A big hydro-electric development corporation of California showed to the world that some corporations have heart, when it spent more than $20,000 to divert the channel of the Yuba river so that the drowned body of a crippled child might be recovered and placed in the arms of a grieving mother.

Reported from El Paso that a child was found by detectives who had been for years kept in a pigsty, chained, receiving its food through the bars of the pen. The child, who apparently was about thirteen years old, appeared to be not more than the age of three, so stunted was it. When asked how long it had been living in the pen, the child replied "a long time," although its stepmother said it had been put there shortly before to play.

President Harding Dies From Illness

The entire country from Maine to California, and from the Great Lakes to the Gulf, has been cast into deepest gloom and sorrow by the report that President Warren G. Harding had died suddenly from an attack of ptomaine poisoning and consequent complications occasioned by eating canned crabs. President Harding had been making a tour of Alaska and the Western States, and on his return had stopped in California, where he was taken ill. The attack of poisoning was seemingly very light, and it had been reported only a few hours previous to his death that the President was resting well and was considered out of danger, so much so that plans were being made for his return to Washington City. His death came as a distinct surprise to attending physicians and members of the Presidential party.

According to a report received in Ozona, the death of the President occurred Thursday evening, August 2nd, at about seven o'clock.

Do Good Roads Really Pay Us?

If good roads really save money for us, who gets that money and what is done with it?

John N. Edy, until recently a highway engineer of Montana, has stirred up this discussion of good roads in the Western Highway Builder. He wants to know whether it is true that every stretch of good road really pays regardless of its cost, and who gets the money. It has been shown conclusively that the gasoline consumption is less per car mile on a good gravel road than it is on an earth road and that there is a further gasoline saving on paved roads as compared with graveled roads. But, says he, it costs four to six times more to pave a road than the expense of providing a good gravel surface. With the same amount of money we can build four to six times more gravel than of paved mileage. If gravel saves half a cent and pavement a cent per car mile over earth roads, and if paving is five times more costly than gravel, then the amount of road investment necessary to pave one mile will save one cent, whereas the same amount invested in five miles of gravel will save two and a half cents. Even with higher maintenance cost, it would save the motorist money if the cheaper type of road were built in longer stretches where the traffic is not too heavy.

But, says Edy, the better the road surface, and the longer the improved mileage, the more the motorist is out at the end of the year. The good-road savings are purely constructive, like your share in the national wealth. They are there, but you can't cash them in because the better the roads the more frequently the old bus is exercised and the longer the rides and the larger the gasoline consumption.

The real dividends you get out of good roads depend upon what you do when you get there.

Also Mr. Edy points out there is a further difficulty. While the constructive good-road savings, like salvation, are individual, the cost falls mostly on the public. The private savings accrue day by day unnoticed, but the road expenses come in a bunch at tax-paying time.

OZONA, TEXAS, Aug. 3, 1923

Notice the half-page advertisement of Chris Meinecke on this page of The Stockman. Mr. Meinecke is one of the Ozona merchants who believe that it pays to advertise. We know it pays to advertise.

L. E. Magruder was a visitor in Ozona last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben E. Ingham have gone to San Angelo on a short visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Davis and baby, of Barnhart, accompanied by Mrs. Schaeffer, were recent visitors in Ozona.

Charley Lindley has sold his four section ranch to L. B. Cox and will move into town to give his children the benefit of the Ozona school.

Dance in Ozona last week was attended by quite a number of out-of-town visitors. A San Angelo orchestra furnished the music.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe B. Johnston, of Big Lake, were here the first of the week on a visit to Mrs. Johnston's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Friend, and other relatives. Mrs. Johnston was formerly Miss Eddie Friend.

The Right to Work.

Employers in the building industry in New York have decided to undertake establishing the open shop in the entire country.

Unionism has accomplished much for the workers in this nation and contributed greatly to the common welfare. It has a legitimate place in our highly systematized industrial machine but just as the power of capital can be abused if manipulated by unscrupulous persons, so can the power of labor organizations become a tyranny when controlled by radical labor leaders who ignore all thought of the public interest in carrying out their holdup programs.

When any union tries to set itself above the constitution, which guarantees a man the protection in his right to work regardless of his religious, political or labor affiliations, it is headed straight for the rocks of public condemnation.

Hot Weather Diseases

Disorders of the bowels are extremely dangerous, particularly during the hot weather of the summer months, and in order to protect yourself and family against a sudden attack get a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic and Diarrhoea Remedy. It can be depended upon. Many have testified to its excellence.

Leases Ranch in Crockett

Walter Sterling of Houston, and Dolph Briscoe of Uvalde, have traded for a ranch in Crockett county, and will run 6,000 head of stock cattle. Sterling is at Uvalde at present, and final arrangements were made on the deal. Banks Meacham has already gone out to the ranch and will be manager.—Uvalde Leader-News.

Big Ranch Deals in This Section

(From San Angelo Standard.)

