Fifteen years ago the news that Kaiser's grandson was working in Henry Ford's assembly plant in Buenos Aires, Argentina, $3 a day would have furnished topic for Sunday pages in the big papers. Now the fact that the of the Crown Prince has had to go to work under the name of Peter Ferdinand is hardly a one for a passing paragraph. Some of the results of the Great War may be debatable, but that it ally exploded the old idea of alty ruling by Divine mandate ill to the good.

OPERATION
The purpose of the Federal Board is to convert farming a hit-or-miss mode of living a business. It can share in the on's general prosperity only by otting business methods. In the ess, many farmers will have ve up farming and go into hing else. That may sound sh, but it is the plain logic of end of events.

627 PAY POLL TAXES; 95 PCT. OF TAXES PAID

739 Motor Vehicles Are Registered In The County To Feb. 1
RECEIPTS HIGHEST $111,476 Taxes Collected; Less Than 5 Pct. Of Perfect

Several records were hung up this year in the tax collector's office.
For one thing, 627 persons paid their poll taxes up to February 1, and these with the exemptions will make Crockett County's voting strength in the neighborhood of 650.
Then between 95 and 96 per cent of the county's taxes had been paid on the last day of the collection period, another record for this county.
And again, there were 739 motor vehicles registered in the county up to the last day of the period. Of the total number of motor vehicles registered, 624 were passenger cars, 113 trucks and 2 busses.
Under the new state law now in effect, the county treasury gets all of the automobile registration fees up to $50,000. Automobile registrations in this county brought in around $9,000 up to the end of the tax collecting period and several hundred more will probably be registered before the end of the year.
Total tax collections for state, county and schools was $111,459.87, according to figures given out from the office of Sheriff W. S. Willis. The total taxes due amounted to $115,669.65, leaving an uncollected balance of only $4,209.78, or less than 5 per cent of the taxes due. This is declared to be the most thorough collection of taxes in the history of this county.
Taxes collected to date are divided as follows: County, $37,449.57, State, $37,247.65, and schools, $36,779.73.

Boy Scout Troop Is Organized At Barnhart; 10 Boys

Barnhart has joined the ranks of towns promoting the big program of Scouting for their boys. With the organization of Troop 50 in that town another group of boys will become a part of the big movement in West Texas. Tom Squires is Scoutmaster of the new troop.
The Troop Committee consists of Dr. A. Helbing, Chairman, L. W. Joslin, O. E. Cole, T. T. Harris, and D. I. Taylor. These men are in charge of the work there and are planning to put over a big year of activity. The troop numbers some ten boys at the start, and when they have become proficient in Scouting others will be admitted, according to the Scoutmaster.
Scouting is showing a great growth in interest as well as numbers. According to M. H. McMasters, Field Scout Executive, there are several new troops in the Concho Valley Council, and a number of requests for troops that will be organized within the next few weeks.
Fort Stockton has a new troop, Troop 59, which has made a brilliant start by scoring 100 percent in the Troop Rating plan during the first two months of the troop's existence. Troop 16 at Mertzon is also a newcomer, with R. Stokes Williams as the Scoutmaster and a committee led by O. H. Burton.
Troop 53 of Ozona is re-registering for the new year with most of the old Scouts and a good number of new ones. Every Scout will receive the official Scout magazine, BOY'S LIFE, during the coming year. Rev. D. R. Swinney is Scoutmaster, assisted by Rev. M. M. Fulmer.

