Series of court battles loom for FLDS in Texas, Arizona and Utah

Members of the Fundamentalist Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints Church (FLDS) are facing legal battles in Texas, Arizona and Utah in a series of criminal and civil cases.

Chief among those is the criminal trial of Raymond Merrill Jessop. He stands accused of sexual assault of a child and first degree bigamy, both felonies under Texas statutes.

Jessop's case is slated to be tried before District Judge Barbara Walther. Plans have been made to bring a mobile courtroom from San Angelo and set it up in the Schleicher County Memorial Building.

The trial is set to get underway on Monday, October 26, 2009.

Jessop and ten others were indicted last year by a Schleicher County grand jury on charges ranging from sexual assault of a child and bigamy to performing an unlawful marriage ceremony.

Jessop's father, Frederick Merrill Jessop, is scheduled to appear before Judge Walther in her San Angelo courtroom at 2 p.m. on Monday, September 28, 2009, for a hearing and possible final trial concerning child support payments. He is being sued by Carolyn Jessop, one of his former wives.

Ms. Jessop gained fame when her book Escape climbed to the top of the Best Seller List. In the book, she tells her account of her escape from the polygamous lifestyle of the FLDS.

She is seeking current and retroactive child support payments for the five minor children still in her custody and three that have become adults since she took the children and moved out of the home.

Meanwhile, FLDS prophet Warren Steed Jeffs is appealing his 2007 conviction on two counts of rape as an accomplice to the Utah Supreme Court. The court recently agreed to hear the case and only last week ordered the hearing moved to Salt Lake City and away from the campus of Brigham Young University (BYU), where the appeal was originally slated to be heard.

Noting that BYU is owned and operated by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints (LDS), many of Jeffs' followers believed that the long-standing rift between the LDS and the FLDS could make it difficult for him to receive a fair hearing on the campus.

Warren Jeffs is also facing criminal charges in Arizona. He is currently in jail in Kingman, AZ awaiting trial on charges that he arranged and performed an under-age marriage...a charge similar to the one he was convicted of in Utah.

Related to both those cases, Allen Steed is facing charges in Utah. He is the groom who married his under-aged cousin, Elissa Wall, as arranged by Warren Jeff. Steed is charged with one count of rape.

In a recent development, a former police officer from Colorado City, Arizona has filed a lawsuit against Arizona officials, claiming he was defamed and that his civil rights were violated when they revoked his police officer certification.

Attorneys for Preston Barlow filed the lawsuit Friday in Phoenix. They name Arizona Attorney General Terry Goddard, a pair of investigators and the Peace Officer Standards and Training (POST) board as defendants.

POST revoked Barlow's police certification in September 2007 after allegations were levied against him the previous year.

Barlow's lawsuit argues that as a member of the FLDS church, he was targeted for his faith.

He is one of several Colorado City officers to be decertified by Arizona and/or Utah officials since 2003, some of them for the practice of polygamy, a primary tenet of the FLDS faith.

Simon Duran cleaned up debris Sunday evening following a wind storm that removed a roof from a shed at 800 Depot Street. The sheet metal apparently wrapped around the top of a nearby utility pole, causing it to snap and disrupting electrical service to the area. The utility pole was located on the Texan Supply & Service yard, recently purchased from Griffin Fuels by Richard Jessop.

Unemployment rate increases despite state's strong economic foundation

AUSTIN — Texas' seasonally adjusted unemployment rate inched one tenth of a point higher to 8.0 percent in August, which translates to 62,200 more people out of work.

Chairman Tom Pauken of the Texas Workforce Commission on Sept. 18 said, "Despite our strong Texas economic foundation, the national recession continues to have an adverse impact on our state."

The national rate of unemployment stood at 9.7 percent for the month of August, according to U.S. Department of Labor statistics released Sept. 4.

Meanwhile, in the context of high unemployment nationwide as compared with conditions in Texas, Gov. Rick Perry made this comment while addressing a business group in Houston on Sept. 17:

"Why is Texas kind of recession-proof, if you will? As a matter of fact ... someone had put a report out that the first state that's coming out of the recession is going to be the state of Texas ... I said, "We're in one!"

