Bridget Belle Dunlap, Forest Ray Henderson, Diana L. Morris, Alice Louise Perner, Darlynn Wilson and Kathryn F. Green Skalak of Ozona, students at Angelo State University in San Angelo, are listed on the Dean's Honor Roll for the spring semester at the University.

Ms. Dunlap, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Dunlap of Ozona, is a 1973 graduate of Ozona High School. She is a freshman general business major at ASU and is listed on the 3.00 to 3.49 honor roll.

Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Ray Henderson of Ozona, is a 1972 graduate of Ozona High School. He is a sophomore chemistry major at ASU and is listed on the 3.00 to 3.49 honor roll.

Ms. Morris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. Max Morris of Ozona, is a 1972 high school graduate. She is a sophomore speech major at the University and is listed on the 3.00 to 3.49 honor roll.

Ms. Perner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Perner of Ozona, is a 1972 graduate of Ozona High School. She is a sophomore English major at ASU and is listed on the 3.00 to 3.49 honor roll.

Ms. Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester H. Wilson of Ozona, is a 1973 graduate of Ozona High School. She is a freshman undeclared major at ASU and is listed on the 3.00 to 3.49 honor roll.

Ms. Skalak, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe R. Green of Ozona, is a 1969 graduate of Big Lake's Reagan High School. She is a senior elementary education major at ASU and is listed on the 3.50 to 4.00 honor roll.

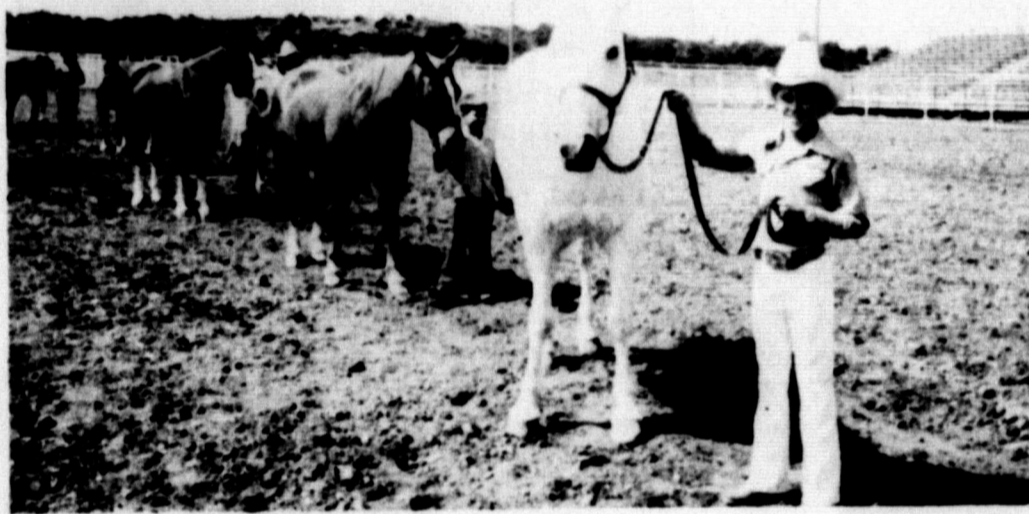

Wool Incentive Program Still In Effect

"Many wool producers have the idea that the Wool Payment Program is no longer active," said Cliff Elder, executive director of the local county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS). "Wool producers may submit their sales documents on wool and unshorn lambs and file an application for payment on 1974 marketings at the county office," said Elder.

Wool payments were not required in 1973, because the national average price received by producers was 82.7 cents per pound, compared to the incentive payment price, 72 cents per pound. Absence of payments during 1973 may have started a rumor that the program has lapsed, Elder said.

Crockett County Voters Give Approval To McBee And Wolff

Crockett County voters went to the polls in Saturday's runoff election and gave Susan Gurley McBee 187 votes to 85 for her opponent Stanley Hausman in the race for State Representative, District 70. Mrs. McBee won the district by a vote of 6,007 to 2,992. Local voters gave Nelson Wolff the nod in the race for U. S. Congressman over Bob Krueger. However, Krueger carried the district 29,284 to 27,510, and will face Republican Doug Harlan in the general election in November. Here the vote was 144 for Wolff and 128 for Krueger.

