OF WHITE ELEPHANTS AND PINK CADILLACS:
The race for state representative of the 88th district (including Donley, Hall, Childress and Motley counties) has taken a strange turn. The proverbial white elephant, that is passed off like the hot potato, has come true in the form of a pink Cadillac.

Will Ehrle, incumbent from the district, ran in the last election as a poor boy working for the common man.

It seems that in this case Ehrle left the "proverbial" log cabin as most good politicians do, but he managed to drive away from it in a Cadillac. Which might have appealed to Abe Lincoln had he had such facilities in his day.

At any rate, upon being questioned about the purchase of a Cadillac in only four short, honest years in the state legislature, Mr. Ehrle declared that the coveted automobile was the property of his daddy.

Daddy seems to have prospered suddenly, however, as supporters of Roy Taylor, Ehrle's challenger for the seat in Austin, checked with the Department of Public Safety. And this department, being an honest one indeed, reported that the Cadillac was a recent gift of young Will to his daddy.

Most people will go all out for a young man being kind to his family, but a gift of this sort, a short few weeks before election, seemed a little off base.

Mr. Ehrle, of course, claims no bond whatsoever with the pink (white) elephant, but has not, to my knowledge, stated that Daddy would not return same immediately after the votes are counted.

Undaunted, however, Will is running a competitive race with Taylor. And who knows—if you are an uncle of the incumbent, and he wins this race, you may suddenly find yourself in a few years the sole owner of a powder blue Lincoln. Just play it safe and make sure it isn't a short-term transaction.

THE SECURITY TREND

Recently a McLean man mentioned that the word "security" had infected young people of today. He said it carries a far different connotation than it did when he was a boy.

Most youngsters of today are doing one of two things. They either stay at home after graduating from high school with a steady, medium-salaried job, or they go through college and join with an immense corporation for a little higher salary and a promise of a menial support after serving a certain number of years with the company.

The liberal trend has drastically reduced the young men who will go out on a limb and build some REAL security.

How? Because with present ideas of political and economical living we are led to believe that our government will take care of us when we falter, and at the same time we realize that our government is saved from faltering through the practice of taking the lion's share of all that we make ourselves.

So when a young man is GUARANTEED a certain portion, he grabs it and settles for it and drops into a rut that will lead him to his pension at 65 years of age. The point is that it is SAFE.

However, a free life in America was not built by people who wanted safety, or a guarantee of a mediocre living. Our country of a few years ago was created by men who took chances for something really worth while.

Now we have an abundance of opportunistic politicians who want to take heavily from all citizens and give to strong-vote minorities in need. Taxpayers unwillingly support competition with private companies, thus making it equally hard for private enterprise to exist, and discouraging anyone who would make an effort to sustain or initiate a private operation.

When we all have paid to a liberal government so heavily that we must have a return from it, and adhere to its legislation because it was given us, then where do you find individualists? Only when you are independent of government aid do you find individuals or independence. In a welfare state, you find neither.

Edmund Burke once said of the idealistic state: "To them, the will, the wish, the want, the liberty, the toil, the blood of individuals is as nothing. Individuality is left out of the scheme of things. The state is all." Few youngsters today who think, and strive and build and keep trying. That is why they blindly seek fast security. They are choked away from creative ideas through the growing utter impossibility of surviving existence of a "welfare state."

All persons are urged to cooperate with this week in cleaning up the community. Regardless of size or amount, city trucks will dispose of items if they are stacked adjacent to the alley. ## EVANGELIST TO TELL LIFE STORY SATURDAY NIGHT

Evangelist Paul Carlin, now preaching in a revival at the First Baptist Church in McLean, will relate his life story Saturday night at the evening service, beginning at 7:45.

Rev. Carlin led a juvenile hoodlum's life while attending school in Houston. While committing petty thefts, robberies, gang-fighting and smoking marijuana, he barely escaped the clutches of the law many times. One day the law finally arrested Carlin, booking him for possession of narcotics. After a trial in 1951 he was indicted by the Harris County Grand Jury.

At the time of Carlin's arrest he was captain of the basketball team of one of Houston's 4-A schools. He had made an outstanding athletic record for himself but had become involved in a narcotics ring selling dope. He had, himself, become addicted to the narcotics.

