

Reward offered for the arrest of vandals

Some vandalism took place during the weekend in south Eldorado and by Wednesday a reward fund was being compiled for information leading to the arrest of the miscreants.

Most heavily hit was Mikeska Gin. Sometime late Sunday night or early Monday morning, 31 tires on cotton trailers parked in the area were slashed. These were on loaded trailers in the yard awaiting unloading, and on other empty trailers across the highway. Also, a bale of cotton was set on fire. About 160 pounds was burned before being discovered by the night watchman.

Six tires were cut at school. At Fred Gillaspys residence, two tires were slashed for about $80 in damages. At the nearby Fred Logan house, someone started cutting tires and ran away when Mr. Logan came out the front door.

Wednesday morning, in the Mikeska Gin office, a reward fund was under way with a number of cotton farmers making pledges.

There is a reward for arrest and conviction of person or persons responsible for cutting tires the night of Oct. 30th: $705 is being offered by local farmers.

Big Green Band competes in marching contest tomorrow

Saturday, Nov. 5th, the Big Green Band will travel to Brady to once again compete in the Region VII UIL Marching Contest.

The band, under the direction of Mr. Wayne McDonald, will be striving to obtain its 11th superior rating. At 11:24 a.m. on the field of Brady Bulldog Stadium, the band's twelve weeks of hard work will culminate in the final marching performance of the 1977 season. "Mr. Mac's Bunch", performing difficult diagonals and a kaleidoscope drill, will end their show with that "catchy ol' tune" Mississippi Mud. The high-stepping members hope to enhance the show with their new uniforms.

All Eagle Band fans are encouraged to come and watch that "Go in" Band from Eagle Land" do it again!

Other Class A bands participating will include those from Junction, Mason, Menard, DeLeon, and Bangs.

The bus will leave at 8:00 o'clock Saturday to make the 82-mile trip to Brady.

Eagle Bandmaster Wayne McDonald and Willie Day, drum major, as well as other band officers, have been working this week with band members in preparation for the marching contest. Rehearsals were held Monday and Wednesday nights.

The Eagle Band will present their final half-time performance for the '77 season at the Mason game here tonight.

The Band recently received their new uniforms and these are in use.

Winning a top place in the District Marching Contest is the first step toward the Sweepstakes crown.

FIFTEEN CENTS

HAPPY BIRTHDAY! Richard and Gloria Kent are celebrating the 7th Anniversary of Kent's Automotive here in Eldorado. Not only do they have a car and truck repair shop, but they also have a complete auto parts supply store. Congratulations from the Express News staff. (Photo by Paul McWhorter)

Kent's Automotive celebrates 7th year

The closing of the Eagle Chevrolet-Olds firm back in 1970 led to the establishment of Kent's Automotive firm, that this week is noting its 7th anniversary in business.

Richard Kent, along with Lonnie Boyd and Junior Lozano comprised the backshop mechanical crew of the auto dealership, and after it closed, Kent set up a garage on the 1st of November in the Jones building on South Main Street here in Eldorado. Boyd and Lozano remained with him in the new enterprise.

The following February the firm was moved to its present location on the North Angelo Highway.

Lonnie Boyd subsequently moved away, and Richard Kent is the present owner and proprietor of the establishment and his wife, Gloria, is bookkeeper. Junior Lozano has remained on as a mechanic over the years, and the other mechanic presently on the force is David Hutchinson.

The Kents, Richard and Gloria, have two children. Michele is 9 and in the 4th grade, and Mike is 6 and in the 1st grade, in the Eldorado schools.

The Kents and their crew expressed their appreciation to the public for support given during their seven years in business.

Nov. begins: wind & dust

A dry norther with some blowing dust came into the area Tuesday afternoon. The dust was blowing off of vacant lots.

This is an unseasonable time for dusts, since they are usually associated with the early spring season.

Wednesday morning we had temperature readings in the low 30's with frost in evidence.

Something To Think About by Jannette Wilkerson

"THE MONDAY GAME"

This game is signaled by a buzzer - sometimes called an alarm clock. This designates the start of the first event. If you knock it off the night stand and stomp it - give yourself 5 points.

Then go to the kitchen and greet the children, who are fighting over the same T-shirt. If you settle the argument by wearing it yourself - give yourself 3 points. If you can talk them into eating "Captain Crunch" instead of bacon and eggs - score another 3 points. However, if you get suckered into the morning 'shoe hunt' - subtract 4 points.

After the kids leave for school and you haven't had to scream but once - chalk up 2 points. When you assess the weekend damage and jump into cleaning house - score 5 points, but if you down another cup of coffee and go back to bed - subtract 5.

A good way to pick up some extra points is to: [A] do the laundry without turning everyone's underwear purple. [B] take something out of the freezer to thaw for dinner before 7 p.m., [C] don't turn on the Soap Opera that left you hanging on Friday, [D] don't move out of town while the kids are at school.

If you have an after-school snack prepared - give yourself 5 points, but if you just sit there watching Popeye and let them wipe out $40.00 worth of groceries - subtract 5.

