Get In Shape For Hunting Season

Fall dove hunting in Texas can be exhausting work, according to Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials.

The exertion of walking combined with September heat can drain the hunter's energies quickly. For this reason, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials stress physical conditioning before the season starts in September.

Hunters, they say, should try to spend some time outside their air conditioned confines and try to get in some walking.

If they have been sedentary most of the summer, hunters should start slowly with any exercise program. A check with the family doctor is a good idea preceding the new fitness regiment.

The better fit hunter, the more he can enjoy the sport because of better endurance. And if he is physically fit, the hunter can recover faster from a fatiguing day tramping the fields.

Whether To Make Buy Clothes

Every homemaker must decide for herself whether she will buy or make new clothing for her family. Marilyn Brown, consumer education-clothing and textiles specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, pointed out several advantages and disadvantages to both buying and home sewing.

Some points in favor of buying read-made clothes:

- They can be seen in final form and are ready for immediate use.
- Many fabrics in ready-to-wear garments are not available in piece goods, buying rather than making saves time.
- Many notions and trimming are available to the manufacturer but not to the sewer, and
- More consumer information is available to the manufacturer but not to the sewer, and
- More consumer information is available on ready-wear clothing than on bits of fabrics.

But some people considering a highly rewarding creative experience. To them, there are more advantages in making their own clothing than in buying the finished product, the specialist noted.

Some points for the home sewer to consider are:

- Can she plan and visualize the garment well enough to be satisfied when it is completed.
- Does she have the necessary time to finish a quality garment.
- Does she have the skill to make the garment as planned.
- Does she have the necessary equipment.
- Can she find the fabric and notions of the quality, color and textures desired.
- Is her motivation sufficient to make her give up other activities in favor of this.

Baptist Women Have Meeting In Woods Home

By Mrs. Luther Petty

The Baptist Women's group of the WMU met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A.C. Wood leading the missionary lesson on the subject of "Assisting Baptist Centers". The devotional, given by Mrs. Dennis Stewart was from Matt. 25 and Luke 6.

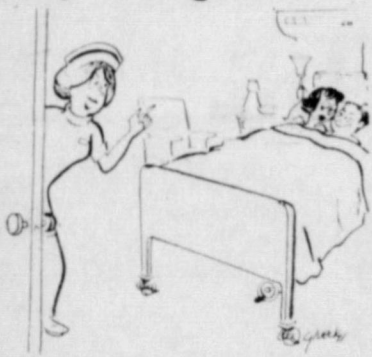

Mrs. Wood and Mrs. Jerry Rollison in a dialogue form discussed "What A Baptist Center Is" and the telling of "Needs in both larger and smaller communities. A chart was displayed using an acrostic on Care-consistent, alert, resourceful and enthusiastic.

The Missionaries with birthdays of that day were given by all present and a bouquet of mixed flowers was displayed showing that missionaries are of different characteristics as are flowers. Prayer was given by Mrs. Herman Bell and Mrs. Wood.

Mrs. Homer Abbott conducted a short business session with Mrs. Walter Miller leading in prayer.

My Neighbors

"Alex, you rascal, you didn't tell me you had a date!"

Doing Your Own Thing

"Doing your own thing" seems to be the attitude of the age. A sense of self gratification is more important, it seems, than conforming to the "system." Questioning traditional attitudes and behavior, many emphasize a set of private, individual-oriented values. Growing out of this philosophy are expressions of freedom in thought, dress, (or undress), speech, sex, etc. There is no doubt about it, "doing your own thing" has become the "in" activity.

The faithful Christian hears the cry, "Do your own thing" but refused to respond. He (or she) knows that there are limits to liberty. Instead of asking, "What pleases me?" the faithful Christian asks, "What pleases God?" Self is soon forgotten when God has become the center of life. And all of the loose ends are secured by making them subordinate to the glory of God. The apostle Paul said, "Whether therefore ye eat, or drink, or whatsoever ye do, do all to the glory of God" (1 Cor. 10:31). Consequently, the faithful Christian gives no occasion for others to say that "the name of God is blasphemed . . . through you" (Rom. 2:24). His liberty is limited by love to God which governs all of his conduct.

