

Saturday Business Goes Double Into War Bonds

How much business is done in Big Spring on a September Saturday? Nobody knows for sure, but whatever the amount, it's just one-half what Third War Loan campaign leaders hope will go into war bonds on Monday.

For Saturday has been designated as "Business for Uncle Sam" day—when every business establishment and professional office is being asked to invest DOUBLE the day's gross business.

It is an SOS program for the war bond effort, lined up by the executive committee Tuesday, and meeting with whole-hearted response.

It is an SOS affair because the county is just barely beyond the halfway mark on its war bond quota, and the Third War Loan closes next Thursday.

A special committee was out during the afternoon to canvass every business and professional unit in the city. They had not gotten around to very many by noon, but they had not had a single turnout. The firms contacted are listed below, but the list is just a starter. Tomorrow's Herald will contain many more—and every business operator who will agree to join in the double investment proposal is urged to notify bond headquarters at the chamber of commerce, so he can be credited with participation.

"We want to see everybody, and we want to announce everybody who will invest, in government securities, in twice the amount of his Saturday's gross," Chairman Ter Groebel said. "But if you are missed, we urge you to call bond headquarters. Don't wait to be solicited. Volunteer, and help us make a great day of 'business for Uncle Sam.'"

Those signing to cooperate are pledged to invest, on Monday, in the amount outlined. If an operator does a $750 business on Saturday, he will buy two $1,000 bonds ($1,500 cash value) on Monday. The committee will not reveal in any way, any individual business figures. Each business and professional man is expected to meet his pledge, making his investments in his own way.

First firms contacted and agreeing to participation, include:

1,000 Germans Slain In Corsica Fighting

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 22 (AP)—The French high command said today an American unit is helping French forces drive the Germans toward the northeastern corner of Corsica, and already more than 1,000 of the enemy have been

Reminder: It's Felt Hat Time

The baseball season is winding up and grid games have started; it's darker when you go to work in the mornings, and there's a chill in the air. Which all means it's fall—and probably the man of the house ought to be reminded that it's time to get rid of the summer straw and equip himself with a felt hat.

It's Felt Hat Day, and Big Spring stores are cooperating in announcing new-style offerings to make the event complete. No ration tickets required. There are shapes, designs, colors and sizes in the local stores to suit all tastes and pocketbooks.

Veterans Of Air Combat To Be At War Bond Show

Men from the fighting fronts meet the people of the home front Thursday night.

Seven air force officers who have been decorated for meritorious action in unloading bombs on the enemy will be presented from the stage of the Ritz theatre as the feature of a war bond program which starts at 8:30.

Admission to the show is by war bond only, and it appeared Wednesday that the house will be a sellout. Six $1,000-bond loge seats are sold, as well as many others, at prices ranging from a $25 bond to $1,000 donations.

Tickets are being presented when bonds are bought at any local issuing agency.

The screen program features a picture-telling the story of Texas A&M—the Lone Star state's own school which has furnished more officers to the armed forces in this war than any other educational institution. It's called "We've Never Been Liked," with Richard Quine, Anne Gwynne, Noah Beery and Martha O'Driscoll as the featured players. The picture was filmed on the Argyle campus.

Col. Robert W. Warren, commanding officer of the Big Spring Bombardier school, will open the stage program, presenting Major Harry Wheeler, an aerial services officer, who will serve as master of ceremonies and present the war heroes.

These will include: LIEUT. LOUIS E. LONG, JR., wearer of the Distinguished Flying Cross, Air Medal with Oak Leaf clusters and the Purple Heart. He entered the service as an aviation cadet Aug. 21, 1941, took bombardier training at Elington and Albuquerque, landed in the Middle East October 14, 1942, and as a bombardier on a Liberator blasted axis shipping in the Mediterranean, hit the foe in North Africa, and helped chase Rommel's forces from El Alamein across Libya and eventually out of Africa. He returned to this country last May 21, and is now a bombardier instructor at the local field. He's a "close at home" hero, since his father lives at Gall.

CAPT. JOEL W. SAILORS, another who did his part in the rout of Rommel in North Africa and now stationed here as an instructor. He went overseas Aug. 1, 1942, returned May 31, this year, after seeing service in the Middle East and in Africa, helping provide the air cover for the famed British Eighth. He was on a B-25, helped blast El Alamein, Tobruk, the Mareh line, and shared in the bombing of Pantelleria. He has the Air Medal with Oak Leaf clusters, and is another West Texan, hailing from Bangs.

LIEUT. EDWARD M. BRANCH, now stationed at Midland as a student officer in the Central Bombardier Instructors school, also helped blast Rommel and the axis armies out of North Africa to pave the way for the invasion of Sicily and Italy. He has returned to the United States wearing the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal and nine Oak Leaf clusters. Fifty-two missions against the enemy and a total of 282 combat flying hours in the impressive record of Lieut. Branch's 13 months overseas.

LIEUT. EDDIE C. HANCOCK, another Texan (home, San Antonio) who is coming from the CBIS at Midland. This young veteran dropped his blockbusters on

Bombs Fall For 350 Miles North Of Lae

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 22 (AP)—Only two days after the fall of Lae, New Guinea, airborne troops of Gen. Douglas MacArthur seized a village 60 miles to the northwest while waves of American bombers wrecked air-dromes, bridges, trucks and roads along a path of future conquest for 350 miles north.

The seizure of Kalapi by transport-fallen Australians last Saturday night, following quickly the overthrowing of Lae the previous Thursday, was disclosed in a communique today.

This new stroke, which the Japanese futilely tried to erase by counterattacks, and the latest air strikes with 97 tons of bombs and 120,000 rounds of ammunition all the way from south of Madang up to Wewak, clearly indicated the determination of MacArthur that his victories at Lae and Salamaua shall yield quick dividends.

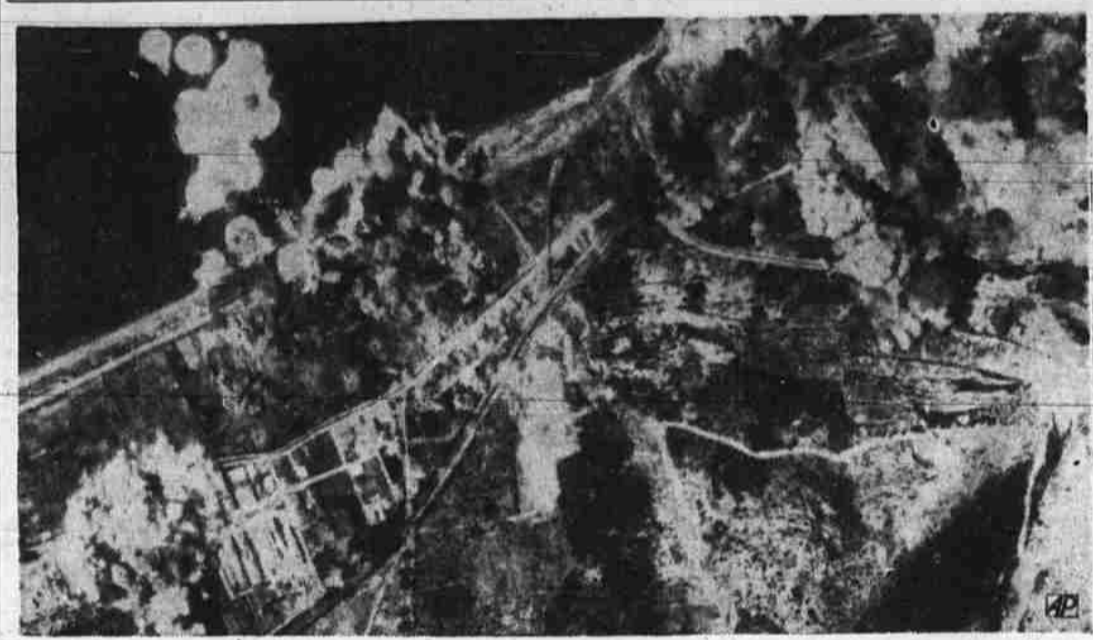

The Japanese air force, obviously concerned by the upsurge of MacArthur on the New Guinea ground front and the hammering dealt by Admiral William F. Halsey's growing air might in the Solomon, struck back on both arms of the 750-mile battle arc.

