

Just Between Us

I had planned to begin this first "Just Between Us" offering something like this:

"Since we haven't been in McLean long enough to get acquainted—and thus don't know enough about our home and its people to fill a paragraph—we'll spend this first column introducing ourselves to you."

But now, little more than a week since I first set foot in McLean as the new owner of your News, I feel I've known most of you for years.

You'll forgive me, though, if the next few minutes of your time is devoted to telling you about the Sheltons.

—jbu—

First off, my wife's name is Margaret, our oldest daughter is Becky and the youngest member of this migrating group is Susan. Oh yes, I'm Jack.

Starting from left with the thumbnail biographies:

Margaret is a naturalized southerner. She was born in Chicago, Ill., and moved to Jacksonville, Ark., in her early teens. To hear her talk, you'd think she was born and raised in the South.

Her parents now live in Marks, Miss.

I first met her away back in 1918 when she was a freshman and I a sophomore at Arkansas State Teachers College. We were married in 1950.

—jbu—

Then 13 months later along came Rebecca Vivian. Now, Becky was born about as close to Texas as you can get without being in the Lone Star State—in Texarkana, Ark.—on Sept. 18, 1951.

Our oldest will enter the fourth grade this fall.

—jbu—

Susan Beth Shelton joined the clan in May, 1957, in Clinton, Okla., and as in the case of most families, the youngest likes to run the show.

Every now and then, however, she runs up against a brick wall—in the form of a mother or a sister tired of being too tolerant with a 3-year-old.

She, like most others, I presume, just bounces back and tries again.

—jbu—

So there's my family. We want to meet yours.

We came to McLean because we liked what we saw during a trip here several months ago. Now that we're here, we're glad we chose this as our new home.

—jbu—

Buying The McLean News is the realization of a dream I've had more than half of my 33 years. It began in the early 1940s when I worked on my hometown weekly, The Perry County News, in Perryville, Ark.

After graduating from high school, the desire to own a weekly newspaper stayed with me through two years in the Air Force, four years in college, and nine years of working for the other man.

A newspaper is a big investment, especially in these days of the inflated dollar. Operating one is costly.

Not having money to begin with, we had to wait until we could accumulate some before taking that big step from employee to employer.

We know the hard work is just beginning. We know there will be a lot of sweating to meet those years of payments between now and the time when we really can call The McLean News our own.

But we believe in the future of McLean. . . . And we're more than willing to put forth the effort it takes to stay here.

—jbu—

We believe too (if you'll excuse the plug) that The McLean News offers local businessmen an excellent medium for telling area people about the merchandise available right here at home.

And we know we can—and will—make the News interesting for persons living in and around McLean.

We invite you to send your news items to us for publication.

DRIVER HURT IN CRASH OF DUMPTRUCKS

Two large semi-dump trucks crashed head-on Tuesday north-west of McLean, causing heavy damage to the vehicles and injuring one of the drivers.

Donald Ray Goodrum, Vernon, was treated at McLean Hospital and released. His injuries were not believed serious.

Highway Patrolman R. C. Parker said the 1958 Chevrolet driven by Goodrum collided with a 1959 Chevrolet driven by Emil Mayer, Wichita Falls, one mile north and 1.1 miles west of McLean on a narrow, winding road.

Damage to each of the big trucks was estimated at $3,000. Both vehicles were being used to haul gravel to the SH 273 construction project north and west of the city.

Visibility Obscured
Parker reported that the smash-up occurred on a curve where visibility was obscured.

Heavy damage also occurred but no one was seriously hurt in a car-pickup collision Monday at the east edge of McLean on U. S. 66.

Involved were a 1956 Oldsmobile driven by Shirley M. Burke of Brooklyn, N. Y., and a 1959 Chevrolet pickup driven by Earl Edgar Anderson of Amarillo.

Parker said the mishap resulted when Anderson made a left turn on the one-way street in front of the Brooklyn woman's car.

POWER FAILS BRIEFLY HERE

McLean was a city without power briefly Monday morning when a high-voltage line broke, touching off a series of troubles for Southwestern Public Service Co. personnel.

Jimmie Don Morris, local SP SC manager, said the problems began when one 2,400-volt line broke in front of the McLean Flower Shop.

