Needed Rains In Ranch Area Sound Note Of Optimism

Prospects Of Industry Brighten With Falls Of Past Week

Rains, falling in scattered sections at intervals for the past week, soaking most of the livestock raising section of West Texas, have brought back the bloom of confidence to the cheek of the industry, and, together with rising markets, have served to brighten the outlook for the balance of 1938 considerably.

The rains settled down to soak the Ozona country Wednesday night, and, according to meager reports available this morning, were covering most of the ranch area. Falling slowly through the early hours this morning, the rains soaked the range country, becoming heavier after daylight. The fall here at 9 o'clock this morning had amounted to nearly one inch.

Although the town of Ozona has missed most of the rains of the past few days, the surrounding country has, for the most part, received bountiful falls. The Barnhart area to the north received soaking rains early in the week and heavy falls were reported to the west and south, drenching sections that were badly in need of moisture.

The rains over the area resulted in a sharp tumble of temperature, bringing an almost fall-like tang to the atmosphere Wednesday. Continued low-hanging clouds give promise of additional moisture.

Second Vacation Bible School To Start Next Mon.

Children of All Denominations Invited To Methodist School

The second Vacation Bible School, sponsored by the Sunday School Department of the Ozona Methodist Church, will start next Monday and continue for a two-week period, with two-hour classes each morning Monday through Friday. It was announced this week by the pastor, Rev. Eugene Slater.

The Vacation School is open to all children of the city and a cordial invitation is extended all children of all denominations to enroll in the two-week school. Classes will open at 9 o'clock each morning and continue until 11 o'clock. All class work will be done at the church.

The school has been divided into three groups, for Beginners, Primary and Junior departments. The faculty has been chosen as follows: Beginners, Mrs. Arthur Kyle, and Miss Ada Moss; Primary, Mrs. Taylor Word, Mrs. Roy Henderson, Mrs. Will Baggett; Junior, Mrs. Jake Short, Mrs. Evert White and Mrs. H. B. Tandy. The title of the study course for Beginners is "Let's Get Out-of-Doors," for Primary, "Children of One Father," and for the Juniors, "The Land Where Jesus Lived."

"We do not set this school over against our regular Sunday School," Rev. Slater explained in announcing the school. "It is an effort to do more of the same kind of work that we do on Sunday. However, we have found that the two-week period of two hours each day offers us an unparalleled opportunity to assist in the Christian development of the children."

A "December and May" romance resulted in the Hollywood marriage of Gipsy Smith, seventy-eight-year-old internationally known British-Romany evangelist, and Miss Alice Shaw, twenty-six, of London and Los Angeles. The evangelist met his bride when she attended music and evangelist studies in England while a child of twelve.

Javelina Pig Adopted By Mother Cat; Takes His Place At "Dinner Table" With Kittens

Dogs that mothered cats and rabbits, and mother cats that added baby mice and chickens to her brood have made copy for the feature writers for years but two mother cats on the Marbury Morrison ranch have gone them all one better.

These two mother cats, each with one or more kittens of her own, take turns at mothering a wild javelina pig which Mr. Morrison captured and brought to the ranch house as a pet for his son, Chappie.

The javelina pig was captured when not more than a day old. Despite his extreme youth, and the days he has spent among the cats and chickens and even a dog that roams the ranch house yard, the little wild porker shows every evidence of having inherited a vicious disposition common to members of his tribe.

However, his temper is displayed only toward human beings who might attempt to get too friendly. Among the cats, he romps and plays just like another kitten and when meal time comes, and that's pretty often he has his way about it, he plants himself right down alongside the kittens and mooches mother cat for his share. Between the two mother cats on the place he makes no distinction, nor does either of them seem to resent his taking his place at the "dinner table" along with the kittens.

Negro Woman Faces Charges In Knife Attack On Husband

Al Burgess, negro cook in a local cafe, suffered serious knife wounds in an affray near the servants quarters in the rear of the Joe Oberkamp home here Sunday night.

Charges are to be filed in justice court against Burgess and his wife, Blanche, in connection with the altercation, according to Sheriff W. S. Willis. Burgess was unable to appear in court up to yesterday, the sheriff said, and charges were to have been filed today.

