Record Set For Opening Day Of Roll Call Drive

$422.50 Subscribed In First Day's Canvass; Quota Is $600

Meeting the challenge of a record pace-time quota, Crockett County Red Cross Roll Call workers launched the 1941 membership drive for the mercy organization with a record of their own—the greatest total ever reached for the opening day of a Roll Call campaign.

With a few committees still not reported, Miss Mildred North, Roll Call chairman for the local chapter, who last year directed the drive which put the local chapter ahead of all Texas in per capita enrollments, last night reported a total of $422.50 subscribed during the opening day of the drive, which got under way Wednesday morning.

As has been her custom for many years, Mrs. Mary Perner, one of Crockett County's Pioneer Mothers, was the first to enroll in the 1941 drive. Mother Perner's name has headed the list of subscribers to the Red Cross cause each year for the past decade or more, and her dollar again this year was in the hands of the Roll Call chairman before the opening gun in the membership drive.

The Roll Call drive remains open officially until Thanksgiving Day, but Miss North is anxious to reach the chapter's assigned quota of 600 memberships before the end of the week. Workers will continue the drive until every person in Crockett County is given an opportunity to enroll.

Twenty-two local business houses and offices were wearing 100 per cent placards at the end of the first day's drive, the workers reported. These were places of business where the owner and every employ was enrolled for memberships of at least $1 each.

The list of 100 per cent places of business were West Texas Utilities Co., Wilson Motor Co., Ozona Wool & Mohair Co., Foxworth-Galbraith Lumber Co., Ramirez Boot Shop, Baker's Food Store, Cooke's Market, Ozona Drug Store, Deland's Gulf Service Station, Ozona Stockman, Ozona National Bank, Hotel Ozona, Hotel Ozona Beauty Shop, Water Works, Lemmons Dry Goods Co., Smith Drug Co., North Motor Co., Davidson & Smith, County Clerk's Office, N. W. Graham's office, Dr. G. L. (Continued on Page Eight)

JUNIOR RED CROSS DRIVE

One hundred per cent membership in the Junior Red Cross is expected among pupils of the local schools before the end of this week, it was announced. The drive for enrollment in each room is under way, with a 100 per cent goal based on as much as 50 cent from each room.

BOY TO WILLIAMS

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Williams are the parents of a son born Monday afternoon in a San Angelo hospital. The new member of the household of the Ozona grocer weighed in at 9 pounds, 6 ounces and has been named James Neal Williams.

Girls Of H. E. Dept. Entertain Faculty

Students of the Home Economics classes were hostesses to members of the faculty of the Ozona school system at the second general faculty meeting of the current school year held Wednesday afternoon. Miss Allena Kinney, H. E. teacher, was in charge of the class. The H. E. student group made and served date ice box cake and coffee.

Joe Ripple talked to the assembled teachers on the subject of "The Future Possibilities in the Teaching Profession" and Miss Kinney talked on "How a Teacher May Train a Pupil in Good Conduct and Good Manners."

Tax Record Set In Oct. Payments Of $101,036.20

County Taxpayers Save $3,000 Thru Discount First Month

Crockett County taxpayers set a record during the month of October for total payments made during the first month of the tax-paying period.

Records compiled in the collector's office by Deputy Claude Russell show a total of $101,036.20 in tax payments made during the opening month of the four-month tax-paying period. From this amount, the state, county and schools allowed a discount for prompt payment of 3 per cent if paid during the month of October, and this local taxpayers were able to effect a saving of $3,030.46 by rushing in to pay taxes during the highest discount month.

The total paid in was divided into $24,129.75 in state ad valorem taxes, $49,795.29 in county taxes and $27,111.16 for the schools. Subtracting the discount from total payments, made a total of $98,005.74 in actual collections.

October collections accounted for approximately two-thirds of the county's total tax bill of around $156,000. The month of November is expected to account for a considerable part of this uncollected amount because a discount of 2 per cent is allowed on payments made during that month. Taxes paid in December earn a 1 per cent discount and after that month, the late comers must pay the full amount.

Along with reports on total collections, the collector reported issuing 137 poll tax receipts, 2 certificates of exemptions and 2 alien polls. In addition, it was noted that $625.95 in delinquent taxes were also collected during the month under a special penalty remission ruling on delinquents who paid up before Nov. 1.

October collections of current taxes last year amounted to $88,771.26, a record to that year, the discount then amounting to $2,663.22.

USO Over Top In Campaign, Report Shows

Crockett Chairman Informed 16 Millions Raised In Drive

The National United Service Organizations campaign for $10,760,000 to provide club quarters and entertainment for men in the armed forces of the United States and for men and women of defense industries has gone nearly six millions over the top, according to a report of progress received recently by Scott Peters, chairman of the drive in this county which netted around $500 for the national defense effort.

"As one who helped make a success of the USO, you will be interested in knowing where we stand and what we are doing," opened a letter received by Mr. Peters from Thomas E. Dewey, national campaign chairman.

"Financially, we are ahead of our original goal, but behind the needs of present budgets. We set out to raise $10,760,000. We will total $16,000,000 shortly. After local sharing for defense needs, the Citizens Committee share for entertainment, and campaign expenses, the USO will have net $13,400,000 for operations. Because of the great Army expansion we now need even more than this but we can all be proud that we so far exceeded the original quota and that we will be able to do much more than was originally expected.

"The operating program, as you doubtless know, was delayed for three months by the failure of government agencies to progress rapidly enough with the building program. This has now been solved (Continued on Page Eight)

Closed Coal Mines Four Days

Pictured above is John L. Lewis as he appeared at a press conference before a truce brought an end to a strike of 53,000 miners in the nation's "captive" coal mines. When the picture was taken Lewis declared he was telling President Roosevelt "no" in response to a White House request for a settlement of the dispute. But after a conference with the President, Lewis, Myron Taylor, former head of U. S. Steel, and William Davis of the National Mediation board, the miners went back to work under terms of a 15-day truce which called for further mediation of the issues involved.

8 From Crockett Are Called For Physical Exams

6 To Be Inducted Early In Dec.; More May Go Late In Month

With orders for induction of six men early in December already in hand, the Crockett County Selective Service board has received orders to send eight more Class 1A registrants to Fort Sam Houston for Army physical examinations on November 29. This order, for the largest number of men ever to go from this county in a single contingent under the present Selective Service law, is under the new set-up requiring final Army physical examinations 30 to 60 days before prospective induction.

The first December call is for one man to report for induction December 1. This will be the first man to be inducted from this county under the new preliminary physical examination system. Answering the call will be L. D. Kirby, assistant cashier at the Ozona National Bank, who recently was accepted by Army examiners at Fort Bliss in El Paso.

Four men will be called to report for induction at Fort Sam Houston in San Antonio on December 5. This will be the first contingent of Crockett County men sent to the San Antonio induction center, inductees heretofore having been sent to Fort Bliss in El Paso. Summoned for this call are Antonio Cardena, Fred Parker, Walter Phillips and Elmer D. Graves.

In the eight men to report for Army physical examinations No. 29 will be Manuel Rodriguez, Dennis Fleet Coates, Aniseto Gonzales, Sam Cowan, Enrique Sanchez, Manuel Mendosa, Warren L. Hight and James Parker.

Two colored selectees from this county will also go in December, Ben Burgess to report from Dallas to fill this county November call for colored and Jack White being scheduled for induction at Fort Sam Houston December 6. The case of John W. Henderson, III, called for the Nov. 14 draft, is on appeal.

Over 100,000 Pounds Mohair Moves In Sale From Ozona Storage

Tentative sale of from 100,000 to 130,000 pounds of mohair to Clyde Young, buyer for Winslow & Co., was announced yesterday by Melvin Brown, manager of the Ozona Wool & Mohair Co.

The price was announced as 55 1/2 cents for grown hair and 75 1/2 cents for kid hair. The sale will virtually clean out all mohair in storage at the local warehouse.

