Convalescent Home Plans Progressing

According to chairman Boyd Meador, the seven directors for the establishment of a convalescent home in McLean are hopeful that they may be able to announce particulars about the project in 30 to 60 days.

The group is now exploring finance possibilities. Cost for the proposed 60 bed complex was estimated by a cooperating architect and contractor at $500,000. To date, no definite transactions have been made concerning the project.

The board members have visited almost a dozen nursing homes individually and in groups. Those toured included homes in Lubbock, Amarillo, and Canadian and as far as Burk Burnett.

The board of directors was established at a Town Hall meeting early last year with 12 charter directors. Since then, five have been dropped. Current board members are chairman, Boyd Meador; vice chairman, Alice Short Smith; and members, Mary Dwyer, Wilson Boyd, W.A. Bentley, Wilma Trefner, and Jake Hess II.

Long-Range Land Planning Meeting To Be In Abilene

Long-range land use planning is the subject of a day-long conference to be held in Abilene August 7.

City planners, state and local officials, conservationists, and others interested in sound land use are being urged to attend.

The conference is co-sponsored by the Texas Council of the Soil Conservation Society of America and the West Texas Chamber of Commerce. The meeting will be held in the McGlothlin Student Center on the campus of Abilene Christian College from 9:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

Speakers will include Congressman Omar Burfeson; Land Commissioner Bob Armstrong; Emil Rassman, president of the Soil Conservation Society of America; Doyle Hutcheson, president of the Texas Association of Soil and Water Conservation Districts; and other officials.

Paul Larson of Abilene, president of the Texas Council of the Soil Conservation Society of America, will preside over the morning session. Bob Scott of Fort Worth, chairman of the water committee, West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will preside in the afternoon.

Massive urban and industrial growth, coupled with shrinking land resources, is causing many concerned citizens to debate the feasibility of controlling the use of land at some time in the future. They point to the construction of homes in floodplains or factories on prime agricultural land as examples of mis-use of land resources.

A total of 17 speakers - farmers, livestock producers, county and city government officials - are scheduled to discuss the advantages and disadvantages of land use planning from their viewpoint.

Thoughts

From The Living Bible
So, warmly welcome each other into the church, just as Christ has warmly welcomed you; then God will be glorified. Remember that Jesus Christ came to show that God is true to his promises and to help the Jews. And remember he came also that the Gentiles might be saved and give glory to God for his mercies to them. That is what the Psalmist meant when he wrote: "I will praise you among the Gentiles, and sing to your name." And in another place, "Be glad, O you Gentiles, along with his people the Jews." Romans 15:7-10

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Federal Environmental Protection Agency proposals to cut into pollution smog in Texas ran into opposition in public hearings last week.

EPS proposes to put the smog control plans into effect August 15 unless convinced it should alter or delay them.

Here's what the controls would mean, with variations from area to area:

Special traffic lanes for buses and car pools on freeways.

Installation of anti-pollution devices on pre-1968 cars.

Elimination of downtown parking in major cities like Houston and San Antonio.

Gasoline quotas.

Reducing gasoline fumes in some areas (like Austin-waco) by improved storage tanks and tighter gasoline delivery trucks.

A Texas Good Roads Association spokesman assailed the idea of special traffic lanes as potential contributors to all-time record traffic pile-ups.

A Texas Air Control Board representative also challenged constitutionality of EPS recommendations to require owners of seven-year-old (and older) cars to install anti-smog equipment.

The latter requirement, said the Board spokesman, places an undue and discriminatory burden on the poor and raises questions under due process and equal guarantees of the fifth and 14th amendments.

Air Control Board spokesman have contended emission control devices would cost owners of old cars $300 million and would affect one per cent of the total pollution problem.

The Texas Department of Agriculture reports dramatic increases in prices of eggs, pork and other commodities throughout the state.

TD2 estimated the egg price increase at 10 cents per dozen this week on the retail level, and said grade A large eggs could sell for 85 cents a dozen.

Potatoes are expected to increase from $1 to $2 per hundredweight.

Pork prices are up 10 cents a pound, and lamb prices are also soaring. The Agriculture Department said some smaller packers are contemplating discontinuing cattle slaughter. Distributors were said to be seeking additional supplies of vegetables since they are permitted to raise prices.

A major problem is a shortage of trucks to move grain.

REIMBURSEMENT FOR CITIES
Cities which constructed sewage treatment plants between July 1, 1966 and July 1, 1972, without benefit of full federal construction grants can get reimbursements.

Texas Water Quality Board Executive Director Hugh C. Yantis Jr. said applications for the reimbursements should be made to the Environmental Protection by October 17.

