

Tigers Rated Up After 32-16 Homecoming Victory

IRISH QUELCHED IN OPENER

McLean's surprising Tigers streaked to a 24-0 halftime lead...

After a stalemate of almost an entire quarter, the charges of Coach Clifford Bradshaw ripped loose in a show of offense that netted 24 points before the halftime intermission.

Tallying the first score of the night, halfback Jimmy Watson found a hole in the left side of the Irish line...

Making a big break for the Tigers immediately thereafter, tackle Darrel Gibson pounced on a loose ball...

David Crockett, McLean's bid for the all-state state, crashed 23 yards in three plays and then bounded over for the second tally...

End Tommy Herron gave the Tigers their next break by intercepting a Shamrock lateral and racing to the Irish 39.

With halfback O. K. Lee blasting for the bulk of the ground yardage, the Tigers tacked on the third TD for the half...

Early in the second half it was a different story as the Irish came back with a hard-driving, fired-up squad...

The second Irish tally came through a delayed lateral to Jennings who then scampered 58 yards on to the end zone...

Only during the third quarter did the heavier and bruising Irish squad net appreciable yardage through the McLean forward wall...

Sharing the key spot throughout the game were Willingham and Don Woods, who both having had little experience, proved capable in engineering the Tigers to a total offense of 324 yards...

This week the team will go against Wheeler there in a game scheduled to begin at 8 p. m. Mrs. Howard Williams and her sister, Mrs. Grover Lamb of Shamrock visited their uncle, Lee R. Franks, in Highland General Hospital at Pampa Sunday. Man does not live by bread alone, but by faith, by admiration by sympathy.—Ralph Waldo Emerson

Immediately following the open house, at 7:30, the first meeting of the year for the P-T-A will convene in the cafeteria...

Membership in P-T-A at this time is running ahead of previous years, with a nice percentage of fathers belonging...

A supervised nursery will be provided at the grade school for each meeting.

MISTAKE!! The McLean News has been requested to correct a mistake appearing in its well-meaning column last week...

In last week's "Forty Years Ago" column we reported a marriage with an incorrect time. The wedding of Orma Kibler should have been at 10:30 a. m. instead of 3:30 a. m.

Mrs. Sherman White of Pampa spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Boyd.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Jo Hutcherson are vacationing in California. The Otis McClellan family of Pampa spent Sunday with the Jack McClellan family.

Eddie Grisby of Lubbock is spending this week with his mother, Mrs. V. Grisby. Mr. and Mrs. Billy Rodgers of Goodwell, Okla., spent Sunday and Monday here visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dilbeck of Lubbock spent the week end visiting their parents, the Joe Taylors and L. F. Gieslers, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Tibbets. He is married and has a two-year-old daughter, named Julie Marie.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Butrum visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. C. West, in Lubbock. Mrs. Cullie Haynes left Monday for her home in Lubbock to visit with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Rodgers, and son, Frank Rodgers.