Packed House At Lions Club Play

"Be An Optimist" Presented Here Tuesday Evening

A packed house greeted members of the cast at the Ozona Theater Tuesday evening when the three-act comedy "Be An Optimist" was presented under the auspices of the Ozona Lions Club. All available seats in the theatre were taken and a number of chairs were loaned by Joe Oberkamp and filled the aisles. Many, unable to get seats, lined the walls and stood throughout the performance, and a number were turned away when it was found that standing room was at a premium. In fact, old timers declared that the crowd which turned out for the Lions Club play was the largest ever gathered here for an entertainment feature.
Gross receipts of the evening were $179, a check Wednesday disclosed. The Lions Club treasury, it is estimated, will be swelled approximately $125 as a result of the entertainment.
Splendid acting on the part of members of the cast, the result of tireless drilling at the hands of Mrs. A. W. Jones as director, and John L. Bishop, stage manager and chairman of the Lions Club play committee, coupled with a well written play resulted in an evening of worthwhile entertainment for the large audience. Frequent bursts of laughter and applause indicated that the production was a success from the audience's standpoint.
Members of the cast included W. R. Swinney as Isaac Golditch, Miss Berta Mae Norman as Becky Golditch, Bryan McDonald as Jimmie Maynard, the mummy, Hugh Childress, Jr., as Pietro, Jake Young as Mike, Miss Lois Riddle as Mildred Clinton, Miss Beth Davidson as Mrs. Clinton, Ewart White as Ray Hudson, Miss Kaleta Cox as Maggie, Mrs. Lowell Littleton as Miss Hull, Miss Mildred North as Ethel Peabody, Claude Denham as Spencer and Mrs. L. L. Bewley as Madame Goopher.
Between-acts specialties presented by "Arkansaw" Jordan and Chester Henderson, and Hugh Childress, Jr. and Jake Young were greatly enjoyed. Mr. Jordan played the guitar accompaniment to Mr. Henderson's yodeling and presented his famous drunk act and tap dancing exhibition. Hugh Childress and Jake Young sang "Aint We Crazy" to the piano accompaniment played by Miss Lois Riddle.

BOND ELECTION SET FOR SAT. CALLED OFF BY COURT ORDER

Memory Expert Entertains Lions

W. R. Buckner Demonstrates Unusual Mental Powers
W. R. Buckner, memory expert, entertained members of the Lions Club at the regular luncheon at the Ozona Hotel Monday noon with a demonstration of his unusual power of retention.
Mr. Buckner, an instructor in memory training, prefaced his demonstration with an explanation of the system of association in memory work. Placing numbers from 1 to 10 on a board on the wall Mr. Buckner asked members of the Lions Club to call out words to be placed beside the numbers in jumbled order. When the ten words had been called out, he called out the words from 1 to 10 as had been given.
Taking ten more numbers, he asked the audience to supply numbers less than 100 and after these had been completed called out the numbers in order. Adding seven more numbers, Mr. Buckner asked for letters of the alphabet to be placed opposite the numbers and these he again called out. Then starting at the last numbers, he went back over the whole group, called out what number, letter or word was opposite each number.
At the beginning of the demonstration, Mr. Buckner asked each member present, about thirty in number, to call out his name. Concluding the demonstration, he went around the group and called out every man's name with one exception. The name Chris Meinecke stumped the memory expert. He said, however, that the name ended with a "key" but he could not get the first.
The first attendance prize, offered by Clyde Barbee, was awarded A. W. Jones. Reports of various committees and final plans for the play Tuesday evening occupied the balance of the program.

CITIZENS ASK ACTION AS NEW FLAW DETECTED

Commissioners Grant Petition For Delay By Citizens
PETITION FAULTY
Specific Purpose Of Issue Omitted In Second Request
There will be no road bond election in Crockett County Saturday.
Acting on the petition of a group of taxpaying citizens of the county, numbering 38, the Crockett County Commissioners Court late Wednesday rescinded its order of January 13 calling an election throughout Crockett County for the purpose of deciding whether or not bonds in the sum of $375,000 should be issued for the purpose of building hard-surfaced roads in the county.
The action of the group of good roads boosters in asking the court to rescind its order for the election came about following discovery of the omission of an important clause in the petition which was handed the court asking that the election be called.
The first petition, calling for the election held December 16, stated specifically the purpose for which the bonds are being issued, namely, "to be used in connection with state and federal aid for the construction, maintenance and operation of macadamized, graveled or paved roads."
The petition next handed the court, that which resulted in the call for the election set for Saturday of this week, omitted the clause "to be used in connection with state and federal aid" and this clause being considered the meat of the desire of the voters of this county, the group of good roads boosters decided to ask the Commissioners Court to rescind its order calling the election and to submit at a future meeting a new petition embodying the demands of the voters.
"Voters of this county who are heartily in favor of issuing bonds for the purpose of building roads, as shown by a majority of nine to one for the issue in the balloting December 16, want to issue this $375,000 in bonds for the purpose of matching state and federal funds to build $1,500,000 worth of roads through the county," one of the good roads leaders declared in an interview with Commissioners Court officials Wednesday.
"The whole intent and purpose of those who signed the two previous petitions is to vote bonds to take up the state and federal highway departments on their propositions to build $1,500,000 worth of roads through this county and to maintain them. The purpose of the bond issue, then, is to pool the amount demanded of the county with state and federal funds to get good roads constructed through the county, and for no other purpose. Omission of the clause stating that the money derived from these bonds is to be used in connection with state and federal aid, then, we consider to defeat the purpose of the petitioners."
The group of good roads boosters who appeared before the court Wednesday declared that they had just discovered the error and asked that the court call off the election slated for Saturday and give them an opportunity to prepare another petition and order embodying the demands of the voters.

