County Residents Attend Farmers Convention

Bargaining power for farmers within the framework of existing legislation and new ideas for giving farmers bargaining power highlighted the 64th annual convention of Texas Farmers Union at the Kofka Palace in Lubbock on October 26-28. Special commodity discussions were scheduled for Thursday night which gave farmers an opportunity to discuss their problems and to draft a target program for the guidance of Farmers Union in seeking improved legislation. Thursday evening at 7:30, Charles Brannan, former secretary of agriculture and present legal counsel for National Farmers Union, discussed the ways in which farmers might improve their bargaining power through techniques permitted under present legislation, and what legislation Farmers Union proposes to give farmers increased bargaining power. Brannan, an eminent Denver attorney as well as an expert in the field of farm program administration, has drafted new legislation which would give farmers more market power. Dwyte Wilson, director of organization for the National Farmers Union, discussed ways in which farmers may organize themselves to accomplish maximum bargaining power. Wilson has worked with commodity marketing organizations in the midwest and eastern states and is considered one of the most knowledgeable people in the nation in the field of commodity marketing. After his presentation, the producers of the various commodities met in discussion groups for the purpose of drafting target resolutions to be used as guide lines for Farmers Union in seeking new legislation. Other headline program speakers who addressed the convention included Senator Ralph Yarborough; Tony T. DeChant, president of National Farmers Union; John White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture; Russell Giffin, chairman of the Cotton Producers Institute; Jim Boren, director of the Partners of Alliance Program of the Agency for International Development; and Ray Novak, general manager of the National Farmers Insurance. Russell Giffin, a nationally-known cotton leader and producer addressed the convention on Thursday morning concerning the expected accomplishments of the one-dollar-a-bale cotton research and financing program. Giffin played an active role in the development and passage into law of the cotton research program. John C. White, Texas Commissioner of Agriculture, who has taken the lead in the field of farm markets for Texas' farm output, addressed the convention Thursday afternoon on the responsibility of state government in the field of farmer bargaining power. James Boren, special assistant to the U. S. coordinator for Alliance Progress and who also serves as director of the Partners of the Alliance, is a Texas who went to Washington as Administrative Assistant to Senator Ralph Yarborough. He is largely credited with originating the unique Partners of the Alliance Program. He discussed the work which is being done in Peru by the Texas Partners of the Alliance on Friday morning. Also, on Friday, the delegates adopted the 1968 policy statement from resolutions submitted by organized local units. Senator Ralph Yarborough gave his address to the convention Saturday morning during the special membership awards program. The delegates voted on state officers and delegates to the National Farmers Union convention during the Saturday morning session. Special functions for the ladies attending the convention included tours of interest in and around Lubbock on Thursday afternoon and a ladies' luncheon on Friday featuring an all-cotton style show. Tours included the "Colorama" at the Texas Tech campus and Cactus Alley, a specialty shop area. Jan Glenn, "Miss Lubbock" and Vickie Esty, "Miss 1967 South Plains Maid of Cotton," modeled the style show. Another tour was scheduled for Thursday afternoon for the interest of those who wished to see the agricultural sights in the Lubbock area. This tour included visits to the regional cooperative processing plants, Texas Tech College, and one of the state's largest feedlot operations. The young people attending the convention were special guests at a brunch meeting on Saturday at which Mrs. Flossie Harris Nikkel, director of youth education for the National Farmers Union spoke. Afterward the young people participated in a youth workshop and "play day." Adult and youth leaders attended a training session. The delegates to the Texas Farmers Union convention from Bailey County who attended the Lubbock convention were Delbert Watson, Baileyboro community; Nolan Harlan, Bula and M. L. Fine, Maple, Chester Settiff of Bula was an alternate delegate. Others from this area who attended the convention were Ivan Clawson, Bula; Omar Kelton, Muleshoe; John Hubbard, Bula; Henry Reid, Baileyboro and J. D. Rowland, Bula. Cecil Jones attended as delegate president of Bailey County Farmers Union.

