DO YOU WANT TO WRITE
PIGS TO GREECE.
UNCOUTH BOLSHIEVSKI.
A $4,000 CHEVROLET?

President Coolidge says: "Familiarity with the Scriptures brings culture."
Read the Psalms, Isaiah, Job, the Sermon on the Mount, ten or twenty times and you will write better poetry, prose or advertising copy.

Two are indicted for fraud through the mails, in a "how to get thin" swindle. Fraud is not the worst of such enterprises. Many women, who think they are too fat, ruin their vitality seeking to be thin. The way to "reduce" is by regular sleep, deep breathing, reasonable exercise, moderate wise eating. It is not necessary to be fat or to faint.

New York to Chicago air service is set to the able Coffin-Henderson concern at $1.24 a pound. A lower bid at $1.23 was rejected because pilots flying the machines owned stock in the company.

That should be a reason for giving the contract, instead of refusing it. Pilots owning stock in machines would take care of them and the mail. If any law forbids pilots owning stock in a flying company, that law should be changed.

A famous bear named Colonel Broadcaster and fourteen other pedigreed American swine were sent to Greece last week. The mountains that look on Marathon will soon see finer pigs rooting along the beach than they ever saw before.

Poetry is above pigs, but pigs that America sent to Greece will do Greece more good than the poetry that Byron wrote.

Greece has won for herself the freedom that Byron wished her. She couldn't win without foreign help such a pedigreed pig as Broadcaster.

The Bolsheviki are certainly uncouth. They convict three high Russian officials of taking bribes in connection with a big German lumber trust, and what three officials did not employ good lawyers, express righteous indignation and go to Palm Beach or the Riviera. They stayed at home, were sentenced to death, all their property confiscated, and they will really be executed. Russia would be a poor place to steal a naval oil reserve.

Miss Pankhurst has lost interest in votes for women, because voting women make the same mistakes that men make. They do, of course, being human, and sometimes influenced by men. Nobody expected that votes for women would bring on the millennium overnight. But women voting have made men in office ask themselves, "What do the women want? What do the children need?" That's the important thing about votes for women.

In old whiskey days, as soon as women got the vote, district leaders in the great city sent out the order, "Don't get the boys drunk around election time, or their wives and daughters will vote against you."

Civilization's problem is cheap distribution of life's necessities, giving citizens full value for their dollars. This doesn't mean business men shouldn't make the profit to which they are entitled. It means modern business tends more and more to "low profit, big volume."

The quart of milk that a farmer sells for four cents, the city mother buys for fifteen cents. If General Motors were run on that basis, a Chevrolet would cost $4,000.

Italy is to be made pure, and besides among other things are to be abolished. Mussolini calls them "marks for solemn humbugs and nests for disease germs."

Alexander the Great shaved his face and made his soldiers do it, that the enemy, fighting with the short sword, might not seize the beard as a handle, to help in cutting off the head. Mussolini objects to beards as nests for germs, another and worse enemy. Mussolini says he refuses to be assassinated, will live to be ninety, and then retire, leaving instructions for Italy's guidance.

C. OF C. GIVEN ESTIMATES ON ROAD BUILDING

George Estimates Barnhart Road Complete At $3000 A Mile

SUGGEST CALICHE To Decide Question Of Preliminary Survey At Next Meet

It will cost in the neighborhood of $3,000 a mile to build a caliche road from Ozona to Barnhart, complete with drainage structures, grades and ditches, according to estimates furnished members of the Chamber of Commerce Monday night by H. L. George, consulting engineer of San Angelo, formerly division engineer of the State Highway Department for this division. Mr. George appeared before the local Chamber at the request of Aaron Cummings, member of the road committee and formerly in charge of road work in Crockett County for the state highway department. Mr. George declared that an asphalt road would cost the county from $15,000 to $20,000 a mile and therefore was likely out of the question. He strongly advised against the use of crushed rock, pointing out that it was not only unsatisfactory as a surfacing material in its first stages, but the maintenance cost is much higher than other types. Gravel would be satisfactory if there were material enough along the way at short hauls, he said, but declared that in his opinion caliche would be the most practical material to use. Caliche pits can be found at least every three miles along the road, Mr. George declared, and in abundance. It is an excellent road building material when properly placed on a good grade and properly maintained.

"Proper maintenance is one of the most important items to consider on any road, Mr. George declared. "If you build a caliche road and maintain it as it should be, you will have a better road at the end of twenty or thirty years than you had the day you built it. And the difference in the initial cost between road of this type and an asphalt or macadamized road would maintain it for that period of time." The amount of material available is an important consideration from the standpoint of maintenance, he pointed out. If all the material is used up in the construction of a road, the work is almost a failure from the start, for a road not properly maintained will not give satisfaction, he declared.

The figure given by Mr. George as the estimated per mile cost of constructing the road included everything, drainage structures, what grading work will be necessary and ditches to carry off water. He estimated the actual cost of surfacing the road at between $2,600 and $2700 a mile, with around $300 a mile for grading and drainage. He recommended long concrete dips for drainage rather than bridges, pointing out that they are much less expensive and in West Texas, where heavy rains are infrequent, are just as efficient.

But little earthwork, or grading, will be necessary along the entire 27 miles of road in Crockett County, Mr. George declared. There are but a few places along the entire route where grading will be necessary and these can be worked over with the county's own grader. At least 80 per cent of the road is now ready for the surfacing material, he said, and the sooner the county gets to work on the project the less expensive it will be.

In response to questions from members of the body, Mr. George estimated it would cost around $1,000 to get an accurate estimate of the cost of building the road, surveying the line, running grade stakes, elevations, etc. in preparation for the surfacing work. This preliminary work would give the Chamber actual figures on the cost to lay before the people in asking for a bond issue to build a good road.

The cost of this preliminary work could be included in the bond issue, members pointed out, and if the issue carried could be paid from the fund. The Chamber of

Funeral Services At 4 p. m. Thursday At Methodist Church PNEUMONIA FATAL

Illness Lasted But Few Days; Lived Here Over 35 Years

L. B. Cox, retired merchant and ranchman of Ozona, one of the pioneer residents of this section died in Clovis, N. M. shortly after noon Tuesday as a result of an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Cox was sick but a few days, taking ill soon after arrival and sinking rapidly to his death.

