Grain Up One-Third, All-Time Record

Cold Weather Aids Ripening of Cotton

Cotton strippers are expected to move into area cotton fields this week — a good month to six weeks late — as a result of cooler weather due to push temperatures into the teens during the weekend.

The 1965-66 Fine Arts Production of "The King And I" is in full rehearsal until the Christmas holidays. The production includes one hundred talented young men and women to perform on the stage, back stage, and the orchestra. The fine art staff is busy planning and anticipating another great musical for the public.

"The King And I" take place in Bangkok, Siam, during the 1860's in the court of the king, played by Gary Edwards, Anna, Jane Branscum, arrives to teach his children and wives of Western culture. The production should please all because of the beautiful songs, delightful comedy, and intense drama.

Tickets may be purchased by phoning 272-3020, high school band hall. The production opens Tuesday, January 4 and continues through Thursday, January 6, and Saturday, January 8. Each show begins at 8 p.m. each night. Seats are $1.50 each bought in advance or $1.75 at the door.

Make plans to see musical comedy at its best, Jan. 4-6-8. These tickets would make superb Christmas gifts.

R. Q. Botkin, manager of the Muleshoe office of Pioneer Natural Gas Co., will be among those honored at the company's annual service awards dinner at 7:30 Tuesday in the Community Center, Littlefield. He will be honored for 15 years' service with the company. Others to be recognized include B. C. Walbrick, Littlefield, and Mary R. Freeman, Levelland, five years; J. M. Ledbetter, Littlefield.

Peace Officers' Feast Unspoiled; 'Criminals' Good

Peace officers had a peaceful dinner Thanksgiving day, and far that, among other blessings, the officers were thankful.

Sherriff's Dispatcher Irene Splawn put it this way: "Even the bad folk were good so we could enjoy our dinner in peace."

The event was a get-together at the police station of peace officers and their families for a big Thanksgiving day feast.

Everything went even better than the officers could possibly have hoped for. To begin with, there was lots and lots of food, and there were lots of people, too, what with the sherriff's staff, the police staff and the department of public safety staff — plus all their families — turning out for the event.

Not a single arrest was made during the Thanksgiving holiday, the blotter showed...

The cool weather was due to write finish to a growing season that refused to call it quits, a season that saw it almost impossible to harvest cotton mechanically because of green bolls and, in many cases, green leaves that should have been dead a month ago.

Despite the fact that the thermometer had made two quick dips to the 30 mark two different nights this past week, the cotton had taken the coolish weather in stride and had gone right on hanging onto its leaves.

But end-of-the-week cool weather was due to wind up that program. Meantime cotton farmers were looking at the results of last Tuesday's cotton referendum. It was obvious that farmers throughout the cotton area favor marketing quotas. Bailey county's vote, for example, was 228 for to 39 against.

Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. looked at the 23 counties in the area and discovered farmers gave solid approval to the marketing quota plan for 1966, adding that the rest of the

Santa Claus Coming to Town Saturday To Open Christmas Season, Lights Go On

Santa Claus is coming to town next Saturday — by chartered plane — and then will head a parade in his honor in downtown Muleshoe. Afterward he will meet his "constituents" at his workshop on the courthouse lawn.

Flier Morgan Locker will takeoff at mid-week for the North Pole to make contact with the old gentleman, bundle him into his red, white and black Cherokee and breeze back to Muleshoe. He'll "buzz" downtown Muleshoe first and then land at the Muleshoe airport. From there, Santa will be whisked to downtown Muleshoe for the parade.

This year's parade is scheduled for 2:30 Saturday afternoon.

Rogers Voices Bitter Opposition To Banning of Skip-Row Cotton

Congressman Walter Rogers released copies of two letters which he has sent to Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, protesting rulings by the department concerning cotton.

The first letter protested "the recent department of agriculture decision to require micronaire readings in connection with the cotton price support program for the 1966 crop."

He said he was speaking "in behalf of hundreds of cotton farmers..."

He said the rule "was imposed for no valid reason discriminates against thousands of cotton producers who have contributed greatly over the years to the country's need for cotton fiber, and works a decided hardship on the economies of a number of American towns and cities in rural cotton areas."