The broken strand dropped across another line, burning it out. This, in turn, created an electric load too large for another line near the power plant.

And when that important wire burned in two, off went all electric power in McLean.

Electric service was restored quickly in some areas of the city, but more than an hour elapsed before all repairs could be completed.

440 COUNTIANS GET $23,909 IN ASSISTANCE

A total of $23,909 was paid to 440 needy individuals in Gray County during June, according to the latest report from the State Department of Public Welfare.

The funds were paid under the federal Social Security Act for old age assistance, aid to the needy blind, aid to dependent children and aid to the permanently and totally disabled.

The federal Social Security Act, which became law in 1935, provided for grants to states who had plans approved for the administration of the public assistance programs.

Financial Services

Action by the Texas Legislature has provided all four assistance programs to the people of the state.

The public assistance division of the State Department of Public Welfare is set up to extend financial services to those aged and other needy individuals who are without sufficient resources to provide their basic needs of food, clothing, shelter, utilities, health and incidentals compatible with health and decency and who can meet certain legal requirements.

A standard budget is used throughout the state to measure need and all income an individual might have is deducted from total needs. The department can recognize in determining the amount of the individual grant.

254,781 Checks Mailed
The past June a total of 254,781 checks were mailed to needy residents of the state in the four categories of public assistance. The checks mailed during the month totaled $13,915,415.

The State Department of Public Welfare maintains at least one office in every county in the state and in a vast majority of the counties the department is the only organized social agency set up to meet the financial needs of the needy, as well as to extend other social services to the community.

The department is obligated to make a review of each case every 12 months and make any indicated adjustment in the grant.

A "young but hustling" squad of McLean High School Tigers will kickoff football practice Monday, less than three weeks before the opening of the 1960 grid season.

Head Coach Clifford Bradshaw, beginning his second season as Tiger mentor, said early this week that 29 youths have already indicated they'll try for berths on the team, and others are expected to report before workouts begin.

Practice sessions will be held at 6 p. m. daily through the first week, but work will be stepped up after that.

Bradshaw said squadmen will report the second week at 6 a. m. and 6 p. m.

Davis arrived on the scene this week, coming here from Amarillo, where he was an assistant coach for three years. Davis and his wife have two daughters and a son.

The new coach is a graduate of Pampa High School, where he was an all-around athlete. He was named an All-State end in football, made the All-Conference team in basketball and baseball and was on Look magazine's All-American track team.

Played Pro Basketball
Davis attended Baylor University for three years and was graduated from General Beadle State Teachers College in South Dakota.

He later played basketball for Artesia, N. M., in the Industrial League for three years.

Bradshaw came to McLean last year from Matador. He was head coach at Matador for three years and prior to that was coach at Garber two years.

He is a graduate of Oklahoma City University and holds a record of 47 wins, 15 losses and one tie in six years as head coach.

Veteran Information

Q—I expect to be starting school this fall under the Korean GI Bill. How soon will I get my first GI allowance from VA?

A—Your first VA school allowance may not come until after you have been in school about two months. Payment can only be made after the first month's training is completed. And VA has 20 days after that to process checks. Be prepared with money enough to last two months.

Q—I am eligible for War Orphans schooling and want to start training this fall but cannot make up my mind about my course of study. Will VA help me decide?

A—Yes. In fact, VA is required by law to go over your study plans with you and your parent or guardian, and arrange for vocational counseling, so you and VA can be sure you have chosen the right course.

Q—Is there any deadline for applying for compensation for a service-connected disability?

A—No. A veteran with a service-connected disability may apply for compensation at any time. However, if he applies within one year from date of discharge, compensation may be back-dated to his first day as a civilian.

Q—I want to pay my GI insurance premiums once a year instead of once a month. Where can I find out how much the yearly premium will be?

A—Write to the VA District Office where you pay your premiums. Be sure to include your policy number when writing.

DECISION TIME JUST AHEAD ON COTTON CROP

COLLEGE STATION—(Special)—The time for harvesting this year's cotton crop is fast approaching, and the farmer should be considering how this harvesting is to be done.

If the crop is to be machine harvested, the problem arises of whether it would be better to own or hire the machine.