Flames, Smoke Over Naples

Blasting The Way—That was the job of the 12th air force—softening up German defenses in the Salerno sector so the Fifth army could land. And this is the way it was done. Bombs pitched by Martin Marauders rip at the railroad yards, shore installations and buildings along the water front at Salerno. The Marauders, with their Mustang escorts, shot down 28 German fighters, mostly ME 109's, on this foray. (Associated Press Photo from Air Forces.)

Marshall Nominated For Supreme Allied Command

By The Associated Press WASHINGTON, Sept. 22—Disclosure that Gen. George C. Marshall has been nominated for supreme command of British and American troops around the world made it fairly obvious today that the hour for storming Hitler's European fortress is approaching with express train speed. And, judging from the global nature of Anglo-American strategy, Japan's day cannot be far behind.

The announcement of the appointment of the U. S. army chief of staff to the most extraordinary military assignment in history—climaxing a flareup of discussion over high command shifts—is expected, barring any last minute hitches, to be made soon by President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill.

Mountbatten May Replace MacArthur

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN THE SOUTHWEST PACIFIC, Sept. 22 (AP)—Reports that the new southeast-Asia command of Lord Louis Mountbatten may subordinate the command of Gen. Douglas MacArthur were recognized officially today by MacArthur in a statement expressing willingness to fill any role assigned him and strongly defending his concept of Pacific strategy.

Jordan Rites Set For 3:00 Thursday

Funeral services for Thomas E. Jordan, 75, pioneer newspaperman who succumbed Monday, have been set for 3 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the First Baptist church.

Music will be given by the Baptist choir and the pastor, the Rev. P. D. O'Brien, will be in charge. Mr. Jordan, a native of Clinton, Ky., where he was born July 1, 1868, came to Big Spring in 1904 where he founded the Herald. He published the paper until 1929 when he sold out to the present publishing corporation. For the next 14 years he operated a printing establishment here.

Cattle Flooding The Okla. City Market

OKLAHOMA CITY, Sept. 22 (AP)—Streets about the stockyards were jammed today as Oklahoma farmers rushed more than 10,000 head of cattle and calves to market, bringing to 30,000 the number disposed of in the past three days.

PAYS FINE

Fines of $14 on each of two complaints—drunkenness and disturbing the peace—were paid in justice court Wednesday morning by a Big Spring man who was taken in custody Tuesday night by members of the constable's force, on complaint turned in from a night spot.

Reds Approach Kiev In Same Way Nazis Did

History Turns Back Upon Itself As Chernigov Falls

MOSCOW, Sept. 22 (AP)—History turned back upon itself today in the valley between the Desna and Dnieper rivers as the Red army pushed on in the direction of Kiev after capturing Chernigov—for this was the way the Germans took Kiev.

Nazis Encircle City In Effort To Stop Allies

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA, Sept. 22 (AP)—Huge fires and demolitions scarred Naples today as the Germans hastily threw a defensive ring around the city to retard Allied armies steadily pressing outward from the Salerno bridgehead.

The great metropolis of nearly a million persons in southern Italy was described officially as overhung with smoke.

A military spokesman said the enemy was establishing a strong defensive line on the approaches to Naples from the south and east, but the extent of their demolitions in and near the city appeared evidence that the Germans hoped to hold back Allied attack toward the city from the Salerno area.

The fifth army meanwhile fought its way steadily east and northeast from Salerno with American troops capturing the towns of Campagna and Montecorvino-Rovella while the British chased fleeing Germans from the town of San Cipriano.

On Corsica French soldiers and native patrols, pursued a German garrison estimated at 12,000 men toward the eastern shores while American Liberator bombers blasted at the principal avenue of German evacuation from the island—the Corsican harbor of Bastia and the Italian port of Leghorn.

The military spokesman said he had "nothing to add" to Winston Churchill's statement yesterday that American troops had landed on Sardinia, but the belief prevailed here that whatever units were sent to that island intended only to cooperate with an Italian division which already at Premier Pietro Badoglio's command took control and compelled the Germans to flee.

Another menace to the Germans on the Italian mainland, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's eighth army, drove northward and inland and occupied the key highway and rail center of Potenza.

Occupation of Potenza, which is a junction point of five main roads, gave the Allies control of the entire inland highway and rail systems south of a line extending eastward from Salerno.

To the east of Salerno, Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's victorious troops met only small enemy rearguard detachments and the Germans there appeared depending primarily upon extensive mining and demolitions to hinder the American advance.

The British forces which formed Clark's left flank in the original Salerno beachhead are now on the west end of the Allied line as the fifth army swings northward in a pivot action.

A military spokesman, declaring "the first phase of the Salerno battle now is definitely over," added "we have inflicted upon the enemy heavy losses in personnel killed and captured and in equipment."

Many prisoners taken in attacks which already have wiped out the last vestiges of German lines to the east of the original beachhead were found to be non-German even though from enemy combat units. Ordinarily in the past, even in Tunisia, Poles, Czechs and other non-German Europeans who had been impressed into Hitler's armies were relegated to non-combat roles and the military spokesman drew the only possible inference: "it would appear to indicate a serious German manpower shortage."

Capture of Potenza brought to light one of the Italian campaign's boldest exploits by a small British patrol which staved away on an Italian train and rode it northward

Senate Moves To Shelve Draft Bill

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—Bernard M. Baruch told the senate house military committees today the armed forces are "entitled to the fulfillment of every demand" including whatever force they asked for prosecution of the war.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—A quiet move was underway in the senate today to shelve the Wheeler father draft deferment bill without waiting for the testimony of Presidential Adviser Bernard M. Baruch who recently surveyed the entire manpower problem.

Though informal and still incomplete, a poll showed a sharp trend away from the proposal which once had the overwhelming approval of the military affairs committee, scheduled to hear Baruch this afternoon.

By agreeing to delay debate on the bill until Tuesday, the senate apparently spiked any chance for congressional action, either way, before the Oct. 1 deadline set by the War Manpower Commission for the general induction of fathers.

JUDGE ELECTED

DALLAS, Sept. 22 (AP)—J. Frank Wilson, 42, who has practiced law here 21 years, was unanimously elected special judge of criminal district court here today to occupy the bench of Judge Henry King who has been commissioned a major in the armed services.

Now It Can Be Told--Complete Story Of Hess's Flight To Britain

LONDON, Sept. 22. (AP)—The full story of Rudolph Hess's flight to Britain disclosed today that more than two years ago, when Britain still was near its lowest depths in this war, the third in command of the Nazis declared Adolf Hitler wanted to call off the fight without making any "oppressive demands" on Britain.

over what his deputy might be telling the British.

The official account, made available to Commons today by Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, revealed very few facts that had not leaked out at least in outline to the public.

It did, however, contain a specific list of six peace terms, one of which stipulated Hitler's refusal to negotiate with Prime Minister Churchill, who was accused of planning the war since 1938.

Britain, Hess said, was a free hand in Europe and especially with Russia, but the forebodings of a long war, for which Germany was ill-prepared, were seen in Hess's statement.

Hess's arrival was announced by the British.

The official statement said nothing about Hess's present whereabouts or his state of health, but it concluded: "Hess has been dealt with as a prisoner of war since his arrival in this country and will so continue to be treated until the end of the war."

If the peace terms offered by Germany were rejected, Hess told officials, Hitler expected to destroy Britain utterly and keep the country in a state of permanent subjection.

Throughout the conversations with Hess, the government said, it was made clear to him that there was no question whatsoever of any negotiations with Hitler or his government.

In the official account of the sensational flight, the government related: Before he reached Scotland in 1941, Hess told the Duke of Hamilton, he tried to arrange a meeting in Lisbon and three times previously attempted to fly to Dungeness, Scotland, near the Duke's home. Hess said he met the Duke at the 1936 Olympic games in Berlin.