Another negro couple, Henrietta Bowlegs and her husband, Pat Bowlegs, face affray charges in connection with an alleged fist and rock fight Monday.

Advancing Wool, Lamb Markets Is Rain Aftermath

Wool Sales At 25 Cents And Lambs At 6c In Prospect

The ranch industry of West Texas had cause for broad smiles this week, what with bountiful rains over the area, giving assurance of good range and heavier lambs by fall delivery time, and an advancing market for wool, lambs and calves.

Reports of sales yesterday of wool at 25 cents a pound and refusals of 25 and 26 cents for choice clips, brought a new feeling of confidence and security to the ranch industry. Buyers were active in seeking remaining clips in storage in West Texas warehouses and continued advances

Crockett Lambs Sell 7 To 7 1/2c On K. C. Market

Four Carlot Shipments Sold; Cattle Price Advance Noted

Kansas City, Mo., July 20—There were four carlot shipments of spring lambs out of Crockett County to the Kansas City market last week. The sales:

Lee Henderson, 312 head, 62-pound average, $7.50 per cwt.

Roy Miller, 302 head, 62-pound average, $7.00 per cwt.

J. Algill, 301 head, 64 pound average, $7.25 per cwt.

Doug Kirby, 149 head, 67-pound average, $7 per cwt.

A continued price advance was noted on the Kansas City market last week in the better grades of fed cattle and reached to the 1938 high of $12.10. There was a decline in medium and plainer kinds of cattle but good to choice grassers and well wintered grass steers felt the decline less than the plainer kinds.

Stocker and feeder cattle demand was strong in the early week due to the rising fed-cattle market. Finishers paid $9 to $10 for fleshy feeder steers. The better class of stockers and feeders brought $8 to $9.25.

The grass cattle arriving on this market are in good hard flesh and the upper quality offerings are much better than last year. Demand in cattle trade was broad throughout the week. Bearish trading developed on the Eastern dressed meat market but despite that influence Kansas City livestock values held fairly stable. Prices in various classes last week were: best steers and yearlings $11 to $12.10; good fed steers $10 to $11; summer grazed steers $9 to $10; grain or grass steers topped at $10.50; straight grassers $6.75 to $9.50; canner and cutter cows $6 to $7; grass heifers $6 to $8.50 and fed heifers $8 to $10.40; mixed yearlings $11 down; veal calves $9 down.

Fat lambs held steady throughout the week. Choice fat lambs topped at $9 and closed steady to 25 cents lower at $8.75. Medium to good kinds brought $8 to $8.50; shorn grass yearlings $4.75 to $6 and fat, shorn ewes $2.25 to $3.85.

Gene Hollon Writes From Prague On Tour European Countries

A card comes from Eugene Hollon, principal of the Ozona elementary school, who is making a tour of European countries this summer. The greeting was mailed from Prague in Czechoslovakia. Mr. Hollon, who reports he is enjoying his vacation tour, was leaving that day for a visit in Berlin.

Mr. Hollon is accompanied on the tour by Walter Willis, English teacher in the Iraan schools. They expect to sail for home about August 10.

The Owens champion ram continued to top the San Angelo show in Wednesday's auction sale when he was sold for the day's top price, $340. The purchaser was Fred M. Lege of the Diamond L ranch near Fort Worth.

Three Cornered Race For State Representative

Gilmer, Taylor, Blackburn Seek Legislative Post

In the absence of county contests in the coming primary next Saturday to claim interest in Crockett County voters, they have shifted attention to district races, outstanding of which is the three-cornered race for State Representative from the 86th district, of which Crockett County is a part.

C. H. Gilmer, former county judge of Edwards County and a practicing attorney and ranchman of Rocksprings, has made an intensive campaign for the seat to be vacated by Coke Stevenson of Junction, now a candidate for lieutenant governor. Mr. Gilmer has announced a constructive platform on which he bases his candidacy, including economy and efficiency in state government, security and independence for the aged, adequate support for the state school system, strengthening of local self government, and safe guarding ranch and farm interests, especially at present some measures to combat the menace of the spread of bitterweed in the ranch section of West Texas.

