BAD NEWS...

There is bad news this week for drivers who like to live on the edge, so to speak.

If you set the old cruise control at 62 miles per hour and never worry about getting a ticket, you're not going to like this little tidbit.

According to a reliable source, and we do mean a reliable one, Texas Highway Patrol Troopers are now under instruction to give tickets at 60 miles per hour on state and farm to market highways, etc.

We wondered when the new 65 mile per hour speed limit went into affect for rural interstates what affect it would have on other rural byways.

We apparently have our answer. What this apparently means is that you can run 70 on interstates and not get stopped, but you could get a ticket between here and San Angelo at 60.

Wouldn't it be nice if the Feds would just get out of our face and our state's pocketbook and let us raise the speed limit to 65 across the state and 70 on rural interstates. Even some DPS folks agree with this idea.

Eldorado residents should also be warned that tickets will be issued here again for driving with no seat belts fastened. Tickets were given when the law first went into affect, and now will again.

We always buckle the old belts when traveling down the highway, but seldom do in town. However, the fine for said offense is $38.50 here, so it's time for another change in our life.

It's almost enough to make a feller go back to the horse and buggy. The horse market is way down right now, but the buggy market is out of sight. A fella just can't win.

NEW CHAMBER DIRECTORS NAMED

'Taste of Eldorado' staged

About 100 Schleicher Countians got a "Taste of Eldorado" and a taste of what the young Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce has accomplished Monday night.

Locals sampled from 10 Eldorado food purveyors during the annual "Taste of Eldorado", held at the Memorial Building and sponsored by the chamber.

Those serving samples of their specialties were Eagle Dairy Mart, Kim-et Nelson Cakes, Ranch House Meats, Casa Arispe No. 1, Harris Custom Catering, Casa Arispe No. 2, Down Home Diner, Janee Finley Baking, Toya Robledo Cakes and Baking, and Shelly, Phillips Cakes.

After those on hand filled their plates from each chef's table, chamber president Steve Williams took over. Williams thanked several individuals and organizations in the county who have helped make the chamber's year successful.

"We've had a very successful year, and I would like to thank everyone who has made that possible," Williams said.

Among the chamber-sponsored activities held last year were the Christmas Lighting Contest, "Taste of Eldorado", essay contest, kite flying contest, two golf tournaments, Clean-Up Eldorado Week, Amy Robertson Cookbook, PAVE PAWS dedication and barbecue, and sign installation.

Other activities worked on by the chamber included Schleicher County Days and the creation of a Business Directory for the county.

Among the individuals Williams thanked were Candy Richards, who put the cookbook together and was Schleicher County Days chairman, Eldorado Golf Club, Schleicher County Commissioners Court, Schleicher County Independent School District Board of Trustees, and Schleicher County Historical Society.

The chamber, Williams noted, now has its office in the local museum, and has a part-time executive secretary. "We think this will be good for us and the historical society," he said. Also drawing thanks from Williams were Jackie Harris, who cooked for the PAVE PAWS barbecue, Cathy Niblett who decorated for "Taste of Eldorado", and Eagle Dairy Mart, where the bi-weekly meetings of the chamber board are held.

Williams thanked Jan Fuesel for her work on the arts and crafts show, and Jo Ward for her work as chamber secretary. "Ed and Lynn Meador also provided us office space this past year and we appreciate them," Williams added.

Guest speaker for the evening was Major Tom Blaznek, second in command at PAVE PAWS (Eldorado Air Force Station). Blaznek entertained the crowd with a slide show about PAVE PAWS, explaining the function of the facility in the defense of the United States.

He said the local radar tracking installation reaches out 3,000 miles, keeping up with 6,000 objects orbiting the earth. He also praised the friendliness of Eldorado and Schleicher County, calling Schleicher Countians "good neighbors".

Following Blaznek's speech, new directors to the chamber were elected. Nominated by the nominating committee and approved by a vote of the members on hand Monday were Raymond Mittle, Jim Glidden, Nancy Lester and Jo Ward.

