Big Spring's Answer To Pearl Harbor

Bond Sale To Mark War Anniversary

Big Spring is going to climax its first year in war with telling blows against the axis, in return for the infamous blows that were struck at Pearl Harbor last December 7.

$50,000 is being mapped for the city on December 7, when volunteers by the score will work to make bond sales soar.

In many ways, no less than 15 women's clubs have accepted responsibility for manning as many downtown booths, to operate throughout the day and take orders for war bonds; all four luncheon clubs will assign members to handling a special jeep-ride feature, through cooperation with the bombardier school; all school students will be given opportunity to participate in a war bond poster contest, with winners in each grade getting a free ride in an army jeep; a radio program over KBBT on Sunday afternoon, December 6, is to touch off the whole campaign, with bonds being sold over the air.

Nazi Losses Mount; African Air War Gains Intensity

By ROGER D. GREENE
Associated Press War Editor

German hospital trains, jammed with the maimed and dying, were rolling back from the bloody slaughter pens before Stalingrad today as the Red armies surged ahead in their seven-day-old offensive and Nazi losses mounted to nearly 250,000 killed, wounded or captured.

A Reuters (British news agency) dispatch from Moscow said roads from Stalingrad still held by the Germans were clogged with Nazis fleeing in disorder to avoid entrapment.

At the same time, the Berlin radio reported heavy Russian offensive action west of Moscow, with Soviet troops attacking the German-held sectors of Rahev and Tropets.

Rahev lies 130 miles northwest of Moscow and Tropets is 125 miles farther west.

DNB, the German news agency, said the Russians had launched an offensive on a wide front south of Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of Moscow.

Although the Kremlin remained silent, these reports indicated that the Red armies had started a major drive on the Moscow front synchronized with the great counter-sweep from Stalingrad.

Intermittently for several weeks the Germans have reported powerful Soviet forces massing in the Moscow region.

Admitting for the first time that the Russians were fighting less than 135 miles from the Latvian frontier, Nazi headquarters reported:

"In the region south of Kalinin and in the sector southeast and west of Tropets, the enemy started an expected attack Nov. 25 on a broad front."

The German communique asserted that all Soviet attacks in the new offensive were repulsed and that "local pockets where the enemy was able to create momentarily were wiped out by counterattacks."

On the Stalingrad front, Hitler's high command acknowledged that the Russians were striking out in heavy tank-led infantry attacks between the Volga and the Don river bend.

Soviet dispatches reported that the Red armies were encountering stiffer resistance as the Germans, throwing all their available air forces into the battle, fought desperately to prevent the jaws of the giant Soviet trap from closing around them.

British military observers said they believed the gap between the southern and northern Russian armies, driving to seal off some 300,000 Nazi troops, was now only about 30 miles.

While Soviet headquarters reported fresh gains on both flanks of the German "escape corridor" from Stalingrad, a Berlin broadcast asserted that the Russian offensive could be considered at a halt.

The broadcast said the Soviet had slackened in the face of new flame-throwing tanks and machine guns firing 3,000 rounds a minute.

By contrast, the Russian command reported the capture of at least nine more towns and villages north and south of the hard-pressed Nazi siege armies and listed more than 1,000 Germans killed in overnight fighting.

Latest Soviet figures listed 7,000 Nazis killed and 15,000 captured in the past 24 hours, making a total of 48,000 dead and 51,000 captured since the drive began.

No official estimate was made on the wounded, but on the usual basis of three-to-one in comparison with the dead, they would amount to 144,000 and make Nazi manpower losses total 243,000 in seven days.

On the north African front, allied warplanes pounded the Work Starts Soon On New Pipe Line

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Petroleum Coordinator Harold I. Ickes announced today that two contractors will start work in the next week on the eastward leg of the emergency pipeline between Norris City, Ill., and the New York-Philadelphia area.

Ickes said the contractors will then have finished their portions of the first leg of the pipeline from Longview, Tex., to Norris City.

Ickes estimated that the first leg is now 85 per cent complete, and "bearing serious continued weather difficulties and delay in receipt of pumping equipment" the first leg should be in operation soon after January 1.