The last time he attempted a flight was in December, 1940, but he was turned back by the weather and other factors.

He did not want to come at the time of British successes in Libya, he told the Duke after he was incarcerated at Maryhill barracks, lest it appear a sign of weakness on the part of Germany.

Hamilton told the authorities he believed the prisoner was Hess. This fact was confirmed

Hess insisted that he came to Britain without Hitler's knowledge.

He told Hamilton, who interviewed him on May 11, 1941, at Maryhill barracks, that he had come to Britain on a "mission of humanity."

Hamilton, who was a wing commander in the RAF and did not recall having met Hess before, flew to London and reported the conversation.

Hamilton told the authorities he believed the prisoner was Hess. This fact was confirmed by I. A. Kirkpatrick of the foreign office, who had known Hess and who talked to him May 13, 14 and 15.

Hess' aim was to convince responsible British persons that England could not win and its wisest course was to make an immediate peace.

Hess stressed Germany's power in the air and in U-boats and averred that Britain would be beaten by a blockade at least within two or three years. He expressed confidence that Germany would win the war.

Chaplain James L. Patterson Is Guest Speaker At B. & P. W. Meet

Club To Sponsor A Wiener Roast Monday evening

A talk on women on the home front was given Tuesday night by Chaplain James L. Patterson of the Big Spring Bombarrier school to members and guests of the Business and Professional Women's club at the Settles hotel.

The chaplain pointed out that women are doing fine work on the war front but urged that they not lose sight of objectives on the home front. "We may win the war but lose the battle if the virtues of womanhood and manhood suffer during this period," he said.

He declared that the finest career that a woman could have was to be a fine wife and mother, giving character, quality and personality to her children and providing a home in all the old-fashioned meaning of the word for the soldiers coming back from the front.

Lieut. Mary Frances Goldman, recruiting officer of the W.A.C., spoke to the group on the aims and ideals of the Women's Army. Pfc. Bernice Seivora sang two numbers, Schubert's "Serenade" and "When You're Away," and played her own accompaniment.

A wiener roast for Monday night at 7:30 o'clock sponsored by the club with the USO was announced and members urged to attend.

Guests present were Lieut. Marjorie W. Hawthorne, Lieut. Goldman, Pfc. Seivora, Chaplain Patterson, and Jean Miller.

Members were Maurine Ward, Wilrena Richbourg, Mary Louise Griffin, Mary Hedy, Dorothy Miller, June Matson, Jewel Barton, Frances Peters, Beth Lueddecke, Myrtle Jones, Gladys Smith, Elizabeth Stanford, Alma Borders, Lillian Hurt, Ima Deason, Kitty Ford, Ruth Griffin, Ina Mae Bradley, Rebea Merle Boyles, Sue Haynes, Nellie Gray, Helen Duley, Winona Bailey, Mrs. Ollie Eubanks.

The membership committee with Mrs. Eubanks as chairman was in charge of the program.

Amazing results in building STURDY BODIES!

1—Promote the flow of vital digestive juices in the stomach
2—Energize your body with RICH, RED BLOOD!

YOUNG people, especially those of foreign birth and high school age, are prone to be deficient in stomach digestive juices and red-blood.

A growing person who is operating on a 50 to 70% healthy blood volume or a stomach digestive capacity of only 50 to 60% normal is severely handicapped. In such cases Nature needs extra help. Organic troubles or focal infection, if they exist, must be corrected. Tissue foods must be absorbed and rich, red-blood must be present to build sturdy bodies.

S.S.S. Tonic is especially designed to build-up BLOOD STRENGTH which develops and promotes those FIGHTING JUICES which digest the food so the body can make proper use of it in tissue building and repair.

These two important results enable the body to make use of the food as Nature intended. Thus you may gain a keen appetite... firm flesh... body energy... mental alertness!

DOWNTOWN STROLLER

Visited a moment with FERN SMITH, Mrs. C. A. JONES, and MAURINE WORD, none of whom we had seen for quite a spell. Mrs. JONES is ill in the hospital but is better than she was, she reports. FERN and MAURINE were discussing B & P W club matters, now that the fall programs have begun in the club has revived.

We got a letter from BETTY BOB DILTZ, now a freshman student at Texas Tech. She writes that, what with registering for classes and the like she signed her name a hundred times during the first week of school. According to BETTY BOB, somebody said "sign here" and she did and found out later she had bought an annual. She writes back, "why didn't you tell me about these things."

Mrs. FRED HALLER was rushing down to the bank, as were we, when we ran into her. When she claimed she had her check for a couple of days without getting it cashed, we claimed she must be hoarding money. We always have to beat our checks to the bank on payday. It's always a close shave, but so far we've outrun them.

Had an elevator visit with Mrs. ROBERT STRIPLING, which means we just got to say "howdy" and "how are you" and then it was time to get off at our floor. Most unsatisfactory—elevator visits.

MRS. DEHLINGER

Election of officers was business at the Tuesday evening meeting of the St. Thomas Altar society when the group met in the Catholic rectory.

Mrs. Martin Dehlinger was elected president, Mrs. C. C. Choate, vice president, Mrs. Earl Jones, secretary, and Mrs. J. B. McWhirter, treasurer.

Reports were given on preparations for the convention which will be held here October 3, and it was announced that Mrs. Earl Jones, Mrs. C. C. Choate and Mrs. Earl Corder would be hostesses for the next meeting.

Following the meeting a social hour was held, and games were played. Prizes were awarded to Mrs. J. F. Reed, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Julia Julian, Mrs. Thurman Satterfield, Mrs. C. C. Choate, Barbara Dehlinger, and Mrs. Earl Corder.

Hosts for the evening were the Rev. George Julian, the Rev. Matthew Power and Mrs. Julia Julian, and refreshments were served.

Those attending were Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. Earl Corder, Mrs. John Eul, Mrs. Thurman Satterfield, Mrs. C. C. Choate, Mrs. Walter Rueckart, Mrs. W. D. Willbanks, Mrs. John McAllen, Mrs. W. E. McAllen.

Mrs. J. F. Reed, Mrs. L. M. Seals, Mrs. M. Golobic, Mrs. R. D. Reckner, Mrs. W. H. Osborne, Mrs. Earl Jones, Mrs. H. E. Mosley, Mrs. C. W. Deats, Mrs. Martin Dehlinger, Mrs. Julia Julian, Mrs. James Tracy, Mrs. L. D. Jenkins, Mrs. Charles Vines, the Rev. Matthew Power and the Rev. George Julian.

Mrs. B. J. Williams arrived last week from Camp Hill, Ky., to visit with her mother-in-law, Mrs. O. V. Cain. Sgt. Williams expects to join his wife here in November.

High Heel Slipper Club Completes Rush Week

Pledgeship To Last For Five Weeks Period

The High Heel Slipper Club has just completed rush week and pledgeship, which runs for five weeks, will be climaxed with 'hell' week and formal initiation.

The club met in Billie Juanita Ragsdale's home Tuesday evening for a program which was presented by the pledges. Doris Nell Tompkins presided over the meeting and refreshments were served.

During a business session, members voted to sell sandwiches at the depot to raise money for the club treasury, and pledge rules were read.

Those attending the meeting were Charlene Pinkston, Doris Nell Tompkins, Betty Jo Pool, Eva Jane Darby and the hostess Billy Ragsdale. Pledges attending were Betty Lou McGinnis, Pat Cochran, Betty Sue Sweeny, Doris Crowe.

Margaret John McElhannon will entertain the club next Tuesday evening.

It isn't TABOO any more for girls to know these truths

Some girls take CARDUI, as directed, three days before "their time" to help relieve periodic pain due only to functional causes. Others take it as a tonic to stimulate appetite and aid digestion by increasing the flow of gastric juices, thus helping build up strength for those demanding days to come. A 62-year record says CARDUI may help. Try it, won't you? (adv.)

Overseas Christmas Mailing Is Underway

Mailing of parcels to men in service Monday gave the post-office a preview of its Christmas rush.

