Baptizing In Pecos Should Be Passport To Heaven, Says Sam

"Out West of the Pecos," says Sam Ashburn in his column in the Angelo Standard and Times, Rev. M. M. Fulmer, pastor of the Ozona Baptist Church, took part in a wolf chase on the A. C. Hoover ranch near Imperial. Two wolves were killed by the 30 men who rode, and after the hunt, the Rev. Fulmer held services at the well tanks under a brush arbor. The next day some converts were baptized in the Pecos River. A man baptized in the Pecos ought to get a free ticket to Heaven, regardless of his future actions."

Paving Of Ave C May Start Soon

Only One Signature Yet To Get On Two Blocks Of Street

Paving of the first two blocks of Avenue C, from Broadway south, may start soon if the signature of one more property owner on that part of the street can be secured. J. L. Neill of San Angelo, paving contractor, said here this week.

Mr. Neill has been here the past three weeks in an effort to put over a paving project on this and other streets and he announced this week that it was likely that work on surfacing the first two blocks of Avenue C would get under way soon. Whether or not the work will be undertaken before the last block on the street is signed up will depend on property owners who have already signed up. Completion of the project depends on signing up the street 100 per cent. However, Mr. Neill reports that property owners along the first two blocks have indicated a willingness to have that part paved and he expects to be ready to go to work within the next few days, the last block to be completed later.

The street will be coated with an eight-inch base of galche and this will be topped with Uvalde rock asphalt hard surfacing material. The street will be paved 34 feet wide and will be curbed on each side.

Man Wanted Here For Theft Caught

Joe White Captured In Thicket Near McCamey

Joe White, one of six men indicted at the recent special term of the Crockett County district court grand jury on a charge of theft in connection with the theft of approximately $750 worth of oil well casing from the Max Schneemann ranch in Crockett County, belonging to William Wolf of McCamey, was captured recently by McCamey officers and returned to the Crockett County jail to await trial.

White was the only one of the six who had not been captured at the time of the return of indictments and officers have been searching for him since the alleged theft was uncovered.

White was captured by a ruse worked by McCamey officers. He was reported in hiding in a grease wood thicket near McCamey, in Crockett County. Friends of the men were reported to be delivering him supplies at his hiding place, flashing automobile lights on and off as a signal that the coast was clear. McCamey officers, being tipped off to these facts, drove to the scene and flashed their lights. White came out of the thicket at the signal and was placed under arrest, according to information given Sheriff Willis.

Sheriff Willis went to McCamey last week-end and took the man in custody, brought to Ozona and lodged him in the Crockett County jail where four others are awaiting trial on similar charges growing out of the same transaction. One of the six is out on bond.

The six men are alleged to have stolen two truck loads of oil well casing from the Schneemann ranch, hauled it by truck to El Paso, where it was sold. The six will probably face trial at the September term of court, opening here September 21.

From thence they came to Ozona for a visit with Mr. Word's parents. They will be at home on a ranch near Burnett, where Mr. Word will be associated with his father on the property recently acquired there.

Fat Stock Show At San Angelo

Event Feb. 29, Mar. 1-2 Will Replace West Texas Exposition

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 9.—Announcing a Fat Stock Show as a major attraction for 1932, the San Angelo Board of City Development Monday released rules, regulations, and premium lists for the event which will be held on February 29, March 1st and 2nd. The San Angelo Fat Stock Show will be conducted as a department of the Board of City Development and the manager of that organization, J. Culberson Deal, will be secretary-manager of the Fat Stock Show. The premium lists total more than $3200 and include classes for Baby Beeves, Lambs, and Pigs, and registered breeding sheep and goats.

"The Show will in a manner replace the West Texas Exposition which was cancelled for 1931, but we believe that in sponsoring the Fat Stock Show, we are promoting an industry that is basic in West Texas, and are furthering the interests of farmers, ranchmen, and Club Boys and Girls," said Mr. Deal in announcing the new Show. "The Feeder-Breeder movement is gaining momentum in West Texas, and each year greater numbers are taking interest in the county 4-H Clubs, and in the Vocational Agriculture Courses in our schools. It is to promote the movement to feed Texas livestock on Texas feed, and to create added interest in the Boys and Girls work in livestock feeding that we are featuring the San Angelo Fat Stock Show."

