High Plains Conference

Ways to improve irrigation efficiency and curtail production costs, guidelines to determine whether to convert from one system to another, and details regarding state loans to obtain water conserving equipment were pre-sented to some 200 farmers, ranchers and agribusiness leaders during the annual High Plains Irrigation Con-

High Plains Irrigation Con-ference in Amarillo.

In addition, a panel of farmers related their exper-iences with surge, low energy precision application systems and moisture sen-sing devices. Farmers also viewed displays of irrigation equipment by 20 commercial equipment by 20 commercial suppliers.

The conference is an annual highlight of the continuing educational effort of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service to help producers make more efficient and effective use of irrigation water, said Paul Gross, district Extension director.

He cited more than two decades of demonstrates district Extension director.

He cited more than two decades of demonstrations on area farms, showing how to improve row watering, merits of surge and low energy precision application (LEPA), ways to reduce tailwater runoff, retain water on the soil, reduce energy consumption and costs, and improve pumping efficiency.

Results of Extension tests on more than 600 wells and pumping systems have been placed on computers to give producers instant access to information applicable to their situations, Gross said.

"For a number of years, we've asked county Extension agents to put out demonstration.

we've asked county Extension agents to put out demonstration handbooks" which provide the information gained through these onfarm demonstrations, he said. "Go by your county agent's office and use those demonstration handbooks" agent's office and use those demonstration handbooks," he urged. Improving the efficiency of an irrigation pump engine by one percent cuts fuel costs by five percent, said Don Hardy, head of Don Hardy Race Cars in Floydada. Hardy said he began working with Leon New, Extension irrigation specialist and engineer, in 1981 to find ways to improve pumping engine efficiency.

He noted that truck engines popular in powering irrigation systems were designed to run on 90 octane gasoline, but were being used on natural gas. This requires modifications to improve efficiency, he said. Making the motors last under the heavy stress of pumping requires still other adjustments.

Producers considering improvements to their irrigation systems need to look at more than the cost of the equipment. Other factors include savings of energy, water and labor, as well as uniformity and effectiveness of irrigation.

He cited a study compar-

He cited a study compar-ing cost effectiveness of converting from furrow to im-proved furrow, to surge, or the sprinkler; from sprinkler to improved sprinkler or LEPA.

"Every situation is differ-ent, depending upon the effi-ciency you have now," Dr. Steve Amosson said. He said that, as a general rule, the study indicates that going from furrow to improved furrow, or from sprinkler to LEPA would be profitable;

but going all the way from furrow system to LEPA wouldn't be profitable.

After his release from the service in World War I, Evan and Leona Elizabeth Watkins, his childhood sweetheart, whose father's land adjoined the Bar-Lo Ranch, were married September 22, 1918, in Sayre, Oklahoma. On September 22, 1985, they celebrated their 67th anniversary.

They lived the first nine years of marriage on the ranch where their three hildren were born; Spencer Bell, November 12, 1919, Dorothy Marion, April 30, 1922, and Frances Eleanor, September 29, 1925. In 1927 they moved to McLean. Evan was still involved in the operation of the ranch.

Mr. Sitter was a self-educated man. As early as the 1920's, he conducted successful solar radiation experiments. By invitation, he became a member of the National Academy of Sciences. He and his son, Spencer, proposed the paving of Highway 273 between McLean and Hedley and served on the committee to present to the state in Austin its importance to the Panhanpresent to the state in Austin its importance to the Panhan-

Concerned with the war effort during World War II, Mr. Sitter contributed a number of inventions and patents to the War Department. One of them was acknowledged in correspondence as having directly contributed to the sinking of a German warship in the North Sea.

For several years, Mr. Sitter was on the Board of the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society and a member of the Gray County Historical Survey Committee. He is also listed in the Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City.

He was a charter member and president of the Lions Club. He served as president of the McLean School Board for several years and also on the City Council. He was a charter member of the Hillcrest Cemetery Association which has become the Hill-

He was an avid reader—his life long love for reading and good literature inspired his own writing talents. His personal and business letters through the years are treasured and kept.

Mr. Sitter was a member of the Presbyterian Church, where he served as Elder, Clerk of the Session, treasurer and teacher. Although there was a slump in November registrations when comments trations when compared to the same month in 1984, year-to-date new car and truck registrations continued to improve and the registra-tions for all of 1985 are expected to challenge the record set in 1978 of more than 1.054 million new cars and trucks registered during a 12-month period.

According to the numbers supplied by the R.L. Polk Co., the November decline was uniform when comparing registrations of cars to trucks and when comparing the registrations of one manufacturer to the others. Fondren said the decline was expected when the three domestic manufacturere ended their incentive programs in early October.

In August, September and part of October, the General Motors Corp., the Ford Motor Co. and the Chrysler Corp. offered reduced-rate financing to move 1985 and ng to move 1985 models. GM offered a 7.7 percent interest rate on selected models. Ford met GM's intrate on selected rebates. Chrysler reduced its interest rate to 7.5 percent and offered rebates.

