Torrid Tigers Trounce Wheeler's Mustangs 36-14

McLean's Tigers now stand as one of the only District 2-A teams undefeated after two weeks of action. The Tigers chalked their second victory of the season Friday night by swamping the Wheeler Mustangs, 36-14.

Other than the thrill of viewing a Tiger victory, fans had little to watch as the Mustang squad was outclassed and outplayed from the opening whistle.

David Crockett, McLean's all-district fullback, put the McLean squad in the lead early in the first stanza by capping a 40-yard sustained drive with a dive play from two yards out. Quarterback Don Woods packed over for the conversion.

Still operating in the first quarter, Crockett tagged his second TD of the night by charging 11 yards off right tackle. He added the conversion to total the Tiger score at 16.

In the second quarter, Halfback last yard of another drive, then flipped to End Don Cash for the conversion.

Wheeler's first sore came on a pass from Jim Atherton to Buck Holcomb good for 14 yards. Marvin Cox ran the conversion. As the final seconds ticked away, Cox added the second Mustang score. A running attempt for the bonus points failed.

In first downs, the Tigers surpassed their opponents by 17-9. In yards gained rushing, the McLean team led 352 to 193 and in Crockett came back in the third quarter to add his third touchdown of the night by going 29 yards in another off-tackle scamp.

For the final score for the Tigers, Woods sneaked the final total offense came out on top by 352 to 270.

McLean attempted three passes with one incompleting, while Wheeler tried 8 through the air and completed four for 80 yards.

Standouts in the McLean line were again Ends Don Cash and Tommy Herron. Tackles Carey Don Smith and Darrel Gibson, Guards Clyde Windom and Jerry Smith, and Center Bob Weaver.

Pacing the running attack were Crockett, Watson and O. K. Lee. Sharing the key post were Woods and Kenny Willingham.

Reserve strength in the game proved lethal, and Coach Clifford Bradshaw stated that he and Coach Darrel Christian are proud of the fact that inexperienced boys are turning in fine games.

Tomorrow night the Tigers go against one of the toughest teams in the area when they meet Groom on the home field.

Canadian remains the only other District 2-A team undefeated. They opened Wheeler for their opener and had an open date last week.

NEW PASTOR CALLED BY PRESBYTERIAN

The First Presbyterian Church of McLean called a new pastor Sunday night—the Rev. Kenneth Eugene McCall, 27, of Fort Worth. Rev. McCall preached his candidate sermon Sunday morning, and the congregation, meeting Sunday night for a sandwich-and-pie get-together, voted to call him. He will arrive this week and begin his ministry here Sunday. Rev. McCall is a graduate of McCormick Theological Seminary. The reverend is married and has one child. His wife, who is expecting their second child, will join him in about a month. Rev. McCormick will fill the vacancy left by Rev. Gerald Hill who moved to the Farmington, N. M., Presbyterian church earlier this summer.

Methodists Engage In Year of Total Enlistment

The McLean Methodist Church is cooperating with a movement in Methodism to enlist every member for Christ and His church. The church leaders are encouraging members to participate in the fellowship of the organization, within the church. The emphasis will climax with a revival led by Rev. Jim Boswell pastor of the Trinity Methodist Church, Plainview. The revival will be held November 1 through 8. Mr. and Mrs. John C. Haynes, Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Day and Rev. Jack Riley attended a Panola district organization meeting in Perryton Monday.

CUBS BOUND PAST LEFORS BY 28-0

Coach R.L. Cline's Junior High griders streaked to a wide-margin victory last Thursday night by dumping the Lefors JH 28-0. Big guns in the Cub offense were Jimmy McCarty and James Farris. They scored all 28 points. They had 14 each. The first score for McLean came in the first quarter with a roll-out by McCarty good for 20 yards. McCarty then ran his own conversion to post an 8-0 lead. McCarty also scored the second TD going on the same play to the left. In the second quarter Farris tagged the third touchdown some 28 yards on a dive play. He also ran the conversion. Idle until the fourth quarter Farris again scored for the Cub by grabbing a 30-yard aerial from McCarty. A penalty cost the final conversion and put the score at 28-0. Tonight the Cubs host Clarendon at 7:30.

GROOMSMEN SLATED TO BE TOP FOE FACED BY TIGERS

McLean's Tigers will have an acid test of their ability tomorrow night as they go against Groom, reputed to be one of the toughest teams in the Panhandle area.

The Tigers of Groom boast more depth than the Class A Tigers and will have a line out-weighting the McLean forward wall by seven pounds per man.

Groom plays the lead role in the Tiger defense having had more experience than his teammates.

Presently the McLean unit has scored a total of 68 points while holding their opponents to an even 30. In first downs the Tigers lead their opponents by 33-20 and in yards gained rushing the Tigers hold the edge of 304 to 463.

