Clark Field But Eleven Miles Before Americans

Consideration Of Wallace Delayed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 23 (AP)—The senate commerce committee today delayed consideration of Henry A. Wallace's nomination as commerce secretary to give precedence to legislation that would strip the department of its lending agencies.

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) said the committee decided, over his vigorous protest, to start hearings on the measure introduced by Senator George (D-Ga.) at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon with Jesse Jones, whom Wallace would displace, as a witness.

"It obviously is a move to make passage of Senator George's bill a condition precedent to a vote on Mr. Wallace's confirmation," Pepper told a reporter, adding that the former vice president also would be a witness.

Senate opposition to the proposed cabinet shift echoed, meanwhile in the house with a brief but sharp exchange between the democratic and republican leadership. It started when Rep. Curtis (R-Neb.) declared that Wallace's "economic theories are part and parcel of the system of state socialism."

Democratic leader McCormack of Massachusetts quickly objected, saying that the 1944 republican presidential candidate, Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, "Only a few months ago accepted every piece of legislation passed during the past twelve years."

Earlier the 19-man senate commerce committee had been expected to consider Wallace's nomination today.

Opposition among southern democrats and republicans was strong. The only apparent possibility of averting a bitter fight over confirmation seemed to lie in a proposal to strip the commerce department of those agencies and make them independent once again.

This was advanced by Senator George (D-Ga.) in a resolution which, if approved, would leave the former vice president only the commerce post.

Chairman Bailey (D-N.C.) called the commerce committee into a

Warplanes Hit Formosa, Japan In Wide Raids

By LEONARD MILLIMAN
Associated Press War Editor
American warplanes beat a bomb trail from Formosa to the main island of Japan, American and Japanese sources reported today as the 14th army corps rolled past the halfway mark on its way to Manila.

Some 70 Marianas-based Superforts struck at the Nagoya aircraft center on Japan's Honshu island in their first mass flight under command of youthful Maj. Gen. Curtis E. Le May. Tokyo said they were over the oft-bombed city for two hours.

Japanese broadcasts reported 100 Liberators and Lightnings—presumably from the Philippines—raided Formosa in the wake of the fifth carrier strike against the island this month. It was the first report of such a land-based raid on Formosa where Third fleet carrier planes destroyed 140 Japanese planes, damaged 100 and heavily damaged shipping and shore installations Sunday. One major U. S. ship was damaged.

Tokyo said the carrier planes swept on toward Japan the next day—sending 450 sea-borne aircraft against Okinawa island in the Ryukyus for nine hours. A Formosa army communique claimed 85 carrier planes were shot down and 65 damaged in the two raids. Damage to ground facilities was admitted.

The two-pronged American advance on Luzon island in the Philippines rolled almost unopposed to points within 54 miles of Manila and 11 from important Clark Field. They are more than half way to Manila from the Lingayen gulf shores where they landed two weeks ago.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur chose this moment to announce the composition of Sixth army forces on Luzon—five full battle-tested divisions and attached units. Only one group—the Sixth Rangers—previously saw action in the Philippines where seven other divisions have been employed.

The spearheading 14th corps, composed of the 37th and 40th divisions, advanced more than ten miles from torch-destroyed Tarlac to capture Capas and Santa Monica.

A coastal column swept down the road toward Bataan to Infanta, beyond Dasol Bay.

It is the First army corps that has been meeting all Japanese opposition along the eastern flank. The Sixth and 25th divisions beat off small Japanese tank and infiltration attempts to extend a new finger reaching toward an inland road to Manila. The 43rd division and 158th regimental combat team inched painfully closer to heavily defended Rosario.

It was disclosed that the Sixth Ranger battalion seized two small islands at the entrance to Lingayen gulf in advance of the invasion, duplicating the maneuver they made in seizing three islands off Leyte gulf to protect the original Philippine invasion armada.

First Delivers Knockout Blow To Ardennes Salient

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
PARIS, Jan. 23 (AP)—The First army fought house to house today in St. Vith, delivering the knockout to the Ardennes salient, while the disorganized and broken remnants of three routed German armies reeled back eastward under the most savage air onslaught of the war.

The Seventh armored division entered St. Vith at dawn. Its fall was imminent. Soon after sunup, American planes started their second straight day of relentless attack on the foe.

Only German rearguards fought in the streets of St. Vith. Germans to the east were laying down heavy shell fire from dug in positions in an effort to protect the retreat from the evaporated bulge.

By midday, the U. S. Ninth air force had destroyed 302 trucks, four tanks and armored vehicles and damaged 119 other tanks. That raised the two-day toll of the fleeing Germans to 4,583 pieces of heavy equipment, enough for an entire panzer army. The slaughter surpassed the destruction in the Falaise gap earlier in the campaign.

The British second army to the north moved to within less than two miles of the Roer and the road junction of Heinsberg, capturing nine towns within 32 miles of Dusseldorf.

Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's U. S. Third army closed swiftly against the ramparts of the Siegfried line opposite the Our river bounding Germany and Luxembourg. In all 21 or more towns fell to the Americans, British and French—the latter moving up through deep snow into the Colar pocket south of Strasbourg.

The Seventh army front from Bitche to north of Strasbourg remained the one tender spot in the Allied front, and supreme headquarters touched on it gingerly, when at all. (German broadcasts asserted that most of the Haguenau forest had been overrun and that the Seventh army front had "collapsed.")

A First army staff officer estimated the Germans had suffered at least 150,000 casualties and lost from 800 to 900 tanks since their offensive started in mid-December. Prisoners alone passed the 50,000 mark today.

Lt. Gen. Alexander M. Patch disclosed that elements of the French First army were operating with his 7th army in the nine miles area north of Strasbourg to Gumbenheim. The Germans attacked twice Sunday night near Kilstett, six miles north of the city, and were beaten back with the loss of 300 prisoners.

A German attack in battalion strength was repulsed at the southeast edge of the Bitche salient in the snow shrouded woods. French Polus attacking the southern rim of the Colmar pocket cleared out the main suburbs of Mulhouse and reached Cernay. They overran German strongholds elsewhere along the line.

First army patrols which entered St. Vith at daybreak had been checked temporarily by road blocks. On the south elements of the Third army's 17th airborne division closed to within nine miles southwest of the town.

The Seventh armored division and supporting infantry captured Hunsingen last night and moved over the intervening 1,500 yards into St. Vith early today.

Yesterday's reported toll of 4-158 pieces of German transport destroyed or disabled by Allied aircraft was achieved at a cost to the U. S. Air Forces of 14 fighters and one fighter-bomber, all victims of ground fire.

The patrols engaged in several battles, particularly in the snow-bound mountains southeast of Bologna.

American troops stabbing northward near highway 64 occupied a ridge a half mile north of Tolle Terme, 15 miles from Bologna.

Himmler Hurried To Eastern Front

LONDON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Adolf Hitler has sent Heinrich Himmler and "his best army commanders" to the eastern front with "full powers to make drastic decisions and to guarantee their execution," the Berlin radio announced today.

Himmler, Gestapo chief and commander of the German home army, was dispatched to the east because the situation "at focal points" called for "iron-willed men like him," said the broadcast by Transocean news agency.

Transocean quoted the German army newspaper, "front and home," as saying Himmler and his aides could be relied upon to restore the situation "as we have mastered many difficult situations in the past."

SOUTHWEST ASIA COMMAND HEADQUARTERS, Kandy, Ceylon, Jan. 23 (AP)—British forces closing in on Mandalay have driven to within 25 miles of the city on the west and 40 miles on the north, a communique announced today.

In the arc across the Irrawaddy elbow the British continued to compress the enemy, driving into the western end of the pocket, where they reached the north bank of the river in the vicinity of Myinmu, about 25 miles west of Mandalay and 15 miles south of captured Monywa.

Soviet Armies Slice Main Line Of Nazi Supplies

LONDON, Jan. 23 (AP)—Red army troops have thrust within 22 miles of completing a gigantic cut-off of all East Prussia, and the trapping of perhaps 30 German divisions, Premier-Marshals Stalin disclosed tonight.

Reports from Berlin meanwhile said the Russians had burst into Poznan, 137 miles from Berlin on the direct route, and Stalin announced the capture of Bydgoszcz, southern guardian of the Polish corridor.

Street fighting in Poznan, last bastion city short of the reich frontier, was reported in the Stockholm dispatch from Berlin. Soviet troops to the south in Silesia were driving on Breslau and Oppeln, and might have "temporarily" reach the Oder river, the Germans said.

Stalin in an order of the day proclaimed the capture of Bydgoszcz, a main rail-highway junction at the entrance to the Polish corridor 87 miles below Danzig. It is 65 miles northeast of Poznan.

This thrust, by part of Marshal Gregory Zhukov's forces sweeping across Poland from Warsaw, chopped a principal rail route from Berlin feeding supplies to German defenders of East Prussia, the Prussian military caste homeland being carved up by two tremendous offensives.

A German broadcast meanwhile said the Russians to the south might have "temporarily" reached the Oder river in the heart of Silesia, but that had been knocked back from that great water barrier crossing eastern Germany.

Moscow radio placed the Red army 150 miles from Berlin. The German high command admitted Marshal Gregory Zhukov had reached the area east of the city, more than halfway from Warsaw on the direct route to Berlin.

Other Soviet armies driving to seal off East Prussia were reported within 37 miles of the port of Eiling, in the northwest corner of the Junkers province on the Bay of Danzig. The capital of Konigsberg was menaced with encirclement.

In German Silesia, the Nazi communique said Russians were attacking heavily on a line within 15 miles of Breslau, but claimed these blows were checked. Breslau lies on the Oder river.

