FROM AUSTIN.

Important Railroad Charters Filed in the Secretary of State's Office.

Decisions of the Supreme Court—Design for the Capitol Not Yet Selected.

Special to the DAILY EXPRESS.

AUSTIN, April, 29.—The Austin & Northwestern railroad company filed their charter in the secetary of state's office to-day. The Texas Western railway company also filed a charter. This is a very important line, commencing at the city of Houston and running in a westerly direction through the counties of Harris, Fort Bend, Waller, Austin, Colorado, Fayette, Bastrop, Caldwell, Hays, Blanco, Gillespie, Kimball, Crockett, Pecos and Presidio, to a point on the Rio Grande river in or near the town of Presidio del Norte, a distance of 635 miles, and from a point on the main line in Blanco county, in a northwesterly direction through the counties of Blanco, San Saba, McCullough, Coleman, Taylor, Nolan, Fisher, Kent, Dickens, Crosby, Floyd, Briscoe, Armstrong, Carson, Hutchinson, Hansford and Sherman, to a point on the north boundary line of Sherman county, a distance of about 750 miles; and from a point in Fayette county, in a northerly direction running through the counties of Fayette and Bastrop to the town of Bastrop, a distance of about 25 miles; and from a point on its main line in Caldwell county in a southerly direction through the counties of Caldwell, Gaudalupe and Bexar, to the city of San Antonio, a distance of about 50 miles; and from the city of Houston, in an easterly direction, through the counties of Harris, Liberty and Jefferson, to a point on Sabine pass, a distance of about 30 miles, with the privilege of building and maintaining a line of railway from the city of Houston to the city of Galveston, a distance of fifty miles. The principal business office of the company will be in Houston. The amount of capital stock is $30,000,000, divided into shares of $100 each. The stock-holders forming the corporation are all Houston men—Abram M. Gentry, Wm D. Cleveland, R. Brewster, Benj. A. Botts, W. R. Baker, F. A. Rice, E. Pillot, Henry Fox, T. H. Scanlan, J. G. Tracy, T. W. House and Saml. C. McIlhenny.

The capitol commissioners have done nothing towards selecting a design for the new state house.

The following cases were decided in the supreme court: Cordray vs the State, from Travis reversed and remanded; Bennet & Lockwood vs. Frary, from Bexar, affirmed; Long vs. Anderson, from Lamar, transferred to the court of appeals; Tarleton vs. Daily, from Ellis, affirmed; Poe vs. Crownrige, from Travis, adopted and affirmed; George et al. vs. Taylor, from Guadalupe, affirmed; Jones et al. vs. Stallforth, from Falls, affirmed; Tegener vs. Bortholomey, from Travis, affirmed on certificate; City of San Antonio vs. the San Antonio Waterworks company, certificate dismissed.

FROM DALLAS.

A Foreign Female Naturalized—Thompson's Body Still Under Water.

Rapid Track-Laying on the Texas Trunk—Attempt to Assassinate.

Special to the DAILY EXPRESS.

DALLAS, April 29.—Mrs. Celiette Vandenbach was naturalized as a citizen of the United States by Judge Aldridge, of the district court, to-day. She is a native of Belgium.

The body of Edward Thompson, drowned yesterday, has not yet been recovered. A cannon was fired where he sank, but no trace of his body has been discovered.

Twenty miles of iron were laid on the Texas Trunk railroad yesterday and to-day.

A man named Neil O'Donel, while walking along the track of the Texas & Pacific railroad, within the city limits, at a late hour last night, was stabbed eight times by some one unknown. He lies in a critical condition.

FROM GALVESTON.

Large Party of German Emigrants for Texas—Saengerfest Hall Leased.

Special to the DAILY EXPRESS.

GALVESTON, April 29.—Four hundred German emigrants arrived by the Morgan steamer from New Orleans to-day, direct from Bremen. Two hundred left via the G., C. & S. F. railroad for Ellinger, Weimar, Schulenburg and Flatonia, this afternoon. The remaining 200 are for various points in the state, and left on the evening train for their destinations. During the disembarkation this morning an infant died from prostration.

Gresswell & McMahon have leased the Saengerfest hall, and will convert it into a theatre in time for the coming season's attractions.

Wm. H. Gavett, general freight agent of the St. Louis and Texas road is here looking after iron for his road.

FROM WACO.

Bridge Material for the Missouri Pacific—Buried in a Clay Bank—Wool Sales

Special to the DAILY EXPRESS.

WACO, April 29.—Fifteen sections of the cylinder for the piers of the Missouri Pacific bridge over the Brazos, at this point, came in to-day. It is of wrought iron, hollow, and the inside will be filled with concrete. They are six feet in diameter, and upon them the superstructure of the bridge will rest.

Ben Reynolds, colored, was caught beneath a falling clay bank in Jas. B. Baker's brick yard this morning, and burried under two feet of earth, where he remained for three minutes. When taken out he was dead.

15,000 pounds of wool was bought on this market to-day.

Murderer Executed.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., April 29.—Marshall Baxter was hanged here at 11:45 o'clock, this morning, after due trial and conviction in the superior court, for the murder of Bob Hennegan, in January last. He claimed to be instigated by the murdered man's wife. He confessed the crime after his sentence, and for which he gave no reason. No appeal was asked or granted. Within the past few weeks he professed religion, and died in the full faith of the Methodist church. The drop was five and a half feet. His neck was broken and he died almost without a struggle.

Special Weather Bulletin.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—The indications are that the area of low barometer, now central north of Montreal will move eastward, causing rain in the middle states, and New England to-day, followed by clearing weather in the former district to-night, and in the latter to-morrow. The Missouri river will probably continue to rise below Omaha, and will probably reach the danger line at Lexington and Hermann to-day. The Mississippi river will probably continue to rise above Lafaire and at St. Louis.

An Incipient Volcano.

LOUISVILLE, KY., April 29.—What is regarded as an incipient volcano, has broken out on the farm of R. A. Jarnagil, in the southern portion of Ohio county, this state. One day last week, Mr. Jarnagil was attracted to the place by noticing gas escaping from the earth, and he found upon examination, that the ground was seething as if on fire. There was a pile of corn shocks over the place and the heat caused it to be ignited. Many persons have visited the place and it is a source of great wonder to all.

It is openly alleged that Charles Burnett's boy Robert, who died at Rockford, Ind., Saturday evening, was actually starved to death by his father and the fathers' paramour.

LATEST NEWS BY CABLE.

The Czar of Russia will Adopt Stringent Measures Against the Nihilists.

Jewish Synagogue Destroyed by a Mob—Unsuccessful Attempt to Evict Irish Tenants.

Anti-Jewish Riots.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 29.—Serious disturbances, originating in the superstition of the peasantry regarding the Jewish passover rites, have occurred at Elizabeth Gradin, government of Kherson. The mob destroyed a synagogue. Many rioters were killed by the troops who were summoned to suppress the riots.

Rigorous Measures in Russia.

LONDON, April 29.—A dispatch from Paris says: Prominent diplomatists at St Petersburg report that the czar and his favorite counsellors are disposed to adopt rigorous repressive measures having no example in the history of Russia.

Submitting to Force.

PARIS, April 29.—The French garrison at Kef consists of a battalion of infantry, a battery and a detachment of engineers and two troops of cavalry. The garrison has received the submission of adjacent tribes and dismissed them to their homes.

Irish Rioters.

LIMERICK, April 29.—An attempt to evict some tenants at New Pallars to-day was frustrated. Five hundred military and police were present, but a mob of 1000 persons assembled and hooted, groaned and stoned the sheriff and his assistants. The police charged on the mob several times, but the bailiff's life being threatened, he refused to point out the houses of defaulting tenants. It is stated that two hundred persons in the mob were armed with revolvers. Another attempt will be made to evict tenants shortly.

QUITE A SENSATION.

