Selective Service Reminds Draftees To Register With Board

AUSTIN, Texas--Colonel Melvin N. Glantz, State Director of Selective Service for Texas, has reminded young men of their requirement under Federal Law to register with Selective Service.

Some young men may believe that because future military manpower requirements may be met by volunteers that the requirement to register is past; however, the Law does require registration by all native born young men and all resident aliens within 30 days of their eighteenth birthday. Legal registration may be completed 30 days before, or 30 days after the young man reaches age 18. If a young man fails to register with Selective Service, he is subject to a fine or imprisonment, or both, under provisions of the Military Selective Service Act.

In most Texas counties, young men may register at the office of their local draft board, or

Farmers, Ranchers Concerned About High Food Prices

WACO-(SPL)--Farmers and ranchers are concerned about statements in the national news media that food prices are too high, according to Texas Farm Bureau President J.T. Woodson.

"We in agriculture are afraid that these inflammatory statements might result in popular demand for price controls on raw farm products," the farm leader said. "If this happens, and we are saddled with controls, the consumer will really have something to worry about."

"Prices for agricultural products are not likely to get out of hand," Woodson said. "We will respond to any price increase by producing more. The consumer is protected by the competitive enterprise system in agriculture.

"If, on the other hand, price ceilings are imposed on us," Woodson said, "Producers will be forced out of agriculture in droves, and the consumer will pay higher prices for his food. The only way we have survived higher production and living costs up to now is through increases in efficiency."

"Only just now are certain segments of our agricultural industry--livestock, for example--beginning to receive decent prices," the farm leader said. "Egg producers are actually selling eggs at or below cost of production. Imagine what it would do to the poultry industry to put a freeze on their current prices."

 The farm leader said that farmers and ranchers appreciate some of the statements made in defense of agriculture in recent days. He referred to statements made by President Nixon, Agriculture Secretary Earl Butz, and Treasury Secretary John Connally.
 "These men are in a position to know the true situation in agriculture," Woodson said. "We thank them for telling it like it is."
 President Nixon said in a recent press conference that it is a mistake to blame farmers for the food price increase because they receive only one-third of what consumers pay for food.

"The other two thirds goes to the middlemen," Nixon said, adding that the spread has widened and is too great.
 "The public is being fed a lot of malarkey about meat prices," Secretary Butz said in defense of farmers and cattlemen. He added that a food price investigation--now planned by the Price Commission--was long overdue. He said farmers were being blamed unjustly for rising retail food costs, especially for meat, to cover up sharp increases in what he called "hard costs" of processing and distribution.

Woodson said that U.S. Department of Agriculture statistics prove that the farmer's gain in efficiency has helped keep food costs in check. He cited the following facts released by USDA:
 --The American farmer produces over 20 percent more on seven percent fewer acres than he did in the period 1957-59.
 --In 1970, one U.S. farm worker supplied food and fiber for 47 persons. He supplied 23 persons in the 1957-59 period.
 --Retail food prices rose less than three-fourths as much as all other consumer goods in the past decade. Retail food was up some 27 percent while the overall Consumer Price Index was up over 39 percent.
 --Food expenditures take a declining share of consumer income. Twenty-five years ago, the percent of income spent on food was 24.6. In 1970, the percentage was down to 16.6.

Outgoing officers in addition to McCloy, Miss Howe and Meek are: Ricky Kellison of Lockney, vice president; Ron Mayfield of Lazbuddie, treasurer; Debbie Mullen of Stratford, reporter; Linda Daughterty of Fluvanna, historian; and marshal Rick Barley of Gruver.

CONGRESSMAN
 Bob Price
 U.S. House of Representatives
 18th Congressional District

"We are reaping the kind of Nation we have sown in direct proportion to the effort and contribution each of us has made," Congressman Bob Price told students of the West Texas State University at the Honor Society Ball this evening in Amarillo.
 Referring to the civic responsibility of each citizen, Price noted that, "It is always easier to sit back and criticize the efforts of those who volunteer to do a job. Yet, the same person who is so critical of others is the last to step forward and offer himself and his services."
 The Congressman observed that America is built on four basic cornerstones--the home, the church, the school, and government. "You show me a church where everyone criticizes the preacher and the leaders ers for their shortcomings, and I will show you a dead church. But show me a church where the people are active and enthusiastic, and I will show you a church that is alive and going places," Price said.