The volume, already large, was increased to such an extent by posting of Christmas packages to sailors and soldiers that Postmaster Nat Shick found it necessary to assign an extra man to the parcel window.

Despite this volume, he advised all who contemplate Christmas mailings to men in service to not delay in sending the packages.

"It is easy to understand, on the basis of our Monday business,

Soil Conservation Meetings To Be Held Oct. 5

Three of the five zone supervisor meetings of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation district will be held in Howard county communities, a schedule of convention sites for the Oct. 5 balloting showed Tuesday.

Zone No. 2, which embraces territory between the Stanton-Lamesa highway and the Big Spring Vealmoor road, and from the T. & P. tracks north to the county lines, will convene at Garner school.

Zone No. 5, which embraces that portion of Midland county south of the T. & P. tracks and north of the Midland county, all of Glasscock county in the district, territory south of the tracks in Martin county and south of the tracks and west of U. S. highway 87 in Howard county, will meet at Lomax school.

Zone No. 3, which includes all territory east of the Big Spring-Vealmoor road and of U. S. 87 south of Big Spring, will meet at Coahoma.

The Martin county courthouse at Stanton will be the meeting place for Zone No. 1, which is all of Martin county west of the Lamesa-Stanton road and of Midland county north of the tracks; while zone No. 4, all of Midland county south of the T. & P. tracks and of the Midland-Garden City road, is to meet at the Valley View school house.

All meetings are set for 8 p. m. with the various supervisors in charge. Earl Heald will preside at Stanton, R. L. Watten at Garner, E. T. O'Daniel at Coahoma, M. L. Koonce at Valley View, and Gordon Stone at Lomax. Each zone is to elect one supervisor.

Japs Prepare For Moving Government

LONDON, Sept. 22, (P) — The Japanese government has decided to prepare "for the moving of government departments, industrial establishments and the civilian population from Tokyo as well as other important cities in the interest of improving their defense," the Tokyo radio said today.

The broadcast listed a number of drastic measures, including total mobilization of the civilian population and the abolishment of age limits to make all persons liable for national service, which it said were announced today by Premier Hideki Tojo and the government information office "in view of the decisive phase upon which the war will enter during the coming months."

Treasury Presents New Tax Program To President

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22 (AP)—A tax program that would take at least another dime out of every dollar of taxable individual income—but refund about 13 cents after the war—has been presented by the treasury to President Roosevelt for his opinion.

To keep lower bracket taxpayers on a pay-as-they-earn basis under such a program, the 20 per cent withholding levy would have to be hiked to at least 30 per cent.

The treasury's plan calls for individual income taxes to yield at least $8,000,000,000 of the $12,000,000,000 in new 1944 revenue demanded by Mr. Roosevelt. The remainder would be accounted for from equal increases in corporation and excise levies.

The income tax phase entails increases in all brackets but most notably a 100 per cent jump in the present 13 per cent first bracket surtax. However, the present three per cent (net) victory tax would be integrated in that levy, together with provision for a 50 per cent postwar refund.

Thus the basic rate—now 6 per cent normal, plus 15 per cent first bracket surtax, plus 3 per cent net victory tax, a total of 24 per cent—would be 6 per cent plus 28 per cent, a total of 34 per cent. Of that amount, however, 13 per cent would be paid back after the war.

pressed horror at a prolongation of the struggle.

He gave his "word of honor" that Hitler never intended to wreck the British Empire or dominate the world.

Hess' "peace plan" was this: First, Germany should be given a free hand in Europe.

Second, England should have a free hand in the British Empire except that former German colonies should be returned to Germany.

Third, Russia should be included in Asia, but Germany had certain demands to make on Russia which would have to be satisfied either by negotiation or by war.

There was no truth in rumors that Hitler planned an early attack on Russia. Germany attacked the following month, in June.

Fourth, that the British should evacuate Iraq.

Fifth, a peace agreement would have to contain a provision for reciprocal indemnification of British and German nationals whose property was destroyed by war.

Sixth, Hitler would not negotiate peace with Churchill and his colleagues, who he said planned war since 1936, but only with a new British government.

Hess emphasized that Hitler wanted a permanent understanding with Britain on the basis that she retain the empire intact. He pictured his flight as intended to give Britain a chance to open conversations without loss of prestige.

to the very outskirts of the rail and road junction while it still was in enemy hands.

The patrol hid in the hills directly overlooking the town and stayed there three or four days, sending back what the military spokesman called "very valuable information of every German activity in and around Potenza, all of which was instrumental in our capture of the town."

Emphasizing the value of Potenza to the eighth army, the spokesman said the town "is like a man's heart so far as that part of Italy is concerned—it is the center of everything."

Capture of Campagna carried the American forces 20 miles inland from Salerno to a point about six miles northeast of Eboli, capture of which was announced yesterday.

The sky over Naples, meanwhile, was dark with smoke, and from Allied positions across the bay it appeared that the Nazis were continuing the program of fire and demolition from the security of their headquarters.

Refugees passing through the Allied lines confirmed the Allied belief that the Germans were looting and destroying the city, perhaps as a step toward new withdrawals. The refugees said the Nazis had instituted a reign of terror with thousands of Neapolitans dying within the last few weeks for violations of a stringent German curfew edict. Epidemics of typhoid and typhus in the waterless, hungry city were adding to the horror, they said.

Draft Officials In Session Here

Clerks and board members of Howard and Martin county draft boards met in Big Spring Tuesday with Major L. M. Fellbaum, representing the state director at Austin, to discuss the new regulations in regard to drafting fathers and other draft matters.

Classification and procedure in classification of fathers as sent to boards through memorandums were explained by Major Fellbaum. Also discussed was the importance of the inventory of manpower being compiled by all boards in the nation and due to be finished by September 30th.

The local draft board announced Wednesday that until further notice it would be closed while clerks complete the inventory. Only those matters regarding induction or registration will be considered during the hours of 5 p. m. to 6:30 p. m. until the inventory is finished.

Attending the meeting were Ben G. Carpenter, Martin county board chairman, Mrs. Noby Hamilton, clerk, and John F. Priddy, board member, all of Stanton, and George G. White, Howard county board chairman, Tom Coffee, appeal agent for Howard county, T. C. Thomas and H. C. Hoosier, board members, and Margaret McDonald, clerk, all of Big Spring.

"My old Sahara Jeep was never like touring this way, Mom"

When Johnny comes sailing home again, he'll be more than ready for soft seat cushions. Through the windows he'll see that super-colossal feature, the grand old U. S. A. It will look all the better because you—Johnny's loving proud folks—are with him again. After your nights of volunteer war work—and coupons—and questionnaires—you could easily stand as much touring as Johnny.

You'll need a car that can stand it. But since the conversion from war production must take time—just as conversion from peace production did—you'll fret a long while for any new Victory model. Better preserve your present car for the duration and beyond.

One big thing working against this, plainly speaking, is engine acid! After combustion stops, and your car stands long, the acid always formed in any engine can keep gnawing undisturbed. Gone are the big mileage, ample speed and resulting engine heat that formerly kept down acid damage. Today's opposite driving conditions could multiply acid damage, except that you can have the interior of your engine protectively OIL-PLATED by the simple economical change to Conoco Nth motor oil.

There is a synthetic in Conoco Nth oil that makes it "magnetically active," as it were, attracting OIL-PLATING to inner engine surfaces. OIL-PLATING resembles other anti-corrosive plating in not all draining down at a standstill, and in maintaining interference against such a dangerous corrosive as acid. Today—and for many tomorrows—OIL-PLATE with Nth at Your Mileage Merchant's Conoco station. Continental Oil Company

Col. Fire Fighters Hope To Find Bodies

PLAINVIEW, Colo., Sept. 22 (AP)—Hope was expressed today that fire fighters would be able to reach the bodies of two men believed to have perished in a flaming, gas-filled railroad tunnel.

Timbers still blazed in the 1,600-foot tunnel 27 miles west of Denver, but chances "look better" for the fire fighters, General Superintendent A. L. Johnson of the Denver & Salt Lake Railway said early today.