Illustration of the 15th Amendment at Springfield, Ill., the Home of the Martyred Lincoln.

CHICAGO, April 29.—Something of a sensation has been created at Springfield, Ill., by the refusal of hotel keepers to receive the members of a troupe of jubilee singers from the Fisk university of Tennessee, as guests for two days next week. A great point is made on account of this refusal at the home of Lincoln, the emancipator of the colored race. All the hotel men, with the exception of one, base their action on the fact that the legislature being now in session, their houses are full. At the Leland house, however, the manager says he runs a hotel to make money and cannot afford to drive away his white guests to accommodate colored people. As colored travelers have always here before found accommodations at Springfield hotels, it is not clear whether the present action is one of discrimination or necessity.

The Loss by Floods.

CHICAGO, April 29.—The total loss of property by the flood on the Missouri river and its tributaries, between Sioux City and Bismarck, is estimated at $2,500,000. Below Sioux City, including damages at Omaha, Council Bluffs, and Kansas City, and the great overflows on both sides of the Missouri river, between those cities and St. Louis, the amount of loss is computed at $1,500,000.

Indian Trouble Brewing.

CHEYENNE, WY., April 29.—A special to the Leader, from Rawlings, Wyoming, says Colorow, the Ute chief, and seventy-five lodgers of Utes, are camped within three miles of the military post, on White river. Colorow told Col. Moore, commanding the sixth infantry, to leave with all his troops within five days. This action of the Indians indicates trouble. Colorow is next in authority to Jack, in rank of the White river Utes.

Competitive Drill.

NEW ORLEANS, April 29.—Great preparations are being made by the Crescent regiment for an inter-state competitive drill to take place on the 19th and 20th of May. The first prize is $150, the second $50, for the best drilled companies. Entries to close on the 10th of May.

Supposed Murder and Suicide.

GRAND ISLAND, NEB., April 29.—Mr. and Mrs. Christian, of St Paul, with three children, were found with their throats cut in their house in that city this morning. It is supposed the mother murdered the children and then committed suicide. No reason for the act is known.

Three Persons Drowned.

DETROIT, MICH., April 29.—Postmaster Snook, Dr. Decker Morris and Charles Wood, all prominent citizens of Mt. Clements, this state, were drowned in Lake St Claire, on Wednesday, by the upsetting of a sail boat in a squall.

Democratic Split in Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, ARK., April 29.—Effort to heal the differences between the pro-amendment and anti-amendment wings of the democratic party, by a compromise last night, failed utterly, and both conferences have adjourned sine die.

The Western Floods.

WASHINGTON, D. C. April 29.—Telegrams from the west report the rivers still rising and much damage to property. Thousands are being driven from their houses by floods. At Annandale, near Kansas City, five colored persons were drowned.

State Telephone Exchange.

DETROIT, MICH., April 29.—A state telephone exchange has been organized here with a capital of a quarter of a million of dollars. The intention is to connect with one another the principal cities of the state.

Probable Fratricide.

CHARLESTON, S. C., April 29.—An encounter took place yesterday in Avondale, between Wm. and Henry Priester, father and son, in which the former was probably fatally wounded by five pistol shots fired by his son.

Trial For Arson.

NEW ORLEANS, April 29.—The trial of Isadore Levy and Matthew May, indicted for arson, is progressing. There are several witnesses to be examined and the case will probably occupy the court for several days.

Murder Case.

NEW ORLEANS, April 29.—John Driscoll, who was shot last night by Miles Diskin, died today. The murderer was arrested, but recorder Davy failed to take the deposition of the dying man.

Killed by a Mob.

PARIS, Kentucky, April 29.—At one o'clock yesterday morning a mob went to the jail and fired on and killed John Wisce, charged with murdering Wm. Marchand.

Murderer Hanged.

BALTIMORE, MD., April 29.—John Gathard alias Sandy Smith, colored, convicted of murdering Joseph Woods, in Baltimore county on the night of the second of December last, was hanged at Tallytown this morning.

A letter to the Memphis Appeal from Carrutheresville, Mo., gives the particulars of a tragic affair which occured on the evening of the 20th inst. At the time stated a white man was seen passing down the river in a skiff, which contained a young woman; when near the head of island 16 he threw her overboard and she drowned. A few persons on the bank of the river heard the woman begging to be put ashore and witnessed her terrible doom. They started in pursuit of the wretch, who, however, escaped in the darkness. The pair had remained over night in Carrutheisville, which is about 140 miles up the river

The sum of $1,250,000 is required to pay the salaries of the members of the house of representatives and their mileage. In addition to this the last house voted itself $125 for each member for newspapers and postage stamps, making an additional $87,750. The clerk disbursed on account salaries to stationery clerks $221,449 last year, exclusive of $25,000 which the treasury department paid direct to the stenographers. During a recess the persons who receive compensation are only about one hundred less than at other times. The cost for the senate is about $600,000 a year, nearly $100,000 going for salaries and mileage.

New Mexican Lawlessness.

SANTA FE, N. M. April 24.—Adjutant general Max Frost has returned from the San Juan and Animas rivers, in Rio Arriba county, and reports to Governor Lew Wallace that the warrants for murder and stock stealing found at the last term of the district court against Isaac Stockton, Ross Stricker, Garrett, and six others have been placed in the hands of deputy sheriffs Blancott and Stain for service; that a militia company of three officers and eighty-five men, well armed and mounted, are to aid the deputy sheriffs in the execution of the warrants and preserve the peace. Details of the company under lieutenants Cox and Stamp, of 15 men, are guarding the cattle trails to prevent raids. Couriers are stationed at favorable points to call for re-enforcements. Governor Wallace will to-morrow issue a proclamation offering $500 reward for Stockton, and $250 for each of his gang for arrest and delivery to the sheriff of Santa Fe, or Rio Arriba county. Governor Wallace will also send his requisition for these men to Governor Pitkin, of Colorado, who it is hoped will do his duty, and cause the arrest of this thieving and murdering gang. Evidence can be adduced that within the past two months over six hundred head of stolen cattle have been taken into the town of Durango and sold; that innocent and peaceful citizens dare not go into Durango for fear of their lives; that the bad element in the place, strongly in the preponderance, controls affairs and supports the Stockton crowd; that the sheriff and authorities of La Plata county are in with the Stockton gang, either from fear or favor, and the law-abiding citizens of the town dare not oppose the lawless element. Twenty-five men of the militia company, with two deputy sheriffs, are also patrolling the canon Largo, recently the rendezvous of the cattle thieves and murderers. Governor Wallace's action is highly commended, and peace and order will soon be restored. A hot reception will be accorded any marauding crowd which crosses the territorial line.

A Charming Serenade.

BOERNE, April 28th, 1881.

A favored few on the south side of the Cibolo, listened to a serenade so rare in quality that it deserves more than a passing notice.

The number of voices and the completeness of the orchestral accompaniment rendered the music perfectly charming. The tenor solo giving the odd, but always welcome swanee river, was very fine, being joined in the second part by a lonely alto, which occasionally melted into giggles, greatly enhancing the effect, and in the third part the full orchestral accompaniment was grand. Everybody supposed this song to be rendered in German.

A duet with soft accompaniment was lovely—at a distance.

The charming selection, "Three Blind Mice" from Sullivan's latest opera, was rendered with vigor and effect, no two voices and no two of the mysterious instruments coming in on time.

The parting ode was the finest of all the selections, being entirely instrumental. It was from Beethoven, opera 117, No. 3 and is popularly called "The gift I left behind me."

The mysterious disappearance of the entire party on finding themselves followed is not to be accounted for. They were distinctly seen by one party to cross the bridge, but no one on the opposite side saw or heard of them. Perhaps, as in olden times when fleeing from the witches, they followed the bed of the stream and so got away. X. Y. Z.

Heroic in Vain.

