its tourney debut against Luther College of Decorah, Iowa, which yesterday became the first campus outfit to oust an independent in the current meet.

Luther whipped Fort Warren, Wyo., 72-49, during the day-long firing which saw six seeded teams safely past their initial foes.

Three of the six, including the defending champion Phillips Oilers of Bartlesville, Okla., and their chief title threats, the Oakland Bitters, romped through easily. The other three had to scramble all the way.

Seven-foot Bob Kurland scored 19 points in playing less than half the game to lead the Oilers to a 75-47 trouncing of the Amarillo, Tex., Plovers.

It was the 32nd straight A.A.U. tournament victory for the Phillips team seeking its eighth title and its seventh in a row.

Raiders Open With Wildcats

LUBBOCK, March 15 (AP)—Texas Tech will play four members of the Southwest Conference next football season in addition to Abilene Christian College of the Texas Conference and Tulsa of the Missouri Valley.

Cocach Dell Morgan announced an 11-game schedule today. It includes five Border Conference tilts. The Tech 1949 schedule:

Sept. 19—Abilene Christian at Lubbock, Sept. 17—Texas at Austin, Sept. 24—Texas A&M at San Antonio, Oct. 1—West Texas State at Lubbock, Oct. 8—Tulsa at Lubbock, Oct. 14—Baylor at Lubbock, Oct. 22—Arizona at Lubbock, Oct. 29—Rice at Houston, Nov. 5—Texas Mines at El Paso, Nov. 19—New Mexico at Albuquerque, Nov. 26—Hardin-Simmons at Lubbock.

CANYON, March 15 (AP)—A nine-game football schedule, five of them against Border Conference foes, has been arranged by Coach Frank Kimbrough of West Texas State.

The schedule:

Sept. 17—East Texas State at Canyon, Sept. 24—McMurry at Canyon, Oct. 1—Texas Tech at Lubbock, Oct. 8—Texas Mines at Canyon, Oct. 15—University of Houston at Houston, Oct. 22—Trinity at Canyon, Nov. 5—Arizona State at Flagstaff, Nov. 12—Hardin-Simmons at Canyon, Nov. 26—New Mexico at Albuquerque.

Swiss Hostellers Need Bomb Sights

ST. MORITZ, Switzerland March 15 (AP)—Swiss hotelkeepers have learned how to make "snow bombs"—but they need a bomb-sight badly.

A hotel owner here who will do almost anything for a guest, decided to provide snow for visitors who were stubbing their skis on Alpine rocks.

Three attempts to adopt the American method of making snow by dropping dry ice into a cloud failed because of lack of clouds.

On the fourth try, a big fat cloud came along in time. Hotel men watched with field glasses as the dry ice was thrown out over a wide area above the cloud.

A light snow drifted down. But not over St. Moritz. It fell to the north—over the ski runs of Davos—bitter rivals of St. Moritz.

DEFORMED GIRL MAY SOON BE LIKE OTHER KIDS OF HER AGE

PITTSBURGH, March 15 (AP)—Three-year-old Evelyn Stypula, born with deformed legs and hands, may soon be playing like the other children in her neighborhood.

Doctors are hoping, it was learned yesterday, to provide the little blonde child with a normal life by means of artificial limbs.

Last Feb. 15, Evelyn's right leg was amputated at Mercy Hospital. On March 3, her left leg was removed also and soon the useless stump of her left arm will be amputated.

Her right hand is deformed, too. The index finger is missing and the other three fingers are grown together. Her parents hope, however, she may be able to use that hand.

"It was a heartbreaking decision to make," said her mother, Mrs. Charles Stypula, speaking of the operations. "But it was more heartbreaking to watch her crawl on the floor. The doctors said that artificial limbs were the only way to make her walk."
