Mr. Vanderbilt, who controls or is about to control the Union Pacific Railway and connecting lines to New York feels the necessity of owning the rest of the transcontinental route, and finding it impossible to get possession of the Central Pacific, has concluded to build another line westward from the terminus of the Union Pacific. So, at least, it is reported in railroad circles.

The latest railroad invention is a dreless locomotive. The construction is much like the ordinary locomotive, except that there is no fire. The boiler is a receptacle of extra strength, and the water contained in it is raised to a temperature of about 395 degrees by the injection of steam at a pressure of 225 pounds. Steam is to be furnished from stationary boilers on the line of road.

The signal service authorities in Washington are perfecting a system of signals by which it is proposed to acquaint the farmers with predicted changes in the weather. Colored rockets are to be sent up at 3 o'clock in the morning from stations in the farming regions, and the probabilities for the coming day are to be indicated by the color of the rockets and their arrangement.

The disappearance of little Charley Snyder, the nine-year-old boy from the residence of his uncle, H. M. Laws, No. 314 Pearl street, Camden, on July 4, revealed what is supposed to be an all-important clew in a rather startling revelation. Heretofore it has been suspected that he was drowned, but the return to Camden of another lost boy who disappeared three days after Charley Snyder puts an entirely new face on the affair, and makes it almost a certainty that the lost boy is now with two other lads, being carried about the country by a band of gypsies.

Thursday evening, at Cleveland Ohio, H. M. Lockhart and Jennie Edwards, young people engaged to be married, started out saying they were going to row out on the lake. Not returning that night inquiry was made next day, only resulting in learning that a skiff had been found capsized about five miles out by the life-saving crew, but the boat-keeper was positive it had been hired by four young men who had returned. The friends were anxious but the general opinion was the couple had eloped, though there was no reason for such a course, as their alliance was favored. The body of Miss Edwards was found floating in the lake five hundred feet from the shore, indicating both were drowned.

STATE CAPITAL NOTES.

PARIS & GREAT NORTHERN R. R CO.

Work of the Veteran Board—Capt. Arrington's Report—Other Matters of Minor Mention.

AUSTIN, TEX., July 28.—The Paris and Great Northern railroad company filed its charter today in the office of the secretary of state. The principal office is at Paris, Lamar county, and has a capital stock of $9,000. It begins at Paris, Texas, and runs thence north and east through the northern portion of Lamar county to Red River, at a point at the mouth of the Boggy; or at some point between there and "Kiomithia" in Red River county, or at the latter named place, so as to make connection with the St. Louis and San Francisco railroad, or any other road which may be constructed through the Choctaw nation. There are three hundred shares at thirty dollars a share. The following gentlemen are the officers: J. N. Adams, president; S. J. Wright, vice president; O. C. Conner, secretary, and S. E. Demerit, treasurer.

The Board of Veterans to-day passed favorably upon the following applicants for certificates: Mrs. Mary McDonough, Wm. Johnson, Campbell Taylor, Martin Walker, Fernando Cartier, Luis Castanon, Angelina Campbell, Jennings O'Banion, Mrs. Mary E. Robertson, Gilbert Brooks, W. J. Delard, John Marshall, Francisco Miranda, J. W. McHorse, Thos. J. Smith, Moses Austin Bryan, R. P. Boyce, Dolorez Otis y Garza, Simona S. Fisk, Mrs. Mary Montgomery, John Ingram, Mrs. Phoebe Dones, Cyrus Wickson, Mrs. Sarah Isaacs and W. W. Hanks. The following were rejected for want of sufficient evidence: W. H. Scott, Wm. McT. Lewis, Campbell Longly, Mrs. E. H. McCorcle, Alfred H. Woods, John W. McKissick, Mrs. Sallie Hensley and John Harvey.

Capt. Arrington, reporting from Camp Roberts, Crosby county, states that he has just returned from Baylor county, where he had been at the solicitation of the sheriff to help enforce the pistol law, and says that everything was quiet and no trouble was apprehended. The country in that section is completely burnt up, in fact all north of the Brazos river there is no grass or water and that the farmers have made a complete failure, and cattle are suffering terribly for want of grass and water.

There has been over one hundred thousand acres of school lands sold this month.

Bishop Elliott passed up on the International to-day.

Business this morning was very brisk, but died out by noon and closed with more activity.

Receipts by rail are large, but the passenger traffic is slightly dull, nearly all through tickets to San Antonio. Both roads have as much as they can do, and the Austin and Northwestern will add materially to their resources when completed.

The latest intelligence from different portions of the state gives Austin the preference as the place to locate the university.

The governor's proclamation for election was mailed to the respective papers selected for that purpose.

Nathan Elgin, a lively moke, took grave offense at the remarks made by Steven Alexander, another Senegambian, and concluded to perforate Green's diaphram, and fired three shots at him, but was unsuccessful in his display of marksmanship. A police whistle scattered the billigerants and they are still at large. This occurred in the third ward.

Richard Bean, another moke, was seen armed and a warrant was sworn out against him and the "peelers" are after him.

The Brunswick hotel will in a short time have added to it another story and a mansard roof, making six stories in all. The place are in the architect's hands. As Tom Smith says, when finished it will be "perfectly elegant."

The attorney general's office, finding their library incomplete, to-day purchased a Bible, King James version. Opinions will be delivered upon it at any time. Some of the other departments need one, perhaps.

The Veteran Board stand the walking to and from the capitol in the hot sun far better than most men of their age.

Improvements are going on throughout the city. New houses are going up and old ones are being repaired.

The Austin Fair Association are working to make the fair a success, and the number of races will be large. The sample of stone to be used in the building of the state capital will be on exhibition.

Farmers report a great deal of hay being made during this season.

A great deal of sickness is extant, among children especially, and is mainly caused by eating over-ripe fruit.

The various churches are inaugurating camp meetings in diferent portions of this vicinity.

The government sewer from the U. S. postoffice is nearly completed.

GALVESTON GRISS.

Shot in the Arm—Committee of Eleven—Prisoner Wanted Port Noticed, Etc.

Special to THE DAILY EXPRESS.

GALVESTON, July 28.—This evening, about six o'clock, at the corner of Eleventh and Market streets, Magnilla Peres was shot in the muscle of the right arm by Ralph Corente. The difficulty originated out of the arrest of Peres, about ten days ago for persecuting a Mexican girl, cousin of Corente, of whom he is deeply enamored. Peres was released a few days ago, and claiming that Corente owed him money, went to him yesterday and demanded a settlement. Corente told him to make out his bill and come this evening, which he did, when the difficulty occurred. Corente was immediately arrested and lodged in jail, and Peres sent to the hospital.

The steamer Ed Sidbury is receiving a cargo at Williams' wharf for the Texas and Mexican railway. Noticeable among the cargo are 6 new locomotives and machinery for boring two artesian wells along the line of the road. The Sidbury will sail for Corpus Christi tomorrow.

The committee of eleven held a meeting at the cotton exchange to-day, but no action was taken except to address a note to the agent of the Texas-Mexican asking a definite answer to the proposition submitted by the committee.

A. Swartz, sheriff of Calhoun county, arrived to-day for Frank Tanner, charged with assault with intent to murder, now in the county jail. Swartz will return with the prisoner to-morrow.

United States steamers Pansy and Germaine arrived from Matagorda bay this morning. The Germaine has been overhauling and repairing light houses, and will assist the United States Mignonettee in completing the light house on the east end of the island, which is nearly finished. The Pansy was engaged today in repairing buoys in Galveston bay, placing new ones and removing old ones which are full of water.

PRESIDENT GARFIELD.

His Condition Reported as Better Than at Any Time Since Wounded.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—EXECUTIVE MANSION, 8 a. m.—The president rested well during the night, and no rigor or febrile disturbance has occurred since the bulletin of yesterday evening. This morning the improvement of his general condition is distinctly preceptible, while he appears refreshed by the night's rest, and expresses himself cheerful as to his condition. Pulse 92, temperature 98.4, respiration 18. Signed by F. H. Hamilton, D. W. Bliss, J. K. Barnes, J. J. Woodward, Robt. Reyburn.