Yantis also suggested cities which constructed plants as far back as July 1, 1966, without full federal grants should make applications for reimbursements in case regulations are changed to qualify them.

BRISCOE WEALTH ESTIMATED
Major Texas daily newspapers came up with estimates that Gov. Dolph Briscoe owns more than 300,000 acres of land in South Texas and has assets of over $40-million.

The Governor paid $113,309 in taxes on his land in 1972.

"What we assess him, he pays," said Dimmit County Tax Assessor-Collector Mrs. Jeanne John.

Through leases, in addition to his holdings, Briscoe is said to control a million acres of land.

COURTS SPEAK

Third Court of Civil Appeals agreed with lower court that St. Mary's University of San Antonio owns the Laredo Archives and other documents in the Sebron S. Wilcox collection.

The same court dismissed South Texans' suit for hunting rights in Uvalde, Dimmit and Zavala counties river beds.

Affirming an intermediate court, the State Supreme Court backed a new trial for a candy flavoring mix company's suit to collect insurance on ice cream unfit for consumption.

The Third Court of Civil Appeals affirmed a district court verdict that a miscarriage by an Austin woman was not caused by an auto accident.

OIL PRODUCTION WIDE OPEN

For the 17th straight month, the Railroad Commission has directed 100 per cent oil production during August.

Crude oil buyers' request for more than 3.78 million barrels daily was slightly less than the record for July, however.

Exceptions to the wide-open order were allowed for East Texas field (86 per cent), Kelly-Snyder of West Texas (84 per cent) and Tom O'Connor Field (70 per cent).

Commission Chairman Jim C. Langdon said state crude reserves dropped 13.1 million barrels since July, 1972.

AG OPINIONS

Atty. Gen. John Hill conditionally approved the state's $5 million tuition-equalization grant program for private college students but warned that rules must be framed to meet U.S. Supreme Court tests of aid to parochial schools.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

A college professor cannot be employed simultaneously as an assistant state district attorney.

Residence of a minor for purpose of school attendance is normally that of his parents.

Texas Water Quality Board has authority to require feedlot owners to submit evidence that wastes from their operation will not cause pollution of ground or surface waters.

APPOINTMENTS

Allen Eugene Richardson, a native of Bailey County, is a new executive director of Texas Water Rights Commission, and Clinton R. Mierschin of La Grange will be the agency's acting chief engineer.

Governor Briscoe appointed Don Carrol of Tyler as district judge of the Seventh District

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

Heavy rainfall throughout Texas is producing widespread mosquito production, and a lot of the problem may be occurring in your own back yard, says the Texas State Department of Health.

It only takes a little standing water and some adult mosquitos to bring on the pain and discomfort--and sometimes disease from mosquitoes. All mosquitoes need water in which to pass their early life stages. A adult flying mosquito frequently rest in grass, shrubbery or other foliage but they never develop there.

But give mosquitoes water and they'll multiply. Some mosquitoes lay their eggs in standing water where they hatch in a day or two. Other mosquitoes lay their eggs in old tires, tin cans, or other water-holding container in which they may remain unhatched for weeks or months until they are covered with water.

With both types of mosquitoes, the wigglers of larvae grow quickly and turn into tumblers or pupae. Soon the skin of the tumbler splits open and out climbs another hungry mosquito.

The Director of the State Health Department's Vector Control Division, Kenneth C. Lauderdale, says that in addition to being pests, mosquitoes can be dangerous. Such diseases are encephalitis, yellow fever, dengue fever and malaria are common diseases spread by the flying insect. They are big health problems in other parts of the world.

One of the last epidemics of mosquito-borne disease in Texas was Venequelan Equine Encephalities (VEE), which entered the country through Mexico. It struck many people--mostly in the Rio Grande Valley--and made heavy inroads into the horse population.

While mosquitoes are a threat to health and bodily comfort, there is something that you as an individual can do to ease the situation, says Lauderdale.

Lauderdale calls this the Ten Commandments of Home Mosquito Control. They are: Empty, remove, cover or turn upside down any receptacle that will hold water--particularly old bottles and vases holding flowers or cuttings twice each week--or tin cans.

Change water and scrub grow cuttings in sand.

Discard old tires or store them indoors.

Screen rain barrels and openings to water tanks or cisterns. Seal cisterns not in actual use.

Repair leaky plumbing and outside faucets. They may cause standing water.

Connect open wastewater drains to a sewage system, or construct separate sump or leach lines.

Clean clogged roof gutters and drain flat roofs.

