Rodeo Celebration Opens

FESTIVITIES DRAW LARGE CROWD HERE

McLean kicked off its 52nd annual 66 Roundup, Rodeo and Horse Show celebration on a clear and warm weather note, and the same conditions were holding at noon today.

Competition was keen and the crowd large at the opening performance Wednesday night in the Felton Webb Rodeo Arena north of the city. Rodeo performances—with scores of top cowboys—are scheduled at 8 p. m. each day through Saturday.

The arena, constructed last year, was named for the late Felton Webb last week, and a large, permanent metal nameplate has been erected at the entrance.

Webb, a member of the McLean Rodeo Association board of directors, died May 12 while preparing for the big four-day celebration here were being completed.

Horse Show Friday
Top attraction in the festivities Friday will be the third annual Horse Show, sanctioned by the American Quarter Horse Association.

More than 150 horses are expected to be entered in the show, which starts at the arena at 9 a. m. Nevile Back is show chairman.

The old fiddlers contest will be a highlight at 2:30 p. m. Saturday in downtown McLean, with Truitt Johnson serving as chairman.

Then Saturday night, at approximately 9 p. m., the calf scramble for 4-H and FFA boys is scheduled during the rodeo.

Contact Weatherford
Boys planning to enter the scramble were asked to contact Jim Weatherford, McLean High School vocational agriculture instructor. Youths aged 13 through 18 are eligible to compete.

However, boys who caught calves last year will not be permitted to enter the current contest.

Five calves have been donated for the scramble. They are being donated by the Harvey Taylor Ranch and Bob Sherrod Ranch, the J. S. Morse Triangle Ranch, Saunders Angus Ranch, E. L. Sitter Ranch and J. L. Hess and Son.

Scores of long-time residents registered Wednesday for the Old Settlers Reunion, and others were expected to arrive during the fest. (See RODEO, Page 3)

HARD AT WORK: Four Gray County graders swing into action on the McLean Municipal Airport runway project, northeast of town. The landing strip, previously inadequate for serving any but small aircraft, is being leveled, smoothed and oiled to provide a better landing service in a joint project of the county and the City of McLean. County Commissioner Truitt Johnson reported this week that 15,000 gallons of oil had been poured on the runway, and a smooth, hard surface is expected to result. (McLean News Photo)

Many Entries Due For Horse Show

At least 150 entries are expected here Friday for the third annual Horse Show being held in conjunction with McLean's 66 Roundup and Rodeo, according to Nevile Back, show chairman.

Back said a large number of owners had indicated they planned to enter their horses in the show, which is approved by the American Quarter Horse Association and Golden Spread Association.

A total of 26 trophies will be up for grabs, in addition to six ribbons in each class.

The show is scheduled to open at 9 a. m. Friday at the Felton Webb Arena, with the junior cutting contest the first event. The senior cutting contest will follow.

Registered barrel racing—for men and women—has been added to the program since original plans for the show were made. Western pleasure and registered reining are also on the performance schedule.

In the halter classes of the show, there will be five classes of mares, five of stallions and three of geldings.

Individual class winners, a grand champion and reserve champion will be selected in each class.

Just

Us

If ever you've had doubts about anyone in Amarillo caring whether McLean lives or dies, erase 'em from your mind.

We have never seen any town the size of ours given such a build-up before.

We're writing, of course, about the tremendous amount of publicity McLean's 66 Roundup, Rodeo and Horse Show has received from KGNC television and radio.

Just try to buy that amount of time on television sometime. The cost would stagger even a wealthy person.

But Cotton John Smith and his KGNC farm and ranch department pulled out the stops and went all the way to let their viewers know about our celebration.

—JBU—
Cotton John himself came out to get the ball rolling a couple of weeks ago. That time he didn't bring along a cameraman, so we were glad to pinch hit and make some pictures he was able to use on TV and in the Amarillo newspapers.

He made some tape recordings at the time, too, for use on radio in plugging our festivities.

We thought surely that was about all McLean could expect. But that was only the beginning.

Cameramen were sent out to cover the trail ride as it progressed toward Amarillo. And when we took some copies of The McLean News out to the riders last Thursday night at Lark, there sat a KGNC radio employe taking more interviews and hoodwink (See JBU, Page 3)

POLICEMAN IS HIRED HERE

City Manager B. J. McCartney announced this week that a second police officer has been employed for McLean, and law enforcement will begin on an around-the-clock basis.

