

PLAIN TALK

By BILL PERKINS

Selection of McLean for the location of the Form O Uth Brassiere Company's new Texas plant has made our town the envy of many of our neighbors in the Panhandle. Some will think we just got lucky and that may in part be true. But the main factor that brought this about was that a few men just got active.

In the beginning it was only rumored that a California manufacturer was seeking a location in Texas. A few folks here got the ball rolling.

Mr. Fraser, owner of the company, had sent out letters to several Panhandle towns seeking information and letting them know that he planned to open a plant in this area soon.

McLean was not one of the towns that received a letter. McLean learned of it first from a short article in a neighboring newspaper. That's when the communication lines began to get busy with messages from McLean.

The city council had called a town meeting first to see if most of the local people were interested in trying to secure the plant for McLean.

Just about everyone present at the meeting agreed that it would be an asset to the town and urged the council to do everything within its power to bring the industry here.

Mayor Ed Lander, Cecil Callahan, Jess Kemp, Odell Mantooth, Boyd Meador, Amos Page and Larry Fuller have been working constantly since that time, without fanfare or publicity, to encourage Mr. Fraser to locate his plant here.

That they did their job well was evidenced this week when Mr. Fraser stated that McLean was his choice and signed a contract to that effect.

It wasn't just luck that brought the factory here. It may not have been any one particular thing. But, it shows that when a group of men decide to do something and really work at it, it isn't impossible to progress.

We hope this is just the beginning.

Garment Factory To Locate In McLean

Definite selection of McLean as the location for a new manufacturing plant that would employ 50 to 60 local women initially, with a potential payroll to over 100 persons weekly was announced this week.

The Form O Uth Brassiere Company plans to start operations in McLean in January or February, Calvin Fraser, owner of the company, said. Mr. Fraser was in McLean Monday and Tuesday to sign contracts and make all necessary arrangements with city officials.

The final signing of the contract this week which assures this city of the new manufacturing plant is the outcome of several months of negotiations between Mr. Fraser and the city of McLean. Negotiations began early in March.

Location of the factory will be in the building which the city recently purchased from Guy Hibler. Mr. Fraser has taken a five-year lease on the building with option to buy. All rent paid on the building is to be applied on the purchase price when Mr. Fraser exercises his option, city officials said.

MR. FRASER'S STATEMENT

By CALVIN FRASER
Form O Uth Owner

The Form O Uth Brassiere Company plans to start operations in McLean during the month of January or February.

In the interim, the company will be making preparations. Some alterations will be done to the building. Machinery must be brought in and installed. Key personnel must have preliminary training either in McLean or Gardena. And other work is involved to set up a modern garment factory.

Much is heard today of automation and work simplification. By mid 1957 the citizens of McLean will see these operating in their own city. The plant will be completely set up for proper flow and modern production methods by outstanding industrial engineers.

Initially the training of operators will be done by a cadre from Gardena. As soon as possible the plans are to train some McLean girls for supervisory work. Eventually the entire personnel will be local except for a production man and it is hoped to obtain this man from West Texas.

The personnel will consist principally of sewing machine operators. There will also be personnel for cutting, shipping, trimming, pressing, boxing, and clerical help.

The bulk of the personnel needed must have a high degree of dexterity, so a careful selection will be made and tests given, in order that jobs can be spread among as many applicants as possible.

The plans are to train 50 or 60 people as soon as possible after operations are started. Then a gradual increase will be made in the working force. There is every hope that within two or three years there will be 100 local employees.

The building will be modernized so that all the girls will have the finest working conditions. Special emphasis will be directed to the comfort and benefit of the machine operators.

The garments will be shipped throughout the southwest area. Initially it will be confined to the retail outlets of the largest and finest firm in the country. Eventually the plan is to add production for distribution to department and specialty stores throughout the mid-west.

Unlike other garment factories the work will be constant. There will be no seasonal shut-downs. The girls are assured of constant employment throughout the year.

There will be news later on the subject, but the company is extremely happy with the attitude of the people of McLean and confident of developing from McLean girls, a factory as efficient as any in the country; a factory in which the citizens of McLean and the company can both be justly proud.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Abbott spent the week-end in Borger visiting their daughter, Mrs. John Bayless, and family. Johnny Bayless returned home with his grandparents for a week's visit.