FRIDAY BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Ben Robertson entertained members of the Friday Club and their husbands with a bridge party Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Davidson. The Valentine motif was used throughout. Red and white heart shaped mints were on the tables and refreshments consisted of salad, beets cut in heart shape, heart-shaped cakes and hot tea.
Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Davidson, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Adams, Mr. and Mrs. Early Baggett, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. E. Davidson, Jr., Mrs. Wayne West, Mrs. Joe Oberkamp, Mrs. Leta Hawkins, Mrs. Ewart White, and Mrs. John W. Henderson, Jr.

75 Attend Odd Fellows Party

Mike Couch Is Host To Local And Visiting IOOF & Rebekahs
Approximately 75 persons, more than half of them visitors from San Angelo, attended the Odd Fellows party given by Mike Couch last Saturday night on the open air platform adjoining the Mike Couch grocery and bakery.
The party was in honor of Odd Fellows and Rebekahs of San Angelo. It was featured by a splendid dinner served in the open air, with a musical program in connection.
Besides furnishing the banquet and the musical entertainment, Mike Couch offered a huge cake, baked in his bakery, as a prize to the best entertainer of the evening. This prize went to "Arkansaw" Jordan, local barber, dancer and entertainer, who put on one of his vaudeville acts that made a big hit with the audience. Several of the visitors also offered entertaining numbers in the competition.
Another petition and form for the order to be passed by the Commissioners Court will be drawn up in the next week or ten days asking that another election be called on this issue. It was declared by the citizens group. This petition will be drawn up similar to the first one presented to the court, which included the clause left out of the second and which elicited no objection from the attorney general's department when it was placed before that department for approval. The first issue, approved by the voters December 16, was turned down by the attorney general because the election order did not state the rate of interest the bonds should bear and the date they should mature. No other objection was raised to the form.
The petition asking the court to rescind its previous order for an election to be held Saturday of this week, Feb. 15, the 38 property taxpaying citizens who signed the petition, and the court's order rescinding its previous order for an election follow:
"Ozona, Texas

"Respectfully submitted,
"Ralph Watson, W. A. Kay, W. E. White, J. Lee Bonner, J. T. Keeton, R. J. Cooke, C. R. Word, Green Cooke, J. O. Secrest, Ernest Sparkman, J. A. Harvick, Joe Pierce, Jr., Lee Wilson, A. C. Hoover, P. "Which petition being duly considered it is the order of this court that the above referred to order be and the same is hereby rescinded. And that no election be held throughout Crockett County on the 15th day of February, A.D., 1930."

THURSDAY, FEB. 13, 1930.

Every winter Ozona is called upon to take care of the indigent sick and every year the same problem confronts welfare workers in caring for those who are sick and in destitute circumstances.

The problem of finding suitable shelter for the sick patients while they are in a physician's care re-cuts every year, and becomes more acute every year as quarters become scarcer. The suggestion has been made that this county acquire a two-room house or build one, secure a lot or small tract of ground and establish a permanent pest house, poor house or emergency hospital, whatever name should be applied to it.

Such a house could be equipped and kept in readiness for emergency cases and would no doubt be instrumental in saving lives here, since Ozona has no hospital and apparently will never get one. The cost would be negligible and would relieve charity organizations of considerable expense in caring for charity cases.