Court hears open records case

The Texas Supreme Court on Sept. 17 heard arguments in a case pitting The Dallas Morning News and the Texas Comptroller of Public Accounts.

The case stems from the newspaper's public information request for an updated state payroll database in November 2005.

In December 2005, then-Comptroller Carole Keeton Strayhorn released the requested information, except for state employees' birth dates, arguing that releasing birth dates would expose them to identity theft.

The newspaper said birth dates make it possible to distinguish workers who have the same name, and there is no specific statutory exception that closes off the information. The Texas Attorney General's Office sided with the newspaper.

A ruling is pending.

More stimulus funding comes in Texas Comptroller Susan Combs announced Sept. 18 that local and state governmental bodies are welcome to apply for about $17 million in federal stimulus funds for transportation efficiency projects.

Grants are administered through the comptroller's State Energy Conservation Office.

Of the $17 million, $11 million can be used to help purchase alternative fuel vehicles, pay for alternative fuel conversions and buy equipment for alternative fuel stations. Alternative fuels include natural gas, propane, hydrogen, ethanol, electricity and bio-diesel.

And $6 million is available for synchronizing traffic lights on major routes to smooth traffic flow and for replacing LED (light-emitting diode) bulbs in traffic signals.

Redistricting panel to meet

On Sept. 30 the Texas House Committee on Redistricting will meet at the John H. Reagan Building at the state Capitol.

The Census Bureau will make a presentation at the meeting on the upcoming 2010 federal census.

Data gleaned in the 2010 U.S. Census will be used by the Texas Legislature in adjusting the sizes and shapes of Senate, House, State Board of Education, state judicial and congressional districts.

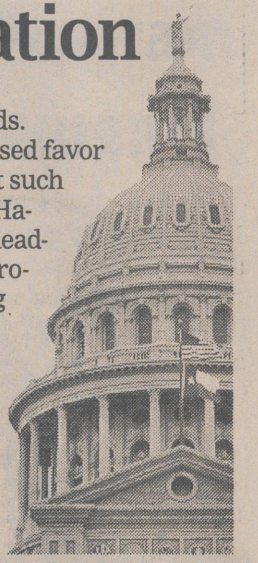

SBOE reviews social studies

The State Board of Education, at its Sept. 18 meeting, reacted to proposals made by expert reviewers and review teams of educators, parents and citizens who have suggested updates to the Texas Essential Knowledge and Skills, the curriculum standards.

The board expressed favor for including content such as Christmas, Rosh Hashanah, civil rights leader César Chávez, astronaut Neil Armstrong and U.S. Supreme Court Justice Thurgood Marshall in the curriculum.

The board also approved an across-the-board cut of 4.74 percent to the maximum cost the state will pay per textbook. The state will need to purchase about 6.2 million English language arts books for kindergarten through twelfth grade next year, so the reduction will cut costs

It's not your grandfather's agriculture

The stereotype of agriculture as slow moving, remote and laid back is outdated and inaccurate. With a $103 billion economic impact and as the second largest resource-based industry in the state, this is not your grandfather's agriculture.

Many jobs in today's agriculture industry require leadership and advanced problem-solving skills, as well as the knowledge and savvy to compete in an international marketplace. Students and professionals need to know that agriculture depends on workers with experience and training in diverse fields like engineering, finance, sales promotion and public policy, just to name a few.

