NUMBER 40

You Must Be Careful!

Accidents will occur.

When they do, you must be sure to dress the wounds carefully. Not to do so may mean blood poison and death. We carry a full line of first-aid supplies, such as:

BANDAGES
SAUVES
DISINFECTANTS

ADHESIVE PLASTER
LINIMENTS
MEDICATED COTTON

All of them simple, effective helps which you should keep on hand for emergencies in your home.

TO THOSE WHO HAVE BOYS "OVER THERE"

You have given them richly of your love, your prayers, your constant thought. You have sent letters and packages by every mail.

You somehow feel that these will protect your boys "Somewhere in France," that somehow or other these constant expressions of yearning human affection will act as talismans, protective charms.

But these are not enough. Love cannot quench the gunfire; your prayers cannot halt the fumes of poison gas; your letters over their hearts cannot stop the bayonet thrusts.

When the hell of battle bursts they must have more,—guns must answer guns, gas masks must answer poison gas, bayonets must answer bayonets. And guns and gas masks and bayonets cost money.

These are the things you must send over to save the lives of your own sons.

They need your love and your prayers.

But Liberty Bonds are an even mightier protection than family ties.

Invest in all you can today.

Lend as They Have Given

It is unfortunate that the heart can be stired in times like these by only the direct calamity.

It appeals to reason could reach the deepest emotions our Government would have all the money it needs.

The torpedoing of one of our ships would bring it, in a grim, determined hurry, but at the same time it would be perilous for our future. The wrath of our country would be aroused to the fury of hell, and we might commit some overt act that would count against us at the peace table. To avoid such possible tragedy, and consequent result, it is the duty of every citizen to furnish our Government with all the funds it needs without the asking, so as to eliminate the enormous expense of these bond drives and release for other war activities the splendid services of the hosts of men thus engaged.

I want to say a word to the hundred dollar man without dependents, in an endeavor to bring him to the realization of his responsibility in this great war which we will win; and what I say to him can be applied, in the same ratio, to every man earning one hundred and twenty five dollars, and upwards, per month. It costs our Government close around eighty dollars per month to maintain each brave man that is fighting for the liberty of the world. Based upon the cost of the most menial labor the soldier is, at least, a hundred dollar man. He, therefore, is not only giving up his home ties, is not only offering his life, but he is actually giving our Government, with no expectancy of return or hope of reward twenty dollars every month, in order that you may have an opportunity of earning your one hundred dollars in perfect safety. Are you giving twenty dollars per month to our Government to help win the war? No? Well, will you lend our Government twenty dollars every month for the duration of the war at 4 1/4 per cent interest? Is it not the least you can do, and, honestly, is it not your duty to do the most you can?

After this war is won, probably before, there is going to be another draft. A draft before the Board of Public Opinion, and all men are going to be classified. There will be a class for the Miser and a class for the Slacker, and—may God pity them for their fellowmen will not.

Quite a number of McLean folks attended the fifth Sunday Baptist meeting at Alarreed last Sunday night.

When The War Will End

Absolute knowledge have I none.

But my aunt's washerwoman's sister's son

Heard a policeman on his beat Say to a laborer on the street That he got a letter just last week,

Written in the finest Greek, From a Chinese coolie in Timbucto.

Who said the niggers in Cuba knew

Of a colored man in a Texas town,

Who got it straight from a circus clown:

That a man in Klondike heard the news

From a gang of South American Jews,

About somebody in Borneo Who heard a man who claimed to know

Of a swell society female rake

Who's mother-in-law will undertake

To prove that her husband's sister's niece

Has stated in a printed piece That she has a son who has a friend

WHO KNOWS WHEN THE WAR IS GOING TO END.

Merchants are Ordered to Conserve Wrapping Paper

Washington, Sept. 26.—Retail merchants were directed by the War Industries Board to discontinue the unnecessary wrapping of merchandise and to reduce to the point of absolute necessity the use of wrapping paper, bags, paper boxes and office stationery. The order, the board stated, was due to the fact that the Government soon would be forced to divert to munition manufactures a large quantity of chemical pulp used heretofore in making wrapping paper.

Lucius Rogers returned from Canyon Monday after being there several days.

Emmett Thompson went to Oklahoma City Sunday.

That Infair Dinner

East Sunday Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wilson gave a dinner in honor of their two newly married children, Allen and Maudie and their better halves. Mr. and Mrs. Evan Sitter, another newly married couple, were also present. 'Tis said that three is a crowd, and so three was a crowd of "newly weds" on hand to participate in this happy event.

Quite a number of other friends were also honored guests. It is useless to say that Mrs. Wilson knows how to fix things to suit the appetite. Every one who has ever eaten there knows that. The feast was luxurious and enjoyed hugely by all present. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson know how to entertain their friends and make them want to come again.

When the time came to go the guests all departed leaving with the host and hostess their many thanks and best wishes. To the "newly weds" they feel most grateful for making this day possible, and bid them God speed over life's fitful sea.

Liberty Day

Saturday, October 12, is the four hundred and twenty sixth anniversary of the discovery of America. President Wilson has proclaimed it Liberty Day and requests the citizens of every community in the United States—city, town and countryside—to celebrate the day.

The President in his proclamation says:

"Every day the great principles for which we are fighting take fresh hold upon our thought and purposes and make it clearer what the end must be and what we must do to achieve it.

"We now know more certainly than we ever knew before why free men brought the great Nation and Government we love into existence, because it grows clearer and clearer what supreme service it is to be America's privilege to render to the world."

Rev. Atticus Webb.

Don't fail to hear this noted Prohibition Speaker, who has been elected president of the Anti Saloon League of Texas to succeed Dr. A. J. Barton.

His temperance lectures are charming. In addition at this time it will be patriotic and in line with the 4th Liberty Loan Campaign.

Every father and mother who hears him will be doubly proud of their boys at the front. A dollar bill for the person who goes to sleep.

