Langdon and Judge Preslar were former law partners in Preslar became judge of the 112th district court three weeks ago when he defeated Hartman of Fort Stockton for the seat. He has been a member of the Bar since 1935.

RODEO QUEEN — Crowned queen of the 1963 Ozona Junior Rodeo was lovely Robin Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dempster Jones. Robin also won the Lions Club trophy for the best parade ride. She won second in the pole bending contest of the rodeo. In the picture, Robin's horse seems to be taking a bow for his share of glory, but the most ardent horse lover could spare him only a glance away from his beautiful mistress.

Robin Jones Is Rodeo Queen, Winner Of Riding Trophy, Second In Pole Bending

Miss Robin Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dempster Jones of Ozona, scored a near grand slam at the sixth annual Ozona Junior Rodeo last week. She was named Rodeo Queen, winner of the riding trophy, and second in the pole bending contest. Miss Jan Pendergrass, and both of the contestants were presented a memento of the occasion by Miss Pendergrass, daughter of the Lions Club.

To Begin Laying Pipe For Northern Natural This Week

Ditch Now Open From Eldorado To South Of Highway 290

R. H. Fulton, contractor of Lakewood, contractor of Northern Natural Gas Co. is now laying pipe from the Hunt Baggett gas field in Crockett county, and southwest of Ozona, to the company's compressor in Stephens county near Eldorado, back laying pipe this week starting from the Schulzberg square and on the line.

Right-of-way work and ditching has now exposed 2 1/2 miles west of Ozona bearing in a southerly direction toward about 1 1/2 miles south of Ozona.

Spokesmen for the company stated that work was progressing well with only the usual delays developing from time to time. The company's work force on the job is now in 140 men this week as the project begins to get into high gear.

The 35.2 miles of line now under construction is of the 17" size and will be gathered in smaller lines to be run to the south end of the project.

The line, now being laid, runs south from the Eldorado compressor station on the Sprayberry line and will end in the Hunt Baggett field about 17 or 18 miles south of Ozona.

Every finished specimen house or even for rent in Ozona was taken this week as the influx of workers continued even though a number of unfurnished houses were still available. Reports Tuesday indicated that all three tourist courts and both hotels were at capacity both Monday and Tuesday nights, even though the pipeline was not responsible for all of the people seeking housing.

Lee Wilson, Truth or Consequences, N. M., former Ozonian, was here last week on business.

Kimble Goat Breeders Find Ready Market For Fine Billies In Ozona

Rosevelt, a fine goat breeder, found a good market for registered Angora billies in their first Ozona sale Friday morning at the fair park junior livestock sale.

The Kimble goat breeders sold 116 billies for an average of $64.15 per head, a total of $7,442.40.

Outstanding billies found enthusiastic buyers, but the plusher kinds went begging, about 20 head being passed out of the ring unsold.

Star investor of the sale was young Jack Gardner, of Roseville, who sold the premium priced billies of the sale. The top priced billy went for $310 to Joe B. Blakemore of San Angelo and Ozona. Second ranking billy from the same breeder's flock, went to Nat Reed of Ozona at $250. Jake Miller of Ozona paid $210 for another Jack Gardner billy.

Tom Johnston of Junction sold one billy for $210 to James Childress of Ozona who was the sale's top buyer, taking a total of 33 head for $1,457.50.

Evant Lad Named Best All-Around Cowboy Of Show

Good Crowds Attend 6th Annual Ozona Junior Rodeo

Terry Walls of Evant was named all-around cowboy, Miss Robin Jones was named 1963 Rodeo Queen and a record number of entries were on hand for the sixth Ozona Annual Junior Rodeo held at the fair grounds Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

Walls, a young cowboy in the 16 to 19 year old age group, took the all-around title on the basis of his winning two rounds and the average in the calf tie down and one round in the ribbon roping. Walls received a trophy presented by Baker Jewelers for having won all-around in addition to the prizes won in getting there.

Miss Robin Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dempster Jones, of Ozona, was named 1963 Junior Rodeo Queen and was crowned by Miss Jan Pendergrass, last year's queen.

In addition to being named Queen, Robin was named the outstanding rider in the Thursday parade which also saw Miss Nancy Friend, Miss Mohair of Texas, and Miss Katherine Ann Spencer, Miss Wool of Texas, riding in convertibles in the parade.