Carlin was a member of a gang called the "Dirty Five," which had been under police surveillance for some time before his arrest.

Shortly following his indictment, Carlin attended a revival service where one of his friends was preaching. He then became a Christian and has since been preaching. He attended Wayland Baptist College, and is now a full time evangelist.

Whenever the neighborhood children ask a suburban housewife whether they can swim in her back yard pool, she answers, "Yes, if your mother comes along to watch you."

CHRISTIANS AND DANCING

Christians do not dance because of its worldly nature and many evil influences.

Sometimes church members become caught in a popularity craze and for pleasurable excitement engage in dancing, thus becoming erring Christians. There is no denying that dancing is pleasurable to many, but the following facts will show it to be a pleasure of sin in which a Christian cannot engage and remain faithful to God.

Although everyone who dances may not be aware of immoral desires, yet the majority of those who do dance admit such desires. Therefore dancing is lasciviousness which is condemned as a work of the flesh, and those who practice such cannot inherit the kingdom of God, Gal. 5:19-21. In an audience of 1500 men the question was asked: "How many can dance and not have evil thoughts?" Not one person said that he could. A matron for a home of fallen women said, "Fully ninety per cent of our girls testify their downfall began in some dance hall." (After the Ball, U. E. Harding) This testimony can be multiplied many times over.

Dancing has an appearance of evil which the most worldly of persons must admit. Therefore Christians who are told to abstain from every appearance of evil cannot engage in it. (1 Thess. 5:22)

Dancing destroys purity of thought, influence for good, spirituality, wrecks homes and destroys souls. Supervision does not change any of these aspects of the dance as Christ places sin in the heart of the individual before any overt act is committed. (Matt. 5:28)

The desires produced on the dance floor are natural desires which God gave for a high and holy purpose and are not to be trifled with. "God so constituted human nature, with such batteries and telegraph lines of nerves, that the contact secured in the common dance is sure to send flashing along the lines to the office of passion and appetite just such messages of doubtful character as I have been speaking of." (Amusements, S. M. Vernon, Walden and Stowel)

CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE

Jack Cox, a candidate for governor, is an enigma in our state political arena. A native of Breckenridge, he has served in the state legislature four terms and is now a successful business man aside from politics. He is virtually unknown except for his present campaigning, which is exceptional in a few ways. In his platform, Cox departs from the numerous well-worn phrases of most politicians. This may not win him votes, but at least marks him with a degree of frankness.

For instance he doesn't promise to help the "average citizen" or "every taxpayer" or other such ridiculous generalities. He goes ahead to commit himself on some of the top issues.

He wants to eliminate the "hand outs" from the state treasury and has a program that will aid and enable people on welfare rolls to get a job and work for a living, instead of existing at the expense of the state. This also, will cost him votes.

* * *

Cox says that the schools have been a political football too long, and he has a definite comprehensive educational improvement program that is set up on an ADEQUATE and PERMANENT basis. There have been more vague promises and less done for the schools than for any other popular campaign issue.

Cox believes the farmers have been the victims of the spend-and-tax scheme of the present administration. To get additional money for the plunging bank account, Daniel advocated that farmers "donate" one-fourth of their present tax refund from gasoline taxes. Cox believes that farmers should pay no highway tax AT ALL for gasoline used in farm machinery. He says if Daniel doesn't approve of the tax refund then he should say so, but it's a patchwork situation when you ask a group to donate something.

Cox has been highly successful outside of politics, and did so without the help of the government. He carries the belief that there should be nothing wrong with the state operating in the black.

In short, Cox doesn't have a chance. He is entirely too conservative and he doesn't make a horde of hazy promises to a bunch of minority groups that feel they can hedge on the state pocket book.

At any rate, the short time that he is in the race, it's pleasant to have at least one man to feel this way.

ROGERS

ONE BUREAUCRACY LEADS TO ANOTHER

As many of you know, the Congress again faces a series of measures which would put another nail in the coffin of individualistic government. I've received a good many letters from folks who are understandably concerned about the craving that many of our leaders have for bigger and better bureaucracies. Many of you protest legislation which would put the federal government more and more directly into the affairs of the towns, cities, and counties of the 18th district.