The body arrived in Ozona about noon Thursday and funeral services were scheduled for 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon from the Methodist church, the Rev. Stanley Haver officiating. Burial was to follow in the Ozona Cemetery.

Mr. Cox's death came as a surprise to Ozona people and plunged the entire community into sadness. News of his death came in the height of the Federated Women's Club convention and threw a pall over the convention sessions. Reports of his illness brought anxiety the first of the week and Ozona people as well as members of the family were kept informed by frequent telegraphic bulletins sent by the sons of the dying man.

Mrs. Cox and three sons, Kenneth Cox and wife of San Angelo, and Bascomb and Vernon Cox of Ozona, and a brother, Dr. Geo. Cox of Del Rio were at his bedside when death came, and accompanied the body here.

Mr. Cox was born in Gonzales County July 14, 1862 and was nearly 65 years of age at his death. He had been a resident of Crockett County approximately 35 years and had been prominently identified with the development of the county and the town of Ozona throughout that time.

He was in the mercantile business in Ozona for a quarter of a century, establishing the L. B. Cox Company in the building now occupied by the Ozona Mercantile. He also established the L. B. Cox Company at Barnhart, which company now has a branch house in Ozona.

He had served as county commissioner, school trustee and had held many other important posts where he had an opportunity to serve the community and to work for its betterment. He was a devout member of the Ozona Methodist church and had been practically all of his mature life. At the time of his death he held important offices both in the local church and in the conference district.

Mrs. Cox is a native of Gonzales also, the couple being married shortly before coming to West Texas to live. Four children were born to the union, three of whom survive. A daughter, Ora Mae Cox died in her early girlhood and is buried in the Ozona cemetery.

Surviving are the widow, three sons and a brother, Dr. George Cox of Del Rio.

Commerce or the citizenship would have to guarantee the amount, however, in any case it was declined, to postpone action on this.

On motion of H. B. Cox it was questioned until the next meeting when it is hoped that a more representative attendance will be on hand and the question of whether or not the Chamber will guarantee the amount for the preliminary survey can be decided.

The organization extended a vote of thanks to Mr. George for his kindness in coming to Ozona to give people here estimates on the cost of the proposed road building project.

Set out some pepper plants in that garden. We have some healthy South Texas plants, both hot and sweet, at 30 cents a dozen. Mike Couch

RODEO & CHUCK WAGON SUPPER PLEASE WOMEN

Visitors Praise Entertainment Furnished By Men

ROPING & RIDING Bailey Wins Goat Roping And Montgomery Steer Roping

Typical western entertainment in the form of a rodeo program steer roping, riding, races and goat roping followed by a chuck wagon supper was provided visiting club women Tuesday by officials of the Crockett County Fair Association and husbands of local club women.

The rodeo program was given at the fair grounds early in the afternoon following the Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the Hotel at noon. A cow pony race opened the bill, which was followed by steer riding and roping contests and goat-roping events.

J. C. Montgomery won first money in the steer roping contests landing his steer in 1:7 2-5. Sid Millspaugh won second money with a time of 1:30 4-5.

Albert Bailey was first in the goat roping contest with a time of 1:7 1-5. Col Coates was second with 1:8 2-5. First prize money in the steer roping contest was $25 and second money $10. In the goat roping events first prize was $5 and second $2.50. Entries in the steer roping events were J. C. Montgomery, Morris Dudley, Chas. Davidson, Joe Davidson, Col Coates, S. S. Millspaugh, Ad Harvick, Paul Perner, Will Odum, Lee Beneion, Harry Friend, Eusty Smith, Albert Bailey and Warren Clayton. Goat roping entrants included J. C. Montgomery, Will Odum, Paul Perner, Boyd Clayton, Col Coates, S. S. Millspaugh, Albert Brock, Morris Dudley, Ad Harvick, Albert Bailey, Sherman Taylor, Clay Adams, Pat Lee, Sam Cox, Eric Anderson, Strick Harvick, M. Montgomery and Warren Clayton.

The chuck wagon supper was staged at the S. E. Couch well to the right of the Sheffield road about three miles out. Barbecued goat, cowboy stew or son-of-a-gun pickles, bread and black coffee were served to nearly 300 persons. As an added feature of the entertainment, a group of cowboys and cowgirls imitated a truck and sang plaintive cowboy ditties for the entertainment of visiting women. Mrs. W. J. Grimmer directed the singing.

Ozona men who sponsored the chuck wagon supper were Joe Pierce, Jr., Tom Smith, Walter Childress, Will Baggett, V. I. Pierce George Metcalfe, Paul Perner, Joe Davidson, A. C. Hoover, Pon Seahorn, C. C. Montgomery, Chris Meinecke, John Henderson, and Larry Kittle.

Hung Jury In Liquor Trial

Fate Of Mexican Will Not Be Known Until Next Court Term

Unable to reach an agreement on a verdict, the jury in the case of the state against Arnulfo Rodriguez, charged with possessing and selling liquor, was discharged by Judge Sutton in district court here Friday. The jury deliberated more than 48 hours before reporting to the court that an agreement was impossible.

The case was continued to the next term of court and the defendant was released under $1,000 bond. Lon Sapp drew a fine of $100 and costs when he entered a plea of guilty to a charge of carrying a pistol. Sapp was indicted by the grand jury earlier in the week.

The only other case tried during the closing days of the session was a civil suit in which the Standard Accident Insurance Company was plaintiffs and Mrs. Louis Arnold was defendant. Judgment was entered in favor of the claimant, Mrs. Arnold, for a weekly sum to be paid by the insurance company. (Continued on last page)

MRS. PERRY OF SWEETWATER IS ELECTED PRESIDENT-OF SIXTH DISTRICT T. F. W. C.

Mrs. John Perry of Sweetwater was elected president of the Sixth District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs at the closing session of the convention here Thursday morning.

Mrs. Greenleaf Fisk of Abilene was chosen first vice president and Mrs. C. E. Mead of Marfa was elected second vice president. A secretary and treasurer will be appointed by the new president when she assumes office.