Tax Man Sam Sez:

The taxpayers throughout the Nation continued to have trouble in talking to the IRS computer. In 902,000 cases the taxpayer transposed or at least used the wrong social security number on his 1966 return, and naturally the computer don't speak to people unless he knows who they are. In Northern Texas, however, the good tax folks told the taxpayers to be careful about the correct social security number on their tax return. The taxpayers evidently listened, because only 1700 Northern Texans had trouble with the computer over their social security number. This is only 1/10 of the number of errors that taxpayers made on this item throughout the country.

Roy Akers Named Texas Baptist Layman

LUBBOCK--Roy Akers, prominent San Antonio funeral home owner, was elected president of Texas Baptist laymen here Tuesday.

He was named along with four other officers at the conclusion of a two-day convention of the Texas Baptist Brotherhood meeting at the Southcrest Church.

The laymen's group also discussed the proposed new organization for men to be known as Texas Baptist Men, as proposed by the "Committee of 100." However, no formal action was taken by the group.

The convention voted in favor of proposals of past presidents of the brotherhood on organizational structure.

The past presidents' proposals recommended that if the messengers to the Baptist General Convention of Texas suggested in favor of the "Committee of 100" suggestions concerning the laymen's group, that a special convention will be called before March 1, 1968, to adopt a constitution and by-laws.

In the event the reorganization of the laymen's group is not approved by the messengers, or is tabled, the men's group will operate under the structure recommendations approved Tuesday.

Other officers elected to serve are C. L. Boyle of Harlingen, Joe Lenamon of Fort Worth, and Lewis Timberlake of Austin, vice presidents, and J. D. McPhaul of Lubbock, secretary.

The new president, Akers, who will succeed Bruno C. Morgan of Corpus Christi, is a deacon in the First Baptist Church of San Antonio and has served as president of the church and associational brotherhood.

The 56-year-old layman is active in civic and community affairs and has served as a past chairman of the Mexican Baptist Bible Institute, San Antonio.

Boyle, co-owner of the Harlingen Automotive and Supply Co., is a member of the Memorial Baptist Church of Harlingen. Boyle served as a secretary of the brotherhood this past year. Lenamon, trust officer for Fort Worth National Bank, is a deacon in the Travis Avenue Baptist Church, and is active in civic activities. He served as Royal Ambassador representative this past year.

Timberlake is president of Western Republic Life Insurance Co., serves as a deacon in the Allandale Baptist Church of Austin, is a former president of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce and past national vice president of the U. S. Jaycees.

McPhaul, active in Lubbock's First Baptist Church, is a former chairman of the board of trustees at Wayland Baptist College, Plainview, and served as a member of the executive board of the BGCCT.

The laymen also approved several resolutions, including one which expressed opposition to the legalization of race track gambling or "liquor-by-the-drink" in the state. The resolution also called for enforcement of Sunday closing laws for non-essential firms.

Other highlights of the final session of the laymen's group included a message by the Rev. Bob Harrington, "Mayor of Bourbon Street" in New Orleans and Baptist evangelist, and a sermon urging Baptist laymen to practice witnessing given by the Rev. John Bilsago, pastor of the First Baptist Church of Del City, Okla.

Lazbuddie News

By Mrs. C. A. Watson

Edith Graef and Billie Mitchell returned Sunday from a vacation trip to Chicago. They say they had a real nice trip. The two women are sisters.

The Paul Templeton family attended the Cub Scout's Halloween carnival at Dimmitt Tuesday night.

Several familiar faces of ex-students were seen at the Lazbuddie Homecoming Friday night, but those ex-pupils in 'Far Away Places' were certainly missed.

Janie Lopese, eight-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pilar Lopese fell off the slide at school Wednesday and broke her arm. She was taken to the Friona Community Hospital. Janie is in the second grade at Lazbuddie school. The Pilar Lopese family live on the Don McDonald farm.

Mrs. N. M. McCurdie returned Wednesday from Midland where she visited several days with her granddaughter and family, the McKenzies.

Little Kenny Weaver, of Muleshoe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Weaver, spent the weekend with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Quinn Weaver.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Jordan and children, Lubbock, were here over the weekend to attend the Lazbuddie Homecoming and to visit her mother, Mrs. May Mahan.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Cargile and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Watson attended the fifth Sunday church services at the Anton Primitive Baptist Church.