Wilson-Sullivan

Last Saturday evening Mr. Allen Wilson and Miss Fay Sullivan were married at the Presbyterian Manse. For several days these young people have kept their friends watching and guessing, but on Saturday evening they leaped over the broom stick and stepped into the matrimonial boat and set sail on life's happy sea. These young people are some of McLean's most popular ones. The words that made their lives one were said by Rev. Smith, pastor of the church. A host of friends wish them a happy and prosperous voyage, and bid them God speed on life's sea.

Mrs. Veatch and Mrs. Ballard spent Tuesday in Amarillo doing some winter shopping.

Texas Will Stand by Her Own Picks and Boats

Approximately 200,000 men have gone from Texas into the various branches of the United States Army and Navy.

These men must be fed and clothed and supplied with the necessary equipment for carrying forward in a successful manner the task to which they have dedicated themselves, their lives and fortunes.

The work of maintaining an army of 200,000 men is a stupendous task, and the cost is in proportion.

As an individual, as a private,
non-commissioned or commissioned officer, the American soldier costs approximately annually per capita $2,000. Of this amount $400 goes for sustenance; $200 for personal equipment; $150 for pay (general average); $80 for housing, transportation, etc.; $120 for transportation here and abroad.

Of this expenditure of $2,000, it will cost Texas $400,000,000 annually to maintain her army of 200,000 men, not including guns and ammunition. Nothing less is expected of Texas.

In its report to the House Appropriations Committee, General March said there are now about 3,200,000 men under arms.
Sixteen per cent of this number came from the Lone Star State.

To the everlasting glory of a big state that does big things, it can be said that Texas did her duty by her country in giving her men power to this big cause for which our country went to war. And her task of meeting the gigantic cost of feeding, clothing and maintaining this huge representation of the greatest commonwealth in the western country in the world, will be accomplished with the same a lot of readiness with which she passed and sent into training and across the sea her army of 200,000 men and with which she made all big state done.

The message went back to this country by the boys who are now in the thick of the fight is this: "We can do your fighting to a victorious finish, if the boys at home are willing to 'stand the gaff'."

Texas is going to "stand the gaff." She has never admitted defeat. Conditions in the western section of the State have been deplorable by reason of an unprecedented drought. The answer to an appeal for relief of the drought sufferers was appropriate through the State. And just as Texas arose to a situation that demanded the immediate financial assistance to citizens within the confines of the State, she will lend the necessary backing for those boys, 200,000 strong, who have accomplished it bravely, and with a smile on their lips shouldered the responsibility of this war, which is your war and my war, as well as theirs.

I appeal to the patriotism and to the honor of Texans. Do your part by those boys who are fighting for you. "Stand the gaff" and back them up to your holer in order that they may be able to do having a right Have a victory so have hardly a word to wr.

Following the announcement in the News that we would print the names of all those in McLean who contribute to the fourth Liberty Loan. We are presenting the first list of those entitled to a place in this roll of honor of benefactors. Before the addition of the list has been completed we expect to see every family in McLean represented, because we do not believe there is a single family in the community that is not 100 per cent
American, and because we do not believe there is a single individual in McLean who does not want his dollars to be used to support McLean boys who are today fighting the Home in France. If you have bought a bond and your name is not in this list be sure that you report the fact to the McLean News

an Alabama courthouse testifying to the details of a shooting scrape. The witness told how the prisoner at the bar drew a revolver and began firing at one George Henry, and how Henry ran to save himself.

"You say Henry ran?" interjected the lawyer for the defense.
"Dat's what I said."
"You are sure he ran?"
"Sho' he!"
"Well, did he run fast?"
"Did he run fa— Say, boss, ef

Busy Hours Ahead

He was a stolidly handsome figure in his uniform as he started out upon his rounds of farewell calls.

"And you'll think of me every single minute when you're in those horrid trenches?" questioned the sweet young thing upon whom he first called.

He nodded emphatically.
"Every minute."

"And you'll kiss my picture every night?"

"Trice a night," he vowed rashly, putting the pretty head on his shoulder.

"And write me long, long letters?" she insisted.

"Every spare minute I have,"
he reassured her, and hurried away to the next one on his list.

There were ten in all who received his promises.

When it was over he sighed.
"I hope," he murmured wearily,
"there won't be much fighting to do 'over there.' I'm going to be tremendously busy."

The Spirit of Our Boys Let's Make It Our Own!

MORALE will win the war. Morale---that spirit that makes men sing as they go, grin at pain, meet every duty cheerfully, and fight like heroes.