Say you have cleaned up the kitchen after dinner, and want to watch T.V. - if you get to watch the Special you've waited 2 weeks to see - you get 7 points. If you pop popcorn - while everyone else watches Monday Night Football - you lose 10. If you get to watch the 10 o'clock news without someone having to go to the store for a spiral notebook, hair clippers, or cokes - give yourself 5 points. If you don't have to wash Levi's, go to the store, or iron a shirt - Go To Bed - Go Directly To Bed - DO NOT pass GO - DO NOT collect $100 - and give yourself 10 bonus points for making it through one more Monday.

This game cannot be purchased at Gibson's - It comes in the fine print of your marriage license and 'winners' are very rare. So, if you score a minus 85 - that's about average. This game is also very flexible. You can play Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday - But Saturday and Sunday - now that's a whole new game....I'll tell you about that one sometime!.....and that's something to think about this week.....

HALLOWEEN -- A PARENT PROBLEM?

"It's 10:30 P.M., do you know where your children are?" This question used to be a reminder for parents who happened to be watching the ten o'clock newscast on a local television station. Perhaps it is a question that many Eldorado parents should have had in mind for three nights this past weekend.

Much comment has been heard concerning the excessive vandalism and malicious prank playing that occurred Saturday, Sunday, and Monday evenings. Reports consist of fire slashings at the Gin site, water balloons, egg and shaving cream fights at the Sorority sponsored Halloween Carnival, writing obscene words and statements on streets and business buildings, as well as, writing similar items on personal property with paint and shoe polish. One report stated that an entire case of eggs was purchased and used merely to throw the eggs at vehicles and other people. Another incident was reported involving two married men, recent graduates of Eldorado High School, who were discovered discharging a fire extinguisher in one of the school buses. And other numerous reports such as these.

Certainly, Halloween has been a traditional time for pranks, and there are probably few who at some time have not participated in some Halloween "trick" on a favorite teacher or friend. But as this recent experience shows, there is a definite difference between fun-loving pranks and malicious vandalism to personal property.

Especially sad is the fact that organizations like Beta Sigma Phi attempt to provide something good and beneficial for the youth of the community, and then, due to problems caused by inconsiderate individuals, have to consider abandoning the project altogether.

Where can the blame be placed? Shall we blame it on the fact that the Carnival was Saturday night and Halloween fell on Monday? Shall we merely shrug our shoulders and say, "Kids will be kids?" Perhaps, but until parents take a genuine interest and concern into the activities and whereabouts of their children, especially on Halloween, will the basic problem be solved. Eldorado is not immune from the problems of the big city (i.e. vandalism, curfews, etc.) Who can prevent these problems from occurring and becoming worse but the parents.

"It was 10:30 P.M., did you know where your children were?"
L. M.

Letters to the Editor

Halloween is a fun time of the year for everyone - adults and youngsters alike. Sometimes, however, Halloween means destruction and vandalism to public and private property.

With this in mind, the local chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority has sponsored the annual Halloween Carnival for the last six years. Purpose of the carnival was to give local youngsters something enjoyable to do on Halloween instead of dishing out the traditional bag of "tricks".

The carnival has achieved this purpose in addition to providing a money making project for both the sorority and organizations which have sponsored booths. In turn, their profits have benefited the community through their community oriented projects.

However, this year, the carnival atmosphere was dampened by unnecessary vandalism and destruction, especially in the Spook House. The carnival requires a lot of planning, hard work and cooperation from everyone involved. The hardest booth of all to sponsor is the Spook House which was sponsored by the Future Farmers of America this year. FFA members worked extra hard to create the Spook House in hopes of making a profit for their worthwhile activities as well as offering a fun place for youngsters on Halloween. However, because of vandalism, they finally had to close their doors and therefore made very little profit.

It is a shame that this city cannot have a well planned community function without it being ruined by youngsters throwing eggs, water balloons, and shaving cream plus tearing up everything in general and scaring several smaller children.

The carnival is planned for the youths in the first place. But if the youngsters destroy it, we cannot continue to have one; our purpose is defeated.

Christoval wallops Water Valley

The Christoval Cougars offensive machine exploded for 68 points Friday as they defeated Water Valley and maintained their undefeated record. Scoring plays in the first quarter included a 9-yd. run by Cary Tomerlin, two 5-yd. and 15-yd. touchdown runs by Tim Hayes, one being a 15 yard return of a pass interception. Hayes also kicked all four point after-scores. Darryl Thompson of Water Valley ran 20 yds. for Water Valley's score in the quarter. Joe Jacquez maintained Christoval's scoring in the second quarter on a 45-yard punt return soon followed by another Hayes scoring run of 71 yards. At halftime the score was 45-8. Water Valley scored first in the second half on a 40-yd. run by Doug Swartz. But Tim Hayes returned the favor on another 75-yard run. Water Valley came back with a 41-yd. run by Sol Doyle. Before the end of the quarter Kyle Green found Corky Solomon in the end zone for a 20-yd. pass play. In the fourth quarter, Water Valley managed a final scoring play as Danel Newlin ran 65 yards for a touchdown. Christoval finished their offensive fireworks with a 5-yd. run by Danny Duke as the final score read 68-28.

