City of Mertzon Receives Grant

The Concho Valley Council of Governments has informed the City of Mertzon that there will be full funding by the Texas Community Development by a grant in the amount of $180,000. No repayment of this grant will be required. The funds will be utilized to renovate the Mertzon water system.

The money was allocated for a larger ground storage tank with pump station and to provide new lines to new water which will be a looping system to equalize and stabilize the pressure throughout the system. This will do away with all the dead-ends of water lines that in the past have hindered water pressure.

A separate grand request will be filed in the future to update the sewer system.

Life Among the Fishes

By Thomas Giovannitti

Nicolas, Annamarie and I have been enjoying breakfast a lot more lately since we started making something other than Cheerios. Don't get me wrong, I was pretty good at making Cheerios but they tired of them. In fact they sort of tired of all dry cereals after having eaten them for most of their lives.

During the colder part of winter, besides "hot" cereal we started having French toast and pancakes. We had a lot of French toast since my other French bread lover, Mario, was not at home and I couldn't quite finish a loaf before it began to go stale. Surprisingly enough, stale French bread makes, I think, the best French toast and I have been able to convince the kids of the same thing.

However, there is one little tiny problem in serving either the toast or pancakes that I have not been able to solve.

I have enlisted the aid of my children. I have read many past issues of "Hints from Heloise" and any other source for help. I have even asked our esteemed Home Demonstration Agent and she too is baffled by the problem. I think she says she solved it by not eating these breakfast foods but you can check with her on that.

Here is the dilemma: no matter how I do it I always manage to get a little of the sticky syrup on my fingers. I have tried talking to bottles of syrup hoping that little old lady would instruct me how to avoid getting syrup on my hands. I have tried using the supposed "Drip Proof" containers. I feel very sorry for the inventor of that contraption. He probably thought he had finally solved a problem faced by men each morning since the invention of syrup. Those drip proof containers work fine for nearly any other substance, but not syrup. I think syrup can find its way out of any opening right to my fingers. Then, to top it all off, I then get it on my fork, and my cup, and anything else I touch. I can't hug my daughter until I wash my hands. Where will it all end?

I have taken to buying the less expensive syrup in the regular glass bottle. The stuff is going to drip anyway and it is easier to heat up in the microwave after being in the refrigerator.

I only knew one person who could twist a syrup bottle just with the right amount of tork so that all the syrup not on the pancakes went back in the bottle. My mother is the only living person I know who could do that. She was so good she could do it with those metal log cabins that maple syrup used to come in. I don't know if she can still do it and I feel a little ashamed that I never learned. It looks like that will be another of those skills from the old days that we will lose. Well, we are not giving up pancakes or French toast so maybe I'll try to twist that bottle just once more, if I can keep my fingers from sticking.

Editor's Clips

At one time or another we all have been or will be faced with a situation that will seem overpowering. How the situation comes to an end is determined on how you will respond. How you respond is a reflection of how strongly you believe in yourself.

I always felt that if I didn't believe in myself then how could I expect others to believe in me.

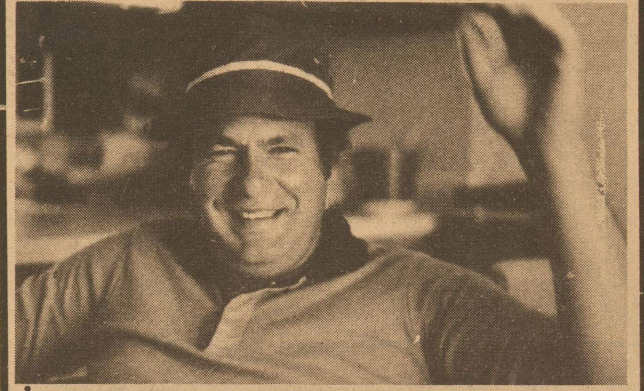

Believing in oneself is not always easy to do, for any age. Our children of today are under so much pressure to "go along" with the crowd, to follow others, they lose sight of what they themselves want to do. They believe in others rather than themselves.