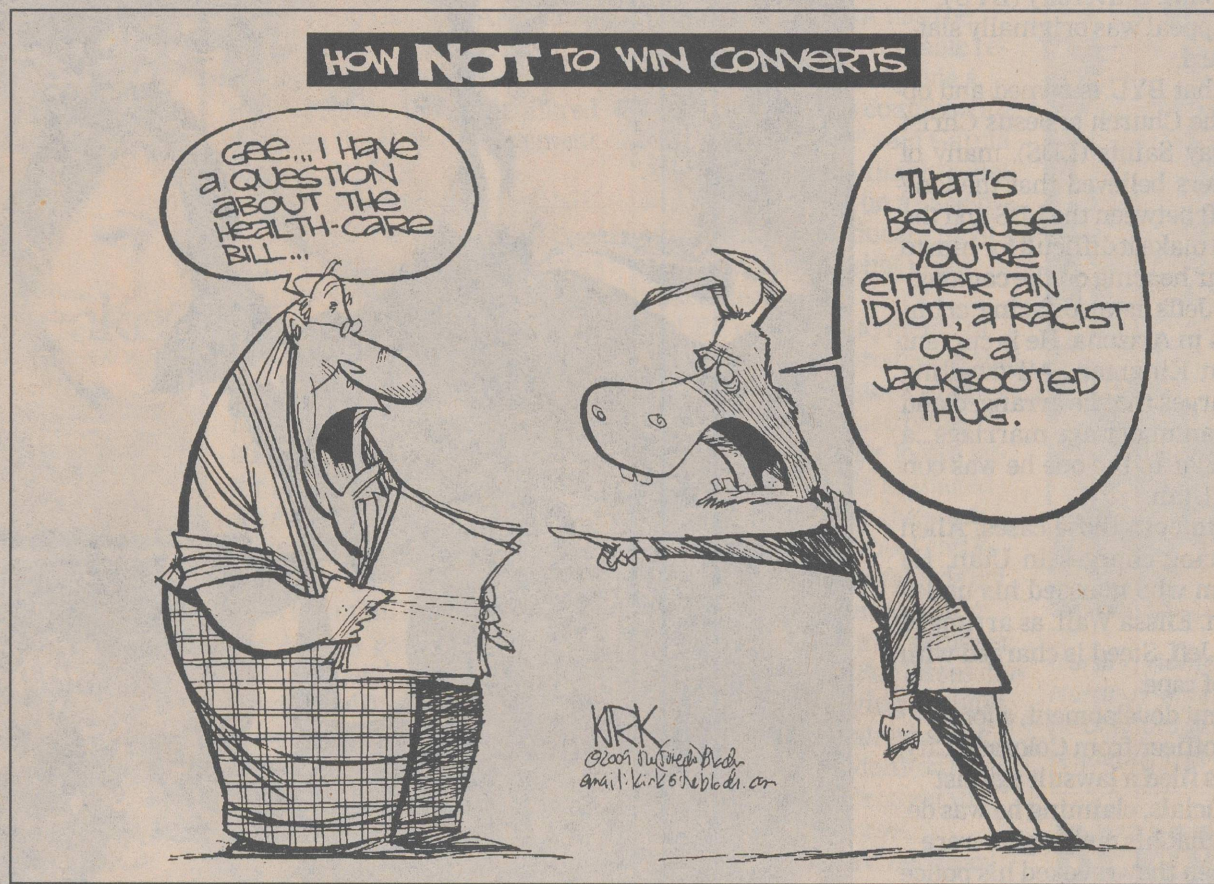

The Texas Department of Agriculture's internship program provides college students the opportunity to learn more about the careers agriculture offers. TDA interns gain invaluable experience in their field of interest such as working with the Legislature, managing a multi-million dollar budget, and identifying new markets for Texas-grown and made goods.

Students who are interested in learning about the diversity of the Texas agriculture industry should visit TDA's Web site at www.texasagriculture.gov and check out the agency's internship opportunities. Internships can be based in the headquarters office in Austin or in one of the TDA regional offices, seed laboratories, pesticide laboratory, nematology lab or livestock export facilities across the state.

Think Texas

COMMENTARY by Texas Agriculture Commissioner Todd Staples

Disc golf in Colorado City

Four years ago, Marge Kolman of Colorado City read a newspaper story about disc golf. The more she learned about the sport, the more she thought it would be a good thing for Colorado City.

"It just sounded like an ideal recreational opportunity," says Marge. "It would be free, you wouldn't have to have expensive equipment, you could play with other people or by yourself and it would be a help in getting kids out of the house and away from the television and video games."