Only 70 miles separated Cherkashov's and Rokossovsky's forces in East Prussia. At the minimum, they and Zhukov were trying to break off East Prussia from the Polish corridor before the weekend, a Moscow dispatch said.

The Red air force was supporting the immense offensives in dawn to dark attacks.

Zhukov's spectacular armored surge—carrying halfway or more from Warsaw to Berlin in six days—was battering ahead at a 30-mile-a-day pace and unless the Germans can halt it on the edge of the reich it carries the possibility of unrivaled catastrophe, Moscow reports said.

Roosevelt's Dismissal Of Jones Causes Sharp Rebuttal From Press

By The Associated Press
President Roosevelt's dismissal of Texas' Jesse Jones as secretary of commerce drew sharp opinions from the nation's newspapers today. Here are sample views of the press collected from various sections of the country.

Portland Oregon Journal: "The sacrifice of Jesse Jones as secretary of commerce for Henry Wallace smells. It admittedly smells more of politics than of sound administration."

Detroit Free Press: "We have a suspicion that Mr. Roosevelt must be definitely certain that the senate will not confirm such an appointment (that of Henry Wallace) or that congress will curtail Wallace's fiscal powers. Otherwise the whole thing just does not make sense."

Washington Star—"As secretary of commerce and as director of the huge federal lending agencies, Mr. Wallace will exercise potent control over the future of American business. Yet he has no experience worthy of mention in either business or finance. He has not even a very good opinion of businessmen as a whole."

Omaha World Herald—"Plainly, admittedly, a great department of government x x x is being offered as a bounty for speeches made and votes delivered. A word should be said in passing about Jesse Jones. He served the people well for many years. He stood as a watchdog over the billions of the RFC and no breath of scandal touched him."

New York Times—"x x x the one place above all others into which Mr. Wallace does not fit is the place to which Mr. Roosevelt has now appointed him—the post of secretary of commerce."

St. Louis Post Dispatch—"The president may have acted primarily because he suspects Jones of collusion in Texas' plot to throw part of the electoral college away from the party's candidate and because Wallace stuck to him. He could have acted because of the two men, one deserved on merit. That man is Henry Wallace."

PROPHECY OF WILSON BORNE OUT IN REPETITION OF WORLD WAR

Over 40 speeches in 30 days were behind the tired man, but against the advice of his doctor and wife, he struggled to his feet and made his way to the observation platform to address a group of citizens gathered at Pueblo, Colo.

"I wish," he said, "that I could gather all the men who fought in the war together in one great place... I would say to them 'Young man, you have been betrayed. You fought for a lasting peace...' Then prophetically he saw, in the absence of some workable international plan, another and greater war with not thousands but millions of deaths to purchase what could have been bought with the lesser price just paid. Thus, Woodrow Wilson makes his last speech on his historic League of Nations tour. Graphically played by Alexander Knox, this is one of the memorable scenes in the production, "Wilson," which shows today and Wednesday at the Ritz. Today with the world in that other war, it is easy to recall the broken man speaking in the shadows of Pueblo's red stone depot.

Alexander Knox as Woodrow Wilson. With a wealth of such moments, "Wilson" has been converted into a distinctly important film. It is more than biography, for it is history also. Director Henry King has handled the story well, for stupendous events of state are interrupted skillfully with intimate moments of the Wilson family life. As a result, it is a human story—not ponderous but sympathetic and understandable.

This, in itself, is considerable achievement for a film pitched on the scope of Darryl Zanuck's mighty production which cost four million dollars, included a cast of 13,000 players, employed 162 lavish sets and required three years to film entirely in technicolor.

Acting is superbly turned in the account by Alexander Knox as the 28th president; Sir Cedric Hardwicke as Sen. Henry C. Lodge, arch-enemy of the league; Thomas Mitchell as Joseph Tumulty, faithful secretary of the president; Geraldine Fitzgerald as Edith Galt Wilson.

Tough Midland Bulldogs Host To Steers Today

Opening their bid for the championship of the Western District Three, the Big Spring Steers journeyed to Midland today to clash with the tough Bulldog team of that city, with this first conference cage game slated to begin at 3 p. m. The last-minute change in starting time came at the request of Midland's coach Gene McCullum, and local mentors agreed to play at the afternoon time. The A game will go on first, with a clash between the two B teams slated for the finale. Midland, always a tough foe in any sport, has already downed the local cagers 34-16 in a previous meeting. The game came in the semi-final rounds of the Odessa Invitational cage tourney last weekend, which saw the Bulldogs whip the locals soundly, and then lose by three points to Odessa for the tourney title.

The locals have been strengthened considerably by the addition of high-scoring Alvin Mize, 1944 letterman, and transfer Hugh Mason to the squad. These two lads have been staying in shape and keeping their basket-eye alert so far this season while appearing with the B team. Mize has been the high scorer for this squad, while Mason has been a very strong all-around player and should give the Steers more strength in their weak positions.