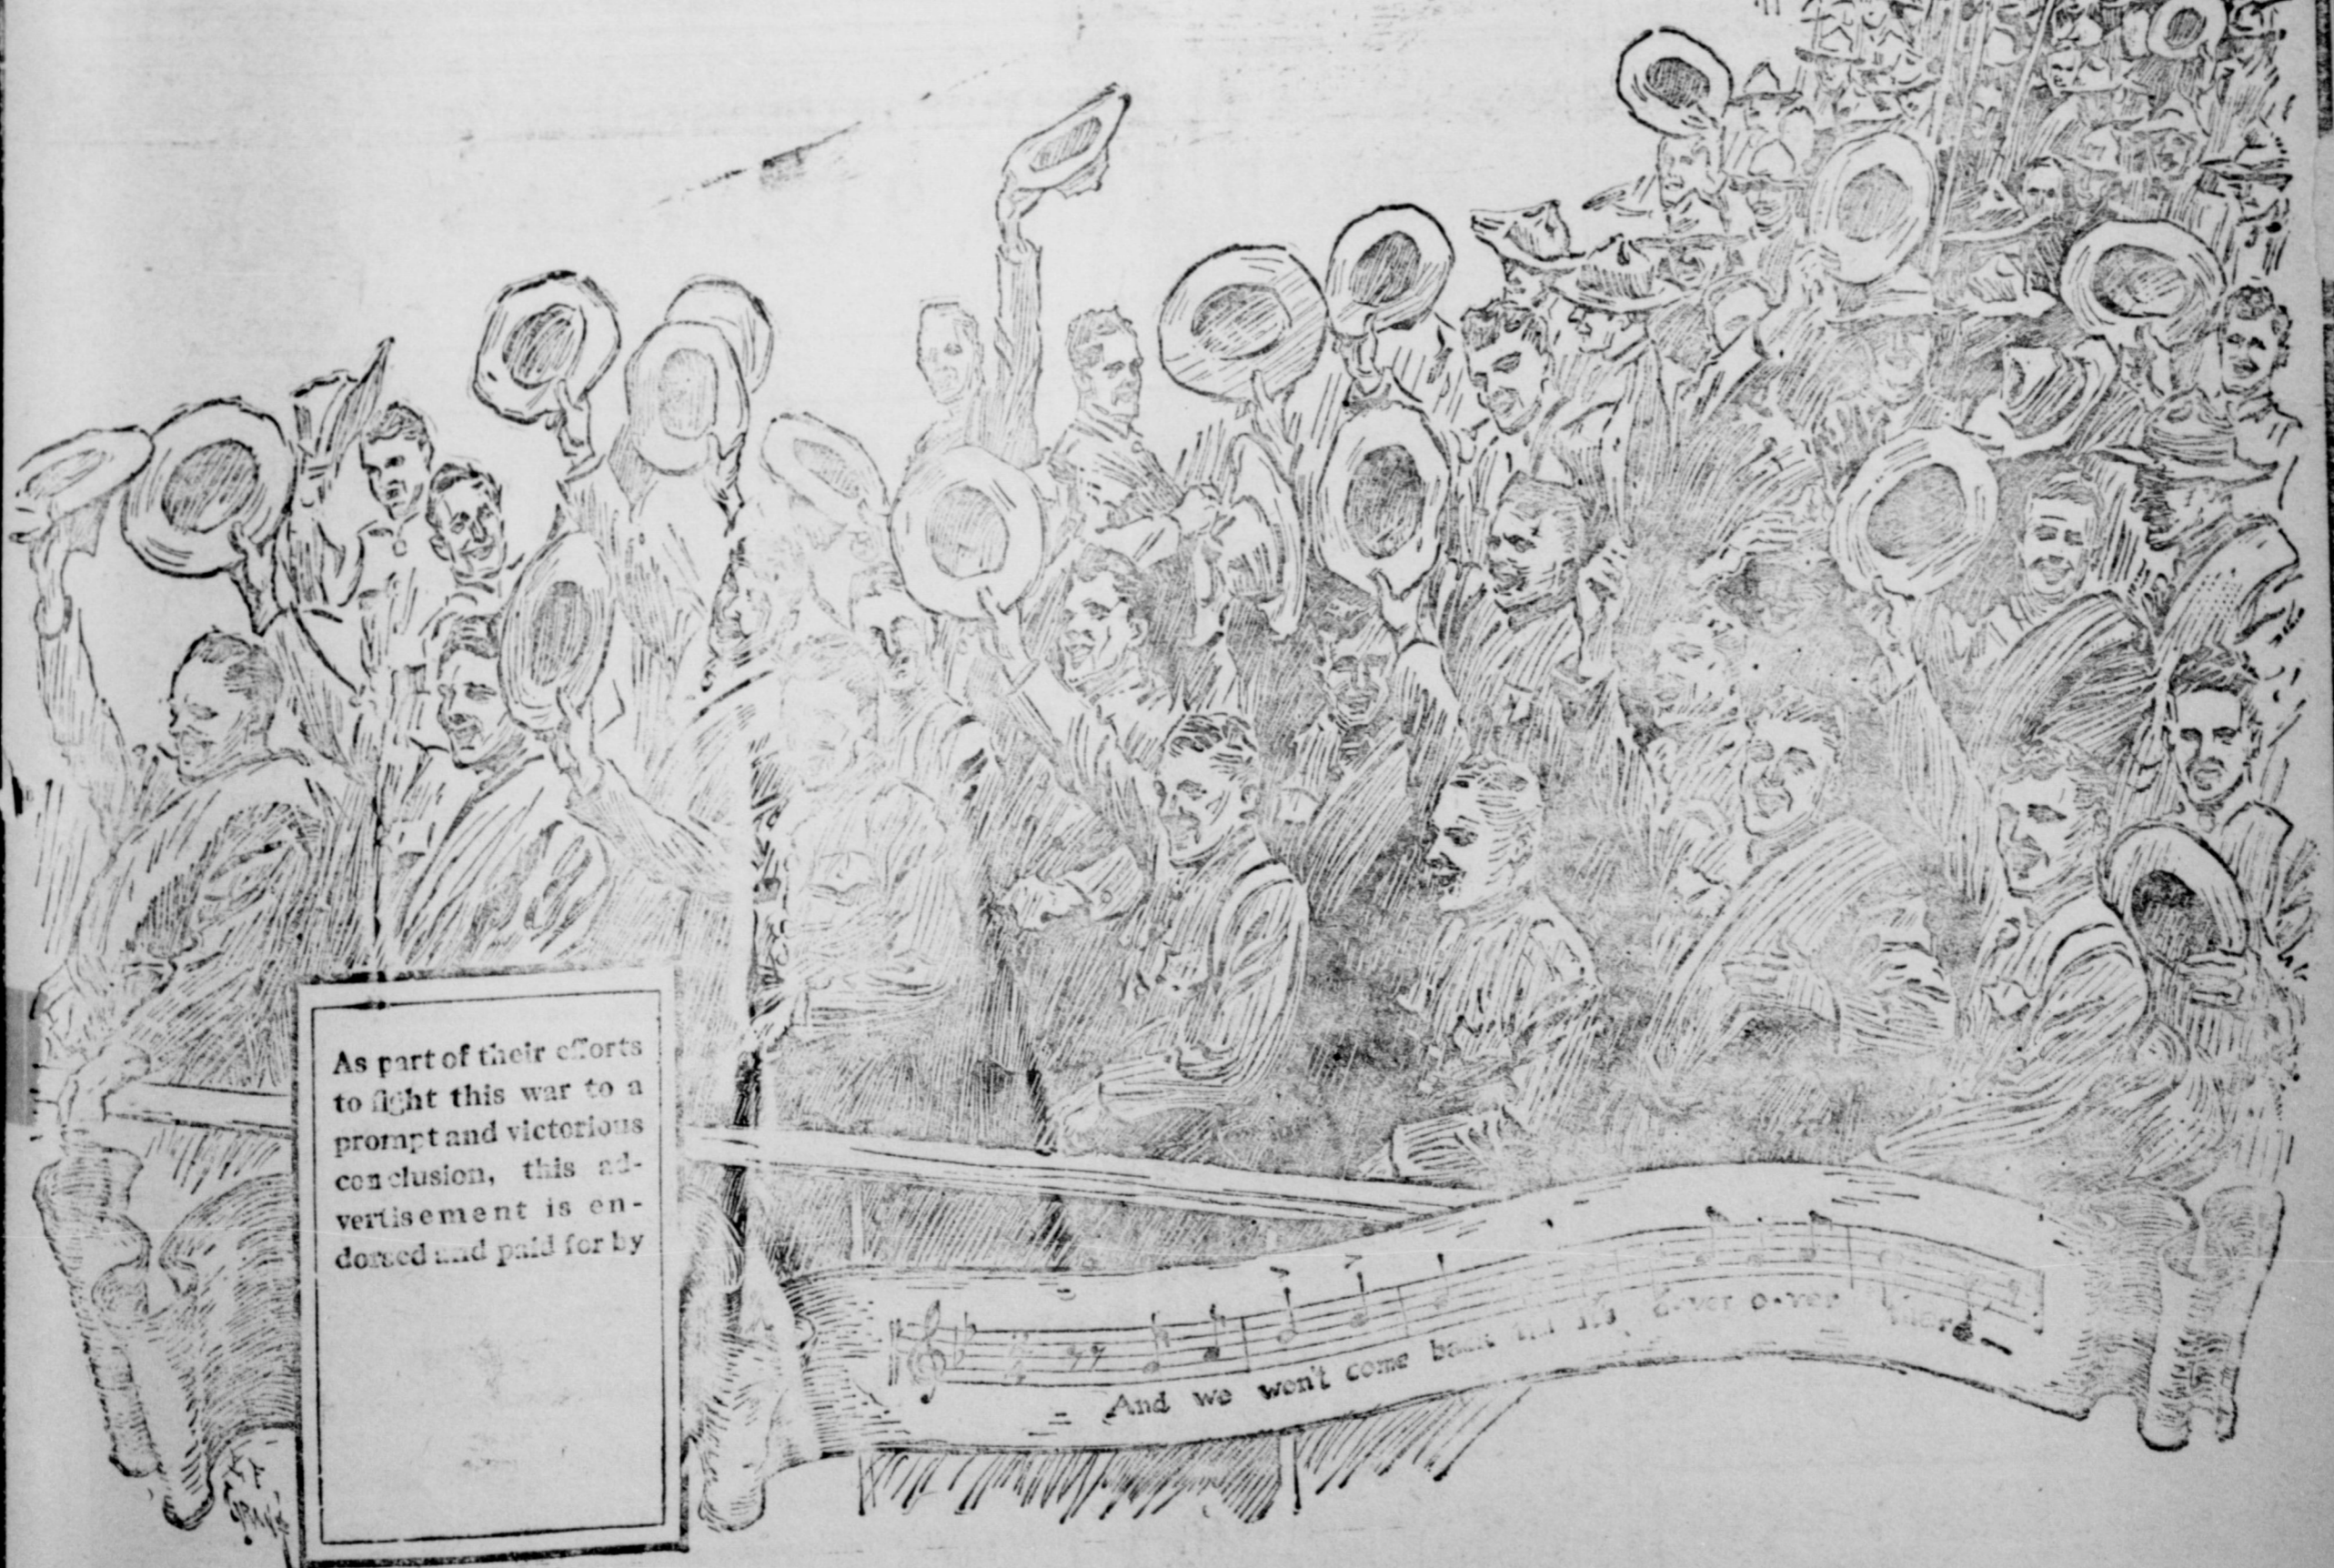

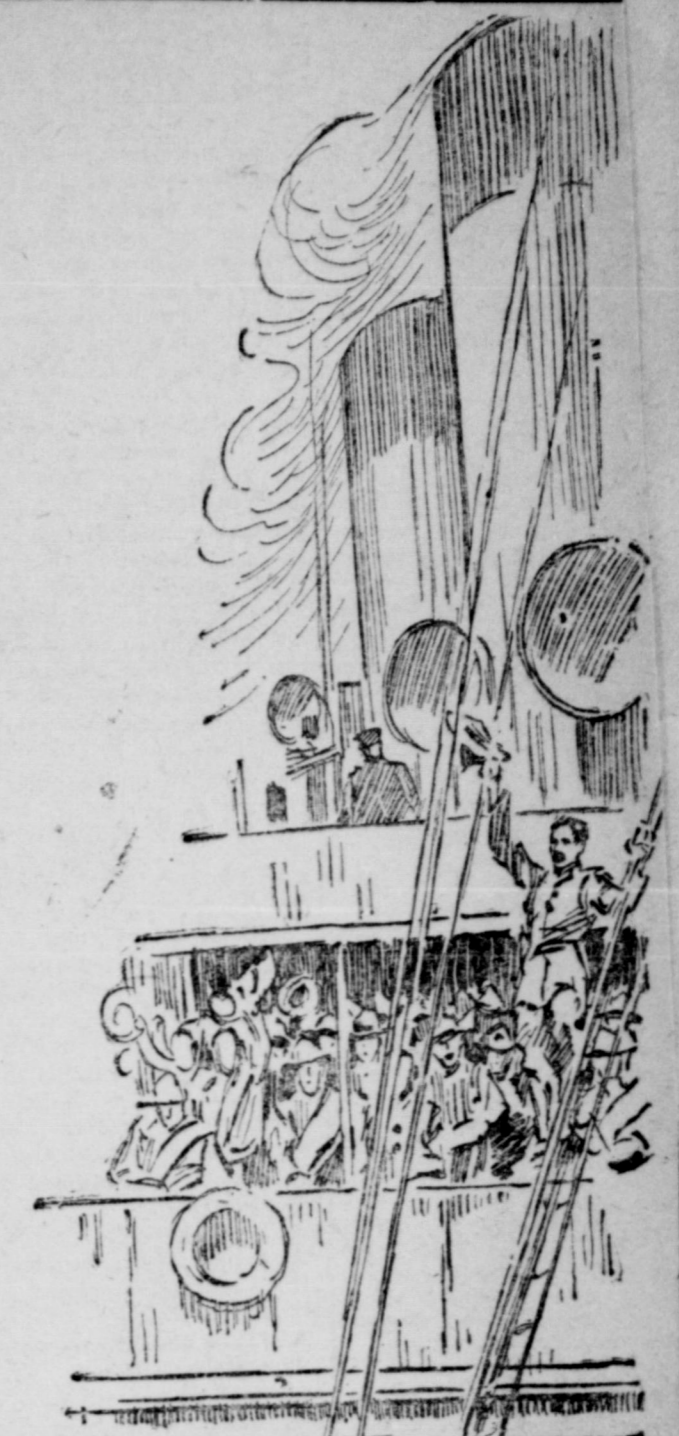

Whether it's driving a truck, tending the old goulash wagon, or fighting hand to hand in blood and mud, our boys meet it with American morale---the thing that will win the war.

No task too small, no sacrifice too great---that is the spirit of our boys---make it your own.

Sacrifice with a song in your heart, smile at discomfort, fight waste and extravagance as you would a Hun. Lend cheerfully.

Morale will win the war.

Write me for anything you want and it will be sent on approval, prepaid.

The following poetry was written by J. P. Burrows by the undersigned:

I enlisted into the army, a soldier for to be.
To help whip the kaiser now ally dont you see.

I came through Jefferson barracks, from there to Fort Mc-owell, and across to Honolulu the Sherman it was foul.

Happiness on the ocean can be a joke.
That sick and dizzy motion rocking of the boat.

Around the boys was missing merry, merry huns.
The only thing they seem to know was I bet you there he was.

There was some reckless gambling, with every note and dice.

But none of them had any luck trying the old army game.

And when at last we landed Honolulu town.
The bunch had heavy footsteps staggered all around.

At the command, forward! or out face, to make.
They saw their bodies working, a leg they could not shake.

Resting over Sunday, quite a different bunch it was.
That fell in line for duty when they heard the bagle buzz.

Left, right, to the rear, we do all so nice.
Our Corporal gets delighted and has us do it twice.

But we are out to get the miser, old William is his name.
And if there is any chance at all, we are rearing to get in the me.

By Oran E. Gilbert.