Know Your Neighbor

Mrs. Sue Jones

By Sunshine

Sue Jones, one of Christoval's true natives was born Oct. 10, 1925 to Emmitt and Lulalee Wilson in Christoval, Texas in the house where Sid Shipley now lives. Sue's ancestors on her mother's side, by the name of Williams, first settled here in 1891. They came from Albany, Texas.

Sue entered school here in Christoval in 1932 and graduated in 1943. It was an eleventh grade system then.

Sue admits she was probably the champion marble player of the Concho Valley from age 8 through 11, much to her brother's horror. Emmitt Jr. was 9 years older than Sue and Superintendent of the Sunday School and pled in vain, "MOTHER, DON'T LET HER DO IT."

What Sue was doing was jumping into her coveralls right after school, and engaging anyone interested in a game of marbles, over at South Texas Lumber Co. [Where Pate Boones' Antique Store is now]. Sue and Sarah Ann Chappell kept their knuckles [the shooting one] crusted in dirt and bleeding, and they played for keeps too. These two Tomboys kept their pockets full of marbles, won mostly from the boys.

Sue also indulged in other boy-type sports such as Tops, Football, Flying kites, and Bicycle riding.

She remembers an early day experience of riding the first train from San Angelo to Sonora. "There was a big band and a great to-do that day," she recalled. She and her son, Wilson, later took the last passenger train from here to San Angelo. So, Sue declares she's outlived the railroad.

"Me and my Dad were great 'rasslin' fans", Sue added, "and went into San Angelo nearly every Tuesday night and took a ringside seat. We also took in the football games at Bobcat Stadium on Fridays where the bleachers were crowded with about 500 fans [a lot then]."

"We had what was called a county meet, where Baseball, Track and Literary events were held. There were no pep squads, drill teams, etc. then".

"The teachers boarded mostly at Dr. Rawles Bath House and had to be very strictly proper", Sue recalled. Sue married her High School sweetheart, Gene Jones, also a Christoval native who had joined the Air Force and followed him to Columbia and then on to Greenville, South Carolina in 1945. When he went overseas in June of 1946, she returned to Christoval to stay with her parents until his return.

Sue is the mother of one son, Wilson Jones, born Oct. 5, 1953 and now a second year Law Student at the University of Texas at Austin, Texas. Everyone remembers Sue as she was while Wilson was in school, busy with Mother's Club, P.T.A., Study Club and Bridge Club. She has also been a member of the Baptist Church since age 13, and even belonged to the Cradle Club prior to that.

She has recently become a CBER by the name of "The Humdinger" and really enjoys her set on the many trips she and Gene now find time to take.

A bit of mischief lurks in her eyes and came out at me as I summed up the interview with, "So you have lived in Christoval all your life, then?" Her unexpected answer was, "NOT YET!"

SEAT, HOLD, TOW, DO MORE THAN ORDINARY WAGONS.

Compare Chevy Suburban to any ordinary wagon and you'll find that: when properly equipped it holds more people, stows more cargo, tows more trailer.* But there's another area where there just plain isn't any comparison. Beneath Suburban's spacious and comfortable interior there lurks a truck.

BENEATH IT ALL, SUBURBAN IS ONE TOUGH TRUCK.

A very tough truck. With a tough truck suspension and plenty of other tough truck features like a rugged ladder-type frame and available 4-wheel drive. So, not only is Suburban an exceptional wagon, it's one of Chevrolet's toughest trucks.

Nursing Home

We know that there is some moisture in the air, since this makes two mornings in succession that there has been a pretty dense fog. That is encouraging, as it may indicate that we could receive some rain soon.

We have a new resident in the Nursing Home, who entered on Monday of last week. He is Zeral Holland, and we are glad to have him with us. We hope he is going to enjoy living here. He is originally from Sonora, Texas.

The Church of Christ, on the Mertzon Highway, conducted the service here in the Dining Room on Sunday of last week. Quite a number of the members of that church were present, also several friends from out in town. We all enjoyed the service very much, as we always do.

Next Sunday, November 6th, the First Baptist Church will conduct the service here and we hope that a number of the members will be here for the service. My husband and I used to attend the services here every Sunday if it was possible, and most of the time we would be the only members here from the First Baptist Church and we always felt badly about it. There were very few visitors here last week and they are as follows:

Last Monday Mrs. W.A. Stephens of San Angelo visited her mother, Flossie Crawford. On Monday of last week, Mrs. Adah West Bowder of San Angelo visited Mary Oglesby and Aubrey Baugh on Saturday of the last two weeks. Adah lived in Eldorado for a number of years. Mrs. Emmaline Baker died Oct. 24th in the Eldorado Medical Center, where she had been a resident for several months. She was buried in Rest Haven Cemetery in Menard, Texas.

The residents of the Nursing Home were saddened last Saturday by the death of our own Flossie Crawford, and we are all going to miss her, as she had lived here several years. She was buried Oct. 31st in the Fairmont Cemetery in San Angelo, Texas.

Mrs. Noland McDonald was a guest of her sister-in-law, Bessie Andrews, on Monday of this week.

