Just Between Us

Something we had never heard of before was brought into the office Tuesday.

Dorothy Ayres left with us a triple-yolked egg that women of the First Methodist Church had come across while preparing lunch for the Lions Club.

Double-yolk eggs are not at all uncommon, but one with three yolks is a bit unusual.

Even our county farm agent, Foster Whaley, had never laid eyes on one before, and he was as amazed as the rest of us.

Proof that McLean's Marie Foundations factory is on a firm financial footing came the past week when Cal Fraser, company owner, laid down the cash to acquire ownership of the building housing the brassiere and girdle plant.

Cal had been paying the city for the building on a monthly payment plan since the factory moved to McLean.

During a trip here last week, however, he paid the remaining amount due on the building and lots in one big lump sum.

It's time now for McLean to get started on another determined move to bring more industry here. Who would have thought 10 years ago a small city such as ours could attract a factory the size of Marie Foundations?

If we're to survive in this age of centralization of power and population in the bigger cities, more payrolls must be secured.

Let's get started again!

Want to see a different kind of play? Then don't fail to attend the junior class' presentation of "Our Town" on March 30.

It's a far cry from the ordinary ho-hum drama.

We're not usually too eager to sit through a three-act dramatic production, and when we do the plot doesn't stick with us too long. But even though it's been well over 10 years since we saw "Our Town" for the first and only time, the story is still fresh in our mind.

See it, and we guarantee you'll enjoy it.

Go-Kart Track Will Open Here Friday

A new go-kart track will open, weather permitting, Friday afternoon behind Caskey's on U. S. 66 at the west edge of McLean.

Jimmie Moore and Joe Mercer, operators, said the track will be open regularly from 4 p. m. to 10 p. m. They invited area enthusiasts to bring their own carts or rent one of several which will be available at the track.

Moore and Mercer said races, with trophies awarded to the winners, are planned in the near future.

Civil War Series Beginning April 6

Would you like a unique, week-by-week history of the Civil War?

You can compile one yourself by clipping and pasting in a scrapbook the weekly articles of a Civil War Centennial series which begins in The McLean News on April 6. Each article will tell, in a readable, interesting way, the Civil War events which occurred exactly 100 years before.

Thus, by keeping a scrapbook of the articles you will assemble a chronological history of the war unlike any other ever published.

Be sure and start your scrapbook with the first article.

Child Injured In Colorado Accident

Vola Gaye Richards, 4-year-old granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neville Back, was reported recovering satisfactorily this week from injuries suffered in an automobile accident Feb. 27 in Colorado.

Vola Gaye is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Richards, former residents of McLean who now live in Bayfield, Colo.

The child was en route to McLean with an uncle of Mr. Back, Claude Bowls, when the vehicle in which they were traveling collided head-on with another car.

She suffered two fractured vertebrae and was treated for two weeks in a Durango, Colo., hospital.

Vola Gaye has returned to her home, but must remain in a cast for six weeks.

Her mother expressed thanks to the family's many friends who have shown concern for the child's condition.

Installation of the new officers will be held in June.

Juniors Present Play March 30

A unique three-act production, "Our Town," will be presented by the McLean High School junior class at 7:30 p. m. March 30 in the school auditorium.

Miss Billie Brown and Jay Perryman, class sponsors, are directing the play.

Reserved seat tickets are $1.

General admission is 75 cents for adults and 50 cents for students.

Miss Brown announced that tickets also will be available for the Wednesday night, March 29, dress rehearsal.

It was decided to invite attendance at the dress rehearsal because a number of persons will be leaving town early for the Easter holidays.

Rehearsal at 7

Written by Thornton Wilder, "Our Town" is unusual in that little scenery is used and the stage manager is the narrator and leads the audience through the three acts.

In the first act the narrator outlines the history of the town—Grover's Corners, N. H.—and something of the character of its citizens.

He then takes the audience into the houses of the Gibbs and Webb families, arriving at breakfast time and remaining through an entire day in the lives of the families.

Love Affair

The second act concerns a love affair involving young George Gibbs and little Emily Webb and culminates in a moving wedding scene. The final act takes place, for the most part, in a cemetery, where many of the townspeople the audience has come to know so well are patiently and smilingly awaiting not "Judgment," but understanding.

Persons Unable To Pay Bills by 10th Should Notify City

McLean residents unable to pay their bills for water, gas, sewer and garbage service by the 10th of the month should notify the city hall, City Manager B. J. McCartney said Wednesday.

"We don't want to work a hardship on anyone who because of illness or other circumstances is unable to pay their bills by the deadline," McCartney pointed out. However, he reported that the policy of the city in charging a 10 per cent penalty for late payment of bill must remain in effect, unless other arrangements are made.

Strict Enforcement

The city commission last year voted strict enforcement of regulations requiring the payment of bills (See BILLS, Page 5)

Tracksters To Enter Relays on Weekend

McLean High School track and field men will see action Friday and Saturday in the Panhandle Relays, according to Coach Derral Davis.

Davis said three other meets are scheduled for the local youths.

Next week, Friday afternoon and evening, the local athletes will enter the Erick, Okla., Invitational Meet, and on April 4 they are to compete in the District 2-A contests in Lefors.

April 7 and 8 will see the McLean tracksters in the Amarillo Relays.

Last week's Lefors Relays was called off because of the weather.

Rain and Snow Bring Welcome Moisture To McLean, Panhandle

McLean area farmers, ranchers and business people had reason to smile this week, after rain and snow which began last Thursday soaked thirsty soil with 2.40 inches of moisture.

This is the official amount which fell, but some gauges in and near McLean recorded even more.

The slow, soaking rains started last Thursday and continued almost without letup through Friday night.

Pete Fulbright, McLean weather observer, recorded .80 inch of rain on Thursday, 1.05 on Friday and .55 Saturday.

Soggy snow arrived on the scene in the wee hours of Sunday morning and pelted the city much of the day. Moisture content was .50 inch.

Gray County Agent Foster Whaley reported that the moisture—most of which was gulped down quickly by range and farm lands—would be of great benefit to the pastures and cultivated acreage.

As a result, crops planted this spring will have much of the necessary moisture to get their start.

Grass Fires Halted

The rain and snow also brought welcome relief for McLean volunteer firemen, who have been plagued the past several weeks by an increasing number of grass fires.