Ozona, with the largest number of entries, also topped the largest number of places, winning eight overall places and a number of go-arounds while Carlsbad, New Mexico, with six places and a few more round titles, was a very close second.

None of the Ozona riders managed to win a first place title in the events, but Robin Jones won second in the girls 16-19 pole bending and Mary Ann Pitts won second in the 12-15 barrel race. Mary Ann also picked up a fourth place in the pole bending.

Other Ozona place winners were Rex Bland, third in the calf tie down, 12-15; J. E. Graves, a third place in the pole bending 16-19 and a tie for third and fourth in the barrel race.

Tommy Carter Aubrey had a tie for third and fourth in bill riding and Jay Miller with a fourth place in the calf tie down were other Ozona place winners.

Youth Hospitalized Here After Mixing With Brahma Bull

Young Rodeo Performer Not Seriously Hurt In Mishap

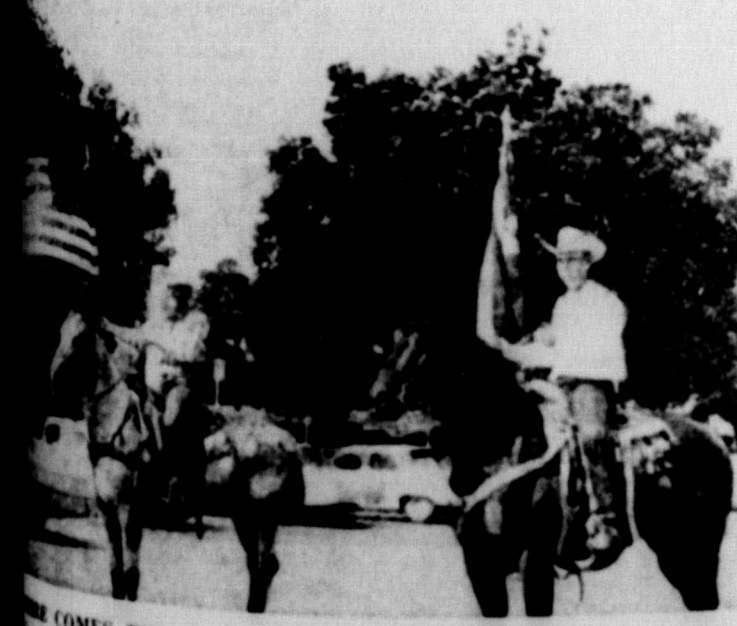

Jeery Pardue, a young cowboy from Loving, N. M., was rushed to the Crockett County Hospital Thursday night suffering from a severe cut after being kicked or stepped on by the Brahma bull he had attempted to ride in the opening night's performance of the sixth annual Ozona Junior Rodeo. He was competing in the 16-19 year ball riding age group.

Pardue got up unassisted after his fall, but was bleeding profusely and fell to his knees before arena attendants rushed to his aid, or before anyone realized he had been hurt.

Lawrence James, Ozona funeral director, administered first aid in the arena, arresting the bleeding before placing the lad in his ambulance for a quick ride to the Ozona hospital. The youth suffered a severe cut on his arm but the injury is expected to heal without complications.

Pardue was discharged from the hospital and returned home Sunday.

Aside from the one injury requiring medical attention, several other performers suffered turned ankles and bruises but nothing of a disabling nature during the three-day youth rodeo.

COMES THE PARADE — Heading the sixth annual Ozona Rodeo parade last Thursday afternoon were two young horsemen, Eby Chandler, on the Appaloosa and carrying the U. S. flag and George Bunker, Jr., with the Texas flag. Rodeo performers and spectators were strung out several blocks behind them in typical West-

SO WE'RE COMPLAINING!

Carlos Todd, former political editor of the Times of Havana, and a victim of the Castro crackdown on the independent press of Cuba, is considered one of the best-informed and most reliable sources of information on what goes on in Cuba.

