20 Cents Top Paid For Lamb In Sale

Sixty-eight 4-H and FFA calves averaged $12.60 a hundred Wednesday afternoon as baby beves in the fourth annual district club boy livestock show here went through the Big Spring Livestock commission ring.

Top price went to Perry Walker on a 16.25 bid from Lone Star Chevrolet, Inc. on his calf which failed to place in the judging. His hard luck story about the calf got him approximately $43 additional premiums.

Hulen McKinney, a Howard county 4-H boy, had the highest price on a lamb at 20 cents from the First National bank.

Delma Harris, Merkel, exhibitor of the grand champion calf, pulled out on a 15.00 offer for his animal in order to show it in the Sandhills exposition opening Thursday in Odessa. Tom Estes, Martin county 4-H youngster, took 13.25 for his reserve champion of the show. Tom Davis, Sterling City FFA boy, got 14.00 for his grand champion lamb.

Delma Harris had a Jim Jordan calf, Tom Estes a calf bred by his father, L. M. Estes, and Tom D. Davis a Rambouillet bred by Fowler McEntire.

Big Spring business and professional men, other individuals and organizations bid in most of the animals, many of them reselling at regular market prices.

Scientific Oddities Show Slated Here For Two Nights Next Week

Television, the frying of an egg and freezing of ice cream on the same unit, a talking flashlight and many other scientific oddities will be presented for people of the Big Spring area in a two-night showing here next week.

Arrangements have been completed for presentation of the "Previews of Progress," the General Motors exhibit at the New York world fair, and there will be free shows for the public at the municipal auditorium Wednesday and Thursday, April 2 and 3.

Jack Hughes, representing the show, has been here making advance arrangements and explained that it was similar to the Parade of Progress motorized unit which drew thousands here a few years ago.

The difference this year is that more and later scientific accomplishments will be demonstrated and that the show will be in the auditorium where 1,500 people can be accommodated at a time.

Those attending the event will see television in actual operation. Music will be sent by a beam of light and similarly a flashlight will "talk." Besides these there will be scores of other interesting scientific demonstrations.

THE RECORD... Facts That Concern You No. 25 of a Series

EVERY SCHOOL AND EVERY BUSINESS HAS ONE OR TWO

In a school full of bright, self-respecting students, there are very likely to be one or two completely lacking in good common sense. And that goes for business, too... particularly the beer retailing business.

Out of thousands of beer retailers who conduct respectable, law-abiding businesses, there may be a few "dunce" retailers who disobey the law or permit anti-social conditions.

These few unwanted retailers are a menace to the future of the beer industry... and also of the benefits beer has made possible. Right here in Texas, beer provides employment for 31,165 persons, supports an annual payroll of $22,076,182 and contributed $2,273,968.64 last year in state taxes.

It is the brewers' responsibility to make good beer—the retailers' responsibility to sell beer in wholesome surroundings—and the legally constituted authorities' responsibility to enforce the laws. All of these, working together with the public, are needed to protect the future of beer.

You, too, can help the cause of moderation by (1) patronizing only reputable places where beer is sold; (2) and reporting any violation you may observe to the duly constituted authorities.

BEER... a beverage of moderation

Highway Workers Get Wage Raise

AUSTIN, March 27. (AP) — Because of "a very substantial increase in the cost of the necessities of life generally over the state," highway department maintenance employees will receive wage scale increases up to five cents an hour starting April 1. The highway department announced the raise for its road workers yesterday after completion of a "careful survey" showing national defense preparations had created problems in housing and other matters "not heretofore experienced." The wage boosts were adopted

"In spite of the very limited revenues" available to the department for improvement of the highway system and will be based on merit and service records. More than half the population of England has dark hair.

Famous U. Of Texas Chemist Succumbs

AUSTIN, March 27. (AP) — Funeral services were set tentatively for Thursday for Dr. James Robinson Bailey, 74, one of the nation's outstanding organic chemists who died here Tuesday. Dr. Bailey had been on the faculty of the University of Texas for nearly 30 years. He suffered a stroke of paralysis last week. He gained wide recognition for research and discoveries, the most recent of which was announcement last year of isolation of two new benzquinolines from petroleum. These nitrogen compounds may be a potential source of pharmaceutical intermediates similar to quinine, morphine and cocaine.

Noted Expert To Tell How To Really Have Fun With Flowers

The trouble with most flower arrangements, says Frances Jones, whose feature "Fun With Flowers" will appear weekly in this newspaper beginning today, is that we are afraid to be original with them.

Miss Jones describes her ideas on flower arrangements as sort of midway between these weird line arrangements and bouquet bouquets that turn out to be just a lot of flowers crammed tight into a vase.

"I like to see flower arrangements have imagination and be effective and for them to use the materials at hand," she said.

Weeds appeal to Miss Jones for some of the arrangements she makes.

She has used ananavelia leaves—you may know them as ordinary snake plant—and combined them with the leaves cut from begonia plants, bronzy green spotted and white leaves and white gladioli blossoms for line arrangements.

She loves to use mullen leaves because they have such lovely soft gray coloring. Sumac leaves and the bush's seed pods are also favorites. "Good for line arrangements," she said.

Milk weeds with their pods are nice, she continued. They have such definite form and shape.

For a porch luncheon she suggests clusters of wild grapes on a wicker tray.

Miss Jones, who is a frequent lecturer at garden clubs throughout the country, attacks flower arrangements on two fronts—from her knowledge of art and design gained in special courses at Vassar and from her graduate studies in botany. She is now working on her doctor's degree in botany.

One of the things she enjoys doing is arranging flowers and fruits for out-door tables, luncheons and cocktail parties on the terrace.

Pull the Trigger on Lazy Bowels, with Ease for Stomach, too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, stomach upset, bloating, spiciness, gas, coated tongue, sour taste and bad breath, your stomach is probably "crying the blues" because your bowels don't move. It calls for Laxative-Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels, combined with Syrup Pepsin for perfect ease to your stomach in taking. For many doctors have given pepsin preparations in their prescriptions to make medicine more agreeable to a touchy stomach. So be sure your laxative contains Syrup Pepsin. Insist on Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna combined with Syrup Pepsin. See how wonderfully the Laxative-Senna wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your intestines to bring welcome relief from constipation. And the good old Syrup Pepsin makes this laxative so comfortable and easy on your stomach. Even finicky children love the taste of this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative-Senna at your drug store today. Try one laxative combined with Syrup Pepsin for ease to your stomach, too.

to see containers of flowers out-doors looking as if a whiff of breeze would spill them over, she frequently makes her arrangements inside glass bowls.

MISS FRANCES JONES

—does them in low containers and inverts a glass over them. But she likes best to use hurricane glasses and arrange flowers inside them.

Another of her stunts is to place a hurricane glass on its side in the center of the terrace table and have flowers or fruits spill from either end. One particularly effective arrangement with the hurricane glass used this way was done with bunches of grapes.

To an artist in flower arrangements many things suggest bouquets. Miss Jones laughing recalls one other incident with her recent arrangements.

She was walking through a five-and-ten-cent store recently when the glossy white china nest eggs on the counter appealed to her. She bought a basketful and hurried home to try her hand. She used them in a tall white early American milk glass compote. From the compote she trailed ivy leaves and then she spotted a few tiny, deep red, single dahlias among the glass eggs.

"I liked it," she laughed. "I will like her 'Fun With Flowers,' too. Watch for it in The Herald each Thursday."

Downtown Stroller

One of the slickest pre-Easter costumes we have seen in a long time is one that JEANNETTE BARNETT wears. It is a tan dress with full-length fitted red coat. It is really a striking outfit.

Just so they don't suffer oblivion we nominate for the improvising-trio we have heard in a long time, Mrs. L. A. EUBANKS, HELEN DULEY, and RUTH PRUITT. Name it and they will sing it whether they know the words or tune and make it sound pretty.

A tip to bachelors who are looking for a gal who can make rolls like Momma used to make. Her name is MARIE WOMACK and she whipped up some for the B & P W dinner the other night that melted in your mouth.

Incidentally that goes for the other cooks at the party, EDITH GAY, MARIE MAXFIELD, and RUTH PRUITT. It was a Mad March supper but the only time the word mad applied was what the girls couldn't eat anymore and had to stop.

At the party they held a lion and lamb hunt. The animals were animal crackers and were located by blind chairs and vases. It was a hilarious hunt and the only trouble was most of us couldn't recognize the lions from the lambs.

Bingo was entertainment during the evening and when ELLA MORRIS won the first game she got so excited she yelled, Screeno, instead of bingo.

Red Cross Aids Howard County Men, Families In Army Service

One draftee from Howard county has been granted a furlough, and two loans have been made to wives of men who have enlisted in the services of Uncle Sam through the local chapter of the American Red Cross, according to Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle, executive secretary of the Howard county chapter.

"This is one of the most important phases of Red Cross work during wartime, and we expect to be called on often to help our Howard county boys," Mrs. Sawtelle stated, in discussing this home service work. "The Red Cross is the connecting link between camp life and home life, and it acts as a liaison between soldier men and their families, connecting the fast-growing military population with the civilian population," Mrs. Sawtelle said.