Mrs. McBee carried eight of the nine counties in the vast 70th, the state's largest house district. She carried her home county of Val Verde by a five-to-one margin and lost only Maverick County, Hausman's home county. The vote in Maverick was 1,294 for Hausman and 1,117 for Mrs. McBee.

Mrs. McBee has no Republican opposition in November but will face La Raza Unida candidate Elpidio Lizcano of Crystal City in November. The seat was vacated this year by Hilary B. Doran, Jr. of Del Rio.

Krueger, a native of New Braunfels, won 22 counties in Saturday's race to Wolff's 10-county total. Wolff of San Antonio, and a state senator from that district, topped the ticket in the first primary and Krueger was second in the field of six. Following the first primary, the month-long runoff campaign turned from the issues to a fierce mud-slinging brawl with accusations and counter-accusations from both candidates.

Krueger will battle it out with Doug Harlan, who walked away with the Republican nomination May 4, in the general election Nov. 5. Harlan is not a novice on the political scene. He ran long-time Congressman O. C. Fisher a creditable race two years ago. Fisher retires after 16 terms in office, 32 years of representing the sprawling 21st District.

Crockett County voters cast ballots at the courthouse. Two hundred seventy-two out of over twenty-two hundred eligible voters went to the polls Saturday.

Mitchell Extends Crockett Field

The Adams-Baggett Ranch (Canyon gas) field of Crockett County was extended one mile southeast and 11 miles northeast with completion of Mitchell Energy Corp., Houston, No. 1-161 Dorothy Friend, 22 miles southeast of Ozona, for a calculated, absolute open flow of 750,000 cubic feet of dry gas per day.

Production was through perforations at 4,881-5,041 feet. Scheduled at a 5,800-foot wildcat, it was drilled to 5,700 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 5,193 feet.

Funeral Service Monday For Mrs. Ballard

Funeral services for Mrs. Paul (Chloie Estelle) Ballard, 65, were held at 2 p. m. Monday in the Ozona Church of Christ with burial in Cedar Hill Cemetery under the direction of Janes Funeral Home.

Mrs. Ballard died Saturday afternoon in Crockett County Hospital following an illness.

She was born Nov. 15, 1908, in Mills County. She had been a resident of Ozona since 1929. She was married to Paul Ballard Dec. 24, 1925 in Tahoka.

Survivors include her husband; two sons, Norman Ballard of Loving, N. M. and George Blake Ballard of Ozona; a daughter, Mrs. Ada Sibley of Odessa, Mrs. Elizabeth Ballard of Seminole, Mrs. Geneva Brown of Midland and Mrs. Sylvia Elmore of Gonzales, La. and six grandchildren.

Plans For Bi-Centennial Get Under Way

Preliminary ideas for Crockett County's participation in the celebration of the 200th birthday of the United States were discussed on Monday afternoon at a meeting of the Crockett County Historical Survey Committee, recently appointed to be the official Steering Committee for the 1976 Bi-Centennial.

A picnic supper, now scheduled for June 27, when presidents and/or official representatives of every organization in town will be invited to be present, will mark the beginning of planning and the selection of projects. Every group should send the names of their representatives to Mrs. Fred Hagelstein who is compiling the list for the Committee.

It is hoped that the philosophy of the Texas Historical Commission regarding a community's celebration of any special occasion will prevail in the plans for Crockett County.

"The celebration should be the occasion to rejoice that the community has survived so long and it should be an opportunity to explore the foundations of the Community. To be able to be thankful for the people who lived their lives here is good for the present generation. Once we know that lives were sacrificed for our present comforts, our own times mean more to us."

So all Crockett County citizens--old, young, new--are urged to share ideas for celebration--write letters to the Ozona Stockman--call committee members soon--participate widely that we may plan TOGETHER to make 1976 a time of community-wide pride and gratitude for our heritage.

Crockett Gas Discoveries Are Finald

Texas Oil & Gas Corp., Midland, No. 1-6 University, Crockett County Pennsylvania detrital gas discovery, 16 miles west-southwest of Ozona, eight miles north-northwest and the same distance north-northeast of Strawn gas production in the Ozona, Southwest field was finalized for a calculated, absolute open flow of 3,500,000 cubic feet of gas per day.

