I am always amazed at many interpretations as to what I mean by my comments. Many times when I have said in this column that I am stunned and get an issue to read it again. I am, with the exception of a printing error, I find I have said exactly what I thought I said.

Last week for instance, I aired my views about the postal strike. I can't read the comments I received from people who sincerely believed that I was airing my views on the local office. In re-reading last week's column, not once did I find a mention of the post office.

Every ten years it is every citizen's duty to stand up and be counted in this country and now is the time. You received a simple form to fill out in your home recently and your enumerator will be around to ask you a few questions. The answers will be recorded on your part and your enumerator will finish the form. Every fifth household will be required to fill out a long form in the presence of the enumerator.

If it falls your lot to fill out the longer form, please cooperate with your enumerator. If you refuse, someone will be sent out from the district office with the longer form. This is not an invasion of your privacy, it is only for statistics and is classified information. Your enumerator is unauthorized not to reveal any information given her during the taking of the census.

It is most important that Texas be counted in the census figures will be used to reapportion voting districts along the one man-one vote lines. Since the one man one vote rule has been in effect, West Texas has had less representation in Austin and Washington than ever before. So don't fail to be counted.

Incidentally, the enumerators will be easily identifiable. Each census taker will wear a red, white and blue identification card, bearing the seal of the Department of Commerce, and the words "U.S. Census Enumerator, Official Credential" are printed on its face. It bears the enumerator's signature and indicates that she is authorized to perform the duties of a census enumerator and to obtain to keep confidential census information provided.

Trucks are needed for the house-to-house drive in Crockett County this year. Anyone able to help in the house-to-house drive, which will be held on April 21, is asked to call the District office and give name and telephone number before April 17.

One of the many services provided by the Red Cross has been of more help to Ozonians than all of the other services lumped together. In the 1954 flood, 238 families were helped in their need. The Red Cross was on the scene in a matter of hours helping the victims. During the reconstruction period following the flood, the Red Cross provided more than $200,000 in aid for flood-damaged housing, building homes and helping families get back into the routine of normal living. If you have had the opportunity to see the

Queen of the May Candidates

CINCO DE MAYO Festival, slated May 2 and 3 at Our Lady of Perpetual Help Catholic church, will feature one of the above young ladies as Queen to reign over the festivities. Now engaged in a spirited campaign for election as the May Queen are Miss Lupe Borrego, left, and Miss Sylvia Vitela.

Two Young Ladies Seek Title Of Queen of the May To Rule Over Cinco de Mayo Festival

Miss Sylvia Vitela and Miss Lupe Borrego will vie for Queen of the May crown for the Fiesta de Cinco de Mayo. The annual festival is sponsored by Our Lady of Perpetual Help Church and the girl receiving the most votes will rule over the festivities during the Fifth of May Festival.

Purpose of celebrating the Mexican holiday is to raise funds to help meet the general needs of the parish and the obligations of the Parish Center. The festival is an annual event and will be held here May 2 and 3, the weekend nearest the holiday.

Miss Borrego, representing the St. Joseph's Men's Society of the parish, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Placido Borrego and is a life-long resident of Ozona. She attended Ozona grade and high schools and has been active in various parish affairs. Her campaign managers are Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Sanchez.

Miss Vitela, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Napoleon Vitela, is being sponsored by the Sacred Heart Altar Society of the church. Her campaign managers are Mr. and Mrs. Joe Galvan and Mr. and Mrs. Lupe Fierro. Sylvia is a senior at Ozona High School and has been a member of the Lion band for four years. This year she was elected to the post of Sergeant-at-Arms in the band, and received excellent ratings in the area tryout for State Band. She is a member of the annual staff and has received her 10-year pin in Girl Scouts.

Miss Vitela has been an active member of the 4-H program and won first place in the 1969 Crockett County Senior Dress Revue.

Many activities are being planned between now and May by both groups and the general public is urged to support either or both of the young ladies in their bid for Queen of the Festival.

Little League Tryouts Start Mon. Afternoon

Ozonia's Little League season gets underway with tryouts starting Monday at the Little League park at 5:30 p. m. Tryouts will continue daily for two weeks or until team managers have had an opportunity to look at all boys.

There are places for 25 to 30 boys on the four teams this year according to Little League president Larry Graves. Families moving and age ineligibilities are responsible for the unusually large number of vacancies on the teams. Each team is allowed 15 players.

All boys must file a Little League application and bring a birth certificate before trying out for a team. Graves passed out applications in the elementary schools recently, but very few have been returned. He reminded all boys to get their applications in to their respective principals this week.

There has been one change in the line-up of managers. Alfred Alee will take over as manager of B & B Grocers. Other team managers are the same as last year. Rex Fenton will head up Flying W Ranchers, Richard Fields, Ozona Oilers, and Harold Shaw, Moore Oilers. Each manager is responsible for getting his own coach.

Minor league teams will have places for 20 boys on each team. More help is needed in the minor league in order that all boys can get on a team. Managers so far this season include Bill Ivy, Tony Gomez, Jim Peck and Oscar Fikes.

Anyone interested in helping with the program this summer should call Graves or contact him Monday at the Little League park.

Ozonia To Host First Junior Hi Track Meet Sat.