Commenting in the June 29th issue of his non-profit Cuban Information Service, published in Coral Gables, Fla., on the State Department announcement that Russian troops in Cuba were "thinning out", Editor Todd says:

"Cuban exile leaders scoffed at the Cuban Revolutionary the notion that Russian troops had left the island in appreciable numbers. Tony Varona of the Cuban Revolutionary Council stated: 'The information received from Cuba, from our clandestine cells, says exactly the contrary.' Manuel Artime said that 'very few troops have left. On the contrary, 'technicians' continue to arrive.' Luis Conte Aguero maintained that 8,000 troops had arrived at Santiago de Cuba last month, in full view of the population of the city. Another Cuban exile leader pointed out that many Soviet troops have changed over to Cuban uniforms and insignia; but people inside the island are not fooled."

Editor Daniel James of the Free Cuba News, published in Washington, asks in his July 6 issue: "Is Russia withdrawing troops from Cuba?", and answers:

"The answer, from inside Cuba, is no. US claims of a 'thinning out' of Russian forces," he says, "... are contradicted by underground sources and newly-arrived refugees who say that, on the contrary the Russians are digging in deeper."

"Families of Russian soldiers are coming into Cuba, according to a Matanzas lawyer, Ricardo Fernandez. To him that means that the Russians intend to stay."

"An incoming former Uruguayan Embassy employee says, 'The Russians are all over Cuba.' That is just one of innumerable reports... that today, Cuba is swarming with Soviet citizens."

"More and more Cuban military installations are coming under Soviet control... Testimony taken from more than 400 (refugees) who recently escaped reveals that Soviet officers are in command of Cuban troops which are to be used in crushing a Hungary-type revolt."

"Cubans are being steadily evicted from residential areas in the cities of Havana, Camaguey, Santiago, Matanzas, Carriacou and Santa Clara to make way for incoming Soviet military 'technicians', according to escapees from the cities."

Against that background, it is interesting to note that our State Department has asked Britain to forbid planes from Cuba to land on her tiny Grand Cayman Island, where "Communist agents and troublemakers" from Cuba are said to change planes for Central American countries!

Perhaps we should ask ourselves: "How did they get to Cuba in the first place?" And: "What are we going to do to disinfect this plague spot?"

Undersecretary of State Averell Harriman told reporters on his departure for a week of test-ban-Chat with Premier Khrushchev in Moscow that he had "no idea" whether success in his assignment would lead to a summit conference.

But it seems most everybody else in Washington definitely has the idea that if Mr. Harriman has any luck at all, the President and Prime Minister MacMullin will be right over.

And good old Uncle Nikita, who appears to have given up the butcher business will be delighted to see them!

ON THE OFFENSIVE

A short time ago ground was broken for the erection of the Hall of Free Enterprise at the New York World's Fair.

This is a unique and stimulating undertaking. As Jenkin Lloyd Jones describes it in the Washington, D. C., Star, "It is a new idea—using a building at a major exposition for the purpose of going over to the offensive in the debate with creeping socialism. The estimated $1 million which it will cost — is being solicited frankly and openly from individuals and corporations who are sold on the advantage of a free market economy"

"In the face of manifold failures of the Left, it's time the forces of free enterprise stood up and crowded a little."

The theme of the exhibit will be the Ten Pillars of Economic Wisdom. These are the principles that make for growth, production, high living standards and all the other desired ends—and do it in a climate of freedom, without government domination. Some 70 million people, 3.5 million of them foreigners, are expected to attend the fair. May many of them visit the Hall — and leave it with a new and abiding realization of the wonders that free enterprise can accomplish, and the need for standing resolutely in its defense.

Anxiety is a sort of wisdom. Stupidity is never anxious.

FISCAL SEE-SAW

Starting with a quarter billion dollar cut in manned space funds, the House Science and Astronautics Committee proceeded to chip $134,248,600 more off of the space program's research and exploration funds and was expected to trim another $90 million off of the appropriation request.

Even if Congress should make good on these savings, they would be offset almost entirely by the $455 million voted by the Senate to pork up the make-work boondoggle known as "Area Redevelopment." And it seems fairly certain that the House, who rejected the measure by five votes, will now pass it unless the folk back home start sounding off against this unconscionable waste.

On both of these measure, nearly a billion dollars could be saved. What's wrong with that?

ANOTHER SOVIET FIRST

"Khrushchev has threatened to pulverize the United States if we touch a hair of Castro's beard. This seems to answer the queries of Americans who have been wondering what ever happened to the Monroe Doctrine. It has been annexed by the Soviet Union, the Russians having established to their own satisfaction that it was really invented by a man named Monroe." — Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

"The only reason a great many American families don't own an elephant is that they have never been offered an elephant for $1 down and $1 a week." — Charles S. Pike II, Mebane (N.C.) Enterprise.