McLean Park and Hospitality MAKE HIT WITH TOURISTS

At least three families of vacationers from Ohio will always remember McLean as one of the friendliest spots in the friendly southwest, thanks to J. Boyd Smith and the accommodations of the city park.

Back in June the Jack D. Bennetts and two other families from Wooster, Ohio, were passing through McLean on two-weeks vacation trip that carried them to the Grand Canyon and other points of interest in the southwest. The tourists received permission to set up their tents and camp out for one night at the McLean city park.

Smith, who lives near the park, went over and introduced himself to the Ohioans and explained the fire whistle signal for a severe weather warning and assured them that they were welcome to use his cellar if unfavorable weather developed.

Smith said that the tourists were some of the friendliest folks he had ever met and after further discussion they said that the area around Wooster was similar to that around here in that most of the residents derived their livelihood from oil and agriculture.

Recently Smith received a letter from Ohio that said, in part: "We want to thank you for the hospitality you offered us that night at McLean. Wish you would convey our 'thanks' to the officials who were kind enough to let us camp in your swell little city park. Hope we may be able to return it all some time. We just got part of our pictures back yesterday and have been re-living our trip. We sure enjoy looking at them."

Sincerely,
Jack D. Bennett.

Bob Dwight Resigns Newspaper Position To Take Up Farming

Robert E. (Bob) Dwight, a former McLean resident, has resigned his position as farm editor of the Post Herald and Register of Beckley, W. Va., a job he has held for five years.

Dwight is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Dwight and a brother of Clyde, Jr., and David Dwight of McLean. Dwight will devote most of his time to expanding farming interests on his El Dorado farm near Beckley.

In his final column which appeared in a recent Sunday issue of the Beckley newspapers, Dwight said, in part:

"... During the past five years it has been my pleasure to report here the events at El Dorado and to tell the farm experiences of the other farm families in this area. In this period we have been growing El Dorado as a full-time business enterprise for the Dwight family. We believe that we have nearly arrived at that goal. Anyway El Dorado has become more than a part-time enterprise.

"Over 2,000 laying hens in cages and several acres of commercial vegetable crops have proven more than a part-time job. Especially since our egg production is to be mainly devoted to direct consumption sales. We expect to be able to supply approximately 800 dozen eggs per week of top West Virginia grade

AA eggs for the consumers in Beckley within a few weeks.

"That's about it, except that we realize that until our farm enterprises are fully developed we will have a rough row to hoe. But good management demanded that we devote more time to our farm. Some part-time off-farm employment no doubt will be sought during our next year or so to tide us through the thin months ahead. However, decency demands also that we not make a part-time job of writing this column which we feel is important to agriculture in southern West Virginia."

This is a good way to arrange for an unsatisfactory future . . . physical or economic.

For instance . . . some of us depend on our good neighbors to spend THEIR money in the home community to keep it going so we can make a living in it . . . while we do OUR buying somewhere else.

But . . . sort of like when a couple of fellows in a car each thinks the other one is driving . . . the habit of "Letting George Do It" can darken the future if George happens to be letting YOU do it.

And, anyhow, even if we DO have lots of good neighbors trading at home to support US, and our schools and churches and other community activities . . . THINK how much BETTER all of these would be supported if ALL OF US were buying everything we could at home.

Trading with home merchants is just good practical business sense anyhow . . . because we automatically get more for our money from them than out-of-town stores can give us . . . the EXTRA PREMIUM of community prosperity that only home business establishments can throw in for free with the goods we buy.

Editorial

CODE OF CONDUCT

"The American soldier has weak loyalties to his family, his community, his country, his religion, and to his fellow soldier. His concepts of right and wrong are hazy; opportunism is easy. . . . There is little knowledge or understanding, even among United States University graduates, of American political history and philosophy; the federal, state and community organizations; states' rights and civil rights; freedom safeguards, and how these things supposedly operate within his own system. . . . He resents hardship and sacrifice of any description, as if these things were unfair and unreasonable to him personally."

That was written in 1951 by the chief of intelligence of Red China's army in North Korea. Thus, it is an enemy appraisal. But there is truth in it—as a top American authority has now testified.