Dent Taylor of Kerrville, attorney and land agent and a long time resident of Kerrville, is another contender for the representative post. He promises strict at-

STATE RACES GET INTEREST LOCAL VOTERS

Heavy Vote Expected Despite Absence Of County 'Politics'

50 VOTE ABSENTEE

One County, Two District Races To Be Decided Sat.

Interest in state and district races, particularly that for governor in which a colorful campaign is being waged by the four or five leading candidates out of a field of thirteen, is expected to bring out a fairly heavy vote in Crockett County next Saturday in the Democratic primary despite a quiet year in so far as local politics is concerned.

Crockett County voters will have opportunity to cast their ballots in seven different voting places over the county. Polls will be open by 8 o'clock Saturday morning and will close at 7 p. m. A full corps of counters will be on hand and returns are expected to be available shortly after the close of the polls.

Election judges were named this week by Houston Smith, Crockett County Democratic chairman. The election judges will select their own clerks and other assistants. Bright Baggett was named judge of the election in Precinct 1, with the district courtroom as the voting place. Watt Turner will preside at the Howard Wells box, E. R. Kinser at the Kinser ranch voting place, Jeff Owens at the Live Oak box, George Thompson at the Thompson ranch, Charley Black at Powell Field and Mr. Williams, manager of the Pecos Valley Power and Light Plant at that voting place.

In addition to the interesting state races, one county race, and two district contests will lend interest to the election for local voters and result in a heavier vote. The only county contest is that of county surveyor with W. P. Conklin, the incumbent, being opposed for re-election by N. E. Rendall.

Considerable interest is being taken by voters in the three-cornered race for state representative from the 86th district, of which this county is a part. Candidates for nomination to this post are C. H. Gilmer of Rocksprings, Dent Taylor of Kerrville and Marvin E. Blackburn, Jr., of Junction.

Another district race of interest to local voters is that for the office of judge of the 112th district court. Judge Joe G. Montague, a candidate for re-election to that position, is being opposed by W. A. Hadden, Fort Stockton attorney.

Approximately fifty absentee ballots had been cast for Saturday's election at the close of the absentee voting period Tuesday, County Clerk George Russell reported.

KEEP THIS IN MIND

Keep this in mind—we will have no real prosperity in the United States until we have honest, non-political tax reform.

The investor knows that if he risks his money in a new undertaking and is lucky enough to earn a profit, the government will seize an undue share of it through the capital gains tax—and so he is leaving his assets in a bank, where they produce nothing. Industry knows that if it attempts to save up money against a rainy day the government will heavily penalize it with the undistributed profits tax—consequently it is operating on a hand-to-mouth basis. So it goes, throughout the whole economic structure.

Intelligent tax reform would probably do more than anything else to bring back the lost confidence that is essential to good times here or anywhere else.

tional events for 1940, the Olympic Games and the Tokio World's Fair.

Nippon's spokesman was very frank to state the country could not afford to go ahead with the two affairs because the Chinese war is straining every resource of the nation and the incident sacrifices must continue for years to come. The effect upon the sports-loving Japanese people should be bad, but the exigencies of the situation precluded any balancing of the loss of morale against the cost of the two projects planned. In normal times, Japan could have expected many thousands of tourists to be attracted by the Olympiad and the World's Fair, and must add this to her losses caused by the war.

Even without the compelling reason of straitening finances, Japan would have been unwise to have proceeded with the Olympic Games in 1940, for already they were furnishing occasion for opposition and enmity to be expressed against that country. The holding of the Olympiad in Berlin in 1936 was hardly worth all the trouble for Germany. Of some importance in the Japanese decision were the facts that the athletes of the country probably will be needed in China in 1940 and that the war-oppressed Japanese people in that year will not present a favorable picture for visitors.

World's Fairs and Olympic Games the symbols of international amity—of its existence and of a desire for its further spread on the part of the host nation. Japan, of course, has no friends today save Germany and Italy whose loyalty is based on self-interest. She is not in a position to foster world friendships. Nor is she concerned with glorifying the peace-time achievements of her people. Japan is too busy with killing men women and children, and destroying a civilization in China to think of anything else.—Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

UNDERGROUND WATER

The Texas Planning Board has repeatedly called attention to the rapidly diminishing supply of underground water in Texas. Several sections of the state even now are facing serious difficulties in obtaining sufficient underground water to meet the demands of industrial and domestic users.