Cecil Parker, extension farm management specialist, says that often it is cheaper to have the crop custom harvested than it is to own the equipment. By hiring the custom work, the farmer can avoid the investment in machinery and use the capital elsewhere in the farm business.

The farmer's labor problem is eased if the custom operator furnishes all the labor for the job. Also, because the custom operator is skilled in operating and maintaining the machinery, the farmer may get a faster, more efficient job, Parker points out.

Before deciding on hiring custom work, however, the farmer must make sure that the answer to each of the following questions is "yes."

Is equipment for custom work available? Will it be available when I need it? Are the operators dependable and efficient?

A machine may be purchased, however, with the idea of doing custom work in addition to personal work. This would lower the farmer's cost of harvesting his own crop, Parker continues.

Other factors, such as alternative use of labor and capital, should be considered before the farmer decided between owning or hiring a machine.

Parker suggests talking with the local county agent before any decision is made.

FADING-OUT COMMON TROUBLE

By HARLAN E. SMITH
Extension Plant Pathologist

COLLEGE STATION—(Special)—Fading-out is a common summer disease of lawn grasses in all areas of Texas. It most often occurs on grasses that have suffered from lack of soil moisture in mid-summer. Fading-out is sometimes called "melting out," "going dry" or "gray leaf mold."

Irregularly shaped dead areas occur in the lawn. Isolated, scattered sprigs of living grass are usually found in the disease areas. Leaves die back from the tip end. Runners or stems of the grass may have small dead spots. These spots may or may not enlarge and girdle the stem. Roots may be rotted.

The disease is caused by a complex of Helminthosporium, Curvularia and Fusarium species of fungi. These soil molds are most active following a heavy rain or watering on grass that has previously been weakened by drought. There is an indication that soil nematodes may be associated with fading-out in some cases.

Fading-out is controlled by proper management of the lawn. Proper watering, fertilizing, mowing and aeration are important.

In lawn areas that respond slowly to proper management practices in the summer, zineb or captan fungicide drenches may prove helpful. Use the above fungicides at the rate of two to four pounds per 100 gallons of water.

Wet the grass with the solution down to the soil line. Use a sprinkler can or hose on sprayer for small areas. Apply drench right after mowing.

Also, drench the healthy grass beyond the disease area to a width of several feet.

GOD'S SERVANT IS A STUDENT OF THE BIBLE

Someone has said of the Bible that it is the best book to live by and the only book to die by. Certainly this is true, for it provides the best way of life here on the earth and we will be judged by it in the last Great Day. See Rev. 20:12.

Timothy was exhorted by the apostle Paul, "Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth." (2 Tim. 2:15) He was then commended by the apostle because of his knowledge of the scripture. "But continue thou in the things which thou hast learned and has been assured of, knowing of whom thou hast learned them; and that from a child thou hast known the holy scriptures, which are able to make thee wise unto salvation through faith which is in Christ Jesus." (2 Tim. 3:14-15)

Every person claiming to teach God's word is not doing so, else the divisions which exist among the professed followers of Christ would not be. In Luke 8:11 Christ declares that the word of God is the seed of the kingdom. And it is stated in Gen. 1:12 that every seed will produce after its kind. We know this to be true in the physical realm, and certainly the same thing is true in the spiritual realm. Hence when only the word of God is taught it will produce after its kind.

No man should mind an investigation of his teaching. The apostles did not. We are told that when Paul and Silas went to Berea and preached the gospel, "These were more noble than those in Thessalonica, in that they received the word with all readiness of mind, and searched the scriptures daily, whether those things were so." Acts 17:11 This does not mean that one should always be ready to criticize that which is taught, or engage in a dispute with the teacher, but when so many conflicting doctrines are being taught one should desire to know the truth. Any person can understand the Bible, but no one is likely to understand it without study.

Not my way, nor your way, but the Lord's way.

ACCIDENTS CAN BE PREVENTED IF PARENTS MAKE AN EFFORT

Parent—or playground supervisor?

Most of us are both these days. Lots of moms and dads, confronted with inadequate playground area in new suburban developments and in crowded sections of the city, have set up their own playgrounds—in the backyard.

Few of these well-intentioned parents know anything about supervising a playground—yet, that's just what the task entails.