Marge contacted Greg Brooks of Big Spring, a longtime disc golfer who holds some records in the sport and asked him for help. Greg loves to get people involved in disc golf. He has set up several courses in different cities. He went with Marge to a city council meeting and got approval to build the course in Colorado City's Rudrick Park.

Marge chaired the committee to raise funds for the project. Members raised eight thousand dollars in eight months and construction began on the regulation-size course. Some of the nine holes are nearly four hundred feet long. "We had to build t-boxes, which are like twelve-foot pieces of sidewalk. There's a cylinder that is cemented into the ground, then you install the basket on the cylinder. Basket number six is difficult because it's on top of a mound of dirt that's about ten feet high."

The course had its grand opening on June 14th of this year, complete with a Chamber of Commerce ribbon cutting ceremony. Door prizes were discs. Now Marge wants to raise money get disc golf in county schools. After she took the demonstration basket to nearby Westbrook, the administration there decided to build its own course.

Marge shows up at various events all over town demonstrating disc golf, which is new to most residents. People in neighboring towns familiar to the sport say the course is a good one. Marge says five year olds have the most fun because they run up to the basket, put their disc in and think they've won the game.

Marge is in her eighties and does not play disc golf. She was born in Mitchell County and left for about 40 years to get an education and have a career. She studied social work at Tulane University and spent a year in Paris on a Fulbright scholarship. She worked in recreation and social work and traveled the world. She came home some twenty years ago to take care of her mother and has been involved with many volunteer pursuits like the garden club, library, Main Street Program and Keep Colorado City Beautiful. Marge says it's all fun. She appreciates the enthusiasm of people involved in getting the course built.

"I think we have a lot of people in Colorado City who are eager to learn new things and are generous with their support of these things. It's just a wonderful

Memories of Autumn Past

Autumn is my favorite time of the year and this Tuesday was its first full day.

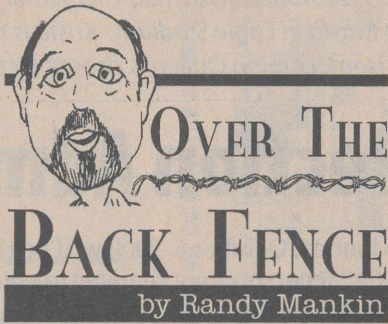

Here in West Texas we usually have to wait until nearer the official start of Winter before the weather resembles anything the rest of the country would recognize as Autumn. But this week, the season came right on time.

Whether you call it Autumn, Fall or Football Season, it means shorter daylight hours, cooler nights and almost chilly mornings. I had the opportunity this week to visit briefly with Game Warden Marco Alvarez concerning Dove season.

As we chatted, memories came flooding back of Dove hunts I went on with my Father. Dad had this one spot he liked to go, situated nearly halfway between our home and my Granddad's farm. Sometime in the distant past the place had been a hog farm. By the time we went hunting there, it was overgrown and the deteriorated barn and sheds offered good cover.

We usually went late in the afternoon, but occasionally we staked out the place in the early morning. The unsuspecting birds flew over twice a day as they headed to and from nearby maize fields.