They will join Jo Ed Hill, Steve Williams, Abbie McCormick, George Gower and Jim Martin as holdover directors. Outgoing directors are Smokey Taylor, Elton McGinnes, Jo Ward and Steve Whitten.

AN EDITORIAL

Chamber does incredible job

BY TERRY B. NEILL
Success Editor

About the only person or group that did not receive any thanks for a job well done at Monday night's "Taste of Eldorado" was the Schleicher County Chamber of Commerce and its president, Steve Williams.

Williams did a great job thanking those who have helped the chamber of commerce this year, but obviously could not thank himself or the chamber.

On behalf of the citizens of this county we would like to thank Steve Williams and the chamber of commerce for a job well done.

We've been fortunate to be connected with three or four chambers in cities the size of Eldorado. That's why we know what we are talking about when we say Eldorado and Schleicher County have the best, most active chamber we've ever seen.

When you consider that the local chamber is barely a year old, the work that it has accomplished is almost unbelievable. And its activities have benefitted both young and old alike.

From the World Championship Cowboy Campfire Cookin' and Pasture Roping to the "Taste of Eldorado" to the essay contests, golf tournaments, etc., the chamber has provided activities for the entire community.

So many chambers exist in Texas today that do so little. It is hard indeed to sell a membership to a chamber when a prospective member cannot get an answer to "What does the chamber do?"

Anyone that asks that question can certainly get a ready answer in Eldorado.

And Steve Williams and Jo Ward should receive the lion's share of credit for making the chamber successful.

Williams took over when Steve Whitten had to resign as president and has worked hard to push the chamber over the top. He has been a fair, calm influence as president, and has never backed down when the project required manual labor.

Jo Ward is what every chamber secretary should be. To sum it up Jo is EFFICIENT. From keeping all the financial records and books at last year's R-Bar event to fielding day to day questions about the chamber, Jo has been solid.

The directors have worked hard too, and together the county and city are blessed to have one of the top chambers in Texas. Keep up the good work, chamber folks, and we hope you continue to get lots of help from within this community.

EATING OUT--Early day Schleicher County cowboys had to eat out a lot, but it was by a chuckwagon, not at a local restaurant. The arrival of the fence changed their jobs forever.

Fence ended range days

Bands of wild horses roamed about the plains of West Texas in 1885. These horses came from the stock which the Spaniards lost when they first explored this area. These little horses were called Mustangs. The land was open and vast.

Cowboys with large herds of cattle moved into this West Texas plains area. They would drift from place to place. These cowboys built no permanent homes or fences. They had to stay near the streams.

These plains were covered with buffalo grass that sometimes grew as tall as to touch a mounted mans stirrups. Game was plentiful. Deer, elk, antelope and wolves were the most common animals, but bears, panthers, bobcats and many other kinds were found.

"Vermont Ranch" brought fences to this open area. Sheep, horses and cattle were kept on the ranch. This was the first fence to be put up between San Angelo and Del Rio. It was built by Mr. E.E. Stricklen.

-top of the divide-

BY THOMAS GIOVANNITI

I don't know about you, but this years presidential race is more than a little confusing. For one thing, it seems to be too long. I mean these guys started campaigning nearly a year ago. Each party has a half dozen candidates, only a few of whom have had any national exposure. They all seem to say whatever seems to fit the particular issues of each primary State regardless of whether these positions are completely opposite. In New Hampshire they all say one thing that they think will make New Hampshire voters vote for them and in Iowa they say something that may be different in the hopes that Iowa caucus delegates will support them.

When they all get to Texas and start campaigning in earnest here I am sure we will all hear just the sort of things they think Texans want to hear. Each one of them will have some proposal to help promote and protect the domestic oil and gas industry. (I wonder if they realize that all the hot air they produce may lower the price of gas even further.)

Maybe by March the candidate ranks will have thinned a little so we won't have to keep track of so many people. I, for one, would like to see the return to "party" politics.

In the Sixties there was all those complaints about picking candidates behind closed doors in smoked filled rooms and how undemocratic it all was. So the major parties both decided to revamp the way we were to pick our presidential candidates and in the process have turned the whole process over to the average person. The trouble is, most of us average persons are so busy with just making a living, we do not have time to find out about a man or woman's ability to run this great nation of ours.