The body of Vernon D. Parrish, 48, the third victim, was recovered about 100 feet inside the tunnel. He died of carbon monoxide poisoning, Deputy Coroner Norman Howe of Boulder reported.

Parrish had entered the tunnel seeking Jim Williams, 39, and Jack Kennedy, 37, Denver firemen who dragged hose deep into the bore and failed to return.

Local Men Attend Midland Water Meet

Six representatives from Big Spring were at the regular monthly meeting of the Permian Basin Water association in Midland Tuesday evening.

K. E. McFarland, sanitary engineer for the Midland-Rector-Howard County Health unit, said that a city the size of Big Spring might save its patrons up to $80,000 to $75,000 a year by increasing production costs to include use of water softeners.

Underground waters of the Permian Basin were discussed by Mr. Burnett of the unit, and Dr. J. E. Olean, health unit director, gave a talk on fluorides in water found generally in the South Plains areas.

Attending from here were Doc McQuain of the bombardier school, S. C. Cooper, L. D. Cunningham, V. A. Cross, James Lamar and B. J. McDaniel.

County commissioners left Wednesday for Midland where they will attend the three day annual meeting and war conference of the West Texas County Judges' and Commissioners' association. Judge James T. Brooks will also be present for the session. The theme of the meeting will be on war time economy and efficiency in county government.

Two new automobile certificates were issued Tuesday to A. J. Stallings and E. L. Moser by the local tire panel in session at the ration board. Also okayed were purchase of 33 Grade I tires, 64 Grade III tires, 31 passenger tubes, 37 truck tires and 43 truck tubes. Two tractor tires were also approved.

Word has been received of the death of Sam Cutbirth, pioneer rancher of West Texas, who succumbed at his home in Houston Monday evening. Funeral services will be held in Baird Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Among the survivors are Mrs. J. E. Fort, niece, and Mrs. Gordon Phillips, cousin, both of Big Spring.

Henry Steinkamp, formerly with the Soil Conservation Service here, visited with friends Tuesday. Now an ensign in the U.S. Navy, he was enroute to the West Coast to report aboard the ship to which he has been assigned.

Matters were lively along colorful NW 2nd street last evening. Police hurried to the Dreamland hotel where a Mexican man was reportedly administering a thrashing to a Mexican girl. Later there was a reported hijacking in which a negro man said he lost his roll to a Mexican. Police were skeptical but were investigating.

Mel Richards, Big Spring independent operator, wonders how the report got out that his wildcat well in northwestern Mitchell county (Richards No. 1 Erwin) had logged an odor of oil. Not only was it not so, he said, but initial reports had it occurring at a depth to which his drillers had not then bored. Right now the test is held up fishing at 3,825 feet.

When it comes to skeet shooting, officers at the Big Spring Bombardier School are looking up to Lieut. Col. David Wade, director of training these days. Yesterday Col. Wade levelled down on the first 25 birds out without a miss. Then to show that it was no mere accident, he

Sewer Contract OK'd By Army

Army approval of a contract involving the expansion of the city's sewage system was announced Wednesday by City Manager B. J. McDaniel.

Basically, the contract calls for a grant of $55,000 by the army toward the construction program and is in keeping with the original agreement between the city and the army in anticipation of the establishment of the Big Spring Bombardier School.

The payment is in lieu of any service charge to the army for sewer connections.

"The only thing that remains now," said McDaniel, "apparently is completion of our plans, advertising for bids and the letting of contracts for the job."

Originally, the program was set up to cost little less than $100,000, but by conforming with current trends in disposal plant construction and which meets with state health department requirements, changes may be effected so that the project will cost substantially less.

Home Front Must Be Kept Strong, Club Is Told

One of the dangers confronting the nation is a philosophy concerned only with "getting, holding and keeping" rather than giving to the promotion of the "American way of life," Chaplain James L. Patterson declared in address before the Lions club Wednesday.

"Sometime in our enthusiasm for the firing line, we forget the equally important home front," he said in pointing to a wave of mounting delinquency among juveniles. This, he ventured, stemmed from less apparent adult delinquency.

It is well to criticize the trend, he said, provided one had earned the right to criticize, and this could be accomplished only by doing what one could toward helping occupy the minds of children and youths constructively.

Any sensible attack upon the problem, continued the chaplain, must be based first upon the assimilation of facts and a willingness to deal with responsibility and courage. Following the course of least resistance leads to loose living and in turn this to immorality, he said.

To win the real victory in the war, "we at home must preserve a sense of dignity, balance, and poise—we must maintain a high caliber of living and avoid any breakdown of home life," asserted Chaplain Patterson.

Coahoma Studies Selling Bonds

Coahoma school students are setting the pace in war bond sales in that community, being credited with more than $10,000 in sales resulting from a class contest.

The student effort was topped off with a rally presented at the Coahoma school auditorium Tuesday night, when AAFBS hand and personnel staged a program.

Seniors are leading in the contest with $3,100 in sales; other classes—freshmen, $2,250; sophomores, $1,950; juniors, $1,150. Elementary pupils are not in the contest, but have accounted for $1,850 in bond subscriptions.

Major Harry Wheeler and Capt. W. E. Turner of the air school spoke at Tuesday night's rally, as did Coahoma Superintendent George Boswell. The AAFBS band, directed by W-O Robert Bruner, played several selections, and entertainers included Cpl. Phil Tucker, Sgt. Joe Kling and Cpl. Bill Mavromatis.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil McDonald are the parents of a son, born Wednesday morning at the Malone & Hogan Hospital-Clinic. The baby weighed eight pounds and one ounce at birth, and he and his mother are doing well. Mrs. W. D. McDonald is the maternal grandmother.

Local Man's Nephew Is Reported Missing

E. L. Newsom received word Wednesday that his nephew, Sgt. Carl Rutledge, about 31, stationed with the air corps in North Carolina, is missing following a routine flight in which the plane he was riding failed to return to its base.

Sgt. Rutledge, who was formerly employed here by his uncle at the Day and Nite Food store and at the Packing House Market, joined the air corps from Big Spring. His parents, who reside in California, notified Newsom that Sgt. Rutledge has been missing since Sunday.

Because metals have gone to war, you may have to wait for telephone service here

Telephone equipment and the lines and cables that feed into it add up to tons of metal, beautifully machined and fitted together.

The telephone system here was built to accommodate just so many telephones. Room was left for normal growth, of course, but not for such growth as the war has brought.

And almost the entire available supply of the metals that might be used to expand the telephone system to serve more customers now goes into tanks and ammunition instead.

We're sorry, but the demand for service has continued until we are unable to fill all orders for telephone service. Since we must give preference to those whose service can be classified as necessary to the war effort or to public health, welfare, or security, many who apply for telephone service here may have to wait.

If we are unable to serve you immediately we shall be glad to hold your order for service, and shall supply service of some kind as quickly as we can. Naturally we hope that will be soon, although we can't say how soon. This is a wartime condition we cannot control, but you may depend on us to help you in any way possible.

AA. Registration 110 Names Higher

AUSTIN, Sept. 22, (AP) — High school football competition for 1943 lists 540 teams and enrollment probably will increase to 600.

The Texas Interscholastic League reported AA, A and B conference registration topped last year's by 110 schools.

Registration for six-man teams is incomplete but should push total enrollment to more than 600 teams, said Athletic Director R. J. Kidd.

Britain's Air Chief 'So Bloody Inhuman'

By LEWIS HAWKINS

AP Features
 LONDON—A squadron leader who had served under Arthur Travers Harris was asked how subordinates liked the blunt man who now is chief of the RAF Bomber Command.

ARTHUR T. HARRIS

"Oh, we all loved him. He's so bloody inhuman," the officer replied.

And it's likely that "Bert" Harris appreciated that strange compliment and accepted it in the way it was meant.

Although he wields ruthlessly a weapon that undoubtedly has sowed more death and destruction inside an enemy's lines than any force ever has in any war, Air Chief Marshal Harris is no more bloodthirsty than the average professional soldier.