That fine road across the point of the hill on the west side of the draw is about finished. But what of it? Where is it going? This county turned down a proposition from citizens who proposed to put up half of the money out of their own pockets to build a bridge across the Johnson Draw if the county would put up the other half. And now the county spends almost as much as would have been necessary to build that bridge to cut away a hill to make a road leading nowhere.

TWO GREAT JUDGES

William Howard Taft ends a lifetime of public service in his retirement from the Supreme Court bench, and the name of Charles Evans Hughes is added to the roster of great Americans who have filled the post which many regard as greater than even that of President, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States.

Thirty different men have been Presidents. Only eleven have been Chief Justice, including Mr. Hughes. Mr. Taft is the only man in our history who has filled both posts. He brought to the Supreme Bench a record such as few men in America have made. He made a career of public service. After serving his native city as a public attorney and a judge, he became successively, Solicitor General of the United States, United States Circuit

CHAPTER VII

Opposite the ruins of the Palm beach hotel, the Minerva was moored. At the concrete dock of the royal Danelli waited a motor-boat. "We was to take the lady aboard 'am," said Modano. "But I don't think we need to wait around to plain to her."

"Nor do I," said Lucy dryly. She stepped into the motor-boat and five minutes later she was aboard the Minerva.

She heard a step upon the deck behind her. It was a feeble, somewhat uncertain step, but there was minuscule in it just the same. As though some of old Roman emperors, enfeebled, stalked his palace, younger in his age than his subjects in their youth.

An exclamation sounded in the tented air:

"What the devil are you doing here? You got my message . . . ?" She turned and looked at him. Interns on the deck illuminated her face.

"Lucy!" he exclaimed.

He sank into a chair; she felt swift pity as she saw his weakness. He would not be strong, real strong, for months.

"Tim," she said quietly.

He put a hand upon his heart.

"You were always stimulating me," he said, "but now you've come exciting. May I ask what you are doing here?"

"Must a wife explain her presence upon her husband's property?" she retorted.

"A wife needn't," he said.

"Well?" she hinted.

"Lucy!" There was something almost savage in the way he uttered her name.

He rose and moved awkwardly until he stood towering over her. "I don't ever intend to let you say with me again," he threatened.

"Suppose I weren't playing," she replied.

He turned away from her and sank into another chair, but closer to her.

"Lucy! I can't believe—"

"Why did you tell me that Modano owned my life?" she asked.

"Why should I say anything that might win your gratitude?" he demanded.

"Isn't my gratitude worth taking?" she demanded.

"Who would take gratitude when he wanted love?" he snarled.

"Do you expect me to woo you, to make love to you, Tim?"

"Is it love that brought you here, Lucy?"

"What else could have done it?" she cried. "Tim, you're making me wonder . . . Tim, you don't want me?"

There was pathetic bewilderment in her voice, the hurt of a child who cannot comprehend why pain is dealt out to it.

"Want you? Is that the question?"

"If it isn't, what is?"

"Do you want me? That's it," he stated.

"Must I say so?" she asked. "Is this a punishment, a humiliation, for . . . what I may have done for you?"

"Your mind seemed to change before, Lucy. I want you to be sure . . . and, before you answer—could you love a thief, Lucy?"

"I do," she made reply.

And with the words she felt a surging pride in her surrender. A thief, and she loved him. Ah, but her love should redeem him, should cleanse him, should ennoble him . . . And then, as he leaned above her, as his great arms, momentarily restored to the strength that was normally his, swept her from her feet until she lay crushed against his breast, she felt ashamed.

Who was she melodramatically to think of cleansing, of ennobling Tim? She put such thoughts away from her forever. They were not merely prideful, they were unworthy. For where she loved, she must love without reservation. It didn't matter what Tim had been. She knew what he was now. And she loved him for the now.

Ah, incredible! She had loved him in the past! Unknowing, she had thought that hate led her on, when bruised love had been the impelling force behind her actions.