How do we instill this self-confidence in our children? Children learn from what they see and hear.

Think about it!

Laugh and Live

by Gary Smith

"Happiness is learnin' to cooperate wid de enebitable!" -- Smith

You have probably read it before, but one of my favorite little verses goes like this:

There was a dachshund,
Once so long
He hadn't any notion
How long it took to notify
His tail of his emotion;
And so it happened, while his eyes
Were filled with woe and sadness,
His little tail went wagging on
Because of previous gladness.

It doesn't take a sage to see that there is plenty in this old world to cause woe and sadness. Odds are, if you tried right now, you could find something to be upset about. Odds are just as good that if you wanted to find something to be glad about, you could do that, too.

I firmly believe it is true that "Cheerfulness oils the machinery of life." That we are just about as happy as we choose to be.

Once in a while we run into a squeaky cog.

I suppose that there isn't much we can do for those poor folk. We might realize that they are so burdened with the "bad stuff" of life that they miss the "good stuff". Then again, maybe a kind word might make a difference in their lives.

Who knows? Maybe they never heard..."There was a dachshund,
Once so long..."

The Screamin' Eagle says:

"The reason a dog has so many friends is because he wags his tail instead of his tongue."

The 36 boys and sponsors who made the trip were split into two groups and each group was given a guided tour of the facility. They visited the computer rooms, the armory, went to the roof, and saw various other parts of the facility.

At the noon hour they were treated to hamburgers and ice cream in the cafeteria. They concluded their tour with a trip to the fire department where each boy was able to climb aboard the fire truck.

The Scouts extend a big THANK YOU to all the personnel at PAVE PAWS for taking time to show the facility to them. It was a very educational and exciting tour for everyone.

A Touch Of History

By Rene Calcote

In 1881 windmills were beginning to be erected in West Texas. Several wells had been bored in Tom Green County, but none in Schleicher County.

C.C. Doty drilled the first well in Schleicher County in 1882. Doty was thought to be crazy to drill south of the Concho River, as people called it a dry desert. He thought water would be unlimited if he could drill deep enough.

He was right. At 52 feet he struck water, pure, clean, and cool. The location of this first well was at the "Ten Mile Water Hole". It is still in use on the J.F. Runge Ranch. Doty erected a "Star Windmill" over the well and thus brought to an end the period of the "barren prairie".

Now windmills dot the entire face of the country. Wells, windmills, and wire fence brought permanent settlement to an area formerly uninhabited. The West Texas men harnessed the wind and made it produce that one essential need, water.

There are two known caves in the county containing running water. These caves are northwest of Eldorado on the Whitten Ranch. Winding passages lead down to the water, 200 feet below the surface.

The Story is told of the early days when two outlaws, Ketchum and Adkins, hid in the cave on the Roach Ranch. During their confinement they discovered the water. Because of this discovery, wells were drilled in this area, 20 miles northwest of Eldorado.

Conservation Districts To Meet Here

The semi-annual meeting of the West Texas Association of Conservation Districts will be held in Eldorado at the Ag Barn on Monday, March 27.

There will be an interesting and informative program in the morning session on what happens to wool and mohair after it leaves the ranch. Speakers will include Ford Oglesby, wool and mohair buyer from Eldorado; Chris Lupton, director of the Wool and Mohair laboratory in San Angelo; and Glen Fisher of Sonora Wool and Mohair.

A barbecue lunch can be purchased from Ranch House Meat Company. Following lunch there will be a short business meeting. Schleicher County farmers and ranchers are invited to attend.

Good Neighbor's Meet

The Good Neighbor Extension Club met in the home of Bobbie Killebrew Monday, March 20, for their regular meeting.

The meeting was called to order by Bobbie Killebrew, president.

Nancy Lester presented the program and gave the ladies an adventure in basic cooking.

The District 7 meeting will be March 22 in Robert Lee.

Those attending the meeting were Ruth Baker, Ola Ruth Barbee, Ruby Hight, Mary Gausemiere, Hettie Bryan, Margaurite Gillaspay. Eleanor Powell, and Carolyn Hatcher.

