To all of you who entered our recipe contest: we have not forgotten you. The judge we had lined up for this contest was transferred down state, so we have had to find another group to pick the best recipes out of our entries. We hope to have the results for you, and announce the winners in the Oct. 1 edition of the McLean News, and if all goes as planned, we will present all the entered recipes in a special section of the paper.

A few days ago, I was discussing with some friends the rigors of raising children, and we agreed that some of the decisions parents have to make are not easy. Perhaps the most difficult decisions I have made in the last few years have been to force my children at different times in their lives, to become independent of me, both emotionally and financially.

As I laughed with my friends, we recalled the times we had told our children "No" to something they desperately wanted. Sometimes that "no" was prompted by financial necessity, and sometimes by the fact that we didn't want to spoil our little darlings. And that's no fun. It would be much easier to say "yes", to give them everything their hearts desire. I have hated the times my kids have been angry or hurt or upset after being denied something they desperately wanted. As a parent, however, I felt that that was part of my responsibility, to help them grow up with good character. All you parents know what I'm talking about.

But I have a confession to make. I have been such a stern parent over the years, that I intend to be (and have so far, proven to be) a totally indulgent grandmother. I intend to spoil the little ones absolutely rotten. I want their mothers to cry with their neighbors about how Granny is ruining the little tots by giving them everything.

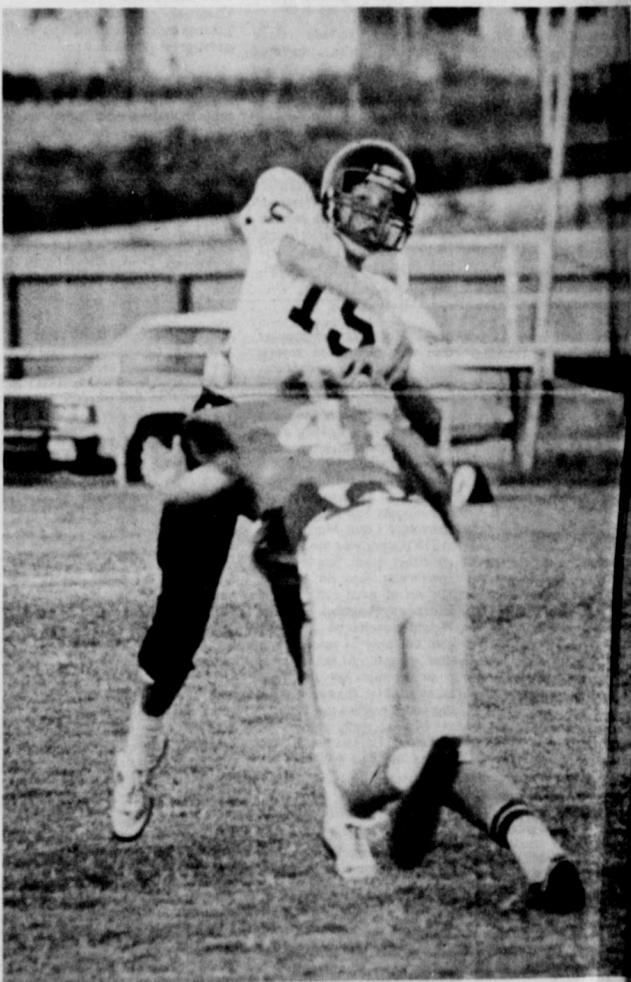

It's my kids turn to be stern and strict, and teach their kids about values, and the meaning of money, and that "everything in life is not free," and "if it's worth having, it's worth working for" and "you can't have everything you see", and "I don't care if everybody else has one, you

Tigers Lose Opener To Shamrock

Shamrock had the luck of the Irish, plus a bit of Irish brawn, with them Friday night as they downed the McLean Tigers 12-0 in McLean's opening game of the 1981 football season. Friday's homecoming victory made it two-in-a-row for the Irishmen, who trounced Phillips Sept. 4, in a hard-fought 20-19 win.

McLean's 16-man, 156 lb. average lineup managed to hold up well, however, against the 175 lb. average of Shamrock's 20-man squad.

"First game jitters hurt us, of course," said McLean head coach Jack Dorsett. "And having only four starters returning from last year was a definite disadvantage. But in places we played really well, and team-wise the Tigers did a good job."

The Tigers were stunned in the first quarter as Shamrock's Scott Barefoot returned the opening kickoff to the McLean 15-yard line. And with 10:30 left on the first quarter clock Barefoot took it on in for a touchdown, making Shamrock 6, McLean 0.

Throughout the remainder of the game McLean was stymied by an avalanche of penalties, amassing 13 by the final whistle. Shamrock was called down four times.

Despite efforts by Tiger quarterback Dudley Reynolds

JV, Cubs Lose First Games

Two McLean teams hosted out-of-town gridders in games Thursday night and the visitors walked off with both games. In the first game of the evening, the McLean Cubs lost a squeaker to Miami 8 to 6.

The host junior high team led off the scoring in the first quarter with a seven yard run on a counterplay by Russell Littlefield. The two extra-point try was no good, which would prove disastrous for McLean later in the game.