 The Congressman made similar comments about the obligation of each citizen toward the community, the schools, and the home. Turning to state government, Price noted, "I am not particularly concerned about your political affiliation, but the fact is, our state government is in a mess because we have a one party system in Texas. What the people need is a choice--competition is good because it makes parties and candidates more responsive to the citizens. Government is not politicians; it is people like you and me."

Price said.
 Price also emphasized the importance of taking a role and an active interest in national affairs. "If one feels strongly enough, he ought to run for office," the Congressman said. "But if he cannot make the race himself, he should pick a candidate who represents his viewpoint and support him. No man seeking office can do the job alone. Success depends entirely upon the concern and willingness of each citizen to make his or her contribution to the campaign effort."
 Congressman Price concluded, "I hope that my comments have given you food for thought--and if you agree with what I have said, I hope you will do your part to make representative government more than just a slogan. This is your home, church, school, city, state, and Nation. We can make them whatever we need them to be, if we are willing to become involved."

Some of these fabulous poems and songs which comprise the vast Sandburg output will be heard when the Alpha-Omega players National Repertory Theater will present "The World of Carl Sandburg" on April 14, 1972 at Farwell High School Auditorium.

Finney Lectures On Money Management

Mr. Bob Finney, cashier at the Muleshoe State Bank, was at MHS Tuesday, March 4, through Friday, March 7. Mr. Finney presented a series of lectures on "Your Bank and Personal Money Management." This is a series prepared for students by the Texas Bankers Association which covers the subject of Banks and the many services which they are qualified to offer. Many people are not aware of all the many services which their bank offers and many do not know how to handle their personal money problems which causes an unstable economy and dams up the flow of credit.

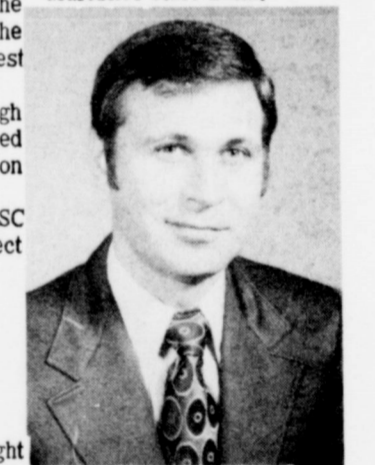

brought out the fact that a high school graduate makes an average of $21,666.67 for each year that was spent in school. This averages out to $120.37 each day. Monday's session also covered savings accounts, credit ratings, and safe deposit boxes.

Tuesday's session was on "Bank Services." This session

Wednesday's session covered "Savings and Interest" and "Loans and Interest". Mr. Finney pointed out the fact that during a lifetime everyone must borrow and save. This is why students should learn about savings and loans before the need for these services arises.

The last two sessions were about "Checks and Checking Accounts," "Bank Statements," "Band Credit Cards," and "Automatic and Electronic Data Processing."

All four sessions were attended by the Civics, Economics, Home and Family Living and Distributive Education classes of MHS. Students enjoyed the informative lectures and especially appreciated the interest in the community taken by the administration and staff of the Muleshoe State Bank.

MHS Observes Ecology Week

By Mr. Mike Pollard
The week of April 3-7, 1972, has been declared Texas Environmental Education Week by Governor Preston Smith. The Texas Education Agency and the public schools through the state are conducting special programs to inform the students of the importance of the ecological environment.

The biology classes under the direction of Mr. C.J. Spence, student teacher from ENMU, have been involved in the study of the environment for the past three weeks. Mr. Spence has arranged for the presentation of two films on our environment on Friday, April 7, 1972. These films deal with two extremely timely topics, conservation and pollution.

Other activities of the week are the display of posters emphasizing the environment and the clean-up campaign on Thursday of the school grounds.

The high school students in Muleshoe High School are reminded that the world of the future is theirs but unless they take the lead in fighting the misuse of our environment it may not be worth having! It has been said before, but Pogo's sage remark is so apt, we must repeat it: "We have met the enemy and he is us!"

In the contest, participants take a written exam which counts as 50 percent of their team's final score and then they race the clock and the other teams to find and fix several malfunctions deliberately placed in new Plymouth cars.

This mechanical challenge counts as 50 percent of a team's score.