EXECUTIVE MANSION, 11 A. M.—Col. Rockwell says the president is decidedly better this morning than he has been at any time since wounded; that at the morning dressing there was a free and healthy discharge of pus from the wound, and that the portion of the original wound above the incision was observed to have commenced healing. The surgeons, after consultation, concluded that removal of the heavy carpet which now covers the floor of the president's chamber would be beneficial, and considering the brightness of the day, with a perfectly fresh and dry atmosphere, together with the favorable condition of the patient, it was decided to make the changed at once. The surgeons maintain that the carpet absorbs the impurities of the atmosphere, which invariably exist to a more or less extent in a sick room, and that it is the reaptacle for a secretion of dust, etc. The presidents bed was carefully removed from his sick room to a room immediately across the hall, where he is now resting quietly. After the carpet of the sick chamber is taken out, the floors will be carefully dusted and a fire lighted in the grate for the purpose of securing thorough ventilation. The president will not be taken back for several hours. For the purpose of deadening sounds upon the floor strips of carpet will be placed in the most frequented places of the room. It is considered that this arrangement will render the chamber much more refreshing to the patient, and it will henceforth be decidedly more comfortable, had it been practicable, the surgeons say, they would have ordered the change made before. The attending surgeons state that the president has not looked so well since he was wounded as he does this morning, and that he is delighted with the change which is being made in his room and feels greatly refreshed.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN, EXECUTIVE MANSION, 12:30 p. m.—The president bore the dressing of his wound this morning with less fatigue than hitherto. It appears well and is discharging sufficiently. Shortly afterwards his bed was removed into an adjoining room, while that occupied till now is being thoroughly cleaned and put in order. His pulse is now 94, temperature is 5, respiration 18. Signed by D. W. Bliss, J. K. Barnes, J. J. Woodward, Robt. Reyburn and Frank Hamilton.

OFFICIAL BULLETIN, EXECUTIVE MANSION, 9 p. m.—The president has passed a pleasant day and has taken nourishment with apparent relish. His temperature continued normal until five o'clock, when a moderate afternoon rise occurred, which, however, gives the patient but slight discomfort and causes no anxiety. At present his pulse is 104, temperature 100.5; respiration 20. Signed by Frank H. Hamilton, D. W. Bliss, J. K. Barnes, J. J. Woodward and Robert Reyburne.

FROM EAGLE PASS

Conrad Roth Rises to Explain.

Special to the DAILY EXPRESS.

EAGLE PASS, July 28.—In answer to telegrams published by you under the heading of "Another Account," dated from here July 25th, I will state that the arrest of Nat. Sulzbacher, Ed. Moye, E. Reed, Jr., Wm. Cox and Ferdinand Niggli, was caused by me upon the charge of a disturbance of the peace—discharging firearms at and near Dolch's hotel, which charge appears of record, being the only one pending before the court against them, which the defendents answered and by verdict of the jury secured an acquittal. The aforementioned parties were arrested upon a charge of attempted assassination upon the life of Conrad Roth, agent of Goldfrank, Frank & Co.,'' is in itself explained as an intended malicious falsehood to injure complainant, and it certainly would have been more manly on the part of the author to confine himself to the truth. CONRAD ROTH.

FROM FORT DAVIS.

Fine Rains—Indian Squaw and Papoose—Paymaster Bash—Price Current, Etc.

Special to the DAILY EXPRESS.

FORT DAVIS, July 28.—We had a fine shower of rain here yesterday and corn is looking well.

The Indian squaw and papoose captured last January by Lieut. Neville, will be sent to Fort Stanton, per direction of the secretary of the interior. They occupy a tent at the post, and are visited by every passing stranger. The woman is about eighteen years of age and quite handsome and refuses to converse with any one. The papoose is about a year old and very bright. They have recovered from their wounds.

Paymaster Bash arrived to-day from Presidio del Norte, to pay off the troops to-morrow and depart for Ft. Quitman.

Eagle steam flour sells here at seven dollars per one hundred; crushed sugar, twenty cents; coffee, twenty five cents; Irish potatoes, twelve and one half cents; lemons, one dollar and a half per dozen; dates, thirty-five cents per pound.

The Texas Pacific railway runs forty-nine miles north and the Southern Pacific twenty-two miles south of this post.

Probable Murder.

CHICAGO, July 28.—A special to the Times from San Francisco says: News has been received here that Bishop Philip Klinger Smith, at one time of high standing and influence in the Mormon church, and exposer of the Mountain Meadow massacre, and participator therein, is dead. His body was found in a prospect hole in Sonora, Mexico, under circumstances indicating murder. Bishop Smith has died as he expected. After convicting John D. Lee of the Mountain Meadow massacre, he said—"I know the church will kill me sooner or later. It is only a question of time." After returning home from trial by order of the church, his wife left him and started south to live in Arizona. In that territory two attempts were made to kill him.

After the Guilty Party.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28.—The secretary of the treasury to-day addressed a communication to collectors of customs in Boston and New York, from which ports the alleged machines and combustibles which recently arrived at Liverpool were shipped. The letter contained instructions to use every endeavor to ascertain the name of the consignor of the packages. The secretary, during a conversation, said that while it may be impossible to ascertain directly the name of the person, he hopes to discover a clue which may lead to the detection of the guilty parties.

BOSTON, MASS., July 28.—The deputy collector states that it is impossible, by the keenest searching of the manifest, either to discover who shipped the infernal machines or prevent further shipment. Steamboat authorities on all hands are doing all they can to discover the authors.

Indians on the Warpath.

DENVER, COL., July 28.—A Santa Fe special says: A party of soldiers arrived last night from Fort Stanton and reported that a dispatch was received from the Mescalero agency, just as they left, stating that those Indians, or a large number of them, are in arms; that Monte-tia Ramon Chiquita, chiefs, had left the agency and massacred two Mexican families living in Tulaross canon. No official information has yet been received.

Killed by Desperadoes.

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., July 28.—A Lake City dispatch says: A gentleman just arrived from Engala Woods gives the information that a party headed by Sheriff Doolittle, came upon the Williams' brothers yesterday, who were fired upon by the latter. The sheriff and two others were killed. The desperadoes escaped.

Fastest on Record.

BELMONT PARK, July 28.—Ten thousand people witnessed Maud S's attempt to beat her record of 2:19¼ made at Pittsburg. She made the first mile in 2:13¾; 2nd, 2:13¾; third, 2:12. The three consecutive heats are the fastest ever trotted.

Burned at Sea.

SAN FRANCISCO, CAL., July 28.—The British ship Oridame, from London for this port, was burned at sea. The crew have arrived at Wilmington, on the Italian bark Stardew. No particulars.

The Death Roll.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 28.—Col. John C. Burch, secretary of the United States senate, who has been ill for some time with organic disease of the heart, died at his residence in this city at half-past one this evening.

NAPA, CAL., July 28.—Hon. Jno. J. Bagley, ex-governor of Michigan, died in this city yesterday.

Boundary Settled.

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Senor Carrie, charge d'affaire of the Argentine Republic, has received from the minister, under date of Buenos Ayres, July 27th, the following cablegram relative to the final settlement of the long disputed boundary question between that republic and Chili: "A treaty has been signed with Chili, with the good offices of United States ministers in both countries. [Signed] YRIGOYEN".

DEATH ON THE SCAFFOLD.

EXECUTION OF ISAIAH WALKER.

For the Murder of His Wife, at Gonzales—History of the Awful Crime.

Special to the DAILY EXPRESS.

The Execution.

GONZALES, July 28.—Five men guarded Isaiah Walker Wednesday night in the jail basement. He spent half an hour praying and reading. He ate no breakfast, saying that he was troubled in spirit without religious conviction or hope. He also ate no dinner, but was baptized in the Methodist church at 2:15 by Rev. Gregory, colored. At 2:45 he stepped on the gallows. Gregory read the Scriptures and sang "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," aided by Rev. Wemo, colored. The latter offered a short prayer. Isaiah called Griffin, his father-in-law, and asked about his health and family, and said: "Get all you have in your heart against me out of it as soon as you can for God's sake, for I have nothing against you; I love you."

Griffin replied: "I have nothing against you, only you killed my daughter."

Isaiah then said he had gotten forgiveness and had no fear. He had done his duty and had a clear conscience and was not afraid to die, as he had asked God to be with him to-day and he had done so. While death stared him in the face he thought little of himself—was at peace and not afraid to die. Isaiah shook hands with deputy Anderson, who put the rope around his neck and drew the black cap, and Sheriff Jones threw the trap, which dropped him down eight feet and broke his neck. A few shudders and trembling of the muscular frame and all was over. In fourteen minutes he was cut down and put in the coffin.

Sheriff Jones deserves much credit, as he carried out everything very nicely and was the soul of polite courtesy. Two thousand persons were present, largely negroes. They were orderly and quiet.

History of the Crime.

Isaiah Walker, colored, murdered his wife in February, 1878, at Gonzales, but successfully eluded the officers of the law for several years, until he was captured at Palestine in September, 1880. He had a fair trial in October, 1880, and was found guilty and sentenced to be hanged by the neck until dead.

The following brief statement of facts regarding the murder was brought out at the trial: Three women, among them Isaiah's wife, were having on men's pants, were going from one house to another at night. On their way they came up with Isaiah, the accused, or, as one witness puts it, he was lying in wait beside the road and came out to them, gun in hand. He seemed to have recognized his wife, and then asked to hide the other girls were. He immediately accused her of having reported him for whipping her, cursed and abused her, despite her own entreaties and the entreaties of the others, and closed the drama by shooting her and then knocking her in the head. No just or legal provocation for the deed was shown to have existed. Not a word is said to indicate that accused noticed that his wife or the others had on men's pants.