When any family in Big Spring or Howard county is caught in an emergency and feels the need of a young man in their family coming home on furlough, the local Red Cross chapter, through Mrs. Sawtelle, can help the draftee get an emergency furlough. The Red Cross chapter also can serve as a medium of communication between hospitals and families of men who are in the services, and who may become dangerously ill. They also give advice on welfare matters to the families and also aid them in their business problems. This work is carried on without delay, and with all speed possible, she said.

The Howard county chapter is receiving many calls each week for assistance, and these cases are handled by Mrs. Sawtelle, who not only is serving as executive secretary and chairman of home service work, but also is conducting the sewing and knitting work carried on through the local Red Cross chapter for relief.

During the summer school vacation he is featured soloist over WFAA. He will be heard singing the popular numbers, and Irish ballads.

Champ Two-Miler Unfit For Army

SOUTH BEND, Ind., March 27.—Greg Rice, who hasn't lost a race at two or three miles in two years, is physically unfit for army service, selective service officials disclosed today.

Rice, a graduate of the University of Notre Dame, holds the two and three mile run records and was the winner of the 1940 Sullivan award.

Draft officials said a triple hernia makes the stocky distance star unfit for military service.

Only last Saturday Rice ran the fastest two miles on record, turning the distance in 5:31.1 at the Chicago Relays.

House Cats Worry Town
DUNCAN, Okla. — Although 57 wolves and two coyotes have been killed in the area around Lake Duncan in the past couple of years, the depredations of common cats are now the chief cause of concern for caretaker E. Wet Fields Delay Texas Farm Work

AUSTIN, March 27 (AP)—Wet fields delayed soil preparation and planting in most of the state for the week ended March 23, the agricultural marketing service reported today.

An exception was extreme northern counties across the state and the Panhandle where precipitation was light and fields could be worked.

The week generally was favorable for wheat. Corn plantings made progress only in northern counties or in fields of sandy soil and there was some fear earlier planted seed might rot.

Harvesting of winter vegetables was seriously interrupted in practically all commercial areas and planting of spring crops was further delayed because of rains.

Ranges continued to improve but it was too cool and wet for normal growth of range weeds. Temperatures averaged considerably below normal throughout the state, ranging from 4 to 10 degrees under normal in the north and west to 8 to 14 degrees below normal in the south and coast district.

Wind damage to wheat was reported near Amarillo. Elsewhere in the wheat area precipitation in areas most in need of it and control measures were effective in checking blowing while warmer weather later in the week encouraged growth and some recovery in previously damaged fields.

In the east and central parts corn planting was two to four weeks late and cotton planting nearly as much.

Cool weather prevailed over most of the commercial vegetable areas but no extreme adverse weather occurred anywhere that vegetables were growing.

The below normal temperatures of March 17 and 18, accompanied by sleet and snow, caused heavy losses in freshly sown roots and in lambs and kids dropped during this period.

TORONTO.—Twenty-five tons of surplus Ontario fruit is being put to good use by the Ontario Women's Institute. It's being turned into jam for Canadian soldiers overseas and for London relief purposes as well.

$15 Added To Greek Relief Fund

Gifts totaling $15 were added to the Greek relief fund today as Mayor G. C. Dunham urged sympathetic consideration of the project in connection with the 120th anniversary of the independence of Greece.

Money thus raised will be forwarded to the national Greek relief headquarters and used to relieve Greek women and children while their husbands and fathers carry on their valiant fight against aggressors.

A total of $50.50 has been contributed to date. Latest donors were Johnny Costin, $10; and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Long, $5.

Plans are in the making for a midnight show for benefit of the fund, and announcements on this are expected at a later date.

Meanwhile, in his proclamation, Mayor Dunham pointed to the "valor being displayed by the Greek people in resisting and overcoming the forces of dictatorship to the end that their freedom and liberty may be preserved," as a cause which should strike Americans with compassion.

The mayor commended the movement to Big Spring people and thought that "contributions to the relief of distress among these liberty-loving people but will constitute an expression of our applause for their efforts toward preserving human freedom."

Girl, 13, Has Attended 24 Schools in 15 Cities

NEW ORLEANS—Thirteen-year old Beverly Strickland, who has attended 24 schools in 15 cities, would like to settle down.

Although she never has lost ground because of her numerous transfers, Beverly has become confused at times. After she finished the seventh grade at Louisville, Ky., she began junior high school at Memphis, Tenn. A few weeks later her family moved to Nashville, where grammar schools have eighth grades, and Beverly "went back" to grammar school.

Then the Strickland family came to New Orleans and the girl became a freshman in high school because there are no eighth grades and no junior high schools here.

There's one silver lining: Beverly need never fear a geography test.

Milk Systematically Looted
ENID, Okla.—Recovery of a piece of belting which bore the marks of disuse led officers to the discovery that an idle wheat mill here had been systematically looted of several thousand dollars worth of belting, brass machinery and other equipment. Even the brass fittings in the time clock had been removed.

Woman, 97, Outruns Boy Thief
TORONTO, Ont.—A 12-year-old boy tried to snatch the purse of Mrs. Irene Button of Toronto. Mrs. Button is 97 years old—and still spry. She chased the youngster up a lane and held him until police arrived.

"Spotter" Isn't G-Man
ORVILLE, Cal.—When Ray Patterson and family moved to town, daughter Virginia told her playmates her father was a "spotter." The news spread like wildfire and residents were rejoicing in the protection that would be afforded them by the presence of a G-man in their midst, when it developed that a "spotter" is one who specializes in the removal of spots, which happens to be Patterson's business.

Oil Industry Girds For Fight Against Tax Increases

Hearing On Revenue Bill Set Tonight

AUSTIN, March 27. (AP)—Speakers for Texas' gigantic oil industry, which yields a sizable portion of the nation's petroleum supply, girded themselves today for assaults on heavier taxes proposed by the state legislature.

Booked for a public hearing before the senate committee on state affairs tonight were provisions of a house-approved $35,000,000 omnibus tax bill which would boost the 3 3/4 per cent barrel processing tax to 4 1/2 per cent and amend the gasoline motor fuel levy to include liquefied gases.

The committee last night heard arguments against increased levies on utilities, telephone companies and liquor and a newly-suggested tax on automobile finance companies. No one appeared to protest a proposed levy of five cents a share on stock sales.

Industry representatives based their attacks on the proposal on mounting national defense taxes in addition to assertedly burdensome current levies and intimated their types of business might face bankruptcy if the bill were finally approved in its present form.

A liquor industry spokesman warned increased taxes would drive a portion of that business into illegitimate channels and an automotive industry representative asserted the tax on auto finance companies would hit those persons least able to pay since it would not affect those who could purchase cars with cash.

The bill, slated for hearings Monday on gas and Wednesday on sulphur, carbon black, soft drinks, oil well cementing, wholesalers' gross receipts, franchises and other tax-yielding sources, would provide funds for bigger old age pensions, aid to the needy adult blind, aid to dependent and neglected children and teachers retirement. If passed, it would levy the first state tax increases since 1936.

Here And There

By all measures, the Howard County Fair association and the chamber of commerce livestock and agriculture committee considered the fourth annual district livestock show, just concluded, the most successful one ever held here. The sale was a high point in connection with the show, and virtually all calves went at 12 cents or better.

In this connection, fair association officials issued thanks to all who had a part in it, and particularly to those who participated in the sale. "Their support could not have been greater," said J. H. Greene, chamber of commerce manager. Marion Edwards, livestock committee head, issued special thanks to H. H. Williamson and Garland Sanders for having hauled Cactus from the show barn to the sale ring.

This is a new high in something. Listed today on the city court docket is a $1 fine assessed against a man on his plea of guilty to a charge of "wreckless driving."

Constable J. F. Crenshaw and his deputy, L. A. Coffey, had confiscated a stock of money making dice today. Sets were duplicated in outward appearance, but while one was regulation, the others had number combinations which made it impossible to throw sevens. After using the regulation ones in setting a point, the user could switch to the others and roll until he hit it.

A man was being held at the police station Thursday pending word from Roswell, N. M., officers who were checking on his story that two coats in his possession had been taken in Roswell.

Application for a supplementary license, which would permit sale of beer after midnight and on Sundays, has been refused Donald Brown by County Judge W. S. Morrison. This is significant because it is one of the first of these applications to come up on the part of those outside of bona fide cafe operators. Six months ago more than 30 supplementary licenses were surrendered voluntarily under liquor control board action because there was doubt that they were justified.

Samuel R. Gayer, formerly of Upland, Pa., and father of Mrs. Ludwig Grau, has come here to make his home with his daughter and her husband.

Auto Finance Company Fined For Foreclosing On Drafter's Car

SAN FRANCISCO, March 27. (AP)—An automobile finance company was fined in federal court today for repossessing a drafter's automobile. Assistant U. S. Attorney Joseph Joseph Karash said it was the first case of its kind in California and perhaps in the country.

