New Airline Serving City Asked

OKLAHOMA CITY FIRM TO FILE APPLICATION SOON

Big Spring will gain another air mail and passenger line if the Civil Aeronautics board approves an application by Southwest Feeder Airlines, Inc., of Oklahoma City.

That firm today filed notice of intention for application for 19 feeder airmail, passenger and express routes serving parts of Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas, Louisiana, Kansas, Missouri, Illinois and Iowa, according to Thomas O. Hardin, president and general manager.

Refrigerator Show Includes All Dealers

Every dealer in the city—plus the service companies which have a direct interest—will participate in the refrigerator show to be staged at the high school gymnasium Monday night.

Some 30 to 40 models will be attractively arranged on the floor. Hours of the show are from 7:30 to 10:30, and a large crowd is expected to visit the gym.

Fair, Warmer Is Forecast

A cessation of the rain which has been general over East, Central and North Texas was indicated in today's weather forecast.

The forecast for East Texas was colder with freezing weather and frost in the north portion tonight, with slightly higher temperatures tomorrow.

The West Texas forecast called for slight cloudiness in the north portion tonight, with fair and slightly warmer weather in the north tomorrow.

Edgar Bryan Dies In New Mexico

CARLEBAD, N. M., March 7 (AP)—Edgar D. Bryan, rancher and business man in West Texas and New Mexico for half a century, died of a heart attack last night. He was 67.

Bryan had made his home here for 10 years. He was interested in business here, in Hobbs, Clovis and Lovington in New Mexico, and in Odessa, Pecos and other parts of West Texas.

Funeral services were set for Sunday. Survivors include his widow, five sons and two daughters in Carlsbad, a sister, Mrs. J. M. Walker, Luling, Tex., and a half-brother, Jack Marley of Dallas.

Madisonville Folks Get Tough On Boot Wearing

MADISONVILLE, Texas, March 7 (AP)—Drugstore cowboys from the city would have a hard time getting by in Madisonville.

Viewing with alarm the fact that practically everybody around here was coming out in a pair of high-heeled cowboy boots, the Madisonville Sidewalk Cattlemen's association drew up the following regulations governing the wearing of them in Madisonville:

- (1) A man must own at least two head of cattle before he is entitled to wear boots.
(2) Owner of three head—can stuff the right pants leg in.
(3) Owner of four head—can stuff both pants legs in.
(4) Owner of six head—can wear spurs.

Local Women Hurt In Midland Wreck

Byron J. Voliva of Midland was fatally injured and four others injured, apparently not critically, in an automobile collision four miles east of Midland last night.

The injured included two Big Spring women, Mrs. Obie Bristow and Mrs. A. Swartz; and O. S. and A. L. Ware of near Midland.

Mrs. Bristow received treatment at a Midland hospital last night and was removed to a Big Spring hospital about noon today. She suffered facial cuts and bruises and shock.

Mrs. Swartz remained in the Midland hospital overnight, but went to her home in Big Spring today. She suffered facial cuts and bruises.

Officers said both cars were going eastward and that the Big Spring women's car crashed into the rear of that occupied by the Wares and Voliva. They reported Mrs. Bristow was driving. The women were returning from playing golf at Odessa. The accident occurred at 8:30 p. m.

Funeral for Voliva, who died 45 minutes after the wreck, has not been arranged. He was born in Big Spring but moved to Midland while an infant. Forty-nine years old, he had been agent for Railway Express Agency for 23 years. He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Joe Roberts, and a brother, E. J. Voliva, both of Midland.

O. S. Ware and his father, A. L. Ware, were in a Midland hospital with cuts and bruises.

Steve C. Clark and Earl Baxter of near Midland were uninjured.

Car License Buying Lags

Big Spring and Howard county motorists were building up to a bang-up last minute rush on motor car registrations, a check of the tax collector's records showed here Friday.

Only 215 passenger cars had been registered for 1941 with only 21 business days left in which to register motor vehicles. The commercial registration stood at 15 and farm trucks at six.

During March tags may be purchased and placed on automobiles and in no event may a car be operated after April 1 without the new plates.

On fairly recent models, Tax Collector J. F. Wolcott's staff estimated the spread for various cars would range something like this: Chevrolet $10.44 to $11.68; Ford $10.08 to $11.52; Buick and Chrysler, $12.60 to $17.28 and $20.18; Oldsmobile and Pontiac, $12.60 to $20.18. All prices are based on weight, and commercial schedules controlled on a weight basis.

To facilitate registration, car owners should bring 1940 registration papers with them.

Pastors Plan Easter Services

Down town noon-day services for the week preceding Easter have been planned by the Pastors' association here.

Tentative developments call for special pre-Easter services to be scheduled in the Ritz theatre from 12:45 p. m. to 1 p. m. on April 7 through April 12 at the Ritz theatre. Efforts will be made by pastors to get service clubs to sponsor the services.

Greeks Rush New Troops To Frontier

Greece Believes Turkey Will Send Army To Her Aid

SOFIA, Bulgaria, March 7 (AP)—Greece bolstered fortifications in the Struma river valley in Macedonia today as a German expeditionary force in Bulgaria commanded every available means of transport to rush troops toward her northern frontier.

It appeared to observers that General Alexander Papagos, commander-in-chief of the Greek army, intended to abandon Thrace as indefensible and attempt to make a stand against the threatened German invasion along the natural bastion of the Struma.

There were reports that the Greeks already were clearing civilians out of Thrace—the northeastern province along the Turkish border which Bulgaria long has coveted as an outlet to the Aegean sea.

Greek diplomatic quarters here said the Greek army "absolutely will fight any German invasion" and expressed a belief that Turkey would dispatch troops into the Rhodope mountains in Thrace to help stem any Nazi attack.

The Struma river runs in a generally north and south direction from the Bulgarian border to the Aegean, a distance of some 60 miles, entering the sea at the Gulf of Orfani (Rendina) east of Salonika. The stream passes through Lake Takinos before entering the Aegean about 70 miles west of the Turkish border.

Should the Greeks elect to make a stand along this line, abandoning Thrace, they would have a sector little more than 25 miles wide to defend along the Bulgarian frontier.

Reports reaching here said the Greeks were rushing artillery into the Struma valley.

Meanwhile it was believed the Greeks planned an intensive effort to capture the Albanian port of Valona from the Italians to anchor the western end of their battle line before the Nazis could launch an attack.

German preparations were evident on all sides as Nazi troops rolled toward the Greek frontier in trains, trucks, buses and even private cars.

Since the end of October, the Germans have been concentrating stocks of oil and food in Bulgaria.

Further evidence of the expected German drive was seen in the arrival in Sofia of throngs of uniformed Nazi war correspondents as well as an increased number of army officers.

The British, apparently making every effort to strengthen their Balkan allies, were said to be sending all the equipment they could spare to the Turks, who are in a position to harass a German army attempting to march into Greece—if they wish to do so.

George Mason To Speak To Baptists

George Mason, Dallas, executive secretary of the Baptist Foundation, will be the principal speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the First Baptist Brotherhood here Monday at 7:30 p. m., George Melear, president, announced Friday.

For years Mason was treasurer of the Baptist general convention of Texas before heading the foundation which invests $2,000,000 in endowments for Baptist institutions which pool their endowments for group investment.

Mason is recognized as one of the outstanding Baptist laymen in the state.

Convicts On Gallows Say—'There Is No Way To Win In Crime'

COLUMBIA, La., March 7 (AP)—Four condemned killers, due to die on the gallows today, declared in statements prepared for broadcast from their death cells that there was no way to win in crime. The quadruple executions are scheduled to begin at noon.

The men, William Meharg, 35, William Heard, 43, Floyd Boyce, 29, and William Landers, 29, were convicted of slaying Frank Gartner, Columbia postman, during their flight from an Arkansas prison farm from which they escaped last September 2.

The statements, ranging from 50 to 500 words, were to be broadcast over station KMLB of Monroe, La. "I feel hard toward nobody," Boyce said in his statement.

"But sometimes it is hard to forgive when you know a lot of misery and suffering could be avoided if those in charge tried a little more to live by the Golden Rule. May this be a lesson to all the boys who are doing wrong, and now goodbye, and I hope to meet you all in Heaven."

Heard, in his statement, asserted: "I would like to tell all of the youngsters and old timers, too, that crime does not pay. There is no such thing as 'easy money.' A very small percentage end up as I am, but they pay just the same."

Meharg devoted most of his statement in tribute to his mother, whom he called "the sweetest mother in the world."