Hindman and children are visiting in Lubbock with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hindman. Bernard McClellan visited her parents, E. C. West, in Lubbock, week end. All persons in McLean who would be interested in keeping one or more students in their home during the brief visit are asked to contact Freeman Melton Jr., president of McLean Lions. Each year the association brings a group of carefully selected young people, most of them students, teachers or social workers, to the United States for work in children's camps as counselors. These people are chosen by committees in Europe and are interviewed before their selection is made final. During the tours, they develop impressions about American life, education, etc. They have much to learn in their brief visits to small communities, and every host group which receives them is in a position to make a valuable contribution to their understanding of life in North America. The responsibility of the Lions Club includes arranging hospitality in homes for lodgings and meals, and to plan the program of visits, sightseeing trips, and any group meetings. For the hosts, ample time should be allowed for the students to relax with the families and have some free time. This is generally utilized for shopping, letter-writing, laundering, etc. Programs in the communities where students visit generally include visits to nearby factories, farms and other places to show ways in which people of the region live and work. They also include community, social gatherings, sports events, concerts, etc. In selecting students for the tours, the association generally works through student unions, governmental organizations, etc. The association itself is a non-profit membership organization governed by an executive board of education and religious leaders. Organized in 1952, the program has continually grown since its inception. All persons taking part by housing students while they are here will be given ample information concerning their stay. The following is a list of the students who will be visiting in McLean: Miss Elizabeth Sickinger—Donauster, Austria, age 18, student of pharmacy, likes basketball and swimming. Miss Monique Bonzon—Bruxelles, Belgium, age 21, a social worker, member of tennis club. Wilfried Tepper—Bruxelles, Belgium, age 26, professor of chemistry, connected with Boy Scouts. Oving Jensen—Esbjerg, Denmark, age 29, teacher of English and member of Red Cross. Dagulf Muller—West Berlin, Germany, age 21, student, interested in jazz, rowing and films. Miss Stephanie Michaels—London, England, age 18, stenographer and social worker. Miss Janet Leigh—London, England, age 18, plans to enter university to study sociology. Miss Marie Sbarica—Rome, Italy, age 24, interested in American social life, sports and ceramics. Miss Rosaneels Nicoletti—Rome, Italy, age 24, interested in folk dancing and games, a YMCA employee. MEET WHEELER IN ROAD GAME FRIDAY NIGHT

Friday night at 8 p. m. in the first road game of the season, McLean's Tigers will be seeking their second successive victory of the new campaign at Wheeler with the Mustangs of Coach Louis Boynton.

The Tigers will be going against a team equal to their own in weight. The Wheeler line averages 161 pounds per man, with a backfield average of 158. McLean has a 160 pound per man tally in the line with a 154 average in the backfield.

In their first outing for the season, Wheeler fell to Canadian, 24-0. The Wildcats, however, have been touted as one of the district's most lethal offensive units.

Early in the week, the Tigers were hard hit with injuries resulting from last week's game with Shamrock, but head coach Clifford Bradshaw said they were mainly minor bruises and sore muscles, and that the squad would be near full strength Friday night.

After the initial week in Class A play, McLean stood with Canadian and White Deer as the only District 2-A contenders to go undefeated. Panhandle fell to Gruver, 26-6; Clarendon to Stillnet, 34-6; and Memphis to Tulla, 38-8. Lefors had the first week open.

DROVES OF EXES MARK '59 HOMECOMING AS SUCCESSFUL

McLean's 1959 homecoming celebration was a rip-roaring success, according to officials of the ex-students association. According to the closest count, over 300 exes took part in the many events during the week end. At a general meeting of all ex-students Saturday afternoon, Bill Reeves was elected new president of the group, with Dorris Windom as vice president and Fern Boyd as secretary. These officers will serve until the next homecoming, scheduled for 1961.

Also at the meeting Saturday it was decided to hold the homecomings every two years, falling on all the odd-numbered years. This was primarily for the purpose of having home games for the celebration, with them falling on the Labor Day week end. Past officers responsible for engineering this year's events were Sarmy Haynes, president; Bill Reeves, vice president; and S. A. Cousins, secretary.

Special appreciation was expressed to Mead's Bakery for the doughnuts Friday night; to Brown Drug and Southwestern Public Service Co. for ticket sales; to Pat Durham and all committees for the extra work involved in promoting and holding the homecoming. Appreciation was also expressed to the school and to the American Legion for their cooperation during the two days.

Actual count of attendance at meetings indicated 250 at Friday night's coffee and doughnut session at the cafeteria, and 360 tickets for Saturday's barbecue.

