Ray's 'Retin'

By RAY MARTIN

Everybody has certain phrases that jar on his nerves. Newsmen especially are sensitive to such expressions. There's nothing that upsets a newsman, for instance, like reading in a story that "Mr. and Mrs. Jones carried their niece to Dallas." Often wonder if they don't get pretty tired, toting their niece all the way from here to Dallas. But maybe they alternate the carrying job and don't get all worn out by that method.

Or another is people "that" instead of people "who."

But the expression that burns yours truly is "mesdames." The term was obsolete 25 years ago, but some newspapers still use the word, presumably as a space-saving gesture. But I always felt that if Mrs. George Jones and Mrs. Sam Smith and Mrs. Roy Fox went to a party they deserved a "Mrs." in front of EACH of their names, not lumped together like a bunch of sardines in a can with a careless "Mesdames" at the start.

In fact, after I've read a few of these lumped-together names I forget whether it's George Jones or his old lady who went to the baby shower, given by Mesdames White, Black, Green, Brown and Turquoise.

But even worse I detest the term of Mrsrs. and Mesdames used together. If space is so scarce that the paper can't list each couple by its own handle — Mr. and Mrs. — then I prefer to say, "Twenty guests were present" and forget all about WHO was actually there.

But the term that really slays me is the given name, moreover, the one that makes sod widows out of a very-much married woman. I have often wondered how old Joe Smithers felt when he reads in the paper that his wife of 20 years, "Mrs. Mary Smithers," was a guest at the Social Betterment Club.

In my book, she's either Mrs. Joe Smithers, or Mary Smithers or else. The "Mary Smithers" is for professional use only, and I have a Dickens of a time seeing to it that the "Mrs." is stricken from in front of her name when she gets herself a job teaching school or selling peanuts at the town fair. As long as old Joe continues to breath, his wife is still Mrs. Joe Smithers except professionally and then she's just plain old Mary Smithers.

Then there's another term that pops up frequently in news stories. It's something like this: "None of the others were injured." Of course "none" is singular, meaning "not one" so it takes a singular form of the verb. Nevertheless, "none were" continues to show up in even wire stories now and then, and you hear it frequently on radio and TV news "none" and the "were" are separated by several words. WE WANT A BOOTH! — Muleshoe Cheerleaders have signed up for one of the booths at this week's Muleshoe Fun Fiesta, opening Wednesday night. Short Story: Car Hits Cow, Cow Hits Trail

Somewhere east of Muleshoe there's a cow that probably has a pretty sore hip. But officers can't find her.

The cow, whose name was not learned, was involved in a minor crash east of town recently. Ray Douglas Smith was reported to have run into the cow while driving two miles east of Muleshoe.

He knocked the cow down, but she got up and ran.

Sheriff Dee Clements says so far as he knows, she hasn't been seen since. "She's probably still running," the Sheriff concludes. "Goodness knows where she went; we just haven't been able to find her since."

To say the least, she hasn't appeared on busy U. S. 84 since. Incidentally, Smith's car was damaged to the tune of $100.

Lion Committee Members Picked

Muleshoe Lions club has placed 37 men on committees for the new Lions year which started recently, N. L. Red Johnson, president, announced this past week.

Named on "activities committees" were (chairmen named first):

Agriculture: Bill Millen, Bill Wimberly and John Gregg. Boys' and girls' work: Irvin St. Clair, Owen Jones and Truman Lindsey. Citizenship and patriotism: J. V. Peeler and W. B. LeVeque. Civic Improvement: Roger Albertson, Charles Lenau and W. (See LION, Page 6)

Nine Face Charges In County Court

Nine persons wound up in county court during the first four weeks of July, but officers called it a "rather quiet" month so far as such violations went.

Charges of worthless checks led the list of cases filed in county court during the first four weeks.

Two persons charged pleaded not guilty when arraigned before County Judge Glen Williams, and one was released on bond. Records of the county-district court clerk revealed these charges filed:

Mario A. Lumera was charged with giving a worthless check. Grabiell Garza was charged with wife and child desertion.

Lupe Vaiero was charged with aggravated assault with a deadly weapon. He pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Judge Williams and his bond was set at $1,000. Sheriff's records showed he was still being held in lieu of bail money.

Richard E. Baker was charged with giving a worthless check.

