Just Between Us

By the time many of you read these words, we'll be long gone on a brief trip east—to the center of Arkansas.

But we'll be back at the routine chores come Monday morning, and ready to pick up where we left off.

It's not often we have an opportunity to return to our native habitat. Of course, this is "home" now and that Ouachita Mountain country is a place to visit. But we must admit we enjoy going back now and then.

Upon our return, maybe we'll have something new to report about Arkansas to Bryan McPherson, Skinny Johnston, Mr. Duncan, the McLean watermelon king, and others interested in the self-proclaimed "Land of Opportunity."

—JBU—
If you've missed The Tiger Post of late, just hang on. There should be another edition in next week's News.

Christmas and New Year's holidays and then last week's semester exams have sort of pushed this business of newspaper publishing out of the minds of Mary Tom Riley and her student crew.

—JBU—
All of you who failed to put in an appearance at the March of Dimes benefit games last Friday just shouldn't have.

The first part of the evening was nothing short of hilarious. Those women teachers in their baggy bloomers put on a show of shows. And the young Tigerettes, who tried to keep a semblance of basketball in the game, found it a little difficult to do.

While the ladies were out to have a ball, the men who took on the Tigers were more serious. And bulging middles didn't seem to bother them too much as they fought the young ones right down to the final buzzer before admitting defeat by two points, 53-51.

It was all for a very worthwhile cause, and the evening produced a larger-than-expected take for the MOD. Persons attending contributed $183.37, and Jim Weatherford's Future Farmers of America kicked in another $15 from the concession stand.

—JBU—
One big thought in our mind as we looked over the sizeable crowd was this:

Why can't there be this kind of a turnout for all local basketball games? The Tigers and Tigerettes have played each of their home games before a crowd of far less than half the number of fans who attended last Friday's event.

Their regular games are entertaining, too.

While the Tigerettes have had trouble getting started so far this season, the Tigers are showing great promise. With more support as the District 2-A competition gets underway both squads could give much better accountings of themselves.

Watch 'em sometime. We bet you'll like this game of basketball.

Saunders to Show Cattle in Fort Worth

Eleven Aberdeen-Angus cattle from the Saunders Angus Ranch of McLean will be entered in competition at the Fort Worth Stock Show, Jan. 27-Feb. 5.

George F. Saunders will enter 10 of the cattle in the show, while his parents, Guy C. and Ora V. Saunders, will have one Aberdeen-Angus at the event.

The 1961 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth will have an entry list topping 9,000 head, shown by exhibitors from more than 30 states.

TO TAKE OFFICE: John F. Kennedy (left) will become the youngest man ever to be elected to the office of President of the United States Friday when he is inaugurated in ceremonies in Washington, D. C. Texas' own Lyndon B. Johnson, veteran United States senator, will become vice president.

March of Dimes Collections Rise

The mercury has begun to rise in the New March of Dimes thermometer, as contributions pour in for the annual month-long fund campaign.

Giving the effort a real shot in the arm was last Friday's benefit basketball games, which netted $198.37—including $15 from the concession stand operated by McLean High School Future Farmers of America.

510 DIE IN TEXAS FIRES

An estimated 510 persons died in Texas fires during the past year, according to a report received by McLean Fire Marshal Jimmie Don Morris from the State Board of Insurance.

The toll included 150 children 14 years of age and under; 170 persons 60 years and older, and 190 between the ages of 15 and 60 years.

Approximately 30 per cent of the children who died from fire were three years of age or younger—and some 95 per cent of all fire deaths occurred in the home.

Morris warned that the coldest weather is still in front of families living in this area, and as the cold increases so does the number of fires, fire deaths and injuries from fires.

The report showed that some 65 per cent of the fire deaths resulted from persons being trapped in the home.

No. 1 cause of fire deaths was matches—smoking, smoking in bed and children playing with matches.

Other causes in order of the number of fatalities: Electrical, unprotected open heating units and misuse of kerosene and gasoline.

Local FHA Members Meet Thursday Night

Members of the McLean High School Future Homemakers of America will meet at 7 p. m. Thursday in the school building.

Rev. Luther M. Berry, pastor of the Lefors Baptist Church, will show color slides of his trip to Washington, D. C., last summer. Rev. and Mrs. Berry accompanied their daughter, Patsy, to the national FHA convention, where Miss Berry served as pianist.

Members of the local FHA chapter and their parents are invited to attend Thursday's meeting.

WINDOM ON ALL-REGIONAL

Clyde Windom, McLean High School junior, has been named a guard on the Class A All-Regional football second team selected recently by the Amarillo Daily News.

Windom, who also won a guard position on both the All-District 2-A offensive and defensive squads, was the only McLean Tiger gridder making the mythical team.