MANCHESTER, OHIO, April 25.—Mrs. Thompson, wife of ex-representative J. D. Thompson, of Lewis county, Kentucky, living about four miles from here, was crossing Straight creek in a small boat with her husband, about seven o'clock last evening. When near the center of the creek, one of the boards in the bottom of the boat came off and the craft sank. Mr. Thompson caught his wife and swarm with her to the boat. While she tried to climb into it the boat again upset. Again he caught her and swam back to the craft. She was too weak to hold on to the boat, and he held her above water with one hand and to the boat with the other, calling for help. A man living near by came to the shore, but being unable to swim, could render no assistance. Thompson sent the man for his brother, who lived half a mile distant. He still held his wife above water, and by the time the brother reached them he had managed to get her near enough to the shore to touch bottom, but was so exhausted that he could not get out of the water. When they were taken out Mrs. Thompson was dead, and he is in a very critical condition, being weakly and consumptive.

Red Letter Day in Arkansas.

Special Telegram to the News.

LITTLE ROCK, April 28.—This has been a red-letter day in the political annals of Arkansas. Two committees, composed of representative men of both sections of the democratic party, have been holding separate sessions during the afternoon, with a view of compromising the differences of each on the debt question, and preventing the disruption of the party. No definite conclusion was reached, and the committees are in joint session to-night, hoping to avoid the threatened split. The anti-bond payers are firm, claiming that they represent 50,000 democratic voters, while the bond payers seem unwilling to yield unless they can dictate terms. A division seems imminent. The anti-bond payers have arranged to found a party organ here, and show a determination to set up in business for themselves. At this writing it looks as though the death-knell of Bourbonism had been rung in Arkansas.

General Grant Still in Luck—Americans Prospecting.

CITY OF MEXICO, April 28.—General Grant was given a banquet yesterday by Jose Lamantour, who is claimant for the land upon which San Francisco stands to-day. Another and larger banquet was given to General Grant and Hon. Matias Romero by the Senators and deputies from Oaxaca. Great harmony prevailed and enthusiastic speeches were made by many men of prominence.

There are several Americans here seeking railway concessions. Three different parties are applying for the Eagle Pass and Topolovampo route.

Seguin Items of Interest.

Editors San Antonio EXPRESS;

SEGUIN, April 29, 1881.

Our base ball club went over to play a game yesterday with the Prairie Lea boys. There was a big Grange pic-nic at the same time. We have not heard the result, though some of our boys returned last night, and the others got in to-day. As they came in town the back way and have not been on the streets to-day, it is supposed they did not play a very successful game. At any rate it would be safe to say that Prairie Lea feels better than Seguin does over the result.

On to-morrow the Methodist sunday school will pic-nic on the river above town.

The Episcopal school will except to San Antonio on the morning train.

The Texas Western Railway.

CHICAGO, April 28.—Col. Fred. Grant will leave here to-day with his family for New York, where he goes to assume the presidency of the Texas Western Narrow Gauge. This road is projected from Houston to Presidio del Norte, a distance of 600 miles, but only forty-two miles—from Houston to Pattera—is completed and in operation. The new company expect to build and equip 200 miles before the close of the present year.

Mr. C. F. Riggs of Huntsville Mo., says that since the 6th of October, 1880, there have been 33 days in which snow fell. Between the 1st of December and the 10th of April there were 63 days which the sun did not snow himself at any time. There were 64 consecutive days in which ice formed at some time during the day or night. The lowest temperature reached at that point was 22 degrees below zero.

Decoration day, April 25th, was observed at Wadesville, Miss. Quite a concourse of ex-confederate soldiers, ladies and citizens, assembled at the Confederate graveyard and decorated the graves of Col. Feltus and others. Hon. Capt. George T. McIlehee made an appriate address. The soldiers formed in line, headed by a brass band, and marched back to town.

The jury in the case of Mrs. Howe, of the so-called ladies' deposit bank, returned a verdict of guilty, on the 25th instant. The case will be appealed on a bill of exceptions. A party of 9 of homeless persons were sent to the west from New York, on the 26th, by Mr. Whitelaw Reid. It consisted of 26 boys, 6 girls and 4 families, making in all 65 people.

A Salina, California, dispatch says that the residence of H. R. Ball, mayor of that city, burned on the 22d. Mr. Ball was absent at the time of the fire. When the flames were subdued the bodies of Mrs. Ball and her two daughters, Henrietta and Mary, were found in the ruins. The origin of the fire is unknown.

Martin Kramer, a native of New Orleans, aged forty years, committed suicide on the 24th inst., by shooting himself twice behind the right ear with a six-shooter. Business failure and politics are assigned as the cause. He leaves a wife, mother and nine children.

The grain growers of California are agitating the proposition to ship their wheat direct to Liverpool via Galveston, thus saving the percentage of middlemen and increasing the profit of the farmer.

Saturday Morning, April 30, 1881.

When they want to be very severe on Garfield, now, they call Blaine "Mr. Secretary-President."

The last recorded conjunction of Jupiter and Saturn, previous to night before last, was in 1146, during the time of the second crusade.

Notwithstanding the troubles of the Illinois people, consequent upon the late season and fears of not making a crop, the legislature of that state is in session again.

Houston's debt is only a little over a million and a half, while San Antonio is ground down under a debt of a hundred thousand or so. But then, this is a larger city than Houston.

The democrats of Ohio, must expect to carry that state in the next gubenatorial campaign, as we are told there are no less than thirty possible candidates for the first place on their ticket.

The tax-payers of New York are encouraged with the announcement that the capitol building at Albany has reached so near completion that a mere bagatelle of two and a quarter millions more will finish the job, which can be done, if the funds are furnished, by 1884.

There appears to have been little loss of sleep on account of the planitary conjunction. Mahone, and Riddleberger, and Dawes, and Hill, and Voorhees can kick up more of a sensation than a whole gross of planets, if the said planets behave themselves properly.

The new Czar of Russia does not propose to meet the fate of his late father, if careful precautions will prevent it. He is secretly guarded in the chateau of Gatschina, and the Anitschkoff and Winter palaces are being surrounded with defenses similar to those used to defend iron-clads against torpedo explosions.

A Paris paper gravely announces that a lively conflict is now in progress at the White House between the wine-drinkers and the temperance society. "The temperance society," it says, "would like to suppress the use of wine at official dinners. On the other hand, marshal and aide-de-camp Murat Halstead, opposes with great violence the pretensions of the temperance society."

A man named Moriarty, brought suit against the New York elevated railroad company, for damages, on account of an alleged injury to his daughter, by a collision on the elevated railway. The allegation was proven a fraud, and Moriarty was arrested and tried, and convicted in the New York courts last week on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the company.

Mrs. Belva A. Lockwood, the Washington "attorneyess," is an applicant for the Brazil mission. It is not alleged that she depends upon the influence of Senator Hill for success in the senate, if nominated, as she was the attorney for a certain young woman who was toting a certain young baby about Washington some time since, hunting a distinguished daddy for the youngster.

It is said the comptroller is preparing a notice to all officers that they are not authorized to collect the tax required from drummers, but that said tax must be paid at his office before permits will be issued, and no drummer can solicit trade without the comptroller's license, which must be recorded in the county clerk's office before soliciting orders, under a penalty of not less than twenty-five dollars.

Vanderbilt offered a very large subscription to the world's fair project, with certain provisos; but now he is reported to have declared his willingness to withdraw the restrictions. But Vanderbilt's enemies are unkind enough to suggest that he was well aware that the fair scheme was dead, and that his subscription would not bring it to life, before he offered to remove the restrictions.

We are beginning to believe that the great reason why the republicans are anxious to maintain the deadlock is, that to break it would be liable to bring on one of the greatest interine wars the republican party has yet known. It will be Blaine against Conkling, and throughout the country the party is already divided, each side abusing the other like they were horse thieves. The democrats will have top seats, and can enjoy the fun.