Lonnie Mitchell was charged with giving a worthless check.

Jetso Castillo was charged with giving a worthless check.

Donald Williams was charged with giving a worthless check. When arraigned before Judge Williams he pleaded not guilty and was released on $500 bond.

L. P. Kemp was charged with giving a worthless check.

Eager-to-get-home Dancers Go Wrong Way: Fines Total $61.50

Three Muleshoe men were a bit too eager to get back to Muleshoe this past week from a dance held east of Muleshoe.

As a result, they each paid fines of $20.50.

The highway patrol arrested the three for driving their cars on the wrong side of a divided highway. All three were picked up just east of Muleshoe. Justice of the Peace Joe Vaughn fined each $20.50.

Incidentally they could have avoided arrest by simply driving east for a short distance to cross over. "It figures kind of an expensive trip when you get caught driving on the wrong side of the road," Judge Vaughn said.

One person paid a fine in Justice Vaughn's court for failure to yield the right-of-way, and one for drunkenness. Each paid fines (with costs) of $20.50 in Judge Vaughn's court.

Two persons were convicted of driving their automobiles with defective lights. They paid fines and costs totaling $16.50.

One person was arrested for failure to have an operator's license and another for using a trailer without a current license. Fines and costs in each case totaled $16.50.

Fun Fiesta's Opening Set

Muleshoe is getting set for its first "Fun Fiesta" opening next Wednesday night at Boy Scout grounds, an elaborate fund-raising project which sponsors hope will put many dollars in the coffers of the Bailey County library. The big, colorful show is sponsored by Muleshoe Jaycees.

Featured will be the famous Sutton Imperial Shows, but most of the booths and stands will be operated by local organizations on a lease basis. Booths are still available, but Jay Spain, Jaycee president, warned Saturday that deadline for signing up for booth space will be noon Monday. Organizations which still haven't signed up for space in the big show are urged to call him at 7470.

Fleahopper Hits Cotton, Midge Still Missing

While farmers worried about the little midge that wasn't there in early-planted grain sorghum fields, the pesky fleahopper was building up at an exceedingly rapid rate in cotton fields, County Agent J. K. Adams said Friday.

Ordinarily farmers would not be urged to poison for fleahopper this late in the season as spraying now just ahead of bollworm season is considered a risky practice.

In the case of June-planted cotton, however, it is imperative that a good set of squares be obtained in the next three weeks. If fleahoppers sting the tiny squares that are forming now they will die and there will not be time enough for late squares to mature.

The County Agent is finding over 50 percent fleahopper counts (See FLEA, Page 6)

Four Cheerleaders To Attend School

Four Muleshoe high school cheerleaders — two boys and two girls — will leave next Sunday for Dallas to attend the annual Southern Methodist cheer leaders school August 4 through August 9.

Heading the Muleshoe group will be Rhonda Wagnon, head cheerleader. Others going will be Billie Gilles, Gene Atkins and Pat Malone.

Rhonda says the group will be put through drills with other cheerleaders as an audience, compete for prizes and attend classes for such things as pom-pom and tumbling stunts. They will learn latest techniques, how to stage pep rallies, new yells and new motions. A stunt night is also included on the Dallas program.

Next school year the pep program at Muleshoe high school will be stepped up with a student yelling section, and for the first time in several years, boys will be included on the pep squad.

These organizations already have contracted for booths at the big four-day event:

ESA sorority, ham and bacon booth; Lions club, the dunking tank; Muleshoe Cheerleaders, the glass pitch; Boy Scout Troop 620, the Spill-the-Milk-Game; the Muleshoe fire department, the Hoop-La; Muleshoe Girl Scouts, the dart balloon game.

The Muleshoe Home Demonstration club, the penny pitch; Muleshoe Study Club, the Panda Bear booth; the Llano Estacado Civic Club, the bear pitch; The Muleshoe Rotary club, the coke pitch; Boy Scout Troop 634, the Tic-Tac-Toe game, and the Youth Center, the Huckleby Bucks booth.

All booths are to be provided by the Sutton shows, but local organizations are operating most of the stands. The show itself will retain food booths since special health licenses are required for such booths.