He said that she had "slaved over a wash tub doing other people's laundry that she might give me and other members of the family the necessities of life."

He requested that the song "If I Could Hear My Mother Pray Again" be played on a harmonica and dedicated to her.

"During the time I was wasting my life in crime and sin," he continued, "my dear mother was praying that I would not be taken from this life in that sinful condition, and I am happy and thankful that her prayers have at last been answered."

Nazis Promised Thorough Licking

ISTANBUL, Turkey, March 7 (AP)—Inspired Turkish newspapers warned the nation strongly today against accepting German assurances and declared the spread of the war to the Balkans seemed inevitable.

These statements were made as it was announced that Turkish foreign policy would be outlined by Foreign Minister Saracoglu next Monday morning at a closed session of the People's Party—Turkey's only political party—in Ankara.

That afternoon the national assembly will open its session to be devoted to both external and internal affairs. Premier Refik Saydam will address parliament Wednesday and is expected to disclose then Turkey's reply to a message received from Adolf Hitler last Tuesday.

"Against a handful of birdshot reassurances that the axis has flung at us stands two million Turkish bayonets," the newspaper Demokrat Politika said today.

"If Germany comes this way she will get such an answer to these reassurances as she never got before."

The newspaper Vatan said: "If Germany attacks the Balkans she will see the end to her terrorism and the new order will indeed be installed in the world, but it will be a new order depending on respect of liberty for all."

For the first time a Turkish newspaper criticized Russia's Balkan policy, and that came when Tasviri Efkar declared: "The whole Balkan situation can be laid at Russia's door. If Russia had not taken Bessarabia, Rumania would not have been frightened and would not have allowed Germany to enter. Then we might have preserved the Balkan entente and the Balkans might have been defended."

The newspaper Ikdam commented: "Assurances rain on us from all sides since the German invasion of Bulgaria. These are like lullabies which put babies to sleep, but fortunately Turkey is no baby. We know that it is countries to which assurances are given that are in danger."

FDR May Form New Labor Body

By The Associated Press. President Roosevelt said today he was considering the formation of a labor agency which would deal with problems behind labor disputes and act also as a mediator.

He made the disclosure at a press conference where he also endorsed absolutely the thought expressed by a question that it was desirable to do away with strikes called because of disputes between unions as to which had jurisdiction over a job.

Meanwhile some accomplishments were reported by already-established mediation processes.

The threat of imminent walkouts was lifted from the Consumers Power company which serves 2,000,000 customers in southern Michigan; from the Rutland Railroad in Vermont, and from the Ingalls Iron Works whose Birmingham, Ala., plants hold $100,000,000 in defense orders.

Governor Murray D. Van Wagener of Michigan yesterday took a hand in the dispute which menaced the electrical service of 900 communities in his state, and AFL Electrical Workers and the Consumers Power company agreed to arbitrate their differences. The union seeks wage increases and a preferential shop.

Conciliation of the Rutland railroad dispute was effected by a special mediation board named by President Roosevelt. The railroad workers had been disturbed by scheduled pay cuts.

Settlement of a steel strike at Orange, Texas, which had delayed work on naval destroyers was announced last night, although terms of the agreement between the Consolidated Steel corporation and its employees were withheld.

Meanwhile CIO employees at the Edgewater, N. J., plant of the Aluminum Company of America, balloted on whether to authorize union officials to call a strike for wage adjustments.

Four plants of Thomas A. Edison, Inc. in New Jersey and Pennsylvania were threatened with a one-day "work stoppage" Monday if the firm makes no concessions to CIO union members for a closed shop and general wage increases.

The Federal Motor Truck Co. plant in Detroit closed today after CIO unionists employed on the day shift walked out at 8:30 a. m. The plant employs about 60 persons.

LANDERS, IN A BRIEF STATEMENT, SAID THERE WAS NOT MUCH A FELLOW CAN SAY AT A TIME LIKE THIS. X X X MAY GOD BLESS MY DEAR WIFE AND LITTLE SON. X X X GOODBYE TO YOU ALL.

The four were among 36 convicts who escaped the Arkansas prison. They were surrounded in a swamp near here after a series of motor thefts, abductions, wrecks and gun fights with officers.

Gartner, member of a posse attempting to catch the men, was killed by a shotgun charge. The posse was seeking to release two girls and a youth, held as hostages by the convicts. The youths escaped unharmed.

Nazi Attack Expected In Next 48 Hours

150,000 Germans Take Position For Quick Assault

SOFIA, March 7 (AP)—Neutral military observers heard tonight that German troops massed on the Greek and Turkish frontiers may launch an attack from Bulgaria on eastern Macedonia and Thrace "within 48 hours."

More than 150,000 Nazi troops, hundreds of tanks and armored cars already are in position for a quick attack.

With the axis push expected at any moment, diplomatic observers watched Yugoslavia and Turkey for indications of how those two Balkan entente allies of Greece would behave when Adolf Hitler's blitzkrieg army starts rolling.

From the heights south of Zlatograd, the Germans massed on the frontier could see the blue waters of the Aegean sea across the Greek border.

The Aegean port of Salonika, backdoor to the Balkans, would be the first immediate objective of any German thrust across Greece.

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, March 7 (AP)—With a Yugoslav statement reiterating the country's neutrality expected within a few hours, it was learned authoritatively today that Regent Prince Paul was received last Monday by Adolf Hitler at the fuhrer's Berchtesgaden retreat.

The regent's trip to Berchtesgaden, where the fate of so many European countries has been decided, followed a trip there by Premier Dragisha Cvetkovic and Foreign Minister Aleksander Cincarmarkovic. They were received by Hitler Feb. 14.

The two discussed with Hitler Yugoslavia's possible adherence to the Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis. As a result of their visit and Prince Paul's, it was believed, the anticipated Yugoslav statement would proclaim a deepening of this country's friendship with the axis.

Diplomatic quarters expressed belief, however, that Yugoslavia—under intense pressure to choose between the axis and Britain—also would restate her strict neutrality and refrain from joining up with the axis for the time being at least.

Committee Okays Third Tax Bill

AUSTIN, March 7 (AP)—Headed today for eventual house of representatives floor consideration was the third tax bill to come out of the powerful revenue and taxation committee—a minor proposal estimated to boost state income $1,000,000 a year.

The bill, authored by Rep. M. A. (Bill) Bundy of Wichita Falls and primarily intended to plug asserted loopholes in the current excise tax law on motor fuel, was recommended for passage last night.

Amending the statutes on the four-cent a gallon tax which brought in approximately $55,000,000 last year, the proposal included liquified gases and other liquid fuels used to operate vehicles on.

Texas Cops Second In SW Cage Race

Arkansas Is 100 Percent Champion—TCU Was In The Conference

AUSTIN, March 7 (AP)—The Southwest Conference basketball race was at an end today with the championship in possession of Arkansas and with Rice and Texas finishing in second and third places respectively.

The final game was played here last night when Texas defeated Texas A. and M. 53-36 to clinch the final spot.

The final standings:

Team	W	L	Pct.
Arkansas	12	0	1.000
Rice	8	4	.667
Texas	7	5	.583

Favorites In Fem Cage Meet To Duel

WACO, March 7 (AP)—Mesquite and Gatesville, two of the favorites in the state high school girls basketball tournament, clash in the feature of the quarter-finals tonight.

Gatesville was impressive with a 34-9 victory over Dodd City and Mesquite loomed strong with a 46-17 decision over Sidney in the opening round.

Another powerful entry, Mobeetie, rolled over Lott 27-14. Mobeetie meets Lopynor in the quarter-finals. Lopynor defeated Silbee 23-7 yesterday.

Friera, who drew a bye in the opening round, clashes with Anton, 27-19 victor over Ruak, and Trent, which downed Blanco 36-11, meets Ennis, which advanced by a forfeit over Van Horn.

ET Baseball Loop To Be Disbanded

DALLAS, March 7 (AP)—There will be no East Texas league race this year.

J. Walter Morris, president of the league, said last night the circuit would disband officially at a meeting in Longview Sunday.

Failure of Palestine to obtain a working agreement with a club of higher classification caused collapse of the loop. That left only five teams.

Texasarkana will enter the Cotton States league.

Boston Bees' Airtight Infield Is Bursting With Youth, Speed, Hustle Says Manager Stengel

SAN ANTONIO, March 7 (AP)—Old Casey Stengel's weather-beaten face wrinkled into a smile for the first time since the rains came.

"None, they won't be knocking anything through our infield this season—not through those kids."