The Midland boys will be sparred by M. C. Hale and Bill Richards, a pair of football "twins" who have moved on to the courts to take up their combination activities. These two lads led the Midland scoring attack in their first encounter with the locals, and have been top scorers for the canines in most of their games this season.

Coach McCullum's tricky offensive completely fooled the less experienced local five in their first class, but Coach John Dibrell sent his charges through long drills Monday afternoon, emphasizing a defensive system that he hoped would break up the Midland scoring.

Dibrell also ran his squad through offensive drills so that a high scoring game is due to take place.

Midland will return the game February 13. Each team of this bracket, Odessa, Lamesa and the above teams will play each conference for two games, one at home and one on foreign soil. The team with the best average will take the bracket title and meet the Eastern bracket winner (composed of Abilene, San Angelo and Sweetwater) for the district pennant. One loss does not eliminate a team from a chance at the title, although two such losses would slim their chances considerably.

The Steers will return to play on the home court Friday night when they seek revenge from a group of Sweetwater Mustangs who have downed them once this year. It will be a non-conference affair.

Mark Wentz, secretary of the Big Spring Athletic association, is to be interviewed by James H. Lawson on the latter's regular sports broadcast over KBST at 7:30 p. m. today. The program is scheduled to present a means for explaining the broader objectives of the young association.

Bombardiers Are Host To Eagles Of Wichita Falls

The crack Eagles of Sheppard Field will be at the Post Gym Wednesday night to meet the Big Spring Bombardiers in a return game, it was announced by First Lieut. Joseph Mariana, coach of the Post five.

The Bombardiers tripped the Eagles at Wichita Falls Jan. 10 by a 37 to 34 score in a fast but rough contest. The Eagles, who boast wins over Childress AAF, North American Aviation, Inc. and Altus, Okla. AAF, will be out to even the count.

Appearing here with the visitors will be S-Sgt. Lother Stephenson, 6 ft. 6 inch star from West Texas State Teachers' College; First Lieut. Ted Skrodzki, former DePaul University star, and Second Lieut. Bob Bussard, former ace at Indiana University.

The Bombardiers will be at Hobbs, New Mexico, tonight to take on the Hobbs AAF quintet. They will be at home also on Friday night, when they tackle Midland AAF.

Oregon Star Takes Lead In Cage Race

NEW YORK, Jan. 23 (AP)—Dick Wilkins of Oregon and Ermer Robinson of Fort Warren have jumped over George Mikan of DePaul to take the lead in the National collegiate individual high scoring basketball race.

The Associated Press weekly tabulation of the various sectional leaders showed today that the Oregon forward has collected 345 points in 29 games and Robinson 324 in 17 contests for the Rocky Mountain service quintet.

Mikan is third with 290 followed by Ernie Calverley of Rhode Island State at 273 and Stan McWilliams of the College of Pacific at 271.

Bill Henry of Rice has 257 points.

Landis Successor Is Not Due To Be Named

CHICAGO, Jan. 23 (AP)—Baseball's major league officials at their Feb. 3 meeting in New York will not name a new commissioner to succeed the late K. M. Landis, in the opinion of President Will Harridge of the American League.

Harridge said the officials do not "want to rush into an election without taking sufficient time to discuss possible candidates."

Sliding Down The Sports Chute

with BILL

As has been said before in these columns troubles never come in little bunches.

Here we were, so serene and calm and blessing ourselves that one letterman was to return to the squad as of yesterday, when the new semester opened, and suddenly we discover that the only other letterman on the Big Spring Steer cage squad is ineligible as of yesterday, when that same wonderful semester opened.

It is indeed a sad day at the high school as Billy Rae Warren has been officially declared out of the lineup for the remainder of this semester. Billy was a fine hustler and excellent ball player and will be missed by the Steers, and today they open their cage season in district play against the Midland Bulldogs.

It is hoped in this corner that the other Steers will take spirit in the fact that with Warren gone, they will have to exhibit more hustle and more fight. That is the only way they can make up for his loss. His experience and ability can not be replaced.

For the information of those who yet are to discover the outcome, Odessa won its own invitational tournament last week end. They tripped the Midland five 25-22 for the trophy.

Midland, as you know, downed the local cage five 34-16 in the semi-final tilt.

What Lamesa will offer in the way of competition is unknown. They have been confining their court activities of Class A and B teams, and have been handing all comers severe beatings.

At any rate they have so far had a very formidable looking team. Odessa, by virtue of its win over Midland, will also be one of the favorites. Midland, the defending champs, naturally are heavy favorites to repeat for the title.

Big Spring is the underdog of the conference. All of the other three rate above them according to pre-conference records. A long, rough road lies ahead for the upcoming champ. Whoever wins will do so by no spurt of luck. They will have to be consistently good defensive players, and will have to add a very sharp eye for the basket to cop the title.

All teams are evenly matched, and local fans wishing to see some fast action will find it at the local gym on those nights when conference foes come to town.

