Big Spring Organizes "Mahon For Congress" Club For Reelection

Groundwork was laid at a meeting of Big Spring citizens Wednesday night for an aggressive organizational campaign for reelection of George Mahon to congress.

A representative group of business and professional men gathered in the district courtroom and voted to set up a Mahon for Congress Club. Named as its chairman was R. L. (Bob) Cook, former mayor of the city, and R. T. Piner was selected secretary-treasurer.

Named to an executive committee, to serve with Cook and Piner in mapping details of the work in Mahon's behalf, were Dr. F. D. O'Brien, G. W. Dainey, Walton Morrison, Jas. T. Brooks, L. H. Thomas, Arthur Stallings, Ira Driver, R. L. Tolleit, H. W. Wright and R. W. Whippley.

Major Bowes MC Of Amateur Program, Dies

RUMSON, N. J., June 14 (AP)—Death halted today the spin of the "wheel of fortune" that brought fame and wealth to Major Edward Bowes.

The MC of a radio amateur program whose "all right, all right," became a household phrase, died here last night at his estate on the eve of his 72 birthday.

Francis Cardinal Spellman administered the last rites of the Catholic Church. There was no announcement of the immediate cause of death.

Bowes, who came here in failing health three weeks ago from his apartment in the Waldorf-Astoria in New York City, had been the subject of many death rumors in recent months.

Born in San Francisco, where he made and lost a fortune in the real estate business, Bowes rose to his greatest fame conducting a radio amateur hour which in 1935 was voted the most popular radio program, with an estimated 20,000,000 listeners a week.

The amateur show, with Bowes ringing a gong and spinning his "wheel of fortune" while he chanted "where it stops, nobody knows," began as a sideline to his older "capitol family" program from the Capitol theater in New York. This feature was the oldest continuous program on the air until it closed May 25, 1941.

Bowes retired about 13 months ago on the advice of his doctor although he still served as a radio consultant for the Chrysler Corporation.

Three Records Are Set In Food Handlers Class

Three new state records have been set at the food handlers short course, held here this week through cooperation of the state health department, Lawrence J. Wells, city sanitarian, reported, as plans were made for issuing certificates at the final session this afternoon.

The total enrollment record of 808, set in a course of Laredo, was shattered Thursday when the local class reached 891. Average daily attendance for the first four days here was 712, as compared to 585 at the Laredo course.

At least 700 certificates are expected to be awarded this afternoon at the close of the final session, which also will be a new state mark for a single course.

Wells received congratulatory wires this morning from the state health department in Austin, which lauded the response. Big Spring and Howard county gave to the course.

About 95 percent of the food handlers in Big Spring eating and drinking establishments attended the classes, Wells said, and in addition there were groups from Fort

Truman Asked Jackson To Talk Over Criticism

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—President Truman said today that Justice Robert H. Jackson had issued his statement criticizing Justice Hugo Black despite a presidential request for prior consultation.

At the same news conference, Mr. Truman declined comment when asked if he thought both Jackson and Black should resign "for the good of the country and the court," as a reporter phrased it.

As to whether either Jackson or Black had indicated an intention to resign, the President said he had received no indications of that sort.

The President told reporters that Jackson had wired him on Sunday of the release of his statement in Nuernberg Monday.

Jackson's statement brought in the open a "feud" in the court and told of his objection to Black's participation in a case in which former law partner represented the United Mine workers who won a 4-5 decision.

Black has not commented. Mr. Truman said that when Jackson informed him of his intention, he suggested that the Justice talk it over with him before acting.

In response to questions, the President said Jackson had not done so.

Canadian Bank Robbers Caught

DETROIT, June 14 (AP)—Five bandits who looted a Tecumseh, Ont., bank of $12,000 led American and Canadian police on a "cops and robbers" chase down the Detroit river last night before the authorities captured four of them on Peche Island.

Three men and a woman were in custody of Canadian police today, while officers searched the island for the other member of the gang which carried off a daylight raid on the Tecumseh branch of the Provincial Bank of Canada.

No formal charges have been filed by Canadian authorities, who did not release the names of the captured bandits.

All the loot was recovered, buried in a pillow slip in the sand on the island beach from "patrol."

US To Destroy Bomb If Control Unit Is Set Up

Baruch Says Offer No Good If Veto Power Granted

NEW YORK, June 14 (AP)—The United States in a history-making pronouncement offered today to destroy its own store of atomic bombs and stop manufacturing them if an adequate control of atomic energy is established under a proposed international authority.

Simultaneously, the United States made it clear to an intently listening world there must be no veto power in any part of the framework it was proposing for the development and peaceful use of atomic energy.

Bernard M. Baruch, United States representative, gave to the United Nations Atomic Energy Commission at its first session and to the world the American plan for harnessing for peaceful purposes the giant force unleashed by science.

Baruch, chosen temporary chairman of the commission, read before his address a message from President Truman wishing the commission "Godspeed" in its deliberations.

In Washington, the President said at his news conference that he had not seen Baruch's actual speech. But, Mr. Truman said, he and Secretary of State James F. Byrnes had given Baruch a directive on American policy and he imagined Baruch's statement followed it.

Major General Leslie Groves, chief of the Manhattan engineers project which developed the atomic bomb, sat behind Baruch as the 75-year-old financier called for renunciation of the atomic bomb as an instrument of warfare and for a world security program "not composed merely of pious thoughts but of enforceable sanctions—an international law with teeth in it."