Federal Judge Harold Louderback imposed a nominal fine of $50 on the Fidelity Auto Finance corporation but warned that "if this sort of thing occurs again we will not be giving out nominal fines."

The maximum fine is $1,000. The soldiers' and sailors' relief act of 1940 provides that when less than half of a conditional sales contract has been paid when a man is drafted, arrangements for meeting the balance within the soldier's means must be arranged. If more than half has been paid under the contract, the article cannot be repossessed while the purchaser is in military service.

In this case the finance corporation had repaid Joseph Tigue, 23, the entire $474.15 he had paid for the automobile, including the state license and personal property tax. The company pleaded guilty to violating the law.

The War Today— Hitler Took Troublesome Ally In Penetration of Yugoslavia

By DEWITT MacKENZIE

Signs are piling up that the Yugoslav brick which Herr Hitler has jammed into the foundation of his new order by main force is of doubtful value.

The rioting in Belgrade today, and the country-wide demonstrations of anger against both the government and the axis, are fair proof that the Fuehrer has made this brick without straw. If he keeps it from crumbling he will have to hold it in place by still more force.

Still, the nazis acclaim this as a triumph, and against this backdrop are staging a great welcome to impress visiting Japanese Foreign Minister Matsuoka with the power of the axis. Herr Hitler wants more active support from his Nipponese partner.

Mr. Matsuoka has come west to estimate the strength of the axis machine for himself, and see whether Japan wants to gamble everything on it. In view of this it would be worth a bit to read his shrewd mind as the echoes of the anti-axis demonstrations in Yugoslavia reach his ears.

The Yugoslav developments, with their repercussions in Moscow and Turkey, certainly have added to the mad-batter complications of the Balkan situation. It will be interesting to see the next move of the Fuehrer.

Here it should be said that his main concern in the Balkans isn't the smashing of Greece, strange as that may seem in view of the way the spotlight has been held on that fiery little country, which has been stealing the show ever since Mussolini made his disastrous error by invading it.

last October. The nazis chief aims are ranging far beyond the borders of Greece.

As a matter of fact, indications are that if he could follow his own inclination, he would let Greece well alone for the moment. If she strikes at Greece now it will be largely because he can't afford for appearance sake to let his partner be forced out of Albania and into the green Adriatic by the Greeks.

Hitler's chief purposes in driving down the Balkans, as I have pointed out in the column before, have been (1) to get control and seal up the bottom of the peninsula so as to prevent the opening of a new war front against him, (2) to safeguard himself against Russia, (3) to get set for a possible attempt in due course to force the Dardanelles and drive into the Near East, to the rich oil wells of Iraq and Iran on the one hand, and the Suez Canal and Egypt on the other.

But Turkey's staunch adherence to her alliance with Britain, and Russia's surprising shift to encouragement of the Turks against Germany, have created a fresh and uncomfortable problem for Hitler. The way things are going he may get that war-front opened up against him after all. What's of greater moment, there is always the danger that Russia may come in against him if the time seems opportune.

That's why the nazis leader undoubtedly would be glad if the Greek difficulty could be solved ever since Mussolini made his disastrous error by invading it.

Thus it seems that if and when Hitler makes his attack on Greece, he will have plenty on his mind, and maybe on his hands.

Old Man Ends Fight Against 'Work Of Devil'

BOSTON, March 27 (AP)—Seventy-three-year-old Thomas J. Mulvey laid aside his old musket today, ending a month's defense against the work of the devil—a housing project which would encroach upon his property.

Gentle persuasion by probate court authorities and policemen induced Mulvey that he and his 67-year-old sister, Annie J., would be better cared for in a state hospital.

Probate officials said that the elderly man had armed himself with an old long-barreled musket, and, branding the $2,721,000 project as "the work of the devil," had challenged anyone to remove him from his three-family house.

Mulvey's "surrender" opened the way for demolition of the last house to remain in the way of the Jamaica Plain project.

Dishes To Make From The Last Of The Roast

By Katherine Fisher
Director, Good Housekeeping Institute

Rich in vitamins, and proteins and minerals, which help make blood and bones, every ounce of meat you buy is worth serving to your family, if you can. Sometimes, after a roast has been served twice, you may be at a loss to know what to do with the small slices and odds and ends that are left over. That's the time to try one of these recipes for leftover roast beef, veal, and lamb.

All recipes tested by Good Housekeeping Institute. Use Institute-approved measuring cups and spoons. Measure level.

Beef Pastries

- 1 c. ground roast beef
- 1 ground small onion
- 1/2 c. canned tomato sauce
- 1 tsp. flour
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- Canned tomato sauce
- 1/2 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 tsp. powdered sage
- 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- Flaky pastry
- Top milk

Remove all fat from beef before putting through food chopper. Combine all ingredients except pastry, milk and tomato sauce. Roll out pastry and cut into four 5 1/2" squares. Place squares in ungreased 2" muffin pans; fill each with meat mixture, and pinch edges of pastry firmly together. Brush with top milk, and bake in hot oven of 450° F. for 20 min. Serve with heated, canned tomato sauce. Serves 4.

Menu Suggestion: Serve for dinner, with sautéed peas and corn, baked-apple crisp, and milk.

Lamb in Currant-Orange Sauce

- 2 tsp. cornstarch
- 1/2 c. lamb gravy
- 1/2 c. currant jelly
- 1/2 c. orange juice
- 1/2 c. minced mint leaves
- 8 slices cold roast lamb

Mix cornstarch with gravy. Add remaining ingredients except lamb, and cook until slightly thickened, stirring occasionally. Heat slices of lamb in sauce, and serve. Serves 6. To serve 8, make 1 1/2 this recipe.

Menu Suggestion: Serve with baked potatoes, carrots and onions, crisp celery, bread, and spice cake topped with canned sliced peaches.

Spanish Veal on Cheese Waffles

- 1 c. sliced, peeled onions
- 4 tsp. salad oil
- 1/2 c. cubed roast veal
- 1 No. 8 can (2 1/2 c.) tomatoes
- 1 green pepper, seeded and sliced
- 1 c. sliced fresh or sautéed mushrooms
- 1 tsp. leaf basil
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 1/2 tsp. black pepper
- 2 whole cloves
- 1/2 c. grated, processed American cheese
- 4 tsp. flour
- 1/2 tsp. water
- 1 c. whole mushrooms

Sauté onions until tender in 4 tsp. salad oil in a large, covered skillet. Add remaining ingredients except flour, water, whole mushrooms, and remaining salad oil. Cover, and simmer 30 min. Blend flour and water, and add to the meat mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, 5 min. longer. Sauté whole mushrooms in remaining salad oil until golden brown, and use to garnish Spanish Veal. Serve from the skillet at the table, over delicious, hot Cheese Waffles, made as follows:

Cheese Waffles

- 2 c. sifted cake flour
- 2 tsp. baking powder
- 1/2 tsp. salt
- 2 eggs, separated
- 1 1/4 c. bottled milk, or
- 16 tsp. evaporated milk and 1/2 tsp. water
- 6 tsp. salad oil or melted fat
- 1 c. grated, processed American cheese

Sift together flour, baking powder, and salt. Beat egg yolks until light; add with milk to dry ingredients. Stir in salad oil and cheese. Beat well. Beat egg whites with a hand or electric beater until stiff; then fold into waffle batter. Bake according to manufacturer's directions. Makes 6 to 8 waffles.

Menu Suggestion: Serve for Sunday-night supper, with assorted relishes, fruit ice cream, and coffee.

Hanes Continues Newspaper Ads

This season marks the 26th consecutive year of newspaper advertising by the F. H. Hanes Knitting company of Winston-Salem, North Carolina. Including The Herald, 878 leading newspapers are being used this year.

For years, Hanes has used the largest newspaper advertising campaign in the underwear field. Hanes has always felt that newspaper advertising is the retailer's best medium.

Enthusiasm on the part of Hanes merchants for this advertising is shown by the number who make use of small, inexpensive tie-in advertisements of their own. Last year, for instance, 27,841 of these dealer advertisements were used.

C. O. D. "Chicken on Delivery" SALINAS, Calif. — Glen Bales, Postal Telegraph messenger boy, has just learned that "C. O. D." really means "chicken on delivery." He delivered a package in the country on which there was a charge of $1 with the cryptic mark of "C. O. D." The recipient could not quite make up the amount. After some delay in catching the bird, a chicken was turned over to the messenger to make up the balance.

Lions Hear Salvation Army Worker

Prisons, Col. John C. Halkirk, Salvation Army worker, told the Lions club Wednesday, ought to incorporate programs of education, vocation, recreation and salvation in their set-up.

Col. Halkirk had spent 15 years as a worker in prisons, having participated in nearly 1,000 prison services in that time.

"He would make the punishment 'fit the man and not the crime,'" he said. Col. Halkirk encouraged the club in its boy work, viewing it as a strong crime preventative.

Spiritual work in prisons would give the proper foundation for rehabilitating men, he believed. Guests at the club included D. L. Webster, Palo Alto, Calif., an instructor at Leland Stanford, Calif., who was grounded here on his trip in his Cub airplane to Washington, D. C.; and L. L. Soome, superintendent of schools at Panama. Reports were heard from the team which entered the state bowling tournament and from the zone meeting Tuesday evening at Wink.