New car registrations in ovember were 42,260, November were 42,260, down 11.6 percent from November 1984. However, new car registrations January through November 1985 were up 6.9 percent from the

New truck registrations in November declined 11.9 per cent to 27,551, but year-to ed 11.9 perdate registrations were up

8.6 percent.

Combined new car and truck registrations in Nov-ember 1985 were down 9,272 to 69,811. However, the first 11 months of 1985 saw combined new car and truck registrations increase 7.5 from 953,820 in 1984 to 1,026,170 in 1985.

While the domestic manufacturers were experiencing a decline in November, the import car registrations continued to improve. Registra-tions of new import cars last November increased 23 percent over the same month the preceeding year and year-to-date registrations climbed 17.7 percent. Of the 31,634 new trucks registered year-to-date, the truck imports accounted for 13,675 of

At the end of the 11-month period, 25.2 percent of the new cars registered in Texas were imports.

Texas Become Delinquent February 1 delinquent By payin

On February 1, most of the unpaid property taxes in Texas become delinquent property taxes.

"It pays to pay property taxes on time," said Ron Patterson, executive director Patterson, executive director of the State Property Tax Board. "Delinquent taxpayers must pay additional penalty and interest charges, and they run the risk of lawsuits, clouded land titles, and even seizure and sale of their property if they make no effort to pay."

Patterson emphasized that even property owners who do pay their property taxes on time or else face additional delinquency charges. "Texas law states that failure to receive a tax bill does not relieve the taxpayer of his responsibility for paying property taxes on time," he perty taxes on time," he explained.

Most taxing units mail tax bills in October or November with a delinquency date of February 1. "If Feb. 1 is drawing near and a taxpayer has not yet received a tax bill," Patterson advised, "he heard to contact the local appraisal district or taxing units to find out how much tax he owes and to make sure the correct name and address information is on record."

In most cases, property axes that remain unpaid on taxes that remain unpaid on Feb. 1 are considered delinquent. The delinquency date is postponed for tax bills that are mailed after Jan. 10. Special payment plans offered by some taxing units also result in later delinquency

In all cases, the delinguency date will appear on the tax bill. All taxpayers must be given at least 21 days to pay after their bills are sent before their taxes become

By paying before Feb. 1, taxpayer avoids penalty interest charges. Regular penalty charges can go as high as 12 percent, and interest is charged at the rate of one percent per month.
"For example," said Patterson, "someone who pays taxes a year late will have to pay the original amount plus an additional 24 percent in negative and interest." penalty and interest.

responding to the warnings and paying their bills, responding to the warnings and paying their bills, taxpayers can avoid the expense of a delinquent tax suit and the risk of losing their property to pay the overdue taxes," said Pat-

State law protects home-owners age 65 and over from tax suits and seizure of their homes. By filing a "tax deferral affidavit" with the appraisal district, an elderly homeowner can postpone paying taxes on his home for as long as he owns the home and lives in it. If the over-65 homeowner has been sued for delinquent taxes, he can suspend the suit by filing a tax deferral affidavit with the

The tax deferral only postpones tax payments—it does not cancel them. The taxes, penalties and interest will continue to add up. Once the property changes hands, these taxes become due immediately.

Some tax collectors allow delinquent taxes to be paid in installments. By signing an installment agreement, the delinquent taxpayer is admitting that he owes all the taxes covered by the agree-ment. However, he cannot be sued for delinquent taxes as long as he makes the installment payments on time and keeps other property taxes paid up.

The tax collector's last resort is to sue for delinquent taxpayer. If a delinquent tax suit is successful, the court costs are added to the tax bill. The court will give the taxpayer one final chance to pay before ordering the pro-perty seized and auctioned to pay the taxes.

Delinquent taxes cannot be avoided by selling or transferring the property.

Taxing units hold a tax lien on each item of taxable on each item of taxable property. This tax lien gives them the power to forclose on the lien and seize the property, even if its ownership is changes. "As a result," Patterson explained, "someone who buys real estate can" of the clear title until all one who buys real estate can't get a clear title until all the delinquent taxes on the property are paid."

In addition, the law makes each person who owns taxable property on Jan. 1 personally liable for the taxes. The Jan. 1 owner can be sued personally for unpaid taxes even if he has sold or transferred the property.

"Property owners can avoid these extra charges and legal problems by paying their property taxes on time," said Patterson. "If their taxes are overdue, they should contact the tax collec-tor without further delay and make arrangements to pay."

Now Is Time To Make Scholarship Application

The month of January is a critical time for students to start applying for summer and fall financial aid, according to the director of the largest private scholarship search firm in the country.

Numerous private grants and scholarships, sponsored by corporations, trade and civic groups and private foundations are available this year, according to the director. It has been estimated that one-fourth of all financial aid comes from the private sector and in a number of cases is not based on parents' financial data as much as student activities and interests. A major qualimuch as student activities and interests. A major qualification is a student's selected major with a number of new scholarships available in computer programming, business, law health and communications. The Scholarship Bank provides each student with 65 sources of directly relevant financial aid from a data base of over 25,000 scholarships. The search includes not only major, but geographic major, but geographic desires, age, religion, type of aid sought, and parent's employer, union or military background.