The game continued as a defensive battle until late in the fourth quarter when Miami scored on a 10-yard run. The conversion attempt was good and they led the game 8 to 6. Coach Joe Riley said he was pleased with the effort. See JU, Page 2

Bike-A-Thon Is Saturday

McLean youngsters will have a chance to ride in a bike-a-thon Saturday and at the same time help the Lions Club raise money for St. Jude's Children's Research Hospital. Contestants may get their entry blanks from Lions boss Dorman Thomas to enter the bike-a-thon, set for Saturday at 9 a.m. at the McLean Elementary School.

The bikers will follow a 1 1/2 mile course which will begin at

McLean School Board Votes To Join Gray County Appraisal District

Following a lengthy discussion, the McLean school board finally opted to join the Gray County Appraisal District at their regular board meeting Monday night in the school business office. Business manager Shirley Johnson told the board that they had to opt to either join one county's appraisal district or join the appraisal districts in all four counties which the McLean School District includes.

"The decision is irrevocable," Mrs. Johnson told the board. "Once you decide you cannot change your minds."

The board, along with other taxing entities in the state, was given an Oct. 1 deadline for deciding between the two options. The appraisal board was mandated by Senate Bill 621 which set up one central board for each county.

"There are disadvantages and advantages either way we go," board president Jim Allison remarked. "We'll probably never know which decision would have been wiser."

Mrs. Johnson outlined the disadvantages of each choice. "If the board goes with all four counties (Gray, Donley, Wheeler, and Collingsworth), you will probably have different land values in each county." She explained that each district will set the value for classes of land, and a landowner might find two adjoining pastures in different counties with widely different values.

"However, if you go with one appraisal district, the school will be obliged to pay appraisal fee for all parcels outside the county," Mrs. Johnson said. She told the board that out-of-Gray County parcels would number about 200.

"There are so many unknowns involved," superintendent Jim Rutherford told the board.

Allison said the cost of appraising the parcels out of the county would probably be about $3,000. "I'd rather pay that difference now, than have our taxpayer paying four different values," he said.

The board voted unanimously to go with the single appraisal district, and will officially become a part of the Gray County Appraisal District.

City Council Discusses Employee Pay Raises

Most of the discussion at the Sept. 8 McLean city council meeting centered on city employee raises. City superintendent Bob Glenn spoke to alderman to ask for a raise for employees, as well as compensation for overtime. He also noted that councilmen might consider paying an "on call" rate for four hours each on Saturday and Sunday, if the council expects a city employee to answer service calls during the weekend. Although he did not specify a percentage increase for overall salaries, Glenn said that overtime payments of time-and-a-half

OPINIONS

VIEWS ARE WRITTEN BY LINDA HAYNES UNLESS OTHERWISE NOTED-IF YOU HAVE AN OPINION ON ANY CURRENT SUBJECT WE WELCOME YOUR SIGNED LETTERS.

Roy Wilkins, Great American

From the Canyon Sunday News... Roy Wilkins is dead and this country has lost another of its giants.

We did not always agree with him. We always respected him. Let us say that when we look back we find that Wilkins was right on some of the issues on which we disagreed with him most vehemently.

His was the voice of reason in a babble without reason. His was the voice of calm in troubled times.

He led the NAACP for more than 20 years and was its voice through the 1950's and the 1960's.

There were those who could speak better, were more articulate, more flamboyant, but there were few who could out-think him.

He pressed for equality and freedom for black people in the citadels of power and his cool reasonableness was a persuasive force in winning them.

Wilkins urged action within the framework of the law. He always counselled against breaking the law. He urged peaceful confrontations instead of violence.

"You can count me out", he told those who suggested violent revolution.

When we look upon the lives of such men as Roy Wilkins we cannot help admiring their steadfastness, their calm devotion to a cause in which they invested their lives.

It is our firm belief that when the history of the fifties and the historic sixties are written with enough distance between them and the writer for him to be able to look back upon them with keen perspective, Roy Wilkins will have his place in the pages of that history not only as a great black leader but as a great American.

half after 8 p.m. on weekdays and for the "on call" time on weekends would be fair. City secretary Stella Lee added that an extended vacation time for employees who have worked for the city at least 15 years would be welcomed. Councilmen voted to extend vacation time to three weeks, but declined to vote on a pay raise, saying that more study of the matter would be necessary.

Along with the tabled action on payroll increases, the council decided to wait until the October meeting to approve the 1981-82 budget for the city, in order that a more thorough study of the proposed budget might be possible.

In other business, two ordinances were passed. Ordinance 204 approves the McLean tax-rate increase of 20 percent, and Ordinance 203 allows for an increase in city gas rate charges to begin Oct. 1. The rate will change from $6.50 to $7 for the first 2000 cubic feet, and from $3.10 to $3.50 for each thousand cubic feet thereafter, for in-city public school rates will increase from $3 to $3.40 for each thousand cubic feet.

Outside the city limits, and in Alareed (except for Alareed schools), the rate will increase from $6.50 to $7.50 for the first 2000 cubic feet, and go from $3.50 to $3.75 for each additional cubic feet. Alareed school rate will increase from $3.25 to $3.65 for each thousand cubic feet.

The McLean tax rate increase will change from 36 cents per $100 evaluation to 43 cents per $100 evaluation.

Councilmen also voted to lower a service charge on a sewer line repair at Dale Glass's service station from $15 to $10.