Rides of every description will be part of the big show. The Sutton shows are bringing the most elaborate rides ever seen in Muleshoe, it is promised. All are brand new thrillers, featuring many rides which have joined the midway only this year, sponsors say. Two ferris wheels are included on the ride program.

Meantime advance "bargain" tickets for the rides are going fast. The books, good for 10 rides, are being offered in advance for $1.50 instead of the usual $2.50, thus making rides cost only 15 cents each instead of the usual 25 cents. Books can still be bought from any Jaycee member. Delbert Barry is chairman of advance ticket sales.

The show, the Jaycees say, is strictly family-type entertainment. No games of chance and no girl shows are included on the midway strip. Games will not be "fixed," and skill will be the only requirement for winning in the (See FISTA, Page 6)

Only Four Persons Held in Jail Here

Sheriff's records Friday showed four persons being held in the Bailey County Jail.

One was being held for Howard county on a charge of giving a worthless check. Two were being held for drunkenness, and one was being kept for the City on a charge of vagrancy.

STARTS AT BOTTOM — When Raymond G. Edwards joined the Muleshoe teaching staff recently he started at the bottom, literally—cleaning the floors of the v. ag. building. 'Pale Green' Grain Given Shot of Iron Pale green grain sorghum is getting a brand-new kind of boost in tests being applied on the J. G. Aron farm one mile north of Muleshoe.

Throughout the county this year, it is being given a shot of iron — literally. The tests, County Agent J. K. Adams says, will be watched with much interest, and may offer the solution to the "fading" (See GREEN, Page 6)

YL Church Hosts Youth Fellowship

Methodist Youth Fellowship groups of the Oklahoma Lane, Progress, and YL churches met at the YL church Tuesday night for the second night of their Youth Activity Week.

The event was started with a get-acquainted game led by Glenn Head. A prize awarded at the conclusion of the game went to Jane Wedel with Glenn Head making the presentation. After Jane finished unwrapping the many boxes containing the gift, the group convened in the sanctuary for the program.

Sharon Millen led the singing and Roger Buhrman read the scripture. Don Winingham introduced Father Clifton Corcoran of the Immaculate Conception Catholic Church who was guest speaker. A question and answer session followed Father Corcoran's talk.

Everyone divided into two "buzz" groups to discuss several questions dealing with the theme of the evening, "Understanding the Protestant and Catholic Faiths." Patricia Lewis led the two groups in a summation of their discussions.

statements. Attending this interesting and instructional session were: Mitilda Stemmons, Ethel Allison, Marie Lenau, Betty Black, Tiny Forbes, Kitty Moss, Arlene Phelps, Inez Bobo, Blanche Learderson, Vlema Davis, Jeanie Garth, Kathlene Francis and two new members who were introduced, Dorothy Bowers and Myrtle Steinbock.

Lowry Mallory Family Visiting Here Before Leaving For Africa

The Lowry Mallory family, Lafayette, Calif., will soon be on their way to Africa where Mallory has accepted a two-year teaching assignment. Mrs. Mallory is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Baker. She and her children, David, 12; Charles, 10; and Kirsten, 8, are here visiting in the Baker home and the home of her sister and family, the Ernest Kers, while Mallory is taking a six weeks' course at Columbia University in preparation for his work in Nairobi, Kenya, schools.

Mallory, 39, a Piedmont, Calif. High School instructor in U. S. History and civics, resigned to take this teaching job and the family will leave from New York by airline August 11.

In explanation he said, "I have been interested in Africa and developments there and I feel that education is the key to the future. For a long time it was an academic interest, but then I heard from people who had been there about the crying need for teachers. I came to the conclusion that Africans were saying 'We need teachers. We need you.'"

"There are lots of other people who can't go, or won't go, so I decided to go myself," he said.

"I've been very impressed by President Kennedy's statement 'Ask not what your country can do for you, but what you can do for your country.'"

Mallory is going to the former British East Africa Colonies under the East African Project, jointly sponsored by the U. S. Agency for International Development, and the governments of Kenya, Tanganyika, Uganda and Zanzibar.

"I have signed a two-year contract and want to sign up for more," he said. He noted that the four English-speaking nations originally asked for 100 teachers, but before the request had been processed, every one of the countries asked for more.

