Legal teams gear up for Round Two in YFZ trials

Days after the felony conviction and sentencing of Raymond Merrill Jessop on a charge of Sexual Assault of a Child, state prosecutors are prepared to bring Allan Eugene Keate, the second of 12 YFZ Ranch defendants, to trial on a similar charge.

And, despite earlier reports that the trial would be moved to San Angelo, it now appears that the case could be tried in Schleicher County.

The prosecution and the defense seemed to have an agreement last week that Keate's trial would be moved, but word came down Monday that defense attorney Randy Wilson had changed his mind. A pre-trial hearing is scheduled for Friday in San Angelo where Judge Barbara Walther is expected to decide the matter.

In the meantime, County Clerk Peggy Williams reports her office sent out 300 jury summons last week so that a jury pool would be ready in time for the trial to begin on Monday, December 7th.

Keate, 54, was indicted by Schleicher County jurors earlier this year on a charge of sexually assaulting a 16-year-old girl given to him by FLDS prophet Warren Jeffs as one of his "spiritual wives." The girl had previously been married Leroy Jeffs, but was reportedly reassigned to Keate when she was still 15-years-old after her husband fell from favor with prophet Warren Jeffs and was booted from the FLDS Church. She was allegedly the fifth of his six wives.

The charge against Keate is a first-degree felony. If convicted, Keate could face a prison term of five to 99 years and a fine not to exceed $10,000. He has asked for a jury trial and has requested that the jury set punishment if he should be found guilty. Keate's attorney has also filed a document asking that the jury consider "community supervision" or probation in the event of a guilty verdict.

Voting deadline December 7 in FSA County Committee elections

ELDORADO — Jan Wanoreck, County Executive Director of USDA's Farm Service Agency in Schleicher-Sutton/Val Verde today urged Schleicher-Sutton/Val Verde farmers, ranchers and other agricultural producers to vote in FSA county committee elections by Dec. 7, 2009, the deadline for casting ballots.

"FSA county committees provide producers with the opportunity to help implement federal farm programs in their communities," said Wanoreck. "It is vital that all farmers and ranchers, especially women and minorities, participate in the elections process to ensure the opinions expressed in committee meetings reflect an area's agricultural sector."

Producers must return ballots to their local FSA offices by the close of business on Dec. 7, 2009. Newly elected committee members and alternates take office Jan. 1, 2010.

State picks up most of the cost of YFZ trials

So far, Schleicher County taxpayers have been spared the brunt of the costs associated with the YFZ Ranch investigations and trials. That according to County Judge Charlie Bradley who told THE SUCCESS on Tuesday that the State of Texas has been good about reimbursing the county for many, if not all, of its expenses.

"We are very appreciative," Bradley said of the state's assistance.

"You know, several of us went to Austin in 2008 and were reassured by officials there that the state wasn't going to leave us out on a limb," Bradley added. "I can't speak highly enough with the help we've gotten from Governor Perry, State Senator Robert Duncan and State Representatives Harvey Hilderbran and Drew Darby."

County Clerk Peggy Williams said that her office files a quarterly report with the state in which she lists county expenses. "It takes a little while, but so far the state has been good about reimbursing us," Williams said.

She went on to note that members of the most recent jury pool received $6 for the first day of service. They will each be receiving an additional $40 per day for time served in the jury pool or on the jury.

"That money will also be reimbursed by the state," Williams added.

Legal expenses involved in grand jury investigation, the recently completed Raymond Jessop trial, as well as any upcoming trials, are being covered by the Attorney General's Office.

"Because the Office of the Attorney General is handling the YFZ Ranch investigation and prosecution, state funds are being used to cover the costs of this matter," said Attorney General spokesman Jerry Strickland.

Likewise, state law enforcement officers testifying in the case, as well as those providing security are being paid with state funds.

"That's just part of the service we provide," said DPS spokesperson Tela Mange when asked about DPS officers and Texas Rangers involved in the YFZ cases.

Other costs are difficult to calculate. Costs like time that jurors spend away from work as well as the costs associated with filling in for workers on jury duty.

And, there have been some benefits to the local economy. Derek Engdahl, owner of Jo Jo's Cafe reports a spike in business. Similarly, the X-Bar Ranch was booked up through the Raymond Jessop trial by attorneys working on the case.

"Like it or not, this is something we have to take care of," Judge Bradley commented. "I just wish I knew where people get the idea that this is going to bankrupt the county."