I am not so sure that the best characteristics need in a person as president are necessarily the same as those for running a big business or great academic experience or a real good communicator.

I guess I am one of the last persons who believes in "party" politics. (I do not mean going to a lot of parties.) I've never said, "I vote for the 'man' not the 'party' ". Since we have had these presidents elected by everybody we have not fared as well as we did under the old party system. We have had one resign, another win only one term, and the last has let his appointees do pretty much what they pleased.

The way I figure it, the party set certain goals and objectives that I could identify with, and I felt that the professional politicians would select a man who could be depended upon to implement those plans and objectives. Under our present system we may end up with the most popular guy and have no way of knowing if he will follow any plan or agenda. The present man in the office, for whom I did not vote, was going to be tough on the "commies" and now his own supporters are planning to sink his treaty with that same "Evil" empire. The guy who was going to slay the "dragon" sat down and made a pack with the devil! With "party" politics that would not have happened.

Mary Kuykendall rites held in Eldorado Friday

Services for Mary Louise Kuykendall, of Eldorado, were held at 11 a.m. Friday, January 22 in First Baptist Church in Eldorado. The Rev. Chris Graham officiated.

Miss Kuykendall, a longtime resident of Eldorado, died January 20 in St. John's Hospital in San Angelo after a long illness.

She was born on April 8, 1925, in Colorado City, the oldest daughter of the late Allen Kuykendall and Mrs. Kuykendall.

She was a graduate of Eldorado High School and of Draughon's Business College in Fort Worth. She had been employed for 32 years at South-west Texas Electric Cooperative in Eldorado.

She was a lifelong member of

First Baptist Church, having worked in the children's department, and had been a member of the choir.

She is survived by her mother, Mrs. Allen Kuykendall; one brother, David Kuykendall of Abilene; a sister, Mrs. Ray (Jean) Henderson of Lubbock; four nieces; one nephew; and one great-niece and one great-nephew.

Pallbearers were Jim Martin, Bill Maness, Buff Whitten, Ronnie Sauer, Doyle Eastwood, and Jerry Perry. Honorary Pallbearers were Jelly Mund, Elton McGinnes, Sonny Turner and Damon Wagoner.

The family requests memorials be made to First Baptist Church of Eldorado or the West Texas Boys Ranch.

SA Symphony will perform

The San Angelo Symphony Orchestra will perform February 6 at the City Auditorium with an 8 p.m. all-Tchaikovsky concert. Featured artist will be Tu Qiang, the 1987 Hemphill-Wells Sorantin Young Artist Competition winner. A cellist from the People's Republic of China, he is persuing a Master of Arts degree from the University of California at Santa Barbara.

The orchestra will open the concert with "Overture to PIQUE DAME (QUEEN OF SPADES)", an opera composed in 1890. The audience will also hear SYMPHONY NO. 6 in B MINOR, OPUS 74 ("PATHETIQUE"), Tchaikovsky's last and probably his greatest work.

Cellist Tu Qiang, who began studying 16 years ago at the age of seven with his musician father, has studied at the Central Conservatory of Music in Beijing and at the Conservatory of Music in Sydney, Australia. In 1985 he was one of two cellists sent from China to compete in the Casals International Cello Competition in Budapest, and this past winter he toured Europe with the Beijing Youth Orchestra.

Tu Qiang has chosen two showpieces for the evening: VARIATIONS ON A ROCOCO THEME, a work Tchaikovsky wrote as a tribute to Mozart; and PEZZO CAPRICCIOSO, a piece written in the same "Pathetic" key as the Sixth Symphony, B minor.

Music lovers can look forward to an exciting evening with this talented young artist, the all-Tchaikovsky program and sounds of the beautiful symphony orchestra under the able direction of Maestro Gene Chartier Smith.

MRS. JOSEPH EUGENE EDMISTON

Edmiston-Burkett vows held in SA

First United Methodist Church was the setting for the January 9 wedding of Susan Janelle Burkett and Joseph Eugene Edmiston, both of San Angelo. The Rev. Fred Brown officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G.L. Burkett of San Angelo. Mrs. JoAnn Edmiston of Richardson and the late Billy Gene Edmiston are the parents of the bridegroom.

