Trade early is a plea being made this week to residents of Big Spring and one which will be taken before the service clubs during next week.

The subject first came up for discussion at the chamber of commerce directors meeting Monday when it was agreed that some effort should be made to encourage townspeople to do their weekend shopping on Friday in order to partially relieve congestion on Saturday.

Petaun Orders Leaders Tried For War Guilt

VICHY, Unoccupied France, Oct. 16 (AP)—Marshal Petaun tonight ordered a speedy public trial for five men accused of leading France to defeat against Germany, including former president Leon Blum and Edouard Daladier and the one-time allied generalissimo, Maurice Gustave Gamelin.

The chief of state announced in a broadcast that he had ordered Daladier, Blum and Gamelin transferred from one prison to another and had held Guy La Chambre, former air minister, and Pierre Jacomte, former administrator of national defense industries, at the Chateau de Bourassol.

He failed to mention Pierre Cot, another former air minister who is now in the United States.

Workers Walkout Of Steel Plant

A new strike halted operations today at a big Detroit steel plant, while at Pascagoula, Miss., AFL union leaders recommended resumption of work at a strikebound shipyard.

The disputes at the Great Lakes Steel Corporation in River Rouge was the fourth in four months, and officials of the firm termed it a "wildcat" strike. The plant employs 8,000 men and has many defense orders.

Four hundred men present at a union meeting last night booed down Orville Kincaid, their regional director, when he attempted to announce the results of wage adjustment negotiations he had carried on with the management.

The spokesman said that in 115 days up to yesterday the German army had taken as much territory as it did in 147 days of operations in Poland, Norway, Holland, France, Yugoslavia, Greece and Crete.

The reported occupation of the two cities indicated the Germans are attempting to close a giant pincers and encircle Moscow.

At the same time, DNB reported from Bucharest a Rumanian announcement that her troops had penetrated the defenses of Odessa and that the Black Sea port was in flames.

German, Rumanian Armies In Odessa

By The Associated Press

German and Rumanian armies have bettered their way into the big Russian grain port of Odessa and are fighting in the streets against the last resistance of the garrison and people's army which held out through 59 days of siege.

The city was reported aflame.

The Rumanians said that in the Russian' last desperate defense against the onslaught they sent every able bodied man, woman and child into the firing lines.

Houston Strikers Go Back To Work

Red Lines Unbroken

BERLIN, Oct. 16 (AP)—Germans are striking at soviet defenses approximately 62 miles from Moscow after occupation of the strategic cities of Kalinin and Kaluga, the high command said today, and it was intimated that an important announcement respecting the soviet capital might be expected soon.

"In the east we are already fighting in several points on Moscow's outer defense line, which is approximately 100 kilometers from the soviet capital," a communique said.

Defenses of besieged Odessa were reported to have cracked.

Kalinin, railroad center on the upper Volga river 95 miles northwest of Moscow, and Kaluga on the Moscow-Bryansk rail line 90 miles southwest of the capital "have been in German hands for several days," the high command said.

A hint of "an important announcement, possibly within a few hours," was dropped by an authorized spokesman in response to an inquiry as to what was happening to the Russian government and the Moscow diplomatic corps.

He said an answer was probably unnecessary because of the clarifying announcement expected.

The spokesman said that in 115 days up to yesterday the German army had taken as much territory as it did in 147 days of operations in Poland, Norway, Holland, France, Yugoslavia, Greece and Crete.

Another Jap Cabinet Quits

Agreement On US Relations Lacking

TOKYO, Oct. 16 (AP)—The Japanese government resigned tonight, admitting its inability to agree on the great issues confronting the empire.

Failure to reach an accord with the United States and growing military pressure for action in the crisis arising from German successes against Russia were strongly indicated as major factors in the ministry's fall.

Premier Prince Fumimaro Konoye presented en bloc the resignation of the cabinet, his third, to Emperor Hirohito amid increasing press agitation for an end to efforts to conciliate the United States.

(Konoye had let it be known he would not take responsibility for a break with America.)

Predictions were made in informed quarters that the crisis might produce a more vigorous foreign policy, designed to combat what the Japanese call the "ABCD encirclement"—military measures of America, Britain, China and the Dutch East Indies.

Informed observers expressed belief that the cabinet's fall was linked with an unfavorable turn in talks in Washington looking toward lessening of Japanese-American tension.

It was pointed out that a few days of conferences and imperial audiences began here almost immediately after the return to Washington last week of Kaname Wakasugi, Japanese minister.

A crescendo came just after Washington dispatches told of a meeting between Wakasugi and Undersecretary of State Sumner Welles, in which it was understood both sides laid all their cards on the table.

Wakasugi had been recalled to Tokyo in August to make a full report on the American situation and when he returned, by way of Mexico, it was reported he carried important instructions.

The emperor asked Konoye to continue in office until a successor agreed. He summoned his colleagues for a meeting at 4 p. m. tomorrow (17 p. m. Thursday, E.S.T.) to consider the next move.

The resignation followed several days of intensive consultations among the empire's highest, over some of which the emperor himself presided. Until tonight there had been no official intimation that a cabinet crisis was imminent.

(Although yesterday it was pointed out that the prominent part taken in the conferences by the lord privy seal, Marquis Koichi Kido, indicated big changes.)

Domestically, news agency close to the government, said formation of the new government, whether under Konoye or someone else, probably would get under way tomorrow.

News of the cabinet's fall reached the public when newsboys ran through blackout-darkened streets crying "Gogoi! Gogoi!" (Extra! Extra!). Japan's capital is going through intensive air raid precautions.

The resignation came shortly after a foreign office announcement that the staff of the Japanese embassy in Moscow and other Japanese had left the German-threatened Russian capital for an undisclosed destination.

It was said that similar withdrawals had been urged by the Russians upon all other embassies and legations there so Japan's action was not the result of isolated circumstances.

The background of the resignation also included a Japanese naval officer's declaration that Japan-United States relations were at a crossroads where they might turn to war.

The officer, Capt. Hideo Hiraike, director of naval intelligence, speaking last night at Kyoto, envisaged the possibility of a sea campaign against Japanese trade and of bomber raids upon the Japanese homeland.

Search For Lost Airplane Continues

EL PASO, Oct. 16 (AP)—The search for a missing observation plane and three army fliers today entered its fourth day without tangible clews.

More planes from army air bases at Albuquerque, N. M., and Phoenix, Ariz., joined the hunt, centered now over more distant forest areas of the New Mexico mountains north of here.

The ship from Higgs Field, Fort Bliss, disappeared while enroute to tow a target for anti-aircraft gunners at the Dona Ana range, 40 miles north of El Paso.

In it were Lt. Willis Hunt of Blytheville, Ark., Lt. C. S. Kaiser of Louisville and Sgt. Richard Lauck of Denver.

Recovering from the effects of a rain two and a half weeks ago which sprouted around three to five per cent of the heads, feed stood to suffer sharply from the new plague of moisture. However, sunshine and wind came as a blessing Thursday and might reduce the amount of damage.

In tight land sections of Dawson county effects of the hail possibly will not be felt so keenly for speckled bolts on stripped stalks were expected to open. Green, slick bolts on deep sand areas, however, probably will do no more than make bolts.

ARMY BUYS SKIS

BOSTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—The war department announced contracts today for 34,648 pair of skis, for the regular army, sufficient to send two divisions gliding over the snow. Prices ranged from $7.85 to $15.25 a pair and the orders went to manufacturers in widely scattered sections of the country.

Forry (left) (R-Ohio) extends a hand to Chairman Sol Bloom (right) (D-NY) who has bitterly criticized the day before. Smiling his approval is Rep. Karl E. Mundt (R-SD) who also engaged in the previous day's exchange with Bloom.

Aviation Gas Refiners Get Priority Nod

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—High priority rating was announced today on seven new plants for production either of 100-octane aviation gasoline or of the best stock and blending agents used in that vital fuel.

Petroleum Coordinator Ickes said "the action clears the decks for final, rapid consideration of plans to triple the nation's aviation gasoline refining capacity."

Ickes said means of multiplying the fuel output for the American and Russian and British flying forces would be discussed here October 20 with chairmen of aviation gasoline subcommittees representing the refining branch of the oil industry. He reported also that conferences were being held with the Reconstruction Finance Corporation on methods of financing new plants and methods of providing train contracts for output.

Ickes told reporters recently a shortage of flying fuel threatened that 50 new 100-octane refineries and additional plants for producing special grades used in the fuel would be necessary.

Magnesium Plant Explosion Kills One

NEWARK, N. J., Oct. 16 (AP)—One person was killed and three others were injured in an explosion shortly after noon at the National Magnesium corporation plant, a company spokesman said.

Two injured were taken to St. James hospital.

Further details were not immediately available.

The plant is in the ironbound section, a short distance north of Newark airport.

Huge Navigation Bill Approved

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—The house rivers and harbors committee approved today a navigation and power program estimated by the army engineers to cost nearly $1,000,000,000.

Among the ambitious scores of projects, among them the $200,000,000 Florida ship canal, the $96,000,000 Tennessee-Tombigbee waterway, the $48,000,000 Beaver-Mahoning canal in Ohio and Pennsylvania, and the St. Lawrence seaway.

The committee vote was ordered after weeks of hearings, and Chairman Mansfield said that a bill authorizing the works but making no appropriation would be introduced within ten days.

The bill, he added, would stipulate that works other than those for defense would not be carried out until after the emergency. None could be undertaken until funds had been made available by subsequent appropriations by congress.

Among the larger undertakings the bill would authorize are: A $15,000,000 improvement for Trinity river, Texas.

Repair Materials Given Priority

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—The office of production management, moving to aid thousands of the nation's industrial plants, today granted them a defense preference rating for use in obtaining maintenance and repair materials.

The rating, the lowest issued for defense needs but higher than any civilian priority rating, also can be used to obtain operating supplies such as fuel which are used in manufacturing processes.