I graduated from a BB gun to a .410 shotgun at that old hog farm,

by Randy Mankin

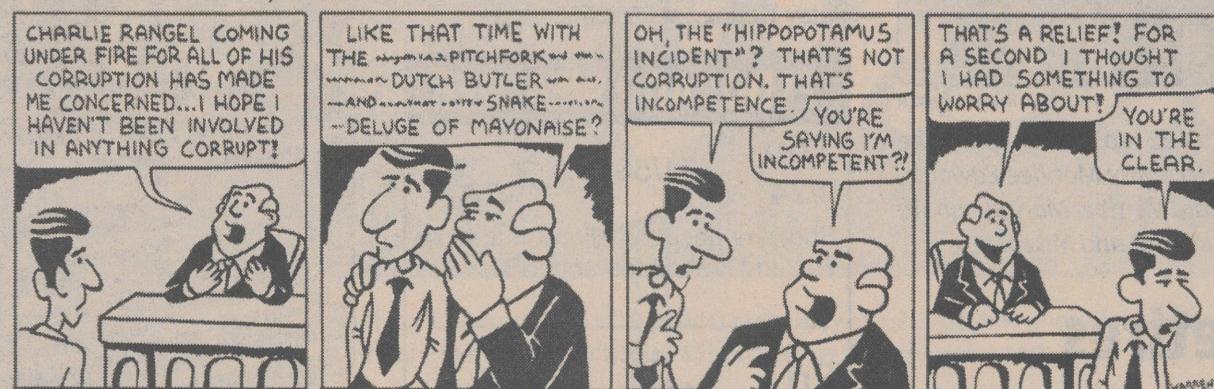

and I brought down a few dove, but not nearly enough to offset the number of shells I wasted.

One year, I received a single-shot 20 gauge shotgun for Christmas. And, either my aim got better as I grew older or the 20 gauge's wider pattern made it harder to miss. It was probably a combination of both, but my efficiency improved and I didn't waste nearly as many shells.

Despite the fact that I haven't fired a shot through it in 30 years, I still have that old 20 gauge. There are simply too many memories involved for me to ever part with the gun.

Football also comes to mind as I think back on Autumn's past. Even before I was old enough to play, there were Cowboys games on the old Admiral black and white television set that occupied the honored spot in my parent's living room.

by Syllas Politte

The Eldorado Eagles hosted the Marfa Shorthorns Friday in the Warbirds final tune-up before district play. The Eagles wasted no time welcoming people back for Homecoming with their explosive offense.

Senior running back Wes Brown got things going early in front of the packed out home stands when he took the handoff on the Eagles first play from scrimmage and sprinted 65 yards for the first of his four touchdowns. The kick for point by Ivany Sanchez would give the Eagles a 7-0 lead.

The Eagle defense scored next in an unconventional way. Junior Rudy Sanchez intercepted a pass and returned it to the 25 yard line where he was hit by Marfa players and fumbled the ball. That's when junior linebacker Josh Jurecek scooped up the loose pigskin and scampered 25 yards for his second touchdown in two weeks.

With that, the Eagles enjoyed their first two score lead of the season at 13-0.

Penalties and turnovers would creep in briefly for the Eagles at the end of the first quarter giving Marfa a short field. That set up a 33 yard pass from Trey Daugherty to Andrew Ontiveroz that went in for the Shorthorns only TD of the night.

The Eagles led 13-7 at the end of the first quarter and kept Marfa out of the end zone the remainder of the game with bruising defensive play.

Brown, who finished with 242 yards on 20 carries, scored on runs of 18, 1 and 37 yards the rest of the way. The final score would find Eldorado back in the win column 33-7.

"I have wanted to get more touches in the games," Brown said. "And tonight it happened." The senior running back recorded a career game rushing for more yards than the previous 3 games combined.

The Eagles were led defensively by senior defensive end Ivany Sanchez who had 13 tackles. The Warbirds also came away with 4 interceptions, two for Rudy Sanchez, one by Garrett Lux and another by Eric Estrada.

The Eagles committed four fumbles during the contest with only one of them turning into Marfa points.

The game was one that Eldorado needed to win in order to build momentum going in to next week's district opener against Junction.

The Junction Eagles come into the contest 1-3 after losses to Bronte, Sonora and Harper. Their lone win came on a 75-20 drumming of Medina.

The first 3 games for the Eagles could easily determine their playoff fate. The team will travel to Mason for a showdown in the Punchedome on October 2nd. They will then host the Menard Yellowjackets the following week.

Junction and Mason were preseason picks to make the playoffs.

Meanwhile, Mason and Menard enter district play next week undefeated.

Eldorado will have to play well and build on their success against Marfa. The Eagles are picked to finish third in the district according to Texas Football Magazine.

The Eagles will need the fans to pack the stands again this week. Kick off time is set for 7:30.

The KLDE 104.9 live broadcast begins at 7 p.m. with Mason Vaughan, Kerry Joy and Syllas Politte bringing you all the action.

Wes Brown put on a clinic last Friday night for the Marfa Shorthorns as well as the Eagles fans who came out for Homecoming 2009. Brown carried the ball 20 times for 242 yards and four touchdowns as the Eagles coasted to a 33-7 win in their final game before district play begins.

