

No Scabies Here Ranchers Informed

"As far as I know there hasn't been any report of scabies around McLean or in Gray County," Ralph Thomas, county agent, told the McLean News Tuesday. Ranchers in this area have been particularly concerned with this cattle disease since a small outbreak was discovered in Hemphill and Ochiltree counties this week.

The furor increased when California and then Arizona banned shipment of Texas cattle to their states.

Thomas said he didn't think the situation here was very serious, however. A state inspector was in Gray County this week tracing down the shipment of a certain herd, and he told Thomas he had not found a trace of the disease here.

Scabies may be present when bare spots are seen on cattle and the hide is rough. Hair is rubbed off in patches.

However, it takes a magnifying glass to make a positive identification, Thomas said, and therefore a rancher suspecting his cattle have the disease should contact a veterinarian.

A spray known as BHC is used to prevent the scabies. Cattle being shipped to California and Arizona must be dipped before loading.

McLEAN SCHOOLS TO NOTE TEXAS PUBLIC SCHOOL WEEK

Across the state of Texas cities and communities will simultaneously observe Public Schools Week March 2-6, and activities have been planned in McLean in accordance with these days.

An invitation will be open throughout the week and all persons in the community are invited to visit at any time. Classes will be carried on as usual.

On Friday evening, March 6, an open house will be held from 6 to 8 p. m. at the close of which a concert will be given by the McLean elementary and high school bands. During the open house all teachers will be in their rooms to meet with the parents and to go over some of the work of their students. There will be no charge for the band concerts.

As another event during the week, the McLean Lions Club will hold their regular meeting in the school cafeteria and then visit the classrooms after lunch.

Superintendent of School Freeman Melton, Jr., issued the invitation on behalf of all the teachers, school board, and school administrators to all persons to visit the schools during the week.

FREEMAN MELTON, JR.

MELTON RE-ELECTED SUPT. OF SCHOOLS

At its last regular meeting, the McLean Independent School District board re-elected Superintendent Freeman Melton, Jr., for another term with the McLean schools.

Supt. Melton is now serving his eighth year in the McLean schools. Before becoming superintendent he was high school coach for one year; principal for two years; and has served the past five years in his present position.

Other school employees will be hired in March and April.

WINNING SPELLERS NAMED

McLean's four top student spellers representing grades 5, 6, 7 and 8, were determined Thursday night in the annual spelling bee.

Winners in the bee were Trudy Fultz, 5th grade; Freddy Smith, 6th grade; Joyce Beasley, 7th grade; and Marilyn McElroy, 8th grade.

The winners will now compete in the county spelling bee and the county winner will go to Amarillo for the regional meet. The winning speller will eventually win a trip to Washington, D. C., to the national meet.

Others competing in McLean were, 5th grade: Janice Barker, Martina Giesler and Linda Evans; 6th grade: David Nicholson, Elaine Baker, Judy Candler, Stewart Herndon and Joe Pierce; 7th grade: Larry Williams; and 8th grade: Linda Gull.

All the students competing were those remaining after classroom elimination prior to the bee. Rev. Gerald Hill pronounced all words for the spellers.

Neal Is New Co-Publisher

QUANAHAN IS TO SERVE AS NEWS EDITOR

Bill Neal, former Amarillo Globe-News sports reporter and native of Quanah, bought half interest in the McLean News this week.

Neal purchased the interest formerly held by Joel and W. R. Combs. He and Charles Cullin, editor, will be co-publishers, and Neal is to reside here, serving in the capacity of news editor. In addition he will edit another publication printed here.

For the two partners it will be a reunion in the newspaper business. The pair first worked together when Cullin was business manager of the Hardin-Simmons University weekly paper and Neal was staff writer.

Later when Neal was editor, Cullin served on the staff. After graduation, Neal took a job as reporter for the Pampa Daily News and Cullin was hired as sports editor there.

