23-29 Is Highway Week

During the Texas Highway Week, the basic transportation resource in Texas, Governor Dolph Briscoe has designated September 23-29 as Highway Week in Texas. The event coincides with National Highway week which is under the honorary chairmanship of television personality Lorne Greene.

The observance is Better Living, Better Roads, highway dedications, open house and other activities at Texas Highway Department facilities across the state.

The Governor singled out support as an important factor in highway progress and noted that development has been a cooperative effort between all levels of government.

The text of the Governor's memorandum: "The Texas Highway system comprises more than 70,000 miles of all-paved road facilities which form the basic transportation resource for Texans."

The period of September 23-29 has been designated National Highway week to emphasize the importance of the vital network of roads, one of this year's observances is Better Roads, Better Living.

Highway progress in Texas has been made possible through an active partnership between Texans working through organizations such as the Texas Good Roads Association and the Texas Highway Department.

Highways are important in the movement of goods and people between cities. Equally important are the thousands of miles of urban highways, freeways and major arterial roads which have been developed cooperatively between levels of government.

The travelways take most people to work, whether they use their own cars or ride public transportation. And when work is done, they transport Texans and their visitors to recreation spots. They are vital to the health of business and industry. They are the carriers of police, fire and other emergency services.

Streets and highways transport the bride to the altar, the patient to the hospital, children to school and the family to their living.

Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period of September 23-29 as Highway Week in Texas and urge all citizens to lend their support to the development of better roads and to the Texas Highway Department.

HISTORICAL MARKER IS DEDICATED

Mike Haynes Gives Dedication Address

More than seventy persons attended the dedication of the historical marker commemorating a major Anglo-Indian battle northwest of McLean on highway 287. An identical of the metal plaque is on the farm to market road which continues north where the Pampa road turns west. The actual battle site lays between the two highway roadside markers.

Mr. John C. Haynes, president of McLean-Alanreed Historical Society, welcomed guests and introduced persons on the program. Boyd Reeve, McLean, gave the invocation.

Distinguished guests, as recognized by Judge Don Cain, Pampa, included city and county officials from McLean, Lefors, and Pampa and Representative Phil Cates. Following the introduction and reading of telegrams, Miss Gay Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Simpson of McLean, sang "America the Beautiful", accompanying herself on the guitar.

Mr. Mike Haynes delivered the dedicatory address telling the story of the battle of the North Fork of the Red River fought by Col. Ranald S. MacKenzie and Comanches. Concerning the event Haynes said "We are not here today because a seemingly defenseless village of Indians was massacred or because an American force triumphed over dangerous savages. Those are the extremes. We are here because both the Indians and MacKenzie had a job to do, and, as a result of what occurred here, the Panhandle was opened to settlement."

Unveiling of the marker was performed by Gray County Commissioners Mrs. Mary Dwyer, McLean, and Mr. Joe Clark of Lefors.

The battle area, on the Triangle Ranch, was brought to the attention of the Alanreed-McLean Historical Society by Mike Haynes. Haynes discovered the locally relevant battle location while reading a history written by one of his professors at Texas Tech. Mr. Haynes is a 1973 spring graduate of Texas Tech and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Haynes

DON CHESSER

Panhandle Good For Mule Deer

Think that the Trans-Pecos region of Texas has the only mule deer hunting?

Guess again, for the Panhandle myleys are offering hunters considerable sport.

According to Parks and Wildlife Department wildlife officials, during the peak hunting year of 1970, some 1,014 deer were killed in the Panhandle.

The bag was evenly divided between whitetails and mule deer.

Traditionally, mule deer in Texas ranged from the mountains near El Paso, east to Val Verde County and north to the Canadian River.

By 1950, the Panhandle herds had dwindled to the point where only 96 mule deer were killed.

Trapping and transplanting activities by the Parks and Wildlife Department in cooperation with concerned landowners increased the herds and in 1956 the harvest was 249 animals.

Last year, the tally levelled off at 332 mule deer.

Hunters planning and looking forward to fall and winter hunting trips might consider the Texas Panhandle if they are looking for mule deer action.

Barbara Schwede and Charles Crocker Exchange Vows In Tulia

In a decorative setting using the bride's chosen colors of apricot and white, Miss Barbara Lynn Schwede and Charles Donald Ross Crocker exchanged wedding promises in a 6 p. m. ceremony Saturday, Aug. 11.