Air Victory In Africa Complete

CAIRO, Nov. 26 (AP)—Air Vice Marshal Arthur Coningham, RAF commander in the western desert, said today that the rout of the German air force in the Allied drive across Libya was "the most complete defeat of an air force in the field that there has ever been."

Gains of airfields in Libya, he said, have given the British full control of the sea route from eastern Mediterranean ports to Malta.

Italy's desert air force was virtually wiped out, he said, and Germany's was badly strained but still had reserve strength enough to fight the Allied forces in the desert, though to do so would require diversion of numbers of planes from other fronts.

Dive-bombing in the desert virtually has disappeared, he said, because Stukas are so vulnerable to fighters.

Discussing the reasons for the German air debacle, Coningham told correspondents, "if they have overwhelming force, little opposition and can go ahead like a steamroller, they are efficient. Under any real strain, they are not."

Museum Will Open Sunday

The West Texas Memorial Museum, which has been closed for the past three months, will open Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock for the general public, Mrs. Mary Bumpass, founder of the museum, announced today.

During the time the museum has been closed, the relics have been rearranged and grouped to a better advantage than before.

Mrs. Bumpass said, and a separate gallery has been made into a "Century in West Texas." The room contains Indian relics and old time western historical pieces.

The fireplace of the museum, which has also been unable to be used for several years, is now in working order to provide heat for the building.

The museum is located in the city park and during the Sunday official re-opening hostesses will include Mrs. W. J. McAdams, Mrs. W. P. Edwards, Mrs. Bumpass and others.

Military men and their wives, new residents in Big Spring and the general public are invited to attend the opening.

Students of the high school who have assisted in rearranging the museum are Adolphine Covington, Jessie Hester, Alvin Mize, Kathleen Little, and Bobby Green, along with Mrs. Maggie Cox, a volunteer assistant.

Some Casualties Result From Raid

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—The Navy announced today that "some personnel casualties" were suffered among American forces on Guadalcanal earlier this week when a lone enemy plane made a pre-dawn bombing attack on our positions there.

The plane dropped bombs to the south of the Guadalcanal airfield at 3 a. m., Nov. 25, Guadalcanal time.

Later that day, Army Alacobra fighters harassed enemy ground activity of importance on the island.

Notes

MARY WHALEY

Today is the day to count your many blessings, fill up on what's left of unrationed groceries and travel about on you as yet unlimited gas supply.

There are many things this year for which we are thankful and you will be, too, if you sit down and mull them over one by one.

First, we are thankful that the worst thing we have had to do without has been silk hose. True, we ain't got no leg glamour anymore, but then we don't stand alone.

The other gals are in the same boat.

We're thankful that the question "Where's the U. S. Fleet?" which had everybody worried in the dark days of last December has been answered, not with words but with actions.

So far away, we give praise that the government hasn't made us go out and pick cotton or be a riveter, even if some of the gals like it, since we would be a total loss in a muscles job.

We're thankful it's patriotic to wear patches this year because for the first time in years we feel ahead of the style dictators. And along the same line, we're thankful they "froze" our styles. We like last year's better than some of other years.

We're thankful that our ancestors didn't miss the boat that got them to America a long time ago and that we can say "heel" instead of "hell" anytime we want to.

And lastly, we're giving thanks that we belong in this big, bungalow, humor-loving country of ours where we can say what we think through this column without fear or favor.

Making Of Army Private Told In Feature At Ritz

A feature on the holiday film program at the Ritz theatre is the first of a new series of short subjects in a patriotic motif and titled "This Is America."

Called "Private Smith of the U. S. A.," the feature is a simple yet dramatic story in detail about the transformation of millions of John Smiths from Citizen to Private, U. S. Army. It is the story of the steps taken by the army to train young America to take on the toughest job it has ever seen. Critics unanimously have called "Private Smith" a standout piece of education and entertainment.

Everyone On The Run But Today's Turkey!