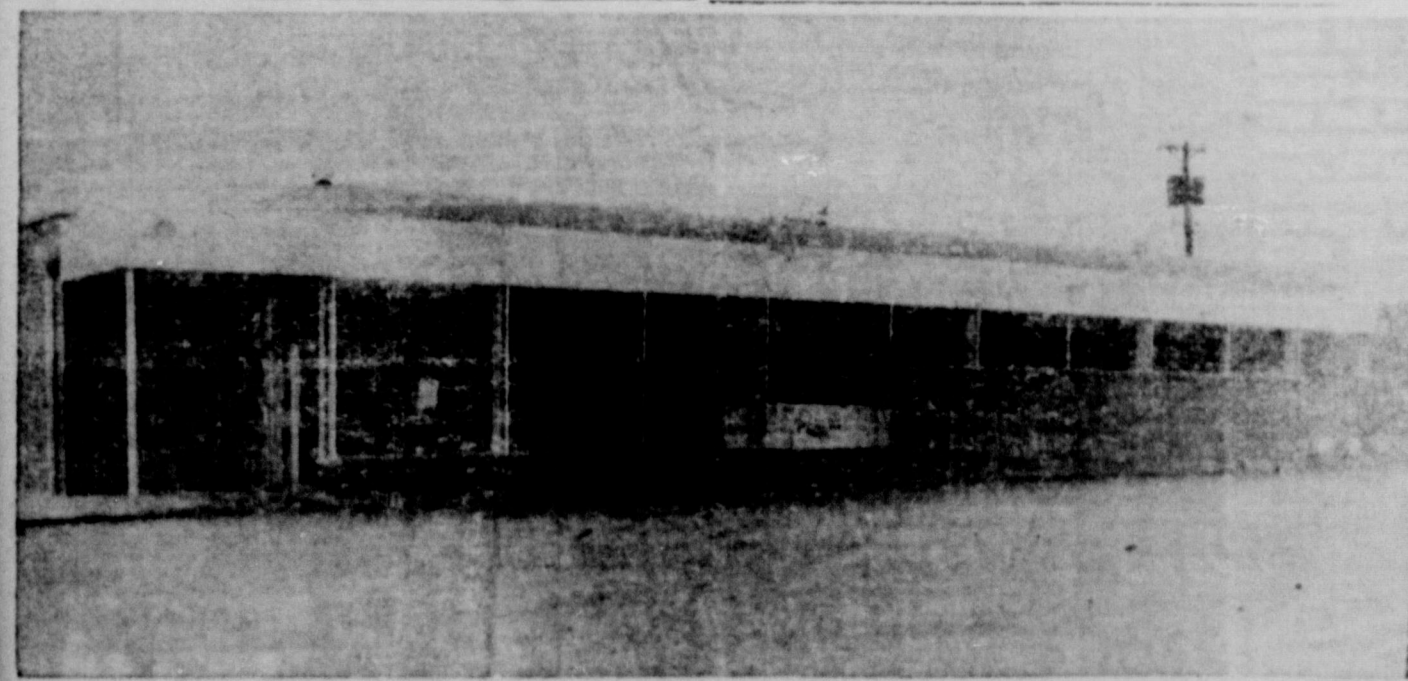

The reportorial duo was broken up when Neal went to the army. After serving his hitch, the newsman worked as a reporter for the Abilene Reporter-News and later the Amarillo Globe-News, where he has been employed until coming to McLean last week.

HAS TYPE, IS WRITER—Bill Neal, former daily newspaperman, will be the new co-publisher of this paper beginning this week. He will also serve as news editor. A native of Quanah, he was with the Amarillo Globe-News until recently.

Unmarried, white, and 24 years old, Neal has a room at the home of Mrs. Willie Boyett here. He is a member of the McLean Lions Club.

Although never regular associated with a weekly, Neal cut his newspaper teeth by hanging around the Quanah Tribune-Chief said.

Area Observations

Pat Bennett of the Crosbyton Review reviewed the tax collector's case during a recent invasion of license plate purchasers. One driver who stopped in for car tags produced an envelope when asked for his car title.