Temporarily at least retail establishments are excluded from terms of the order because of administrative difficulties involved in operating a maintenance and repair plan in the field. OPM officials said, however, that generally speaking the priority assistance would reach into all segments of the American economy.

Senators Blast At Gen. Lear

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—Senator Gurney (R-I.D.) asked the war department today to investigate a new complaint against the army's shakeup of national guard officers previously protested in a telegram from Senator Clark (D-Mo.) to Lieut. Gen. Ben Lear.

Gurney said he had received a complaint alleging that a national guard officer, whom he declined to name, had been relieved of his command without just cause.

"There seems to be some logical doubt as to whether this officer was inefficient and I intend to find out the facts," Gurney told reporters.

Clark telegraphed General Lear yesterday declaring that Lear ought to retire "rather than make Major Gen. (Ralph E.) Truman the goat" for what Clark described as a "tactical defeat" of Lear's second army in recent maneuvers.

General Truman, a cousin of Clark's colleague, Senator Truman (D-Mo.), resigned from the army after being transferred from command of the thirty-fifth national guard division to the presidency of the second army's permanent reclassification board. Subsequently Lear wired Clark that General Truman had resigned after "splendid and outstanding service."

Clark replied angrily that this was "the old army game which does not intend to leave a national guard officer, no matter how efficient, in command of a national guard division." Clark's office said he had received no reply yet to this communication.

Senator Gurney declared that he and others had received numerous complaints about changes in the army's officers personnel but that there was little congress could do about it.

There are more than 2,000,000 telephones in Great Britain.

First Cigarette, First Aid
ALAMEDA, Cal.—A 64-year-old woman appeared at the Alameda First Aid station suffering from dizziness, spots before the eyes and a general feeling of insecurity. Her alarm at her sudden physical condition was great. Close questioning developed that she had just smoked her first cigarette.

THE WAR TODAY: Can Russia Fight Two-Front War?

By DEWITT MacKENZIE
The Russian command at midday indicated that the red lines were holding firmly against the increasingly violent Nazi assault on the defenses of the capital, but while the Muscovite statements were cool and determined they plainly were calculated to emphasize that the beleaguered city is in dire peril.

The German encircling movement continues, but the main force of the Hitlerian thrust is being flung against the defenses directly west of the metropolis along the old Napoleonic route.

An authoritative source in London said that the battle here probably had reached its crisis, and this would seem to be true.

By this he meant that the Nazis and bolsheviks are at grips close to the main bulwarks of the city in this frontal zone. If these fortified positions are reached and give way, the chief obstacle remaining before the Germans will be a wall of grimly battling red soldiers.

The Nazis are pouring a steady stream of reinforcements, both manpower and mechanized equipment, into the conflict here in an effort to smash through these vital defenses by sheer weight. The conflict is bloody, and the dead are piled high.

As a companion piece to this great crisis, another has boiled up in the Far East, and our own United States is indirectly involved in this. The Japanese government has fallen because of a disagreement over the method of pursuing the national policy of expansion.

The powerful military group has been anxious to take advantage of Russia's perilous position and strike at Siberia. More cautious advisers have feared that such a move might bring war with America. The fall of the cabinet undoubtedly means that at least the issue is to be faced squarely—small Japan east coalition to the winds and hit at Russia while the bolsheviks are battling for their lives on the western front?

Should Tokyo decide to issue such a challenge, there can be no doubt that possibilities of American involvement in the war would be greatly increased. The Japanese have been watching the progress of the Nazi invasion intently. As the Germans success has piled up, so has Japanese eagerness to profit by the situation increased. The present peril of Moscow is pulling them hard.

Could Russia stand a war on two fronts? That gets us into the realm of pretty vague speculation, because much would depend on external circumstances—the attitude of Uncle Sam, for example. However, it can be said that if the bolsheviks are able to pull their fighting lines back and establish a firm front for the winter, then they should be able to cause any Japanese invasion plenty of trouble.

It mustn't be overlooked that Siberia is organized as a unit in the matter of defense and defensive production. Also the reds have a large standing army in the Far East—unless they have withdrawn it for service in the west, and while they may have brought back some forces it isn't likely that they have stripped Siberia, in view of the Japanese menace.

Colorado Citian Joins Air Corps

Arthur C. Runyan, Colorado City, has been enlisted and assigned to the U. S. Army Air Corps at Sheppard Field near Wichita Falls, Sgt. Troy Gibson, recruiting officer, said Thursday.

Meanwhile, Sgt. Gibson was busy receiving applications from youths who wish to participate in an aviation cadet refresher course. Six of the applications have been completed and 12 of the 17 applying are eligible for the course, he said. The other four have sufficient college requirements provided they can pass the physical.

Vacancies listed by the sergeant included posts on the Hawaiian and Philippine Islands, unassigned in the Panama Canal zone, and the Air Corps at Sheppard Field, Jefferson Barracks and Biloxi, Miss.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico — Domestic fruit and vegetable prices have risen by 40 per cent, according to the Puerto Rico Chamber of Commerce, which, in its latest monthly bulletin, attributed the price rise to accelerated buying by the army.

Hitler Shows 'Conqueror's Smallpox' Symptoms

By MORGAN M. HEATY
AP Feature Service Writer
WASHINGTON — Adolf Hitler has finally shown symptoms of the disease that has affected all the dictators who preceded him in world history.

It's conqueror's smallpox. In this war, conqueror's smallpox is a third front. The first is the English Channel. The second is Russia.

Conqueror's smallpox is the malady brought on by people who are willing to risk their lives to protect conquest. So far, Hitler has not caught the disease in its most virulent form. Most international observers suspect the outbreak in European states may be premature, and will not become violent at this time.

There are several reasons:

Hitler has more powerful antidotes than any previous dictator ever had. The airplane and the tank can do more to stop revolt than any other weapons of history. Rifles and small arms are pop guns against planes and tanks.

In the second place, the outbreak is not well enough organized to impede Hitler's war efforts. It is too sporadic.

Meanwhile Hitler has an excuse to kill off leaders in nations where revolts have occurred, together with their "tools."

How and why no dictator ever escapes this disease is a mystery peculiar to history. Tons and tons of literature have been written about it, but none of the explanations is wholly satisfactory.

Outstanding example of a ruler who suffered from conqueror's smallpox is Charles V, the first king who actually tried to set up a United States of Europe.

In his old age, Charles V stayed in the saddle for months on end, in a desperate attempt to hold together the nations he had conquered. At last he gave up, and retired to a monastery.

Most historians suspect the chief symptom of conqueror's smallpox is an unfilterable virus known as "the spirit of nationalism." Nothing seems able to kill this spirit if it has the will to live. Genghis Khan, Alexander, Napoleon could not muster enough terror, enough force of arms to kill that spirit.

Draw a ring around the places where major incidents of anti-naid rebellion have flared. Despite censorship, the showing is impressive. How many hundreds of unmentioned, minor—but ultimately exhausting—incidents have occurred nobody knows.

Every "incident" is doubly debilitating to Germany. First, it detracts from the war effort against Russia and Britain. Second, it takes the effort of German occupying forces to hunt down the saboteurs.

Every German soldier required to keep the peace in a conquered country is a man lost from the fighting front. Furthermore, he sometimes is a man lost from productive enterprise in Germany proper, because it has been necessary to call up older reservists to replace young fighting men needed at the Russian front.

Germany has shown no slackening of her policy of militant reprisal for sabotage and subversion. Hundreds have been shot by firing squads in pursuit of that policy, hostages admittedly innocent of the crimes for which they died.

It's possible that sheer terror may deter conquered populations from further depredations. It's also possible that it won't. It hasn't to date.

If it doesn't, the third front may turn out to be the extremely important.

Thunder never has been heard unmistakably more than about 20 miles from the lightning flash.

Music is now being used in defense plants to speed production.

Hero, Heel or Hurt—Football Mother Both Fears And Thrills As She Watches Her Boy

By MARY WEALEY
Kaw-thock! It was a mighty tackle. The crowd roars in approval. Then the shrill blast from the referee's whistle—
Silence envelops the stands like a fog. Somebody didn't get up. And somewhere in the crowd a mother lives a thousand years until she finds out if her son is hurt.
She is a passive, poker-faced soul, however. These mothers learn to be of sterner stuff than ordinary spectators. She hears the boy praised in one breath and called a brainless duncie in another. Yet she never reveals a trace of having heard either. Her chief reaction is to tense in her seat as a play starts, push unconsciously with her shoulders and then sag momentarily when the play is over.
A real football mother can't afford not to see the next play. She'll be expected to discuss it tonight and tomorrow, and maybe next week. So she draws on that courage only mothers possess. Yet she wouldn't have her boy anywhere but out there.
She probably doesn't know the score until she looks at the score board or somebody tells her. She doesn't see much of the game. Just one player occupies her attention—her boy.
When he fumbles, drops the ball or gets thrown for a loss, she stands groan. But it's just a drop in the atmosphere compared to the feeling that she has.
Having heard nothing all week but the mechanics of the play that just finished, she and the coach could compare notes. He should have blocked that man, tried a pass, or converted that kick.
This football mother is up on all statistics of the game. She knows what weaknesses the team has and the loop holes in the defense of the other side. She gets a thrill when her boy reces for pay dirt but inside her nerves are tied in knots.
When he game is finally over, win or loss, she begins to relax. She even finds she can talk again—about the game of course. She's better informed than the average woman because that game will be re-hashed and she'll have to have

Housewives To Hear Cooking Aids At School

Helpful and timely suggestions for making favorite dishes more palatable and attractive to the eye will be some of the items discussed by Mrs. Cora Wilson at the annual cooking school to be held here October 20, 21 and 22 at the Rita theatre.

The school, sponsored by The Herald, local business houses, and national food companies, will be open to the public free of charge. Hours are from 9:30 o'clock to 11:30 o'clock.
Mrs. Wilson, noted food authority, will discuss food and home management problems during the homemaker's event. A question box, supplied by the audience each day, will also be answered by Mrs. Wilson.