Odessa will come here Jan. 30 for their game in league play on the local court. Feb. 6 Lamesa journeys here, Feb. 13 the conference cage season closes with Midland here. So if you are looking for fast action on the home-court then mark these three dates on your calendar. Also watch for some good non-league tilts along the way. Think it over . . .

SMU Refuses Gift From Liquor Men

DALLAS, Jan. 23 (AP)—Dallas retail liquor dealers had their second gift to church institutions rejected here yesterday, but a third donation was "gratefully" accepted.

Southern Methodist University refused to accept a check for $30,000 from the liquor dealers, following the lead of Baylor Baptist institutions here, who last week turned down a gift of $25,000.

Holmes Green, vice-chairman of St. Paul Catholic Hospital's current drive for funds, declared St. Paul had no intention of refusing a $10,000 check presented by the liquor dealers.

"We are very grateful for this gift," Green said.

Frank L. McNeny, chairman of the executive committee of the SMU board issued a statement, in which he said:

"It was the unanimous decision of the committee that in view of all the issues involved, the gift be declined."

Cardinal Lineup For 1945 Could Be Practically Same As In 1944

ST. LOUIS, Jan. 23 (AP)—Induction of Stan Musial into navy made the first dent in the starting lineup of the world champion St. Louis Cardinals in a full year.

The last regular to leave the club, outside of pitchers, was Lou Klein, freshman second baseman who joined the coast guard last winter. His loss followed the induction of two pitchers and an outfielder.

President Sam Breadon then moaned: "I may not have enough players to fill all positions."

But when Manager Billy Southworth picked his 1944 world series lineup in October, he fielded the same team, with exception of his pitcher, that started the first game of the pre-season spring series with the St. Louis Browns in April, six months before.

George Munger, one of the club's young pitchers, was the only loss to the armed forces in the 1944 playing season. Since the world series Max Lanier, ace left-hander, has been accepted for service.

Pending further orders from Washington, here is the way the club could line up for 1945:

Catcher: Walker Cooper, accepted for limited service in 1943 but never called.

First base: Ray Sanders, 4-F, bad heart.

Second base: Emil Verban, 4-F, perforated ear drums.

Short stop: Marty Marion, accepted for limited service in 1944 but never called, has a wired knee.

Third base: George Kurowski.

4-F, bad arm.

Outfield: Johnny Hopp, 4-F, bad back; Augie Bergamo, 4-F, hay fever, bad knee.

Danny Litwiler, 4-F, two bad knees.

Pitchers: Morton Cooper, 4-F, high blood pressure; Ted Wilks, 4-F, stomach ulcers; Bill Donnelly, 4-F, asthma, bad heart; Al Jurisich, 1-C, medical discharge from coast guard; Harry Breechman, Bud Byerly, both 4-F.

LEGAL NOTICE

THE STATE OF TEXAS TO: JAMES LESTER CLARK. GREETING: You are commanded to appear and answer the plaintiff's petition at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday after the expiration of 42 days from the date of issuance of this Citation, the same being Monday the 19th day of February, A. D. 1945, at or before 10 o'clock A. M. before the Honorable District Court of Howard County, at the Court House in Big Spring, Texas.

Said plaintiff's petition was filed on the 25th day of October, 1944. The file number of said suit being No. 5287. The names of the parties in said suit are: Mildred E. Clark, as Plaintiff, and James Lester Clark as Defendant.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to wit: That plaintiff and defendant were married May 22, 1944 and the plaintiff quit the defendant the following August, on or about the 8th day thereof with the intention of never living with him again because his course of conduct was of such a cruel nature as to render her living with him unbearable and insupportable, and plaintiff now prays that she have judgment for divorce.

Issued this the 2nd day of January, 1945.

Given under my hand and seal of said Court, at office in Big Spring, Texas, this the 2nd day of January, A. D. 1945. GEO. C. CHOATE, Clerk District Court Howard County, Texas.

San Antonio Open Time Draws Nearer As Golf Stars Trek To Historic City

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 23 (AP)—Golfdom's nomads—the star-studded professional field that follows the play-for-pay tournament trail begin arriving in San Antonio today for tune-up rounds over picturesque Brackenridge Park course in preparation for the nineteenth Texas Open.

Heading the brigade will be Lord Byron Nelson, the Toledo, O., star who got his golfing start in Texas. He is the only man in the field who has won more than one tournament along the winter circuit.

Slammin' Sam Snead, who has taken three of the eight money tournaments since the tour started in late November, will not be here. He has withdrawn from competition for a rest and course of treatments for a back ailment at his home base, Hot Springs, Va.

But there will be some 50 star shot-makers in the contingent moving into town today, including five former Texas Open champions—Nelson, E. J. (Dutch) Harrison, Abe Espinosa, Denny Shute and Johnny Revolta, who took the title here last year. Others coming here for the tournament which starts Friday include Craig Wood, duration open champion; Bob Hamilton, National P.G.A. winner; Sam Byrd, Harold (Jud) McSpadden, Ky Lafoon and Leonard Dodson. Thirty Texas pros also are due to enter. McSpaden holds the course record — 63, eight under par.