The Bingo winners on Wednesday of last week were: Beulah Harris, 2 games; Elva Daniels, 2; Bess Andrews, 1; LaVita Brooks, 2; Erna Rexroat, 1. On Friday the winners were Bess Andrews, 2; Dehla Gardener, 1; Beulah Harris, 2; Erna Rexroat, 2; Carrie Blakeway, 1.

Andrew Campbell is doing fine now and is sitting in a chair part of every day. Georgia Springston is doing fairly well, and Frank Reed is doing well also. Elva Daniels is still in bed most of the time.

Mrs. Winnie Jackson is supposed to be back here, in the Lobby at her old stand, The Candy Case, this afternoon, and we are going to be so glad to have her back with us again every afternoon.

We have missed her so very much and it is so good that she has recovered from the injury and is able to walk again. We all love her very much.

He, that falls in love with himself, will have no rivals. LaVita Brooks, Beulah Harris, Reporters

Eldorado

In the simplest case, a business with established credit standing with his bank, needing ready funds in the amount, of say, $10,000.00, borrows from the bank by tendering his promissory note as evidence of the debt. The bank acquires an income-yielding asset, and the businessman asks that the loan be credited to his account. Assuming that the bank has adequate reserves to meet its legal reserve requirements, the bank's customer has an addition to his checking account and the bank has acquired a new earning asset.

PROTECT PEACH TREES FROM DISEASES

Peach trees in Schleicher County can fall victim to disease problems unless treated by a copper fungicide. A material called Kocide 101 will effectively deter two fungus diseases and bacterial leaf spot when applied in the Fall after the first frost.

Most peach trees had a big crop this year, so special care should be taken to protect the trees. Complications brought on by the heavy loads of fruit and drought intensify the need for special care.

Coryneum blight is a fungus that attacks peach trees and causes a circular purple spot on the foliage and in severe cases, attacks the fruit. Another fungus disease is peach leaf curl. This disease results in a thickened and mis-shaped leaf.

Bacterial leaf spot attacks both the leaf and the fruit and reduces fruit quality so that it is unsaleable.

The important thing is that a Fall spray application is necessary to keep these diseases from striking your peach trees next Spring. So Kocide 101 should be applied as a spray after the first killing frost.

Proper applications for a home garden require 1-1/2 tablespoons of Kocide 101 per gallon of water. For larger operations, mix two pounds of the copper type fungicide with 100 gallons of water.

For further information on disease control programs for peaches as well as other fruits, contact the County Extension Office.

PRUSSIC ACID POISONING IN LIVESTOCK

Frost will be hitting Schleicher County before long, and this could lead to prussic acid poisoning in livestock grazing certain pasture grasses and forages.

This space could have had a news item about you. Just call your news to us at 853-2032. The Express News personal care about you.

Although many plants contain the toxic material that causes poisoning, those causing the highest mortality in livestock when grazed after they have been frozen and wilted are Johnson and Sudan grasses and sorghum or hybrids of these.

The most dangerous time as far as the grazing of these plants is concerned is following frost when the plant material begins to wilt. Livestock should not be allowed access to the wilted material until it has dried completely. This usually takes three or four days of good sunlight. New plant growth usually becomes nontoxic and can be grazed within 10 days to two weeks following a rain.

As far as prussic acid poisoning is concerned, the poison acts rapidly and can kill animals within minutes. In most acute cases, animals become affected within 10-15 minutes after eating toxic material and can die in two to three minutes. Symptoms may include a brief period of stimulation followed by depression and paralysis. Signs of colic may be present. Stupor (loss of sensibility), difficult breathing and frequent convulsions may result. Death is caused by suffocation since oxygen remains in the blood and is not exchanged to the tissues. This also causes the blood to appear bright red.

To prevent prussic acid poisoning in livestock, we outline these steps:

1) Allow plant material affected by frost to dry thoroughly before grazing. This may require a week or more of good sunlight.

