Iraan Wins West Zone Title Over Lions In Playoff

The Ozona Lions fell victim to the hot shooting Iraan Braves Tuesday night 84-59 in a playoff game in Big Lake to determine the West Zone champion of District 8A. The Lions had forced the Braves into the playoff tilt with a 55-51 win over the Braves last Friday night in Davidson Gymnasium. The Braves will face Eldorado, the East Zone champs, Friday night in Eldorado for the district title.

In the Tuesday night playoff game with Iraan, the Lions ran into a tremendous display of outside shooting. With guard David Wilson hitting for 28 points, mostly on shots from 15 to 20 feet out, the Braves raced to a 45-35 halftime lead and closed out with a 24 point outburst in the final stanza.

On two occasions, Ozona however, pulled within 3 points. Trailing 26-12 early in the second quarter, Ozona scored 12 straight points to narrow the gap to 26-23. In the third stanza, the Lions made it 42-45 before the Braves widened the margin.

The Lions were led by their big pivotman, Marlin Farris who scored 23 points. On several occasions, the Lions were playing 5 sophomores as two seniors George Cox and Rex Bland were hampered early by fouls.

Helping Wilson out in scoring for the Braves were Pat Gladden and Tim Armstrong who hit for 16 and 11 points. Dave Huff and Randal Clepper each had 8 to Ozona.

In the Friday night tilt, senior forward Rex Bland led the Lions with 23 points as they dumped the Braves 55-51. Ozona jumped out to an early lead and went on to victory giving both squads a 4-2 record.

Hiway Dept. Urges Early Registration Of Motor Vehicles

Austin — The Texas Highway Department reported today that more than 6.7 million motor vehicles will be registered in Texas in 1967 and urged car owners to buy their license plates early.

The new license plates may be purchased during February and March at county tax assessor-collector's offices or at authorized sub-stations. New license plates must be displayed after midnight April 1.

A Highway Department spokesman said motorists can help shorten waiting lines and speed up registration by buying license plates early and by presenting proper ownership documents.

Car owners are required by law to present certificates of title and last year's license plate receipts when registering.

Mohair Use In Gov't Blankets May Boost Market

Texas mohair may soon go into Army blankets.

Congressman O. C. Fisher of San Angelo has advised the Texas Sheep and Goat Raisers Association that the Defense Personnel Support Center's currently outstanding contracts for manufacture of 1,815,132 blankets may contain 10 per cent of mohair.

"The Procurement Center at Philadelphia has requested 13 contractors to revise specifications to include the mohair content if at all feasible," Congressman Fisher said.

"The Philadelphia office is now awaiting replies from its contractors before the amount of mohair to be included in outstanding contracts can be determined. The results of this effort will have bearing on specifications for mohair content when future procurement orders are placed."

Although this would not be the total answer to all the mohair growers' market problems, it would be a move in the right direction, said Howard Derrick of Eldorado, TS&GRA president. Association officers and Congressman Fisher have spent a great deal of time and effort trying to interest defense officials in using mohair, stressing that under present market conditions it is one of the lowest-cost natural fibers they could buy, and that it gives the finished product high quality and long life.

Congressman W. R. Poage of Waco, chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, has aided Congressman Fisher and TS&GRA officials in their efforts to have mohair included in military orders.

Inventory Data Being Assembled By CC Committee

Replies are beginning to come in to the Chamber of Commerce office for the "Community Inventory" being conducted by the Chamber with the help of most of the Civic organizations in Ozona. Letters were sent to all clubs and organizations requesting help with the survey. So far the inquiries returned have reflected much study and consideration on the importance of the questions asked and obviously a great deal of research has gone into the completion of the inventories. The surveys have been returned by the Ozona Woman's Forum, Rotary Club, Ozona Woman's Club and the 4-H Club.

The purpose of this inventory is to provide statistics on Ozona's potentials for the West Texas Chamber of Commerce and the local chamber. To aid them in their program to further the growth of West Texas, the WTCC has asked all towns in West Texas to complete these inventories.

The local C of C will use the information to answer the many letters it receives from school children during the year from across the nation, who are writing school papers on Ozona and Crockett County. The information will also be used for the industrial development committee in interviews with prospective businesses and industries and for anyone or any organization interested in, or in need of such information.