The new officer is P. M. Gibson, a resident of McLean.

He will become night marshal, and Jewell Bowling, who presently holds that position, is to begin working during the day.

McCartney said the hiring of the second officer was approved by the city commission early in May.

Enforce Traffic Laws

The governing board took the action primarily for the purpose of enforcing local traffic laws.

A corporation court has been set up, with Mayor John C. Haynes as judge, for trying offenders. The court will be in session each morning when one or more offenders have been charged with violation of city ordinances.

The city manager said local laws—traffic and others—will be strictly enforced, and he asked for the cooperation of McLean residents.

Lions Installation Is Tuesday Night

New officers of the McLean Lions Club will be installed at a Ladies Night dinner next Tuesday evening in the Methodist Church.

The event will begin at 7:30 p. m. All Lions members and their wives are invited.

Board to Meet

The McLean city commission will hold its regular monthly meeting at 7 p. m. next Monday in city hall.

Recreation Program Meeting Is Monday

Detailed planning for this summer's youth recreation program is scheduled at a 5 p. m. meeting next Monday at the baseball park west of Duncan Field.

Jack Bailey, who has been named director of the program, asked all members of the Little League committee and other persons interested in assisting—both financially and as workers—to attend the meeting.

Plans are to be worked out for the Little League, and the possibility of forming a Pony League will be discussed at Monday's session. Youngsters interested in playing baseball this summer are invited to the meeting.

Uniforms will be distributed. Managing the Little League teams will be Sammy Haynes, Harvey Taylor and Johnny Haynes. Bailey said the league schedule is now being prepared, and the starting date will be decided Monday.

Present plans call for the young players to attend an Amarillo Gold Sox baseball game in Amarillo during the season.

Chairman of the Little League committee is Chub Fuller. Members include Roy Hess, Amos Page, Harvey Taylor, Joe Strappan, J. L. Mann, Hershel McCarty and Lee Welch.

Tennis instruction also probably will be offered this summer for youngsters aged 10 and older.

Financial problems are plaguing the recreation program, and an appeal has been issued for public contributions. Residents interested in contributing were invited to contact Sammy Haynes.

Bailey said he hopes "there will be a lot of enthusiasm and we can make this one of the best summer recreation programs ever held in McLean."

DEATH CLAIMS MRS. COOPER

Last rites for Mrs. C. O. Sharpe Cooper, 78, were held Tuesday in the Canyon First Baptist Church, and interment was in Dreamland Cemetery, Canyon.

Mrs. Cooper was the mother of John W. Cooper of Tucuman, N. M., former resident of McLean and owner of Cooper's Food Store here.

A resident of Canyon since 1930, Mrs. Cooper died Sunday.

Born in Arkansas
Born in Columbus, Ark., on July 30, 1882, she was married to Charles Oscar Cooper in 1903 at Hope, Ark. Mr. Cooper died in 1948.

She moved to Canyon from Hedley in 1930.

In addition to her son John, Mrs. Cooper is survived by two other sons, Clay of Canyon and Neil of Hereford; four daughters, Mrs. Faye Carnedy, Canyon, Mrs. T. E. Allen and Mrs. Hazel Hall, both of Los Angeles, Calif., and Mrs. Sidney Cosiazer, Amarillo.

Also surviving are 12 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Moisture Continues To Go Around City

As the dry, dusty land in this area would indicate, the year 1961 is dry.

Downpours, however, have occurred in many areas of the Golden Spread, but somehow the showers are missing McLean.

Moisture totaled 51 inch during May, bringing the year's precipitation to 4.87 inches. This compares with 7.84 inches at the same date in 1960—and 1.85 inches in May of last year.

Weather records maintained by Weather Observer Pete Fulbright show the following high and low temperatures for the past week:

	High	Low	Precip.
Thursday	82	58
Friday	73	50
Saturday	78	48
Sunday	86	55
Monday	91	67
Tuesday	89	68
Wednesday	94	65

Retail Merchants Office Is Moved

The McLean Retail Merchants office has been moved, effective today, from city hall to the Jane Simpson Agency.