Double ring vows were read in Christ Lutheran Church in Tulia. Officiating were Dr. Walter Ellwanger, pastor, and Rev. David Melber, pastor of St. Paul Lutheran Church, Canyon.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hamlin Schwede of Tulia. Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Donald R. Crocker, also of Tulia. He is also the grandson of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Corts of McLean and the great nephew of Mrs. Ruth McGahey, who resides north of McLean on the Morse Ranch.

Forming a background for the marriage were four 15-branch standing candelabras bearing white tapers and trimmed with huckleberry greenery. Sixteen candles enhanced the altar while two white wicker baskets of white and apricot gladioli and white pom chrysanthemums complemented the scene.

Tim Thornton sang "Jesus Joy of Man's Desiring", "O Perfect Love" and "The Lord's Prayer", accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Gerald Schultz of Canyon.

Presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk organza fashioned with high neckline accented by sequined chantilace and long organza sleeves gathered to scalloped cuffs of chantilace. Wide bands of chantilace from the shoulders were highlighted by narrow satin ribbon to form an empire silhouette.

The A-line skirt had wide bands of sequined chantilace down the train of silk organza with wide bands of chantilace was attached to the dress with a large bow. THE FAMILY LAWYER

Attractive Nuisances

When children come to visit, chances are you feel a sense of responsibility for their safety. But suppose a child comes onto your premises without permission—or, perhaps, when you are not even home. Could you be held legally liable in case he gets hurt?

Indeed you can, under the "attractive nuisance doctrine" now in force in most states. This doctrine says you may be responsible for having something hazardous on your property that a child is not likely to see and avoid.

As the name implies, the hazard must be one which youngsters would ordinarily find attractive.

One case involved a tree house in a family's back yard, where neighboring children often came to play. The tree house was wobbly, and one day a youthful climber lost his footing and suffered a bad fall.

Even though the parents were not home at the time of the accident, a court subsequently held them liable. The court said they should have realized, with a hazard so alluring to children, that they were inviting trouble.

Furthermore, the thing must be not only attractive but also a nuisance—that is, faulty in some way.

In another case, a boy was injured when he fell off an old couch in a neighbor's garage. But there was nothing wrong with the couch. It was therefore not an attractive nuisance, a court ruled later, and the householder did not have to pay damages.

Of course, the age of the victim is an important element in the situation. Courts have frequently turned down claims of children over 12, saying they were old enough to have recognized and avoided the particular hazard that brought them to grief.

Nor does the law expect a home owner to spend major sums of money to clear away minor dangers. It is not his duty, as one judge put it, to make his premises "child proof."

Acts About New Testament Conversions

Must be preceded by teaching, "Go ye therefore, and teach all nations" (Matt. 28:19; Mark 16:15).

And followed by hearing "So then faith cometh by hearing, and hearing, by the word of God" (Rom. 10:17).

Hearing and believing must be followed by repentance, and the times of this ignorance God winked at; but now cometh all men everywhere to repent." (Acts 17:30; Luke 13:3; Acts 2:38).

Jesus said: "Whosoever therefore shall confess me before men, him will I confess also before my Father which is in heaven." (Matt. 10:32; Rom. 10:10).

"They came unto certain water." (Acts 8:36). The eunuch wanted to be baptized; Philip told him he could if he believed with all his heart. (Acts 8:37). He replied: "I believe that Jesus Christ is the Son of God." (Acts 8:37).

"They went down both into the water, both Philip and the eunuch; and he baptized him." (Acts 8:38).

Baptism is a burial in water, "Therefore we are buried with him by baptism into death." (Rom. 6:4).

"And when they were come up out of the water." (Acts 8:38). "...raised to walk a new life..." that like as Christ was raised up from the dead by the glory of the Father, even so should walk in newness of life." (Rom. 6:4).

"The eunuch went on his way rejoicing." (Acts 8:39). He obeyed the Lord, therefore he was happy.

"Blessed are they that do his commandments, that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city." (Rev. 22:14).

Was your conversion like those in the New Testament? Did you hear the word of God? Did you believe in God and His Son? Did you repent of your sins? Did you confess your sins to God? Did you believe in Christ before men? Were you taken down into the water? Were you buried in water for the remission of your sins? If so, then you can go on your way rejoicing.

If you have done this, are you living faithful to the Lord? Do you worship regularly? Is your daily life of such a nature that your fellow-men can see Christ in you? Remember, we must live a faithful life to enter heaven.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Bill Boykin
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Dozens of logjammed major projects will move forward now that President Nixon has signed the three-year $20 billion federal highway act.