"Devoted to Job
 But he is 'inhuman' in his fierce devotion to his job and in his deep impatience with sham, clumsiness or soft words about that job.

This 51-year-old, up-from-the-ranks disciple of bombing as a war winner once said, "We can work like hell with the Americans."

He can and does, but he works like hell with anyone and those around him who don't work like that don't remain there long. His office day is a mere ten hours but on nights when the Lancasters and their mighty mates are out on a big job—and that plenty often—he sits at his home and keeps in almost constant contact with the main operations room by phone.

He "almost never goes to bed until the planes return around dawn and he has preliminary reports on their success.

"Rudest" Man in RAF
 Sometimes known as "the rudest man in the RAF," this stocky, sandy-haired flier doesn't particularly mind such descriptions. He's interested almost solely in his job and devil take the amenities and personalities. As he has said himself "I have employed my worst enemies and sacked my best friends."

Competent at almost any level—he has qualified as captain or first pilot in every type of aircraft the RAF ever has had—he still doesn't try to do everything himself. He encourages all suggestions, and makes himself readily accessible. But if anyone wastes his time with an obviously foolish suggestion, the Air Marshal's rough and ready tongue is likely to make him sorry he ever had the idea.

Chief of Bomber Command since February, 1942, Harris first caught the public eye in June of that year when the first 1,000 bomber attack was made on Cologne. Since then he has become the leading exponent of bombing as a means to win wars.

Bombing Favored
 Presumably he's sticking to his contention that if he could send 1,000 bombers a night over Germany for two or three months the Reich would have to surrender, but realized that there still is quite a way to go.

"Germany will provide a most interesting initial experiment. Japan will provide the confirmation," he says.

He prefers American cigarettes, and his public statements are filled with slangy, Americanese punch. Like the congratulations he sent Major Gen. Ira C. Eaker after the first Flying Fortress raid on Europe last summer.

"Yankee Doodle certainly went to town and can stick yet another feather in his cap."

Official Denies High Oil Profits

FORT WORTH, Sept. 22 (AP)—A denial that oil producers are making "more profits than ever" was contained in a telegram sent by W. L. Stewart of Fort Worth, vice president for North Texas of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, to Sumner Pike, chief of the petroleum division of the Office of Price Administration.

Stewart in his telegram yesterday asked Pike to clarify publicly his testimony last Monday before a senate committee investigating a farm gasoline shortage.

In testifying before the senate committee, Pike was quoted as saying that wildcat drilling this year is surpassing all former records, that more fields were brought in last year than ever before, and OPA figures show producers are making more profit than ever. Pike declared production had lagged behind demand and forecast that importation of oil would have to be increased in the future.

Science Cultivates Texas Oyster Crop

DALLAS, Sept. 22 (AP)—Scientific cultivation is being used to increase the Texas oyster crop, Murrel L. Buckner, chairman of the state game, fish and oyster commission, says.

The commission also is trying to popularize shark and oyster meat, Buckner declared yesterday. At its October meeting the commission will receive a report from a biologist on establishment of an oyster hatchery on the Texas coast and on the possibilities of increasing oyster production by matching and planting the young oysters on reefs and careful cultivation of the oyster grounds, Buckner added.

Fingerprints Trap Escaped Forger

SAN RAFAEL, Calif., Sept. 22 (AP)—Ossie King, 38, who broke out of the Texas penitentiary at Huntsville 13 years ago, was brought down by a flying tackle by Sheriff Walter Sellmer yesterday.

King attempted to escape while being taken from a cell to be turned over to W. R. Crane, Texas prison representative, for return to Huntsville.

King, the sheriff said, was serving a 34-year sentence for 34 forgeries when he escaped from the Texas penitentiary. Twenty-seven years of the term remain.

He had lived in California 10 years, served in the army but was honorably discharged because of his age, and later was employed in shipyards. His identity was established from fingerprints taken when he volunteered as a yard policeman, Sheriff Sellmer said.

It is estimated that 400,000 Germans and Austrians left the Reich because of oppression between 1933 and 1939.

Impassable roads? Mountainous territory? An urgent need to move fighting men, supplies and even jeeps by air? Our armed forces have found the answer. It is one of the thrilling new developments of the war—the use of gliders, which are now being produced in imposing numbers.

Can skilled metal workers and cabinet makers turn quickly from manufacturing refrigeration equipment to making glider parts? Yes indeed!

Our Refrigeration Division volunteered long ago to help Uncle Sam build gliders. The shops that once made equipment for ice cream and frozen food dealers the country over were revamped completely and old and new workers trained for this important enterprise.

INCIDENTALLY, our Refrigeration Division was created many years ago as a result of experience gained in making millions of tons of ice to produce the world's most popular beer.

Yanks Find Winning Pennant A Hard Task

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The major leagues settled down to business again today for two weeks of solid tending before the season closes and the New York Yankees took up the now serious task of clinching the American league pennant.

In winning the championship in six out of seven years before the present campaign the Yankees usually have managed to nail the flag up long before this.

Consequently the present delay is aggravating to the Yanks and their followers, even though there is little doubt that they will reach the king row eventually.

New York needs a combination of five victories or Washington defeats to eliminate the Senators. On the form the Yanks have shown, earlier these should not be beyond their powers, but the Detroit Tigers, with whom they were to open a four-game series today, have been one of their toughest foes over a period of many years.

The Yanks are not trailing any club in a season's series, but with the Tigers they are no better than even—nine victories apiece.

Future Of Ohio State Bucks Is 'Confuddled'

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Sept. 22. (AP) If that Grayling Colonel, Alvin (Bo) McMillin of Indiana, hadn't already extracted all the pathos from his "my poor little boys" phrase, you'd probably find Coach Paul E. Brown of Ohio State's Bucks borrowing it for this year.

The big, bad Bucks of 1942, winners of the Big Ten and National titles, are just the baby Bucks this season, shorn of their terrific talent and facing a future which Brown describes as "confuddled."

In last year's finale, Ohio walloped the pre-flight Seahawks of Iowa by 42 to 12 to make it a won-nine-lost-one season. This Saturday the Bucks meet the Seahawks in the opener. Against the 32-18 winners over Illinois, Brown will send five juniors and six freshmen, each of the latter 17 years old.

All his backs are fresher, and his two passers have never thrown a ball in competition. An end drops back to do the punting, and a third string lineman is injected into the lineup to kick off. The five juniors, only one a regular on last year's powerhouse, have been deferred in the draft because of such items as marriage, asthma, punctured eardrums and varicose veins.

Faced with all that, and nine major games in nine weeks, Brown grins:

"This will be an amusing season. No one knows what will happen, but it will be fun to watch these kids—most of them just three months out of high school—develop into big-timers."

Heading the Buck attack will be Dean Sensenbaurer, 175-pound freshman ball-toter and passer, and Ernie Parks, huge Negro halfback. Parks is the Ohio high school sprint champion. All the holdovers from last year are in the line. They are Bill (Dean) Willis, Negro tackle and first stringer last season; Gordon Appleby, second team center; Bill Hackett, third team guard; and Cecil Souder of the second stringers, and Jack Dugger, a third string tackle of 1942 who moves to end and takes over the acting captaincy.

BRYANT WINS
NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP)—Pvt. Marvin Bryant, 190-lb., of Dallas, outpointed George (Sonny) Horne, Miles, Ohio, in 8 rounds last night.

Paul McNutt of the manpower commission for a continuation of all sports.

Practice railbirds blinked their eyes in amazement as members of the Steer grid squad clashed in one of the roughest scrimmage sessions fans could remember ever having seen at Steer stadium.

So intense was rivalry between the first and second strings as the team prepared for Cisco's invasion Friday evening that scarcely either team could gain ground.

"Either our offense was terrific or we have potentially a better defense than we thought," Coach John Dibrell commented.

Another session of contact work was in prospect for the Steers Wednesday, but Dibrell may not let the boys clamored for more. Thursday he will taper the team off and, of course, they rest Friday for the evening set-to.