Second, the faithful Christian limits his liberty out a regard for the welfare of others. He refused to put a stumbling-block in his brother's way, and knows that only one wicked like Cain would ask, "Am I my brother's keeper?" (Gen. 4:9) The faithful Christian is careful to "give non offence, neither to the Jews, nor to the Gentiles, nor to the church of God" (1 Cor. 10:32). He has the interest of all men at heart whether they be Christians or non-Christians. Confronted with the philosophy of "doing your own thing" he voluntarily chooses a higher rule, the "Golden Rule." "Therefore all things whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them" (Matt. 7:12).

Others may speak smoothly about freedom, doing your own thing, but the faithful Christian has intentionally limited his liberty by love (Gal. 5:1-6).

Market Report

Meat prices are trending upwards, as predicted, Mrs. Gwer Jolyne Clyatt said this week.

"Bacon and ham prices have increased, and the cost of many fresh pork and beef cuts have risen," the consumer marketing information specialist, Texas Agricultural Extension Service, The Texas A&M University System, added.

Prices on blade chuck roasts and corned beef are economical, and some stores are offering ground beef with soy protein, round steak, standing rib roast and beef liver at special prices.

Occasional values at pork counters include quarter loins cut into chops and liver. Chickens are also a little higher than they were, and consumer demand has dropped a bit, --probably because of fewer bargain prices, Mrs. Clyatt said. Diminishing appetites during hot weather may be another factor.

The marketing information specialist further predicted higher egg prices within the next few weeks.

Noting that now is the time to enjoy fresh fruit and vegetables currently on the market, Mrs. Clyatt also predicted higher prices for processed fruits and vegetables.

At fresh vegetable counters, lettuce is abundant with prices a bit lower and potatoes follow the same pattern. Cabbage, dry yellow onions, okra, squash, radishes and green onions are among the most economical choices.

At fruit counters, plums and nectarines are in good supply, and prices are mostly moderate. Peach prices are relatively high.

Cantaloupes and watermelons --of excellent quality-- are moderately priced, and grape prices should decrease some as their season progresses.

Consumer Watchwords: Turkey supplies are predicted to remain at record levels this month -- and turkey is now specialized at most attractive prices.

Roast turkey, turkey in casseroles, a la king or in salads can turn casual summer meals into special occasions.

A LETTER OF APPRECIATION

A Gift is a symbol of love. Many times during my years in the Gift Shop I have had the privilege of helping you with gifts. Most gifts were for happy occasions, such as weddings, anniversaries, birthdays, or perhaps a new arrival in the community.

My humblest Thanks to you, as customers and friends, for your patronage, and for your trust and confidence in helping with your gift selections.

I hope that you will continue to patronize the Gift Shop with the new owners, Carey Don and Cheryl Smith. They are looking forward to helping you.

Loyalty Oath for Teachers?

May a public school teacher be required to take a loyalty oath? Yes, provided that the oath stays within constitutional bounds.

Consider the case of a high school teacher who balked at swearing to uphold the state and federal constitutions.

"I just don't like the whole idea of loyalty oaths," she explained in a court hearing. "They are an infringement upon my freedom of conscience."

But the judge said this kind of an oath was nothing more than is expected of most public officials up to and including the President. He quoted the following comment from the United States Supreme Court:

"Obviously the framers of the Constitution thought that an affirmation of minimum loyalty to the government was worth the price of whatever deprivation of individual freedom of conscience was involved."

Nevertheless, some oaths have been thrown out by the courts for going too far.

Another case involved a declaration that the teacher had never lent "aid, support, or advice" to the Communist Party. Wouldn't this apply, a court wondered, to everyone who had ever supported any cause that the Communist Party had also happened to support?

The court concluded that it was unconstitutional to require an oath "in terms so vague that men of common intelligence must guess at its meaning."

Also rejected was a requirement that teachers submit an annual list of every organization to which they had either belonged or contributed during the previous five years.

The court felt that such a requirement intruded upon the teacher's right of free association. The court said there were all sorts of outside relationships that "could have no possible bearing upon the teacher's occupational fitness."

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN, Tex. — Views of citizens on how to save current assets of the Texas coast while permitting its orderly economic development are being sampled in a series of public hearings.

Hearings are a major initial step in development of a Coastal Zone Management Plan.

More than 150 representatives of business, labor, agriculture, industry and environmental groups outlined expectations for the plan at a workshop here last week.

Need for a balance between economic development and protection of natural resources emerged as the key element for the CZM plan.

CZM is concerned with economic development, urban population growth, water supply, local control, residential and resort home development and power plant siting.