The authority is Major William E. Mayer. A former Navy officer who saw service in Korea with the Marines, he has been an Army medical officer in later years. He was the medical (psychiatric) member of an intelligence team which studied our returned prisoners from Korea. Two hundred of these former prisoners were personally examined, along with records of 800 others. Some of the findings are described by Major Mayer in an address entitled "American Prisoners and Communist Brainwashing."

At the beginning, Major Mayer says, the team had the usual preconceived ideas as to what brainwashing, Chinese style, consisted of—torture, degradation, and brutalities of every kind. Actually, they found that (though conditions in the prisoner-of-war camps were appallingly bad) less than 5% of the prisoners were given such treatment. For, to quote him directly, brainwashing "is a process of education in the theory of a way of life based on perfectly familiar and completely sound principles of psychology and psychiatry."

The Americans chosen for this process went to schools. A long lecture was followed by a thorough discussion period. This went on each and every day, in accordance with the Chinese proverb that tells how the constant drip of water will wear away the hardest stone. Additionally, petty rewards and punishments were used, prisoners were led to distrust one another, and it was everlastingly argued that they were "abandoned victims of an unpopular war." Only a proportion of prisoners succumbed—but that proportion was alarmingly high. When success was achieved by the Chinese, Major Mayer states, "Prisoners became sniveing shells of individuals without confidence in themselves or their fellows."

This, he goes on, was partly, but only partly, the fault of military training. "The prisoners caved in because of defects in the training in the homes, the schools and the churches." The prisoners were totally unequipped, it seems, to deal with criticisms of this country, no matter how outrageous, wrong and exaggerated those criticisms were.

What is the answer? The military services are taking steps, as in the President's new "Code of Conduct" for American prisoners of war. But these steps, Major Mayer is convinced, can only go a part of the way. To quote him again: "Informed parents and teachers can give American youngsters the understanding, the pride and the patriotism with which to fight 'brainwashing.' . . . Character development that creates a shell too hard for any 'enemy' to crack must be the objective of parents, educators and the military alike."

WHEN YOU BUY GASOLINE

On July 1, the price of gasoline went up. The reason was a one-cent-a-gallon increase in the federal gasoline tax, raising it from two to three cents, as provided for in the new highway construction bill.

A sales executive of a leading oil company* had something important to say about this development: "We certainly agree that good highways are highly desirable. But we do feel that motorists should realize that the new tax rate on gasoline is the highest in the nation on any essential commodity."

"The total gasoline tax paid by motorists has now risen to 40% of the retail price of gasoline. The combined national average state and federal taxes have climbed to 8.8 cents on every gallon of gasoline. On the average, for instance, when motorists buy a 15-gallon tank of gasoline . . . about $1.35 of what they pay is taxes for highways, not for the supplier's products.

THE AMERICAN WAY

Two-Headed Freak

"A motorist should look on these taxes as an investment in building better highways for his own use. The average motorist, who uses about 750 gallons of gasoline a year, pays about $66 a year in state and federal taxes on it."

There has been, and will continue to be, much debate as to how the huge federal road program should be financed. There are many who believe the higher gas tax is not the right way. But, whatever you believe, one thing is sure: that tax is entirely beyond the control of the oil industry and the industry has no choice but to add it to the price of your gas.

Mrs. Wolfe Entertains

One of the very charming events of the week was the reception given for the members of the Embroidery Club and their friends Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. T. M. Wolfe, president of the club, and in honor of her guest, Mrs. Mary Robertson, and Mrs. Emma LeFors of Pampa, former president of the club.

After an informal hour spent in social conversation, contests were introduced, the most interesting being "Sweethearts of Famous Men." Among famous men listed was the name of the sweetheart of one of the young ladies present, which caused much guessing and surmising. Mrs. D. B. Veatch and Miss Fannie Morgan jointly won the prize, a handsome box tract with J. R. Hindman for the purchase of the Hindman Hotel, the consideration being private. As soon as the transaction is completed Mr. Ragsdale will take charge of the hotel, but no announcement is made as to whether he will continue it as it is or make some change.

It is stated that this consolidation became necessary because the two run separately did not pay interest on the investment.

No one can dispute the fact that a good hotel is the best asset any town can possibly have, and in this respect there is no town west of Oklahoma City that is so favorably situated as is McLean. We bespeak for the new enterprise the favorable consideration of the public.