Attending the meeting were Mayor Sam Haynes, Aldermen Miro Pagan, Charles Milam, George Terry, Boyd Meador, and Dale Glass. Also there were city superintendent Bob Glenn, city secretary Stella Lee, Rocky Bailey, Harlon Poole, and Lisa Patman.

In other business, the board approved the purchase of 47 passenger bus. Rutherford told the board that the bus was budgeted for, and would cost about $25,000. He said that delivery on a smaller bus would not be until January, and he thought the school should place their order now for the big bus to get spring delivery. The bus will replace a bus which has 90,000 miles on it, Rutherford said.

The board approved Mrs. Cecil Reynolds to drive an afternoon route.

Rutherford told the board that repairs were a little behind schedule on the gym.

"We have had trouble getting some material in, and it looks like we will miss the Oct. 1 moving day by about a week or ten days," he said. The board approved spending $720 to repair a leak in the stucco wall at the gym.

In the final business of the evening, the board voted to change their meeting time to 7 p.m., beginning with the October meeting.

Attending the meeting were board members Jim Allison, Lloyd Hunt, J.C. McAnear, James Hefley, Tony Smitherman, Darrel Herndon, and Howard Gipson; Mrs. Johnson, Rutherford, and principals, Dorman Thomas and Ron Cummings.

formance of his Cubs. "They did a tremendous job, just tremendous," he said.

The junior varsity teams took the field for the second game of the evening, with the Childress Bobcats coming to McLean for a repeat of the game the week before. Childress scored in the first quarter on an intercepted pass from quarterback Elson Rice.

The Childress runner scampered 85 yards for the TD. In the second quarter, Childress scored again on a pass play.

Then McLean's Steven McAnear scored the home team's lone touchdown in the second quarter.

The two teams battled back and forth the length of the field, before Childress scored again with only 1 minute left in the game.

The game ended with Childress winning 22-6. The Cubs and the JV will host Lefors for a pair of games Thursday (tonight) with the junior high game starting at 6 p.m. and the JV beginning at 7:30 p.m.

can't have it," and "remember you're not the only one in this family who wants things," and "it's not good for you" and "you'll thank me for this when you're grown." Let them repeat all those things that I said to them, that my mother said to me, and her mother probably said to her.

It's my turn now to be the good guy. Now I want to be the one the kids are talking about when they say "Granny wouldn't say no!" I want to buy the granddaughter a dress at the best store in Pampa instead of at the less expensive department stores. I want to buy the grandson a neat Star Wars toy that is totally frivolous. I want to slip the boys a little money when we go see them, something they can have to spend as they please. Let their moms and dads be the heavies, the bad guys.

I'm serving notice, my darling grown up children. Granny intends to have a blast with her grandkids. Just think of me as one of those things you'll have to teach your children to rise above.

But don't you forget all the lessons I taught you, and you teach those kids! I want to indulge them totally, but I don't want them acting like spoiled brats!! In case you haven't figured it out yet, that's the way it works. If grandparents do the spoiling, you parents do the correcting, and you ignore us when we tell you "not to be so hard" on the little kids. Our spoiling and your discipline will be just the right combination to make terrific kids!

A rather unusual situation has come to our attention, thanks to J. Boyd Smith who is an active worker in the local Masonic lodge. The Masonic Home and School in Fort Worth is equipped and staffed to handle 400 children, but at the present time only has 120 children. Tom Land, Texas' Grand Master of the Lodge, has issued a special call to all Masons to recommend children to the home. Here are the rules governing the admission of children into the home:

1. Applications for admission of children into the home must be made by the Texas Masonic Lodge of which the father or grandfather is, or was at the time of death, a Master Mason in good standing.

2. Children whose mother is deceased and whose father is living will be admitted providing financial and home conditions merit special consideration.

3. Children may be admitted from broken homes; however, all such applications are considered on the basis of individual need.

4. A child legally adopted will be given equal consideration.

5. A child must be three years of age and not more than 13 years of age to be admitted.

6. Children who are mentally, physically, defective are not eligible for admission. (The Home has no special facilities for these children)

7. The Home does not take children for pay or for temporary care.

If you know of a child who needs help, and he fits these qualifications, contact J. Boyd Smith or any member of the McLean Lodge and they will help you make application.

Don't forget! School will be dismissed for the students Monday. Teachers will have a service training day, but the kids will be free to go to the In-State Fair in Amarillo or just spend the day at home.

game. McLean's Van Boucher also was notable on several good plays, with two Shamrock fumble recoveries to his credit.

The second half of the game saw Tiger fans looking a bit more hopeful as a renewed Theron Stubbs led the defensive line in halting several hard drives by Shamrock, and both Spooky Smith and varsity newcomer Craig Morris, who at 115 pounds was the lightest on either team, made some spectacular stops. But McLean ran out of juice early in the fourth as Shamrock's Willie Wright scampered over the goal line only 54 seconds into that quarter. A failed extra point attempt left the final tally at 12 for Shamrock and a big goose egg for the Tigers.

"I was really proud of McLean," Dorsett noted "We moved the ball well, and we managed to move them back from our own 30 yard line several times. There is no doubt, we definitely had a chance at the ball game."