The confused clerk protested but the driver insisted that the title was in the envelope. She opened the letter and read: "Dear Sir: I will sell the bricks to you for 3 cents a piece. If you don't want them, let me know. (Signature)"

The collector showed it to the would be buyer. "Good gosh, I've mailed my title," the man ejaculated. However, a further search of his pockets revealed the title elsewhere.

After paying for his tags, he rushed off to the post office to try to find out what he had mailed.

Mary Cornelius in the Moore County News recently expounded on today's sounds around that town compared to those when Grandpa had his heyday. Now she is sick, sick, sick-of absorbing sound waves and looks for peace and quiet.

...question of the week: "Since horses use blinders to eliminate visual distractions, why can't we try ear plugs and avoid auditory nuisances?"

Our McLean News comment of the week: One of Mary's auditory nuisances happens to be American Bandstand on T. V. We suggest that she would enjoy the program more if she tried ear plugs and blinders.

Earl Wilson, Amarillo Globe-News: "Accuracy is to a newspaper what virtue is to a woman. Of course, a newspaper can always print a retraction."

electric clothes drying's a breeze!

★ We'll all agree, to dry clothes you need a breeze — and breezes come in two styles. There's the outdoor breeze that tears clothes, covers them with dust particles, and chills you to the bone. Then there's the indoor breeze which is gentle as a lamb on the clothes and on you. An electric clothes dryer is the way to get that soft and fluffy breeze, and it's the way to have the sweetest, whitest wash in town. Make clothes drying a breeze — electrically.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

Public Schools Week was founded in 1950 and launched for the single purpose of advancing the general interest of public schools. In the ensuing eight years, Public Schools Week has fast become a tradition in Texas. It has won the whole-hearted support of the school authorities and the cooperation of countless individuals and organizations.

Public Schools Week was born of a great need. In 1950, public-spirited men and outstanding friends and supporters of the public school system were shocked to discover the apathy of the citizens, generally, concerning the needs of our public schools system. Shortages of teachers had developed, bond issues for improvement, enlargement and addition to schools were losing support, and it was difficult to interest men to take the responsibility of seeking board positions. Abnormal wartime crops of babies were emerging from statistics into living youngsters lining up for enrollment in already crowded classrooms.

The observance of Public Schools Week is traditionally held the first full week of March, subject, of course, to official proclamation by the Governor of the State of Texas and an official resolution by the State School Board.

The objective of the Texas Citizens' Committee for Texas Public Schools Week for the past eight years has been that of getting as many people as possible interested and active in visiting their schools. It is estimated that 1,850,000 persons participated in the 1958 school visitation program.

The public school cannot be taken for granted. It is constantly under attack from sources not always too clearly revealed. Through a common understanding of what schools are doing and their problems, the better prepared the public will be to defend and protect this instrumentality of life that is as American as the names George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Out of our public schools come the future leaders of our country, and in the hands of these future leaders rests the hope of the world. Pay tribute to the schools during the week of March 2 through 6. That's public schools week, and a fine time for all McLean citizens to go back to school for a day.

FARMING THE FARMERS

If you are a taxpayer, and who isn't, some figures on crop price supports published in the Wall Street Journal are worth remembering.

Out of some 250 farm crops in the U. S., only 32 have price supports or fixed minimums.

Just three of these, wheat, cotton and corn, account for 85% of surpluses stored by the government although they produce only 20% of the total cash farm income.

For over $9 billion of surplus crops by July 1, storage will cost some $1 billion a year.

The price-support program "does little to help the farmers in greatest difficulty," says President Eisenhower. The bulk of the money goes to big producers of a few crops.

"Cultivating" the farmers to produce a crop of votes is an old political pastime but it may become less popular as the farmer-taxpayer becomes better informed.

The majority of farmers raise crops that are not covered by price supports and do as well as other businesses over the years. They do not raise surpluses for the rats to eat while they and everyone else pay taxes to maintain artificial production and prices.

Consumers and farmers are the victims of politicians who "farm" the farmers to raise a crop of votes for themselves and taxes for all.

FULL AND EQUAL PARTNERS

The miracle of American mass production is incessantly praised and described, and with good reason. It represents one of the great economic revolutions of history. But we should not forget that it has a full and equal partner in mass distribution.