However, two other local players received honorable mention—Quarterback Kenny Willingham and Halfback Jim Watson.

Like Windom, Watson was a unanimous choice of 2-A coaches for berths on both district teams. Willingham also was an all-district selection.

All Are Juniors
All three of the players are juniors.

Stinnett, which went to the semifinals before being eliminated from the state playoffs, dominated the all-regional squad, placing six on the first team.

The Lefors Pirates, District 2-A champions, placed two on the first team—End James Blair and Halfback Scott Dunnam.

Pirates on the second team were Tackle Kenneth Fields and Guard Wayne Timms.

Back Danny Wilemon of Lefors won honorable mention.

Jan. 28 Is Date For Children's Pictures

It is an undisputed fact that the responsibilities of tomorrow's world, the nation and McLean will rest upon the shoulders of today's children.

Since this is true, The McLean News would like to give its readers a good look at these future "world builders."

The News will do this by publishing a series of pictures of local and area youngsters.

Arrangements have been made for an expert children's photographer to be in McLean on Saturday, Jan. 28. Pictures will be made at the American Legion building from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

There will be no charge to the parents, and reservations may be made by telephoning Mrs. Jack Shelton at The McLean News (GR 9-2447).

Filing Periods Open For Local Elections

BALLOTING IS SCHEDULED FOR EARLY APRIL

McLean voters will choose a mayor, two city aldermen and two members of the board of education in April elections.

Balloting to fill the school board posts is scheduled for Saturday, April 1, and the city election will be the following Tuesday, April 4.

Filing periods for both elections are now open and will continue until 30 days prior to the voting, as provided by election regulations.

This apparently sets the closing date for the school board filing period on March 1 and for the city election March 4.

3 Years on Board
Board of education members whose terms expire this spring are J. W. Meacham, currently serving as board president, and Clyde Brown.

Members of the school board are elected for three years, while the mayor and aldermen serve two-year terms.

The terms of Mayor John C. Haynes and Aldermen Ruel Smith and Boyd Meador expire this year.

Members of the school board and city commission are elected at large, with the candidates receiving the highest number of votes elected to the positions being filled.

Places to File
Persons seeking board of education positions may file their candidacies in the school district office in city hall.

Candidates for mayor and aldermen file in the city office, also in city hall.

Holdover aldermen include Roy Barker, Creed Lamb Jr. and M. M. (Joe) Burroughs.

Holdover members of the school board are Spencer Sitter, F. J. Hess, Charles Hall, Sammy Haynes and Dr. Joe Suderman.

Both elections will be held in city hall from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. on the respective dates.

Bake Sale Jan. 28

The McLean High School Future Business Leaders of America will hold a bake sale Saturday, Jan. 28, at the McLean Hardware and Furniture Co.

The sale will begin at 9 a. m. and continue until all items have been sold.

Beauty Parade Is Set for Jan. 30

McLean High School's annual "Parade of Beauties" has been scheduled by the Press Club for 7:30 p. m. Jan. 30 in the school auditorium, according to Dennis Roach, club president.

Thirty girls will pass in review before out-of-town judges during the evening. One is to be selected as the school beauty, while two will be runnersup.

The beauty queen will be featured on a full page of this year's high school yearbook. A half-page will be devoted to each of the runnersup.

Among the contestants are five seniors, 12 juniors, three sophomores and 10 freshmen.

Each is sponsored in the competition by a McLean firm.

The beauty contest is sponsored each year by the Press Club as a yearbook fund-raising project.

The contestants and their sponsors:

SENIORS
Rita Brown, American National Bank; Ruth Pagan, Marie Foundations; Peggy Sharp, Cooper's Market; Judy Wyatt, McLean Hardware and Furniture Co.; Sue Wright, Motor Inn Auto Supply.

JUNIORS

Troopers Call On Local Motorists To Drive Slower

The two Texas highway patrolmen stationed in McLean this week expressed alarm at the increasing number of traffic accidents occurring on city streets.

Troopers Charles Henderson and R. C. Parker reported that the only two accidents they have investigated in the past two months were inside the city.

The mishaps, occurring at intersections, injured three persons and heavily damaged the vehicles involved.

The patrolmen said they feel that many motorists are driving too fast—at a much higher rate of speed, in many cases, than the 30-mile-per-hour limit inside the city.

Committee Appointed
They urged persons to drive carefully and to "slow down at dangerous intersections."

The city commission at its last meeting took note of the traffic problems, and Mayor John C. Haynes appointed Aldermen Ruel Smith and Boyd Meador to a special study committee.

Recommendations for solving the problem are to be presented by Smith and Meador at a later commission meeting.

FFA Boys Enter Livestock in Show

Four McLean High School Future Farmers of America will show livestock next week at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show.