Ozonia will hold its first annual Cub Relays Saturday. The event will be a track meet for junior varsity and junior high school track teams. Teams entered this year are from Ozona, Big Lake, Sanderson, Iraan, Sonora, and Eldorado.

A championship trophy will be given in the junior varsity division and in the junior high division. Ribbons will be given to the first three places in all events.

Field events will start at 9:30 Saturday morning and running events at 10 o'clock. Junior high will run first in each event. Each division will have 14 events.

Ozonians To Elect Four Trustees To School Board Sat.

In the absence of a large write-in campaign, the four men whose names appear on the ballot for the four places on the school board are sure to be elected for two-year terms Saturday when the school board election is held.

On the ballot for re-election are Bud Cox, Charlie Fuentos, and Bill Seahorn. F. C. Perner, whose term expires this year, did not seek re-election, and Joe Bean has filed in his place.

Everybody will vote at the courthouse. Polls open at 8.

18th Annual Quarter Horse Show Set May 23

The 18th Annual Ozonia Quarter Horse Show and Performance Contest, sponsored by the Ozonia Roping Club, will be held May 23. Rules governing the show are set forth in the AQHA Handbook, 17th edition, Jan. 1, 1970.

L. D. Kirby is chairman of the show this year and Bill Watson, secretary. Earl Acton will be ring steward.

There will be four divisions, youth activity halter division, adult halter classes, youth performance classes and adult performance classes.

For the first time in several years this year a cutting horse contest has been added in the adult performance classes. This event draws much spectator interest and is an outstanding addition to the show.

Entry fee for youth, single and 18 years of age or under, is $5 in both divisions and adult entry fee is $10.

Body of Murdered Louisiana Man Found On Ranch Road Near Here Officers Seek Clues To Slayers

Former Ozonian Is Murdered In Arlington Home

Mrs. W. V. Adwell, former Ozonia resident, was found murdered Tuesday morning in her home in Arlington. She was found in her bedroom by her maid. From reports received here, Mrs. Adwell was bludgeoned to death. Officers said she was struck with a blunt instrument. Her hands were taped behind her back and her feet were bound.

Officials believe that Mrs. Adwell was killed between 9 and 10 o'clock Monday night. The house was broken into through a bedroom window and completely ransacked. Mrs. Adwell's jewelry was missing, according to her son, Bernie Adwell, local theatre owner who left for Arlington after hearing the news around noon Tuesday.

Autopsy findings were not complete at press time. News reports yesterday said police are investigating several clues to the identity of the killer or killers.

Funeral services for Mrs. Adwell were held today in Grandview. Surviving are her son, Bernie, and several grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Adwell came to Ozonia around 30 years ago and purchased the theatre here. They operated it until the early 1950s when they retired and moved to Arlington, turning the operation of the theatre over to their son. Mr Adwell died a few years ago.

Grand Jury To Probe Shooting, Marijuana Case

An unusually light docket will face the 112th district court when the April term is convened here Monday, April 6. There are no civil cases scheduled and only three criminal matters to come before the court.

The three cases up for consideration of the grand jury include the death of G. W. (Bill) Snively by gunshot several weeks ago, a marijuana charge against an El Paso man and a D. W. I. charge against an out-of-county man.

A panel of 18 prospective grand jurors has been summoned by Sheriff Billy Mills. The grand jury panel will report Monday, opening day of court, and will be impaneled by District Judge Charles Sherrill of Fort Stockton.

Summoned for jury duty are Joe Bean, Jack Baggett, Roy Bentley, Bill Watson, Mrs. P. L. Childress, Mrs. Jim Egan, Van Miller, Frank McMullan, Jr., Weldon Maness, Jose M. Sanchez, Mrs. Bill Armstrong, Bob Bailey, Dempster Jones, Johnny Jones, Mrs. Joe Couch, Romulo Vela, Eugene Miller and Arthur Kyle.

Mrs. Bill Pagan is expected to return to her home here today from the Big Lake hospital after undergoing minor surgery there Tuesday.

The body of a man found murdered on a country road near here Friday morning was identified Saturday as that of Roy C. Lahey, 26, of Lake Charles, La. Identification was made through a laundry mark on a trouser pocket. He was a sky diver and had recently completed a show in Louisiana. Contacts there said he was on his way to California.

Dorris Haire, local manager for Pioneer Natural Gas Co., discovered the body on a ranch road about 15 miles west of Ozonia around 9 a. m. Friday morning. He had been shot in the head and chest with a small caliber weapon. There was also a stab wound in the chest area. There was blood on the ground near the body, but nothing to indicate the man had put up a fight.

The body was partially concealed by a cedar bush in the right-of-way of the road, which was about 3/10 of a mile north off Hwy 290. He was fully dressed except for shoes and officers determined that he had not walked to the place where his body was found. His pockets had been turned inside out, and the only chance of identification was the laundry mark.

His car, a 1970 Volkswagen, light blue, Louisiana license plates number 90-B 523, was found in Fort Stockton near the bus station. There was no blood in the car and no signs of a struggle of any kind. Officers were unable to find anyone who saw the car after it was driven to Fort Stockton. Condition of the body indicated that the killing took place early Thursday night so officers surmise the car was driven to Fort Stockton and parked later that night.

Officers think Lahey was traveling with someone he knew or that he had picked up hitchhikers and was robbed and murdered. Crockett County Sheriff Billy Mills and the Department of Public Safety are investigating the crime.