Hearings are slated for August 13 in Harlingen, August 28 in Corpus Christi, September 5 in Victoria, September 12 in Beaumont, September 23 in Houston, September 24 in Galveston and September 27 in Austin.

The technical phase of the program starting in the fall will seek to arrive at estimates of demands on coastal resources, assess capability of resources to support the demands and to evaluate possible management mechanisms.

After more hearings in 1975 and 1976, final recommendations resulting from the plan will be made to the legislature in September, 1976.

DPS CHECK ASKED — Gov. Dolph Briscoe asked a full report on intelligence activities of the Department of Public Safety.

Briscoe said he would not rule out a separate citizens committee inquiry into DPS surveillance of individuals, but he will look at a DPS report before asking any further probe.

Surveillance activities of DPS came under critical scrutiny due to an agent's report on Robert W. Pomeroy, who led a citizens' group opposing a nuclear power plant near Fort Worth. DPS Director Wilson Speir has apologized for the Pomeroy report, and noted that it was never made a part of DPS permanent files since Pomeroy was not engaged in illegal activity.

Meanwhile, the state Senate's Jurisprudence Committee will have a select sub-committee headed by Sen. Oscar Mauzy of Dallas checking into the Pomeroy case and, generally, into invasion of privacy issues.

AG OPINIONS — Atty. Gen. John Hill held the state Office of Traffic Safety isn't authorized to sell T-shirt with a "drive friendly" logo to finance a traffic safety program.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:

- Willacy County cannot use federal revenue sharing funds to support its hospital district or a non-profit clinic for low-income residents.

- Texas Tech University can purchase group term life insurance from mutual companies for its faculty and staff.

- Blood donors over 18 are entitled to the same compensation as those over 21, regardless of a state statute.

- Parttime employment as social workers is not prohibited under the dual employment prohibition of Texas law.

- A statute exempting from forced sale for taxes homesteads of persons over 65 is constitutional.

- A county may locate its juvenile detention facility in the same building as its county jail, as long as juvenile and adult offenders do not come in contact with each other.

- A district judge may assess as court costs reasonable investigators' fees for social studies called for in the family code.

APPOINTMENTS — Dr. Hugh Meredith has been named president of Sul Ross State University, effective September 1.

PRISON PLAN CARRIED OUT — Agreed - on procedures were used to handle the Fred Gomez Carrasco siege at Huntsville prison, according to Governor Briscoe.

Briscoe said a variety of contingency plans had been approved for any emergency at the prison.

He said he is convinced that under the circumstances Department of Corrections

Accent on Health

J.E. PEAVY, M.D., Commissioner of Health

With summer heat scorching Texas, there is the possibility you could become a victim of sunstroke of heat exhaustion during the blast-furnace weather ahead, advises the Texas State Department of Health.

The combined effects of the sun, exercise, heat and excessive perspiration with water and salt loss can produce serious symptoms and may even be fatal.

Exposure to excessive heat may result in heat exhaustion, heat stroke, and heat cramps, with heat exhaustion being the most common. In exhaustion cases, the person's temperature is approximately normal; in stroke, it is high. Most likely to be affected are the aged, the obese, the very young, alcohol addicts, and those suffering from any disease that impairs the strength of the entire body, say State health officials.

Sunstroke is caused by over exposure to the hot sun while heat exhaustion is due to prolonged exposure to high temperatures indoors or outdoors. In sunstroke the body overheats. Usually the victim has a severe headache and everything looks red to him. Often the victim becomes unconscious.

Heat exhaustion is caused by prolonged heat and high humidity, but it is very different from sunstroke. The victim is usually conscious but weak and dizzy. His temperature falls instead of rises, and he feels cold and clammy.

In either case, call a doctor at once. The victim should be moved into the shade or a cool place and any tight clothing loosened.

Simple, common-sense precautions will nearly always prevent these conditions.

During hot weather: Don't expose yourself to the heat when you don't have to.

Don't go out in the hot sunshine without a hat.

Don't wear heavy or tight clothing.

Don't exercise strenuously in the sun or heat.

Don't exercise just before or after meals.

Don't overeat.

Don't overindulge in alcoholic drinks.

On sultry days, keep the air circulating to help the evaporation of perspiration.

THINK ABOUT THIS!

Sing to the Lord all the earth! Sing of his glorious name! Tell the world how wonderful he is. Psalms 66:1.