Practical examples of food preparations will be made from the stage by the lecturer and audiences will be furnished with paper and pencil to take notes on the talks given.

How to make pie pastry more tender by keeping the dough for several hours is one suggestion of the food lecturer. Also, how to use frozen fruit juice cubes instead of regular ice cubes for drinks is another hint to housewives.
These and many other suggestions will be given to help make housekeeping and cooking an easier job for the housewife.

Golf Club Members Play Bridge And Rummy At Party

Bridge and rummy were entertainment for the Golf club members when they met in the home of Mrs. Harold Ayles Wednesday.

Mrs. Alden Thomas won the prize at rummy and Mrs. B. E. Freeman the bridge high score.

The group voted to invite the Ladies Golf association to play with them soon. The tournament was also discussed. Next hostesses are to be Mrs. Freeman and Mrs. J. C. Veivin.

Miss 'Lancous' Notes

By MARY WEALEY
With all the problems in the world to confront us there is one that bothers us not at all. That's the eternal feminine question—
"What shall I wear?"
When you go to your closet and look at your wardrobe, you are puzzled. To wear the brown or the black, the wool or the silk. Or should you just wear a sport dress instead of a dressy dress. Maybe you have these problems but we don't.
You may worry over whether that dress is a little loud for the occasion and you ought to dress more conservatively. On other occasions you wish you had something just a little more comely than the number you bought to go dancing in. But these questions don't ever occur to us.
There are times, too, when you no doubt puzzle before your closet over whether to wear a wooten dress and no coat, or a silk dress and your heavy coat. That's quite a problem we admit, but then it doesn't bother us.
Are you getting hot under the collar at such complacency and such an attitude? Well, here's the secret that we hand on to you.
We have but one little number to choose from. It's the question of whether to leave on what we have or change. It simplifies your problems down to a minimum. Necessity brings such quirks out in our personality but then it leaves us more time to worry about other things. Try it!

Two Guests Meet With Kangelian Klub

Two guests, Mrs. E. R. Keller and Mrs. T. F. Horton, played bridge Wednesday with the Kangelian Klub members in the home of Mrs. Gerald Liberty.

Mrs. J. O. Vineyard won high score and Mrs. Escot Compton, second high. Mrs. Keller binged.

Mrs. Elmer Dyer was present as a tea guest. Refreshments were served and others playing were Mrs. Jack Smith, Mrs. Bert Shive, Mrs. R. W. Hallbrook, Mrs. Bill Gage.

Mrs. Vineyard is to be next hostess.

Circle Seven Works On Rompers For Red Cross

Members of Circle Seven of the First Methodist Woman's Society of Christian Service completed and worked on rompers for the Red Cross at a sewing session Wednesday in the Red Cross room.

Attending were Mrs. J. O. Haynes, Mrs. Pat Harrison, Mrs. F. G. Powell, Mrs. J. H. Pickle, Mrs. C. A. Schulz, Mrs. Albert Smith, Mrs. J. Lusk, Mrs. G. S. True.

The group will meet next Wednesday at 1:30 o'clock at the rooms to sew again.

In addition first of the manufacturing exhibits were going up, and the Soil Conservation Service broke the ice for special displays by sending in its exhibit.

Somehow there was an error in an account of the Red Cross meeting Tuesday evening. It got down in the minutes that Mrs. G. G. Greene and Shina Phillips to select a successor for Mrs. Price, who resigned.

Variety In Serving Ground Round Steak Will Keep Food Costs Down

Meat Balls With a Difference. They're Stuffed With a Savory Dressing and Cooked in Richly Flavored Prepared Vegetable Soup.

By CAROL BRUECK
Heins Home Institute

GROUND round steak comes in for a goodly share of the responsibility of helping keep food costs down—all because it is both inexpensive and flavorful and the grinding makes it tender. So it's a good idea to have a variety of interesting recipes for serving this meat.

The recipe below describes how to make the ground round steak into a savory stuffed meat ball cooked in a vegetable soup and flavored them richly. A grand thing about it is that the vegetable sauce is really a completely prepared vegetable soup and so it's quick to fix as well.

Stuffed Meat Balls with Vegetables
Make the stuffing by combining

2 cups soft bread crumbs, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 1/4 teaspoon salt, pepper to taste, 2 tablespoons milk and 1/4 cup butter, melted. Then combine 1 pound ground round steak, 1 teaspoon salt, pepper to taste and 1 egg to make meat balls. Mix thoroughly and divide into 8 parts.

Shape meat mixture into flat round cakes and place a portion of the dressing in the center of each. Pull meat up around the dressing and press the edges together. Brown in fat in skillet. Then add 1 medium can (about 2 cups) prepared vegetable soup and simmer 20 minutes with cover over. Then remove cover and continue cooking for 10 minutes to thicken the sauce. Serve 2 meat balls per person. Serves 4.

Abilene Host To Baptists

ABILENE, Oct. 16.—Dr. W. R. White, general chairman, said today that the 5,000 Texas Baptists expected here November 11 for the annual meeting of the Baptist General convention of Texas would find Abilene prepared to care for the crowds.

Hardin-Simmons university, whose Golden Jubilee will be celebrated during the convention, is spending $10,000 to remodel and enlarge its auditorium.

Convention plans call for the Woman's Missionary Union to hold its sessions at the First Baptist church on Nov. 10-11 with the Brotherhood convening in the H-SU auditorium. The Abilene chamber of commerce is making an intensive effort to house delegates. Many of the leading figures in Texas and Southern Baptist domain will be heard at the parley.

Teacher Retirement Checks Start Moving

AUSTIN, Oct. 16 (AP)—Machines in the state comptroller's department today were readied to write 24 teachers retirement checks, the first in Texas history.

John S. Rudd, Jr., acting state teachers retirement system director, said the approved list for the first monthly payments under the act would be tendered Comptroller George H. Sheppard today with the request the checks be mailed as soon as possible.

Amounts of the payments, which will be for the month of September, will not be determined until the final calculations are made, the acting director added.

Americans annually consume 12,000,000 cases of canned fish and other canned seafood—shrimp, clams, oysters, crabs, etc.—according to output reported by manufacturers to the census bureau.

Some Handy Hints For Housewives That Are Easy On The Budget

When you have leftover meat loaf, try a trick of breaking it into small chunklets and tossing it with hard-cooked eggs, cubes of pickles, mixed greens and mayonnaise for a meal in one salad.

If you're in a jam for Sunday night supper or other occasion, try these "emergencies": French-toasted meat sandwiches. Grind some cooked ham or cured pork shoulder and mix with enough butter or other fat to spread easily on bread. Make sandwiches with this meat filling. Beat up one or two eggs with one cup milk, and dip the sandwiches lightly on both sides in the egg mixture. Fry the sandwiches until golden brown. Serve hot. Moistened cranberries go mighty well with these sandwiches.

If the youngsters drive long distances for the specialty called "vegetable hamburgers," why not serve them at home for a treat? Make them this way: on a sliced and toasted hamburger bun place a hot hamburger, a slice of fresh tomato and one of sweet onion. Garnish with a couple of radishes, wrap in a paper napkin, and hand out hot to your guests.

Little ham short-cakes are a delightful way to serve leftover ham loaf. Slice the cold ham loaf into convenient sized pieces. Heat the slices in a rich cream sauce and serve on baking powder biscuits. Decorate the top biscuit round with a sprinkling of cooked peas or cooked carrot strips.

The well-cooker of your electric stove is fine for frying doughnuts. In it melt enough lard to make at least three inches. Heat it on full heat until fat reaches the desired temperature, then turn to the lowest heat that will maintain that temperature. Drop doughnuts in and cook until brown.

When carving meat, the general rule is to cut across the grain to shorten the fibers and make the meat seem even more tender.

Add a little tapioca to your meat loaf mixture to keep it from crumbling.

To pep up a meat loaf recipe, substitute one half pound chopped bologna for the same amount of ground meat, and add one tablespoon chopped onion. Garnish loaf with half slices of orange and of red tomato, and bake.

Since all meat is proved to be 96 to 98 per cent digestible, either beef, pork, veal, lamb, ham, bacon or other smoked meats can well be served your family during all seasons of the year.

Ever hear of stuffing hamburgers? Fill greased custard cups almost half full of hamburger mixture, add a layer of meat stuffing, and cover with meat mixture. Set cups in pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven.

Churchill Offers Debate Opportunity

Presbyterian Branches Vote For Merger of Texas Colleges

By the Associated Press

Texas synods of the two Presbyterian denominations, U. S. and U. S. A., today considered further details after voting to merge Austin college, located at Sherman, and Trinity university, Waco.

Both synods acted almost simultaneously yesterday in agreeing to the merger unless insurmountable obstacles prevent.

Southern Presbyterians (U. S.) passed 143 to 59 a merger resolution presented at Dallas by a 14-member joint committee from both branches through the Austin college board of trustees.

The northern synod (U. S. A.) approved the same resolution almost unanimously at San Antonio.

Both denominations agreed to the appointment of a ten-man joint commission—five from each synod—to complete the merger and select a location.

Churchmen meeting in Dallas adopted three more of the six resolutions detailing methods of working out the merger and left only authorization of a joint financial campaign for consideration today. The San Antonio group left four of the resolutions for action today.

Austin college is owned by the U. S. group and Trinity university by the U. S. A. denomination.

Auto Tax Law Loaded With Dynamite; GOP's Think It Will Cripple Demos

By JAY G. HAYDEN
WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 — Of all the features of the new $3,500,000,000 tax law, the one that seems loaded with the most political dynamite is the $5 annual use tax applicable to some 32,000,000 American automobile owners.

This is the first instance in history when a federal tax has been imposed directly on a great number of individual citizens and treasury officials are sweating over the mechanics of its collection. Republicans meanwhile are licking their chops over what they believe will be the political reverberations of the collection of not one, but two, automobile taxes between now and the 1942 congressional election.