The Plymouth Trouble Shooting Contest originated in 1949 as a local event in Los Angeles with 50 students from 17 high schools participating. Today, more than 2,000 high schools and colleges representing all 50 states--with a total auto shop enrollment of more than 165,000 students--partici-

WORLD WIDE INTEREST

Many good organizations are working with our youngsters, developing an interest in other lands and the ones who dwell there. The church through God's word also teaches us about our neighbors and what our attitude should be toward them. The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof; the world, and they that dwell therein.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

COTTON TALKS

FROM PLAINS COTTON OWNERS, INC.

The Texas Association of Cotton Producers Organizations (TACPO) at a recent meeting in Austin recommended that U.S. Department of Agriculture officials "consult with grower representatives before issuing farm program regulations and then make any new or revised rules known to producers at the earliest possible date."

According to Donald Johnson, Executive Vice President of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., of Lubbock, and an incorporating director of the statewide cotton producer group, "By following this recommendation USDA can go a long way toward eliminating for 1973 the general confusion experienced this year in connection with farm programs."

TACPO is an association of cotton producer organizations representing the High Plains (PCH), South Texas, the Black-lands, the Rolling Plains, the El Paso Valley and the Pecos area. TACPO officials point out that there were a number of instances in which USDA issued new rules governing participation in the 1972 program which were "both untimely and impractical in their application." They cite as an example a "set" of regulations which had to do with the eligibility of land for set-aside acreage, made known to county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service offices on the day before program sign-up began--after most farmers had made plans and expensive land preparation under the assumption that eligibility rules would remain as they were in 1971.

Texas Coed Releases Album

"Sandy's Country," a new record album, is being released this week throughout Texas. It is sung by Sandy Lankford, who holds the Miss Ford Country and Miss University of Texas at Arlington titles.

The album contains several standards and two new tunes that were written especially for Sandy. Highlighting the album is "A Texas Country Girl," a country-western tune which evokes traditional Texas hospitality and an up-tempo tune "You Don't Turn Me On Anymore," which were written especially for the album. Also featured on the album is a ballad, "Without Words."

The album will be initially available free of charge at participating Ford dealerships with a test drive. It also is being distributed to area radio stations.

"Sandy's Country" is the first record Miss Lankford, the attractive coed from UTA, has made. The album was recorded in New York by the Broadcast Organization on their label, Total Eclipse. It was arranged and conducted by Charlie Callelo, holder of over 100 Gold Records for recording stars such as Neil Diamond, Laura Nyro and the Four Seasons.

ARTIFICIAL HEART?

Washington -- National Heart and Lung Institute scientists have announced development of a totally implantable complete artificial heart and a nuclear powered assistant heart--both world firsts.

After loud cries of protest from producer organizations and individual farmers, the regulations of 1971 were reinstated. And Johnson has commented "We are grateful that USDA saw fit to revise its original decision, but the confusion and delays in farming operations could have all been avoided if USDA had sat down last Fall with producers or producer representatives and discussed the matter in advance."

The National Agricultural Institute is laying extensive plans for a nationwide survey of opinions on key agricultural issues, according to Donnell Echols of Lamesa, Board Chairman of Plains Cotton Growers, Inc. and a charter director of NAI.

Echols says "Intent of the survey is to pinpoint specific problem areas in agricultural communications, to the end that future NAI activities can be aimed where the need is greatest." He points out that "Farm programs must be passed through Congress by Congressmen, most of them from non-agricultural areas, who vote on such measures in accordance with the wishes of the people who elected them. So passage of legislation beneficial to agriculture, along with the prevention of detrimental legislation, is directly dependent on agriculture's image in the minds of the public."

NAI is a non-partisan, non-profit organization formed in 1970 with financial backing from producers of cotton, wheat, sugar, feed grains, peanuts and soybeans. Its objective is to refurbish agriculture's profile in the minds of lawmakers, opinion leaders and the general public.

In early January of last year, at the suggestion of the High Plains' own Congressman

"You Don't Turn Me On Anymore"

