State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

Car owners in Texas got the expected bad news when the staff of the State Board of Insurance recommended a 23.4 per cent average increase in auto insurance rates.

Board took no immediate action, but will set new rates by January 1.

If the agency holds to its past policy of allowing no increase in any line of coverage greater than 5%, the staff proposal may be scaled down to an effective 16.6% boost.

Earlier the regulatory body committed itself to a new rate-making formula taking into account investment income of companies and guaranteeing profit on underwriting after taxes.

Staff recommendations would build into the rate base a 4.7% profit on policy writing and an 8.7% allowance for state and federal taxes.

Industry representatives, still not satisfied, argued their case for a 27.7% average statewide increase and removal of the arbitrary maximum change limitation of 25% for any line.

They claimed serious underwriting losses of $45.7 million over the last decade.

Texas AFL-CIO has called on drivers to appeal to the Legislature for a change in the rate system, and reportedly is studying possible legal action.

WELFARE CHANGES URGED
A raise in welfare benefits, removal of the constitutional ceiling on payments, reorganization of the Department of Public Welfare and a new approach to problems of needy families with dependent children were recommended by the blue-ribbon Senate Welfare Study Committee.

Committee said the state must aim at development of children rather than simply maintaining them on aid rolls to break the poverty cycle.

These additional recommendations were included in the 85-page report.

A constitutional amendment to permit garnishment of wages for court-ordered child support.

A vendor drug program to supply medicines to Medicaid outpatients.

Renaming the Welfare Department the Department of Human Resources and reorganizing it with a head named by the Governor and confirmed by the Senate.

Complete overhaul or streamlining of department administration with increased use of computer methods.

Committee Chairman William P. Hobby Jr. said that the Legislature next January will have to pass an emergency appropriation of more than $40 million just to carry the welfare program at present levels to the end of the biennium.

LEGISLATIVE MEASURES TO GET MORE PROBLEM DRIVERS, SPECIALTY DRINKERS, OFF TEXAS HIGHWAYS
Legislative measures to get more problem drivers, specialty drivers, off Texas highways were urged at the second annual Governor's Traffic Safety Conference.

Col. Wilson Speir, Department of Public Safety director, said the 12-month minimum suspension law for drunk driving now opens the door to an excessive number of probated offenders. He suggested a 60- to 90-day mandatory suspension without probation.

DPS head also proposed statutory fixing of .10 per cent blood alcohol level as the pre-emptive test of intoxication, mandated support for driver education, prescribed safety equipment for motorcycles and updating of the uniform traffic code.

RETURNS CERTIFIED
Official canvass of returns of the general election showed Democrat Lloyd Bentsen beat Republican E. J. Davis for U.S. Senate by 155,334 votes and Governor Smith defeated GOP Paul Eggers by 158,675 votes. Total turnout exceeded 2.3 million.

There was one upset in the canvass. A constitutional amendment allowing the Governor to appoint a three-member State Building Commission, believed to have passed, actually was defeated by 6,337 votes.

SHORT SNORTS
Traffic deaths on interstate highways, down early in the year, took a big jump in recent weeks -- seven per cent above 1969 -- according to the Department of Public Safety.

Texas Hospital Association applauded the U.S. Senate finance committee amendment authorizing waiver of the requirement that Medicare hospitals have a registered nurse on duty 24 hours a day.

Santa Claus Writes, Asks For Letters

It won't be long until Santa Claus will be making his yearly ride with a sleighful of toys and gifts for all good boys and girls.

But he cannot make the right deliveries unless his little friends let him know what they want for Christmas, so get your orders in now. When St. Nick is through reading your letters he will send them to the McLean News to be published.

Address letters to Santa Claus, North Pole, 99701, but be sure and mail them no later than December 18.

The McLean News received the following letter from the jolly bearded-gentleman:

Dear Editor,
Once again I'm getting anxious to see you and all my little friends in and around town. It's been almost a year since I have been able to visit in the area, and that's a long time to be away from the fine group of friends in the McLean area.

There have been a lot of changes made around here during the past year, and they have made the old workshop a lot more efficient. My helpers and I have been very busy all year long, and we have the best presents in the history of the workshop this year -- and in record-breaking numbers, too.

We're just waiting for the proper time to spread happiness and good cheer all over the world this year. We're doing our best to see that everyone has the very nicest and happiest Christmas ever this year -- we wouldn't want it any other way.