"People keep asking about the courage it takes to go to Africa with a family. Kenya, where we are going, is more advanced than most African nations. Mrs. Mallory said, 'The children and I are really excited about going and are anxious to see Africa. The children have their own vision of life there and they expect to have pet monkeys, swing in the jungle trees and chase elephants out of the yard.'

Mrs. Mallory plans to help with a program underway to teach the adults to read and write. This she feels is all a tremendous challenge to be able to be a part of a long range plan to educate the natives to a point where they can supply their own teachers for their schools and as business head

The Mallory family were in Norway in 1950 where he taught under the Fulbright Program of teacher exchange.

A little boy entered a shop, in the window of which was a card, "Boy Wanted." Thinking he was too weak for the work, the gentleman said, "Well, my lad, what can you do?" The boy replied, "I can do what I'm told, sir." This so pleased the shopkeeper that he said, "You'll do, my lad."

This is a golden lesson for God's children. In many instances we are foolish enough to attempt to direct the Lord's will for our lives rather than follow it. This is probably because following the directives of the Lord is rarely an easy thing to do. You see, it costs to follow Jesus. He said in Matthew 16:24, "If any man will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow me." Satan is shrewd enough to convince men that they can do as they please and still not stir the wrath of God. Ever since the original sin in Eden, he has tempted man to defy the will of God and follow his own desires and this we often are willing to do.

The simplest fact about the Christian's relationship to God is that God is most pleased and honored when we do "as we are told", or as He directs us through the Holy Spirit. Throughout Christian history it has been evident that the greatest spiritual leaders of men have been the most humble followers of Jesus. The Bible says, "We ought to please God, rather than men." If you would truly please Jesus, walk in His way and do His will.

FRANKLY SPEAKING

By REV. J. FRANK PEERY

SUNDAY OR SUNDAY

The first and most essential duty of a man is to worship his Creator. Reason, inspiration, and revelation require that we should set apart some particular time for this important duty. We must admit that He asks but very little of our time for His exclusive worship.

The word "remember" looms big as it relates to Sunday. "Remember the Sabbath Day to keep it holy." The fourth commandment was given in response to human need. The emphatic word "remember" reminds us that one day was made for the sake of man. God meant it to be a time of worship and a time of rest. I find myself increasingly disturbed by the large number of Christian people and church members who place contingencies upon their religious activities. Sunday is increasingly becoming a casualty to the secularism and materialism that is dominating the lives of fathers, mothers, and children. Our children will be as we are. Spiritual things will be as important to our children as they are to us, and no more.

That hundreds of thousands of Soviet parents have resolved this dilemma has long been evident. As good citizens, Soviet parents must agree to having their children accept the political tenets of Communism. They must stress the truth of Marxism-Leninism and expose the "mythical Christ"

Ray's--

"None of the other three girls in the automobile were hurt."

Of course in newspapers we are, as I said at the outset, unusually sensitive to grammar. We are in the communications business, and grammar is a must in any phase of communications.

But, for that matter, everybody is in the communications business, unless he is a hermit, living alone in the backwoods somewhere.

I wrote a column on this subject a few months ago, and a woman reader took issue. She wrote: "I disagree with your statement that without good grammar eventually we would be unable to communicate with one another. Good grammar or bad, we still could make ourselves understood." Want to bet?

There was the time not too many moons ago when I sat across the table from a business man who was discussing a trip to Lubbock. Telling of the start or the "Bible Fables."

Is there any real difference if we as Christian parents in free America make the wrong use of the Sabbath day? The profanation of the Sabbath, besides being a sin in the sight and knowledge of God, carries with it many misfortunes. We must not forget, however, that there are times at hand and things performed that do not constitute Sabbath profanation. From the gospels we learn that our Lord frequently rebuked the over-strictness of law or personal feeling.

Frankly Speaking — Our Lord would have us remember that "the Sabbath was made for man and not man for the Sabbath." What does the Sabbath mean to you: Sunday or Sunday?

of the trip, he said: "We could have went in a company car, but when I come out of the building and seen that the car was not air-conditioned, I taken my car, which has an awful good air-conditioner."

When I retold the little grammar-shattering speech to a friend he said, "Well, he was probably just talking that way because he wanted to be no different from other folks; in other words, he just didn't want to appear high-hat."

Well, if that was his purpose, Brother he succeeded.