Entering animals in the competition will be Bill Goldston, Jim Butrum, Max Coleman and Fred Brown.

Plans for showing the livestock were made at a meeting of the FFA chapter Monday night. A local judging team also will represent the chapter in the FFA livestock judging contest.

The youths discussed the painting of City Park equipment, and a committee was named to start making plans for the annual father and son banquet later in the school term.

Members decided at their meeting to adopt a point system which will be in effect when an FFA boy wants to go on one of the chapter trips.

Mexican Dinner Is Slated for Jan. 28

A Mexican dinner will be served Saturday, Jan. 28, by the McLean Order of the Eastern Star in the grade school cafeteria.

CAGERS LOSE AT CLARENDON

The McLean Tigers lost a heart-breaking, 64-63 decision to Clarendon Tuesday night in the opening round of District 2-A action.

Clarendon also defeated the Tigerettes 47-24.

The Bengals had led through most of Tuesday's tussle, but the hosts pulled in front as the game neared its climax.

McLean held a 20-15 margin after the first quarter, and left the court at halftime with a 34-28 lead. At the end of three periods the locals were in front 47-45.

Jim Watson pumped 24 points through the netting for the Tigers' best individual effort, but scoring honors went to Clarendon's Talley, who had 27.

Kenny Willingham counted 17; Donnie Woods, 13; Doyal Billingsley, six, and Joel Meacham, three for McLean.

Cindy Rice was the Tigerettes' leading point-maker, with 14. Janice Page and Linda Burnett had four apiece and Helen Smith two.

Lefors squads come to McLean Friday for the second district game of the season, then the Tigers and Tigerettes travel to Memphis next Tuesday and return home the following Friday to entertain Canadian and end the first round of 2-A play.

Game time each evening is 7 p. m.

Gray County Traffic Accidents Kill Three During Past Year

Three persons were killed and 135 injured in 182 traffic accidents occurring in Gray County during 1960, according to the Texas Highway Patrol.

And the property loss in the mishaps was a staggering $116,985.

This was the patrol's year-end report just released.

As heavy as the toll was, it still fell below that of 1959, when eight persons met death on Gray County roads and highways.

One December Death
The injury list in the previous year was smaller, however—85. And the number of accidents in 1959 was 150. Property loss for that year totaled $95,747.

Gray County drivers kept up their steady accident pace during 1960's final month.

The Highway Patrol reported that one person was killed and nine injured in December. The patrol investigated 15 rural traffic accidents, which caused property damage of $4,945.

District Patrol Sgt. E. G. Albers said that the Texas Department of Public Safety closed its "Operation Death Watch" 10-day period at midnight Jan. 1 with 83 traffic deaths.

New March of Dimes Funds Help Eric, Birth Defects Victim, Reach Age of 2

Eric Brantner is a frail and appealing little boy who achieved the age of two years the other day in his crossroads home at Palouse, Wash.

Held in his mother's arms on that great day, blue-eyed Eric could recognize his birthday well-wishers, among them his dancing, bound-dog, Jupiter. But not so long ago, Eric wasn't given much time by most doctors to enjoy Jupiter or other members of the household. He was born three months prematurely and also developed an enlarged head (hydrocephalus) due to excess fluid on the brain. His despairing parents, Gail and Vonda Brantner, did not believe that a second birthday was in the cards for Eric.

Then, as the head grew alarmingly larger on the insubstantial body, members of the Whitman County Chapter of The National Foundation came forward with an offer of March of Dimes funds if they were needed for patient aid.

They were urgently needed. Eric was rushed to Sacred Heart Hospital in Spokane, 65 miles away. There, at the age of 10 months, he underwent surgery for nearly four hours. The surplus fluid was drained away, relieving the pressure on the brain caused by blockage, and a plastic tube was inserted to keep the accumulating fluid flowing from the head to the blood stream near the heart.

Although Eric's appearance today belies his two years—the little boy looks scarcely more than six months old—the doctors' view is that he now has a good chance of survival. He cannot sit up by himself and he is only just learning to toddle uncertainly in a baby walker. But he engages in lively play with his mother and father, who is a section hand for the Great Northern Railway, with his dotting brother Mark, three years, and of course with his frisky but gentle four-footed companion, Jupiter.

Eric enjoys the dubious distinction of being one of the first victims of a significant birth defect to be given patient aid in continental United States under The National Foundation's expanded program, which includes arthritis in addition to continued work in polio. (The first instance of patient aid under this new program occurred last year in Honolulu where the local chapter expended March of Dimes contributions to care for a Hawaiian infant born with the birth defect of an open spine; the baby today is well along the road to a normal life.)

With generous support of the New March of Dimes in January, hopefully the number of Eric's will in time be many thousands fewer.