Let everyone bless God and sing his Praises, for he holds our lives in his hands. And holds our feet to the path. Psalms 66:8-9.

Come and hear, all of you who reverence the Lord, and I will tell you what he did for me: For I cried to him for help with praises ready on my tongue. He would not have listened if I had not confessed my sins. But he listened! He heard my prayer! He paid attention to it! Blessed be God who didn't turn away when I was praying, and didn't refuse me his kindness and love. Psalms 66:16-20.

What a glorious Lord! He who daily bears our burdens also gives our Salvation.
Gladys Stewart

Keep shaded windows open and use an electric fan.

Profuse perspiration helps cool the body, but it draws fluids and certain chemicals away. If you perspire freely, you may need extra water and salt. Drink water often throughout the day, one glass at a time. The amount of salt needed depends on how much you lose through perspiration. Office workers probably get enough in their food, but others doing heavy labor may need salt tablets periodically or a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt dissolved in a glass of water every hour.

Elderly people are prone to develop heat stroke. It may appear in them on hot days during such apparently mild activity as a walk. But they are not the only victims.

Heat cramps usually involve the abdominal muscles or the limbs. Loss of chemicals in profuse perspiration precedes the cramps. The condition may be associated with heat exhaustion. Heat cramps usually respond better to firm pressure than to vigorous kneading.

Remember, the aging, the very young, alcoholics, and people with heart trouble are easily affected by sun and heat.

Trotliners Must Check Law Books

You have to know more than how to bait a hook and how to set a line if you're going trotlining in Texas.

There are several laws which trotliners must observe. If they don't, they are subject to fines. And their trotlines can be confiscated by game wardens.

The first thing trotliners must know is that laws governing their activity vary from county to county and from one body of water to the next, so it is imperative that they check their hunting and fishing guide from the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department before they even start making their equipment.

Trotline laws regulate the number of spacing of hooks and the length of the trotline. A $1 trotline tag is required for saltwater lines and no artificial baits will be allowed on saltwater lines as of Sept. 1, 1974.

A trotline is defined as a main fishing line constructed of a non-metallic material.

In regulatory counties, the following regulations apply: trotlines are lines with more than five hooks and include rubber band lines and salt lines, all hooks at least three horizontal feet apart. All freshwater trotlines except in Kendall County must be identified with a legible tag, constructed of a material as durable as the trotline, bearing the name and address of the fisherman and the date it was set out. All lines which remain in public waters must be redated at the expiration of each 30-day period. No lines may be set in the vicinity of a public boat dock, public bathing pier, public beach or any public place commonly used as a swimming or bathing area.

Trotlines, throwlines and jug lines may not be placed in any body of water 500 acres or less lying totally within any state park or that portion of any stream bordering a state park.

ALMOST 1,000 farmers and ranchers have written for application blanks in Texas Department of Agriculture's Family Land Heritage Program. Possibly that should be a surprising figure considering the fact that Texas farm population has been declining for the past quarter century; but the number of applicants indicates that there are many Texans who have loved and love the land enough to stay with it 100 or more years and to engage in the basic industry of the world, raising food and fiber. The Heritage program has stimulated a renewed interest in the history of our farms and ranches, not only among history buffs but also in many of the people who live on those farms and ranches. Some have gone to the trouble to look up the historical records of their farms and ranches and of their ancestors who started on them and made the earliest developments in our State. Records in county clerks' and county tax assessors' offices and probably in the State Archives are being searched for historical data. The research has been a rewarding experience for those doing the digging.

TYPICAL SUMMER weather is the way Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service describes the weather the past few weeks. Showers have dotted a portion of the state, relieving a few areas temporarily from dry conditions and heat. Peanut harvest is getting underway in South Texas, and sorghum harvest is 36 per cent complete and rice harvest about 25 per cent complete. Most corn from the Low Plains southward is mature, and is tasseling on the High Plains. The western half of the State continues to suffer from the drought and many herds are being culled closely. Stock water is short in some areas, necessitating hauling, and is getting short in other areas. Range conditions are fair in the Eastern section of the State, depending on the amount of rain that has fallen, and hay crops have been good in a few areas. However, most sections need more rain for a third cutting of hay.