McLean is slated to play at Silverton Sept. 18 at 8 p.m. Prognosis for Tiger recovery is good. "Silverton's backs are tough and quick, and they have an exceptional quarterback," Dorsett said. "But I think we have an excellent chance to win this one." Silverton is 0-2 for the year, having been rolled over by Ralls last Friday in a 43-12 decision, and losing to Claude in their first game of the season.

Shamrock officials noted that attendance at Friday's game was higher than it had been in a long time, adding that there seemed to be more fans than usual from McLean.

GRIDIRON GRABBERS

Brian Sipe, Joe Namath, and Dan Fouts are the only quarterbacks in the history of the National Football League to pass for more than 4,000 yards in a single season.

Former Green Bay quarterback Bart Starr holds the record for most consecutive passes thrown without an interception--29--straight during the 194-1965 season.

Senator Bill Sarpalius Reports

THE FUTURE OF AGRICULTURE

AUSTIN - We begin hearings on two important subjects for the Senate Agriculture Subcommittee in San Antonio on September 28. We will study public funding for agricultural research and loan guarantees for agricultural land.

The importance of these two subjects is obvious. First, agriculture is a science, and like any other science, depends on research and development for its continued growth. Many varieties of crops now grown were unknown a few years ago. Many techniques that farmers now use are of recent vintage. Good examples of this are new techniques for saving water in irrigation.

We will examine the State's role in agricultural research, with an eye to future legislation. Some topics on the agenda are the state agricultural extension service, soil conservation and agricultural experiment stations.

These institutions have served us well in the past, but we will be trying to find ways to improve them for the future.

We will take testimony on a farm loan guarantee program to see how this program could help qualified people acquire money to enter into or expand agricultural programs. Agriculture is a dynamic industry, and therefore needs capital like any other industry.

In this day and age, there can be no doubt that government will be involved in agriculture, just like it is involved in any other industry. The problem is finding the right balance for that involvement, so that we go further, rather than hinder, agricultural interests. That is the basic question for us as we begin our interim study.

We were fortunate to be appointed chairman of the Senate Agriculture Subcommittee in our first term in the Senate. We plan to see that chairmanship to help the valuable Texas agricultural industry. We need your help to do a good job for agriculture. Please write Senator Bill Sarpalius, P.O. Box 12068, Austin, Texas 78711.

Pampa Hospital Names Anesthesiologist

Coronado Community Hospital this week announced the appointment of Dr. A.C. Cura as anesthesiologist for the new 126 bed hospital, according to Norman Knox, administrator.

Knox said the appointment of Cura as anesthesiologist will mean area physicians will be able to schedule more complex surgical procedures than previously possible.

In the past, registered nurse anesthetists have been responsible for administration of anesthesia.

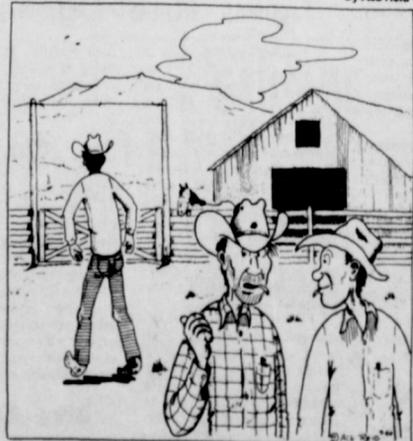

The hospital administrator cited the appointment as another indication of the hospital's continuing efforts to bring well-qualified specialists to meet the needs of the community.

"We are still looking for key specialists, such as an orthopedic surgeon, an ophthalmologist, and a gynecologist," Knox said. "Hopefully, we will have equal success in these areas as we are able to enjoy in securing an anesthesiologist."

In The Kitchen

by Linda Haynes

With school starting, everyone seems to get busier. If you have trouble finding time to cook the evening meal, try one of these quick "supper in a skillet" recipes. They are easy to prepare and quick to clean up after.

SKILLET CHICKEN

2 whole chicken breast, split and skinned salt to taste
1/4 cup margarine
1/4 cup dry white wine
1/2 cup plum or currant jelly
1/2 cup commercial sour cream
Sprinkle chicken with salt. Melt butter in a large skillet. Add chicken and cook until golden brown. Reduce heat to low; add wine. Cover and cook 30 minutes.

Remove chicken; add jelly to pan drippings, stirring until blended. Return chicken to skillet, meaty side down; cover and cook 15 minutes or until done, basting frequently. Remove chicken to serving platter. Stir sour cream into sauce and cook just until heated. Pour sauce over chicken.

BEEFY NOODLE DINNER

1/2 lb. ground beef
1 medium onion, chopped
1 small clove of garlic, crushed
2 tablespoons minced fresh parsley
1 (6 oz.) can tomato paste
2 1/2 cups water
1 tsp. sugar
1/2 tsp. salt
1/2 tsp. pepper
2 cups medium egg noodles
grated Parmesan cheese

Combine ground beef, onion, garlic, parsley, in a large skillet; cook over medium heat until meat is brown, stirring frequently. Drain well. Stir tomato paste, water, sugar, salt, and pepper into meat. Reduce heat to low; cover and cook 10 minutes. Add noodles; cover and cook about 20 minutes or until noodles are done, stirring occasionally. Serve with Parmesan cheese, if desired.

Drug Abuse Institute Scheduled

PRPC—The Eighth Annual Panhandle Abuse Institute is scheduled for Sept. 24 and 25 in West Texas State University's Student Activity Center. It will feature over 20 guest speakers from across the state and nation who will hold workshops on a variety of alcohol and drug-related topics.