The US representative, who played a leading role in this country's victories in both world wars, laid the United States' atomic cards on the table in his 40-minute address.

Steelman Named OWMR Chief

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—President Truman today announced he was appointing John R. Steelman as director of the office of War Mobilization and Reconversion.

Steelman, a typical special assistant to the President, will succeed John W. Snyder, who has been nominated for Secretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Truman told his news conference that he had decided to continue the OWMAR on the advice of practically all members of his cabinet as well as the OWMAR advisory committee.

He previously had said that OWMAR would be gradually liquidated since he believed most of the country's reconversion problems had been solved.

Today the President said that Steelman not only would take over Snyder's old job but would also continue in his present capacity as labor advisor to the President, at the request of Secretary of Labor Schweikert.

IT HAPPENS HERE ONCE IN 5 YEARS

It happens only once in five years—and this is the year.

Because of keen interest in district conventions, state Lions officials a decade ago abandoned the idea of a separate state Lions convention and decided to rotate among the five districts of the state.

Thus the combination state and district convention came into being. This means that only once in five years does this district entertain the two conventions simultaneously—and this is the year.

Bridges Agrees To Accept 22 Cent Wage Hike

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—President Truman reported today that he had been informed there was a good prospect for settling the maritime labor crisis in time to prevent a shipping tieup tonight.

This was related by the president to his news conference, while on Capitol Hill Capt. Granville Conway, war shipping chief, said that Harry Bridges had agreed to accept a wage increase of 22 cents an hour for his CIO longshoremen.

In view of this, Conway told a house labor sub-committee investigating the scheduled strike of maritime unions at midnight, "it seems reasonable to me that it will be settled" this afternoon.

Bridges' objection to the 22-cent figure has been one of the biggest—and perhaps the last—stumbling blocks separating unions and operators and the government from an agreement.

His decision now to take it, as reported by Conway, convinced Chairman A. B. Kelly (D-Pa.) of the house groups that the strike was "over."

Bridges had given ground bitterly, and even as he brightened the prospects of averting the strike now, he flung a threat of another maritime crisis in little more than three months.

He hinted he would take the 22-cent figure only until Sept. 30. Mr. Truman said that the labor department was his source of information about a good prospect for settlement of the controversy before nightfall.

Conway told the house group that the only thing left to be worked out was an agreement regarding retroactive pay for the west coast seamen.

President Explains Why Lend-Lease To Chinese Still Deemed Necessary

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—President Truman today explained why he still deemed necessary to continue such aid to the nationalist forces after lend-lease had been terminated for all other nations.

Total lend lease aid to all countries from March 11, 1941, through Dec. 31, 1945, amounted to $49,096,000,000, the President said.

In addition to the "gigantic lend-lease operation" of ferrying Chinese troops by air, Mr. Truman revealed that $68,000,000 in vehicles and $50,000,000 in ammunition were lend-leased to China from American Army supplies in the Far East.

More than 60 percent of all wartime lend lease went to the British Empire which got $30,753,304,000. Russia was next with $11,141,470,000, followed by France and its possessions with $2,377,072,000.

In his report, the President said that American military aid to China is "continuing beyond the period covered by this report" but recalled his statement of Dec. 15, 1945, when he promised "United States support will not extend to United States military intervention to influence the course of any Chinese internal strife."

The statement disclosed that a total of $1,242,594,000 in American lend lease was furnished American Allies after V-J Day. Reverse lend-lease from other countries to the United States amounted to $7,345,747,000, most of this from the British Empire which supplied $6,306,149,000.

US May Train Chinese Army

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—The United States is ready to help train a Chinese army of possibly 1,000,000 men, provided Congress gives its okay.

The training would include both Central government and Communist troops, in a ratio of five to one.

The exact number of men still is uncertain, but Gen. George C. Marshall, special ambassador to China, has approved a program developed by the State, War and Navy departments calling for an "effective small army" of 60 divisions.

That descriptive came from officials who said the objective is three-fold:

- 1. To enable China to maintain her internal security.
- 2. To help preserve peace in Asia and.
- 3. To cooperate in whatever way is necessary with United Nations peace forces.

Old Glory will be honored, in the first peace-time observance of Flag Day in five years at the city park amphitheatre tonight in ceremonies scheduled to begin at 8 o'clock.

Complete color guards from the American Legion and VFW posts will be present, with Neal Barnaby in charge of the flag raising and flag lowering. Three members of the local Army recruiting office's staff, S-Sgt. O. E. Goodman, Sgt. Emmett M. Magee and M-Sgt. James C. McNeill, will raise the flag.

Dan Conley will be master of ceremonies for the program, which is being held in connection with the regular Friday night amateur presentation.

Immediately after the flag raising and lowering ceremonies, the amateur program will begin, with cash prizes to be awarded to first, second and third place winners.

Walton Morrison will give the invocation, and Martelle McDonald will deliver the Flag Day address.

Bank Holdup Man Arraigned

FORT WORTH, June 14 (AP)—Bond of $15,000 has been set for Horace Anderson Collins, 30, local bus driver, on a charge of taking $1,500 under threat from a teller at the Continental National Bank here yesterday.

Collins waived the customary 24-hour delay yesterday afternoon and was arraigned at a hearing before US Commissioner R. F. Milam.

A note handed Mrs. Freda Denton, bank teller, was introduced. Collins identified it as the one he wrote Thursday morning before entering the bank.