"Sick pay is ill-gotten gains." — Fred W. Grown, Edgewater (N.J.) Bergen County Citizen.

ONE CAPSULE WE DON'T WANT BACK

A Creek In My Back

By Allan R. Bosworth

Author of "New Country" and other historical & fictional works

Open Letter to Ben Beagle, Roanoke Times Columnist.

Dear Ben,

I do not ordinarily write, or even speak, to other columnists who star—, that is, who beat me to a column topic on Wednesdays, when I don't come out until Sunday. Of course, it is a cutthroat business, and I suppose you've considered cutting yours, lately, too. But you and your Zip Code Number have touched the chord of memory. I will find it easy to remember that you are 24017. This was the number of a man who was my pen pal in the strictest sense of the word . . . that is, he was in San Quentin.

I do not suggest that you and he are of the same stripe just because you have the same number. You do very probably have a different laundry mark, while his number was all over his shirt.

This man came into the newspaper office where I was employed — before he was admitted to San Quentin, that is — and said that his name was Slipton J. Fell. Upon closer questioning, he admitted that the middle initial stood for "Just". Then he had the gall to say that he was seeking two associates who had adventured with him through several banana republics . . . and their names, said without batting an eyelash, were Upton Rose and Farn Wide.

He was a personable young man, and the day's news needed enlivening, and I said, Hell — give him a story. He was grateful to me then, and ever after. He wrote my name down in a little black book, painfully close to that of a supposedly well-to-do suburban widow.

A few weeks alter, he did the suburban widow in with a few well aimed blows from the poker in her suburban fireplace.

This just goes to show you that in the newspaper business you do, really, meet some very interesting people. His propensity for publicity helped him to fall into the well known dragnet, and for a time he basked in the title of "The Laughing Murderer of the Woodside Glens". Then he went to San Quentin and became a number . . .

The man had other dexterities, besides playing poker with a poker. He was quite athletic, and had sold San Quentin authorities on the idea of letting him organize a pole-vaulting team before they measured the height of the walls and suggested that he take up handball, instead. During World War II, he did manage an escape from a road camp, where he had no business to be. When they next caught up with him, he was in the Canadian Army, and was directing paid, got promoted, transferred, or shot for typhoid. I began to think of myself as #1779 . . . but the other day when I wanted to cash a check in Miller & Rhoads, they said it didn't mean a thing. They said, let's see the number on your driver's license.

Up to then, I didn't know there was a number on my driver's license. But I started checking. I have a number on my auto insurance, my veteran's insurance, my checking account, and in a stereo tape club. My magazines come to me with cryptic numerals on the wrappers. The telephone people want me to use an Area Code, which I won't do. My very days, as well as the hairs on my head, are numbered, and both of the last are less than they used to be . . .

Perhaps the most popular fish in Texas is the perch. This little bluegill or bream — or whatever you prefer to call the scrappy little fellow — infests every fishing water of the state.

The art of perch fishing has been lost to many. This, despite the fact that they can be caught almost any place water is found in the state.

There are many different kinds of perch. And each has its own way of being playful. But one thing for sure, a fry-pan filled with perch — the size of your hand — is a delicacy no one should pass up.

So many, many of us nowadays go out with casting or spinning tackle and artificial lures that we have just about forgotten this great fun-fishing, perch-catching game. Even a great many youngsters have missed the thrill of perch fishing.

Worm Fishing Popular
Best bait for perch fishing is the garden worm. Probably more perch have been caught on worms than on all other baits combined.

Next most successful bait is a light spinner or a small buglike lure cast out either on a fly rod or on ultra-light spinning equipment.

Occasionally a perch is caught on a plug. In most waters they'll follow a plug all the way to the boat. Often they will hit at it with their tails. We've seen them slap at a top-water lure so hard they would knock the lure as far as 15 to 20 feet. Sometimes you'll think you've just missed a king-size bass, when all it was was a slap-happy perch.

Where To Find Perch
Perch can be caught from a boat a dock, the bank or by wading. Like all other fish there are certain hot spots for perch and fishing is best at certain times of the day.