Football Fans Join In Patriotic Song Fest Before Rally

Football fans who filled the stands in the school gymnasium Monday evening for the pep rally preceding the Armistice Day battle with the Sonora Bronchos, joined lustily in a patriotic sing-song under the leadership of Mrs. Bryan McDonald. With the High School band accompanying, the group sang a number of patriotic songs, winding up with the school song.

From the gym, the crowd gathered around the band and pep squad to make "fight medicine" around a huge bonfire set on the North Motor Co. used car lot across the street south from the school building.

Broncs Brushed Aside In Lions' Drive To Title

Locals Conquer Sonora Lads 12-0 In Annual Armistice Game

Overcoming a first-half lethargy, induced by over-confidence, Coach Dan Patterson's Ozona Lions came back from a between-halves "conference" throwing passes forward, star-board and port—to score two quick touchdowns against the Sonora Bronchos in the annual Armistice Day battle between the two neighbor teams. Those two touchdowns constituted the sum total of the day's scoring, the heated contest ending with a 12-0 score in favor of the championship-bound Lions.

After that indifferent first half, the Lions came back into the game with more of that fire of determination which fans have learned to expect from them in seven straight wins this season. Soon after the second stanza opened, Hokit snatched a Broncho fumble in mid-field. Then Hannah flipped a pass to Mustard Williams on the Sonora 20 and Mustard wriggled over the pay stripe for the initial touchdown. Boechie Coates tried to smash through the stout Broncho line for the extra point but was stopped short.

The visitors launched a desperate try to even the score upon receiving the kick-off after touchdown, and thereby met further disaster. Hannah pulled down one of Hudson's passes, again in midfield, and L. B. Cox darted through a hole off tackle for 20 yards, lateralled to Coates who carried to the Sonora 20.

From that point, Roy Coates shot an aerial to Cox on the Sonora 12. Coates then laid one in the hands of Mustard Williams in the end zone for the second touchdown. That second aerial marker (Continued on Page Eight)

Hunters Await Opening Deer, Turkey Season

Good Hunting Predicted When Booming Begins Nov. 16

AUSTIN, Nov. 12—Texas sportsmen today, looking back over a great mourning dove and white wing season, and taking a little time off from duck hunting, are "loading for bear."

Bear being a general big game term that means bear and deer and turkey—principally deer and turkey.

There really are a few black bear left in Texas, and there is actually an open season on them, November 16 to December 31, with a bag limit of one per season, but generally those creatures, which once provided so much sport in East Texas and west of the Pecos River are "where you find them."

But it's deer and turkey that have the boys busy right now—polishing, oiling and tinkering with high-powered deer rifles and appropriate guns for the wily gobblers.

The season on white-tailed deer opens November 16th and will last through December 31.

If you hunt blacktail or Mule deer east of the Pecos River, the open season on these animals is (Continued on Page Eight)

Eldorado Eagles Last Hurdle For Champion Lions

Final 7B Game To Be Played Thurs., Nov. 20 In Eldorado

Only one more team stands in the way of Coach Dan Patterson's Ozona High School Lions and the District 7B championship.

But that team is the Eldorado Eagles—traditionally the fly in the ointment for Ozona teams. It was an Eagle team, back in 1933, a team that should have been an easy victim for the locals, that nosed out an Ozona Lions team from the western half district championship by the margin of one 20-yard zone penetration after the teams had battled to a 13-13 tie. It has been Eldorado's Eagles that year after year have proved the year's toughest assignment for Ozona teams—and now they are the last remaining hurdle in Ozona's path for a district gonfalon.

Despite the fact that Mason smothered a badly frightened Eagle team under a 52-0 avalanche, and the Ozona Lions tamed that same rampaging Mason aggregation by a count of 12 to 6, statistics in this conference, like the Southwest Conference, mean little if anything, and Coach Patterson and his lads are grinding along each afternoon in preparation for a tough battle.

The final game of the 7B season has been changed from the scheduled Saturday, Nov. 22 date to Thursday, Nov. 20—Thanksgiving Day. It's to be played on the Eagle field, beginning at 2:30 p. m.

The change from Saturday to Thursday was arranged in order that the necessary five days between games, an Interscholastic League ruling, might elapse before the bi-district championship game, tentatively set for Wednesday, November 26.

Should the Lions take this last hurdle for their eighth straight victory and a perfect season, they (Continued on Page Eight)

San Antonio Club Gives Program For Rotary Meet

Speaker Sketches History Famous Southwest Gunmen

A group of San Antonio Rotarians and program guests presented an entertaining program to Ozona Rotarians and their Rotary Anns Saturday night in the first ladies night affair staged by the local club since its organization last Spring. The banquet was held in the ball room of the Hotel Ozona.

President Will W. Jackson of the San Antonio club, who is also president of the University of San Antonio, headed the San Antonio delegation and was master of ceremonies.

I. E. Stutsman, superintendent of Schools in San Antonio, brought the principal address of the evening, an entertaining study of famous outlaws and gunmen of the old Southwest. Mr. Stutsman has made an exhaustive research into the life history of famous badmen of the West and of early America and follows such study as a hobby. His account of the motivating forces in the mental make-up of these famous characters provided an entertaining hour for Rotarians and their guests.

Musical features of the evening's program included a group piano numbers by Mrs. Gladys Calder Brooks, head of the piano department of the University of San Antonio, and a group of songs by Mrs. Otto Wicks, head of the voice department of the same institution. Both of these visiting artists found an appreciative audience.

About 75 were present for the evening's affair, including a contingent from the San Angelo club.

WHO—ME?

Washington officials have often told the nation that this is a war of resources—of raw materials. It's also a war of the organization of resources.

The sad truth is that America has not enjoyed the most efficient organization of its defense program. On every side government planners have failed to plan.

When the defense program started, the armed forces, the Treasury, the RFC and defense officials were supposed to build up silk stocks to last for two years.

If silk were the only example, there would be sufficient cause for complaint. But in addition to silk, adequate stock piles should have been built up for all strategic materials—tin, rubber, copper and so on.

THREAT TO THE PRESS

The greatest threat to our vaunted freedom of the press is not the possibility of censorship. Rather it is the imposition of unnecessary economic controls masquerading as steps in the national defense interest.

So far the threat has been directed at the advertising department. The Attorney General sent a questionnaire to many advertisers to find out how much and in what ways they spend money.

There is a very general impression that advertising adds considerably to the retail price of goods. That fact is that when it has been intelligently used to increase the sale of articles in common use, it has resulted in improving the quality and lowering the price.

Although the sums expended for advertising by some companies are large, it is easy to exaggerate the part of the customer's gasoline dollar which is spent for

"Well, this will be her, first Thanksgiving in America, and she asked me today what it was all about and why we thought there was anything to be thankful for this year."

"Ummm," I said thoughtfully... that little turkey and two easy pies disappearing very fast. "I see what you mean..."

Our freedom to do and say what we please... our right to go to church and to select the people who run our government and to have our own businesses... We seem better able to express our gratitude for blessings like these on Thanksgiving than on any other days in the year...

advertising. If all the advertising expenditures of the industry were charged to gasoline alone, it is probable that they would represent less than a quarter of a cent per gallon.

As a matter of fact, a large proportion of the advertising money has been applied to other products and services. Even if it were all covered in the price of gasoline, it would not mean much to a motorist who learned that on a purchase of ten gallons, he had contributed 2 1/2 cents for advertising and 60 cents for state and Federal sales taxes.

TIMID LEADERSHIP

In its fight on inflation the Administration has persistently and timidly lagged behind public understanding. It has persistently underestimated the readiness of the country to make sacrifices in the cause of national defense.