The weekend of precipitation brought the total amount of moisture received by McLean to 3.18 for the year.

Up to this same date in 1960 the total was 3.44 inches. However, .86 of an inch of rain fell on the city on March 24.

Temperatures returned to the chilly side of the ledger following the rain and snow, but were climbing again Wednesday.

Weather records for the past week:

| | High | Low | Precip. |
|-----------|------|-----|---------|
| Wednesday | 77 | 50 | |
| Thursday | 42 | 40 | .80 |
| Friday | 40 | 37 | 1.05 |
| Saturday | 47 | 34 | .06 |
| Sunday | 35 | 32 | .50 |
| Monday | 46 | 30 | |

An extension of the time will be permitted through the Sept. 19 water meter reading.

The rates are effective for yards and gardens only.

The special rates will appear on the May 1 bills of persons signing the agreements at this time.

Scouts Will Sell News Subscriptions

Boy Scouts will begin a subscription drive for The McLean News throughout the city Saturday.

Roy Hess, scoutmaster of the Lions Club-sponsored Scout troop, said most members will participate in the campaign.

The troop will receive 50 cents for each subscription sold, with the proceeds to be used in scouting activities.

Subscription rates for The McLean News are $3 per year for subscribers in Gray and adjoining counties and $3.50 for those from outside this area.

Interment was in Hillcrest Cemetery under the direction of Lamb Funeral Home.

Mr. Windom, who was 86, died Saturday afternoon in Adair Hospital in Clarendon.

$48,570 Worth of Bonds Are Sold

February savings bond sales in McLean and Gray County totaled $48,570, according to George B. Cree Jr., county chairman of the program.

During the first two months of 1961 the county achieved 14.2 per cent with purchases totaling $100,970.

The goal for the year is $700,000.

Bond sales in Texas during February were $14,219,831, representing 18.1 per cent of the state's 1961 goal.

This is the 20th anniversary year of the savings bond program, and the Treasury Department will have a special mission of saluting various groups and organizations who have made significant contributions to the sales effort.

56 Trees Bought For Golf Course

Fifty-six trees have been purchased by the McLean Lions Golf Association to beautify the golf course northwest of town.

Sammy Haynes, Lions president, announced at Tuesday's club luncheon that the trees were bought from Bruce Nursery, north of Alameda, at a reduced price of $225.

The nursery also will install the trees. Haynes says the trees include Chinese elm, American elm and honey locusts for shade and a large number of arbovitae.

It was also announced that a box for golf scores will be erected at the course gate.

Joe Burroughs, association tournament chairman, urged all persons who play on the course to deposit their score cards in the box.

Golfers also were asked to register each time they play.

Bob Parrish reported at Tuesday's meeting that efforts are still being made to obtain permission to use the Brock Island Railroad property in southwest McLean as a Little League baseball park.

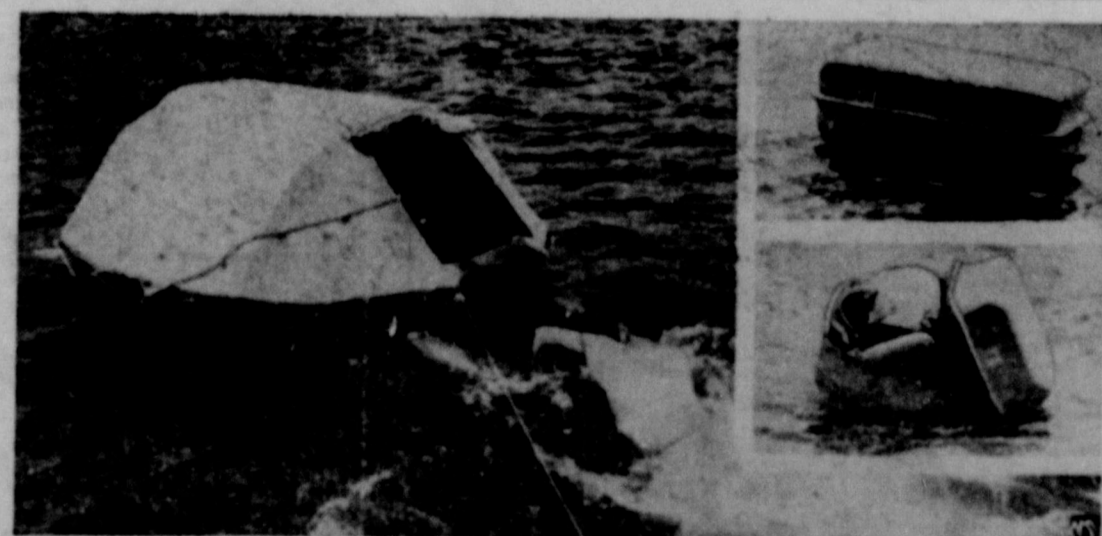

Parrish said that the railroad has been asked to permit the construction of a permanent baseball field at the site.

If permission is not granted, the field probably will be located south of town.

How their telephones save Mr. and Mrs. Neil Sauer 2½ hours a day

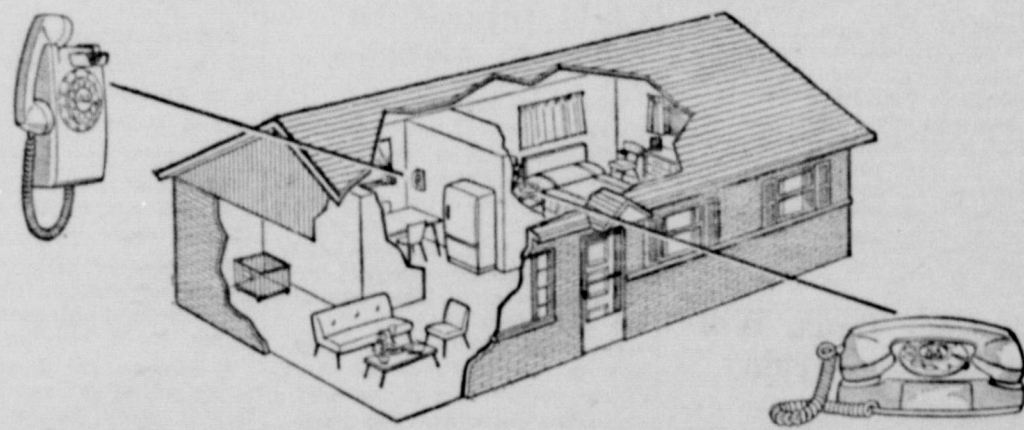

By DON DAVIS, Telephone News Writer

"I called a department store to order a place setting of china I saw advertised. I'm going to give it to a friend who is getting married."