And then while we are still on that matter of grammar, there's the double negative. In all probability, the double negative is the most common of all grammatical bungle. "I don't want no cream in my coffee." Or, "I can't hardly get up that early." Or: "We don't hardly ever see them no more." Ugh!

Funny thing is that the double negative makes a positive. The fellow WANTS cream in his coffee, DOES get up early, and DOES see them frequently. Funny, isn't it?

Soda-Pop Truck Blows Tire, Flips

A soft-drink truck, loaded with soda-pop, turned over on the road east of Goodland Thursday night and spewed drinks all over the highway, Sheriff Dee Clements said Friday.

The truck, owned by Pepsi-Cola company from Lubbock, turned over when a tire blew out. Injured slightly was Raymond Edward Rainer, Lubbock, driver of the truck.

It took crews some time to clean up the pop and broken bottles.

spots which show up from time to time in various green fields. The tests here are among the first of their kind ever tried, and are believed to be the first such experiments staged in West Texas.

In addition to iron, zinc and Boron sprays are being tried in the effort to restore the grain sorghum to its normal color. Experts figure it will take only two or three days — or possible a week at the most — to bring pale green foliage back to its normal color on irrigated land.

The entire Arna field is a test plot and has been used as a crop gnat pig for grain sorghum since planting time. Variety is Watson H-39, planted in late June. The crop was side-dressed with anhydrous in mid-July, following 50 pounds of nitrogen preplant. The first 72 rows in a half-mile strip south of the house and barns were treated with 10 pounds of copperas and one-sixth pound of 65 percent boron per acre.

The next 16 half-mile rows were not sprayed and were left for a check. Then the next 96 rows were treated with six-tenths pound of zinc sulphate and 10 pounds of copperas per acre.

The final 16 rows were left unsprayed for still another check. And the remainder of the field were sprayed with copperas at 10-pound-per acre rate except the final 28 rows which got only five pounds of copperas per acre.

The tests thus offer practically every kind of treatment and should prove just what chemicals serve best in relieving the pale-green trends.

Fieldmen for the company which is doing the actual applying of the chemicals said this is the first test of its kind to be tried. The minerals are in powder form but are added to water and applied as a wet solution. Special machinery is used for the application.

The Sutton Imperial shows will move into Muleshoe early this week and will be all set up and ready for opening at 6 o'clock Wednesday evening. People who are to operate booths for their organizations were urged to be on hand by 4 p.m. to get set up and ready for the opening.

The Sutton organization will have men available to offer advice on the operation of the booths but local people will operate the organizations' various booths themselves. The rides, of course, as well as certain other booths, will be operated by Sutton.

The show will move into Muleshoe from El Paso where they have been playing for the past week. The week before they were in Prescott, Ariz., and go from here to Wichita Falls for a week. Muleshoe is one of the smallest towns in which the big show has ever set up. A vacant date on their schedule made it possible for the show to come here.

Graveside Rites Held for Child

Graveside services were held at Bailey County Memorial Park at 2:30 Saturday afternoon for Lisa Anne Watkins, 7-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glen Watkins, who died in John Sealy Hospital, Galveston, Friday.

The services were conducted by the Rev. Carl Coffey of Oklahoma Lane Baptist Church. Funeral arrangements were made by Singleton Funeral Home.

In addition to the parents, the child is survived by a brother, Randy Watkins, and by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Watkins and Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Sarratt, all of Muleshoe.

The child was born in Muleshoe Dec. 9, 1932.

quite regularly in Bailey county fields. Don Rummel, area entomologist for the Extension Service, advises that a farmer should spray late-planted cotton if he finds over 20 percent infestation of the terminal buds and square blasting to indicate that setting of a cotton crop is being prevented.

The April and early May cotton is most likely far enough ahead of the fleahopper so an adequate set of fruit will be obtained.

It is hoped that farmers will not relax following the early scare on the sorghum midge. Extension entomologist have said from the beginning that the Lubbock area could expect damaging infestations after August 1, and Bailey county farmers should be very alert in their search for midge from now until all grain sorghum has passed the blooming stage.

Junior winners of the dress revue will compete with the winners from the other 19 counties in this district at Lubbock, August 6.