One of the most prominent participants will be Robert Fredericks, coordinator of education services for Operation CORK, a San Diego-based alcoholism education program. The CORK system was originated by Joan Kroc. She is the wife of Ray Kroc, the owner of the McDonald's hamburger chain and the San Diego Padres.

Another headliner of the two-day institute will be Ken Eaton, director of substance abuse programs for the state of Michigan. Eaton will talk about developments in the area of alcoholism and drug abuse prevention. Fredricks will deal with the CORK employee systems program. State Senator Bill Sarpalius will be the luncheon speaker during the first day's activities. Sarpalius was instrumental in getting legislation passed during the last session raising the drinking age to nineteen.

Professionals and volunteers in substance abuse areas benefit directly from the workshops held during the annual institute. Several of the sessions are planned specifically for the medical community. They include presentations on nutrition, the addictive personality and the impaired physician. The general public is also encouraged to attend the two-day session.

Advance registration fee for the institute is $20 by Sept. 18. Late registrants will pay $25 at the door. It is being co-sponsored by ten Amarillo and Panhandle area alcoholism, political, social service and educational organizations. Last year over 190 attended the institute in Canyon.

Sunday, members of the Baptist Church were here to conduct services for the residents.

Monday, we had a record attendance with 18 playing Bingo. Assisting Charlene Barker was Betty Lopez. Due to Monday being a holiday, cookies were served instead of bananas. No complaints were received from our residents, as they are so easy to please.

Tuesday, several of the ladies quilted; we will soon have a quilt ready for our next Bazaar.

Wednesday members of the Baptist Church conducted our Bible Study and returned Thursday for a Sing-a-Long. Also Thursday several of our residents shelled peas which were picked from their garden. They seemed to enjoy this, however, we could have used more peas. Following the shelling, Kitty Hesse played the piano.

Our next Ladies Auxiliary meeting will be this coming Wednesday, Sept. 23 at 2 p.m. in the Activity Room. We urge all members to attend and anyone who wishes to join the Auxiliary.

PUBLIC NOTICE

BRIEF EXPLANATORY STATEMENTS OF PROPOSED

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENTS

SPECIAL ELECTION
NOVEMBER 3, 1981

PROPOSITION NO. 1 ON THE BALLOT

Senate Joint Resolution 8 proposes a constitutional amendment that would allow the legislature to authorize cities, towns and other taxing units to grant exemptions from ad valorem taxes on an unproductive, underdeveloped or blighted area in order to encourage its development. The amendment would also allow the legislature to authorize a city or town to issue bonds or notes to finance this development and to pledge future increases in ad valorem tax revenues from the property in such areas to repay these bonds or notes.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to authorize cities, towns, and other taxing units to encourage the improvement, development, or redevelopment of certain areas through property tax relief and the issuance of bonds and notes."

PROPOSITION NO. 2 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 117 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize a person to receive a patent to land from the Commissioner of the General Land Office under certain conditions. Application for the patent must be made within five years from approval of the amendment. The land must be surveyed, public free school land not previously patentable. The person must have a properly recorded deed to the land, which he acquired without knowledge of the patent defect and which title he and his predecessors in interest have held for at least 50 years. The person and his predecessors in interest must have continuously claimed the land and paid the taxes for at least 50 years. This amendment does not apply to beach land, submerged land, or islands. An applicant may not use this provision to resolve a boundary dispute. This amendment will not apply to land which has been determined to be state-owned by a court of competent jurisdiction or that has a productive state mineral lease on the effective date of the amendment. The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the commissioner of the General Land Office to issue patents for certain public free school fund land held in good faith under color of title for at least 50 years as of November 15, 1981."

PROPOSITION NO. 3 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 38 proposes a constitutional amendment that would enable the legislature to grant to a state finance management committee the authority to manage state funds. Funds constitutionally dedicated to specific purposes would not be subject to committee management. The committee would be composed of the Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Speaker of the House of Representatives, Chairman of the Senate Finance Committee, Chairman of the House Appropriations Committee, Chairman of the Senate State Affairs Committee, and the Chairman of the House of Representatives Ways and Means Committee.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to allow the legislature to grant to a state finance management committee the power to manage the expenditure of certain appropriated funds."

PROPOSITION NO. 4 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 6 proposes a constitutional amendment that would provide that one-half of the surplus tax revenues above the spending limit provided by Article VIII, Section 22, of the Texas Constitution would be placed in a Water Assistance Fund to be used as provided by law, including projects for water development and conservation, water quality enhancement, and flood control purposes or any combination of these purposes.

The amendment also provides $500,000,000 of the general credit of the state to guarantee bonds issued in commercial markets by local political subdivisions, including cities, counties, and special districts. The amendment allows amounts to be established to decrease or retire state debt, which is defined as that debt secured by the full faith and credit of the state. The amendment would raise the interest that could be paid on authorized, but unused, bonds guaranteed by the full faith and credit of the state from 6% to 12%.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the use of a portion of the excess revenues of the state for water development, water quality enhancement, and flood control purposes; authorizing the use of the state's credit, not to exceed five hundred million dollars, to guarantee the bonds of cities, counties, towns, and other units of local government in the financing of projects for such purposes; increasing the interest rate that may be paid on previously approved, but unused, state bonds; and authorizing a program to retire state bonds."