Lazbuddie School Superintendent Sam Barnes attended the teachers meeting held in Houston last week.

Birthday greetings go to Tommie Rocha, Ofelia Mendoza, Ragenia Treider, George Miller, Janice Miller, Rickie Hardage and David Hardin.

Mrs. Broyles from Friona gave a program on art at the Young Homemakers meeting at the homemaking room in Lazbuddie Thursday evening.

Gilbert Longora was honored with a birthday party Monday, October 30 in his home. Several of his friends were on hand for the occasion. He is a sixth grade student.

The Halloween carnival queen and escorts are as follows: Jodie Hicks and Davey Engeling, elementary; Debbie Jesko and Kenny Carter, junior high; and Janice Miller and Bobby Redwine for high school. The carnival was held Saturday night.

Friday night was Homecoming in Lazbuddie. Tamra Jennings was crowned at half time and the football hero was Bobby Redwine.

Mike Hinkson was honored for having come the farthest as an ex-student. He was from New Mexico State College.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Watson attended Homecoming at WTSU, Canyon Saturday. The Watson's son, Leon, was in the parade as a member of the Color Guard.

TWO HOUSES QUIETER

Detroit--When one house was too small for the 16-member Girard Nefcy family, they became a two-house family. Mr. and Mrs. Nefcy decided to buy a neighbors home which was for sale rather than enlarge theirs. The six teenagers moved in and set up a dormitory with strict conduct rules.

Use Bulb Pans For Forcing

Large, firm and perfect bulbs are best for forcing. Don't economize on bulbs. For when you select top quality Dutch bulbs, you'll be sure of good results. Choose the right kind of quality container, too. The low, squat, red clay pots known as bulb pans, provide needed drainage, and are recommended by expert professional growers.

The Care of Your Clothes

by your Sanitone Certified Master Drycleaner

Does drycleaning wear out clothes?

WOODIE LAMBERT

Some people think so. But it's really quite the opposite. Quality drycleaning on a regular basis can make your clothes last longer—perhaps twice as long as they would otherwise. There are several reasons.

First, the microscopic particles of dirt that work themselves into your clothes are very dangerous to the individual fibres of the fabric. These tiny bits and pieces rub against the threads and wear them out—like loose change or keys wear out the pockets of a man's trousers. Many soils promote chemical action that tends to weaken fabrics.

Second, soil can make even man-made fibres tasty to moths. Everyone knows that moths eat wool, not synthetics. But put a sugar stain on nylon and it can taste delicious to a hungry moth.

Third, in a test study with two identical suits, one was Sanitone drycleaned 25 times. Then a test panel checked the new suit with the one cleaned 25 times and could find no differences. This proved that soil, not quality drycleaning, wears out clothes.

Now you can see why we say quality drycleaning on a regular basis makes clothes last longer. What's more, our advanced new Sanitone drycleaning gets out so much more soil than ordinary processes that colors look brighter, whites come out whiter. Fabrics even feel like new.

How can you tell if more frequent drycleaning makes your clothes last longer? Try sending your things to us a wearing or two sooner than you would normally. You'll see the difference.

Library Story Hour Wednesday

Story hour for pre-school children was held Wednesday morning at the Muleshoe Area Public Library. There were 20 children present for this session.

Jeffery Durben led the Pledge of Allegiance, and the group sang "I Love My Country's Flag."

The Halloween theme was carried out in decorations; and a Halloween story was read about two very nice witches named "Hoot" and "Howl." The children enjoyed games and songs and a grab bag was passed as the children left the library.

Those present were Ricky Grimsey, and Robert King who came for the first time, Shawn McNutt, Leslie Cowan, Deborah Stevens and Brenda Stevens.

Also Curby Brantley, Jr., Jill Turner, Brent Weaver, Jeffery Durben, Starla Block, Jimmy Green, Camron Hawkins, Karen Smith, Joel Bratcher, Tonya Magby, Christine Iastic, Robert Bartholf and Joannah Gartin.

