300 Students Were Enrolled on Monday at School Opening

With 300 students and a large crowd of patrons present, the opening of McLean public school Monday morning was marked by the unusual interest in school work, and the enthusiasm shown. The opening exercises began at 9 o'clock, and lasted until 10:30.

With Miss Ethel McCurdy at the piano, the audience sang "America," led by Mr. Cain, after which came the invocation by Rev. A. F. Agee, pastor of the First Baptist church.

Prof. W. A. Cain began his remarks by saying that he was not a speech maker, and immediately contradicted himself by making as good a speech as anybody in town is capable of. Mr. Cain spoke at length concerning the plans for running and improving the school, and held the audience spellbound from the beginning.

Mr. Cain was followed by S. M. Castleberry, who made a brief talk, thanking and praising the people for the interest they are showing in the school's success.

Miss Flossie Jordan delivered a humorous reading that everybody enjoyed.

Short talks were made by Rev. A. F. Agee, Rev. B. J. Osborn, Frank Wilson, S. R. Jones, R. S. Jordan and O. K. Murphree, after which the students marched out, a grade at a time, to the different school-rooms. Mr. Cain then made a brief talk to the patrons who remained, and then dismissed them.

The number of students enrolled in the different grades the first day is as follows:

Primary and intermediate departments.—First grade, Mrs. W. A. Cain, teacher, 46; second grade, Mrs. J. B. Vannoy, 65; third and low fourth grades, Miss Ernestine Osborne, 57; high fourth and fifth grades, Miss Lois Foster, 45; sixth grade, Miss Beulah Tucker, 29.

In the high school department, with Messrs. W. A. Cain and S. M. Castleberry and Misses Laura Hill and Lillian Abbott as teachers, the enrollment was: Seventh grade, 32; eighth, 30; ninth, 17; tenth, 6; eleventh, 4.

Can Anybody Beat This?

On August 20th H. L. Mann set a record average in melon weights that nobody has been able to touch since—not even H. L. himself. He brought in a load of watermelons on that date that averaged 46 pounds per melon, which is 8 1/2 pounds better than anybody has been able to do.

J. W. Lively and H. J. Wardlow have brought in loads averaging 39 1/2 pounds, which is the nearest to Mr. Mann's record.

To anybody that will beat Mr. Mann's record by a fraction of a pound, even, The News offers a year's subscription, a write up and the best cigar in town.

Mesdames Upham, L. Moody and B. N. Henry, Misses Julia Foster and Frankie Mae Upham motored to Shamrock Tuesday afternoon.

Baptists Finish Most Successful Year in History

"We have just closed the most successful year in the history of the McLean Baptist church," says Rev. A. F. Agee, pastor, "as shown by comparing the records of the work done this year with that of previous years. All departments of the church work have grown and a marked increase in membership and contributions is shown by the statistics."

Rev. Agee's report of the church's progress follows:

CHURCH MEMBERSHIP

A. F. AGEE, Pastor.

John Deere Row Binder

The Improved Binder With Power Carrier and Quick-Turn Tongue Truck

The John Deere Row Binder is built to the standard of quality that has characterized John Deere implements for more than eighty years.

The binders we have in stock are equipped with the short binding attachment. The bottom packer has an extra long stroke and works close to the butts, a great advantage in short stuff.

With the power carrier, which is regularly furnished, the hard work of dumping the bundles is done away with. By merely pressing the foot trip lever, the power drive on the carrier is set in motion and the bundles are dumped beyond the path of the horses.

End Your Gate Troubles with "Can't-Sag" Gates

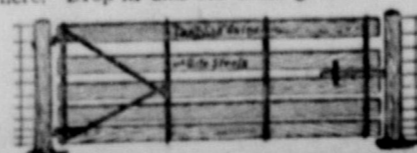

Cost Less
Last Longer
Look Better

No more heavy, tumble-down, sagging wooden gates. No more bent and twisted gas-pipe gates. Put up "Can't-Sags"—made of an ideal combination of iron and steel bolted securely together—no screws or nails to pull out. When closed and latched, the "Can't-Sag" gate is securely locked at both ends—stock can't break through to destroy growing crops.

Can't-Sag a Fraction of an Inch

In order to sag even a quarter of an inch, 45 bolts and 8 pieces of angle steel would have to bend. You know that is impossible. Yet, this ideal gate costs less than the old-fashioned kind. Thousands are in use on large and small farms everywhere. Drop in and see these gates when you are in town.

Now We Know Pezackly Why She Fixes It That Way

The style of dressing a lady's hair in whorls over the ears is adopted by the modern society Miss from a custom of the Hopi Indians. This coiffure is used by the Indian maid as a sign that she is courting.—Canadian Record.

We are glad the Record editor gave us an explanation of this new hair dress style we see worn by our women these days. We have wondered where these styles came from. They remind us of the two horns on a cow's head. We guess the common name for them would be rats. You say they were the Indian sign that the maiden was courting or wanted to be courted, or words to that effect. There is no doubt but that the average maiden these days wants to be courted, but we never dreamed that they were on to the Indian sign.—Lockney Beacon.

To Our School Patrons

What an awful boisteration,
Giving kids an education,
But don't belittle such a station,
If you'd see the world grow better,
A nobler thing we couldn't do
Than give the child a broader view,
So let's stand by our teaching crew,
And help to put the kiddie through
To higher heights; yes, let's be true,
Be faithful to the letter.

Let's see the child is put in school,
Encourage it to keep the rule,
And not stand off and play the fool
By acting like a stubborn mule,
Unless we've stood the test;
Flesh and blood will sometimes err,
So don't be ready for a stir,
And want to pull a fellow's fur
Because you think that he or her
Has failed to do his best.

Fellow patrons, let's stand by them,
Our full support let's not deny them,
I'm sure they'll have enough to try
Without a critic's stare to eye them,
Let's pledge co-operation;
Our public schools will surely grow
If we will just such interest show,
I'll help to make the business go
And all around will truly know
We stand for education.

My goods are all new—none of it shelf-worn—and was bought with the idea of supplying those who want good stuff rather than lower-priced merchandise which lacks in quality.

All lines are not yet complete, but I have a big lot of goods in transit and will have a fairly complete stock when they arrive. Owing to shortage of some things, it will be impossible to have everything for some months to come. However, you will admit when you see it that I have a pretty decent assortment of hardware, and there are a lot of things you need that can be bought from me.

FORDSON Farm Tractor. When Henry Ford set about building the Fordson tractor he had a thorough understanding of just what it should be and what it should do. His early life on the farm gave him a deep insight into the daily life of the farmer; his mechanical genius saw the type of tractor needed. He began work on a farm tractor thirty-five years ago, and for more than twelve years he experimented over more than 7,000 acres of land in different kinds of soil, with different crops. So he built the Fordson. It is so simple that a schoolboy can operate it. It is low in first cost. It is lowest in operating cost and Fordson parts and Fordson service are always to be had promptly from the dealer. The Fordson is a profitable investment. It can be used every working day in the year. It is an inexpensive power plant that will lighten your farm work. It has proven its worth on more than one hundred thousand farms not only in operating implement in the fields but in belt and pulley work. And it doesn't eat when idle. M. D.