The second letter protested skip-row rulings. It read:

"I wish to express my vigorous disapproval of the Agriculture Department recently announced decision to impose more restrictive rules for cotton planting in skip-row patterns effective with the 1966 crop. In addition, I wish to protest the Department's disregard of the

County's Production Reaches 3000 Cars

Bailey county elevators are putting the finishing touches on a 1965 grain sorghum crop that has set an all-time record production, running to a total of 3330 cars.

With 100,000 pounds of grain to the car, this means Muleshoe area has turned out 330,000,000 pounds of grain sorghum, and that's a lot of grain sorghum, as summed it up.

Grain dealers in the Muleshoe area were agreed that the 1965 crop has set a new record and follows on the heels of a "poor" 1964 crop. "In fact," the dealer said, "it's difficult to compare the 1965 crop with last year's since last season was an off year for grain sorghum. Nevertheless, I'd say that this year's production here in Bailey county is at least 30 percent better than last year's final figure."

He pointed out that the government earlier in the season had estimated the output at 27 percent better than in 1964, but later upped the figure to 34 percent.

All but about one percent of the 1965 crop has been harvested, a survey by the Journal revealed Saturday, and some of this will not be marketed, being kept for use on the farm. One dealer Saturday said only "two or three" of his customers are still cutting grain sorghum. Thus Bailey county's biggest crop came across for its usual big yield (last year was an exception) to make it THE money crop for Bailey county. The price was down slightly from last year, but dealers pointed out that farmers who participated in the support program actually received more money from saying-out of land. Of course the farmer who did not sign up for the support program during 1965 actually received less.

Much of the grain grown here has gone west during the past year, especially to Arizona. However, 1965 was an unusually good year for grain sorghum in Arizona, and as a result, less grain moved to

Angeley Loses Tenant, Storage House at Farm

Fire which apparently originated in the kitchen, destroyed a tenant house at the E. K. Angeley farm eight miles east and three miles north of Muleshoe Thanksgiving day.

Also destroyed was a storage house which contained a number of tractor and truck tires and equipment parts, according to Fire Chief Earl Ladd. The chief said that when the Bailey county Volunteer Fire Department arrived on the scene shortly after noon Thursday, the tenant house and storage building already had been destroyed.

The department, however, was able to prevent the blaze from spreading to other houses, including the Angeley home. No one was at home at the tenant house, Ladd said.

The department also made a call at 7:30 Thursday afternoon to the 100 block on American. Cotton burs along the roadway had caught fire. No damage was done.

Miss Doris Copley and John Lawrence Priest Are United In Double-Ring Ceremony Here

MRS JOHN LAWRENCE PRIEST
... the former Doris Jean Copley

Miss Doris Jean Copley became the bride of John Lawrence Priest in a double-ring ceremony here last night at 8 p.m. in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church with the Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor of the church, officiating.

Miss Copley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Wilson Copley, and the bridegroom's parents are Mrs. William Allen Priest, San Antonio, and the late Mr. Priest.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal gown of peach de soie. Features of the gracefully-styled fitted bodice were elbow-length sleeves and a scalloped neckline outlined in tiny seed pearls. The pleated cummerbund extended to a large back bow above a bouffant bell-shaped skirt with back fullness into a chapel train.

Her scalloped circular veil was an imported illusion outlined with embroidery and fell from a queen crown of seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white orchids and stephanotis atop a white Bible. Cecil Bolton, Lubbock, organist, provided traditional wedding music and accompanied Harold Dutton, Lubbock, as he sang the wedding selections, "O Promise Me", "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer". Mrs. Robert Calkins, Triangle, Va., was her sister's matron of honor. Mr. Don Wilson Copley, sister-in-law of the bride, McGuire Air Force Base, New Jersey, was bride's matron. They wore mint green silk dresses with scoop necklines, tuck bodices and street-length, gathered skirts. Matching hat with circular veil and white gloves completed their attire. They carried bouquets of gold mums.

Suzanne Calkins, niece of the bride, Triangle, Va., was flower girl. She wore a mint green dress and hat. As she ascended the bridal aisle she dropped rose petals from a satin basket decorated with seed pearls. Bryan Shober was ring bearer, carrying a white satin pillow which held the rings.

Best man was William D. Priest, brother of the groom, Seguin.

Groomsman was Lt. Don Wilson Copley, brother of the bride, McGuire Air Force Base, New Jersey.

