First and Second Grade
Bobby Cockerham and Kelly Street were absent Friday. We missed them very much.

Friday afternoon the good fairy brought the first and second grade some cookies to go with their milk. We were also given some candy suckers.

Third and Fourth

Mrs. Bryant came to see them and brought refreshments. They missed Stephanie last week. The fourth grade are thrilled because they get to go on the basketball games. They enjoyed Kevin's visit. They have been doing experiments in science. They all made such good grades that their teacher thought she ought to grade their papers closer.

Seventh and Eighth

We are taking standard achievement test Tuesday and Wednesday. We are doing a lot in our new workbooks. When we got our report cards we found some of our weaknesses.

Our coach, Mr. Smith, was gone from Tuesday to Friday last week because his father passed away.

News From Mrs. Durham's Classes
In the upper grades music class some new songs have been learned and we expect to learn many more during the school term.

The lower grades are learning new songs and enjoying playing them with their rhythm instruments. Organ pipes will be used to carry the melody.

In the fifth and sixth grade science each child is required to do an experiment. He then records what he has learned and reports it to the class.

Both classes have worked with writing and reading Roman numerals and a great deal of interest was aroused.

We are stressing phonics in reading and spelling and results are beginning to show improvement.

Mrs. Bobby Phillips and children accompanied her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Medley of Skellytown, to McAllen, where they are visiting relatives.

The Heald WSCS met Monday with Mrs. Loula Ladd, observing the week of prayer. All members were present, with one visitor.

Texas set four new all-time records in various phases of traffic operations in 1961: 4,854,000 licensed drivers, up 331,000 in a single year; 4,622,000 registered vehicles, up 121,000 from 1960; 240,000 miles of roads, including 82,600 miles of State-Federal highways, 140,800 miles of county roads and 36,600 miles of city streets, a new high.

After a major reduction in the total number of fatal traffic crashes in 1960 over 1959, the 1961 total edged upward again. Of the 1,899 fatal collisions in 1961, 1,235 occurred outside cities, 664 in cities.

Olds and ends . . .
We hope Evan Sitter is feeling better now. Evan became ill last week, possibly from overdoing it during delivery of calves at the ranch. We took in the delivery at the Morse Ranch Tuesday of last week, and snapped several pictures. Still don't know what we got on film, however, for the pictures aren't back from the processors yet. Glad to see Exile Edwards back on duty at Parsons Drug after three weeks off. She was ably soiled during this period, though, by old "Smiley" herself, Daisy York. Sorry to hear that the Red Ballard's will be leaving our midst before long. Red is being transferred by Southwestern Bell Telephone to Pampa, and probably will leave as soon as his successor is trained. . . . And speaking of telephones, long distance service was out of order here last Friday after someone shot a line in two south of Pampa. Also affected were Groom and Alanreed. SW Bell crews got everything back in business in short order, however.

Scientists are still debating whether or not splitting the atom was a wise crack.

"The band and myself are very proud of two of our fine twirlers," Boyd said. "Divisions I and II ratings were as hard to come by in the twirling contest as in the band contest. These were the highest ratings ever received by these girls."

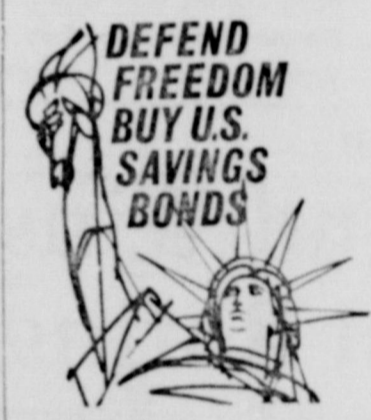

Jan Bailey, another twirler with the band, was unable to enter the contest because of illness, but Boyd said, "We feel sure that she also would have received a fine rating if she were able to participate."

The director reported Wednesday that tentative plans are now being made to enter the band in another marching contest.

"We feel that we have a better unit than the rating shows, and we would like to be the first group to bring home a first division in marching for the school," he explained.

LET'S RE-ELECT
WALTER ROGERS

AS OUR CONGRESSMAN

CONCERNING QUALIFICATIONS, WE ENCOURAGE VOTERS TO READ WHAT THOMAS THOMPSON, EDITOR OF THE AMARILLO GLOBE-TIMES, HAD TO SAY ABOUT JACK SEALE IN THE "TURN-STYLE" COLUMN ON MONDAY, OCT. 22, 1962:

By THOMAS THOMPSON

Here in the 18th district some of the kibitzers are questioning the patriotism of congressional candidates. When it comes to our congressman or his opponent, there is no question about who is patriotic and who isn't. Both candidates are patriotic citizens, men of good character and are respected in their home communities.