Referring to the recent labor strikes in the north, the New York Herald says: "The right of workingmen to secure the highest compensation possible for their services is a perfectly just and natural one. So long as they act within the law no one can intefere with them, and to quit work is not in any civilized community a punishable offence. It is only when they conspire to prevent other people from working that they come within the purview of the law."

In reference to the recent decree of the French government against American pork, M. Leon Chotesu, an eminent Frenchman and official dignitary, now in New York, says: "The decree of the government is looked upon as a great blunder; so much so that the agitation has been going on since it was issued, resulting in a modification which practically makes it void; or if it does not now, will in time. The people must have American pork, and therefore, the damage to trade will not be as great as it otherwise might be. It is absurd to say that the decree arouse from fears based on sanitary principles. It was political measures, and is now considered to have been a very great mistake."

In all countries and under all governments, fairs and festivals for religious or benevolent purposes are by common consent and usage free from taxations; but it remained for a deputy U. S. internal revenue collector in San Antonio to break over the universally recognized custom and demand that ladies selling cigars at a church festival should take out a government license to conduct their business. It may have been that the very delicate construction and tenderness of the official's conscience impelled him to this act, or it may have been the desire to secure a fee or make a display of himself as a mighty personage clothed with unusual power, in whose presence common mortals must stand in fear and trembling. If it was the officer's conscience that troubled him he could have eased it by making a contribution of five or ten dollars to the cause, if it was to attract attention to himself he could have accomplished it in a manner more satisfactory to others, and more complimentary to himself, by making a like donation.

THE CONQUEST OF TEXAS.

We have noticed appearing in a St Louis paper, articles under the above caption, and credited to the Philadelphia Times, which struck us as not altogether reconcilable with what we had regarded as the truth of history. Some of these articles, which we had preserved, we handed to a gentleman of this city, generally understood to be pretty well acquainted with the events and actors of the time referred to, in Texas, and asked him to read them and give us his opinion of them.

He tells us he is like the unsuspecting man who after reading the adventures of Baron Munchausen remarked that although it was in print he could not believe the whole of it; in fact, our friend said he found great difficulty in finding anything at all in them which was not grossly and outrageously false. He says the writer has hardly ever even by accident stumbled on the truth, and as a specimen of lying defies all competition; so overwhelming are they both in plenitude and perfection.

He introduces as actors in the revolution of Texas men who were never known as such and who were never in, or perhaps heard of there, if they ever existed at all. He names Berry Hawkins as a prominent actor and leader in the war with Mexico. There was no such man in Texas at the time referred to, and never was until about 1838, when Littleberry Hawkins came here, and he never took any part, even the humblest, in public affairs, civil or military. Dr. Bennett, who is made by this writer to act so conspicuous a part in the events referred to, had no lot or part in them, and was unknown here, except by reputation as an expert gambler, who cultivated other and richer fields. The same is true of the others mentioned, such as Gen. Montgomery, Maj. Moss, Col. Beaufort, etc. David Crockett is made commander at the Alamo. He was not. Col (not Doc) Travis was in command. And (pardon him, oh shade of Travis) the Alamo is made to surrender without a shot! Two weeks after the surrender of the Alamo, he has Houston's army on soil claimed by the United States west of the Neches, having made a distance of about 400 miles, crossing the Colorado, Brazos, San Jacinto and Trinity, over which there was not a bridge, in the unprecedented time of fourteen days.

With some more exposures of falsehoods equally glaring, our informant expressed his opinion of the articles in question with a degree of deprecatory emphasis not necessary to be repeated, and at the same time his astonishment that a respectable paper should publish or copy such a farago.

THE TEMPERANCE CAUSE.

The prohibitionists in Lamar county are moving in the matter of having a state convention to further the temperance cause in this state. The temperence cause is a good one, and every temperance movement made in the right direction and properly conducted will meet the approval of all good citizens. We believe in temperance societies, temperance conventions and temperance lectures, and everything calculated to do away with dissipation and drunkenness and the crimes that so frequently follow their excess, just as we are in favor of all Christain denominations and everything else tending to the elevation and improvement of the morals of society; but the name of prohibitionist implies force to carry out the temperance doctrine; it means an interference with individual liberty of action; and those who vote for the authorization of such a force are bartering away a liberty. If it is right to declare a man shall not drink certain liquors because they are injurious, it is right to say a man shall not eat of certain food because it is jurious. A man may injure himself and family and the community in which he lives by extravagance and living beyond his means; shall a law be framed declaring what portion of a man's salary he shall spend in a certain way? Prohibition is an infringement that may be but the beginning of a disastrous ending; the destruction of the "free agency" of man; the attempt to accomplish by human effort what was not contemplated in the Divine dispensation.

We believe in preaching temperance and christianity; not in attempting to force either upon the people. Lectures hold meetings and conventions and organize societies. Make individual effort among your dissipated friends, through reasoning and persuasion, but there let the effort end.

SENATORIAL COURTESY.

"Senatorial courtesy" is something very difficult for our common people to understand or appreciate. For instance, in his speech on Thursday last, Senator Butler, in the line of senatorial courtesy, prefaced his remarks by declaring that he wished it understood that "with the motives and purposes and intentions of the senators as individuals he had nothing to do; that he was not there to impeach the motives or call in question the individual integrity and honesty of the senators;" and then in pursuance of his promise to prove a bargain between Mahone and the republican senators or resign his seat, he proceeded to give seventeen reasons to prove that the republican senators had entered into as dastardly a bargain and sale of people and official position as was ever recorded in the history of any government; an act which, if really performed—and few, if any, doubt it,—should stamp the perpetrators as conscieceless rogues, and cause them to always remain marks for the finger of scorn and contempt.

Senatorial courtesy may be a robe a gentlemen of honor, of honesty and integrity, may put on to enact the part of a rogue, and then free himself from all unrighteousness again by throwing it aside. At least we infer that it must be something like that, from the frequent parade of the term in connection with the conduct and speeches of our senators during the past several weeks.

SOME OF THE ITEMS.

A Washington dispatch says that in his investigation of the star route business the postmaster general has ascertained that eight contractors alone controlled in their own names forty-seven of the most profitable of the ninety-three routes. The holdings of these contractors were as follows: J. B. Price, six routes, covering 895½ miles, for which the origininal pay was in round numbers $47,000; increased to $173,000. J. M. Peck, nine routes, covering 1,666 miles, for which the original pay was $35,000; increased to $236,000. J. R. Miner, eight routes, covering a distance of 832 miles; for which the original pay was $10,000; increased to $135,000. J. W. Dorsey, eight routes, covering 1,883 miles, for which the orignal was $15,000; increased to $147,000. O. J. Saulisbury, five routes, covering 1,003 miles; for which the original pay was $72,000; increased to $176,000. T. A. McDevitt, five routes covering 969 miles, for which the original pay was $42,000; increased to $112,000. J. T. Chidester, one route, covering 1,500 miles for which the original pay was $134,000; increased to $290,000. C. W. Foster, five routes, covering a distance of 742 miles; for which the original pay was $67,000; increased to $163,000.

The Mexican government appointed some time ago a commission to investigate its debt. The commission found a mass of money obligations footing up to $425,000,000. Of this only $98,500,0000 is decided to be legally due the states' creditors, making the recognized debt with interest $145,000,000. This amounts to a repudiation of $280,000,000 of indebtedness, in most of which repudiation, however, Mexico is clearly justified. In it is included the $75,000,000 of French claims which Louis Napoleon made a pretext for invading Mexico, the French loan to the Maximilian government, $25,000,000, and the $65,000,000 of French war expenses, which Maximilian guaranteed. This was a French affair altogether, and the Mexican government gave notice to the world that it would never be responsible for the debt of the invaders.