Production was through perforations at 8,776-784 and 8,800-810 feet, which had been acidized with 1,750 gallons.

Scheduled to 9,800 feet to test the Ellenburger, it was drilled to 9,814 feet, with 4 1/2-inch casing set at 9,200 feet and plugged back to 9,158 feet.

Location is 1,980 feet from the south and 660 feet from the east lines of 6-32-University Lands.

Church Service Aired In Local T-V Broadcast

The Ozona Television System, making progress in broadcasting locally over channel 3, aired both the morning and evening service from the First Baptist Church last Sunday.

The remote control broadcast came over Ozona television receivers with good range and clarity. Rev. Nelson Latham preached the sermons and conducted a baptismal service following the evening worship. This service was also broadcast and was distinct in spite of being conducted several feet from the microphone.

The Television System has plans to broadcast many local events over the channel. The only problem is the lack of remote equipment in many churches and meeting places, along with telephone line facilities. Plans are also being made to use the channel for disaster alert.

New Rulings Made In Marijuana Cases Here

One man was freed Tuesday morning and a new ruling was made in another case, tried during the influx of court cases as a result of the roadblock west of Ozona two weeks ago. The new rulings came about after the Texas Civil Liberties Union filed writs of habeas corpus Monday in hopes of freeing two men arrested at the roadblock May 21 and charged with misdemeanor marijuana possession.

Crockett County Judge Troy Williams reviewed the rulings in the cases of Edward Lawson, 17, of Houston and Steven Vandre, 26, of Glendale, Ariz. Tuesday and ordered Vandre released after investigation revealed that he was a Viet Nam veteran with honorable discharge, and was on his way to take over the rearing of his young children in Arizona when arrested. He was given credit for the fifteen days served in jail and arrangements were made for him to pay his fine in monthly installments.

Lawson, who has served time in the Gatesville school of corrections, was to be released on probation Tuesday afternoon, pending payment of $200 of his fine. He will pay the remainder of the fine in installments and will be given credit for 15 days served in jail here.

Two other men named in the motion filed by the TCLU for new trials are Paul Burns, 27, and Frederick Crimi, 27, both of Buffalo, N. Y. They have paid fines and been released. Judge Williams will rule today on their motions for new trials.

According to a report in an area daily newspaper, the TCLU is seeking to investigate the legality of the auto searches. When questioned about this Judge Williams said he had been very thorough in questioning each defendant and as far as he was concerned all searches were legal. When the roadblocks are set up, all drivers of motor vehicles are stopped and asked for drivers' licenses. If an officer has probable cause, that is, if he sees illegal merchandise, if the driver attempts to conceal or if he smells marijuana, he may then pull the vehicle over for search.

In all the cases tried here following the 12-hour roadblock, there was ample evidence for all convictions. However, a 1971 U. S. Supreme Court decision which said the incident cannot be forced to serve time in lieu of paying fines, brought the TCLU to Ozona.

Agents of the Department of Public Safety, the Texas Rangers, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Crockett County Sheriff's Office and the U. S. Border Patrol manned the massive roadblock, which netted 24 arrests, 22 for marijuana possession. Officials here feel it is highly unlikely that an investigation will turn up anything illegal.

A Pecos County roadblock last month netted over 20 arrests for possession of marijuana. Fines for the same class misdemeanor ran up to $100 more than the same charge here. Also picked up in the Pecos county roadblock were three youths who allegedly robbed a residence in Ozona. Stolen goods from the house were found in their possession.

RUMMAGE FOR RESEARCH -- A large crowd was on hand for the rummage sale sponsored by the local unit of the American Cancer Society Saturday morning. The sale began at 5 p. m. Friday and netted over $600 to go toward cancer research.

VACATION BIBLE SCHOOL youngsters take a break and pose for the photographer in the park during playtime Tuesday morning. A record number of youngsters was on hand at the First Baptist Church for the annual school which started Monday. Above is Mrs. Myrtle Mitchell and her primary class and adult helpers. Nobody knows for sure how long "Miss Myrt" has been helping with First Baptist vacation Bible school, but it's been quite a spell.