Mrs. Brownie Harvick, chairman of the Community Inventory Committee, has expressed her appreciation to those who have responded so rapidly and urges those who have not yet done so to complete the inventories and get them in as quickly as they can be accurately completed.

Crockett county producers, with cost-share assistance through the local Agricultural Conservation Committee, carried out extensive needed ACP practices in 1966, Cliff Elder, county office manager, announced in a bulletin issued this week.

County ranchers during the year carried out deferred grazing practice for a period of at least three months on 23,748 acres of ranch land; controlled brush and cactus growth on 25,937 acres; drilled 685 feet of livestock water wells; constructed 4 concrete storage tanks; laid 31,836 feet of water pipelines for better distribution of livestock; and constructed 13.37 miles of permanent fences.

The 1967 conservation program is being planned and ranchers are asked to make application for approved practices early since funds are limited. All practices must be approved before being started.

Many people have the idea that in Vietnam our prime enemy is North Vietnam, backed by Red China. The USSR is pictured dimly as pretty far in the background, helping out with some odds and ends of supplies. This idea, which our Russia-firsters like to promote, is dispelled by a hard-hitting article in a recent issue of U. S. News & World Report.

According to this statistics studded piece, Russia's participation in the Vietnam war is "great and expanding." In fact, it shows that Red China is actually a poor third as a supplier of the military hardware that Ho Chi Minh needs to kill Americans. What the Russians are providing is the sophisticated and deadly stuff, such as SAM missiles, which have brought down dozens of U. S. planes, and brought death to hundreds of American airmen. And to make these weapons effective, the peace-loving Russians have provided 2,000 technicians.

Actually, it is good business for the Russians. They are investing approximately a billion dollars a year in North Vietnam's war effort. For this they get a thirty-fold return. It is costing the United States at least $30 billions a year to resist Communist aggression in South Vietnam.

And now, the Russians are getting ready to set up a system that will permit us to repay them the billion dollars a year they spend in Vietnam killing Americans. They are going all-out in bidding for trade with the United States. This was heralded in a two-page advertisement in the New York Times of January 16 which more appropriately should have been in The Worker. It called upon the American business community to look into the money-making opportunities in Soviet Russia. Some greedy businesses are already doing so, actively encouraged by our own State Department. Crazy?

Well, that's the way the foreign policy of this country bounces, even if it is rough on American boys who are on the receiving end of that deadly Russian aid to North Vietnam, subsidized by Russian trade with the United States.

All of which gives you an idea as to why the Kremlin hasn't been as anxious to promote negotiations between Hanoi and Washington as some Senators would like.

REDS WIN, 5 TO 4 (Guest Editorial)

The United States Supreme Court, in another 5-4 decision, has struck down another attempt by a state legislature to keep Communist teachers and professors off the school faculties.

The ultra-liberal block composed of Warren, Douglas, Black, Fortas and Brennan knocked out two New York laws — one making Communist party membership grounds for dismissal from the faculty of a state-supported college or university, and the second (a law dating back to 1917) making it possible to fire a teacher from the public school system for "the utterance of treasonable or seditious act."

The commies, undoubtedly, broke out the vodka in celebration of this new Magna Carta from Washington. But Justice Brennan's apology for the decision read strangely. "Even though the governmental purpose be legitimate and substantial," he wrote, "that purpose cannot be pursued by means that broadly stifle fundamental personal liberties when the end can be more narrowly achieved."

How "broadly stifle fundamental personal liberties"? The Communist party membership is dedicated to the principle that a non-Communist popular government may and should be overthrown by subversion and violence, and that a Communist regime can and, if necessary, should be maintained by force, terror and coercion. This is directly contrary to the American theory of government by consent of the governed.

Under the Supreme Court ruling it will now be possible for a professor to remain on a state-supported faculty to teach the destruction of popular government. It will be impossible for a school board to fire a teacher who teaches treason.

No wonder Justice Tom Clark, representing the four-man minority, denounced the decision as "sweeping away one of our most previous rights — the right of self-preservation."

It has now been 30 years since conservative control of the U. S. Supreme Court vanished. Time gave Franklin Roosevelt the right to pick a majority amenable to the political philosophies of the New Deal.

But the Warren court has set itself up, not as a mere "liberal" interpreter of the Constitution, but as a super-government which by intricate and absolutist reasoning has sought to impose upon America a system of law created without legislative sanction by the "left-wing" court majority. More and more, the court has not been bound by the clear intent of legislatures, but has sought to turn the nation in the direction of court majority's ideology.