Mrs. Joannah Green registered the wedding guests. Ushers and candlelighters were Joe Adams and Hal Anderson, Muleshoe and Charles Barrmiller, San Antonio.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the church parlor. Mrs. Roy H. Elrod, aunt of the bride, Triangle, Va., and Mrs. William D. Priest, sister-in-law of the groom, alternated in serving the tiered wedding cake which was topped with a miniature bride and groom under a collumard dome.

Mrs. Sam Dameron and Mrs. Rufus Gilbreath alternated as they laded punch from the crystal bowl.

Miss Susan Birdsong and Miss Veta Allison provided background music during the reception.

Mrs. Charles Baumbler, San Antonio, Mrs. Harold Allison, Mrs. David Anderson Mrs. Gerald Allison, Mrs. Oscar Allison, and Miss Elizabeth Hardin also assisted with hospitalities during the reception.

For the wedding trip to points of interest in New Mexico, the bride wore a gray wool two-piece dress with a multi-colored metallic hat and dark green accessories. She added an orchid corsage from her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Priest is a graduate of Muleshoe High School and is a present student of Del Mar Tech University, San Antonio.

The bridegroom is a graduate of the University of Texas with a bachelor of science degree, his major being chemical engineering. Mr. Priest is employed by D. W. Haering & Co., San Antonio.

UNICEF Christmas Cards Mean Hope for World's Unfortunates

This year hundreds of millions of greeting cards will be produced and mailed all over the world. In the United States alone, Americans are expected to spend more than $700 million on some seven billion cards. But only some of them will have lasting meaning both here and abroad. Prominent among these are the cards produced by UNICEF — the United Nations Children's Fund — which will again bring help and hope to millions of the world's underprivileged children.

Every one of the 40 million cards which UNICEF expects to sell this year will help a child in need — somewhere in the world. With the proceeds from one box alone, 50 children can be protected from tuberculosis. Last year, UNICEF was able to realize net proceeds of $2,300,000 from the sale of its Greeting Cards, an amount sufficient to provide equipment and supplementary drugs for 5,295 small maternal and child health centers; and the drugs for one year's home treatment of 1,250,000 TB patients; and a three-month supply of vitamin capsules for four million children.

With the designs donated by some of the best international artists, UNICEF cards are highly imaginative and original, and in no way reminiscent of the miseries they help to alleviate. Their own origin centers, aptly enough, around a child. In the aftermath of World War II, the small Bohemian town of Rudolfov had been spared the bombardments which had annihilated nearby communities, but it had lost its cattle to the Germans and had suffered a disastrous drought. Milk was scarce — there was only a pint

The Marvels of God's Creations

WHY DO FISH LIVE IN WATER? We can answer this question partially by saying: that their lungs were created to draw oxygen from the water. However, to know how and why, we must look to God's word "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth." ... "And God said, let the waters bring forth abundantly the moving creature that hath life . . ."

Attend Church and worship the one who created these marvels.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

On the High Plains 86.1 percent of a tight 8,964 total vote favored marketing quotas. The Texas margin was 87.9 percent "for" and of all those voting across the belt 94.8 percent voted in favor of quotas.

Including wives of farmers, the 23 High Plains counties have in the neighborhood of 48,000 eligible voters — more than five times the number voting.

Passage of the referendum by the necessary two-thirds majority — a surprise to no one — put into effect the cotton section of the Agricultural Act of 1965 with its price supports payments, diversion payments and special support loan.

From Littlefield, Tex. and Mrs. J. E. Neal and Monya, Lovell; and Mrs. Sammie Cox and Lane from Dalas.

Mrs. Allison reported a very enjoyable time with her guests.

Thanksgiving activities for the J. R. Otwell family of Muleshoe included a deer hunting trip for Mr. Otwell and son Jerrell, at Grayford, Tex.; wife Mrs. Otwell and daughter, Marci, accompanied by her young friend, Carolyn Weddel; spent some time swimming and dining at the Villa Inn in Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Barnett of Muleshoe had Thanksgiving dinner with their daughter-in-law and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Barnett in Clovis, N.M. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Puckett and their children also joined them for dinner along with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Priddy, relatives of the Puckets.

Mr. and Mrs. Wend Young have been visiting with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Lowell Young and children Keith, Sonda and Brady in Oklahoma City. The Youngs also visited with his mother, Mrs. J. R. Young, 92, who lives in Chillicothe, Okla., before returning home today.