At a conservative estimate, the Groom team will offer more of a challenge than any so far in the season.

Following the Groom game, the Tigers will take an open date before opening District 2-A play.

Light Drizzle Today Marks Mild Front

A light drizzle of rain fell on McLean during the early morning hours today, but no measurable precipitation had fallen. The drizzle came following a few days of cooler weather in the Panhandle.

A 2.26 inch rain was recorded by the city of McLean on Sept. 3 which brought the year's total so far to 21.10 inches. At this time last year a total of 24.30 had fallen.

During August in McLean only .4 of an inch was recorded. In July we had 3.34 inches and 2.22 inches during June.

Dove Hunting Proves Good Here

Dove hunters around McLean reported some mighty good pickin's the first two weeks of the season as a good supply of birds kept hunters banging away. The cold snap, the last of last week, drove some farther south, but there still seemed to be quite a few birds in the area.

The season opened Sept. 1 and will run through Oct. 20.

Community Loan Fund Soars Over $40,000 in Pledges Raised for Bra Factory

Between $41,000 and $42,000 had been accounted for by noon today in the public subscription loan for the possible expansion of the Marie Foundations factory here.

The no-interest loan is being pushed by the city council here, and all citizens have been invited to sign a pledge according to their financial situation.

Mayor John Haynes said today that committees had been, and are currently, working to contact all people possible here. They will gather Friday afternoon at 2 p. m. for a final report of progress.

However in case some people here were not contacted by committees and would like to pledge money to the loan fund, a coupon is on page 5 of the News this week for that purpose.

Those wishing to make a pledge can fill the coupon on page 5 and mail it to the City of McLean, City Hall, McLean, Texas, or bring it by personally.

Mayor Haynes emphasized the fact that the city hopes to get as many names as possible on the subscription list, even if some can't pay now, in order to underwrite the goodwill of the community toward the factory.

Memphis factory owner, Cal Fraser, (who has not asked for this loan) has not announced anything definite about when the expansion will be made or if he will accept the loan.

DRIVING RULE FOR STUDENTS DISCUSSED

Monday night in a meeting of the McLean school board, the new rule pertaining to students driving their cars at lunchtime was discussed at length by both the board and visiting parents and students.

Going into effect this year, the rule allows for students to drive to and from school in the morning and afternoon, but does not allow driving during the lunch period.

Following the pattern of many other schools the size of McLean and larger, the rule was passed as a safety factor in consideration of the many grade school students as well as high school students who would be crossing the thoroughfares during the lunch period. The increasing number of cars driven by high school students necessitated some action controlling the traffic.

Find Simplicity In a Whirling, Complex World

The word, "simplicity," is given prominence in the writings of Paul. How many of us find it possible to give more than passing thought or observance to this virtue? In this era of speeding autos, and a speeding economy and society, such a word seems obsolete, indeed. Paul insists that everything, even giving, should be done with simplicity. To the Corinthians he commends "simplicity and godly sincerity" motivated by the grace of God in contrast with "fleshy wisdom." In our lives we see "fleshy wisdom" often supplanting "simplicity and godly sincerity." But how do we keep our balance in this atomic age of military horrors, whirling budgets and pseudo-sophistication? Best we recall the words of Paul and judge what meaning they have for us. If we find that we are losing sight of God's love, if our homes, jobs and thoughts are becoming too complicated, turn over well the word, "simplicity." This single word implies a concentration on divine help and understanding. It should bring home the belief that God is with us at all times. False, vain and greedy actions can have no place in the structure of the man motivated by this one, clear and emphatic concept.

Editorial

YOUR FRIENDS

It is a strange American political phenomenon that, although most of the vocal protest against more government spending and higher taxes comes from the well-to-do, it is actually the small-and middle-income people who pay the taxes. This is true simply because there are so many more people with low incomes . . .

Thus writes L. Robert Driver, in a brief article appearing in the editorial page of the Saturday Evening Post of June 6. And Mr. Driver does not merely make a statement—he supports it with irrefutable facts.

One example: If the tax on all taxable incomes, after exemptions and deductions, of over $6,000 a year were raised to 100% the extra revenue would not pay the annual interest on the federal debt, much less take care of the new demands of the spenders."

A second example: Almost three-quarters—73%—of all the revenue from the federal income tax comes from people in the $4,000 a year and under brackets.

Mr. Driver provides many an other fact and argument concerning the "soak the rich" fallacy. Soaking them doesn't produce much money, comparatively speaking, but it does stand in the way of investment and industrial expansion that would work to the great and lasting benefit of the masses of the people.

Mr. Driver's point in conclusion: "It is a paradox that those who urge reduction of government expenditures, which would help the tax-ridden 'little fellow,' are denounced as 'reactionaries,' while the spenders, whose policies are leading to his ruin, are embraced as his friends."