What I personally want to see is somebody representing this district in Washington to whom I can look as being better informed, better educated, and better equipped to grasp the complex national problems that daily arise in these perilous times. I want to see a man who is cagey enough and sophisticated enough to deal with the Potomac sharpies.

I think that Congressman Walter Rogers can continue to do this, but if Mayor Jack Seale of Amarillo should be elected he would fall far short, I fear.

Jack Seale has been a young man in a hurry. The fact is that he was in such a hurry at a critical juncture in his life that he failed in a basic. He failed to take time out for a college education. This omission was not the result of a monetary pinch. Our mayor and his sister were heirs to one of the better established home building operations in the Panhandle. He simply chose to skip this four- or five-year chore and cruise through on his many appearance, his fine smile, his native intellect and his easy charm.

Not having had a college education isn't necessarily fatal to men in business or public life, but the successful under-educated man in these fields is a rarity these days. They have, in the main, been men who have continued their education in an informal way past high school. They have stayed with the mainstream of American thought and action. Has Jack Seale been one of these?

He cruised into a job on the city commission, he cruised into the mayor's job, and, while his ship may be bobbing a bit and degrees off course, he is cruising in the general direction of the shoaly waters of the Potomac.

And how well equipped is this congressional candidate to deal with these shoals?

Another thing, in his cruise toward the Potomac, he must sink the ship of Congressman Walter Rogers, incumbent, who is generally highly regarded in both the Potomac waters and back here in his own district.

Does Jack Seale have more integrity than Walter Rogers? In his brief stint as mayor of Amarillo, does he have a better record than Walter Rogers has in Congress?

Does he have more judgment, more maturity, more moral courage?

Jack Seale is running for a job in Congress. Congress is the nation's lawmaking body. Is Jack Seale learned in the law? Has he made preparation? Would his measurable qualifications be below or above par when compared with the average freshman congressman?

He inherited a going business and he never had to look for a job, never had to qualify for a job in competition with others. But say that his business went broke—and this could happen to any of us—for what kind of work could he qualify?

Right now Jack Seale is asking for the vote of about 4,000 public school teachers in the Panhandle, several hundred college instructors, hundreds of lawyers, doctors, accountants, farmers, engineers who have endured the tedium of college education.

If Jack Seale weren't in such a hurry he should take a few years off and go back to school or at least avail himself of our adult educational program.

Jack Seale is the rarity. Most young men propelled by ambition have painstakingly prepared themselves for leadership, whether they are in the field of government, science or business. For example, the hot pilot doesn't qualify as an astronaut. To fly the space vehicle the pilot must be an engineer. This is the day of the fine-honed mind.

As it is, there might just be a few people around who think Jack Seale's candidacy for Congress is presumptuous.

CONGRESSMAN

EDITH AND PAUL STAUFFER FIND SUCCESS IN CALIFORNIA

By RUBY COOK

Edith has always been with Paul Stauffer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Renuau of the Heald community.

From childhood Edith seemed to have no hesitancy in declaring that she could have more education and live where there were more opportunities than she could find at home. She finished high school at Heald, and attended one year at the McLean school, after which she returned to her parents' home.

The only thing to turn to in the Heald community was the 4-H Club. This she joined in 1927 and won a trip to the state fair. In 1928 she won a trip to Washington. In 1929 she won a trip to A and M at College Station.

She had gone as far as she could go in 4-H work, still she wanted more education. She married Paul Stauffer, a neighbor, son of W. Stauffer. Paul joined Edith in ambition and he urged her for more education and better opportunities.

The young couple moved to a home in the Heald community and after nine years but never a day did Edith forget her determination to have more education. Two little girls were born to the couple and it might have been as if they would continue to have more education and money in their farming but Edith said there was no use in doing that longer.

Their first move was to McLean where Paul ran a filling station. Edith was entered in school. Edith and Paul were brought to face with the realization that there were no opportunities for them in McLean. So it was at the end of one year in McLean the young couple made a long jump from McLean to Compton, Calif., a part of Los Angeles.

When they made investigations their happiness knew no bounds, here was every opportunity which they had sought.

Almost before she had arranged her furniture in her new house, Edith and Paul began going to school. They entered adult education courses in family life, arranging their classes so that there would always be one or the other to stay with the children.

Paul looked about for a business opening and took an unimportant position in the D. M. Coon Realtors Inc. In the meantime Edith became deeply interested in marriage counseling. In addition to her adult education classes she attended the American Institute of Family Relations and Southwestern Counseling Services, Pepperdine and the University of Southern California, majoring in self development. For a number of years Edith was in great demand for lecturing on marriage relations.