Several of the visual aid kits for teachers of small children have already been checked out. "This is marvelous material, and it is thought it will fill a very great need for something special for the small children," librarian Anne Camp said.

Bula News

by Mrs. John Blackman

The annual homecoming of Ex-students of Bula school will be held Saturday November 11, preceded by a bonfire just north of the ballfield on Friday night November 10.

Activities begin with registration at 3 p.m. Highlights of the evening will include visitation, program and business meeting. Officers are Robert Claunch, president; Buck Medlin, vice president and Sandra Austin, secretary.

Gerald Thompson, a 1952 Bula graduate, now a teacher at Wayland College, will be speaker for the evening. Music will be furnished by Elaine Tiller and Patricia Grusendorf. Dennis Newton, president of the senior class, will make a presentation to the war veterans of our community. Recognition will be made to the one traveling the farthest distance, and to the class with the greatest number present.

From 4 to 4:30 will be the business meeting, followed by a pep rally from 4:30 to 5 p.m. From 5 to 7 p.m., a barbecue supper will be served in the school cafeteria. Plates will be $1 and $1.50. At 7:15, the coronation of the homecoming queen will be made and at 7:30 Bula will play Threeway. Following the ball game, a social will be held in the lunch room for all the Exes.

"For God So Loved" was the theme for the Girl's Auxiliary coronation candle light ceremony at the Baptist Church, Sunday night at 7 p.m.

Prelude for the coronation was played by Elaine Tiller. Program opened with the congregation singing "We've A Story to Tell to the Nation." Mrs. Clyde Hogue gave the opening prayer.

"For God So Loved" in gold glitter was just above the piano. On the altar was an open Bible, offset by burning candles where each candidate stood as she was presented for her forward step. Counselor, Mrs. Leo Buschur stood behind a world globe on the altar as she questioned the girls on the required preparation. The girls wore their GA emblems as they marched in to receive their coronation. During the ceremony, the YWA girls sang "The Love of God," "Child of the King" and "Light of the World."

The candidates were Lady in Waiting, Karen Buschur; Princesses, Barbara Black and Terry Claunch; Queens, Beverly Tiller and Helen Black and Queen with Scepter, Diane Crume. Mrs. Buschur presented Diane with the scepter and crown bearers Janice Tiller crowned Beverly Tiller and Eleta Buschur crowned Helen Black.

Following the coronation, a reception was given the girls in the fellowship hall of the church. Work that the girls had done this year toward their steps was on display.

The serving table carried out the GA colors of green, gold and white. The table was laid in white centered with gold crown made of styrofoam. Green punch and white cakes iced in yellow were served by the YWA girls. The girls who had made their steps were seated at a special table which was covered in white with gold and green streamers down the center.

By Vickie Street

The Junior class had a cakewalk at the Halloween carnival Tuesday night. Members of the class brought cakes of every description. The chairs were filled each time for a quarter per person.

By the end of the carnival, most of the cakes had been claimed, and the others were sold. The class made a profit fifty-five dollars and fifty cents on the project.

The members of the Junior class worked together in making the cakewalk a big success. A meeting was held at activity period Thursday to elect Junior class favorites for 1967-68. They are Debbie Burrows and Terry Reasoner.

As opportunity grows less for youngsters on the farm, so does their desire to improve their agricultural skill. Often they fail to recognize the enormous scope of agribusiness -- the related jobs that production of food and fiber offer.

Student Council To Attend Meet

By Diane Bryant

Saturday, November 11, several members of the MHS student council will attend the district meeting of the South Plains Association of Student Councils.

We will have four voting delegates at the convention.

The many student councils of the area will meet and exchange ideas from their various schools. The convention will be held at Floydada high school.

We are looking forward to this convention in the hopes that we may improve our own student council.

FAVORITES---Lyna Pitts and Gus Taylor were named Band Favorites and are shown here coming off the football field with Lyna wearing her crown and holding the bouquet.

National DECA Week is being observed this week in more than 3,000 cities where Distributive Education is taught in the public school system.

In our town, as elsewhere, the local Chapter of the Distributive Education Clubs of America, or DECA, is closely associated with the instructional program. This student-directed activity is an effective part of the learning and training process in developing future leaders for marketing and distribution.

