Brieger Kills Wife And Ends Own Life Here

Tragedy Occurs Sunday Evening At Home Here; Survived By Daughter

After mortally wounding his wife, George D. Brieger, prescription clerk for Smith's Drug Store here, early Sunday evening turned a small automatic pistol on himself and sent a bullet thru his heart, dying instantly. The shooting occurred at the Brieger home in the presence of the only daughter of the couple, Mrs. Theron Cook and her husband.

Immediately after the shooting Mrs. Brieger was rushed to a San Angelo hospital in Robert Massie Co. ambulance where an operation was performed in an effort to save her life. The bullet lodged in her spine just back of the abdomen and she died about midnight Monday.

The body of Mr. Brieger was taken to Bastrop for burial and that of Mrs. Brieger was buried in San Angelo Wednesday afternoon.

The shooting took place a few minutes after Mrs. Brieger had returned from the First Baptist church where she was organist. Mr. and Mrs. Cook had also returned from church and while the three were in a room together, Mr. Brieger walked into the room with his hand behind his back, said goodnight to his daughter and turning fired at Mrs. Brieger who was seated. As Mrs. Brieger fell, her daughter ran to her as the father fired a second shot, which went wild. Brieger then pressed the gun to his chest and pulled the trigger.

All health and despondency are believed to have been contributing causes of the tragedy. The family had lived here about three years. Mr. Brieger coming to this section for his health. The shooting had evidently been contemplated for several weeks was revealed after the tragedy when a number of friends reported that Brieger had made repeated efforts to borrow a gun and had been impatient to have a broken gun of his own repaired. The gun which was used was borrowed a few minutes before from Tip Smith at the drug store. Smith reported that Brieger told him that his (Brieger's) gun was broken and that he wanted to borrow one "for a few days."

Another evidence that the shooting was planned is seen in the fact that at the supper table Sunday evening Mr. Brieger handed a seal envelope to his daughter, requesting that she keep it until she saw him again. After the tragedy the packet was opened and found to contain insurance papers and Brieger will leaving his property to his daughter.

PRAIRIE DOG NOTICE

Be it remembered that on the 15th day of September A. D. 1925, the Honorable Commissioners Court met in Regular Session all members present except Com. J. W. Owens and the following Order was passed:

It appearing to the Court that the prairie dog is populating Crockett County to a ruinous extent, and it seems to the Court, judging from the complaints that this Court should take some official action under the statute to the end that this nuisance be wiped out of Crockett County, and the Court is of the opinion that the severity of this law if strictly followed by this Court might work unnecessary expense and hardship on owners, and because it is considered best to make and pass this order rather by way of notice and warning that all prairie dogs must be exterminated and that at the regular meeting of this Court in February, 1927, this Court will pass an order under the Prairie Dog Statute enforcing same so far as Crockett County is concerned.

This Court, believing and expecting cooperation of land and lease owners and desiring to assist in any reasonable way, has applied to the Commissioner of Agriculture for written formula and suggestion, as to the best ascertained measures and method proper and necessary leading to such extermination, and this asked for information when received will be placed on file in the clerk's office at Ozona subject to the inspection of all, and the Clerk of this Court is ordered to mail copies to any making written request for same. It is further ordered that this order

Crockett Calves For Orphans Home

Local Baptists To Ship Carload To Buckner inmates At Dallas Home

A solid carload of Crockett county calves will soon be shipped to Dallas to become veal steers for inmates of Buckner's Orphans Home, a Baptist institution located at Dallas, according to an announcement by members of the local Baptist church, this week.

The carload of calves is being made up among members of the local church, it was declared, and as soon as the necessary number to make up a car is secured shipment will be made. The calves are being donated by Ozona Baptists for the orphans' children.

Efforts are also being made among local Baptists to secure pledges from members to finance one child in the care for a period of one year. It is estimated that approximately $265 will fund and clothe one child in the home for one year. Baptists all over the state are being asked to donate this much for the care of one orphan for a year. A number here have already indicated that they are willing to make the donation, it is understood.

Caretaker For Cemetery Plan

Association Lanches Move To Keep Man On Grounds At All Times For Improvements

Plans for employing a caretaker for the Ozona cemetery to look after the plot, keep flowers and trees watered and otherwise keep it in good condition, were discussed at a meeting of the Cemetery Association at the home of Mrs. J. C. Montgomery Thursday afternoon.

The association has just completed a new well and reservoir at the cemetery and has laid a network of pipes through the grounds, making an abundant supply of water available for every lot in the cemetery. If the plan of employing a caretaker to look after the cemetery is carried out, Ozona will in a few more months have one of the prettiest cemetery plots in this section of the state. The well is an abundant producer and a good "indian" has been installed. The big tank has already been filled.