"Your life depends on your actions in the next few minutes," the note read. "You can cash this quietly and let me get out of here or you can create a disturbance and make me pull this gun. If this happens, I promise you and a few others will be carried out dead. It's up to you."

The note was written in pencil on the back of a check made out for $1,500 payable to "cash" and signed "a bandit."

At the hearing, Collins identified O. C. Curi, cashier at the bank, and R. H. Sandsberry, assistant cashier, as the men who caught him a few minutes after he left the bank.

RUIZ TO RECEIVE MEDAL OF HONOR

WASHINGTON, June 14 (AP)—Today President Truman will step forward and place the Congressional Medal of Honor around the neck of Sergeant Alejandro Ruiz, 21-year-old Texas hero of the Okinawa campaign.

The impressive ceremony at the White House today climaxes a government-sponsored trip to the Capitol from Barstow, Tex., for the youthful hero, his recent bride, and seven other members of his family.

The West Texas Latin-American family arrived in Washington early this week. Army staff cars were placed at their disposal. An army captain was appointed as their guide. An interpreter was furnished.

The entire party, with Mrs. Selva Gonzales, Ruiz's grandmother, to five-month-old Concha Renteria, has been seeing Washington.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

Jimmy Stewart, energetic executive secretary of the Southwestern Athletic conference, has compiled a history of the league, bringing to light many hazy facts that affected the fortunes of the organization through the years.

The circuit was given birth May 6, 1914, when representatives of eight southwestern educational institutions met at the Oriental hotel in Dallas. The following colleges were represented: Baylor, Oklahoma, Southwestern (Georgetown), Oklahoma A. & M., Texas A. & M., Arkansas and the University of Texas.

On December 8 of that same year the representatives of all those schools save LSU met again in Houston to formally band together and the membership of Rice Institute was accepted provisionally. First president was W. T. Mather of the University of Texas.

In 1916, the conference became a member of the National Collegiate Athletic association. Southwestern university dropped out of the league in '16. Rice Institute was not carried as a member during 1916-17 but was elected officially to membership again in December, 1917.

Conn Is Good Old Experts Say; Louis Still Caggy

GREENWOOD LAKE, N. J., June 13 (AP)—Joe Louis could just as well be a guy fishing in a swamp in St. Louis, for all the attention Billy Conn gives him and what he does or how he looks.

You practically have to drag any conversation about the brown bomber out of the Pittsburgh prett-boy.

He has become so sharp after boxing 257 rounds since he pitched camp here that more and more of the experts are crawling out on the line to pick him, although he's an 11 or 12 to 5 underdog. And his sharpness reached such a peak in a vicious six-round thumping of his sparman yesterday, that Manager Johnny Ray decided to give him the day off today.

Jack Dempsey and Jim Braddock, a couple of the boys who used to own the heavyweight title, were on hand for the festivities. Dempsey thought he looked every bit as good as he did in '41, except the added weight is giving him more punching power. Braddock was on from there to tab Billy to beat the bomber.

The New York state athletic commission doctors, William Walker and Vincent Nardiello were astonished at the way his pulse rushed back to normal after his drill, far different than they found with Louis.

POMPTON LAKES, N. J., June 14 (AP)—Al Hoosman, one of four big, clever negro fighters who have been helping Joe Louis sharpen his batting eye for the past 44 days is convinced that the champion is holding out a few secret weapons to use on Billy Conn next Wednesday night.

"I'm sure Joe's using a little camouflage," was the way the tall Los Angeles stylist put it. "Just every now and then he shows me enough in there for me to know he isn't doing his best all the time. He's much faster than when he started training, and he can hit pretty sharp when he's a miler to it."

There's not a doubt in Hoosman's mind that Louis will catch Conn fairly early, though he admits to a great admiration for Billy after having dropped over to his camp several times to watch him box.

Louis looked about 50 per cent better yesterday than on Tuesday. He still wasn't trying to sell in and drop his partners, and he even permitted a small smile to play about his mouth at times, but he never left any doubt who was boss.

Jack Dempsey looked Louis over very carefully and opined that, while Joe looked strong he could do with a bit more speed. Only a few minutes before the old mauler had been watching Conn box, and so was struck by the contrast in their styles.

SAN ANTONIO, June 14 (AP)—Stars of Texas trackdom plus several top-flighters who are temporary residents of the state because of service connections will battle it out tonight for 180 spots in the National AAU two weeks hence.

Four national champions—two of them defending champions—are in the field and included in the temporary residents seeking spots in the nationals is Paul Robeson, former Cornell star and son of the famed singer who will contest in the high jump.

August Erfurt, national junior AAU 110-meter hurdles king last year; John Donaldson of Rice, who won the discus throw in both junior and senior divisions, and Bill Cummins, a national champion in both the high and low hurdles before the war, head the ambitious field.

Bredemeyer Hurls Motorists To 4 To 3 Victory Over VFW

Behind the two-hit elbowing of Glenn Bredemeyer, Big Spring Motor nosed out a scrappy VFW contingent, 4-3, in a Muny softball league battle played on the city park diamond Thursday evening.

In the other contest, Forsan's Pipeliners took a 12-6 lead decision from ABC after a shaky start.

Bredemeyer enjoyed one of his good nights to subdue the Vets. He struck out 11 of the opposition, walked but two. It took a home run by O. T. Teague in the sixth

Fems Play S'water

Its game with Odessa postponed due to a mix-up in the schedule, the American Legion girls' softball team will play Sweetwater at the Muny park instead Saturday, according to T. J. Dunlap, manager. Game time is 8 o'clock.