The law fixes the tax at $5 a year, but it also provides that it shall become effective Feb. 1, 1942, and shall be applied on the basis of the federal government's fiscal year, beginning July 1, rather than the calendar year. Hence $2.00 will be payable on Feb. 1, and then when the new fiscal year begins July 1, a full $5 fee will be collected for the ensuing twelve months.

The treasury has no present available force either to make these collections or to police them. There isn't even an easily procurable record of automobile ownership, synchronizing with the federal need. States have such records, of course, but they vary widely as to collection dates and automobile ownership shifts rapidly. Federal revenue collection districts do not always accord with state lines.

These technical difficulties are bad enough and in addition the situation is chock full of political implications. In the first place this tax was born of congressional log-rolling. The treasury had proposed doubling of the gasoline tax collected from refiners, and this was strongly opposed by representatives from the oil producing states. Chairman Robert L. Doughton of the house ways and means committee, who hails from North Carolina, at the same time was trying to escape an increase in tobacco taxes which the treasury had recommended. These oil and tobacco groups got together in search for a substitute means of raising $180,000,000. They hit on the automobile use tax and covertly abetted by republicans who were not averse to making the new taxes as unpopular as possible, succeeded in putting it over.

The treasury at that time opposed the automobile levy on the grounds, first that machinery for collection would cost up a large part of it and, second, that license taxes in many states already were so high as to constitute a serious burden on the poorer jalopy owners. Congress sided with the first of these objections by authorizing sale of federal auto tax stickers through the post office.

The treasury promptly rejected the latter suggestion as unworkable and in consequence congressional sponsors of the use tax are charging that the administration is deliberately making the job of collection as complicated as possible in order to force repeal of the auto tax.

State officials, to say the least, have not welcomed the new tax with open arms. There is scarcely a state in which automobile taxes have not been a subject of bitter political controversy. In Louisiana, for example, the present officials rode into power over the previously dominant Huey Long machine on a promise to reduce the auto license tax to a flat $4. The reduction subsequently was voted by the state legislature.

After sacrificing this state revenue in behalf of their car owning constituents, Louisiana officials are annoyed no end by the intention of the federal government to grab it off. The intimation from Louisiana is that the treasury can expect no state help in its job of collection.

At the time the auto tax proposal was before the house committee, the treasury estimated that 2,500 additional clerks would be required to administer it, and present indications are that this will not prove an exaggeration. First, it appears, a federal force will have to be put in each state collector's office to compile an up-to-date list of automobile owners—a big job in itself.

The tentative plan of the treasury is to provide a tax receipt in the form of a windshield sticker. Some time before February 1 each automobile owner will be forwarded an application form, with instruction to fill it out and return it, accompanied with a check or money order for $2.00. When this is received the auto sticker will be dispatched by return mail. This means the mailing of at least 64,000,000 letters for each collection—128,000,000 for the year.

Will Uncle Sam have to provide police to stand at every street corner or rural crossroads and spot the non-payers? The treasury hopes not. It's expectation is that a large percentage of automobile owners will come through with their payments before February 1. Those who fail to do so will receive another letter embodying a 'no' too gentle reminder. This probably will point out that an automobile operator without a tax sticker is liable to arrest. If this second letter fails to produce results the next thing in the mail may be summons to appear in federal court and explain why you haven't paid.

This being a "used tax," the owner can tell Uncle Sam to go jump in the lake if he is not using his car; but he'll have to prove it, and also if he has disposed of the car which the government lists him as owning, he'll have to prove that. A serious difficulty in this connection is that there are no local federal courts. In some cases citizens will have to be hauled hundreds of miles to tell why they are delinquent of their $2.00 obligation.

Wholesome, Well-Prepared Food Make Youngsters School Lunches The High Spot Of Their Day

Cranberries, which contain Vitamin A and minerals, make this nut bread a lunch taste treat.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE, AF Feature Service
Sparkling health can go to school with your youngsters if their lunch boxes are filled with vitamins, minerals and other body builders.
Wholesome foods, carefully prepared, attractively packed and sufficiently varied can make lunch time the high spot of the day.
Foods that need to be kept hot or cold can be placed in vacuum jars. Thick soups and chowders, creamed foods, stews and hot cocoa can be served easily at school. Cold milk, too, will carry in a vacuum bottle.
Paper napkins, small cups, plates and serving utensils come at low cost and aid in making this noon lunch a picnic affair. I have found that attention to equipment as well as food reaps health rewards.

Since sandwiches are the foundation of a school lunch, I have listed some sandwich tips, streamlined for 1941 lunch-box eaters:
1. Place thinly-sliced cheese on buttered graham bread, cover with chopped nuts mixed with salad dressing and shredded lettuce.
2. Mix chopped meat with chopped celery, carrots and parsley. Thin with cream and use as filling for enriched white or whole-wheat bread.
3. Add chopped uncooked prunes to sliced celery, cottage cheese and a little cream. Spread on whole-wheat bread and top with lettuce.
4. Thin peanut butter a little with cream, add diced celery, chopped parsley and minced green or ripe olives. Put on enriched white or whole-wheat bread.
5. Tuna, salmon or meat salad goes well on white or dark breads. (Lettuce, of course, atop the filling).
6. Spread raisin bread with orange marmalade or raspberry jam blended with cottage cheese. (No lettuce on this sandwich.)
I make up enough sandwich fillings to last for several days, put them in jelly glasses, cover with a lid or waxed paper, and store in the refrigerator. Thus I am able to put assorted sandwiches in the lunch box.
Sandwiches can be varied further by including some made from fruit, berry, jam or nut bread loaves. Here is a recipe for FRUIT LOAF, which will keep moist for several days and is chockfull of minerals. Mix 1 1/2 cups graham flour, 2 cups enriched flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon soda, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 cup dark brown sugar, 2-3 cup chopped figs, 1/2 cup raisins and 1 3/4 cups milk. Pour mixture in to loaf pan, lined with 2 thicknesses of waxed paper to help prevent burning. Bake an hour in a moderate oven (350). Cool, wrap in waxed paper and keep in the bread box.
Butter usually is the only filling required for fruit loaf sandwiches although you can mix in soft white, yellow or cottage cheese. Highly spiced or seasoned foods is not recommended for the lunch boxes of young children.

Oil Men Talk Of Priorities

FORT WORTH, Oct. 16 (AP) — What effect priorities on steel has on the oil industry was set for discussion today before the meeting here of the interstate oil compact commission.

Charles L. Orr of Oklahoma City, secretary of the commission, said one of the resolutions which committees prepared yesterday for presentation today dealt with the steel priorities.

Robert E. Allen, director of production under Federal Petroleum Coordinator Harold L. Ickes; and Dr. A. G. White, chief of the division of petroleum economics of the United States bureau of mines, were to make two of the session's principal addresses.

Orr said that the election of officers, originally scheduled for the session here, had been postponed until December.

A banquet will be given tonight for the 400 oil men expected at the compact meeting and for all new citizen members of the oil industry who have moved to Fort Worth since Jan. 1, 1940.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP) — Agricultural department officials said today it was probable that benefit payment rates to be offered farmers for cooperation with the 1942 wheat crop control program would be about 5 cents a bushel larger than those being paid under the 1941 program. The 1941 rates total 18 cents a bushel, including a soil conservation rate of 8 cents and a parity payment rate of 10 cents.

Senator Pepper Asks US To Clear Seas of Enemy Naval Fleets

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP) — Senator Pepper (D-Fla.) counseled the United States today to prepare for "certain" conflict with Hitler by "immobilizing Japan" and by sweeping the seas clear of the Japanese, German, Italian and French fleets.

"It is just as certain that we are going to have to fight Hitler as it is that the United States and Great Britain are going to continue to exist," Pepper told newsmen.

"We and Hitler are going to be the eventual ones between whom the struggle will be decided." The Florida senator, a member of the foreign relations committee and a vehement advocate of more active aid to axis foes, declared that Japan was awaiting the outcome of the Russo-German war before taking new military steps.

LEFT HIS MARK.—A mere 40,000,000 years ago a rhinoceros made footprints that have just turned up in this 600-pound sandstone slab unearthed in the Hat Creek basin near Lusk, Wyo., by a paleontological field party of the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Sciences. The "rhino" is now extinct, say scientists. Left to right at the slab are Jon Dixon and Edwin Davis.

"If Hitler should destroy Russia," he said, "it follows as night after day that the Japanese will strike with further aggression. x x x A long time ago we should have used our naval and air forces, plus relentless economic pressure, at points where that would do the most good.

"It is not yet too late to draw a line and tell Japan if it is crossed we will shoot."

"The time is long past when we should have taken the initiative. It is just as certain that we will have to fight Hitler as it is that the sun will shine. At least we should drive Hitler off the seas, and destroy the Japanese, Italian and French navies. That would make it impossible for him to get to us for a few years at least, and during that time we could consolidate our strength.

Ailing Steer Gridders Recuperating

Weather Drives Workouts Inside

Rain and cold drove the Big Spring high school Steers inside Wednesday afternoon as they prepared for an invasion by the Lamesa Tornados on Steer stadium Friday evening.

Hopes were bolstered by the return of Paul Kasch, although the outdoor workout Wednesday was of such a short nature it was impossible to tell whether he will be ready to go Friday.

Against the explosive Tornados, who have a series of plays designed to blast quick holes in the line in order to shake their tricky backs loose, Kasch's veteran skill in backing the line will be sorely needed.

Horace Bostick and Billy Womack, who were ailing last week against Odessa, are back in good shape and frisky as a pair of young colts. Frank "Fat Boy" Barton, other member of the backfield, is as usual, more than ready to be up and at 'em.