An autopsy was ordered by Peace Justice A. O. Fields shortly after the body was found Friday. The body was taken to San Antonio by a James Funeral Home ambulance for the autopsy. Services and burial will be in Cincinnati where Lahey's parents live.

Census Takers Begin Collecting Mailed Forms

Blanks for the 1970 census of population and housing were mailed Saturday to all patrons of the post office in Crockett county. Anyone missed in the mailing may pick up a blank at the post office.

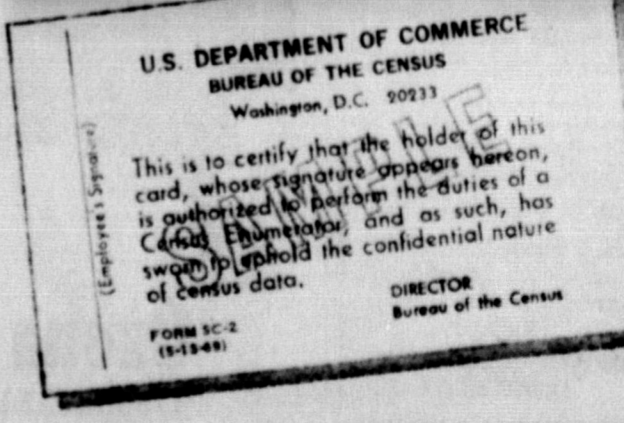

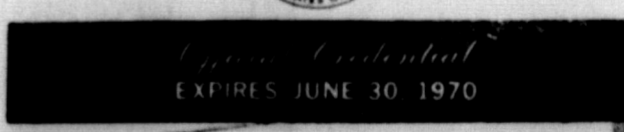

All mail patrons have received the same form, but every fifth return, determined by lot only, will have an extra and more detailed questionnaire to be completed in an interview with the enumerator.

Mrs. Mavis McCulloch of San Angelo is the crew leader for Crockett County, Irion and part of Tom Green. Four enumerators have been approved for Crockett County and attended a 2-day training school in San Angelo Monday and Tuesday. The enumerators began picking up forms yesterday and assisting with them when requested.

The Crockett County crew under the leadership of Mrs. McCulloch is made up of Mrs. Tommy Harris, Mrs. Ed Collett, Mrs. Jack Tankersley and Mrs. Winnie Allen. The four have been carefully instructed during the training period as to their responsibilities. All information on census blanks will be kept in strict confidence. A breach of security regulations by workers subjects the offender to possible jail sentence or fine.

Residents are urged to have the questionnaires filled out when the enumerator calls at the household.

NEW SONGS FOR THE ANGELS

You're showing your age if you can remember songs that everybody could sing.

It's true. Once upon a time everybody in the family could gather around the piano or hunker around a $2.50 ukulele and sing like crazy. 'Twasn't at all like now when most music (?) can't possibly be sung much less harmonized; all you can do is listen to it.

Of course, to have great songs that everybody could sing, you first had to have great, talented song writers. Like Harry M. Woods.

Harry Woods came up when there was nobody to give a dime to "the poor". He worked his way through college by taking on jobs which included, among other things, playing the piano in a Boston, Massachusetts, movie theatre for $1.50 a week. How long ago was that? 1921, when Harry Woods brilliant, talented, and broke, graduated from Harvard. Woods began writing his great music in between back-bending work in the Massachusetts cranberry bogs. Immediate success of "When the Red Red Robin Comes Bob Bob Bobbing Alone" gave him confidence to seek his fortune in Tin Pan Alley in New York and genius took over. In the 1920s, 1930s, and 1940s, Harry Woods turned out such great song hits as "When the Moon Comes Over the Mountain" (which helped, also, to make Kate Smith famous.) "I'm Looking Over a Four Leaf Clover," "Side by Side," "River, Stay Way From My Door," "Just an Echo in the Valley," "Little Street Where Old Friends Meet," "Your Flag and My Flag," "The Voice in the Old Village Choir," "Puddin' Madelin Home," "Heigh Ho, Everybody, Heigh Ho," and 350 others.

Mr. Woods said he lived every song he wrote. Right after he and his wife, Barbara, were married he sold several hit tunes, but money was scarce. "We were having fun. It struck me one day that I'd like to put my feelings for Barbara and our life in music."

"Side by Side" was the song. A few weeks ago, Harry

JUNKIE VS. ANTHROPOLOGIST

The Mount Vernon (Ohio) News discovered an interesting rebuttal to recent testimony by left-leaning Dr. Margaret Mead advocating the legalizing of marijuana. The Ohio newspaper found "the other side" in a prison newspaper published by convicts at the Chillicothe Correction Institute. The opposing view was written by an inmate, Herb Watts. Mr. Watts wrote:

"The only qualifications I have is the fact that I have been an addict for 10 years and a drug user for longer than I care to mention. I am not trained in Psychology, Psychiatry, Chemistry or Medicine. I am not a social worker or a journalist. I am just a junky with something to say.

"Dr. Mead told a Senate Panel that marijuana should be legalized and that 16 should be the minimum age for its use. She said it was her considered opinion that marijuana is not harmful.

"Unfortunately, some people are physically and temperamentally susceptible, so that they do not stop with the first experiment, and thus continue smoking, drinking, or taking drugs. This can lead to the three phases of abuse: Tolerance, Habituation, Addiction.