"Many well-meaning parents," J. O. Musick, general manager of the Texas Safety Association, said, "are happily assembling their own backyard playgrounds, and then obliviously turning their children loose to survive by trial and error."

Inevitably, some children get hurt! The injuries range from small cuts to broken bones, with an occasional fatality.

Here are some TSA suggestions on how to make your backyard playground safer—and give you more peace of mind:

1. Allow ample space in the yard for each playground device. Crowding can cause accidents.

2. Keep debris such as broken glass and nails out of the play area. This may require a daily inspection.

3. Explain rules for safe use of the playground equipment to your youngsters—and then enforce the rules.

4. Buy swing seats of leather beating, rubber or rubberized canvas.

It's hard for a child to stand on them, and, consequently, fewer kids will fall from them. And if such a seat strikes a child, it can't injure him severely.

"Most important," Musick said, "check your backyard equipment frequently. Silver-producing edges on the sandbox can be made smooth, for example.

"The time to stop backyard accidents is before they happen."

WALTER ROGERS REPORTS

BURN'T TOAST

Chit-chat at a Moscow breakfast table:

MRS. K. Good morning, dear. My, you look grumpy as an old bear this morning.

MR. K. Now you know very well I'm supposed to look like an old bear—what would all those decadent Western cartoonists do if I looked like Cupid?

MRS. K. Well, you'll feel better when you get to work. I'm sure there'll be plenty of capitalists needing to be buried.

MR. K. Maybe so, mama, but I don't know. It isn't easy being a menace day in and day out. It takes a little initiative. Coming up with new ways to be nasty all the time can get pretty tough.

MRS. K. Oh, you'll think of something. That last plane you shot down was a real stroke of genius.

MR. K. Yeah, but that's getting to be a pretty old dodge. And those Americans made me look kinda silly at the UN, proving the plane was really over international waters and all that. I guess they caught on after the U-2 business.

MRS. K. Why don't you stir up a riot some place? That's always fun, and it cheers you up so.

MR. K. But I've done that already—Japan, South America, Turkey, Korea—and that's getting pretty dull lately. Besides, school starts again pretty soon and you can't expect those professors to let students keep cutting classes forever. Incidentally, what would really cheer me up is a little bacon for breakfast that isn't so raw.

MRS. K. But you always said it makes you more quarrelsome, dear. After all, you might want to raise a big stink about American bases today. I liked that speech Malinovsky made about using rockets against countries that allowed planes to take off from their territory.

MR. K. That shook 'em up okay, but they're beginning to wise up and ignore it. What I need is a really good disappointment to throw at them. I'd break up another talk at Geneva except that they're beginning to expect that now after the disarmament talks walked. There's always that Cuban business, but even that has its drawbacks. You never know what that fuzzy revolutionist over there is likely to do next. He's beginning to be such an expert at denouncing the United States that it

Ikedo, Japan's New Prime Minister

An advocate of continued close ties with the United States became Prime Minister of Japan on July 16. Hayato Ikedo, former Minister of International Trade and Industry, was elected by the Japanese Parliament to the post's highest political office. Four days earlier, he was chosen president of the dominant Liberal Democratic Party. Ikedo has made several visits to the United States, the last time in 1959. The 61-year old political leader, has been a member of Parliament since 1949, and served as Minister of Finance in three Cabinets. He replaces Nobusuke Kishi as head of both the Japanese Government and the conservative political party.

Flame Cultivation Results to Be Seen

Flame cultivation research results to date will be viewed by propane and butane dealers and their guests at the High Plains Research Foundation on Aug. 24, starting at 2 p. m.

E. F. Powell, president of the Texas Butane Dealers, Ft. Stockton, and William J. Lawson, executive secretary, Austin, set the date of the tour at a recent meeting of representatives of the association at Plainview and Halfway.

During the Field Day, weed elimination results to date by means of flaming will be inspected at the foundation. Crops included in the research underway are cotton, grain sorghum, soybeans, corn and castor beans.

Reports will be made on the results of weed elimination by flaming onions and potatoes. Final results for the year will be reported after the tests are harvested.