My own favorite spot to catch perch is along some high cliff, where a few old trees have fallen into the water.

There isn't much to rigging up for perch fishing. A cane pole of medium length is ideal for the purpose. You need a small split-shot sinker, a very small hook with a long shank, and some sort of bobber.

It doesn't make too much difference about the line. It can be monofilament or braided. Use Large Fresh Worms
Be sure your supply of worms is fresh and that they are not so small they can't be threaded on a hook. Occasionally a perch will grab a whole mouthful of worm at one gulp. Other times he will suck on it, keeping the bobber moving about until you think he has gone.

Then all at once he'll take it. Usually the bigger perch are deeper down. In the early morning or late evening they'll be working along the banks, especially around tree tops and in the shade of high cliffs.

You may have to try varying depths. But you'll find perch most everywhere.

In the lakes of East Texas fishermen in flatbottom boats scull their way around from one old stump to another hunting perch. Some use crickets for bait. They drop their baited hook down beside a tree trunk protruding from the water. If a big perch is there it will take the bait quickly. Otherwise, you may as well move on to another spot.

Live Bait Wells Popular
Real Perch fishermen have live wells in their boats and just toss the fish into these wells.

Others use fish baskets, or perhaps even a gunnysack, hanging over the side of the boat. Perch can be kept alive in this manner long after they are caught, unless of course they've been injured badly by hook removal.

Perch don't string too well. Furthermore, around good perch holes there always are a few water snakes. And snakes like perch.

There is no creel limit on perch. Biologists like to see many of them caught because too many perch in an impoundment are harmful to the largemouth bass population, and to catching bass.

Biologists also will tell you never to throw a perch back into the water. They just continue to be a nuisance.

Little perch make excellent trotline bait. Many trotline fishermen, seeking catfish catch a dozen or two small perch with which to bait their lines. And it pays off.

If you want to go fishing and really catch something useful and good to eat, try for perch.

STEPS

You can't see any farther ahead from the second step than you could from the first. But you know you are closer to the top.

And that very aptly describes one aspect of man's quest for spiritual understanding.

ONE SUNDAY IN CHURCH DOESN'T MAKE US CHRISTIANS. And sometimes a month of Sundays finds us still struggling with doubts and wrestling with temptations. Prayers don't always seem to have been answered. And parts of the Bible may constantly baffle us.

But the truth of the matter is that every spiritual step we take is exactly that — a step. It may leave our perspective unchanged for the moment. But it is bringing us closer to that higher level of life from which man's vision enlarges.

Until we reach life's spiritual crest, the most important step is always the NEXT. Join the millions who'll climb a little closer to the summit Sunday.

The Stockman, July 19, 1963

The government cattle buying program, for the relief of ranchmen in the drought areas, will bring approximately $90,000 in cash to the county ranchmen, officials estimate. Eighty ranchers in the county have offered cattle for sale to the government. Of 4,346 cattle inspected to date, 1,593 were condemned and killed on the spot, the balance shipped to processing centers.

Mrs. W. A. Grandy and Mrs. Jim Armour had an experience as novel as it was exciting while returning from a picnic on the Hudspeth ranch on the Rio Grande. The party had tied up the rear bumper of their 1958 Oldsmobile with a rope. The rope had been too well fastened to the fire gained headway, and as the car was to "run for it," the rope kept the flames away from the car during the quarter-mile run, when they found the car had burned itself out to the point where it could be kicked away from the car. The car was slightly damaged.

'TEXAS FOOTBALL' ANNUAL NOW AVAILABLE; CAMPBELL PICKS TU AND ARK. AS SOUTHWEST FAVORITES

By Ernie Boyd

The 1963 edition of "Texas Football" Dave Campbell's comprehensive report, and beautifully illustrated magazine, is off the press and apparently is better this year than any time before.

The annual college, professional, and high school football preview is now being distributed through the Texas Restaurant Association and locally at the Hi-Way Cafe.

After a survey of the prospects for the coming season, Campbell picks co-favorites for the title in Texas and Arkansas, which is not a radical departure from the way things have been in the Conferences for the past several years.