Dunlap made arrangements for the game by telephone Thursday after the Odessa management had called in to report that team was committed to go to San Angelo for a contest.

The Legionnaires will probably field the same lineup that administered a severe shellacking to the Angelo Red Chicks last week. Lefty Todd will do the pitching.

Charlene Tucker, left fielder, may not be able to start, in which case Gypsy Smallwood will assume the ball chasing duties in that pasture.

Hot Welter Scrap on KBST Tonight

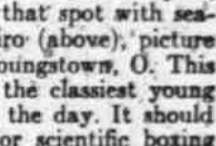

When tough little Chuck Taylor broke into the New York ring with sensational victories over Freddie Archer and Tony Martellano this spring, he captured the staid fancy with superb boxing skill and sharp hitting and earned top billing at Madison Square Garden.

Tonight the clouter from Coalport, Pa., moves into that spot with seasoned Tony Janiro (above), picture puncher from Youngtown, O. This matches two of the classiest young welterweights of the day. It should be a stand-out for scientific boxing and clean, effective punching.

Terrific Tony is hard opposition. He's fought some of the best at the Garden and has lost only three in approximately 50 professional bouts.

Enjoy the excitement, blow-by-blow, on Gillette's Cavalcade of Sports over American Broadcasting Co. and KBST 1490 on our dial at 8 p. m.

And remember, men... LOOK sharp! FEEL sharp! BE sharp! Use Gillette Blue Blades with the sharpest edges ever honed!

Daylong To Hurl Against Angelo

Jimmy Daylong will get the pitching assignment for the Big Spring club in the Manhattan Carr Powell softball exhibition in San Angelo Saturday night, according to Manager Billy Parker.

Parker had designs on getting L. D. Cunningham, Cosden star, to help Daylong with the hill worries but L. D. is not available.

Carr Powell repulsed the Cosden Oilers, 2-1, in an exhibition played in the Concho city last week. Roy Weeks, who tamed the Refiners, will probably take the knob for the Angeloans again.

Parker announced he would start his regular lineup against the Tom Green county outfit. The Manhattanans are currently in fourth place in Muny league standings.

Oklahoma City scored in the first inning against Shreveport but stopped there. The Sports bunched six hits in the fifth and sixth innings to bring in the winning four runs.

Today's schedule: Dallas at San Antonio. Fort Worth at Houston. Oklahoma City at Shreveport. Tulsa at Beaumont.

Sellers Combine Stage Top Show In Corpus Christi

CORPUS CHRISTI, June 14. — (Sp1) — The Annual Southwest Texas Rodeo here has closed on what local rodeo enthusiasts term the greatest show in history.

Staged by Earl and Jack Sellers, the Del Rio father-son combine who will promote the Big Spring show Aug. 7-10, the local rodeo made history with some of the toughest bucking stock ever shown here, in addition to ropers, riders and bulldozers who were the class of Southwest Texas shows.

The Sellers also showed some of the best trick acts in the business and there was none in these parts after the five-night performances were completed who thought even Madison Square Garden could have offered more to the Western fan.

Every Southwest Texas rodeo fan will endorse the Sellers show almost without qualification. First they exhibit as rough stock as will be found in any arena. Then they post enough prize money to attract the best riders and ropers in the business, plus the top flight trick roping and riding acts in the business.

Led By New York Yankees, Majors May Double Last Year's Attendance Record

By the Associated Press. The pre-season prediction that baseball was in for its biggest year financially was borne out today with the disclosure that with only one third of the season gone, exactly 6,298,060 fans — more than twice last year's attendance at this corresponding date — have paid their way into the 16 major league ball parks.

Not only is a new attendance mark for the year a virtual certainty, but if the fans continue to flock to the games at the same rate, last year's record breaking attendance of 10,951,502 may even be doubled.

As the majors took a one-day "vacation" while the intersectional rivals prepared to clash for the fourth time, the Yankees' amazing home total of 1,113,849 for 34 home games was much the best. Never before has any team hit the million mark at this early date.

Swimming Class Opens Saturday

YMCA swimming classes, scheduled to be held three times weekly, henceforth, get underway at 10 a. m. Saturday at the municipal swimming pool under the direction of Arah Phillips, athletic director.

Persons nine years of age and older are eligible to enroll, if they have with them their Y membership receipts and the price of admission.

Miss Phillips has lined up a competent faculty of teachers which includes Bobo Hardy, Eddie Houser, Don Phillips and Jean Pearce.

Those reporting will be divided into three classes — non-swimmers, beginners and intermediates. The classes eventually will be broken into groups so that each enrollee will be given specialized training.

The classes will be conducted on Mondays, Wednesdays and Saturdays through the summer.

Spartans To Play Midland Tonight

According to reports emanating from Midland, the Reporter brings a crackerjack lineup to town.

Assault Feasts Eyes On All-Time Record

KINGSVILLE, June 14 (AP) — Robert J. Kleberg, Jr., while not saying so, has notified King ranch headquarters that he is not returning to Texas for several weeks, thus indicating that his great horse, Assault, winner of turfdom's triple crown, is going to shoot at the one-year earnings mark.

Assault, who romped to glory in the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont, needs only $9,256 to beat the record set by Gallant Fox in 1930. Assault has won $299,020 for the season.

Tracksters Vie Tonight In AAU

SAN ANTONIO, June 14 (AP)—Stars of Texas trackdom plus several top-flighters who are temporary residents of the state because of service connections will battle it out tonight for 180 spots in the National AAU two weeks hence.