"As a photographer, I have calls at home in the evening to arrange for props and models. So I use our Princess phone in the bedroom, where it's quiet."

The Sauers use their phones — a white Princess model in the bedroom and a green wall phone in the kitchen — about 50 times a week to help them get things done.

As she speaks of the Princess, Mrs. Sauer's eyes light up. "It's so small and lovely. And the way the dial lights up is great." The Sauers use their bedroom phone when they want quiet and privacy. This phone also gives Mrs. Sauer a sense of security when she's alone at night.

Why not take a tip from the Sauers? Enjoy the convenience, pleasure and security of extension telephones. Just call the telephone business office or ask a telephone serviceman. Cost is low.

Notary Commissions To Expire June 1

Texas Secretary of State Frank Lake has announced that all qualified notaries public desiring re-appointment for the new term ending June 1, 1961, must re-qualify by the payment of the required fee and the filing of a new oath and bond with the county clerk of his residence between June 1, 1961, and June 10, 1961.

Lake emphasized that notaries public should not send requests for re-appointment or for commissions directly to the secretary of state. The law specifically requires that the county clerks approve notary bonds.

Any person not now a notary public who desires appointment should apply to his county clerk between April 1, 1961, and May 20, 1961. Application during this period will assure prompt attention before the rush procedure of re-appointing present notaries.

The secretary of state further pointed out that each person applying for a commission as a notary public must be at least 21 years of age and a resident of the county for which he is appointed. The exact name and permanent address of the applicant must be furnished the county clerk.

Proposed Feed Grain Program

Last week I promised to give you some details on the proposed 1961 feed grain program. Both the House and Senate passed a version of Secretary Freeman's program.

As I understand it, there was a slight difference from the bill the Senate passed and the one the House passed. The Senate placed a restriction on the authority given the secretary to use the surplus grain to place on the market as a threat to non-compliers. That is, the authority of the secretary to drive prices down.

The bill would raise the support price of corn to $1.20 per bushel from the existing level of $1.06. Milo support, if raised accordingly, would net a farmer at harvest time around $1.50 per 100 pounds.

As a condition to receive price supports, however, a producer must reduce his feed grain acreage by 20 per cent, using his 1959 and 1960 plantings as a base. For this reduction a farmer would be paid a certain price for reducing the acreage by 20 per cent and diverting to a soil-conserving use.

At the farmer's option he could further reduce his acreage by another 20 per cent and receive an additional payment. As I understand it, no penalty would be involved should a farmer over-plant his allotted acreage.

He would not, however, receive price supports.

Generally this is the proposed program minus the fine details. No use to give them because they are likely to be changed many times before they get to the farmer.

Many questions are being asked me on this subject that I do not know the answers to. Here are a few of them:

Is the program fair to the cattleman, since it is likely to raise feed prices to him? Where does the fellow stand that planted no acreage of grain in 1959 and 1960? Is this an ex post facto law in that it tends to penalize you today for something you did or did not do yesterday?

I do not know the answers to these and many other questions being asked.

It Can't Be Done, I Told Him

Ten years ago when I was acting county agent in this county Drew Word asked me to bring my farm level by his place and make some shots on McClellan Creek.

Drew wanted to change the course of McClellan Creek since it was endangering their home-site and eating away at some of their better farm land.

After setting up my level and taking several readings I told Drew he actually could run the water the way that he wanted. But my opinion was he was wasting his time trying to fight as big a battle as he had in mind.

I couldn't have been more wrong.

I was by Drew's place last Tuesday and we went over the same ground that I had been over before. Much to my surprise, Drew had pretty well accomplished his goal of changing the course of McClellan Creek.

Students Welcome Spring; But Hot Weather's Coming

By RITA BROWN

It's time for sunshine and flowers, baseball, tennis and track; in other words, spring is here. No more snow, no slush or desolate, bare plants—just sunshine and green tree buds, fruit blossoms and flowers.

It sounds like heaven now after all of the cold weather, but just wait until the temperature reaches up to near 100 and we will all be crying for a nice, cool snowstorm.

The golf course has been in near constant use lately and the tennis court is the same. It won't be long until croquet will be played again.

Springtime makes the blood run faster; one wants freedom from lessons and school. You want to do nothing but something which is not useful to anyone.

You want to see things, the world is just waking up and is fresh and new. You notice the little things, objects that you have been missing.

It is nearing the time for Ready-Writing, Declamation, Number Sense and Spelling. The Easter bunny will be hopping along soon, with the cheery eggs to be hidden in green grass. The time is drawing near for graduation.

Winter weather was to have ended on March 19, but a certain snowstorm must have forgotten the date. Spring is officially here and summer vacation is on its way.

Rain Sad Note On St. Patrick's Day

St. Patrick's celebration was held March 17 in Shamrock. The day was not a complete success because of the rain. The parade was held at 2 p. m.

Only those entries which could not be harmed by the rain participated in the parade. The floats were put on display at the Community Center with all the lovely balloons upon them. At this time the floats were judged.

The judging of the floats took place at the luncheon held at the First Christian Church. Questions were asked of each girl. Seven girls were called back for a second questioning.

The floats then went to the National Guard Armory where "Miss Irish Rose" was crowned. "Miss Amarillo" took first place honor; second went to "Miss Wellington" and third place was taken by "Miss Erick."