In addition to funds for mass transit, the act also provides $2 billion for safety projects.

State Highway Engineer Luther DeBerry said replacement of narrow bridges is high on the priority list. Hazardous intersections and rail crossings will also be eliminated as facilities are designed with modern built-in features.

"This act does not solve all our money problems, but even though it is not everything we need here in Texas, it is a good act," said DeBerry.

Highway trust revenues will remain as they have been in the past during fiscal 1974. Up to $200 million in urban funds can be used either for roads or purchase of buses or fixed rail transit with State Highway Department concurrence.

July highway bid lettings were cancelled due to shortage of federal funds. Although the federal act's passage will allow the state to proceed with vital projects, DeBerry warned a backlog will remain. Texas has been financing some work with leftover money from previous acts of Congress and with state funds. Texas is among states which sends the federal government more tax revenue from gasoline and vehicle accessory sales taxes than is returned.

Interstate highway construction is financed with 90 per cent highway trust fund money and other federal construction gets 70 per cent aid. The new act provides money for bicycle trails and metropolitan transportation studies. It also permits building the San Antonio North Expressway with state funds (if lawsuits don't stop it again).

AG RULES -- Youthful offenders must be released from correctional institutions for delinquents when they reach 18, Atty. Gen. John Hill held in other opinions concerning the new 18-year-old majority rights law, Hill concluded:

Persons 18 years of age can no longer collect survivor's benefits as a result of death of fathers who are law enforcement officers or firemen.

Parents of retarded youths 18 or over are no longer obligated to pay cost of their care in state institutions. Eligibility to run for office is extended to 18-year-olds, along with the obligation to

Students whose parents live out of state can qualify for resident tuition rates at Texas colleges and universities at age 18 if they meet the year's residency and gainful employment requirement.

Persons who are married, regardless of age, have the status of adults.

OIL ALLOWABLE HELD AT 100 PER CENT -- For the 18th straight month, the Railroad Commission set the oil production allowable for September at 100 per cent.

Meanwhile, Commission Chairman Jim Langdon warned the nation is facing a "very critical situation."

The Federal Power Commission, said Langdon, is predicting an 18 per cent reduction in energy fuels this winter as compared with 1972. FPC asked all states to survey winter requirements, supplies available and possible substitute fuels which will be needed to cope with shortages.

Texas' production rate has dropped 26,000 barrels a day, in spite of the 100 per cent production allowable, Langdon said.

Exceptions to the 100 per cent allowable are East Texas Field (86 per cent); Kelly-Snyder (84 per cent) and Tom O'Connor Field (70 per cent). CREDIT INSURANCE HEARING SET -- The State Board of Insurance has scheduled a September 13 hearing on credit insurance rates.

A survey indicates the rates may be 20 per cent too high, according to Board Chairman Joe Christie.

If this is true, said Christie, they must come down.

Credit insurance is designed to insure payment of loans for installment plan purchases in event the borrower dies, becomes disabled or is otherwise unable to meet his payments.

It is not supposed to be a profit-making proposition for the seller or creditor, said Christie, but to provide protection. Consumers in three-fifths of the other states pay lower premiums for the protection than Texans do, according to the regulatory agency head. Texans pay 75 cents per $100 indebtedness per year for credit insurance.

APPOINTMENTS -- Bill Ward of Weatherford, Joe Ned Dean of Groveton and Charles Griggs of Sweetwater were named to the Texas Civil Judicial Council by Gov. Dolph Briscoe.

Rep. Bill Heatly of Paducah and Rep. Fred Head of Troup were appointed by Speaker Price Daniel Jr. to the Legislative Budget Board. At the same time, Daniel designated Reps. Ed Harris of Galveston, Hilary Doran of Del Rio, Mickey Leland of Houston, Dean Cobb of Dumas, Matt Garcia of San Antonio, Joe Spurlock of Fort Worth, Carl Parker of Port Arthur, Walt Parker of Denton, Bob Maloney of Dallas and Jim Vecchio of Grand Prairie to the Texas Legislative Council which supervises legislative research and bill drafting.

Briscoe picked E. S. Emerson of San Antonio to serve on Texas Commission on Alcoholism and John Artero of Victoria on the State Board of Morticians.

Li. Gov. Bill Hobby created four regional Citizens' Advisory Councils on Water Resources, and Texas Water Rights Commission added Kenneth Charles Quinn of Conroe to its Houston staff to monitor Houston area water districts.