Dewie Stevenson, ace fullback of the Steers, got in on a small part of the bitter Tuesday duel, but Dibrell held him out of most of the workout to let him recover from bruises sustained in the Colorado City opener here last Friday. Bobby Barron, who has been calling signals from his halfback spot, Hugh Cochran and Leo Rusk, quarterback, played most of the time in the first string backfield, with John McIntosh and Fee-Wee Simmons alternating in the other spot.

The first string ran against the second team for about 30 minutes, but to no great avail. Similarly, the line of second backs could get nowhere against the first string forward wall.

One of the highlights was a duel between L. E. Bryan, burly tackle, and Ed McConnell, reserve tackle. Both looked good as they dealt it out to each other personally and to those who contrived to get in the way.

Dibrell let his lads "rest" by drilling on their blocking and spent another long session with his backs and ends to perfect blocking assignments as well as to show the terminals how to crash in or wait out the interference. There was some practice on punting which hasn't looked too good as yet.

Cisno has at least one dangerous man in Tompkins, the fullback. He weighs in at 160 pounds and is a triple-threat. But it isn't safe to concentrate wholly on stopping him, for Tipton, 150-pound quarterback, is fully capable of scampering away.

In the line R. Ramsower, right guard, is reputed to be 150 pounds of dynamite. He was the best thing in the line last year when he was considerably lighter.

Cisno has more of the same fighting blood in his brother, V. Ramsower at left guard, so may he be rough going for the Steers in the center of the line.

Liberty Ship For 'Muggsy'

BALTIMORE, Sept. 22. (AP)—The late John H. McGraw, Mr. baseball himself during the golden era of the New York Giants, is slated to receive an honor today usually reserved for statesmen, war heroes, the great in science and kindred profession.

The beloved "Muggsy"—and it was all your life was worth to call him that to his face—will have his name emblazoned on a Liberty ship, marking the second time in this war that a baseball figure was so honored. The first was Lou Gehrig, late New York Yankees first baseman, whose name was selected by New York school children.

McGraw's widow was to sponsor the vessel in ceremonies at the Bethlehem-Fairfield shipyard. It is fitting that McGraw should be so honored by a Baltimore launching for it was in this city during the nineties that he first came into the baseball limelight. He was a rugged, heavy-hitting third baseman, a stand-out among the old Baltimore Orioles.

ADAMS INJURES ARM
CINCINNATI, Sept. 22. (AP)—Ace Adams, work-horse pitcher of the New York Giants, injured his right arm while pitching against Brooklyn Saturday and may not be able to establish a major league record for games worked in while here.

Adams' Sunday appearance was his 66th of the year, equalling the mark Ed Walsh of the Chicago White Sox hung up in 1908.

But the company has solved the problem. Tiny magnets will be installed in the boxes to trap the pseudo dimes and prevent their being registered as fares.

'Newspaper Men May Not Be News' But Mosebach's Career Has Been Colorful

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 22. (AP)—The Uncle Mose probably would dismiss it with "newspaper men are not news" but Fred Mosebach has entered his second half-century as a sports chronicler with a story book of him as colorful as any he ever wrote of the mighty of baseball and boxing.

In 1892 the late John J. McCloskey reorganized the four-year old Texas League with four clubs—San Antonio, Houston, Waco, and Galveston. Mosebach working on the San Antonio Express, was made official scorer. He was paid the magnificent sum of $1.50 a game—when he could collect it.

Thus he was off on a writing career. In those days Uncle Mose, as he now is known by thousands of writers and baseball men the country over, wrote the doings of the league for many publications over the country.

In 1898 Mosebach contacted

Ashley Lloyd, treasurer of the Cincinnati Reds, and got owner John T. Brush to bring his team to San Antonio for three weeks spring training. It was the beginning of a long list of training trips to this city by major league clubs.

Mosebach met and interviewed James J. (Gentleman Jim) Corbett, John L. Sullivan, Paddy Ryan and Jack McAlliff. He wrote articles on Corbett twice—in 1894 and in 1896 when Jim was training for his proposed Dallas fight with Bob Fitzsimmons. Gov. Charles A. Culbertson called a special session of the legislature and passed the anti-fight law—and the battle went to Carson City, Nev.

Assignments that brought him in contact with colorful personalities allowed him to meet and know such notables as William F. (Buffalo Bill) Cody and Lilly Langtry.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK, Sept. 22. (AP)—Abe Greene, the only "Duration champ" recognized by the N.B.A.—he doesn't have to defend the presidency every three months—hopes to stir up some real action in the lightweight and featherweight fisticuffing divisions before long.

The idea, he says, is to get the once-retired Sammy Angott into the Beau Jack-Bob Montgomery 135-pound argument and to provide a logical contender to fight NBA Champ Phil Terranova in November. . . . After some urging by Abe, Angott will start a tour in Detroit early next month and probably visit Chicago, Cleveland and Portland, Ore. . . . Sal Bartolo, Pittsburgh Jackie Wilson and Chalky Wright may fight it out for the featherweight shot. . . . Complicating the affair, New Orleans Commissioner Izzy Mattes ruled that Terranova and Jackie Callura couldn't go through with a scheduled return bout there until Callura earns the shot by fighting Juan Villalba. They'll likely clash Oct. 4 or 11.

Fearful Flight
"Time was when Clemson's Tigers were afraid to kick against the wind," reports Joe Sherman, the dismal tub-thumper, "this year they'll be afraid to try to run against it."

One-Minute Sports Pass
The combined ages of four players in a doubles tennis match at East Orange, N. J., the other day was 293 years. They were Gilbert Lord, 60, Thomas Hoop, 75, William Williams, 81, and Charles Robinson, 77. . . . The youngsters won in three sets. . . . The American pro basketball league plans to run with five clubs this winter with players taking time off from war jobs to play weekends.

Watch 'Em
Couple of hot football tips just received: Word from the south is that Georgia Tech's line is the kind that won't budge for anybody—not even the draft board. . . . And from Philadelphia comes the news that the Princeton team that plays Penn Saturday already has given the Quakers a terrific shellacking in scrimmage.

You Pick 'Em
(Centering your attention on the world series center fielders.) Roy Weatherly, Tuck Stainback and Johnny Lindell, Yankees—(There's no telling who'll play) . . . Weatherly is the "regular". Hitting only .261 now but he's won a lot of ball games with clutch hits. Was suspended twice in 1941 for not hustling and was one of the Indians' most consistent hold-outs. Was the first Yankee to sign in 1943, indicating a complete cure of both ailments. . . . Stainback, a ballhawk but hits in the 240 class—usually in streaks. . . . Lindell, a converted pitcher who can powder the ball when he hits at all. Not too sure of himself in the field. May also play right field against southpaw pitching.

Harry (Dixie) Walker, Cardinals
—He's no Terry Moore, in more ways than one; doesn't get the jump on the ball the way Terry used to. . . . Hits in long streaks and might run into one during the series. . . . In 1941 he busted up the junior world series with a "storybook" homer for Columbus. Last year he might as well have brought a good book to read on the bench while the Cards licked the Yanks.

COACH HAS TO PLAY
MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 22. (AP)—The manpower shortage is really tough for the University of Miami football squad.

During scrimmage yesterday, Coach Eddie Dunn had to play in the backfield for the second team.

Editorial - - States Must Defend Rights

States' rights are imperative in maintaining a democratic form of government. The individual has a better opportunity of being represented through the channels of his local candidates, who turn the individual's case to the state and the state as a larger, stronger body can gain recognition from the federal government.

THE LONG NIGHT

By Eleanor Atterbury

Chapter 26
She was down on her hands and knees with a pall of suds and a scrubbing brush when Scott found her shortly after nine o'clock and only a few minutes before the convoy would be leaving.

His voice now. "Bette, darling, does that mean you—love me—a little—enough—to—I mean—"

Washington Daybook—

State governments, he contended, are allowing the people to bypass them and take their grievances to the national government.

Every case in which the state appeals to the federal government for monetary aid means it yields another bit of freedom and allows one more link to be built in the chain that will, in eventuality, bind states to impotency.