"Dr. Mead is telling us 'Pot' is not addictive! Why then, during the current marijuana famine are all of our little grass smokers so frantic?

"If they can take it or leave it alone, why this crazy scramble for substitutes? And pretty far out they are, too, from glue and gasoline tinner to catnip.

The U. S. and Mexico

finally cracked down on the highly profitable smuggling of marijuana. Almost overnight young pot-heads found themselves with nothing to turn to. Cases on the docket prove without a doubt that some of these kids took up 'hash'. Parents, if you hear your kids talking about 'hash' don't be confused into thinking it's the corned-beef variety. They are talking about Hashish - the kind smoked in Oriental horror tales. Half pound bricks are flooding the country, to keep our pot-starved youth from climbing the walls. Now, instead of pot parties, the kids throw hash sessions."

Junkie Watts concluded: "To lagilize the use of marijuana would be a cardinal sin and an unjust burden for immature American youth."

We believe that young people would be far wiser if they would listen to Herb Watts, and not to Margaret Mead. And although Mr. Watts says he is not a journalist, we hope that as soon as he gets the drug monkey off his back, he will apply for a newspaper writing job

The Ignoble Experiment

Even as Prohibition was termed the "noble experiment" — while it lasted, we have now reached the point in our experience when forced integration may be termed the "ignoble experiment." Almost 16 years after the U. S. Supreme Court rulings in the school cases, it is clear that the judicial policies set by the court are not working and actually are damaging to all Americans regardless of race, creed or color.

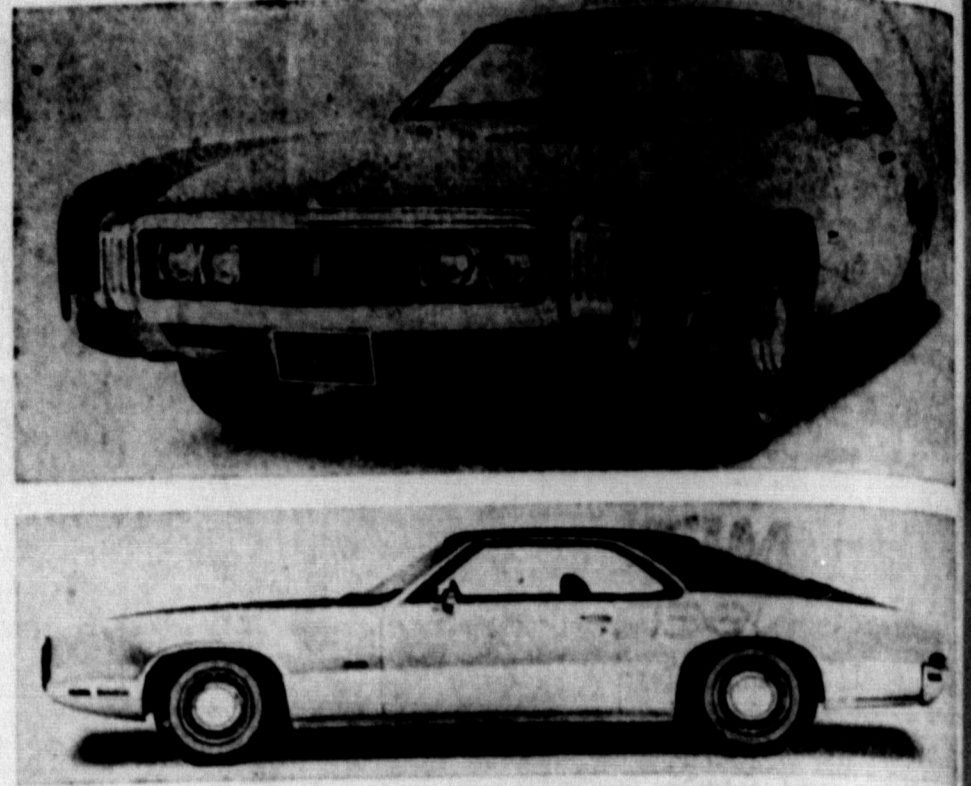

The social theorists who developed the notion of compulsory association did not take account of what is practical in human affairs. The fact is that, today, black Americans increasingly insist on freedom to associate with their own group.

The nation should have known from the beginning that forced association would not work and would prove unacceptable to both major racial groups in the country. The Presidents of this country, from Thomas Jefferson to Harry Truman, especially including Abraham Lincoln, have made strong statements to this effect over the years.

The net result of the crusade for forced association has been to worsen race relations in many areas, to disrupt or breakdown the educational process, and to slowdown the progress of the people most in need of it. In the 1960s, the federal government demonstrated its powder to compel the states to alter their laws and educational systems. But the government failed miserably at constructive efforts involving education. Had forced association not been placed ahead of educational values, real learning would have been advanced at a rapid rate among people with a low level of educational attainment.

The error of forced association was not recognized while court orders requiring it were confined to the Southern States. But once the problem of forced association became national in scope, then the public began to recognize the folly of court decisions requiring racial balking and similar measure.