Senator Glass Asks Ship Convoys

U. S. Studies Extension Of Nazi Blockade

WASHINGTON, March 27 (AP)—With Germany's unrestricted sea war zone extended to the edge of the American hemisphere, Senator Glass (D-Va.) called today for the use of United States navy convoys if Nazi surface or submarine raiders attempt to sink lease-lend shipments of military supplies bound for Britain.

The peppery Virginian minced no words. "If they interfere with us," he told reporters, "we ought to shoot the hell out of them. I am for convoys if Germany sinks our goods."

The stand taken by the 83-year-old senator, however, found no ready backing among his colleagues on the foreign relations committee. Most of them ruled out convoys, barring an imminent or actual state of war.

While this informal discussion progressed, state department officials pursued their study of the German decree Tuesday extending the Reich's counter-blockade zone within three miles of Greenland—the Danish colony which is considered a geographical part of the western hemisphere.

In the continued absence of official comment, conjectures centered on two possible sources of action. One was that the neutrality act's combat zone might be redefined to encompass the new German blockade area which now includes Danish Iceland, heretofore outside of the zone.

The other was that no such recognition would be given to the Berlin decree, but that Nazi war-craft would be told to keep out of the hemisphere waters.

Although the new German decree pushed the blockade farther west along Britain's North American life line, unofficial sources here were inclined to regard it as a formality that was not likely to exert an influence one way or the other on the question of American convoys.

These authorities, agreeing with British opinion, said that Germany would attack British supply ships wherever encountered, without waiting until a vessel entered some specifically prescribed sea area.

They declared that no American ships have been carrying cargoes to Iceland, and only coast guard cutters have been transporting necessary supplies to Greenland.

Discussing the Glass convoy proposal, Chairman George (D-Ga.) of the foreign relations committee, declared he opposed such a step without first declaring war.

The use of convoys, he asserted, would be an act of war. However, he said that the administration properly might lend British ships for such use.

"ZIEGFELD GIRL"

Lana introduces Judy to Paul Kelly, Ziegfeld's stage manager, for a tryout. Her Dad, Charlie Winninger, looks hopeful, but Edward Everett Horton, a press agent, looks dubious.

Jimmy Stewart, a truck driver, tries, unsuccessfully, to persuade Lana to leave the bright lights and marry him.

But Lana is enamored by the attention she receives. Here she is with Dan Dailey, Jr., a boxing champion.

Judy beams with pride and joy as her Dad, playing Gallagher, of the famed team of Gallagher & Shean, makes good in a big way in the "Follies." Al Shean plays himself.

Just a pose by the three girls, Judy, Lana, and Hedy.

FREE: A "still" 8 x 10 picture from the above film will be sent free to anyone writing, and enclosing 10c stamp to cover postage.

Max Factor's Glamour Hints

Those ordinarily desirable qualities, "individuality" and "originality," are frequently carried too far into the field of make-up creation, with glamour-destroying results.

For instance, there are simple rules of make-up color harmony which should be followed if a woman wishes to enhance the beauty of her complexion type with an appearance of naturalness, and these beauty-bringing rules shouldn't be violated for the sake of "originality." Remember that the dividing line between "originality" and "freakishness" can be a very thin one.

Violation of the color harmony rules of make-up for the sake of "originality," for instance, could lead a brunette Maureen O'Sullivan type into using the cosmetic shades which are correct for a blonde Betty Grable or Virginia Bruce type, but artistically incorrect for her own natural brunette colorings. Or, the mistake might be the other way around, with blondes or redheads using the make-up tints which are correct only for brunettes.

So don't endeavor to become too "individual," at the expense of the correctness of your make-up's color harmony. Such harmony is just one of those established truisms from which there can be no attractive "original" deviations. The creation of a lipstick pattern offers another field in which too much "individualism" is regularly apparent.

Months which are too large can logically and correctly be made to appear smaller by minimizing the lipstick arch at the corner of the mouth. Lips which are too thin can be made to appear fuller by extending their borders with lipstick. Corrective shaping of the lips of any sort can usually be accomplished with the lipstick, and such correction is a very advisable procedure.

But, according to my definition, lip-shape alterations of this sort do not come under the heading of inadvisable "originalities."

The dance will be directed by Hermes Pan, who helped stage most of Fred Astaire's dance routines. Pan also will direct Miss Henie in two or three skating numbers in the picture. . . . Bette Davis is telling friends she's anxious to return to the stage, preferably in a road company of one of her film hits. . . . Wallace Beery and that wealthy Long Beach widow, Lorien Robinson, probably will tie the matrimonial knot in New York this week. . . . Like brother Bing, Bob Crosby can't resist the ponies, and bets on them at every opportunity. Other morning at 9:00 o'clock on the "Rookies on Parade" set at Republic, Crosby spent half an hour talking on the telephone. When he hung up, director Joe Santley cracked: "What's the matter — is there a race in Moscow this early in the morning?"

Jack Rubin, a purchasing agent at RKO, met a story agent the other day and verbally outlined a movie plot he had in mind. The story agent liked it, repeated the plot to Bruce Manning, a producer at Universal. Manning liked it, bought it on the spot for a Charles Boyer starring vehicle. There's still nothing on paper, but for telling a story Rubin will collect $12,000 this week. That's Hollywood.

Scene of Groucho Marx's attempts to stamp his name on the seat of a baby's diapers in the last Marx Brothers film was a little too much for Canadian film censors. They snipped it from the picture. . . . Casting of Preston Foster as one of Irene Dunne's leading men in "Unfinished Business" sounds like a movie success story. Foster was an extra in one of Miss Dunne's early Broadway hits, "Sweetheart Time." . . . Seven hundred coeds from Stephens College, Missouri, chaperoned by Maude Adams, arrived in town this week for a Hollywood vacation. Imagine chaperoning 700 college girls in Hollywood!

KEN MORGAN'S . . . HOLLYWOOD KEYHOLE

Last week, this pillar leveled on Patricia Morrison for refusing to appear in a picture opposite Gene Autry. Fortunately, an opening was left in the trade for a retraction when the true facts could be brought to light. I apologize, Miss Morrison. Mr. Harry Grey, of the Republic Studios, set us right yesterday. You wanted to do the film. You respected Gene Autry. You saw in the assignment an opportunity to better your standing with millions of fans. You were going to be given an opportunity to sing a song, a talent you possess which has not been exploited by your home studio, Paramount. You heeded about the wardrobe, but every demand was okayed by the producer. And you were all set to go. But this is as far as my apology goes. My informants tell me that you then proceeded to disregard your own judgment and that of your studio, and opened an ear to the wrong advice. I don't think the advice came from your agent, who must know what the assignment would have meant to your value. Don't make a similar mistake, Pat. Get another advisor!

Good news! Annie Sheridan returned to the Warners' fold and will soon get back to the business of making pictures. She has been off the screen for seven months in one of the most useless feuds with a studio these eyes have seen. For she goes back on her old salary—rumored to be $600 per week. But, if she is a good girl, the studio undoubtedly will tear up the contract and hand her a new deal over the four figure mark. Ann starts soon in "Navy Blues" and she ought to have a million laughs doing it, because she will work with Eddie Albert, Jack Oakie, and Jack Haley.

Universal will ballyhoo three-year-old Baby Sandy's next film with the ads, Baby Sandy Talks. She has the first line of dialogue in the script, and just like a woman, goes on talking throughout the picture.

I like the crack made by funnyman Bob Hope when Dizzy Dean asked him how to go about meeting Hedy Lamarr. Hope replied: "Take the next train to Kansas City — the line forms there!"

Edmund Lowe's lower lip is pointing a little, now that the rumors are around that Gail Patrick is considering going back to her former husband, Bob Cobb, of the Brown Derby restaurants. . . . JOE FISHER'S Reviews of Previews cessor and should prove an even bigger money-maker, what with its lavish production, tuneful music and the zany antics of the screen and radio pep boys, Crosby and Hope. And it wouldn't be fair to pass by the grace and beauty of Dot Lamour, who succeeds in foregoing a sari only to appear in a tasty fern costume which is just a wee bit reminiscent of First-Lady Eve's fig leaf.

Don Hartman and Sy Bartlett's story is seemingly only a framework which Messrs. Crosby and Hope use as a background for ad libbing gag after gag to a point which left your reviewer on the ragged edge of a mild form of hysterics.

Una Merkel, Eric Blore, Douglas Dumbrille, and Joan Marsh . . . to mention just a few . . . add to the hilarity with fine performances. "ROAD TO ZANZIBAR" is not a picture to write about, but it definitely is one to see. Put it on your "must see" list and take the children without fail to this laugh riot.

No better proof of the unusual interest which a Frank Capra picture inspires in the minds of Hollywood's movie critics could have been evidenced than the enthusiastic turnout which greeted "MEET JOHN DOE."