CIVIL DEFENSE MEET HELD FOR SCS EMPLOYEES

Civil defense survival training for local Soil Conservation Service employees was held recently at Pampa. Local employees and their families attending were Mr. and Mrs. William B. Brooks, work unit conservationist; Mr. and Mrs. Splawn, soil conservationist; Tony Welker, soil scientist; Paul Appleton, conservation aide; William Autry, engineer, and Douglas E. Bartosh, engineer.

The training meetings were conducted by Duane Bartee, Jack C. Williams and Pat Neil, all of Pampa. Williams and Neil recently attended a one-week civil defense training school in Abilene.

Purpose of the civil defense meetings were to outline what to do in case of an atomic attack. Subjects discussed were the possibility of atomic attack, atomic explosions and the resulting fallout and radiation, symptoms of radiation sickness, preparation and stocking of suitable shelters and post attack conditions.

Radiation dangers were stressed. Radiation is a by-product of atomic explosions. It is particularly dangerous because individuals cannot detect it with their five senses. It is detected by special instruments that can measure the X-ray type rays that are given off.

Suitable shelters should have two feet of concrete or three feet of earth to shield the occupants from radiation. Length of stay in a shelter may last from one day to two weeks.

The importance of the Conrad frequencies, 640 and 1240, on the radio was emphasized. Only on these frequencies will the local radiation level be given. The local radiation level determines the time that shelters will be needed.

Following an atomic attack, foods, canned or packaged, are safe for consumption. Vegetables and fruits can be thoroughly washed or peeled before being cooked and eaten. Food and water normally exposed to dust should be checked with a monitoring instrument to see if they are safe to eat.

The Soil Conservation Service is to maintain a series of 35 monitoring stations in Texas. These stations will assist local and national civil defense officials in case of an attack.

Four of these stations are located in this area: Wellington, Pampa, Spearman and Follett. SCS personnel at these locations will receive further training in radiological monitoring in the near future.

It is better to be despised for the right than praised for the wrong.

TELEPHONE TALK

by Joe McDonald, Manager

HOW MANY CALLS A DAY IN McLEAN?

"What is the average number of calls made in a day in McLean?" This is a question I often hear, so I decided to look up the answer. Every day an average of 3,283 calls are made here. That's about 4.13 calls per phone.

And every day people find new ways to get more value from the phone. Only recently I heard of a fisherman who says he uses his phone as an "alarm clock."

"I like to fish but I have a hard time getting up real early in the morning," he says. "So I have one of the guys phone me when he gets up. That way I can't turn off the 'alarm' and go back to sleep. I haven't been late or missed a trip since my friends started waking me up by phone."

Here's another case I heard of that shows the value of the telephone, day in and day out. One mother, after keeping a record of her calls for a week, figured that her two phones saved her family about three hours a day. "That's the time we would have spent just driving for errands and personal visits," she says.

As these stories show, the more you use your phone, the more value you get from it. So why not use it . . . for all it's worth!

HOW TO CALL LONG DISTANCE AND SAVE ONE-THIRD

It's so easy to save yourself a lot of money. How? By placing your Long Distance calls station-to-station (to a distant number rather than to a particular person).

Here's the way to do it:

- 1. Give the operator the name of the city you want to call. 2. Next, tell her the number you are calling. 3. When the operator asks, give her the number you are calling from.

Why not try it tonight? Remember, rates are lower after 6 p. m. and all day Sunday.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

ODELL MANTOOTH

LONG DISTANCE PHONE BILLS TO GET NEW LOOK

Some telephone customers in McLean will be getting a new type long distance statement with their next telephone bills, Joe McDonald, manager for the Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., has announced.

McDonald said the new type bills are the result of a new, faster, more efficient method of billing out-of-town calls.

He said McLean was chosen as one of the pilot cities for this new service, and that gradually "electronic billing" of out-of-town calls will be introduced in other cities in Texas where Southwestern Bell operates.

According to the manager, the new system works like this:

Magnetic Pencil

Long distance operators will record the information about each call on a special card with a magnetic pencil. McDonald explained every long distance operator marks down information about each out-of-town call she handles. The place called, the telephone number there and the caller's telephone number are at present written in a long hand code on a special slip of paper.

The call is then timed by a special clock and forwarded to a clerk who computes the charges for billing purposes. Under the electronic billing system this information will be recorded in the form of "bubbles" or special marks instead of the long hand code now in use.