The Executive Committee is composed of C. A. Broome, chairman, W. I. Marschall, J. W. Johnson, Jr., Dr. D. E. Hughes, D. T. Jones, T. R. Logan, John P. Lee, N. D. Blackstone, E. E. Young, and J. C. Deal. Early in August those men formulated a tentative set of rules and regulations, and premium lists for the Show. These lists were mailed to some thirty county agents and vocational agriculture teachers in West Texas, and they were requested to study them and to attend a luncheon as the guests of the Board of City Development on August 10th for a discussion and decision on final rules and premiums. Thirteen West Texas Counties were represented at the luncheon when final rules and premium lists were adopted.

It is the desire of the management to make this an outstanding event in West Texas, and in outlining all plans for the Exposition the guiding point has been to conform to the needs and conditions existent in this great livestock and agricultural region, that their best interests might be served.

A picture of J. W. Owens, prominent Crockett County breeder of registered Rambouillet sheep, appeared in the Wednesday issue of the Fort Worth Star Telegram. Mr. Owens was recently elected a director of the American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders Association.

Pleas Childress, Jr., will be a student in Kemper Military School in Boonville, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Pleas Childress, Sr., will take him as far as San Angelo Sunday where he will take the train for the rest of the trip.

Await Word On Sewer Project

No Answer Received From Company On Survey Result

Results of the survey made by contractors here last week as a preliminary step in arriving at an estimate of the cost of installing a modern sewer system have not been made known here, and local boosters of the sewer plan are anxiously awaiting word from company officials revealing what action it plans to take.

Directors of the Southwest Sewer Company at Dallas voted to install the system here provided the contract cost of the installation work is not excessive. The contractor who has been doing much of the work for the company was sent here to make an investigation of the local ground in order that he might make a close estimate of the cost. Borings were made on all principal streets of the town to locate the depth of rock and a full investigation of the project was made by the contractors.

Whether or not the contractor has furnished the company an estimate of the cost has not been learned. Some word is expected from company officials within the next few days, however.

Teachers Return From Institute

Everything In Readiness For School Opening Monday

Teachers in Crockett County schools for the coming year are expected to return to Ozona today from Alpine, where they have been attending institute this week Friday and Saturday will be spent by the teachers in getting everything in readiness for the opening of school Monday morning.

Assignment of teachers to the various grades was to have been made during the institute in Alpine, according to Supt. John L. Bishop, and the assignments will be announced with the opening of school.

No formal exercises will be held at the opening. Opening exercises will be delayed pending formal opening of the new High School building now under construction and will be combined with dedication ceremonies when the new building is ready for occupancy. The new building is expected to be ready for opening sometime in December, it has been estimated.

Superintendent and Mrs. Bishop returned late last week from Boulder, Colo., where Mr. Bishop has been taking special work in the University and they left Sunday for Alpine to be present for the opening of institute week on Monday. Other teachers were here over the week-end securing lodging and getting things ready for school opening Monday.

Davidson Herd Is Making Good Show

Crockett County Herefords On Tour Of Middle West Circuit

That really fine cattle are raised in Texas seemed to be a distinct surprise to many breeders of the north and northwest when they viewed the Crockett County herd of Joe T. Davidson on the Middle West fair circuit, according to Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Davidson, who left the herd at Des Moines, Iowa, returning here early this week. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson were gone four weeks.

The Davidson herd is making a good showing against stiff competition on the Middle West circuit, Mrs. Davidson said. The first showing was at Aurora, Ill., where the Texas cattle took five ribbons, at Springfield, Ill., the local herd took fourteen ribbons and at Des Moines a still better showing was made, and they stood well in Lincoln, Neb. The herd is now in Topeka, Kans., where they are showing.

There is only one animal in the herd of thirteen that has not yet placed in the money, Mrs. Davidson said. This is a new addition to the Davidson herd, recently purchased. All the rest have stood up well against strong entries in their classes. The cattle are doing well on the travel, improving in appearance and gaining a better coat of hair, Mrs. Davidson declared.