After sentence had been pronounced, L. H. Planck, counsel for Isaiah, circulated a petition asking the governor to commute the death sentence to life-time imprisonment. To this there were one hundred and twenty-eight signatures, embracing some of the most influential citizens of the place. In addition to this three letters were written in Isaiah's behalf by attorneys of the place. None of the executive peace officers signed the petition. The better judgment of our people, that it was not a case justifying executive interference, was sanctioned by the following letter from the governor to sheriff Jones:

I have carefully examined the record in the case of Isaiah Walker, convicted of murder of the first degree, in Gonzales, and sentenced to be hung on the twenty-eighth of this month, and, also, the letters of attorneys sent to me on the subject, and I have failed to find any satisfactory reasons for commuting the sentence imposed on him by the court and jury.

Respectfully yours, etc.,
O. M. ROBERTS, Governor.

LATEST CABLEGRAMS.

Daily Budget of Telegrams from the Old World.

Affairs in Tunis.

PARIS, July 28.—A telegram from Tunis announces that 1500 Arabs advanced on Rodeuas, six kilometers from Galota. Four Europeans and three Arabs have been murdered on the road to Tunis. Great excitement has attended the removal of the bridge of boats between Galota and Rodeuas. Another dispatch says Arabs can be seen within four miles of Tunis. There is great alarm and many shops are closed.

TUNIS, July 28.—The Arabs have left this vicinity, and the panic has subsided, but the greatest alarm prevails concerning the safety of Europeans.

England and France.

LONDON, July 28.—Correspondence between England and France relating to affairs in Tripoli has been issued. A dispatch from Lord Granville, foreign minister, to Lord Lyons, ambassador to France, on the 15th, states that in view of unquestioned instability of Tripoli in the Turkish empire, as well as its proximity to Egypt, her majesty could not regard interference of whatever description on the part of France in Tripoli in the same manner as they viewed stirring up dissatisfaction in Tunis.

Lord Lyons said in reliance on the dispatch before Mr. Bartholy St. Hilare, French foreign minister. He was assured that France regarded Tripoli as part of the Ottoman empire, and that she had no intention whatever of attempting to establish any exclusive predominant influence in the country. The remonstrance which had been addressed to the porte, he said, had been mild and friendly, and had not been made until France had very good reason to believe that Turkish emissaries from Tripoli had been stirring up disaffection in Tunis. The porte had been warned of the danger which must ensue if a fire was lighted in Tripoli which should spread to Tunis, and it had been assured that if contrary to her wishes, France was driven to military measures, she would take defensive measures only, and French troops would not cross the frontier of Tripoli. The French minister declared it would be a great sorrow to him if anything should occur to weaken the close and cordial understanding between France and England in regard to Egypt.

The correspondence concludes with a dispatch from Granville to Dufferin, ambassador at Constantinople, instructing him to advise the porte to exercise great prudence in not giving cause of plausible complaint to France.

London Races.

LONDON, July 28.—The race for the Goodwood cup, distance 2½ miles, was won by Perkins' six-year-old bay mare Madame Lebury, Cravens' Nottingham second, Gretton's Fernandez third. Four ran.

Racing stakes for year-olds, one mile, was won by Jordin's chestnut Preceptor, Lorillard's Passaic second, Chaplin's Wandering Nun third. Five ran.

Singleton stakes, one mile, was won by Lefevre's three-year-old chestnut colt Tristram, Comet second, Ingram third.

Saratoga Races.

SARATOGA, July 28.—The racing track was heavy. First race, ¾ of a mile, was won by Sir Pugh, Victim 2d, Galloway 3d.

Second race, Spinaway stakes, ⅝ of a mile, Memento first, Nightcap second, Tuscan third. Time, 1.06.

Third race, free handicap sweepstakes, 1 mile and 5 furlongs, Ferica 1st, Umbrella 2d, Windrush 3d. Time, 2 59¼.

Fourth race, 1 mile, Governor Hampton won, Knight Templar 2d, Patchan 3d.

Fraudulent Scheme.

CHICAGO, July 28.—A special from the City of Mexico says: The government has information that unauthorized parties in the United and England are endeavoring to form a syndicate to readjust the national debt held in England. The scheme is a private speculation and is repudiated by the president and secretary of the treasury.

Boiler Explosion.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 28.—A dispatch from Napa announces that a boiler explosion on the farm of W. T. Smeal instantly killed Willis Crown, George Plat and Robert Davis.

Lottery Man at Law.

NEW YORK, July 28.—B. Frank Moore, agent and manager of the Louisiana Lottery company, was arrested yesterday and arraigned in court to-day, charged with keeping a lottery office in Park Row. He was paroled until Monday next for examination.

Del Rio Items.

Special Correspondence San Antonio EXPRESS.

DEL RIO, KINNEY CO., July 23, 1881.—I found your Castroville item man here since yesterday. He complained of dull times at home, so visited this place, where he found many acquaintances, among whom were Mr. W. B. Taylor, Emil Blemendorf, Joseph Ney, of D'hanis, and many others. Del Rio is quiet yet, but Ed. Moye predicted a rise in business and called on the merchants a few days ago, picturing a glorious outlook with the coming of the railroad hands (nearing it—one camp in Perdido), and raised the idea that local option would soon be doomed. I stopped under the hospitable roof of friend Ed. Braden, who does a large and increasing business—the largest here. Del Rio is a beautiful place, and now has a custom house.

Railroad Sale.

CHARLESTON, S. C., July 28.—The S. C. R. R., which, at the time of its completion to Hamburg in 1833, was the longest continuous railroad in the world, was sold to-day at public auction under decree of the United States court. There were only two bidders named who purchased for a company who represent the whole of the debt below 1st mortgage, and ⅔ of the stock. The Charleston syndicate loaned the money to the company on security of its bonds. The only object of this syndicate was to bid enough to insure a fund sufficient to cover their claim. This done, they ceased bidding. The property was sold to W. H. Brawley for the purchasing company for $127,500 over and above the first mortgage debt of about $3,000,000. There is no opposition or obiection to the sale, which will be confirmed by the court in September or October. In the meantime there will be no change in the management.

THE FIRST BALE.

The Enterprising Firm of Gothout & Nash Capture It.

The first bale of new cotton received at this market arrived by express yesterday for Messrs. Gothout & Nash. It came from Marion, and was shipped by Messrs. Ebert & Meusebach, merchants at that place. It was raised by Herman Schultz, of Guadalupe county. The weight of the bale is 553 pounds, and classed at low middling. It will be sold at public auction at 12 o'clock Saturday, in front of the merchants' exchange. The bale comes as an answer to an advertisement of the enterprising firm of Gothout & Nash, who will pay the primium offered of one hundred dollars. Messrs. G. & N. are doing a large commission business, and are determined not to fall behind any other firm in business energy and enterprise.

PUBLISHED BY THE

Express Printing Company

Friday Morning, July 29, 1881.

THE town of Kyle is less than a year old, yet it has a newspaper, the Courant, and a seminary. Who says Texas is not booming?

THE Austin Statesman says, "The Express keeps on plaguing the Galveston papers on the "leading city" question. The funny part of it is, the Express is telling the truth."

BULL RUN RUSSELL is supplying the London Times with some curious letters regarding this country and the traits of her people. Of course they do not trespass upon the field of the man who writes the truth about this country and the traits of her people.

COMPTROLLER BROWN has furnished an opinion to the effect that county commissioners courts have no power to raise or lower the valuation of the rolling stock of railroads, but must accept the sworn statement of the officers of the road as to its value.

MR. MILLER, Senior, evidently has a level head and has not lost it on account of his son's promotion. On being asked if he did not feel it a great honor to have a son elected United States senator, he answered: "I can tell better at the end of his term." There spoke the sage and keen observer of political careers.

THE Louisville Courier-Journal speaks of the hot weather in Cincinnati and St. Louis in the following unique manner: "The devil opened two trench hells in the United States last week—one at Cincinnati, the other at St. Louis. The heat is said to have excelled even that of the old manufactory."

IT costs the merchants of our large cities something to maintain the system of selling goods by agents. It is estimated that the traveling expenses of the 100,000 drummers employed by the merchants of the United States are $120,000,000 a year, inclusive of salaries. Most of this goes to railroad companies and hotel proprietors.

IS the political millennium at hand? The Chicago Inter-Ocean not only hopes Garfield will, upon his recovery, be the president of the whole American people, and not of a section or a faction, but declares for "an elimination of the spoils system from the conduct of political campaigns," and that "the offices belong to the people; they are to be administered as a sacred trust, and not parcelled out as rewards for personal or political services." Adherence to these tenets would hold in power any party inaugurating and maintaining them as its guiding principle. All other issues would be of minor importance.