The convention adjourned shortly before 2 o'clock without selecting a city for the thirteenth annual convention next year. No invitations were extended to the district from towns represented, and the matter of selecting a convention city will be in the hands of the executive committee.

Out of respect for the memory of L. B. Cox, whose funeral was slated for 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon, the convention session was rushed through Thursday and completed shortly after 1 o'clock, the afternoon session being dispensed with. Luncheon was served at the hotel following adjournment and those who came by train were taken to Barnhart in cars immediately.

More than 200 visiting club women from towns throughout the district were here for the three days meeting.

Many of the visitors arrived for the convention Monday night, with many other coming Tuesday morning. When hotel accommodations were exhausted, the visitors were taken into local homes and cared for during the three-days session.

The first event on the program of the session was the annual tree dedication program at the school house. Each year in the city where the district conventions are held a tree is planted and dedicated by district officers. The tree was here some weeks ago and at impressive ceremonies with Mrs. H. B. Broadus, district president, in charge of the program, the Ozona pecan tree, marking this as a sixth district convention city was dedicated.

The tree was accepted by Supt. C. C. Minatra and short talks were delivered by Mrs. Broadus, Mrs. W. S. Douglas of San Angelo, Mrs. C. C. Thompson, secretary, Mrs. Henry, state chairman of industrial art, Mrs. Frank Friend of Ozona, Mrs. G. B. Kelly of Cisco, membership chairman, and Mrs. J. U. Fields of Haskell, state president. Short exercises were held by the high school classes and later the Blue Bonnet and David Crockett Clubs had charge of programs at the church.

A meeting of the board of directors was held at 10:30. The rest of the afternoon was consumed by the Chamber of Commerce luncheon at the hotel beginning at 1 o'clock and the rodeo and chuck wagon supper immediately following.

A brief address of welcome was delivered at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon by S. E. Couch, president of the organization. Short talks were also made by N. W. Graham, Houston Smith, Judge Chas. E. Davidson, Mrs. Broadus, and Mrs. J. U. Fields, state president.

The presidents evening program at the Methodist church Tuesday evening featured the opening day sessions. Mrs. W. S. Douglas of San Angelo, first vice president, presided at this session. Invocation was pronounced by the Rev. Walter Cook. Addresses of welcome were made by S. E. Couch, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and Mrs. Joe Pierce, president of the local club. The response was made by Mrs. J. I. McDowell of Big Spring. Reflections from the Atlantic City biennial were given by Mrs. Joseph M. Perkins of Eastland and Mrs. M. H. Hagaman of Ranger discussed the biennial in Texas next year. Greetings were then heard from Mrs. Fields, state president, Mrs. Leila M. Johnston of Coleman, Mrs. E. S. Noble of San Angelo, Mrs. Wm. Reagan of Cisco, all past presidents of the Sixth district.

A report on the district club work of the year from Mrs. Broadus concluded the evening's program. Mrs. Broadus declared that eighteen new clubs had been added to the district during the year and that the sixth district is thus far the only one to win the sterling silver cup for the best report on American citizenship. Mrs. B. Reagan of Big Spring is chairman of this department.

Mrs. Broadus also cited the fact that all clubs of the sixth district had paid their dues before last November, setting a record for districts in the state. The district has also placed the largest number of art exhibits during the year and Mrs. Greathouse came here from Fort Worth to present Mrs. Joe Davidson of this city with a beautiful Texas Bluebonnet picture as a reward. Mrs. Davidson is chairman of the art division.

Wednesday morning's session was taken up with reports of club district officers, the various department chairmen and discussions. Several hundred dollars were subscribed at the afternoon session toward financing the Texas biennial following a plea by Mrs. R. Q. Lee of Cisco, who started the subscription list with a $50 donation. Most of the balance of the afternoon was consumed by the fine arts departments with discussions of art topics. A demonstration of modern home equipment, furnished by the West Texas Utilities, together with a playlet illustrating the display was shown at the church at noon.

Wednesday evening was fine arts evening, held at the Ozona Theater following a banquet at the Hotel given by the Ozona club women. The program consisted of music, readings, a playlet and an address by Dr. H. W. Morelock, president of Sul Ross, State Teachers College at Alpine.

Prominent club leaders of Texas were here for the program, among them being Mrs. M. H. Hagaman of Ranger and Mrs. W. R. Potter of Bowie, the two candidates for state president; Mrs. John Perry of Sweetwater; Mrs. M. L. Young of El Paso, state chairman of the American home; Mrs. J. C. Nagle of Dallas, first vice president of the state body; Mrs. R. C. Buchanan of Fort Worth; Lexie Dean Robertson of Rising Star, Texas writer and poetess and program chairman; Mrs. R. Q. Lee of Cisco, state treasurer; and Mrs. Leila M. Johnston of Coleman.

Towns represented here included Anson, Abilene, Alpine, Ballinger, Hilton, Brownwood, Baird, Big Spring, Brady, Bronte, Cisco, Coleman, Comanche Colorado, Desdemona, Eastland, Eldorado Fort Stockton, Haskell, Marfa, Mertzon, Midland, Mineral Wells, Pecos, Rocksprings, Ranger, Rising Star, Sweetwater, Winters, and San Angelo. There were ten San Angelo delegates here Tuesday morning. The Eastland delegates, 23 of them chartered a bus, called Miss Ranger. Mrs. John A. Hummond sponsored the overland delegation from that city.

"Shine" Wins On Pancho's Fouls

Ozona Negro Given Decision In Bout; Lodos Easy Winner

Curley Daniels, Ozona's slugging shine boy, won a referee's decision in a six round boxing exhibition over Kid Pancho, touted knock-out artist of San Angelo, on a series of fouls by the Mexican fighter. Shine's bull-dog tenacity and his excellent footwork that kept the San Angelo lad constantly on the go, evidently irked him and in the clinches near the back of the stage, the Mexican resorted to bumping the negro's head in an effort to subdue him. Shine, however, came back with his lightning like uppercuts and continued to skip about, always out of reach of Pancho's knock-out blows. Finally however, when the Mexican landed several blows on the back of Curley's head and shoulders while he was flat on the mat, Sam Faust, referee, stopped the fight and gave the decision to the Ozona negro on fouls.