Old Casey, the keeper of the Boston Bees, was speaking of what most baseball wise men insist will be the greatest defensive infield in the major leagues, come the summer.

"Youth, speed, great arms and hustle—that's my infield," quoth

Holdout Mist Raising Off Major Baseball

NEW YORK, March 7 (AP)—The holdout mist that shrouded the start of baseball's spring training has lifted like a fog melting under a bright sun.

The evaporation that has been going on quietly but steadily for several days swooped up Joe DiMaggio of the New York Yankees, Ernie Lombardi of the Cincinnati Reds, Don Padgett of the St. Louis Cardinals and Burgess Whitehead of the New York Giants yesterday.

That's a lot of high priced talent to bring to terms in one day and virtually denuded the ranks of the holdouts.

DiMaggio, especially, had been expected to make a determined stand for a big boost in salary but was believed to have compromised at $36,000, a raise of $2,500 and half of the increase he had sought.

Hank Greenberg of the Detroit Tigers, reputed the top salaried star of the major leagues, is one of the half dozen important players who hasn't yet signed. However, he is not considered a holdout.

Of the grade-A holdouts left, Johnny Mize of the St. Louis Cardinals is the kingpin. The slugger first baseman is understood to be asking $17,500, which would put him up in the salary bracket left vacant when the club traded Joe Medwick to Brooklyn last year.

The Chicago Cubs are carrying on a bitter battle with outfielder Hank Leiber, a chronic late signer, and with pitcher Bill Lee, who was paid $21,000 in 1939 and $18,000 last year, but was reported out to $10,000 this spring.

Lombardi settled for about $18,000 in a telephone talk last night with Warren Giles, general manager of the world champions.

Billy Conn Kayos Philly's Hassett

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Billy Conn, the Pittsburgh adonis, toyed with Danny Hassett for four rounds last night, then knocked out his heavier opponent with a left to the jaw 25 seconds after the start of the fifth.

Conn, pointing for a whirl at Joe Louis in June, weighed 181, while the over-stuffed Philadelphia, displaced 204 1-4.

R & R Keglers Take Lead In Classic Loop

A reborn Big Spring Classic bowling league hit its stride Thursday night at the local lanes with R. & R. Theaters, Lester's Auto, Hanson's, Big Spring Motor, Coaden and Douglass Hotel squaring off for the top position on the ratings.

First Game
R. & R. Showmen, titlists in the circuit recently finished, took the lead from the opening gun by defeating Lester's Keglers, 2535 to 2328.

Individual scores were as follows: R. & R.—Davis 513, Wiley, 495, Robb 511, Gillman 487, Lacey 529; Lester's—Wheeler 555, Lester 436, Pierson 417, Compton 453, Richards 465.

Second Game
Hanson's triumphed over Big Spring Motor with a 2533 to 2316 count. Hanson's—Looper 575, Stenger 503, Tidwell 480, Zack 482, Ramsey 543 Big Spring Motor—Howe 466, Vineyard 448, Beale 461, Brimberry 579, Hepner 582.

Third Game
Coaden's Refiners were victors over the Douglass Hotelmen with 2529 pins to the losers' 2596. Coaden—LeBlou 545, Hall 562, Ogden 497, Ward 462, Smith 563; Douglass—Douglas 544, Howe 480, Moore 497, Steele 568, Eason 519.

Middles To Bid For Title Shot

NEW YORK, March 6 (AP)—The always muddled middleweight mix-up is going to get another airing in Madison Square Garden tonight with Billy Soose and Ernie Vigh again vying for a chance at the championship.

The outcome—regarded as an 8 to 5 chance of again being in Soose's favor—may determine an opponent for Ken Overlin, whom the New York commission recognizes as world champion, although there is some question as to how far this bout in itself would go toward unraveling the mix-up of the 160-pounders.

Last month, Soose came out with a ten round decision after Vigh had put the former Penn State star on the canvas in the eighth and the verdict of the judges was unpopular with a considerable percentage of the onlookers.

In a final on tonight's program will be a lad named George Abrams who has beaten both Soose and Vigh. One reason that he is in the buildup and not the main-gate may be that he is a staminate of Overlin's and there might be a certain lack of lustre in easing him into a title test with the Richmond sailor boy.

Sterling City Host To Fives

Phillips 66 STARTS cold motors faster

You Don't Have To Be a College Graduate to understand why Phillips 66 Poly Gas starts cold motors faster. It's as simple as ABC.

A. It is a scientific fact that quick starting in cold weather depends directly on the high test (volatility) of the gasoline.

B. It is a scientific fact (revealed by our latest available full-year study of gasolines; June 1, 1939 to May 31, 1940) that:

The HIGH TEST rating (Volatility Number) of Phillips 66 Poly Gas is nearly 50% higher than the average high test rating of 19 premium price motor fuels.

C. See for yourself, if Phillips 66 isn't the greatest self-demonstrating cold-weather gasoline you have ever used. You ought to get at least one trial tankful at regular-price because you simply cannot get such high test in any other gasoline at any price.

This extra high test costs you not a single penny extra, since Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline.

Schoolboy Fives Line Up For State Finals

AUSTIN, March 7 (AP)—Schoolboy basketball adds today focused their attention on Austin where the state's eight regional championship teams awaited the whistle for the homestretch of the Texas Interscholastic League race.

Tight matches were forecast for the tourney in which El Paso was rated high with Waco and San Marcos, the latter 1940 titlist, dangerous threats.

Jeff Davis of Houston and Pampa were scheduled to open festivities in the initial clash of the first round at 3 p. m. Under-featured Mount Vernon, making its first appearance in the state finals, was matched with El Paso, out to avenge a one-point defeat by San Marcos in the championship game last year, in the second tilt at 5:15 p. m.

Tonight Coach R. B. Keithley sends his Waco Tigers into battle with a quint from Bloomington, the game starting at 7:15 p. m. Regional titlist the second straight year, the Tigers were figured for the semi-finals Saturday morning.

The able San Marcos club drew Abilene as their first opponents in the last game of the initial round at 8:30 p. m. The 1940 champs boasted 185 victories to 13 losses the past five years.

Consolation and championship games are slated for tomorrow night.

SMU Clashes With E-Texas Tonight

DALLAS, March 7 (AP)—Southern Methodist university and East Texas State college clash tonight in the finals of the Southwestern AA basketball tournament.

S. M. U., playing under the colors of James K. Wilson, and East Texas, playing as E. M. Kahn Clothiers, defeated Majors and Majors (North Texas State Teachers) and Denison Frozen Foods (Sam Houston State), by 53-43 and 56-47 scores respectively in last night's semi-finals.

Sam Houston's loss was something of an upset. The Bearcats had eliminated Texas Wesleyan college of Fort Worth in the quarter-finals. Wesleyan was undefeated for the season until meeting Sam Houston here.

Parade Opens Fat Stock Show

FORT WORTH, March 7 (AP)—A downtown parade will open the forty-fifth annual Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show today.

Sixteen bands will be in the parade which marks the start of the ten-day exposition. First performance of the rodeo and horse show will be tonight.

More than 5,000 head of livestock are entered in the show.

General Miguel Henriquez Guzman, special envoy of President Avila Camacho of Mexico; and Edward J. Flynn, chairman of the democratic national committee, will be special guests tonight.

Hogan's A Steady Golfer-Smith

CORAL GABLES, Fla., March 7 (AP)—Horlon Smith believes Ben Hogan's golfing performance for the last two years has been as phenomenal in a different way as Bobby Jones' record when the Atlantan was monopolizing championships.

"That isn't taking anything away from Jones," smiled the handsome Smith as he relaxed after the rigorous international four-ball tournament.

"I don't believe Jones' achievements will be equalled, in our lifetime, but you must analyze him and Hogan in an entirely different light."

Jones concentrated on major tournaments—and won them. Hogan and many of the other professionals, however, are striving for consistent low scores week by week the year around.

"It has almost reached the point where victories are incidental. Naturally, Hogan and every other golfer want to win, but he would prefer to finish near the top in tournament after tournament than to win the national open and make a poor showing the rest of the year."

"At the moment Ben is recognized as golf's top player. Until he and Gene Sarazen won the four-ball, Hogan hadn't finished first in a 1941 tournament. Yet he was the top money winner and had the best average score during 1940 and is leading in both departments again this year."

Three Texans Reach Golden Gloves Finals

CHICAGO, March 7 (AP)—Thirty-two young fighters will do a lot of swinging in the stadium tonight, hoping to connect with a 1941 Golden Gloves title.