Carolyn Hatcher showed the club members different kinds of embroidery she had made.

Games were played and refreshments of cookies and tea was served by the hostess.

Robinson-Moore Repeat Vows

Wedding vows were repeated Saturday afternoon, March 18, at 4 p.m. in the sanctuary of First Baptist Church to unite Renetta Dee Robinson and J. Weldon Moore of Lake Jackson. Dr. Don Williford, pastor of First Baptist Church of Brownwood performed the ceremony.

The rostrum of the church was decorated with large wrought iron stands intertwined with miniature English ivy and miniature white lights. A large arrangement of white and navy mums with white gladiolus in a silver bowl was on a table in center back. Navy ribbon bows and navy mums were on aisle pews.

Sharon Brown, former youth director of First Baptist Church was pianist. She played pre-nuptial music, then accompanied Ruthie Chalmers who sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer".

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Robinson of Eldorado. She is a 1985 graduate of Eldorado High School. She attended Southwest Texas State University in San Marcos for three years. Once settled in their new home, she will be attending the University of Houston to finish her degree in Political Science.

The bride wore a gown of Bridal Satin with scooped neckline, fitted waist, short puffed sleeves and deep V neck in back. The skirt had a white organza ruffle around the bottom. The center back was filled with organza ruffles, graduated from the waist, extending into a train. A large satin bow was in center back of the waist. She carried a nosegay of white and navy silk flowers which were intertwined with Baby's Breath.

The bridal veil was made of sparkle illusion tulle fastened to a headband covered with white silk roses and sprays of seed pearls.

Maid of honor was Kellye Caldwell, close friend and college roommate. The bridesmaids were: Michelle Walker, Vicki Simmons and Kara Garlitz.

They wore navy tea length dresses with gray organza ruffles around the bottom of the skirt and around the apron in back up to the waist. They carried nosegays similar to the bride's.

Flower girls were Holly and Courtney Mankin, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Mankin. They wore dresses similar to the bridesmaids and carried baskets of silk rose petals which they scattered in front of the bride.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Weldon Moore of Eldorado. He is a 1983 graduate of Baird High School and a 1988 graduate of A&M University with a Chemical Engineering Degree. He is employed by Dow Chemical Company in Lake Jackson. He wore a white tuxedo.

Best man was Gary Lapham of Port Arthur. Groomsmen were Brian Magher of Lake Jackson, Brock Watson and Russell Rhynes of Baird.

Ushers were Scott Robinson, brother of the bride, and Mike Moore, brother of the groom. The boys all wore light gray tuxedos.

Amy Robinson, sister of the bride, and Kathy Moore, sister of the groom registered guests in the lobby of the church.

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall. Assisting with the reception were: Helen Pfluger, Deann Walker, Sharon Mittel, Annthnette Mankin, Martha Hooten and Susan Johnson.

The bride's table was covered with a white satin cloth. The cake was a three-tiered white cake decorated with blue flowers.

The groom's table was also covered with a white cloth. The groom's cake was chocolate trimmed with chocolate icing and an A&M emblem in the center.

The wedding trip will be to Poconos, Pennsylvania. After the trip they will be at home in Lake Jackson.

Four Advance In Sorority

On Monday, March 13, four members of Beta Sigma Phi made another advancement on the ladder. Sissy Cheatham, Stacey Haynes, Tonya Mahanay and Ginny Standeford have moved up to the Exemplar degree. Each degree is determined by the number of years a member has been in sorority.

Following the ceremony, president Kathy Smith called the business meeting to order. Kim Clark read the minutes of the last meeting which were approved.

Kathy then passed around thank you notes from Wendi Dunagan for the scholarship awarded her and one from the West Texas Rehabilitation Center for the donations sorority made during the telethon.

Motion was made and passed to make a donation to the J.R. Goodrum family to help expedite expenses due to their recent tragedy. Along with this donation goes our heartfelt sorrow to J.R., Diana, and Johnnie

Harris, a former member of Beta Sigma Phi.

Kathy reported there will be an executive meeting this week to discuss the upcoming Founder's Day banquet among other executive business.