EMS Eagles beat TLC 16-12

The Eldorado Middle School Eagles travelled to San Angelo Thursday evening and returned home with a 16-12 victory over the Tree of Life Christian Eagles.

Eldorado fell behind early after an extended drive by TLC that resulted in a touchdown. The TLC two point conversion attempt failed and they took a 6 to 0 lead over Eldorado into the second quarter.

Eldorado lit up the scoreboard when Justin Estrada took a three yard plunge into the end zone behind the blocking of the offensive line. Eldorado's two point conversion run by Estrada pushed Eldorado to an 8 to 6 lead into halftime.

Eldorado and TLC exchanged possessions and Eldorado was forced to punt from deep in their own end zone. Eldorado couldn't get the punt off and TLC fell on the ball in the end zone for a touchdown. TLC tried for a two point conversion run but fell short. TLC held a 12 to 8 with 3:41 remaining in the contest.

TLC kicked off to Eldorado on a squib kick and the ball bounced in Eldorado's favor and rolled out of bounds at the Eldorado 40 yard line. The EMS Eagle began a march down the field with sweep plays and counters. Eldorado pounded their way to the TLC 20 and appeared to take the lead on a Justin Estrada sweep, but a clipping penalty negated the score and Eldorado was forced into burning their final time-out.

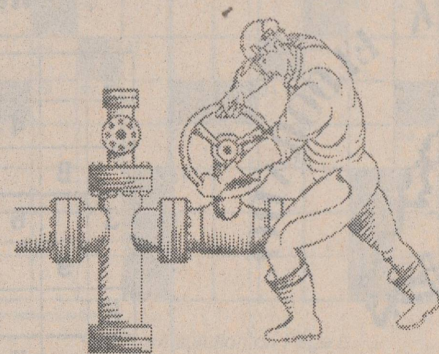

Quarterback Bailey Espinosa connected with Tres Whitten on a touchdown pass with 11 seconds remaining. This combination connected again on a rollout pass to the right for the two point conversion and a 16-12 lead.

The defense sealed the contest with Jacob Sanchez intercepting a pass with four seconds remaining. The EMS team is to be commended on their effort and determination to score on the final drive of the game. The EMS offense and defensive lines did a good job up front.

Next action will see the EMS Eagles travelling to Junction for a 5pm start.

State's unemployment rate well below national average

AUSTIN — The Texas seasonally adjusted unemployment rate rose slightly to 8.0 percent in August, up from 7.9 percent a month ago, and continued to trend well below the U.S. seasonally adjusted unemployment rate for August at 9.7 percent. The Texas Civilian Labor Force continued to increase in August remaining above the mark of 12 million workers. Total nonagricultural employment in Texas fell by 62,200 positions in August.

"Despite our strong Texas economic foundation, the national recession continues to have an adverse impact on our state," said Texas Workforce Commission (TWC) Chairman Tom Pauken. "Nonetheless, the unemployment rate in Texas remained well below the 9.7 percent national rate."

Education and Health

Services employment grew by 5,200 jobs in August, following a revised gain of 8,600 jobs in July. This was the 11th consecutive monthly gain in this industry. Since August 2008, employment in Education and Health Services increased by 58,600 jobs, a 4.5 percent gain.

"The Texas labor force continued to grow in August, remaining above 12 million workers," said TWC Commissioner Representing Labor Ronny Congleton. "To help connect workers with available jobs, staff at more than 240 workforce centers across the state is available to provide job-search assistance and other services."

Financial Activities employment increased by 600 jobs in August. This was the fifth monthly gain since January, and the eighth monthly job increase in the last 12 months. Since January, this industry added 3,100 jobs. The hardest hit industries in August were Leisure and Hospitality recording a month-over-month drop of 12,900 positions. Construction was down 11,700 jobs, and Manufacturing industry employment fell by 10,900 jobs.

"Aside from job gains in Financial Activities and Education and Health Services, the employment situation in most industries was tough in August," said TWC Commissioner Representing the Public Andres Alcantar. "TWC and our workforce boards located around the state remain committed to helping out-of-work Texans acquire skills and find jobs."