The group, survivors of a field of more than 20,000 who started elimination rounds two months ago, will engage in 24 bouts, 16 of them semi-final matches, before the eight champions are crowned.

Two of the battlers—Harold Dade of Chicago and Richard Menchaca of Fort Arthur, Texas—will defend their titles won last year. Dade in the 113 pound class and Menchaca in the 118.

Chicago's squad returns to the scene of last week's preliminaries with six representatives. Cleveland will have four, Kansas City and Texas three apiece, Des Moines, Detroit, Molina, Ill., and Oklahoma City, two, and Peoria, Ill., Kenosha, Wis., and South Bend and Fort Wayne, Ind., one each.

Border Olympic Get Underway At Laredo Tonight

LAREDO, March 7 (AP)—The University of Texas, Texas A. and M., North Texas State and East Texas State are expected to fight it out tonight for the championship of the ninth annual Border Olympics.

Fourteen Texas colleges and 35 high schools all had their teams on hand for preliminaries scheduled this afternoon.

North Texas nosed out Texas last year and both are back with strong teams, although the former has lost some of the brightest stars in the history of track and field at the Denton school. The Rideout twins, stars of the distance races, will not be here this season.

Probably the outstanding record-holder in Don Boydston, Oklahoma A. and M., high jumper who barely missed a world record at the Pat Stock Show meet in Fort Worth last spring.

Coach Ralph Higgins said Boydston also would try for a broad jump mark.

Coach Choc Sportman of North Texas State had 17 men here to compete. East Texas had 15.

NM Aggies Win S'West Tournament

EL PASO, March 7 (AP)—The New Mexico College Aggies held the championship of the fourth annual Southwestern intercollegiate basketball tournament today.

The Aggies defeated Texas College of Mines 37-31 in the finals last night.

Chihuahua Teachers of Mexico won the consolation title by downing New Mexico Teachers of Silver City 51-42.

IT'S EASY TO SEE WHY

Phillips 66 STARTS cold motors faster

You Don't Have To Be a College Graduate to understand why Phillips 66 Poly Gas starts cold motors faster. It's as simple as ABC.

A. It is a scientific fact that quick starting in cold weather depends directly on the high test (volatility) of the gasoline.

B. It is a scientific fact (revealed by our latest available full-year study of gasolines; June 1, 1939 to May 31, 1940) that:

The HIGH TEST rating (Volatility Number) of Phillips 66 Poly Gas is nearly 50% higher than the average high test rating of 19 premium price motor fuels.

C. See for yourself, if Phillips 66 isn't the greatest self-demonstrating cold-weather gasoline you have ever used. You ought to get at least one trial tankful at regular-price because you simply cannot get such high test in any other gasoline at any price.

This extra high test costs you not a single penny extra, since Phillips is the WORLD'S LARGEST PRODUCER of natural high test gasoline.

Drive in and get that trial tankful at the first Orange and Black 66 Shield.

Miss 'Laneous' Notes

By MARY WHALEY

Habit is the strongest thing in the world. It can make you defy other people's conventions, fear and ridicule. If you have been eating peas with your knife for forty years, the fact that you are having dinner with your wife's relatives won't jar you out of the habit.

If you have been saucing and blowing coffee all your adolescent years, the fact that you suddenly got elected president, probably won't be enough to make you change your gesture.

Or if you are used to wearing long-handles in the winter, the fact that fashion decrees outlaw them in moderate climates, probably won't make you shuck them for the more modern sort.

And the fact that you've been parting your hair on one side since a child would make your headache to change.

The way you sleep, the way you eat and whether you wash your right arm or left arm first is all governed by that thing called habit.

We have ours, good and bad, but the one that's irking the most right now is that from the way things look it is going to take us from now until the middle of the month to stop writing February and start writing March.

"It's Worth Going Miles To Get"

Editorial—

Water Alone Can't Make Yard Pretty Prepare Soil To Bring Out Best Results

In all probability, come the middle of spring, you will hear that the city is about ready to act on a lower rate scale for extra water consumption.

Off hand, that would seem to be a big boon for beautification. High water rates have been the chief excuse around here as long as we can remember for not having grass, flowers, shrubs and trees around the place.

It's true that water cost is a pretty important item in growing things to improve the looks of a place; but water is not everything. We have pointed that out before.

Now, we want to warn amateur gardenists that more water for the same money won't begin to solve their problems. Out in this country it is possible to have a yard that is as good as still have it parch before your eyes.

It is not an infrequent occurrence to pour countless gallons of water on lovely flowers only to see them droop in a mid-day sun.

The secret of getting around that is getting ready to have a beautiful yard now. In the first place, you must have passably good soil. Caliche abounds on the surface and shallow sub-surface in most regions of town, and caliche won't grow lawns and flowers.

Farmers know that you must have the soil in good condition if you would keep dry weather from whipping vegetation into a wilt. It works the same way in town. Farmers know, too, that you can't eternally take from soil without putting back that which you have taken out.

Farmers can't grow crops by putting in a load of fresh dirt or fertilizer on top of their fields and letting it go at that. It works the same way for lawns and flower beds. In most cases it's a waste of money and water to smear a thin layer of new soil on top of a hard, matted lawn.

Check your yard now. See what kind of soil you have, and what kind of condition it is in, what you have for sub-soil. Then get ready for this summer. You'll be a lot more satisfied with your water bill and your yard.

Manhattan— Wife Of Charles Laughton Plays Unusual Role

NEW YORK — In private life Miss Lanchester is the wife of the actor Charles Laughton. A couple of years ago she wrote a book called "Charles Laughton and I" which, informally and in a series of sketches, rather sketchy episodes, set forth the principal chapters of Laughton's career as an actor.

I did not think so much of the book. After meeting Miss Lanchester at various parties and seeing her a couple of times on the screen, I remembered her as a slim, pleasant young woman who talked engagingly of life in the English countryside and of "being by" a dozen or so quarts of sleep-in for use on sultry summer nights when guests were at hand. But I was not too much impressed with her talents as an actress.

It may be that this judgment will have to be revised. She has come east to play the leading role in a melodrama called "They Walk Alone," and, after sitting through a rehearsal at the Maxine Elliott theater, I am quite willing to cast aside earlier impressions and go on from here.

This play is a curious half-comedy, half-thriller, with an underlying somberness that leaves you wondering what mood precisely was Max Catto, the author, in when he thought it up.

It is the story of an English family near London. A series of murders is committed. All the victims are handsome young men with well set-up physiques and other similar attributes. Miss Lanchester plays the part of a not-so-simple Cornish servant girl with an eye for men. Her mistress half-fears her and suspects her of conduct not in keeping with the moral standards of young girls, servants or otherwise. The girl is patently a psychopathic case and subject to sudden and violent fits of selfishness and anger. There is an unmistakable quality of menace to this characterization. It is a part that requires real understanding and ability, and it seems to me that Miss Lanchester is a find for this important role. She certainly left this impression, not only with me, but with Berthold Viertel, her director, by her performance in this rehearsal.

Viertel tells me she will "play this role as if she owns it" and since he directed the English version of this play, which was a hit of seven months' duration, he should know.

Viertel is a striking character out of life himself. He is silver-haired and high foreheaded and wears a blue double-breasted coat which always swings open. He is from Vienna, and from London and Hollywood and New York and is probably more truly an international than any of our Broadway directors. He has three sons and one, just 19, has already written a book. "We are all Americans now," he says proudly. "This is our home and here we will live and work and die." Viertel, besides his motion pictures, has directed more than 120 plays. His technique differs from most directors. Instead of bawling instructions from a podium, he goes to each player and whispers his instructions, then emphasizes his meaning by acting out the scene. It is a method that obtains results.

Hollywood— Jack Carson, The Girl Loser, Likes His Role

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD—Jack Carson is a high, wide, and somewhat handsome young fellow who gets a sweet salary for not marrying certain pretty young women.

Carson almost made a career out of not marrying Ginger Rogers. The job lasted through six movies and several years, and now he has a raise in pay and a long-term contract, and will not marry Bette Davis. The new contract (at Warner's) practically guarantees that he will not marry any of the girls that James Cagney wants to marry.

In other words, he'll be stopping into shoes vacated by Pat O'Brien, who is no longer on Warner call to love and lose.

He is happy about it. The girl-loser usually lasts longer on the screen than the handsome lads who scoop the luscious heroine into their arms while audiences reach for their hats. And some of the losers, like Gable, Tracy, O'Brien, Cagney and Bill Powell, stop looking better screen money and become leading men with star-billing.