Other new business included a request from Sherry Lux to help serve cookies and Kool-Aid and recording of mileage during the upcoming St. Jude's Bike-A-Thon on April 8. Since this is a very busy weekend for several, it was a little hard to get enough volunteers. But there were a few who did volunteer and anyone who would like to offer their help for a couple of hours should call Stacey Haynes or Sherry Lux.

On March 27, new officers will be elected for the 1989-90 year. Everyone is urged to be there--or you may be a new officer!!

Following the close of the business meeting, refreshments were served by Mary Jenkins and Carolyn Mayo.

Woman's Club Collecting Items

Each year the Woman's Club collects items to be sent to M.D. Anderson Hospital to help cancer patients as they recuperate.

The following is a list of suggested items which they can use: baseball caps, bonnets and turbans, kitchen kits, plastic plates, plastic bowls, plastic cups, plastic glasses, pot holders and dish towels, measuring cups and spoons, potato peelers, plastic pitchers, bud vases, stationary, envelopes, calendars, bandannas, paperback books, magazines, jigsaw puzzles, yarn and fabric, and Spanish publications.

A box will be in the Schleicher County Library where you may take your items. Mrs. Tom Ratliff is the General Chairman. A representative will pick the items up and take them to her.

The woman's Club thanks everyone in advance for helping in this worthwhile cause.

The reason there are so many surnames of Smith today is that during the Middle Ages the name was used for all metalworkers, or smelters, which means "to beat."

The Way We See It...

by Lola Squires

"The race is not to the swift/or the battle to the strong,/nor does food come to the wise/or wealth to the brilliant/or favor to the learned;/but time and chance happen to them all."

Last week Paul Harvey told the story of Ed Wynn, the comedian, who started a dream for a dirt poor paper boy by giving him a ticket to the theater where Mr. Wynn was performing and buying the last dozen papers the paper boy had to sell for one dollar. The boy was Red Skelton.

In our daily lives we come in contact with many kinds of people. Mr. Wynn's is the best kind. There are also those who, instead of encouraging their fellow human beings, demean others to make themselves look good. You have heard the phrase 'born to be taken'. Well, there are several of those in this world too - good guys that have taken the fall for others and served as the scapegoat. Those who are 'born to be taken', a lot of times, come out on top because they are doing what they feel is right and not trying to get even with those who have treated them unkindly. I have to admire those, who in the face of adversity, turn to positive thoughts, bear no grudge and instead of bitterness they wish only good things for those who have treated them unfairly.

Don't you pity those who use intelligence and power to take advantage of others?

Services Help Eliminate Danger To Children

The state spent a total of $586,518 last year for major welfare programs in Schleicher County, according to Ray L. Dunavant, regional administrator for the Texas Department of Human Services.

"Medical assistance had the biggest impact, with $317,256 spent for aged and disabled residents of the county and $65,982 for families and children in the county," Dunavant said.

Food stamps worth $175,741 were issued for the fiscal year which ended August 31, while Aid to Families with Dependent Children (AFDC) totaled $27,539. Food stamps are funded entirely by the federal government, while the department determines eligibility of applicants and issues the food coupons.

The state and federal governments share in the cost of AFDC to families where needy children are deprived of support because of the absence or disability of one or both parents.

In addition to services and assistance to low-income residents of the county, the department extended protective services to 19 abused and neglected children and their parents or caretakers. These services, furnished without regard to family income, were designed to reduce or eliminate danger to children.

Ranch Certified Brucellosis-Free

John Ben Cawley, owner of the Cawley Ranch near Eldorado, has had his cattle certified brucellosis-free by the Texas Animal Health Commission (TAHC). Brucellosis, an incurable bacterial disease often called "Bang's", is highly contagious among cows during pregnancy and calving, and can cause heavy losses due to abortions or weak calves.

The Cawley Ranch herd is one of 2,035 certified in the state.

Producers with certified herds have the advantage of shipping or selling cattle with fewer restrictions. Also, certified cows sold as breeding stock may command a higher price.