Murphy plans to start this quarter in the secondary and will more than likely open with his usual line combination consisting of Felix Campbell and Poppy Blount on the ends, a pair of young men who will be entrusted to box in the circling Gallop'n' Gus White of Lamesa as reported by scouts and in reviewing defensive assignments. Variations and developments in the Steer offense were talked up to make sure the Steers will know their jobs if they get a chance to pull some of the stuff against the Tornados.

Up at Lamesa, Coach Red Gregg worked on his offense, stymied against Abilene last week. His line-up likely will consist of Blair and Meyers, two fine ends. Beck and Wade at tackle, Roberts and Carmichael at guards, Merritt at center, and White, Taylor, Reeves and

Forsan Meets Coahoma In Crucial Game

FORBES, Oct. 15. (Sp.)—Cagle Hunt's undefeated Forsan Bulldogs will play Coahoma's also undefeated Bulldogs on the Big Spring high school grid at 8 p. m. Saturday.

The game will be the star attraction of the six-man league's 1941 schedule, as both teams have been riding roughshod over all opponents this season.

Forsan won over Water Valley last week, 46 to 0, while Coahoma took Westbrook for a 55 to 0 cleaning.

Winner of the game will be conceded to have the inside track for the six-man championship of the district.

Admission charge will be 15 cents for children and 30 cents for adults.

Too Much Scoring

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. — The new electric scoreboard in Razor-back stadium isn't geared to Arkansas football. After the University of Arkansas had rolled up 49 points against Central (Okla.) anchors the public address system announced: "From now on the scoreboard is wrong. It won't go any higher." The Porkers won, 56-0.

Smith, backs. This presents one of the better standing line-ups in the district and although Lamesa does not possess a wealth of reserves, the Tornados are better fortified in this respect than Big Spring.

THIS WEEK'S COLLEGE GRIDIRON FARE

City Again To Have A Golden Gloves Dist. Tourney

Big Spring will be the site of a district Golden Gloves tournament again in 1942.

Confirmation of the selection came Wednesday from Fiem Hall of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, who is "high commissioner" of the amateur boxing events for the state of Texas.

Dates and other details remain to be worked out, but the tourney will be held probably about the same time as this year — late January or early February — so as to fit in with the state finals at Fort Worth.

Hall said that Carl Rauscher, a special representative in the Golden Gloves activities, would be here soon to assist in general organization plans.

The Herald again will sponsor the bouts for boys, and will attempt to get a wide West Texas representation in all weight divisions. Winners will be sent to the state finals, and all net proceeds from the matches will be given to a worthy local civic or charity fund.

The matches last year — resumed in Big Spring after a year's lapse — netted some $40, which amount went to the Red Cross and service clubs for their underprivileged children's work. If the entry list stacks up, better crowds are anticipated this coming winter.

Four S'west Tilts On Air Saturday

Radio followers of Southwest conference football may listen to four broadcasts sponsored by the Humble Oil & Refining company next Saturday afternoon and evening. Two of the broadcasts feature important games in the Southwest conference race, while the other two take Texas listeners to the scene of outstanding inter-sectional contests.

Feature of the week for many listeners will be the conference game between the Texas Aggies and the TCU Horned Frogs, to be heard from Fort Worth at 2:30 p. m., with Kern Tips handling the play-by-play, and Tee Casper the color. It can be heard over KPRC, Houston; WOAI, San Antonio; WFAA-WBAP, Dallas-Fort Worth.

Another conference game of outstanding interest to be played Saturday afternoon is the annual contest between the Universities of Texas and Arkansas, from Austin. The Humble broadcast will have Ves Box as play-by-play announcer, and Dave Russell handling color. The game can be heard at 2:30 p. m. over KNOW, Austin; KOKO, Fort Worth; KRZY, Waco; KRIS, Corpus Christi; KTBK, San Antonio; KXYZ, Houston.

Southern Methodist and Rice defend the conference's brilliant 1941 inter-sectional record in games with Auburn and LSU respectively. The Humble company is sending Cy Leland to Birmingham, Ala., to bring back the SMU-Auburn game to Texas listeners. The broadcast will begin at 1:30 p. m. and will be heard over KPIZ, Fort Worth; WRR, Dallas; KTEM, Temple; KABC, San Antonio; KBST, Big Spring; KRLE, Midland; KRBC, Abilene; and KOKL, San Angelo.

The Humble company's first night broadcast of the season will feature the Rice-LSU game from Baton Rouge. The broadcast will begin at 8:05 p. m. and will have Hal Thompson as play-by-play announcer, with Bill Karn on color. The game can be heard over KPRC, Houston; WOAI, San Antonio; WFAA-WBAP, Dallas-Fort Worth.

According to current estimates, one pound of plastic will replace more than three pounds of metal.

Lookin' em Over

With Jack Douglas

Taking a turn around District 3-A:

Abilene reports that the tilt with Odessa looms as a "natural" in the minds of the Taylor county fans, with a crowd of between 7,000 and 8,000 expected.

Under the new regime of Coach Vernon Hilliard, attendance has jumped sharply in Abilene this year. That city has taken on night games for the first time this season, the former mentor, Dewey Mayhew, having been opposed to nocturnal tilts. That, plus a goodly supply of Uncle Sam's boys in the hinterlands, evidently is a big factor in Abilene's new boom.

Hilliard, by the way, is proving plenty popular. He is doing some good work with the futures book, too, in taking great interest in the elementary school youngsters who will be wearing Eagle uniforms some day. He had every one of the ward school hopefuls out, before a game, to sit on the field and hear him give the variety of his final instructions. They say there were 300 or 400 diminutive footballers flocking the field — all of them in uniform, and some of them barely big enough to hold up their shoulder pads. You can bet that kind of attention will pay off on the Eagle teams some day.

Odessa is expected to send a large crowd over to Abilene. The American of that city reminds its readers of something that has also been made known here — that there won't be any special trains for West Texas footballers this season. The reason: Uncle Sam needs all the railroads' rolling equipment, and has frowned on putting locomotive and cars to pleasure use. OK, Uncle, we'll hitchhike.

It had been reported that Midland had an idle week. Very much to the contrary, the Bulldogs essay a non-conference tilt with the Wink Wildcats. Although they're not A.A. the Wink boys always are plenty tough, and Midland is one of their bitter foes. Bryan Henderson's lads right now are tops in District 7-A, and are expected to produce opposition for the Midlanders, who have yet to rake in a win this season.

Midland announces the resignation of L. M. Freels, junior high athletic coach, who is quitting sports to go into the oil business. He has been at Midland since 1935, and in addition to developing boys for the Bulldogs varsity, served as high school track coach with considerable success. His successor has not been named.

San Angelo's coach Rocky Ruddle is quoted as saying that he was more displeased with the Colorado City game which the Bobcats won by 19-0 than "any other we've played." Well, if Rocky does manage to get his team to please him, the Bobcats may be that contender against Sweetwater everybody is talking about. After all, the Comcho lads are topping the district right now, the only ones with two victories and no defeats.

Delia Takes State Lightweight Title

GALVESTON, Oct. 15. (UP)—Mike Delia of Tulsa wore the Texas lightweight boxing crown today after Mustang Garcia of Galveston.

Then Delia was sent out in the 14th by his handler, Henry Armstrong, to throw short, jarring, right jabs. He quickly had Garcia reeling, stalking him and landing blows almost at will for that round.

In the final round he staggered Garcia to the ropes with a short right, followed up with left and right and Garcia went to the canvas, with a minute and ten seconds to go.

Resting on one knee, blinking across the ring at Delia out of his one unblinded eye, Garcia leaped to his feet at what he evidently thought was the count of nine. But Referee Pepper Smith of Houston waved him away and lifted the Tulsa man's glove.

Many of the 1500 confused customers swarmed the ring. Some protested what they thought was a technical knockout, others maintaining that Smith had skipped a count.

But Smith shouted "he jumped up after I had counted ten," and the decision stood as a knockout.

Today's Guest Star W. N. Cox, Norfolk Virginia — pilot: "Come to think of it this football business is wholly sane. . . . With a few exceptions the games turn out exactly as you thought they wouldn't, and that represents consistency of a high order."

Hot Stove Warmup The rumor that Bill Terry is heading for a front-office job with the Indians keeps bobbing up even though all hands profess to know nothing about it. However, some insiders expect Sweet William and Boss Stoneham will get together at the winter meetings and come up with a new contract for Bill to stay with the Giants. . . . Another story is that Rog Feckingspaugh will get Cy Slapnicka's vacated office at Cleveland and that Gabby Hartnett has the inside track for the job as manager. . . . California rumor is that Mickey Cochrane may be offered the presidency of the Hollywood club. . . . Eddie Brannick, secretary of the Giants, is heading for a Florida vacation where he won't be bothered by football unless he decides to take a radio down to the beach and listen to the scores.

Red Face Dept. When the Arnold college football team from New Haven, Conn., came to New York last week to play Wagner, the players were all ready to dress for the game when they discovered the uniform trunk had been left behind. . . . A plane brought the equipment in time and the grateful team manager invited the pilot to see the game. . . . "No thanks," replied the airman. "And are you sure you have a ball?"

Virginia Man Nation's Top Grid Scorer

SEATTLE, Oct. 15. (UP)—Swash-buckling Bill Dudley of Virginia, the nation's highest scorer, continued today as intercollegiate football's top ground gainer for the second week.

Dudley, whose 56 points in four games establish him as the gridiron's high point man, is shown in American football gridiron statistical bureau figures as leading the country in total offense and rushing offense, and ranking fourth as a forward passer.

TOTAL OFFENSE—(Gains rushing and passing)—Dudley, Virginia, 646 yards; Madarik, Detroit, 550; Derace Moser, Texas A. and M., 501.

RUSHING OFFENSE—Dudley, Virginia, 331 yards; Johnny Grigas, Holy Cross, 328; Tony Porto, Creighton, 278; Pete Layden, Texas, 275.