And then, as her eyes met his, she knew something. Tim wasn't a thief, any more than he was a brute. She knew now why she had thought him a brute; because she, who wanted to be all-sufficient to herself, had subconsciously realized that this man was her mate and master, without whom she must remain uncompleted all her days. Maiden resentment, the defiance of the soul that is unwilling to blend its identity with another, had made her shrink from him, even as every fiber in her body had called to him.

He wasn't a brute. Equally he was no thief, for a thief didn't have eyes like his, couldn't have eyes in them for all the world to see. He might be overbearing, he might be slightly vain—God bless him, why shouldn't he be if he wanted to?—but dishonest . . . never!

She placed her hands swiftly against his face and held his mouth from hers.

"Tim," she breathed, "you did not steal!"

His eyes twinkled with mirth.

"Of course not, silly. But do you think I would have told you so? Darn it, Lucy, you have pride enough to be able to understand pride! But Leeson's client was certain that he'd been swindled. And I . . . I was so damned angry with him for doubting me that . . . Well, it was my first business venture. Not really a business venture, at that. He and I had bought a patent, and I'd told him that I'd guarantee it. I meant I'd guarantee the validity of the patent and he maintained I'd guaranteed the practicality of the invention—a new motor valve. He had letters to prove his contention, although I had letters which proved my side. But I'd gambled and lost. And so, to pay him, I mortgaged everything I owned and then you believed Leeson—who damn well ought to be careful what he says—and I . . . well, I loved you, Lucy. I'd almost killed myself because of what your thoughts of me had led to. I took your check and let you think the worst. And then, I swore I'd pay you back not with my own money that I'd raised by selling stocks and mortgages, but with money that I'd earned."

"Silly boy! But I like your pride. And you had the money all the time, you child?"

"Of course I did! I was writing a check for Leeson when you came with your bundle of money and your bundle of emotions, and . . . I swore I didn't care whether you thought me a thief or not. I'd make you love the thief, and then, if you loved the thief, what might you not think of the honest man?"

She shook her head.

"No more than I thought of the thief, Tim. I couldn't love you any more than I did ten minutes ago, when I didn't know you were as silly—"

"As Devil-May-Care sometimes is?" he suggested smiling.

"Ag she was," she corrected.

"For she isn't—not any more."

"Never again?" he chuckled.

"I'm a married woman," she reminded him, "and no married woman has a right to be silly."

"No? And why not?" he inquired.

"Because men are always silly, and some one has to be the balance wheel to keep the machine on its course, to keep it from tipping over."

His lips crushed against hers. Ah, who wanted freedom, when she could have this? Blessed old Fate! Dear old Fate, who'd guided her straight to her husband's arms!

PERPETUAL MOTION

Some day, go into the Patent Office in Washington and look at the applications that have been made for patents on perpetual motion machines.

You will see some very ingenious devices.

For instance, a machine to be run by the power of gravity—iron balls dropping down a chute and turning a wheel.

The inventor of that machine provided for everything. He even added a brake to stop the machine, in case it should run so fast as to become unmanageable.

He forgot only one thing—that it requires just as much energy to lift the balls up against gravity as they develop by falling down.

In England, between 1617 and 1903, more than six hundred separate applications for patents were made on perpetual-motion machines.

They stand—this unending procession—as a magnificent monument to the unchangeableness of human nature.

A testimony to man's unquenchable belief that somehow, somewhere, it is possible in this world to get something for nothing.

Every man who goes downtown to business in the morning should pass a perpetual motion machine and be reminded of its lesson.

There is one great law that runs through all life. Many men have discovered it; Emerson named it the Law of Compensation.

Everywhere that law is operative. In physics, action and reaction are equal. In electricity, if the north end of a magnet attracts, the south end repels.

When I started in business I used to be somewhat worried by the good fortune of the wicked. I saw men who worked one half as hard as I and were paid twice as much money.

I saw other men lift themselves into the good graces of the boss on the golden wings of golf and funny stories.

But I have seen the Law of Compensation get in too much deadly work ever to concern myself any more about anybody else's success.

I have seen good fellows who thought they were perfectly secure because they called the boss by his first name, be fired by the same boss, who called them by their first name when he did it.