TEXAS RED meat production in June totaled 195 million pounds, an increase of six per cent over the same month last year but three per cent less than during May, 1974. Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service says that 1,130 million pounds of red meat were produced in the State during the first six months of this year, an increase of four per cent over the same period last year. During this time, 1,789,000 head of cattle were killed, 715,000 hogs, and 722,500 sheep and lambs. The number of hogs slaughtered was 15 per cent below the number slaughtered during the first six months of 1973; and the number of sheep and lambs killed for food was three per cent more than for the same period last year. Stocker cattle on farms and ranches July 1 were estimated at 6,447,000 head compared to 5,495,000 on the same date in 1973.

BROILER PRODUCTION is up slightly in Texas. There was a hatch of 3,211,000 chicks for the week ending July 27, an increase of four per cent over the same period last year but one per cent fewer than a week earlier. Broiler placements during the week ending July 27 were 3,171,000, an increase of three per cent over the same week in 1973 but one per cent less than the previous week. Eggs set for broiler production in the 1974 week numbered 3,895,000, a drop of seven per cent below a year ago. Arkansas, Georgia, North Carolina and Mississippi ranked ahead of Texas in broiler placements during the latter part of July.

Time To Renew Your Hunting-Fishing License

Somewhere in the recesses of your wallet is a crumpled, soiled piece of paper which should bring back memories of crisp fall days. It's last year's hunting license.

To replace the license which expires the last day of August, Texas Parks and Wildlife Department officials have already mailed one-half of some 2 1/2 million total hunting and fishing licenses for the coming year.

The new licenses will be available Aug. 16 at all TP&WD Enforcement offices and bonded license sales deputies such as major sporting goods stores.

Fees are the same as last year: $8.75 for a combination resident hunting and fishing license, $5.25 for resident hunting, $4.25 for resident and non-resident fishing and $37.50 for a non-resident hunting license.

This year's fishing license will be valid for one year from the date of purchase.

Three turkey tags are on the new hunting licenses and must be used much the same as are deer tags.

New licenses are printed on a special paper which is resistant to tears and water--something which should prove useful to both outdoorsmen and game wardens trying to decipher licenses dunked in water and otherwise roughly handled.

Both deer and turkey tags are easily separated from the rest of the license by perforations and there is also a perforation on the edge of each tag where a string or wire can be inserted for attachment to harvested game. Sept. 1, 1974, is the date when new hunting and fishing licenses will be required.

Prairie Chickens Have Good Hatch

Texas' small population of Attwater's prairie chickens had the best hatch in years this spring.

Texas Parks and Wildlife Department biologists said the chickens, which once numbered more than a million along the Gulf coast plains, averaged 1.3 chicks per adult over their limited range near Houston.

In some areas the average was 1.9 chicks per adult.

This year's production was much better than last year's which resulted in a low population of adults this year.

Attwater's prairie chickens declined rapidly in the past 100 years, and in 1936 the season was closed. Biologist estimated that there were only 9,000 prairie chickens left in 20 counties by 1937.

Recent estimates put prairie chickens numbers from 1,500 to 3,000 in 12 counties. Six other counties may have a population of around 50.

Demand for paper products is expected to increase by about seven million tons over the next three years.

June Suggs and Randy attended a family reunion at Glen Rose last week.

Visiting in Denver, Colo., last weekend, with their children, Larry and Linda Williams were Mr. and Mrs. Ollie Tindall and The Howard Williams.

WONDERFUL CORN ON THE COB

I like corn on the cob so much that I'd like to write about it more than once a year. But they tell me that would be overdoing it so I wait each year until now.

Fresh sweet corn is, to my taste, one of the great delicacies. It also occupies a central role in the development of America and the rural life that I experienced when growing up in Minnesota.

So let's talk about corn and how delightful it is again this summer as one of the great blessings we receive from the harvest season. Boiled or roasted, and with melted butter and salt, corn is one of the foods everybody in the family enjoys.

Have we always had corn? It has a fascinating history.

What Experts Say

According to experts such as G. F. Sprague of the U.S. Department of Agriculture and John R. Edwardson of the University of Florida, corn probably originated in tropical South America. Botanically it is an annual plant of the grass family. It is the most important cereal in the Western Hemisphere. Only wheat and rice exceed corn on a world crop basis.

Food semantics can sometimes be confusing. For example, in Britain and continental Europe the word "corn" has been used for centuries to mean any of the small-seed cereals such as barley, wheat and rye. "Maize" is, of course, a worldwide specific term for the several varieties of corn we are really talking about.