The Amarillo Metropolitan Statistical Area (MSA) experienced the lowest unemployment rate in the state at 5.6 percent (not seasonally adjusted), followed by the Lubbock MSA with 5.7 percent, and the Midland and Abilene MSAs with 6.1 percent.

PREVENT THE SPREAD OF THE FLU VIRUS & H1N1

Prevention is Best Practice in Curbing Spread of Flu and Swine Flu

As flu season nears, there are new concerns that the H1N1 virus, also known as Swine Flu, will return this fall. In fact, health care experts warn that the virus will affect more people this year. There is a H1N1 vaccine in development that should be available by mid-October. Schleicher County Medical Center (SCMC) will keep you informed as to when the vaccine will be made available thru SCMC.

The best medicine in preventing the flu virus is good old-fashioned health precautions people should be practicing everyday. Washing your hands, avoiding others who are sick and other simple health tasks can certainly aid in the prevention against this potentially fatal virus. MARK YOUR CALENDARS FOR TUESDAY, OCTOBER 13th, 2009 for the SCMC HEALTH FAIR ROUND-UP. Flu vaccines, other FREE testing and health information will be made available to our community.

Here are a few easy ways you can prevent the spread of flu and H1N1:

- Avoid close contact with people who are sick.
- When you are ill with flu-like symptoms, stay at home — from work, school or other public activities — until your fever is gone for 24 hours without the aid of a fever-reducing medicine, like acetaminophen.
- Shield others from your coughs and sneezes by using a tissue. Be sure to throw used tissues away in a trash can to contain germs.
- Wash your hands often with soap and water, especially after you cough or sneeze. Alcohol-based hand cleaners are also effective.
- Keep your hands away from your eyes, nose or mouth at all times. Germs can spread this way.

For more information about H1N1, visit www.texasflu.org or call Schleicher County Family Clinic at (325) 853-3137. To learn more about vaccine availability in October and when shots will be scheduled, contact your doctor or SCFC at (325) 853-3137.

AgriLife Research sets Range Station Field Day

BARNHART - Texas AgriLife Research will conduct a free field day from 9:30 a.m. until 2:00 p.m. September 30 at the Texas Range Station between Ozona and Barnhart on State U.S. Highway 163.

Dr. Charles "Butch" Taylor, superintendent at the Texas AgriLife Research Station at Sonora, who also oversees research conducted at the Texas Range Station, said the field day should offer some eye-opening findings for area sheep and goat producers.

findings for area sheep and goat producers.

"We're really excited about the work going on at Barnhart, and the best way to show it off in our estimation is to hold this special field day where the actual work is being done," Taylor said.

Topics to be covered will include comprehensive prickly pear management, and economic sustainability of breeding Spanish goats with Boer goats, and with breeding Dorper sheep with Barbado sheep. Also to be discussed is the production of Rambouillet sheep and Angora goats in a low-input grazing system.

Future research planned for the Texas Range Station will also be addressed.

Lunch and three Texas Department of Agriculture continuing education units will be provided.

The field day is free and open to the public, but pre-registration for an accurate meal count by September 28 is requested.

For more information and to pre-register, contact: Taylor at 325-387-3168, or angora@sonoratx.net.

Farm Service Agency clarifies Livestock Eligibility Program requirements, with emphasis on insurance requirements

COLLEGE STATION — Juan M. Garcia, Executive Director of USDA's Farm Service Agency (FSA) in Texas, announced earlier this week that Texas FSA offices statewide are now accepting applications for benefits under the provisions of the Emergency Assistance for Livestock, Honeybees, and Farm-Raised Fish Program (ELAP) and the Livestock Forage Disaster Program (LFP) as outlined in the 2008 Farm Bill. For both programs, producers must have suffered losses that occurred on or after January 1, 2008, and before October 1, 2011.