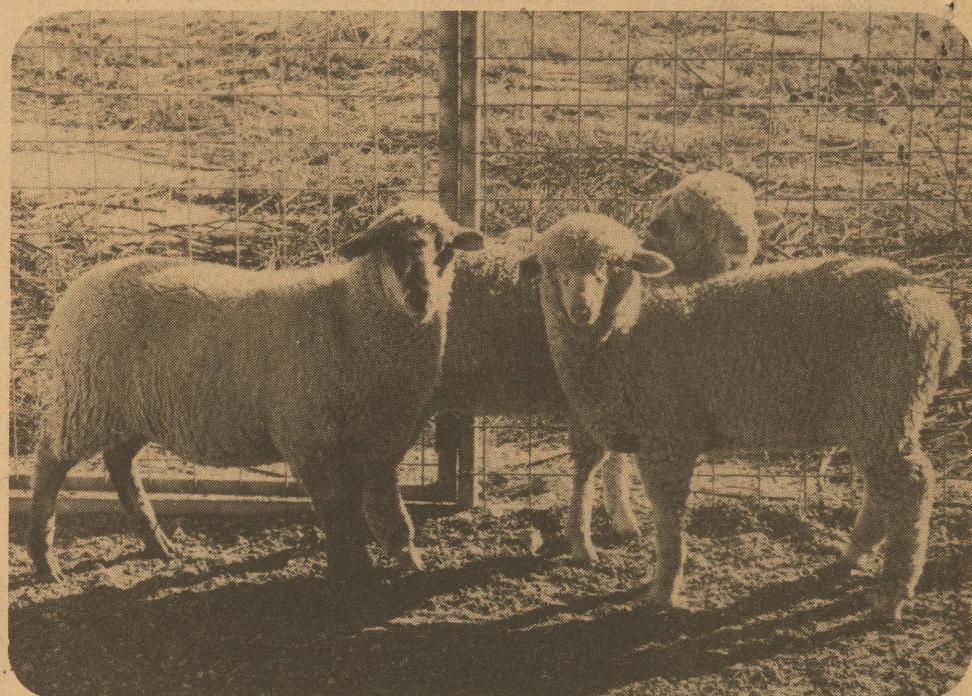

2) Feed animals hay or a supplement before turning them in on plants that may contain prussic acid. Animals that are not hungry will not be affected as seriously by toxic material since their intake will be limited.

3) Remove all animals from the pasture if one in the herd shows any signs of poisoning.

4) Call a veterinarian immediately if an animal appears to be poisoned. An antidote to treat affected animals is highly efficient if given early. This product is available from veterinarians.

5) Have suspect plant material checked by the Texas Veterinary Medical Diagnostic Laboratories at College Station or Amarillo. Local veterinarians will be happy to submit samples for you.

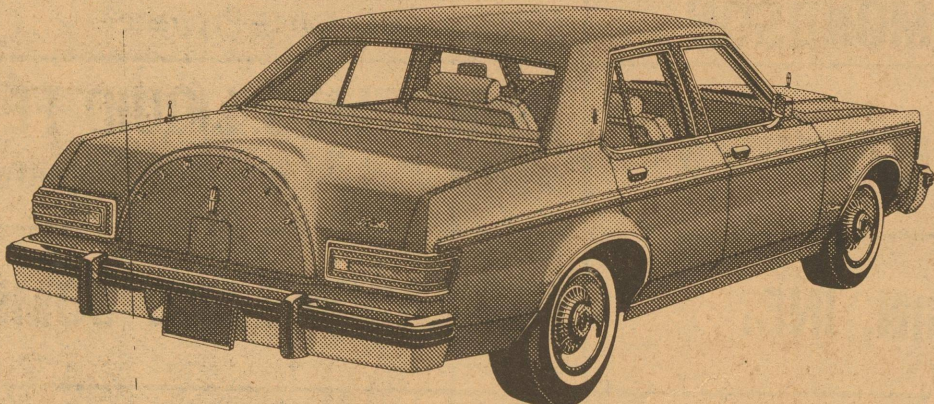

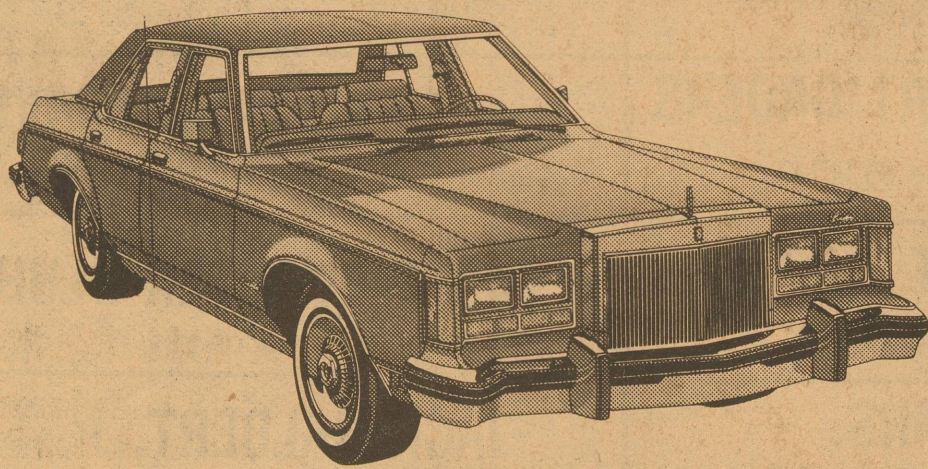

The overall key to preventing prussic acid poisoning in livestock is to be aware of plant materials that may cause poisoning and then to keep cattle from grazing such plants until a safe period has passed.

These fat lambs have been put on a Special feed rationing program by local FFA & 4-H youth. The feeding program is in preparation for the annual Livestock Show that will be held early next year. Photo by Paul McWhorter

EMERGENCY FEED PROGRAM
The Agricultural Act of 1977 authorizes the Secretary of Agriculture to implement an emergency feed program. The Secretary has delegated this authority to county committees to be administered as an "on-going" program.

Eligibility requirements are as follows: The livestock owner must have suffered a substantial loss in the livestock feed normally produced on the owner's farms for eligible livestock. A substantial loss is defined as being at least 40 percent below normal, not having sufficient feed for eligible livestock for the feeding period and be required to make feed purchases in quantities larger than normal.

The dollar amount of assistance is 50 percent of the cost of the feed purchased not to exceed two cents per pound of feed grain equivalent.