CHILD INVESTIGATION URGED -- Texas and Illinois attorneys general formed a task force to investigate conditions and allegations of child abuse at eight childcare institutions in the state.

Also a three-man Illinois investigating team is checking the placement of hundreds of children from that state in Texas as private institutions. Illinois Atty. Gen. William Scott said he is concerned as to why Illinois with a wealth of first class educational facilities sent 800 children to Texas for institution alization. Scott said he wants to find out if Illinois state child care officials were "wined and dined" to encourage them to send youngsters to Texas.

Market Report

Pork values are hard to find this week, says Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt.

The consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, attributed this situation to rising prices.

"Consumers also may find beef supplies more scarce--as a result of producers holding back livestock in anticipation of the Sept. 12 price freeze change.

"Nevertheless, most markets still offer some variety in cuts, with prices at ceiling levels. Chuck cuts, ground beef and beef liver generally provide the best values."

According to the specialist, fryer chickens and eggs remain good protein food choices--despite price increases.

Turning to fresh fruits, Mrs. Clyatt noted that this year's large crop of sweet cherries has hit the market attractively priced.

"Watermelons and cantaloupes remain in good supply--and some medium to small sized nectarines are priced reasonably."

The specialist cited bananas, seedless grapes and plums as being in best supply at the most economical prices.

Warning that vegetable prices vary considerably, she listed cabbage, carrots, corn, turnips, okra, mustard greens, yellow onions, hard shell squash and varieties of southern peas as the best buys.

SCREWWORMS INCREASING- Screwworm cases in Texas have mounted in recent weeks and totaled well over 600 as July drew to a close. Furthermore, indications are that the year's total will climb rapidly in the next few months. Hot weather and recent rains have spurred the spread of the flesh-eating livestock pests in South and Southwest Texas. A spray program is underway for all herds where a screwworm case has been confirmed in addition to the continued sterile fly drops in infested areas. Screwworm Eradication Program officials urge close inspection of livestock and pets and treatment of infested animals.

Don't buy more fresh fruits and vegetables than you can use and store without spoilage.

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

If you could virtually insure your child against having five dangerous diseases, would you make the effort?

State Health Department officials strongly emphasize that immunizing children against early childhood diseases is worth both the time and expense -- for the child's health and the health of others.

Under ideal circumstances only a few visits to a clinic or private physician are needed to complete the immunization schedule during the child's first year and a half of life.

You say it's an inconvenience? There's no real threat you say? Don't fool yourself into thinking the conquered diseases are really conquered. Sure, your child is safer from disease than his or her grandfather might have been, but consider this:

--Two of the four cases of paralytic polio reported in Texas last year struck children under two years old.

--Children under the age of five were the target of almost 30 per cent of the 41 cases of diphtheria and about 35 per cent of the 20 cases of tetanus.

--43 per cent of the approximately 1600 cases of ordinary measles reported by age in Texas last year occurred in children under the age of five.

--Of the 185 reported cases of whooping cough or pertussis in Texas last year, 50 per cent of those whose age was recorded were four years old and under.

You say your child is strong and healthy and can withstand a few days in bed with a communicable disease? Think about children still to be born. If your child has rubella and infects a susceptible neighbor, friend, or acquaintance during the first months of the pregnancy, the chances are that the newborn, if the newborn does arrive, might suffer blindness, deafness, retardation, and heart disease. Is it worth taking such a chance, when a single immunization for rubella could eliminate the possibility of your child causing such a tragedy?

A 1971 State Law requires that all children entering school must be immunized against diphtheria, tetanus, polio, measles, and rubella.

In those areas where no local facilities exist to provide immunization services, the State Department of Health will provide or administer the required vaccines.

As a further result of the 1971 law, Texas schools now maintain a record of the immunizations of every student in the State.

In an attempt to increase immunization among the very young, the state health department has implemented an Infant Immunization Surveillance program. The program essentially involves mailing cards to parents of newborn and one-year old children, informing them of recommended vaccination times, and asking them to check and return the cards. Reminder cards are issued to non-responding parents, and field referrals are issued to local health departments and Immunization Service Aides if parents do not respond to the reminder cards.

The recommended timetable for immunization is as follows: At the ages of two, four, and six months, infant should receive DTP injections for diphtheria, tetanus, and pertussis, as well as oral polio vaccine. When the child is one year old, he or she should be immunized for measles and rubella. The DTP and polio immunizations should be repeated when the child is between 15 and 18 months, and again when the child is between four and six years old.