The film is a daring social document, perhaps the most daring film of such a type ever presented. In addition to all this, it is great entertainment, enacted by an inspired cast who toiled for twelve weeks in the making of it. It requires no stretch of the imagination to see where the $2,000,000 which Capra and the play's author, Robert Riskin, poured into the opus, went. Capra used extras literally by the thousands, one scene alone (which was filmed at Los Angeles' Wrigley Field) requiring 4,000 people for ten straight days.

Gary Cooper is superb. His portrayal will stay with you for many a long month. Barbara Stanwyck, who has never had a crack at an Academy Award, turns in a performance which is definitely of Academy stature. Her plea to Gary in the closing scenes, when she reveals her love for him, is an emotional piece of acting that will tug at the heartstrings of the most hardboiled movie-goer.

Edward Arnold's role is tailor-made. Simply a natural which this fine actor takes in stride. James Gleason, too often forgotten in Hollywood, at last comes into his own. Playing a hardboiled newspaper editor, he has one sequence where he gets drunk enough to admit to Gary Cooper that he "is a sucker for the Star Spangled Banner." Walter Brennan, Spring Byington, Gene Lockhart, Rod La Rocque, and Regis Toomey are others who contribute to the full of their talent in this magnificent picture.

Don't miss seeing "MEET JOHN DOE." Take the whole family.

Mary Healy ON THE SETS

By STEVE HEALEY With REED JOHNSTON

One of her ancestors was Parnell, illustrious Irish patriot, who helped shape the destiny of his beloved country.

She married a young man who points with pardonable pride to a Cardinal and a Statesman as branches of his family tree. Her name is Mary Healy—his, Peter Lind Hayes.

Although Mary Healy was born in New Orleans, on April 14, 1918, neither face, figure, nor voice could ever belie the country of her origin. She's a winsome colleen with eyes that reflect the lakes of Killarney and a voice that somehow makes one think of Cathedral choirs and little children at prayer.

To this reminiscent reporter it recalled an expression once seen in the eyes of a youth, blind from birth. Modern surgery had restored his sight at the age of sixteen. He had that same intangible look as he beheld for the first time the wonders of nature, heretofore known only by word of mouth.

She is a film star by virtue of her magnificent performances in "Up the River," "Back to Back," "Star Dust," and many others.

But Mary Healy is primarily a woman. The following conversation may help clarify this latter statement. During our interview Mary said:

"I married Peter because I love him. He is a fine artist in his own right. He has proven this conclusively in his many radio and screen appearances. He has a great hand here at the Grace Hayes Lodge, and I am most happy to be an integral part of it. You can tell the world that the Hayesses know where they are going. And we're on our way."

There you have a thumbnail sketch of Mary Healy. A great artist, a daughter of Erin, a loyal and loving wife. They're very definitely on their way, these two. P. S.—When Peter Lind Hayes gets a load of the above picture of the two Healys, he can reach "THIS" in care of the American Express in Lima. And that ain't Indiana. It's in Peru.

Personal Presence

By ELEANORE KING

A plain pair of legs gracefully handled are much lovelier to watch than a beautiful pair that fall carelessly into any awkward position. Even if a woman has "bowed" or heavy legs, we now know that she can stand so that they give the illusion of being normal.

Your legs are considered "normal" if they meet at the ankle, calf, knee, and then all the way up where they join the body. Here are the simple rules governing the standing position—or "stance"—for such legs, and you'll notice that women who have been groomed for public life consistently adhere to them:

1. The legs should not be farther apart than six inches. A bowler has but one stem, and so should a graceful woman.
2. One foot should be placed about four inches farther back than the other, so that the toe of the back foot is one or two inches back of the front foot.
3. The weight of the body should be on the back leg.
4. The heel of the back foot turns slightly in toward the center of the body.
5. Both knees are slightly bent — never held rigid.
6. The knee of the front foot should cover the back knee, so BEND IT A LOT — this is the magic trick that actresses learn; but the foot of the front leg, from the ankle down, must be placed perfectly straight forward. Practice this until you can do it casually.

Go to a mirror and see what a vast improvement this makes in the appearance of your legs. Since you have no weight on your front foot, you are always ready to step out with it without shifting the balance of your body. Although she is usually unaware of it, this shifting is an ugly thing to watch in the average woman, especially if her hips are a little heavy.

(Stance for thin legs next week, so don't miss it; then bowed legs, then fat ones. If you have trouble with your stance, send me a snapshot — to 5353 Selma Ave., Hollywood, Calif.—of your legs from the knees down, calves touching, if possible.)

NOTE — Send your question, with self-addressed, stamped envelope, to Hollywood Today, 5353 Selma Ave., Hollywood, Calif., and Eleanore King will personally answer.

This wide-eyed observer is too many years away from his geography lessons to remember in detail the principal exports of Sweden, and anyhow our school books never led us to expect that some day we would be having lunch with one of them. We refer specifically to Miss Signe Hasso, who has only recently descended to these grateful shores from a country which seemingly has so many lovely women it can afford to let some of them go. And to judge from what we're getting over here, it would be well worth a trip through troubled waters to see just what they're keeping at home for the local boys.

But to come back to Signe Hasso, let us register the information that she is the very latest Swedish import, and that she is an out-and-out honey. Here in this country we have our own ideas of what a Swede should look like, but Miss Hasso conforms to none of them. For, instead of being blonde, her hair is lark and warmly red, and the eyes are not blue, but brown. In further defiance of accepted convention, her accent is in no wise comic, though she handles English cautiously, as if it might turn on her and bite.

All of which conveys only a feeble impression of a really electric personality, and it is going to be a trying interval between now and the time when we see her again in her first American picture — an opus tentatively entitled "Father Takes a Wife"—the wife being Miss Hasso, and the father Adolphe Menjou, who seems to have all the luck.

Well, for one who is entirely too susceptible to the smiles of pretty ladies, this is sometimes a trying business, teeming with occupational hazards. For, no sooner had we left the sunny presence of Miss Hasso, secretly pledging her our undying devotion, than we encountered what must surely be one of England's principal exports.

This was Miss Anna Neagle, who, for the moment, was sitting quietly on the sidelines while the camera recorded one of Ray Bolger's dances for "Sunny." We say "sitting quietly," though where Miss Neagle is there is music in the air, friends, and our previous pledge of undying devotion was promptly switched to her.

This left us in something of a dilemma as to the real object of our aforsaid devotion, and the day's end found us still blissfully undecided whether we favored Miss Hasso or Miss Neagle. The only disappointing part of it is that both ladies are undoubtedly almost supernaturally indifferent as to whether I'm devoted to them or not!

Just Take It From Yost, Modern Gridders Play A Better Brand Of Ball

CHICAGO, March 27 (AP)—The good old days in college football? Fielding H. Yost says they were all right, but take it from him, the game as played today is "the best we've ever had, the most interesting for the spectators and the kind the boys who play it enjoy most."

Michigan's grand old man of the gridiron sport is well qualified to express an opinion on the subject. On April 30 he will be 70 years old and next June 80, at the end of the academic year, he produced some of the greatest individual stars and teams in college football history.

"Outside of the forward pass," Yost said, "football hasn't changed much over the years. Years ago we had a spinner play at Michigan. Today every team has about 90 of them, but there isn't much more difference in the fundamentals. Today there are a lot more good coaches and a lot more good players, but when you analyze it, all winning teams still have to be able to block, tackle, pass and kick."

Yost, given of honor last night at a banquet held by the Michigan Club of Chicago, leaves the Michigan setup with a deep sense of personal pride in the part he played in building the great West-Verline athletic plant. During his 20-year term as athletic director, he said, total revenues from athletics were $5,745,145. The school, he said, financed its athletic program almost entirely from its own athletic gate receipts.

His greatest team, he says, was the 1925 eleven which lost to Northwestern 2 to 2. He won't pick an all-time all-American anymore, but names Jim Thorpe, Ted Koy, Willie Heaton (greatest back he ever coached), Germany Schultz, Pudge Hefflinger, Ernie Nevers, Bronko Nagurski and Tom Harmon as about as good as they ever come. Punter? . . . He says his own Louis Gilbert of the mid-twenties was all-time all-around top, but that Harry Kipke produced the finest afternoon of punting he ever saw against Ohio State in 1922, when Harry punted 11 times and the Buckeyes were able to make only one return.

Once more Texas University starts out on the Southwest conference baseball ways, but this year will be considerably different from the days of yesteryear—Uncle Billy Disch (Mister Ditch) to his players and all others connected with the club will no longer be in the middle of the show.

Mr. Disch decided last year that he should quit active coaching but it was only lately that he officially withdrew from the picture. The old gentleman will be on the campus during most of the playing season but he'll not have the job of pushing his lads.

Texas should not have too much trouble cleaning the field of South-west opponents because, although he is gone, the hand of the old master is still in evidence.

Lookin' 'em Over

With Jack Douglas

Malcolm Bridges, city recreation director, is more than just an observer and promoter of amateur sports. He is currently, in a small way, a champion in his own right—an American Business Club champ, if that means anything.

In a series of ping pong matches recently put on by the ABCers, Bridges came out of the fray in the kingpin's role.