Which leads me back to the Americas and ancient Wild corn is believed to have existed as early as 8000 B.C. Somewhere along the way the word "maize" was coined to describe corn.

The difference between sweet corn (which has not existed for centuries) and our wild corn is one of size and particularly of ability to reproduce. In wild corn, when the husks open, the wild corn seed is released. In other words, the husks must be opened usually or by machine to seeds.

Early Corn Fragments

Reconstruction of fragments found in caves indicates the wild corn cobs were less than an inch long and that they had an average of only two or three small seeds or kernels, usually in pairs, usually in eight contrast with today's corn which has large ears borne on a stalk, wild corn ears were ably borne high on short plants.

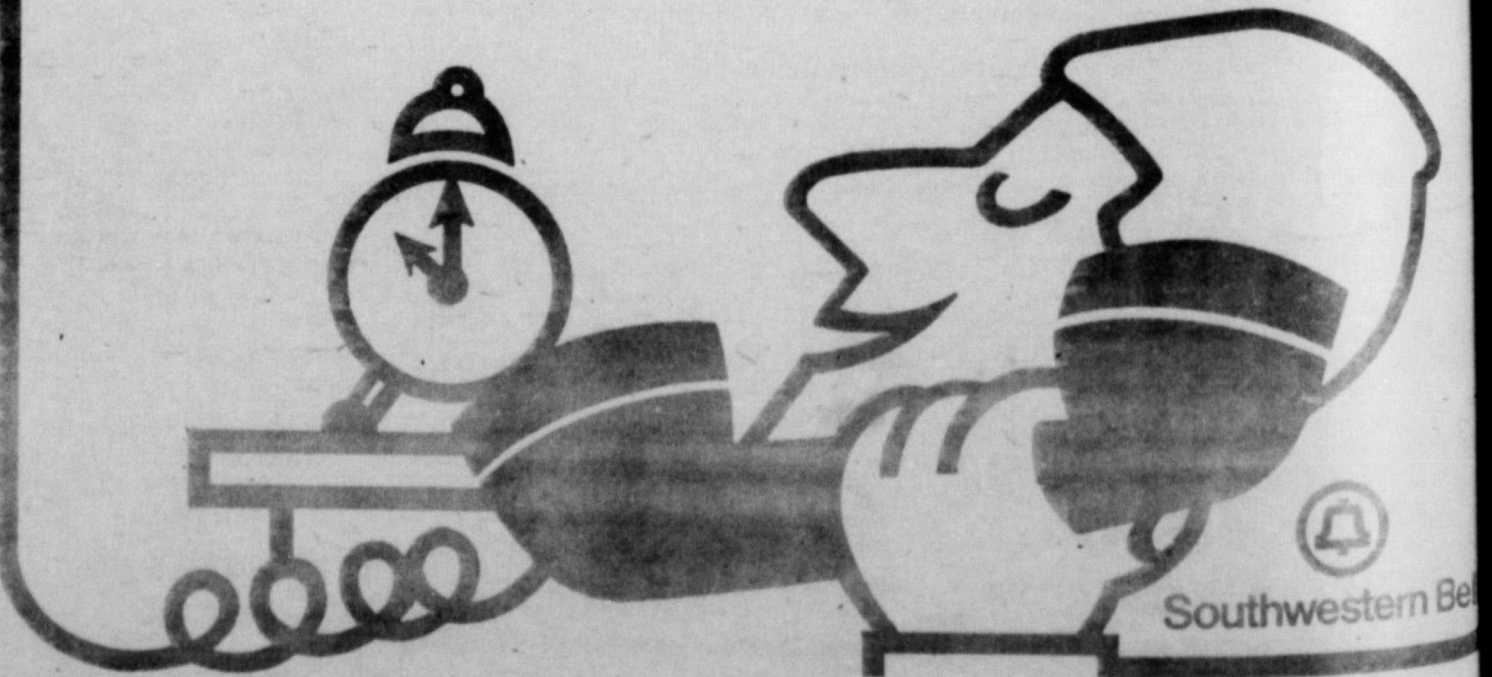

So wild corn pretty well perpetuated itself. Today, to produce corn, man must remove the seed from the ear, plant it, eliminate the competing weeds and other plants, and harvest the ears.

But we grow and harvest all the varieties of "field corn," we have sweet corn for our dinner. Enjoy! Enjoy!