Association directors voted to move the office at their meeting Monday, after Mrs. Wilma Banks resigned as secretary manager. Mrs. June Woods will replace Mrs. Banks.

VOTERS HERE FAVOR TOWER

Voters in McLean gave Republican John Tower a more than two-to-one majority—150 to 70—over Sen. William Blakely in last Saturday's Texas senatorial election.

The same story was true in almost every Gray County precinct, with Alameda the only place favoring Blakely.

There the interim United States senator received 25 votes to Tower's 24.

County-wide, Tower had a total of 2,118 to Blakely's 2,044.

Jim Wright, who was eliminated from the running in the primary election, received one write-in vote.

A close vote was recorded in LeFors, Precinct 1, where the GOP candidate received 77 to the Democrat's 69.

Tower, a former college instructor who campaigned as a conservative, won the Senate seat formerly held by Vice President Lyndon Johnson. Blakely had been appointed to the position after Johnson won election as vice president.

The voting was nip and tuck in the state, with Tower edging out a narrow margin of victory to become the first Republican senator from Texas since reconstruction days following the Civil War.

March of Dimes Expands Aid for Victims Of Crippling Birth Defects, Arthritis, Polio

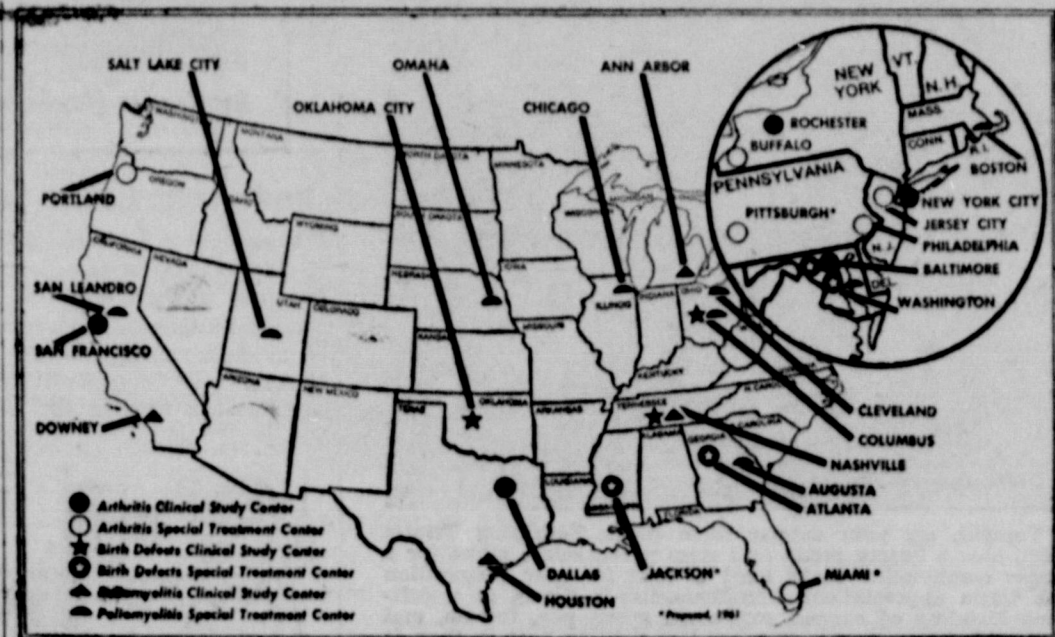

Victims of crippling birth defects and rheumatoid arthritis, among the largest groups of the medically underprivileged in the nation, can soon look for help virtually at their doorsteps, thanks to the March of Dimes.

The National Foundation, supported by March of Dimes funds, has broadened its horizons to give direct aid to children under the age of 19 suffering from all types of birth defects. Aid was previously limited to children with open spine, open skull and water on the brain.

The voluntary health organization has also authorized its 3,100 chapters throughout the United States to use available funds to establish a network of Special Treatment Centers and Evaluation Clinics for birth defects and arthritis. Assistance to polio victims will be continued.

The National Foundation's experience with polio treatment and rehabilitation centers as well as pilot projects conducted in birth defects and arthritis has proved the value of bringing together teams of experts to deal with medical, economic and social problems of chronically disabled patients and their families.