Mr. Hindman has already acquired some ranch property near Endee, N. M., and it is likely he will move with his family there. These good people have been identified with the town since its establishment and will be sorely missed when they leave for their New Mexico home. The best wishes of hosts of friends will go with them.

Personal
 D. N. Massay and family and Tom Massay and family left Monday for an overland trip to points in Colorado. They expect to be away a couple of weeks.

Miss Cammie Cooke is visiting with her sister, Mrs. Joe Hindman, at Endee, N. M., this week. Mrs. Pearl Hodges returned Sunday from a visit with her parents at Dodsonville. She was accompanied home by her sisters, Misses Ruby and Rachel Newton, who will visit here a couple of weeks.

This immediate vicinity has not yet been visited by a rain, but the temperature has moderated wonderfully and crops are looking more promising.

CARD OF THANKS

Not being able to reply to all who sent me cards, flowers, and visited, I am taking this way to thank our good people who were so nice to me while in the hospital and at home. Thanks again. May God bless every one.

Miss Joyce Bruner And Gordon Keetch Are Married

Miss Joyce Bruner became the bride of Gordon Keetch of Amarillo on July 21 at 2:30 p. m. in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Stephens of Pampa. Rev. L. E. Barrett officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Bruner of McLean and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Keetch of 1310 N. Polk, Amarillo.

The bridal party entered down a long stairway decorated with pink and blue carnations, the bride's chosen colors.

Baskets of white gladioli and pink and blue carnations flanked by pink tapers decorated the room.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Robert Bruner of Pampa. She wore an ice blue embroidered nylon organdy street length dress fashioned with a fitted bodice and tiny covered buttons and cap sleeves. Her finger-tip veil of illusion fell from a net cap encrusted with blue seed pearls and white flowers. She carried a white Bible topped with an orchid with white streamers.

Miss Bettye Dawkins of Claude was maid-of-honor. She wore a pink crystalline dress which was street-length and fashioned with princess lines and round neck. Her net cap was covered with pink pearls and white flowers. Her only accessories were pink earrings, a gift from the bride. She carried a nosegay of pink and blue carnations with pink and blue streamers.

Miss Mildred Stephens was candlelighter. She wore a blue dress with white accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

Bill Oglesby of Amarillo served as best man.

Music for the ceremony included "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer" sung by Miss Susie Huff, accompanied by Mrs. Betty Sue Strong, pianist.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bruner chose a white and black two-piece dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs. Keetch, the bridegroom's mother, wore a blue dress with white accessories. Her corsage was white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Harold Stephens. The serving table was covered with a white lace cloth and centered with pink and blue carnations. The three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a china bride and groom surrounded by net and pink roses.

Mrs. B. V. Maples of Littlefield, sister of the bridegroom, served the cake. Miss Helen Bruner, sister of the bride, served the punch.

Miss Sandra Stephens, niece of the bride, registered the guests. Thirty-five relatives and friends attended the wedding.

The bride's traveling dress was blue and her corsage was an orchid from her bridal bouquet. After a short wedding trip to New Mexico, the couple will be at home at Amarillo.

The bride is a graduate of McLean High School and has been employed by Dowell's Steak House in Amarillo.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Amarillo High School, served four years in the navy, and attended West Texas State College. He is now employed by Roadway Express in Amarillo.

Antelope Hunting Permits Available

Formal applications for the fall antelope hunts are ready, announced the chief clerk of the Texas Game and Fish Commission. Persons interested in the hunts should write him at commission headquarters in Austin. Blanks and instructions for formally applying will be forwarded promptly. Deadline for mailing requests for the applications is midnight August 31, which means they must be postmarked before midnight of that date. E. A. Walker, director of wildlife restoration, estimated upwards of 1,000 head of pronghorn antelope will be available west of the Pecos, where both bucks and antlerless antelope will be taken. The remainder will be in the Panhandle. Should more persons apply for the special permits than there are antelope available, the customary public drawing will be held in the commission's Austin headquarters. The hunt west of the Pecos will be in two sections. The first will be October 1 through October 5, and the second October 5 through October 7. The Panhandle shoot will be in three periods, comprising October 11-13, October 14-16, and October 17-19. The chief clerk admonished persons writing in for the application forms to indicate whether they prefer to hunt west of the Pecos or in the Panhandle. He said groups will be permitted to apply so that they may be permitted to hunt in the same party.