Two Students Take Scholarship Test

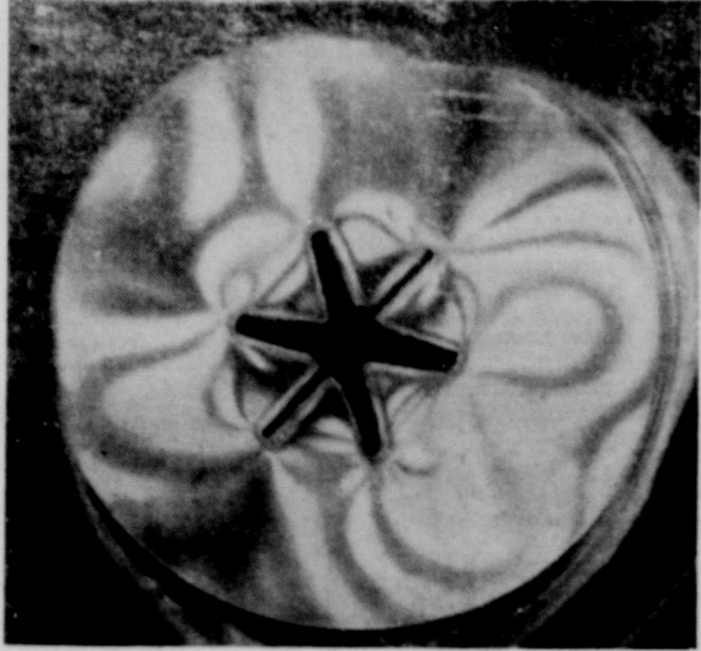

By BARNEY POOL

Two MHS senior girls took the National Merit Scholarship test Saturday, March 11. Rita Brown and Peggy Sharp took the three-hour test, which covered five areas, including mathematics, social studies, reading, vocabulary and English usage.

The two girls were given the tests by Mrs. Riley and Mr. Green. The tests were given in the home economics room at 8 o'clock Saturday morning.

The results of the tests will be sent to the colleges the girls plan to attend.

The students with the highest averages will be given another test and will then be eligible for a scholarship in the subject they choose.

THE TEAR OF THE YEAR

As we left Margaret, she was in the process of preparing for her big date with Nick Newman.

It is now 7 p. m. and Margaret's date is due at 7:30 p. m.

"Mom, where's my yellow dress?"

"Honey, look in the closet. I hung it up this afternoon."

"Goodness, you never can keep up with your things with your mother always hiding them. Oh, I can't wait until Nick arrives! I wonder what he's like on a date. I bet he's a doll! What if he tries to kiss me? What if he doesn't? He wouldn't dare, would he?"

It is now around 7:30 p. m. The Fry's house is in an uproar trying to get Margaret ready. Finally a series of honks comes from in front of the Fry home.

Mr. Fry jumps out of his chair and scrambles to the front door. He is going to show this Newman boy that no daughter of his is going to be influenced by such rudeness.

It turns out that the mysterious honking was coming from next door. One of the neighbor's children had accidentally bumped against the horn of their car. Mr. Fry becomes slightly embarrassed.

A few minutes later the doorbell rings.

"Dad, will you get the door? I'm not quite ready. Tell Nick I'll be down in a few minutes. (I shouldn't act too anxious. I'll keep him waiting a few minutes.)"

"Hello, Nick. I hope I haven't kept you waiting too long."

"Hello, Margaret. You sure do look beautiful tonight. Well, I suppose we had better be running along. I'll try not to keep Margaret out too late, Mr. Fry."

"Goodbye, everyone. Margaret, remember not to stay out too late. Margaret and Nick have decided to go to a drive-in movie. They make the main drag before journeying to the movie. The movie is just starting."

"Margaret, a-hum, your windshield seems to be a little dirty, why don't you move over a little this way."

"Okay, Nick. This side of the windshield is a little dirty."

A-hum. Well, folks, I believe we had better close for now. See you two weeks from today.

Chevrolet Tops In McLean High Poll
By FRANK YEARWOOD

One of the main topics among teenagers constantly is: What car do you think is the prettiest this year?

Chevrolet was the number one answer.

It was interesting to hear some of the different expressions on the subject as I went around asking the question myself. For instance, a senior boy says:

"There is nothing that can compare with the Thunderbird, with those sleek, sporty lines."

Another will simply endorse anything that General Motors manufactures. At the same time a close friend continues to argue that unless it has a Ford label, it's out.

I guess that goes to show you "That is why there is more than one flavor of ice cream."

However, getting down to statistics, we took a real survey of about 25 students and these are the findings: Chevrolet ranked number one, Pontiac second, Ford and Cadillac run in third spot, and the Corvette placed fourth; Lincoln, Dodge and Thunderbird placing fifth.

THINGS ARE A'POPPIN AT MHS!

By JUDY WYATT

Spring has sprung! Birds are singing, trees and grass are turning green, fruit trees are in blossom, flowers are blooming and the younger generation is feeling mischievous. The presence of spring is evident everywhere.

But this is a rather mild term to be applied to the happenings concerning McLean High School. It would be stretching the term a little beyond its endurance, to blame spring fever for the destruction that has been done. Very few desk tops are torn off just because the most refreshing of all seasons is here.

At present, it is uncertain as to who might be the attacker of the desks, and perhaps, he may never be discovered. But something must be done, because after all, what would Sandy Scribbler write on if there were no desk tops?

It's not half as much fun writing on a rough-topped desk, as it is on a shiny, smooth one. For some individuals it is hard to understand why a person can't be content to scribble on paper.

What they don't know is that once in a while a name, written with a pen or ballpoint pen, on a smooth desk top will slightly cut into the formica and wood fiber.

Then every time someone sits at this desk, he, too, can run his pen over the name and in just a short time the name will be permanently carved into the desk. From then on, the name will be in plain sight to show everyone how smart the person was who carved his name on the desk!

Also, these same persons cannot understand that all the other happenings are really just—a result of spring???—more than likely. Why, who wouldn't know that chairs suspended from windows, bus seats torn up and venetian blind cords cut in two are bound to be because of the spring atmosphere!

When other students see these mutilators in action, certainly it is not their duty to admonish them. After all, the articles are no one's personal property—they all belong to the school district. So, why should the students preserve them by correcting the minority of destroyer students! Or, is it the job of every student to keep the building and equipment in good working conditions?

This concludes another editorial and you are left with the above thought. An appeal is being made for the respect of property and not its destruction. The blame would not be placed on spring fever if cars and other objects belonging to students were abused as school property often times is.

Think this last statement over; it wouldn't seem the same if the "tables were turned," would it???

Nancy Meacham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Meacham, was born July 4, 1943, at Claude, Texas.