WATER

At the present time the government is trying to get a law passed that all cities which do not have fluoride in the water supply put it into the water. Those of us who have lived in West Texas have enjoyed the benefits and suffered the disadvantages of having fluoride in the water supply. The amount of fluoride in the water supply in Muleshoe is about 10 times as much as we need. Because of this the children here have fewer cavities than those who drink unfluoridated water. However, mothers need to be careful when the children's teeth are forming to prevent them from getting too much fluoride. Too much fluoride causes brown tooth stains. Too much fluoride can be avoided by:

1. Having the children drink distilled water until they have all their permanent teeth.

2. Let them drink tea never very seldom. Tea contains 17 times as much fluoride as we need.

To be sure that the children get enough fluoride to reduce cavities use tap water for cooking purposes.

Good luck. I hope you have pretty teeth with few cavities.

ALL IS WELL (OR IS IT?)

Some may wonder! When government operates 19,000 businesses, in direct competition with its taxpayers, they cannot be blamed for wondering. A over 15% of the nation's electricity is generated by the federal government. If you don't think all is well, write to your elected representative. He'll be interested in hearing your view.

Our favorite fish in the Gulf of Mexico knows no particular season.

Fish for Flounder Day or Night
 There is tremendous flounder activity in the vicinity of Port Aransas during the early winter months. Hundreds of persons, wearing hip waders and carrying gas lanterns and gigs, work these shallow waters.

It is the flounder, one of the most unusual of all fishes. This is a fish with many aliases, the most popular of which is the fluke. Webster describes fluke as a mistake. And that's what a flounder looks like.

By shining the light down on the water they are able to see the backs of these flounders as the fish grope through the mud looking for small crustaceans. When sighted they are speared and dropped into gunny sacks trailing in the water behind the fishermen.

It is a fish flattened by nature's stream roller in the process of creation. But it is a wonderful fish to catch and eat.

Although fried flounder is delicious, undoubtedly one of the most appetizing fish dishes served anywhere is a stuffed flounder.

Flounder fishing has been considered one of the favorite night fishing sports. It can be found in shallow waters, at night by the use of a Coleman lantern or a strong beam lamp of similar nature.

Many seafood restaurants along the coast make a specialty of this delicacy.

During the last few years rod and reel anglers also have discovered that bait fishing for flounder can be real sport.

Carl Calhoun returned this week after vacationing in Monahans where he visited relatives.

A flounder will hit on most anything that will tempt a speckled trout. It will fight lures. Or it will nibble away at a live shrimp and finally take it with a grab.

David and Johnny Bickle, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bickle, Muleshoe, are spending the week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bickle.

You can catch flounder while fishing off boat docks. Also in the middle of Laguna Madre. Or in any of the backbay waters along the Texas coast. There is particularly good flounder fishing along the coast from Rockport south to Port Isabel.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Andrews, Fort Sumner, spent Thursday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Allison.

Flounder put up a wonderful fight on light tackle.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bickle spent Sunday night in Monahans with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Payton Dunham, and family.

Use Live or Artificial Bait
 Last fall Doug English, who makes Bingo baits, was standing on the concrete wall of the basin around the Red Fish Lodge at Port Mansfield. He was just killing time while his boat was being readied.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hail, Casia Granda, Ariz., spent a few days in the S. L. Jackson home last week. Mrs. Nadge Clemons came for dinner while the Hails were in their home, and Mr. and training, graduates will be commissioned Ensign in the U. S. Coast Guard Reserve. College seniors and graduates may fulfill their military obligation through the Coast Guard Office Candidate School program.

Doug flipped a yellow Bingo alongside a concrete revetment. Next thing he knew he had a big flounder. He caught a half-dozen in as many casts.

Another time a group of biologists working down the intra-coastal canal decided to spend the night off Padre Island near the Port Mansfield cut. They caught flounder until they tired.

For further information, write Commandant (PTP-2), U. S. Coast Guard, Washington, D. C.

A group of Sweetwater business men, headed by Earl Webb, go to Port Isabel each summer. They fish in Laguna Madre in the vicinity of Three Islands and catch enough flounder in a couple of days to fill their deep freeze.

Usually flounder are found on the bottom, where they do their feeding in the mud. That is why in the fall of the year they move into the shallow waters, along the coastline, to feed.