There are thirteen head in the Davidson herd, seven bulls and six cows. The herd will be on the fair circuit until about the middle of October. Other shows in which the cattle are entered are at Hutchinson, Kans., Oklahoma, City, Muskogee, Okla., the Dallas State Fair, and Shreveport, La. From Shreveport the herd may be taken to still another show or may be brought home, depending on their condition at that time, Mrs. Davidson said. The herd is in charge of Neil Wickizer.

Paving Of Ave C May Start Soon

Only One Signature Yet To Get On Two Blocks Of Street

Paving of the first two blocks of Avenue C, from Broadway south, may start soon if the signature of one more property owner on that part of the street can be secured. J. L. Neill of San Angelo, paving contractor, said here this week.

Mr. Neill has been here the past three weeks in an effort to put over a paving project on this and other streets and he announced this week that it was likely that work on surfacing the first two blocks of Avenue C would get under way soon. Whether or not the work will be undertaken before the last block on the street is signed up will depend on property owners who have already signed up. Completion of the project depends on signing up the street 100 per cent. However, Mr. Neill reports that property owners along the first two blocks have indicated a willingness to have that part paved and he expects to be ready to go to work within the next few days, the last block to be completed later.

The street will be coated with an eight-inch base of galiche and this will be topped with Uvalde rock asphalt hard surfacing material. The street will be paved 34 feet wide and will be curbed on each side.

Man Wanted Here For Theft Caught

Joe White Captured In Thicket Near McCamey

Joe White, one of six men indicted at the recent special term of the Crockett County district court grand jury on a charge of theft in connection with the theft of approximately $750 worth of oil well casing from the Max Schneemann ranch in Crockett County, belonging to William Wolf of McCamey, was captured recently by McCamey officers and returned to the Crockett County jail to await trial.

White was the only one of the six who had not been captured at the time of the return of indictments and officers have been searching for him since the alleged theft ring was uncovered.

White was captured by a ruse worked by McCamey officers. He was reported in hiding in a grease wood thicket near McCamey, in Crockett County. Friends of the men were reported to be delivering him supplies at his hiding place, flashing automobile lights on and off as a signal that the coast was clear. McCamey officers, being tipped off to these facts, drove to the scene and flashed their lights. White came out of the thicket at the signal and was placed under arrest, according to information given Sheriff Willis.

Sheriff Willis went to McCamey last week-end and took the man in custody, brought to Ozona and lodged him in the Crockett County jail where four others are awaiting trial on similar charges growing out of the same transaction. One of the six is out on bond. The six men are alleged to have stolen two truck loads of oil well casing from the Schneemann ranch, hauled it by truck to El Paso, where it was sold. The six will probably face trial at the September term of court, opening here September 21.

Cal Word, Jr., Weds Miss Maurine White Of Stephenville, Tex.

At a quiet wedding attended by the parents of the bride and groom and a number of school friends of both, Miss Maurine White, of Stephenville became the bride of Cal Word, Jr. of this city. The wedding was solemnized Saturday, August 22 in the First Baptist Church of Stephenville, the home of the bride, Rev. W. H. Andrews of Stephenville officiating. The church had been decorated with pink roses by friends of the bride. Miss Mamey Lou Parr, of Waco was the maid of honor.

From thence they came to Ozona for a visit with Mr. Word's parents. They will be at home on a ranch near Burnett, where Mr. Word will be associated with his father on the property recently acquired there.

Mrs. Word is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. White of Stephenville. She has visited in Ozona a number of times and has many friends here. It was while Mr. Word was a student in John Tarleton College at Stephenville, that they met and their romance began. Cal Word Junior, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Word of this city has lived practically all his life here in Ozona and is a graduate of the Ozona High School, where he made a good record both in scholarship and athletics.

FIRE DESTROYS HOME

Fire, believed to have started from a gasoline stove, destroyed the home occupied by Hugh Yancy west of the draw last Saturday. The home and furnishings were a complete loss. Mrs. Yancy and the children were asleep when the fire broke out and the house was a mass of flames when they were awakened.