Mrs. Arthur Hoover was elected chairman of the association at the meeting Thursday, succeeded Mrs. Montgomery, who served in that capacity during the past year. Mrs. Bert Kincaid was elected secretary—treasurer succeeding Mrs. Joe Oberkamp.

The treasurer reported that as well and other improvements had all been paid for in full and the association now has a 1925 balance in the bank. Members of the association expressed their appreciation for the cooperation of Ozona citizens in making these improvements possible, for the donations received by the committee which worked so faithfully to raise the necessary funds. This committee was composed of J. O. Secrest, Early Baggett and Joe Pierce.

Employment of a caretaker at the cemetery will necessitate the construction of a house near the site where such an employee may live, it was pointed out. A plan can be found for raising the necessary funds for the construction of such a house and payment of the salary, this work will be undertaken as soon as possible it was decided.

New Plumbing and Tin Shop Is Opened Here

Another new business enterprise has been launched in Ozona. J. F. Keaton, until recently connected with the Joe Oberkamp hardware and plumbing store has opened a plumbing and tin shop in the front part of the building occupied by Ed Burk's machine shop next door to Chris Kinnison's store.

Mr. Keaton has been in Ozona about a year, employed by Joe Oberkamp as a sheet metal worker. He came here from Sabine, where he was in business for about eight years.

The new shop will make a specialty of high class sheet metal work and plumbing. Stove pipe tin lines, tanks, radiator repairing, etc., will be other lines. In time Mr. Keaton hopes to have considerable machinery installed to do general repair work. He is making plans to renovate the building to provide front display space and to make the store one of the most attractive on that block.

Successful Baptist Meeting Is Closed

The First Baptist church of Ozona closed its very successful two weeks revival with the services here Sunday. Dr. Evans, who has been doing the preaching, left Monday for San Angelo, where he is scheduled to open a revival this week. H. O. Word took the train for Barnhart where he took the train for San Angelo.

The two weeks meeting was attended by large crowds daily, and was declared by local church leaders to be one of the most successful meetings held at the church in several years.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Friend will, with their two small daughters, returned to their home near Big Lake Monday.

Rancher Kills Huge Black Mexican Eagle

A big Mexican black eagle, measuring seven feet two inches from tip to tip of his wings, was killed Saturday by Ford Coates between Ozona and his ranch. Mr. Coates, with his family, was coming to Ozona to spend the week-end and brought the big bird down with a shotgun.

The Mexican eagle is declared to be so scarce in Texas, a few of the big fellows drifting up from this section from the mountainous sections of Mexico. Dr. Deems, Post Worth minister, who has been holding a meeting at the Baptist church here, saw the eagle and declared that any specimen would have been glad to have it stuffed. The bird had been dead too long, however, to save the specimen.

NEW DAUGHTER ARRIVES

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Henton are entertaining a new daughter this week, born Sunday morning. The new arrival, who weighed in at 9 1/2 pounds, has been named Vivian Lucille. Mrs. Henton is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. T. Drennan. They are living at the Drennan Hotel. This is Mr. and Mrs. Drennan's first grand child and they are celebrating her arrival with proper ceremony.

METHODISTS POUND HAY

So related were they over the return of Rev. Stanley Haver as pastor of the local church. Mrs. Mable Hays Wednesday expressed their appreciation of his work and their joy at his return by means of an old fashioned pounding of the minister and his wife. Many good things were showered on the couple and an hour of rejoicing followed the pounding.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Odum were in San Angelo last week on a pleasure trip.

Harold Baker Is Acquitted

Del Rio Jury Frees Ozona Man In Shooting Case After But Six Minutes

After being out but six minutes, a jury in district court at Del Rio last Friday returned a verdict of not guilty in the case of the state against Harold Baker of Ozona, charged with assault with intent to murder in connection with the shooting of Gaudilupe Oresco, Mexican ranch employe. The shooting occurred a year ago last summer.

The evidence showed that Mr. Baker and the Mexican had had previous trouble, that the Mexican attacked Baker and the latter shot in self defense. Baker is a son in law of W. E. West and the shooting occurred on the Wayne West ranch. Ira Gason, Baker's brother in law, was slightly wounded by a stray bullet.

Baker was defended by N. W. Graham of Ozona and Walter Jones of Del Rio, while the state's case was handled by District Attorney Julian LaCross of Del Rio and County Attorney Grady Lowry. The case was submitted without argument, except for a brief summary by County Attorney Lowry.