FORWARD PASSING OFFENSE—Albert, Stanford, 28 completions in 53 attempts for 302 yards; Moser, Texas A. and M., 26 of 47 for 364.

PUNTING—Busik, Navy, 45.5 average yards per punt; Santucci, Santa Clara, 43.80; Vernon Lockard, Colorado, 42.40; Wilson, Baylor, 42.19.

PASS RECEIVING—Keating, Detroit, 14 for 168 yards; Ray Evans, Kansas, 11 for 107; Bill Presson, Virginia, 10 for 185; Bill "Jitterbug" Henderson, Texas A. and M., 10 for 103; Marshall Spivey, Texas A. and M., 10 for 148.

Harriman On Way To Report To FD LONDON, Oct. 15. (UP)—W. Averell Harriman, who headed the U. S. delegation to Moscow to arrange for aid to Russia, left Great Britain by air today for the United States where he will report to President Roosevelt.

Products Of Farm And Factory On Display Here Friday

Communities To Show A Big Variety

A wide variety of farm products will appear in the community booths in the Howard County Products exhibit Friday and Saturday. Everything produced by the community will be shown—from cotton to canned goods. To achieve a perfect score, each booth must have 25 different exhibits.

These exhibits may include grain sorghum heads, bundles and threshed seed; corn, popcorn; cotton stalks, bolls, lint cotton and cotton seed; wheat, oats, barley hay, wool, butter, home made soap, eggs, cottage cheese, cooked cheese, watermelon, cantaloupe, pumpkin, kershaw, winter squash, okra, tomato, peppers, dry peas, dry beans, radishes, beets, cucumbers, turnips, sweet potatoes, onions, any other dry or fresh vegetables, and all kinds of canned fruit, vegetables and meats.

That these exhibits will excel is assured by the fact that 1941's feed and cotton crops are above average, that gardens were the best ever, and that canning of home grown foods hit a new high.

Community booths are being arranged under direction of home demonstration clubs. Clubs sponsoring these include Knott, Elway, Fairview, R-Bar, Coahoma, Overton and Center Point, with Midway making tentative plans for an exhibit.

Miscellaneous booths will be offered by several other groups. 4-H club boys of the county will offer an exhibit of maise and cotton grown in club demonstrations. The U. S. soil conservation service will have a booth demonstrating soil and water control measures. Coahoma FFA boys will show results of their demonstrations.

Okla. Towns To Get Their Gas, After All

SKIATOOK, Okla., Oct. 16 (AP)—Residents of Skiatook and Sperry no longer shiver at the thought of the frigid winds which soon will howl down from the Osage hills.

The Union Gas company, pleading that the gas supply in its Osage county wells was exhausted, had sought permission to stop service in the two towns and for several jittery weeks it appeared that they would face the winter without heat.

That fear was dispelled last night when W. J. McNally, manager of the Natural Gas Service company, which operates the Skiatook distributing system, announced to the chamber of commerce that the Oklahoma Natural Gas company would serve the towns.

McNally said the O. N. G. would build lines from Tulsa to the $22,500,000 bombing plant assembly plant north of there and would extend its lines on to Skiatook and Sperry.

Work on the new lines will start immediately, he said. In the meantime, auxiliary lines which already extend toward this vicinity and the abandoned lines of the Union Gas company can be utilized while the new system is under consideration.

17 Firms In Industrial Exhibits

That industry is not merely a chamber of commerce slogan will be demonstrated at the Howard County Products exhibit opening here Friday noon in the building at 1st and Runnels street.

Seventeen firms, by no means all of the local manufacturers, have asked for booth reservations to show their products during the two-day event.

Items on display will range from bread to baby chicks to petroleum products and all in all the collection of exhibits is expected to be a sort of eye-opener to the general public.

Those who have reserved display space are Darby Bakery, Bar's Bottling, Big Spring Feed and Seed, Dr. Pepper Bottling, Cosden Petroleum Corp., Ted Phillips Tire Retreading, Vaughn's Sweet Shop, Big Spring Cotton Oil Co., Mead's Bakery, Hall Shade and Awning, Snow White Creamery, Coca Cola Bottling, Banner Creamery, West Texas Sand and Gravel, Lee Warren Tile Products, J. S. Nabors Emulsion Brick, and The Big Spring Herald, Inc.

From this list it is possible to predict a spread of home-processed materials such as bottled drinks, bread, pastry, oil and gas, refurbished tires, cottonseed cake, meal and oil, awnings, milk, butter, cream, etc., sand and gravel, tile and brick, and newspaper materials.

Aside from the story of home production, there will be a silent story of more than 500 employees required to handle production for the 17 displaying firms. Although accurate figures are not available, it is conservative to estimate that the total annual payroll involved would be around $600,000.

Display booth materials have been assembled and locations have been determined by lot, with some concerns working exchanges of space for convenience. These will be seen in the spacious part of the building which fronts north and will flank a collection of organizational exhibits.

At last the cotton pickers have arrived in sufficient numbers to send the cotton to gins and keep the yard full and gins running to capacity night and day. Some estimate that cotton was opening enough that half of the crop will be picked with the first picking. Edgar Phillips reports that cotton on his farm north of town is picking a bale to the acre the first going over.

Feed cutting, maise heading and combining, are well under way and most of it is being sold.

A new sports event was inaugurated at Ackerly Saturday afternoon when a goodly number of citizens witnessed a terrapin derby. At last the cotton pickers have arrived in sufficient numbers to send the cotton to gins and keep the yard full and gins running to capacity night and day. Some estimate that cotton was opening enough that half of the crop will be picked with the first picking. Edgar Phillips reports that cotton on his farm north of town is picking a bale to the acre the first going over.

Feed cutting, maise heading and combining, are well under way and most of it is being sold.

Town Women Are Invited To Show Handiwork At Fair

Although the Howard County Products exhibit was originally intended as a display of farm and manufacturing products, provision has been made for those women in the city who wish to show off their handiwork.

Big Spring women are invited to take their fine needlework, bedspreads, quilts and the like to the exhibit building at First and Runnels for exhibition if they like. A booth will be provided, but no prizes will be awarded.

Women To Show Select Products

The quantity will not be great, but the quality will be high in the women's textile division at the Howard County Products show Friday and Saturday.

All home demonstration club women and 4-H club girls in the county are cooperating in this display. In addition, the club women have the duty of assembling general booths for each community.

The textiles division will be featured by a display of household linens and accessories made of feed and flour sacks. These items will include dish towels, pot holders, luncheon cloths, and a variety of other things.

Home demonstration club women will also show a few select outfits of wool or feather filling, bedspreads, dresser scarfs, chair cushions, foot stools, dish mats, rugs, and other items.

Four-H club girls will display bedroom improvement work, including bedspreads, vanity scarfs, pillowcases, and other items.

lowa, vanity benches and the like. Another 4-H exhibit will show results of tomato projects carried on during the past year, with the exhibit showing salad-packed canned tomatoes and tomato juice. Ribbons will be awarded to high ranking girls' displays.

Russians Close Tomb Of Lenin

MOSCOW, Oct. 16 (AP) — The famous Black Tomb of Nicolai Lenin, which stands before the walls of the Kremlin is now closed.

Winter and summer, year after year, the tomb with its glass case in which one could see the body of Lenin, preserved by a secret process, attracted millions of Soviet pilgrims.

The last official utterance regarding Lenin's body was that of the vice-commissar of foreign affairs, S. A. Losovsky, who said on July 24, "the dead Lenin is alive for us. He is with us wherever we are."

WHY

New, 1942 SERVEL ELECTROLUX models are now available. But why buy now? Read these answers and decide for yourself—

Q. 1. Why not wait until next summer? Why buy now?
 Ans. Will you be able to buy any refrigerator then? No one knows. The defense program demands daily more and more steel, copper, etc.—the very materials required to build a Servel.

Q. 2. Can I get terms to suit my purse, if I wait?
 Ans. No one knows. But—right now, a small down payment gets Servel Electrolux in your home—with 18 long months to pay!

Q. 3. How much tax will I have to pay, if I wait?
 Ans. No one knows. Excise taxes, such as these, can be increased by Congress as required. And defense authorities say "far heavier taxes yet to come."

Q. 4. Is it patriotic to buy now?
 Ans. Buying now may release man-power, machine power, materials, labor on, when they are much more badly needed for defense. And protecting the nation's health—your family's health—is a number one requirement for defense.

Q. 5. Is Servel a good investment at a time like this?
 Ans. Food prices are going up! We probably haven't seen anything yet. The higher they go, the more Servel Electrolux will save in your home. Remember—it's always summer in your kitchen! At present food prices we can show how an average family may save up to $6.50 per month!

Q. 6. How long can I expect such savings?
 Ans. Servel, the Gas refrigerator, is backed by an iron-clad 10-YEAR GUARANTEE on its entire refrigerating system—at no extra cost—still the ONLY one that is. Because there are NO MOVING PARTS in its freezing system. Nothing to wear, to cause costly repairs, to grow inefficient and costly to operate. In West Texas today, there are hundreds of Servel Electrolux refrigerators that have been giving faithful, trouble-free, refrigeration for 10, 12, 14 years—without one cent for service or repairs! Over and over again, they have paid for themselves. Yours can, too. Come in and pick out your 1942 Servel today.

Aggie-Frog Clash Week's Headliner In S'west Conference

Can TCU Make The 3-Year Plan Work?

FORT WORTH, Oct. 15 (AP)—Texas A. and M. and Texas Christian University meet here Saturday in the top game of Southwest Conference football and it will answer two questions:

1. Does T.C.U. strength run in three-year cycles?
2. Is A. and M. getting along without John Kimbrough after all?

There are some who put their faith strongly in the three-year plan. They have much to back them up.

The Frogs won their first championship in 1926. Three years later they took their second. Three more and T.C.U., although being noosed out by Southern Methodist for the title, won the Sugar Bowl championship.