HELP THE SMALL BUSINESSMAN

One important distinction between our society and some totalitarian societies is that here a man is free to begin, operate and — if he's fortunate — make money at a small business.

The economic impact of America's small businesses is enormous. Small businesses comprise 98 percent of the country's total business units, employ 65 percent of the nation's nongovernmental work force, and produce about 40 percent of the U.S. gross national product.

Although thousands of small businesses fail each year for various reasons, the challenges of being your own boss continue to prove irresistible to millions of independent-minded Americans. These small businessmen are extremely important to the social as well as the economic fabric of the country. Together, they foster a healthy climate in which competition helps assure that consumers get the best possible goods at the lowest possible prices.

In short, owners of small businesses have done a lot for us. Now there are a couple of things we as a nation ought to do for them.

In 1960, small-and-medium-sized manufacturing firms had 50 percent of this sector's assets and 41 percent of its profits. By 1972 they had dwindled to only 33 percent of the assets and 28 percent of the profits. Recent studies have also shown that small-and-medium-sized business pay taxes at twice the rate paid by big U.S. corporations — 51 percent against 26.9 percent.

Two bills that experts believe would significantly help small businessmen compete are now before Congress. One of them, the Federal Paperwork Relief Act (H.R. 12269), is designed to relieve small businesses of some of the costly and time-consuming work required to fill out numerous mandatory Federal forms. The second bill, entitled the Small Business Tax Simplification and Reform Act (Ewins-Bible Bill) would create a Federal committee to revise and simplify our tax system, and would reduce tax rates for firms earning less than $1 million in receipts a year.

We urge Congress to pass both of these bills. Small businessmen have done a lot for us. Let's do something for them.

30 Years Ago Today

by Jim Dudley

June 6, 1944

Day, they called it—the long-awaited landing of Allied forces on the coast of France thirty years ago today. It became one of the best remembered dates of World War II, eclipsing even such later days signaling the end of hostilities as VE Day and VJ Day.

Looking back, a generation or so later, we can see what a fine job the Armed Forces had accomplished by that date of dispersing the Ozona element. (And wisely so.)

As far as I have been able to determine, only one Ozonan was in the initial invasion fleet that morning, Jesus N. Perez, with an amphibious truck outfit, went in with the second wave at Omaha Beach. Waiting back in England to be sent across the channel were such locals as Bud Coates and his 963rd F A Bn; M. E. Nicholas and the rest of the 35th Division; Mike Porras and the 30th (Old Hickory) Division; Reynaldo Lara with the 90th Division; Dudley McCary; and Tom (Martin) Harvick and the 100th Evac Hospital. Granville Flanagan was also in England as part of the 1403rd AAF Base Unit. Helping with build-up of forces on the continent, the 7th Armored Division shipped out from the states the next day, one member of its 23rd Armored Inf. Bn. being Bud Kincaid.

By this date, remember, the draft had been in effect for nearly 4 years, and the United States had been in the war some 2 1/2 years. Thus, there were several who had completed overseas tours and were back in the states. Claude Russell, Elmer Graves, and Pete North were among those who had seen the sights of the South Pacific, courtesy of the 37th Inf. Division, the 1st Cavalry Division, and the 2nd Marine Division respectively. Later, Pete was one of the few who shipped out a second time. Dean Phillips and Homer Boyd had left the Alaskan Defense Command in the good hands of Gene Williams and Lloyd Coates. Before June was out, though, Gene was back. Made mess sergeant at Camp Gordon, Georgia, he served up such goodies as SOS for the duration. Thad Tabb had flown his last mission out of England several months earlier, and Lt. Col. Henry Carden had just recently returned from Italy and service with the 36th (Texas) Division. Before the summer was over, Eugene Montgomery, with Americal Division in the South Pacific, and Vaughan Brown, with the Air Corps in Italy, would be home.

Still enjoying sunny Italy then were Chas. Applewhite, Pete Pridemore, and Maj. H. B. Tandy.