Under the newly expanded program, National Foundation chapters will finance Special

March of Dimes-supported Special Treatment and Clinical Study Centers offering comprehensive care to victims of birth defects, arthritis and polio are expanding throughout U. S.

Treatment Centers at major hospitals in several large cities. These will operate full time and provide treatment for both in- and outpatients through teams of specialists in the medical and allied professions.

For areas isolated from large medical centers, chapters will develop birth defects and arthritis Evaluation Clinics to offer outpatient care only, through periodic clinics with visiting medical specialists.

Cases that require more extensive care or hospitalization may be referred through Evaluation Clinics to Special Treatment Centers.

On the national level, March of Dimes funds will continue to support and expand Clinical Study Centers which provide exemplary total care for birth defects, arthritis and polio victims and also conduct research in those diseases.

As the number of centers of all three types increases, there will be an increase in knowledge and improvement of treatment facilities and techniques to bring closer to reality the control of chronic crippling diseases.

In conducting its vastly expanded patient aid program, The National Foundation will emphasize aid in areas of unmet needs. It will not duplicate assistance already being provided by other agencies.

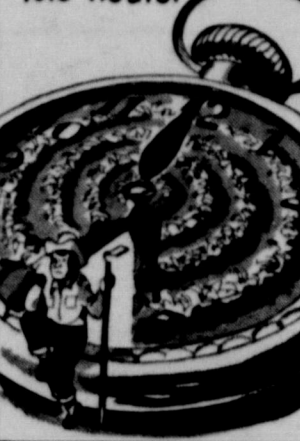

Farm Facts

Even with modern equipment and techniques, farmers put in a long workday in comparison with that of many of us. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service notes that the workday for farmers across the United States averages 10.6 hours during the month of June, and its length isn't changing much.

What's more, the operator puts in a longer day than his hired hand, on the average. The average workday for hired workers on farms in June totals 9.3 hours.

You probably might get an argument on this but the statistics reveal that, in June, farmers work longer hours in the North Central states than anywhere else—11.3 hours. Wisconsin farm operators top the list, working 12.2 hours. Their counterparts in Florida and Nevada average 9.1 hours. The Florida farm hand knocks off after 8.4 hours, while the North Dakota hired worker puts in an average of 10.6 hours in June—longest day of any.

The farmer's work day averages 10.6 hours.

The North Dakota farm hand works 7.9 hours in December and the Wisconsin operator works 10.6 hours. Florida operators and hired workers put in 7.4 and 7.6 hours, respectively.

Melissa Not Happy With Latest Drink

HOPKINS — (Special) — It seems the Harry Garrison family is having quite a time with the twins.

Not long ago Melinda had to have her stomach pumped out after drinking hair tonic, and now the last Saturday Melissa had to go through the same ordeal after drinking "corn remover."

One might say they had gone from head to toe.

Earlier in the week, Cotton John had called us to see if Emmett Allen's Sunset Ramblers—the band playing for dances during our celebration—could appear on his TV show Saturday noon.

Mayor J. C. Haynes rounded up the Ramblers and got them there.

Full coverage was given the trail riders' parade in Amarillo Saturday morning, and to climax the publicity more interviews and live TV time came during Cotton John's noon show.

In fact, the entire show was devoted to publicizing our celebration.

Apparently there's more to come. Royce Bodford, of KGNC's farm department, wrote us this week that the department would be represented during the four-day event. We should all be glad to have them. And if there was a red carpet around, we'd be happy to roll it out for them.

It's just plain terrible to have to be so involved in making a living one can't take time out for an enjoyable thing like that trail ride last week.

We had wanted to go before the trip started. And when we ran out for an hour or so to be with the group as they camped at Lark School Thursday night, it made us wish we could have seen even more.

Now, there was a bunch of people having a truly fine time—just sitting an enjoying themselves.

Trutt Johnson, with his violin, led several others in a music session, that lasted until Trail Boss Farris Hess had to call a halt so all could get their needed rest.

The music got the best of several—among them John Sublett. Mr. Sublett, under the weather for the past few weeks, sat quietly by for a while, but then he could do so no longer.

To the enjoyment of all, he bounced up from his chair and danced a jig.

Margaret, the girls and I didn't make it out in time to eat supper with the riders, even though we could have bummed a handout.

Spencer Sitter, who offered to feed us though we were late, reported more than 40 were served at his wagon. And the story was the same at several others.