A study made by the Twentieth Century Fund some time ago observed that "the high degree of specialization in American industry, simplification of design, and the lavish use of automatic power-driven machinery in turning out low-cost standardized goods would be impossible without the means of assuring mass consumption in a mass market." It added: "The true significance of technology in raising the American standard of living is apparent only when production and distribution are viewed as a unified process. Then it is clear that technological progress has brought over the years and decades a steady lowering of the real costs of supplying the consumer with an ever wider range of useful goods and services.

Nowadays we take mass distribution for granted. But that certainly wasn't the case in the past. When the first chain systems pioneered the idea of selling big quantities of goods at far smaller unit profits than were common, the skeptics forecast failure. But the public, which always has the final word, liked the idea and supported it with patronage. Other kinds of merchants, to their credit, joined the trend and made the most of their own particular advantages. The ever-growing floods of goods from factories and farms were channeled efficiently and at minimum cost, into the hands of consumers. A new era, characterized by unprecedented abundance, had arrived.

Mrs. Paul Carter of Elberton spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Green. Green, owner of Parazo was a Sunday visitor in the Green home.

COULD BE—its high, metal-glass feet braced on lunar soil, this space vehicle, with quarters in the sphere atop the fuel tanks, could serve as headquarters for the first moon. At least, that is how artists see it, as depicted in a film report on space probes, an aircraft manufacturer. Recent space investigations in Washington by a House subcommittee indicate that scientists foresee a moon landing some time in the 1970s.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

CONFLICTING INTERESTS

Bill Jones had been in an automobile accident and felt that he should be able to recover damages from the driver of the other car. He went to see Lawyer Smith and, in the course of telling Smith his story, it developed that the driver of the other car was insured by a company represented by Smith.

As soon as Smith learned this fact, he stopped Bill from telling him any more about the case and explained that he could not represent him. Smith pointed out that the "conflicting interest" resulting from his representation of the insurer company prevented him from representing him. He said he owed it to Bill not to hear anything from him which he might use against him if the matter were taken to court.

The situation outlined shows illustrations one of the basic principles in the ethics of a lawyer, namely, that he cannot represent "conflicting interests." Basically, this is but the lawyer's way of phrasing the old axiom that a man cannot serve two masters. A lawyer's duty is to give his full and complete efforts to his client and he cannot do that if there is a conflict between the interests of two of them. The reasoning behind this rule is that a lawyer should not appear in court representing both sides of a controversy.

If both Bill and the insurance company are regular clients of Smith, then it is Smith's duty to refuse to represent either one of them in case of altercation between the two.

If Attorney Smith is one of a group of lawyers practicing together as a partnership, then he must be careful not only to avoid a conflict of interest between the clients he is personally serving, but between his clients and other clients of the partnership as well.

As far as Smith is concerned in determining whether there is a conflict of interests, any client of his partners is his client and vice versa.

There are, of course, cases where a lawyer may represent more than one of the parties to the same transaction, without violating the rule of professional conduct against serving interests which conflict. Such a situation might develop where two old clients of the same lawyer were purchasing and selling a piece of property. If both clients so desired and understood, there might, with the proper look after the both in such a transaction. Generally, however, will be very careful in such situations. The lawyer should not represent anyone who already represents interests, possibly only seeking to protect interests.

PONTIAC NAMED CAR OF THE YEAR

"Pontiac with wide-track wheels is the best combination of ride... handling... performance and styling of any '59 car" —The Editors of Motor Trend Magazine

In making its annual automotive award, the staff of Motor Trend Magazine, leading automotive publication, tests and evaluates all new cars. Here are quotations from the April 1959 issue:

"The stability of the 1959 Pontiac is the outstanding automotive advance of the year. Everyone considering a new car should experience it."

"It's the best balanced passenger car in America. We firmly believe that in moving the wheels farther apart, to develop the widest stance of any American car, Pontiac has created an entirely new sense of balance and handling security."