Health Department officials emphasize that parents can help reduce disease in Texas by having their children immunized early, as suggested by the timetable, and responding promptly to health department inquiries.

Firemen Have Annual Picnic

Members of the McLean Volunteer Fire Department, their families and special guests, numbering 119, attended the annual firemen's picnic in the city park last Tuesday night.

The barbeque meal was followed by introduction of guest.

Fire chief Jim McDonald presented service pins to firemen with five or more years service to the community.

Those receiving pins were Bill Heasley, five years; Roy McMullen and Carey Don Smith, six years; Clarence Pierce and Clifford McDonald, seven years; Jim McDonald, eight years; Loyd Bybee and Jay Thompson, ten years.

Carl Baker, sixteen years; Charlie Morgan, Bill Cash and Sherman Crockett, twenty years; H. H. Pool and R. L. Brown, twenty-one years; Miro Pagan, thirty years.

George Terry, thirty three years; Boyd Meador, forty nine years.

Chief McDonald added that this was the first time awards had been given and that some of the firemen mentioned had retired.

The Andermyers entertained the gathering with a variety of country folk and blue grass selections. The group is composed of Kerry Anderson, Harmonica, banjo and guitar; Leland Myers, guitar; Steven Myers, guitar; and Eddie Estes, Percussion.

VOLUNTEERS INSTALL AIR CONDITIONERS

Grade School Air Conditioners Are Installed

Installation of six air conditioners in the Elementary School building is hoped to be completed this week. The evaporative coolers were purchased by Mother's Inc. and will serve the east half of the grade school and junior high building.

Installation of the 4,400 C.F.M. fans was carried out by local men with the leadership of George Terry.

Molly McDowell, Mother's Club president indicated that the club hopes to complete the airconditioning of the grade school building in time for use next spring.

Concerning the possibilities for the airconditioning of McLean High School, president McDowell said that rewiring would be expensive but necessary, before air conditioning could be used.

Mother's Inc. has taken in and invested more than $1,000 for the purchase of the air conditioners and proper wiring and tubing for their installation. The many hours spent installing these materials were volunteer.

Turkey Roast - Picnic Fare

With picnic season in full swing, consider an easy turkey roast for the next outing.

Since a two-pound frozen roast cooks in just two hours, it can be prepared early the morning of the picnic -- or the day before. Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, pointed out.

It's ideal for sandwiches -- especially since there's no need to prepare a whole bird first.

Other advantages include ease in slicing, no waste (it's boneless), and flavor appeal.

For extra flavor, blend a little rubbed sage into softened butter. Spread butter on bread and add turkey slices.

Mrs. Petty Has 83rd Birthday

Petty, of Dallas, Mrs. Dorothy Jackson of Roswell, New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon L. Kennedy and daughter, Tina, south of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Billingsley, of Amarillo, Mrs. A. F. Lain, of Amarillo.

Included as a part of the celebration was the birth of her second great-grandson, Rodney Luther Kennedy, Saturday morning at Hill Country Baptist Hospital, Amarillo. Rodney's daddy, Vernon Kennedy, was Mrs. Petty's first grandchild. Mrs. Petty and Rodney are reported to be doing fine.

Mark Bailey returned Friday from a vacation in Carlsbad Caverns, El Paso, Long View and returned to Six Flags.

Crow Essentially Unprotected In Texas

Is it still legal to shoot crows in Texas?

Yes, according to Parks and Wildlife Department wildlife officials, the crow may be shot if it is committing depredation on ornamental or shade trees, agricultural crops, livestock or wildlife.

The use of crow calls or recordings is still legal in the state.

All the controversy on crow shooting started about a year ago when the U.S. signed a treaty with the Republic of Mexico placing the family Corvidae, which includes crows, under federal protection.

Actually, the intent of the agreement was to protect other members of the family which are found in Mexico, but the raucous, common American crow found himself enjoying the unusual leisure of federal protection.

Recent federal guidelines received by the Parks and Wildlife Department give Texas two options on crow hunting.

One provides for a season which treats the crow as a game bird. Such a season would be for a maximum of 120 days and prohibits the hunting of crows during the peak nesting season.

The second option permits the hunting of depredating crows the year round.

Texas is bound to the second option.

To set a season on crows as outlined in option one would call for legislative action making the crow a game bird.

Governor Proclaims Hunting-Fishing Day

Governor Dolph Briscoe has marked Sept. 22 as "Hunting and Fishing Day" in Texas.

State observances of the day will coincide with those established nationwide by President Nixon.