77 Votes Cast In Crockett Co.

Republican Candidate For Governor Receives One, Moody Gets The Rest

One of the lightest votes in years was cast in Crockett County at the general election held Tuesday. A total of 77 votes were cast in the county, according to returns to county officials.

Crockett county voters for the most part voted the straight Democratic ticket, some few scratches of the Demos being dealt out here and there. Of the 77 votes cast, Dan Moody, Democratic nominee for governor, received 76 and Col. H. H. Haines, Republican nominee had one loyal supporter in the county.

Although Republicans claimed up to the day of the election that nominees of that party would secure a majority over the Democrats, the general election in Texas attracted very little attention. Some spectacular battles in several of the "doubtful states" however, furnished plenty of news for speculation and interest among political observers.

The First Baptist church has been given a new coat of paint and considerable repair work has been done, making the building much more attractive.

The Bank building has been frescoed up to match the Oberkamp building next door. It has been painted and the stone work scraped to make it white again.

Miss Hazel Friend entertained a number of her friends with a Halloween celebration Saturday night. The guests arrived masked and representing ghosts, witches and other Halloween characters. After games and stunts appropriate to the occasion Mrs. Frank Friend, the small nephew's mother, took the guests on a parade through town in true Halloween spirit.

Miss Childress who bought the old Methodist church is having the steeple torn down and the building otherwise renovated to serve as a private garage. Mr. Childress owns the lot adjoining the building on the east.

I want to take this opportunity of thanking my friends for their kindness to me curing my stay here on business. Especially I want to thank Joe Pierce, Joe Graham.

Rev. Haver Is Returned As Pastor Here

Financial Report Of Local Church Is Feature Of Conference At Angelo

Rev. Stanley Haver was returned as pastor of the Ozona Methodist church at the annual session of the Southwestern Conference held at San Angelo last week. Rev. Haver has been pastored here for the past year and members of the church are highly gratified that the Conference saw fit to return him here for another year.

Many of the local members attended the Conference among them being Mrs. Frank Friend as alternate delegate of the San Angelo district, Frank Friend, W. R. Baggett, Mrs. Hugh Childress, Mrs. Jess Childress, Mrs. J. A. Fuschel, Miss Schwabe, Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Cox, Mrs. Victor Pierce, and others. The following former preachers of Ozona were seen at the session: J. M. Perry, now at McKinney Ave., San Antonio; J. T. King, now at Harlingen; S. C. Dunn, of Yoakum; R. S. Acker, Nat. B. Read, superintendent; A. T. White, Cuero; J. D. McWhorter, Sterling City; M. E. Daniel, superintendent; and E. C. Swann, superintendent. The local delegates enjoyed meeting these former pastors again. The three superannuates were given this relation this year.

The Ozona report was one of the outstanding ones of the entire connection in that the financial budget was a total of $39,750. Special emphasis was placed upon the fact that the new building is fitted for a Class B Sunday School which is the same rank as San Angelo First Church.

Mrs. Frank Friend gave a dinner to several of the former pastors at the St. Anthonys on Thursday. Forrest Dudley also being a present.

A special feature of the Conference was the Sunday School report of the San Angelo District, which led the entire Conference. The San Antonio District came next in the number of training credits, San Angelo having 607 and San Antonio having 601. The local pastor has served as Superintendent of the District Sunday Schools and has helped make this good report. At the Conference an Extension Superintendent was appointed who will visit the Sunday Schools in the interest of this Sunday School work. Horace King, a graduate of S. M. U. seminaries, was selected. Rev. Haver was named president of the Epworth League Committee.

A feature of the Conference was the charges made against Professor H. L. Gray, a former missionary to China and for sixteen years a teacher of Bible in the Southwestern University. Due to the scores of former students of Professor Gray in the Conference, the measure was of great interest. He made a strong declaration of his faith in all the essential tenets of religion which was ably supported by Dr. J. Sam Barcus, president of the institution. There are many who feel that the issue is not one that really casts doubt upon Dr. Gray's orthodoxy as a Methodist teacher but rather has to do with certain interpretations of the creed upon which there has been some difference among members in the church. This is an issue that has involved Bishop Lamuth, and other of the great leaders of the church but does not charge them with heresy. The Conference gave Professor Gray a satisfactory vote of confidence.

Rev. Haver had a considerable part in swaying the conference to vote confidence in Dr. Gray. A paragraph from the San Angelo Standard report of Rev. Haver follows:

W. EVART WHITE EDITOR and PUBLISHER

Entered at the Post Office at Ozona, Texas, as Second Class Mail Matter under Act of Congress, March 3rd, 1879.