Prizes Offered For Best 4-H Club Wool Dresses And Suits

For the first time the American Wool Council, the Women's Auxiliary of the National Wool Growers Association and the International Wool Secretariat are actively cooperating with the National 4-H Clubs and will present special prizes to the girls designing and making the best wool dresses and suits to be exhibited at the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago, Illinois, between November 28 and December 6.

In announcing the special awards, G. L. Noble, managing director of the National Committee on Boys and Girls Club Work, declared that this additional step in the club's campaign to encourage useful activity in young people should meet with great enthusiasm in the wool growing regions where the girls have a particular interest in furthering the increased use of wool in all types of garments.

The special prizes, which will be awarded to those exhibitors reaching the blue ribbon class, are complete chests of silver which will be given by the three organizations. Each exhibitor properly entered will receive a minimum award of three dollars, and those exhibits reaching the blue and red award groups will share in additional cash awards.

The American Wool Council, the Women's Auxiliary of the National Wool Growers Association and the International Wool Secretariat may make a further showing of the prize winning garments in various parts of the country as examples of the skill of 4-H Club members.

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Sales of Defense Savings Bonds increased 16.5 per cent in October over September, the Treasury Department announced today. Total sales for the six months since the Defense Savings Program was launched on May 1 last are $1,775,124,000.

FHA To Continue Home Loan Plans

HOUSTON, Oct. 29—Despite recent developments affecting home building, assurance was given here today that the Federal Housing Administration will continue its long range program of home mortgage insuring operations and will continue to welcome applications from builders and individuals throughout the state, not only on homes to be built but on existing homes as well.

A. C. Ford, District Director for the FHA, moved to correct any impression that the current emergency has altered the basic FHA program, by assuring prospective home buyers that the FHA plans no curtailment of its activities nor temporary suspension of its insuring operations.

"Some misunderstanding of the FHA's position has developed lately," Mr. Ford said, "because of recent trends in the government's attitude toward housing. It is possible that this misunderstanding may have caused some families to postpone home ownership, I should like to assure those families that the Federal Housing Administration will be glad to accept their applications for mortgage insurance and to assure them that FHA facilities are still available to families who wish to buy or build homes."

"It is true that the Federal Housing Administration, under a special arrangement with the Office of Production Management, also is accepting applications for priorities so that builders of homes in officially designated 'defense areas' may encounter as little difficulty as possible in obtaining home building materials that are scarce. In effect this is a job which the FHA is performing simply for the OPM. Its own program will go forward independently."

A five-year-old girl was prone to use swear words, and the mother, after trying in vain to break her of the habit, told the child that the next time she used a bad word she would have to leave home.

Everything went well the first day, but on the second, the little one was overheard swearing at her doll. So her mother packed a toy suitcase and told the little one to take it and go.

Q. Who said: "I only regret that I have but one life to lose for my country"?

A. Nathan Hale, who gave his life for America, like great numbers of his fellow countrymen. We are only asked to lend our dollars for Defense Bonds and Stamps to defend the liberty for which they died.

Q. Where I work there is no payroll allotment plan for the buying of Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps. How can I get one started?

A. This depends on your position, and the kind of organization in which you are employed. Generally speaking, your immediate superior would be the proper person to receive your suggestion that you would like to have a voluntary pay-roll allotment plan introduced. The firm's bank can supply information about such a plan.

Side Glances on Texas History

By Charles O. Hucker
University of Texas Library

GOLIAD—MANY WERE DEAD, BUT A FEW HAD BEEN QUICK

When dawn broke on the historic Palm Sunday of 1836, March 27, Mexican soldiers lined up and shot some 330 Texans, most of them newly-adopted, outside the old mission fort at Goliad and so piled a second faggot onto the pyre which a month later was to consume themselves at San Jacinto. It is well remembered by Texans of today, this tragic legend of Fannin and his men; but few recall that thirty-five lived to tell it.

The stories of the massacre which these survivors have left for historians to piece together—those, that is, which are to be found at all—turn up in many out-of-the-way volumes in the University of Texas Library's unequalled Texas Collection. One of them, for instance, appears in the voluminous "Personal Narrative" of John Russell Bartlett, director of the United States and Mexican Boundary Commission in the early 1850's. It doesn't jibe in every particular with the details of the event as historians have reconstructed it, but it is colorful and romantic and worth retelling.

Bartlett was making final preparations for his commission's long trek across the West to California in 1850 when, one Sunday, he was invited to Goliad and there met a certain "Judge H.," the hero of the episode which he contributed to the Fannin legend. It doesn't seem to have taken much persuasion to wheedle the judge into telling his tale.

SANTA ANNA'S ORDERS

The Texans had surrendered to General Urrea on March 20th after their heroic stand in the Battle of the Coleta, at the close of which they were at the mercy of the Mexican forces, which outnumbered them overwhelmingly and had just been reinforced with artillery.

They were to be treated as prisoners of war and sent to the United States on the first available boat. A week passed while they waited at Goliad, and then word came from Santa Anna that all were to be shot, the terms of their surrender notwithstanding.

On the famous Palm Sunday morning, Bartlett wrote, "the prisoners were marched out of the fort in three divisions, full of high expectations that the time of their release had arrived, and were shot down almost simultaneously by the Mexican soldiery. The gentleman above referred to was in the second division, and owes his escape to the most wonderful presence of mind."

Judge H., he goes on to say, realized what was happening when first he heard the unseen firing squad bring down his predecessors; and when his own turn came he toppled stiffly to the ground the instant he saw the Mexican officer's lips form the command to fire. Then, untouched by the volley, he "played possum" on the ground beside his dead comrades.

THE JUDGE WINS OUT

It was not so easy as just that, however, Bartlett relates; for "the soldiers stood within six feet of the prisoners, and fired with fixed bayonets. As soon as they had fired, they rushed upon the victims with their bayonets to complete the slaughter. Judge H. was pierced through the shoulder, bearing the wound without showing signs of life."

Then, too, "camp followers came to rob the dead" afterwards, and one of them; "in cutting away his hunting shirt to get at his coat which was beneath, wounded him in the neck, at which he let escape some expression of pain; whereupon the Mexican, finding him still alive, beat him upon the head . . . until he supposed life extinct." But the good judge lived and made a stumbling getaway in the dark.

In his monumental "History of Texas," H. Yoakum mentions 27 men who were known to have escaped from Urrea that morning and eight others, doctors and hospital attendants, who were spared because they were needed to attend the Mexican wounded; but his list includes nothing which re-

100 YEARS AGO IN TEXAS . . .

"Attack on the Mission of Refugio.—We have received a letter dated Victoria, September 20th, containing the startling intelligence that the mission of Refugio was attacked on the morning of the 18th inst., just before day-break, by a party of Mexicans, and after a short skirmish, in which a Mexican was killed, the few inhabitants remaining in the place surrendered. Capt. Neil, Mr. McFarlane, and a Mr. Tally, made their escape to Victoria and brought the intelligence. The rest of the citizens were made prisoners, the women excepted. Those who could speak the Spanish language were released, the remainder were taken to Matamoras . . . This attack has spread astonishment and alarm throughout the West, as it occurred so soon after the return of our Commissioners with assurances from Arista that the troops under his command should not molest our citizens. We suspect it was made without his authority and in retaliation for the recent attack upon the rancho at the southern extremity of Padre Island. The party of Mexicans were probably a part of the gang of Savriego, who are reputed robbers by both Mexicans and Texans. We may expect to learn further particulars by next mail."

Around OUR PLACE by Ned Gephart

All week long I've been as ringy as a bob-tailed bull in fly-time. I'm not certain just what started this grouch, unless it is a fishing trip I took the other day with Joe Small.

Small is the stringy editor of The Southern Sportsman magazine and he came to fish with me on the strength of my assurance that in a hide-away pool I'd discovered up on Mill Creek there were bass so numerous that when the water is low they sometimes have to swim in shifts.

Well, the bass were there, if I did stretch the blanket a bit about their number. But would they take a lure? They would not. We chined everything but our hats at them, and they lay back there under the lily pads and gave us the fishy eye.