A meeting is scheduled in Kerrville on November 9 to explain this new program to ASCS personnel. We should be in a position after this meeting to explain this program to producers and be ready to take applications.

COUNTY COMMITTEE ELECTION
The committee election will be held again this year by mail. Ballots will be mailed toward the end of November and must be returned by December 5.

Petitions have been filed to place Clay Atkins, Johnny Griffin and Dee Lux on the election ballot. The candidate receiving the most votes will be elected to the committee. The candidates receiving the next most votes will be elected as first and second alternates respectively.

Producers Gas Co. setting up yard

A site on the northeast by-pass just south of Beta Supply was being cleared last weekend for Producers

Gas. The firm is a subsidiary of Lear Petroleum Corporation which some time ago bought out Perry Gas.

Perry Gas laid a pipeline from the Huldale area along the old Santa Fe right-of-way south through Eldorado to Sonora.

A small prefabricated office building and a storage building have already been moved to the local site and a chain link fence will be built around the property for a pipe yard. Don Hutson of San Angelo is field superintendent and there will be other men working in the office here. Early this week the utilities were being connected to the office.

Cotton bales near 2000 mark

Monday was bright and clear in this area, and at Mikeska Gin there were five trailers full of cotton awaiting ginning. The gin was shut down for a while. Mrs. Karen Homer, bookkeeper, reported that the bale total stood at 1885

Monday afternoon. The damp and dewy mornings cause wetness in the fields so that the cotton farmers have to wait until late in the day to bring in their loads of cotton. We have had a light frost, but are still waiting for our first heavy one.

Sheep Sales High As Producers Thin Herds

Texas ranchers heavily culled herds of sheep during September as the threat of reduced winter forage from dry pastures continued. Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown reported today.

Just over 130,000 head of sheep and lambs were moved through livestock auctions statewide last month, Brown said. This compares with 83,000 head sold during September of 1976, when late summer and autumn rains helped provide adequate forage in most parts of the state.

The number sold during September this year was also an increase over the 123,000 head marketed in August. The spotty precipitation from recent cold fronts has provided little relief in the major sheep raising counties, Brown remarked. The situation has not been helped by higher than normal temperatures which have extended well into the Fall.

"While heavy culling has reduced many herds, we are confident Texas will remain the leading state in U.S. sheep production," Brown stated. "It is encouraging that consumers are becoming more interested in natural fibers, and we anticipate the demand for top-quality Texas wool will continue."

Gov. Briscoe issues Veterans Day Proclamation

GREETINGS:
Veterans Day will be observed by all citizens of Texas on November 11, 1977.

The men and women who served in the uniform of our Country have made a major contribution not only to the preservation of America's freedom but also toward the attainment and preservation of freedom throughout the world.

The gallant Americans serving in today's armed forces continue to demonstrate the unselfish willingness of our Nation to meet the challenge of those forces wishing to defeat through armed conflict the cause of individual determination.

The Nation and the free world are eternally grateful for the contributions of American veterans to the advancement of the cause of an honorable world peace. THEREFORE, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby call upon all citizens to observe Friday, Nov. 11th, 1977, as VETERANS DAY, and ask that the day be observed with appropriate ceremonies in honor of those who have borne the burden in defense of our freedom.

I further call upon all citizens and business firms to mark this day with the proud display of the flag of the United States as a reaffirmation of our national unity, a rededication of our support to our Nation in her defense of the cause of freedom, and, especially, our recognition and appreciation of our newest generation of veterans whose willingness to serve the national purpose is in the finest tradition of our great Nation.

Abuse Charged

A five-member investigation team reported 10 cases of patient abuse at Rusk State Hospital including a fatality resulting from a beating by two other patients in a "close supervision" ward.

State Mental Health Commissioner Kenneth Gaver fired the hospital superintendent, Dr. Robert B. Sheldon.

The report was turned over to the district attorney of Cherokee County where the hospital is located.

Courts Speak

Striking down an old rule, the State Supreme Court held an injured Abilene State School employee could recover $49,300 in damages.

In other action, the high court: Turned down a former Kingsville city manager's appeal for reinstatement.

Upheld a $35,100 award against a Grayson County Hospital where a patient suffered from improper removal of a catheter due to an orderly's incompetence.

Agreed with lower courts that a University of Texas student could not stop the campus newspaper, The Daily Texan, from editorializing on election.

Attorney General Opinions

Twelve-member juries appear to be required in the Dallas County courts at law, but changes in federal law indicate the State Supreme Court may hold six-member juries permissible in civil cases where the controversy exceeds $1,000, Atty. Gen. John Hill said.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded: Certain information furnished the State Board of Insurance in connection with a disciplinary hearing is public under the open records act.

A county legally may pay reasonable premiums on bonds required by law of reserve deputy sheriffs and of reserve deputy constables.

Short Snorts

Sen. Peyton McKnight of Tyler has been sworn in as president pro tempore of the Senate.

Charles Ramsey was elevated to chief examiner of the State Board of Insurance.