Through research projects and recognition events, the activities of the local DECA Chapter bring in sharper focus the various instructional parts of the DE program taught in our local high school.

Many of our business leaders are involved in the activities of DECA. First, as employer, these business firms provide laboratory environment in which the student tests, observes, applies concepts and skills learned in the DE class in school. Second, through supervised training, the student gains experience in the occupation which frequently is the first step toward his career goal. Third, DE students learn right from the start the basics of business in our free enterprise system. This in itself is highly commendable because nowhere in our educational system is free enterprise demonstrated so adequately as in the Distributive Education curriculum.

This approach to education not only develops competent personnel for merchandising, marketing, and management, but also prepares our youth for better citizenship. We congratulate and salute both school administrators and businessmen on the observance of National DECA Week.

Curtain Opens To Girl's Choir

By Jeanie Martin

Tuesday night, Halloween, found the Girl's Choir of MHS singing in the program before the coronation of the Halloween King and Queen.

The Girl's Choir was the first to start off the program. They sang two selections from "West Side Story." "I Feel Pretty" was first with the girl's voices blending nicely in harmony. Last was "Tonight" with a solo by Betty Newsom.

This was the first night for the choir to wear their identical formals.

The curtain closed as the audience applauded and the Girl's Choir went off with a feeling of satisfaction.

This year, Mrs. Bob Breckenridge is doing a fine job directing and Deborah Williams accompanies very nicely on the piano.

Small Crafts Protect Merchant Ships: Patterson With Force

son of Mrs. Grace Patterson of Friona. Petty Officer Patterson enlisted in the Navy in February 1962 and reported to Vietnam July, 1967.

On a hill overlooking the harbor at Nha Trang, 17 1/2 miles northeast of Saigon, the men of Operation Stable Door maintain a 24-hour radar and visual surveillance of all movements in the anchorage area.

Patrol craft are the visible element of Nha Trang's harbor defense team. Using heavily armed fiberglass boats ranging in size from 17-foot Boston Whalers and skimmers to 30-foot converted landing craft, the teams maintain a constant watch around the anchored merchant vessels, boarding, searching and inspecting an endless number of Vietnamese fishing and cargo junks daily.

Aboard the patrol boats are Navy Divers of Explosive Ordnance Disposal (EOD) teams who check the anchored ships for enemy mines.

Similar Operation Stable

Door defense teams guard the other three Republic of Vietnam ports. As long as vital supplies for U. S. and allied forces continue to be brought in by merchant ship, so too will Navy harbor defense teams of Operation Stable Door continue to safeguard the ships carrying cargo to Vietnam's ports.

NHA TRANG, VIETNAM--

Merchant ships waiting their turn to unload vital cargoes destined for U. S. and allied forces in Vietnam are doubly protected from enemy small boats, underwater swimmers and mines while in Vietnamese harbors.

Operation Stable Door is the name the Navy has given the overall protective screen it has thrown around the merchant ships. One element of Operation Stable Door is the Navy's Coastal Surveillance Force (Task Force 115), which operates harbor defense teams located at the key ports of Vung Tau, Nha Trang, Cam Ranh Bay and Qui Nhon.

Serving with the Nha Trang unit, officially known as Inshore Undersea Warfare Group One, is Navy Boatswain's Mate Second Class Darrell W. Patterson, all season with a knee injury, lifted the skin between the goal posts for his first score of the year. With 2:58 left in the first half, the score stood at 21-7.

In a razzle-dazzle pass play, Mules Roy McCormick just reached up and picked a pass right out of the air in front of its intended Whiteface receiver. With a return run of about three yards the ball was downed on the Mules own 33-yard line. In the next play, an attempted pass by Ronnie Barrett was intercepted by Tony Malouf and the Whitefaces worked their way into scoring position again. Bobby Burwick made a 10-yard pass to Bile Cole to make the fourth and final tally for the evening for the Whitefaces. Jim Loerwald made the conversion. At half time the score stood at 28-7.