Matron of honor was Debbie Jones of Big Spring. Bridesmaids were Dawn Pounds of Corpus Christi and Jackie Johnson and Robin Watson, both of San Angelo. Kayla Burkett of San Angelo was flower girl.

Best man was Kevin Compton of College Station. Groomsmen were Monte Crawford of Dallas, Jed Edmiston and Ashley Niblett. Ushers were James Woodward and Bill Clark.

Mrs. Edmiston is a junior majoring in marketing at Angelo State University and is employed by National Car Rental.

Mr. Edmiston is a senior majoring in computer science at ASU and is employed by South Concho Mobile Home Park.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the couple now reside in San Angelo.

Spring Fling slated in May

The "Center" of attention! That's what mature adults 55 and over will be at the Texas 4-H Center on Lake Brownwood when hundreds will enthusiastically participate in the Eighth Annual Spring Fling during April and May say's Nancy Lester, Schleicher County Extension Agent - H.E.

Sponsored by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, five consecutive weeks are offered from which men and women alike may choose: Spring Fling I - April 12-15; Spring Fling II - April 19-22; Spring Fling III - April 26-29; Spring Fling IV - May 3-6; and Spring Fling V - May 10-13.

Featured educational programs and activities offer a wide variety of topics to fulfill highest expectations of all who attend. Topics include exploring insurance options, cooking demonstrations, new tax laws, floriculture, and more. Energizing and relaxing recreational opportunities will stimulate enthusiasm while all will welcome great fellowship and new friends.

Learning Centers will offer "hands-on" experience in a variety of areas such as oil painting, wind chime making, needlecrafts, antique restoration, country crafts, collectibles, and more.

Boat rides, guided nature tours, and fishing on Lake Brownwood add popularity to your stay. Swimming in the olympic-sized pool, lighted tennis courts, horseshoes, billiards, volleyball, shuffleboard, dominoes, and card and table games round out the event.

A special theme of "Tropical Splendor" will provide a festive atmosphere to the newly expanded facilities.

Spring Fling! 55 or older? It's for you! Each weekly event is limited to the first 120 participants at the nominal cost of $89 per person. Get away and learn to make the most of the best years of your life. Call your county Extension office today at 853-2610.

FENCE

The wire used in building this fence was big and strong and had long, sharp barbs attached to it. Eighty sections were fenced.

The men who worked on the ranch were typical cowboys of the west. They wore boots and spurs, large hats and guns. The food of the cowboys on the ranch consisted mostly of beans, coffee, bacon, biscuits and wild game.

The fence would eventually close the era of the open range.

EHS girls split in 6-AA play

Eldorado's varsity girls split in action with Ozona and Stanton this week, while the boys took it on the chin in 6-AA play.

Last Friday the girls topped Ozona, 47-27, as Amy Kotsch ripped the cords for 16 points. The Eaglettes led 28-12, after one period and never looked back.

Montalvo added eight points, while Sue Dean and Ginger Sterling each deposited six points. Martinez scored four and Helmers and Halbert two each.

Tuesday night Coach Cindy Polley's squad met Stanton on the Buffalo homecourt, falling 45-35. Stanton led, 8-4, after one period, but EHS came roaring back with a 17-point second stanza to lead at halftime, 21-14.

Stanton won the third period, however, 14-8, and pulled the game out with a 17-6 bulge in the final quarter. Staci Helmers led Eldorado with 12 points, while Montalvo added eight and Dean seven points. Kotsch had six and Turner two points.