Muleshoe Folk Undergo Surgery

By SHERYL STEVENS
 PLEASANT VALLEY — Mrs. Oscar Allison and Mrs. Harold Allison left Monday for Roswell, N. M., to stay with relatives who will undergo surgery this week.

Those having surgery will be Jim McKinstry and Mrs. Sam McKinstry, Muleshoe.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reeder and children, Davy, Ruth Ann and Phyllis, Pueblo, Colo., are visiting in the W. D. Lackey home this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Bickle spent Saturday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Roubinek, Friona.

Carolyn Allison left Monday morning for Tres Ritos, N.M., for the annual Methodist Ramble. The group vacationed and planned the church activities for the coming year. They returned Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bickle, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bickle, Muleshoe, are spending the week with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bickle.

Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Andrews, Fort Sumner, spent Thursday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Allison.

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Bickle spent Sunday night in Monahans with their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Payton Dunham, and family.

Their grandson, Randy, came home with his grandparents and will spend a few days in their home.

COMMUNITY LEAGUE OFFICERS — Officers for the Community League Fall bowling season were elected during Monday night's business meeting held at Tri-Co Bowling. Elizabeth Barnett was chosen president; Irene Splawn, secretary-treasurer; Polly Otwell, reporter; and Frieda Foss, Sargent-At-Arms. This league will bowl the first games of the season September 9.

Mrs. Eugene Henry, Muleshoe came Tuesday night.

Carolyn Bley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston Bley, Olton, spent a few days in the S. L. Hail home this past week.

Like homemade blueberry pancakes? Measure the dry ingredients for the pancakes ahead of time and put in a tightly covered jar. Then you can mix up the pancakes at breakfast time.

Nothing in the house for lunch? Serve canned vegetables in a cream or cheese sauce with hard-cooked eggs. Garnish with crisp bacon if there are a few slices on hand.

When you are barbecuing spare ribs in the oven, you may wish to cover the pan during the roasting; if so, be sure to uncover the meat about half an hour before done.

Bring a cup of dark syrup and a quarter cup of better or margarita to a boil; stir until the mixture blends. Serve hot over French toast or your family's favorite pancakes.

Pan-fry bacon until partly cooked; wrap around drained hot canned asparagus. Cover with a thick cheese sauce and broil. Delicious with broiled tomatoes and mushrooms!

Don't pay any attention when small fry let ice-cream-in-a-bowl get soft — they like it this way!

Planned Irrigation System Urged To Increase Efficiency of Watering

By Soil Conservation Service
 Proper irrigation water use is the application of irrigation water efficiently in accordance with the needs of the crop and the characteristics of the soil and topography under a planned system.

To accomplish this, an irrigator must be able to determine when to irrigate, the amount of water to apply, and to secure uniform application without waste and without significant erosion.

Perhaps the most important irrigation is the pre-plant application. At this time, the root zone should be filled to a depth of 4 to 6 feet with each foot of soil holding from 1 1/2 to 2 inches of moisture — depending on the soil texture.

During the cropping season, irrigation water is applied in amounts to replace moisture lost by evaporation and by plant use. This may vary from smaller amounts to 2 inches in the early part of the season to heavier application of 4 to 6 inches in the peak growing season.

The farmer should wait until about 40 to 50 percent of the available moisture is left in the root zone before irrigating, in order to apply as heavy an application as possible.

Frequent light applications result in inefficient irrigation due to the loss by evaporation. This evaporation occurs during the time of application of water and in the approximate top 6 inches of the soil especially before crops have shaded the ground.

The irrigator, too, should time the irrigating internal so as to cover the entire field before the crops begin hurting for lack of moisture. To apply water efficiently, the irrigator must have a system which will deliver the water uniformly and in amounts without waste. This is true with a sprinkler or a furrow system. In a sprinkler system, the nozzle sizes must be correlated to the length and diameter of the lateral line, and the application rate must be less than the ability of the soil to take water. Otherwise, a run-off of water occurs.

With a furrow system, the maximum stream size must be correlated to the slope of the land and the length of the row and the intake rate of the soil. Otherwise over irrigation might occur next to the ditch or pipe line.

For assistance in irrigation system or other contact your local Soil Conservation Service district office.

Use a fork when you stir the liquid into the dry ingredients for pie dough and mix lightly.

Be sure you spread coffee evenly in the basket or filter when you are making coffee.