So now, at long last, the nation begins to take a new look at the whole question of association in a free country. In the North and the West, for example, there is a fresh awareness of the importance of preserving or restoring the neighborhood school and the error of transporting students hither and yon in order that classrooms have a precise racial composition. Before long, the U. S. Supreme Court may be compelled to reexamine its central thesis on the psychological effects of racial separation in education, if for no other reason than that many black Americans want their children to attend schools in their home neighborhood where surroundings are familiar and fellow students have the same background.

Oldsmobile's front wheel drive Toronado, for 1970, reflects the most extensive change in appearance since the car was introduced in the fall of 1965. It is sleeker looking, with a distinctive new shape to the wheel openings, a new front end, including a new grille and exposed headlamps, and a more elegant than ever interior decor.

Indeed it seems clear that if the nation seriously wants to improve educational opportunity and upgrade unskilled people for better employment it will have to dispense with the concepts of compulsion that only irritate and upset people and don't add to their real knowledge or capabilities.

Forced association, of course, is derived from the general socialistic philosophy of compulsion — the idea that people must be made to do what social theorists think is good for them. The idea of government selecting a person's associates, of course, is ridiculous and should have been so regarded years ago. Had compulsion been seen as the greatest social evil, the country would have been spared the internal agonies and high costs that have resulted from the 1954 Supreme Court decisions.

Progress in a republic should come through voluntary association and through partnership. Progress cannot come from edicts regarding association. Certainly, public education has not been improved by the fact that the Supreme Court has acted as the ultimate school board superintendent for the nation.

Both white and black Americans want a happier era than the country has had in the last 15 years. They want a calmer atmosphere in the public schools and better instruction in the classroom that lead to higher education and saleable skills. They want peaceful neighborhoods. And they want a federal government to be writing the rules for association and other personal aspects of community life. Hopefully, the country will acknowledge the failure of the "ignoble experiment" and move on to more sensible and constructive ways helping everybody get ahead in an enterprise society.

HIGH SCHOOL HOROSCOPE

By Elizabeth Jones

Back to the old grind again. 36 days of this is all that's left. By the way, it's only 31 for seniors.

This week is finally coming to and end. After the holidays, it was hard to come back to the lively halls of OHS. From one source of information, the grape vine has it that the halls of OHS were livelier during the holidays than they are during school.

Six weeks tests are here again. Late night hours to look forward to for the last time for the seniors. It gets harder and harder to study as the year goes on. Spring fever has struck and struck hard, but with only 36 days left, who can really complain.

- Lock up all dangerous substances.

- Read all labels and carefully follow "caution" statements. Even if a chemical is not labeled "poison," incorrect use may be dangerous.
- Do not eat or serve foods which smell or look abnormal, and remember that they may poison household and farm animals.
- Be sure all poisons are clearly marked. This can be done by sealing with adhesive tape or using a special marker.
- When you throw away drugs or hazardous materials, be sure the contents cannot be reached by children or pets.
- Warn small children not to eat or drink drugs, chemicals, plants, or berries they find — without your approval. Insist on this.
- Use cleaning fluids with adequate ventilation only, and avoid breathing vapors.
- Protect your skin and eyes when using insect poisons, weed killers, solvents, and cleaning agents. Be sure to wash thoroughly after using such things, and promptly
- remove any contaminated clothing at once.
- Do not allow food or food utensils to become contaminated when using insect sprays, aerosol mists, rat poisons, weed killers, or cleaning agents.
- Do not take or give medicine in the dark. Be sure you can clearly read the label on the container.
- Give infants and young children drugs only as directed by your physician.
- Read all directions and caution statements on the drug label each time you plan to use the medicine.
- Before measuring liquid medicines, always shake the bottle thoroughly.
- Safeguard tablets and capsules — especially those which are candied, flavored, or colored — by storing them in safety containers which children find hard to open.
- Do not take medicine from an unlabeled bottle; transparent tape protects the label.
- Date all drug supplies when you buy them.
- Use a prescription drug only for the patient for whom the physician ordered it.

YOUTH RALLY

By Cynthia Harrell

An interfaith youth rally was held in the Ozona United Methodist Church last Sunday, with the youth of the Eldorado, Sonora, and Ozona churches attending.

The songs, Pass It On, Do You Really Care?, Love Is Surrender, and He's My Everything, were sung at the beginning of the program. The young people from out of town marched in from the foyer of the church during the singing of these modernized hymns and stood at the front near the band. The band accompanying the youth consisted of trumpets, guitars, drums, and a piano.

The theme of the youth rally, which was attended by approximately 300 youth and 50 adults was "Tell It Like It Is." After the opening songs, the youth (and some adults) stood and testified about Christian love meant to them, and how having a strong belief in Christian teachings can change a person's outlook on life.

After two hours of witnessing, those attending went to the front of the church to thank the Baptist, Methodist, and Presbyterian preachers from Ozona, Eldorado, and Sonora for helping the youth of those various churches sponsor such a program. The youth then sat down once again to hear a short speech by the preacher of the Baptist Church of Eldorado. After this short speech, the witnessing continued. According to one minister, the purpose of the youth rally was to help communicate to both the youth and the adults the importance of the Christian religion in today's world.

Another youth rally moderated after this first one was held in the Ozona Baptist Church last Wednesday night.

HISTORY
By Diana Deaton & David Hoover

We declare this the history of the 1970 graduating class:

Mike Haire was the stud of kindergarten because he used greasy kid stuff on his hair and always had beautiful hair and wore fringed cowboy shirts. Diana never got to play the sandblocks because she couldn't keep rhythm.