Edith Renuau Stauffer saw the need and possibilities of a counseling service. Paul, who was greatly interested in her work, agreed to the need of such service. So it was that in 1949 Edith Renuau Stauffer became the founder and director of the Compton Counseling Service. The young couple planned the building for the service and furnished much of the funds.

The need for such service is great and basically tends to teach the individual how to manage himself. The service includes nine psychiatrists and psychologists as well as many other assistants and specialists in this field.

Mrs. Stauffer is, herself, a graduate psychologist and psychiatrist. Among the services offered are group therapy, family therapy, psycho-drama, where a problem is dramatized by certain members of the group.

Many children are taken through this service as well as youths and adults. Many wards of the court are assigned to the Compton Counseling Service. Perhaps 350 people go through the services each month.

In the meantime, Paul is a member of the board of trustees and is secretary of the Counseling Service. He has also climbed his way to the vice presidency of the D. M. Coon Realtors Inc. of Compton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jess Altman, Maritta and Allen from Amarillo visited with Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Carpenter over the weekend.

COTTON GINNING

A total of 43 bales of cotton have been ginned to date. Rain and cool weather have shut off all cotton harvesting for the past 10 days.

Mr. B. F. Holland, gin manager at the McLean Gin, is hoping for a killing frost. Then two weeks of pretty weather before a freeze.

Let's hope it turns out this way. All the cotton ginned to date has been good quality with only average staple length.

RAIN

Many residents in the McLean vicinity report over two inches of moisture. This is of little benefit to producing additional growth on our native grass for this year, but it will prove most beneficial to our grass next spring.

WHEAT

Wheat farmers on top didn't do nearly so good on rainfall and very little of the wheat has rooted to the point of permitting grazing. There is considerable doubt among farmers and ranchers as to whether we have had sufficient rain to permit large-scale grazing.

We are awfully close. Most of the rains have been of the slow, gentle type. A good hard shower of one inch all over would do the job.

I find ranchers in this area extremely interested in the outcome of wheat pasture crop. Many times the market is stimulated from two to three cents per pound.

Most calves have been taken, however, at above average prices. I've been told that well over 2,000 calves have gone across the new scales at the rodeo grounds.

It took some split-second timing to get the scales and pens complete for this massive delivery of calves.

BARLEY

I've had a number of local calls on where you could find barley seed for sale. I have the address of a good, reputable friend at Ponca City, Okla., that has a good supply of Rogers barley for sale.

This is a good moderately winter hardy barley for this area. If you are interested, I'll be glad to supply you with the name, phone number and location of the party.

WHEAT PASTURE ON DIVERTED ACRES

Earlier you received information from the ASCS office advising you grazing was permitted on diverted acres if needed to wheat.

This has been changed to read any small grain such as barley, rye and oats.

Demonstrating new '63 Chevrolet truck features the hard way!

When we came to a river we got wet. This river bed was paved with rocks the size of melons. What a test for new light- and heavy-duty suspension systems this was!

Conventional light-duty units have coil-spring independent front suspension—easier on truck, load and driver.

Users of new conventional medium- and heavy-duty units who have to operate in close quarters are going to like the narrower front ends (up to 7 inches).

New engines, suspensions, frames and narrower front ends show their stuff on Mexico's tough Baja Run!

With months of proving-ground tests under their belts, why did new Chevrolet trucks take on the rugged Baja (bah'bah) Peninsula? This is the toughest line of trucks Chevrolet has ever built. Sending them over the most punishing terrain in North America (a road totally unlike the fine highways on the Mexican mainland) was double proof of this fact. Frames, engines, suspension systems were subjected to stresses far greater than trucks normally encounter. You can be sure that trucks that can handle this kind of beating can handle any kind of work.

THE "NEW RELIABLES" FROM CHEVROLET

Quality trucks always cost less

See the "New Reliables" now at your Chevrolet dealer's!

Patrol Investigates 19 Rural Accidents

Nineteen rural accidents in Gray County were investigated by the Highway Patrol during the month of September. Sgt. J. W. Wilson, patrol supervisor for this area, said this week.

One person was killed and 14 others injured, with property damage from the wrecks estimated at $19,980.

Sgt. Wilson reported that the rural accident summary for Gray County from January through September shows a total of 129 mishaps. Seven have been killed, 89 injured and property damage is estimated at $79,213.

The patrol supervisor urged motorists to drive with special care, since the shorter days and longer nights in this time of year cause accidents to increase.

At sundown, long shadows and fading light make it increasingly difficult for drivers to spot traffic hazards and stop in time, he added.

He urged that all motorists make it a habit "to turn on your driving lights at the first hint of dusk, and always use them properly."