Either way it's sweet to Jack, who not long ago was introducing torch singers, acrobats and trained seals in mid-western variety houses.

His last Ginger Rogers picture was "Lucky Partners," in which he almost got her—and would have, too, if Ronald Colman hadn't been in the film. After an interlude in "Mr. and Mrs. Smith" in which he played the loud boisterous good-time Charley trying to cheer up Bob Montgomery with a couple of blondes, Jack moved over to the new home lot and almost ruined his losing streak. He took Rita Hayworth from Cagney. But, as he says, he really lost out in the end—and Cagney got Olivia de Havilland—the new Olivia, the one who winks at boys.

You don't have to waste sympathy on Jack, though, no matter how many girls he doesn't get. In real life he got a very pretty one, Mrs. Carson is Kay St. Germain, the radio singer.

Tyrone Powers' new hobby is collecting prints of his films. Reduced to 16 mm. projection, they store easily. Aside from their value as mementos (one he has is "Suez," in which he worked with Annabella), he likes to have copies for exchange with other print-collecting stars.

Frank Capra may be the director of "For Whom the Bell Tolls"—which is set (if Paramount has its way) for a pre-production ballyhoo to rival "Gone With the Wind."

Top price pair for a stage play until recently was RKO's $25,000 for "Room Service." Paramount's $275,000-plus for Gertrude Lawrence's "Lady in the Dark" is the new record. Somebody there likes Lawrence vehicles, for her "Sky Lark" is already in production.

John Payne and Betty Grable are set for another prize fight yarn, "Straight Left." Payne has been ring-battled in several films, including "Kid Nightingale" and "Tin Pan Alley," and does his own battling.

Texas Deer Learn To Dodge Traffic

AUSTIN, March 7 (AP)—Texas deer are becoming traffic wise or car drivers are more careful in game country.

The Gillespie county warden reported to the state game commission that 57 deer and four wild turkeys were killed on the highways in 1940, compared with 76 and nine in 1939.

Wiertel tells me she will "play this role as if she owns it" and since he directed the English version of this play, which was a hit of seven months' duration, he should know.

Viertel is a striking character out of life himself. He is silver-haired and high foreheaded and wears a blue double-breasted coat which always swings open. He is from Vienna, and from London and Hollywood and New York and is probably more truly an international than any of our Broadway directors. He has three sons and one, just 19, has already written a book. "We are all Americans now," he says proudly. "This is our home and here we will live and work and die." Viertel, besides his motion pictures, has directed more than 120 plays. His technique differs from most directors. Instead of bawling instructions from a podium, he goes to each player and whispers his instructions, then emphasizes his meaning by acting out the scene. It is a method that obtains results.

Aloof And Kintner— Reorganized Defense Setup May Make Too Many Cooks

By ALSOP AND KINTNER WASHINGTON, March 7—While the reorganized defense set-up is an obvious improvement, most people familiar with the practical aspects of the problems are far from satisfied. If it does its job, the new so-called war cabinet will fill a serious want, for a body definitely empowered to consider long-term policy, judge short-term disputes, and infuse the needed energy into the entire defense effort.

But the dispersion of authority and responsibility, which has afflicted the defense effort from the start, still persists under the new dispensation.

Indeed, the authority and responsibility now seem to have been dispersed more widely than ever. In the old defense commission, price, transportation, consumers and farm divisions were all gathered under the same roof with the divisions of production and raw materials. Only production and raw materials were included when the Office of Production Management was established, leaving the others out in the cold. And now, while the transportation division is expected to be moved into the OPM, the president's plan calls for transformation of the price, consumers and farm divisions into a separate agency.

The character of the new agency is easy to foresee. Its chairman will probably be the present chief of the defense commission price division, Leon Henderson, who started by getting on well with the businessmen in OPM, but ended by bouncing off to Florida after a dispute in the priorities committee. Unless the story of the world in Washington changes overnight, few businessmen will be found on the new agency's staff, while it will employ a good many of the ardent New Dealers who are constitutionally unable to resist the temptation to economic experimentation during the defense emergency. Again, unless there is a sudden change in the way of the world, sharp and fundamental disagreements are bound to arise between the new agency and the OPM.

Divided Authority If the president had not repeatedly shown the strongest disinclination to rigid price control, the formation of such a new agency might be really alarming. As things are, it is certainly not encouraging. The experience of the last war proved, all too clearly, that efficient price controls are an essential part of efficient defense preparation. And with price controls in the hands of an agency both separate from the production agency, and altogether different in character, crippling divergences of policy are almost certain to occur.

Meanwhile, the old division of authority and responsibility between the OPM and the Army and Navy procurement branches also continues almost as before. After a long period of such shadowiness that it was quite incomprehensible, the OPM-procurement relationship has now been defined in the president's executive order on purchasing. Under this order, the Army and Navy procurement officers determine what is needed, how much of it, and when.

The OPM plans the production, after receiving the orders and specifications from the procurement officers. And the procurement officers then place the contracts, supervise the production and inspect the finished product, with OPM looking on, giving advice, and sometimes exercising a right of veto.

Under such a discontinuous system, sustained, intensive effort on a broad front is extremely difficult. The president, as it happens, is not altogether of blame. On the one hand, the officers of the army ordnance branch are conscious of doing a good job, feel their work is too technical for interference by untrained businessmen, and have used their powerful influence with the war department chiefs to void being merged into the OPM organization. On the other hand, in the OPM itself, there are certain influential officials close to William S. Knudsen who fear additional responsibility, for reasons largely political and personal.

Thus, as far as the president knows, the present OPM-procurement relationship is perfectly satisfactory, although simple logic would suggest that after the specifications for war materials have been laid down, production ought to be a continuous job. As far as an ordnance is concerned, no change may be required. But because of the objections of the ordnance officers, the crucial task of getting adequate air production is also divided between many heads.

Yugoslavs Arrested In Anti-Nazi Plot

SPLIT, Yugoslavia, March 7 (AP)—Eight persons were arrested here today and charged with being involved in a plot to dynamite German and Italian ships plying between Yugoslavia and Italy.

Explosives were said to have been found in the prisoners' homes.

The arrests followed an investigation of the explosion of the 1,400 ton freighter, Xenia Feb. 26 while it was carrying cement to Italy.

ALONG CAME CINDERELLA

By VIVIAN GREY

Chapter 11 WORSE TANGLE Roger felt himself suddenly going mad. Hugh Chase, another of his ushers, still up there with Lovely. He said nothing more to John. He rushed to the garage and jumped into his car. Blue Blaze, the Kerry that had been at his heels was in beside him, his nose up to the wind as the car raced madly up steep Mount Airy Road.

It wasn't until after he had started that Roger was vaguely aware of his mother's voice calling him as he rushed to the garage. At Granny Hale's cottage he found Lovely sitting on the steps, facing the river, Hugh beside her. Hugh's smile was not a particularly nice thing to look at as Roger joined them. It was secretive, unpleasant.

"Well, beautiful lady, this looks like my exit," he said to Lovely, rising and contriving somehow to be leeringly possessive and offensive.

"Roger!" Undisguised gladness in her voice. "But why must you go just because Roger's here? Let's have a breakfast party!" "No, I'll be on my way."

Blaze had crowded in close to Lovely. With her hand on the dog's handsome head she watched Hugh go. Roger studied her face in jealous worry that he dared not voice until she turned to him. "Nerts!" she said carelessly. "They rolled in here at four this morning, one of them cockeyed as a gabboon. I'd nearly brained him before they made me understand they were friends of yours."

"So that was their story?" Roger asked, still too shaken to trust his voice much. Lovely caught something in the tone. She looked at him oddly. "They are friends of yours, aren't they?"

"Yes, I suppose you'd call them that. But don't feel you have to be nice to anyone, Lovely, just because they say they're friends of mine."

"Oh, that's all right! They're nice kids. I like them!" There was a little silence. Roger dared not trust himself to speak. Too many emotions were rioting him.

"Was the party nice? Fun?" Lovely asked at length. He caught a wistful note in her voice. "They told you it was a party?" "Yes, slowly, 'for you.' Adding after a space: 'And Emily.'"

Roger found no reply for that. Blaze laid his blue-gray head on his knee and looked up with soft, sympathetic eyes. The silence was growing taut when Lovely said: "Roger, what's she like? Is she pretty? Tell me about her?" "Pretty?" His mind had been dwelling on the time John and Hugh had been there with Lovely. Just what had transpired? Lovely was so beautiful. He knew suddenly he was insanely jealous of any man who had time alone with her.