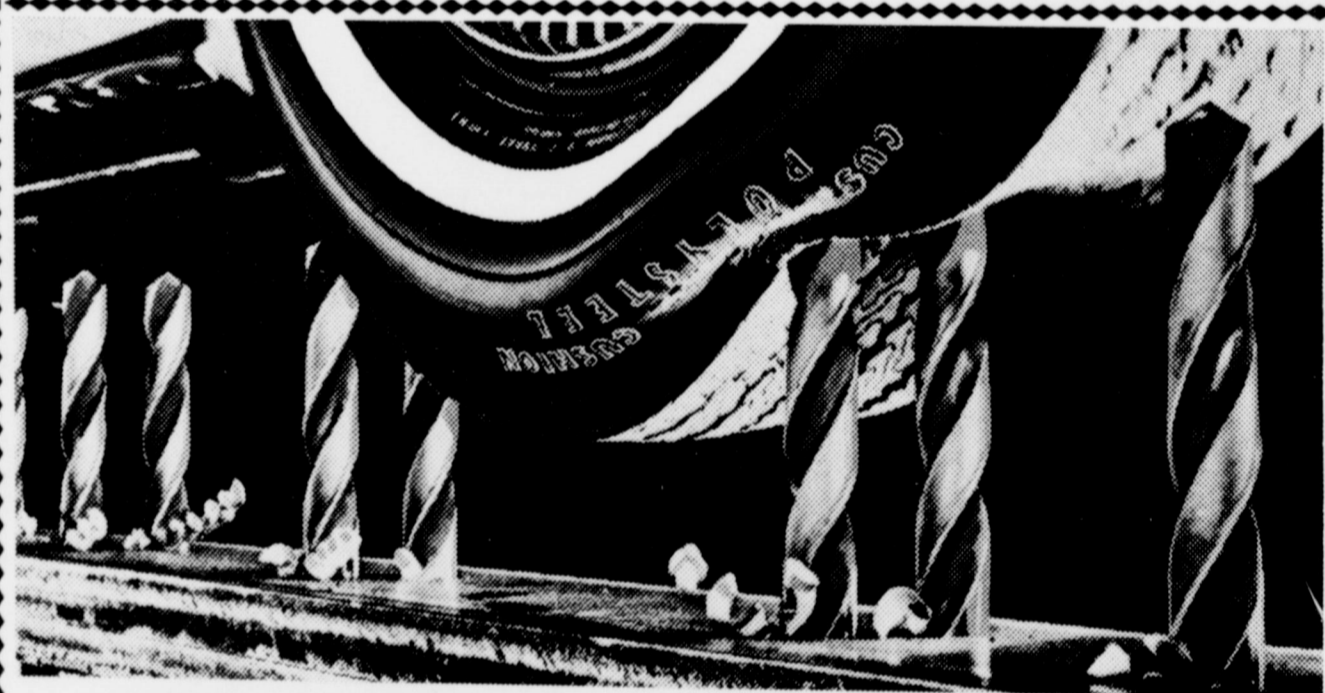

"YOU DON'T TURN ME ON ANYMORE"...Sandy Lankford, Miss Ford Country and Miss University of Texas at Arlington, has recorded her first record album "Sandy's Country." Sandy's Country is the first album Miss Lankford has made and contains tunes written especially for her. Some of the songs on the album are "A Texas Country Girl," "You Don't Turn Me On Anymore," and "Without Words". The album will be available free of charge at Muleshoe Motor Co. with a test drive of the new Fords.

VICIOUS HARDENED STEEL DRILL BITS DIDN'T PENETRATE THE TIRE.

This is the new Custom Power Cushion Polysteel tire you've seen advertised on T.V. The same kind of tire steel drill bits didn't stop. The tire with a body of tough, flexible polyester cord to soak up the shocks--and double belts of strong protective steel cord under the tread to resist penetration. Chances are you won't run over steel bits (as we did in this demonstration). But think of the confidence you'll have in a tire that did just that and kept on going with no loss of air. STATE Capital NEWS

By BILL BOYKIN

AUSTIN, Tex.--State Lawmakers polished off billboard control and primary election finance legislation in a three-day special session--and added far-reaching procedural reform for good measure.

in June on budget and tax matters. In their "mini-session," the legislators--many anxious to get back to the campaign trails--logged these accomplishments: *They provided for emergency state financing of the May and June primary elections and set aside $2 million to pay the bills. Another long-term primary finance measure will be necessary next year. *They moved to meet federal highway beautification requirements by outlawing billboards within 660 feet of major highways and providing for screening of junkyards. The measure will cost the state about $5 million a year in condemnation costs for five years. But it will prevent a $24 million loss of federal highway construction funds for non-compliance with regulations.

*Both House and Senate adopted joint rules including sharp limitations on powers of conference committees to write new legislative matters without majority permission.

*The House also accepted rules installing a limited seniority system for committee assignments, reducing the number of committees from 43 to 25 and providing for electronic recording of House and committee proceedings.

*Legislators also made Texas the eighth state to ratify a proposed federal constitutional amendment guaranteeing equal legal rights for women.