My was glad it was His Legs that were Lost

He was no more than a boy and both legs were shot off, but he wished to hear Dr. E. Fosdick talk to the nurses when he came to Base Hospital number 15 at the request of the Nurses' Club, under Miss Willie R. Young, formerly a teacher in Virginia, and now Secretary of the Young Woman's Christian association in France charged with the care of nurses at a big American Hospital, "so he was wheeled into the room.

He listened as I never saw one listen, his eyes shining with interest. A. Dr. Fosdick completed his masterly talk, the boy, glowing with admiration for the mentality of the distinguished speaker, looked down on his stumps of legs and then up with eagerness at the face of Dr. Fosdick.

In a moment he burst out: "I'm glad it was that part and not the Top that had get busted up." Then Dr. Fosdick looked down into the bright eyes and said "You got it, for the man is all right." And these nurses, some hundred and thirty of them, went back to their work better prepared to care for the wounded, to give their strength in readiness, because of the inspiration they had gotten from the talker and most of all from the spirit of the heroic boy.

A Hard World

"Mother," said Helen, "when I grow up, will I have a husband?"

"Yes, I suppose so," answered her mother.

"Mother," said Helen after a pause, "when I grow up, if I get married, will I be an old maid like Aunt Gertrude?"

"Why, yes I suppose so," replied the mother. "But what are your questions for a little girl?"

"Mother," after another pause, "this is a very hard world for women isn't it?"

"Free men buy bonds; slaves buy them."

WHAT DO YOU THINK I OUGHT TO DO?