But efforts to centralize and enlarge the government in Washington seem to have become so commonplace that many forget just what a big-and-getting-bigger central government can really mean. Many people all over the country seem to have grown so accustomed to seeing new bureaucracies in Washington that they no longer grasp even the fundamentals and causes of the basic problem.

Now I've never said that local governments should only do the things they want to do with no regard for all the people. I think that the idea which brands everything in the federal government corrupt, insincere, or foolhardy is highly undesirable. I've seen our country's political system, working properly as it usually does, carry out some of the finest measures that history has ever seen a government produce.

But whatever else might be said about the size to which government has grown, two things are painfully clear. The first is that NO agency or bureau can successfully work in the best interests of all the people. When a job is turned over to the federal government you may be sure that a great many people somewhere will be short changed. Second, and perhaps most important, federal bureaucratic control almost inevitably becomes an end in itself and means a disheartening reduction of millions of people to the "average." Our people always get either more than they want or need, or they are not allowed to get as much as they could if left to themselves. Not many folks fit the "median" which the government seems to so habitually establish.

There are, of course, many reasons for the agitation favoring more of this government manhandling. These reasons are all derived from developments and features of our life, but are quite deceptive in the ways they are then applied to support this or that legislation.

First, since more and more families are moving from one state to another, the advocates of cen-tralism argue that the federal government should establish laws, educational systems or whatnot, thus placing conditions in one state on a level with all the others. This ignores the fact that many families aren't moving across a state boundary every six months.

A second impulse behind the call for more government is the notion that an individual state can't or won't do something on its own. In most cases this is pure nonsense. The people of Texas can be proud of the advances which have been made in their own ways and without coaching by Uncle Sam's hopeful salesmen of more "this is good for you" legislation.

Third, many parts of the country are forced under the federal wing simply because people in another region genuinely need help. Powerful interests in one section of the country may be so strong that the Congress is drawn into the belief that a certain program would be good for everyone. But I have always felt that the people who really need help could get it faster and better from a government closer to the problem than Washington ever could be.

Finally we have the familiar "special" or "emergency" measures which are urged on us to help solve some short range difficulty. They somehow always seem to be around years later. The "war-time" transportation and communication taxes are an example of (Continued on page 4)

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

by Uncle Zeb

Most everyone attended church on Easter and that was a good thing. Of course, it would be even better if we all kept up the habit all through the year. Along this line we heard about the pastor that always wished his congregation a Merry Christmas at the Easter services—he was afraid that he would not see many of them again before that time.

Speaking of Easter we had the house chuck-full of company over the week end. We enjoyed it all a lot but everything has some bad and good. We were so covered up with company that we couldn't make it over to Floydada to enjoy life with members of the lighthouse Electric Cooperative. We were so sorry. Our invitation had the backing of Mrs. Nancy Morchel, home economist for this wonderful institution. Please invite me again, Mrs. Morchel, and we will surely make it next time. Many of you have heard of this fine lady by the quotes from her regular column. This one we really liked: The fellow who says, "What's the use"—is never the engine, but the caboose.

Another thing we had to miss was the wonderful barbecue with the folks of the Rolling Plains Registered Plains Beef Cattle Ass'n at Clarendon last Saturday night. This invitation was endorsed by our good friend Flip Bree-love and to make us even more sorrowful at having to say no, was paid for by another friend, Mr. J. D. Swift, the banker. Never before have we had the opportunity to get ahead of a banker—cashwise, that is. To make the situation even more tormenting we had to be listening to our own self make a talk at the very same time, due to a prior promise. I never felt more like breaking my word. Please invite me another time.

If you look very close you will find our column in some more papers as of late. For one you will see us in the McLean News. This is sort of tall cotton for us because we have this chance to appear alongside the column Cab-ages and Kings which walked off with a first place at the Panhandle Press Convention. Maybe we should have said we were in Tall Cabbages.

Anyway, that may have all come about because we have been appearing just two pages over from Uncle Claude in the Claude News and he took the organization for a second place ringer. Now this is what will happen if you run with the right fellows. Anyway, thanks Uncle Claude and Mr. Neal for having the right influence.