Indications are that the Razorback will have their finest defense since Broyles went to the Arkansas school, and if that proves to be the case, then the Arkansas-Texas meeting in Little Rock on Oct. 19, could very well be a stalemated. Campbell picks Texas to win the show down match, but to lose to some of the lesser foes and thus leave two teams in the top spot.

Also picked as title threats, even though in the more or less dark horse category, are TCU described as, big enough, strong enough, and maybe even good enough if the quarterbacking is there; and Rice, a year for the Owl Infantry and perhaps for Jess Neely.

Texas A&M, Baylor, S. M. U. and Texas Tech will be rather lightly regarded but all three could be a bit better than they were last year, and as a matter of fact most likely will be.

Included in this year's feature stories is an interesting story on Texas Coach Darrell Royal, and a survey of the players who are expected to among the most outstanding in the Conference this year. Listed at the very top is Texas Tech's David Parks, who is working here in Ozona this summer.

In the section devoted to high school ball this year, the San Angelo Bobcats are rated on top in 4-A. A review of last year's Texas Football would seem to indicate that this rating is not to be taken too lightly since the 1962 season's outcome prediction was amazingly accurate.

In Class A football and more to the point in district 8-A, the El Dorado Eagles are given an unreserved nod while Ozona received a brief mention among those who will scramble to do the best they can.

Tulane U. Zoology Class On Field Trip

A Tulane University zoology team composed of a professor and seven students, three of whom are girls, has been collecting specimens of animal and plant life along the east bank of the Pecos river for the past two weeks with their base camp near the old Independence crossing. The group passed through Ozona early in the week on their way back to New Orleans after completion of the mission.

The students, all of whom are in advanced work, have been roughing it on the river but reported the dry climate a big improvement over the intense heat and humidity in the Sabine River bottom. None of the students were Texans and the majority were from the Northeastern part of the United States.

Crockett County Ranchmen Turn Former 'No Good' Land In Wilson County Into Grass Farms For Lush Cattle Grazing

The following special report to the San Angelo Standard-Times, appearing in the Sunday issue of that newspaper, recounts the development of formerly poor land in Wilson county into bejeweled grass farms and potential beef factories by a group of Crockett county ranchmen.

Sutherland Springs (Wilson County) — Three Crockett County ranchmen, accustomed to droughts and scarcity of grass, are learning what brush control and water can do in the way of providing grazing for their cattle.

The three — T. A. Kincaid, Jr., Bill Childress and Early H. Chandler, all of Ozona, are transforming virtually "no good" sandy acreage in Wilson County that formerly "wouldn't carry a cow on 60 acres" into some of the most productive grass lands to be found in South Texas.

If you doubt that statement, consider that Childress right now is carrying 412 head of yearling steers on 80 acres of land that was in some of the most dense brush to be found in South Texas only a year ago.

They're opening the eyes of even some of the oldtimers in the Sutherland Springs and La Vernia areas of Wilson County in that the price of the land, clearing, sprigging the grass and the first application of fertilizers is costing about $200 per acre.

The Childress and Chandler places are located in the Sutherland Springs area while the two places owned by Kincaid, one of which is operated by his son, Tom, near La Vernia.

Both Childress and Chandler are perhaps further along in their operation than Kincaid in that they are both now irrigating some of their grass. But Kincaid, a former president of the Texas Sheep & Goat Raisers Association, expects to begin irrigating within the next couple of weeks.

The Childress place contains about 2,900 acres, with about 1,000 of this having been cleared to date. He started clearing the brush

Feb. 5 of last year and pumped his first water last Aug. 25. He now has 750 acres in coastal and is irrigating between 200 and 250 acres from the well which supplies 1,200 gallons per minute and has a potential of 2,600 gallons per minute. The water is lifted 85 to 90 feet. He has another 320 acres cleared and ready for sprigging next spring.

The 412 steers being grazed on the 80 acres are rotated each eight or 10 days on 20-acre blocks, according to Melvin Deagan, foreman of both the Childress and Chandler places. The cattle have been on the 80 acres an average of about 70 days.

When the grass was sprigged, 300 pounds of 12-24-12 was applied. After the first grazing, 300 pounds of ammonium sulphate per acre was applied, and now, after each grazing, 150 pounds of ammonium sulphate is applied before watering.

Of special interest to many of the stockmen is the fact that Childress started putting cattle on the fields in April when they were branded, dehorned and castrated and not a single case of screw-worms has been found.