Use IBM Machine

Since the marks are made with a magnetic pencil the "tickets" or slips of paper can be processed through an IBM machine which will translate the marks into billing information and then print it on the bill mailed to the customer.

Because of the immense training job involved, operators are being trained a few at a time, and not all McLean operators have finished this training at present. Some operators will continue to use the old method of recording information on out-of-town calls.

"As a result of training a few operators at a time," McDonald said, "it is possible that a customer might not get an operator trained in the new method each time he places a call. As a result this customer will receive two long distance statements with his monthly bill. One statement will be for calls billed under the old method and the other for calls billed electronically."

Explanation Due
"We plan to include explanatory information with each bill so the customer will not think he's being billed twice."

McDonald emphasized not all customers will get the new bills immediately.

"It is conceivable," he said, "that a customer could make several out-of-town calls and never get an operator trained in the new method. In that case his long distance bill would look the same as it always has."

McDonald said the complete changeover would take about three months.

Hot Weather Brings Danger of Dog Days

AUSTIN—(Special)—Beware of the dog days, is the warning of the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. The hottest part of August, the so-called dog days, is on now.

"If you go into the woods or where snakes are likely to be found, be very careful," the director warned. "During these dog days snakes will strike at most anything without warning. Also be careful in handling animals, as there probably will be an increase in the rabies incidence."

Although wardens over the state report catfishing to be fairly good, few good catches of bass are reported. Most of the good fish taken are from deep water, where they move to escape the dog day heat.

There also has been a heavy draw-down on most of the lakes, particularly where water is released for irrigation purposes along the coast.

"We need a good rain to fill all the lakes again," the director said. "There have been some fair rains on the range but the run-off hasn't been sufficient to keep lakes and streams filled."

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN—(Special)—How much income does an older person need to live decently during the retirement years?

Governor's Statewide Advisory Committee on Aging sought to discover this and other information in a survey on the needs and problems of Texas' older citizens.

For a couple, 43 per cent of Texas counties estimated the minimum need at $1,500 to $2,000 a year. Thirty-five per cent set the minimum at $2,000 to $2,500.

For a single elderly person, 58 per cent of the counties suggested $1,000 to $1,500 as a minimum annual income. Twenty-four per cent named a higher figure, $1,500 to $2,000.

Some 4,000 persons took part in the grass-roots, county-by-county survey. Recommendations growing out of their findings will be discussed at a conference in Austin on Sept. 7 and 8. Out of this will come the Texas contribution to the White House Conference on Aging next January.

SURPRISE!—Amid all the updated budget requests they have received lately, state officials were happily stunned when University of Texas officials asked approval to spend a comparatively pittance sum for a president's home.

UT asked to spend $40,000 to build a home for its president, Harry H. Ransom.

Last year legislative tempers blew over the $100,000-plus president's homes built by two smaller state colleges. Officials responsible for the expenditures were called on the carpet.

legislative budget board. Plenty, said UT officials.

They said they'll use a site the university already owns, clear it with university equipment and cut material costs by using "historic" bricks from UT buildings that have been torn down.

DRIVER CURBS STUDIED—Ways to clip the wings of irresponsible drivers who carry no insurance are being studied by a committee of the Texas Legislative Council.

Spokesmen for the casualty insurance industry told the panel they were opposed to a compulsory insurance law. They suggested that pressure could be exerted by such measures as requiring uninsured drivers involved in accidents to put up a money deposit, revoking licenses, impounding cars, etc.

Committee also heard Department of Public Safety Director Homer Garrison Jr. urge a system of traffic courts for Texas. County courts are completely bogged down by the appeals from traffic cases, said Garrison.

HIGHWAY LEASE PROSPECTS DIM—Chances of the state's earning money by leasing mineral rights along state roadways are not encouraging, a legislative committee found.

Committee learned from a national survey that only two oil and gas producing states get income from leasing along highway rights of way. One reported earnings of less than $100; one of $3,763.

An attorney general's opinion recently held that the state owned mineral rights along the roadways. But State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer reported there's not much demand for highway leases.

SCHOOL "HOSPITALITY" HIT—Texas School for the Deaf has been serving free meals under circumstances not authorized by law, reported State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

During the past two years, said Cavness, the school has served 3,525 free meals. Most were for pre-school-age deaf and blind children and their parents here for special summer courses for parents.