Some 60 persons were on the ride so you can figure from this the number who went out for supper and visiting.

This seems to have cinched the trail ride as a part of the annual celebration. We hope so, for somehow we're going to make one someday.

Irven Alderson was reported as somewhat improved Wednesday morning. He has been in the Shamrock Hospital since last week.

A small twister came close to McLean late Sunday evening—close enough to slash off the top of a sizeable barn at the Gene Herron place one mile west of McLean—as the wet weather continued in the area.

Herron stated that he and his family were in their house at the time, and hardly noticed any unusual amount of wind. The house is about 150 yards from the barn which was damaged.

Peculiar thing about the twister, in addition to the driving of various pieces of lumber in the ground, was the driving of a nail through the ear of one of Herron's dairy cows. Mr. and Mrs. Herron found the nail through the cow's ear the next morning.

TELEPHONE TALK

by George Newberry, Manager

FARM INTERPHONE—NEW TIME-SAVER FOR FARMERS

A practical new communications service will be introduced in Texas in July to help farmers get more things done without so much wear and tear on them or others in their families.

The farm interphone, a compact communications package which will be available in July, should prove to be a real time-saver for hard-working farm families. It is designed to do three big jobs for you who live and work on the farm.

The first thing it does is provide regular telephone service between the house, barn, other farm buildings and key outside work areas. Just imagine how many hours and steps this will save a busy farmer and his family in a month.

Second, the farm interphone is hooked up with special loudspeaker-microphones that make it possible to answer the phone—hands free—without interrupting your work. Outside calls may be answered without leaving the barn.

Finally, the farm interphone is installed so that the sounds of the farm buildings can be heard in the house at night. It's a kind of "nightwatchman" that tells you of any unusual activities, livestock in need of attention, a pump or other equipment that might act up, or even the start of a fire.

A good farmer is a mighty busy man these days. And the farm interphone is designed to help him make the most of his time and energy. If you'd like to learn more about how the farm interphone can help you, just call the telephone business office in McLean, or ask any telephone serviceman.

TOOL CHEST ON WHEELS

I'll bet there isn't a housewife anywhere who hasn't found she lacked an ingredient for a recipe she was preparing. Or, for that matter, I wonder how many husbands have the right size washer on hand when they want to fix a leaky faucet.

The men who install telephones avoid situations like these by carrying a full assortment of parts and tools right with them. Their trucks are really parts departments on wheels, stocked with over 400 different items. They're prepared for every job when they call to install or repair service for you.

Being ready for the unexpected is just part of our effort at the telephone company to make sure your service is as convenient and trouble-free as is humanly possible.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

100 YEARS AGO

CONFEDERACY IS INVADED; COL. ELLSWORTH SHOT DOWN

By LON K. SAVAGE

Bright moonlight fell across the bridges leading from Washington into Virginia, and across them rode squads of Union cavalry in the early morning hours of May 24, 100 years ago this week.

Infantry followed. The men spread out along the hills overlooking the Potomac, digging trenches and fortifications. It was the first formal invasion of the Confederacy.

Col. Elmer Ellsworth, at 24 already a national celebrity for commanding the fancy drilling New York Fire Zouaves, led his men to the Potomac that morning and saw them onto transports. They sailed 12 miles down river to the city of Alexandria and there deked, the Zouaves' baggy pants, short jackets and turbans standing out brightly.

The occupation was easy; departing Confederates fired only a few shots, and Ellsworth posted his guards for possible counter-attack. Then, he stopped at the Marshall House, a hotel in mid-town Alexandria, where a Confederate flag flew from a rooftop pole. The flag must come down,

Ellsworth thought.

Goes to Roof
Ellsworth pushed open the door, walked into the hotel and mounted to the roof. There he cut down the flag and descended, the banner draped over his arm. A newspaper reporter and soldier accompanied him.

At the second floor landing, a barefoot man stepped out from behind a door, pushed a musket into Ellsworth's chest and fired. Ellsworth pitched forward to the floor without a groan. He was dead.

The assailant—it was the hotel was cut down immediately by a musket shot and the stab of a bayonet, but the deed had been done; the first Union officer had been killed in the war.