Nancy has attended school here in McLean for four years. During this time she has participated in the following: FHA, PTA, band, basketball, volleyball, tennis, softball, FBLA, Press Club, Tiger Post, Pep Club. Nancy has been a busy student in the four years she has attended school here.

Nancy plans to attend TCU and major in physical education, and then become a physical therapist. Her advice to freshmen is, "Put everything you have into your high school years. They don't last long. Study hard and participate in school activities. You miss a lot if you don't."

Nancy also had this to say for the student body in general, "Put your school name at the top of the list. Always try to do what is best for your high school. Make your school proud of you and the town proud of our school. When you graduate, you want to be proud to say that you graduated from McLean High School."

This is true in many ways of your father, for those he knew will not forget him, and the ideas he put forth will continue to function to the advantage of those he exerted them upon.

Again, the faculty and student body express their sympathy to you in this, your hour of great need.

Most sincerely,

FHA Chapter Has Discussion on Paint
By SUE WRIGHT

McLean chapter of FHA held their regular meeting March 16. The program was "Our Interest at Home, Special Hobby," which dealt with paints and painting of pictures of different types.

Mrs. Dickinson was the guest and she showed the girls how to use paints on glass. She also told the girls a little about the paints.

In the business part of the meeting they talked about their trip to Lubbock to the area meeting. Margie Railback, chapter president, presented a few of the girls with certificates for chapter degree in Future Homemakers of America.

There were 26 members, the sponsor and a guest present at the meeting.

After the meeting was adjourned, refreshments were served. Chairwomen of this committee were Barbara Dwight and Shirley Bybee.

VANDALS ARE ON THE PROWL

For the last two weeks, there has been a great deal of destruction going on in our school. I would like to ask the students of McLean High School what is the meaning of all the trouble they are giving the faculty?

There has been entirely too much writing on the desks and throwing of articles out the window. I have made a survey of the students and their opinions on the matter. I asked the following students what were their thoughts on the matter. Here are their answers:

Seniors:

Ruth Pakan: All the faculty has been in an uproar over what's writing on desks and throwing things out the window; it is nothing new. For the past four I have seen years worse than this. Therefore, I don't think they should raise their blood pressure over this matter. This is a destructive thing and it should not be done, but kids have done it in the past, they will do it at the present and will do it in the future.

Rita Brown: An occasional mischievous matter does not bother too much. They are many times done without intention of destruction; only to be getting away with something the teacher doesn't know about. It's the students who are into some form of trouble all the time that cause the most trouble. They not only get themselves into trouble but other students around them.

Doug Crockett: I believe that anyone who is foolish enough to cause all this trouble should have their head examined. As you know, your school cannot be compared with other schools in this area on the basis of building structure. Our building is simply not as modern as some of the schools in this area. However, if everyone would cooperate, and help keep MHS clean, I am sure that we would all be a little more proud of our school. Let's try to take a

A national trend to larger interior areas of partition glass in all types of buildings from homes to skyscrapers led to this development. Many new buildings have more glass inside than out. For many outdoorsmen the hunting season ends too soon. Just about the time they have warmed up to some exciting shooting, closing date rolls around.

A few years ago that meant cleaning and putting up the firearms until the following fall, unless the shooter had a yen for trap or skeet shooting. But many hunters have discovered skeet and trap just don't compare with a day in the field.

Except for varmint shooting, rabbits and squirrels in some counties, Texas' hunting season is closed until next fall. But there still are some places in the state where the scattergun artist can legally hunt until March 31.

These places are the "put and take" farms or shooting preserves. At the present time there are 13 recognized shooting preserves in 12 Texas counties. This type of hunting has met with such success that within the next year the number of shooting preserves probably will exceed 20.

Four species of birds are hunted on these farms—quail, ringneck pheasant, chukar partridge, and mallard ducks. A few of Texas' shooting preserves offer all four birds, but most specialize in just quail, pheasant and chukar.

It's strictly fee hunting, with the resort charging a set price for each bird bagged. The bag limit is that imposed by the hunter's wallet.

All birds shot on these farms are pen-raised. That might give the hunter the feeling that the birds are tame. One hunt on a game farm will prove otherwise—particularly in the case of pheasants which seem to revert to the wild in a matter of hours.

In a typical game preserve hunt, attendants release a number of birds in the field several hours before the hunters arrive. This gives the birds enough time to start foraging and work to cover.

Resorts provide dogs and guides for each party of hunters, and the size of a party usually is limited to about four guns. Some resorts will allow hunters to bring their own dogs, if the animals are well-trained.

Texas shooting preserve owners have been aided by Joe B. Davidson, field representative of the Sportsmen's Service Bureau. Davidson came to the Texas, Oklahoma and Louisiana area last fall.

Formerly chief of game management for the Illinois Department of Conservation, Davidson has been working since 1956 with shooting preserve operations.

Shooting preserve promotion work done by Davidson is part of a program initiated in 1954 by the Shooting Arms and Ammunition Manufacturers' Institute.

Two other field men are similarly engaged in this work in other sections of the nation.

When the program was started there were game farms in 22 states. Today these farms offer fine shooting in 41 states, and it is estimated that over one million game birds, artificially propagated and released for hunting under natural conditions, have been harvested by sportsmen on nearly 1,300 shooting preserves throughout the nation.

Recognized Texas shooting pre-

Shelby: Hawkeye Hunting Club at Center (a membership operation).

Slaton: S-Bar Ranch Shooting Resort at Slaton.

Smith: Duck Creek Game Preserve at Lindale and Quail Hill Farm at Tyler.

Wood: Minesola Hunting Club at Minesola.

For the hunter who travels in many states, a complete list of approved shooting preserves is listed in the National Directory of Shooting Preserves. This directory may be obtained free from the Sportsmen's Service Bureau, 250 East 43rd St., New York 17, N. Y.

Shooting preserve seasons vary from state to state. In Texas it opens on Oct. 1 and runs through March 31. The dates are the same for Louisiana, but in Oklahoma there is no set season.

All shooting preserves require hunters to make advance reservations since only one or two parties are permitted to take the field at the same time. The preserves include in their service the dressing of all game bagged and packaging for quick freezing.

Some of the larger shooting preserves have private air strips for sportsmen who fly their own planes.

You'll find good shooting on the shooting preserves and best of all you know the game is there.