The W. O. Hommel's To Celebrate Golden Anniversary Dec. 13

On Sunday, December 13, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hommel will honor them with a reception of their 50th wedding anniversary. The reception is to be held from 2:00 p.m. until 5:00 in the Hommel home three miles south of Alameda. All their friends and neighbors are invited to attend.

Mr. Hommel is a long-time resident of this area. He moved to Alameda in 1908 when he was a small boy. The family had moved from Clay County, when World War I broke out, he was one of the boys from Gray County who served with the Expeditionary Forces in France. After his discharge from the Army in 1919, he engaged in the garage and service car business in Alameda. It was while he was in this business that he met Beulah Wood, Miss Wood, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Andy B. Wood, had moved from Wheeler County to McLean with her family. She and a niece had ridden the train to Alameda to visit with a married sister, Mrs. Andy Wood. The girls engaged the service car to take them to the county home of the sister. Mr. Hommel delivered the young ladies at their destination and charged them two dollars. He told Beulah that he would be seeing her again and would take her for other rides in the auto (at no charge). Eight months later, she became his bride.

Ollie Hommel and Beulah Wood were united in marriage December 12, 1920, at McLean. The marriage vows were exchanged in the Methodist parsonage with Rev. B. J. Osborn officiating. For a period of time they lived in Alameda. Later, they operated a grocery for a short time in Henrietta and then moved to Clarendon. While at Clarendon, the Hommels operated a Fashion Shop, then Mr. Hommel opened a service station and automobile dealership. At various times, the auto agency served as dealerships for Durants, Hudsons, Plymouths, and Dodges.

In 1939, the Hommels bought a portion of the RO Ranch. It was their intention to build a house on the ranch when they reached retirement age. When World War II caused new automobiles to become non-existent, they made the decision to build a house on the ranch and move there. They planted more than one thousand fruit trees and have a beautiful home at the side of White Fish Creek. The ranch is located on the boundary line of Gray and Donley Counties. The Hommels still do all the labor which is involved with the giant orchard.

In 1922, the Hommels had an infant daughter who was stillborn. In 1932, a second daughter, Von Dell, was born. She is now Mrs. Norman Grigsby and is the wife of a Minister of the Methodist Church in Andrews. In 1934, another daughter, Patsy Jean, was born. She is now Mrs. Ray H. Miller. She and her husband operate Camp Kiawabis for the Amarillo Girl Scout Council. The Hommels have four grandsons.

The daughters are most anxious that all the friends of the Hommels will visit with them in their home on Sunday, Dec. 13.

Exchange Christmas Cards For Learning

In the near future a new library is to be opened primarily for use by the Jr. High students. It is being set up in an unused room in the McLean Grade School. Books, chairs, a bulletin board and etc are still needed to enable our boys and girls to form better reading and study habits.

The Citizens for School Improvement met recently night and proposed a community project to assist in this new library. The organization is asking each family to join them in donating the money that they would ordinarily spend for local Christmas cards and postage to the library fund. At last check this week the fund is coming in rather lowly, but the committee is hoping that it pick up as Christmas approaches.

Contributions can be made at the American National Bank to the McLean Jr. High School Library Fund.

This way, you can extend your holiday greetings and at the same time benefit our school library.

Triangle Ranch Iake Calves To Iowa

John C. Haynes and Joe Billingsleys returned Monday from Ames, Iowa, where they delivered ten red Angus-Charolais cross breed calves to Iowa State University. The calves were raised on the Haynes Triangle Ranch north of McLean, and are entered in the 1971 National Beef Show Futurity. The cattle will be judged on gaining ability and carcass evaluation and will compete for premiums and special breed awards. Practically all recognized breeds will be in competition in the show which is sponsored in part by Iowa State University and the National Beef Breed Registry Association.

County Judge S.R. Lenning Jr. proposed the county's assessed valuation be raised to meet the new budget, but to leave the tax rate as is at $1.25 per $100 valuation.

"The maximum county tax rate is $1.25. This includes 80 cents for salaries, general fund, court house, jail and jury and 45 cents for Road and Bridge Fund. The $1.25 is applied to an assessed valuation of $36 million. I propose to leave the 80 cents as is and apply it to an evaluation of $74 million. I also propose we reduce the 45 cents for road and bridge fund to a lesser amount," Judge Lenning said.