I have come to the conclusion that those were just old ignorant country bass that do not know what these city-fied lures are made for. But how can you explain a thing like that to the editor of an outdoor magazine after he's crippled himself among the rocks and brush chasing bullfrogs as jumpy as a buck negro in a moonlit grave yard?

For frogs were all those bass would take, and not many of them—we couldn't catch the frogs!

An afternoon of the most strenuous work I have done in years resulted in our leaving Mill Creek with three legal bass and enough cow ticks to keep us busy clawing our hides for the next couple of weeks.

But fishing is not what I set out to gripe about. What's got me ready to prize up hell and prop it with a chunk is the salaries paid to Uncle Sam's buck private soldiers.

I was too young for the first World War. I'm a little old for this second one. But when I think of the fine young men training for their own slaughter on $21.00 a month, I am beset with a compelling urge to knock somebody's teeth back down a throat.

It wouldn't be so bad if there were not men tying up production of defense equipment through strikes for higher wages, when already they receive as much money in a couple of days as a buck private receives in a month.

It wouldn't be so bad if I didn't remember how soldiers fought through hell for an ideal in the World War, only to come home and be laughed and sneered at by war profiteers for ever going to France in the first place.

As if the soldier had any say in that matter!

It seems to me that if a worker in an airplane factory, for instance, is worth $200 a month, the sorriest kind of a soldier risking his life to save this country for the profiteers is worth at least half that much.

Sure—I know the howl that would go up if Uncle Same were to pay his soldiers anything like a wage comparable to what defense workers get. Tax payers would run in circles, pelting like hound dogs caught in smokehouses. "It'll break the government!" they'd squall.

But did you ever hear of a government going broke that hadn't just recently lost a war?

Now that I've got that "subversive propaganda" off my chest I seem to have forgotten what else I meant to gripe about.

Apparently, very little is thought of my ideas for making this world a place of peace and happiness, anyhow. I've griped about the weather for years, and nothing's been done about it as yet.

But a man just naturally has to let off steam sometimes.

Collegiate: "Father, I've a notion to settle down and start raising chickens."

Father: "Better try owls. Their hours will suit you better."

"You've no idea how handy my new KITCHEN TELEPHONE is!"

1 "It saves me hundreds of steps every day hurrying to some other part of the house to make or answer telephone calls . . ."

2 "Enables me to do most of my marketing right here in the kitchen, when the need for each article occurs to me . . ."

3 "Even helps prevent burnt dinners by letting me talk as much as I want and still keep a watchful eye on whatever's on the kitchen range."

Extension telephones cost little . . . save time, effort, trouble. Don't you want their added convenience?

Look into the Last Mile— FIRST

MAYBE it's a little hard to picture this trim Buick as it will look on that unknown day when you come to turn it in.

There may be scars in its fenders, and use-stains on its upholstery—but the thing that matters is it'll still be going great guns.

You can count on that husky valve-in-head straight-eight to be ticking off the miles with the satisfying efficiency it now boasts.

You can rely on Compound Carburetion! to hold your gas-costs down, squeezing every last power-packed mile out of the fuel you burn.

There won't be any loss of easy comfort in those all-coil springs, or any need for care to keep them gentle.

As for such things as connecting rods and bearings—Buick rods are extra strong, while tests show that our oil-cushioned bearings last twice as long as others under the same load and service.

So go right ahead! Buy Buick on its last mile instead of its first.

If you can get one now, you'll be smart to grab it!

EUGENE SLATER
Methodist Minister

"This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting." Mark 9:29 (Read Mark 9:14-29).

We can well understand the truth that our Master is talking about here. We know full well that there are some cures that are brought to pass only because of an effort that is the active expression of someone's desires and prayers. Every physician can give at least one case of a recovery that has been the effect of someone's love and care, a love and care so self-sacrificing that it can be described only as the expression of prayer and fasting. Jesus was uttering a universal truth when he told his friends that there were some ills that could not be easily healed.

One can apply this truth in the area of deep-seated ills of personality. Who of us is not plagued by jealousy, by fear, by selfishness, and a dozen other enemies of wholesome and healthy personality? It is not easy to rid ourselves of these demons of the inner life. They can only be expelled by our fellowship with One who is stronger than they—a fellowship that is created by prayer and fasting. Our Christ knew what it was to be besieged by these same enemies that march up to our doors and demand our hospitality. It was only through His companionship with His Father, through much prayer and fasting that He expelled every unworthy and evil suggestion. And so constant was His communion with the Father that even in His death upon the cross, He was able to ask the Father's mercy and forgiveness upon His enemies.

The whole realm of life offers a testing ground for this business of prayer and fasting. Concerning a world-wide war one can say, "This sort of thing can be expelled from human society only by prayer and fasting." Surely there is a Wisdom that can help humanity work out its problems in a more satisfactory way than by the method of war. When we learn to ask the Father to help us do unto others as we would have others do unto us; when we learn to ask wherein we have contributed to the total world situation and its evil; when we learn to say, "Thy Will, not mine, be done,"—then it may be that He who gives liberally of His Wisdom to everyone who asks will show us a better way. It may be a hard way and it may involve a lot of sacrifice, but it will lead at last to a new heaven and a new earth.

Prayer: Teach us to pray, O Lord, and grant that we may have the courage and the strength to follow in the Master's Way. Let Thy love and life express itself through us to the end that evil may be expelled from within us, and that we may be used to create a finer order of life. Amen.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

NEW YORK, Nov. 3.—BITS OF BUSINESS — No perceptible change in retail trade levels, hovering around 6 to 8 per cent ahead of the pace this time last year—Same is true of industrial production, of which Federal Reserve Board says the index should hit 175 by the end of the year (compared to 105 before European war started) with 1941's total being about 25 per cent more than 1940's. Personal loan business is languishing, what with employment and wage boosts due to defense; one big financing company here has cut its staff of outside collectors by 66 per cent. . . Barber shops, beauty parlors, dry cleaning companies complain of higher costs; many are raising prices. . . Output of high-power aircraft engines by the three leading U. S. builders—Pratt & Whitney division of United Aircraft, Wright Aeronautical, and Allison division of G. M. — is now said to surpass "best estimates" of current production for all of Germany.

WASHINGTON—Possibility of anti-strike legislation; talk of "vastly greater" arms drive under the head of "Victory program," and consideration of another multi-billion-dollar tax bill this fall highlight capital business news. . . On the latter, the Treasury has estimated that between five and eight billion dollars of what it calls "extra" purchasing power must be "mopped up" quickly to guard against inflation. Tentative plan is for a three-way withdrawal of this "extra" cash—that is, buying power in excess of the goods available: (1) More general taxes, especially income taxes on individuals and excess profits taxes on corporations (applicable to 1942 earnings but enacted as soon as possible so people will start saving the money to meet the tax bill); (2) Sharply increased social security payroll taxes; (3) Increase individual savings, represented by investments in defense bonds. Weekly payroll-deduction plan, to help employees save income-tax money, will be urged on big employers.