Failure of the referendum would have meant that farmers who planted within their allotments in 1966 would have been eligible only for a loan rate at 50 percent of parity — about 21 cents.

Marketing quotas are held each year in which the Secretary of Agriculture determines there is a cotton surplus, and have never failed to carry by the two-thirds majority.

There was a second question put to farmers on the ballot this year for the first time. That was the question of whether or not to permit cotton allotments to be outside a county by sale or lease, and it was decided on an individual county basis. It too required a two-third majority for passage.

Only 61 of over 150 counties voting agreed to permit cotton acreage to move outside the county. And only one of those 61 — Gaines County — is included in the 23 High Plains counties.

Gaines has a lot of new land with good irrigation water and many farms with little or no cotton allotment. Farmers in that area were obviously thinking more about acreage that might be transferred into the county than out of it. They approved out-of-county transfers by a vote of 222 to 70.

The overall vote on this question for the High Plains was 2,989 for and 4,926 against.

There is a possibility that some of the acreage in counties which approved out-of-county transfers may be moved to the High Plains area through purchase or lease arrangements.

However, total 1965 cotton allotments in the 61 counties from which transfers will be permitted is only 398,143 acres. And only 99,340 of those acres were released to the State ASCS Committee for reappointment in 1964.

So even if all the "unwanted" acres in these counties were moved to the Plains area for 1966, it would amount to less than a five percent increase over the current allotment of over two million acres here. On the other hand a few individual producers could well benefit from such acreage if it can be acquired at a reasonable price.

Counties which voted to permit sale or lease of cotton acreage outside the county, in alphabetical order, are: Anderson, Andrews, Angelina, Blanco, Brewster, Brown, Camp, Cass, Cherokee, Comanche, Culberson, Duval, Freestone, Gaines, Goliad, Gonzales, Gregg, Hansford, Harrison and Hartley.

Other counties are: Henderson, Hood, Hopkins, Jasper, Jefferson, Jim Hogg, Kinney, Lampasas, Limestone, Loving, Llano, Madison, Marion, Montgomery, Moore, Morris, Nacogdoches, Newton, Oldham and Panola.

Also Sabine, San Augustine, San Jacinto, San Saba, Shelby, Smith, Stephens, Sterling, Sutton, Titus, Trinity, Tyler, Upshur, Upton, Uvalde, Walker, Ward, Wilson, Wise, Wood and Zapata.

"I would ask that you make a personal review in depth of the new skip-row rules. I am free to consult with you on this matter at any time you suggest and I would be delighted to present some of my constituents who feel, as I do, that this matter has not been properly evaluated within the Department."

"Along with other Members of Congress I had pointed out the consequences to the Department earlier in the year, as noted above. I was heartened by reports from within the Department that officials charged with evaluating the proposal had determined that it would be unwise to place these provisions in effect. I was informed by high level authorities within the Department that a decision had but all been made to leave the rules as they existed in this crop year. Because of these reports, I notified a number of my constituents that the Department was contemplating no action. I was startled, then, when the October 27 announcement was made.

"While I appreciate the fact that the new rules are less restrictive than originally proposed, I must emphasize to you that their imposition threatens ruin for thousands of American cotton farmers. Placing this rule in effect along with the highly discriminatory new rules on minimum acreage in connection with the cotton price support loan program is an extremely serious blow to the general economy of the cotton farmers in the District I am privileged to represent.

I am free to consult with you on this matter at any time you suggest and I would be delighted to present some of my constituents who feel, as I do, that this matter has not been properly evaluated within the Department."

Youths Continue Carr's Program On Crime Study

"Through such dynamic efforts as the Attorney General's Youth Conferences and follow-up local conferences, the youth of Texas are called upon to become partners against crime and juvenile delinquency," asserted State Representative Jesse T. George, Bailey County's Austin legislator, Thursday, when he addressed the weekly meeting of the Witharral Lions Club.

Lawmaker George presented an informative presentation on the efforts and accomplishments of the Third Attorney General's Youth Conference on Crime, held in Austin, Aug. 20-22. George extended appreciation to Hockley County for having sent 8 delegates to participate in the youth meeting which attracted over 1600 Texas youth.

"Over 40 percent of our state's prison population is between the ages of 17 and 24. This does not even include the youths in our state schools for young offenders," George pointed out.