The importance of underground water is seen in the fact that three out of every five persons in Texas are dependent upon water which is drawn from the ground. Eight of the larger cities in the state are dependent upon underground water. Numerous rich agricultural regions rely entirely on underground water for irrigation purposes.

Research by the planning board and other agencies interested in natural resources has proven the fallacy of the popular belief that underground water is inexhaustible. Underground water can be used faster than even a provident Nature can replenish the supply and this is what is happening in many parts of Texas today. The water is being taken from the ground faster than Nature can replace it.

Immediate conservation steps are necessary if Texas is to be insured a continuing and adequate supply of underground water. Just what those steps should be will be discussed at a statewide meeting in Austin on July 29 of all persons interested in underground water. The meeting was called by Gov. James V. Allred who is vitally interested in a sound and constructive program for the conservation and proper utilization of the natural resources of Texas.

Every citizen should be keenly interested in this problem and every city in the state dependent upon underground water should have representation at the Austin meeting.

More than 1,000,000 whitefaced calves are shipped from the highlands of the Big Bend country each year to Iowa and other of the corn belt states to be fattened, finished and shipped back to Texas in the form of fancy beef, and still many Texas farmers sell their corn, oats and other feedstuffs on the open market.

More than 9,000,000 acres of farm and ranch lands have been enlisted in the campaign to conserve and protect Texas wildlife. These acres are in 54 counties and 7,324 farmers and ranchers are co-operating with Texas A. & M. College and other agencies in this movement.

A total of 890,781 acres of land was terraced in Texas in 1937, and 2,166,898 acres were contoured in the state, which means that practically 3,000,000 acres of land will hold its own in 1938 and the highest portion will not wash gulward or help to fill up some lake or pond.

A dozen gubernatorial aspirants would like to see O'Daniel in some sort of lions' den.—Dallas News.

Behind The Scenes In American Business

By John Craddock

New York, July 20—BUSINESS—Merchants, farmers and industrialists saw a number of signs in this week's news pointing toward a good business upswing next fall and winter. Retail furniture dealers, buying and talking shop in Chicago, issued an optimistic forecast of the next six month's trade. Farmers, ready to sell a bumper wheat crop at higher prices than they had expected, watched with interest the International Wheat Conference in London, where a plan to help stabilize prices in all producing countries was presented. In spite of all rumors to the contrary, no formal action has been taken by any major steel company to cut wages. Ahead, one needle of a usually reliable barometer of world business also pointed to fair weather. The number of telephones in use in nine nations made a sharp gain during the first half of this year.

WASHINGTON—President Roosevelt's announcement of the revised budget, showing a deficit of $3,984,000,000, met with a mixed reception. Foes of the government's lending-spending policies pointed out that the 1939 budget showed a record increase in peacetime expenditures, plus a sharp drop in revenues. Friends defended the budget as an investment in more employment and better business, from which John Q. Public would more than get his money's worth. The budget announcement had a quieting effect, but failed to put a damper on the general feeling of optimism.

THINGS TO WATCH FOR—Combination cigarette and match, the match being glued to the cigarette so that when the latter is pulled from the package, a match also is withdrawn. "Ice-bags" for trees, to keep them from budding prematurely; a bag of rubber fabric with dry ice and wrapped around the trunk of the tree, thus "freezing" the tree and keeping the sap from flowing. A folding porch for auto trailers. Combination pencil and calendar, on which the days of the week appear in a "window" in the barrel of the pencil. A key container with index tabs to tell which key opens the front door, garage, etc.

HEADLINES—Electric range sales last year totalled 400,000 units, a third more than the previous year and double 1935. $350,000,000 a year, or about $2.70 for each person in the country, is bet through pari-mutuel machines at race tracks. About one billion

Watkins and his wife told police they were awakened at 3 a. m. by vibrations resembling the passing of a railroad train.

Watkins went down stairs and confronted the man in the dining room. The intruder fled through a window he had shattered for his entry.