REVERTING to the long service of Gov. Roberts, the Granbury Vidette says that since the old alcalde "has changed his views and policy on public education, there will be no general objection raised to his continued feeding from the public crib." It is true that Gov. Roberts has progressed wonderfully in many respects since his first inauguration, but just as he gets settled down about right on one question, he invariably kicks the bucket over in connection with something else, and manages to keep the people in hot water pretty much all the time "Oh, how we do suffer!"

IT was very foolish to ask the governor to resign because he refused to issue a thanksgiving proclamation, but then we would not be surprised if the old alcalde did abdicate. There are so many state laws, to say nothing of the state constitution itself, which give a recognition to the "church," and which interfere in what might be turned affairs of the conscience, in a much greater degree than a thanksgiving proclamation would, that we scarcely see how the governor can conscientiously hold his position. We hope, however, he will compromise with his conscience enough to hold his place, for it would be dull times with the newspapers without the old alcalde.

IN leaving the department of Texas, Lieut. J. L. Bullis, 24th infantry, will carry with him the strongest friendship and gratitude of the whole people, and especially those of the frontier, who owe so much to his indefatigable energy, industry and valor. All feel that in his transfer to another department the frontier people of Texas suffer a loss, and that it will be an exceedingly difficult matter to fill his place; not that other good officers can not be found, but that it will require years of service before they can gain the knowledge of the country, and people he possesses. "Bullis and his Seminoles" will be household words in western Texas when, years hence, gray-haired frontiersmen of the early days, sitting in their peaceful homes, surrounded by civilization and security, will tell wondering children of the thrilling times when Indians and desperadoes kept their then peaceful country in a state of terror with the coming of every full moon. The people of western Texas will show their appreciation of Lieut. Bullis' services by presenting him with a handsome testimonial, but we shall expect a still further recognition of his services when the legislature meets.

THE latest sensation reported in connection with railroad matters is found in a Council Bluffs dispatch to the Chicago Inter-Ocean of July 23d, to the effect that an alliance has been formed between the Texas Pacific, (Jay Gould's), the Atlantic Pacific, controlled by the Nickerson interest, or the A., T. & S. F. road, and the Utah Southern, (Union Pacific) to form a junction in the Paranashagut valley, Nevada, and unite in building a trunk line through from that point to San Francisco. The correspondent claims to have seen a cable dispatch announcing that $25,000,000 worth of bonds for this trunk line had been taken in London, and that the whole ground to San Francisco is covered by engineers." The correspondent continues:

As to the reliability of the information in this interview, I will say the gentlemen who consented to give it to me is one who is more prominent than any other in the active work of all the Gould railroads building in the southwest. He gave assurance that the statement of the plan of southwestern railroad development and alliance for a new trunk line was correct. The gentleman described the southwestern system of 7,800 miles of railroads, which cost in construction alone forty million dollars; also described the Mexican concession, and said the line from San Francisco to Texas is covered with engineers, and the moment it strikes El Paso they will commence laying steel. The moment it strikes Laredo steel will be laid into Mexico. It will be built into New Orleans about October 1st, where it has bought immense terminal facilities, in connection with the barge line. The road to Laredo will probably get in during September, and the Texas and Pacific will get to El Paso some time in December. It is also proposed to build a line from San Francisco east to the end of the Utah Southern, west from the end of the Atlantic and Pacific, and northwest from the end of the Texas Pacific, all at once. To build to California will take probably eighteen months or two years, according to how fast the material can be obtained. It is calculated to complete the Mexican line to the city of Mexico inside of two years.

These routes are all constructed under four different construction and improvement companies that build them for their actual cost and then turn them over. This system will have its own outlet by a system of extensions, about which nothing may be known to the public, but which I can explain to you. This system west of the Rio Grande is the extension of the Texas Pacific from El Paso northwest through Silver, Prescott, or to Rio Perena to a connection with the Atlantic and Pacific. These two routes combined here then extend northwest to the Paranashagut valley, in Nevada, where they are joined by the extension of the Utah south branch of the Union Pacific, and these companies will build a trunk line from Paranashagut valley, passing on to San Francisco. Bonds for $25,000,000 for this line were negotiated in Europe the other day. This line to California is a shorter line for the Texas Pacific and for the A., T. & S. F. than any now built, and runs almost its whole length through the mining regions of New Mexico, Arizona, Utah, Nevada and California. It tunnels the Sierra Nevadas, thus avoiding heavy snows. It drains the pick of the western mining regions. The Southern Pacific built their line right up the Gila valley. Now we strike the great northwest, entering nearly every mining camp. The plan when completed will leave the Central Pacific system without any outlet east and the Union Pacific will then have its independent line to the coast and a competing line with the Central Pacific. There is no doubt that the whole wheat and grain crop and everything west of the Missouri will find an outlet at New Orleans. We expect to take every bushel of grain raised in California over the line to New Orleans and ship it from there to Europe. It can be done within sixty days. The land haul is not so long as it is to day on grain from here to New York, and there is the finest harbor on the gulf at New Orleans. It takes six months to go around the Horn and how many bushels of grain do you think will go that way when it can be sent right through New Orleans?"

CERTAIN parties who make a specialty of opposition to the city administration, no matter what its action may be, are greatly exercised because an advertisement has been made asking bids for the construction of a bridge out of the materials of the old Main street bridge, the act being denounced as a usurpation of power, there being no legal government as contemplated in the charter, is existence; that the quorum of the council having been broken by the resignation of five members, the remaining members are powerless to do anything in an official capacity. It is true, that we have no city council, and it is also true that there is no legal way to fill the existing vacancies before next January; but the cause of the breaking of the quorum is well understood, and the people do not expect the interests of the city to be left to suffer in every respect, simply because of the absence of a legally constructed council. The twelve representatives of the people comprising the council two months ago, are still representing their constituents, though five of them in an unofficial capacity. Their voices are as powerful now as they ever were, and no action over which the council should have control is taken without the concurrence of a majority—nothing is done that would not have carried if the council had acted upon it in a legally constituted capacity. Action is taken only on such matters as are of immediate necessity, or wherein the interests of the people would be seriously affected by delay. The people do not want the city administration to lapse, only so far as to accomplish the purpose for which the quorum in the council was broken, and all acts of the administration as it stands to-day will receive the same indorsement by the people that they would if there were a full board of aldermen. San Antonio cannot be allowed to run to seed simply because some prejudiced individual may raise a point of order on the mayor or council; the people expect to have necessary repairs and improvements, even though the mayor, by and with the advice and counsel of a majority of those elected as aldermen, does have to "stretch a point" to accomplish it. Captious fault-finders will receive no encouragement, for the people understand the situation. If the wheels of the city government are to be entirely clogged otherwise, the sooner we pay off the railroad bond judgment the better and more economical for the city. We can't afford to stand still under any circumstances.

The people of the various wards are as faithfully represented now, if not as legally, as they were before the quorum was broken, and we say to the administration, go ahead and look after the city's interests. The people demand it and will as fully sustain your acts as they would under other circumstances.

SIGNS IN THE HEAVENS.

PROPHETS AND PROPHECIES—SCIENCE AND PRESCIENCE—THINGS STRANGE AND STARTLING, BUT TRUE.

The Past a Basis for Prognostications of the Future—Heat and Light—How Blanton Duncan Reads the Signs and the Stars.

No. 3.

SAN ANTONIO, July 22.—Among the signs disasters proclaimed by prophecy is this:

"The light of the moon shall be as the light of the sun; and the light of the sun shall be seven fold."

Light is one of the great physical forces which science has sufficiently explored to teach that it emanates from the sun, and that heat and electricity are dual forces, developed by light. But there is comparatively little yet known in regard to these vast forces, notwithstanding the great discoveries of thirty years past. The slightest change in the rays of light, either from nearer approach to the sun or a change in the obliquity of the earth would produce marked results upon all animate creation and vegetation. The light that suits Venus would not permit the existence of a single man or beast for a day that now inhabits our orb. The heat evolved from light brighter and more continually vertical would parch the earth, evaporate the oceans and leave the world, whirling in space as an arid desert, such as science pronounces the moon to have been for thousands or millions of years. Occurrences since July 1st must cause thinking minds to understand, that some purpose was intended by God for the unusual phenomena, and as a forecast of what the future has in store for mankind. If all the changes of seasons are, as the infidel, maintains, simply the result of organic laws of nature, they should be uniform in each year, and not subject to the extreme fluctuations of cold and heat, such as we have witnessed in an unprecedented degree within the past twelve months. If chance dominates, without the restraining power of the Almighty, next week we might have, instead of 112 in the shade, 150 degrees of heat, in which salamanders only could exist. The infidel cannot even understand the simplest elements of his "nature" theory, for these should produce similar results. And yet we find the anomaly that fire will dissolve ice and soften butter into a fluid, and will harden other albuminous fluids like an egg into an omelet.