- The following are among those who registered with the year of their class and present address: 1901—Allen Wilson, Amarillo; 1903—Eva Biggers McClellan, McLean; 1904—Walter J. Foster, McLean; 1906—Estelle Rippey Roach, Shamrock; 1908—Kid McCoy and Myrtle Turner McCoy, McLean; 1911—Bessie Sitter Hess, McLean; 1912—Alvah Christian, Abilene; 1913—Nona Cousins Dougherty, Shamrock; Mary Erwin Christian, Abilene; 1914—Edgar L. Foreign Students To Visit

McLean will have the opportunity to acquaint itself with foreign countries all over the world Sept. 17, as 16 foreign students will be guests in the community. Sponsored by the McLean Lions Club during their tenure here, the students are traveling through the facilities of the Association for World Travel, Inc. At 6:30 p. m. on the 17th the group will arrive, 16 of whom will remain in town through Friday night. Nine members of the group will depart Friday morning. All persons in McLean who would be interested in keeping one or more students in their home during the brief visit are asked to contact Freeman Melton Jr., president of McLean Lions. Area Observations

From editor Ed Eakin's column, "The Chief Speaks," in the Quanah Tribune-Chief:

It was September morn around the Greenbelt Tuesday. Oklahomans woke up with an expected hangover and Texans turned an unhealthy shade of green with taxacitis.

The Sooners, who have been buying Texas hooch for the past 50 odd years, are now turning the tables and are going after Texas dollars with their legal liquor.

While Texans funnel their greenbacks into the Sooner treasury, they also dig deeper into their own pockets to ante up. For instance, if you smoke Phillies Pana-whatcha-ma-callit, you'll pay two cents more per smoke. If you burn only one stogie a day you'll pay more than $7.00 a year extra taxes.

Snuff dippers were the only category to escape the scourge of the tax machine. What possible influence they could have over the lawmakers, we'll never know. If anybody's interested, here's a prime case of discrimination.

Red Premier Khrushchev's visit to the U. S., has elicited various comment pro and con in the American press. Few Americans—including the Chief, can visualize all the political implications involved. Probably only history will tell the final story.

Whether Khrushchev's visit will be to our advantage remains to be seen. However, if this nation is to lead the free nations of the world, we have the disadvantage of offering some nations certain measures of freedom they would not offer to us. We must take the initiative.

Second, we have no reason to believe the Russians have changed their tune and actually believe in co-existence of Communism and Capitalism. They were able to dupe Roosevelt into Yalta with sweet overtures of peace, but so was Hitler able to manipulate Chamberlain into Munich.

FDR's first cousin, Theodore, had the right idea, "Walk softly and carry a big stick." We must remain alert, cautious, yes and also suspicious if we are to survive. Vigilance, you know, is the price of liberty.

Another viewpoint of the continual white-colored controversy from Ernest Joiner in the Ralls Banner:

I never fail to get a boot out comparing white and colored schools in our small Texas towns where communities piously adhere to a droll policy of "separate but equal" educational facilities for white and colored. The Ralls colored school got a new building recently, a government surplus clapboard barracks. If this building had been placed on the white side of town, any yard work would have been performed by a hired custodian. But the colored school, being separate and equal and a bunch of stuff, has its students out working to clean up school grounds, mow weeds, and make with the shrubbery. And here is a place where the separate and equal nonsense benefits the colorations. It would be very healthy and beneficial to white youth if it were required to care for the landscaping around it, school. If taxpayers can furnish buildings, why can't these kids help keep them looking nice? Instead, they have devoted a summer to destroying and mutilating their school and its grounds. The white school yard is the traditional dumping ground for refuse and debris, put there under the mandate of youth to "have a little fun." If it's fun to put it here, why can't it be fun to haul it off? Are white people above having their children stoop to keeping a lawn clean, mowing grass or cutting weeds? Why should taxpayers have to furnish schools then employ custodians to clean up the weeds and blow noses of unseparate and unequal white kids? For lack of a physical education program, I suggest that if Ralls High School students could spend an hour a day cutting grass and picking up their own filth off the grounds, they'd have trimmed waist lines, better regulated livers, rosier cheeks, and a healthier respect for their own property. An hour a day pushing a lawn mower is better exercise for a football gladiator than a few lazy, lethargic laps around an expensive cinder track, and it doesn't require a $5,000-a-year coaching expert to oversee it, either. Ralls folks didn't intend it that way, but when they threw up that shanty on the campus of Cook Colored School, they inadvertently handed the colored kids an advantage. They're cleaning and beautifying what little they have, and may perhaps learn something of the value of doing for themselves. With luck, the white kids may learn the same lesson by the time they're 40.