The newspaper reporter's account of the story was read throughout the North, and Lincoln, himself, wept when he heard the news. At Lincoln's request, Ellsworth's body lay in state in the White House East Room.

Still, an invasion had begun, limited as it was, and the war was beginning to take on new character.

A New Capital

That same week, the Confederate Congress took a step that would change the war's character from then on. The Congress adjourned at Montgomery, resolving to meet again at the Confederacy's new capital in Richmond.

And, accordingly, on May 26, President Jefferson Davis rose from his sick bed at Montgomery and boarded a private railroad car, where he again lay down in a special bed, to make the trip to Richmond.

On that same May 26, word reached young George Brinton McClellan, commander of the Union's Department of the Ohio at Cincinnati, that Confederates were burning railroad bridges in western Virginia. McClellan immediately wired orders to Col. B. F. Kelley in Wheeling to move two forces of men from Wheeling and Parkersburg to save the railroad.

And, in a move that would characterize his later career, McClellan issued a proclamation to the people of western Virginia. The Union troops, he said, were coming as "your friends and brothers . . . as enemies only to the armed rebels who are preying upon you."

Next day, Kelley's men moved out for a campaign that would catapult McClellan into fame.

Next week: The Battle of Philippi.

NEWS from YOUR COUNTY AGRICULTURAL AGENT

TEXAS A & M COLLEGE EXTENSION SERVICE

By FOSTER WHALEY

RATTLESNAKES

In response to my article concerning rattlesnakes, Mrs. Hugh Grogan, Quail Route, dropped me a line asking about the new repellent. We have sent her the address as requested.

Mrs. Grogan says she has killed seven rattlesnakes in her yard and one in the grandson's sand pile. She says this is very disturbing.

If anyone else is interested, we might make an effort to get some local firm to stock the material.

WHEAT PROSPECTS

In spite of the unusually dry April and May, conditions look good for a better than average wheat crop. We are still hoping for a 20-bushel crop in the county.

There seems to be a great variation between prospects on different farms. Summer-fallow land is showing up over the wheat-fallowing wheat.

Harvest will start on barley by June 5 to 7 and on wheat by June 10 to 15, it is estimated.

BUSH SPRAYING

Conditions haven't been too favorable on account of wind but some is being carried out, and most of the sagebrush spraying is still to be done.

Again we would like to caution against spraying when the wind is too high. Let's not damage our neighbor's cotton, orchard, alfalfa or shrubs.

FEED GRAIN PROGRAM

Sign up has been pretty heavy. By next week we will try to have more information as to the extent in Gray County.

A new amendment concerning irrigation is of importance to those who plan to take all their diverted payment on irrigated land. You must reduce your acres of irrigated land accordingly or otherwise your payment will be for dry land.

Mrs. T. A. Massay is in Amarillo to attend the graduation of her granddaughter, Michal Massay, from Tascosa High School.

PLOWIN' Out the CORNERS

by Uncle Zeb

The Little Old Man who came through the country peddling books stands out in our memory as one of the most unusual characters of our boyhood days. My folks never bought his books, and I have no recollection that he ever gave us anything for the night's lodging. We lived 22 miles from anywhere and the news from there was a welcome experience. He did stop by on more than one occasion.

We remember him as a scant four feet tall, and at least half as wide. The story of his size sent both chills and thrills up our spine, and even though it ruined our sleep for several nights we never tired of hearing about it.

It seemed that he was left an orphan at the age of 12. A small timid fellow with no interested relatives within hundreds of miles. Neighbors placed him on the train in care of the conductor and he made the trip to a town on the Mississippi River where he was after a night's lodging in the town hotel, to catch a river boat to a little town down the river and to a home with a distant kin.

He had been guided to the hotel and a room secured. Not being sleepy he wandered down to the street. After a short time he attempted to return to his room. Having found what he thought was the right room, discovered someone already in bed. Lonesome as he was by then he appreciated the kindness of the hotel man in giving him a bedfellow, and snuggled in beside this one already in the middle of the bed.

Shortly a young man and woman came in and sat down beside the dimly lighted table. Soon the man asked for a kiss. He was cautioned not to so act in the presence of a dead man. On hearing this he knew the truth, ran out of the room and never grew another inch in all his life.

The man who rests on his laurels is wearing them in the wrong place.—Harold Coffin in Saturday Evening Post