He continued, "Conferences on Crime give proof that youth can become part of the solution instead of part of the problem — if given a chance. The Attorney General's Conference and numerous local projects are resolved to halt the rapid growth of young adult crime in Texas by using a new approach to an old problem."

George concluded his remarks clubs, churches, and interested individuals to lend their support to the forthcoming Youth Conference on Crime for Hockley County. George, who is sponsoring a conference in each county of his legislative district, said that the date of January 22, 1966, had been set for the Cochran County Area Youth Conference on Crime, and dates for the other conferences are pending.

Joe Minter and Marion Polk will serve as the Witharral Lions Club representatives for the Adult Leaders of the Hockley County Conference.

Approximately 25 members and guests were present for the dinner meeting.

Newest Cotton Rulings Cloud 1966 Picture

The Agricultural Act of 1964, which contains provisions for the new four-year cotton program, has now been designated public Law Number 89-321, says Plains Cotton Growers Association, Inc.

Complete and final regulation and interpretations from the Secretary of Agriculture are yet to come. But some items of interest continue to trickle down some through the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service and some direct from Washington.

From Washington this week came news that "transfers from a farm and to the same farm would not be approved within the same year."

An informed source said this restriction was inserted to prevent circumvention of a previous ruling which said a transfer by sale or lease would not be permitted to a farm which had no cotton allotment in 1965. Without this latest regulation

Weevil Spraying Program Ends, Results Good

Officials with the United States Department of Agriculture's Plant Pest Control division here have announced the completion of the second year of massive spraying in the High Plains Boll Weevil Control Program.

PPC Supervisor D. H. Russell reports that about 1,513,000 aggregate acres were sprayed this year.

This is slightly more than officials had estimated at the start of the program Sept. 7. However, heavy rains in September hampered the effectiveness of application and a late fall forced extra sprayings.

The final application was completed Nov. 17. It was the seventh application and covered slightly more than 63,000 acres.

Extension Entomologist Don Rummel says that in most areas the program appears to have been highly effective. Field reports show adult weevil populations are significantly smaller than last year, he said.

Immature weevils can be found in fields, Rummel said, but these late forms will not develop to the point where they can survive the winter.

Trash surveys this winter will give a good indication of the number of weevils which entered hibernation sites, he said. Yet the total effectiveness of the program will not be known until next spring when weevils emerge.

One of his employees is Ramiro Leal who has been with Stinson for two and one half years. Leal has 15 years experience in this line of work in California on the west coast before coming to Muleshoe. farm without an allotment, and thereby qualify as a "small farmer" and the increased benefits available to farmers with allotments of 10 acres or less.

The same source in Washington says the answer is "yes, he can."

Dale Carter, ASCS District Supervisor, of Plainview, told a meeting of the Plains Ginnery Association last Monday that it would also be permissible for producer with cotton acreage in the old soil bank to lease or sell those acres to other producers.

The producer with cotton acreage in the soil bank who chose to do this would only lose a percentage, probably 70 percent, of the soil bank payments on cotton land only. This may provide an additional opportunity for both farmers with land in the soil bank and farmers who are interested in buying or leasing acreage.

There are also indications from Washington as to how questions on interplanting of crops in skip-row patterns, landlord-tenant relationships and other things may be answered. These, however, are too indefinite to be of significance until final decisions are made.

Wearly Swallow

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — A migrating European swallow ringed in South Africa was found 7,000 miles away in Soviet Russia a month later. During the flight the bird averaged more than 200 miles a day.

The swallow was recovered just south of Siberia according to information received by the Witwatersrand Bird Club in South Africa. It was the second South African bird found and reported by the Russians this year.

Teachers Here Attend Four Area Workshops

Mrs. Josephine Mitchell attended the Region 1 Workshop in Elementary Music at West Texas State University at Canyon, Nov. 29. The clinician was Mrs. Eddie Lake Buntun of Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Buntun stressed the following points: (1) The school should have different kinds of instruments for the students to play, and let them play each one. (2) There should be enough books for each student. (3) The music period is not a mere singing period, but many chances of learning experiences can come from music.

Mrs. Jack Obenhaus, Mrs. Alfred Patterson, Mrs. Robert Spence, Mrs. O. G. Killingsworth, Mrs. Donald Prather, Mrs. Troy Walker, attended the 11th annual child art conference sponsored by the applied arts department of Texas Tech-