'IRON FIREMEN'—You might not think such giant iron monsters as modern war tanks would have much peacetime use, but we've learned there is a real possibility the war juggernauts on which Uncle Sam is now doubling production may eventually be put to some peaceful, if violent, chores. In England, the science of fire fighting has made rapid advances under stress of the blitz. Now J. H. Connors, vice-president in charge of R. F. Goodrich's mechanical goods division, commenting upon a first-hand report he received from London on new fire-fighting techniques, along with a performance report on some 120 miles of fire hose recently shipped from Akron, said: "A heavily-armored tank that can batter its way into a burning building is a real possibility as a fire-fighting machine. The turret of such a tank would be equipped with hose nozzles instead of machine guns, and its cannons would spray fire-deadening chemicals instead of shells." There's a constructive answer to what we might do with our leftover military tanks, when and if we have some left over.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR — Special cement floors for shower rooms treated so that, when wet, they give off minute quantities of copper which kills "athlete's foot" germs (though you probably can't see the bactericide any better than you can the germ) . . . Pretty close to the long-sought "perpetual motion" machine are new clocks so delicately adjusted that they are "wound up" by changes of temperature. . . Roof shingles in strips of four, for speedier installation, but so marked as to avoid a too-regular or "artificial" appearance. . . An electric heater made to be built into a wall, with safety grill and fan to distribute the warmed air. . . A wrist watch that can be set right to the second; pulling the stem stops the second hand while the other hands are being set. . . An apple beverage closely resembling fresh-pressed cider, but "keeping" indefinitely because of a flash pasteurizing process. . . All-plastic goggles for workers engaged in grinding and similar tasks—with no frames or sidepieces to obstruct "horizon" vision.

Control of labor in the Texas petroleum refining industry, which accounts for 40 per cent of the state's manufactures, is soon to be sought by the CIO in a heavily financed drive. Some refineries already have contracts with CIO unions. The object of the new effort will be to organize the industry 100 per cent.

Edwin S. Smith, former member of the National Labor Relations Board, will be commander-in-chief of the projected invasion. He made a name for radicalism and intense partisanship as a member of the board. At his disposal for operations in Texas will be a "war chest" of $200,000.

Best paid workers in the state are those employed in the refineries. They are not complaining. The impending drive is one for more power for the CIO. It threatens a repetition in Texas of the strife, disorder and paralysis of defense production which has lately been witnessed in Northern, Eastern and Far Western states.

James brought the conflict with Nazi aggression poignantly home to Texans. Commander of the lost ship was Lieutenant Commander H. L. Edwards of San Saba. Other Texans aboard were Lieut. Ben Ghetzler of San Antonio; Charles B. Cox of Houston; Paul R. Boynton of Carthage; Lee L. Reid of Dallas; Hartley Franks of Gatesville.

Perhaps it occurred to few who scanned this list that the proportion of Texas men in the crew of the James was rather below than above the average for Uncle Sam's warships. But such is the fact. Texas is heavily represented in all ranks of Navy personnel. Among the admirals hailing from this state are James O. Richardson, former Admiral of the Fleet; Chester W. Nimitz, chief of the Bureau of Navigation; Samuel M. Robinson, chief of the Bureau of Ships, and Adolphus Andrews, commander of the New York Naval district. Hundreds of officers of lower rank (one of them, Captain T. A. Thomson, Jr., commands the Texas district) and thousands of enlisted men are natives of Texas. In all, there are more than 12,000 Texans in the U. S. Navy—which is one reason why it is the world's best.

who made the tin sink disappear?

Not many years ago, the show room of a new house was the kitchen where the builder proudly displayed a built-in tin sink. Today there is no tin in the kitchen. A porcelain sink, built-in cupboards, broom closets, beehive containers for all sorts of kitchen equipment and frequently an automatic refrigerator and a stove are just part of the equipment.

The Construction Industry brought all this added convenience and value to your kitchen. But modern planning and lowered cost don't stop in the kitchen. You'll see the handiwork of the Construction Industry in every room.

And who is the Construction Industry? It is all of us—buyer and builder. It is all the men in our town who help to build and remodel our homes, office buildings, factories, roads and bridges. The men who make the loans, put in the plumbing, the electricity, pour the concrete, hammer the nails, rivet the steel.

These men of our Construction Industry don't work from a National Blue Print. They operate as individuals, on their own initiative, according to local needs and local opportunity.

That's the way our system of free enterprise works in all American industry. You work on your free initiative—the way you want to work. And it's bound to help everybody else. That's why the tin sink disappeared.

Invest now—in your own home—in your own community.

...and do be careful!"

"Five mornings a week, nine months a year, we mothers of Texas get our children ready for school. In our home and a million other Texas homes, that's one of the first and most important duties of a mother's day. Sometimes Dad finds out what a job it is when he has to do it by himself."

All of us want our children to have the best education possible. Most of us look to the public schools for this.

Fortunately, Texas has the best public schools in the South. Helping to build and operate them is the Texas petroleum industry which pays 24 million dollars a year in taxes for school purposes.

These petroleum taxes pay an average of one-fourth the cost of educating our children. Altogether, they meet the entire expense of schooling nearly 400,000 Texas boys and girls.

In addition, oil has contributed substantially to the 70 million dollar permanent school fund. Oil is also responsible for much of the 30 million dollar permanent university fund, which has made possible the expansion of the University of Texas and A. & M. College.

Furthermore, taxes on petroleum products add another 11 1/2 million dollars a year for the schools of our State.

Our children get a better education today because of the Texas petroleum industry.

ADVICE

Here is a bit of advice which was given to Andrew Jackson by his mother.

"Andrew, if I should not see you again, I wish you to remember and treasure up some things I have already said to you: In this world you will have to make your own way. To do that you must have friends . . . you can make friends by being honest, and you can keep them by being steadfast . . . You must keep in mind that friends worth having will in the long run expect as much from you as they give to you. To forget an obligation or be ungrateful for a kindness is a base crime . . . not merely a fault or a sin, but an actual crime. Men guilty of it sooner or later must suffer a penalty . . . In personal conduct be always polite but never obsequious. None will respect you more than you respect yourself. Avoid quarrels as long as you can without yielding to imposition. But sustain your manhood always. Never bring a suit in law for assault and battery or for defamation . . . The law affords no remedy for such outrages that can satisfy the feelings of a true man . . . Never wound the feelings of others. Never brook wanton outrage upon your own feelings. If you ever have to vindicate your feelings or defend your honor, do it calmly. If angry at first, wait till your wrath cools before you proceed."

After this good advice, what is there left for me to say? If we all should practice this advice, I am sure that we should all be better people and this world would be a much better place in which to live.

Editor's Musings

By Rozelle Pharr

Although to many of us a 70 per cent means the difference between passing and failing, 70 per cent is not really passing. In life nothing below a 100 per cent is passing. All that our schools today require is 70 per cent, and because of that many of us do not really do our best. Many people think that they know all about something if they but know its name. Someone has said that if you ask enough questions, your questions and curiosity will lead you to acquiring a liberal education in almost every field of knowledge. Merely learning the names of things might get you 70 per cent passing grades in school; but in not doing your best, you are cheating yourself—not the teacher or the school. So why not be honest with yourself and see if you can't do more than "just get by," for don't you want to do more than that when you choose your occupation in life? If you do, then now's the time to start.

Student Of The Week

Perhaps for the first time in high school he has realized the value received from his courses. Besides taking six subjects (three English classes is no snap), he plays football and works on a part-time job. After finishing high school, he plans to go into some sort of mechanical training. He is friendly and good-natured. He doesn't believe in rushing through life for fear that he might miss something. He is one of the few boys who wears a hat to school.

Bonfire Builds Up Spirits Of Lions For Sonora Game

As Hitler and Stalin make speeches and so forth to build up the morale of their army, so the Ozona band and pep squad do things to build up the moral of the Ozona Lions. The second bonfire of the year was the means of the build up on Monday night, November 10, before the Ozona-Sonora game. The bonfire was lighted by Byron Williams, who is one of the two seniors who has not yet been captain of a game this year. Coach Patterson said, "We are going to be just as hot as this fire tomorrow. We are going to do our best to make those Broncos holler 'calf rope.'" Other pep talks were made by Byron Williams, Carl Thurman, assistant coach, Mr. McCook, Rev. Eugene Slater, Lottie Jo Owens, Miss Hazel Kirbie, and Supt. C. S. Denham. The band played such numbers as "Hail, Hail the Gang's All Here," "She'll Be Coming 'Round the Mountain When She Comes," "Aggie War Hymn," and other pep songs. Following the bonfire and pep rally, the band and pep squad accompanied by many other students and townspeople marched down through town where, after playing the "School Song" and giving a yell, the students formed a single-file line and marched down the sidewalk, through the picture show and then back to the school.