The people of Michigan have twice defeated prohibition, yet the legislature of that state have spent about two-thirds of their time at the present session trying to pass a bill to re-submit the proposition. Failing to do that, they propose to tax liquor out of existence in that state. While distilled spirits are not manufactured in Michigan, the malt liquor interest is an extensive one; yet it is proposed to make the tax alike on each, and that tax almost prohibitory. More states than Texas have "how not to do it" legislatures.

Mayor Means, according to the Cincinnati Gazette, has closed the gambling houses and Sunday theaters and is now urged on the Sunday saloons and every day bucket-shops. Means means business.

THE TILLOTSON NORMAL INSTITUTE.

Interesting Description of an Important Institution.

Austin, Texas, April 26, 1881.

Editor San Antonio Express.

It was not until Dr. Mayo's recent visit to San Antonio, in the interest of education that the writer heard of the Tillotson Normal collegiate institute at Austin. But Dr. Mayo had so much to say in praise of the appointments and methods of this seat of instruction that I determined, the first opportunity, to visit it.

I have had this pleasure to-day, and in behalf of all lovers of good education for the masses, and in order that the merits of this institution may be better known, I venture this note to your columns.

The real estate I understand was presented to the society by Rev. George Tillotson and it is admirably chosen. It embraces eight acres, covering a knoll one mile east of Congress avenue. The building is large, of white brick made here, of fine proportions and is five stories in height. In the basement are the dining room, kitchen and other appointments; on the first floor are the parlor, school room, seating 15, and several recitation rooms; on the second floor are the bed rooms. The upper stories are not yet completed. The expenses are as low as possible. To day scholars two dollars per month; and to boarders (and all incidentals furnished) twelve dollars per month. The boarding pupils render some labor.

There are now some ninety pupils, although the institute has been opened but three months. The principal, Rev. W. E. Brooks, late of West Haven, Conn., is assisted by Miss Hunt, late of Charleston, S. C. Miss Hunt has charge of the main room, where some classes go out to recite to the principal.

As I sat upon the platform looking into the faces of those pupils of all ages above primary grade, I could not do otherwise than admire the discipline which, through a kindly eye and quiet voice, ruled in Christian love all these students. I noticed as much concentration of mind upon the things to be done as we see exhibited in our San Antonio schools, where we all know there is not a little of this quality, thanks to Prof. Rote and his excellent teachers.

I heard classes recite—spelling, history and arithmetic—and was much gratified with the method of teaching and with the proficiency shown. It seemed impossible that this could be the result of three months effort.

Being asked to address the school, the writer congratulated them that for an moderate a sum, which any parent could pay, they were daily taught, amid all help and convenience for study, both who God is and what He has done in this marvelous world of ours. And they were urged to value education highly, and when able by and by to vote always for free schools for all and ten months in a year, not too months. After hearing the school sing, which they did with a will, I left, heartily glad of the success of the Tillotson institute. Yours sincerely,

Educational.

GREELEY NO. 2.

The Old Veteran Waking up the Farmers and Stockmen of Kerr County—What he Says and What he Saw.

Special Correspondence San Antonio Express.

Kerrville, Kerr County, April 26th, 1881.—Apple Blossom and myself arrived at this place this morning before breakfast. I stopped one and a half miles out of town last evening out of the rain. It proved a light shower, but south of this the rain must have been heavy. I left the Center Point after four o'clock yesterday, just ten miles below this place, and traveled most all the way up the Guadalupe river, and saw some fine farms. I saw no corn but what will come out and make good corn if worked. Some plowed up their corn and are now sorry for it. So much for not reading and heeding The Express. I saw but one wheat field, and that was injured by the frost. If they would only let it alone it would start out from the roots and make just one quarter more. When will our farmers learn to profit by the experience of others? How long, Oh, how long will it take them to learn that the Nicaraugua wheat is the most reliable and profitable crop they can raise.

Fruit seems pretty much all killed except on the mountains, where it is injured.

This river, the Gaudalupe, from here to Centre Point has gigantic water power, and falls from fifteen to twenty feet to the mile, and the volume of water is uniform, except when it rises.

I went through Messrs. Schreiner and Torrence's mill to-day. They can gin saw, and grind meal, all by the same Turbine wheel, which is forty-eight inch, and thirty horse power. The mill house is above the high water mark, and is operated by an up right shaft twenty feet in height, and thence by other shafting to the mill house.

Kerrville contains one hundred and fifty inhabitants, and is one thousand two hundred to one thousand four hundred feet higher than San Antonio, thus making it a fine health resort. Mr. C. Schreiner, the merchant prince of this country, is doing a heavier retail business than Bennett or Greer. His residence is unequaled in this country, being built of fine rock, and has a tank under the roof, furnishing water for all the rooms in both stories.

I saw Mr. John Lytle, here. He and Schreiner are partners in the stock business, and have shipped, and have now on the road, large droves to Montana. I am glad to know they are buying principly males. How long will it take our people to find out that we have no cattle to spare?

As my route leads in the direction of Edwards county, I wish you would call the attention of Gen. Augur to the fact that I want immediate protection. Greeley No. 2.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

SEALED PROPOSALS will be received by the County Judge of Bandera County until the 7th day of May, 1881, for Plans, Specifications and Bids to build in the town of Bandera, a hard rock Jail house, two stories high, iron cages in upper story, jailor's room below, iron or other metalic roof, water closets, etc., and to cost about $5,000. Plans and Specifications accompanying each bid must be full and complete, giving size of building, size of cages, quality of iron, by whom cages made, etc.

Contractor must give bond in the sum of $2,000 for the faithful performance of his contract. Contractor to be paid one-fourth on completion of work and remainder in equal installments in one, two and three years from completion of jail, with ten per cent. interest.

The attention of the bidder is called to the fact that good rock can be obtained within one mile of the town of Bandera.

The right to reject any and all bids is reserved.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy from the minutes of the February term, 1881, of the Commissioners' Court of Bandera County as shown on page 251, Journal B.

(L. S.) Given under my hand and seal of office, this 23rd day of February, 1881.

The GREAT APETIZER & COUGH CURE

For Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Asthma, Pneumonia, Consumption, and all Diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs.

Balsam of Tolu

Has always been one of the most important weapons wielded by the MEDICAL FACULTY against the encroachments of COUGHS, COLDS, BRONCHITIS, ASTHMA, SORE THROAT, CONSUMPTION, in its incipient and advanced stages, and all diseases of the Throat, Chest and Lungs, but it has never been so advantageously compounded as in the celebrated TOLU ROCK and RYE. In addition to its soothing Balsamic properties, it affords a diffusive stimulant and tonic, to build up the System after the cough has been relieved.

Over 1,000,000 Bottles Consumed Annually

Extract from Report of Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

Treasury Department, Office of Internal Revenue, Washington, D. C., January 26, 1880.

Messrs. LAWRENCE & MARTIN, Chicago, Ill.

Gentlemen: The TOLU ROCK and RYE, compounded according to the formula, has a sufficient quantity of the BALSAM of TOLU to give it all the advantages ascribed in pectoral complaints, and rendering it an agreeable remedy to the patient. It may properly be classed as a Medicinal Preparation under the provisions of S. Revised Statutes, and when so stamped may be sold by Druggists, Grocers and Other Persons WITHOUT RENDERING THEM LIABLE TO PAY SPECIAL TAX as liquor dealers. Yours Respectfully, (Signed) GREEN B. RAUM, Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

CAUTION! Don't be deceived by unprincipled dealers who try to palm off on you Rock and Rye in place of our Tolu Rock and Rye, which is the only MEDICATED article made—the genuine bearing the name, Lawrence & Martin, on the Proprietary Government Stamp on each bottle.

PUT UP IN QUART SIZE BOTTLES FOR FAMILY USE.

FROM CENTRE POINT.

Greeley No. 2 Makes a Visit to Mr. Albert Maverick's Farm and Stock Ranch, Etc.

Special Correspondence San Antonio Express.