Four national champions—two of them defending champions—are in the field and included in the temporary residents seeking spots in the nationals is Paul Robeson, former Cornell star and son of the famed singer who will contest in the high jump.

August Erfurt, national junior AAU 110-meter hurdles king last year; John Donaldson of Rice, who won the discus throw in both junior and senior divisions, and Bill Cummins, a national champion in both the high and low hurdles before the war, head the ambitious field.

Those reporting will be divided into three classes — non-swimmers, beginners and intermediates. The classes eventually will be broken into groups so that each enrollee will be given specialized training.

We Could Use More Sidewalks

Something Big Spring can use a lot of its sidewalks. Lives of children and grownups are endangered because they often are forced into the street, especially in bad weather, to say nothing of the discomfort of walking in mud, or in sand and rough gravel.

We could use a sidewalk campaign to go hand in hand with our paving.

Perhaps Big Springers would be interested in knowing that the growing city of Corpus Christi has a plan to expand its sidewalks; hopes to have nine miles of new walks in use by October 1.

Here is the plan: The city prepares plans and specifications, calls for bids and awards the work to the lowest bidder. Property owners will pay the cost of actual construction, about $1 to $1.25 a linear foot. The contractor will lay the sidewalks only on entire city blocks on the reasonable theory "that 250 feet of sidewalk is of little use if there's a 50-foot gap in the middle of the block."

The contractor must collect his money from the property owners, most of whom who refuse to pay, it is proposed that the city council amend the existing ordinance and get a judgment against them. The city would buy the judgment so the contractor won't lose. Then the owner would have to pay off the judgment to the city before he can clear the title to his property.

It looks like a good idea. A little tough on the holdouts, perhaps; but every city worthy of the name has to get a little tough once in awhile or tolerate conditions adversely affecting the public welfare.

We might do well to make a thorough study of Corpus Christi's plan.

Continuous Devotion To Our Flag

This is Flag Day, the 169th anniversary of the date when the congress agreed on the present stars-and-stripes design of our national emblem.

It is an occasion for good Americans everywhere to re-pledge their allegiance to those principles of free democracy which are embodied in a bit of bunting.

A symbol must be as strong as its principles, and it has been to the credit of America that the generations have added strength to their symbol. There was probably no greater dramatic moment in the last war than that which occurred on Iwo Jima Feb. 23, 1945, when men of our armed forces unfurled Old Glory on the island's highest point.

It was a display of triumph—the triumph of all our efforts, all our struggles for what we believed to be right. The raising of the flag gave being to that triumph.

The flag which flies in Peace of course deserves the same devotion that it gets in wartime. We hasten to protect it in time of war because we see the dangers threatening it.

We are not so alert in time of Peace, because the dangers threatening our flag are not so obvious. They are more insidious. But they need to be watched.

And the influences which threaten our flag are those which threaten our very existence, our way of life. These things we ought to remember on this and every Flag Day.

Congress Hesitant To Continue OPA

WASHINGTON, (AP)—One of the important decisions of our time—how to continue OPA—is being made in congress.

OPA, with all its price and rent controls, will die automatically June 30 unless congress votes to keep it going after that date.

There's no doubt Congress will extend its life, perhaps for a year. But the big question is this:

In what form will OPA be continued? As a strong agency with plenty of controls and able to drop them when it thinks right?

Or will it be turned into a weak agency striped of some of the most important controls, and therefore only a shell of itself?

The future prosperity and welfare of the country may depend upon the decision taken.

Inside and outside Congress

there are two main arguments on OPA. Here roughly, is one.

This is still the reconversion period. The supply of goods is far below the demand for them. If price controls are yanked off widely now, prices will go zooming up. Then we'll have inflation.

Once inflation starts, no one knows when it will end. Better keep controls on prices till supply comes closer to meeting the demand.

Here, roughly, is the other side of the argument: OPA controls are blocking production of much needed goods because business can't or won't produce when prices and profits are too low. If price controls go, business will get down to the job of producing.

Even those most anxious for an end to price controls acknowledge that, if controls are taken of now, prices will start climbing.

They argue: A little inflation won't hurt anyone. Prices will go up for a while. They'll start coming down when supply meets demand.

The question no one can answer positively is: How high will prices go? When will they come down? How far will the come?

One thing is certain: Runaway inflation would do horrible damage.

Many weeks ago the House produced an OPA bill which OPA officials said would really kill that agency, and for this reason: It would pretend to continue OPA but actually would rip off so many price controls that OPA would be left stiff and dead, a joke.

Up And Up, Play By Play

NEW YORK — It gives everyone around Broadway a lot of satisfaction to see the wide renown Garson Kanin is receiving for his first play, "Born Yesterday." . . . He has won prizes for his first effort as a playwright, and his royalties are making him rich. . . . He is a celebrity, and the time is rapidly approaching for a sandwich to be named after him in Reuben's.

He studied at the American Academy of Dramatic Arts and decided his jobs until then, which included telegraph boy, salesman in Macy's basement and jazz saxophonist, would not do as permanent gainful effort. . . . He was taken on as a minor hired hand by Producer George Abbott, stage managing some of that gentleman's brightest comedies. He at length directed the road companies of such Abbott hits as "Room Service," "Three Men on a Horse," "Boy Meets Girl" and "Brother Rat."