Economical facts from Don Earnley in the Wheeler Times:

When you buy a 26c-package corn flakes, you're getting three cents worth of corn. In a 20-cent loaf of bread, you're getting 2 1/2 cents worth of wheat.

According to the Treasury Department, the revolutionary war cost the United States $113,600,000. This amount would now run the government about 12 hours.

You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.

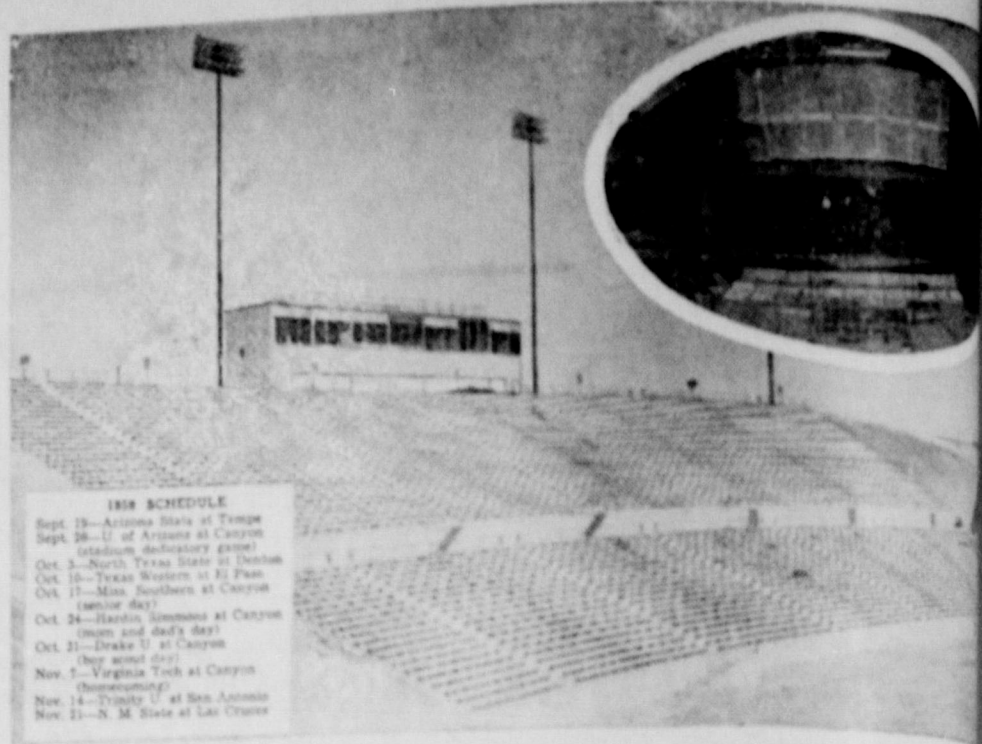

More thoughts to ponder from Douglas Meador's "Trail Dust" in the Matador Tribune:

It is generally believed that clover-leaves on the freeway to perdition are designed to create confusion, but bring the traveler back on his original course.

If man merely worked like a horse and drank like a fish he would cease to be a problem to society.

Gentle autumn has passed thru the corridors of night skies and left a trace of perfume on the stairway to the dawn. Summer, with a faded rose in her hair, has probed the mystery of a lover's intuition, and tasted bitterness in the cup of time. The winds are whispering behind her back; a younger and fairer season has designs of the land.

Spiritual bankruptcy is inevitable when a man is no longer able to keep the interest paid on his moral obligations.

Editorial

ABOUT-FACE

One of the important provisions of the Transportation Act of 1958 concerned the discontinuance of passenger train service for which there is no longer any need or demand. The act provides procedures whereby the railroads can rid themselves of this service with reduced delay and red tape. That was a long-needed reform—since World War II, losses from such service have totaled a staggering $7,500,000,000 and, in the view of the Senate Interstate & Foreign Commerce Committee, threaten the present and future welfare of the vital railroad industry.