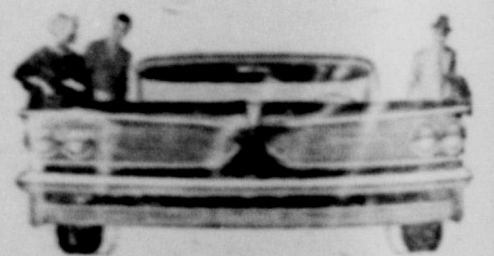

"Pontiac's lines are clean, simple and beautiful. It has a fast look, a trim appearance. The wide wheel design contributes greatly to its over-all integrated styling. Any comparison with narrower track cars readily shows the difference."

"For the economy-minded, an efficient new engine. The new 408 Tempest economy engine offers remarkable performance along with exceptionally high mileage while operating on regular grade gasoline."

"Pontiac is again tops in performance, based on our extensive road testing. Acceleration is outstanding, yet the engine is unusually quiet and smooth."

Your nearest Pontiac dealer will be glad to let you read and test this award-winning automobile on your own. You'll see why it's the year's most talked-about car!

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS
Wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car. Pontiac takes a better step on the road, hugs tighter on curves and corners. May and lean disappear, ride is smooth, balanced, steady. Handling is exact. You drive with a new confidence, a commanding security. Pontiac gives you reliability as "sure-footed" as an ox.

DIAL TELEPHONES ARE COMING TO McLEAN

Plans for McLean's new dial telephone system are well underway, and telephone engineers have ordered the new equipment.

The new and modern dial switching equipment — especially made to meet McLean's expanding telephone needs — will be installed as soon as it is available.

Thousands of feet of cable and wire will be used in preparation for the change from manual to dial telephone operations. Every telephone will be equipped with a dial to operate with the new system.

Then, when everything is ready, a signal will be given... hundreds of switches will click into place... and McLean will have the finest, most modern telephone service available anywhere.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK

Public Schools Week was founded in 1950 and launched for the single purpose of advancing the general interest of public schools. In the ensuing eight years, Public Schools Week has fast become a tradition in Texas. It has won the whole hearted support of the school authorities and the cooperation of countless individuals and organizations.

Public Schools Week was born of a great need. In 1950, public-spirited men and outstanding friends and supporters of the public school system were shocked to discover the apathy of the citizens, generally, concerning the needs of our public schools system. Shortages of teachers had developed, bond issues for improvement, enlargement and addition to schools were losing support, and it was difficult to interest men to take the responsibility of seeking board positions. Abnormal wartime crops of babies were emerging from statistics into living youngsters lining up for enrollment in already crowded classrooms.

The observance of Public Schools Week is traditionally held the first full week of March, subject, of course, to official proclamation by the Governor of the State of Texas and an official resolution by the State School Board.

The objective of the Texas Citizens' Committee for Texas Public Schools Week for the past eight years has been that of getting as many people as possible interested and active in visiting their schools. It is estimated that 1,850,000 persons participated in the 1958 school visitation program.

The public school cannot be taken for granted. It is constantly under attack from sources not always too clearly revealed. Through a common understanding of what schools are doing and their problems, the better prepared the public will be to defend and protect this instrumentality of life that is as American as the names George Washington and Abraham Lincoln.

Out of our public schools come the future leaders of our country, and in the hands of these future leaders rests the hope of the world. Pay tribute to the schools during the week of March 2 through 6. That's public Schools Week, and a fine time for all McLean citizens to go back to school for a day.

FARMING THE FARMERS

If you are a taxpayer, and who isn't, some figures on crop price supports published in the Wall Street Journal are worth remembering.

Out of some 250 farm crops in the U. S., only 12 have price supports at fixed minimums.

Just three of these, wheat, cotton and corn, account for 85% of surpluses stored by the government although they produce only 20% of the total cash farm income.

For over $9 billion of surplus crops by July 1, storage will cost some $1 billion a year.

The price-support program "does little to help the farmers in greatest difficulty," says President Eisenhower. The bulk of the money goes to big producers of a few crops.

"Cultivating" the farmers to produce a crop of votes is an old political pastime but it may become less popular as the farmer-taxpayer becomes better informed.