PROPOSITION NO. 5 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 49 proposes a constitutional amendment that would exempt livestock and poultry from taxation. Currently, farm products in the hands of the producer and family supplies for home and farm use are exempt.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment to provide for the inclusion of livestock and poultry with farm products as exempt from taxation."

PROPOSITION NO. 6 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 81 authorizes the governing body of a county, city, school district or other political subdivisions to exempt from taxation a portion of the market value of a residence homestead. The portion exempted may be as much as 40% for 1982-1984; 30% for 1985-1987; and 20% for 1988 and after. The amount of an exemption may not be less than $5,000 unless the legislature by general law prescribes other monetary restrictions on the amount of the exemption. An eligible adult is allowed to receive other applicable exemptions provided by law. An exception is made where ad valorem tax has previously been pledged for the payment of debt.

The amendment further directs the legislature to require that notice be given to property owners of a reasonable estimate of tax on their property in certain situations.

PROPOSITION NO. 7 ON THE BALLOT

House Joint Resolution 4 proposes a constitutional amendment that would authorize the Veterans' Land Board to issue and sell an additional $250,000,000 in bonds increasing the Veterans' Land Fund's total bond issuance authorization from $700,000,000 to $950,000,000. The amendment would increase the maximum interest payable by the state on these bonds from 6% to 10%, and permit an even higher rate, if specified by the legislature.

The proposed amendment will appear on the ballot as follows: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the issuance of additional bonds to finance the veterans' land program and to increase the maximum interest rate allowable on veterans' land fund bonds."

Sentimental Journey

Gonna' take a sentimental journey,

Gonna' take a sentimental journey,

Got my bag, I got my reservations. Spent each dime I could afford.

There is something about a train. It's not just that lonesome whistle, or the pounding of the wheels on the track; it's an entire aura, an age goneby, when life was a little less hurried, a bit more relaxed.

When I got the call--"We saw a train on the way to McLean--It had a dozen or so old passenger cars that looked like the kind I used to ride during the war."--I grabbed a camera and jumped into my car, estimating just where the engine would be about now--(let's see, considering the age of the cars, the condition of the track, and the fact that there hasn't been much railroad traffic around here since the Rock Island went down. I'll bet it's about ten miles on the other side of Alanreed.) It passed me about two miles this side of Alanreed. I had missed another train.

Finally finding a spot to turn around, I drove madly back to McLean (patrolmen, beware!), again calculating where I would find a good place to snap a photo (let's see, it was going pretty fast, and it took me a long time to turn around--I'll probably find it just this side of Shamrock. It was stopped right in the heart of McLean. The crew had gone to lunch.

The engineer, too proud of his cargo to leave it, was lurching on a can of sausages and some cheese. "Sure," he said "take a look around, aren't they something?"

And they were. Proud and haughty, wearing gowns of cobwebs and dust, the dozen old ladies sat like ancient royalty, patiently awaiting the return of the men who would guide them to their final destination.

Stepping inside was like traveling through time. I remembered looking out the same windows at the same crop of sunflowers along the same track bed. I could have sworn that there were ghosts--spirits of men going off to war, of sweethearts taking that last journey before leaving for "over there", maybe the soft echo of a sweet lullaby sung to a drowsy baby.

"She may be a used up shell now," I thought, "but she's seen her day. Those milk-glass lights have taken away the gloom from a dark night. And these horsehair padded seats have rested many a weary traveler." I could almost feel the floor swaying beneath my feet.

"All Aboard!"

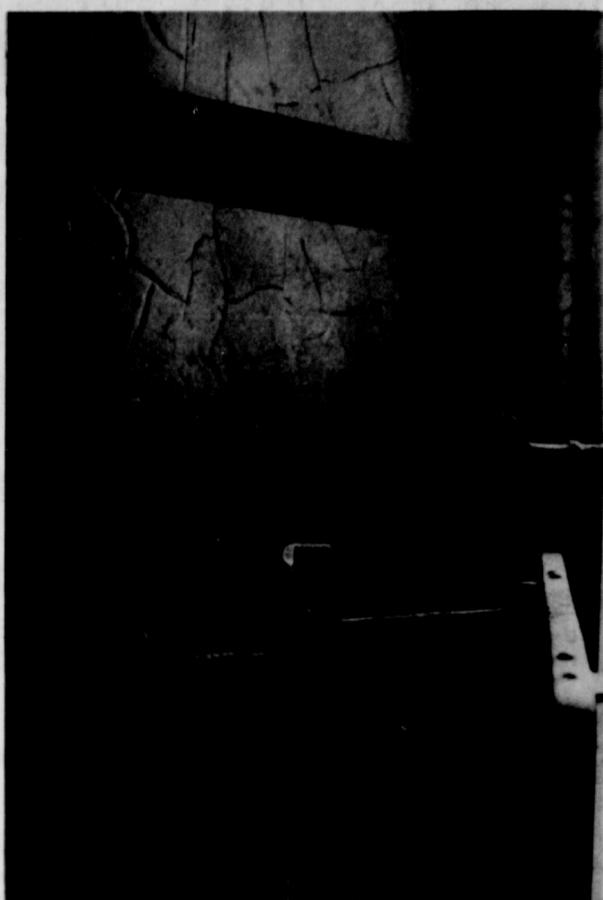

I jumped, thinking my sentimental journey had gone a bit far. Then I realized it was the returning crew, basing me about my reverie.