Another big day in our books was the annual 4-H Club auction sale sponsored in Armstrong County by County Agent Foster Whaley and his hard-working crew. Each year they earn their trip by some worth while project such as this one, and one time we even got to go along. We think this sale is a very helpful and worthwhile project and we have to give credit to this club and its leader for starting this idea here in this part of the country. Now, we read about several here and there, but the first we knew about was some five years ago when this local club put on a whopper.

Regardless of the vacation season being almost here, and the fact that we mentioned in our little book about Red River, N. M., there are still a few copies marked especially for the readers of this column. If you send $1.00 we will mail a copy of the 32-page book just as soon as possible. It might help your vacation plans.

We say a big Thank You for this chance to meet many more people through the pages of these additional papers. We hope that in which ever paper you read our column that you will at least now and then take time to drop a line to the editor. It is the only way either he or Uncle Zeb know who reads his paper or our little corner. Experienced newspaper people tell us that folks don't write in very freely unless you make them mad. Now even if we don't get a scratch we don't want to do that. So many good wishes to everyone.

this situation. The government often seems to be so captivated with "temporary" interference that it can't bear to part with even an outdated particle. This sort of thing is not only unnecessary, but grossly unfair as well. Resisting the almost incessant efforts to enlarge the federal government's share in local affairs is more than a matter of sheer determination on the part of a few people. It rests primarily on the ability of all of us to be willing to depend on ourselves once again.

HELIUM
You may recall that one of my recent newsletters dealt with the subject of legislation I introduced which, if enacted into law, would make it possible for private industry to develop facilities for the extraction and conservation of helium. This bill passed the first major hurdle last week when it was reported favorably from the full House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs.

Modern Mermaids Wear White

Perkily poised on a rock, this modern Lorelei needs neither golden comb nor seductive song to capture attention at the beach, lake, or river's edge. Modestly covered, yet provocative, she is the essence of allure in her dainty one-piece bathing suit of white dotted swiss. The matching beach jacket of the same cotton fabric will do little to repel either the sun or any mother's son!

White cotton in varying weights and types of weave will be a big feature in bathing suits this year, according to the fashion experts. They point out how flattering sparkling white is to sun-bronzed skin, and how practical it is to keep looking pretty all season even though it needs frequent laundering.

The best way to make sure that white cotton suits stay beguiling is to add chlorine bleach beads to the sudsy wash water. These quick-dissolving little beads lift out ingrained soil that can make white fabric look dingy unless it is removed regularly and completely. Chlorine bleach beads are safe, too. Unlike traditional chlorines, they cannot damage any bleachable fabric no matter how long or how often the garment is given this special cleansing treatment.

LOCKNEY BEACON: "But your iniquities have separated between you and your God, and your sins have hid His face from you."—Isaiah 59:2.

Old H. M. Baggarley, who holds forth at the Tulia Herald, spends a lot of column inches trying to convince somebody—either himself or his readers—that he is a very smart man and that his opinions are as gifts from Heaven—to be sought after and cherished. Needless to say, there are a few of us left in this part of the world who question that opinion. In fact, we think he is wrong more than he is right as is evidenced by the clap-trap that comes forth from his column called "The Country Editor." Just this past week, however, a small part of his column half-way made sense because he picked it up from the Baptist Standard. Here is what it said:

"One paragraph from the pen of Editor James in last week's Standard sounded like something that might have appeared in the Tulia Herald, therefore it is good.

"Here it is: 'It is quite the custom now to call everyone a commu-thizer if he doesn't adhere to the status quo. If a preacher becomes a liberal he is called a communist. If one believes in public school integration, he is a communist. If he seeks to get people out of the slums, he is a communist. If he raises a voice against Romanist designs, he is a communist. If he raises a question about the accuracy of the King James translation, he is a communist. In fact, to some persons most everyone is a communist or a sympathizer unless he belongs to their crowd and sees eye to eye with them.'

"Don't look now, but we know some Baptists within a 50-mile radius of Tulia on whose toes Dr. James is treading."

We do not need to tell our readers that Mr. Baggarley is throwing that last paragraph at us, and also that it is wholly untrue. Mr. Baggarley himself knows that we so we fail to understand why he would make such a statement unless he has adopted the communist tactics of distorting the truth to serve his own purposes.