The majority of farmers raise crops that are not covered by price supports and do as well as other businesses over the years. They do not raise surpluses for the rats to eat while they and everyone else pay taxes to maintain artificial production and prices.

Consumers and farmers are the victims of politicians who "farm" the farmers to raise a crop of votes for themselves and taxes for all.

FULL AND EQUAL PARTNERS

The miracle of American mass production is incessantly praised and described, and with good reason. It represents one of the great economic revolutions of history. But we should not forget that it has a full and equal partner in mass distribution.

A study made by the Twentieth Century Fund some time ago observed that "the high degree of specialization in American industry, simplification of design, and the lavish use of automatic power-driven machinery in turning out low-cost standardized goods would be impossible without the means of assuring mass consumption in a mass market." It added: "The true significance of technology in raising the American standard of living is apparent only when production and distribution are viewed as a unified process. Then it is clear that technological progress has brought over the years and decades a steady lowering of the real costs of supplying the consumer with an ever wider range of useful goods and services.

Nowadays we take mass distribution for granted. But that certainly wasn't the case in the past. When the first chain systems pioneered the idea of selling big quantities of goods at far smaller unit profits than were common, the skeptics forecast failure. But the public, which always has the final word, liked the idea and supported it with patronage. Other kinds of merchants, to their credit, joined the trend and made the most of their own particular advantages. The ever-growing floods of goods from factories and farms were channeled efficiently and at minimum cost, into the hands of consumers. A new era, characterized by unprecedented abundance, had arrived.

Mrs. Paul Corbet of Hereford spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Greer. Gene Greer of Pampa was a Saturday visitor in the Greer home.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

CONFLICTING INTERESTS

Bill Jones had been in an automobile accident and felt that he should be able to recover damages from the driver of the other car. He went to see Lawyer Smith and, in the course of telling Smith his story, it developed that the driver of the other car was insured by a company represented by Smith.

As soon as Smith learned this fact, he stopped Bill from telling him any more about the case and explained that he could not represent him. Smith pointed out that the "conflicting interest" resulting from his representation of the insurance company prevented him from representing him. He said he owed it to Bill not to hear anything from him which he might use against him if the matter were taken to court.

The situation outlined above illustrates one of the basic principles in the ethics of a lawyer, namely, that he cannot represent "conflicting interests." Basically this is but the lawyer's way of phrasing the old axiom that a man cannot serve two masters. A lawyer's duty is to give his full and complete efforts to his client and he cannot do that if there is a conflict between the interests of two of them. The reasoning behind this rule is that a lawyer should not appear in court representing both sides of a controversy.

If both Bill and the insurance company are regular clients of Smith, then it is Smith's duty to refuse to represent either one of them in case of altercation between the two.

Such a situation might develop where two old clients of the same lawyer were purchasing and selling a piece of property. If both clients so desired and understood the lawyer might, with priority, look after both in such a case. Generally, however, will be very such situations, lawyer should not represent anybody representing interests, unless only seeking to interests.

Bible Comment:

Jesus Knew No Religious Prejudice

One of the most shameful manifestations of the Christian era, over and over again, has been the spectacle of people who preach and practice racial and religious prejudice in the name of Christ.

When Paul spoke of the Gospel of Christ, he emphasized its universality.

Was Paul in this a true interpreter of his Master? Or did Jesus in any way limit his mission, or the benefits and privileges of the grace of God?

The whole story of Jesus, the revelation of His spirit and the general records of the Gospels are such that they would lead a thoughtful person to believe other than that Jesus knew no prejudice.

We must view with charity those who, through ignorance or inability to comprehend, misread incidents from the Gospels.

However, those who diabolically turn the Gospels to their own ends are a source of very real concern to earnest Christians.

The danger of their twisted teachings is a blot upon Christianity.

There is no place for racial or religious prejudice in any phase of Christ or His Gospel.

WHAT IS THE SUPREME PURPOSE OF LIFE?