Visitin' With The GRAY COUNTY AGENT

By FOSTER WHALEY
RURAL CIVIL DEFENSE

On Monday and Tuesday of last week the county and home demonstration agents and Cecil Regier, assistant county agent, attended a training school in Amarillo on rural civil defense.

Much of the information we received was startling, to say the least.

If you have the same attitude toward adequate preparedness as I did before attending this and other meetings, you are saying by now: "Oh! What's the use?"

But you can and must make preparation for a thermonuclear war.

Red China is expected to have thermonuclear weapons by late 1961 or 1962. Death to Chinese means very little, and they could be the nation that could plunge us into an atomic war.

A dreadful thought, but one we must face up to.

We in the Extension Service in Gray County have been charged with the educational responsibility of making the rural residents of this country aware of this danger of an atomic war and motivating you to prepare yourself and your family for such an eventuality.

We feel very keenly about this responsibility. In a rural area such as ours your greatest danger is not from the blast of an atomic bomb. Radioactive fallout is your greatest danger.

MT. MCKINLEY NO. 27

There are 27 mountains in the world above 20,000 feet. Highest, of course, is Mt. Everest, in Nepal and Tibet, at 29,002. Twenty-seventh in height is North America's highest peak, 20,300-ft. Mt. McKinley in Alaska.

How can you and your neighbors "weather" it? First, by constructing a fallout shelter. Second, by providing food and supplies for a two-week period in that shelter.

Soon we will have in our files plans for a protective shelter and a check-list of other items you would need in food and supplies for the two-week period.

We also have material that suggests certain changes that could be made in existing storm cellars and basement structures that would give adequate protection.

Why not drop me a card or yell at me when I'm in McLean on Tuesday for literature on this subject?

CATTLE DEAL

Here is a good cattle deal for someone, but I can't figure out who. Can you help me?

Eldon Hudson, Groom, bought calves last week from Jess Coleman after Assistant County Agent Cecil Regier helped compromise their differences.

Hudson agreed to pay Coleman 25 cents per pound on the 440 pounds of delivery weight. Coleman is to pay Hudson 22 cents per pound for all the gain the cattle put on in the feed lot.

When the cattle have been finished in the feed lot, Hudson and Coleman will split any gain over and above the 25 cents they might sell for, or split any loss sustained if the cattle bring less than the 25 cents.

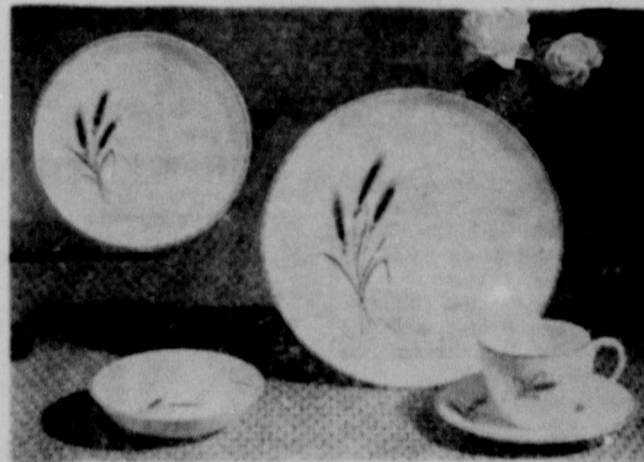

I didn't ask Jess if it was all right to print this, since a guy's cattle trading is usually a personal matter. But it was such a unique deal I couldn't resist.

Meals Outside Home Cost $11.7 Billion

A staggering $11.7 billion are spent for meals outside of the home each year in the United States among more than 200,000 eating places—including restaurants, cafeterias, lunch counters and hot dog stands, according to Texas Restaurant Association estimates.

The food service industry ranks fourth among all American industries accounting for billions of dollars in buildings, equipment and payrolls each year.

Estimates place the number of eating establishments in Texas around 12,000 to 13,000.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—(Special)—Forecasters are fond of saying, "That which is going to happen has already begun."

If so, the first year of the sixties was strewn with weathervanes to point the course of Texas in the next nine years.

Among major Texas events in the opening year of the sixties were these:

1. PARTY PRIMARIES were held in May and June, two months earlier. New dates ended old traditions, like announcing with the dogwood, campaigning in the heat. For the first time in years, challengers toppled two incumbents from statewide offices, a fact that's bound to encourage activity from young men "waiting in the wings."

2. DEMOCRATIC CONVENTIONS, though tempestuous as always, were held in control by the joint leadership of Gov. Price Daniel and Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson. Johnson won nearly unanimous backing for his presidential bid at the June state convention, an event which marked the end of the left-wing DOT. After the national convention in July, dissension arose in the other wing. Many conservative Democrats backed at supporting Standard-bearer John Kennedy and the liberal national platform. Enough became "Texans for Nixon" to make Texas a "doubtful state." Scars and divisions of 1960 will inevitably be reopened when Texas Democrats get together again in '62 and '64.