We believe that Mr. Baggarley is sincere in his political convictions and perhaps thinks that those purposes are good for the country. We also think he is a gullible victim of socialistic and ultra-liberal preaching and doesn't realize the terrible consequences that result from a nation traveling the trail of socialism. As was very ably pointed out last Thursday night by Dr. Jack Bates of Lubbock in the citizenship training course here, socialism is the midway step between free enterprise government and communism. He also had facts to prove that with socialism must come government control of all phases of life and eventual dictatorship or some other form of complete central government control. So why take the step? Are Americans so weak, so unlearned, so dependent upon the "brain trusters" and the "bureaucrats" that we can no longer handle our own private affairs, make our own living and raise our own families?

No, Mr. Baggarley is not a communist. He probably hates the term as much as the rest of us. But he has unwittingly allowed himself to fall into the trap of socialistic teachings, because he cannot learn from the lessons of history. A simple glance at the fate of other socialistic governments would teach us all that such a course is not one desired by free and independent people. If we must starve, let us at least starve as free men.

Speaking of communism and socialism, we seem to remember that history teaches us that Karl Marx was the founder of both modern socialism and communism and that his famous doctrine, "From each according to his need," applied to both socialism and communism.

In an editorial discussing the foreign travels of President Eisenhower and the Wall Street Journal observes: "We are not saying that America's foreign policies are all above criticism or that a Presidential trip can correct what is wrong. We are merely saying that a nation, and a political system, is bound to act in character much of the time, and it is therefore inevitable for Eisenhower to radiate good will and Khrushchev ill will. As long as this country continues to act in accordance with its traditions and institutions, and the communists in accordance with theirs, we need not fear unduly that the world will be lost to slavery."

Communist parties in capitalist countries have grown from 58 to 71 in the past 20 years. Membership is up from 1.5 million to 4.5 million, according to the World Review.

In the last 20 years, population in this country has increased 33%, while the cost of federal, state and local government has increased 600%, or 18 times as much.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Crockett visited their daughter, Mrs. Ernest Foshee, and family in Lefors Sunday.

Mrs. J. I. Martindale accompanied her son, Robert, to Amarillo Monday and visited Clifford Martindale and family.

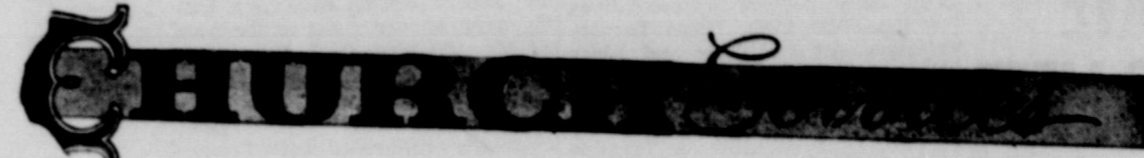

Mrs. Madge Page and Mrs. Martha Aldridge visited in Wheeler Monday.

Dale Greenhouse and Ted Simmons, accompanied by Mark Simmons, traveled to Dalhart via airplane Monday on a short business trip.

Mrs. Ruth Atwater and Mrs. Fiedelle Stubbs visited Mrs. Beryl Halbert at St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo Sunday.

Jim Allison of Lubbock and the R. E. Campbell family of Matador were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Allison Sunday.

A LIVING SACRIFICE

By Kenneth McCall, Presbyterian pastor

"Present your bodies as a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God, which is your spiritual worship." Romans 12:1

Several recent books make the revealing point that we who are the consumers of American products and services, neither know what we want, nor can we be depended upon to act in a rational way about what we buy. We have no clear sense of direction when we go to spend our hard earned cash, or more correctly our hard earned credit rating.

The point is well taken, but it is only a symptom of a deeper reality. Our lack of direction about the things we desire as a consumer is only a surface reminder of the real confusion and lack of direction surrounding our whole life. Rarely can one find a person who knows where he is going or what his life is really all about.

Every person earnestly seeks to make some sense out of his life. Paul suggests to us what may be the missing link, that gives the purpose and direction for which we seek. It is simply this, that life is meant to be lived as one of service to God, to be a living sacrifice, holy and acceptable to God.