Over a half million dollars was involved in ranch deals in Sutton county during the month of July, in the changing in the ownership of over 85,000 acres of land, shattering all monthly records for several years. Land, from small city lots to ranches was included in the many transactions.

Dissolution of partnership of Allison & Wyatt formed a large part of the transactions. The firm composed of D. J. Wyatt and H. P. Allison sold D. J. Wyatt a ranch comprised of 17,280 acres, consideration being $120,960. The same firm decided to H. P. Allison 7927 acres of land in Sutton county and 5,321.9 acres of the same class of land in Crockett county, amounting to 13,248.9, consideration $92,742.30, and 5,417 acres in Sutton county had for $37,919. Mr. Allison then traded the 13,248 acres in Sutton and Crockett counties to W. E. Glascock, who in turn decided to Mr. Allison a Schleicher-Sutton county ranch of 5,541 acres, the total consideration recorded being $94,510.

D. J. Wyatt sold a one half interest of 17,280 acres of Sutton county ranch land to Joseph M. Vander Stucken, his brother-in-law. The land was purchased for $60,480. This ranch is said to be one of the choicest tracts in the county. It is southeast of Sonora about fourteen miles.

A ranch west of Sonora which is in both Sutton and Crockett counties, and is composed of 3,840 acres, was purchased by G. P. Hill from W. P. Seahorn. The price paid for the tract was $25,300.

Five carloads of horses, mares and mules, about 120 head, were purchased in Crockett county last week by O. D. Weston, of Knickerbocker, from John W. Henderson of Ozona. The animals range in age from one to six years. They will be delivered at Barnhart August 25 and will be shipped to Brownwood for sale.

The Tax Problem

We believe the greatest problem before the American people today is the problem of taxation, says the Shenandoah, Ia., Sentinel Post.

Two sane methods of relief are open. First discourage new governmental fads and fancies which add unnecessary laws to our statute books with increased numbers of employes and more government overhead. Officialism spreads like the green bay tree if left to its own course, so trim it down to essentials.

Second, see that all property pays taxes equally, which it does not do at present. Under our existing laws, any person is at liberty to convert his property into non-taxable bonds and thus escape all forms of taxation.

The necessity (if it ever existed) for tax-exempt bonds is past and the day is here when no such loophole as this should remain to enable those most able to pay to escape taxation.

Every dollar that tax-exempt bonds absorb cuts two ways—it doubles the tax on other people and removes a dollar from industries which need it for expansion and development.

Hunger the Best Sauce

Sauce is used to create an appetite or relish for the food. The right way is to look to your digestion. When you have good digestion you are certain to relish your food. Chamberlain's Tablets improve the digestion, create a healthy appetite and cause a gentle movement of the bowels.

General Merchandise Business Here

The rumor last week that Ozona was to have a new general merchandise building establishment was verified Tuesday by J.
O. Hightower, of Sonora, who was in Ozona making final arrangements for the opening of his place of business. The new store will be in the building recently vacated by A. E. Deland.

Mr. Hightower is a West Texas man and understands the West Texas people, and because of this will know how to serve you at all times. At the present he is operating similar establishments in both Sonora and Eldorado. He has formerly owned such stores in Mertzon, Fort Chadbourne, McKavett and San Angelo.

Mr. Hightower will carry a general line of both dry goods and groceries. The store will be opened as quickly as possible.

SOUTHERN FENCE

"STYLE F" Southern Fencing is designed to prevent the intrusion of coyotes and wolves. Another feature of this fencing is the inability of sheep and goats to get their heads through the closely woven wires. Thus it fills a long needed want and affords real protection in sheep and goat raising sections. Ranchmen who are interested in a really practical and economical fence, are invited to ask for prices and particulars.

Bosworth as a Poet.

The following item was handed to The Stockman editor that it be reprinted:

Allie R. Bosworth, of the navy hospital, is another rising literary light among local naval men.
San Diego naval men, it is safe to say, furnish forth more embryo writers in the country's papers than any other naval unit.
Bosworth has already made his name in eastern magazines, as has Machinist's Mate Seymour, of the air station, who is a cartoonist. Both these men yesterday joined the staff of the local Naval Weekly, and their work will be shown to San Diegans.

Bosworth, an unassuming na-

Health Survey of Ozona Public Schools
(By Zaidee Kincaid)

A health survey was made of the Ozona Public Schools during the early part of 1923. This survey recorded the number of different defects and diseases existing at that time, and the diseases that the school children, taken individually, had already had. The survey can be more clearly seen by giving the number of defects and diseases.

There are two hundred and nine children, eighty-one boys and one hundred and twenty-eight girls enrolled in the public school. These pupils were each examined by the health nurse, who recorded their weight and height, the tuberculosis history of their family, and the diseases and defects they had at the time and those diseases which they had had previously. Among the defects which the nurse recorded were eye and ear defects, which were most prominent. In these cases she recommended that the persons see a specialist, where she considered it necessary.