On one of the 20-acre blocks where the cattle are grazing, one cutting of coastal hay has been made, producing about two tons of hay per acre.

A feature of both the Kincaid and Childress places is the fine set of sturdily built pens. The two men collaborated in designing the pens, which have some of the gates constructed so that the cattle can be worked into three separate exits from one gate.

Chandler has 2,050 acres of land with about 1,000 acres already sprigged to coastal. Where Childress uses a sprinkler system hooked directly to the well, Chandler pumps into reservoirs and pumps from them.

Kincaid has 2,700 acres in the two places near La Vernia. On the place operated by Tom Kincaid, 300 acres of grass have already been planted and on his place he

B. Bowman Back From Millards Prep School High Scholastic Rating

Bill Bowman, son of Major and Mrs. W. C. Bowman of Ozona Air Force Station, returned to Ozona this week after completing the summer course at Millards Preparatory School at Bandon, Oregon. Bill reports that the school is excellent but tough — they covered subject matter equivalent to a year of algebra and a full year of English in one month.

In spite of the fast pace set by Millards, Bill represented Ozona High well in that he finished number 3 in a class of 33 in English and in the upper 1/3 of his math class. The class consisted of approximately 30 high school graduates and 70% who had just finished their junior year. Bill completed the junior year just prior to attending Millards.

Bill says the school offers much more than the accelerated academic program. The time spent was very enlightening from many angles and especially from the standpoint of providing the proper atmosphere for one to analyze his aims and goals and to place them in the proper perspective. However, he is happy to be back in Ozona.

Mrs. Bowman's mother, Mrs. Edith Mason, returned to Ozona with Major and Mrs. Bowman and daughter, Debbie, late last month after the Bowman family completed their summer vacation trip which took them to Disneyland, Concord, California (home of Mrs. Mason); and Bandon, Oregon to deliver son Bill to Millards. Although from sunny California, Mrs. Mason has nothing but praise for the southwest Texas climate.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd (Boochie) Coates are here from Hugo, Colo., for a visit with relatives.

expects to get his irrigation equipment installed and start sprigging 500 acres.

The West Texans are turning land that has lain "dormant" for many years into a veritable cattle paradise. They may eventually become pioneers in the movement of West Texas ranchmen to an area where lush grass can be made to grow in less than a year.

Boys Ranch Roundup To Be Concentrated In Two Weeks Period

Fourth annual West Texas Boys Ranch Roundup is to be concentrated into a two-week period July 22 to August 3.

This biggest fund-raising campaign of the year for the famous boys' haven near Tankersley is slanted toward livestock and farm products.

All over West Texas, livestock auction and commission firms are offering to sell without fee any livestock donated by stockmen and turn all proceeds directly to Boys Ranch. During the two-week period, donors may carry livestock to any one of the participating firms and be confident the money will go to the Ranch.

J. R. Canning, Eden ranchman, is chairman of the drive. Harvey Hartgrove, San Angelo and Paint Rock ranchman, is co-chairman.

They are currently lining up "wagon bosses" all over West Texas to help see that livestock gets in.

Last year's drive was stretched over most of the summer. Volunteer workers this year thought it would be better concentrate it into a shorter period.

"We'll take any gift at any time," said Canning. "But this is the time to get the livestock in."

Miss June Bunger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bunger, and a student at Texas Tech in Lubbock, is home for a visit with her parents.

Worm Control Results In Better Pecan Crop

College Station — Pecans should be plentiful once again this fall following a disappointing crop in 1962, says F. R. Brison, Professor of Horticulture at Texas A&M College.

Several factors were to blame for the scanty 79,000,000 pounds produced in Texas last year, says Brison. But he predicts that the 1963 yield will again be as large as was the 1961 crop when 240,000,000 pounds were grown.

"The crop looks very promising this year," says the horticulturist. "Shoots are heavily loaded with clusters and many clusters have 4 to 8 pecans in them."

Below average populations of nut casebearers is another reason he gives for the bright pecan crop outlook. These pests have been more effectively controlled due to better spraying programs and better chemicals. Malathion and Sevin were widely used last year and gave good control of casebearers, Brison says.