3. 1960 CENSUS reports confirmed predictions that Texas will be a metropolitan state in the sixties. Overall, population grew from 7,711,194 in 1950 to 9,579,677. Sixty per cent of the increase was in the four largest cities. In addition, in every growth area, cities increased their populations at the expense of surrounding rural counties. This did not alter the state total, but changed the make-up of population—now 70 per cent urban, 30 per cent rural. Result will be a strong push for more urban representation in the Legislature, more state-level sympathy for city problems.

4. STATE FINANCE PROBLEMS never were out of the news, as both public officials and private citizens circled the issue that will come to a boil in this year's legislative session. State Finance Advisory commission, appointed by Gov. Daniel in May, worked thru the summer and fall. In December it recommended a one per cent payroll tax to raise the more than $100,000,000 a year the state is expected to need in new money. Meanwhile, meetings were held by practically everybody—teachers, labor and business groups, all with a vital interest in future taxing and spending decisions.

5. AUTO INSURANCE RATES, under a new merit rating plan, have for good or ill stirred more commotion than a back-firing Model-T at a horse auction. Last Legislature turned down flexible rating and instructed Board of Insurance to consider safety incentives and driving records in Model-T at a horse auction. Result was a plan, begun last Jan. 1, basing auto insurance rates on the driver's arrest record for the past three years, including traffic tickets as well as accidents. Drivers whose rates jumped because of minor violations were irate. Those with spotless records got lower rates and were generally happier. A number of lawmakers have promised to look into the matter thoroughly this year.

6. GAS TAX SUIT, begun in early 1959, probably will be in the courts another year. In the past year gas pipeline companies won rulings that the severance beneficiary tax is unconstitutional in district court and the Court of Civil Appeals. In months ahead, the case will go to the Texas Supreme Court and U. S. Supreme court. If the tax is upheld, future efforts to raise the rate are certain. If, as in the case of the gas gathering tax in 1953, it is held unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court, it is unlikely that even the most ardent tax gas advocates will try again to raise revenue by this route.

7. RACE FOR SPEAKER of the House, as tight and uncertain as in 1959, brought renewed suggestions that "there ought to be a better way." It will take several weeks for the winner of the secret ballot on Jan. 10 to get committees organized and ready for business. To add to the confusion, prospective candidates for speaker in 1963 are already jockeying for position. Some have suggested a constitutional amendment to permit representatives-elect to meet and elect a presiding officer a month or so before the session's actual opening. Another proposal is to let the people decide by making the post an elective one the same as in the Senate. Advantage besides letting the voters have a choice is the fact that the decision would be reached in November and the House could go to work immediately on the opening day of the session. Also it would eliminate all of the bitterness that is created under the present system.

8. TOURIST AND NEW INDUSTRY promotion got underway in 1960, despite penny-ante budgets. Highway Department brought out its first tourists' brochure, a 32-page booklet in four colors. This year it will ask the Legislature for $300,000 to place advertisements in national publications. Texas Industrial Commission also produced a brochure, but says it cannot compete with other states on a $23,750 a year budget. It will ask the Legislature for $420,000 a year. Both the tourist and industry seeking agencies contend that Texas cannot achieve its growth potential in the sixties unless it goes in with six-figure budgets comparable to those of competing states.

9. TEXAS TIDELANDS ownership, a paramount issue in the forties and fifties, finally was laid to rest in June, 1960. U. S. Supreme Court, to the surprise of many, ruled that Texas owns the submerged lands 10½ miles out into the Gulf. If the land is as oil-rich as hoped and if there is a market for the oil, tidelands revenue will augment the permanent school fund in the years ahead.

10. SEN. JOHNSON'S ELECTION as vice president opened the door for more likely politicking in 1961 to decide his Senate successor. Field is already crowded with the likelihood of a dozen or more candidates before the filing deadline passes. Conceivably, someone who already holds an office could be elected, setting off a chain reaction of moves up the political ladder.

FARM PRODUCTION HIGH—Texas farm production in 1960 tied with 1958 for the second highest year in history, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported.

Total production was 138 per cent of the 1946-1956 average. Combined value of the principal crops was $1,400,000,000. This was three per cent less than last year, largely because of drops in cotton and sorghum grain prices.

Cotton is still the leading crop. Texas farmers produced 4,350,000 bales in 1960 for an income of $711,000,000. Improved conditions and methods were reflected in the 329 pound average yield per acre, up 79 pounds per acre from the 1958.59 average.

RIGHT AND WRONG: The wrong way (top) and the right way (lower) to mark Texas boats with registration numbers is pointed out by Bob Townsley, director of the Texas Highway Department's motor vehicle division. Top number, white, gives poor contrast with the light hull. The bottom number, contrasting sharply with the dark background, has good visibility.