CENTER POINT, April 23th, 1881.—As I before stated I and Buck, (Landford and sheriff) shortly comprised the difficulty by his taking the DAILY EXPRESS. I then hunted up my old friend Hicks, and asked him to pilot me to the place of the gentleman that was hunting Greely with a double barrel shot gun. So we started, and he piloted me to Mr. A.—Maverick's pasture. I promised Hicks to stay all night Sunday with him. I met Albert going in for the mail. He told me to go to his house and turn out, which I was but too glad to do, as Albert's pasture was just good enough, and Apple Blossom, was hungry for it. I unbitched her and selected a fine spot of grass, and for once she had her fill. Mr. Maverick has a fine place; some 1,000 or 2,000 acres under fence; his is, perhaps, the best watered place in Bandera county, some six miles up the Medina river, with a three mile front. Mr. Maverick reads the DAILY EXPRESS, and consequently he is a well informed, and I am glad to add, a practical man. He is carrying out Greeley's ideas. He is stocking his fine pasture with cattle and horses and don't I love him as I did his father before him! I saw in his pen the finest nine months old hog I ever saw in any country. He sold bacon last year to his merchant, Huffmeyer & Bro. I ate some of his can-cured ham, as fine as ever I saw. Here I saw the finest springs in Texas, outside of San Antonio—the finest spring house, for milk. Albert is trying the Devon stock with other varieties. No man in Bandera county stands higher than Albert Maverick. There was some opposition to his big pasture, but his neighbor, Hicks, simply said that if Mr. Maverick was annoyed or molested he would take a hand himself. That settled the business.

I talked Albert and Wonda nearly to sleep. We retired a few moments to rest. This morning I accompanied Albert to his fine spring and saw him feed his fish, fine perch, by her flock with worms, for they were hungry. I then strolled off alone through his peach orchard, and apple orchard; all killed. I saw some fine strawberries. They were mulched or strawed. Here I saw a little patch of water cress. Corn and small grain are safe, also irish potatoes, beans, cauba e, onions and lettuce. Albert says this is a fine country, with good people, and says the people are fortunate in having such merchants as Carmichael and Huffmeyer.

At 11 a. m. I hitched up Apple Blossom, and Albert saddled his fine Hambletonian and piloted me to my old friend Hicks. Here the frost was light. Grapes are in bloom, and a mast of pecans and post oak is uninjured. Hicks had nearly 100 acres in corn and small grain. All looked promising. Here was another farm well watered, a fine spring forming a creek of never failing water. He also has a fine spring house, similar to that of Mr. Maverick's. I knew Hicks in 1854 and '55, a poor boy worth nothing. He went to Bandera before it was organized, and fought Indians. Today he is one of Bandera's best citizens, and worth from $25,000 to $40,000, and m a it by hard work and good management. He says farming will pay, if properly managed. He has 100 head of stock and seldom has a herder. He says plenty of salt is better than a herder. He has over 100 head of horses, and is grading up and improving his stock. He says he never saw anything wrong in Greeley's advice except as to planting corn the 15th day of February. He is an old subscriber to the EXPRESS. I am sorry to say that most of his fruit was killed. I saw some apples that were nearly half grown, that looked well.

Center Point is a nice place and lands. Wheat, oats and corn are all uninjured. The country is very healthy and has fine water power. GREELEY No. 2.

The manner in which England is affected by the food supply poured in on her from this country may be inferred from such items as this from the London Times: "Instead of twenty applicants for every vacant farm, which was common ten years ago, there are in some districts twenty farms and not a responsible inquiry."

Daily Review of the San Antonio Market.

OFFICE OF DAILY AND WEEKLY EXPRESS, Friday, April 29, 1881.

Business continues as at our last reports. Receipts by wagon and by rail are fully up to the average and exports by wagon and rail are heavy.

The local wool market is quiet to-day as far as transactions are concerned and buyers and holders appear to be apart as to prices. The receipts reported to-day are as follows: Nineteen bags of wool from Gillespie county by Messrs. Staffel & Vogel; 26 bags of the Mrs. N. J. Thompson clip by D. & A. Oppenheimer, 6 bags of the Dr. W. H. Burt clip by S. C. Beckett, 19 bags of the White clip from Eagle Pass, and 4 bags of the Shepard & Rio clip by A. B. Frank & Co., 2 bags of the W. G. Hughes clip by Messrs. Chabot, Moss & Co., 14 bags of the Dr. Taylor clip by Ed. Schuchardt.

Messrs. Chabot, Moss & Co. have on exhibition at the merchants' exchange a beautiful sample of Oxfordshire wool raised near Boerne. It should be examined by all wool men visiting this city. It proves that the best grades of fine sheep will do as well in Texas as in our native stock and can be used to improve our Texas wools and raise them to any desired standard.

The merchants' exchange will be in receipt of daily telegrams from the northern wood markets next week, and arrangements will be made to show the daily receipts and sales of the San Antonio market as well as total stock on hand at the close of each day's business. It is the intention of the board of directors to add to the usefulness of the exchange constantly until it becomes the greatest aid to local business in this city.

Hides are in light receipt and the market is dull and prices weak.

Messrs. Staffel & Vogel report to the merchants' exchange the sale of 110 sheepskins at 35 cents each.

Grain is firm locally. Messrs. Staffel & Vogel sold at the exchange to-day 300 bushels of oats at full prices and one hundred bushels of corn at 86c. per bushel. The local stock of grain is large and the state of the northern markets indicates higher prices next fall. Grain futures for the late months are telegraphed to the merchants' exchange from Chicago and St. Louis to be above last year's quotations and further advances are expected later in the season, as the condition of the new crop becomes known.

Country produce is in active demand at full prices.

Live stock continues to boom and the demand for stock sheep, mutton, cattle, horses and mules is increasing.

Liniment Iodide Ammonia.

CURES ALL PAIN IN MAN & BEAST

Giles Liniment Iodide Ammonia cures Neuralgia, Face Ache, Rheumatism, Gout, Frosted Feet, Chilblains, Sore Throat, Erysipelas, Bruises, and Wounds of every nature in man and animal. The remarkable cures this remedy has effected classes it as one of the most important and valuable remedies ever discovered for the cure or relief of pain.

I had twelve strokes of paralysis. My leg, tongue and arm were useless; was obliged to use a catheter every day. Giles' Liniment Iodide of Ammonia has cured me. Will answer any inquiries so that all afflicted may know of it. John Apgell,
North Bracket, Conn.

My wife suffered with prolapsus uteri, floor aloua, complicated with other female troubles. Her life was miserable. Rev. S. Fraser, of the Methodist church, advised me to try Giles' Liniment Iodide Ammonia and Pills, by telling me of the wonders it had performed on his wife. I was in a similar such troubles, and is now well. I obtained the Liniment and Pills, and my wife is cured.
Charles R. Jones, editor Observer, Charlott, C.

Write to Dr. Giles, at 120 West Broadway, New York, who will cure all female troubles out pay.

Read the following: Salt Rheum Cured. I had Salt Rheum on my hand for five years. I tried every doctor I could hear of. The salves, ointments and soaps without number; nothing benefited me. A 50c. bottle of Giles' Liniment Iodide Ammonia cured me in less than a week. A. Lozanne, Roxanne, 162 West Thirty-second street, N. Y.

Habitual Costiveness, the cause of so many troubles, such as loss of Spirits, Dizziness of the Head, Loss of Memory, Indigestion, Flatulence, Beating of the Heart, Nervousness, all these are cured by Giles' Improved Mandrake Pills.

Giles' Liniment and Pills are sold by all Druggists throughout the world. Trial bottles, 25c.; Pills, 25c.

Beware of counterfeits; the genuine has a facsimile of the inventor's signature, WILLIAM M. GILES, over the cork of each bottle.