And I have seen men grow very rich—and I know that there are many ways in which the Law of Compensation can work when a man has the ambition to become very rich.

It can make him pay in health. It can turn his home into a counting-room. It can make his children snobs and hypocrites. It can destroy his joy in simple things.

Another gentleman discovered the Law of Compensation even before Emerson. He stated it in this form:

Be not deceived; God is not mocked; for whatsoever a man soweth, that shall he also reap.

Miss Florence Neblitt, a sister of Mrs. Rusty Smith of Ozona, and Frank Russell were quietly married here last Saturday night. The wedding was a complete surprise to friends of the young couple. Mr. Russell is employed at the North Motor Company. The young couple will make their home here.

Mrs. Ben Robertson entertained the Friday Club Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Joe T. Davidson.

Many a feller who picked his wife by her paint and upholstery, wants to look under the hood before he buys a car.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon from the Johnson Funeral parlors in San Angelo for T. H. Kennedy, 61, a brother of Mrs. H. O. Word of this city. Mr. Kennedy died Monday afternoon. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Elmer Ridgeway, pastor of the First Baptist Church in San Angelo, assisted by Rev. M. M. Fulmer, pastor of the Ozona church. J. T. Keeton of Ozona also attended the funeral.

Mrs. Lovey Noble has returned to St. Louis after attending the funeral of her sister, Mrs. Geo. Metcalf.

The Ozona Improvement Company, now known as the Ozona Water Works, was granted an extension of its franchise to operate public water works here by action of the Commissioners Court in session this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Adams have moved to their ranch near Fort Stockton to make their home.

After winning the first game against the Lake View team, the Ozona High School basketball squad was eliminated from the Big Lake tournament Saturday when they lost to Millersview.

SUNFLOWER CLUB

Mrs. Chas. E. Davidson, Jr., entertained the Sunflower Club Tuesday afternoon with a Valentine party at the home of her sister, Mrs. Bryan McDonald. A business meeting was held during the afternoon, and two charter members, Mrs. Frank McMullen and Mrs. Harry J. Friend, Jr., were reinstated. Misses Mary Kincaid and Beth Davidson, the first two on the waiting list, were admitted to membership, making up the club's quota of six tables.

Heart shaped mints were on the tables and a salad course was served. Mrs. T. A. Kincaid, Jr., was awarded high score prize, a bottle of pillow. Mrs. Arthur Phillips, low, a string of beads, and Mrs. J. W. North cut prize.

Cal Word, Jr., Is 1,000th Student To Enter Jno. Tarleton

Tarleton Station.—According to announcement made today by E. J. Howell, Registrar at John Tarleton College, over 1,000 students are enrolled in Tarleton now.

There were comparatively few mid term withdrawals, while the enrollment of new students at mid-term has been exceptionally large, C. R. Word, Jr., of Ozona was the thousandth student to register.

The enrollment for this year will go considerably over the 1,000 mark which will break all previous enrollment records for Tarleton, Howell said.

The Music Club is giving an informal party Thursday night, Feb. 13, at the Methodist Church, for members of the club and their husbands. All are urged to come.

An unusual record in sales of new automobiles was piled up by the McLeod Motor Company, local Ford agency, during the nine months period ending January 1, according to sales records of the company. During that period a total of 104 new Fords were sold, around half of them being sold in Crockett County. The local Ford agency is declared to have sold 43 per cent of all new cars sold in the county during the period.

No Other Tire Can Guarantee So Much In Mileage

TWICE the mileage you have ever had from any tire non-stop mileage, the result of those same shock-proof principles in the Dual-Balloon which assure smoother, softer riding.

Perhaps you are one of those who figure they will never need all the mileage in the Dual-Balloon.

But that surplus mileage, the reserve that you may never use, gives you an extra margin of safety—the best guarantee in the world against accidents and tire worry of every kind.

In this day of modern traffic, big mileage isn't the only economy in the Dual-Balloon.

More particularly you have at stake the all-important questions of your comfort, your time and safety — plus the primary purpose for which a tire goes on your car, the protection of the car itself.

No matter what car you drive, large or small, you will be amazed at the difference in its performance with the Dual-Balloon.