AND MAYBE UNBEARABLE?

In listing what it obviously considers the limitless uses of stainless steel manufactured in Japan, an English-language Japanese industrial magazine states: "Stainless steel bathing suits have no danger of color fading and are practically unbreakable. The question is their possible flexibility or pliability and wearing comfort. Should they be solved, stainless steel bathing suits will be unbeatable."

STILL TRYING

Scientists continue their efforts to make fresh water out of salt water. A new attempt is under way in Pennsylvania in which sea water is frozen, producing crystals from which the brine is washed off. At the beginning of 1960, total cattle in the world exceeded one billion head for the first time, a two per cent increase from 1959.

Changes Are Made In Social Security

Wages paid to a parent who works in a business for his son or daughter are covered by Social Security starting this year, says Hal Geldon, manager of the Amarillo Social Security office.

This recent change in the law does not apply to domestic work in the home of one's child; such work is still excluded from Social Security coverage.

"The new regulations apply only if there is a bona fide employment relationship between the owner of a business and his parents," Geldon explained. "In such a case the wages which are paid for services rendered are credited to the parent's Social Security account the same as an unrelated worker's wages are credited."

The wage credits which a parent earns will be used to determine his right to receive retirement, disability and family insurance benefits.

The first Social Security tax return and wage report to include the wages of a parent will be due in the month of April for the first three months this year.

Deer Harvest Heavy During Past Season

AUSTIN—(Special)—Preliminary reports indicated the 1960 Deer hunting season, which closed Dec. 31, was the most successful in the history of the Game and Fish Commission, according to H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary.

Figures compiled by the wildlife management division show a definite increase in the kill on public lands on the management areas. The commission issued 2,439 permits for hunting on these areas.

There were 1,841 hunters reporting and they killed 472 deer for an average of 31.07 per cent hunter success. This included 261 antlered and 311 antlerless deer.

A survey by the U. S. Children's Bureau shows that 3,000,000 mothers now working full time have 5,000,000 children under 12 who need care while mother toils.

Down Memory Lane

10 Years Ago

The McLean FHA girls were entertained Jan. 8 with a demonstration of the "not-too-simple" hobby of Mrs. Anos Thacker—her hobby being ceramics.

Mrs. Thacker's home was highlighted with her colorful creations. Following the discussion, each girl was presented with a small piece of clay and was told to mold something of her own originality. Mary Graham and Barbara Barrett won prizes for neatness and cleverness.

Co-hostesses were Floella Cubine, Billie Sue Pettit, Colene Crockett and LaVerne Williams.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. Tommy Hulsey, chapter sponsor; Mrs. Odell Mantooth and Mrs. Glenn Jolly, chapter mothers; Mrs. Earl Stubblefield, Mrs. Ercy Cubine and the following members: Bethie Mantooth, Dortha Chase, Ann Cooper, Floella Cubine, Colene Crockett, LaVerne Williams, Iva Mae Adams, Barbara Beck, Eva Jo Day, Margaret Biggers, Lorene Cliff, Mary Graham, Sue Glass, Dorothy Jolly, Betty Jean McClellan, Tesetta McCurley, Wilma Molloy, Betty Jo Patterson, Pat Shelton, Donna and June Stubblefield.

LONGEST RIVERS

River Nile in Africa is the world's longest, computed at 4,159 miles. Second is South America's Amazon, about 4,000 miles, and the Mississippi-Missouri combination in the U. S., at 3,892 miles, is third.

Debts to some of us, who weathered the financial slump of the 30's, remain a frightening thing. Time may have dimmed the reality, but the memory lingers on. Thinking along the subject of debts both personal and national we decided to get together some information. From several reliable sources we tried to cull out a few vital figures that to us reveal a dangerous trend.

In 1900 the national debt was $1,263,000. By 1909 it had risen to $16,185,000. As of Dec. 1, 1960, it had reached the staggering sum of $290,496,000. There is no sign of a slower trend of increase.

In 1916 individuals owed debts totaling $36 billion. By 1939 this figure had climbed to $71 billion. At the close of 1969, the last date that totals are available, it had jumped to almost $266 billion. Corporation debts were $40 billion in 1916 and by 1969 had climbed to nearly $336 billion. This would give a total personal and corporate debt of $602 billion about one year ago. Many experts say that to add the pledged obligations of the government to the present debt would make it as much or even higher than the debts of both individuals and corporations.