Fenno, Cora Harving, Burl Davis, Ann Glover, Carl Wall, Bill Wall, R. T. Jinks, D. L. Kindie, Jimmy Pennington and Cora Bradford. Six children were present.

The group was dismissed with prayer.

SCOUT TROOP CAMPS OUT

Troop 19 of the Lefors Boy Scouts with their leaders, Frank Kirk and Theron Bradley, went to Camp Mel Davis for the weekend.

Saturday morning the group took a five-mile hike from 8 a. m. to 10:30 a. m., after which wood was chopped for their campfire service which was held Saturday night.

At this impressive ceremony several of the boys advanced in rank. Guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cullon and family and Miss Glenna Gee.

Senior patrol leader, Gene Gee, was assisted by Bill Beck. Acting junior patrol leader was James Rollins and Tommy Jackson was scribe.

Rev. Carl Nunn and Minister Doyle Harris conducted Sunday services for the boys. Guests attending were Mmes. Jack Thacker, Dow Willis, Frank Kirk and R. O. Wells and Miss Glenna Gee.

Danny Hill gathered information for a news story, and reported the following boys and their respective grades who attended:

Dickie Sims, Jack Hatcher and Colonel Miller, seventh grade; Kenneth Nickel, Ray Carter, Danny Hill, Dickie Wells, Jim Hill and Bill Beck, eighth; Bob Thacker, David Wells, Charles Day, James Todd and Ronnie Willis, sixth; James Taylor and George Duncan, fifth; Russell Barnes, fourth.

Ed Curtiss, Frank Kirk's nephew from Pampa, who is a regular member of the troop, was also present.

Boy Scouts Camp For the Weekend

The Lefors Boy Scouts spent Friday afternoon through Sunday at Camp Mel Davis in an encampment to introduce the boys to the ways of camp life and get ready to go to Camp Ki-O-Wah at Canadian in the summer.

Twenty-one boys worked the two days on their second, first, start, life and eagle ranks.

Regular church services were conducted Sunday by Doyle Harris, Church of Christ minister, and Carl Nunn, Methodist pastor.

The group was accompanied by their leader, Frank Kirk, Assistant Scoutmaster Butch Bradley and Norvel Carruth.

Attending were Gene Gee, Ray Carter, Bill Beck, James Rollins, Tommy Jackson, Jack Hatcher, Danny and Jimmy Hill, James Taylor, Colonel Miller, Ronny Willis, Bobby Thacker, Dickie Sims, Dickie Wells, David Wells, Russell Barnes, James Todd, Charles Day, Kenneth Nickel, George Duncan and Eddie Curtis.

Texas Fish Can Be Entered in Contest

AUSTIN—(Special)—White bass (sandies) fishermen of Texas may have a good opportunity this year to rank in top places in the 31st annual Field and Stream fishing contest.

Texas waters are among the best in the nation for white bass fishing, according to Howard D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission.

In the contest, $8,300 in U. S. bonds will be awarded for big fish caught and checked under the contest rules. The first prize will be for largemouth and spotted bass. However, there will be special prizes for white bass.

Ed Bonn, fishery biologist at Lake Texoma, for years has been attempting to get the white bass placed in the top list of prizes, but as of now the largest white bass will bring but a $25 bond.

When a large fish is caught it must be weighed and measured in the presence of witnesses. Information then is sought on the type of equipment used and the manner in which the fish was caught.

White and black crappie and various sunfish also may be entered. In the salt water division snook, sailfish, channel bass, weakfish, roosterfish, Mako shark, yellowtails, wahoo, dolphin and marlin may be entered.

Entry blanks may be obtained from the Game and Fish Commission office in Austin.

BIRDERS TO MEET

AUSTIN—(Special)—The annual meeting of the Texas Ornithological Society will meet in San Antonio March 30, 31 and April 1. Headquarters will be at the Wittee Museum in Brackenridge Park. Several field trips have been arranged.

By VERN SANFORD

Warsaw is a city in Poland. Warsaw also is the name of a fish—a huge deep-sea fish that moves in, around the offshore banks, during January, February and March.

A member of the giant sea bass family, this fish will range from "babies" of 30 to 40 pounds to "gramps" of 200 to 300 pounds.

These fish are the "extra added attractions" to the Texas Gulf coast's red snapper fishing during the cold weather months.

Actually Warsaw can be caught the year around, but getting to them in the summer means a long, long boat ride. The fish move to the banks near shore only in the winter.

Close banks are those 20 to 40 miles offshore. During the summer the fish are caught in much deeper water at the banks 70 to 150 miles out.

The warsaw doesn't have game-fish qualities. No leaping or surface cavorting like a tarpon or sailfish; no reel-singing runs of a kingfish.

But the warsaw appeals to thousands of fishermen—sports and professionals alike. It's a fish that will stock your freezer with choice eating for months to come.

Commercial fishermen go after the big warsaw with nylon handlines testing 200-pounds. They're in the business of selling fish and aren't concerned with fighting the fish. They're in a hurry to deck the brute and then try for a second, third and so forth.

Some commercial fishermen have used warsaw reels which they put into sockets on the boat's reels. They call them "bicycle reels." That is exactly what they resemble—crank handles, sprocket, chain drive and all. Other fishermen use small deck winches to do the job.

Most sports fishermen, however, prefer to battle the warsaw with rod and reel. They may miss the leaps and long runs of game-fish, but they can count on a warsaw giving them a real tug-of-war.

Most popular warsaw bait is a big sand trout, or a small red snapper—a two or three pounder. The snapper usually weighs a pound. You need that much weight to reach bottom in 50 or 60 feet of water if there is any kind of current running.

Warsaws don't make sudden strikes, so you don't have to be prepared for a sudden jolt. Instead, the fish sort of "inhales" the bait, and then starts to swim back toward its den or hole in the coral formations.

Your first job is to turn the fish, keep it from getting back into the hole. It means putting a tremendous strain on the rod. If the fish gets back in the hole, you'll probably lose it since the sharp coral will cut the line.

A warsaw is strictly a bottom fish. That's where he does all his fighting.

Once you get the fish moving up, he's yours unless you goof and give him sufficient slack line to dive.