Ringside spectators rushed the ring on the last flagrant foul and at least one man would have taken on the Mex for a bareknuckle bout had not other spectators restrained him. Faust explained after the bout that he saw a chance for a

THE OZONA STOCKMAN

Published Every Thursday Morning at Ozona, Texas, County Seat of Crockett County by

W. EVART WHITE EDITOR and PUBLISHER
Entered at the Post Office at Ozona, Texas, as Second Class Mail Matter under Act of Congress, March 3rd, 1879.

Ozona, Texas, Thursday May 5, 1927.

The Ozona Woman's Club is to be congratulated on the efficient manner in which it took care of the visiting women here for the district convention. It is not often that a town the size of Ozona attempts to hold a convention of some 200 or 300 persons but Ozona has demonstrated to the world that it can be done—and done in the manner befitting a much larger town. Trust the women to make a good job of it if they attempt it.

A most important question is to be decided at the next meeting of the Chamber of Commerce—a question that is likely to determine whether or not the long standing need for a good road between Ozona and Barnhart is at last to be filled or whether or not the matter is to be postponed indefinitely as it has been done for so long.

The organization has secured estimates of the cost of building a good road and have found the amount to be within the reach of Crockett County people. But an accurate check on the cost, together with other necessary preliminary data must be secured before a bond issue can be asked. That amount can be set aside in the bond issue, according to opinion, but must be guaranteed by the citizenship of Crockett County to protect engineers in the event the issue fails to carry.

The question, therefore, of whether or not this amount is to be guaranteed by the citizenship is to be decided at the next meeting, Monday night, May 16, and at least 50 men should be on hand at that time.

The county grader, operated by Aaron Cummings, was put to work the first of the week doing some much needed grading on the main street, filling up a few of the holes and cutting down a few of the bumps.

But the job is still unfinished, in our estimation. There will always be bumps and humps in the streets until the whole street is graded up in the center and drainage ditches cut at the sides. Other streets in town, recently graded, have been thrown up in this manner and ditches cut at the sides and it is beyond us to understand why the main street can not be similarly treated. The work done by the county grader this week was a wonderful improvement, but it would have been much more wonderful if it had been carried a little further and the street actually graded up and given a chance to properly drain. As it is, the water is still forced to the middle of the street and every rain will cut its quota of small ditches to make big bumps.

Ozona suffered one of its greatest losses in years this week in the death of L. B. Cox. Apparently in the best of health a few days ago when he left Ozona for Clovis N. M., his death seemed most untimely, and the community was shocked to learn of it, and although it was necessary to "carry on" through the district convention of women's clubs, Ozona people were saddened beyond expression over the loss of this valuable citizen and silently mourned his passing while they went about their duties of entertaining guests.

Mr. Cox had been a resident of Ozona for some thirty-five years and was prominently identified with its progress through the year. He was a leader in church activities, a highly successful man, and a kindly, Christian gentleman at all times, and The Stockman joins the surviving relatives and his many friends throughout Crockett County in mourning his death.

A FACULTY MEETING AS I Imagine It

A faculty meeting is one of the greatest joys in a teacher's life. It is one of the many pleasures they have to look forward to on Monday morning. Each week, when this meeting is held, the teachers wear the longest faces and their wisest expressions. The meeting room is entered quietly, but rapidly as no time must be lost in imposing new and more unbearable laws on the students. There are many rules and suggestions to be passed.

To the many unbearable rules already enforced, Mr. Principal arises gallantly and makes the suggestion that chewing gum in classes must be stopped by fair means or foul. This suggestion is voted on and carried unanimously.

Mr. Superintendent now arises and amends this law by attaching a penalty to it—that those caught chewing gum during classes should be punished severely.

"I suggest the penalty for this offense be two hours after school and in addition to this teachers call the parents together. The child explain to them that they need not be surprised if the child brings in an 'F' for deportment for the next three months." (Loud applause) This amendment is voted on and, as usual, is carried unanimously.

The faculty, after having several hours of consultation, leave the room, overjoyed and with an expression of "I've got the upper hand over you" on their never-to-be-forgotten faces.

So, week after week these outrageous penalties are imposed on the student while he is compelled to burn midnight oil to please his teacher—coming to school the next morning with an angelic expression on his child-like face and before the first class is half over, is caught chewing gum.
What a life!

WHO'O WHO

Jeanne Beaufort, beautiful daughter of a Virginia tobacco planter, brave and daring, has lost her father and two brothers in the Civil War. She swears to get revenge. At the time she is living with her aunt.

Mrs. Wetmore, in the South. Jeanne lays her plans and goes to her Aunt Delier's in Richmond, Va.

She manages to meet the president and she is assigned duties as a spy. Her first mission is to go to Washington and find a man by the name of Parson Kennedy and bring him into the Southern lines. She is introduced to

Henry Morgan, a young officer, who falls in love with her at sight. She repulses his love making, and he disappears for a while.

Jeanne, disguised as a boy, has had a horrible adventure. She has a document with code names on it.

A-NK-S P-PA-G
G-RD-A J-NK-F
J-WG-A F-BN-S

The organization is composed of young men with the exception of one, and they are spies who work for the North.

There are eleven in number. For weeks they have been in Virginia. Jeanne has sworn to track them down, one by one.

CHAPTER II CHOOSE!

This time the game she was playing began to bring forth results.

She applied herself to the practical arts of war—telegraphy, signaling and things like that; she perfected herself in swimming and running and shooting; she even went so far as to inure herself to privations.

She became as sound and hard as a maple sapling. It became more and more difficult to get through those blue lines, but she always succeeded, and often as a boy in the uniform she hated.

Sometimes she would spend three or four days at the plantation. And oddly enough, it was during one of these visits that she stumbled upon the secret which was seriously worrying the Confederate leaders. Richmond always knew what was going on in Washington but Washington was now getting some truths about Richmond.

No one will deny that there exists such a thing as servants' news.

Beaufort, some time before the war, had given freedom to one of his slaves. The youth had gone to Richmond and once a year he would return to his people.

The story he told came to Jeanne through the garrulity of her old darky mammy. A loft in a deserted warehouse, meetings held late at night by men in full mask, who came singly and departed singly; this was sufficient to arouse something more than idle curiosity in Jeanne.