The value of all property in the United States, including the government foreign investments, has also increased but just how much is increased wealth and the part that is merely inflation is debatable. In 1900 all property totaled almost $88 billion. In 1939 this figure had reached $10 billion. By the end of 1963 the total had climbed to $1,662 billion. We were borrowing 1.4 per cent on total property in 1900, as a government. Today our government is borrowing almost 20 per cent on all property. Individuals and corporations mortgaged for 40 cent. Adding the totals together we are soaked for 60 per cent of our worth.

WALTER ROGERS REPORTS

INAUGURATION

On Friday, Jan. 20, at 12 noon, a ceremony will take place in front of the Capitol building of the United States. This ceremony will be the inauguration of John Fitzgerald Kennedy as President of the United States of America and Lyndon Baines Johnson as vice president of the United States of America.

It will be the 43rd ceremony of its kind in the history of this country. This ceremony will evidence in a few short seconds the shift of responsibility that has never been equalled in the history of mankind.

The cloak of responsibility as Chief Executive of the democratic processes in the government of 180-plus million people will be lifted from the shoulders of the oldest man ever to serve as President of the United States, and draped around the shoulders of the youngest man ever to be inaugurated as President of the United States.

The new President will be sworn in to serve for the constitutional term of four years. When this is done, the people of the United States should close ranks behind him and put up a unified front to the rest of the world.

The next four years will undoubtedly see great divergence of opinion throughout this country on many domestic issues. It will also see a divergence of opinion on matters concerning foreign policy.

But, whatever the personal feeling of any American, we must never allow ourselves to be so split as to jeopardize the welfare and the best interests of this country in meeting challenges from foreign sources.

This event will be heralded throughout the free world and watched with great interest in the Communist areas. It will mark the beginning of a new regime under the greatest government ever conceived by the mind of man. It will be watched by the free world because of their desire to continue to look to this country for leadership.

It will be viewed with great interest by the Communists in all parts of the world with the hope of possibly detecting some weakness which can be exploited.

People from all over the nation will come and for several days before and after the short ceremony which will make Private Citizen Eisenhower out of President Eisenhower, and President Kennedy out of Sen. Kennedy, there will be many celebrations and ceremonies and the nation's capital will be crowded to overflowing.

SCD Represented At Meeting in Dallas

Curtis Schaffer and Roland Dauer represented the Gray County Soil Conservation District at the annual state SCD convention in Dallas last week.

Schaffer is chairman and Dauer secretary of the Gray County SCD board of supervisors.

Sales of textbooks and reference books reached a total of $597 million last year, 13.5 more than in 1958.

GET AMAZING RESULTS...

Already, the tickets to all of the ceremonies have been exhausted, hotel rooms have been sold out for months for a radius of 50 miles around Washington; the transportation facilities both within the city and moving in and out of the city will be sorely taxed to meet the demands.

The inaugural ceremony itself will be viewed by thousands. But many more thousands who would like to view it will be disappointed. There will just simply not be enough room to accommodate all of those who would like to attend.

One of the reasons for this is the fact that this ceremony is held at the east front of the Capitol.

The site of the Capitol was chosen by George Washington. It was determined at that time that the Capitol should face the confluence of the Potomac and Anacostia Rivers. Across from the east front of the Capitol is the Library of Congress and the Supreme Court building.

The east front is flanked by the House office buildings and the Senate office buildings. Although there is a large space within the confines of these buildings, it would be difficult, if not impossible, to view that place where the President will be sworn in except from a limited area.

It has been my feeling that if the ceremonies were held on the west side of the Capitol, which is that portion of the Capitol viewed from downtown Washington and the side of the Capitol on which the White House is located, many more people could be accommodated.

For instance, there is a mall extending from the Capitol building itself for many blocks to the Washington Monument and on to the Lincoln Memorial. The west side of the Capitol is by far the most beautiful side and many, many people have thought that it was the front of the Capitol because of its imposing beauty.

The inaugural ceremony, if held on that side of the Capitol, could be so arranged that thousands more people could witness it in person.

Some people ask why the front of the Capitol was so arranged that it faces away from the city of Washington proper and the White House. There are several stories in answer to this query, but the one that has appeared to me to be the most plausible is the following:

It seems that at the time it was determined to face the Capitol toward the confluence of Potomac and Anacostia Rivers, some land grabbers who had inside information immediately moved in and bought up all the land between the river fronts and the Capitol building and boosted the price so high that it was almost prohibitive.

In retaliation, the people moved into that area between the back of the Capitol and the White House, much of which was semi-swamp-land. This was filled and made usable.

It is in this area that the business district of the city of Washington is presently located, as well as many government buildings, including the Smithsonian Institution, Treasury, Department of Justice, the Archives, Labor Department, Department of Commerce, Post Office Department, etc.

In any event, I do hope that any of you who visit Washington will not fail to view Washington from the west side of the Capitol, preferably inside of the building. Looking down the mall to the Washington and Lincoln Memorials, you will view one of the most beautiful scenes in your experience.