BUT WISHING WON'T MAKE IT SO!

Mrs. Gotcher told Ned and Steve to stop running around the desks and so they started walking around the desks and were sent to the principal's office. There they hid under Mr. Jane's desk.

Bluebirds were the great group in kindergarten and they got to monitor the restrooms.

Our kindergarten group was also very patriotic because every day we would march around the room carrying flags beating on drums and singing Soldier Boy.

In first grade we gained Gale Cavanaugh, Rusty Clements, Ray Collins, Jean Conn, Kathy Conner, Buddy Harrell, Shirley Lawrence, David Williams, Kathy Montgomery, Otis Peyton, Ed Simmons, Virginia Tolle, Bobbie West, Burl Adwell, Joyce Chancey, Johnette Dozier, James Fish, Jerry Hooper, Carla Howerton, Steven Hubbard, David Johnson, Cissy Knox, Ben Lemmons, Judy McAllister, Sue Neel, Jimmy Armsby, Debbie Parker, Norman Smith, Eugene Vinson, Woody Wood, Steve Annette, Ricky Glondell, Marcia Henderson, Wesley Keys, Sidney Collier, Bradley Harris, Randy Scott, Graham Townshend, Carla Skelton, Mary Jane and Mary Frances Martinez.

Diana was the meanest first grader.

Everybody played like they were horses. Marque could always neigh louder than anybody else.

All the boys hunted for horned toads in the draw at lunch.

Ned threw-up on Miss Blankenship's desk. Steve got his first second dressed. Mike Womack and Betsy had a deal. When the bell rang, if Mike put his chair up before Betsy then he got to kiss her, and if Betsy won Mike had to go straight home.

Virginia Tolle stole Ned's red crayolas and when the teacher asked Virginia if they were Ned's, she said no, that she always bought extra red crayolas.

While Sooner and Moose were swinging Hubbard across from the Monkey Bars to the slide, somehow they let go and Hubbard fell in the biggest mud puddle on the first grade side of the playground.

In second grade we lost Burl Adwell and gained Lyn Southard and Jeannie Read. This was the year we learned to write like the big boys instead of print.

Sooner and Mike Hair fought over Becky every day and Mike always lost. Sooner became sophisticated this year and was called Gene. Gale Hutchinson taught Diana how to drink from the water fountain without getting wet.

Mary Jane, Mary Frances and all the second grade girls performed in a play and became tremendously excited because they got to wear lipstick. All the girls in Miss Farmer's Christmas play were balloons. In third grade we gained Glenn Davis.

Kathy Lynn fell out of the swing and almost lost her front teeth. Sooner kissed Gwen West on the leg because she could run so fast, and became known as the kissing bandit.

All the girls were Japanese Guishas and Ballerinas in the Christmas play and the boys were Japanese men. Ned and Moose were jack-in-the-boxes. In the most crucial moment Mike Haire ripped David Hoover's wig off.

We seemed to have a knack for running off teachers because that year we had Miss Cox, Mrs. Maness, and Mrs. Kirby.

In fourth grade we lost Gregory Stuart, Guy Hester, and Alton Everett, and gained Tony Cullins, Connie Ellis, Maria Barbee, and Ernest Rios.

Chit Chat at North Elementary, published and edited by Betsy Sikes, Elizabeth Jones, and Diana Deaton, failed because of lack of subscribers. All the girls gathered around and got their first experience of heart-break when Trey Calkins moved away. The girls all lined up to kiss him goodbye. This was the year we got to eat at the big cafeteria with the high school kids.

In fifth grade we gained Joe Cantu and Tony Wheeler. Steve Hubbard broke Mike Baker's glasses with his face in them and Mike cried all the way home. We were the big kids of north elementary school and at lunch we each got our turn at safety patrol to help the little kids across the street.

Tony Cullins was the first to experience throwing a spitwad in the fan and hit Miss Hamilton on the head. All the boys would chew licorish one day and tobacco the next day to confuse the teachers.

Peas in a Pod?

All men are created equal! But their mothers see it differently. And their fathers don't hand out cigars simply to attest to their part in the population explosion.

It's natural to believe that our child is just a bit different from all the others.

Surely he has our love to start him off, our good sense to guide his development and our convictions to mold his.