But now bills are pending in Congress which would undo all the good the 1958 act has accomplished in this regard. These bills call for drastic changes in procedures which would make the discontinuance of unneeded service more difficult, if not impossible.

The results, as transportation experts point out, would be dire indeed. The railroads' efforts to eliminate the needless wasting away of their financial strength would be blocked. The national defense would be adversely affected in that the railroads would be forced to waste on useless passenger service funds which are sorely needed to modernize and enlarge their facilities. And there would be more "required featherbedding"—in the form of protected jobs in the unneeded services, and in payment for work not performed.

Incidentally, the avowed purpose of the bills is to prevent railroads from discontinuing deficit-ridden commuter trains in the New Jersey-New York City area. But, being federal measures, the provisions would affect all trains everywhere.

In sum, Congress is being asked to do an about-face, and to turn its back on legislative reforms which were affected only after the most exhaustive investigation and debate. That's something the country can't afford, in order that a comparatively few persons may ride for less than cost.

IS PROFIT SINFUL?

"Occasionally we read of certain people criticizing corporations because they have had a profitable year. They take the attitude that it is almost sinful to make a profit . . ."

That observation comes from William Park, chairman of the board of the American Stores chain grocery system. And it deals with a state of mind that presents a very real danger to the welfare and future progress of this country.

For, as Mr. Park points out, the whole free enterprise system, and all the employment and job security it provides, depends on profits. In his words, "It is from these profits that money comes for further growth and expansion of the business, providing additional job opportunities. It is also from profits that stockholders receive dividends for the use of their money which they have invested to finance the business." It's certainly obvious that if there were no chance of profit, people wouldn't put their savings into business—and progress would come to an abrupt end.

Finally, the profits earned by enterprise, for the most part, are smaller than is generally realized—in the case of grocery chains, 1 to 2 cents on each dollar of sales. Other types of chain systems show similar results. The customer gets a huge amount of service for a mighty small "wage."

A BETTER JOB

Farmers often complain about the price of tractors and other mechanized equipment. That's only human nature. We all tend to kick when the cost of anything we want and need goes up.

Farm equipment is an intensely competitive industry, with a long list of producers vying for the farmer's favor and patronage. No manufacturer raises a price out of choice. But the makers of farm machinery have been caught in the same inflationary spiral as the rest of us, with wage rates and material costs soaring. And it speaks well for their productive efficiency that, percentage-wise, the selling prices of their products has risen substantially less than wage and material costs.

Moreover, the machines are more efficient, longer-lasting, and more trouble-free than used to be the case—and that in itself is a form of price reduction to the user. Then, to cap the climax, farmers, as agricultural economist Karl D. Butler puts it, want . . . equipment and accessories that will help them do a better job faster and with less backache."

For instance, a poll was recently taken in the key farming state of Iowa. It was found that 79.8% of farmers wanted power steering on their tractors; 76.4% wanted lights, 75.3% wanted independent power take-off; 73% wanted hydraulic controls, and so on down the list, with varying percentages wanting automatic transmission, heaters, radios, etc.

Equipment of this kind is expensive. And, as with anything else, those who want it and get it must pay the costs.

ONLY ONE OF ITS KIND—A relic of the colorful past, this odd vehicle is a railway locomotive once used to haul logs in the wilderness of Canada. The engine, which runs on the ground instead of on rails, pulled the log train during the 1909-1925 era. The only one of its kind in the U.S., it was exhibited at the Mitchell County Fair, Osage, Iowa.

has vetoed the second housing bill sent to him by the Congress.