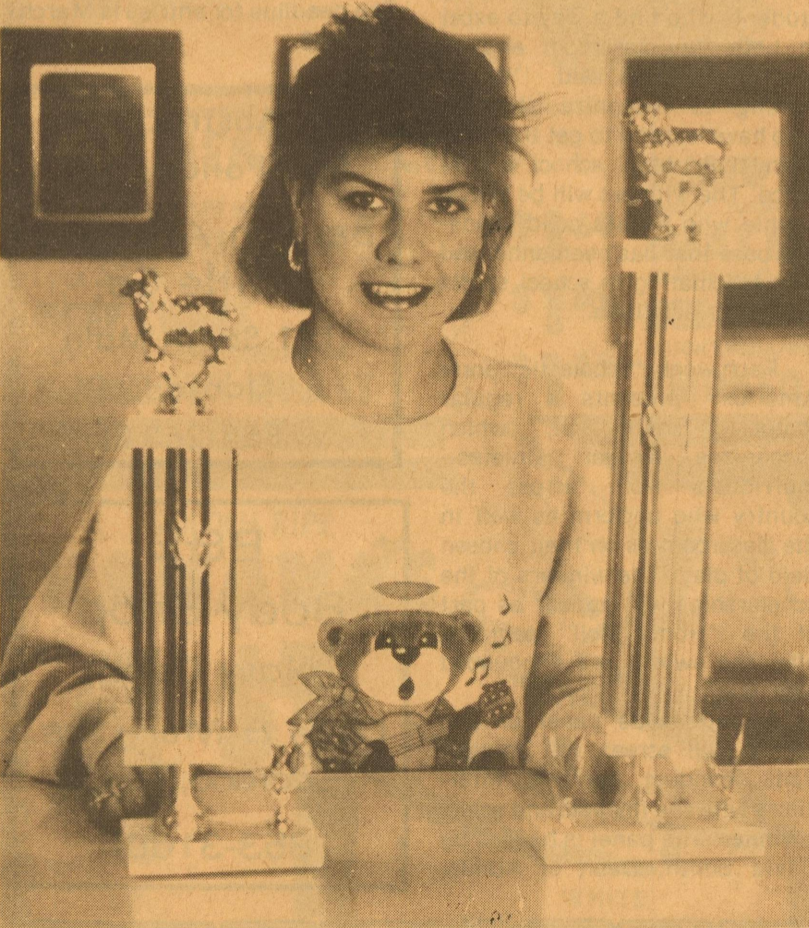

Coach Armando San Miguel's boys team ran into a talented Ozona squad on its homecourt Friday night, losing, 57-51.

Eldorado led, 14-8, after one and 22-15 at halftime, but the hosts took the third period, 21-17, and the final period, 21-12, to pull out the win.

Ray Carroll led EHS with 11 points, while Craig Gutierrez added 10 and Stensby eight points. Also scoring were Stan Meador, six; Clint Griffin, five; Scott Barton and Trey Preston, four each; Carter Edmiston, two; and Bradley Bass, one point.

Eldorado came close again Tuesday, falling to Stanton, 69-62. Stanton led all the way, but the Eagles took the final period, 19-13 to pull closer.

Jason Stensby, who only recently became eligible to play on the varsity, canned 16 points to pace the locals, while Carroll scored 13 and Meador 10. Gutierrez notched nine points and Griffin offered six.

Currie seeking office

ANNOUNCES FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

David R. Currie, a native of Paint Rock, announced that he will seek the Democratic nomination for state representative.

"No one that knows me is surprised by this announcement. I have long been politically active on behalf of the livestock industry and rural Texas. I have spoken in every area of this state regarding the importance of the family farm, rural health care, rural education and rural economic development," Currie said, "so I believe seeking public office is a natural step for me."

"My family came to Concho County in 1879. I have many friends in every County in the 67th District and am well aware of the district's needs, especially in the areas of economic development, agriculture, oil and gas, water, tourism, and last but not least, education. More than anything, this district must have an effective representative—a real leader who understands state government and can make things happen for the benefit of people he represents and the State of Texas.

"There are 25 representatives from Harris County alone. This district includes 13 counties. Therefore the representative from the 67th District must be a leader—have the ability to get people of differing views to work for the common good. Our rural areas must not be neglected and it's up to our 67th District representative to work with Senator Bill Sims and Senator Judith Zaffirini, to see that we are not neglected.