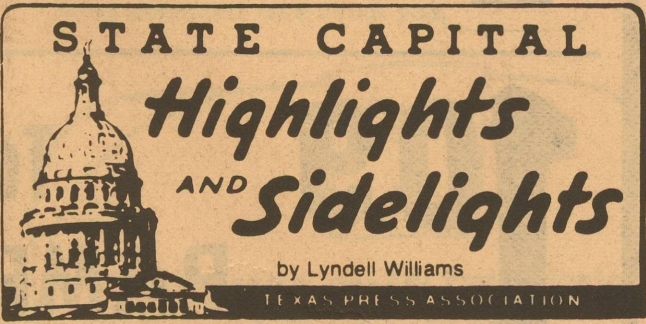

The Railroad Commission denied a Brazos River Gas Company rate increase for Weatherford but approved a change pegging rates for a 10 mcf monthly charge at $27 for consumers in the North Texas city.

Auto tourists are staying longer in Texas and spending more money (a 26 per cent increase per trip). Average stay increased from 5.87 days during the summer of '76 to 8.61 days this year.

A national tribute to Mrs. Lyndon B. Johnson is scheduled here December 11.

Senate Sergeant at Arms Tommy Townsend resigned to accept a job as assistant director of public affairs for the Texas Association of Realtors effective November 3.

Implementation of a new computerized statewide accounting system designed to speed things up has temporarily delayed issuance of some state checks, Comptroller Bob Bullock said.

AUSTIN—Texans will vote on seven proposed constitutional amendments November 8. Absentee balloting already is underway at courthouses over the state, but interest is light.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe last week gave his endorsement to all seven of the proposals, which range over subjects from administration of justice to taxation.

Amendment 1 would increase the size of the Court of Criminal Appeals from five to nine judges and permit the judges to sit in panels of three to discuss routine matters and speed appeals.

Amendment 2 provides an additional $200 million in veterans land bonds.

Amendment 3 permits trial judges to deny bail to persons charged with felony offenses who have been twice convicted previously, who are charged with a felony while out on bail on a previous indictment or who are charged with a crime involving use of a deadly weapon after previous conviction.

Amendment 4 authorizes tax relief to conserve cultural, historical or natural history resources.

Amendment 5 permits formation of agricultural or marine commodities producers to form associations to promote their products and assess fees to cover costs following a referendum.

Amendment 6 allows the legislature to permit state and national banks to exercise banking and discounting privileges by use of electronic devices or machines.

Amendment 7 reconstitutes the Judicial Qualifications Commission into a Commission on Judicial Conduct and strengthens its powers to deal with erring judges.

Speeding Up

Seventy-four per cent of drivers on state highways are ignoring the 55 miles an hour speed law, and Department of Public Safety Director Wilson E. Speir has urged voluntary compliance.

The insurance industry joined DPS in pleading for a slowdown.

Speir said the number of fatalities and major accidents is increasing each week. According to DPS figures, traffic deaths increased from 2,467 at this time last year to 2,675 in 1977.

Jerry Johns, president of Southwestern Insurance Information Service, said more Texas drivers are violating the speed limit than at any time since its enactment, and continued increases in the accident rate (with accompanying insurance cost hikes) are inevitable unless motorists begin watching their speedometers.

was the extent of Eldorado scoring. The hometown Eagles mounted a passing attack that moved the ball well, but seemed to stall when the Eagles got within 20 yards of the Junction goal line.

by Jim McWilliams
The Junction Eagles held the Eldorado Eagles to only 11 yards rushing to take their third district 9-A win against one loss last week in Junction.

The 20-7 Junction win dropped Eldorado to a 2-7 season mark, and 2-3 in district play.

Junction got the first break of the game when Eldorado fumbled the opening kick-off. The recovery set up Junction with a 1st & 10 deep in Eldorado territory. Two minutes later Junction's Doug Beebe scored on a four-yard burst. The PAT was good and Junction never lost the lead.

Eldorado's only score came on a 79-yard kick-off return by David Robledo. The PAT was good. That

This week Eldorado closes their season against the Mason Punchers. Mason is 2-6 in the season and stands 1-3 in district play. Other district games will find Wall at Menard (both 4-0 in District 9-A), and Junction at Big Lake (Reagan County.)

Booster Club football placards

The Booster Club had a fine turnout this week. We have the concession stand this week at the ball game, and there are plans for many, many tasty treats. The club is selling posters of the football team, and they make terrific moments of the school year. The cost is a mere $5.00 and the picture can be removed and is a bargain at that price. Any person or business wishing to purchase one should contact Ted Short.

We also have bumper stickers coming in this week. These are entirely different from our previous stickers, and any Eldoradoan should be proud to have "Eldorado Mean Green" plastered on their bumper. These can be bought for $1.00 from any Booster Club member.

It should not be news to anyone now, but all the profits from these projects will be used for an All Sports Banquet and dance. Mr. Fred Akers, Head Coach at the University of Texas, will be our speaker this year, and we feel certain everyone will be anxious to hear this man. We're now trying to line up a super caterer and "stupendous" band.

Please support the Booster Club. Sports are the only school activities in which many students participate and this will be the only banquet to honor them and acknowledge their achievements.