"The 80 cents per $100 valuation on $36 million doesn't bring in enough money for the four funds. The 45 cents for R&B fund on $36 million brings

Dr. John Coleman Joins Texas A&M's Disease Control Plan

Dr. John Dee Coleman, formerly a veterinarian and rancher near McLean, has joined Texas A&M University's new feedlot disease control program.

Dr. A. A. Price, dean of the A&M College of Veterinary Medicine, said Dr. Coleman has been appointed as an associate professor in veterinary research. He will work out of the U. S. Department of Agriculture Southwestern Great Plains Research Center at Bushland.

"This will provide an ideal location to serve the state's commercial feedlot industry, which is concentrated in the Panhandle," the dean pointed out.

The Texas Agriculture Experiment Station received a $20,000 grant in early October from the Texas Cattle Feeders Association to support feedlot disease control. Funds will be used to purchase equipment for a new laboratory at Bushland.

The feedlot disease study was headquartered at the A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock before being moved to Bushland.

Research will be directed by the A&M Department of Veterinary Microbiology, headed by Dr. L. C. Grumbles.

Dr. Coleman's training and experience, including his work and contacts with the cattle feedlot industry, make him well qualified for this position," Dr. Grumbles said. "The tremendous investment in feedlot cattle on the Plains makes disease control and prevention a necessity."

Dr. Coleman received his DVM degree from A&M in 1965. He spent the next four years as coordinator of an A&M program in East Pakistan, and the following two years with the U. S. Veterinary Corps.

In 1964, he was awarded a Master of Science degree in nutritional pathology from Auburn University. The veterinarian was with Abbott Laboratories from 1964-67, where he was in research and development of drugs for cattle.

He has been in private veterinary practice and ranching for the past three years.

McMurry College Band To Be In McLean

There is a special nostalgia about the current McMurry College Band tour which brings that famous musical organization to McLean High School for a performance Saturday evening, December 5, and at 1st United Methodist Church at 11 a.m., Sunday December 6.

The band is appearing under the sponsorship of the First United Methodist Church. The public is invited to attend both programs. No admission charged. The band is under the direction of Dr. Raymond T. Bynum.

This is the 25th anniversary for McMurry Band director, Dr. Raymond T. Bynum. He is one of the best known band directors in the nation. He has made many innovations.

During the past few years, Dr. Bynum has come up with something new in church worship services -- a "worship through music" program that has been presented to hundreds of Methodist congregations in Texas and New Mexico.

This program will be presented at the churches on the tour.

Typically, Dr. Bynum's musicians open the program with Beethoven's famous "Hymn of Brotherhood" from the Ninth Symphony.

This may be followed by Fillmore's "Beautiful Garden of Prayer," Adams' "Bells of St. Mary's," "How Great Thou Art," Adams' "The Holy City," "America the Beautiful," "Sulivans" "Onward Christian Soldiers," and "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

There are solos and ensemble numbers, pieces played upon horns, trombones, euphonium and celeste. Soloists include Roger Nichols, Mike Ford, Charles Dickey, Marvin Gregory and others.

All of this is worked into the regular worship service.

A native of Spring, Ark., Bynum received his BA and BM degrees from Hardin-Simmons University. He was honored with a doctorate from Oklahoma City University for his contribution to music.

He is listed in Who's Who in the South and Southwest. Dr. and Mrs. Bynum are the parents of four children.

Home Study Course Is Available To Local Homemakers

Furnishing a home today involves some of the most costly and important decisions a homemaker must make. As one means of providing Gray County homemakers with current information on home furnishings, the County Extension Service and Family Living Committee have announced plans for a six-lesson home study series in home furnishings. The series will be conducted during the months of January, February, and March.

The series will provide valuable information on interior design and furnishings for those interested in home study, particularly the working homemaker, homemakers with pre-school children, and others who find being away from home inconvenient.

Consumers today must know more than ever before to make the right home furnishings decisions and other advancements are available to satisfy almost every taste and pocketbook, according to Miss Jimmie Lou Wainwright, County Home Demonstration Agent. This, she adds, has made consumer decision-making more and more complex.

Lessons in the home study series will include planning and budgeting for furnishings, selecting, and using furniture, floor coverings, window treatments and decorative accessories. Lessons will be evaluated by a trained home economist and certificates of recognition will be awarded those completing the series. Pre-enrollment will be conducted during the month of December. For additional information call the County Extension Office, 669-2671.

