Ronald McIlroy - Dixie Kading Wed In Midland

Following a honeymoon on the Gulf Coast, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wayne McIlroy will be at home in Midland at 3237 Franklin Street.

Their vows were spoken Saturday, May 19 in Saint Mark's United Methodist Church in Midland. The bride, Dixie Lee Kading is a May graduate of Texas Tech University, where she earned a Bachelor of Science degree in education. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Horace Kading of 717 Shell Avenue, Midland.

Ronald McIlroy is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McIlroy of McLean. A graduate of Texas Tech, he has a dual degree in music and music education. For the past four and a half years he has been a member of the Midland-Odessa Symphony. At present he is employed by Dowell Company in Midland, and both he and his bride plan to teach in the fall. He is a graduate of McLean High School.

The Reverend Weldon McCormick officiated for the double ring ceremony. Chelcy Bowles of Beaumont, organist and harpist presented traditional wedding selections for the ritual.

The bride wore an original design gown made by her mother. Alencon lace over satin fashioned the Empire line gown which had a scoop neckline and short sleeves. Her headpiece was an old-fashioned band of lace which extended into the finger-tip length veil and the chapel train. Illusion with appliques of the matching Alencon lace dotted the veil and the chapel train. Her bridal bouquet was a cascade arrangement of white Marguerite daisies, yellow Starburst mums and miniature white carnations accented by baby's breath.

The maid of honor, Sherry Kading of Midland, and sister of the bride, wore a yellow flocked cotton voile dress styled in the modified Empire line. She wore a wide brimmed white hat with matching streamers and a wide whipped cream sash accented the waist of her gown. Her nosegay was formed of Marguerite daisies and baby's breath. Jay Ben McMillen of San Marcos was best man, and the ushers were Royce Coatney of Lubbock and Kelly Kading, brother of the bride of Midland. Brandon Lambie was the ring bearer.

Mixed spring flowers in yellow and white formed the alter arrangement which was flanked by the alter candles. The bridal aisle was marked with hurricane candles with touches of mixed yellow and white floral bouquets tied with yellow bows.

The garden reception was held at the home of the bride's parents following the ceremony. Floral arrangements decorated the reception rooms and the garden area.

The bride's table was covered with a white crocheted cloth. The three-tiered wedding cake centered the table and it was surrounded by a garland of yellow and white daisies and baby's breath.

The groom's table held the crystal punch bowl. Silver and crystal appointments

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

The first overall revision of the Texas penal code in more than a century is nearing final passage as the legislature plows through its last full week of regular session duties.

House members promptly went to work on the bill after the Senate passed it last week.

The revision is the product of a seven-year study ramrodded by the State Bar of Texas.

Generally, the code pulls together the thousands of criminal laws scattered through the statute books.

It groups felonies and misdemeanors into classes, ranging from most severe to minor offenses and fixes a range of punishment for each.

Many separate statutes are consolidated into comprehensive sections, and law covering a variety of attempted crimes are grouped under a general attempt provision.

The new code increases maximum penalties for certain crimes of violence. Murder without malice, for example, could carry a maximum term of 20 years compared to five under present law.

Penalties for some other crimes were lowered. Minimum, as well as maximum, punishment is provided in each category of felony.

One of the major changes in existing law is the definition of insanity as applied to defense in criminal cases. The new definition terms insanity as a mental disorder or defect that prevents one from conforming his conduct to the requirements of the law. The old "M'Naghten rule" terms a person insane who does not know right from wrong or understand the nature and consequences of his acts.

Lawmakers went into Friday and Saturday sessions in an effort to reduce the tremendous pile of unfinished legislation. Much of it will remain unacted on.

OPEN RECORDS BILL PASSED
The Senate passed its version of open records legislation, return it in (HB 6) to the House for consideration of amendments.

The bill would require most records to be available for public inspection and that copies be provided pro-

Governor Briscoe has proclaimed June 3, 1973, as "National MIA Day" in Texas, and urges all citizens to rally behind their national leaders in the quests for a full and accurate accounting of all MIAs.

He said that "the number of captured Americans recently released by the Communist leaders in Indo-China is only 30 percent of those who have been listed as Prisoners of War (POW) or Missing in Action (MIA), and... the other 70 per cent, or over 1,300 men, have not been accounted for by the Communists," and, those who may be still alive endure secret captivity and its degradation and deprivations.

SHORT SNORTS
The House approved an overall revision of the system of financing public schools which would cost $1.8 billion over the next six years but chances of Senate passage are dim.
Texas' first adult education law has been signed by Governor Briscoe.