Probably some of those scattered across the Pacific weren't too concerned over what was happening elsewhere. Particularly so with Hack Leath and Leonard Armentrout, who were en route with the 2nd Marine Division for the invasion of Saipan. Roy Coates, aboard the light carrier USS Fanshaw Bay, was also en route to Saipan and the upcoming "Marianas Turkey Shoot." In bivouac on Kookunat Island in the Admiralties was Garland Allen and his 5th Cavalry outfit. They and other elements of the 1st Cavalry Division had just recently taken Los Negros and Manus Islands from the Japs. Marines Welton Bunker, Jr., Phillip Schneemann at Midway, Beecher Montgomery on the tiny island of Eniwai, and Seaman Joe B. Chapman at sea aboard LCI 397 were others in that theater.

Even farther away were George B. Armentrout and Dumpy Puckett in the C. B. I. Theater. Off by himself up at Gandar Air Base in Newfoundland was Jack Williams.

The Seabees had secured the services of a number of locals, but at that time only Red Kiser, in the Solomon Island area, was overseas. D. C. Ratliff, W. B. Robertson, and LeRoy Parker, all up in New England, Pascal Northcutt on TD on San Clemente, and Scottie Houston at Port Huene-me, Calif., would all eventually wind up along "Atabrine alley" or some similar location. Of course, you've all heard the story of one Seabee unit that went in so close behind the first wave during one landing they even beat Kilroy ashore.

Of course, many of the local contingent were still training here in the states. However, "training" may not have accurately described the duties of Chas. Williams at Foster Field near Victoria or L. D. Kirby as a finance officer at Coral Gables, Florida, or Joe Logan as a Navy dentist at Farragut, Idaho, or Bill Seahorn and Jack Baggett at San Angelo Army Air Field or Floyd Hokit with a finance outfit at Grand Island, Nebraska, or Roger Dudley, Jr. at the Coleman (Tex.) Flying School.

But I believe that crawling through an infiltration course at Camp Shelby, Mississippi, would fit the description. Others

AUSTIN, Tex. — Some of the Constitutional Convention's hottest debate is yet to come. Explosive potential of the general provision article already has been demonstrated in preliminary rounds, and the right-to-work section should produce the biggest bang of all.

Organized labor, headed by State AFL-CIO President Harry Hubbard, stands foursquare against writing right-to-work provisions into the new constitution.

A new statewide citizens committee with formidable political and financial muscle has been formed to lobby for placing right-to-work on the ballot as a separate issue from the overall constitutional revision.

The Texas right-to-work law, dating back to 1947, prohibits union contracts which would require union membership as a condition to getting and keeping a job.

Baylor University President Dr. Abner McCall is chairman of the Texas Right-to-Work Committee which opened offices near the state capitol recently. Houston school teacher Mrs. Margaret Wisdom is the co-chairman.

Other big-name Texans, including a scattering of industrial leaders, Republicans, conservative Democrats and Gov. Dolph Briscoe's campaign manager, Austin attorney Joe Kilgore, are on the committee roster.

STUDY ORDERED — Speaker Price Daniel Jr. has ordered a "thorough study" of the Texas Water Quality Board by the House Committee on Environmental Affairs.

The investigation will cover the agency's administration, operation and enforcement of environmental standards.

While inquiry actually will not get under way until the Constitutional Convention adjourns, advance planning and research by staff members is already under way.

Rep. Carlos Truan of Corpus Christi and 44 other representatives petitioned for the investigation May 15.

The standing subcommittee on pollution of the Environmental Affairs panel actually will conduct the study. The House Judiciary Committee will further consider administrative operations of TWQB in its overall review of administrative agency procedures.

Daniel said purpose of the investigation is to "get all of the facts and to lay the basis for any remedial legislation or administrative action which may be needed."

Yeah, we had a representative with the Inspector General's office, too. T/Sgt. Joe Williams was in this line of work at Garden City Army Air Force Base, Kansas. Over at neighboring Camp Carson, Colorado, was based Glenn Sutton and his 133rd Evac Hospital. Ambulance driver Buck Williams was stationed at Scott Field, Illinois, while down at Camp Claiborne, La., the Post Control Officer was T. A. The Navy transferred him back and forth so many times in 1944 that it was hard to tell where he was and when. Pete Jacoby had been assigned to the Transport-

Washington News Letter by Congressman O. C. Fisher

While the fuel supply outlook is vastly improved, with mid-East imports now back to normal, we are still not out of the woods. Increased demand along with reduced imports of oil from Venezuela, Canada and oil producing countries, will keep the shortage squeeze going.