Our states still have the power to shake the shackles from their able bodies. It is up to the governors and people to start the job that will once again find states maintaining the individuality and singularity they should rightfully possess.

Hollywood— Feeding Animals Is Real Problem Under Rationing

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD — Curly Twiford's business, which is giving Hollywood the bird, has been complicated by war.

While other folks spread their ration points to cover families of two, three or ten, Curly has to feed some 175 birds and animals not entitled to red or blue points.

Twiford's birds and animals, including 12 skunks, are all camera-wise. He was giving some birds a work-out for "Gaslight" the other day—letting them flutter about 1870 London's Thornton Square as fellow-actors to Dame May Whitty and Joseph Cotton.

Curly studied a cage of sparrows. They all fluttered excitedly at his approach and opened their beaks for some of the special birdseed he carries in his pocket.

"But this business was simple before the war," he said, stroking a bird's head. "In those days a studio would call for 200 sparrows and we had enough trained, dyed canaries on hand to fill the train and they cost less than 5 cents each. It was a cinch.

Nothing Spectacular At A Political Conference

By JACK STINNETT
MACKINAC ISLAND, Mich. — What is a "conference?" Having been through the Republican Postwar Advisory Council "conference" here, I think I can explain.

Mechanically it's dull as dishwater. The surface operations can be brushed off in a few words. There's a general council meeting. The address of welcome is made by Host Gov. Harry F. Kelly of Michigan. He says all polite things.

The opening session adjourns and the committees and sub-committees go into huddles. Forty-eight hours later they are back with reports which are adopted unanimously and with only a few "for-the-record" speeches from the floor.

Texas Today State To Share In Air Travel

By HOMER OLSEN
Associated Press Staff
Texas is being visualized as a giant funnel through which a great volume of air passenger and cargo traffic will flow between the Americas in the postwar era.

The Texas cities which will benefit most from the forthcoming boom Frederick predicts are those, he says, that prepare for it. The airplanes, he points out, will come to those points where the cargo and passengers are to be had.

Frederick is strongly opposed to state regulation of air commerce. He cites the experience of the states with motor carrier regulation before the federal government entered the picture which, Frederick says, was pretty badly snarled.

scale within a year after the fighting stops. The war, of course, has both technically and practically given sharp impetus to commercial aviation-to-come.

can republics are due to come in for considerable commercial benefits from the postwar air program, in Frederick's opinion.

The word chocolate is derived from the Mexican chocolate—meaning foam water—a beverage they made by grinding cocoa seeds and mixing them with water.

Air conditioning is a luxury which must wait until after the war is won. That is our first job... Win the War. And to win it we must buy more and more War Bonds.

DEED REAPS RESULTS
LOS ANGELES—Leroy R. Cortell bought a battered satchel six months ago from a passerby who said he needed the 15 cents for coffee and doughnuts. Yesterday Cortell, cleaning the bag before reselling it to a friend for 25 cents, felt something beneath the lining. It was three neatly folded bills, amounting to $60.

Irreplaceable treasures from London's Lincoln Cathedral have been buried for the duration in a chamber hewn out of solid rock 60 feet under ground.

"They are young enough and there is something they can do. Each has the confidence and respect of younger women who turn to them for advice. Here women past the age for enlistment can be of invaluable aid to the WACs."

Lieut. Goldman added that "you have sons and kid brothers in the service—they need your help and you can give it by encouraging younger women to join them in the ranks, freeing them from routine tasks so that they may do their most effective work elsewhere."

The WAC office is in the post-office basement and the phone number is 280.

WAC's Need Help Of Older Women

Women 50 years of age and older can help the Women's Army Corps although they are not eligible for membership. Lieut. Mary F. Goldman in charge of the WAC recruiting station here, said Wednesday.

"Many women wish they were a few years younger so they would be eligible to join the Women's Army Corps," she said. "Often times they tell us 'I wish there was something I could do.'"

Health Officials Urge Campaigns

AUSTIN, Sept. 2, (AP)—Despite seasonal influences which contributed to declines in the incidence of dysentery and infantile paralysis (poliomyelitis), state health officials today urged continuing campaigns for better sanitary conditions.

The state health department said 135 new cases of dysentery reported for the week ending Sept. 18 were 100 fewer than the week before but brought the year's total to 9,425, and all-time high in Texas.

New cases of infantile paralysis, including delayed reports, numbered 57, bringing the 1943 total for that disease to 1,074.

TEACHER PICKS COTTON

BLYTEVILLE, Ark., Sept. 22 (AP)—Thirty-eight-year old Buek Wesley, Hornersville, Mo., school teacher who picks cotton in his spare time, is the 1943 national cotton picking champion.

Wesley won the title on a Delta farm near here yesterday by putting together 121 pounds in two hours.

The feat won him a $1,000 cash prize.

Safety Clinic Speakers List Authorities

Outstanding authorities on various phases of safety have been secured as speakers for the regional safety clinic slated for here on Oct. 7, it was announced Wednesday by Walker Bailey, program chairman for the event being sponsored by the Big Spring Safety Council.

Among them will be G. M. Kintz, Dallas, district supervising engineer for the U. S. department of interior, bureau of mines; Dave Hoover, Midland, assistant district safety engineer for Humble Oil & Refining Co.; Capt. J. O. Musick, Austin, division of safety for the state highway patrol; and Otto Peters, Big Spring, Cosden Petroleum Corp., official and safety expert.

Kintz is to present a two-hour demonstration-lecture, said by those who have seen it to be one of the most graphic safety programs seen in this section of the nation. It carries the title of "The Causes of Fires and Explosions of Inflammable Fluids with Demonstrations of Pipe and Sewer Line Explosions."

While this is of major interest to municipal, oil company and pipeline employees, it also has an abundance of material of vital concern to housewives. In fact, said Bailey, much of the program has a particular appeal to women.

Hoover is to project a fire prevention picture, a particularly timely piece since the program falls during national fire prevention week. In addition he has a brief skit in which he uses a stack of big dominoes to illustrate accident causes.

Capt. Musick, recognized as a leading authority on highway and street safety measures and accident prevention, is to be the climactic speaker at an evening session of the clinic, to which the public is urged to come. In addition, he will address school groups while he is here. Burt Haynie, state highway patrolman and who has had a prominent role in arranging program details for the clinic, said that Capt. Musick will also show some motion pictures from a complete safety library.

Peters has drafted a concise address directed at "management, foremen, and employees" on accident prevention. He devoted all of three days to preparation of this talk.

Among other items on the program is a presentation by the Red Cross, featuring V. A. Cross, sanitarian for the city-county division of the Midland-Ector-Howard county health unit, on farm and home accident prevention; a band concert by the Midland high school band; and other entertainment features. While all general sessions will be held in the city auditorium, there will be a luncheon session, sponsored by the Kiwanis club, at which Kintz will speak.

Man Nailed To Board Dies After 21 Days

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 22 (AP)—After apparently being nailed to a board by his hands and feet for 21 days in a theater, a 36-year-old Swiss died last night of a heart attack.

The man, Harry Wickley, had announced he would remain nailed for one hundred days, but illness interrupted his performance this week. He had appeared in many parts of Latin America billed as a "fakir."

Bullock Accepts Colorado City Chamber Post

COLORADO CITY, Sept. 21—Acceptance of the position of manager-secretary of the Colorado City chamber of commerce by Pat Bullock of Snyder, was announced Tuesday by W. W. Whipkey, president of the chamber. Bullock, state senator from the 24th senatorial district, will continue to serve in the state senate and will be given leaves of absence when the Texas legislature is in session.

The Colorado City chamber has been without a manager since the resignation of Jack Helton in May.

Recruiters To Be Here

Men interested in enlistment in the U. S. Navy were reminded today that navy recruiters from San Angelo sub-station are at the postoffice building here each Thursday from 9 a. m. to 12 noon. Seventeen-year-old youths as well as older men interested in Seabee and other specialized service may secure full information and have preliminary examinations by seeking an interview with the recruiters.