I can appreciate the attitude of certain features of the bill, to wit, urban renewal and public housing. As to urban renewal I do not feel that the federal government should be required to pick up a sizeable portion of the tab to renovate commercial and semi-commercial property that has been milked for profits year after year. Certainly, there are many portions of many cities that need renovating insofar as this type of property is concerned, but I do not feel that it is the responsibility of the general taxpayer in the United States to pay a large portion of this bill. Public housing has been highly controversial at all times. I sincerely wish it were possible for those people, who find it necessary to occupy public housing, to be able to finance and purchase a home of their own. However, it appears that point in our economy has not yet been reached, when housing facilities in many areas can be afforded to the low income group of our society at a price they can afford to pay, or on a credit program acceptable to money lenders. That is the reason there is such a hue and cry from most of the large city areas for public housing—city areas that have many members in the national Congress. The same problem is present with regard to the aged, although it is not a problem of the tremendous size as that of the general housing problem. Unless dwelling accommodations can be made available to the aged at a price within their economic range, the demand for public housing, or low-cost money to build this type of housing, will increase measurably in the very near future.

It has always been my contention that one of the greatest bulwarks this country has against Communism is home ownership—the right and privilege of private ownership of real property that one can call his home. It is this basic principle that has led me to continue to support the FHA programs. These programs have made it possible for thousands upon thousands of Americans to own and establish a home in the early years of their lives—a privilege that was denied many of our ancestors. Home ownership has gained such wide acclaim and approval that it is wholly inseparable from our general economy.

It affects everyone from the man who chops down the trees to the last clerk in the bank and money lending institutions who puts the stamp of approval in closing the final loan. The Donnybrook between the President and Congress on the housing issue has created a situation that is causing the government to be writing "hot checks" or "hold checks" in issuing commitments incidental to the federal guaranty of housing loans. This has created a situation that has enabled the large money lending institutions of this nation to reap a tremendous profit at the cost of the contractors, the builders, the smaller money lending institutions, and John Q. Public. I sincerely hope that this controversy can be resolved before this Congress adjourns, because I would hate to see this situation of permitting these unconscionable profits to go on until the first of January.

WALTER ROGERS REPORTS To the People

Nothing Funnier Than Truth

In a recent newsletter I discussed the attempts of the federal government to dictate the design and operational features of automobiles. In the last paragraph of that letter I called attention to an observation of one of my colleagues who has an excellent sense of humor. I quote the paragraph referred to: "One member was heard to observe that the next thing we know, rural mail carriers will be driving foreign-made cars, and some bureaucrat in Washington will require all of the farmers to shorten the posts supporting their mailboxes so the mail carriers will not have too much difficulty in delivering the letters from their low-slung automobiles."

Another member of Congress read this newsletter and told me that this was not so far-fetched, because it had already happened in his district. He offered to let me have a copy of the letter he received concerning it, and I was very pleased to get it. I will not use the name of the Congressman or of the letterwriter for obvious reasons. Here is the major portion of the letter received by the Congressman:

"The other Day I got a note on a U. S. government slip to lower my mail box to three feet it has been a little higher all the time I don't think you know why I will tell you.

The mail man has bought a new car and it is one of those little cars of a torn make and the box is to by for that make he is working for U. S. A. gets his money from same he has stopped the sale of the American car. Our workers are lade of. is he a real American Stop this in our government."

The Congressman took the matter up with the Post Office Department and was advised that it would be the policy of the particular region in which this was located not to require the raising or lowering of rural boxes to conform with changes in the mode of travel of the carrier. The flaw here lies in the fact that the Post Office Department has been divided into regions throughout the country and the "region" referred to here is not located in the Southwestern part of the United States. I sincerely hope that the region in which Texas is located does not permit any "notes on U. S. government slips" to be sent out in our area.

... does your water heater
GROWL AT YOU?

Old water heaters often get so ornery they do growl at you — and, in the middle of the night, that can shake you up a little. If you have a rumbler at your house, replace it now with a rapid recovery electric water heater — the hottest thing inside and cool as can be outside. Safe, too, with insulation all around and the elements inside. Put it anywhere at all — it has no vents because it has no fumes. No growls nor rumbles, either.

Wilbur Wilson Named to FHA

Wilbur Lee Wilson of McLean is the new member of the Gray County committee for the Farmers Home Administration. He succeeds George F. Saunders of McLean, whose term expired June 30.