She instructed the old mammy to get the name and locality of this warehouse of mystery. When she secured these two facts, she returned to Richmond.

The Cleghorn warehouse occupied a third of a block, and was flanked by two buildings whose ground floors were tenanted. It was unguarded. The lighting was bad; here and there a dim beacon told one which way the street ran.

The big warehouse was one story higher than its neighbors. The east side was blank; three windows faced the west, looking out upon the roof of the adjoining building; the panes of glass were cob-webby, dust and rain splashed, and all of them cracked or broken.

In the center of the loft which included the whole floor stood an ordinary deal table. It was night outside. Jabbed into this table was a single bayonet. In the lock of this was stuck a lighted candle, which flickered or burned steadily as the night draughts waxed or waned.

Seated about this table, on empty crates and boxes were eleven men. The night was hot, and most of them had thrown aside their coats. They wore masks—the kind that hides chin and mouth under a limp curtain.

This not only concealed the face factually but disguised the voice as well.

The man seated at the table was evidently the chief; he was also the oldest. His head was peppered with gray.

"Our business in Richmond is done. You have all been of great assistance to me; but I have this day discovered the things we sought. I know the number of men, arms, rounds of ammunition, and food supplies. In other words, we now have our fingers on the pulse of the enemy; we can feel it growing feebler and feebler. I shall no longer be your chief after to-night. We shall each of us go on our own again. We leave to-night. The horses are ready in Mororarity's stables, three blocks away. We ride west first. Then we turn toward Maryland. No main pikes until we are near the boundary. In the sealed envelope I have just given you are facts and information. Some of us will reach Washington. And gentlemen, we all leave together, eleven of us, all of us." He put peculiar emphasis upon these words. "Any man who falters, hesitates, offers excuses—Well, I'm a rough soldier; you are all familiar with my ways. The man who hesitates—dies."

One of their number sprang to his feet and dashed toward the window. The gray man's revolver flashed in the candlelight.

"Quick!" cried the man who had caused this agitation. "Some one on the roof."

They followed him pellmell thru the window. Crouched close to the wall was a form. They pounced upon it roughly, hustled it to the window, and those yet inside, hauled the offender into the loft.

"I saw a hand flash across the window-space, in the act of throwing something. A boy!"

The gray man shook the boy violently. The hat fell off.

"Good Lord, a woman!" cried some one.

"Hold her!" said the chief. He ran downstairs to the street, searched doorways, cellar-window pits, but found no one; nor could he discover a runner, east or west. He ascended to the loft again.

"So, young woman!" He laid his revolver on the table. "What were you doing there by that window?"

She did not answer. In reaching her point of vantage outside that window she had been forced to crawl thru cellars, worm her way over bales of cotton, thru grime and dust. What with the dust and the sweat of her exertions, she looked like the urchin she pretended to be. "How did you find out our presence here?" demanded the gray man.

No answer. "You refuse to answer questions? Your life depends upon it."

"Well, then you must pay the penalty. You must die."

Then she spoke. "And who among you will be so brave as to do the killing?"

"I," said the gray man. To her ears there was something terrible in that cold, unemotional tone. He whipped the mask from his face suddenly. "I will let you look upon my face to prove to you that I will never let you leave this loft alive, unconditionally."

It was the face of a fanatic. She had only to look in those metallic blue eyes to know that he would keep his word. She sent a roving glance among the other masks.

"Will you permit such a thing?"

"Does an oath mean anything to you?" asked the grim questioner.

"Yes!" with proud uplifted chin.

"Will you take an oath to reveal nothing you have heard?"

"No. I have given my oath, heart and soul to the South. Either let me go—or shoot me—if you can!"

"Wait a moment, Parson," pleaded the young man to whom she owed her capture. "I have an idea. We can't really permit you to shoot her."

"Her? She has no sex," said the leader placidly. "We can't be bothered with a prisoner at this hour."

"We can tie her up and leave her here. But this is my idea. I'll handle this pretty viper. No doubt she's pretty under the smudge," he added ironically.

"Pull my fangs if you can," she replied.

The gray man frowned thoughtfully. She had courage.

Said the young man: "You say you are bound heart and soul to the South. Well your body shall never belong to it." She stepped back—her first sign of fear. "Come, come," warned the chief,

"none of that. Better let me take the burden on these shoulders. It is one thing to shoot a spy; it is another thing to—"
"You haven't heard me thru," interposed the young man. "What I mean is her body shall be bound to the North."

"And how?"
"By marriage to one of us."
One of the number gave a start of surprise at the suggestion. The gray man smiled for the first time. Marry her to one of these mad young cockerels, bind her and leave her!

"But if by chance I should already be married?" she inquired, her courage returning.

"If you wish to commit bigamy, that's no concern of ours." With a swift, unexpected gesture the young man caught her hands. The fingers were ringless. He laughed and flung aside the hands.

"Who's for this fool adventure?" demanded the gray man. His comrades stirred uneasily. "Make up your minds; it is death or marriage. I stand ready for the ceremony."

She wanted time, time, time! It would take her confederate fully an hour to return with men. She had written in code enough to condemn them all to the wall or the noose.

Wrapped around a pebble it had been flung into the street. She had not known that these desperate men would really behave; she had put hardly any faith at all in the darky's tale.

And now to play with them, to hold them until aid arrived. They would all be dead in the morning—so what mattered it if she went thru with the farce?

"And what of the man who marries me?" All this meant time.

"Oh," said her tormentor, "he shall call it a sacrifice to the altar of war. You will serve the South, but by the Lord Harry, you'll belong to the North. We'll punish you with doubt, doubt and fear; always you'll be wondering who and what this man is who marries you. Of course we are still ready to take your oath."

"I have declined to give it."

"Very well. Line up, comrades, and she shall choose among us,—woman's ancient prerogative,—so it can never be said that we forced ourselves upon her. Death or marriage—mass or the Bastille!"

"I consent," she said. I am young; I do not want to die."

Already a quarter of an hour had been consumed. If only she could hold them long enough! She stared speculatively at the circle of flashing eyes.

"There is, then, a minister of the gospel among you?" she asked incredulously.

"Yes. I am he." The gray man laughed.