Thousands of times this question has been asked by people really anxious to find out how much money they ought to invest in Liberty Bonds.

Ask the question of a dozen friends and you will receive a dozen varying answers.

Here is an honest attempt to give a clear-cut answer to the question.

General Pershing's soldiers are allowed enough to wear, enough to eat, and a few dollars weekly to spend on tobacco and little necessities—the balance of their earning power is devoted as a gift to the Government.

Here Is Your Standard

In the matter of saving for the Liberty Loan your standard has been set. These men who are making if need be the supreme sacrifice for you, for our country and for humanity, have established a clean-cut standard. They have a right to believe that you will allow yourself enough money to purchase the bare necessities of life, and conduct business essential to the war, devoting the balance of your earning power to your Country in the form of subscriptions to Liberty Loans.

A man who gives up salary or income in order to fight for you and yours has the right to expect that you will at least

Lend As He Has Given

The man who endures without complaint the heartache of parting from those he loves, has the right to expect that you will at least sacrifice and save, even to the point of discomfort, in order to supply him with fighting necessities.

It calls for some courage. It means working at some productive essential industry harder than ever before, and the giving up of every luxury. But will you not do these things and do them cheerfully, in order to place at the disposal of our fighting men the very substantial sum you will save by adopting such a course? You will gain mentally, morally, financially.

What MUST I Do?