Fall Offers Many Advantages

Most Texans put up their camping gear for the year when the north winds first blow and the temperature drops.

In doing so they miss the best time of the year to go camping in Texas.

Fall offers many advantages to the camper. It is cooler, most of the insects are gone and much of the crowd has left the campgrounds. Texas in the fall will vary from uncomfortably hot to bitter cold, but chances are good in most sections of the state for blue skies, nippy mornings and pleasant days.

So now that the great camping weather is here, what's your bag when it comes to the outdoors?

Do you like camping with all the conveniences of running water and electricity close at hand? Or do you like the primitive conditions of the hiking or canoeing trail?

Are you "turned on" by lush green forest, or do you like the stark beauty of desert country? Maybe neither deserts nor forests really grab you. So how about craggy mountains, rugged and always a challenge, or the seashore with hundreds of miles of sand beaches perfect for fall fishing?

State parks offer the best bet for Texans who like to camp from cars, trailers or pick-up campers. Nearly all of the state parks have been developed to furnish modern facilities including water, electrical and sewage hook-ups.

And the good thing about going to a state park is that they are usually located in some of the most beautiful spots in the state. State parks also offer some of the best opportunities for outdoor recreation since many of them are water oriented.

Of course state parks are by no means the only answer for the camper looking for a place to settle down for the night. There are hundreds of privately owned camping grounds in the state, and a brief inquiry at an area's chamber of commerce will yield information on these parks.

But maybe you're one of those outdoorsmen who think that if you're going to have the comforts of home, you might as well stay at home. Primitive camping is your thing, and hiking and canoeing is a means to this end. In that case, Texas is the right place to be.

The four National Forests in East Texas, Big Bend National Park in West Texas and the seashore offer the best opportunities for the back packer.

Most of Texas' rivers have good canoeing stretches. The most popular canoeing rivers are the Rio Grande in Big Bend, the Guadalupe and the upper Brazos. But the other rivers in Texas have characters all their own, and all of them offer some degree of solitude.

When camping in Texas, it's always a good idea to follow the Boy Scout motto - "Be Prepared." Be prepared for a sudden change in weather, especially during the fall, winter and spring. This means having some warm, dry clothes in reserve. A shelter of some sort is also a good thing to have on hand.

The total number of serious crimes reported across the nation in the first half of this year increased by 11 percent over the same period of a year ago, FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover reported.

New Legislation To Protect Consumer

Each year, up to a million credit cards are lost and three hundred thousand are stolen. To protect a consumer plagued by disappearing credit cards, Congress has passed a new law that will be effective Jan. 23, reports Doris Myers, Extension specialist in home management.

The new law states that an individual will not be liable for any loss from unauthorized use of his card after he has reported its disappearance to the issuer. Notice may be by telephone or by letter.

Most companies will cancel use of the card once they have been notified. If the notice is by letter, cancellation is effective the day the letter is post-marked. For losses occurring before notification, liability is limited to $50.

The $50 liability applies separately to each card that is lost. So, if a billfold or purse containing five credit cards is misplaced, the potential maximum liability is a total of $250. If a husband and wife lose their cards on a joint ac-

WINTER WEEK CONTROL ON COTTON LAND

Next year's cotton yields can be influenced by soil management and weed control practices during the upcoming winter months. Timely land preparation, says Fred C. Elliott, Extension cotton specialist, should be the first step. Then he suggests the use of mechanical or chemical methods to keep weeds under control until planting time. He notes that local county agents have available new information on the subject as well as other relating to cotton production and believes cotton producers will find them valuable references.

By 1838, land- and gold-hungry whites forced the United States Government to remove the civilized Cherokee Indians from their homes in the American south. They were ordered to move to Indian Territory in far-off Oklahoma. The Indians still refer to this journey, which was filled with hardships, as The Trail of Tears.

Well, What Do You Know? fun, games and knowledge

Do you know what The Trail of Tears was?

By 1838, land- and gold-hungry whites forced the United States Government to remove the civilized Cherokee Indians from their homes in the American south. They were ordered to move to Indian Territory in far-off Oklahoma. The Indians still refer to this journey, which was filled with hardships, as The Trail of Tears.

Do you know the difference between weather and climate?