Each hair at the base of her neck stirred at the sound of that laughter.

"Come comrades!"

But these comrades demurred. It was one thing to risk one's life, for one might risk it and still save it; but it was another thing to marry an unknown woman, simply to save her life, a woman whom they might never see again.

The gray man took up his revolver. I will shoot her. It is war; it is thousands of lives against hers."

"I'll marry her." The young man who spoke was he who had given the start of surprise earlier.

"I thought I was to choose," she said, looking at the stern visaged man fingering the revolver. More time—closer and closer the net was drawing.

"And choose you shall. Trust me; your marriage shall be as legal as though performed in a cathedral."

Our superintendent, Mr. Minatra will spend his summer attending Stanford University in California. Mr. and Mrs. Bishop have no definite plans for the summer but will probably be somewhere increasing their store of knowledge. Mr. and Mrs. Floyd will attend Baylor University, Waco, Texas. Miss Thompson will stay at her home in Devine, Texas. Mr. Kirkpatrick will probably be in California. Miss Kaderli will be in Chicago, Ill., attending Chicago University. Miss Wheat, Miss Chitwood, Miss Harris and Miss Evans have no definite plans but let us hope that they will have a little rest after teaching the brainless students of Ozona. Miss Doty will be at her home in El Dorado.

We will have to admit that these teachers have done some good this winter in Ozona, and we hope that they will enjoy the summer very much.

Happy-go-lucky, musical, mischievous girls make up the "Maids of Dundee." They all sing and they all play and they all are experienced entertainers. Dressed in the captivating plaids and kilts of the Highlands—presenting the lilting, skirling, pipping music of the Scots—giving the Highland Fling on week days and beautiful Scotch hymns of the laid Presbyterian Scotchmen on Sundays, they completely charm their audiences. They are a chorus, and orchestra and a dramatic company all in one.

In the afternoon only a part of their program is Scotch, just enough to show you what they can do and make you come back and bring your friends at night. Then in the evening they give the biggest musical entertainment program of the week, and one that you'll have to go far to see, especially if you like Scotch music—and who doesn't?

The Scotch people have developed their music through centuries of hard and arduous enemies without. It expresses their aspirations, their love for their "Bonnie Hills," their warm devotion to home and their sparkling sense of humor. Scotch humor is of the spontaneous sort that Americans understand and appreciate. Harry Lauder is probably the world's best known and best loved humorist and he is typical of the Scotch, and all his humor deals with the Scotch.

The Maids of Dundee present the Scotch music and Scotch humor in a truly Scotch way. They give many of the specialties and stunts that have made Lauder famous the world over.

They do not attempt to be classical or do anything but entertain. They come to town for the purpose of giving a real joy program. When they're not entertaining the public they entertain each other. The Maids engage in one continual picnic and the public gets in on two parts of it each day.

They sing "Annie Laurie," "Roamin' Thru the Gloamin'," "Bonnie Sweet Beattie," "Robin Adair," "Wee Deoch an' Doris," "I Love a Lassie," "Blue Bells of Scotland," the Harry Lauder favorites, and all other good old Scotch "chunes" you want to hear.

S. J. R. No. 24

Proposing an amendment of Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of Article V of the Constitution of Texas for the purpose of providing a more efficient judicial system.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1: That Sections 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, and 7 of Article V of the Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended so as to read as follows:

Section 2 (of Article V): The Supreme Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and eight Associate Justices, five of whom shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of five Judges shall be necessary to the decision of a case. No person shall be eligible to the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court unless he be, at the time of his election or appointment, a citizen of the United States and of this State, and unless he shall have attained the age of thirty years and shall have been a licensed lawyer for seven years and, during that time, shall have been a practicing lawyer or Judge of a court of record, or such practicing lawyer and judge together. Said Chief Justice and Associate Justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State, at a general election, and shall hold their offices six years, or until their successors are elected and qualify, and shall receive such compensation as may be provided by law. In case of a vacancy in the office of Chief Justice or Associate Justice of the Supreme Court, the Governor shall fill the vacancy until the next general election for State officers, and at such general election the vacancy for the unexpired term shall be filled by election by the qualified voters of the State. The Judges of the Supreme Court who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms of office under the present constitution and until their successors are elected and qualify. When this amendment takes effect, the Governor shall immediately appoint six additional Associate Justices of the Supreme Court for terms of office so that the terms of two of such appointed Associate Justices shall expire with the term of office of each of the present members of the Supreme Court, and, upon the qualification of such new Justices, the Commission of Appeals of the State of Texas shall terminate.

Section 3 (of Article V): The Supreme Court shall have appellate jurisdiction only, except as herein specified, which shall be co-extensive with the limits of the State. Its appellate jurisdiction shall extend to questions of law arising in the cases in the Courts of Civil Appeals in which the Judges of any Court of Civil Appeals may disagree or where the several courts of civil appeals may hold differently on the same question of law, or where a statute of the State is held void, and to questions of law arising in such other cases of which the Courts of Civil Appeals have appellate jurisdiction as may be prescribed by law; provided, that the Legislature may authorize direct appeals from the County and District Courts in any case where a statute of the State has been declared void. The Supreme Court and the Judges thereof shall have power to issue writs of habeas corpus as may be prescribed by law; and, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, the said Court and the Judges thereof may issue the writs of mandamus, procedendo, certiorari, and such other writs as may be necessary to enforce its jurisdiction. The Legislature may confer original jurisdiction on the Supreme Court to issue writs of quo warranto and mandamus in such cases as may be specified except as against the Governor of the State. The Supreme Court shall also have power, upon affidavit or otherwise, as by the Court may be determined, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the proper exercise of its jurisdiction. The Supreme Court shall be open at all times and shall sit at the State Capital for the transaction of business at such times as may be designated by the Court. The present statutes defining the jurisdiction of the Supreme Court not in conflict herewith shall continue in effect until repealed or altered by the Legislature. The Supreme Court shall appoint a Clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and he may hold his office for four years, and shall be subject to removal by said Court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said Court, and who shall receive such compensation as the Legislature may provide.