Wilson is a native of Gray County. He is well acquainted with all phases of agriculture. James D. Gouldy, county supervisor for FHA, says that Wilson's practical experience will enable him to make a real contribution to the county committee's actions when they review loan applications.

Serving with Wilson during the coming year will be William C. Epperson and Fred S. Vanderburg of Pampa.

There is a Farmers Home Administration county committee serving every agricultural county in the country. All loan applications must be approved by the committee before funds can be advanced. The committee also helps the county supervisor adapt the agency's loan policies and services to local conditions.

The Farmers Home Administration makes loans to farmers to buy livestock and machinery, to finance annual operating costs, to improve buildings and fences, and to purchase land.

The agency also lends money to farmers or their non-profit associations to establish and carry out approved soil and water conservation practices as well as for installing and improving irrigation and farmstead water supply facilities.

Be an Angel; Serve These Heavenly Tarts

BY DOROTHY MADDOX

The Queen of Hearts made some tarts all on a summer's day. You may want to do the same. These are quite "heavenly."

Cherry-Lemon Angel Tarts (6-8 servings)

Four eggs, separated, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/4 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1 1/2 cups sugar, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind, 1/2 cup quartered maraschino cherries, well-drained (about 20 cherries), 1 cup heavy cream, whipped.

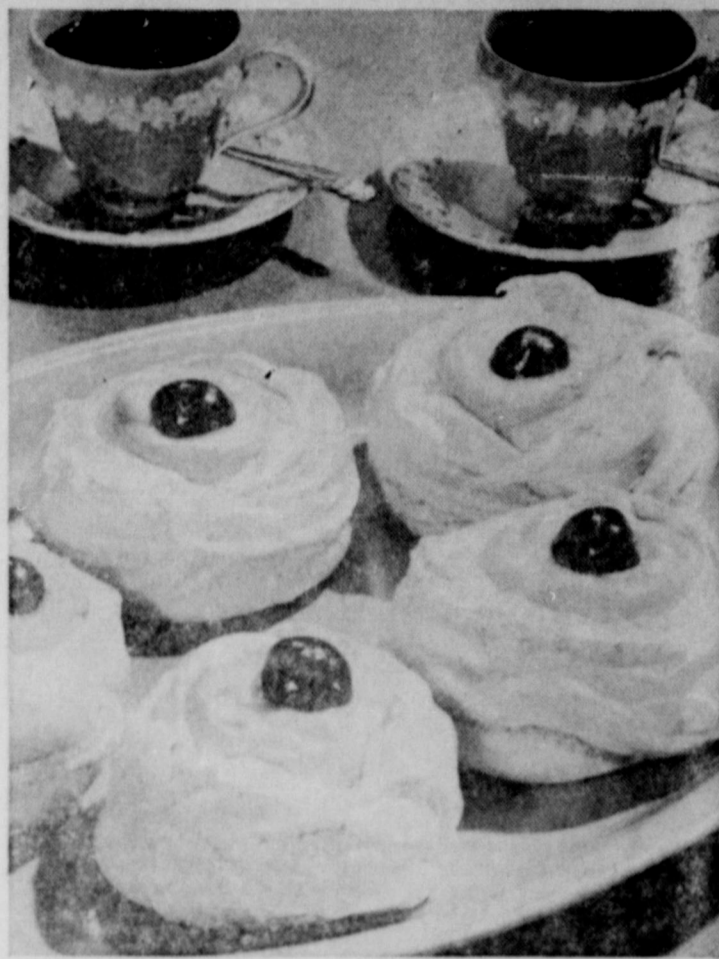

Combine egg whites, salt and cream of tartar. Beat until foamy. Gradually add 1 cup sugar, a tablespoon at a time, beating constantly until stiff and glossy. Lightly grease brown paper and place on baking sheet.

Spread meringue in 6 or 8 tart shapes on brown paper. Bake in slow oven, 275 degrees Fahrenheit, 50 minutes or until lightly browned. Cool. Meanwhile, beat egg yolks slightly. Add remaining 1/2 cup sugar, lemon juice and lemon rind.