Climate is the combination of temperature, moisture, wind, and sunshine at a given place over a period of many years. Weather is the atmospheric conditions during a few hours or days. Temperature and precipitation (rain, snow, hail, or sleet) are the two most important elements of climate. Others are humidity (air moisture), cloudiness, fog, sunshine, wind, storms, and air pressure.

What do you know about the clarinet?

The clarinet is a wind instrument usually made of wood. It has a cylindrical body with a single-reed mouthpiece at one end and a bell-shaped opening at the other. The clarinet is one of the most popular and versatile of woodwinds. It is equally at home in symphony orchestras, dance bands, in jazz or chamber music, or as a solo instrument.

Duck, Goose Hunters Expected To Obey Law

Duck and goose hunters now in the field are expected to obey some laws which are new and others which have been around for quite a few years.

The new laws have to do with the point system for determining the bag limit for ducks. Hunters may bag from two to 10 ducks in the aggregate based on a 100 plus point system.

Ducks are awarded different values, and duck hunters are expected to know enough about their sport to be able to identify the ducks they kill. Ninety point ducks include mallard hens, New Mexican ducks, black ducks, wood ducks, canvasback ducks, red-head ducks and hooded merganser ducks.

Twenty point ducks are mallard drakes, mottled ducks, pintail hens and ring-necked ducks. All other species, except black-bellied tree ducks and fulvous tree ducks on which the season is closed, are ten-point ducks.

The daily bag limit is reached when the point value of a duck taken added to the total point value of all ducks already taken that day reaches or exceeds 100 points.