"Yes, Lovely was insistent. 'I suppose she's beautiful. Rich girls always are.'"

"She's not beautiful as you are, Lovely," he said honestly. "She's pretty, sweet."

"You don't want to talk about her, do you?" Lovely asked. "Is it because it's me? Because I'm asking you, and you don't want to talk to me about her?" Her voice was wistful.

Roger smiled. He threw off the spell that had held him. "No, sweet, it isn't that. It's because I want so desperately to do the decent thing by both of you."

In Listing Deductions— Don't Be Unreasonable With Uncle Sam; He Can Check Up

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)—Take it from the officials who examine your income tax blanks, don't imitate the New Yorker who recently claimed tax deductions for enough gasoline to drive his car around the world four times.

"If people put down reasonable deductions, we won't bother them much," said an official.

Every year, he added, thousands of persons try to "chisel" extra deductions and many are caught. Often, however, the mistakes are innocent. A Wilmington, Del., man voluntarily sent $50 to the treasury a week ago, saying he had just learned that some deductions he took years ago were illegal.

Here are some of the credits, exemptions and deductions you can take legally:

1. Personal exemption: $2,000 for heads of families, $800 for single persons.

2. Dependent credits: $400 each for dependent children under 18 or adult physically or mentally incapable of self-support.

3. Contributions: Only if made to organized charities such as Red Cross, or to churches, veterans organizations, lodges, community chests; provided organizations use money only for religious, charitable, scientific and educational purposes.

4. Interest—Interest paid on bank loans, charge accounts, etc.

5. Taxes—Real estate, car license, sales, state gasoline, state cigar, and similar taxes. Deductions are not allowed for federal gasoline and other federal excise taxes, such as are levied on liquor and cigarettes, these taxes technically are paid by the manufacturer, not the consumer. Federal income, gift, estate and inheritance taxes also are excluded.

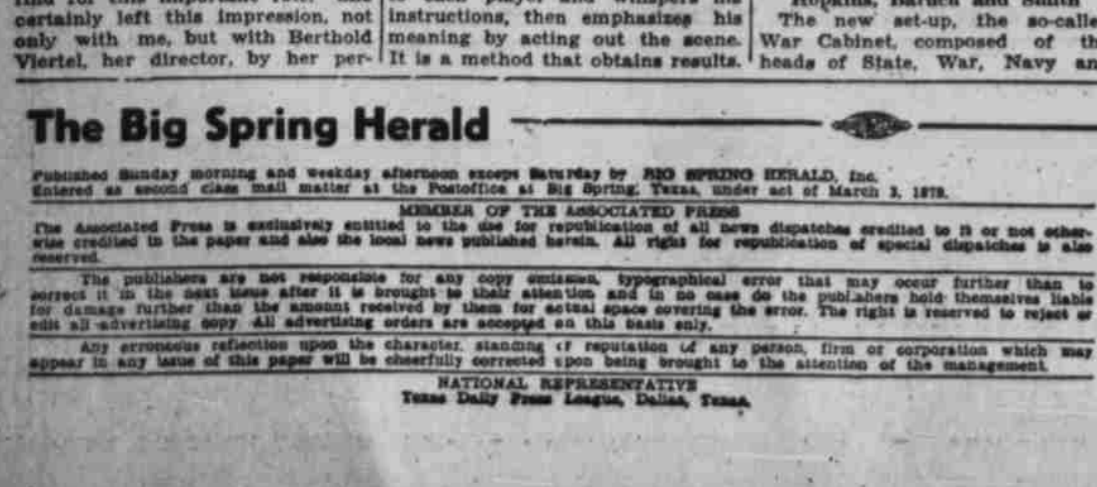

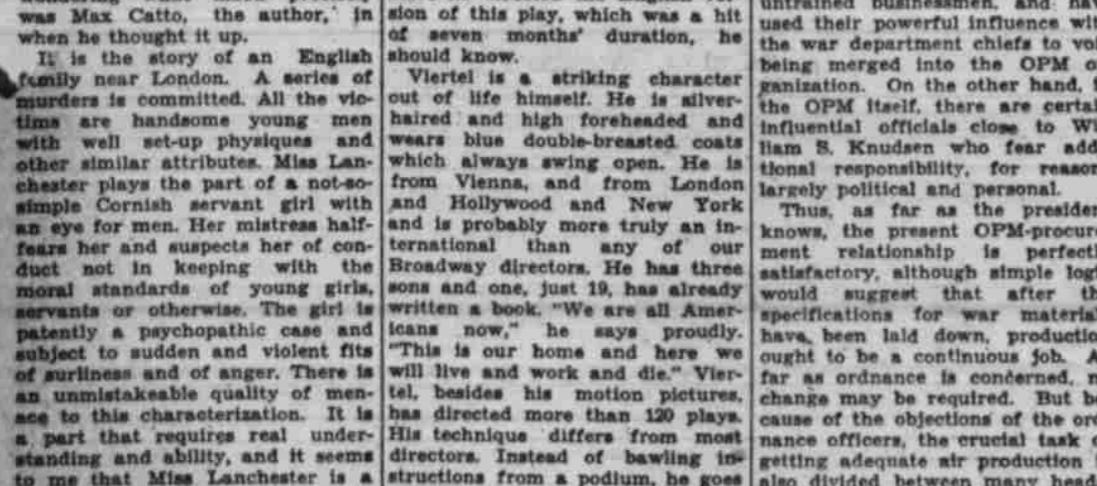

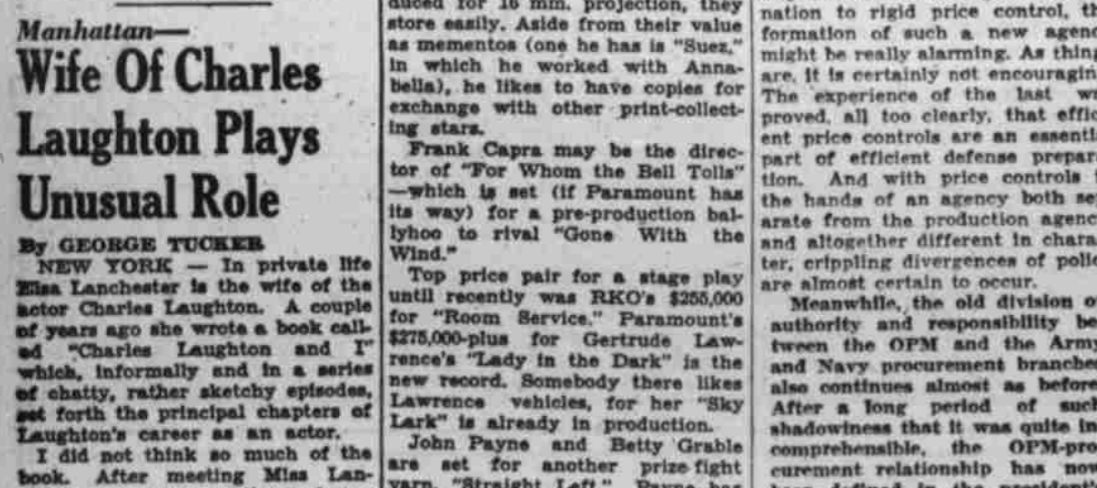

6. Uninsured property losses through theft, fire, storm; also bad debts. Gambling losses may be deducted, too, but not in excess of any gambling winnings reported at the same time.

7. Earned income credit—usually 10 per cent of salary or other "earned" income.

8. Uninsured property losses through theft, fire, storm; also bad debts. Gambling losses may be deducted, too, but not in excess of any gambling winnings reported at the same time.

9. Earned income credit—usually 10 per cent of salary or other "earned" income.

10. Uninsured property losses through theft, fire, storm; also bad debts. Gambling losses may be deducted, too, but not in excess of any gambling winnings reported at the same time.

Man Charged With Worthless Checking

LAMESA, March 7 (Sp.)—W. A. Hancock has been charged with giving J. C. Billingsley and son a worthless check for 13 head of horses purchased here. The check was signed with the name "J. A. Davis."

Hancock was arrested in Sulphur Springs, where he was accused of having sold the horses. Sheriff Buck Bennett and Les Billingsley said they collected the sale price of the horses there and that the Billingsleys suffered only a small loss. Hancock is under a similar charge at Big Spring.

A luncheon was served at the Settles hotel at noon, and films on sales methods were shown.