Producers may receive slightly lower prices for their nuts this fall due to larger yields but the quality of the pecans will also greatly affect the price, he says. The size and number of pecans produced by a tree has a physiological effect on the quality of the pecans it bears, he adds.

Practice Game —

The 1963 all-stars do not have a pitcher of the caliber of Tony Garza of last year's team nor do they have a hitter like George Cox but strangely enough they could be a better team with better depth and more power if some highly capable youngsters come through on the mound.

Coaches Deaton and Williams will not name a starting lineup until later in the week but will have a number of capable hands at each position, including last year's short stop Walter Higginbottom who doubles as a pitcher this year and one of last year's reserve outfielders who pitches and plays infield this year.

Named to the 1963 staff as pitchers this year were: Roy Fleet Coates, a hard throwing right hander who doubles as a shortstop and third baseman; Kirk Boyd, a left hander who was undefeated this season and doubled as a 400 hitter at first base; Jimmy O'Rear, another left hander who is also a utility infielder. And to that group Walter Higginbottom, another right hander, and the Ozona staff seems pretty well balanced.

Unlike the 1962 team the present group would seem to have few hitters who cannot produce. In such hitters as Terry Landsey, Larry Webb, Fleet Coates, Glen Davis and Cary Conn, the Ozona team has some power hitters who along with the Huff twins, Charles Childress and others are dangerous hitters as well as fleet base runners.

The 1963 season, however, is in many respects much like 1962 in that only one good team emerged from the league and it did not prosper due at least in part to lack of competition. Mason Motors improved rapidly all season but was a few players short and B&B and Moore Oil appear to be more than one year away with too many youngsters.

Reports from Sonora are to the effect that Sonora, too, did not have an exceptional Little League year so a good battle is in prospect. Ozona has lost to Sonora but once since Little League playoffs began between the two but it is well to remember that the one loss suffered by the locals was to Sonora in Sonora the last time the Ozona all-stars visited there.

were: Jim Cole, Sterling City, bull riding 13-15; Jacques McAshan, Hope, New Mexico, barrel race for girls under 12; Irene Eppenauer, Pecos, barrel race girls 13 to 15; Jan Glasscock, San Angelo, barrel race, girls 16 to 19; Marty Petska, Carlsbad, N. M., barrel race, boys under 12.

Terry Walls, Evant, calf tie down boys 16-19; Tony Vikden, Ballinger, calf tie down boys 13 to 15; Jacques McAshan pole bending, girls under 12; Kathy Greenwood, Carlsbad, N. M., pole bending girls 13-15; Jan Glasscock pole bending girls 16-19; Marty Petska, pole bending, boys under 12; Roy Burk Wagoner, Okla., ribbon roping, boys 13-15; and Pancho Granado, Sterling City, and West Texas Boys Ranch, bull riding boys 16 to 19.

Even though good crowds attended the rodeo and a large number of out of town people were on hand for the event, attendance was down from the past several years. In spite of any loss at the gate, the Lions Club still accomplished most of its aims in giving a large group of young people something to do for a time, bringing a large number of visitors to the city, and putting a rather large sum of money in circulation during a portion of the year that tends to be rather slack.

112th Bench —

member of the El Paso court for the past ten years, was elevated by Governor Connally to chief justice of the Civil Appeals court, succeeding Langdon, who held that position. Preslar, then, actually will succeed Judge Fraser as Associate Justice. Judge Fraser is well known to many Ozonans, having visited here often and having spoken at a number of public affairs here in the past.

The change in office will become effective August 1. On that date or before, Governor Connally is expected to name a new judge of the 112th district.

Speculation as to who may get the governor's nod for this post is rife in the four-county area, Crockett, Upton, Pecos and Sutton, included in the 112th district. Several Fort Stockton attorneys are said to be interested in being appointed to succeed Judge Preslar. Among these are named L. A. Cullison, Charles Sherrill, Paul Dionne and possibly Hart Johnson, the latter a former occupant of the bench.

District Attorney Dixon Mahon of Ozona is not actively seeking for the judge's post but has indicated that he will be available if the governor sees fit to appoint him. It is understood here that no Upton county lawyers are interested in the job and only one in Sonora.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Boothe and children, Roy, Tom and Bonny, of Weatherford were recent visitors here in the home of Mrs. Boothe's mother, Mrs. B. B. Ingham, Sr.