The only way to cope with this problem is to increase domestic production. The Alaska pipe line, which will help, will not be completed for at least two or three years. About $2 billion in new off-shore leases have been approved recently.

Now wildcat drilling has been revived due to increased price of crude oil and gas. De-regulation of gas prices at the wellhead would be very helpful, but that is proving difficult to come by.

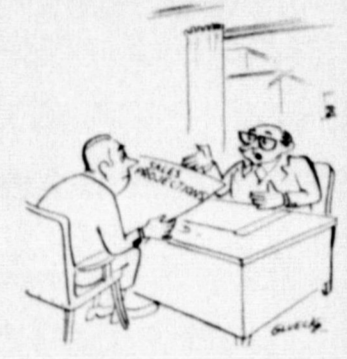

Pending actions in Congress can be helpful or harmful. Punitive taxes on the oil industry can discourage exploration. Removal of depletion allowance, if approved, will hurt. Rollback of oil prices, tentatively rejected in the House, would be a setback for producers.

In opposing these various measures which would reduce or destroy incentives for more drilling we from the 7 or 8 oil producing States are often outvoted. Some members would seem to prefer an issue rather than a solution. High profits by the oil companies, due largely to foreign investments, are played up by opponents to make the entire industry a whipping boy to placate constituents, when more than 80% of new discoveries is made by high risk efforts by the small companies and the independents.

One thing is certain: high prices at filling stations will remain high unless more domestic oil is produced. And without adequate profit incentives there is little hope that additional oil and gas will be discovered. Actions in the Congress can make the difference.

Tips For Gardeners

From the Ozona Garden Club by Mrs. Bailey Post

Now is the ideal time to enjoy our leisure time in the early morning and late evening hours, either doing garden chores, entertaining or maybe just rocking and relaxing.

Outdoor living becomes more popular each year it seems, all the more reason for planning patios, terraces and enclosed areas near the house.

If there are no trees to provide shade, canopies over the patio and other garden areas will reduce heat and glare. A lattice-work shelter covered with vines will add beauty and protection from the heat. Another protection from the heat is a sturdy frame work of metal pipes topped with heavy mesh to support an overhead vine. Vines used in this area are ivy, wisteria, silver lace, morning glory, trumpet, jack bean, clematis and the grape.

If you are having difficulty in growing borders, try the reliable sedums. They are the tough, hardy usually creeping perennials sometimes called stonewort or live-forever.

In general, sedums can flourish in poor sandy soils in sunny locations, but they grow quite well here in Ozona soil in shade or partial shade. They take care of themselves, are excellent for slopes and banks on rock and wall gardens or in crevices among steps. Many kinds are of a crawling nature, but they are not difficult to control. Also they have shallow root systems that are not serious competitors to deeper rooted perennials nearby, and are easily pulled up. Sedum (ella-combianum) and Sedum (spuri-fum) are both recommended for the fronts of borders for they can be clipped. Never plant sedum (sarmentosum) among perennials because it becomes very difficult to eradicate.

This variety would be fine for a problem sunny bank or hanging basket. The familiar gold-moss, Sedum (acre) is quick to spread into carpets of lime green with bright yellow flowers in early summer. One of the old-fashioned favorites is the showy stonewort, Sedum (spectabile) which comes in several attractive varieties.

They are especially showy for potted plants and borders. A new one is "Autumn Joy." Another is the well-behaved Sedum seboldii which excels for container growing. In September it forms rose-pink flowers.

If you have been plagued by infestation of chinch bugs or virus disease SAD in your St.

Augustine grass, there is good news about a vigorous new strain of St. Aug. called Flor-atam. It is not only resistant to the above problems, it also shows vigor superior to the common variety. It establishes rapidly and results in excellent weed control. Under test since 1968, this is available now at some nurseries or you can order by mail from Wharton Turf Grass, Inc., Box 1029, Wharton, Texas 77488. Fresh delivery is guaranteed they say.