The physical change, so unprecedented as to cold and heat, must come from some definite cause, and science must grope in the dark for some time to come, before it can determine by observations upon a transit over the sun, whether there had been a change of the earth's obliquity or a deflection in its orbit towards the sun, to bring increased light, and consequent increased heat in the summer months. Even the difference between aphelion and perihelion is shown in the two hemispheres, and as during the summer the southern hemisphere is nearest to the sun, the intense heat is so evident, that watches dropped on the ground in Australia will ignite and Herschel found the surface soil in south Africa to be as high as 150°.

Are these the cause of the change, which over the whole northern hemisphere produces a heat greater than any known by living witnesses? Or is there an additional combustion in the sun, from which the scientists tell us jets of flames have lately shot up 200,000 miles in a few seconds; or is the cause attributable to vast spots, unfathomable by science, and one extending over an area of 25,000,000 square miles? Or is the vapory mass around the sun for 50,000 miles disintegrating and thus permitting, through certain gaps, the direct rays to come with all their intensity, without the slightest intervention of protecting vapor?

Whatever may be the causes, we have the existing facts, that throughout the greater part of the United States, there prevailed for several days this month a terrific heat, from which only a few of the states were exempt, and ranging from 109° to 116 in Texas, 104 to 107 in Illinois, 105 to 106 in Mobile and Indiana, 109 to 112 in Ohio, and of which the New Orleans Picayune says:

"The present term of heat has been the most severe known in the city in half a century." As for Europe dispatches showed the prevalence of unprecedented heat in Spain and other countries—"Madrid is like a fiery furnace,"—the most remarkable being in England, where on the 16th of July in London the thermometer recorded 90 degrees, and "the maximum in the sun was 151 degrees." In the several years of my residence in England I never saw the heat higher than 85, and that was regarded by the English as dreadful weather. The heat still continues in Europe, as a dispatch of July 21 from London says:

"Old residents say they have never seen its like. On Tuesday, in Paris, the thermometer touched 101 degrees in the shade. The heat has been awful and horses and men have wilted."

How the heat will destroy life, when it is continuous for several days, was exemplified in Cincinnati above all other places, though hundreds were likewise killed elsewhere. For the week, July 10th to 16th, the deaths from heat and sunstroke were 414 in Cincinnati, a city of 250,000; and at that rate showing a mortality from this single cause of 21,528 per annum. It was a greater rate than that of the scourge of cholera in the same city, which was devastated many years ago, and far exceeding any rate of mortality known from yellow fever or other epidemics. During one of these seven days the thermometer went in many localities of the city to 112. It ranged down the other days to 101.

What is the normal temperature of man? Only 98 2-5. The danger line of fever is 104 degrees; and rarely does the invalid rise from his bed alive when 105 degrees courses through his veins. With the constant use of ice water laborers in the Nevada mines withstand for some hours daily a greater heat that this, and then they take rest, in an atmosphere 50 or 40 degrees cooler. So, too, the laborers in furnaces and engine rooms, &c., temporarily withstand excessive heat in regular watches, and recuperate for hours afterwards in a far lower temperature. The human system could not be exposed for many days to a heat, day and night, of 105 without being inoculated with a fever of the blood, which would assuredly destroy life. If we have such a fact (and the materialists will admit nothing that cannot be proved) as six days of heat destroying last week 414 human beings in Cincinnati alone, why may we not in the succeeding years have an increase of heat (just as it has progressed through 1879, 1880 and 1881), for a term of weeks, which will madden and destroy millions of people? We Christians believe in the Bible, and that its prophetic records will become facts at the appointed time.

When light is transformed into electricity intense heat is developed. We have the phenomena everywhere of greater storms this year, the creation of the electric fluids, which have been generated from the increased light. Tornadoes and deluges of rain and hail have devastated all parts of the northern hemisphere. The description only last week from New Ulm, Minn., was given in the newspapers that a town of 3500 inhabitants was destroyed in 15 minutes by a cyclone formed from two separate hurricanes, which came from the northeast and the northwest, and struck each other over the doomed town.

"During the storm there was a perfect blaze of fire balls. It would have been almost as dark as night, had it not been for continued flashes of lightning. A number of buildings struck by lightning caught fire and the town would have been destroyed in this way, but for the rain, which descended in torrents."

Is not this clearly a "sign" for some purpose? Shakespeare had almost a prophetic vision when he represented Puck as putting a girdle around the globe instantaneously, just as we now can do by means of the telegraph. Knowledge of the "signs" seen in various portions of the globe is transmitted daily to those countries which contain a vast majority of mankind; and the press and other means then diffuses the information in a speedy manner to every locality. The great mass of the human race live in the northern hemisphere, about five-sixths of the population of the globe. When the proposed ocean cable is laid from Japan to San Francisco, a message can be transmitted around the earth and received back almost instantaneously in the office from which it was sent. News of extraordinary events can soon be sent daily to one-half the entire population—in fact within a few days to nearly all localities except to the ignorant and inaccessible race of Africa. The Bible does not say that these signs shall be seen by all. It would be possible for God by a miracle to place the same wonder in the skies of different hemispheres and continents at precisely the same instant of time. But that would be such a patent miracle that everybody with perceptive powers would understand the portent; and the prophecy of Daniel would be fulfilled, "but the wicked shall not understand," and also the statement of Christ to a similar effect. Only at the second advent will the wondrous spectacle be visible, in all places, by all the living of our race at the same moment.

Interpreters of the prophecies have for many hundreds of years concurred in the reading thereof, that the chief scene of the latter day wonders and disasters would be laid in that portion of the globe which comprised the old Roman empire and extended from England, in the west, to Persia and Arabia in the east, including Belgium and portions of Germany and southern Russia, and thence extending to the northern portions of Africa. Ireland was not included therein; and it was of this Empire that Daniel had his visions hundreds of years before Rome grew into its colossal proportions. And John, also, in the Revelations depicted this as the scene of the great tribulations. Therefore, while the whole globe must have disasters and probably celestial portents, we must expect that portion within the vision of Daniel and John and other prophets, to be the scene of the greatest wonders, and of the most signal troubles and destruction from both physical and human agencies. Italy and Palestine must especially be the seat of these. And it is remarked that just as in the United States (the foretold disaster of the hail) unusual masses of ice have been falling from the skies, so Italy is the scene of similar occurrences, over great territories hail falling to the depth of inches. And this hail comes from the sudden evolution of electricity from increased light, and the creation of the great heat therefrom freezes the moisture in the clouds by extracting all heat therefrom, just as the confectioner by mixing ice and salt produces such action, that it freezes his cream to a degree below zero, by the sudden extraction of all its latent heat. So when the future great wonder comes, that the sun shall give seven fold light there will be an increase of electricity and evoluted heat, which will produce the foretold cyclones, tornadoes, deluges, and earthquakes, "such as were never seen," hail of seven pounds each pouring like billions of cannon balls downward. As I before wrote to you:

"We need no greater calamity to come upon us than that of materially changing the light and by fulfilling this prophecy. It would take the light of 800,000 moons like ours to give a brilliancy equal to that we receive from the sun on a day of cloudless sunshine. Our light is diffused and the atmosphere reflects and scatters it in every direction. From the distance of the moon, an equal light reflected from the sun would come in vertical rays, that would first roast us alive and then turn the globe into a molten mass. At the sun a ray is 500,000 times more intense, than when it reaches the earth. Even if it should be increased only seven fold, it would become like that which Mercury receives, and which astronomers say would immediately turn water into steam and melt many of the metals."

When this foretold light bursts upon the globe its intensity is to be by day from the sun, and somewhat less at night from the moon. If only a duration of one day and one night, it would sweep from the earth a majority of the human race, and nearly every vestige of vegetation, and nearly all animate creation. Providence shows to the "wise" by these forerunning heats of shorter duration what the greater disasters will be, beyond the imagination of man. The only recorded summer for exceptionally high degree of heat was 1793. We have already had during this summer in this country many degrees higher heat for days; and in Europe it is exceeded, and there are six weeks of summer yet before us. They recorded it in Paris thus in 1793:

"Great heat (77 to 86°), 30 days; very great heat (90 to 95°), 8 days; extraordinary heat (95° and up ward), 6 days."

During this period the sky remained clear and cloudless. The thermometer went as high in Paris as 101°, Chartres 106°, Verno 95°, Valence 104°, and at London 89°, which was considered dreadful. This heat culminated in fearful thunderstorms, with hailstones large as eggs, destroying entire crops, and rains sweeping off cattle, houses, women and children. Now, as this physical phenomenon came in a year of prophetical fulfillment, is it not indicative of something again, when we have greater heat and greater phenomena exist during this year? I say that 1793 was a year of prophetical fulfillment. The infidel will demand the proof. Man finds it impossible to declare the events of a single day in the future, but God has so written down certain events in the Revelations of John, that the "wise shall understand" them.