In his proclamation, Briscoe cited American hunters and anglers as "leaders in major conservation programs throughout our nation."

"Through their publications and organizations," Briscoe continued, "hunters and fishermen have led the nation in the battle for a better environment and the wise use of our natural resources."

The governor urged all Texans to join with the sportsmen conservationists in a rededication to the wise use of natural resources and their proper management for the benefit of future generations.

He also prompted the state's citizens to visit sportsmen's clubs on Hunting and Fishing Day Sept. 22 to learn more about conservation and outdoor skills.

Parks and Wildlife Department Executive Director Clayton T. Garrison is making the department's facilities available to the public. Hatcheries, wildlife management areas and other stations will be open in observation of the day.

Information officers of the department will also be available as speakers to local sportsmen and conservation organizations.

"Observances of National Hunting and Fishing Day in Texas will be an excellent opportunity for the state's sportsmen to see firsthand how their hunting and fishing license money is being put to use," said Garrison.

"Through license funds and support from the outdoorsmen of the state, Texas can boast about some of the nation's best hunting and fishing."

42 Lives May Be Lost Labor Day

Colonel Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, today warned that 42 persons may lose their lives in Texas traffic during the long Labor Day weekend.

The holiday officially begins at 6 p.m. Friday, August 31 and runs through midnight Monday, September 3.

Speir said the DPS is making preparations to cope with increased holiday travel. "Every available Department of Public Safety patrolman will be on duty during this three day weekend, utilizing all resources we can put our hands on to prevent accidents," He added.

The DPS director noted that special attention will be paid to hazardous traffic violations normally associated with a high holiday death toll. Patrolmen will be especially watchful for such offenses as speeding, driving while drinking, improper passing and driving on the wrong side of the road.

In addition to stepped-up enforcement activities, the DPS will also work with local law enforcement agencies and the news media of Texas to conduct an accident prevention program called "Operation Motorcide."

During "Operation Motorcide" tabulations and pertinent facts about all fatal holiday traffic crashes will be compiled three times daily and released to the news media. Notation will be made as to where and why accidents are happening.

Speir called the holiday program "a life and death struggle for the lives of our citizens," and he urged every motorist to cooperate in the effort.

Aoudad Sheep No Easy Trophy

Got your mind made up that this is the year to go after one of those big aoudads in the Panhandle?

The Nov. 10-16 season might seem far off but now is the time to get in touch with the Panhandle landowners who might receive permits from the Parks and Wildlife Department to hunt aoudads.

And that's just the beginning. The department has figured that it took an average of 13 hours of hunting to bag each aoudad taken last year.

Aoudad, or barberry sheep, were first stocked in the Palo Duro Canyon in 1957. From the original 44 animals the herd has reached an estimated 600 sheep, some coming close to the world's record trophy size.

Clambering about the canyons of the Palo Duro in bitter winds and cold in search of a 270-pound aoudad ram which has to be carried back out calls for someone more expert than the average weekend hunter.

But still, as the herd grows, the number of hunters interested in the big sheep also increases.

During the first season in 1963, only nine aoudad were

Baby Feeding Problems

Feeding problems may develop early with infants.

"Some problems stem from lack of understanding from parents," according to Frances Reasonover, foods and nutrition specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University.

For example, parents may not realize how quickly a baby can sense their attitudes toward a particular food.

Since a baby doesn't have preconceived ideas about foods new ones should be introduced in a positive and pleasant manner.

In addition, parents may find an infant's appetite varies from meal to meal or day to day. Don't be concerned--it's a natural pattern for all children.

If food had risen since 1952 at the same rate as wages in industry, a quart of milk would cost 55¢ in the store, a dozen eggs would sell for $1.61, and a whole, dressed frying chicken would cost $1.46 per pound.

CATTLE PRICES

Stocker calves have taken a sharp roll back after making a $10.00 - $15.00 rise. The market over reacted to the announcement of lifting the ceiling on Sept. 12.

Last week the big chain stores dropped out of the market. They had been buying cattle and having the packers custom slaughter them for them. The super markets claimed they were losing $50 to $100 per head. They said they could no longer stand this loss. Watch for stronger withholding and more shortage of beef as we approach Sept. 12. We think the real severe shortage will not develop until Oct., Nov. and Dec. This will extend on into 1974. All a result of ceilings on prices and the boycott. Maybe one great economic lesson will be learned out of all this. Boycotting or price ceilings do not encourage production. The very opposite what they are intended to accomplish.