The twenty-eight girls chosen as Ambassadors for the San Angelo event, will rehearse at noon next Thursday at the San Angelo Country Club, followed by a swim party in their honor. Dinner and a cocktail party will precede the formal dance and presentation that night at the San Angelo Country Club. Friday morning the girls will visit in the various San Angelo stores before a noon luncheon and a style show-tee. Following dinner, they will be in the river parade riding sailboats.

Escorts will be furnished for all official functions which includes visiting with dignitaries during the three-day period. Activities Saturday include attending the flag raising at Fort Concho and a tour of the fort. Lunch will be followed by a rehearsal for the pageant. Debra Says

by Debra Price HD Agent

Although a person's calorie needs decrease as he ages, he still needs the proper nutrients. To make sure he gets proper nutrients, an older person's diet should include a variety of foods. For example, he needs two cups of milk or other milk group foods each day. Also two servings of meat or meat substitute, four servings from the fruit and vegetable group and four servings from the bread and cereal group.

Fresh fruit, cottage cheese, milk, crisp raw vegetables, yogurt, spiced hot tomato juice or a slice of cheese on rye bread make tasty, and nutritious snacks. These are also easy to fix. Packaged pastries and candies add calories, but have very few nutrients. For best health as you grow older, the Four Food Groups should be basic to a person's eating plan.

Conversation with a forgetful, elderly person can be challenging or frustrating. Such visits can be more enjoyable through a few conversation techniques.

For one, be willing to repeat. By going over matters again and again, the person may remember things otherwise forgotten. However, don't point out that you're repeating yourself.

When elders lose touch with surroundings, talk to them realistically. Emphasize the reality around them--where they are, time of day and events taking place. And, when he or she says something right, express support. Letting him know he's right encourages self-confidence.

Above all, be patient. Remember, yelling isn't positive communication--and it may offend or frighten the person so he's afraid to talk again.

Drapery for your windows can be an exciting experience. Let us help. BROWN FURNITURE CO. 5-tfc

AWAY FROM IT ALL

Would you like to be able to go to a retreat like this when you are worried—a place where you could be alone with your thoughts—a place where you could untangle your problems?

If you would, then you are like most people. Everyone needs a retreat, at moments. And everyone has one! It isn't a mountain cabin or a seaside cottage—but it is a place far better suited to prayer and contemplation, a place to sort out old errors and make new resolutions. It is your church.

Let your church be your sanctuary. Go to it when you are troubled. You will find within its walls your moment of peace, and you will walk out into the street again far better able to make the most of your life.

Plan now to attend all the gala activities, and while you're in San Angelo, you're cordially invited to visit the E. H. Danner Museum of Telephony at our General Office, 2701 S. Johnson, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. weekdays.

Oil And Gas Recoveries In County Field

Texas Oil & Gas Corp., Midland, No. 1-34 University, in 34-7-University, Crockett County Ellenburger wildcat, 1,500 feet west of the depleted Ellenburger oil opener and lone producer from that pay in the World multipay field, which was recompleted as the opener of the depleted World, North (Strawn) field, recovered 300 feet of heavily gas- and oil-cut drilling mud and 360 feet of heavily oil- and gas-cut drilling mud and 200 feet of heavily oil- and gas-cut mud on a drillstem test probably in the Ellenburger.

Tool was open 15 minutes on the test taken at 8,030-82 feet, on which gas surfaced in four minutes, no gauges. Flowing pressure was 214-467 pounds; two-hour initial shut-in pressure was 3,215 pounds; and 110-minute final shut-in pressure, 3,197 pounds.

The project, slated for 8,150 feet, was bottomed at 8,099 feet, preparing to drill-stem test.

The Ellenburger opener, B. L. McFarland, Inc. No. 1-35 University, was finished Nov. 11, 1966, for 221 barrels of 42.3 gravity oil, through a 14-64-inch choke and perforations at 8,050-70 feet. It was recompleted April 23, 1970 by Texas Crude Oil Co. to pump 20 barrels of 44 gravity oil, plus 64 barrels of water, through perforations at 8,014-22 feet.