In the British museum there is a small book, printed in 1736, as thoroughly vouched for as any print in the past 200 years, and which was reprinted in 1795 and in 1848. I have a copy of it—the four sermons of Rev. Robt. Fleming, delivered to his congregation at their request in 1656-1701. His "conjectures," as he modestly termed his readings of prophecy, so far as the future was concerned, were wonderful, and should commend themselves to Ingersoll and his followers, when he and they attempt their derision of the Bible as the inspired word God. He said: "The Revelation contains the series of all the remarkable events and changes of the state of the christian church to the end of the world." Rev IV, 1, x, 5-7. He traced past events in connection with Daniel's and other prophecies up to 1698, which he fixed to be in the 4th vial, which commenced "at or a little after 1645, and would run out about 1794." Mr. Fleming could see no very important events as occurring before that time, within the boundary of the Old Roman empire. But he took the 8th verse of XVI Revelations as that next event.

"And the 4th angel poured out his vial upon the sun and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire."

Mr. Fleming read this to be the overthrow of the French monarchy at or before the year 1794. When the king and family were guillotined, Mr. F.'s sermons were remembered and republished by tens of thousands. He said also:

"The 4th vial will end and the 5th commence by a new mortification of the papacy as it rose insensibly and step by step, so it must fall in like manner."

When Mr. Fleming said that the temporal power of the pope was in its full splendor. And there came from 1800 to 1810 those terrible blows against the papal kingdom, during which the French took possession of Rome, carried away the pope a prisoner. Mr F. said in addition:

"We must not wonder if for sixteen years the house of Bourbon be raised up, to be a further scourge and terror to the world."

His only error was in terming the "Bourbon" as the "scourge," whereas it was France under its various revolutionary governments, which did scourge Europe from 1794 to 1810. He further said that the 5th vial would

"Expire about the year 1848." It was to be poured out upon "the dominions that more immediately belong to and depend upon the human see" (2). This vial will not totally destroy the papacy, though it will exceedingly weaken it."

When the spring of 1848 came, without a cloud upon the political horizon, large editions of Mr. Fleming's work were published. Before the autumn frosts had come, Italy was in arms, the throne of France occupied by another king, Germany, Austria and Hungary in the din of revolution, Rome occupied, and the pope a fugitive.

These are facts, which it would be much better for Ingersoll's school to explain before making other attacks upon the Bible. They are the correct reading of prophecy by one of the "wise" to whom God gave the power to "understand."

Is the whole domain of chance it would not be possible for the entire population of the globe during this generation to produce the number of figures which would represent the number of times against 1, that there would be for an individual to denote in 1700 what particular events would occur in 1793, 1810 and 1848. But Mr. Fleming went further and stated that shortly after the beginning of the sixth vial (Rev. xvi 12), which would commence in 1848, there would be a great war in regard to Turkey. In 1853 that war came and Turkey was temporarily saved by France, England and Italy. Mr. Fleming said that he had gone so far into the future,

"There is no good to give you any conjectures about the conclusion of the sixth vial, or the beginning of the last. These will probably take up most of the time from 1848, because such long messages and intrigues, besides the time spent in destroying the Turkish Empire, and preparations for so universal a war, must needs take up a great many years. Supposing, then, that the Turkish monarchy should be totally destroyed between 1848 and 1900, we may justly assign seventy or eighty years to the end of the sixth seal, and twenty or thirty at most to the last."

By Mr Fleming's reading the days of "tribulation" would be "at most" 30 years after the overthrow of the Turkish monarchy. That perhaps is too long a period, considering what Christ said.

"Except those days should be shortened, there should no flesh be saved; but for the Elect's sake those days shall be shortened."

"Events are casting their shadows before;" and it is within the range of probability, that even this year Turkey will be arrayed under the standard of the false prophet, in a holy war against France, England, Austria, Greece and other countries, while Russia, Germany and Italy will in vain attempt to prevent the destruction of the foreloomed kingdom. And with this result accomplished in our decade, may come the ushering in of the other great events which only for a few years will precede the advent of Christ, in person, to reign upon earth for 1000 years.

Last night I looked upon the planets, as they rose together in the east, giving out a light, such as I HAVE never seen from them. Venus shone through the clouds, which partially obscured the moon, and with Jupiter seemed to give its own, rather than a reflected light. This surely is a "sign in the stars," as is also the new comet, appearing near Capella, as did the other. BLANTON DUNCAN

D^r. HARTER'S IRON TONIC.

Indorsed and recommended by the medical profession, for Dyspepsia, General Debility, Female Diseases, Want of Vitality, Nervous Prostration, and Convalescence from Fevers, &c.

GENTLEMEN: I was suffering from general debility to such an extent that my labor was exceedingly burdensome to me. A vacation of a month did not give me much relief, but on the contrary, was followed by increased prostration and sinking chills. At this time I began the use of your Iron Tonic, from which I realized almost immediate and wonderful results. Thould energy returned and I found that my natural force was not permanently abated. I have used three bottles of the Tonic. Since using it I have done twice the labor that I ever did in the same time during my illness, and with double the ease. With the tranquil nerve and vigor of body, has come also a clearness of thought never before enjoyed. If the Tonic has not done the work, I know not what. I give it the credit. J. P. WATSON, Pastor Christian Church, Troy, O.

The Iron Tonic is a preparation of Protoioxide of Iron, Peruvian Bark, and Phosphates, associated with the Vegetable Aromatics. It serves every purpose where an Tonic is necessary.

UNITED STATES BONDS.

Something About Their Distribution.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—Mr. Porter's report on the distribution of United States bonds is a highly creditable piece of work. It has required a vast amount of intelligent painstaking labor. It will doubtless be regarded as a very valuable contribution to financial literature. It shows that in round numbers $410,000,000 are held in amounts of over $50,000, $59,000,000 in amounts varying from $25,000 to $50,000; $9,000,000 in amounts exceeding $10,000 and reaching $25,000; $33,000,000 in amounts exceeding $2,000 and reaching to $5,000; $22,000,000 in amounts over $1,000 and including $2,000; $13,000,000 in amounts over $500, and including $1,000; $7,000,000 in amounts of less than $500. Of the holders of these bonds 37.26 or fifty-one per cent. reside in 117 cities, and of the aggregate amount about $250,000,000 or eighty-five per cent. are held in these cities. Of the holders 20,619 reside in New England, 31,591 in the middle states, 17,030 in the western states, and 2,633 in the southern states, while over thirty-six per cent. of the holders reside in New England, not more than seven per cent. of the aggregate amount of bonds are credited to New England, but while forty-two per cent. of the holders reside in middle states, upwards of forty-three per cent. of the aggregate amount are held in these states. Over 3½ per cent. of the holders reside in the southern states and about two per cent. of the bonds are owned there. Fifteen per cent. of the holders reside in the western states and nearly 8½ per cent. of the bonds are held in those states. While banks and other corporations are in number only two per cent. of the holders, they own five per cent. of the bonds.

Massachusetts, with but 5½ per cent of the total population of the United States, has 25 per cent. of the total number of bond-holders. New York, with over 10 per cent. of the total population, has 9½ per cent. of the bond-holders. Ohio, with 6 per cent. of the population, has 3½ per cent. of the bond-holders. Illinois and New Hampshire each has over 4 per cent. of the bond-holders, but Illinois has over 6 per cent. of the population, while New Hampshire has only six-tenths of 1 per cent. Missouri has over four and three-tenths of the population and only one and two-tenths of the bond-holders.

Of the $645,000,000 of fours, four and a-half and five per cents. held by private individuals and corporations, exclusive of national banks, to secure circulation, New York has in round numbers $210,000,000; Massachusetts, $45,000,000; Pennsylvania, $40,000,000; Ohio, $18,000,000; District of Columbia, $12,000,000; California, $11,000,000; Illinois, $9,000,000; Connecticut, $8,300,000; New Jersey, $5,000,000; Maryland, $7,000,000; Rhode Island, $4,700,000; New Hampshire, $4,600,000; Indiana, $4,000,000; Maine, $4,000,000; Missouri, $3,700,000; Vermont, $3,500,000; Louisiana, $2,400,000; Tennessee, $2,300,000, and all the other states less than $2,000,000.

The District of Columbia contains more bondholders in proportion to its population than any of the states.

Granbury Vidette: We are enabled to state to the readers of the Vidette that there is positively no mistake about the early construction of the proposed narrow-gauge railroad from Fort Worth. We learn from the committee from Fort Worth, now in Granbury, that a preliminary survey is now being made, and that a corps of engineers will soon be in the field actively engaged in locating the roadbed; black-smiths and beds to be used in right of way are being printed, and the headquarters of the directory present a scene of activity which indicates business.