By J. R. Lawson, Pastor
Kellerville Baptist Church

The why of life has always been a perplexing question. Many people have no real reason for life. Life is just one round of uselessness after the other. If you would know life's purpose, find it in the will of God, do it, and find a real joy in life.

Go to the foot of the cross. What do you see there? It is a man dying, and you say, I can learn nothing from him. He is thirty-three years of age, and is dying the death of a criminal. His life seems to be a failure to me. From that figure on the cross we learn our greatest lesson. Here it is—the purpose of life is to give and not to get. Except a grain of corn or wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone, but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit. The greatest souls in the world are the givers and not getters.

What about the future of life? Jesus holds the answer to the question. He says, let not your hearts be troubled. I am going to prepare a place for you. He is a great Savior. He will answer all your questions and solve all your problems. Give your best to Him for this life and for the life that is to come.

Ever make an applesauce torte with a spiced, shredded wheat crust? This delicacy is really delicious.

Make it well ahead of the party and chill in the refrigerator. For extra luxury, garnish with whipped cream and apple slices.

Applesauce Torte (8 Servings)

Two envelopes unflavored gelatin, 1/2 cup cold water, 4 cups sweetened canned applesauce, 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons lemon juice, 1 teaspoon grated lemon rind, 5 cups spoon-size shredded wheat biscuits, 1/2 cup butter or margarine, 6 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon allspice.

Soften gelatin in cold water. Heat applesauce to boiling point, stir in 4 tablespoons sugar, 1 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, nutmeg, lemon juice.

Add gelatin mixture, stirring until gelatin is completely dissolved.

Remove from heat and chill until mixture mounds when dropped from spoon.

Meanwhile, roll shredded wheat biscuits into fine crumbs. (Makes about 2 cups.)

Melt butter or margarine; stir in 6 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon cinnamon and the allspice.

Add cereal and stir until well-coated with mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until cereal is golden brown. Cool slightly. Press one-half of crumb mixture over bottom and sides of 8-inch spring-mold pan.

Spoon applesauce mixture on top of crust. Sprinkle remaining crumb mixture over top. Chill until firm.

National 4-H Club Week Feb. 28-Mar. 7

If all the men and women in the United States who were once 4-H Club members stood shoulder to shoulder, they would reach from Washington, D. C., to Easter Island in the South Pacific—nearly 6,000 miles as the jet flies.

These 4-H alumni now number some 20 million, according to the Cooperative Extension Service, and special tribute will be paid to them during National 4-H Week, Feb. 28 through March 7, in the nation's capital.

"Salute to 4-H Alumni" is the slogan that will be echoed thru out the 49 states, Hawaii and Puerto Rico, during that week. Emphasis will be on the national 4-H alumni recognition program which is designed to honor outstanding men and women who have continued to live by their 4-H ideals.

In Washington, D. C., two 4-H alumni—a man and a woman—will join six 4-H'ers chosen to represent more than two million members in ceremonies commemorating Club Week. They will also accompany the young people to the White House where the 4-H report to the nation will be presented to President Eisenhower along with a personal gift from 4-H'ers everywhere.

Purpose of the program, according to Alby Kuehler and Cecil Regier, assistant county agents, is to inspire today's youth to greater accomplishments by giving well deserved recognition to adults who have leaned heavily on their own 4H training and experiences to become useful, purposeful citizens.

'59 RED CROSS DRIVE TO BE MARCH 9-13

McLean's 1959 Red Cross campaign will run March 9-13. Dale Parvin, local chapter chairman, announced Wednesday.

The national Red Cross campaign for 1959 is seeking $91 million—$10 million more than in 1958—in order to accommodate fast-growing services extended to an "exploding population."

National Chairman Isaac B. Grainger sums it up this way: "Since 1950 this country's shifting population has increased on an average of nearly three million a year. More people mean more need for Red Cross services—more blood for the 3,000 hospitals served by our blood program; more people needing help when disasters strike; more water safety instruction; and more first aid and home nursing training for them and their parents, too."

The cost of goods and services is also rising, Grainger pointed out. "We hope everyone will cooperate and give generously in the campaign," Parvin said. More details will be given in next week's McLean News.