The yearly income of all the people in this country is estimated at fifty billion dollars.

It has been made clear that twenty-four billion dollars must be raised for war purposes during the next twelve months.

It follows that nearly half of our national income must be set aside for the payment of taxes, and subscriptions to Government loans.

Nothing short of the heroic measures of economy and saving called for by the Government will avail—measures such as our soldiers have adopted in their complete surrender of self to the cause of winning the war.

The man of moderate income will have to give or lend to the Government in the form of taxes or subscriptions to Government Loans, about one-third of his income during the next twelve months. Of course, the larger the income, the greater the percentage that must be lent or given. One-third of their income is the share of the average family. Many will be called upon to do far more.

In mathematical calculations then is to be found the answer to the question "What MUST I Do?", but in the example of our fighting men is to be found our standard, our inspiration and our guide, and the answer to the question "What Do You Think I Ought To Do?"

Let us store in our hearts the words of our President: "The shadows that now lie dark upon our path will soon be dispelled, and we shall walk with the light all about us if we be true to ourselves."

Your standard has been set. Be true to that standard. Keep faith with your country, your soldiers, and with yourself. BUY LIBERTY BONDS TO YOUR UTMOST.

Cat Needed Tuning

The landlady bustled up to her new lodger as he came down to breakfast the first morning.

"Good morning, sir" she wheezed.

"Good morning," said the lodger.

"I hope you had a good night's rest," said the landlady.

"No," said the mild mannered little man. "Your cat kept me awake."

"Oh," said the landlady, tossing her head. "I suppose you're going to ask me to have the poor thing killed."

"No not exactly," said the gentle lodger. "But would you very much mind having it tuned?"—Selected

PERSHING SOLDIER INSPIRES S. A. DRIVE

CAW RESULTS OF GREAT WORK WHICH WAS BEING ACCOMPLISHED.

BUSINESS MAN IS ENLISTED

Great Drive for Funds for S. A. Work Places Houston at Head of American Cities in Campaign.

Back of the fine success of the recent drive for the Salvation Army War Service Fund was the impulse and purpose of an artilleryman who went to France with the first Pershing forces in 1917—that the great work the Salvation Army was doing for him and his fellow soldiers must have its proper recognition and support by the people back home. Over and over again he and his fellows benefited by the work of that great organization; over and over again they found its workers eagerly, cheerfully and courageously spending themselves in service for the men in the ranks through the day and through the night, in times and places which gave to such service a peculiar and tremendous value in sustaining the morale of the men.

This soldier has been there, where "at night the troubled earth between the lines is carpeted with pain"; where "death rides whistling in every wind," and where "the very misters are charged with awful torment." He knew the awful pull against a fellow's manhood—in the slow, tedious hours of trench duty amid foul mire, and vermin, and cold and wet, and the nerve-racking crash, and concussion of high explosives. And he knew how nearly heavenly it seemed, on coming—mired, cold weary and sometimes nearly mad—from that hell of trench duty, to and the simple, earnest men, or the pure, homey women or girls of the Salvation Army right there with a cheery word, and the yet more cheery deed of hot coffee or cocoa, or doughnuts or pies or sandwiches.

And in the days off from trench duty, how the deft fingers of those wholesome women, as they piled needle and thread mending the rent jacket, or trouser, or sock, or sewed on a missing button, proved a magic telescope lens piercing through distance and time, bringing up vividly those other faces and hands of mother, or sister, or wife, and making more precious than ever the home ties. And in simple thankfulness, there formed in that soldier's heart the purpose that the folks back home should know of the service he and his fellow workers were getting from the Salvation Army workers, and should generously support that service. And over and over again as this soldier wrote to his home folks, came the story and testimony concerning the work of the Salvationists, and his urgent, reiterated plea for aid for it. And in the head and heart of the hard-headed and successful man to whom he wrote—a man who formerly had only seen its work to criticize—was planted a virile germ of sympathy and interest for the Salvation Army.

Before the days when Irvin Cobb and other peers of the quill challenged the attention of the nation to the wonderful work of that organization, a quiet, unassuming Pennsylvanian, with wide and successful experience as a campaign organizer, came to Houston at the command of Brigadier George Wood and Commissioner Estill, but between the quite general feeling among many business and professional men then that its work was duplicating the Y. M. C. A. and similar organizations, and the lack of definite knowledge or convincing testimony as to the extent and quality of the service of the Salvation Army, he found it pretty nearly impossible to enlist the organization necessary to make a campaign successful, and was just about ready to conclude he had undertaken a hopeless task.

Finally, in a conference with the leader of another great war service drive, he learned of the business men referred to above. And he found that the germ planted by that soldier in France had become a full-grown conviction that the Salvation Army's work deserved generous recognition and aid, also an equally strong purpose that this city should do her share. Through his personal help and counsel other leaders were interested; in ever widening and intensifying circles the interest grew, and an effective organization was enlisted. Houston's citizens, and those throughout the county, were given the opportunity to help our soldiers through the Salvation Army and have responded so heartily and generously as to win for our city and county the very first place in the United States in the national $5,000,000 drive. But back of it all—the earnest gratitude of a "Sammie"—Corporal Joseph Lynch Calvert. And through his interest our community found its opportunity to do a creditable service.

The fund has passed the $49,000 line, being increased since Friday by $32,500 from Chairman Daley of block 38, $485 additional from the Employers' club of the Universal Shipbuilding company and $300 from the "Log Stick" committee, making the grand total now $49,221.28.—Houston Post, August 12, 1918.

D. A. Davis went to Amarillo Sunday to attend the O. R. meeting. He returned Monday.

S. H. Bundy left Monday for Vega where he and family intend to make their home.

War Notes

In the eastern theatre the new offensive by the allies has been overwhelmingly successful. Bulgaria has surrendered unconditionally to the allies. This is a hard blow to Germany and virtually puts an end to her middle Europe empire and world domination.