Brenham Banner: A large number of farmers from various parts of the county were in town on Saturday and from extended inquiry we learn that the cotton worm has made a general appearance, in some localities they have done little or no damage, while in other they have denuded the plant of foliage and the exposed bolls are opening rapidly, comparatively little being in the latter condition. In the Washington neighborhood the worms have done no material damage. In the west end of the county from Burton to Gressville there has been no rain for eight weeks, yet the worms have appeared but have not done any material damage. Some farmers are poisoning and others are taking the chances without doing anything. At this time all estimates as to what the crops will be, are mere guess work.

Daily Review of the San Antonio Market.

OFFICE OF DAILY AND WEEKLY EXPRESS,
Thursday, July 28th, 1881.

There is the usual amount of patient waiting being done just now, but the monotony bids fair to be broken before long as the first bale of cotton is reported on the cars coming here from Seguin by express and is expected to arrive here to-night.

Since the above was written the first bale was received by Oppenheimer & Nash; the particulars will be found in the local column.

The crop is later this year than the last, but the receipts at this place bid fair to be very much larger than ever before.

The telegrams to the merchant's exchange to-day show the leading cotton markets to be in a very healthy condition. New York opened firm this morning, was firm at noon, and closed firm with sales amounting to 3 25 bales. The quotations are as follows: Ordinary 8 7-16; good ordinary 9¾; low middling 11⅛; middling 11¾; good middling 12¼; middling fair 12¾. New Orleans opened firm and closed firm, the revised quotations being as follows: Low ordinary 7; ordinary 8; good ordinary 9¾; low middling 10¾; middling 11⅛; good middling 11⅝; middling fair 12¾; galveston closed steady, with receipts of 160 bales and sales of 120 bales; the quotations are unchanged.

The New York future market advanced at the opening to-day and advanced steadily to the close. The following table is taken from the boards of the merchants' exchange and shows the closing quotations of to-day and yesterday.

In the grocery trade there is no particular change to note except that hams have advanced and are even now selling at a quarter of a cent below what they can be replaced for.

In grain, the stock is increasing and business is quiet, but prices are unchanged. The plaza receipts are large, and corn sells from wagons at about seventy-five cents per bushel. Wheat, corn and oats are higher to-day in st. Louis.

The live stock boom continues, but the special item of interest in the business to-day is the first shipment of cattle over the International & Great Northern railroad from this city. This shipment consisted of four carloads to St. Louis and were a lot of one hundred and sixty-four head brought to this city by Messrs. Tom & Thompson, from McCullough county, and sold to Mr. May Foster at private terms, and were shipped by him as above stated. It is to be hoped this shipment is the first of many similar ones and that our live stock market may take another turn towards preeminence

Hides remain firm and unchanged in price. Receipts are fair.

No items are reported to-day in regard to wool, though quite a large shipment is on the tapis.

The receipts of freight by the International & Great Northern railroad to-day included one carload of beer, one of wire, three of mixed merchandise, three of corn, five of lumber, one of pecans, and doors, and nine of construction material.

The exports of freight by the International & Great Northern railroad to-day included four carloads of beeves, two carloads of grain, and thirty-two thousand eight hundred pounds of mixed merchandise.

The receipts of freight by the Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio railroad to-day included four carloads of mixed merchandise, one of coffee, two of coal, one of wood, one of potatoes, seventeen of ties, and nine of piling.

The export of freight by the Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio railroad to-day included fourteen thousand pounds of mixed merchandise.

—The present weather is very much like that of 1865, which was followed by more rain than that remarkable influential individual, the "oldest inhabitant," had ever seen before. A neighbor of ours predicts great freshets the approaching fall and the succeeding spring. Nous verrons.

—According to the record kept by the city marshal there have been 942 dogs killed by the police since the poisoning method was put into practice. There appears to be no diminution worth speaking of in the number killed each morning, yet there is a marked difference in the number observed on the streets.

—East Alameda street needs the attention of a policeman. But the force is so small this if the officers on half-day duty should devote the twelve hours to attempting to make one single walk of their beats, they couldn't do it—not even if they covered six miles an hour. San Antonio, don't you forget it, is the biggest city in Texas.

—The crop of mesquite beans this season will be very light. The trees, usually in bloom at this time, have not even the show of a blossom. Some have held that the mesquite grows best during dry seasons, which is wrong. The mesquite needs rain, grows best in damp vallegs, and produces the heaviest crops of beans during dry seasons.

ALL ABOUT A WATER-PIPE.

Much Ado Over a Small Matter Before the U. S. Commissioner.

The case of the United States against Henry Dignowity, charged with tapping a government water-pipe, leading to the national cemetery, without authority, came up before U. S. Commissioner Paschal yesterday. The case is of little importance, one way or another, but as it has excited some interest on account of the prominence of the parties concerned, the most material evidence will be given:

Fred Diener, a witness for the government, said:

"I am in the U.S. quartermaster's department at San Antonio, Texas. I know where the government tower at San Antonio is situated. It is situated on the place known as the government reservation, San Antonio, Texas. There is a water supply connected with this tower. The water is supplied by pumps about a mile from the tower, which takes it to the top of the tower. The water supplies the reservation, and from there it is taken to the national cemetery by a separate two inch pipe connected with the main pipe at the foot of the tower. To my knowledge the United States government paid for the erection of this tower and the forcing up of the water and carrying it to the national cemetery. In my capacity as engineer I have been in charge of this water supply for one year and a quarter. The water-pipe running from the government tower to the cemetery has been tapped. About two years or two and a-half years ago Capt. Smith, then in charge of the government waterworks and then my superior gave me orders to stop a leak between the tower and the government cemetery, which I did in his presence. In putting a new pipe in he gave me orders to put a two-inch T in said pipe, leading to the national cemetery, for what purpose I did not know at that time; said T is opposite Mr. Dignowity's pasture; about five months ago it came to my knowledge that the national cemetery was receiving no water from the tower; I inspected said cemetery pipe and found a pipe connected with the cemetery pipe leading to Mr. Dignowity's pasture; I disconnected said pipe in the presence of Capt. Smith. On the 2nd of June of this year, 1881, I received orders from Capt. Campbell, depot quartermaster, to inspect said cemetery pipe again and report to him whatever connections I might find, which I did, and found said cemetery pipe again connected with a pipe leading to Mr. Dignowity's pasture; I saw Mr. Henry Dignowity that same day at half past six in the evening and asked him if he connected his pipe leading to his pasture with the cemetery pipe again, which he acknowledged to me he did, which fact I reported to L. E. Campbell, depot quartermaster, in compliance with the orders which he gave me. To the best of my knowledge the pipe which I found connected with the cemetery pipe was one inch and a quarter in diameter; I did not make measurement. I saw water running through this hose and pipe into the tank; the tank was a wooden tank, and would hold about 150 or 200 gallons of water to the best of my knowledge, for I did not measure it; the tank to the best of my knowledge was used for watering stock; I saw four or five head of stock, sometimes six, in the pasture; I do not know how many he had there; the exact conversation between Mr. Dignowity and myself was as follows: "Mr. Dignowity, did you connect that pipe again with the cemetery pipe?" "Yes." This was all the conversation between us about it; I had no further or other conversation with him about laying the pipe; the T was connected by being screwed to the main pipe leading to the cemetery; four inches of the main pipe was cut off in order to let in the T; when I cut it off under Capt. Smith's instructions.

Col. W. H. Owen, for the government testified: Know defendant. Know where the government main is laid from the government tower to the cemetery. Have been over a part of the ground where the main is laid in the past two or six weeks. Saw a place where I presume there was a tap, but did not dig down to ascertain the fact. That place was at a point near the Dignowity pasture, several hundred feet north of the southern extremity of the same. Got over the fence where I supposed the pipe ran and followed up the same. About fifty feet from the fence I came to where the pipe was exposed. Some distance from where the pipe was exposed I found a stop-cock of small guage, and a long piece of canvass leading to two small wooden tanks. They were dry. While we were there a small colored boy came up leading one horse and riding another. He turned on the water and filled one of the tanks. He said they were Mr. Dignowity's horses.

Cross-examined—I am in the service of the government as draughtsman. Was in the service of the government when pipe was laid to the cemetery. Had no conversation with anybody but the mayor regarding the right-of-way. The chief quartermaster addressed a letter to the mayor stating that the government wished to lay a pipe between the depot and cemetery, and through public streets. I don't know whether Dignowity was going to sue out an injunction or not to stop the laying of that pipe. I did not tell Alderman Newcomb, chairman of the committee, that the matter with Mrs. Dignowity was settled, as the government was going to give her a water-pipe from the two-inch pipe, for I knew to the contrary by a letter from Gen. Perry to Mrs. D. asking that specific permission. I wrote the reply myself. Gen. Perry informed me that he had no authority to do so. After the permission was granted by the city the city engineer was requested to indicate the streets. He did so, I being with him, and the pipe was laid where he indicated. The pipe is about five varas east of Dignowitzy's fence. I have made several plats and copies of where the pipe runs from the depot to the cemetery. (A map was here exhibited.) I ran the line from the tower to the cemetery. My object was to run that line into the street, as indicated on the city map, and afterwards have it verified on the city map.