Scabies Eradication

There was employed in San Angelo district for the month of June one state man and 9 county men who spent their entire time in an effort to eradicate scabies infection, and a total of approximately $180, was expended by this department in its regular Eradication Program.

Two hundred and twenty-eight herds, and a total of 92,770 sheep, and cattle were inspected or dipped. Three hundred and fifty-three head of cattle were classed as exposed, 2 head as infected, and 489 sheep classed as exposed on account of being imported into Texas.

All exposed or infected livestock were systematically treated.

AUTO REGISTRATION DROP

Austin, July 20—New automobile registrations during June were moderately below those of May and sharply under those of June last year, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Reports from fifteen representative Texas counties show total sales of 3,464 cars, a decline of 4.9 per cent from the preceding month and 45.1 per cent from June last year.

During the first six months sales aggregated 35,534 cars, a decline of 32.9 per cent from the corresponding period a year ago.

INVESTIGATE CHARGES ON FHA LOAN APPLICATIONS

If you are contemplating making application for an FHA loan for building your home, it will pay you to make careful investigation of the charges or loan expenses in connection with such loans. The Federal Housing Administration fixes certain charges such as the application fee, mortgage insurance fee, etc. Some finance company representatives adhere to these charges as fixed by FHA and some do not. You may save a considerable sum on your loan by properly investigating these charges.

PROTECT MILLWORK

If you are having a house built, be certain that all millwork when delivered to the building site is protected from weather. Many times window and door frames are left exposed to the elements awaiting the time when they are to be installed. A tarpaulin should be placed over the millwork.

When practical, the door and window frames should be given a coat of paint before delivery to the job.

BRICK TILE

In renovating a frame home the owner may desire to give the exterior a completely new treatment. This may be done in a number of ways, among them being the application of veneer.

For this purpose he may employ brick tile. This material is of high fire resisting quality and easy to put in place.

The house shown above was built by a resident of Columbus, Ohio, and was appraised at $5,250. The building was financed by an FHA insured mortgage of $4,000. Monthly installments to principal and interest are $26.80. The loan was made for a term of 19 years 6 months.

The house, although appearing to be small, contains two good-sized bedrooms, living room, and dining room and is so arranged as to make for a maximum of privacy.

MAHOGANY AVAILABLE IN THREE MAJOR TYPES

Mahogany, a handsome and beautifully grained wood, is largely used in modern decoration for doors, trim, and paneling. Mahogany is of three distinct types. West Indian mahogany is the hardest, heaviest, and most closely grained of all varieties. It also has the richest and darkest natural coloring. Tropical mahogany is not so rich in color or of as close grain. The third variety is African wood. It is lighter in color and weight than the others and is singularly free from defects. A larger portion of the wood has figured grain than the West Indian or tropical mahogonies.

OUTSIDE CONTROLS

Automatic controls for heating and cooling plants in commercial, business buildings and apartments are being placed outside of the building to add to efficiency in keeping the buildings at correct temperature by immediately compensating for any change in outside temperature.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Q. What should be done to a furnace during the summer months? I do not mean repairs but to keep it in good condition.

A. You should remove all soot and ash from the boiler and spray the interior with oil. The doors should be left open and the hinges and door edges oiled. If possible, the smoke pipe should be taken down, cleaned, and stored in a dry place until time for the furnace to be put in use again.

Q. Is it necessary to weather-strip all windows and doors to be assured of being free from drafts and loss of heat, or will correctly fitted, unwarped millwork take care of it?

A. According to information published in the handbook of the American Society of Heating and Ventilating Engineers, weather-stripping for the average window will aid perceptibly in preventing drafts and heat loss through cracks.

Q. What is a bat? How is it used?

A. In masonry work a brickbat is the term applied to half a brick and is used wherever proper fitting of brickwork requires its use. The term is also applied to insulating material of the fill type, such as rock wool, spun glass, etc., when held in a definite form or bat by means of sheets of paper in order to facilitate its application.

Q. How can I stop outside cellar doors from leaking?

A. The doors should fit well and should have a molding over the joint between the doors. Then a groove should be cut in the frame directly under the crack on the hinge side of the door to let any water that seeps through run out at the bottom of the frame. Even these precautions may not keep all water out. An absolutely water-tight cellar door is a rarity.