School is authorized by the State Board of Education to hold the summer courses, Cavness observed, but it is not directed either by law or the board to serve free meals to participants.

Cavness' audit showed the school has an average of 503 pupils at a cost of $192 a month per pupil.

CREDIT CARD LIQUOR SALES—Diners Club, Inc., won a court order allowing it to continue—at least temporarily—collecting for package liquor store purchases made with a credit card.

An Austin district court granted a temporary injunction halting enforcement of the Texas Liquor Control Board order prohibiting such sales.

Liquor board contends that by becoming the collection agent for liquor store purchases, the Diners Club is, in effect, selling liquor without a license.

Diners Club says it simply buys up the accounts of its card holders from the liquor dealers and takes responsibility for collecting. Club has contracts with package stores in nine Texas cities.

3.9 per cent of their per capita income in taxes, compared to a national average of 4.2 per cent.

Employment in Texas hit an all-time high during June, with wage earners totaling 3,522,800. This was an increase of 45,700 from May, according to the Texas Employment Commission.

State Comptroller Robert S. Colvert has requested that his office be given a two-year appropriation of $7,915,386. Present appropriation is for $5,739,683.

Colvert also said his department was operating in inadequate quarters scattered over three buildings and asked that the Legislature consider a state building for the department.

Texas farmers received $2,300,000,000 for their products last year, reports the U. S. Department of Agriculture. This was a four per cent drop from 1958. Top money-maker was cotton, with sales totaling $728,000,000.

Forty-two tracts of lands forfeited under the Veterans' Land Program will be offered for sale to other veterans Sept. 29. Land Commissioner Bill Alcorn said the tracts total 2,957 acres in 11 counties.

Veterans wanting to file sealed bids can get descriptions of the tracts by writing the Land Office.

Childress Celebration Will Begin Tonight

CHILDRESS—(Special)—The 11th annual Greenbelt Bowl celebration will get underway at 7 p. m. today when the merchants of Childress entertain area farmers and ranchers with a barbecue at the Rotary Bowl in Childress City Park.

Congressman Walter Rogers will be the guest speaker. The program is under the direction of District Attorney John Forbis, who has appointed Dr. L. W. McClendon as master of ceremonies.

Mayor Paul Ord of Childress will introduce Congressman Rogers. The barbecue is sponsored by the Lions and Rotary Clubs and the Junior Chamber of Commerce. The joint committee is headed by State Sen. Andy Rogers.

The committee stated that the public is invited. Tickets are available at Gordon's Furniture Store or at the Childress Chamber of Commerce.

The committee expects more than 600 people to attend.

GODFREY WILL APPEAR 3 DAYS AT STATE FAIR

DALLAS—(Special)—Television and radio star Arthur Godfrey will make personal appearances on the first three days of the 1960 State Fair of Texas Horse Show.

"The Old Redhead" will appear with his famous Palomino, "Goldie," at the night performances of the Horse Show Oct. 7 and 8 and at the matinee performance Oct. 9 in the State Fair Livestock Coliseum.

The Horse Show gets underway on the Friday evening before the State Fair officially opens Saturday, Oct. 8.

Godfrey has been a horse lover for more than 25 years. At his farm, Beacon Hill in Loudoun County, Va., he keeps horses of several different breeds.

The most famous is his Palomino stallion, Catocin Gold, known as "Goldie" to the millions who have seen him on the Godfrey TV shows or in personal appearances he has made from coast to coast.

Godfrey and "Goldie" will appear at the State Fair Horse Show in an exhibition of "dressage" riding, in which the horse is sent through intricate maneuvers without discernible instruction from the rider.

Godfrey has appeared with "Goldie" at a number of major horse shows in recent years, including the National Horse Show in New York and the International Horse Show in Chicago.

The State Fair's Series I Horse Show which opens Friday night, Oct. 7, will present five and three-gaited saddle horses, fine harness and walking horses, roadster and parade horses and hunters and jumpers. The Series I show runs through Oct. 11.

The opening series will be followed by cutting horses and quarter horses competing in Series II, Oct. 12-16, and by the final series, Oct. 18-23, which will feature Shetland ponies, Palominos and Arabian horses.
