BUICK for 1928

When Buick improves upon Buick -the standard for the year is set

Buick for 1928 introduces a higher standard of beauty and luxury than the world has ever known. Buick interiors are as modish as exquisite drawing-rooms-as harmoniously colored -and as comfortable. Buick's new Fisher bodies are lowswung without any loss of head-room or road-clearance.

And so, down to the smallest detail of construction, wherever refinements could be made, Buick has made them. Again Buick has improved upon Buick. Again the standard for the year is set. BUICK MOTOR COMPANY, FLINT, MICHIGAN

The Home Merchant And The Peddler

The wolf is an eternal worry to the ranchmen. They sneak into his flocks when least expected and kill his sheep.

The screw worm will get in cattle and sheep taking its toll, diminishing his herds, causing him extra labor and worry.

The Prairie Dog will get in the best part of his pasture and will eat and destroy his feed, dig holes in the ground, and make it unsafe for him to ride over it.

Every ranchman dreads these pests that year after year harass his work.

In ranching as in all other business, the margin between success and failure is often very small. It hurts him to lose a lamb or calf crop. For he has put in many days of hard work to produce it.

He depends on it for his profit, that he may meet his financial obligations. What the wolf, screw worm and Prairie Dogs and other pests are to the ranchman, the nibblers of his profit, the house to house peddler is to the merchants of Ozona. Swarming in the homes of our community, grabbing a little business here and there, pulling away on the profits of the merchants who support our city.

Did you ever ask one of these peddlers to support a local charity fund or any other worthy movement, if so, how surprised he must have been at your suggestion, as he told you-"Why. I don't live here!" He is in our city and commun ity for only one reason and that is to get the good easy money that he can spend some where else. Beyond that he has no interest in Ozona.

The average peddler is a parasite who feeds on business that should stay right here at home By a subtle means he leads you to believe that the bargains he offers are better in price and quality than you can obtain here at home. As a matter of fact, it is the reverse and can easily be verified by looking for the articles he has for sale in your own stores and making com parison. Every dollar spent at home is a dollar invested. Every dollar spent with the peddler is gone never to return.

Made into what it is today by suffering, grit and determilation. Empires are made by the coordination of the whole populace—not towns, counties or hamlets.

Self-preservation is one of nature's laws. Thus we have towns. Counties link the towns under a common ruling force, and the State acts as delegate to the other parts of Large towns only wholesale. They depend on the local and surrounding smal town Retailers. The retailers depend

The Population, though some hate to admit it, depends on the retailer. The "Merchant Guild" is the oldest organized business in the world. There must be some Eco-

We know there is merchandise "bought out of town." Not some, but a great quantity. Some of it is justified-it can't be bought at home, But, by the Great Horn Spoon, you're a community drag if you don't buy at home that which you can. You're losing the community Power. You're out of Education is supposed to teach you to think. Do it then

Use your head and pay for it where you get it. Give your dollar a chance to show its POWER.

What gives a town Power? Churches? Yes-90 per cent of it, for the unsaved we have with us always. But the other 10 per cent must be ceded to the business district. Why not go to a half dozen small towns surrounding here? They have blooming good people. But, my word—their Business District! That's the answer.

We Go The Limit To Please.