MY DIARY

Saturday, Nov 1.

Gosh, it is 11 o'clock, I wonder if everyone is in bed. I have just been to a dance given by Mervin. I suppose that Ozona is just about tops as far as the town, the people—and especially the football team are concerned. Everyone was at the dance and everyone was happy over the ball game. I was glad to see that so many of the parents were there which all goes to show how really swell all of the Ozonans are. Bud Cox's cousin was visiting here, and if she is any example, there must be cute girls in Iraan as well as in Ozona. This week has been a little bit of "all right" in every way. First there was the band's playing in assembly on Thursday. Friday night there was a bonfire with all the trimmings of fanfares, pep talks, yells, and in general, ye ole football spirit. Saturday was a red-letter day in anybody's calendar. Coach Patterson was presented with his favorite birthday gift of a score of 12-6 over Mason. Every one was in the groove with even the birds over the field making a V—for victory. There were gobs of compliments aimed at the band and the pep squad performance at the half. Even Mr. Pingelton must have thought that it was all right because he bought all of the members a drink after the game. I suppose that the age of miracles will never be over nor are the wonders of football because even Miss Kirbie was discovered to have a heart.

Then the dance as the final touch, but that is where I started; and, anyway I'm getting sleepy so Goodnight, Dear Diary.

Monday, November 10.

All great days seem to have come in November—Armistice Day, Coach's birthday, Thanksgiving, and the Sonora-Ozona game. I'm still wondering over the up-sets in the scores for the last weekend; it all goes to show that one never knows—Gotta rush and get to that bonfire; I don't want to miss anything—Two weeks gone and still "all's well"—keep your fingers crossed.

LIONS TURN BACK DETERMINED BRONCHS 12 TO 0

Only One More Hurdle Between Ozonans And Distict Title

The Ozona Lions were lucky to finish the Sonora game with the larger end of the score. The Broncos were cocked and primed for this game and came into town with blood in their eyes. The locals were in the well-known slump that is familiar to our good football teams. In spite of the mental attitude, the Lions were a far superior team, but due credit should be given to the inspired opponents.

Eighth Grade Observes Hallow'e'n With Party

The Eighth Grade of the Ozona Junior High celebrated Hallow'e'n with a masquerade at the Hillery Phillips home. The play room was gaily decorated with pumpkins, spoons, and an old witch was there in person to tell fortunes.

The members of the class were dressed in colorful costumes: pirates, Spanish dancers, Dutch girls, pioneers, cigarette girls, Irish girls, and Buddy Russel was dressed in a lion costume with "Beat Mason" written on a placard that he wore.

Sandwiches, cookies, candy, and punch were served and those enjoying the party were Pierce Reese, Doris Bean, Doris Busby, Jo Nell Coxe, Muggins Davidson, Mozelle Haire, Myrtastine Hokit, Peggy Jefferys, Billie Jo Leatherwood, Jennie Gail Phillips, Mildred Porter, Billie Rose Schwalbe, Palma Trull, Lois Nell Williams, Dick McDonald, Buddy Russell, Carlton Smith, Charles Snyder, Earl Tillery, Mr. and Mrs. Hillery Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Byran McDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Steven Perner, Miss Zelma Scott, and Mrs. George Bean.

Film 'This Is China' Shown At OHS Fri.

Friday at 3:30 the school saw an educational picture show entitled "This Is China." It was filmed by Guaranteed Pictures and produced by Leo Wecher. The picture on life in modern China was made after the Japanese invasion. The narration was by Alors Harold. It started with a map of present day China. China is three and one-half million square miles. It is inhabited by four hundred and fifty million people. Pictures of the missions were shown and of their use to relieve the suffering the war brought. The men of China know nothing but to work all their lives. An average Chinese family lives as the family of Wong-Wong, his wife, and two children. They live in happiness, hunger, and hard work. When the war struck, they fled with millions homeless and helpless. The coolie is China's machine which carries heavy loads, pulls boats, running wheels, and does all the labor our machines do for us. Under the strain of war and worry, opium is a fearful menace to the Republic of China. The people seek relief in its deadliness.

Education is now compulsory in China. The nation is being modernized constantly. For the first time China is all under one government and army. The battle cry of the faithful Chinese is "Resist the Japs or perish!" This show was of extreme interest and value to all who saw it.

EIGHTH GRADE ELECTS 1941-42 CLASS OFFICERS

The Eight Grade recently elected the following class officers for the 1941-42 school term:

President, John Fussell; vice-president, Dick Lee McDonald; secretary, Myrtastine Hokit; treasurer, Muggins Davidson; reporters, Doris Bean and Pierce Reese.

A LACONIC RECIPE FOR A HAPPY LIFE

Note carefully. Digest thoroughly. Discipline appetite. Live honorably. Alleviate suffering. Develop indomitable faith. Grow in liberty. Glorify God and Honor men, and the buds of your heart will open into joy.

Maybe the boys from both teams had been reading the sport page too much in the last week.

Both scores were made in the third quarter by Byron Williams on aerial attack. The first one was one by Billy Hannah and the other was hurled by Roy Coates. Neither try for the extra point was successful.

At the half the penetrations were 1 and 1, and Ozona had only two more first downs. At the end of the game, the first downs numbered 15 for Ozona and 10 for Sonora. Very few substitutions were

THE WISE OLD OWL

By RUSSELL and COATES

Tom, who is this Nancy Hemp-hill? Come, now, you can do better than that!

Complaints again! You Fish had better stay at home or quit giggling. That means you, Arthur Byrd, Joyce, Nan, Barbara, Ruth, Daphne, and Marie.

James is up to his old stunts again. First he says that he's with Ethel, Chappo, and Mary; then, Ethel is seen with Dick. Now, he says that Lottie Jo and Mary E. Gray, just smother him with kisses. Now, girls!

Mildred, how soon does Eddy get the gate since Billy Sparkman is back in town?

Were you sore after volleyball practice, Joy Hubbard? Think you'll live?

It seems that Jim Ad just can't keep a secret. However, Lila calls it lies.

"I'm in Love With Your Automobile" is Billy's theme song. Well, it's always nice to have a pretty girl to go with a nice Buick, eh Billy?

When Mr. Pingelton becomes angry, the whole band has to get out of his sight. Georgia Nell Senne and Marvin Porter seem to have up a pretty case. Shall we call it "romance?" Just because "he" lives in another city, Billy Laxson doesn't pine over "him." She looks around for other "pebbles on the beach." Nice going!

Ethel, can you tell us why you were so happy after Saturday night? Or, is it a deep dark secret?

Bud, how are you and your admirers coming along? We should have more of these "girl-tag" dances, shouldn't we?

Sis, you should start an almanac all your own. You are so good on this "cure or kill" business.

Marie is a little "biy-shy" yet, but just give her time. She's only a Freshman.

Gem Ella, why were you ditching Basil Monday night after Press Club meeting?

Chappo, what happened to your red and white boots? Could you have ruined them climbing hills?

Bill, that "tender lip" of yours is apt to get you into trouble. Take good care of it.

Joyce W., do you have a hard time getting a certain little Freshman boy, or do you already have him?

Student Body Met In Study Hall Monday

Monday morning, the study hall was a scene for another meeting of the student body of Ozona High. The purpose of the meeting was to make preparations for the Ozona-Sonora game.

Announcements were made for the Patriotic Sing-Song in the gym led by Mrs. Byran McDonald and concerning the Pep Rally and Bonfire that is to follow. These announcements were made by Supt. C. S. Denham. In closing Mr. Denham called on Billy Hannah, Byron Williams, and Coach Patterson to speak. Each said he would talk Wednesday morning. Thus this meeting was closed.