"The beautiful Hill Country needs an independent voice, a person who understands the rugged individualism of it's people, someone who won't play party politics, but rather 'competent, effective' politics," Currie emphasized.

Currie, 35, graduated from Paint Rock High School and from Howard Payne University. He holds a Masters and Ph.D degrees from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth. His Ph.D. dissertation was on Agriculture and the Bible.

After receiving his Masters,

Currie worked as Special Project Coordinator for the Christian Life Commission and the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention focusing on rural church concerns. He has served rural churches as Pastor and as Associate Pastor.

Currie has been an active rancher since he was fifteen in Concho County. For the last four years Currie has worked for the Texas Department of Agriculture. First he served as farmers market specialist organizing farmers markets in Uvalde, San Antonio, and San Angelo, as well as fifty other Texas communities.

The past two years he has been a special assistant at the Texas Department of Agriculture. One of his primary tasks was to coordinate the marketing activities of the Department of Agriculture to the Texas sheep and goat industry.

Currie left TDA December 31 to enter private business. He also operates his ranch in partnership with his brother-in-law Dan Slaughter, the head football coach in Winters.

"I consider it a privilege to run in this election. I'm very serious about public service. The last four years in state government have prepared me well for this position. If I'm elected, I promise to work hard to represent the district and to visit every county regularly so that the people know me well and know their concerns are heard and acted upon," Currie concluded.

McCormick member of Association

Phil McCormick, Eldorado, has been elected to membership in the American Angus Association, reports Dick Spader, executive vice-president of the national organization with headquarters in St. Joseph, Missouri.

The American Angus Association, with over 30,000 active adult and junior members, is the largest beef cattle registry association in the world. Its computerized records include detailed information on nearly 11 million registered Angus.

The Association records ancestral information and keeps records of production on individual animals for its members. These permanent records help members select and mate the best animals in their herds to produce high quality, efficient breeding cattle which are then recorded with the American Angus Association.

Most of these registered Angus are used by the U.S. farmers and ranchers who raise high quality beef for U.S. consumption.

ESPN will award two scholarships

ESPN's "Scholastic Sports America," the only national weekly television program devoted exclusively to the achievements of high school athletes, will award two $5,000 academic college scholarships, it was announced by ESPN President and Chief Executive Officer J. William Grimes. The scholarships will be awarded to one senior boy or one senior girl from applicants nationwide. The awards will be based on academic excellence, teamwork and contributions to school and community.

All students graduating high school in the spring of 1988 will be eligible to apply for the "Scholastic Sports America" scholarships. Employees of ESPN, Capital Cities/ABC, Inc., or RJR Nabisco, Inc. and their immediate families are not eligible. Any student who has accepted a full, four-year grant to a college or university will not be eligible.

Applications for the ESPN "Scholastic Sports America" Scholarship will be available by writing to ESPN Scholarship, ESPN Plaza, Bristol, Ct 06010. The deadline for entries is March 31, 1988.

"There are many deserving students who find a way to excel in both the classroom and in sports," Grimes said. "We're looking to recognize students who have learned to get the most from their high school experience. The winners will be young people who have a solid academic base that has been enhanced by participating in school sports and other activities."

Each week "Scholastic Sports America" presents a regular feature, "Honor Roll," which recognizes scholar athletes—individuals from across the country who perform as well in the classroom as on their chosen field of play. The winners of the scholarships will appear as part of the "Honor Roll" segment after the awards are announced next May.

A nationwide panel of five judges will screen the applications, conduct personal interviews with the finalists and select a winner. The panel is headed by David Smith, Dean of Admis-

Paving work underway

Reece Albert, Inc. the contractor, has announced that beginning the week of January 18, 1988, work on State Highway 163 will progress to the stage of removing the pavement and adding base material.

No more than five miles of roadway will be worked at one time during this phase of construction. Traffic will be handled through the construction area with flagmen and warning signs being utilized to direct traffic during the day, while work is in progress. At night the traffic will use the roadway, however, they should slow down.

This construction on State Highway 163 from U.S. 190 to U.S. 67 at Barnhart is to improve the highway for safety and strength for present and future traffic. Joe W. Lane of Sonora is the Engineer in charge of the project for the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation.