The Liniment in white wrappers is for family use, that in yellow wrappers is for the stable. It is the only Liniment that possesses alterative properties and can be taken internally. Quart bottles at $2.50, in which there is a great saving. oct 14 1taw daw

TO CONTRACTORS and BUILDERS.

In pursuance of an order of the County Commissioners Court of Dimmit County, at the February term, A. D. 1881, sealed proposals for building a jail at Carrizo Springs, the county site of said county, according to plans and specifications therefor on file in my office, will be received until and opened on Monday, the ninth day of May, A. FROM EL PASO.

Something About the Recent Troubles From a Witness of the Scenes.

Moral Courage Versus Morbid Bravado—The Distinction Marked by Marshal Studemair's Conduct.

El Paso's Railway Boom—Progress of the Roads—The Southern Pacific Coming on Rapidly.

AN EXPRESS representative yesterday had an interesting talk with Col. R. M. Moore, who has just returned from an extensive trip in the interest of the U. S. customs business through the western portion of Texas, and through New Mexico and Arizona.

Col. Moore was present in El Paso during the recent shooting scrapes there—indeed, was immediately upon both scenes in which the votaries of law and order fought and defeated a rough and disorderly element which had recently come into El Paso. Before the details are given, it may be remarked that there is no race feeling at El Paso, but good will exists between the order-loving people on both sides of the Rio Grande, and should any feeling have existed, the conduct of the El Paso authorities in defence of the law would have entirely allayed it. The mayor of El Paso is a Jew by the name of Solomon Shultz and he and other good citizens recently obtained the dismissal of certain officials who seemed to or did sypathize with the rough classes. One George Campbell had been engaged in a shooting scrape some weeks before the late fights, and Col. George W. Baylor, in command of the state troops in El Paso county, had instructed his men to arrest him. This they failed or refused to do, and were discharged, and joined with the disorderly element. Under the new administration of the town, a man by the name of Studemair, a German, was sent for and given the position of city or town marshal, and he, with the entire new administration, was bitterly abused and cursed upon the streets by the roughs who had recently been ejected from their positions.

Marshal Studemair and his policemen took their positions on the 14th, and it was reported that two Mexican boys from El Paso, Mexico, had been killed on the Texas side while hunting cattle. The boys belonged to two of the best families on the Mexican side, and the friends came over to apply for the bodies and also to urge the arrest of the murderers. The purpose of the Mexicans was opposed by the El Paso roughs, who tried to prevent any aid being given them, and also abused all who sought to enforce the execution of the law. But marshal Studemair promptly rendered the assistance asked for, and Gus Krempkau, a San Antonio boy, volunteered to accompany him. They searched for and found the bodies, and arrested one Stevens and a comrade for the murder. Stevens admitted the killing, but said the Mexicans attempted to take stock away from him. The stock they attempted to take had been stolen from them in Mexico.

The bodies of the dead Mexicans and the two prisoners were conveyed to El Paso. The bodies were delivered to the coroner and the prisoners to the state authorities. While the officers were doing their duty, George Campbell met Krempkau and abused him for helping the Mexicans, and for joining with Studemair, and when Krempkau had finished his portion of the work, he went to Campbell and told him he wanted no more from him—that he must keep the peace and leave him alone. A conversation ensued, during which one John Halle appeared upon the scene, and, being a friend of Campbell, with his cocked pistol in hand, said, "George, turn her loose!" and fired on Krempkau. Krempkau returned the fire and also fired on Campbell. Marshal Studemair then came to the rescue of Krempkau and shot Halle through the brain, and then turned on Campbell, who was backing off and trying to draw his pistol with his left hand, having been wounded in the right hand by Krempkau, and fired a fatal shot, the ball passing through and through Campbell's body. Marshal Studemair, in firing on Halle, accidentally shot a Mexican standing by through the body and killed him. All this shooting took place within a minute, and, with the two dead Mexicans, there were six dead men lying in the street within a radius of fifty feet. The shooting seemed to quiet the roughs for a few days, but on Sunday morning of the 17th, three days after the shooting, Marshal Studemair was notified that unless he resigned he would be killed before the sun rose again. That day was quiet, but at 8 o'clock in the evening, one Johnson, an ex-city official, under the influence of liquor, having been made a dupe of by one Jilson, a rough and a gambler, met the marshal on the corner of El Paso and San Antonio streets, demanded his keys, and at the same time fired on him with a shot-gun. Though but about fifteen feet from Studemair, Johnson missed his mark, when the marshal shot him dead. Fire was also immediately opened on the marshal from the opposite sides of the streets, for he stood on the corner. At least twenty shots were fired at the marshal, but he received only a slight wound in the right heel. He wounded two of his assailants and whipped the gang of assassins off. Marshal Studemair had his wound dressed, and with his assistants returned to the streets, and remained up until midnight keeping the peace. He was out early next morning on a crutch, and complete master of the situation. Since then, all has remained quiet.

The friends of the different parties killed buried them on Saturday, the 16th. Jilson, mentioned above, to give effect to his bravado, knelt over the coffin of Campbell at the funeral, and with up-lifted pistol swore to avenge the death of his friend. After the funeral, Jilson was hunted for by the friends of order, but he had fled for his life. He and another rough took the train for Arizona.

Everyone regrets the death of Johnson, who would not have acted as he did had he been sober. He leaves a young wife and child, besides several dependent sisters, to mourn his sad fate.

Col. Moore says the end of the Southern Pacific is now within four miles of El Paso, and the road will be completed within thirty days. The Atchison and Topeka is all graded to El Paso, and will reach El Paso about the same time as the Southern Pacific. It is a race to see which shall get there first.

Work has been begun on the Mexican Central in Mexico. The route is laid out to Chihuahua, and contractors to do the grading were moving into Mexico when Col. Moore left. The Texas Pacific having to complete their road by next October, have begun work in earnest from the El Paso end, and have graded some forty or fifty miles. When the Southern Pacific reaches El Paso, it will not stop but be pushed on to San Antonio. The chief of construction, Mr. Trowbridge, told Col. Moore that he would run into San Antonio within eighteen months.

El Paso is building up rapidly in a business way. Col. Moore visited different section of New Mexico and Arizona, and reports the mining towns booming, and mining in New Mexico and southern Arizona is so active that the miner with his pick has forever settled the Indian question in those sections.

S. army, to whom he will report by letter.

THE DRUMMERS' TAX LAW.

How it is Enforced at New Braunfels.

Mr. James T. Rogers, representing Rosenheim, Lewis & Co., St. Louis, reached New Braunfels about noon of Thursday. After reaching the hotel, Mr. Rogers found that dinner was not ready, and himself and another drummer went to the county clerk's office to have their licenses recorded. They found the office closed. After dinner, at 1:30, the two parties went again to the same place, and found it still closed. Then the gentlemen sought business, not having any time to spare, and Mr. Rogers sold a bill of goods to S. A. Hoffman. After this transaction, the sheriff, without any warrant, arrested him, conveyed him to the courthouse, and had him record his license. Thereafter, Mr. Rogers says, a warrant was sworn out against him for having failed to record his drummers' license, and the result was that it cost him in toto $41.25. This embraces both the fine and the costs. Mr. Rogers says he appealed, and gave bond, but, as a dernier resort, paid the fine under protest. Mr. Rogers says about the same time another man was arrested for not having a license, his name being Phil Neumann, representing Brueggerhoff, of Austin, but he was released after paying costs and paying for license. Mr. Rogers attributes the assault on him to the fact that he could not speak German.

After supper, Mr. Rogers saw the prosecuting attorney appeared at the Schmitt hotel while he was talking with Mr. Tabor, representing Deere, Manseur & Co., of Dallas. He asked the attorney how it was that the Brueggerhoff representative, without license, escaped with but $8 expense, while he had to pay $41.21, notwithstanding the fact that he held a license. The attorney replied that the Brueggerhoff representative had pleaded guilty, taken out license, and upon this he was permitted to go. An inconsistency arose on this issue which has not yet been fully determined.