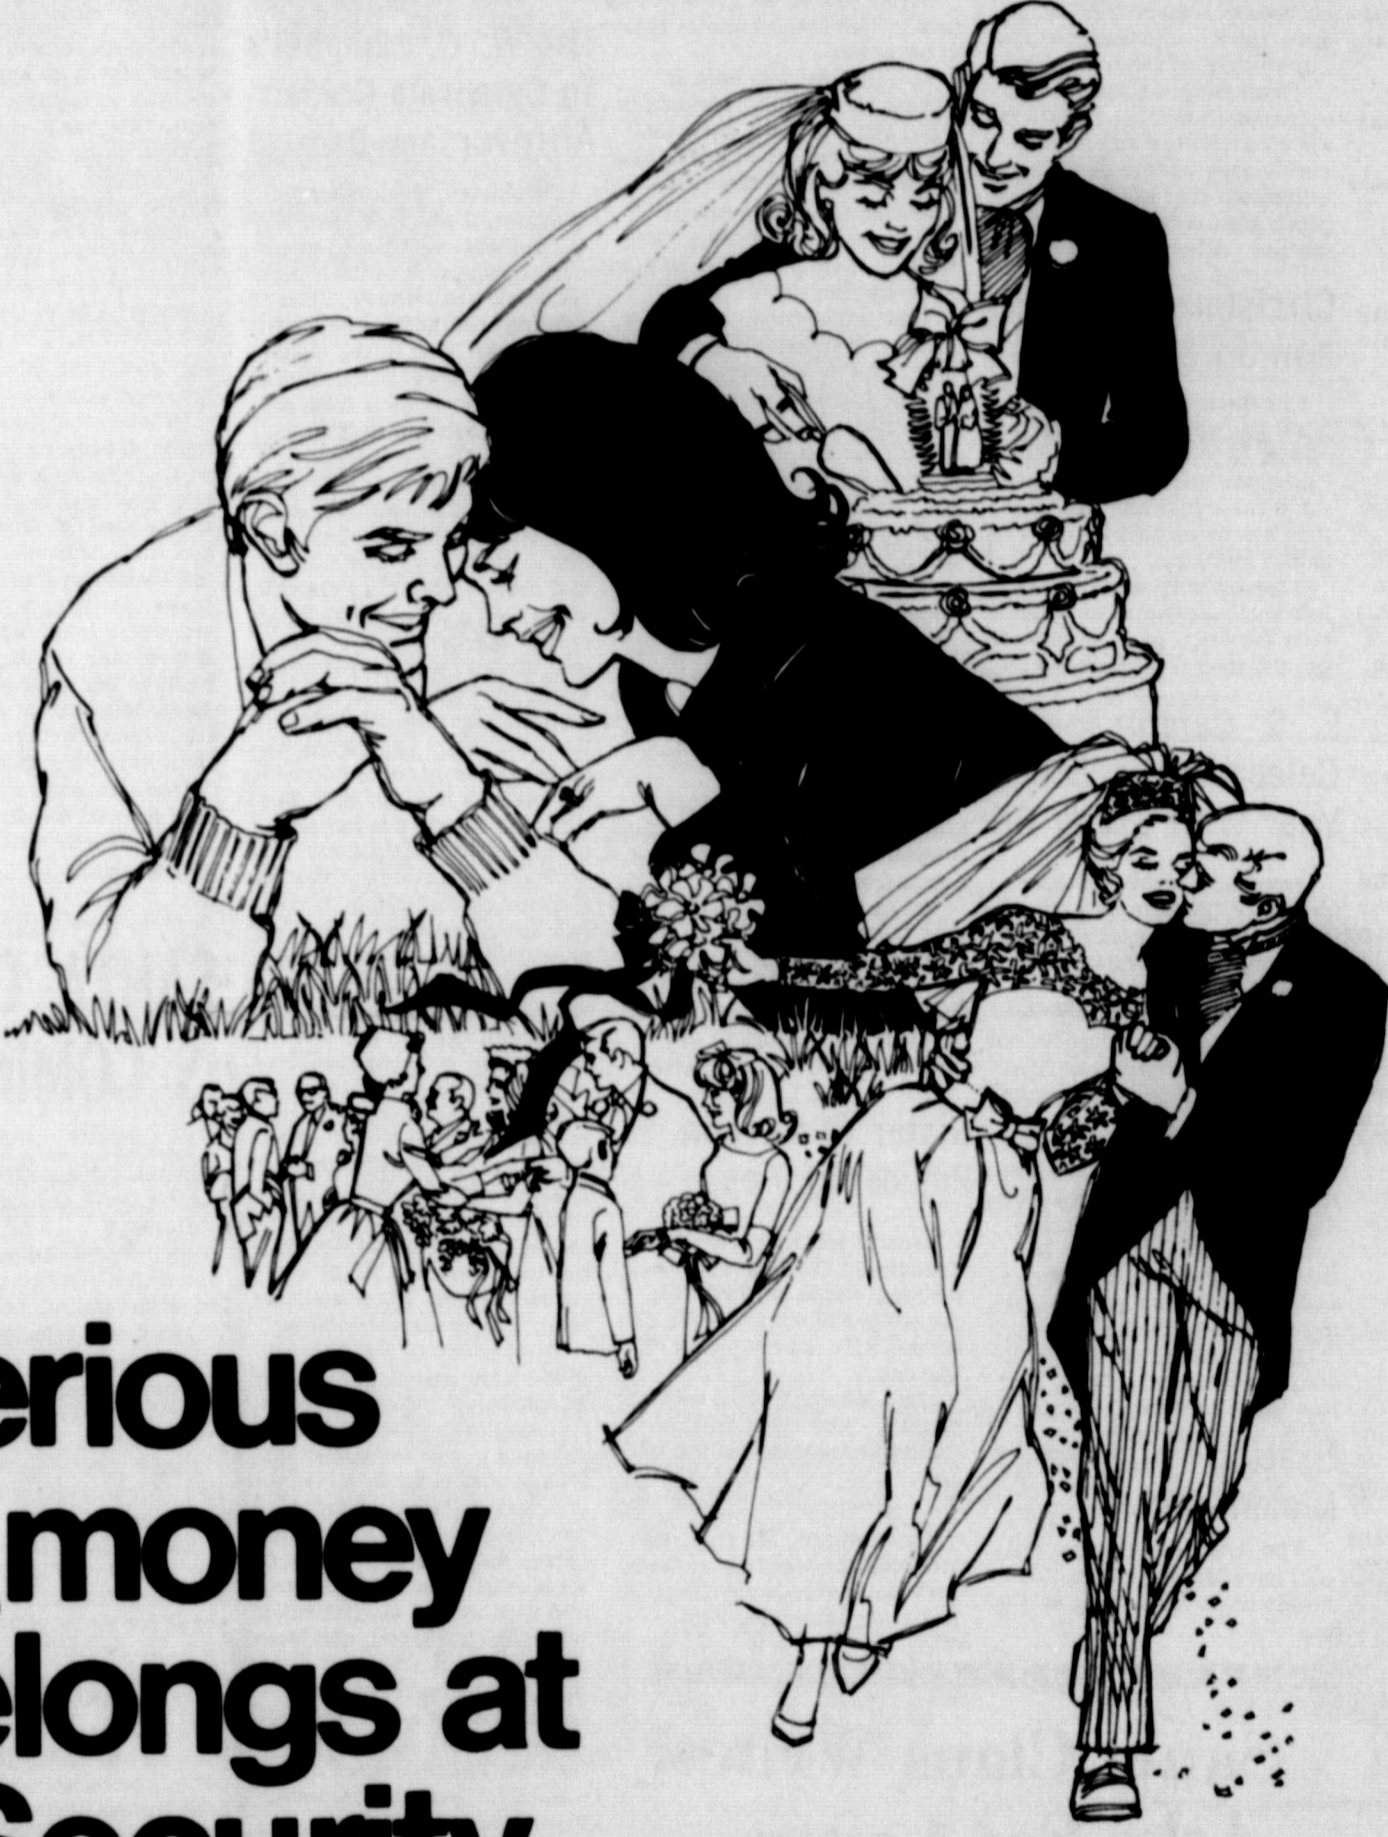

The possession limit is the maximum number of ducks of each sex and species that could be taken in two days.

Duck hunters should be familiar with other regulations which govern their action. Shooting hours for geese are one-half hour before sunrise to sunset and for ducks are sunset to sunset. Sunrise and sunset are announced daily by the United States Weather Bureau.

The law requires the hunter make a reasonable effort to retrieve a migratory game bird after killing or wounding it. Every migratory game bird wounded by hunting and retrieved by the hunter must be immediately killed and become a part of the bag limit.

Power boats, sail boats or other craft may be used only as a means of picking up dead or injured birds.

Open since Wednesday (Nov. 4), the duck season will close Jan. 12 and the goose season ends at sundown on Jan. 17.

More Circuits Make Point System Overseas Calls Easier This Christmas

Six additional overseas telephone circuits added during the past year will make it easier for more servicemen to talk with their families in the United States this Christmas season.

George Newberry, manager of Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, said a total of 16 circuits are available to Vietnam.

He pointed out, however, that due to the volume of calls generated by holiday calling, persons wishing to reach servicemen in Vietnam should plan ahead for the rush.

"It is generally easier for a serviceman to call home than for his family to try reaching him in Vietnam," said Newberry. "This is because servicemen can call the U.S. from Saigon, Ton Son Nhut, Long Binh, Cam Ranh Bay, Nha Trang, Qui Nhon and Da Nang. Calls originating from the U.S. can be placed only to Saigon."

He added that it is more difficult to reach a serviceman in Saigon unless the caller knows the serviceman's unit, APO and telephone number where he can be reached.