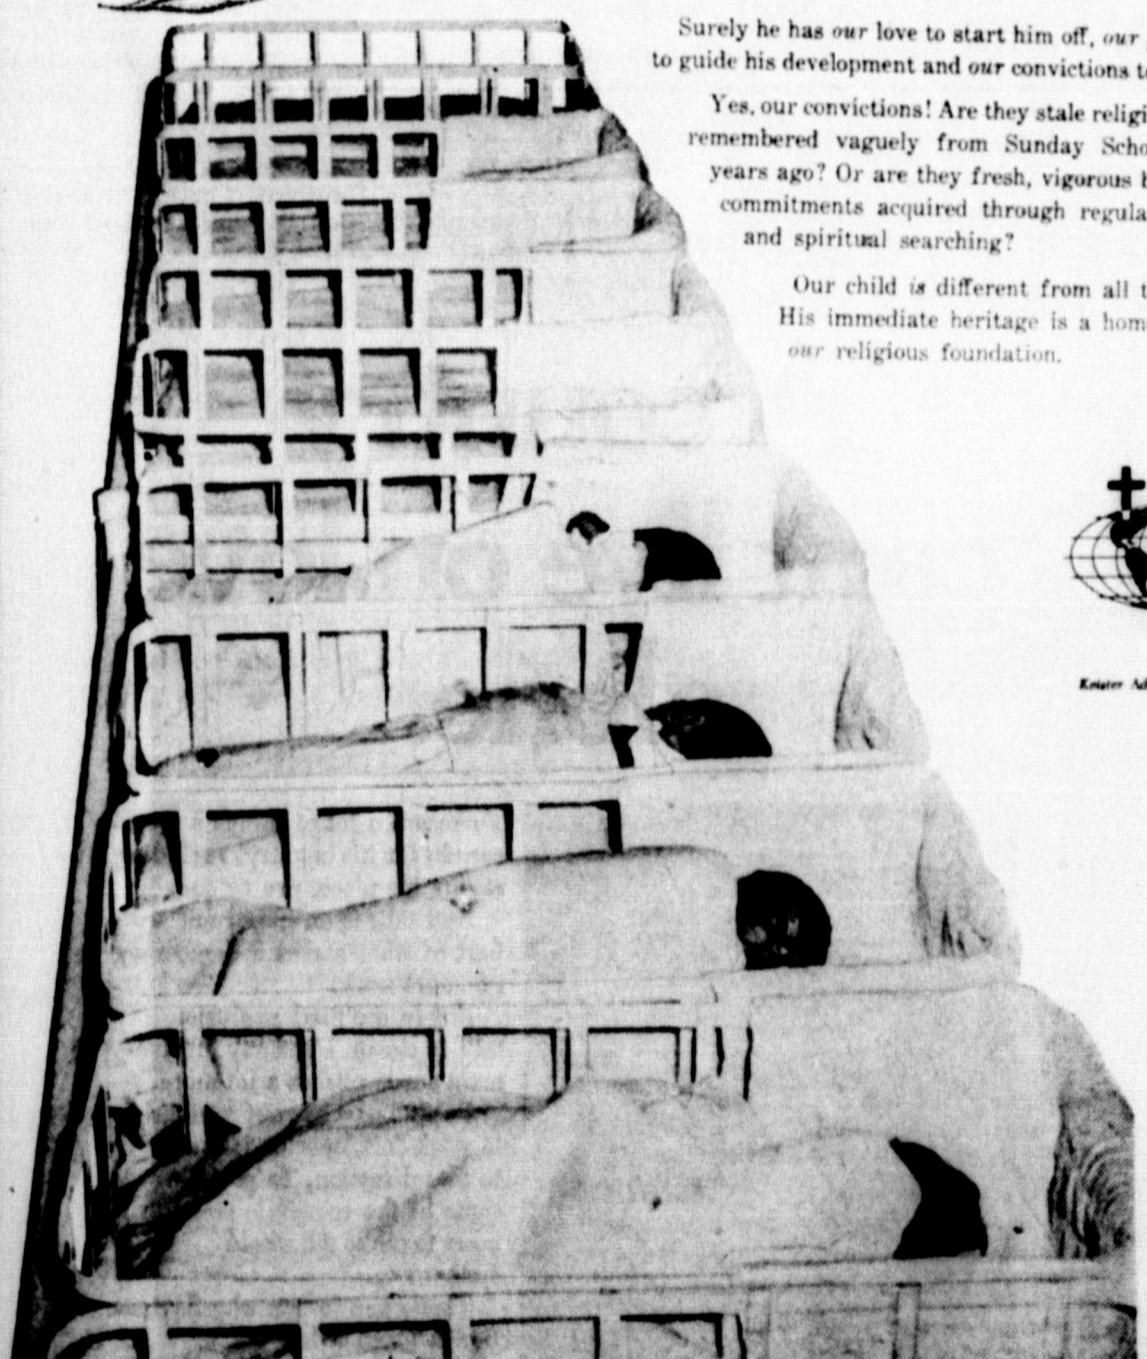

Yes, our convictions! Are they stale religious cliches remembered vaguely from Sunday School lessons years ago? Or are they fresh, vigorous beliefs and commitments acquired through regular worship and spiritual searching?

Our child is different from all the others. His immediate heritage is a home built on our religious foundation.

Peter Pays Paul

The old epigram concerning robbing Peter to pay Paul has usually been considered the epitome of futility, but yet in the present day United States of America this seems a common practice.

Before President Nixon took office, the Congress raised the presidential salary from $100,000 to $200,000 per year. Obviously, compared to the salaries of the chief executives of some lesser organizations, this is still below scale. And probably there is no way to determine what is a fair pay check for the American president, as there is no job in the world to compare with.

But then comes the silly part of this whole procedure. Newspapers immediately reported that out of this $200,000 the President will have a take home pay of some $78,000 per year, with the balance taxes.

Thus, for the President of the United States, as well as every other public employee at all levels, federal, state and local, the taxpayers who pay the salaries actually pay the income taxes for these employees.

Thus, the situation going on could be compared to some hypothetical employer saying to an employee "Look, I'm going to pay you a hundred dollars per week, but you are going to kick back to me twenty-five dollars per week." Of course, any employer who was found out operating in such a manner would be subjected understandably to a great loss and cry.