Personal.

Dr. Fakes, of Black hill ranch, Atascoso county, is in the city for a few days.

Mr. W. P. Carter leaves to-day to be with his brother, who is now ill at Fort Davis.

Mrs. John Pauly, from St. Louis, arrived yesterday. She is here on a visit to her relatives and is the guest of her uncle Mr. Peter Pauly.

Judge Siemering departed for Hot Springs last evening. His many friends in Texas hope he will return fully recovered from his rheumatic affliction.

Mr. Charley Lempke arrived from Galveston yesterday. He is on his way to the Atascoso county district court, which opens Monday, to stand his trial for the killing of Dowees.

James Ord, son of Gen. E. O. C. Ord, returned from the city of Mexico yesterday, to attend the trial of Charley Lempke, in Atascoso county. James says that his father is still in the city of Mexico, and will not return for some weeks.

Another Robbery.

Mr. Ed Whitcomb, a young carpenter working in this city, and boarding at Mrs. Adam's boarding house, on North Flores street, was robbed night before last of forty dollars. He put his money under his pillow upon retiring, as was his usual custom, and when he arose the following morning forgot to take his wealth with him. When he returned to dinner he looked for his money and it was non est, as was also a Mexican girl who acted in the capacity of chambermaid. All the other servants were searched and when Mrs. Adams was asked the name of the girl she refused to give it. At the same time a brother of the girl came to the house and he was then followed by Mr. Whitcome. At the corner he was met by his mother and they proceeded to a grocery, where they purchased about twenty dollars worth of groceries. From there they went to another store and expended about fifteen dollars. When they left the latter place they were lost sight of in a crowd by Mr. Whitcomb. These petty thefts are becoming too numerous.

She Mixed Her Cards.

A strange case of mistaken identity reaches the reporter. A San Antonio alderman and a good looking young friend who visited the Galveston saengerfest together called on a young lady of the Island City, and a relationship sprung up, both gentlemen being "on the mash," which culminated in the engagement of the young man within the space of about forty-eight hours. But the young lady got the cards of the two gents somewhat mixed, and hence her love letters have been coming to the alderman, who is a married man, with a large family, while the young gentleman has fallen away to about the consistency of a twilight shadow grieving over the long delay of the young lady in meeting her last promise, to let him know at once what the old folks said.

Declared to be a Settled Thing.

For some time past, the impression has existed that Jay Gould would take hold of the proposition to build a line of railway from this city to Rockport or thereabouts, and push it through. Yesterday the reporter met a gentleman who stated that this matter was in doubt no longer, and that a party of engineers would take the field to locate the line in a very few days. Whether the gentleman was right or not in his assertion, can not be said, but he claimed to have gotten his information from the highest authority, and declared that in his mind there was not a doubt about it.

An Ugly Accident.

Mr. M. H. Redwood, in the employ of Pancoast & Son, merchant tailors, met with quite a serious accident last evening. He accompanied Miss Brockway to the Baptist church, and while the young lady's brother was in the act of unhitching the strap that fastened the horse pulling the buggy in which they drove, the animal jumped, and ran, throwing Mr. Redwood out upon his face, bruising him badly, and rendering him for some time insensible. His friends took good care of him through the night, however. Miss Brockway was also thrown out, but was only slightly injured. The buggy was smashed.

Tinkering a "Relic."

Detroit Free Press.

Three or four months ago, when a detroiter returned from a long European tour, he brought with him, among other relics, a clock purchased at a pawn shop in Paris and believed to be about 400 years old. The article was not purchased for its "time," as it had not ticked a tick for fifty years, but the case was of curious workmanship and the whole was a relic of considerable value. It has been on exhibition in the owner's office on Larned street for the last two months, and has excited much wonderment and curiosity. The other day, while the owner was temporarily absent from his room, a traveling clock tinker made the tour of the building. Seeing the room open and the old clock off duty, he walked in with the remark:

"Man would say no if he was here, but I'll have the old machine ticking before he gets back, and if he doesn't want to come down with fifty cents I'll take a quarter. I've passed the age when I can afford to be mean with anybody."

The clock was yanked down from its bracket, thrown on its back on the desk, and in thirty seconds a screw-driver had separated it into half a dozen pieces.

"Lots o' rust and dust and dirt, but I can have her ticking away like a streak of lightning in less than—"

At this moment the owner stood in the door. It took him about twenty seconds to comprehend what was occurring, and during this interval the tinker coolly observed:

"Didn't find you in, but it's all the same, I presume. I'm always willing to fix a clock for a gentleman and leave the question of pay to him."

"Hold! you villain!" shouted the gentleman as soon as he could get his breath. "Great heavens! but what have you done?"

"Took your old dust-box to pieces, oiled up several of the wheels, straightened out about a dozen kinks, and in ten minutes more I'll have it ticking away as cheerfully as a bull's eye watch at a husking-bee."

"Stop! stop! I command you to stop! That clock is over 400 years old!"

"Shouldn't a bit wonder, and I don't believe it has ticked twice since the battle of Waterloo."

"It was a relic—I bought it in Paris—I paid $75 for it as a sacred relic."

"Paid too much—altogether too much, but that's a side issue. Shall I go ahead and fix her up to run?"

"No! no!"

"Won't charge you but fifty cents."

"No! no!"

"Might perhaps do it for a quarter."

"I tell you no! How dare you come in here and lay hands on my clock during my absence! I'll have you arrested!"

"Don't! I'll fix her for nothing, if you won't!"

The best thing the owner of the clock could do was to ask the tinker to put the parts together as they were at first. This was accomplished in five minutes' time, and as the tinker packed up his tools he humbly remarked:

"I hain't made a cent out of this job, and have lost a half an hour's time, but yet there's nothing mean about me. Gimme seventy-five cents and I'll make that clock look to be 2,000 years old in two jerks of a lamb's tail!"

Great rains have recently fallen throughout Kansas and the prospects for fine crops are brighter than for many years. The acreage in wheat and corn is much greater than ever before, and neither crop was injured by the severe winter.

Thos. Hancock, who committed suicide at Minneapolis, is said to have been urged thereto by melancholy, growing out of the entire blindness of his father, and the additional grievance that his lady love refused to marry him for two years.

Thos. Montague, of Independence, Mo., mysteriously disappeared from his home several days ago, and has not been heard from since. He had been sick, and his mind was much impaired.

A Down Town Merchant.

Having passed several sleepless nights, disturbed by the agonies and cries of a suffering child, and becoming convinced that Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup was just the article needed, procured a supply for the child. On reaching home and acquainting his wife with what he had done, she refused to have it administered to the child, as she was strongly in favor of Homœopathy. That night the child passed in suffering, and the parents without sleep. Returning home the day following, the father found the baby still worse; and while contemplating another sleepless night, the mother stepped from the room to attend to some domestic duties, and left the father with the child. During her absence he administered a portion of the Soothing Syrup to the baby, and said nothing. That night all hands slept well, and the little fellow awoke in the morning bright and happy. The mother was delighted with the sudden and wonderful change, and although at first offended at the deception practiced upon her, has continued to use the Syrup, and all suffering, crying babies and restless nights have disappeared. A single trial of the Syrup never yet failed to relieve the baby, and overcome the prejudices of the mother. Sold by all druggists. Twenty-five cents a bottle.

Very Interesting.

The popular opinion, which seems to prevail in our city, is that the stock of men's and boy's clothing, brought on by that live firm, Haas & Oppenheimer, is that they have the "boss" stock in this town. Not only are the patterns all new, plain and neat, but the prices are what tells the tale, as you can get a suit there for a very little money. We advise our friends to call and see what they can do.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful cough medicine we have ever sold. A few doses invariably cure the worst cases of cough, croup and bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine.