"Although servicemen place calls from Vietnam on a first-come-first-served basis, it usually only takes a few minutes to reach the states once he gets access to a phone at one of the Vietnam telephone centers," Newberry said.

He also reminded residents of the 14-hour time difference between the U.S. and Saigon. For example, when it is 11 a.m. on December 25 in Texas, it is 1 a.m. on December 26 in Saigon.

Calling rates to Vietnam will be the same as last year with the first three minutes of a station-to-station call costing $9, while a person-to-person call for the same time costs $12. Each additional minute for both kinds of calls costs $3.

4 McLean Tigers Make All-District Team

The names of those from McLean that were placed on the District 2-A 1970 All District team, were released by Robert Langford, Tiger head coach.

On the Offense second of offense team were Ted Simmons, a senior tackle; and Tommy Duniven, a junior quarterback.

Those on the First team - Defense were Ricky Evans a senior defensive end; and Tommy Duniven, a junior secondary by a unanimous choice.

On the second defense team was David Haynes, a junior linebacker.

A giant bivalve clam found on the Indo-Pacific coral reef in 1917 weighed 579 1/2 lbs.

Point System Well Area Duck Hunters Feel That The New "oint System" Initiated by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department This Season Is The Best Invention Since Hip Boots.

Among duck hunters contacted opening day Nov. 4 was Walter Langford, a Tyler insurance agent. Taking advantage of the point system, Langford and hunting companions Bill Power and Herry Bain bagged 16 ducks in less than two hours of shooting opening morning near Tyler.

Their bag consisted of two "high point" ducks, a canvas-back and a redhead, both counting 90 points each, two "medium point" ducks, a pair of mallard drakes counting 20 points each, and 12 "low point" ducks (10 points each) consisting of teal, scaup and gadwall.