Ozona, Texas, Thursday, Nov. 4, 1926.

Steering a march on other towns of the state, Ozona is going to stake its real reputation and meet December 31 and January 1st after the Christmas rush when under ordinary circumstances there are plenty of... The success of the celebration last year, the first to be undertaken by the fair association in its new fair grounds, has given leaders of the association encouragement to go ahead with the mid winter event and elaborate plans are being worked out for a festival about that time. After plans have progressed a little further, the fact that Ozona is to have another fair and celebration will be broadcast far and wide and the people of this entire section will be invited to attend the two days race meet and rodeo. A full card of races and riding and horse riding events has been outlined by the program committee and some of the best animals and riders in West Texas are expected to compete for honors in the various events. Thousands of visitors are expected to be here for the fair and every one will leave satisfied with the entertainment of the regular July event to come. A fair and celebration of this kind twice annually is to be a regular event in Ozona in the future and if it grows with a few years experience in proportion to the success of the initiative there is no reason why such events should not take their place among the biggest of this kind in this half of the state. For one thing, they come at the time of the year when they are not in conflict with any other fair in this territory and when appetites are sharp for just that sort of entertainment. It isn't so very long now until the mid winter event will be here and it's not a bit too early to begin talking it up. Friends in other towns should be told the news that Ozona is going to have a celebration that will be to their liking. Business and personal stationery might carry the trade across the fact that a mid winter race and rodeo will be held here. Programs and arrangements of the event should be mailed to prospective visitors in the various events as well as distributed over the county to bring crowds here. Let's get on all in Ozona and have some real entertainment.

been secured in the new organization. Which sets our think tank to rolling along the line of golf. With our new hotel now receiving the finishing touches we are going to be looking forward to having considerable visitors stopping off here from time to time, tourists stopping for the night and possibly a day and vacationists stopping over for a rest.

This hotel is going to be one of the greatest drawing cards Ozona has ever offered when it is finally completed and its doors thrown open to guests. How much greater would be the attraction, if the town offered a course upon which visitors might divert themselves while here. Like Camel cigarettes, a golfer will "walk a mile" or more for a game of the ancient pastime and it's not unreasonable to believe that tourists will make a special effort to get to Ozona for a few days stay in her new hotel and for a few rounds on her golf course.

But not only would a golf course be a good business proposition for the town and an ideal way to entertain guests, but it would be a great improvement in the field of local amusements. There is no better game in the category in our opinion than golf even like we play it, and we believe that if Ozona people ever get a taste of it on their own links they wouldn't give up the course for twice its cost.

There is a lot of opportunity here that should be broadcast to the world. There are a lot of things that should be secured for the town, for instance, an up-to-date office, new business enterprises, etc. The people of Ozona are interested in and anxious to have these things to the town to better their interests when they are made, but there is no central office or body thru which such promotion work can be done. An organization of a Chamber of Commerce, then, should be the next step in the city's program of development. Many of the neighboring towns, some of them smaller than this place, have had active chambers of commerce for years and have had some of them are accomplishing results. A chamber of Commerce could be organized here at a nominal cost, and in a very short time it could be chosen as the official body of the organization in a general rating and the only office that would be stationary, permanent, and perhaps on a central business and the line. With very little interest of the town and public spirited citizens, it could be set up behind the scenes and would be distributed over the town and felt by any one who saw it. And a lot could be done that can not now be accomplished properly. The Ozona Tennis Club, led by Mr. Horace Smith, has a number of people interested in a tennis court. No Secrets to Making Perfect Cup of Coffee

Can Be Achieved By Following A Few Simple Rules Says Famous Cooking Expert

*By Mildred Maddocks Bentley
 Formerly Director of Good Housekeeping Institute*

What is the secret of first-rate coffee—the kind that starts the day right—that makes you feel "like a million dollars"?

Literally hundreds of women—and a surprising number of men—have asked me this question in one form or another. And it's an important one—for what can be more blighting to domestic happiness than a cup of muddy coffee or coffee improperly "creamed"? And, on the contrary, what can be more exhilarating than a good cup—fragrant, golden, delicious?

Luckily there's no hidden secret about making and serving the perfect coffee—it's just a matter of minding your p's and q's and following a few simple directions.