Hunting Licenses To Be Mailed Soon

The new hunting and fishing licenses for the state's fiscal year beginning September 1 will be mailed from Austin August 21, according to the chief license clerk for the Game and Fish Commission. Approximately 350,000 fishing and 350,000 hunting licenses in all will be shipped to the state's 2,500 licensed agents in 254 counties. Old licenses will be void after midnight August 31. Resident hunting licenses cost $2.15 and include two tags for deer hunting. Resident fishing licenses cost $1.65. The consignments will include the special non-resident license for migratory bird hunting, such as ducks, geese and doves. These cost $5. A special five-day non-resident fishing license costs $1.65.

Fraser Will Notify Local Applicants When Hiring Begins

"Mr. Fraser, or his representative, will make all the interviews and decisions as to the hiring of personnel for the Form O Uth factory which will locate in McLean," Amos Page and Larry Fuller stated Tuesday. Page and Fuller stated that some local persons were under the impression that they were the ones to see for employment, but this is not the case. The applications for employment and a dexterity test were given by Fuller and Page, but all this information was turned over to Mr. Fraser. Fraser will thoroughly study the information and tests obtained for him and will notify those who applied for employment when the hiring will be done and when the training will begin.

'I'll Cry Tomorrow' Scheduled to Begin At Derby Sunday

"I'll Cry Tomorrow," M-G-M's film of Lillian Roth's remarkable autobiography, with Susan Hayward portraying Miss Roth, will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Derby Theatre. The intimate, gripping and sometimes shocking story of a young and beautiful girl who became a star of stage and screen, then entered a nightmare world of misery and near-suicide before gaining the help that enabled her to start a new life, became an immediate best-seller on first publication. It has sold a record of 150,000 copies and has been reprinted 25 times. Previous to writing her autobiography, Miss Roth bared her 16 years of tragedy as an alcoholic on the "This Is Your Life" television program in 1953, with the moving account repeated for a second and then a third time, reaching an estimated audience of more than 10,000,000 viewers. The portrayal of Lillian Roth gives Susan Hayward an even more dramatic challenge than her roles in "Smash Up," "My Foolish Heart," or "With a Song in My Heart," three pictures for which she received Academy Award nominations. The new film is also the first to reveal the star's throaty singing voice, for Miss Hayward, herself, sings such songs, identified with the career of Lillian Roth, as "Sing, You Sinners," "Happiness Is a Thing Called Joe," "When the Red Red Robin Comes Bob, Bob, Bobbin' Along," and "The Vagabond King Waltz."

BIG CHANGES SEEN FOR 1957 MODEL CARS

Get set for some real surprises in the 1957 cars. Bodies will be lower-slung and smaller wheels will give a smoother ride. More extravagant use of glass will mean thinner body posts. Car interiors will stress comfort and class and swivel seat will add luxury. Motors will be even more powerful with automatic transmissions standard equipment on even the lower-priced models. Gadgets will abound: hi-fidelity phonographs, pint-sized radios, electric locks that secure all doors, built-in sanders for icy roads. Radical innovations, reserved for luxurious models, may include disc brakes, fuel-injection motors, and maybe air-cushion suspensions that eliminate springs.—Changing Time.

Greenbelt Hereford Breeders Cancel Sale Slated for Childress

Cancellation of the November 12 registered Hereford sale at Childress was announced Thursday by L. C. Atkinson of Throckmorton, president of the Greenbelt Hereford Breeders Association. "Drouth conditions in the area served by this association led directors to the decision that the holding of the sale this year would be inadvisable," Atkinson stated.

Directors of the Greenbelt Hereford Breeders Association met at Childress on July 26. "While no sale will be held this year, it is the intention of the directors to keep the organization active," Atkinson continued. "The annual meeting and banquet of the association will be held at Childress on Sunday, November 11, for the purpose of electing officers for 1957," he concluded.

The McLean News Phone 47 McLEAN, TEXAS

A stutterm was asked the reason why he stuttered. "That's my p-p-pecularity," he answered. "N-n-nearly everybody has some p-p-pecularity." "You're wrong I have none." "Don't you stir your t-t-tea with your right h-hand?" "Yes, what of it?" "Well, that's your peculiarity. Most p-p-people use a s-s-spoon."