Big Spring's Chicken Shack Opens Today

Its fame has preceded opening of The Chicken Shack in Big Spring, inasmuch as many residents of this area already have eaten Leslie's Fried Chicken, the Shack's specialty, in other Texas towns.

Opening today at 805 East Third street, The Chicken Shack will follow the traditions of its affiliated eating places in quality food, cleanliness and service.

The establishment specializes in Leslie's fried chicken, and features salads, sandwiches and drinks. The Shack buys the best available chickens of eight to 10 weeks of age, dresses them in its own plant, and cooks it California style.

F. L. Strange, Jr., has moved to Big Spring from Houston to take over management of the business. He plans to buy all merchandise possible in Big Spring.

The Chicken Shack occupies the location formerly used by the Steak House. Considerable remodeling has been done. Both dining room and curb service is provided.

Other Chicken Shacks are located in Waco, Houston, Dallas, Fort Worth, Austin, San Antonio and Corpus Christi.

Joint Soil Conservation Project Near Completion

Howard county's first joint soil demonstration area is near completion, County Agent O. P. Griffin said Thursday.

Graders have moved on after throwing up a total of 27.4 miles of terraces on less than two sections of land immediately north of the city.

Unlike ordinary individual terrace programs, the demonstration area features continuing terrace lines irrespective of property lines.

The work has been carried out under the supervision of the soil conservation service, headed here by D. T. Mann. In addition to solving moisture conservation problems for the area, the terraces are expected to play a part in the controlling of flood waters from the slope which has fed damaging waters over the cemetery and north-eastern Big Spring in the past.

Amount of terraces placed in the area were: Hawk Estate, one mile; Mrs. M. C. Cantrell, four miles; Dee Davis, 4.8 miles; H. L. Batton, 2.7 miles; C. E. Prather, 5.1; U. S. Experiment Farm, 2.1 miles; Arthur Woodall, 5.1 miles; Mrs. Jennie Rigg, 2.1 miles; R. L. Warren, one mile.

Across the road from the Prather place, three miles of terraces have been constructed on the upper slopes of the Albert Davis place in less than three days.

Dodge Dealers Convene Here

Dodge dealers of West Texas—nearly a score of them—gathered in Big Spring Thursday for a conference on Spring season sales and advertising campaigns for Dodge and Plymouth automobiles.

Dealers and salesmen were here from a territory extending from Abilene to Pecos and from Spur to San Angelo. Morning and afternoon periods were devoted to a study of Dodge sales promotion material and to plans for the seasonal "push" on new models.

Robert R. Muir, Dallas regional manager, was in charge of the meeting and discussed some of the sales campaign points and the big advertising program Dodge is using this season, with emphasis being put on the new Fluid Drive. Other officials here were Al Postell, regional merchandising manager, R. R. Harper, truck manager, and Jack Parker.

A luncheon was served at the Settles hotel at noon, and films on sales methods were shown.

Notice is hereby given that the partnership lately existing between Dave Duncan of Big Spring, Howard County, Texas, and E. Fred Hershbach and John L. Hershbach of Dallas, Dallas County, Texas, under the firm name of AJAX DRILLING COMPANY, was dissolved by mutual consent on the 6th day of March, 1941, all parties consenting and agreeing in the written instrument of dissolution that they nor none of them will use the name "Ajax," nor the name "Ajax Drilling Company," in any business venture in which they may hereafter become interested, either directly or indirectly.

The undersigned, Dave Duncan, has no connection with said company or the other parties named herein, from and after said date, and will not be liable for any debts connected with or contracted in the name of said company, or in the name of or by E. Fred Hershbach and/or John L. Hershbach. All debts owing to said partnership are to be received by the said Dave Duncan, and all demands, except that of LUCREY PRODUCTS CORPORATION are to be presented to him for payment.

Dated this 7th day of March, 1941.
DAVE DUNCAN.

Rhythm in Milking Barn

ST. EDWARD, Neb.—To test the theory that music increases milk production, C. J. Shaffer, St. Edward dairy operator, installed a radio in his barn. He discovered the cows enjoyed the rhythm—but not as much as did his employees.

Man Charged With Worthless Checking

LAMESA, March 7 (Sp.)—W. A. Hancock has been charged with giving J. C. Billingsley and son a worthless check for 13 head of horses purchased here. The check was signed with the name "J. A. Davis."

Hancock was arrested in Sulphur Springs, where he was accused of having sold the horses. Sheriff Buck Bennett and Les Billingsley said they collected the sale price of the horses there and that the Billingsleys suffered only a small loss. Hancock is under a similar charge at Big Spring.

A luncheon was served at the Settles hotel at noon, and films on sales methods were shown.

Coast Searched For Lost Boat

FREESPORT, March 7 (AP) — A half-dozen boats searched the fog-shrouded stretches of the Gulf of Mexico today for a fishing boat, the Captain Carl, with eight men aboard.

The 46-foot vessel left Freesport Wednesday morning on a pleasure trip and was to return during the afternoon.

On board were H. H. Tatum,

Trustee Elections Come Up April 5

Preparations are being made over the county for school trustee elections in 21 districts.

According to reports from the county superintendent's office, there will be trustees to elect in all of the 18 common school districts. In addition, independent districts at Big Spring, Garner and Coahoma will hold their annual votes.

All balloting will be done the first Saturday in April, or on April 5.

Wool Market

BOSTON, March 7 (AP) (USDA) Very few inquiries for spot domestic wools were being received today in the Boston market. Quotations were largely nominal but firm because of the very limited quantities of spot wools available.

There was a little demand for graded three-eighths and quarter blood bright combing fleeces at 43-45 cents, in the grease, and in country packed lots of mixed three-eighths and quarter-blood bright fleeces at 41-43 cents in the grease.

and I'm beginning to see that I can't.

Lovely. "I've been thinking of that all night." She hesitated as if the words were almost too difficult to push over some barrier of emotion within her. "Roger, I'm the one who doesn't belong in the picture. I know that. I could see it when those boys came in here. You're different. I don't belong."

She paused a moment.

"Roger, I'll do anything you say. I'll go back if you want. I've been happy here. It's so sweet and different and all. And I've wanted this sort of thing terribly. I mean, or, dresses and rings and vacations away in lovely places. But I want you to be happy too. That's a new want." She was trying to laugh a little and it seemed to Roger as he listened that it was laughter very like tears. She was very young and childish then.

He caught her hand and brushed it with his lips.

"Lovely!" Emotion muted.

"So," she was going on in that not quite steady voice. "I want things to be as you want them, for your good. If you know what I mean?" She tried to make the last very bright and gay.

"I think I do, Lovely," he said. "And now let's have that breakfast."

He watched her move gracefully about the preparation of food. He saw her bend a can she had just opened until the opening was tight shut. He thought he knew why she did it but he asked:

"Why, Gorgeous?" picking up the can with its closed edges.

Lovely laughed.

"Gert taught me that," she said. "One day in the city we saw a cat that had been food hunting in a garbage can get its head stuck in a salmon tin. If you close the tins after opening them you know that isn't happening."

"Good girl," Roger said, his arm around her. No wonder he loved her.

It was around noon when the honking of a car outside disturbed them. They turned to the window. The car was a roadster of expensive make and was driven by a girl who sat looking straight ahead as if not wishing to see the house.

"It's Emily," Roger said. Lovely's gaze became more interested.

"She is pretty," she admitted.

"Something must have happened!" A note of excitement in his voice. "I'll go out and see!" It must be something pretty important, Roger knew, to have brought Emily up here.

"Emily!" he was beside the car. "Oh, Roger, I'm sorry!" she said quickly. "I didn't want to come but your mother—"

"Yes, what about mother? What's happened to her?" Roger's voice was sharp with concern.

"She's upset, Roger. She found John there after you left. He spilled something. I don't know

Guardsmen May Train For Second Year

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)— War department officials said today the army may ask congress for authority to keep the national guard in service for an additional six months or a year.

Whether the guardsmen are kept in uniform beyond the current year's period of training will depend, it was explained, on the tenseness of the international situation.

Some 240,000 guard officers and men have been mobilized thus far under the authority congress voted last summer.

Should they be demobilized at the conclusion of the current year's service, the army might be faced with a "serious situation" because of a shortage of trained manpower to train the selective recruits called to the colors under a continuous process, it was explained.

Some of the difficulties would be offset, however, officials said, by the expansion of the regular army, which has been increased steadily for the last two years to a present total of nearly 800,000 officers and men.