On the western front the greatest battle of the war has been raging fiercely for some time. The whole front from Verdun to the North Sea has been aflame. All the western powers, England, France, Belgium and America have shared in this great struggle. Many tens of thousands of Hun are in allied prisons and a larger number still have been killed. The great Hindenburg line has been literally smashed to pieces bigoted Hun is being forced back.

Gpt. Foch has placed his estimate upon the boys from the great Republic across the sea by assigning them to the hardest and most important part of the battle front. He wanted the work done well and knew who to put there to do it.

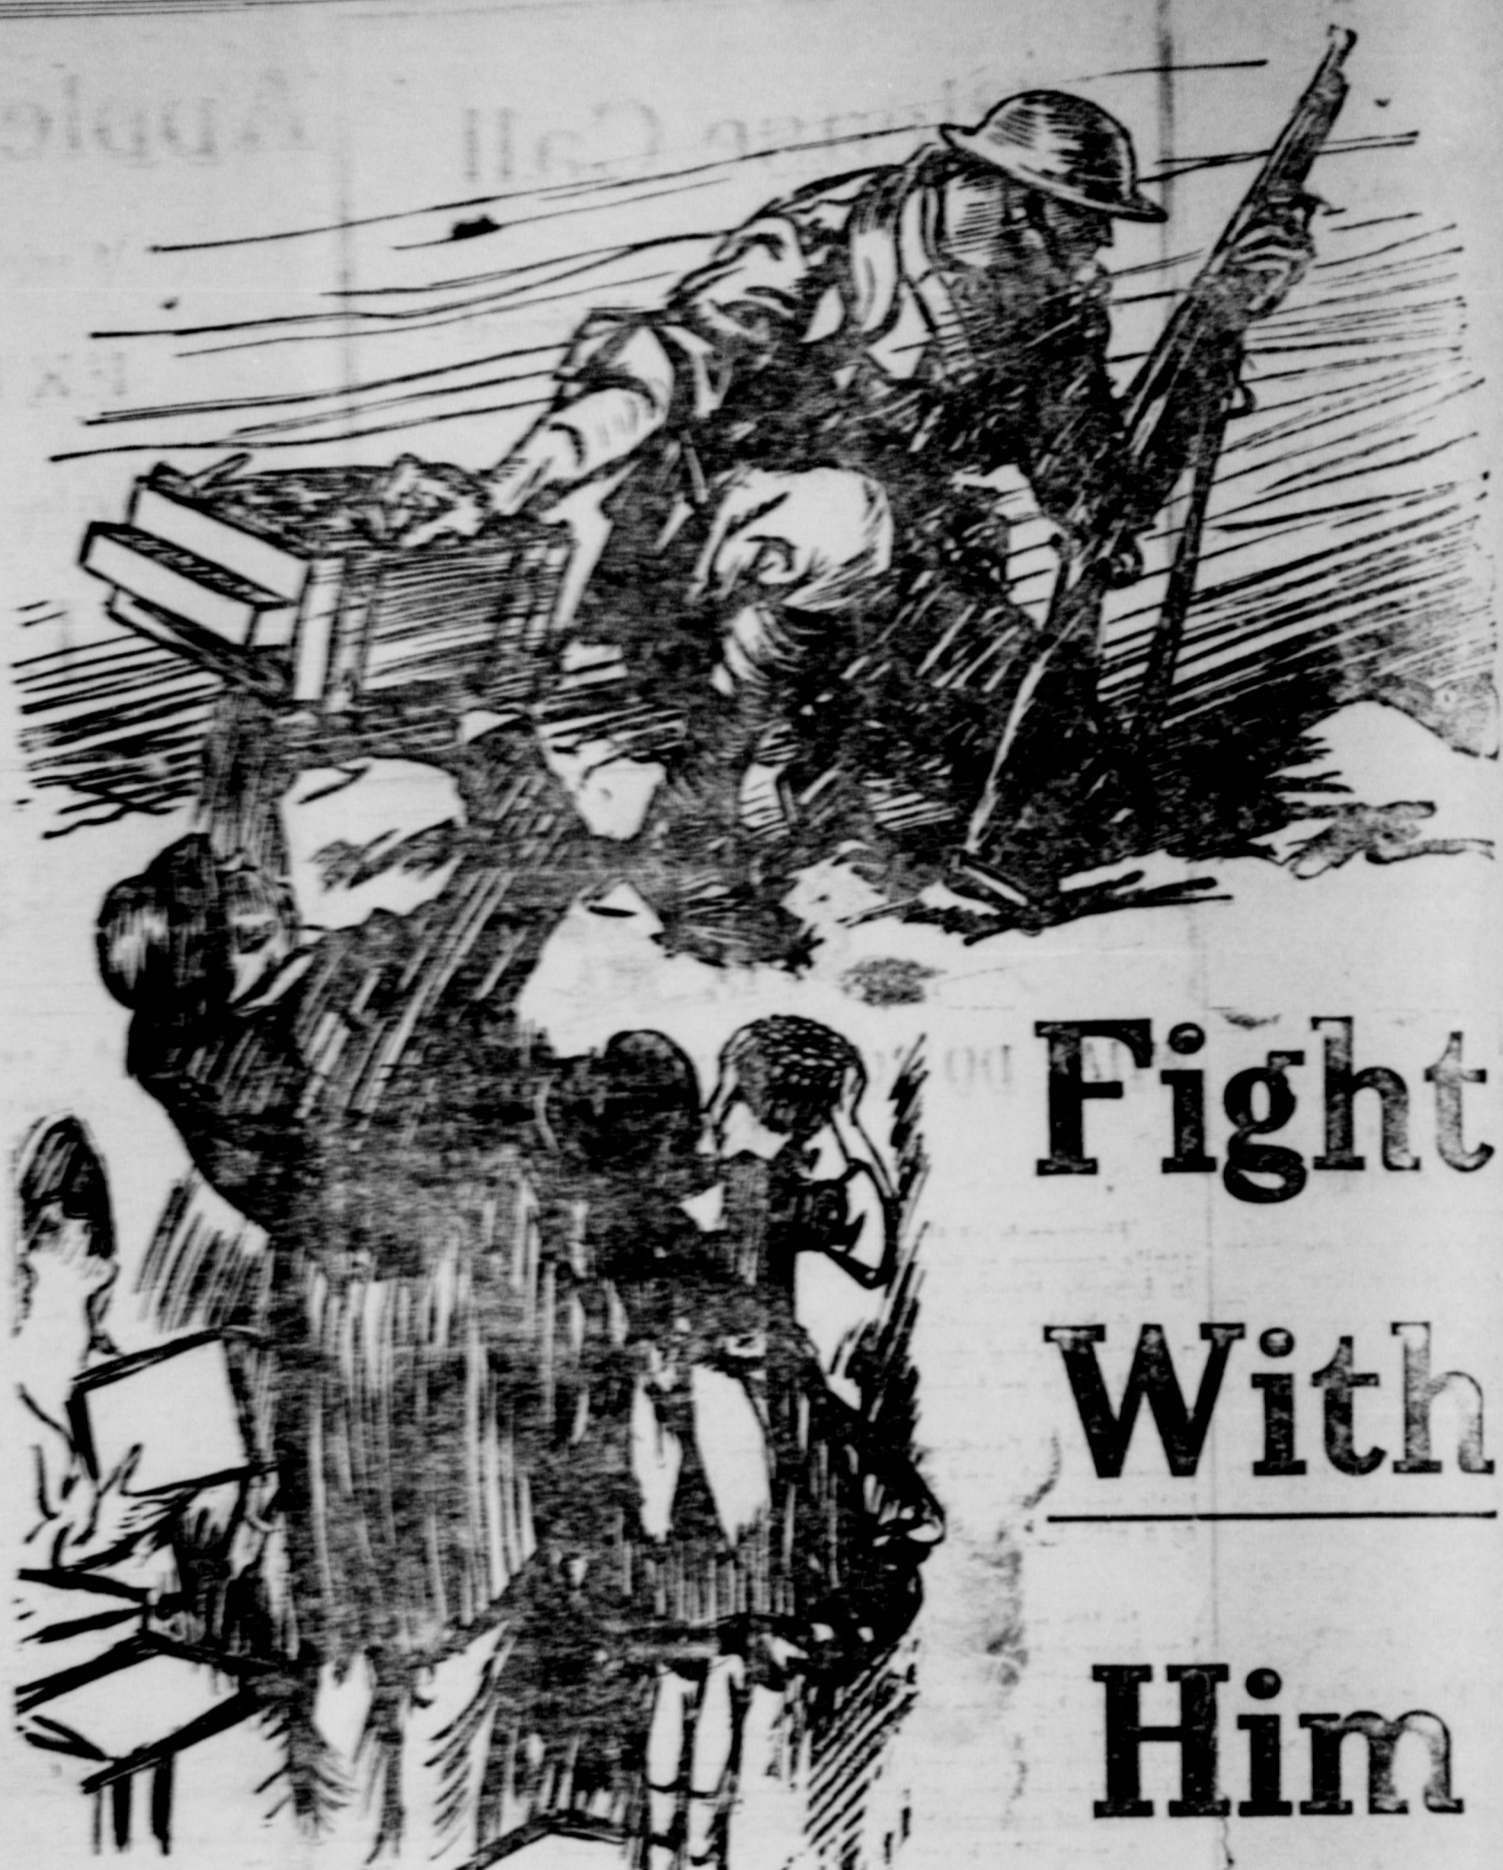

Many of the McLean boys have been in the greatest of all battles. The 88th American Division to which many of our home boys belong is fighting with the British and French in this struggle. So far none of them have been reported in the casualty lists.

Leslie Sims, one of our home boys, was recently reported wounded in action. But he has recovered and returned to the fray with new enthusiasm and determination to get some more Hun. Horrah for Lesley!

Rev. J. T. Howell closed a ten days meeting at Locust Grove Tuesday night and organized a Methodist Church with twenty three members.—Whisper Sun.

Dr. J. A. Hall, Dentist, of Shamrock, Texas, will be in McLean Thursday, Friday and Saturday, October 10th, 11th and 12th.

A. A. Callahan returned home Friday after a trip to Missouri, accompanied by his uncle, S. J. Holmes, who had been visiting there for about a month.

George W. Titus, Y. M. C. A. worker, tells on his return from France, of the fighting spirit of our American boys.