The LIVESTOCK SITUATION
by J. A. McNAUGHTON

Los Angeles, July 20—Livestock markets generally are in highly satisfactory condition, prices representing profitable returns to growers and feeders, yet at such levels as to offer meat to consumers at attractive prices. As compared with a year ago, all classes of livestock are selling at prices considerably lower than a year ago. For example, just a year ago, hogs sold on the Los Angeles market at 14 cents a pound, while the prevailing price has been around 11 cents a pound for the choicest, grain fed hogs. Beef cattle prices are about a cent a pound lower, on the average, than a year ago. Fat lambs are about 2 cents a pound lower.

Thus it may be seen that consumers are able to purchase meat at prices substantially under the relatively high basis of a year ago. On the other hand, from the stockman's point of view, there is a healthy demand for fat livestock at prevailing prices, which represent very satisfactory returns. Present levels are vastly better than early in 1938, and growers will be pleased if the present level of prices, which are fair to both producer and consumer, can be consistently maintained.

Meat consumption for the first six months of 1938 shows a gain over the same period a year ago. American consumers up to June 30th had consumed around 2,689 million pounds of beef and veal, a loss of 4 per cent from a year ago; pork consumption has gained 1 per cent; lamb and mutton gained 4 per cent; these figures being based on Federally inspected slaughter.

Again the United States is exporting more pork than is being imported, according to the Institute of American Meat Packers. "In 1937, for the first time in history," states the Institute, "imports of pork exceed exports; now the United States is again exporting more pork than is being imported. Exports for the first half of 1938 exceeded the same period in 1937 by 16 million pounds, or 60 percent; whereas imports were about 10 million pounds, or 26 percent less than a year ago." Exports were equal to about 2 per cent of domestic production; imports equal to about 1 per cent.

Water Resource Control Measures To Be Discussed

Conservation Of Diminishing Supply Topic At Meet

Austin, July 20—Conservation and control of the state's diminishing supplies of underground water will be discussed at a statewide meeting to be held in Austin on July 29.

The meeting was called by Gov. James V. Allred after the Texas Planning Board's water resources committee had reported that several sections of Texas were facing a serious shortage in underground water, and that other sections of the state were finding it difficult to locate new sources of water for an increased demand by industrial and domestic users.

Contrary to popular belief the state's underground water resources are not inexhaustible. Under ordinary conditions the present supply of underground water probably would be sufficient to take care of the demands but with new industries coming into the state and the population of the state growing by leaps and bounds, water is now being taken from the ground faster than Nature can replace it.

Just what legislative steps should be taken to conserve the state's underground water supplies will be discussed at the July 29th meeting. Governor Allred has invited everyone interested in underground water to attend the one-day conference and help formulate a plan for the conservation of this great natural resource.

Salt Recommended To Prevent Prostration From Excessive Heat

Austin, July 20—If your work is such that it causes excessive perspiration, add a pinch of ordinary table salt to each drink of water you take to help prevent heat cramps. This is advised by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, to prevent a possible increase in the number of heat victims as the Texas thermometer hits 95 degrees and above.

Laborers, mechanics, farmers, and white collar workers whose work causes them to sweat profusely, are in danger of having their body salt content become deficient with resulting heat cramps or heat lag. Salt is a prominent constituent of sweat; the body may lose as high as 40 to 50 grams of salt during hot days.

In industry, a method of preventing heat cramps is to take a tablet of pure salt or a mixture of salt and dextrose with each drink of water. Workmen whose duties require muscular exertion should be especially careful to add more than the usual amount of salt to what they eat and drink.

Salt deficiency may be prevented by taking salt in various ways. Where prepared tablets are not available, table salt may be added to each drink of water. Milk is a source of salt and will help to make up for the deficiency caused by sweating. Alcoholic drinks should be avoided.

Heat cramp is characterized by pains (cramps) in the abdominal region, headache, and in severe cases, by nausea, and vomiting. The body temperature remains about normal, likewise the pulse rate. Body salt losses occur without the knowledge of the individual until there is a deficiency; then the abdominal muscles begin to cramp.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Dunlap and Miss Clara Mae Dunlap have as house guests this week Miss Dunlap's former classmates at TSCW in Denton, Miss Janice Joyce Brown of Seymour, Miss Rosemary Polk of Belton, and Miss Shirley Day of Temple, and Mrs. Dunlap's niece, Miss Wanda Jo Webb.