In the opening rounds, Hugh Duncan was outscored by Roy Reader; T. J. Dunlap beat J. W. Elrod; Bridges stopped Worth Peeler; and Dr. Clyde Thomas bested Durward Carnet.

For the second frame of the sessions, Dunlap eliminated Reader, Bridges threw Peeler. Thomas was put out of the running by Bridges.

Dunlap's playing ability took a turn for the worse and he was given a sound, so far as ping pong is concerned, thrashing in the finals round.

So—our figure that makes Bridges champion of the boys.

Girl Cagers' Tilts Marked By Casualties

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., March 27 (AP)—Any doubt that girls' basketball as played today is a sissy affair was removed in the quarter-final round of the 1941 women's National AAU tournament.

Mary Bradley, captain of the Pittsburgh, Pa., Westinghouse six, was carried off the floor and taken to a hospital for treatment of a severe bruise and chafed legs.

Myrtle Shiever, all-America forward with the Little Rock, Ark., Flyers, was dumped to the floor so hard she will be unable to play in the remaining games because of a severe bruise and chafed legs.

Doris Jones, chatterbox guard with the Dallas Hornets, suffered a cut over the left eye which required a stitch to close. Those were the casualties in the four games that determined Nashville, Tenn., will meet the Des Moines, Ia., A. I. B., six in one bracket and the Davenport, Iowa, Stenos will engage with the titling defending queens from Little Rock in the other.

An all-lowa final Friday night became a possibility with the A. I. B. victory over Pittsburgh. The Pennsylvania list three stars of the 1939 Galveston Anicos in their lineup.

Last night's results: Little Rock Flyers 24, Dallas Hornets 14. Davenport Stenos 36, Des Moines Thompkins 31. Des Moines A. I. B. 24, Pittsburgh Westinghouse 12. Nashville 21, Denver Dry Goods 15.

Mitchell Wildcat Drills Into Lime

COLORADO CITY, March 27 (Sp)—Drilling in brown lime formation, the C. E. Casebolt et al. No. 1 J. E. Franklin, wildcat two and a half miles southwest of Colorado City, was reported Wednesday at 2,300 feet.

The test topped the lime at 1,330 feet. It is running 48 feet higher than the Westbrook field and about the same number of feet higher than the Jack Smith wildcat north of Colorado City. It is headed for the Westbrook pay, approximately 3,000 feet.

Power From Possum Kingdom Dam Goes To Co-op At Price Lower Than Offered By Private Firm

TEMPLE, March 26 (AP)—E. D. H. Farrow, chairman of the Brazos River Transmission Electric Co-operative, said today work would begin within two weeks preparatory to construction of lines to serve REA projects in Central and North Texas from Possum Kingdom dam.

Farrow gave the full speed ahead signal following approval of a contract by directors of the Brazos river conservation and reclamation district calling for sale of all power from the recently completed dam to the cooperative.

He said 490 miles of transmission lines would be strung to serve 15 REA projects.

The contract was approved and the officers directed to sign it at an all-day session here yesterday, with executives of the Texas Electric Service company and the Texas Power and Light company appearing in opposition.

He's In The Army Now—Charles (Chuck) Fenske, star miler, passed the physical examination and was accepted into the army at Milwaukee. He volunteered for induction with a draft quota. Dr. A. E. Lutzring was one of the examiners as Chuck went through the line.

SW Baseball Opens Today

HOUSTON, March 27 (AP)—Baylor's Bears and Rice's Owls open the Southwest conference baseball schedule here today, the first of three games for each team this week-end.

Baylor, winner of a couple of tilts with McMurry college, and Rice, which has yet to play a game, are due to see Joe Terry and Fred Pepper, respectively, on the mound.

The four other conference teams swing into action tomorrow, the Texas Aggies meeting Baylor at College Station, Southern Methodist university tangling with Texas Christian at Dallas and Texas battling Rice at Houston.

The teams play again Saturday.

Old Coins In Buried Treasure

SANTA CRUZ, Calif.—Capt. Jack Rhein of the fire department realized the dream that nearly every human being at some time has that of digging up buried treasure. His spade turned up at his Glen Canyon property a metallic box containing a collection of old English coins, some of them dating back 200 years.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ

NEW YORK, March 27.—A 25-year-old Mexican Jai-Alai star named Izaguirre settled an old argument by tossing the pelota 97 feet further than Bill Terry could hit a fango. Then the Mexican put on the clincher by tossing a baseball 15 feet further than Bill's hit.

The touring golfers were saddened to learn Porky Oliver has pneumonia at Fort Dix. . . . John Roxborough at St. Louis to arrange training quarters for Joe Louis to prep for Tony Musto. . . . If Los Angeles gets a team in the National Professional football league, movie dough will back it.

They say Dick Bartell is a step and a half slower than last year. . . . Lynn G. Doyle, Philadelphia Evening Bulletin, says they're calling Lou Novikoff "Lou Novacaine" at this writing because of what he's doing to the Cub power outfit.

Hooping The Hoop

Heard and seen at the basketball coaches' meeting: Ned Irish will extend his double header cage circuit to Buffalo next season and the Oklahoma Aggies. . . . Nobody seems to crave to play the Ags, but it's a cinch they'll open the Garden season in December vs either Long Island U. or City College. . . . Newcomer to the Garden scene will be Wyoming, "Big 1" champion. Lots of whispers around that Iowa U. is trying to lure Hank (the away from the Oklahoma Aggies. . . . "Dr. A. E. Although they will be far traveled, 2,900 miles from Houston, they still will be only 15 miles apart.

Odditorium

Next to Mom and Pop Greenberg, leading rooter of the Detroit Tigers in New York is Billy Quon, a Chinese restaurant owner. . . . Canada Lee, former negro fighter, now starring in "Native Son" on Broadway, was christened Leonard Lionel Cornelius Cannagator. An announcer for one of the obscure N. Tony Lazzeri's nine-year-old bambino, David, routes the San Francisco Seals (and other guests of the hotel) out of bed by playing Offenbach's "Tales of Hoffman" on the grand piano in the lobby.

Among Friends

Lone Wolf Co-op To Build 80 Mile Line

COLORADO CITY, March 27 (Sp)—Allotment of $50,000 announced last week by the Rural Electrification administration in Washington for the Lone Wolf Electric Cooperative, Inc., of Colorado City will cover 80 miles of lines serving 157 members. It was stated this week by C. I. Griffin, project superintendent for the cooperative.

Routing of the line is yet to be designated. The cooperative already has in operation 156 miles of lines serving 353 members.

West's Golden Glovers Win Over East's

Texas' Menchaca Keeps 118-Pound Title With Decision Over N. Y. Lad

CHICAGO, March 27 (AP)—Western boxers stood out today as the best in the land on the basis of a 10 to 6 victory over the finest amateur talent of the east in the 14th annual New York-Chicago Golden Gloves contest before 19,305 spectators in the Chicago stadium last night.

The westerners, coming from central and southwestern states, battled their way to victory in five of eight championship bouts, and in five of eight bouts involving alternates.

Thus they maintained their record of never having lost in their hometown arena. The record to date is eight victories for the west, three for the east, and three ties in 14 years of competition.

The 16 bouts produced only one knockout but revealed three impressive stars in the west. Ray Brown, a skinny negro high school boy from Chicago; Dick Menchaca, a Mexican lad now living in Fort Worth, and Jack Haley, a 21-year-old red-headed Irish lad from Kansas City.

Brown turned out to be the most impressive boxer on the card although he appeared in an alternate 18-pound bout. He decisively defeated Johnny Aialo, of Wilmington, Del., a Golden Gloves veteran, jabbing and hooking his way to victory.

Menchaca also turned in a decisive victory over Lester McGowan, a baby-faced 15-year-old high school lad of Buffalo, N. Y., in the 118-pound championship class. He floored McGowan for a count of nine in the first round, and then toyed with him in the remaining two rounds. Haley, feeling none too well before his engagement with Charles Davis, New York negro, in the 126-pound division, was ordered to bed after whipping the New Yorker.

Other results included: 147 pounds alternate—Morris Corson, Port Arthur, Tex., defeated Eddie Saunders, New York, (3).

Yanks May Cop Flag 5th Time In 6 Years

Mgr. McCarthy's Lads Appear To Have Cured Faults Of Last Season

TAMPA, Fla., March 27 (AP)—If nothing serious happens to them between here and there, those old, familiar New York Yankees should win the coming American league race by about five games—maybe ten.

Next October (this is strictly a hunch) we'll all be sitting around the dressing room in Yankee stadium, redolent of oil of wintergreen, and asking of Manager Joe McCarthy: "Well, Joe, how does it feel to win five times in six years?"

Texas Club Keeps Lead In Classic

Texas Club maintained its lead in the Big Spring Ladies' Classic bowling league Wednesday night by administering a 230 to 225 defeat to a Park Inn quintet. Minna Howe, Park Inn, racked up the highest individual score over a three-game series by marking up 164-165-163 for a total of 522 pins.