General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, was reported to feel that a second year's service for the national guard was advisable in the light of the present international outlook.

Assault To Murder Charge Is Filed

Lee Walton was charged Friday with assault with intent to murder after police had been called to a house on E. 8th street Thursday evening.

In the complaint lodged by the sheriff's department, Walton was charged with an assault on his wife with a deadly weapon.

ABC Members Hear Tollett

R. L. Tollett, president of Couden Petroleum company, was guest speaker Friday noon at the American Business club luncheon at the Settles hotel.

Speaking on the oil industry, Tollett urged cooperation with the industry and pointed out that the prosperity of West Texas and the oil companies were linked together.

During a discussion following his talk he answered questions concerning the Couden company, the number of employees and amount of payroll.

Leonard Coker was in charge of the program. A report of the board of governor's meeting was given by Charles Girdner.

A check for $8.50 from The Herald was presented to C. A. Amos from the proceeds of the Golden Gloves contests. Profits from the contests were divided between the four service clubs. Funds are to be used for club underprivileged children's work.

The club agreed to meet the Friday before Easter in a night session with a Ladies Night entertainment in order not to conflict with a program being planned by the pastor's association of Big Spring.

Charter and a picture taken at the time of club organization December 2, 1935, were shown by Durward Carnett. Carnett also announced plans for a softball team and all interested were invited to meet at the city hall Friday night.

John Davis is to have next Friday's program. Guests included Tollett, O. B. Bryan, Boone Horne and David Hagan.

Here And There

One of Big Spring's really booming businesses is the Big Spring Business college, now operated by Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Beacham. So many students are enrolling that expansion of the school's classroom building is needed.

New students entering recently include Earl Furr, Mrs. Annazine Glaser and Sybil Winters.

The school claims a championship for one of its students, who is now taking dictation at 45 words per minute after only 13 days study.

M. C. Harrison, Fort Worth, district inspector for the weather bureau, paid the local DOC bureau at the airport a brief inspection visit Friday, according to Charles Newton, station manager.

Joe Ford, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Hogan, Mr. and Mrs. Larson Lloyd, Dan Conley, Bill Edwards and Burke Summers, president of the local Lions club, went to Lubbock Thursday evening to participate in an affair honoring Melvin Jones, secretary-general of Lions International.

Fire alarms rang out at 1:35 p. m. Thursday as trucks rushed to the Queen theatre. It was only a pop-corn machine. Very little damage resulted from the blaze.

Police Officer Clyde McKeehan was called to Sweetwater Thursday evening due to the serious illness of his mother.

Claude Collins, in from his ranch north of here, said Friday that ranges were in good shape and water plentiful. Recently, Collins joined with his brother Ralph of Sterling City and Mack Grissom to acquire a 120-section ranch north of Kent in the Delaware mountains.

Proudest man in town these days is Dr. Frank Boyle who received via the mail, a pair of bronze bookends sent to him by Rubinoff, Dr. Boyle as a Kiwanis drove to Lubbock to bring the violinist and his party here for the Kiwanis-sponsored concert. The bookends hold a likeness of the violinist playing a model of his famous Stradivarius and are about ten inches tall. The inscription of "Rubinoff and his violin" is on the base of each bookend. According to Rubinoff, Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, and Dr. Boyle are the only two men in Texas to be presented with the gift.

City Investigates Fire Plug Trouble

City officials said Friday that an investigation had been made of an open attachment on a privately owned fire plug at the Big Spring Compress company.

Presence of the attachment, said firemen, hampered efforts to get water on the compress blaze which destroyed the central unit of the plant here early Wednesday with a loss of approximately $75,000.

Fire Marshal E. B. Bethell said that compress heads said the attachment had been used to fill fire barrels from the plug and that a stop plug had been on the attachment.

Engineer Barely Makes Panama Boat

J. R. Frennand, El Paso engineer, barely made his boat for Panama Thursday after a hasty trip by American Airlines and a ride with the Long Beach, Calif. police. Late Wednesday night he got a request from government officials to go on a boat leaving at 11 a. m. Thursday to Panama where his firm has a $5,000,000 contract.

He arrived at the dock in San Pedro just as the gang plank was being raised. Frennand is a former Big Spring resident and nephew of Mrs. V. Van Gieson.

Chain Store Tax Criticized In Hearing

AUSTIN, March 7 (AP)—Foes of a bill to repeal the state chain store tax law today prepared testimony to repudiate charges that the levy was "not designed to raise money but to cripple industry."

Repeat advocates told the house revenue taxation committee last night the law was a punitive rather than a revenue measure. Opposition spokesmen will be heard Tuesday.

Assailing the tax as a trade barrier, Joe Montague of Fort Worth, representing the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers association, said it not only had driven some companies out of the state but prevented new industries from establishing in Texas.

He cited increased consumption of beef, mutton and lamb he said resulted from a campaign sponsored by chain groceries to which Texas cattlemen contributed $50,000 last year.

George Furl of Dallas, attorney for several chain systems, attacked the chain taxation plan. He declared the method used was not based on volume of business but on the number of stores regardless of their income. The law provides a graduated tax of $1 to $700 per store based on the number of stores in a chain.

Furl said the intake last year, according to figures from the state comptroller's office, totaled $703,805.17, paid by 61,715 stores. In 1935, the year the law was enacted, there were 71,206 chain stores in Texas, he added, using the figures to substantiate his claim the levy had brought a decrease in the industry.

National Farm Day Observance Slated

Howard county agriculturalists were reminded Friday that Saturday will be observed as National Farm Day, marking the eighth birthday of the federal farm program.

President Franklin Roosevelt, Vice-President Henry A. Wallace (formerly agriculture secretary), and Secretary of Agriculture Claude Wickard will speak on a national radio hook-up at 9:30 p. m. The broadcast will be carried locally over KBST.

Too Much Iron for Cow

SANTA CRUZ, Calif.—The family cow of Folloleman Ben Krupp, slaying for some time past, finally had to be killed. The autopsy disclosed that the cow had too much iron in its system. The stomach contained an assortment of baling wire, rusty nails, bolts and other hardware.

The world's first commercial telephone exchange was opened in 1878 at New Haven, Conn.

Physicians Acquitted In Anti-Trust Suit

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)— Justice James M. Proctor of federal district court today ordered a directed verdict of acquittal for two physicians and two medical organizations under trial for violation of the Sherman anti-trust act.

Dr. Leon A. Martel and Dr. J. Rogers Young, Washington physicians, named in the original indictment and the Washington Academy of Surgery and the Harris county, Tex., medical society, were thus exonerated.

Anti-Convoy Amendment Is Turned Down

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)— The senate rejected an amendment to the British aid bill which would forbid the conveying by American armed forces of war materials shipped out of the western hemisphere.

The roll call vote was 62 to 28.

The vote came on a proposal by Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.), offered as a substitute to an administration-sponsored amendment by Senator Ellender (D-La.). The Ellender amendment states that nothing in the measure should be construed as changing existing laws governing the land and naval forces.

While O'Mahoney had contended that his proposal as originally drawn would rule out convoys, he rewrote it slightly at the suggestion of Senator Bone (D-Wash.) so that Bone finally described it as "a hunt prohibition against convoys."

Margaret Jackson Goes To Meeting

Margaret Jackson, vice president of the home economic unit of Texas, left Friday morning accompanied by Miss Lillian Jordan, home economics teacher, and Frances McAllister, district supervisor of home economics, for Oklahoma City to attend the annual Oklahoma rally as the only representative of the entire state of Texas.

Miss Jackson will make a talk during the convention expressing a greeting from the state of Texas, and will attend all business and social meetings.

Campaign Costs Of 22 Million Found

WASHINGTON, March 7 (AP)— The senate campaign investigating committee, reporting that the major parties had spent $22,000,000, at a minimum, during the 1940 presidential contest, recommended today that congress fix rigid limits on political funds and tighten up other federal election laws.

Republican groups were credited with expenditures of almost $15,000,000, and democrats, with more than $6,000,000.

The 1941 Servel Gas refrigerator is backed by a 10-YEAR GUARANTEE on its entire refrigerating system, at no additional cost. Does that not tell the story?

This is a plain, common-sense question: How often do you want to buy a new refrigerator? Most refrigerators have moving parts. ONE refrigerator—the GAS refrigerator—has NONE. Nothing to wear, to cause costly repairs, inefficiency, and noise. There are plenty of them in West Texas, 10 and 12 years old, just as good as the day they were new. Before you buy any refrigerator, ask yourself, "What will it be doing for me in 1951?"