The first 18 holes of the 72-hole $5,000 tournament will be played Friday, the second 18 Saturday and 36 holes Sunday. If there is a tie for first, which draws down $1,000, there will be an 18-hole play-off Monday.

Neighbor's Good Fortune

Martin county is all pepped up over the first oil production for the county—and rightly so.

Just how heavy this production ultimately will be and how far it will extend into Martin county is a thing which only subsequent drilling can establish. Currently it rates as an extension to the Mabbe production in Andrews county; but one thing is sure, the strike will certainly call for other drilling in the northwestern part of the county.

We rejoice with our neighbors in this new stroke of good fortune and sincerely hope that the development eventually expands over a substantial territory. This can mean much to Martin county and as recipients of many of the benefits of oil for the past 20 years, we can testify to the value of production.

Within itself oil is a distinct asset to any county. But in Big Spring and Howard county it has been equally true that oil has made it possible to seize upon other opportunities and to engage upon a broader program of development. For instance, oil resulted in a refinery here; it increased railroad traffic, and quickened trade until the force of the product was everywhere felt. Moreover, all of this added up to increased taxable values, which in turn meant extension and improvement of roads, schools, etc. Because we believe Martin county has much in common with Howard, we can hope that oil development there does reach sizeable proportions, for it will permit the good people of that county to better exploit the many fine agricultural resources which they already possess.

Why Not Something Like This?

Before us are notes about two art exhibits. One was held in Corpus Christi under the sponsorship of the Caller-Times resulted in gross sales of $2,112. In addition, there were donations of seven pictures, which sold for $1,015, toward the art foundation of that city.

A second story refers to the Fort Worth Art association's sixth annual West Texas art show, for which prize awards were announced by Sallie Gillespie, exhibits chairman. The show is scheduled for opening March 2 and will run through the duration of the Southwestern Fat Stock show. Needless to say there will be a wide representation of the section's better artists in the show.

How does this affect us? Not at all perhaps—only we were wondering if in this immediate section of West Texas there are not a sizeable number of artists—amateur and professional—who would welcome an opportunity to display their canvases. Maybe they don't feel like taking them to regional exhibits, and maybe the major portion of that shown would not be acceptable for a larger exhibit. But right here at home people would like the opportunity to see what their fellows do with brush and pencil. Certainly an exhibit would stimulate interest in expression through art.

Washington— Statistics Break Down Car Crisis

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — Office of Defense Transportation officials really have their fingers crossed as we move into 1945. If the war in Europe drags through another year or 18 months, war production might have to be slowed temporarily to prevent transportation on the home front from breaking down completely.

There are many phases of transportation and all affected by many things. It is impossible to say that on such and such a day or month the transportation crisis will be reached.

However, there are some facts and figures that are significant. The American Automobile Association has completed its survey of the passenger car situation, and some of those facts and figures are worth recording.

In the first place 75 per cent of our local transportation is in passenger cars. Four out of five war workers in the nation go to their jobs in passenger cars. After three years of surveying the wartime automobile situation, AAA has come to the conclusion that 20,000,000 operating passenger cars is the absolute minimum for maintaining the country's essential wartime driving.

Its most recent check-up indicates that there are only 25,000,000 passenger cars left on the streets today and that they now are disappearing at the rate of

The War Today

by Dewitt Mackenzie
Associated Press War Analyst

Harassed Nazi official spokesmen, viewing in fear the great Allied vice which has been set in motion by the Red offensive, are calling this the decisive battle of the war, which is to say the final round—undoubtedly a correct estimate of an altogether grim situation.

A couple of times in previous columns, looking ahead to this bloody climax of our world upheaval, I've referred to it as Armageddon. The term wasn't used haphazardly, though I left interpretation to the reader, figuring that if anyone had curiosity he would speak up. Finally I have a customer—a clergyman in Kansas—who asks "just what is in your mind using this word."

This column is glad to explain, for the answer exposes one of the most vicious aspects of the Nazism which we are fighting to destroy. It's an aspect which unfortunately won't die with Hitler but will remain to plague us for at least one generation—maybe more—until re-education has removed it.

I employed the term Armageddon (mentioned in Revelation XVII, 16) in the sense in which it often is used today—as representing the great and final conflict in which the forces of anti-Christ will be destroyed.

The analogy as regards Hitlerism seems clear enough. Hitler is one of the most evil of the "world" conquerors of all time. He's a throw-back to barbarism and as such is anti-Christ. It's this latter point we have to consider.

When the Nazi chief came to power and started laying his diabolical schemes for extermination of the Jews, for world conquest and for the literal enslavement of many peoples, he saw that before the Germans would follow him their minds must be purged of one thing—religion. Nobody who subscribed to any civilized faith could possibly participate in the crimes he contemplated.