Much of this ideology would be overwhelmingly defeated if submitted to the people. And this may be what America will have to do. We may have to write new amendments to the Constitution so clear that even the Supreme Court cannot veto them by "interpretation." This is a long and expensive process. Each amendment would require ratification by three-quarters of the state legislatures.

But the protection of popular government and public order against the assaults of the Warren majority would be worth some trouble. — Tulsa (Okla.) Tribune.

DUPLICATE BRIDGE

Winners in Tuesday night's Duplicate Bridge Club play at the country club were: First, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Fitzhugh; second, a tie between Mrs. J. B. Parker and Mrs. Cleophas Cooke and Mr. and Mrs. Evart White; fourth, Mrs. Byron Stuart and Mrs. Jack Brewster.

Mrs. Bill Melton and daughter, Coralie, have been visiting Mrs. Melton's sister and brother, Mrs. James Dockery and Bud Meinecke the past week.

Recently I was standing on a dock on Lake Austin, watching several fishermen patiently waiting for catfish to bite. With me was a friend from out of state. Suddenly one of the anglers had a bite and hooked into a nice fish.

It fought like a catfish, deep and grudging. But soon it came thrashing to the top and the fisherman captured it in his net.

"Oh," my out-of-state friend remarked "you've caught yourself a drum."

"Nah," the fisherman snorted. "Just an old gasper."

Actually, both of them were right. A "gasper" is a freshwater drum. But gasperou is the nickname most Texans know it by.

Regardless of what you call it, the gasperou is one of the least-understood of all Texas fishes. Anglers catch them occasionally, mostly when bottom fishing for catfish or crapple. But very few fishermen go forth to catch gaspers and nothing else.

Actually, there are scant few fishermen who know enough about gasperous to catch them consistently.

Veteran fishermen will tell you that one of the best times to take gaspers is when a river is rising. There's something about a flooding stream which prompts the gaspers to start biting. They prefer still, deep holes and the bait most are caught on is ordinary earthworms. However, they will hit minnows occasionally.

Fact that the gasperou is closely akin to the croaker family, explains the weird croaking noise one makes. Many a time, fishing on a still night, we've been over a deep hole in a river and heard this mystic croaking. It seems the fish were following the boat around, croaking right below us.

If you ever catch a gasper there's no chance of you confusing it with any other fish. The gasper has an unusual appearance all its unmistakable own. It is silver in color with tiny dots sprinkled around under its blunt nose. It has an overly large, fanshaped tail, a humped back and eyes that are large and bright. Both anal and dorsal fins are unusually strong.

Ichthyologists say that not only is the gasper one of the few fishes able to emit sounds, it also is the loudest. This distinctive grunting or croaking comes from the sudden forcing of air from one section of the air bladder to the other. When dressing one, you'll find an exceptionally large air bladder in its belly. This air bladder can be removed without deflating.

Another peculiar characteristic of the gasper is the two roundish crushers in the fish's throat, used to crush food before it enters the stomach. Many children call them "lucky stones." They are flint-hard and motivated by strong muscles. The gasper is capable of crushing a clam in its throat.

An average-size gasper will range between two and three pounds, although occasionally someone will come up with a trophy of five-plus pounds. On rare occasions, a bass fisherman will take one with a plastic worm or a jig and pork-rind eel while working along the floor of a lake.

In fact, a friend of mine was bottom-bumping a bait on Granite Shoals Lake, when he tied into what he thought to be the biggest bass that ever swam. After a long and spirited tussle, he brought the fish to the net. But much to his surprise he didn't have a bass. It was a 12-pound gasper.

Gaspers are easy to grow quite large. I ever saw was a 18-pounder caught on a drop line. It was caught in a white-bass angler's net, bouncing a silver anan.

The gasperou has bones and a distinctive vor. Some people say it's good; others claim gamey.

One of the best ways for preparing a large gasper is to bake it. Scale and sprinkle with salt and pepper and coat thoroughly with lemon juice. Next, foil and bake until done. Then the fish is removed and cooked in the foil with barbecue sauce added if desired.

On smaller ones, the heads, roll in flour and fry a golden brown. Make them crisp and the small bones will be gone. You can also soak them for an hour or two in vinegar cooking, to remove the gamey flavor.