Rod Lewis, missionary to Brazil, showed color slides and discussed his work as guest speaker at the McLean P-TA meeting last week.

Lewis answered questions about the nature of his work following his talk.

Mrs. Jim Boyd, program chairman, introduced Lewis, who was accompanied to the meeting by his wife.

It was announced that the next P-TA meeting will be at 7:30 p. m. Feb. 7, when a panel will discuss the subjects "Time—How It Is Used" and "Reading and Viewing—Good or Bad."

Mrs. Vera Back will serve as moderator, and members of the panel will be Lee Welch, Jesse Coleman, Mrs. Harold Fabian and Mrs. Richard Back.

Lunch Program Has Widespread Benefits

Currently over 13.5 million youngsters are participating in the National School Lunch Program, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The program was established in 1946 and each year this expanding market for farm food products has increased, officials said.

During the school year ending last June, some 12.8 million children were served 2,142,000,000 lunches. Most of the food, approximately 80 per cent, was purchased locally by the more than 62,000 public and nonprofit private schools participating in the program.

These local purchases amounted to an estimated $540 million.

In addition, school lunch menus last fiscal year included approximately $8 million worth of nutritious foods purchased for participating schools by USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service to supplement local purchases.

Among the popular lunch items were frozen turkeys, frozen ground beef, frozen ground pork, canned pork and gravy and a variety of canned fruits and vegetables.

NEW HIGHWAY THROUGH CITY DISCUSSED AT MEETING HERE

The topic of a new highway through Lefors, which is not a new conversation to people here, was brought to a head at a town meeting attended by approximately 100 persons in the school cafeteria Thursday night, Jan. 12.

Ray Chastain called the meeting to order and recognized the city council—Bill Teel, T. Radabough, Herman Gates and Mayor Frank Wall.

G. K. Reading, resident engineer of the State Highway Department, Pampa, spoke to citizens of Lefors concerning 19 miles of Highway 273 stretching from the Fort Worth and Denver Railway underpass north of Lefors to Holloway Corner.

"Nine miles from McLean to Holloway Corner is now under construction and will terminate in the spring in a first class highway. A contract will be let for seven miles of highway south of Pampa in the very near future, leaving the 19 miles described above," Reading said.

"A good highway is the life blood of a community in a town, and we want you to tell us what you want," Reading went on to say. He was accompanied by Curley Newton and Mr. Kelly of the Highway Department.

"Since Lefors is an incorporated town, it must provide one-third to one-half the right-of-way funds, and route the highway to meet state specifications, which will not allow any right-angle turns, or be adjacent to a school," Reading continued.

The proposed highway through the city limits would stay on the south side of the railroad tracks, leaving the present highway at the Salt Fork River bridge, three miles southeast of town, to the stock pens south of the railroad track, and then follow a general northward course.

A committee met immediately and set an on-the-spot meeting for Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock. A report will be made to citizens by the committee as soon as they can work out the details for approval.

It's the Law in TEXAS

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION:
KEEP RECORDS!

Back in pioneer days our forefathers found they could keep track of the family history pretty well with a few notations on the flyleaf of the family Bible. But life's not quite that simple any more.

Great Grandpa wasn't covered by Social Security or workmen's compensation. He didn't have a bank account or safe deposit box, a car and a dozen home appliances being bought on time payment, or a half-dozen insurance policies.

We have taxes Great Grandpa never heard of and wouldn't have believed if he had. And had you asked him for a certificate to prove his birth, he'd have thought you'd taken leave of your senses.

The point of this is that the average American today has a good many important papers to keep track of. There are birth certificates, receipts, copies of tax returns, sales contracts and a host of other papers. With a little tidy record-keeping, you can make life easier for yourself and your family when you are gone.

So, why not make a New Year's resolution to follow these suggestions:

1. Get a heavily bound notebook folder or file folder as a central collecting point for all the records of your affairs.

2. Put your especially important papers in your safe deposit box, but make a list of those papers and a brief summary of their contents to put in your home file.

3. Get for your files copies of birth certificates for all members of the family, and add them to the file. Add your marriage license or at least a statement as to when and where you were married and by whom.

4. Insert your will or a copy of it. If your will is kept elsewhere, include a note telling where it may be found.

5. During the year, put into the file your income tax withholding statements and receipts for expenditures which may be deductible. Then keep a copy of each year's tax return in the file.

6. Make a list of all the stocks and bonds you own and where they are.

7. List all the places you have lived and worked and the names of persons there whom you know. Include the schools you have attended and the dates you left or were graduated.

8. If you may have benefits coming under a profit-sharing plan where you work, make a note of that, too.

9. If you're in doubt about whether an item should be included, put it in.

This takes time, initially, but it will save you both time and worry in the long run.