Hutchison to hold Senate seat through Republican primary

AUSTIN — U.S. Sen. Kay Bailey Hutchison announced her intention to stay in the race to be the Republican Party of Texas' nominee for governor while continuing to serve in the Senate.

In her Nov. 14 address in Houston to the Texas Federation of Republican Women, Hutchison said she would not give up her Senate seat as long as a national health care bill and cap-and-trade energy legislation are on the table. "I realize this will keep me in the Senate past the primary election," she said.

Recent polls show incumbent Gov. Rick Perry leads Hutchison by about 12 points.

Senators question commission head

At a Nov. 10 hearing of the Senate Committee on Criminal Justice, John Bradley, newly appointed chairman of the Texas Forensic Science Commission and Williamson County district attorney, said the commission had no written policies or rules yet and that guidance from the Legislature is needed.

Sen. John Whitmire, D-Houston, chair of the criminal justice committee and dean of the Senate, asked Bradley if the commission would continue to investigate the arson report that contributed to the Cameron Todd Willingham murder conviction and recent execution.

Bradley, who Gov. Perry brought in as chair when the investigation of the Willingham case already was in progress, said the commission will continue, but he refrained from stating a timetable for doing so.

Whitmire asked Bradley if his role as a district attorney presented a conflict of interest for him. Bradley said he believed it did not.

Some committee members expressed concern over whether the commission would conduct its business in an open and transparent way. Bradley responded that confidentiality is critical in the early stages of the investigation process.

Sen. Rodney Ellis, D-Houston, raised questions over the governor's possible influence over the commission. Bradley countered with an insinuation that Ellis's position on the national board of directors of the Innocence Project might be a problem.

Sen. Juan "Chuy" Hinojosa, D-McAllen, said he wants the commission to focus on forensic mistakes and prevent "junk science" from entering into the legal process.

New agency absorbs old duties

A new state agency, the Texas Department of Motor Vehicles, opened Nov. 2.

The "DMV" is taking over certain responsibilities formerly shouldered by the Texas Department of Transportation, the Texas Department of Public Safety and a few other agencies.

TxDOT will provide services and facilities to the DMV until the agency can stand on its own.

Gov. Rick Perry appointed former car dealer Victor Vandergriff as chairman of the nine-member board that oversees the agency.

Created last spring by the 81st Texas Legislature, the DMV will have about 650 full-time employees, who will carry out the following responsibilities:

- Vehicle titling and registration;

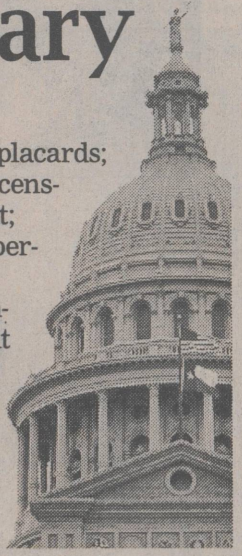

- License plates;
- Disabled driver placards;
- Vehicle dealer licensing and enforcement;
- Motor carrier operating authority;
- Grants to law enforcement to prevent vehicle theft; and
- Texas Lemon Law assistance.

The Texas Department of Public Safety will continue to issue driver's licenses.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS By Ed Sterling

Texas Family Land Heritage

At a special ceremony earlier this year, the Texas Department of Agriculture inducted 78 Texas farms and ranches, located in 60 counties across the Lone Star State, into the Family Land Heritage Program (FLH). The program honors families who have held their farms and ranches in continuous agricultural production for 100, 150 and 200 years. This annual event is one of my favorites, and I'm pleased to announce TDA is extending the deadline to apply for next year's FLH designation so that we can honor even more Texas families for keeping their ancestors' dreams alive. The new deadline for applications is Dec. 15.

Think Texas

COMMENTARY by Texas Agriculture Commissioner Todd Staples

Agriculture has historically been a family endeavor. Farmers and ranchers have always had to ponder whether or not the next generation would stay and produce food and fiber, or sell the property.

At TDA, we want to make sure the promise and potential of our great agriculture industry are passed on to our sons and daughters, grandchildren and great-grandchildren. To date, TDA has honored more than 4,300 families who have continued their ancestors' agricultural legacies in 233 Texas counties.

For an FLH application or more information, contact Lance Williams, Family Land Heritage application coordinator, at (512) 463-3285. The application also can be downloaded at www.TexasAgriculture.gov under the Family Land Heritage link.