The engineer said he ad heard that some fellow in Oklahoma was going to turn the old girls into hamburger studs. Another said he had heard they were going to be auctioned off to the highest bidder. I thought I saw a mist in the engineer's eyes as he talked about it.

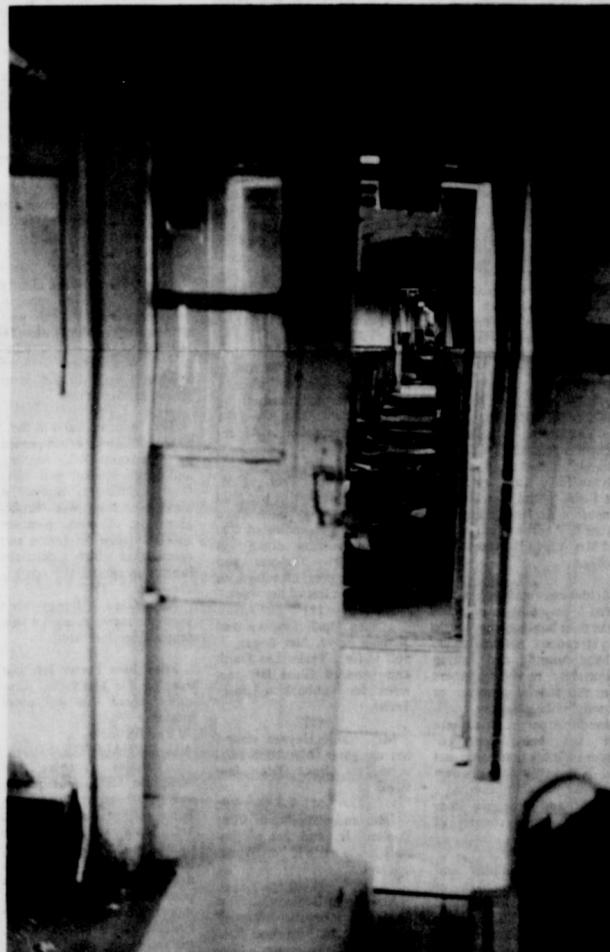

I watched them as they headed down the track to Oklahoma--to the final stop. I looked around and found myself standing knee-deep in weeds--and the 1981--the time of fast cars, speeding planes, and rushed lives. But for awhile I had lived in the land of Remember When, I'd imagined the powerful rumble of the rails, the soothing rocking of a train passing in the night. I drove home a little slower.

McLean's Tigers sank the Lefors Pirates 14 to 6 Friday night. Tommy Duniven ran 95 yards for the Tiger's first touchdown in the first quarter, and the extra point kick was successful. Mike Robbins, a Lefors Pirate, gave them their first touchdown with a 25 yard run over left end. The pass made for four extra points was incomplete. During the third quarter, George Danner put McLean's second touchdown on the scoreboard with a 5 yard run. The kick for extra points was again successful, this making the score 14 to 6 in McLean's favor.

Lawrence Welks Musical Family Album
Lawrence Welk with Bernice McGeeham
This volume is the fourth in a group of books by Lawrence Welk and was preceded by "Wunnerful, Wunnerful," "Ah-One Ah-Two," and "My America, Your America."

This book presents a special problem in attempting to review it, as it is simply a collection of photographs (mostly colored) and captions showing members of Lawrence's musical family as well as older photographs depicting Lawrence from his earliest days with his parents in Strasburg, North Dakota, and his rise to fame and popularity in the musical world.

You will certainly enjoy the many individual pictures of all the members of the band, and you will want to read the captions with each picture which will present you with some hitherto unknown information about each one of your favorites.
Enjoy seeing all your favorites from the early days of Norma Zimmer, The Lennon Sisters and Myron Floren to the fabulous Trio, Sandi, Gail and Mary Lou of today, and learn something of the families

Wheat Acreage Reduced This Year
Secretary of Agriculture, John R. Block, has announced his intentions to implement a 15 percent "reduced acreage" program for the 1982 wheat crop to offset the effects of record supplies and depressed wheat prices.
Program operating procedures will be issued after pending farm legislation is enacted into law.
"Wheat supplies in the United States are 14 percent above last year," Block has said.

FOOD AND NUTRITION

It is once again time to begin thinking about a Food and Nutrition project for 1981. You can be in a project group without entering the Food Show which will be held in November.

The objective for the County 4-H Food Show is:

1. To give 4-H members an opportunity to be recognized for their achievements in the 4-H foods and nutrition program.
2. To give 4-H members, juniors and adult leaders an opportunity to further develop their leadership skills by serving on committees to plan, carry out and evaluate the county food show and food and nutrition project.
3. To give 4-H members, leaders and others an opportunity to make learning both useful and fun.

If you are interested in participating in the 4-H Food Project, please contact the County Extension Service at 669-7429.

4-H'ERS HELP AMERICANS EAT 'HIGH OFF THE HOG'
Ham, the oldest-known of all preserved meats, may have been eaten as early as 7000 B.C. and is still a big favorite on dinner tables around the world.