Section 4 (of Article V): The Court of Criminal Appeals shall consist of three Judges, provided that the Legislature may increase the number to five, and a majority of the Judges shall constitute a quorum, and the concurrence of a majority of the Judges shall be necessary to the decision of any case. Said Judges shall have the same qualifications and receive the same salaries as the Judges of the Supreme Court. They shall be elected by the qualified voters of the State, at a general election, and shall hold their offices for a term of six years. The Judges of the Court of Criminal Appeals who may be in office at the time this amendment takes effect shall continue in office until the expiration of their terms of office under the present Constitution and laws.

Section 5 (of Article V): The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of the State in all criminal cases of whatever grade, with such exceptions and under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, and the Legislature may confer original jurisdiction upon it to issue writs of mandamus, procedendo, and certiorari in criminal cases. The Court of Criminal Appeals and the Judges thereof shall have the power to issue the writ of habeas corpus and, under such regulations as may be prescribed by law, issue such writs as may be necessary to enforce its own jurisdiction. The Court of Criminal Appeals shall have the power, upon affidavit or otherwise, to ascertain such matters of fact as may be necessary to the exercise of its jurisdiction. Said Court shall be open at all times and shall sit at the State Capital for the transaction of business at such times as may be designated by it. Said Court shall appoint a clerk, who shall give bond in such manner as is now or may hereafter be required by law, and he shall hold his office for four years, unless sooner removed by the Court for good cause entered of record on the minutes of said Court, and said Clerk shall receive such compensation as may be prescribed by law.

Section 6 (of Article V): The Legislature shall, from time to time, divide the State into such number of Supreme Judicial Districts as to it may seem necessary, not exceeding twelve at any one time, and shall have the power to re-divide the State at any time, and shall establish a Court of Civil Appeals in each of said Districts, which Court shall consist of a Chief Justice and not less than two Associate Justices as the Legislature may provide, who shall have the qualifications as herein prescribed for Justices of the Supreme Court, provided that the aggregate number of Judges of all of the Courts of Civil Appeals shall never at one time exceed thirty-six. Each of the existing Courts of Civil Appeals shall continue until otherwise provided by law. The Courts of Civil Appeals shall have appellate jurisdiction co-extensive with the limits of their respective districts, which shall extend to all civil cases of which the District Courts or County Courts have original or appellate jurisdiction, under such restrictions and regulations as may be prescribed by law; provided, that the decisions of said Courts shall be conclusive on all questions of fact brought before them on appeal or error. Said Courts of Civil Appeals shall hold their sessions at such places as may be designated by the Legislature and at such times as may be prescribed by law. Said Justices shall be elected by the qualified voters of their respective districts, at a general election, for a term of six years, and shall receive such compensation as may be provided vide for the levy of an ad valorem tax or other form of tax for State purposes only, and for local purposes only; authorizing the Legislature to provide for the classification of objects of taxation and providing that rates shall be equal on the same class of property, and fixing limitations upon taxation.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
 Section 1. That Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by inserting therein Section 1-a, as follows:
 Section 1-a. The Legislature may separate the objects of taxation for State purposes from the objects of taxation for the support of the counties, districts and political subdivisions of the State and counties; and may provide for the levy of an ad valorem tax, or other form of tax, on certain classes of taxable property, or other objects, for State purposes only (including school purposes); or upon certain classes of property, or other objects, for county or local purposes only (including school purposes). In no event shall the rate of such taxes exceed the sum of the limits of such taxes fixed by this Constitution for State, county and other purposes. The Legislature may provide for the classification of objects of taxation. Taxation shall be equal and uniform.
 Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State, at an election to be held the first Monday in August, A. D. 1927 at which all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:
 "For the amendment to Article 8, inserting Section 1-A, providing for changing the taxation system so that the State may derive its income, in whole or in part, from other sources than the ad valorem tax."
 "Against the amendment to Article 8, inserting Section 1-A, providing for changing the taxation system so that the State may derive its income, in whole or in part, from other sources than the ad valorem tax."
 Sec. 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election to determine whether or not the proposed constitutional amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. And the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from any funds in the Treasury, not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of printing said proclamation and of holding said election.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
 Section 1. That Article 8 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by inserting therein Section 1-a, as follows:
 Section 1-a. The Legislature may separate the objects of taxation for State purposes from the objects of taxation for the support of the counties, districts and political subdivisions of the State and counties; and may provide for the levy of an ad valorem tax, or other form of tax, on certain classes of taxable property, or other objects, for State purposes only (including school purposes); or upon certain classes of property, or other objects, for county or local purposes only (including school purposes). In no event shall the rate of such taxes exceed the sum of the limits of such taxes fixed by this Constitution for State, county and other purposes. The Legislature may provide for the classification of objects of taxation. Taxation shall be equal and uniform.
 Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State, at an election to be held the first Monday in August, A. D. 1927 at which all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:
 "For the amendment to Article 8, inserting Section 1-A, providing for changing the taxation system so that the State may derive its income, in whole or in part, from other sources than the ad valorem tax."
 "Against the amendment to Article 8, inserting Section 1-A, providing for changing the taxation system so that the State may derive its income, in whole or in part, from other sources than the ad valorem tax."
 Sec. 3. The Governor of this State is hereby directed to issue the necessary proclamation ordering an election to determine whether or not the proposed constitutional amendment set forth herein shall be adopted, and to have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State. And the sum of Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00) or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated from any funds in the Treasury, not otherwise appropriated to defray the expenses of printing said proclamation and of holding said election.
 Approved March 11, 1927.

A JOINT RESOLUTION
 S. J. E. No. 33
 Proposing an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas removing from the Constitution all limitations as to the amount of compensation of officers, and fixing the compensation of the Governor, and providing that said amendment shall be effective on and after January 1, 1929, and not sooner.
Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
 Section 1. That Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by inserting therein a new section to be numbered Section 30a which shall read as follows:
 Section 30a. All provisions of the present Constitution of Texas fixing or limiting the amount of salary or compensation of officers and members of the Legislature are hereby repealed and hereafter said officers and members of the Legislature shall receive such salary or compensation and expenses as now provided until otherwise provided by law. The salary of the Governor shall be Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) per year, and no more, payable monthly, and he shall have the occupancy and use of the Governor's mansion, fixtures and furniture.
 The salary or compensation of any member of the Legislature shall not exceed fifteen hundred dollars per year, and actual traveling expenses from the place of residence to the capitol and returning for each session of the Legislature, as shall hereafter be provided by law; and provided that no change of salary or compensation from that now provided by the Constitution shall become effective until the first day of January following the first election held after adoption of this amendment.
 Sec. 2: Said proposed amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the electors of this State qualified to vote on constitutional amendments at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Monday in August, A. D. 1927, at which each voter opposing said amendment shall scratch off of the ballot with a pen or pencil the following words printed thereon:
 "For the amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas removing from the Constitution all limitations as to the amount of compensation of officers, the compensation and expenses of said officers to be as provided by law, and fixing the compensation of the Governor, and providing that said amendment shall be effective on and after January 1, 1929, and not sooner."