Fill holes in trees with sand or mortar, or drain or spray them, as required.

Stock ornamental ponds with mosquito-eating fish.

Clean and drain evaporative coolers frequently. And remember, says Lauderdale, that mosquitoes develop only in water. And, water standing just a few days can produce a crop of mosquitoes.

Perk up listless appetites--furnish plenty of fruits in family meals. Fresh pineapple usually makes a hit--and a two-pound fruit yields about six servings, according to Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

STATE 4-H DOG SHOW The third Texas 4-H Show will be held at the 4-H Complex at the 4-H Complex in Falls. Judges appointed by the American Kennel Club will evaluate breed entries in conformation, obedience and showmanship. The first six classes to be beginning at 11 a.m. are sporting dogs, hounds, terriers, and non-supporting. Any 4-H youth may enter through his local extension office by July 20.

Crop Report Looks Good... Milk Production Increases and Decreases... Pasture and Range Conditions

All major crops in Texas show increases in acreage, the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service notes.
 Wheat production as well as oat production are also estimated now at two to three times above 1972 production levels.

Upland cotton acres for Texas this year are estimated at 5,700,000 compared with 5,570,000 in 1972. Acres planted to American-Pima cotton are 35,000, unchanged from last year. All of the increase in the upland cotton is in the High and Low Plains and Edwards Plateau.

Grain sorghum acreage this year in Texas is estimated at 8,100,000 acres, up 19 per cent from the 6,800,000 acres planted in 1972. Harvest of the crop has already started in South Texas. An excellent crop is indicated for Central Texas. Hot, dry weather is needed to mature the crop.

Corn planted for all purposes in Texas this year is estimated at 700,000 acres compared with 580,000 acres planted in 1972. Because of the weather, corn is in various stages of growth in every area of the state. Farmers in all parts of the state were able to get some early stands; most stands were about on schedule but cold, wet weather increased late plantings.

Peanut acreage for Texas in 1973 is up two per cent from 1972. Acreage now is estimated at 320,000 acres.
 Weather again delayed the progress, but moisture conditions now are favorable for the development of a good peanut crop.

Wheat production is now estimated at 95,200,000 bushels in Texas; this is more than double the 44,000,000 bushels produced in 1972.

Yield is expected to average 28 bushels per acre, a record, compared with 22 bushels last year. Harvested acres set at 3,400,000 compared with only 2,000,000 in 1972.
 Wheat harvest for the state is now virtually complete.

Oat production this year is estimated at 26,650,000 bushels, compared with only 9,720,000 bushels in 1972.
 Yield is expected to average a record 41 bushels per acre compared with 27 bushels in 1972. Acres for harvest are set at 650,000 compared with 360,000 in 1972. Harvest is completed.

Soybeans, a crop which is becoming more important in Texas, are estimated to total 450,000 acres this year, compared with 225,000 in 1972, and only 114,000 in 1971. Seeding for the state is complete; acreage is mostly in the High Plains and the southern half of the state.

Rice acreage in Texas this year is estimated at 553,000 acres compared with 469,000 acres in 1972.
 Harvest of the earliest stands is at hand.

Barley production is estimated at 3,510,000 bushels, compared with 1,980,000 bushels in 1972. Yield is expected to average 39 bushels per acre compared to 33 bushels in 1972. Harvested acres are set at 90,000 compared to 60,000 last year.

Rye production is estimated at 900,000 compared to 630,000 bushels in 1972. Average is 18 bushels per acre; harvested acres are set at 50,000 compared to 35,000 in 1972.

Only flaxseed, Irish potatoes and peaches are expected to be under 1972 production levels. Flaxseed planted acreage is estimated at 9,000 acres compared with 22,000 in 1972. Irish potato production is estimated at 2,991,000 hundredweight compared with 3,182,000 hundredweight in 1972. Peach production is estimated at 417,000 bushels compared with 604,000 bushels in 1972.

TIPS FOR OUTDOORSMEN

by Vern Sanford

Daytime Fishing Facts

It's only natural that fish spend most of their time in sheltered areas--places where small fish can hide and where large fish can forage for food.

But there's another reason--
COMFORT--the fish's comfort.

For the same reason that you seek shade, even more so does the fish.
 You have ways to protect yourself from the sun's rays--the fish doesn't.

You can wear a hat or close your eyes. A fish can do neither. He doesn't have eyelids to close.

So, he does the only thing he can do--seek the shade. He heads for the brush, the lily pads, the shelter of a dock or goes down deep enough in the water to escape the intense rays of the sun.