Selection of Coffee

There are many excellent brands of coffee in the market—the choice of one of these is largely a matter of individual taste. But I do want to say that usually coffee in the bean retains its flavor longer than in the ground form—so, if possible, buy the whole beans and grind your coffee fresh for each meal. If, however, the breakfast hour—or fifteen minutes—is too hectic to admit of this extra step, at least keep your ground coffee in an air tight container—a glass fruit jar for instance. And it's well to remember that the more finely the coffee is ground, the easier it is to extract its full strength and flavor—consequently finely-ground coffee is economical and time-saving.

The Coffee Pot

Connoisseurs maintain that coffee brewed in a metal pot has a less delicate flavor than in a container of glass, stone-ware or agate. Whatever kind of coffee pot you prefer—it should be scoured frequently and occasionally "boiled out" with water to which a pinch of baking soda has been added—then rinsed, dried, and left uncovered.

If a percolator is used, the pipe should be carefully washed every day with a brush to remove all scum from the preceding brew.

For drip coffee, if you do not have a special drip coffee pot, an ordinary one equipped with a double cheesecloth bag will serve the purpose. The cheesecloth should be washed in cold water after using and renewed at least once a week. Keep the bag always moist.

The "Creaming"

This I consider quite as important as the actual brewing. Good coffee can so easily be spoiled by using cream of inferior quality or the "top of the bottle" if carelessly poured off. In my study of food habits, I am finding that every year more and more people prefer sweetened condensed milk in their coffee. You see this kind is twice as rich and creamy as ordinary milk and furthermore already contains sugar, thus serving the additional purpose of sweetening the coffee. Try it for a few days, and I think you will agree that the condensed milk gives a delightfully rich, smoothly blended drink, bringing out the real coffee flavor. And of course it is very convenient, as it keeps fresh without ice even after the can is opened—and the cost is extremely moderate.

Now as to the actual methods of brewing. There are several and your choice is entirely a matter of individual taste. If the directions are carefully followed, any of the methods will yield the "perfect cup of coffee"—mellow in flavor, with a delicate, fragrant aroma, free from sediment and of a dark golden hue.

Boiled Coffee

Rinse the pot with hot water, put the coffee in the pot—use rounded tablespoon of medium-ground coffee to each cup of boiling water, with an additional spoon "for the pot." Add a little white of egg, or crushed egg shell and about one-fourth cup of cold water, stir thoroughly. Add the boiling water, place the coffee pot over heat, and bring to a full boil. Place on back of the stove or over low heat for about ten minutes to settle, before serving. Do not allow the coffee to become oversteeped by excessive pouring.

Percolated Coffee

Use one cup of finely-ground coffee to six cups of boiling water. Place the coffee in the strainer in the upper part of the pot and let the water bubble up through the tube, percolating through the coffee into the lower part, until the coffee is of the desired strength, five minutes before the usual time required. Serve at once. Coffee made in a percolator is not good if allowed to stand after the required strength is reached.

Drip Coffee

Heat the pot by rinsing in hot water, and set the strainer. Measure carefully the coffee (finely-ground) allowing one rounded tablespoon to each cup of water. Place in the drip-coffee pot and pour boiling water through the coffee very slowly. Cover and let stand to drip through and serve immediately. Do not allow the time to run. If service is delayed, place the pot in or over hot water. Never reheat by placing over the fire.

Steeped Coffee

In making steeped coffee use one rounded tablespoon of coffee to each cup of water used, with an additional spoon for the pot. Add cold water. Place over the fire and bring quickly to the boiling point. Either let it stand for a moment to settle or add a little cold water.

Remember—the best coffee will lose its flavor if allowed to stand. Coffee should always be freshly made and served piping hot, as soon as it is brewed. If necessary to let stand, the pot should be tightly covered and the spout closed by stuffing with soft cloth or paper, so that none of the aroma and flavor may be lost.

Rev. Stanley Haver spoke as "a good witness for the defense." He studied under Dr. Gray for five years. He said the question debated was a little too deep for him. He believed in the trinity, but didn't understand it. He named several books on theology that many had not read and commented that Dr. Gray's position seemed to be in accord with Bishop Lambert's. Reading statements by John Wesley, Mr. Haver said it appeared that Methodists didn't have to be orthodox at all, that it seemed you can't take Wesley and stay in the Methodist Church. We are up against it." Amid laughter,

Bishop Moore asked Mr. Haver if he would investigate Wesley and the reply was "Yes, before we investigate Dr. Gray." Quotations from Jowett and Bishop Candler was given and Mr. Haver asked what Methodism stands for, if theological students were going to be suspicioned for reading all available subjects throwing light on religion, Paramount in this he said, was that Christ came to forgive sin. He said Dr. Gray had told him that prayer is the biggest thing in life.