The Mules carried the third quarter all the way. Less than two minutes had gone by in the third quarter of play when Bobby Julian leaped high in the air and snagged a pass intended for Karl French. Swinging out hard, Julian returned the ball for a 35-yard touchdown run into the end zone. Johnny St. Clair made the conversion for the Mules and the scoring was ended for the evening.

The rest of the third quarter and the fourth quarter was merely holding defensive lines with neither team scoring.

The loss to the Hereford Whitefaces leaves the Mules 0-3 in 1-AAA conference play. Next Friday night, November 10, the Mules clash with the Canyon Eagles at Canyon.

Adverse Weather Interrupts Cotton Harvest

The South Plains cotton harvest continued to gain momentum last weekend and early this week but was temporarily halted by the adverse weather on Tuesday, according to W. K. Palmer, in charge of the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office of the USDA.

Samples received at Lubbock, Brownfield and Lamesa had reached a seasonal high of approximately 4,000 daily when the rain and snow interrupted the harvest.

The three South Plains offices classed 26,000 samples during the week ending Wednesday, November 1. The Lubbock office classed 16,000 of this total, the Brownfield office 8,000 and the Lamesa office 2,000.

Through November 1 the Lubbock office had classed 25,000 samples of this year's crop, the Brownfield office 17,000 and the Lamesa office 4,000. This brought the total for the season for the three offices to 46,000. Through November 1 last year the three South Plains classing offices had classed 26,000 samples of the 1966 crop.

Trading increased in the new crop cotton on the Lubbock market and prices were higher.

Cotton prices paid South Plains farmers, as reported by the Consumer and Marketing Service of the USDA, ranged from $7.50 per bale over the loan for high grade, short staple cotton to $65.00 per bale over the loan for high grade cotton having staple length of 1-3/32 and longer.

Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities in the 3.5 to 4.9 micronaire range were: Middling 15/16 - 19.55; Middling 31/32 - 20.90; Middling 1-inch - 23.35; Middling 1-1/8 - 37.50; Strict Low Middling 15/16 - 18.55; Strict Low Middling 31/32 - 19.20; Strict Low Middling 1-inch - 21.35; Strict Low Middling 1-1/8 - 35.30; Middling Light Spotted 15/16 - 18.70 and Middling Light Spotted 31/32 - 19.45.

Prices paid farmers for cottonseed ranged from $50 to $57 per ton.

No Laughing Matter

Grandpa coughed, coughed again, and looked around the room in apologetically. The youngest, who was taking music lessons, winked.

"Try it in G minor, Gramps." The whole family laughed appreciatively.

Later, riding on the bus, Grandpa emitted a sudden salvo of barks. "Coughin' better, hey, pal?" grinned the rugged type in the next seat. Grandpa nodded wanly, while the passengers withering earshot chuckled.

In the barber's chair he held up a sudden warning finger. The barber stepped back; Grandpa took a deep breath, whipped out his handkerchief and coughed.

"With you around," quipped the barber, "who needs opera singers?"

So it went, and Grandpa went right along with it. Coughing-- a jolly subject. And so harmless.

Harmless? "Some of the airways may be obstructed. . . the walls of the tiny spaces may tear." "Air flow is hampered, the lungs are endangered." Those are statements taken from recent pamphlets on Respiratory Diseases--diseases of the organs of breathing.

A persistent cough--one that lingers on and on or keeps coming back--is usually a sign of a chronic respiratory disease. Emphysema, chronic bronchitis, lung cancer kill many thousands in the United States each year--no laughing matter. On the contrary, it's a matter of life and death. If you have a cough you can't shake off, see your doctor without delay.

Try Poyner White's, The All-In-One Retail Store

Poyner White's Auto Store has become a well-reputed place of business here in Muleshoe since its establishment some five years ago by Hanev Poyner as manager. To make the foundation even more solid, his brother, Paul, moved here two years ago from Earth and since that time has assisted Hanev with managerial duties.

The store, located at 303 Main Street, stocks a complete line of furniture including such lines as Kroehler, Virtue Brothers, Bassett, Owosso, Colony, Springfield and Smith-Wesson.