Cook over boiling water until thickened (about 4 minutes), stirring frequently. Cool thoroughly. Fold in cherries and cream. Fill meringue shells with cherry-lemon mixture. Chill.

Cherry-Pineapple Tarts (6 servings)

One-quarter cup chopped maraschino cherries, drained (about 10 cherries), 1 1/2 cups drained, canned, crushed pineapple, 2 tablespoons pineapple juice, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1/2 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 1/4 cup chopped filberts, 1/4 cup sugar, dash salt, 1 recipe plain pastry. Combine cherries, pineapple, juices, lemon rind, filberts, sugar and salt; mix thoroughly. Roll pastry out on lightly floured surface to 1/4-inch thickness. Line 6 2 1/4-inch muffin pans or cups with pastry; trim and flute edges. Fill with cherry-pineapple mixture. Bake in hot oven, 425 degrees Fahrenheit, 20 to 25 minutes.

Light and delicious, cherry angel tarts are ideal dessert treats for balmy summer and early autumn days.

CRAZY ACTION—Two tennis players in Brookline, Mass., seem to have more than they can handle. Neal Frazer is about to make a smash, while his partner, Roy Emerson accidentally drops the ball he had been holding.

The Armchair Quarterback

Yessir! A little respect was gained for the prognostical talents of this old on-looker after last week's games.

Only one miss to the whole list. Gruver trounced on Panhandle to the tune of 26-6 in the face of my forecast of a 14-0 win the other way around. That's what happens when I let my partner pick one for me!

Note that I had the touchdowns pegged exactly for the McLean game, but I missed a little on the conversions. White Deer, Canadian, Stinnett and Tulla all came through as predicted.

After one week this dependable forecaster has the admirable percentage of .833. So pay attention while I float on to you the outcomes of this week.

The Tigers will fall with extra point conversions on one of their five touchdowns to score 38 points while holding the Wheeler boys to a mere 14 points. That will be the final tally—38-14.

In games of other 2-A teams, here will be the outcomes:
White Deer 24, Stinnett 22
Childress 32, Panhandle 16
Spearman 22, Clarendon 14
Memphis 24, Estelline 8
Shamrock 16, Lefors 14
Canadian—open

You can stake your hat by 'em, so the main thing is to go to Wheeler with the Tigers and watch the team roll. The prediction is considered with a big crowd, which otherwise might decrease the score of the hometown as much as 6 points!

Couldn't pass on without a few comments on last week's game. McLean's lightweight surprised a lot of fans.

The total offense of McLean surpassed the Irish by the margin of 324-270, a pretty fair gap. Rushing, the Tigers passed their opponents by 302 to 270.

Of Davy Crockett came through in his freight-train fashion for a large portion of the pie, but everyone already knew he was one of the best backs in the country.

A couple of nice surprises came in the persons of Jimmy Watson and O. K. Lee, who both toted the ball like Jesse Owens on a straight-a-way. It's pretty comfortable to have a backfield full of runners. Don Woods and Kenny Willingham eased a lot of minds on the post spot, too. Especially when lean Don Cash hooked in the scoring pass that traveled something like 24 yards. And those gaping holes in the Irish forward wall were to the credit of some of the linemen who before were considered inexperienced. Boys like Bob Weaver, Clyde Windom, Carey Don Smith, Darrel Gibson and Tommy Herron all did good jobs. Herron even tried to nose out a backfield position once!

Here's how the backs did the first time out: Crockett took total yardage honors with 147 in 27 carries for a 5.1 average. Jimmy Watson was tops in the average department with 8.2 yards per carry. He carried 9 times for 73 yards. O. K. Lee tallied a total of 79 yards in 14 carries for 5.6 per yard. That's pretty good gainin'!

After she'd drun through a stop sign without noticing it, the instructor leaned toward her and said, "Did your husband ever tell you what beautiful brown eyes you have?"
Fearful of what was coming next, she blushed and answered, "Yes."
"Good," he said. "Then use them!"