By JENNY WIESER

We see by the society columns that the pre-gas rationing migration has begun, and grandmothers, great-aunts, cousins, nephews, and prodigal children are spending their numbered days on a visiting spree before hibernating for the winter with the neighbors and an empty gas tank.

In a way, the movement reminds us of the seasonal flight of birds—those in the north go south and those in the south go north. The winged creatures seem never to be satisfied where they are.

Ornithologists, however, say the birds migrate of necessity, which also has something to do with the 1942 Thanksgiving migration. Suppressing a visiting urge by frankly facing a four-gallon weekly allotment is a gloomy thought. Better, they say, get the gypsy spirit behind thee.

Doubtless, Thanksgiving 1942 may be a memorable day for years to come—the day Aunt Sue got her first glimpse of Cousin Margaret's youngest son or the last time Mom visited her old room-mate at finishing school.

Thanksgiving dinner may be taken "on the run" as thousands scurry from one point to another to include all the relatives and friends on what may be the last

Simple things you can do to get more help for your eyes!

Your eyes need all the help they can get. Don't handicap them with too little. Clean reflector bowls and bulbs frequently. You'll get from 25-30% more light.

You'll get more help for your eyes when you read, play games or sew, if your lamp shades are light-colored or have white linings. Clean or brush them regularly; or if they're too bad, replace with fresh shades.

Arrange your furniture and lamps so that you can, if necessary, make each lamp provide good light for more than one person. Be sure you're close enough to the lamp; a difference of 12 inches may cut your light in half.

Food Display Slated Here Saturday

What Howard county club women are doing in producing and conserving food as a war-time contribution will be graphically demonstrated Saturday in exhibits at 106 E. 3rd street—the former location of the J. C. Pannoy store.

There will be a large number of exhibits contributed by the various home demonstration clubs of the county, said Fontilla Johnson county home demonstration agent. Included will be evidences of returns from Victory Gardens, how to stock war-time pantries, use of cotton bags in making various articles, examples of meat substitutes, home made peanut butter and cheese, means of "stretching" sugar, etc.

In an effort to raise funds for the year's work, members of the clubs are contributing canned fruits and vegetables and other products which will be on sale during the day in an adjoining part of the building.

Service Held For Colorado Pioneer

COLORADO CITY, Nov. 26 — At 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon last rites were said for W. A. Crowder, 92, beloved Colorado City pioneer who died suddenly Monday.

The funeral services, attended by hundreds of friends of "Dad" Crowder, were conducted in the First Christian church, a church he assisted in organizing more than half a century ago. The Rev. C. E. Cogswell, pastor, officiated. Kiker and Son Funeral chapel had charge of arrangements.

Graveside services were in charge of the Masonic order. Pallbearers were R. P. Price, Nat Thomas, J. H. Carlock, P. K. Mackey, C. E. Nesbitt, O. L. Simpson and John Smith.

Burial was in Colorado City cemetery beside Mrs. Crowder, who died in February, 1941. Mr. Crowder is survived by two sons, a granddaughter, a great-granddaughter, and a great-grandson.

miles south of Tunis, the capital. Dispatches from Madrid said the Germans were "piling up fighters and bombers in great numbers" in the Bizerte-Tunis zone, where strongly reinforced axis invasion forces have entrenched themselves behind a 30-mile-deep arc of defenses.

A Vichy broadcast said axis tanks and motorized contingents were also streaming into the north African colony, and for the first time British reinforcements were reported being brought up to the front by air.

U. S. army P-38 fighter planes were officially credited with the destruction of 14 axis planes in the rising battle for control of the skies, while RAF bombers heavily attacked the axis-held naval base at Bizerte.

Wage Application Blanks Available At Dist. Offices

DALLAS, Nov. 26. (AP)—Employers of the southwest who want War Labor Board approval of wage or salary adjustments—now under control of the nation's wage stabilization program—may now secure application blanks from field offices at Albuquerque, San Antonio, Houston, Dallas, Oklahoma City, Little Rock and New Orleans.

Distribution of application forms to all field offices was announced today by Edward J. Florer, acting regional director of the wage-hour and public contracts divisions of the U. S. Department of Labor.