Strange BUT TRUE

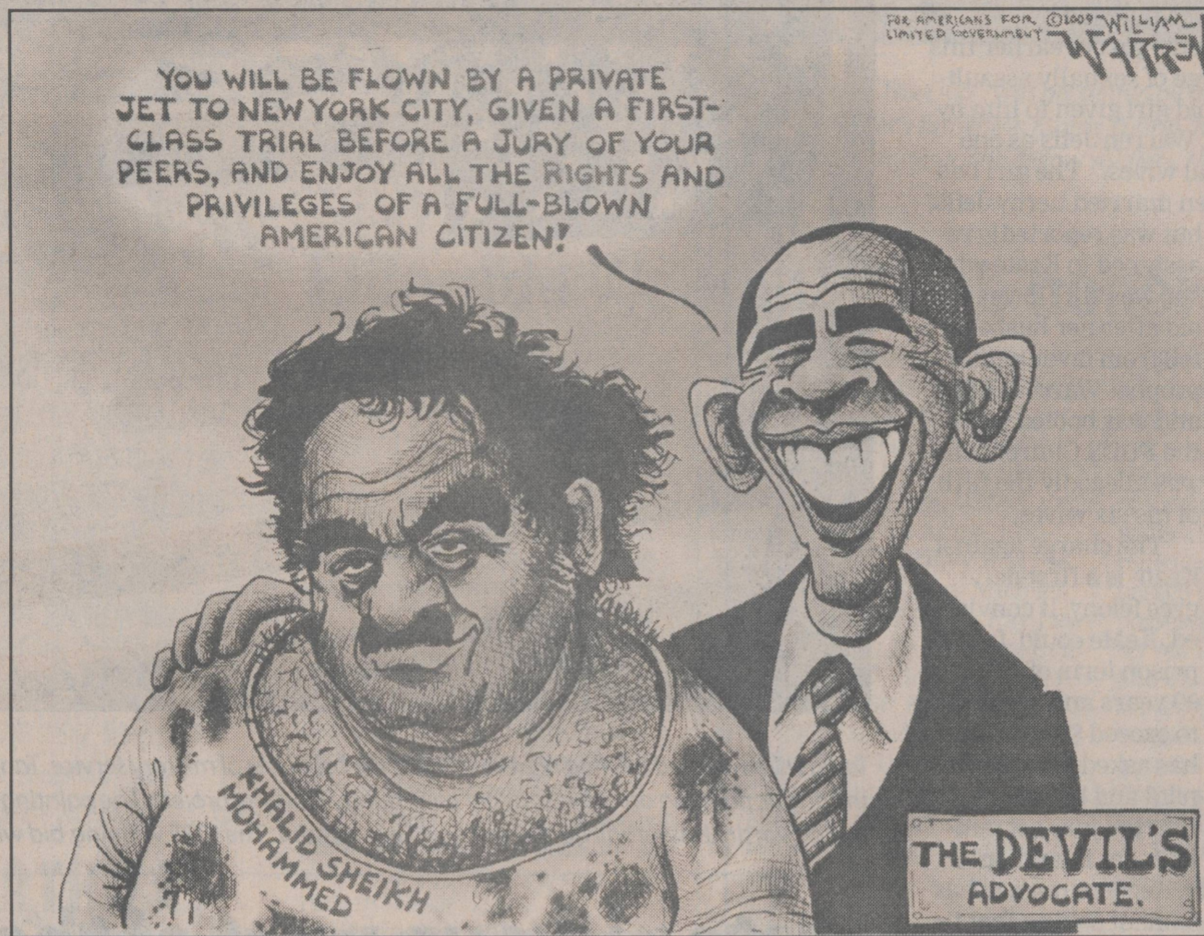

by Samantha Weaver

• It was Serbian electrical engineer and inventor Nikola Tesla who made the following sage observation: "One must be sane to think clearly, but one can think deeply and be quite insane."

• If you think postage rates are getting high now, consider this: To send mail by Pony Express originally cost $5 per ounce -- and that was when a dollar was worth a whole lot more than it is today.

• You may be surprised to learn that in 1980, the mayor of Detroit gave the key to the city to Iraqi dictator Saddam Hussein.

• The World Health Organization does not include cockroaches on its list of insects hazardous to human health.