More traction, more power to go. More power to stop, too! Longer life for your car and a few more years added to your own span. That's what care-free, shock-proof motoring with the Dual-Balloon can do.

No Other Tire Can Give You So Much In Comfort

(1) It runs at the lowest pressure ever known — and does so without injury to carcass or tread.

(2) More than a Balloon — a Dual-Balloon with extra plies of thick, soft rubber that completely absorb the shock you have been accustomed to on single balloons.

No more rebound. No more shimmy or wobble or gallop—and no more side-sway even on the sharpest curves.

Now Is the Time to Save the Most in First Cost

Plus the Tremendous Savings of Trouble-free Travel

Today there's a double reason for turning your desire to own Generals into action.

Rubber is up but tires are still priced on the old low cost, and even the best is an easier purchase than ordinary tires of the past.

Combine pleasure and profit—equip now to carry you safely through the next season of higher prices.

No Need to Pay Cash
Just tell us to charge it. If you prefer to buy out of income, take advantage of our famous G-T-A-C Payment Plan. Financed by our factory and free for you to use. Make your own terms.

If Your Car Calls for a 4-ply or 6-ply Tire
Remember the General line is complete—and top quality throughout guarantees you the most for your money in first cost and last. It's the third year's service that makes the big hit.

that it will keep for weeks... at any temperature below 32 degrees is only one of the... applications of the new freezing processes...

Fish, meats, fruits and vegetables frozen so quickly and thoroughly that their juices do not form ice crystals to rupture the fibers are now on the market in the large cities. They taste, when thawed, just like fresh food. Chicago packers are preparing to put out frozen meats in the form of single steaks, chops, roasts, each sealed in cellophane and stuffed in containers designed to keep them frozen until delivered to the consumer.

If this method develops as it promises, the world center of the meat industry may shift from the United States to Argentina, Australia or South Africa, where land and labor are cheap and cattle and sheep can be raised at small cost.

BUILT TO OUT-PERFORM

... the vital reason why BUICK out-sells every other fine car by 2 to 1

Keep in mind, when you buy your car, that you are buying miles—and that you will get more and better miles in a Buick, as more than 2,400,000 owners have proved.

Buick builds so thoroughly—builds such extra strength and stamina into the Buick Valve-in-Head engine and sealed chassis—that many Buicks, five, ten or fifteen years of age, are still in service... and the speedometers of many of these cars register 100,000 miles and more.

Buick is built to out-perform. This, together with the beauty and comfort of Buick's Bodies by Fisher, explains why America is driving 700,000 more Buicks than any other car in Buick's price class... and why Buick today wins from two to five times as many buyers as any other car priced above $1000. Come, see Buick's wide range of body types. Then take the wheel! A single drive will convince you that Buick is the big motor car value of the day.

Buick offers 15 body types, priced from $1260 to $2070, f. o. b. factory. Marquette offers 6 body types, ranging from $990 to $1060. Special equipment extra.

Convenient terms can be arranged on the liberal G. M. A. C. lease payment plan. Buick and Marquette delivered prices include only reasonable charges for delivery and financing. Compare the delivered price as well as the list price when comparing automobile values.

Judge, Governor-General of the Philippines, Secretary of War, Provincial Governor of Cuba, then President of the United States, and after eight years as a Professor at Yale University, Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

Mr. Taft was fortunate in being independent of financial considerations. Mr. Hughes, who succeeds him, has had to make his own way in the world. Mr. Taft had the happy faculty of holding himself aloof from partisan strife and even his political opponents never displayed toward him the bitterness which others in similar situations have aroused. Mr. Hughes has been more of a storm-center, but none has ever questioned his ability as one of the really great lawyers and jurists of America. His service as Secretary of State and as a Justice of the Court which he now heads have been stepping stones toward his present exalted post. As the Chief Justice of the United States he is above and removed from party strife and there will be few, if any, who will not concede that in naming him as the successor to Jay, Marshall, Chase, Fuller, and the other illustrious Americans who were his predecessors, President Hoover has made the best possible choice.