To have a herd certified, a producer enters into an agreement with the TAHC and has the herd's blood tested to ensure none of the animals are infected with brucellosis. If follow-up tests 10 to 14 months later also show no evidence of the disease, the herd is certified jointly by the TAHC and the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA). To remain certified, the herd must be tested yearly and be free of brucellosis.

The TAHC and producers are working to eliminate brucellosis infection through a program that includes testing at ranches and livestock markets, removing infected cows, quarantining exposed herds, practicing management techniques to prevent spread of disease, and vaccinating calves.

Texas and six other southern states--Arkansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Florida and Louisiana--have 92 percent of the brucellosis infection in the U.S. Twenty-six states have no known infection, and 19 states have a very low infection rate. Reducing brucellosis infection in Texas could save the state's livestock industry millions of dollars by 1990, when USDA regulations will call for tougher restrictions on moving cattle from states with high infection rates.

Elementary Highlights

By Glen Nix

Eddie Childs is not the only person who gets mad. I'm mad, mad, mad. I'm mad because I am a sore loser. Our elementary students lost to Sonora in the UIL contest by 6 points! I'm really so proud of our students I could almost burst. These students worked extremely long and hard and are to be commended for a "job-well-done". The contest was very close with Sonora scoring 240 points, Eldorado-234, Iraan-209, Ozona-201, and Sheffield-79. I want to thank all of the parents and citizens for helping make the District contest a huge success. Teachers, parents and judges from other districts gave us many compliments in every aspect of the day.

We are now in the process of taking the Stanford Achievement Test. This test is a nationally normed test comparing our students to other students of the same grade and age all over the United States.

There is much preparation taking place for an exciting and helpful event for our elementary children. Parents and friends are going to renovate and remodel the playground equipment. This is a very difficult time of the year with spring planting taking place and hectic work schedules. But what better way to build togetherness and pride than in calling on all of the varied experiences and talents of our community in doing something constructive for our children.

A&M Club To Award Scholarship

The West Texas A&M Club of San Angelo will award a scholarship to a freshman student enrolling in Texas A&M University for the 1989 fall semester.

The $4,000 scholarship ($500 per semester) is awarded primarily on the basis of academic achievement and involvement in school and community activities. Financial need is considered, but is not necessarily the determining factor in selecting a recipient.

The student must be from one of the following counties: Tom Green, Coke, Runnels, Crockett, Concho, Schleicher, Irion, Sterling, Sutton or Reagan.

Interested students should contact their high school counselor or Jonathan Davis, P.O. Box 1122, San Angelo, Texas 76902, (915) 653-3291. Applications must be received by Davis no later than March 31, 1989.

THANK YOU

THANK YOU
I really want to thank you for all your prayers, letters, cards and flowers and especially for thinking of me during my stay in the hospital. It has been a long ordeal and as you can imagine, it is not over yet, but I believe the worst is over.

I under went major abdominal surgery for a large adrenal tumor. This was complicated by an infection after the operation. Thank God, the antibiotics helped and I didn't have to undergo a second operation.

Once again, thank you for all your prayers, care and concern. I need to rest at home for a month before I resume my normal scheldule. Please continue to pray for me.

Your Brother in Christ,
Father Fabian

THANK YOU

I would like to express our sincere appreciation for all the cards, flowers and condolences in the loss of my mother, Bessie Anaya. And special thanks to Lidia Vallejo, Super S Foods, Casa Arispe #1 & #2, Meyer's Grocery and the Courthouse gang.

May God Bless Each of You,
Vivian Bessie Sanchez
Jose Sanchez Family

THANK YOU

I want to take this opportunity to thank all of my friends for your kindness and concern shown during my most recent stay in the hospital.

Thanks to each of you for your cards, flowers, visits and most of all for your prayers.

Sincerely, Vesta Davis

THANK YOU

Our sincere thanks to each of you for all the kindness shown to us during Orland's stay in the hospital. We do appreciate your calls, cards, and food, but most of all for your prayers and concern.

May each of you be blessed as such in your time of need.

Sincerely, Orland and Dorothy Harris