If you think the price of justice is high, check out the cost of injustice

Much is being made in some quarters about the costs associated with the YFZ investigation and subsequent criminal trials. I've even seen complaints in print that Schleicher County could be forced to raise taxes because of the spiraling costs.

Wow, what a message to send to the outside world.

Do we really want drug smugglers to think that we will look the other way as they ship dope into and through Schleicher County because doing otherwise might cost us a few dollars?

Or, should we disband the fire department because fighting fires costs too much?

Then, there's the Emergency Medical Service. You know, those ambulances sit idle most of time and they cost a lot of money. Surely it could be better spent on other things.

Former County Judge Johnny Griffin cultivated the reputation of a penny pincher during his three decades in office. Once during a discussion about the cost of a new ambulance he commented, "Yeah,

by Randy Mankin

but if it was me laying there on the ground flopping I'd want the best equipment money can buy."

And, in my opinion, that's the crux of the problem. It's all about whose ox is getting gored.

As the father of a daughter, I can assure you that there is no price I wouldn't pay to see justice done if someone caused her harm.

Are the daughters of the YFZ Ranch any less deserving? Just because they may have been born in Utah or Arizona, do they not have the right to grow up safe and secure from sexual abuse?

And, don't bore me with the argument that it's all about religion. No one, of any religion, should have the right to abuse children.

I would hope that a stranger somewhere, even in Utah, would come to the aid of my child if I could not.

No, there's nothing easy about any of this. It's long and tedious and it drags on and on. Still, we are compelled to see it through and we dare not look away.

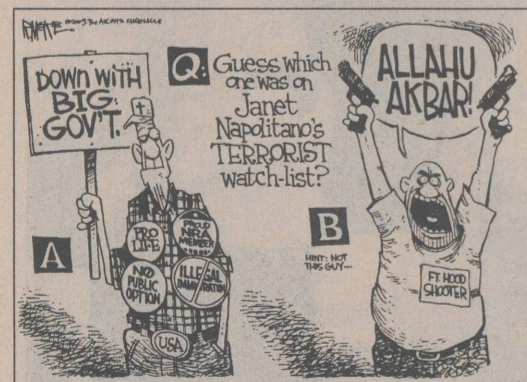

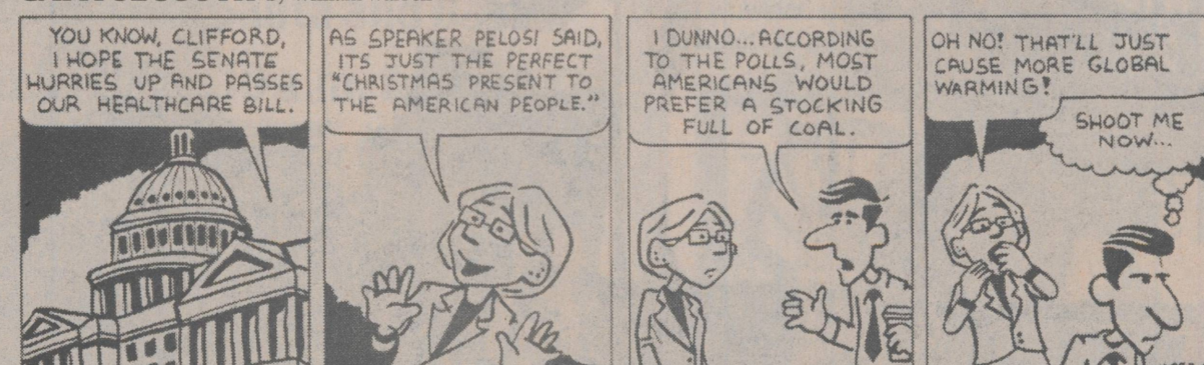

Governor Perry said early on that this situation isn't a Schleicher County problem, it's a Texas problem. And, the state has committed considerable resources to relieving the financial burden that might otherwise swamp a small county like ours.

Still, even if the state wasn't picking up most of the tab, we would have no choice but to shoulder the burden ourselves.

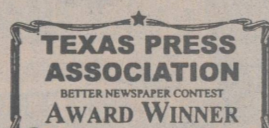

Texans have always done what's right when faced with adversity. It's a trait that we can trace back to Crockett and Travis, Seguin and Fannin.

Besides, if you think the price of justice is high, check out the cost of injustice. I guarantee you won't like it.