The remainder of this witnesse's testimony is of no interest. After its conclusion the court adjourned until 10 o'clock this morning. It may be mentioned that the city engineer, C. P. Smith, yesterday made a survey of the locality referred to by Col. Gwen, and reports officially, that the pipe is not laid along a street, but through the Dignowity property. The distance, it is thought, is about 1700 feet. Ed. Braden, John Moureau and others, who have used water from the government main, will probably testify to-day. The defendant claims to have had authority to use the water.

Buried Before Cold.

Last Tuesday, a man by the name of Alfred Garles, for a long time engaged as pianist at the Vaudeville theatre, being afflicted with dropsy, and without means, was taken to the county poorhouse. His condition became rapidly worse, and Dr. R. L. Graves, the county physician, who visited him yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, returned and reported that it was hardly possible for the man to live until noon. About half past two o'clock, a man was sent to the poorhouse by the friends of Garles to learn his condition, when, to the surprise of everyone, it was found that he had not only died, but that his remains had been interred. The receipt of this news created intense indignation among his friends, who were at the time the news arrived raising funds by subscription to give him a decent burial.

Alamo Monumental Fund.

The Alamo Quartette is composed of Messrs. Thatcher, Ellock, Schreiner and Eberhardt. The entertainment will be a grand minstrel and burlesque opera, nothing ever having before been attempted like it in this city; and as one-third of the proceeds are to be donated to the monumental fund, the club should be rewarded by a packed house. The musical part of the entertainment will be conducted by the well-known musical director, Prof. G. Katzenberger.

Thrown by a Horse.

Leopold Lohrberg, aged sixteen, whose parents reside near Kampmann's, in the third ward, was very seriously hurt last evening, about dark, by his horse throwing him against the side of a house. His injuries, though not necessarily fatal, are painful, consisting of bruises about the body and head. Leopold was taken home senseless and a physician called in.

ALL A DREAM.

The Midnight Vision of an Enthusiastic Member of the San Antonio "Owl" Club.

San Antonio has an organization known as "The Owls," consisting of about one hundred respectable young gentlemen of the city who are organized for the purpose of combatting the pernicious and life-shortening custom of treating. Every member wears the badge, and heavy penalties are imposed where the rules of the club are violated. The objects of the club are of such a commendable nature that several of the members have almost gone distracted in extolling them and recommending them to others. Among these is a popular Commerce street business man. This gentleman had been accustomed to paying into the coffers of saloon men from twenty to thirty dollars per day, principally by treating. True, it brought him lots of transient or temporary friends, and oft-times a vast deal of amusement, but when he considered that he was devoting the results of his daily efforts to an unappreciative world—to affairs and purposes that were only temporary in whatsoever light they were taken—he changed his mind and joined "The Owls." Since his membership of the organization, he has enjoyed far better health, has been happier at home, better contented away from home, and if anything has more friends than ever. These facts have been working upon the young man's mind, and what "The Owls" had accomplished for him was regarded as of so beneficial a nature that he could not help thinking about it. Night before last he retired, his mind burdened with all the load that has been referred to, which certainly is enough for any one brain to bear. He retired thinking of "The Owls." He went to sleep thinking of "The Owls," and finally took to dreaming about them. He dreamed about all sorts of owls, and properly compared the peculiarities of the mischievous bird to the characteristics of several fellow members of his association. But it was a most interesting time with the young man. Finally he thought he was aroused by his wife with the remark, "Billy there's an owl after the chickens." A bantum rooster and a hen and chickens embraced his quota of fowls. He arose (in his dream) looked out, but saw only the chickens quietly roosting near the bed-room window. "There's no owl there," he replied, of course, still asleep. "Yes there is," ejaculated his wife, "and don't you see him sitting over there—that bird with the head round like a cat's, and eyes like a moon; don't you see him?" "By George, I do!" replied Billy, who pulled his gun and fired. The explosion was followed by his springing out of bed and wandering about the dark room hunting for the corpse of that owl. And not until a cup of water had been dashed in his face did this hero of the owl club realize that it was all an idle dream that had disturbed the equilibreum of his mind.

The Bell County Sanctificationists.

A gentleman just down from Belton reports the death, there, of John Johnson, whose parents formerly resided on the Cibolo, sixteen miles northeast of this city. Deceased's wife is a member of the Sanctificationist crew that has thrown a dark cloud of unhappiness over, and apples of discord into, many of the previously happy homes and families of Belton. When her husband died, it is said she would not allow his friends, whether men of the church or of the world, to pay their final respects to his memory, but hired two men to help her, and buried the body quietly. She followed sanctified regulations.

THE NEGRO BOY NUISANCE.

What Shall be Done with the Black Brats that Insult and Rob People?

For several months past the police authorities have been annoyed by the rascally and malicious acts of negro boys. All sorts of petty stealing, robbing of hen roosts, insulting ladies and perpetrating all sorts of outrages on white children have been traced directly to the throng of Satan's imps that wander about our streets. Since the arrest of Richter and the breaking up of his gang a few weeks ago, we have had no more chicken stealing accounts to give. For months previous, there were reports of coop robberies almost daily. This sudden cessation of chicken stealing is good evidence that the arch thieves were bagged and their gang disbanded. But there are still at large within the corporate limits of San Antonio from forty to fifty young darkies whose principal living is made by petty stealing. They rob peach orchards, enter houses and carry off any article they can sell or pawn, invade horse lots and steal saddles and bridles and blankets—they meet little girls and boys on the public streets and rob them of money and jewelry. Aside from these offenses, they take pleasure in running over white boys, when they know they have an advantage, and seem to delight in offering all sorts of insults to ladies. Only yesterday morning a band of these youthful devils assailed a small white boy near Dei's livery stable. The child, for fear of being beaten, ran to the arms of his mother, but was followed by these black villains and demanded of the mother, that they might lick him. The mother told the boys to go away, but they refused, and cursed and abused her most outrageously. About this time, city clerk Theodore Baldus chanced along and frightened the boys away. This is an instance that occurred yesterday. It is only one out of a thousand of a similar nature. The police know not what to do with the boys. If caught and fined, they will escape the hard, and successfully dodge the officers, until perchance, they are re-captured but to escape and dodge again. We need a house of correction for these young villains, but for the present, when put to work on the streets, they should be chained together, for thus could they be kept.

HUMAN HAIR

How to Preserve and Beautify It.

Many persons abuse this delicate and beautiful ornament by burning it with alcoholic washes and plastering it with grease, which has no affinity for the skin, and is not absorbed. BURNETT'S COCOAINE, a compound of Cocoanut Oil, etc., is unrivaled as a dressing for the hair, is readily absorbed, and is peculiarly adapted to its various conditions, preventing its falling off and promoting its healthy growth.

Housekeepers should insist upon obtaining BURNETT'S FLAVORING EXTRACTS, for they are the best.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup.

Rev. Sylvanus Cobb thus writes in the Boston Christian Freeman:—We would by no means recommend any kind of medicine which we did not know to be good—particularly for infants. But of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup we can speak from knowledge; in our own family it has proved a blessing indeed, by giving an infant troubled with colic pains, quiet sleep, and the parents unbroken rest at night. Most parents can appreciate these blessings. Here is an article which works to perfection, and which is harmless; for the sleep which it affords the infant is perfectly natural, and the little cherub awakes as "bright as a button." And during the process of teething, its value is incalculable. We have frequently heard mothers say that they would not be without it from the birth of the child till it had finished with the teething seige, on any consideration whatever. Sold by all druggists at 25c. per bottle.

Shiloh's Consumption Cure.

This is beyond question the most successful cough medicine we have ever sold. A few doses invariably cure the worst cases of cough, croup and bronchitis, while its wonderful success in the cure of consumption is without a parallel in the history of medicine. Since its first discovery it has been sold on a guarantee, a test which no other medicine can stand. If you have a cough we earnestly ask you to try it. Price 10 cents, 50 cents and $1. If your lungs are sore, chest or back lame, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Price 25 cents. Sold by C. Schasse, druggist, 15 Commerce street, San Antonio, Tex.

Large Sale of City Lots.

Will sell on the 19th of September, at auction, a large number of valuable city lots, entitled to irrigation, ½ of a mile from Alamo plaza, west and near the government depot, situated on the San Antonio river and Alamo ditch. Avenue C, or river avenue, runs through these lots. The principal water main comes down this avenue.