Came 1929 and T.C.U. produced its greatest team in history—undefeated, untied, champion of the Southwest Conference and Sugar Bowl and ranked No. 1 nationally.

It's three years again and the Frogs reach the cross-roads—undefeated and untied against a Texas A. and M. team which has shown an unbelievable offensive against three opponents.

Today the Aggies lead the conference in yards gained—1147—and have crushed Sam Houston State, Texas A. and L. and New York University under a barrage of touchdowns.

But the Frogs have beaten three tough teams—Tulsa, Arkansas and Indiana.

And this is the third year. A crowd of 25,000 is due to jam the stadium to see if T.C.U. has again gone around the cycle.

Game's A Sellout

The 48 states spent $485 million for highways in 1938, almost half of the cost being grants to minor civil divisions for highway purposes, according to the bureau of the census.

Even before their 19-0 defeat by San Angelo last Friday, the Wolves would have been rated as "underdogs" against a team of Sweetwater's strength. So far in their first season in AA football, the Wolves have been defeated twice—by Odessa 29-0 and by San Angelo 19-0—and tied ones, by Big Spring, 19-13.

Each John L. Dibrell plans to start Kenneth Hardgrave in Sadler's place in the backfield. Also starting in the backfield will be Roy Allen, Royce Smith and Dud Chesney. Other starters will be: Ends, Allen Porter and James Paul Cooper; tackles, Chas. Bellier and Dick Gregory; center, Phynus Shurtliff; guards, Craig Porter and Harry Webber.

Industrial Development Needs Attention Of All

Two phases of West Texas life, one with a past record of achievement and another with a wealth of future possibilities, will be portrayed in the Howard County Products exhibit Friday and Saturday.

One phase is agriculture. The value of agriculture to this section has been proven over and over again. The other is manufacturing, of which Big Spring and other West Texas towns have only a small start.

There is progress to be noted in both fields—and a great deal more progress needed. But it is in industry that Big Spring should show great advances in the next decade. A glance at agricultural methods and results of 10 years ago will show that in this field progress is being shown, despite lean years and low prices.

But what has been done in the field of industry? After West Texas has reached its peak as a farming and ranching country, what then will keep its towns and villages healthfully growing?

The answer is industry. West Texas must industrialize. We hope that the manufacturers exhibit Friday and Saturday will serve to remind us all of this new horizon of development. We hope it will stir imagination to see new manufacturing plants in and around Big Spring.

We hope that a decade hence all West Texas products will be processed here and not in the northeast. Let our cattle and cotton and oil leave West Texas in finished form rather than in the raw state.

The furtherance of industrial development should be a primary concern of the West Texas chamber of commerce, every town's chamber of commerce, every municipal government, every county commissioner's court, every business man, every newspaper, every citizen.

The World Today—

Merchant Ship Arming No Simple Accomplishment

By Colonel Frederick Palmer
Military Expert

WASHINGTON, Oct. 15—Arming our merchant ships in an efficient and safe manner, once Congress gives the word, will be another task for our busy navy which is much misunderstood. Some people who think that it is a simple chore, quickly carried out, will be surprised to find that it takes many months.

As they see it that is all that is necessary. A ship's carpenter drills some holes in her deck. A gun is swung on board and screwed into place. A few members of the ship's crew who have good eyesight are chosen as a gun crew. Have plenty of ammunition handy with which to pepper a bomber or submarine to extinction, and a merchant ship is ready to sail.

Arming must be done in a home port. A plane cannot parachute a gun on board a ship which is away on a three months' trip out and back to Suez. Or, if it could, the leaflets of instruction it dropped with the gun, even on a second reading, would not make an efficient gunner of a merchant seaman who had never fired a shot of any kind.

Providing there is available labor and no delaying strike, fixing a platform upon a sturdy merchant ship for any guns up to a 3-inch caliber does not take long. But first we must have the guns.

We have enough by tapping reserves to arm most of our merchant ships. These are not of the latest types for the purpose for which they will be mounted on merchant ships.

They are the most vital need for the Russians against German mechanized and dive bombers. The Germans have corresponding types. We are getting ours into production which is largely going abroad. It will be months before we have mass production.

Having the guns mounted, the next thing is ability to hit the targets with the shots they fire. Lacking this the guns are of no more use than pea shooters.

When we have found that a year's training is not enough for the draftees any army commander who is not fit for a mental examination will agree that gunnery is one of the key factors in thorough training.

Anybody who has ever been seasick, should understand that accurate gunfire from a rolling or plunging ship is not as easy as from a land base.

Before a bomber, diving out of a low ceiling, has finished his sweep the gun crew of an unescorted merchant ship—as British experience has shown—will hardly be up the ladders and have their gun sighted. In a convoy the merchant ship will share the patrol plane's warning of danger's approach. But the untrained crew firing in the air in the general direction of the bomber, may do no damage except in the fall of shell fragments on the decks of other ships of the convoy.

The periscope of a submarine is a silver of a target. If the periscope is not hit at once the submarine is wholly submerged. It is futile for a merchant ship to carry depth charges. She has not the destroyer's speed to make them effective.

Our navy has no trained naval gunners to spare. In spite of intensive instruction of men, who first must show natural qualifications, more would be very welcome for the present problem. This is not alone owing to the rapid expansion of our navy. In addition to guarding the lane to Iceland and the long stream of our side of the Atlantic ocean the huge area of responsibility extends into the Pacific distance.

We know that our convoys of troops and cargoes under the flag have reached Iceland safely. Ship movements in convoys remain the best method.

The merchant ships in a convoy have the protection of the fast destroyers hunting the submarine with depth charges, and of powerful mass anti-aircraft fire. They have the protection of big caliber guns of other escorting naval vessels to knock out commerce raiders when merchant vessels cannot mount large caliber guns. Merchant ships with really trained gun crews can add their own to the volume of a convoy's anti-aircraft gun fire.

At this writing Germany has not made open war on us by meeting our "shoot on sight" in kind. The navy has been prepared to meet each advancing step of the White House policy.

So far, so good. The navy must be ready for the next step. When Adolf Hitler decides the time has come, he will attack in surprise with customary concentration of power. We do not want to be caught unready at his chosen point.

Chapter Nine
PICNIC

Now as she picked up the cake from the table and started back to join him, she experienced a feeling of eagerness, which was unreasonable after all her conclusions. She found herself looking forward to the evening. She made herself believe that it was to please Ginny she had given her consent to go on the picnic.

"I'm falling under the spell of it," he said, and laughed and held out his hand for the basket which she carried.

"What spell?" But she knew. It was the sweet-scented southern air and the southern moon just rising over the distant trestles and the smell of box and the great columns of the portico. It was all this and more. The traditions which went with all this, the century of gracious living which had gone on in the house behind them. It was part of herself and she understood it and the sudden softening in her feeling toward Johnny, because he understood, made her angry with herself and him.

"The spell of the South," he answered. She said bluntly, "Don't let it get you."

Johnny Harris touched her hand. "It has me already. You know that, don't you, Sue Ellen?"

But she only laughed and moved away from him down the brick-paved walk which led to the gate.

Message From Riv
Sue Ellen Fairhope returned from the Sunday evening picnic at Haller Hollow and stood for a long time at her bedroom window gazing out into the November night. This evening had changed her relations with Johnny Harris. She had been unsuccessful in turning aside his determination to tell her quite frankly that he loved her. She had tried to convince him that she was engaged to Riv Moore—and that they planned to marry in June, and he had stubbornly replied: "A great deal can happen between November and June. A great deal will happen to you—and to me."

"That's true," agreed Sue Ellen. "We may be in the way and that will take you halfway across the country. But as for me—nothing will change between Riv and myself."

Back at Magnolia House, Aunt Car announced that Riv had called shortly after eight and had, been greatly upset because she was not at home.

Sue Ellen paused, halfway up the stairway, her hat dangling from her hand, her topcoat over her arm, her hair dark and dusky under the overhead lights, her eyes eager. After this she would be kinder to Riv. She would show everyone that Riv belonged to her. This afternoon had been a mistake and one she did not intend to repeat.

"What did he say?" she asked now.

"That he must see you as soon as possible. That he had something to tell you."

It was unusual for Riv to be so insistent and she felt a slight uneasiness. Possibly her late whim had been a mistake; lying to show Riv that she could have a good time without him might heighten his eagerness to be with her, make him give up flirtations with girls like Deedora Waller, but after all she owed her first loyalty to him.

"He went off this afternoon with Deedora Waller," she told her aunt slowly.

"In my day an engagement meant something," Aunt Car's soft mouth tightened. "Why should Riv want to be with any other girl but you?"

"He doesn't love Deedora; she amuses him."

Aunt Car shook her head. "I don't like it. If he loves you—"

Sue Ellen smiled and turned to mount the stairs. "You forget things are quite different now than in your day."

"Love isn't different," said Aunt Car stoutly.

Was Aunt Car right? Was love the same in every age and did she fool herself when she imagined that what Riv felt for her and what she felt for Riv was love—real love?

A nice thought for a bride-to-be, she told herself.

What had Riv wanted that was so important? Could he have decided to carry out their first plan for a December wedding? She wished that might be the reason why he wished to see her—that Riv's message might hurry up away from Mississippi and never bear anything more about Camp Shelby. She would never meet Johnny Harris again.

She went to bed hoping that Riv's message would be glad news, although convinced in spite of herself that it was not good news.

What could it be? A longer postponement? She would refuse to consent to that. She would tell Riv that she could not bear to be separated from him and would persuade him to hasten instead of postpone their wedding.

She ran over in her mind the clothes she would have to buy and how they could be managed. She would call Riv in the morning. She would profit by Johnny Harris's example and announce that she would not do this or that—she would have things her way.

"Some day you will belong to me," Johnny had said. She tried to forget the words and to erase the picture of him standing with the firelight bright on his thin face, as he told her he loved her.