Young U.S. hog producers can help boost consumption of ham and fresh pork by enrolling in the national 4-H swine program. The program is conducted by the Extension Service and supported by Wilson Foods Corp.

4-H members in the program learn-by-doing about swine breeding, production, management and marketing. They care for feeder pigs, raise market hogs or develop a continuous hog breeding operation.

And they learn to identify wholesale and retail cuts of pork, judge their quality, and understand their importance to human nutrition.

Many 4-H'ers 9-19 benefit from the advice of university specialists at swine short-courses, such as the one held annually at Texas A & M University. Youth can also exhibit their animals at numerous fairs and livestock shows over the state.

4-H swine projects are educational and fun, and they offer young people opportunities for recognition. Wilson Foods annually provides $50 U.S. Savings Bond for one 4-H member in each state and six $1,000 scholarships at the national level. Scholarship winners also receive expense paid trips to National 4-H Congress in Chicago.

Winners are chosen by the Extension Service and awards are arranged by the National 4-H Council.

Boys and girls can learn more about the 4-H swine program and other 4-H activities by contacting the county Extension Office.

Loose Marbles
by Lisa Patman
Lament of the Football Widow

The dull football season's begun.
It's snuffed out my late summer fun.
We "Widows" abound.
And lately I've found
That I feel like Attila the Hun.

"Good Grief!" I scream, as I turn red.
"Turn that set off and come on to bed!
I've heard quite enough
Of that dumb football stuff!
Turn it off while your team is ahead!"

"If you don't, I'll call you a dumb fool
With a head like an old bad-blamed mule.
You're a numbskull to boot.
And I don't give a hoot
If I hit you when I lose my cool."

"I'm overreacting, you say.
Well at least I don't spend half my day
Looking into the tube
Like some half-witted boob
Waiting for an old athlete to play."

"You're a fool! You are crazy! You're nuts!
A real man would have enough guts
To turn off the T.V..
Wave 'bye-bye' to Landry.
And forget all those 'one-two-three-huts'."

"Please, my love, come away from the screen
Before you turn 'Astroturf' green.
I'll do anything
I'll laugh, dance or sing.
Just to get you away from this scene."

"Wait a minute! Did you see that pass?
And see that guy? He's flat on his grass!
Won't you scoot over, Hon?
Football's really such fun!
While you're up, Dear, please refill my glass."

Notes From Your County Agricultural Agent

by Joe Van Zandt

We have just received a supply of order forms for windbreak seedlings available from the Texas Forest Service at Lubbock.

These seedlings are sold on a first come basis and if you want any, order immediately. Bare root hardwoods are priced at $20 per hundred while containerized conifers are priced at $30 per thirty. These seedlings are for windbreak purposes and are not for landscaping or ornamental purposes.

Call or come by the County Extension Office for an order form. Hardwoods available are: Bur Oak, Green Ash, Honeylocust, Mulberry, Native Austrian Pine, Ponderosa Pine and Red cedar. CATTLE A YEAR OLD

CATTLE, a computerized auction and contract market for feeder-stocker cattle in Texas, is completing its first year of operation. The system began with 18 market locations over the state and now boasts 29. CATTLE provides auction markets, order buyers, feedlots and producer marketing organizations a fast, efficient method of pricing, locating and obtaining cattle. And it gives cattlemen another pricing mechanism. Qualified, experienced graders make the system go. Fifty-five graders have been certified by Texas A & M.

CATTLEMEN EXPANDING HERDS

Despite poor prices and market uncertainty, cattlemen continue to expand their herds. Latest figures show cattle and calves on U.S. farms and ranches up 2 percent or almost 2 million head from a year ago—a total of 125 million head, as of July 1. However, steers 500 pounds or over were down 2 percent from a year ago, reflecting reduced cattle feeding and increased calf and non-fed cattle slaughter. This year's calf crop is short due mainly to last year's drought which lowered calving rates.

AGRICULTURE COMPUTER WORKSHOP

Computers are no longer strangers to the agriculture industry. They offer a new dimension in farming and ranching that can help producers obtain more accurate information on which to base management decisions.

To give producers, agricultural leaders and others a better understanding of the role of computers and their actual application, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A & M University System, will be conducting a special computer workshop September 13-24 at the Civic Center in Lubbock.

The workshop on "Computers in Farm and Ranch Management" is designed to provide an introduction to several different computer systems available today.

Participants will have an opportunity to get some 'actual' experience by operating several different computer programs. Everyone attending should have time to run a computer, using his own farm or ranch data. This will be a true "hands-on workshop."

First day of the workshop will feature discussions on various computer systems, their role in agriculture, how to select one, available programs, and farmer experience with computers.

Four "work" sessions will round out the workshop the next morning. These will deal with micro farm accounting systems, livestock management decision aids, crop management decision aids, and financial projections and pricing aids.

Speakers and resource personnel during the two-day workshop include Extension economists and several farmers and ranchers who will talk about how they use computers in their operations.

Commercial exhibits will also be on hand.

As an indication of the interest in computers in agriculture, an earlier similar workshop in Corpus Christi attracted some 140 individuals from six states.

Registration information is available from any county Extension agent or from Marvin Sartin, Texas A & M University Research and Extension Center, Rt. 3, Box 213 AA, Lubbock, Texas 79401.