 If it shall appear from a return of said election that a majority of the votes cast have been cast in favor of said amendment, it shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Texas.
 Sec. 3: The Governor shall issue his proclamation calling said election and have the same published and said election held in accordance with this resolution and the Constitution and laws of this State; and return shall be made and the votes canvassed and counted as provided by law; and if said amendment is adopted by the required vote of the qualified electors of this State, the Governor shall issue his proclamation as required by law.
 Sec. 4. The sum of five thousand dollars, or so much thereof as may be necessary, is hereby appropriated out of the State Treasury to pay for the publication of the proclamation calling said election and any expense of the State in submitting said amendment and holding said election.

Be it Resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:
 Section 1. That the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended by adding thereto another section to be known as Section 60, Article 16, to read as follows, to-wit:
 Section 60. The Legislature may provide compensation for certain district and county officers, to-wit: The District Attorney, County Judge, County Attorney, Sheriff, County Clerk, District Clerk, County Tax Assessor and County Tax Collector, by prescribing their duties, and fixing salaries in lieu of fees, commissions and other prerequisites; providing for an election and making appropriations to pay expenses.
 Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held on the first Monday in August, A. D. 1927, at which all ballots shall have printed thereon "For amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas giving the Legislature power to provide compensation for the District Attorney and county officers through salaries in lieu of fees, commissions and prerequisites as now prescribed by the Constitution," and "Against amendment to the Constitution of the State of Texas giving the Legislature power to provide compensation for the District Attorney and county officers through salaries in lieu of fees, commissions and prerequisites as now prescribed by the Constitution," leaving the one expressing his vote on the proposed amendment.
 Sec. 3. There is hereby appropriated out of the money on hand in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated the sum of five thousand ($5,000.00) dollars or as much thereof as may be necessary to defray the expenses of the holding of this election, including the expense of printing notices and advertisements.
 Sec. 4. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the constitution and laws of this State.
 Approved March 25, 1927.

Texas Home Equipment Plan Lauded By General Federation

Mrs. J. L. Young, Mineral Wells, State Chairman of the American Home, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, has worked out a plan for a Follow-Up Campaign of the Home Equipment Survey, and has the hearty co-operation of the various Utilities and Public Service Groups, agencies and Companies in the State, the Educational Institutions, and the director of the Home Equipment Survey of the General Federation. Her plan has had the stamp of approval and the hearty endorsement of the President of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, the director of the Home Equipment Survey, the Chairman of the American Home of the General Federation, and of the President of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. Young holds letters and telegrams from General Federation Headquarters in Washington saying that the General Federation president, and the Director of the Home Equipment Survey are being made to send out over the United States to assist other State Chairmen of the American Home of other states in getting a campaign started for their states.

The Texas plan has taken the form of an intensive educational campaign for Better Equipped Homes for Texas. Mrs. Young has called all forces that have to do with the home, and through displays of labor saving devices, study programs, moving picture films, playlets, travelling exhibits, posters, speakers and demonstrators, is trying to help the home-makers of Texas secure for themselves a release of time, energy and leisure that will enable them to be not merely house-keepers, but home-makers in the true sense of the word.

Mrs. Young has been invited by the various districts of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs to attend the conventions and put her Better Equipped Homes plan before the club women of Texas.

In her message to the 6th District she urged the delegates to give special attention to the movement for better equipping the American Home. This is a National movement, and Mrs. Young asked of all club women. Mrs. Young and her assistants, are helping for close co-operation on the part Mrs. Harry Harris of Fort Stockton, Chairman of the American Home for the 6th District, and Mrs. G. B. Smith of San Angelo, Mrs. Joe Davidson of Ozona, local Chairman of the Home Equipment display in making of the session a distinct feature of the Convention.

A demonstration of modern home appliances was held at the Methodist church Wednesday, with the West Texas Utilities Company through its representatives Ed F. Johnson and Mrs. E. L. Ginty, and Miss Inez Belle Jones of Colorado, home demonstration agent of Mitchell County, assisting Mrs. Young and Mrs. J. B. Smith of San Angelo, local department chairman, and Mrs. Harry Harris of Fort Stockton, district department chairman.

A playlet entitled "Let's Stay Married," exemplifying the vital need for modern home appliances was presented at noon Wednesday under the direction of Mrs. Fred Majors. Those taking part in the playlet are Mrs. Fred Schroeder, Miss Martha Blakenship and Mrs. Paul McNabb. This play was furnished by the West Texas Utilities and illustrates the need for modern home appliances featured in the display.

The plaintiff's motion for an instructed verdict was previously overruled. The insurance company gave notice of appeal to the court of civil appeals. Mrs. Arnold is the widow of Louis Arnold, who was killed in an airplane crash here during the July rodeo and race meet last year.

Notice of regular meeting of O. B. Trap Co. Saturday night, May 7 important business. Everyone should be there.

Also meeting of Crockett Trap Co. Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Worth Odom has leased a part of the old Frank Perry ranch 20 miles on the other side of Sheffield for five years. Work has already been started on the erection of a house on the land and while it is being completed, Mrs. Odom is staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sawyer are here for a visit with Mrs. Sawyer's father, R. J. Cooke. Mr. and Mrs. Sawyer were in Rocksprings when the cyclone struck that town recently but neither they nor their children nor any other members of Mr. Sawyer's family, who were in the house at the time suffered injuries.

Virgil Odom has returned from Fort Stockton where he has been undergoing medical treatment.