One of the secrets of getting a gasper suitable for dinner platter is to immediately upon catching a gasperou is to skin it. If a gasperou is skinned it is ready for the time, it absorbs the stomach flavor.

So, dress it promptly taking it from the water. — Ed.

FAVORITE SPORT MEMOS

By A. R. Rutherford

Mainly confined in the United States to children, the art of kite-flying is a time-honored pastime in other parts of the globe, especially in the Far East, where kites were known before the dawn of written history. In China, kite-flying is even engaged in as an athletic contest. With their kite strings coated with a mixture of glue and broken glass, the contestants strive to cut down their opponent's kite by crossing and cutting his string. Other uses of the kite have been to test weather conditions and to lift weights. The French army at one time had kites that would lift a full-grown man.

No wonder there's a Berlin wall!
It's so hard to get people to accept ideas — to continue to accept them.
It takes ruthlessness, brutality, oppression.
Or does it?
Jesus Christ was a carpenter in Nazareth. That was centuries ago. But the ideas he shared with his disciples are preached from our pulpits today. The truths for which he offered his life are being lived by millions of Christians.
How did he make his point so clear . . . and so eternal?
He did it through Love and Self-sacrifice . . . and God's Power. He did it through the very gifts which he imparts today to those who worship Him!

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH
The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Harrell, Saturday, Feb. 11 at 11:00 a. m. in an informal ceremony in Cox Chapel of Highland Park Methodist Church in Dallas. Performing the ceremony was Rev. Forest E. Dudley, uncle of the bridegroom, of the First Methodist Church in Dallas.

The bride, given in marriage by her uncle, Vernon C. Cone of El Paso, wore a pale blue silk suit with matching accessories and carried a white inlaid pearl Bible topped with a cascade bouquet of white gardenias and tiny white orchids.

Miss Mary Patricia Paden of Dallas served as maid-of-honor with Mrs. Grant E. Torbit, also of Dallas, serving as matron-of-honor.

Miss Cynthia Harrell, sister of the groom, was the bridesmaid.

The bride's attendants wore identical pale yellow silk A-line dresses with matching circlet headresses and shoes. They carried nosegays of yellow jonquils and stephanotis.

R. A. Harrell, father of the groom, was the best man. Groomsmen were Dr. Emmett Middledeier, professor, American University in Washington, D. C. and Ed Hale, Dallas attorney.

The chapel was decorated with baskets of white mums and gladiolas. The altar was flanked with silver candelabras with white tapers.

A reception followed the wedding in the foyer of the chapel.

Fisher Condemns Carrier Incident By Cong. O. C. Fisher

Blunder at Cape Town. What happened when the carrier Franklin D. Roosevelt recently visited Cape Town must go down in history as one of the monumental blunders of United States diplomatic history. It was so described by the Washington State.

It all happened when the carrier put into port for a 72-hour visit and the ship's commander notified the South Africans that he had received orders from Washington not to allow shore leave for any of the 3,700 seamen and officers en route back to the USA from Vietnam.

A hundred thousand South Africans lined the shores to give the biggest welcome in history to the war-weary seamen. As the ship appeared over the horizon it gave a 21-gun salute, which was answered by shore batteries. Thousands of Cape Town homes had been opened to entertain the Americans. No expense had been spared in preparing for the gala event.

But at the last minute the Administration buckled under in response to pressures from 40 liberal Congressmen and a battery of civil rights agitators. They claimed they didn't like the way South Africa handled her race problems.

It is a bit odd that these same radical-liberals have never raised a whimper when U. S. ships have docked at Communist and pro-Communist ports and shore leave was granted to the sailors.

It is also significant that not one time in the past has South Africa cancelled shore leave for her sailors when ships from that country visited American ports. Not once has South Africa slapped our face with such orders because South Africa or some of her people may not have liked the way we in this country handle our race problems.

The diplomatic blunders stem from the fact that the Union of South Africa has throughout the years been one of our most valued and trusted friends. That country fought with us in two wars, always votes with us in the U. N. against the Communist bloc, and controls the Cape of Good Hope. One of the most strategic spots militarily in the world.

And not one dime of foreign aid has ever been given to South Africa.

This gratuitous slap must one wonder how long the Government of South Africa can go on being friendly to us. Such insults as this against a friendly nation are not easy for those who love their country to forget.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Kirby returned Monday night from Montazuma, Kansas, where they attended the wedding of Mr. Collett's niece.