Billy Simons of Park Inn nabbed an average of 167 over the route to take second in the scoring with 591 pins to her credit, and Texas Club's Mrs. Luke LeBlou rolled 156-159-204 for a total of 499 and third-place in the evening's ratings.

Texas Electric's fem legklers chalked up 3097 to beat Toby's 2014.

Texas Club—Flynt, 472; Knaus, 467; LeBlou, 499; Richards, 478; Meyers, 435. Park Inn—Howe, 522; Haley, 407; Hoeskendorf, 423; Edmondson, 324; Simons, 501.

Texas Electric—Wells, 436; Robb, 408; Wasson, 441; Parks, 430; Griffith, 382. Toby's—Vineyard, 409; Hall, 380; Ramsey, 415; Davis, 376; Eason, 407.

Ex-Navy Man Protests A-Rating In Draft

DETROIT—Warren E. Braschwitz, who completed a four-year training period in the navy just in time to register for the draft last October, has asked the U. S. district court here for a declaratory judgment on draft officials' insistence that he should be in class 1-A.

Braschwitz contends that he has had sufficient military training and should not be called up for a year's army work in the light of his prior service.

The draft board said the fact that congress had exempted men trained in the army but had not mentioned persons with training in the navy or marine corps left it powerless to do anything other than call him for training when his low number comes up.

Braschwitz has asked the court to enjoin his draft board from calling him up until a judgment is given in his suit.

And Joe, never a man to do a lot of talking in such historic moments, will clear his throat and utter the following immortal words: "Sweet!"

All of which is heresy, of course, because it is common knowledge that the Cleveland Indians were hit hard only by internal trouble last year and should sail through harmoniously behind the 30-game pitching of Bobby Feller this time.

Watching them play down here, it is difficult to understand what happened to the Yankees last year. It must have been a concerted let-down as a result of the affliction that took the great Lou Gehrig from their lineup. If that was it, they are over it now. They look again like the Yankees.

Not only are the Yankees hitting better again, but their pitching has been spectacular and their pitching better than good. Even the veteran Lefty Gomez is threatening to make a comeback. The young pitchers, upon whom a lot depended, came through brilliantly as the club won 12 of its first 15.

All this is put down in full realization that Phil Rizzuto, the sensational rookie shortstop who is hitting over .400 at the moment, might be drafted into the army at any time. If and when he goes, Joe Gordon can be shifted from first base to short, Tommy Henrich brought in from the outfield to hold down first, and the Yankees go rocking right along with little, if any, loss of strength.

In other words, the team they were talking about "breaking up" only a year ago for the good of baseball appears to be on its way again after a one-season lapse. Cleveland had its supreme opportunity last year, but muffed it. Detroit, which finally staggered through to win the pennant and then lose to Cincinnati in the world series, figures to give Cleveland a hard fight for runner-up honors this time.

The Yanks are 6-coming.

Also-Kintner—Plans For Shipping Worked Out In Detail

By ALSOP and KINTNER WASHINGTON, March 27—It is not generally known, but when Sir Arthur Salter reaches this country at the end of the week, he will find ready-built a rough but effective framework for Anglo-American cooperation in the crucial shipping field.

These are largely exports to and imports from Central and South America, which must continue to be carried if our economic relations in the hemisphere are to be maintained.

Over-all planning of shipping use is already in force, of course, in Britain, where the ministry of shipping is the manager of the British merchant marine.

Some time ago, when a shipping shortage first threatened, the chairman of the maritime commission, Admiral Emery S. Land, met with representatives of the ship-owners and warned them frankly that their vessels were a national resource which must be used in the public interest during the war period.

Most of the goods are moved in the ordinary course of commerce, but whenever the priorities lists show a bottleneck developing, the controls system goes into action.

Sir Arthur Salter will have the power to speak for the shipping ministry, and in view of his great record at the joint shipping board in the last war, will speak with immense authority.

The ship-owners had long been aware that such a warning was inevitable, sooner or later, possibly, at the backs of their minds, they remembered what the president has the power to requisition all shipping by declaring a national emergency.

Although in many instances this means a sacrifice of profit, and although some of the ship-owners have grumbled rather loudly, no ship-owner has yet refused to accept the maritime commission's "guidance."

Complete data will be available for the grave decisions that must be made. Convoys may or may not be resorted to. At the present it seems quite possible, since the navy is reluctant to give the British the destroyers and the maritime commission does not wish to yield the merchant ships which Government Guidance Ever since then, the system of volunteer shipping controls has been going full blast. At the heart of it are charts at the maritime commission, showing the positions of American ships all over the world, and lists of shipping priorities supplied to the maritime commission by the war and navy departments, the office of production management, and other agencies involved in the defense effort.

Convoy? The American volunteer shipping controls can easily be developed into over-all planning of shipping use. Indeed, a first effort in this direction is already being made in the form of gradual transfer of our inter-coastal shipping to off-shore runs, and assumption by must on every visitor's list and sight of it affects them in a lot of different ways. I know one girl who had waited 30 years to see it, and when he did he came to a dead stop and saluted the old girl.

partly because some apartment houses are built as "taxpayers." The building is put together to last gracefully for only 15 years or so. In that time, if all goes well, it will have returned its individual investment plus taxes on the property.

Children are almost a curiosity in downtown Manhattan. You find children in New York, you find them on the sidewalks and into the residential districts. In Jackson Heights, which is a part of Queens borough, which is a part of New York, they say you aren't an official resident until you've had a baby there.

New York has 23,628 taxicabs, which mildly astonishing fact came out when the ban against cab cruising on snooty Fifth Avenue was lifted temporarily during the bus strike. That's enough taxicabs to provide one apiece for everyone in Freeport, Ill., Billings, Mont., or Reno, Nev.

The first apartment house built in New York, back in 1809, still is in use at 142 East 18th street, not far from the northern fringe of Greenwich Village. There was a great to-do about the apartment house idea at the time, the better element contending that immorality would follow the grouping of unrelated persons under one roof.

The Statue of Liberty still is a getting along. There is no stopping progress. Once I take the word of a cynical friend, (doubtless dyspeptic) there were producers who made pictures with no idea what they were doing—from start to finish.

Lee (Lasses) White, now 52, has stored away his blackface and is trying for a character niche in the movies. Pictures, he says, did away with his specialty. Minstrelsy need intimate theatres, not picture palaces, and it lost its footing when the loudspeaker era dawned.

It has been five years since he took out a minstrel show—condensed for picture houses—and 12 years since he had a "real show" on the road, but for four years down in Nashville he had a minstrel program on the air.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds—Even Director In Dark About Film Climaxes

HOLLYWOOD — Hollywood is getting along. There is no stopping progress. Once I take the word of a cynical friend, (doubtless dyspeptic) there were producers who made pictures with no idea what they were doing—from start to finish.

been dead yet. The killing comes at the start of the film, but the producer hasn't selected the victim. In the play, on which the script is based, the audience by jury vote had to decide the guilt or innocence of the heroine, thus leaving her fate in doubt from performance to performance.

In "Sergeant York," the Gary Cooper film, audience old-timers may not recognize an old familiar blackface—now washed as white as the minstrel shows it once made happier.

Today there are a couple of pictures in progress whose producers have everything in hand except one—the finish. They have ideas on that score, too, but they haven't made up their minds. "Tom, Dick and Harry" is one. George Murphy, Burgess Meredith and Alan Marshall are the three men in Ginger Rogers' life. Ginger can't decide who to marry. You won't know until the end of the picture which she chooses—and to make the suspense genuine, Ginger isn't knowing either. Neither is anybody else as the shooting progresses. It's to be decided later.

The screen play, which has changed the plot considerably, now has half a dozen possible endings from which one will be chosen—but not before it's decided who is to be killed. So here's Ginger not knowing whom she's to marry, and Ellen not knowing whom she's killed, and the suspense is killing us all. If Robert Taylor were Tom or Dick or Harry, there'd be no doubt, but with a trio like Murphy, Meredith and Marshall, none of them fore-ordained girl-winners, Ginger has a problem. Ellen's is, on the whole, simpler. She knows, at least, that the killer is not going to be Robert Preston. He can't be erased because he's co-star. In "Sergeant York," the Gary Cooper film, audience old-timers may not recognize an old familiar blackface—now washed as white as the minstrel shows it once made happier. Lee (Lasses) White, now 52, has stored away his blackface and is trying for a character niche in the movies. Pictures, he says, did away with his specialty. ALONG CAME CINDERELLA

Chapter 25 MESSAGE FROM LOVELY "When you read this," Lovely wrote, "you'll know what happened tonight because I saw you go when they called you. You were right, I shouldn't have gone. I didn't want to really. I don't know why I did. It wasn't any fun. I was the only one not hurt. I ran away from it because I didn't want your name mixed up with it. I wanted to come home and ask forgiveness. And then when I got here I saw you and Emily together. I saw you kiss her. And you looked so right together. And I knew then that everything I've ever done has been wrong. I've brought only unhappiness. I should never have stepped between you. I haven't been the sort of wife you should have had. And so now I'm going. Roger my darling. Don't try to find me. You never will."