HELP US OUT

(By Ila Martin)

'Tis hard, my friends to satisfy
The public as a whole,
For no one yet can understand
The whims of ev'ry soul.
An editor, I must admit,
Some folk think knows it all—
For when he fails to do just right
They sure do fuss and squall.
Their name is on the mailing list—
Their time is out, so we Just scratch them off, and thinking that
Is like it ought to be.
In comes a fellow, blazing hot—
From nowhere, seems, he blew.
He asks us why we did not trust
Him for a cent or two.
And then we leave a fellow on,
To give him time to pay—
Just thinking that perhaps he'd want
It done in just that way.
The thing rides on, and on and on—
No money does he pay
He reads the paper heartily.

On publication day,
Now, time goes on, and still no pay.
Does he attempt to bring—
And fuses 'round and asks us why
We didn't stop the thing.
So we are asking you to do
The thing you know you should—
For you could surely help us out if only you just would.
And friend, if you are innocent—
Know not what it's about,
Just watch your date and pay right up
When your subscription's out.

HOW FORD METHODS CUT COST OF DISTRIBUTION

Lower profits in selling save you at least $50 to $75 in addition to the many savings in manufacturing

TWENTY-SEVEN years ago the Ford Motor Company was formed to provide reliable, economical transportation for all the people. That original purpose has never changed. The constant effort in every activity is to find ways to give you greater and greater value without extra cost—frequently at lowered cost. This applies to distribution and similar important factors, as well as manufacturing.

For the Ford Motor Company believes that its full duty is not only to make a good automobile at the lowest possible price, but to see that there is no waste, extravagance, or undue profit in any transaction from the time the car leaves the factory until it is delivered to your home. It is obvious that hard-won savings in production will be of little value if they are sacrificed later through excessive selling costs.

EVERY purchaser of a motor car has the right to know how much of the money he pays is for the car itself and how much is taken up by dealer charges. If these charges are too high, one of two things must happen. Either the price of the car must be raised or the quality lowered. There is no other way. The money must come from somewhere.

In the case of the Ford, the low charges for distribution, selling, financing and accessories mean a direct saving of at least $50 to $75 to every purchaser in addition to the still greater savings made possible by economies in manufacturing. Ford charges are not marked up or increased to cover a high trade-in allowance on a used car.

The profit margin on the Ford car has always been fair to both the dealer and the public. Within the past three months, it has been possible to effect still further economies. Today, the discount or commission of the Ford dealer is the lowest of any automobile dealer. The difference, ranging from 25% to nearly 50%, comes right off the price you pay for the car.

THE business of the Ford dealer is good because he makes a small profit on a large number of sales instead of a large profit on fewer sales. He knows, too, that the extra dollar-for-dollar value of the car makes it easier to sell and more certain to give satisfactory service after purchase.

Consider also that the Ford car is delivered to the purchaser equipped with a Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield, an extra steel-spoke wheel, and bright, enduring Rustless Steel for many exterior metal parts, in addition to four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers and fully enclosed four-wheel brakes.

If for any reason you wish to buy certain small accessories, you will find that these, too, are sold at the usual Ford low prices. Replacement parts are also available at low prices through Ford dealers in every section of the country.

THESE are important points to remember in considering the purchase of a motor car. They show why it is possible to put so much extra quality into the new Ford and still maintain the low price. They are also the reasons why more than 35% of all cars sold today are Model A Fords.

Goodyear, the Tire that Grips

Has your car been skidding? Before you have an accident, look at the treads on your tires. Worn-down pretty smooth? Or have they nothing but ribs—"sled-runners"—in the center?

Plenty of miles left in them—but mighty little non-skid protection! We'll pay you for the remaining mileage—and put on new Goodyear All-Weathers that will also insure you against delays and tire changes.

Not in 25 years has any tread approached the All-Weather for the prevention of skidding. Those deep-cut, sharp-pointed, sharp-edged cross-blocks of tough rubber—DOWN THE CENTER where you most need tires to GRIP—cut in and take hold the moment you step on your brakes.

And more! Get into a rut or sink into deep mud, sand, slush or snow and these cross-blocks extending UP THE SIDES also take hold.

Drive in safety! Trade in those slippery-tread tires NOW! One accident may cost you many times the price of a change-over.