Texas' Offerings To New Industry Studied By Steel

Forced To Shift South On Freight, Wage Considerations

Dallas, July 13—Important recent trends in the steel industry, tending to put steel selling competition on more of a "geographical" basis than ever before, serve to focus new attention on Texas' attractions for decentralizing industry, says a report of the All South Development Council.

C. E. Wright, editor of Iron Age, is quoted in the report as estimating that Southern steel mills "will enjoy wider markets geographically for their products under the new pricing system, and some producers may be forced to shift to Southern territory because of freight and wage considerations, and water transportation will be employed more to offset costs."

He was referring to abandonment of the multiple "basing point" system for steel prices to consumers—in effect since 1924 when the Federal Trade Commission outlawed the old "Pittsburg plus" system, under which Pittsburg was the sole basing point. Recent sweeping changes involve creation of a large number of new basing points, so that proximity of mill to consumption point will for the first time become a price factor. Until now, steel producers have quoted prices f. o. b. the nearest basing point and adding freight from that location to the delivery point, even when the producing mill itself was closer to the consumption point.

With steel producers, as Editor Wright says, being forced to "shift to Southern territory because of freight and wage considerations" under the new pricing system, the question of choosing the most advantageous locations has this industry carefully scanning the southern field and evaluating labor, market, taxation and transportation factors, the report points out. Aggressive, factual merchandising of such of these advantages as Texas has to offer, if combined with official reassurance of the state's receptiveness to new industry, could put Texas in the front rank of prospects for steel industry branch manufacturing and bring long sought development of another of the state's many latent resources, the 100,000,000 long ton deposit of iron ore near Longview.

Thus Texas' stake in the new developments, seen as an important new phase of the general industrial decentralization movement, embraces not only more advantageous prices for steel products used in Texas building and manufacturing, but also the prospect of becoming a steel producing point, the report says. The Longview iron deposit, known but undeveloped for more than 30 years, canalization of the Trinity river, and the damming of the Red river, making available a water route for Oklahoma coal, could be fitted together to make Texas steel a reality.

The Southwest's rapid growth in population and its accompanying strong market for steel for home, factory and business building would seem to justify location of steel producing mills as near this active market as possible to take advantage of the new competitive situation, the report says.

It being impossible for me to see all of you personally, I hope you will take this as a personal appeal for your vote and support in Saturday's primary. N. E. RENDALL, candidate for County Surveyor. (Pol. Adv.)

Maybe the best way to sell big insurance policies is to be a President's son.—Dallas News.

Hereford Assn. To Hold Field Meet At Marfa Aug. 3-5

Importance Of Breeder Feeder Movement To Be Stressed

The Highland Hereford Association will hold a three day field day meeting at Marfa, on August 3, 4 and 5, it has been announced by W. B. Mitchell, one of the organizers of the association, and one of the outstanding breeders of Hereford cattle in America.

Invitations to persons throughout the South will be sent according to the announcement. Officials of Texas A. & M. College will act as hosts to visitors in conjunction with the Highland Hereford Association. Among those who have signified their intention of attending the three day field meet are President Walton of A. & M., Dean Kyle, O. B. Conner of the Extension Department and D. W. Williams of the Animal Husbandry Department.

Purpose of the meeting is to give information first hand to those interested in the breeding of Hereford cattle in Texas and the Southern states. Visits will be made to ranches and cost of production and marketing as well as other features of livestock raising will be discussed.

A general round table discussion of the livestock situation will be held on the night of August 5th, and several prominent breeders as well as others will lead in the discussion.

"It is pretty easy to discuss and encourage expansion in any commodity," Mr. Mitchell said, "but with increased production there must be increased consumption. Our meat consumption fell off considerably last year, due to the high cost of beef. Our consumption is about 64 pounds, whereas some years ago it was 68 pounds. Three pounds per capita increase among 130,000,000 people would mean an increase of several million cattle. As a nation, America does not consume as much meat as Australia.