The new system actually allows a hunter to exceed the 100 points, because the law states the bag limit is reached "when the point value of any duck taken added to the total point value of all ducks already taken that day reaches or exceeds 100 points." Therefore the three-man hunting party was within the law to take ducks totaling 360 points in value.

Langford said it certainly helps to have an "educated" gun along. The veteran duck hunter explained that "My favorite gun, one I've hunted with for over 20 years broke as I shot the duck which completed my 100 points limit."

The Texas duck season continues through Jan. 12, with shooting hours from sunrise to sunset. The newly adopted "point system" is aimed at protecting those species in short supply (high point ducks) while allowing a more liberal bag limit on ducks which are more numerous along the flyway. The dedicated duck hunter who will take the time and effort to identify the various ducks and practice selective shooting will find an opportunity for much shooting enjoyment and a far greater bag limit than in recent years.

Former Resident Goes To Philippine Islands

A former head of the Missouri River Division, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, will represent an American architectural-engineering firm in the Philippine Islands.

Col. O.H. Robinson arrived in Manila Wednesday, Nov. 25, to begin duties as junior vice president of Metcalf & Eddy, Ltd. At the time of his retirement last June after three decades of military service he was Acting Division Engineer in Omaha.

He was succeeded at that time by Brig. Gen J.W. Morris. In his new position Colonel Robinson will be engineer advisor to the National Water Supply Agency of the Philippine government. The major project with which he will be connected is construction of the principal water supply system for the capital city, including five reservoirs, a distribution center and a pumping station. The project is funded in part by the World Bank.

Agency Takes Over State Fish Records

Official records of the largest known freshwater and salt-water game fishes caught in the state are now being kept by the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

The present list of record fish was initiated in October, 1968, by the Texas Outdoor Writers Association, whose members appealed to their readers through newspaper and magazine articles in a search for outstanding catches which could be verified. During the past few years, several of the original records were broken by heavier fish.

A proposal to take on the fish recordkeeping was made at a November meeting of TOWA at Altair, Colorado County; the writers voted unanimously to let the state agency take over. Freshwater fish records kept by Dan Klepper of the San Antonio Express and News and saltwater records held by Roy Swann of the Corpus Christi Caller-Times have been turned over to the Department's Information and Education Division. A revised list of recordholders will be issued around the end of the year.

Coordinators Marion Toole, inland fisheries; Terry Leary, coastal fisheries; and R. L. Cross, law enforcement, will serve along with I&E Director R. A. McCune as a Texas Game Fish Records Committee to accept proposed new records.

Just as the Department has cooperated with TOWA in the past, reversed roles are expected to even further increase public awareness of the records. Department Executive Director J. R. Singleton said, "We anticipate that most new records will continue to come through the outdoor writers, since most fishermen with exceptional trophies are agreeable to newspaper photographs of them."

Only a few freshwater species have no records listed and a number of saltwater record vacancies are expected to be filled by the best of each species taken during next summer's fishing contests along the coast. All records are for fish taken on rod and reel, except for an Unrestricted Division which was established by TOWA at a meeting on May 24, 1970.

Regulations adopted from the TOWA program apply as follows: "All fish submitted as state records must be weighed on an inspected scale (certified for trade by Texas Department of Agriculture) with statement of weight signed by two witnesses, one of which must be a disinterested person. Statement must also include, in inches and fractions, the length and girth of fish. A photo, or clipping of a published photo of the fish, must be included for positive verification. Persons submitting proposed record entries must list where the fish was taken, the date, type of fishing equipment used, home address, and business and home telephone numbers.

"Record fish must be taken on rod and reel, except for the Unrestricted Division, see below, from Texas waters by legal means by either resident or non-resident anglers.

"In addition to the rod and reel records, an Unrestricted Division includes the heaviest of those species which may be taken by any other legal means (archery, spear, gig, trotlines, handline, cane pole, etc.)." FISHING GUIDE NOW AVAILABLE

The Texas Parks and Wildlife Department's 1970-71 "Texas Fishing Guide" is now available at license deputies and regional and district offices.

The guide is a digest of fishing regulations for both the salt and freshwater fisherman. It includes information on fishing licenses, means of taking fish, lake laws, protected species, sale of fish and a county-by-county breakdown of regulations. The guide is free upon request.