In order for an LFP or ELAP applicant to qualify for program benefits, the applicant must have purchased insurance coverage through FSA's Noninsured Crop Disaster Assistance Program (NAP) or the Pasture, Rangeland and Forage Insurance (PRF-RI) program offered through the Risk Management Agency (RMA).

FSA offered producers the opportunity to "buy-in" eligibility for 2008 program benefits for LFP subject to a September 16, 2008 deadline. Deadlines for buy-in for 2008 ELAP benefits were September 16, 2008 and May 18, 2009; and purchase of 2009 crop year NAP coverage for native and improved pasture for grazing had to be completed by December 1, 2008.

"Since the passage of the 2008 Farm Bill in June of 2008, the Agency publicized program 'buy-in' and NAP coverage deadlines and offered deadline extensions in order to insure all producers had ample opportunity to meet program eligibility requirements," said Garcia.

Producers who meet the requirements of a socially disadvantaged, limited resource, or beginning farmers or ranchers, as defined in the Food, Agriculture, Conservation, and Trade Act of 1990, Section 2501 (e) (7 U.S.C. 2279(e)), do not have to meet this Risk Management Purchase Requirement (RMPR) and, therefore, are not required to have paid the buy-in fee.

Garcia stressed that FSA will consider granting equitable relief to producers who did not meet RMPR provisions; rendering them ineligible for livestock disaster program benefits.

"For certain extenuating circumstances, FSA has the authority to grant equitable relief to producers who made a good faith effort to comply with RMPR provisions," said Garcia. "All requests for equitable relief will be considered on a case-by-case basis but producers must understand that relief is not guaranteed."

LFP provides payments to eligible livestock producers that have suffered livestock grazing losses due to qualifying drought or fire. Fire losses apply only to federally managed rangeland. Eligible livestock under LFP include beef cattle, alpacas, buffalo, beefalo, dairy cattle, deer, elk, emus, equine, goats, llamas, poultry, reindeer, sheep and swine. For losses due to drought, qualifying drought ratings are determined using the U.S. Drought Monitor located at <http://www.drought.unl.edu/dm/monitor.html>.

ELAP provides emergency assistance to eligible producers of livestock, honeybees and farm-raised fish that have losses due to disease, adverse weather or other conditions, including losses due to blizzards and wildfires. ELAP assistance is for losses not covered under other Supplemental Agricultural Disaster Assistance programs established by the 2008 Farm Bill, specifically LFP, the Livestock Indemnity Program (LIP) and the Supplemental Revenue Assistance Payments Program (SURE).

LFP and ELAP program

applicants should note that in addition to risk management provisions, certain payment limitation and adjusted gross income eligibility requirements must be met in order to qualify for livestock disaster program benefits.

For more information or to apply for ELAP or LFP and other USDA Farm Service Agency disaster assistance programs, please visit your local USDA Service Center or FSA county office. Information can also be obtained on line at <http://www.fsa.usda.gov>.

BEWARE: Exercise caution on fitness machine claims

(SPM Wire) Many exercise equipment advertisers make bold claims that should be taken with a grain of salt.

"There is still no 'miracle machine' that will give you the body of a fitness model in just a few minutes per day," says David Swain, Ph.D., FACSM, whose assertions appear in a recent issue of a journal of the American College of Sports Medicine.

Consumers should be wary of these claims:

Excessive calorie burn: It's impossible to burn, say, twice the number of calories on a specialty machine as on a treadmill.

The body has a limit on how many calories can be burned in an exercise session.

Fitness fast: Brief high-intensity exercise can improve maximum power more than low-intensity exercise, but cannot improve all areas of fitness in just a few minutes.

"Fat-burning" zones: According to intensity zones on some machines, you don't have to work as hard to burn fat. But weight loss, or what some interpret as "fat burning," comes from total calorie expenditure. It's the combination of intensity and duration that counts.

Waist reduction: Spot-reduction is a fantasy. Machines that only train abdominal muscles won't remove fat from the stomach; only total-body exercise and weight loss will yield those results.

"Exercisers should focus on overall health and accumulating at least 150 minutes per week of moderate-intensity activity, or at least 75 minutes per week of vigorous-intensity activity," he says. More is needed for weight loss.