If you get the fish halfway up, he's generally hooked for the change in water pressure will cause his stomach to burst and render him helpless. He'll come up quick then. All that remains is to slip a rope through his mouth and gills and haul him aboard.

You need large hooks and a long wire lead as terminal tackle. Your rod and reel should be of the big-game variety. Some sportsmen beat the work of having to reel in the fish by using electric reels. Most charter boats running bank trips have electrical outlets for such reels.

Warsaw runs usually start in January, although if the weather is unusually cold they are often caught in December. Most consistent warsaw catches are made in February and March. The runs taper off after that.

Earlier I referred to the fish as an "extra added attraction" to winter snapper fishing. Actually not many sportsmen go out solely for warsaw. They go out after the big-sawed red snappers. Then if they find warsaw around, they try for them.

Usually the fishermen put one line over the side of the boat for snapper and a second one for warsaw. That way they're sure of bringing home some kind of meat. Speaking of meat, warsaw flesh is delicious. It's white and firm. It can be fried, baked or broiled in a chowder.

But dressing out a warsaw is no job for the amateur. The fish has to be skinned and you need a saw to cut off the head.

Most fish markets will dress out warsaw, cut the meat into steaks and package it for freezing, for prices ranging from seven to 10 cents a pound. It's worth it. An amateur would probably need a day to do the job properly.

If you take a 100-pound warsaw in for dressing, don't expect to get back much more than 70 pounds of meat. There's a huge weight loss in the dressing process. You won't be far off if you figure the weight loss at 30 per cent.

Warsaw hide can be cured and tanned for making such items as briefcases, billfolds and purses. There are several such businesses in Florida.

If you're interested in catching a big warsaw, remember that the first three months of the year are the best.

SMALL BUSINESS AND THE NEW FEDERAL TAX LAW

The 1958 Federal Tax Law has introduced a new factor in selecting or changing the form of a business organization, a change which can mean substantial cash savings and other benefits for the owners of a business. Every person in business, whether presently operating as a sole proprietorship, a partnership or a corporation, should re-examine his business form in the light of the new federal tax law.

If a business is now operating as a partnership or a sole proprietorship, it can be incorporated and still be taxed, substantially the same as a partnership or sole proprietorship. In this way, it can avoid the federal corporation income tax, and pay only the tax on income to the proprietor.

The new tax law, called "Subchapter S," gives the businessman the usual advantages of the corporate form—limited liability, ease in transferring interests and continuity of the business after death—without the double-tax burden imposed on both the corporation and the stockholder.

If you are already operating your business as a corporation, in many cases you can cut your taxes substantially by taking the option to be taxed as a partnership or sole proprietorship without giving up the other advantages of the corporate form.

Although there is no limit on the worth of the corporation, except for tax loss carryover, the business must meet several qualifications, the most important of which are:

The corporation must have 10 or fewer stockholders; be a domestic corporation; have only individuals and/or estates as stockholders; have only one class of stock and not get more than 20 per cent of its receipts from rents, royalties, dividends, interests, annuities or profit from the stock market.

There are various other factors to consider in taking the option to organize as a corporation and make this tax election. First, all the stockholders must agree to the move. The decision must be unanimous and must remain so.

You should also investigate the possibility of putting your business back into its original form in the event that you are dissatisfied with the pseudo-corporation. Certain procedures must be followed to revoke the form. The corporate form of business gives advantages in estate planning not available to the partnership or sole proprietorship.

In other words, the advantages of taking the option to form a pseudo-corporation should be studied thoroughly before entering into such a business entity. Only with competent advice and thoughtful consideration can you make your business work to the full advantage under the 1953 Federal Tax Law.

WALTER ROGERS REPORTS

SUGAR STORY

The mysterious and complicated activities that have surrounded sugar activities in this country for a number of years will probably continue to be shrouded in mystery, at least temporarily.

It is difficult for the people of this country to understand the back-sitting, the double talk and in many instances misrepresentation by implication that seems to accompany any attempt to uncover any information about sugar operations in this country.

It is high time for a complete and full-scale investigation of what is going on in this business, and I intend to do my level best to find out. Those of us who have tried to work to the end that this country may become more self-sufficient in its sugar production have tried to handle the matter on a reasonable, agreeable and non-controversial basis.

However, we have been met with a total disregard for the rights of American people, and specially farmers who are and might be affected by this problem.

On July 3, 1960, the last day of the long session of Congress last year, a bill extending the provisions of the existing Sugar Act was being considered by Congress. The act would have expired on Dec. 31, 1959, at a time when Congress would not be in session.

Hence, it was necessary to pass permanent legislation before Congress adjourned or extend the act so that there would be time after Congress returned either in 1960 or 1961 to pass such legislation.

The fight was bitter because of several issues. One was the fact that under the act 45 per cent of our domestic sugar needs came from foreign countries. Two-thirds of that amount was being purchased from Cuba. All of you know what Cuba has been doing.

The Congress stayed in session all that night fighting over the sugar bill. The Conference Committee, made up between the Senate and the House of Representatives, finally reported that a bill had been agreed upon which would permit the President to reduce the quotas of foreign countries (this meant Cuba) and reallocate in accordance with a procedure agreed upon in the bill.

As a part and parcel of the agreement, the conference report included the following statement:

"As part of the understanding reached by the conferees, it was agreed that the conferees on the part of the House would undertake to pass a sugar bill and transmit same to the Senate on the earliest possible date after the reconvening of the House in August."

The conference report was agreed to by the House primarily because of such agreement and understanding. August, 1960, came and went with no sugar bill, but with the understanding that action would be taken in the early days of the 87th Congress and before the act expired on March 31, 1961.

A number of us have been pressing constantly for action since this Congress convened. However, our pleas have fallen on deaf ears. Instead of any proposed permanent legislation, all that is being considered is an extension of the present sugar act for an additional 21 months.

This is not in keeping with the promise made on July 5, 1960, to the American farmer and the American people. And I would point out further that the consideration given this bill has been behind closed doors and not in accordance with the understanding of a number of members of the Congress that they would be afforded an opportunity to be heard.

The only person who was permitted to testify on the subject was the secretary of state, Dean Rusk. The bill is being brought before the Congress (and, incidentally, will have been before the Congress before many of you receive this newsletter) under a proceeding which prohibits any amendments and limits debate to 40 minutes.