Now, that he has returned to civilian clothes and is a Broadway success, his plans include only two definite items: Casting and direction of two, duplicate road troupes of "Born Yesterday," and direction of his wife's second play, "Miss Jones," which Max Gordon will produce in the fall. He also has an idea for a new comedy, which he says is in the "mulling-over" stage.

Meanwhile, his new theatrical halo is just the same size as the hat he wore before he became this year's young genius.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Justice Jackson Bitterly Disappointed

WASHINGTON.—Some of those who have sat inside Supreme Court confidential conferences believe that two factors were behind Justice Robert Jackson's sudden flare-up against his associate, Justice Hugo Black.

They are: 1. Jackson's own nerve-racking job at Nuernberg and his deep disappointment over not being appointed chief justice; 2. A conspiracy by certain groups in the USA to nullify the hard-hitting liberal opinions of Justice Black.

Most people don't realize it, but Jackson has suffered three bitter political disappointments, and in one previous case he lashed back bitterly—though privately—at a man who helped disappoint him.

Disappointment No. 1 was when Jackson wanted to be governor of New York. It was Roosevelt's idea that this would groom Jackson as the next White House incumbent. However, FDR couldn't whip the New York politicians into line, so it was promised that Jackson would become Attorney General instead.

This was disappointment No. 2 for Frank Murphy, then defeated as governor of Michigan, was appointed Attorney General instead. Jackson never got over this, boiled over privately against Frank Murphy and has not spoken to Murphy since.

Disappointment No. 3 came when Chief Justice Hughes retired. Jackson had been under the impression that he had a White House promise to be Hughes' successor. But, like the candidates at Chicago in 1944 who thought they had FDR's blessing as his vice-presidential running-mate, Jackson found that Harlan Fiske Stone was made Chief Justice instead.

Felix Frankfurter Feud Since then, Jackson has labored under the impression that he was next in line after Stone retired, and his close friend Justice Frankfurter did his level best to secure the appointment for him.

However, Secretary of the Treasury Vinson was appointed instead—and at a time when Jackson was carrying an almost impossible burden at the Nuernberg war trials. Things have not been going well at Nuernberg. What was expected to be a grand show has turned into a fiasco. So now the Vinson appointment apparently was too much.

In addition, friends of both Jackson and Black suggest that some needling of the usually gentlemanly Jackson must have been done from Washington. For a long time, Frankfurter has been the quiet spearhead of the anti-Black faction on the Supreme Court. Actually, relations between Jackson and Black have appeared outwardly cordial during confidential court sessions.

Every noon the court adjourns to its private dining room for lunch, and every Saturday the justices gather for a long private session to iron out their opinions. At these private sessions there have been differences of opinion between Black and Jackson, but except for one brief flare-up over the portal-to-portal coal case, they have not appeared to be personally in each other's hair. Not so, however, Justice Frankfurter. It is an open court secret that he is at personal odds with both Black and Justice Frank Murphy, while relations are none too happy between him and Justice William O. Douglas.

Florida Shoots At Black

The opposition to Hugo Black has put some queer allies in the same corner. For instance, one link in the conspiracy against Black was woven by reactionary Tom Watson, attorney general of Florida, who last September asked that Black disqualify himself in the Florida anti-closed shop agreement.

The Florida attorney general, having looked over Black's decisions, told the court that Justice Black had always found in favor of labor and thereby should be disqualified from sitting in this case. Black ignored the petition and sat. As one of his colleagues remarked: "Does this mean that a justice who has always held in favor of capital should also be disqualified?"

These are some of the forces working against Justice Black, which may have helped set the stage for this week's blast from Nuernberg.

Judicial Law Partners

A justice of the Supreme Court, commenting privately on the Black-Jackson feud, pointed out that the late Chief Justice Stone did not disqualify himself when members of his old law firm, Stillman and Cromwell, appeared before the court—unless the case involved a client he had handled when a member of the firm.

Likewise, Justice Douglas was formerly a member of the firm of Cravath, Degorsdorff, Swan and Wood, but has not disqualified himself when members of this firm appeared before him—unless he had had a previous interest in the case.

It was also pointed out that Supreme Court justices who have been members of large New York law firms might find themselves disqualified in a great many cases if this rule were followed. Another court observer recalled that Justice Jackson had never disqualify himself when Solicitor General Charles Fahey appeared before him. Yet Fahey served under Jackson when Jackson was Attorney General—a relationship perhaps closer than that of law partners.

NOTE—The partnership between Justice Black and Crampton Harris was terminated in 1923, more than 20 years ago. At that time, the two partners were not getting along well together.

Under The Table

Justice Black is one of the two hardest working members of the court, writing 41 opinions last year. Justice Douglas also wrote 41. Next were Justices Rutledge and Frankfurter, each with 38. . . . Justice Burton, the newest member, wrote 12. . . . Remarkable one Supreme Court justice privately:

"The matter of disqualification is left to a jurist's conscience. In the portal-to-portal case, Jackson attempted to be Black's conscience."

Justice Jackson left on a five-day trip to Norway and Sweden just after his blast against Black. Some court friends wished he had taken this trip first, cooled off, and then considered his blast at Black. . . . Chief Justice Stone was always vigorously opposed to having members of the court engage in extra-curricular activities and told President Truman so bluntly. He made a special trip to the White House to ask that Truman not appoint Justice Douglas Secretary of the Interior, also expressed his hearty disapproval of Jackson's serving as war crimes prosecutor. The work of the court, he felt, was too important to play second fiddle to anything.