WRONG ANSWER

Gasoline is certainly an absolute necessity in this mechanical age. About 90% of all gas sold goes into motor vehicles traveling the highways. And this essential commodity carries a tax far higher than that levied on even extreme luxuries.

Last year we consumed just under 60 billion gallons of gas. The excise taxes levied on it by the federal state and local governments, are estimated at 4 2/3 billion dollars. On the average, each gallon is taxed 9c—six by the states and three by the federal government. This is the equivalent of slightly more than 42% of the retail price.

That is bad enough. But current programs, if they go through, will make matters much worse. For instance, a bill now in Congress would increase the federal tax by exactly 50%, boosting it from 3c to 4 1/2c.

The reason behind this proposal is that the fund which finances the multi-billion dollar federal highway program is in the red. But it need not be. A large share of the highway user taxes the government collects are diverted from highway purposes into the general funds. If all of those taxes were allocated to highways, there'd be sufficient money to meet the commitments.

If Congress doesn't want to make that allocation, it should stretch out the highway program over a longer period of time, so that tax revenues at existing rates can carry the load. Further upping of an already excessive tax on a necessity of modern life certainly isn't the right answer.

WHEN THE PEOPLE CAN SPEAK

Talk to any advocate of socialized electric power and it's an odds-on bet that he'll tell you that the people as a whole approve public ownership—but are prevented from getting what they want by powerful and predatory special interests.

It's one thing to say that—and a very different thing to prove it. In fact, the weight of factual evidence is overwhelmingly on the other side.

Over the years, for instance, there have been many local elections in which the voters have had the chance to express their minds on some phase of the public-vs-private power question. And private power has been the consistent winner.

Specifically, here's what happened in some recent elections:

Brush, Colorado, approved a new 20-year franchise for the public utility which serves it and, at the same time, voted down a plan for municipal ownership and operation.

Bolivar, Mo., rejected a $750,000 bond issue to build a transmission line for the community to connect with a co-op.

Burkburnett, Texas, voted to sell its municipal electric system to a private utility.

Herkimer, New York, voted to sell its system to a private utility.

Finally, New York City sold, for $125,840,000, its three municipally-owned subway power plants to a private utility.

That's the way the record goes. When the voters and taxpayers can make their wishes officially known, at the ballot box, they generally turn thumbs down on tax-eating, tax-dodging, government-in-business. When we do get socialism, as in the federal power systems, it is imposed from above and the people can't do anything about it.

COMING:

TRUCKS THAT DO THE NEXT BEST THING TO PAVING EVERY ROAD IN AMERICA!

Imagine a truck ride so smooth and cushioned that fragile loads can travel the worst "wash-board" roads with ease. Imagine a truck ride that virtually eliminates shimmy and wheel fight, cuts side sway on curves, makes steering far steadier and easier, keeps drivers far fresher. Imagine a truck ride that permits higher safe cruising speeds, more trips per day with all kinds of cargo over every type of road surface. Imagine a ride that keeps up to 78% of all objectionable road shock and vibration from ever reaching the driver and cargo, a design that sharply reduces twisting and fatigue forces on chassis, cabs and bodies, that keeps trucks young for extra thousands of miles. / Soon you won't have to just imagine such a ride. You can try it for yourself in the trucks that do the next best thing to paving every road in America—new Chevrolet trucks for 1960. You'll see what happens when Chevy's truck engineers design a whole new line of trucks around a whole new kind of torsion-spring suspension. These trucks are new from the ride on up—with wonderfully roomier cabs, braunier frames, style that's fresh as sixty and more! Don't decide on any new truck till you see the newest of all.

See them soon at your local authorized Chevrolet dealer's.

BOUND FOR RUSSIA—Laden with souvenirs of their life in the United States, the four Kamin brothers depart from Chicago, Ill., for the Soviet Union to join their parents. They are, from left, George, 11; Paul, 10; Richard, 12, and Peter, 3, in the arms of Chicago welfare worker Ray Hilliard. Their parents, victims of a Nazi concentration camp, decided to return to Russia in 1956. A court order recently freed the youngsters to return.

Labor Day . . . that heads up a three-day invitation to disaster made possible by 12 months of check-off dues to unions . . . when management works twice as hard explaining to the public why labor isn't laboring . . . when maintenance and repair men for General Telephone Company get $11 if called out for a five-minute job . . . when Ralls businessmen have to drive to Lubbock to mail letters that must reach their destinations Tuesday . . . when the new leisure class demonstrates maximum efficiency in the use of that leisure by stringing its guts along the highways of America . . . when the now-capitalistic labor bosses, taking surcease from advocating overthrow of government and from dynamiting management's facilities, to browbeat politicians into making speeches on the dignity of labor . . . a day set aside to honor those who are already relaxed in the vineyards, and to honor the Hoffas, Beckes and Careys and their assorted punks, goons, ex-cons and racketeers . . . a day I wish they'd abolish as an affront to the people who still work for a living.