Samaritan's Purse shoebox collection deadline nears

Samaritan's Purse is an organization founded by Franklin Graham, son of Rev. Billy Graham. The organization takes shoe boxes filled with age/gender appropriate gifts to children all around the world. The campaign is also known as "Operation Christmas Child."

Several churches in Eldorado have been collecting the packed shoe boxes and readying them to be delivered to a child that may never have received a gift of any kind in their life.

Community Baptist Church is a drop off location for this area. The deadline for drop off is this Sunday, November 22 by 2:00 p.m. After the collection process is completed here in Eldorado, the boxes will be taken to San Angelo where they will be sorted and sent by whatever means necessary - sea containers, trucks, buses, trains, airplanes, helicopters, boats, camels and even dog sleds to reach suffering children around the world.

Making a difference this year in a child's life that may impact them in a way they never dreamed possible and give you an opportunity to give to someone less fortunate.

Items that we take for granted such as pencils, paper, notebook paper, stuffed animals, and even hard candy, these children may never have had access to.

Right now you can join in the effort to help the world's largest Christmas project, hand-deliver more than 8 million gift-filled shoe boxes to children in some 100 countries suffering from natural disaster, war, terrorism, famine, and poverty.

Along with the gifts you have placed in each box a $7 donation to help with the shipping costs needs to be included. You may obtain additional information by going to www.samaritanaspurse.org or contact Community Baptist Church for further information. 325-853-3288 or Pastor Don Inman @ 325-226-5859.

Elementary Dad's Breakfast slated Tuesday, December 1st

Eldorado Elementary will be having a Dad's Breakfast again this year on Tuesday, December 1. Breakfast will be served from 6:30 a.m. until 7:30 a.m. in the elementary kitchen. Make sure and bring your son or daughter with you! We hope to have the students take this opportunity to show their dads where their classroom is and tell them about how they spend their day.

This activity is being held to encourage dads (or a representative for a student: grandfather, step-dad, uncle, or etc.) to visit the elementary school and to acquaint themselves with other dads in the school system. Your participation in this event will deliver a message to your child that you are interested in them and what they do at school. This will be a time of visitation for the dads, and we will also have the classrooms open for you to look around. Feel free to come any time between 6:30 and 7:30.

Ag leadership class

applications due March 15

COLLEGE STATION -- Texas Agricultural Lifetime Leadership Program is seeking applicants for its new class which will begin in June. TALL is a two-year leadership development program managed by the Texas AgriLife Extension Service. Applications for the newest class, Class XII, are due March 15. Application forms may be found online at <http://tall.tamu.edu>.

"Texas agriculture has a need for individuals who can lead our industry as it faces new and unique challenges. These individuals will provide the leadership, insight and direction to ensure the viability for the future," said Dr. Jim Mazurkiewicz, AgriLife Extension leadership program director.

The age of applicants may be from 25-50 years, he said. The program invests 455 hours of intensive training per person in seminars, speakers and domestic and international trips over two years. Mazurkiewicz added. Class XII will travel to India. The course is the equivalent of 38 credit hours or a master's degree in agriculture. The typical class size is about 25, and tuition is $2,000. Participants include traditional crop producers and ranchers, bankers and lawyers, as well as those who work in lumber and landscaping industries.

DPS warns parents: Mexican cartels and gangs recruiting in Texas schools

The Texas Department of Public Safety is warning parents across the state to be aware of efforts by Mexican cartels and transnational gangs to recruit Texas youth in our schools and communities. These violent organizations are luring teens with the prospect of cars, money and notoriety, promising them if they get caught, they will receive a minimal sentence.

The Mexican cartels constantly seek new ways to smuggle drugs and humans into Texas as are now using state based gangs and our youth to support their operations on both sides of the border.

For example, Laredo natives Gabriel Cardona and Rosalio Reta were recruited in their teens to be hit men for the Zetas. The Zetas, composed primarily of former Mexican military commandos, originally served as the enforcement arm of the Gulf Cartel, but have since become their own cartel. El Paso teens have been recruited to smuggle drugs across the border, many with the packs taped to their bodies.

While such recruitment is growing across Texas, juveniles along the Texas-Mexico border are particularly susceptible. In 2008, young people from the counties along the Texas-Mexico border accounted for just 9 percent of the population in Texas, but 18 percent of the felony drug charges and gang-related arrests.