Legionnaires to compile basketball placards

Thursday night of this week, Nov. 3rd, the Bev McCormick Post of The American Legion met at the Memorial Building with Commander Tom Miner in charge. Plans were made to sell the signatures on the Basketball Schedule placard. Proceeds of this are used each year for the Christmas party for county children, when Santa visits and distributes candy bags. This event is held about the time school turns out for the Christmas holidays.

On Saturday morning, Nov. 12th, the Legion will put on their annual breakfast honoring World War I veterans and widows. Further details on this will be given in next week's Express News issue. There are now just six World War I veterans living in this county.

Junior teams lose three games

The three Junior grid teams went to Mason last Thursday night, Oct. 27th, and lost all three games.

The 7th graders from here lost 14-0, the 8th graders lost 28-0, and the Junior Varsity lost 24 to 5.

These were the semi-final games for the Junior teams. On Thursday night of this week, they were to host the Junction teams to close out the season.

Lions plan 50th anniversary

The main event of the 50th Anniversary celebration to be held six months from now will be a barbecue. The committee set Saturday, May 13th, 1978 for this with the following Saturday, May 20th, as alternate date to be adopted if necessary.

Present plans call for this committee to approach the Lions Club board of directors to assess each current member $10 to be used as a nucleus of the special fund for the Golden Anniversary.

As chairman of the 50th Anniversary Committee, Pat Ragsdale appointed some initial committees to work during the coming months.

A.G. McCormack and Guy Whitaker have charge of procuring the speaker and program.

Publicity committee consists of Ed Meador, Bill Gunstead, and Phil Olson. The finance committee has A.G. McCormack, Elton McGinnes and Joe Christian as members.

The barbecue committee consists of Jimmy West, L.D. Mund, Dick Preston, Walter Wallis and Ronnie Mittel. They will have charge of arranging for the food and specific arrangements for the meal.

These preliminary plans will be presented to the Lions Club members at the meeting next week, Wednesday, Nov. 9th.

This special "50th Anniversary Committee" will hold their next meeting on Wednesday afternoon, December 7th at 4:00 p.m. in the Southwest Texas Electric Eo-Op meeting room.

JUST JOGGIN' ALONG!
By Express News Publisher, ED MEADOR

We are so conditioned to reading bad news in our papers, and viewing it on television, that we develop the feeling that it happens only somewhere else. The past week's events surely blew any such ideas out of our minds, and the deaths of Lyman Mobley, his wife and father in an automobile accident, just a few miles east of Eldorado was a crushing blow to the whole community, and one not easily overcome.

You can't attempt to reason or rationalize why such a tragedy happened. You just know that the lives of all of us are affected, and a bit of luster taken from each one. Perhaps Ernest Hemingway extolled it best in his well-known novel which was titled from an old verse....

"then do not ask for whom the bell tolls, it tolls for thee."

Lyman and Myki had just begun their work among us, and it was good. They will be sorely missed. The bell has tolled for us all.

Late Sunday afternoon was a beautiful one, and I was jogging along one of my favorite trails. Quite suddenly I realized that I wasn't alone. An old familiar sound fell on my ears, and looking up, I saw my friends strung across the sky in that undulating "V". They honked their way on by as if to say, "We told you we'd see you in the Fall. Well, here we are headed South again to spend a few months in the sun. Sorry you can't come along, but then we'll be glad to let you know when Winter's gone..."

I jogged on down the trail, but that old yearning to go where the wild goose goes wouldn't leave me. Some day....

There's more to it than just imagination. Those geese are some of the most astute weather forecasters. You can depend on the fact that they know what they are talking about. So now you've had fair warning that things aren't going to be as balmy as the past few days, and it's time to start getting things ready for cold weather. Things like checking the anti-freeze in the family buggy, cutting a few cords of wood if you happen to be blessed with a fireplace, wrapping plenty of toesacks around those exposed water pipes, and the countless chores that getting ready for Winter calls for. If it gets as cold this Winter as the Summer months were hot, we're all in trouble!

I just want all the Aggies around town to know that I really did enjoy listening to SMU plow the boys from College Station under last Saturday. The Ponies won the first half 21-7. Only thing was....they didn't know to quit when they were ahead. Too bad about the second half. Anyway, since the Aggies finally did pull the game out of the fire, Bob Sykes won't have to go into hiding this week. And to quote a good old Aggie saying, "just wait 'til next year!"

3304 KNICKERBOCKER RD., SAN ANGELO

GROW FINGERS -- Ricky Short makes a last minute lunge at a pass in last week's game against Junction. Unfortunately the pass was incomplete. Short and his Eagle team mates host Mason for the final game of the season.

FORD

When America needs a better idea, Ford puts it on wheels.

Fairmont

With about 90% of the interior space of some standard-size cars.

Fairmont's efficient size. The Fairmont 4-door is going to surprise a lot of people. Especially those who want a practical family car. They may be surprised that this size car could be so roomy and comfortable. Fairmont seats five adults with plenty of trunk space (16.8 cu. ft.) for their luggage. Actually, Fairmont's interior space is about 90% of some standard-size cars like the 1977 Chevrolet Impala. It's all hard to believe until you see and drive the car for yourself.