A defect which is very common, especially among school children, is posture. They fail to realize the danger of leaning over their desks when they are at work. Round shoulders are due to incorrect posture, especially during the growing period of a child. When a person leans over, it presses the lower parts of the body upward against his lungs, making correct breathing impossible, and thus weakening the lungs. This posture may be prevented by the practice of sitting erect. To overcome this evil, one must also sit erect and practice breathing deeply. Out of the two hundred and nine children enrolled, seventy-eight had this defect. Thirty-one of these were boys and forty-seven were girls. The total shows a third of the children have bad posture; three boys out of eight and one girl out of three.

The ear defects were very few, and the chief one was that they were unable to hear at the correct distance; while there were one or two cases where there was a discharge from the ears. There were only eleven ear defects throughout the school.

Quite naturally, a nurse could detect only the most prominent defects. There were seventy-three eye defects, and where glasses were needed, the nurse recommended the persons to an oculist, and in most every case, immediate action was taken by the parents.

As one must weigh a certain amount according to his height and age, several persons were found underweight, and a few overweight. There were thirty-three from three or four to thirty-two pounds underweight. In these cases the nurse advised that the persons eat certain nourishing foods, take plenty of exercise and fresh air. There were only a few who were very noticeably overweight.

The history of tuberculosis showed that there were only a few cases existing among the families of the school children, and there were no signs of cases among the children. Only eight cases were recorded; seven of these are living, however, and this should remind us to guard against it as much as ever, as it is a constant danger.

Adenoids, usually so common among school children, were not found to be so conspicuous among these children. There were only eight cases which demanded recording. Adenoids, a spongy growth in the nasal passage, are very dangerous, and should be removed as soon as they are detected, as they grow very rapidly. They cause a person to be dull, and also stunted, and hinder correct breathing to a great extent. Only in the lower grades are there found any defects in tonsils; these were all enlarged.

The students' teeth were examined by a dentist and there were eighty-one defects found, almost all of which were de-

Abilene Gets New Hospital

A $200,000 hospital plant will be at the service of Simmons College students within the next year, when the West Texas Baptist Sanitarium, within two blocks of the Simmons College campus, is completed and opened to the public. According to an announcement of the building committee, the structure will be ready for service by December the first of this year, and the sanitarium will probably be officially opened some time near that date.

The building is a modern fire-proof brick plant five stories in height with service wing; three elevators will be installed. There will be sixteen ward beds, and the remainder of the institution is given over to private rooms, each one having a closet and lavatory adjoining. A suite of five rooms will be devoted to X-ray purposes; three operating rooms. The sanitarium is to be run with an open staff, any eligible physician being permitted to conduct his practice there, and to bring patients to the institution.

Fruit and Vegetable Store Now Ready

Mills Bell and John Wall, both of San Angelo, have come to Ozona and put into operation a fruit stand in the Metcalf building immediately north of the Ozona National Bank, at which place they have installed a complete line of fruits, vegetables and other seasonable articles of a like nature. Mr. Wall will be in active charge of the establishment, while Mr. Bell will be kept busy trucking the supplies from San Angelo. Give them a part of your patronage, and help these new business firms in Ozona to become firmly established.

Ozona-Barnhart Mail Line Changes Hands

Alvin Deland, formerly mail carrier serving Ozona, who has for the past several years been engaged in the auto repair business, has closed his garage and bought from Cam Longley the contract to carry the mail between Ozona and Barnhart, taking charge early this week. Mr. Longley, who has been the mail carrier for several years, has purchased a flock of sheep and has entered the ranching business, having secured possession of the Zipp ranch in western Crockett county. Mr. Deland purchased a Dodge car and trailer from Mr. Longley and will continue to carry the mail in the same efficient manner that was the rule rather than the exception during Mr. Longley's term as contractor.

ROBS CALOMEL OF NAUSEA AND DANGER

Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Dangerous and Sickening Qualities Removed. Perfect Tablets Called "Calotabs"

The latest triumph of modern science is a "de-nauseated" calomel tablet known to the drug trade as "Calotabs." Calomel the most generally useful of all medicines, thus enters upon a wider field of popularity—purified and refined from those objectionable qualities which have heretofore limited its use.

In biliousness, constipation, headaches and indigestion, and in a great variety of liver, stomach and kidney troubles, calomel was the most successful remedy, but its use was often neglected on account of its sickening qualities. Now it is the easiest and most pleasant of medicines to take. One Calotab at bedtime with a swallow of water,—that's all. No taste, no griping, no nausea, no salts. A good night's sleep and the next morning you are feeling fine, with a clean liver, a purified system and a big appetite. Eat what you please. No danger.

Calotabs are sold only in original, sealed packages, price thirty-five cents for the large family package; ten cents for the small trial size. Your druggist is authorized to refund the purchase price as guarantee that you will be thoroughly delighted with Calotabs.—(Adv.)