Even the Rules Committee has been circumvented.

The extension of the act for 21 months means this—the Cuban quota of approximately three million tons of raw sugar, if not purchased from Cuba, must be purchased from other foreign nations. In other words, the American farmer is denied the right to participate in any portion of the quota which is taken away from Cuba.

It will go as a windfall to other foreign nations, many of them Latin American nations. We are all interested in helping Latin America, but the President has only recently indicated a request for $600 million for that purpose.

How can the taxpayers of this country assume a burden of that kind if they are to be denied the right to produce products necessary to provide for their own subsistence? One-fourth of the Cuban quota assigned to domestic producers who must carry the tax load would go a long way toward solving three problems:

One, it would help the economic situation in areas that can grow sugar beets. Two, it would permit the planting of sugar beets, a non-surplus crop, and thereby reduce surplus crops. Three, it would help to stem the outflow of gold from this country.

And, I might add, that it would not hurt our foreign relations, because the foreign countries would not lose any tonnage. In fact, they would be gaining the remaining 75 per cent of the Cuban quota.

But it would appear that those interests who have gained control of the sugar business are so overcome by their own greed that they are willing to risk anything to prevent additional domestic production of sugar or permit the people to be heard on the subject.

If this present proposed extension is jammed through the Congress I would say to those responsible that it would be well to remember the old Indian saying: "If you fool me once, it's your fault. But if you fool me twice, it's mine."

VISITORS

I wish it were possible to report to you the names of all the Pan-handlers who were in the nation's capital last week, but it would probably take a special edition of the newsletter to list them all. We had a grand visit with the entire group. All were in Washington representing the National Farmers Union, and we appreciate their taking the time to come by the office.

Included in the group were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stubbs of McLean.

'PCA' Week Will Be Observed in Texas; Proclamation Issued

The Canadian Production Credit Association, serving this area as a dependable source of agricultural credit for its farmer-rancher stockholders for nearly three decades, will be saluted, along with the 35 other PCAs serving Texas, with a special week, March 26-April 1.

The week has been designated as "Production Credit Association Week" in Texas in a proclamation by Gov. Price Daniel.

In addition to statewide recognition, local honors will also be paid the Canadian PCA, which, as a home-owned and operated agricultural credit organization, has joined the 35 other PCAs, serving all 254 Texas counties, to provide $3 billion to Texas farmers, ranchers and dairymen since their organization in 1933.

The Canadian PCA, chartered under the Farm Credit Act of 1933, serves an area composed of Ochiltree, Lipscomb, Roberts, Hemphill, Gray and Wheeler Counties. The central office is in Canadian. Field offices are operated in Pampa and Wheeler.

"We have but one reason to be in business," explained General Manager Erbin Crowell, "and that is to provide adequate and dependable credit for our stockholders. Through our basic and thorough knowledge of agricultural conditions and problems in this area, we can provide sufficient and proper credit and credit counseling."

From its humble beginning of a handful of stockholders and a minimum of capital, the Canadian PCA had a loan volume of $3,031,000 in 1960.

Now serving on the board of directors are President H. H. Keahy of White Deer, Vice President Wallace N. Hamker of Booker, C. B. Henderson of Wheeler, M. H. Smith and Hugh F. Parsell of Canadian and M. Lawrence Elzey of Perryton.

City Couple Returns From Farmers Union Washington Meeting

Among delegates to the largest convention ever held by the National Farmers Union—and its first to be held in Washington, D. C.—were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stubbs of McLean.

The two-day session which ended last Thursday, was highlighted by addresses from Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, Secretary of Labor Arthur Goldberg, Under-Secretary of State Chester Bowles, Director of the Food for Peace Program George McGovern, Assistant Secretary of Interior for Power and Water Kenneth Holm, Director of Agricultural Credit John A. Baker and Marquis Childs, the national columnist.

Besides seeing and hearing this roster of high officials, the delegates visited the national monuments of Washington, had a special tour of the White House and interviewed various members of Congress.

The convention adopted resolutions which will govern the farm organization for the next year and heard a stimulating address by their president, James G. Patton.

More than 2,400 people registered for the convention, most of them arriving by special buses and some coming from as far as the Pacific Northwest. Thirty-three states and four foreign countries were represented.

Employees' Wages Must Be Reported

April 30 is the deadline for employers to report their employees' wages, Hal Geldon, Social Security Administration manager for this area, announced this week.

The earnings of anyone who worked at any time during the period January to March on any job covered by Social Security, Geldon pointed out, must be reported during April to the Internal Revenue Service.

These wage reports must be filed on Internal Revenue Form 941 regardless of how small the earnings or whether one or more workers is involved, the Social Security office pointed out.

Employers of household workers—including maids, cooks, handymen, cleaning women, etc.—should use Internal Revenue Form 942 to report cash wages paid to domestic employees, if those wages amounted to $50 or more during the calendar quarter.

Tax forms and reporting information are available at the nearest office of Internal Revenue. For Social Security information and pamphlets, contact the local Social Security district office at 1006 Adams Street, Amarillo.

Some people give as their reason for not going to church that they do not want to associate with hypocrites. This is a poor excuse because they never seem to mind throwing in with them on other occasions. It just doesn't make good sense anyway, because if we could hide behind a character like that we would have to be smaller than he was. Besides, while he is trying to convince St. Peter, and his argument is becoming weaker and smaller, where would the one be trying to hide behind him.

It is true that the only Bible your neighbor sees may be you, and if your life looks like a hypocrite, you are giving him a bad version of a mighty important book. Even though it doesn't help his case any to be reading you, it does make your case or mine a lot more complicated. We have our basic problem of being blind spiritually, the further complication of the blind leading the blind, with the eventual doom that we will both fall in the ditch.

Someone has said: "If we could get religion like a Baptist, experience it like a Methodist, be positive about it like a Disciple, propagate it like an Adventist and enjoy it like the Negro—that would be some religion. Likely one could change the names around and still make the point.

A hypocrite is not likely to bring all three of the following books to church: the Bible, the hymn book and his check book. He may bring two, but if he brings the third and really uses it, there is a mighty good reason to believe that his heart is there also.

What a wonderful old world this would be if everyone would do his duty, as we see it . . . On second thought, we doubt it. . . .