He says "Our boys are so willing to give up the rest and ease of time which they have earned by hard work in the trenches that they very often remain at the front and go into action with relief units, sometimes French or British troops, days after they should have been in a leave camp recuperating for another tour of duty at the front. At Soissons many wounded men came back to our field hospital after their own units had retired to the rear.

It is difficult to understand how this could happen unless one had seen how our fighting men may become separated from their units in hard battles. They go over the top together but after that anything may happen. Thus it may turn out that when units are withdrawn to make way for relief forces, small groups will become detached from their own companies. While waiting around for some of their fellows the lure of the battle will become so strong that they rush back into action with units that they have never seen before.

"In one instance where it was necessary to divide a company that was scheduled for leave and detail half of the men for reserve duty, the captain stated the case briefly and asked for volunteers. Every man in the company volunteered for the service that would keep him near the front."

At Cantigny, men were coming out of action practically shot to pieces. But as they lay on their cots in the field hospital they joshed and laughed in spite of the pain they suffered.

At one moment a wounded man would groan as a sudden pain darted through his body, and the next minute he would be laughing and saying: "Gad, did you see those hunns run!"

Men severely wounded would go unaided to the dressing stations. One man with both arms dangling helplessly by his side refused the aid of two stretcher bearers, telling them not to mind him, but to keep on and bring in a man whose legs wouldn't bring him.

Mrs. H. M. Smith enjoyed a visit from her father, R. W. Boucher and her brother, R. E. Boucher from Melrose, N. M., Friday.