This should tell you something-- which is that fish can be caught on topwater lures early in the morning and late in the evening. Also why they are close to shore and in shallow water during those special hours and on cloudy days.

It also tells you that when the sun is out and blazing, look for the fish in some shady spot or down deep.

So, as some anglers often say--
 "You gotta think like a fish to catch a fish."

Deep or bright tones of nail polish draw attention to hands. If hands aren't perfectly groomed, choose a clear or lighter shade so they're less conspicuous, advises Mrs. Becky Culp, clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

Market Report

Meat prices hover at ceiling prices, and "real specials" are hard to find. Mrs. Gwendolyne Clyatt reported this week.

The consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System, listed beef-department best values as chuck cuts, round steaks and ground beef.

A substitute hamburger is available in some stores. This is ground beef with a soy protein added. Its price is substantially lower than regular ground beef; however, this may increase some as the price of soy beans continues to rise. Its protein is about the same as regular ground beef- and fat is lower.

In pork, Mrs. Clyatt recommended Boston Butt roasts, quarter-loin slices and rib-end roasts.

Fryer chickens and egg prices remain about the same as a week ago with large-size eggs in best supply, while turkeys have increased a bit.

Fryer chickens are still good buys in most markets even though prices have advanced considerably in the past few months.

Free economy and good eating, invite friends over for backyard barbecued chicken.

Cheese products are also at high levels.

NEWS FROM

County Agent's Office

By Foster Whaley
Gray County Agricultural Agent

Since we are on vacation at the deadline date for this column, I'm asking a close friend to fill in for me. The topic—"A Chronology of Chaos by Chief Choctaw."

Late Summer-Fall—1972—Lots of politics. Lots promises by both would-be Great White Fathers. A pony for every Indian, more wigwams. Big Government check for not planting corn, build dams for farmers, 100 percent parity for every Indian. Big wheat deal to communist countries. Some say good thing, some say bad. Some say Agriculture Chief Butz make good deal. Others say Butz lost pants.

Bad, bad Fall — farmers lose heap big corn, sorghum, and soybean crop in snow. Farmer keep quiet. No like talk about bad loss. Make banker nervous. Cattle people heap big loss new shipped in calves. Cattle man also quiet. Say his neighbors lost big. His not so bad. Used cow dealer by his place every day picking up dead cattle. Cattle man crazy. He tink weather be better next week. Keep buying but lose up to fifteen percent. News media don't know cause cattlemen quiet. Government men counting cattle, get no manure on boots, don't know. Cattle in feedlot stand still or gain less than 2 pounds day. Weather still bad; gain cost heap big. No feeder admit gain cost over forty cents. Mud belly deep. No place cattle to lay down. Same way all winter. Farmers lost much soybeans. Government counters with white shoes don't know about big loss. After November Indian found out he gets no pony. Not so much pay check for not growing corn. Great White Father cut out REAP. Government no spend money fur dam. Farmer no give damn.

Late 1972—bad mouthed packer buyers find out no fat cattle —start bidding up cattle—went to all time high. Not too smart County Agent talk to Rex McAnelly, manager of Moody Farms, they tink be good idee to invite Cost of Living Chief John Dunlop and rest of Council to see bad conditions of feedlot. Let Pale Face housewife squaw know of impending meat shortage. McAnelly talk to other cattle feeders. They don't think be good idee. Hou-ewife might get mad and boycott. Let sleeping dog lie. Cattle people not smart like oil people. Oil people began telling Pale Face Squaw about fuel crises.

Early 1973—cattle go up all time high. News man—have no Watergate. Push pampered, pretty Pale Face Squaw in front of camera. She likes publicity. Others follow. No poor, hungry, Pale Face Squaw raising cane. Mainly pampered Pale Face Squaws with $20.00 hair do's that smell like Garden of Eden. Pale Face Squaw had never milked a cow, shoveled you know what, or ran a gocseneck hoe all day. None of the Pale Face Squaws ever laid awake at night worrying whether blizzard would take the twenty thousand dollar load of new calves they signed a note for the day before.

Big Labor Chief Meany need- le Great White Father to place ceiling on meat. Dumb Pale Face Squaw boycott. Farmer boycott too. Bring no cattle to town. Has no fat cattle. Big Chief Dunlop say might force farmer to bring cattle to town when no market. Bovina cattle-man send telegram to Chief Dunlop and offer to sell cattle at cost. Chief Dunlop quiet. Great White Father placed ceiling on meat. Make statement if he placed ceiling on live cattle, Pale Face Squaw would be standing in a line at meat counter to get meat instead of boycott line. Sounded good to