Cooper proved to be the hardest man in the district to down after he had been hit. "Sonny" West injured linesman for Ozona, was instrumental in holding back Sonora's driving line plunges. Of course Ozona's backfield men caught the eyes of the spectators.

It is hoped that the Lions will snap out of it before the Eldorado game. It will be a shame for them to be this near the top only to slide back to the bottom. The seventh victory has been chalked up for Ozona, but the grid season isn't over.

Eldorado Sends Best Wishes To OHS Lions

The attention of OHS has been turned this week to an article in the Eldorado school paper. After stating that since Eldorado was "out of the running" for a district championship, they offered their heartiest wishes to the Lions and hoped that they left up their good work. This particular article was received by the Lions with so much enthusiasm that it is a heart-felt and unanimous statement in saying, "thanks, Eldorado, for the good wishes."

Names Are Queer

Wouldn't it be funny: Louise were a Tomator instead of a Bean.

Lila Lee were a Baker instead of a Cooke.

Juana were Sad instead of Gay. Mary were Blue instead of Gray. Cecil were Ears instead of Haire.

Thelma Lee were Elephant instead of Seal.

Burl were Fire instead of Sparks.

Rosalie were Oranges instead of Lemmons.

Jimmy were Mouthpiece instead of Reed.

Joyce were East instead of West. Barbara were Black instead of White.

Roy were Sweaters instead of Coates.

Mary Lee were Green instead of Brown.

Dorothy were Hats instead of Capps.

Ethel were Corn instead of Mayes.

Ozona High Joins In Natl. Defense Week

As the future builders of this great country which we possess, the role we must play is a highly important one. But we also have a very important task to do now, and our country needs the help of each and every one of us.

Many of us have brothers that have given up a great deal to join Uncle Sam's forces for their year of training. Those who have to stay at home or go to school wonder how we can help. There must be some way, but how?

This is National Defense Week in all of the high schools all over the United States, and Ozona High School wants to take this responsibility seriously.

The Treasury Department has provided an answer to your question of how you can help? On the first of May in banks and post offices in every city, town, and community in the United States, there was placed on sale a new type of Defense Savings Bonds and Stamps. The smallest Defense Savings Bond cost $18.75. We may buy such a bond, or we can buy postal Savings or Defense Stamps at prices ranging from ten cents on up to $5 each. When we buy these stamps we are giving an attractive album in which to paste them. Purchase these stamps as often as you can, and when you have saved $18.75 in stamps, you can exchange it for a bond.

Maybe you think your nickel or dime wouldn't be worth much, so why bother? But just think if the boy or girl next to you, or the boy or girl next to them, and so on down the line gave a nickel or a dime each week, we would soon be able to equip our own army. Just think of the stamps you could buy by giving up a soda or candy now and then! You have everything to gain by such purchases, because you're not only helping Uncle Sam a great deal, but these stamps never decline in value.

The idea is not to buy a stamp just now and then, but make it a habit, as often as you can. Your government needs your help.

When your brother or some friend comes home on furlough, you can exhibit proof that you, too, are doing all you can to back them up.

So don't wait any longer. BUY YOUR DEFENSE SAVING STAMPS TODAY.

COGITATION

CHARLES McDONALD, judging by his remarks, must have a keen sense of humor. An attractive girl is ZELLA THURMAN. BILLY SPARKMAN is a new member but an old friend in the freshman class. Welcome back from the sick list is MERVIN McLAUGHLIN. ROY COATES thinks that he can trade his saving stamps for the battleship shown on the front of his booklet. DICK HENDERSON says that he doesn't like English class because it makes him think. (The class has the opinion that he was bragging). FLORENCE'S hair is beautiful. wave up on wave. it even has the Atlantic Ocean beaten. JOYCE is so popular when she has candy. and other times of course (ahem) or am I copying from Red? MISS KIRBIE works so hard on the paper. but don't we all. Not. BILL and BILLY are so helpful (I don't think). Adele is certainly a good supervisor. BOOCHIE helps, too. MR. SIKES is so witty. How's my geometry? ETHEL mumbles all the time. what about. ETHEL? MERVIN will get to play basketball after Christmas. He's happy and so are we. GEM ELLA thinks JIMMY PHARR has beautiful eyes. And so do some little Sophomores. Aw heck. This is silly; I'm disgusted; the bell is ringing. so I'll quit! Aren't you glad?

WHAT IF

Only the "SMART UNS" had to take geometry and the rest of us could drop it. No one failed a course this six weeks. All the classes made the same record that the Juniors did toward National Defense.

CAN YOU IMAGINE

No one being tardy. All the Pep Squad out to practice some morning. BURL SPARKS being a chatter-box. MARY V. making a great deal of noise.

IF I HAD MY WAY

By Jack Sawyer

Have you ever had one of those glorious dreams when your every wish was obeyed? If I had such a dream, I would center it around the Ozona High School.

The first phase of this so-called "dream" would be to establish a boys' home economics class. In this class boys who think they are going to be bachelors can learn to fry potatoes, darn socks, and make up beds. Others, such as those who plan to enter the army, can learn to make up beds and bunks. With this experience, a girl couldn't persuade a man to marry her because she says, "You need someone to take care of you."

Think it over, boys, think it over. The second phase of this "dream" would be to establish regular physical education classes. This would build up the physical fitness of our students as well as create an interest in all sports. Some people, such as Glenn Cunningham, holder of the world's record for the mile run, have started exercising to cure some physical defect; and ended up by becoming famous for some physical feats which they have performed.

ing famous for some physical feats which they have performed. If someone doesn't like a certain sport, constant practice will create an interest in that sport, and the person will learn how to play it better and better. Think it over, athletes, think it over.

The third phase of this "dream" would be to increase the credit received from bad work from one-half to one credit each year and to issue band jackets to all members of the regular band. To increase the band credit could help anyone who needed extra credits to graduate. Under the present system, if a student takes band four years, he will get two credits for the work. If this change could be made, he would receive four credits; consequently, he would graduate with two more credits to his honor than he would if this plan wasn't in effect. To issue jackets would increase interest in the band and also serve as a distinguishing factor for all band students. If more interest would be aroused, more students would join the band; the more students in the band, the better the band would be. This it over musicians, think it over.

The fourth phase would be to establish an honor roll and honor society system. Under the present system, a student makes what grades he can; he receives no recognition for good grades; he forgets the bad grades; and starts over again. If an honor roll and honor society plan would be adopted, the students would be inspired to make better grades through keener competition, receive public recognition for good grades, and get help from the honor students to bring up bad grades. This system could be worked out in this way: When a student's average for a six-weeks' period was above 90, his name would be placed on the honor roll. Let the person who had the highest average for the six-weeks' period be appointed into the honor society. If there were six new members each year, this would make the total membership in the honor society between 19 and 24 at all times; for six seniors would graduate each year and there would be but 19 members then. The purpose of such an honor society would be to help other students to bring up their grades by helping them to understand their subjects better. Also, the poor students would bring up their own grades by trying to become a member of the honor society. Think it over, scholars, think it over.

The fifth step would be to require at least three girls to take physics each year. We poor ten boys surely get lonesome sometimes. Apart from the experiments, the only thing which keeps this class alive is the jokes that are told. After all, girls can learn as much about the phenomena of nature as boys can. (We don't learn very much). Think it over, girls, think it over.

Some people might think it glorious to have their every wish obeyed, but I don't. There would be too many radical changes made

Echoes From The Library

by Florence Luther

If you ever ask cause of European wars, here is your answer summed up in this book, "Why Europe Fights."

The author of this book, Walter Millis, writes in the foreword: "The purpose of this book is a modest one. It offers no contribution to history. It attempts nothing more than a simple, but factually accurate, interpretation of the broad complex of forces and events which led, within 21 years from the end of the last great war in Europe, to the outbreak of another."

This book is the first clear, integrated picture of the underlying reasons for war.

"Why Europe Fights" would add to the emotional stability of any man if he would sit down and quietly read it.