Highlight of the opening day was election of Rep. Rayford Price, 35, of Palestine as new speaker of the House, Price won 77-65 over Rep. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi. He succeeds Rep. Gus Mutscher of Brenham who resigned after his conviction for bribery conspiracy.

ALLOWABLE ADJUSTED--Texas Railroad Commission decided to hold the oil allowable for the big East Texas Field to 66 per cent during April instead of the 100 per cent fixed for the rest of the state.

An increase for the East Texas Field was postponed pending completion of the study.

Chairman Byron Tunnell said the nation has "far too much at stake" in East Texas "to risk reservoir damage through excessive production rates."

For the first time since 1948, the Commission fixed a 100 per cent production factor for this month.

COURTS SPEAK--Major sections of Texas vagrancy laws were held unconstitutional by the State Court of Criminal Appeals which said the act makes it a crime to be unemployed or poor.

Responsibility Act.

*The legislature cannot appropriate funds to pay primary election expenses incurred by local political parties in the past. INSURANCE HEARING PUT OFF--A scheduled March 29 hearing by the State Insurance Board on a proposed increase in home insurance was indefinitely postponed amid talk of compromise.

Board Chairman Larry Teaver sought a year's delay in applying a rating factor providing for rate additions due to inflation and rising construction costs. He had been out-voted by two other Board members on postponing use of the inflation factor.

"The Board is taking a thorough look at all of the factors involved with rating and working toward solutions to complex and complicated problems that arise when considering rate adjustments," Teaver said.

Teaver contended the Board's refusal earlier to suspend the inflation trend factor would cost an additional $27 million in premiums next year, when a $14 million reduction could have been made under his own recommendations.

TRAFFIC TOLL REPEALED--A total of 3,594 persons died in Texas motor vehicle accidents during 1971, according to Texas Department of Public Safety tabulations.

DPS Director Col. Wilson E. Speir said the death toll represents a one per cent increase over 1970, when 3,560 died on the streets and highways.

Speir noted that vehicle miles driven increased from 68 billion in 1970 to more than 70.7 billion for 1971--a four per cent registration certificate is eligible for a junior college time, the number of licensed district trustee office if he lives in the district.

*A criminal conviction for traffic violations would not qualify as a "hearing" subjecting a person to requirements of the decreased three per cent from Texas Motor Vehicle Safety-5.2 in 1970 to 5.1 in 1971, Speir said. The death rate in 1966 was 6.2. Of the 3,594 deaths in 1971, 2,184 occurred on rural roads and 1,410 in urban areas. There were 2,993 fatal accidents last year and 394,166 total accidents. Speeding and driving while intoxicated were listed as primary violations in fatal mishaps.

EVENTS CALENDAR PUBLISHED--Texas Highway Department lists nearly 950 "happenings" in its Calendar of Events from April 1-September 30.

Old and new events include the 104th Washington County Fair in Brenham, the First Annual Howly-Roo Festival at Marble Falls and the First Annual State Arts and Crafts Fair at Kerrville.

Tourist bureaus of the Highway Department reported that many of the 1.36 million tourists who stopped for services in 1971 requested information on events.

Among new listings are the First Statewide Folklife Festival at the Institute of Texan Cultures in San Antonio; the annual slingshot championships at Carrizo Springs; the state frog-jumping contest at Refugio and the Spring-Ho Festival at Lampasas.

FIRE ANT ON RAMPAGE--Imported fire ants are migrating from East Texas west to the Dallas-Fort Worth area and south as far as Corpus Christi, warns State Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.

The fire ant is now found in 55 Texas counties and infests 16 million acres, White reported. White said future of the ant bait used to control the ants--Mirex--is pending before the Environmental Protection Agency. The Agriculture Department now distributes the bait to designated officers in infested areas.

SHORT SNORTS

Comptroller Robert S. Calvert estimates $71.1 million in general revenue will be available for certification toward 1973 budgeting.

Texas Air Control Board will have air sampling personnel on duty for the next several months in the area of the American Smelting and Refining Company's Amarillo plant.

Texas Civil Liberties Union filed suit to knock out the one-year-six-month state-local residency requirements for voting.

The Federal Pay Board Authorized retroactive per diem allowances for state employees from September 1 to November 14, 1971.

Sen. Barbara Jordan of Houston is new state senate president pro tempore--the first black woman in the U.S. chosen to such a post. State and local task forces are helping veterans find jobs.