"I belong to Riv," she said to herself over and over, and tried to believe the words, only to find the thought slipping away from her and the thought Johnny repeated so insistently taking its place.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds— Did You Ever Agonize Over Bongos?

By MORRIS COONS
HOLLYWOOD—I sat in a little room the other afternoon and watched a bunch of grown men agonize over the bongos.

They were all serious, if good-humored about it. But in three minutes I knew that a bong, bongo, at the moment, was the most important thing in their lives.

It was the re-recording room at 20th Century-Fox. A sort of projection room, with a screen at one end and sound gadgets at the other. In front of the screen, on the floor, stood a gadget which lighted up when in use so that you could see a big black needle swinging back and forth in an arc across its face. It had numbers across the lighted arc, and cryptic symbols and letters. And when a sound track was being played the big black needle jumped back and forth like mad. Especially when the sound track let out a bong.

The sound track set out bongos a good part of the hour I was there, bongos from the chapel bells of "How Green Was My Valley," John Ford, who directed the film, had finished his work and now it was being scored, with all the various sound tracks—music, dialogue, sound effects—blended or re-recorded onto one master track, the one you will hear.

On an adjacent recording stage Alfred Newman, one of our town's most brilliant young men of music, was leading a huge orchestra in the score. In the little dark room these other men, mostly in shirt sleeves, fiddled with their dials, consulted mysterious charts and time-tables, and strove for a bell bong that would be the ultimate in bell bongos. On various sound tracks they had many bongos, and as they played them over each man cooked critical ears.

"That," said Roger Eisenman, the chief mixer, "is a little off pitch. Listen for the next one—here!—that's better. But it isn't quite right."

The gentlemen talked a peculiar language of their own—a sort of Hut-But Song of sound. What struck me about the proceedings was that each man of them, chipping in with a suggestion, had the same idea: Perfection. They called in Alfred Newman, from next door, to listen to the bongos, and Newman had the same idea. When he left they were going to try some more.

Chapel bells play an important role in the score, and this particular bong was to emphasize the title music provided by a Welsh chorus, as the chorus dissolves in to the orchestral score itself and the film begins. The chances are that not one in a hundred fans would notice if the bell bonged a little off key—but our perfectionists of sound were working for that one.

"My father," remarked one of the mixers, "advised me to go into the cloak and suit business, but look at me now—gray-haired and getting greyer!"

"So I hope you'll notice, when you see the picture, what a beautiful bong you're getting, and remember that back in Hollywood a bunch of grown men labored hard and long to bring it to your ears."

Man About Manhattan— Speaking Of Great Danes—

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—I was spending the night with Milton Caniff, the adventure cartoon strip artist, and his wife Esther, and with Charles Rabb, who is also the author of an adventure strip, and while we were at dinner some people came in. One of these was Burgess Meredith, the actor, who had on a pair of worn pants that fit him too short and a pair of old shoes that were giving away at the seams. His hair was wild and shaggy. He had been prowling about his farm, which he hadn't seen in a number of weeks. There's too much land going to waste out there," he said. "I'm going to do something about it."

Just then Captain Blaise got up from the hearth, where he had been dreaming happily of chasing cats, and Meredith, who knows Great Danes and likes them—and who has owned a number of them, all of which have been named Hamlet except one—got down on the floor to roll with Blaise and see what a good time they could have.

I said, "Are Great Danes good fighters?"

Meredith said, "I saw a Doberman Pinscher whip a Dane once. The Pinscher was all over him before the Dane got around to realizing what was happening to him. If you are mean to a Dane and teach him to be antagonistic you can make him into a helluva fighter. But ordinarily they are too good natured. They have to be aroused."

"One of my Danes is out on the coast now," Meredith went on. "There's a Doberman in the neighborhood and he's a good scrapper. One day my houseboy overheard me say something about Pinschers being able to whip Danes and he gave me a funny look. Later some people came in and I rang for the boy to bring in some sandwiches. He didn't answer the bell. After awhile I went into the kitchen and found him sulking. 'What's the matter with you?' I asked. He flared up. 'I heard you say that Pinschers could whip Bad Boy'

That ain't true. They ain't no Pinschers can whip Bad Boy—if he wants to fight!"

"That's just it," added Meredith. "If they want to fight."

I looked at Blaise, who takes his name from a character in his master's strip. He was lapping up the talk as though it were cream, happily wagging his big lazy tail. He was a puppy, only ten months, yet he was big as a horse. Well, maybe not quite that big, but almost. If he stood up to you, he towers over six feet. He knocks over chairs and disarranges the whole household by merely wagging his tail.

Just then two wirehairs came in, older than Blaise, much older, and settled in their ways. They were bored by his pranks. If they seemed gaddy-stung, Blaise was their gaddy. They tried to ignore him, but nobody is going to ignore Blaise for long and get away with it—not if he has to knock them down and sit on their heads. The wirehairs finally withdrew to obscure corners and lapped into attitudes of philosophical detachment.

This distressed Blaise. He seemed genuinely puzzled. And then, for the first time.

Blaise still thinks he's a lap dog. He doesn't know he's a Great Dane.

Southerners Ask Farm Labor Law

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16 (AP)—Six representatives of the Southern Tenant Farmers Union have appealed to Congress to fix minimum wages for all farm laborers.

The six men, weary from riding all night in an automobile to testify before a senate labor subcommittee, supported a bill by Senator Langer (R-ND) which would deny farm benefits, subsidies and loans to farmers who employed child labor or failed to pay minimum wage scales fixed by the secretary of agriculture after public hearings.

RAF Planes Attack Cologne, Boulogne

LONDON, Oct. 15 (UP)—The air ministry announced today that British bombers attacked Cologne and the docks at Boulogne in raids upon western Germany and coastal France last night.

"Yesterday afternoon," the ministry said, "Hudson aircraft of the coastal command bombed and machine-gunned docks and shipping at Esbjerg (Danish west coast port)."

Three bombers were reported missing from all the operations.

plein the night before, but upon this new fact which required an explanation. Possibly it was necessary for Deedora to go to Washington and the trip was made upon the "Colonial" request. She framed excuses for Riv and at the same time read into Riv's note the reason for his demand that she should not think ill of him. He had come to talk with her, for she had seen him outside in his car. She convinced Ginny, if not herself, that there was nothing unreasonable in one's fiancé acting as a escort to another girl.

"Anything wrong?" asked Aunt Car, as Sue Ellen hung up the receiver and, crossing the room, sank down into a chair.

"No—only I wish Riv were not so ready to run about doing things for Deedora. It causes a lot of unpleasant gossip and explanation. I trust Riv," she added hurriedly, as her aunt's face betrayed a rising uneasiness; "it's just that he is impulsive and easily influenced. When we are married things will be different."

Aunt Car neither affirmed nor denied this, but bent over her tapestry.

"After I'm married things will be different, won't they, Aunt Car?" she repeated.

"I've had no experience," reminded Aunt Car briefly.

From the rear of the house came the haunting strains of an old negro spiritual, "I ain't goin' to study with no moah." Aunt Jennie sang mournfully. Aunt Jennie's mood was always set to music.

Mexican Warships To Search Suspects

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 16. (AP)—The navy department ordered commanders of Mexican warships today to halt and search all suspect ships navigating Mexican waters.

A published announcement said the orders were intended particularly to put a stop to contraband operations like that recently discovered at Manzanillo, on the Pacific coast, where a large amount of contraband mercury was seized as it was about to be loaded on the Japanese steamer Aruma Maru.

Flight Board To Come Here

An examining flight board is due here Oct. 20 to check applicants for a refresher course for aviation cadets, the chamber of commerce announced Wednesday.

Appearance of the board will mark the opening of "Keep 'Em Flying" week in Big Spring, and if Sgt. Troy Gibson can complete enough applications by the time, it is possible that the refresher course, sponsored by the chamber, can be started soon.

Applications are desired of men between 20 and 26 years, inclusive, unmarried, in good physical condition and of good moral character. The men either should have sufficient college credits to exempt them from taking the mental examination for aviation cadet; or those who have insufficient or no college credits but who may pass a mental examination in various subjects.

For the latter class, the refresher course is being planned, in conjunction with the schools, to tutor them for the next examination which will be about Feb. 12, 1942. A minimum of 10 men is required for a class, and as soon as that number passes the flight examining board the work can be launched.

Report Government To Seize Metals

WASHINGTON, Oct. 16. (AP)—A senate committee heard Wednesday that the government was preparing to move speedily to take over large stocks of critical defense metals—some of them "undoubtedly owned by axis citizens—in this country.

Donald M. Nelson, OPM priorities director, told the senate defense investigating committee that machinery now was being set up for the seizure of idle stocks of copper and other metals under a bill recently signed by President Roosevelt.

He said an OPM investigation of inventories had disclosed an instance where 1,378,000 pounds of copper had been stored in warehouses since 1938. He said there was no doubt that some of the metal thus kept out of ordinary channels of industry was "owned by the axis powers."

More than 8,000 separate pieces of metal go into a single large airplane engine.

A temporary setback would stir our angered people to greater effort, but it would not be good news for British morale. German propaganda would spread the word through the conquered countries that what Germany had done to other countries she had now done to America, too.

It seems utterly essential that the navy should not part with trained gun crews for merchant ships or with the latest type of anti-aircraft guns to untrained crews of merchant ships.

MR. CLARENCE H. EVANS

gas and bloating after meals. Gas caused terrible pressure. I couldn't eat pork. It seemed to cause misery. I had to get up often each night because of my kidneys. I had tried several medicines for relief, but I got no results.

"I have now taken two bottles of Hoyt's and can truthfully say that after I completed them I had no more trouble with my bowels. It relieved the indigestion, gas, bloating and pressure. I no longer have to get up at night and I get more restful sleep. I now have two more bottles of Hoyt's and I feel sure that by the time I finish taking them, I will be much more improved!"

Hoyt's Compound is recommended and sold by the Collins Bros. Drug Store and by leading druggists everywhere.—adv.