Laverne Fuller, Billy Casey Wed In Single Ring Rites

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fuller of Centerpoint have announced the marriage of their daughter, Laverne, to Billy Casey, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Casey, Tuesday evening in the Casey home.

The single ring ceremony was read by Herbert Newman before a gathering of only close relatives and friends. The bride wore a street length dress of aqua blue with white accessories. Her corsage was an orchid. Something old was a ring belonging to her mother, something borrowed was a bracelet.

The maid of honor was Olené Leonard, who wore a frock of powder blue with a corsage of red carnations. Mickey Casey acted as best man to his brother. Following the ceremony the couple was honored at a reception: The refreshment table was laid with a Madiera cloth and centered with a crystal punch service at which Mrs. Ralph Skelton of Monahan, aunt of the bride, presided. Mrs. Fuller and Mrs. E. C. Casey assisted in serving. The house decorations were baskets of carnations and gladioli.

Mr. and Mrs. Casey both graduated from Big Spring high school this spring. He will enter the service soon, and until that time they will make their home in Big Spring.

Girls Club Plans Sweetwater Outing
Members of the High Heel Slipper club met Wednesday night in the home of Pat Cochran to discuss plans for a trip next week to Lake Sweetwater since the outing to Ruidoso has been indefinitely postponed. The group will leave here Thursday morning and return Monday.

Approximately 150 attended the Father's Day picnic held Thursday evening at the city park by members of the primary department of the First Baptist church. The group gathered at the totem pole where Orville Bryant and A. T. Bryant led the group in singing "Faith of Our Fathers" and "Father." The gathering then went on a garden pilgrimage. At the first garden, which represented the "Garden of Eden," Sylvia Brigham gave a reading and Mrs. S. M. Winham presented the scripture and the devotional, followed by group singing of "In the Garden." In the "Garden of Prayer," there was an altar representation and Jan Talley and Mrs. Jessie Ferrell gave the poem and devotional.

Ritz Film Based On Life Of Brontes

Based on legends as well as facts which have arisen around the life of the Bronte family, "Devotion," the biographical drama playing at the Ritz Theatre Friday and Saturday, has plenty of sentiment for those who like to weep while they learn.

Chiefly it is an intellectual picture, with fine portrayals by the stars of the famous sisters of English literature.

Ida Lupino and Olivia de Havilland are cast as Emily and Charlotte Bronte, respectively, with Nancy Coleman portraying the least talented sister, Ann. Paul Henreid contributes the romantic complications, while perhaps the most notable characterization of all is furnished by Arthur Kennedy, in the role of the alcoholic brother, Branwell Bronte.

EX-GI AND FAMILY FIND HOME AFTER LIVING IN CITY PARK

PHILADELPHIA, June 14. (AP)—An ex-GI, his wife and four children won't have to eat sandwiches and crackers in a city park nor spend their nights sleeping on the floor of a friend's apartment after today.

Maps Of Japan's Hopes For Empire Unrolled At Trial

TOKYO, June 14. (AP)—The men whom the Allies charge with having flung the Pacific nations into war saw their ambitious bid for an empire paraded before them on huge, 15-foot square, red-lined maps yesterday as the prosecution opened its case before the International War Crimes tribunal.

War-time Premier Hideka Tojo and 25 others who associated with him in the great Asian gamble watched intently as the maps charting Nippon's expansion and collapse in Manchuria, China, southeast Asia and the South Pacific were unrolled.

Tojo, a worried-looking little man with lined brows, studied each map with deep concentration. Each on its great frame above and behind the rows of defendants told a chapter of Japan's aggression and decline over a decade and a half.

The start Japan alone was outlined in the blood-red paint. Then with the succeeding years the red stretched out to the mandated islands, Manchuria, China, the Philippines, Thailand, Burma, New Guinea and the Malay Straits.

Then came the turn. The red lines shrank as Japan lost the game for empire.

Tojo, without expression, turned from the final map and silently stared into his lap.

room furnished home and a job and about as much worry as a cloud in the sky.

"It's too good to be true," his brunet wife sobbed.

The plight of the veteran and his family was revealed in newspaper stories yesterday. Unable to find a home for his family, Baggett had also not been able to get a job.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clarke provided the answer.

She said she was going away for the summer and offered use of her house for $25 a month until Sept. 1. The Philadelphia housing authority has assured Baggett a permanent home will be available by then.

"I cried when I read about them," Mrs. Clarke said. "I knew I couldn't enjoy my summer while those children were homeless."

A former railroad worker here, Baggett obtained a $1 an hour job as a maintenance man in an industrial plant through the US Employment Service. He said nobody would "give me work while I didn't have a home."

Mrs. Baggett, a native of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., said a city court had refused the family a home because "we didn't qualify" adding an employe told her "since the weather was nice to take the children back to the park."

But to the Baggetts the park was no place to raise their children. Nor were the floors a fit place to sleep. Baggett said also that the superintendent of the apartment building where they spent their nights didn't approve of the crowded conditions.

The Pacific war veteran, surrounded by his bedraggled family, went to the home of a 61-year-old blind woman — Mrs. Charles B. Taggart — and asked if he could cook some food on the stove. She took them in, let them sleep in beds for the first time in a month. The newspaper story did the rest.

Harlingen Farmer Grows First Bale

HOUSTON, June 14. (AP)—The annual race by south Texas farmers to market what is usually the first bale of cotton picked and ginned in the United States each year, was won yesterday by Pryor Dillard of Harlingen, Tex.