So Hitler set about to destroy religion. The Nazi leader not only destroyed the belief of countless youngsters in the right, but he substituted a pagan code in which he himself actually played the role of a Messiah. That sounds fantastic, but it happened.

The older generation for the most part refused to accept such teaching, though it allowed itself to be regimented in other ways.

Hal Boyle: Enterprising American Officer Uses Belgian Cows To Stop Nazis

By HAL BOYLE

WITH U. S. FIRST ARMY TROOPS IN BELGIUM, Jan. 15 (Delayed) (AP)—Battle sideliners: A herd of Belgian cows was used by one enterprising American officer as a roadblock.

Seeing a German Tiger tank approaching, Lt. Sidney P. Dane (address unavailable) glanced at his rifle—his only weapon—and decided he would have to use ingenuity to stop the enemy vehicle.

Dane rushed into a nearby barn and chased six cows into the street. He felled one cow with a rifle shot and the others began to mill around in panic.

The Nazi tank halted before this unusual roadblock. Before it could continue and fire on its target, an American bazooka team knocked it out.

Sadler Bill Would Average State Into 40,000 Population Districts

By PAUL BOLTON

HERALD Austin Correspondent
AUSTIN, Jan. 23—Legislators differ on mechanics but they generally are agreed that this session of the legislature should and will legislatively redistrict Texas. This is the belief of Rep. Harley

Under the terms of the redistricting bill introduced by Rep. Harley Sadler, Howard county would be grouped with Martin, Glascock and Dawson to form the 112th district. Currently, Howard is in the 91st district with Glascock, Sterling, Tom Green, Irion and Reagan counties.

Sadler who has introduced as House Bill No. 1 the representative redistricting bill which will form the basis for whatever legis-

Citizens Urged To Contribute To Fund

Letters are being mailed to the people of Big Spring and Howard county this week by the chamber of commerce urging that each contribute to the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

"Polio is the greatest enemy on the home front and is now called 'The Crippler,' the letter stated. 'America experienced one of its worst epidemics of the disease in 1943—not quite so bad in 1944.'"

It pointed out that during the past two years Howard county had only seven cases in which the Howard county chapter of the National Foundation was permitted to assist, spending approximately $1,100.

Ira Thurman, treasurer, added, "Our chapter is very anxious to be prepared to assist your child or mine or any neighbor's child in case they should be stricken with this dreaded disease, and are not financially able to continue the fight."

He continued by urging that checks or money in any amount be attached to the letter and mailed back to him. He pledged that it will be wisely spent.

The letter pointed out that this drive will not replace the March of Dimes, but the combined revenue will be spent in the fight against polio.

Chamber Directors Plan For Banquet

In a brief session Monday, chamber of commerce directors looked ahead to plans for an annual banquet.

Date for the event has not been set pending choice of a speaker, and directors Monday spent some time in the discussion of a personality for this job.

The body also went on record with a resolution commending the county judge and commissioners court for submission of the recent road bond issue to the people and for cooperation toward development of a road program for the county.

McSPADEN HEADS DRIVE

COLORADO CITY, Jan. 22 — A. L. McSpadden of Colorado City, who directed the 1944 campaign in Mitchell county for the fight against infantile paralysis during the president's birthday celebration, will again head the drive in the county for 1945, it has been announced here. Under McSpadden leadership, the March of Dimes, the birthday balls and special collections at local theatres reached an all-time high mark in contributions last year.

Hollywood—"Keys Of The Kingdom" Is Different

By JACK O'BRIAN
AP Drama Editor

"Keys Of The Kingdom," it is a pleasure to relate, is unlike some of the recent so-called "epics" which purported to perform great artistic purr-ups as screen versions of novels or plays. The book by A. J. Cronin has been fashioned by 20th Century - Fox into an intelligently projected movie, dignified and moving, one of the better films of the last six months.

It also is nice to see Gregory Peck living up to his press agents' claims. He is a slightly more plastic Gary Cooper, a little more gaunt and much more able. As Father Chisholm, he may or may not be the priest of your imagination after reading the book, but he does a straightforward stunt and certainly performs in much the manner intended by the novel's author.

Peck, who has had personal successes in three flop plays on Broadway and has done vivid characterizations in minor movies, plays a difficult role as Father Chisholm.

An impulsive youth until his sweetheart plunges to her death under the wheels of a train, he becomes a brooding seminarian, a man with a schism in his soul, torn between memory of an earthly love and the power of his love of God and dedication to the priesthood.

A failure in his early endeavors, he is advised to take a post as a missionary to make up for an inadequacy as a parish priest.

Twentieth's choice of subordinate characters is admirable. Thomas Mitchell plays the role of Willie Tulloch, the athletic doctor, one of Cronin's best fiction characters. Mitchell has fire and verve and great talent and fits the role exactly.