Wild Life Film Shown At Special Assembly

On Tuesday, Oct. 28, a special assembly was held in the auditorium. A picture show entitled "Wild Life in the Southwest" was shown. The picture was in color, and the scenery that was shown in some of the sequences was very beautiful. Animals of various kinds were shown. Some of the most interesting pictures were those of the deer. The picture was put out by the department of wild life in Austin. There were given several interesting items during the show. Mr. Shannon, the game warden of the district, also visited during the show.

Manuscripts Of Six Uncle Remus Stories In U. Of T. Collection

AUSTIN, Nov. 5--Original manuscripts of six Joel Chandler Harris stories about Uncle Remus are high spots in an extensive collection of American literary manuscripts now on exhibition here in the internationally famous Rare Book Collections of the University of Texas Library.

Written in ink on long sheets of ruled paper, the six stories are from the group entitled "Nights with Uncle Remus." They are "The Moon in the Mill Pond," "Brother Rabbit Takes Some Exercise," "Why Brother Bare Has No Tail," "How Brother Rabbit Frightened His Neighbors," "Mr. Man Has Some Meat," and "How Brother Rabbit Got the Meat."

Other well-known American authors represented by original manuscripts in the library are Emerson, Twain, Thoreau, Irving, Longfellow, Hawthorne, Whitman, O'Henry, Lowell, Eugene Field, Holmes, Poe and Kate Douglas Wiggin. Also shown is a collection of autographs of all the American presidents.

The University Library's rare book collections have long been widely known as one of the world's greatest library treasure houses. Its

Explode Theory Of Contamination Of Food In Tin Cans

AUSTIN, Nov. 12--"Keep it in the can," suggests Dr. O. E. Williams, University of Texas food bacteriologist who recently returned to the campus from six years of research for the National Canceries' Association.

Out to shatter a superstition grown hoary through the years, Dr. Williams declared there is no reason for taking food from cans except to eat it. The can, when opened, is a perfectly safe place for storing the edibles, but it should be kept in a cool place.

Citing precedent from his stand, Dr. Williams points to a recent U. S. Department of Agriculture publication which declares cans are probably safer for food than kitchen utensils because cans are generally cleaner.

Here We Go Again

In the outdoor world you never know what's what. Last month we told you that the white bass was a true bass all right but that the large- and smallmouth bass were not--they belong to the sun-fish family. We've told you about a certain hare being a rabbit and a certain rabbit being a hare. All of this is true. (Sure--it gets us too. Pretty soon we will be calling black white and vice versa.) And now we find out that the well-known turkey buzzard is not a buzzard at all but a vulture! Now, who knows a certain vulture that is a buzzard?

was both a sensational chunk and a sensational catch, Mustard going at a dead run to take the throw far toward the west side of the pay zone.

The Lions were slow in taking off during the first half. The first quarter saw both teams presenting serious threats, but dogged defense stopped each short of a marker. The Lions pressed to the Sonora 20 but bogged down. Sonora's Cooper, Hudson and company went to work and drove the ball to Ozona's 35 where the Lion line stiffened and the ball went over.

The locals seemed destined for a tally in the second frame after Wayne West had recovered a fumble on Ozona's 15, and the locals started a march that stalled at the 9-yard line in Sonora territory.

The visitors put on their most determined drive in the final quarter, putting the locals on the defensive most of the way. The Bronchs, sparked by Hudson, Cooper, and Ory pushed the ball to Ozona's 15, on passes and a neat spin that sent Cooper around end and through the line for nice gains. Cox knocked down the fourth down pass on that rally on the Ozona five-yard stripe.

As has been the case throughout the season, Ozona's hard-charging linemen were outstanding contributors to the Peace Day victory. West, Thurman, Lemmons, Williams, and Bill Carson furnished power for clearing the way on offense and formed a formidable barrier to the Bronchs' ground-gaining attempts. The

Plans For Guest Day, Young Artist Series Made By Music Club

Announced plans for a guest-day observance in the form of a costume affair to be held in the courtroom Tuesday evening, Nov. 25, and for presentation of three outstanding young West Texas violinists in the near future were heard when the Ozona Music Club met Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Bryan McDonald, with Mrs. Morris Dudley assisting the hostess.

The three young violinists to be presented here include Larry Bishop, young son of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Bishop, former Ozonans, now of Mertzton, Gean Wilson and Carrie Mae Ridley of San Angelo. A committee to arrange for presentation of these young artists was named by the president, Mrs. Neal Hannah, including Mrs. Arthur Allen, Mrs. L. B. Townsend and Mrs. V. I. Pierce.

Also announced as future entertainment programs by the club are a series of musical motion pictures to be given the first Monday evening in each of the months of December, January, February and March. This series includes Igor Gorin, baritone, in December; the Coolidge String Quartet in January; Jose Iturbi, pianist, in February, and Vronsky and Babin, duo pianists, in March. The motion pictures will be shown at the high school.

The Monday meeting opened with a group of patriotic songs led by Mrs. McDonald, with Mrs. Hannah at the piano. A parliamentary drill in the form of a musical quiz was directed by Mrs. Rex Russell, with Miss Dorothy Hannah assisting at the piano.

Reports of officers and chairmen were heard. A change in the meeting hour for regular program was announced, from 3 o'clock to 3:15 p. m., the change to be effective for all meetings the balance of the season.

Mrs. J. M. Dudley was appointed recording secretary to fill the vacancy created by the resignation of Mrs. C. J. Van Zandt.

likely will face the Lakeview team, probable 8B champions, for the bidistrict go. The 8B business is in something of a muddle just at present, with Lakeview and Bronte tied in the district race, and each with one more game to play. Bronte must play Robert Lee and Lakeview must take on Miles. If both win these last games, and they will barring an upset, district committeemen will probably be called upon for a decision. But Lakeview is expected to get the call in any event, for it is understood that the Bronte crew will have played the maximum number of games, 10, allowed by League rules.

Should the Lions stumble and lose their forthcoming final game against the Eagles, this district would likewise face a tie, between Ozona and the Mason Punchers. Just how such a tie would be decided is not a case for a great deal of worry on the part of Ozona team and fans, who are counting on a determined team asserting superiority on the Eagle lot Thursday of next week.

by transfer of the job to the Army and 107 building contracts have now actually been let. We have been assured by the Army that 240 USO buildings will be ready by December 25.

"Meanwhile, the USO has not been resting on its oars. Throughout the country, and in the Canal Zone, Hawaii, Alaska, Newfoundland and the West Indies, we have 293 units in operation, with 161 as actual clubs for the men in service. More than 600 workers are now on the job, in rented quarters outside the camps, and on 24-hour duty with troops on maneuvers."

Hunters Await—

the same as for white-tail deer—November 16 through December 31. But if you hunt Mule deer west of the Pecos River, the open season is restricted to November 16 through November 30.

In every county save one, the bag limit on white-tailed deer is the same—two bucks per season. The exception is Brown County, which by a special law passed this year now has open season, but a bag limit restricted to one buck per season.

The bag limit on blacktail or Mule deer is uniform west of the Pecos, the bag limit is two per season.

A great many counties have no season on either deer or turkey. For a list of those counties you'd better consult your Digest of the Game Laws. If you haven't obtained a copy of the Digest as yet, write to the Game, Fish and Oyster Commission at Austin, and one will be sent to you free of charge.

The wild turkey open season is the same as that for deer and bear—November 16 to December 31, inclusive. Generally the bag limit is three gobblers per season, but in 21 Central and West Texas counties, ranging all the way from Gillespie, Kerr and other "hill country" counties all the way over to El Paso County) the turkey bag limit is two gobblers per season.

Reports to the Executive Secretary from Game Wardens and other field men over the state bring the cheerful information that deer and turkey are more plentiful than in years, due to excellent food and cover conditions, and a growing tendency on the part of the public to protect game.