Lane expresses his appreciation to the traveling public for their cooperation during the construction. Lane said traffic between San Angelo and Ozona may want to use U.S. 190 thru Eldorado to bypass the construction.

As with all construction areas the public should slow down, observe warning signs, and watch for men and equipment working.

-letters to the editor-

Dear Editor,

I wanted to take this opportunity to thank you for all your time, talent and patience in helping me with "Early Schleicher County Days" articles. Without your help, the articles would have been impossible.

The Historical Society hopes, by having these "little bits" of early days published, citizens of Schleicher County will realize the importance of our museum and heritage making a joint effort in their support.

New members are welcome. The dues are $2.50 per year. Any member who has not renewed their membership is encouraged to do so. Dues can be mailed to: Mrs. Bill Freitag, Schleicher County Historical Society, Drawer 1, Eldorado, Texas 76936.

Dues, donations, or memorials can be mailed or given to any active member.

Thanks, again, t.b. for your help. Thanks to citizens for your support.

Rene Calcote
President - Schleicher County Historical Society

Eagles Point-

The adult council of Eagles' Point would like to thank the City of Eldorado, the Schleicher County I.S.D. and Schleicher County for their support in 1987.

Our appreciation and thanks to those who worked at our fundraisers, to those who sponsored events and to anyone else that contributed to our success this past year.

A special thanks to Sarah K. Lipsett, Ron Sutto and R.D. Johnson for their financial contributions which were put to good use.

Our thanks also to Floyd Butler and Mr. Glidden for their help. Our appreciation to Texas War on Drugs and Planned Parenthood for the programs they presented.

We invite any interested party to attend our meetings which are held on the second Sunday of each month at 2:30 p.m. We would like to state that our records are open to the public and can be examined at any time.

Campfire Cookin' details told

PLANNERS LOOKING FOR LARGE TENT

Details for the campfire cookin' portion of the World Championship Cowboy Campfire Cookin' and Pasture Roping were unveiled at a meeting of cookin' planners Thursday night in Eldorado.

Danny Crowder will head up the cookin' portion of the program this year. He told those on hand at the meeting that this year's rules will vary some from last year, but that the judging methods should be as fair as possible.

Cooks this year will prepare meat, vegetable, bread, and dessert dishes, as well as campfire coffee. First, second, third and fourth places will be handed out in each of the four categories and points awarded for each finish.

The cook with the most points when the judging is complete will win the overall championship. The most original campsite award will be selected by the cooking teams themselves.

"Each head cook can cast his ballot for most original campsite for any campsite other than his own," Crowder said. Campsite trophies will be handed out in both chuckwagon and chuckbox categories.

As was the case last year, all foods must be prepared without the use of propane tanks, barbecue pits, etc. Grills above the campfire will be legal.

At the cook's meeting Saturday morning of the event, each cook will be handed out marked containers for each dish. Crowder will be the only one, including judges, that knows which number belongs to which cook.

This year's event will once again be held at the Eldorado rodeo complex, south of the city on May 27, 28 and 29. The cookin' will be on Saturday, May 28.

In other action at the meeting members of the planning committee voted to double check prices on a 60 by 150 foot tent with an Abilene firm for installation over the announcing stand and slab, adjacent to the western art show and sale.

An Abilene firm's prices were the lowest that concessions chairman Jackie Harris could find and overall chairman Terry B. Neill was appointed to double-check the prices and make arrangements for obtaining the tent.

R-Bar planners also voted not to have a barbecue at lunch Sunday because of the conflict it creates with food concessions already there for the weekend.

Events scheduled for the three-day Memorial Day weekend include western art show and sale, campfire pickin' and singin', dance on the slab, pasture roping and goat roping, working stockdog contest, games for the entire family, and western heritage trades people.

FIND IT EARLY!

When detected in an early, localized state, breast cancer can be successfully treated in 9 of 10 cases. Take the three steps to discover breast cancer early: examine your breasts, have your doctor examine your breasts, and, for women 35 and over, begin a schedule of mammography. Call your ACS for more details.