To further confuse the matter, in order for the tax collector to take back from public employees the tax money paid to them, millions of pieces of paper must be handled, sorted, filed, examined, and shuffled around. And bearing in mind that even people in the armed services, with the exception of the lowest pay grades, are subjected to income taxes, the procedure results in somewhat of a global paper chase.

Of course it can be said that the taxpayers who in this case, are the employees, get the full kickback from the public employees, but this is not accurate either. Obviously, this shuffling of the papers back and forth, the accounting procedures, and other work costs money so that the taxpayer-employers "kickback" are eroded by these costs which might be termed a service charge. In addition, when government goes into a deficit, part of money borrowed at current high interest rates pays these salaries including the "kickbacks".

An end to this financial sleight-of-hand could yield some interesting results such as possibly lower costs to the taxpayers, and a better chance of coming up with a balanced budget. An adjustment of public employee salaries to their present take-home pay level with no taxes imposed would end the twaddleddee twaddledum situation.

Washington News Letter

Congressman O. C. Fisher

THE recent Postal Strike, the first of its kind in our history, came as a shocker to most Americans. It shocked people into the awareness of inherent dangers to our national life, of what massive strikes involving essential services, can bring about.

It was claimed the strikers wanted more pay — and perhaps they deserve more. But the strike was against the Congress and, in a broader and real sense, against the American people. By using such tactics they run the risk of antagonizing the public to the point that in the future — if repeated — postal workers may have trouble getting what they would customarily deserve.

Very few people think they make enough money. Some don't make enough, others are overpaid for what they produce. Some policemen think they are underpaid, and they may be right. But should they all go out on strike? Some firemen think they should make more. But should they all go out on strike? Some GI's think they should receive better pay. But should they unite and go out on strike? In one form or level or another, they are all working for the public.

No, the Congress has provided a forum where all federal employees may through their spokesmen be heard, have their grievances aired, and then resolve the differences between the taxpayers (the employers) and the workers. The Congress then makes the decision. For those who don't like that method, if it is too slow and ineffective for them — well, they are in the wrong business. They should quit working for the public and try something else.

Re-Entry Slated In West Crockett

Burk Gas Co. of Wichita Falls will re-enter and clean out to 3,500 feet for test of an unidentified zone at a Crockett County 6,950-foot wildcat failure, 2,000 feet north and slightly west of the two-well Fergus (upper Grayburg gas) field and five miles southeast of Iran. It is the No. 2 Chalmers-Haltz Production in the Fergus Field is approximately 1,650 feet.

The project previously was drilled by Moore Exploration as the No. 3-C Haltz and plugged and abandoned Oct. 27, 1947.

Location, on a 320-acre lease, is 515 feet from the north and 4,950 feet from the east lines of 69-1-1&GN.

But, really, most of those who work for the public are conscientious and are not in accord with the minority element which is pushing their demands are not concerned with the public interest.

Such striking is now a rather serious federal offense, punishable by a year in prison and a $1,000 fine, plus loss of the job for three years. In addition, it is believed an automatic drop in grade by the striking employee would implement the existing prohibition and make it more effective.

In the case of postal employees, although they have had 17 pay raises since 1945 there appears to be good reason for some increases brought on by the galloping increase in the cost of living. But in achieving that, striking is the worst technique that could be employed.

There simply is no such thing as justification for a strike against the government of the United States.

A country can't live on love alone.

There are a lot of things a man can do for his country. Including saying his piece, pro or con. And talk is an important part of what makes a democracy like ours work. But in the final analysis, talk is cheap. Personal involvement accomplishes a lot more. Putting part of your savings to work for America is a step in that direction. To provide some of the economic strength it takes to make the whole system run. That's one reason why Savings Bonds mean a lot. They help to pay part of the cost of running a country where you're free to speak your mind. And they help you at the same time. With interest and security. So next time you have something to say about America, let your Bond purchases do part of the talking.

ALERT FOR SCREWORMS

Officials of the Screw-worm Eradication Program are concerned over the small number of larvae samples being submitted for identification to the Mission Laboratory. Stockmen are urged to keep up their guards and when larvae are found in animal wounds, it is extremely important that positive identification be obtained. The spring fly season is just ahead and could mean trouble if screwworm cases are permitted to go undetected.

The forms are not difficult to fill out and much time will be saved if each household head completes the questionnaire and keeps it handy until the enumerator calls. However, each enumerator has been trained to assist in filling out the forms where there is difficulty.

It is of extreme importance that everyone be counted in the census. The final count will provide population figures used for all official calculations and statistics for the next ten years.

Pauline Maness Quits Coaching To Resume Studies

Pauline Maness, graduate of Ozona High School, turned in her resignation as Brackettville High School girls basketball coach last week. She plans to return to the University of Texas at El Paso, her alma mater, to resume work on her master's degree.

Miss Maness went to Brackettville from Center Point where she coached basketball and track. Her big claim to fame in track is Nancy Kaiser of Center Point who has the Olympic Committee interested. Nancy ran a 11.3 century to set a regional mark in 1968 and darted off an 11.4 in Krippa the other day.

Under the direction of Coach Maness, the Brackettville girls won the district title this year. Miss Maness is presently coaching volleyball.