Nor did Mrs. Hulce apologize for her appearance. Their lives had been too familiar with extremity to apologize for trivialities. Mixed Welcome "Lovely! Oh, Lovely, dearie!" Mrs. Hulce opened her arms and took Lovely to her ample bosom. The faint odor of Lovely's expensive perfume glorified the dim, narrow hall. Joe stood just behind his mother. His eyes narrowed and hardened slightly as he looked at the girl. "What are you here for?" he asked. "You certainly know how to welcome an old friend," she said, and laughed up at him. "But Joe wasn't to be fooled. The hardness of his eyes was in his voice as he said: 'I told you not to gum it, and now you've gone and done it!'"

That was all. And there on the floor was the scuffed mate to the slipper Roger had brought back with him. She must have walked to the house in her stocking feet. Yes, there were the stockings, one was a mass of holes. Roger was stunned. He was top disturbed for sane thought. Lovely had left him, as she thought, to Emily. But that wasn't the way human lives were disposed of. He'd find her, of course, and bring her back. No matter what had happened she was Lovely and he wanted her back. He knew her waywardness was not a matter of the heart, that it was purely a surprise gesture that had nothing at all to do with her love for him.

"You get out of here," Joe said sharply. "Go back where you belong. You made your choice! Have the guts to stick by it." "Keep still, Joe," Mrs. Hulce seemed to take on height and dignity. There was authority in her voice. "No one's being put out of this house if they need to come in. Least of all Lovely."

Meanwhile Lovely forced her car over the slushy parkway to New York with the peculiar luck of the reckless. She automatically headed for the west side and found herself stopping in front of the tenement where she lived. She was shivering with something more than cold as she got out of the car and walked up the four flights of stairs. On the landing, at Gert's door, her uplifted hand halted just before it touched the bell. She remembered with clarity so painful it was like a knife cutting into her heart the last time she had stood so.

"But Mrs. I tell you she's running away from something she's done herself and—"

So she drove the few blocks to the slightly more shabby place where Joe and his mother lived. She made no apologies when the ugly old door opened to reveal Mrs. Hulce, a shawl over the shoulders of her outing flannel nightgown.

"There's nothing," she said, "like a dish of tea when your soul or your flesh is tried beyond endurance." "And your own people," Joe added, looking at Lovely. It was his apology and she understood it.

Legislative Fight Looms—Supreme Court Rule Making Questioned

By ALEX LOUIS Herald Austin Bureau AUSTIN, March 27—The legislative stage has been finally set for what is probably the most important legal fight in the history of the Texas bar. The fight revolves around the rule-making power of the Texas supreme court. The layman knows nothing of these rules and wouldn't understand the legal jargon if he read them, but to the lawyer they are of paramount importance. From 1876 to 1891 the supreme court, under the constitution, had the full power to make the rules of procedure which govern the trial of lawsuits. In 1891, by constitutional amendment, this power was placed in the hands of the legislature with the provision that if the legislature did not choose to exercise it, the court could act in the unoccupied fields.

Two years ago the legislature said to the court: "We are going to get out of this field. You make the rules from now on, and submit them to us. If we do not disapprove of them, they will become effective." The court, working with a committee of distinguished lawyers, drafted a new set of rules which are now awaiting legislative action. If the legislature does not disapprove of them by Sept. 1, 1941, they will go into effect on that date. Since the rules have been published, however, much criticism has risen from various quarters of the legal profession. In the legislature, this criticism is reflected in bills by Rep. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo and Senator John Lee Smith of Throckmorton to take away the full rule-making power from the court. The Hardeman bill received an adverse report from a house committee, but a majority of the house members voted to place it on the calendar. Smith's bill was reported out of senate committee by vote of 8 to 2. Both are ready to be debated. Senator Smith also proposed bills to disapprove specific rules promulgated by the court. In private conferences, the court has revised most of the rules complained of, and these bills have been laid aside. However, there will be a strong fight to take the rule-making power away from the court on the grounds that it is an unconstitutional delegation of legislative power. An associate justice of the Eastland Court of Civil Appeals, Judge O. C. Fundenburg, told the senate committee that the rule-making power placed in the hands of the supreme court puts the judges above the law and seeks to "substitute government of men for government of law."

It was taking her back into the fold.

They talked of everything but the things they wanted to talk of.

"I suppose I'd better go now," Lovely said, finally without too much assurance.

"And where to at this hour?" asked Mrs. Hulse. "You haven't slept. You'll stay right here. The couch makes a good bed. And maybe you don't want to believe it but I've got extra sheets and blankets—it's almost like I expected this!"

Mrs. Hulse said good-night first and went to her room. Then Joe and Lovely stood facing each other in the living room for a tense, silent moment. Every homely detail of the room was imprinted on Lovely's mind so that long years afterwards she would recall it with clarity. The vague pattern of the wall paper and carpet were faded to a monotone. There was an ugly mid-Victorian mantel that had never known the first faint curl of smoke from an honest fire. The mirror over the mantel was spotted and rippled. There was a little figure of the Virgin in blue, and on each side a china vase of faded artificial flowers. On the other wall was a colored framed print of the Lord's Supper and near it was an enlargement of a photograph of Joe's father. That's the kind of people they are, thought Lovely. Church and family. She was aware of thinking, too, that was the kind the Cogswaves were. So different. Yet so alike.

"When did you come back?" Lovely's question broke the silence. "Last night."

"Funny," Lovely said, "we're both right back where we started."

"With one difference — you aren't staying. I am."

"I'm not so sure, Joe." Lovely's voice was a trace unsteady.

"I am. My love wasn't strong enough to hold you here, Lovely, but it's going to be strong enough to send you back."

Lovely looked at him with mixed eyes. The big awkward fellow took on heroic proportions in the homely room. Even so, Lovely had no faith that he could perform miracles. She knew in her inmost heart that finally her mad pursuit of fun had taken her one step too far.

Co-op Medical Plan Studied

AUSTIN, March 27. (AP)—A bill to establish non-profit medical and surgical service plans in Texas today awaited future action in the state senate.

Creating an administrative body and subordinate branches over the state, the measure received approval of the public health committee last night by a 4 to 2 vote following a public hearing. The plan would operate on a pre-payment basis for services rendered.

Contending "the bill sets up a monopoly for the medical profession," Dr. Phil Russell of Fort Worth, osteopathic physician, declared it permitted "special privileges to one group of physicians."

"It discriminates among schools of doctors and the physicians outnumber us," he added. "We favor a plan which would truly benefit the public and give the patient a full choice of doctors."

Dr. Holman Taylor of Fort Worth, secretary of the State Medical association, declared the bill had the support of association officials.

Senator Olan R. Van Zandt of Tigo, author, said the plan "allows a voluntary contract on the part of one low wage group of people to take advantage of medical services from another voluntary group."

Salesman Observes 73rd Birthday

NEW YORK, March 27. (AP)—Luther Holmes Chamberlain, one of the nation's crack salesmen, took time out Wednesday to celebrate his 73rd birthday before starting south to catch those up-and-coming drummers who are trying to crowd his time.

"I'll be a traveling salesman until I'm 100," he said, confidently. "Then I'll go into the retail business."

For 53 years, he has been selling boys' and men's clothing on the road. By train, bus and automobile, he has traveled a million miles to sell $6,000,000 worth of business.

English Thesis Accepted On Phonograph Record

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—Typing or writing in longhand seemed slow to Leon A. Danco, a Harvard freshman, so he submitted a 2,000-word English composition on a home-made phonograph record.

Dr. Claude M. Simpson, Jr., his instructor, gave Danco a passing grade after listening to the record, but forbade any repetition of the stunt.

"For one thing," Simpson said, "how can you correct spelling and punctuation in a theme like this?"

67 Indicted In Oil, Gas Lease Fraud

SANTA FE, N. M., March 27. (AP)—A federal grand jury has indicted 67 persons on charges of using the mails to defraud in the sale of New Mexico oil and gas leases.

Names of those indicted was withheld pending service of warrants.

Today's indictments brings to 65 the total named by two conservative grand juries in investigation of oil lease frauds.

The jury today urged that "existing conditions" making possible the alleged frauds be "called to the attention of the citizens of New Mexico and to the state's executive and legislative officers."

Charges ranged from misrepresentation of lease values and claims that lands had producing oil wells when they did not, to impersonation of the land commissioner and land office employes.

Grandmother Was Already Buried

HOLLY RIDGE, N. C., March 27. (AP)—Jess Coble, building superintendent at Camp Davis, $10,000,000 anti-aircraft firing center being built here received this long distance telephone call from one of his workers:

"Very sorry, boss. I just can't make it to work today. I don't have 50 cents for bus fare."

But just before that the boss had heard the telephone operators say, "deposit 55 cents please."

BACKACHE, LEG PAINS MAY BE DANGER SIGN Of Tired Kidneys

If backache and leg pains are making you miserable, don't just complain and do nothing about them. Nature may be warning you that your kidneys need attention.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start such things as backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting, burning or stinging shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from the blood. Get Doan's Pills.