Bilt-Rite, Bekline and many others. Among other quality items found in the store are Dan River carpets, Catalina Appliances, televisions, Arwin radios, air conditioners, Eureka vacuum cleaners and floor care products. Also, automotive parts, lawn furniture and garden tools, Bar-B-Que grills, lamps, Sert and White House bedding, guns and accessories including Remingtons, Winchester and Brownings, Savage, Stevens, Springfield and Smith-Wesson.

They have been cited and given awards for outstanding sales on tires and appliances. Mrs. Wayne Gilliland and Miss Sue Frazier are bookkeepers at Poyner White's and other employees are Jimmy Luera, Dewey Moore, Rickey Vernon and Gordon Wilson, David Canoy is repairman for all televisions for the store, servicing all products.

Paul and his wife, Patsy live at 1730 West Ave F. They have two children, Dave, age 6 years and Brad, 4 years.

Hanev and Faye Poyner live at 1726 W. Avenue E. and are parents of two children, Perri, 9 years and Patti, age 8.

White's are the largest tire and battery dealers in Texas and has the largest passenger car tire dealership in the Muleshoe trade territory.

Research, he adds, has shown that small grains will produce considerably more fall grazing when allowed to reach the six to eight inches in height as compared to grazing the plants when they are only four inches tall.

Small grain when grazed at the four inch height doesn't get a chance to grow, since most of the fall growth is made before cold weather begins, explains Pratt.

The plants must have lots of leaves and warm weather for fast growth. When the leaves are grazed off early, the plants at best make only slow growth. This, points out the specialist, severely limits the grazing during the winter months when the leaves are not growing.

It is a good idea to graze small grain pastures for only a short period each day.

Veterans Q's and A's

Q -- I am the widow of a World War I veteran. I understand that I may be entitled to a higher pension because I am in need of help to get around the house. Is this true? What must I do to get this increased pension?

A -- A provision of the Veteran's Pension and Readjustment Assistance Act of 1967, which went into effect October 1, says that "if any widow is entitled to pension... and is in need of regular aid and attendance, the monthly rate of pension payable to her shall be increased by $50." To obtain this pension you should call or write the Veterans Administration office nearest you. It would help if you could send the VA a letter from your doctor explaining why you need regular aid and attendance.

However, it has a good cast in Jack Lemmon, Peter Falk and Elaine May and the story is warm and friendly as well as funny in parts.

Bookmobile Stocks 750 New Books Since Beginning

Since four counties, Parmer, Bailey, Lamb and Cochran have been running the bookmobile, 750 new books have been received. This includes Easy, Juvenile, Young Adult, Young Adult Non-Fiction, Adult Fiction and Adult Non-Fiction.

Some of the new books are: "The Eighth Day" by Thornton Wilder: Building on the mystery of a murder in an Illinois coal-mining town in the early twentieth century and the equally mystifying rescue and disappearance of the unjustly condemned man accused of murder. Wilder writes a rich and quiet tale of the two families involved.

"The Falling Hills" by Perry Lentz: A seriously conceived tentacle-filled Civil War tale demonstrating the corrosive impact of war on man's character. Circumstances relate to the little-known historical battle of Fort Pillow in Tennessee which culminated in unmerciful massacre of Negro troops and white Tennesseans among them.

"A Wall and Three Willows" by Najeh Najafi: This autobiographical account continues the story of American-educated Nahme Najafi's efforts to fight poverty, ignorance and prejudice in her native Iran. Here she describes her challenging, often discouraging work in the remote and primitive eastern and northern border areas, and also tells how she eventually, with the financial backing of CARE, managed to establish a small cooperative textile factory in the village of Sarbandan.

"Run, Rainey, Run" by Melvin Mills: The associated editor of Field & Stream shares his association with Rainey, an intelligent and independent German short-haired pointer who won the respect and love of the whole Ellis household. Ellis describes his difficult training. His battle to overcome paralysis after a case of encephalitis. This is a memorable book for dog lovers.

"The Seventh Step" by Bill Sands: In a sequel to "My Shadow Ran Fast," the author reviews briefly his own imprisonment and subsequent interest in the rehabilitation of convicts and continues his story of the Seventh Step Foundation, its origin in a prison, and its