Car Demolished at Crossing

If anybody doesn't think it is dangerous to stop a jitney on a grade crossing, ask Sidney Kunkel, whose only flipper was completely demolished on the Main Street crossing last Friday afternoon. Sidney had just loaded his light truck with express at the depot and started to town with it when someone hailed him and Sid stopped on the track to talk. About that time there was a flying switch made near the coal chute and a number of cars came down the track on which he had stopped. Someone yelled, "Look out!" and Sidney went to start up his jitney and killed the engine. By that time the cars were so near that he had no time to do anything but get himself out of the way. The truck was wrecked beyond repair, but the express with which it was loaded was only slightly damaged.

Pierce Child Dies at Wellington

Little Miss Opal, the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pierce of east of town, died at Wellington, to which place she had been taken for treatment, on Wednesday. The remains were interred in Hillcrest Cemetery, McLean, on Friday. Rev. A. F. Agee, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated.

To Build New Home

S. A. Cousins is tearing down his residence on the farm two miles north of town this week. He plans to erect in its place a modern two-story bungalow with all the built-in features.

Music Recital April 30

The music pupils of Miss LaRue Loftin will be heard in recital on Friday, April 30, at the high school auditorium. There will be no admission charge and everybody is invited. The following will be on program: Louie Callaway, Wiletta Templeton, Nita Ball, Ione Ball, Tom Ball, Ruby Reeves, Viola Smith, Eilene Hall, Fannie Stockton, Bernice Hall, Jimmie Palmer, Tommy Hill, Audra Wilson, Beryl Stubbs, Alta Sherrod, Mrs. W.

Roberts, Ida Mae Dunwoody and Willie Bell Palmer.

Personals

Jess Ledbetter went to Alanreed Sunday afternoon, returning on the night train. Jess won't tell us what he went for, so we must leave that for conjecture.

Grandma Rogers left Tuesday for Amarillo, from which place she intends to go to Branson, Colo., to spend a month with three of her grandchildren. She will then go to Florence, Colo., for a month's visit with Mrs. W. L. Rippy and Mrs. Devine. From Florence she will go to Rose Butte, S. D., to visit a son. She plans to return to McLean in time to participate in the revival meetings to be held here this summer.

Jesse Kinard and family, M. H. Kinard and family and Carl Carpenter and family returned Wednesday from Uvalde County, where they have been on a fishing expedition and visiting. Jess, who claims to be a candidate for public weigher, is not telling any big fish stories yet, presumably for fear the voters will think him too dishonest to hold the office.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy McCracken of Alanreed were in the fair city Wednesday.

The Nazarene Sunday school was right pleasantly entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Jones Tuesday evening.

Sid Denson and Andrew Earp of White Deer, both former citizens of McLean, were here Monday for the big to-do and dinner the Odd Fellows had.

Mike Wilkerson of Shamrock was in the city Wednesday.

Miss Ruby Cook, who is teaching school over in Oklahoma, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Cook.

W. H. Craig, manager of the Alanreed Telephone Exchange, was in town Saturday on business.

Mrs. A. J. Worley went to Amarillo Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Cooke and family visited their daughter, Mrs. J. A. Ingram, and family in Wellington this week.

OVER BACK-COUNTRY ROADS AT 45 WITH A SKY-HIGH LOAD OF TIMBER

Chevy middleweight shows the big rigs how it's done!

That's a 6303 medium-duty Chevrolet powered by a 283-cu.-in. V8. But there's sure nothing medium-duty about the load. Mr. J. E. Blankinship, Arkansas logging contractor, says both of his torsion-spring 6303's "move along at 40 to 50 miles per hour with 55,000 pounds gross weight and maintain a 5-trip-a-day schedule with no trouble at all." Figure the money you save when you've got a medium-duty truck that can cover 30,000 back-country miles a year with a high-tonnage load!

We've never seen anything like the amount of praise truck owners are heaping on Chevy's new torsion spring suspension. Owners like the fact the truck handles a whole lot easier, can move faster off the road without beating the driver to death and shaking loose all the sheet metal. They like the idea of extra thousands of miles before trade-in . . . Drive a '60 Chevy just once. It's a whole new experience.

(Chevy middleweight averages 300 miles of back roads a day logging timber out of the woods and delivering it to the mill at Crosscut, Arkansas.)