Employers wishing authority to make wage adjustments under the stabilization program may apply to the nearest wage-hour office. Under certain conditions, wage-hour officials are empowered to issue written authorization for pay increases without delay. Otherwise, they will aid employers in filing applications with the War Labor Board.

From Hawaii: One Pound Of Coffee

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 26. (AP) Ensign Philip Cartwright believes in keeping the morale of his parents shipshape.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Cartwright received a present from their son in Hawaii. Eagerly they unwrapped the postage-covered package—and found a gift they couldn't buy anywhere in the U. S.

The present: a one-pound tin of coffee.

Early firearms were named after birds; the word "musket" signified a sparrowhawk.

Jap Property At Bangkok Bombed

NEW DELHI, Nov. 26. (AP)—The crews of nine American heavy bombers observed the advent of Thanksgiving day by making a large-scale attack on Japanese-controlled oil refineries in Bangkok, an allied air communiqué said today.

All planes and fliers were said to have returned uninjured from the long flight to the capital of Japanese-occupied Thailand, which means long crossings either of the Bay of Bengal, or of enemy-held territory from bases in India and back.

The refinery was believed to have been heavily damaged. The only one of its kind in Thailand, it produces motor oil and aviation fuel for Japanese planes.

Yanks Flock To Worship In Westminster

LONDON, Nov. 26. (AP)—The khaki of the United States army, thousands strong, filled ancient Westminster Abbey to overflowing today for a solemn Thanksgiving service.

The gray old walls looked down on a congregation unique in their eventful history, for it was the first time in 900 years that the cathedral of the Church of England had been turned over to outsiders.

Within those battered walls was a blend of mellow antiquity and the crisscross of modern war, for the men could see boarded-up windows and sandbags protecting the altars.

Outside, traffic was blocked before and after the service as the British packed the streets to watch the unprecedented event and see the uniformed congregation, one of the largest in the abbey in 20 years.

Barkley Calls A Harmony Session

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—In an apparent effort to restore harmony among senate democrats, Majority Leader Barkley of Kentucky today called a meeting of the steering committee for tomorrow to map the legislative program for the rest of this session.

Before the 19-member majority group will be proposals to seek action on two highly controversial bills, a measure authorizing $300,000,000 in federal grants to states for education, and a bill providing premium overtime pay for government employees.

Both measures have been on the senate calendar for some time and pressure has been exerted on Barkley to prevent them from expiring with the present congress on Jan. 2.

Here Are Desserts That Save Sugar

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26. (AP)—Here is what the President and Mrs. Roosevelt are having for dinner today at the White House:

Clam cocktail, clear soup, roast turkey, chestnut dressing, small sausages and beans, Spanish corn, sweet potato cones, cranberry jelly, grapefruit salad, pumpkin pie and cheese, ice cream, coffee.

ing was observed throughout Australia today—not by the Australians, for whom it was just a hot summer's day, but by thousands of Yank soldiers on the opposite side of the world from their homeland.

Only a few restaurants in the larger cities offered special Thanksgiving menus but in army camps from Melbourne to Cape York, and even beyond in New Guinea, American turkeys reigned supreme on well-laden dinner tables.

Special religious services were held in the camps.

'West Texas Bombardier Triangle' To Be Featured As Cadets Graduate

Getting set to release graduation news under a new dateline—"West Texas Bombardier Triangle"—public relations officers from the Big Spring, San Angelo and Midland fields were conferring Thursday.

The phrase has been coined to describe in new easily the greatest bombardier training area in the world.

In on the conference will be the public relations officer of the Childrens school, although this unit will not graduate its first class until 1943, long after the Dec. 27 date for the initial classes of Big Spring and San Angelo and the 13th class at Midland.

Although schools will hold separate graduation exercises for cadets, graduation pictures and news will be consolidated through the Midland office so that editors of various states will receive one compact portfolio of datum.

Attending the parley were Capt. W. E. Turner, Big Spring, Lt. Dickson Hartwell, San Angelo, Lt. Sam Wood, Childress, and Lt. Reavis O'Neal, Midland.