The national cheesecake judging contest is under way again at Atlantic City. As male Americana gawks and female Americana burns with envy, the contest director (with forked tongue in each cheek) proclaims for publication: "We are not running a bathing suit competition here but a contest based on poise, charm, intellect and talent . . ." So? So one will get you five that if the 54 of the nation's fleshiest kept their clothes on the whole Miss America promotion would collapse on its face. This pageant has always thrilled me as a masterpiece of the art of misdirection. It tosses sex around with such delicate subtlety that even the most pious (excepting the Catholic hierarchy) never realizes that sex is substituting for the "typical" healthy, blushing, modest, talented American girl. I doubt if anybody in his right mind has even thought to challenge the phony hypothesis that a typical American girl is healthy, blushing, modest or talented! I enjoy the annual bust, belly and bustle business for what it obviously is, and fuddy-duddy that I am. I refuse to view it as promoting belle-lettres in this country or as a junior department of the National Academy of Arts and Sciences. Why these kids should get scholarships and a shot at some callow millionaire for doing what Candy Barr is jailed for, is moral hairsplitting in the finest American tradition.

Area Observations

From Editor Ed Eakin's column, "The Chief Speaks," in Juanah Tribune-Chief:

Grass Roots Opinion comes cheap these days. Anyone with a pencil and pad can poll the people and, by asking the right questions with the right inflection, come up with the right answer every time.

Foils can prove just about anything, starting out with the popularity of mother love and ending up with the fact that "everybody's against sin."

Americans may not know much for sure, but we've got opinions on every subject under the sun. Right now schools are a big conversation piece and if the right people were polled, you'd find an overwhelming majority would be in favor of abolishing them in favor of summer vacations, etc.

We're as opinionated as the rest when it comes to schools. For instance we would like to know why schools take such pains to offer a greater variety of subjects and then give the lowly student a choice between such courses as history and driver's education or Spanish and some insipid social of "vocational" study.

Fortunately we graduated from a country school that couldn't afford "frill" courses. We had four years of history, including ancient history, four years of English, three years of math, two years of Latin, and two of science.

Somehow or other, students were expected to learn the social graces, "how to get along with people," and such fundamentals as "how to use your common sense" as the due process of growing up. We didn't spend precious study time with a lot of milkop.

As bad as America's need to take a close look at school buildings, we need a closer look at the school curriculum these days. For instance, requiring only three years of high school English to get a diploma is a tragedy that only time can really evaluate.

Recently we read a copy of a letter written by a young soldier to his commanding officer. The youth, although a high school graduate from an accredited American school, misspelled literally half of the words in the letter.

Why can't Johnny read and write? We believe he's been majoring on mediocrity—wasting his time on "snap" courses while sadly neglecting the real issues of education.

With all regards of the sincere interests of professional educators in this country, no bonafide effort has been made to poll the opinions of the American public on the subject of schools.

The governor's committee on education last year was a dismal failure in its design to "poll the public." Most of the comments that went into the Gilmer-Alkin report did not come from the people, but from educators themselves. Ditto with Eisenhower's committee on education according to an editor friend of ours who attended one of the sessions.

We view professional planning in education in the same light that we view professional political planners. Americans need the same enlightened knowledge of our schools that we do our government. It doesn't take a politician to know "what's good for the people;" nor does it take a pedagogue to know "what's good for the student."

The Armchair Quarterback

It might be time for your old arm chair quarterback to quit! For the first two weeks he called the touchdowns exactly on both games, which few ancient seers could boast of. Of course, there may have been a slight miscalculation on the conversions, never-the-less, you can't call 'em much closer. With a prediction of 38-14, the Tigers came through with a 36-14 victory!

But I'm sure by now that the fans are anxious for an insight into the Groom game, and of course I can't quit predicting yet.

It'll be a tough fight, all right, but the Tigers will manage three touchdowns and two conversions while holding Groom to only one touchdown and one conversion to come out ahead by 22-8. But mark my words, it won't be an easy one.

Right now McLean is the ONLY District 2-A team with two victories and no losses for the season. Canadian whipped Wheeler in its opener but skipped last week and rested. All the rest of the crew have been whipped at least once. I won't discuss the details of the remainder of my last week's picks except to say that I came out with a dismal three right and three wrong for a season percentage of a drizzling .666. But, it always takes a game or two, and confidentially, two assistants were fired last week. So things will be looking up!

Here's how the rest of the 2-A teams will come out:

Gruver 36	Clarendon 8
Lefors 30	Sunray 22
Wellington 38	Memphis 14
Stinnett 36	Panhandle 14
(Don Light is still a man of mercy)
White Deer 28	Spearman 8

Yessir, you can bet your stetson on these.