"As these dangerous organizations seek to co-opt our children to support their criminal operations, it is more important than ever that parents be aware of these risks, talk to their children and pay attention to any signs that they may have become involved in illegal activities," said Steven C. McCraw, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

To protect our communities and our children from these powerful and ruthless criminal organizations, local, state and federal law enforcement agencies and the District Attorneys in Texas border counties are working together to detect, disrupt and deter Mexican cartel-related crime along the Texas-Mexico border.

The 20th Annual Veteran Day Program was held Thursday, November 12 at the High School Auditorium. Blaine Aker and Wiley Martin look on as Austin Albin places the helmet on the rifle, tags and boots memorial during the POW/MIA ceremony.

THANKS THANKS THANKS THANK YOU! THANKS THANKS THANKS THANKS THANK YOU!

I want to thank all of you for the love and prayers for me and my family during my recent illness. Everyone I meet on the street smiles and says I have been praying for you; I assure you those are most beautiful words anyone could possible hear. I know I was on the prayer list of many if not all the local churches. Because you prayed I lived.

I want to thank those who came be the hospital while I was in ICU, and those who visited me after I was moved to a room. I want to thank you for visits and the food you brought me after I got home. I would love to hug each of you and thank each of you personally for the love and prayers you showered me with. The people in this town make it truly the most beautiful place in the world.

Eldorado Woman's Club honors local military veterans

by Noweita Briggs
 The Eldorado Woman's club met Tuesday noon at the Methodist fellowship hall.

This is always my favorite meeting each year as it is when we get to honor our local military veterans. President Myrt Williams welcomed everyone.

The Methodist Hall was especially festive as the individual tables and center table were decorated in a red, white, and blue theme. Centerpieces were white daisies with inserts of flags from each branch of our armed service.

President Williams asked each guest veteran to introduce himself and tell us something about their time in the service.

There were seventeen veterans present and some had members of their family with them. Veteran Orval Edmiston; Weldon Jenkins, US Army, Tyler Robledo, USMC, 1979-1984; Floyd Fay, US Army 1986-91; Michael Kent, US Navy, 1991-93; David Doran, US Army 2005; Bradley Roden, 1971-74; James Reese, USMC, 1968; August Roden, US Army, 1945-46; Bob Bland, US Navy 1944-46; Charlie Niblett, Korea; Michael Kotsch, Navy, 1995-2003; Ray Ballew, Navy 1967-71; Guy Crippin, USAF 1950-71; Jerry Felver, US Navy 1962-66; Keith Nolan, US Army 1967-73; and John Calcote, US Army 1968-71. We thank each man for serving so honorably.

Everyone enjoyed a delicious lunch and thank those who prepared.

Rene Calcote our program director had a great display of military things, including a jacket worn in the far east. Rene had a display of WWII and remembrance of Earnest Hill, Leslie Jones. Noweita also brought a WW I large bullet casing that had been embossed and to this day is a prized possession. Fifty men from here served in WWI. Major Luedecke and 299 other men and women served from Schleicher County.

To each and everyone we give our grateful appreciation and thanks. Thank you Veterans for telling us something about your service time.

President Williams next returned to our order of business.

The finance committee - fund raising group made a suggestion that on Valentine's Day we would have a special "Cookie Bouquet". Notice would be given in the newspaper for orders to be taken "Sweets for Sweetie" would be the theme. A motion was made and seconded for this great idea to be our fund raiser. On November 21st at Good-fellow Air Base, there will be an Christmas Open House.

Our December meeting will be a Christmas party. We will exchange ornaments and also bring canned goods. Our meeting closed with reciting our cub collect. Our next meeting will be Tuesday, December 1st.

 in decreased state sales tax collections.

That might force a downward adjustment in state revenue. And that, in turn, could mean stop-gap measures may be needed to keep government functioning smoothly.

Texas Comptroller Susan Combs, whose job it is to make revenue estimates and keep the state fiscally on target, suggested that sales tax revenues this holiday shopping season, which extends into the new year, could improve the picture. Combs is expected to give a new revenue estimate by the end of the month.

Texas still behind on H1N1 doses

Last week the state was set to get 320,000 doses of H1N1 "swine" flu vaccine.

The Texas Department of State Health Services regularly places orders in efforts to get the Lone Star State's current allotment of the vaccine, which is 3.3 million doses.

Texas expects to receive 13 million doses of the vaccine by January.