Mrs. Neal Hannah left Sunday for Spencer, Tenn., to be at the bedside of her father, M. A. Lewis, who suffered a stroke of paralysis several days ago.

W.O.W. Camp Is Organized Here, Officers Named

Membership Now Near 50, With 25 Additions In Drive

Organization of a local lodge of the Woodmen of the World was perfected at a special meeting of the membership held last Friday evening for the election of officers.

The lodge, inactive here for many years, was reorganized following a membership drive conducted during recent weeks during which approximately 25 new members were added to the roster of the organization. Nearly that number of old members have been listed on the roll to bring the lodge membership here to nearly a half hundred.

Alvin O. Fields was elected Camp Commander, with Ross Hufstetler past Camp Commander. Other officers were elected as follows: Griffin Miller, Advising Lieutenant; Leslie Nance, Banker; E. B. Jacobs, Financial Secretary; Elmon Powell, Escort; Joe Whatley, Jr., Watchman; Everidge Davidson, Sentry; Dr. O. A. Kirby, Physician; A. N. Trull, Team Captain; and Tom Casbeer, O. W. Smith and Neal Hannah, Auditors. Regular meetings are to be held by the order every other Monday evening, beginning next Monday night, July 25. The aim of the camp is to increase its membership to 100 in the next six months, according to E. B. Jacobs, secretary.

The Woodmen of the World is a fraternal insurance organization operated on a profit sharing plan. The organization has one of the best equipped tubercular sanatoriums in the nation located at San Antonio. The hospital facilities are available to all Woodmen of the World without cost.

Mr. Jacobs, secretary of the local order, invites all persons interested in learning more about the principles and plan of W.O.W. to see him. He is employed at Smith Drug Store.

Many Ozonans To Attend Paisano Baptist Meeting

Annual Encampment In Davis Mountains To Open Tuesday

A large number of Ozona Baptists are planning to attend the eighteenth annual session of the Paisano Baptist Encampment held each year at historic Paisano Pass between Alpine and Marfa, opening next Tuesday to continue thru Sunday.

Rev. Clyde Childers, pastor of the local church, who with Mrs. Childers, plans to attend the week day sessions of the encampment, said that at least ten members of the local congregation had already signified their intention of attending the encampment and that others might possibly join. Rev. Childers plans to return to Ozona Saturday for regular services Sunday.

Some of the South's outstanding Baptist leaders are to appear on the daily programs during the encampment. Preachers will be Dr. Perry F. Webb of San Antonio and Dr. George W. Truett of Dallas. Robert Jolly of Houston will direct the song services and assist in the young people's work. Mrs. Samuel Means of El Paso will be the encampment pianist.

Rev. C. T. Mitchell of Marfa is acting president of the association following the death this year of Rev. L. R. Millican, veteran leader of the Paisano Encampment group. Vice presidents are the Revs. Buren Sparks of Burnet, I. L. Yearby of El Paso, and M. M. Fulmer of Alpine. Jesse Blackwell of Marfa is secretary; H. L. Kokernot of San Antonio, treasurer.

were anticipated. The rains brought a half cent rise in the offered price for lambs, some sales at 5½ cents being reported and a new high of six cents in a reported Crockett County sale by J. B. Miller to Sid Millsbaugh, Jr., of 1000 lambs. Growers are holding out for six cents against the 5½ cent bidding.

Ancient Indian Bow Secured By Ozonan At N.M. Reservation

Houston Smith, Ozona attorney, who returned Sunday from a vacation trip spent with relatives in New Mexico, brought back a rare souvenir, an authentic Indian bow, possibly a hundred years or more old, which he purchased from an Indian trading post in the Chaco Canyon reservation north of Albuquerque.

A former operator of the trading post told Mr. Smith that the bow, one of the rare types of Indian bows, had been among relics in the trading post when he took it over 45 years ago, and no information was available as to how long it had been there before that time. It is said that only eight or ten bows of this type are among existing collections in the United States.

With the bow Mr. Smith secured two of the original arrows. One of these is equipped with steel point, the point of the other being lost. The bow is strung with deer sinew and is reinforced at point of greatest strain with sinew. Mr. Smith plans to place the bow and arrows on exhibit in the High School Museum.