Dillard, owner of a 735-acre farm, said he planted 300 acres in cotton February 10. He began picking a 100-acre tract Tuesday, and yesterday had enough for a 500-pound bale.

It was rushed to a gin, processed, and then brought here by trailer today, arriving at 4 a. m. It is believed to be America's first 1946 bale.

Neff Not Trying To Amuse Voters

AUSTIN, June 14. (AP)—Pat M. Neff, Jr., candidate for Attorney General, today stated the "promises and premises" in his platform, particularly stressing his experience and qualifications for the office he seeks.

Neff promised in his formal platform that he would not try to amuse the voters.

"I shall not attempt to sway their judgment with fanfare of synthetic bandwagon balleyhoo," he said. "I play no musical instrument. I am a lawyer. The Attorney General is the people's lawyer. I think I am qualified to serve Texas in that capacity."

The jackrabbit got its name from the fact that its large ears were thought to resemble those of a jackass.

US Marines Ready Defenses in China

TSINGTAO, June 13. (Delayed) — United States Marines prepared defense positions today on the outskirts of this Chinese port as Communist troops showed up only 12 miles to the north.

A dispatch from Nanking quoted a Communist spokesman as announcing attacks toward Tisingtao, a key supply base in troubled North China, had been ordered halted.

A Communist headquarters statement accused the National government of using the question of sovereignty in Manchuria as a pretext for civil war. It added: "Only foreign troops in China and permission granted to foreign ships for the use of inland rivers could bring up the problem of sovereignty."

The statement referred to the presence of US Army and Marine forces in China and to recent government permission for foreign shipping to use some inland ports to relieve seaport congestion and speed the distribution of imports.

While the Fourth Marine Regiment dug in, its top commanders conferred on the action to be taken in the event of attack.

Through Service To New York City Inaugurated By T And P Railroad

Daily through passenger service from El Paso to New York City, with no stop-over or changes in trains has been scheduled to begin July 7 over the T and P. Missouri Pacific and Pennsylvania lines. W. G. Vollmer, president of the T and P announced Thursday afternoon.

The operation, which has been under consideration for many months, coincides with the 75th anniversary of the T and P Railroad.

Whereas passengers formally were required to disembark on reaching the Union Station in St. Louis, now they will remain on the same day coaches or sleepers until they reach their destination in the East. The stop-over in St. Louis will be only so long as needed to service the train.

Times of arrival and departure in Big Spring of the train, the regular Sunshine Special, have not been changed. The dining car, coaches and sleepers will be the same ones used here for several years until the arrival of new equipment sometime next year.

Plans are in the making now for switching cars to be switched from that train in the East for other eastern cities such as Boston and those in the New England states. The Sunshine Special will be routed through Fort Worth, Dallas, St. Louis, Washington, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and New York City.

Electrical Unions Plan Apprentice Program At Meet

A joint committee for administration of an apprentice training program for this area was selected Wednesday night at a meeting in the Settles hotel attended by representatives of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers local and the Big Spring section of National Electrical Contractors Association's West Texas chapter.

C. H. Culppepper, area supervisor of apprentice training for the US Dept. of Labor, attended as counselor, and Tom L. Evans, manager of the West Texas chapter of NECA assisted in setting up the committee.

Committeemen representing the IBEW include D. M. Gilliland, who was named chairman, and L. G. Schroeder, vice-chairman. R. B. Talley, of NECA was named secretary. Other NECA committeemen are R. H. Carter and Elton Taylor.

Similar committees are being set-up in the other four sections of NECA's West Texas chapter at Abilene, San Angelo, Lubbock and Midland-Odessa, Evans said. They will handle administrative duties concerning apprentice training in their respective areas for electrical work, which consists chiefly of training World War II veterans at present.

New Labor Board To Meet Tonight

Members of the newly-formed Associated Labor Legislative board gather at the court house at 8 o'clock this evening for their second in a series of meetings designed to solidify their action in the political field.

Officials of the organization, in which all persons—whether members of local unions or not—are entitled to join, said that the group was going to take an active role in this year's election, as well as those in future years, in efforts "to protect their interests."

"We are going to endorse those candidates who have been favorable to our cause. Their legislative records have been sent to us intact and we shall not support those individuals who have voted against us," one official said.

R. C. Williams, elected chairman of the board, will preside at this evening's session. Most of the 22 unions active in Big Spring are expected to be represented.

NAA to Complete Plans For Contest

All members of the Big Spring chapter of the National Aeronautical Association have been urged to attend a called meeting tonight in the chamber of commerce and assist in making final plans for the model plane contest Sunday.

Matt Harrington, president, said today.

The meeting has been called for 8 p. m.

Some 25 entries, including several from out of town, have been received for the contest, Harrington said, and spirited competition is expected Sunday. A Dallas entrant, who contacted the local chapter Thursday, reported that he had clocked his plane at more than 100 miles an hour.

All final plans will be drawn at the meeting tonight, and judges for the contest will be selected. Activities will begin at 9 a. m. Sunday on the east ramp of the municipal airport.

Third Sunday Singing Planned At Church

A third Sunday singing will be held at the First Assembly of God Church at 4th and Lancaster Sunday afternoon, Rev. E. R. Winter, pastor, and W. H. Winter, song director, have announced.

Singers are asked to be there at 2 p. m. and the program will be concluded at 4 p. m.

Several well known quartets, some from out of town, will be present. Both the Stamps quartet and Stamps-Baxter-books will be used.

All singers of the area and the general public are invited to attend.