Vincent Price has another fine part, that of Angus Mealy, the stuffy Scottish boy who plays ecclesiastical politics in a manner that wins him a bishopric. He frequently patronizes Father Chisholm but admires qualities in him that he can no more emulate than comprehend.

Roddy McDowell plays Father Chisholm as a lad of nine. It is a pathetically moving cameo set in large frame, memorable despite its comparatively brief sequence. Mary Anderson, as Nora, has a brief but tragic role. Sir Cedric Hardwicke, always an effective actor, is more than that as Monsi-

Bullock At Home On Business Trip

COLORADO CITY, Jan. 22 — State Senator Pat Bullock, who is also manager of the Colorado City chamber of commerce, arrived here Thursday to spend the weekend in his hometown and to transact business of the chamber after having attended the opening sessions of the Texas legislature.

Asked "How is our capital city?" the senator said quickly, "It's a mad-house. And you can quote me as saying that when any senator or representative finds anything to eat it's entirely accidental."

Bullock had no comment to make on the bills which he introduced. He was accompanied home by Mrs. Bullock who went to Austin with him for the opening of the state sessions and for the inauguration of Gov. Stevenson.

politan areas would still have a considerable edge on the metropolitan areas.

The one-county districts would be as follows:

Bowie, Cass, Panola, Nacogdoches, Rusk, Gregg, Red River, Lamar, Smith, Cherokee, Houston, Brazoria, Anderson, Henderson, Van Zandt, Hunt, Fannin, Grayson, Collin, Navarro, Freestone, Limestone, Robertson, Brazos, Wharton, Lavaca, Fayette, Milam, Falls, Hill, Ellis, Denton, Cooke, Johnson, Bell, Williamson, Gonzales, DeWitt, Eastland, Brown, Taylor and Potter.

Some of these counties may have had more than one representative, by virtue of having a district larger than one county. For instance, William county has two representatives, but shares one of them with Burnet, under present law.

Some of the counties did have two representatives outright, would have but one. An example is Denison, in Grayson county.

Judge Pleads Guilty In Own Courtroom

MOBILE, Ala., Jan. 23 (AP)—A U. S. district judge pleaded guilty to a charge of game law violation in his own court yesterday and fined himself $25.

The jurist, Judge John McDuffie, former congressman, was arrested by a game warden the other day for having in his possession two more doves than the law allows.

His plea failed to state, as a fellow hunter and fine-payer declared, that the judge, when arrested, was carrying two birds belonging to someone else.

Borleske Asks For Continuation Of Present Inspiration

Vince Borleske, director of athletics for Whitman college at Walla Walla, Wash., pleaded with Rotarians Tuesday to keep alive the continuing environment and inspiration of freedom and achievement as the one hope of maintaining a virile American civilization.

This happy combination, he believed, was the thing "which made us overcome all laws of heredity and accomplish here in America the dream of us all."

He struck out against a maze of regulations, hooting at the idea that many of them were necessary because of war "if we are unable to fight as a democracy, and live only as a democracy in peace
—then democracy is on its way out the window."

Borleske, himself a member of the coaching profession for a quarter of a century, scored the practice of subsidizing athletics, which he said created in students the idea of seeking a "racket for themselves." He added that it was just as plausible to subsidize students for chemistry or physics. Instead, Borleske contended that it was the responsibility of the coach to overcome physical disabilities with inspiration.

He appealed to Rotarians to rid youngsters of the notion of getting "something for nothing," and to instill in them the thought of working for what they got. Any other philosophy is contrary to human nature, said Borleske, who said that there must be certain controls—even internationally.

Hope of preserving our way of life, he asserted, is in inspiring youth to creating things for themselves, for obtaining a better understanding of human souls, aspirations and ideals. Nowhere can this be better done than in the small town, he said.

Bills From Rattlesnakes To Politics
Dumped In Lap Of 49th Legislature

AUSTIN, Jan. 23 (AP)—The 49th legislature is only two weeks old but the hodge-podge of bills dumped into the house hopper runs the gamut from cabbages to politics and back to rattlesnakes.
Some of the measures introduced include:
A bill creating a cabbage stan-dardization act to be administered by the state department of agriculture.
Creation of a state text book committee under the educational department.
Creation of a naturopathy board.
Providing punishment for use of county equipment for private use or for profit.

Parents Urged To Confine Children

Parents were strongly urged to keep their children at home when they show symptoms of communicable or contagious diseases by Mrs. Ann Fisher, city-county health nurse, Tuesday.
She warned that such diseases as chicken pox, measles, whooping cough and scarlet fever are particularly prevalent now and if the child shows such symptoms as sore throat, fever or rash he should be kept at home. It might be that he has one of the contagious diseases. Mrs. Fisher warned that the children should be kept away from schools, all public gatherings and all other children to prevent further contagion.
The nurse stated that it is not necessary that a child have any of the so-called "children's diseases." She added that a few precautionary measures taken on the part of the parents can easily keep such apparently simple illnesses down from epidemic force.