Fat Stock Show At San Angelo

Event Feb. 29, Mar. 1-2 Will Replace West Texas Exposition

SAN ANGELO, Sept. 9.—Announcing a Fat Stock Show as a major attraction for 1932, the San Angelo Board of City Development Monday released rules, regulations, and premium lists for the event which will be held on February 29, March 1st and 2nd. The San Angelo Fat Stock Show will be conducted as a department of the Board of City Development and the manager of that organization, J. Culberson Deal, will be secretary-manager of the Fat Stock Show. The premium lists total more than $3200 and include classes for Baby Beeves, Lambs, and Pigs, and registered breeding sheep and goats.

"The Show will in a manner replace the West Texas Exposition which was cancelled for 1931, but we believe that in sponsoring the Fat Stock Show, we are promoting an industry that is basic in West Texas, and are furthering the interests of farmers, ranchmen, and Club Boys and Girls," said Mr. Deal in announcing the new Show. "The Feeder-Breeder movement is gaining momentum in West Texas, and each year greater numbers are taking interest in the county 4-H Clubs, and in the Vocational Agriculture Courses in our schools. It is to promote the movement to feed Texas livestock on Texas feed, and to create added interest in the Boys and Girls work in livestock feeding that we are featuring the San Angelo Fat Stock Show."

The Executive Committee is composed of C. A. Broome, chairman, W. I. Marshall, J. W. Johnson, Jr., Dr. D. E. Hughes, D. T. Jones, T. R. Logan, John P. Lee, N. D. Blackstone, E. E. Young, and J. C. Deal. Early in August those men formulated a tentative set of rules and regulations, and premium lists for the Show. These lists were mailed to some thirty county agents and vocational agriculture teachers in West Texas, and they were requested to study them and to attend a luncheon as the guests of the Board of City Development on August 10th for a discussion and decision on final rules and premiums. Thirteen West Texas Counties were represented at the luncheon when final rules and premium lists were adopted.

It is the desire of the management to make this an outstanding event in West Texas, and in outlining all plans for the Exposition the guiding point has been to conform to the needs and conditions existent in this great livestock and agricultural region, that their best interests might be served.

A picture of J. W. Owens, prominent Crockett County breeder of registered Rambouillet sheep, appeared in the Wednesday issue of the Fort Worth Star Telegram. Mr. Owens was recently elected a director of the American Rambouillet Sheep Breeders Association.

Pleas Childress, Jr., will be a student in Kemper Military School in Boonville, Mo. Mr. and Mrs. Pleas Childress, Sr., will take him as far as San Angelo Sunday where he will take the train for the rest of the trip.

Await Word On Sewer Project

No Answer Received From Company On Survey Result

Results of the survey made by contractors here last week as a preliminary step in arriving at an estimate of the cost of installing a modern sewer system have not been made known here, and local boosters of the sewer plan are anxiously awaiting word from company officials revealing what action it plans to take.

Directors of the Southwest Sewer Company at Dallas voted to install the system here provided the contract cost of the installation work is not excessive. The contractor who has been doing much of the work for the company was sent here to make an investigation of the local ground in order that he might make a close estimate of the cost. Borings were made on all principal streets of the town to locate the depth of rock and a full investigation of the project was made by the contractors.

Whether or not the contractor has furnished the company an estimate of the cost has not been learned. Some word is expected from company officials within the next few days, however.

Teachers Return From Institute

Everything In Readiness For School Opening Monday

Teachers in Crockett County schools for the coming year are expected to return to Ozona today from Alpine, where they have been attending institute this week. Friday and Saturday will be spent by the teachers in getting everything in readiness for the opening of school Monday morning.

Assignment of teachers to the various grades was to have been made during the institute in Alpine, according to Supt. John L. Bishop, and the assignments will be announced with the opening of school.

No formal exercises will be held at the opening. Opening exercises will be delayed pending formal opening of the new High School building now under construction and will be combined with dedication ceremonies when the new building is ready for occupancy. The new building is expected to be ready for opening sometime in December, it has been estimated.

Superintendent and Mrs. Bishop returned late last week from Boulder, Colo., where Mr. Bishop has been taking special work in the University and they left Sunday for Alpine to be present for the opening of institute week on Monday. Other teachers were here over the week-end securing lodging and getting things ready for school opening Monday.

Davidson Herd Is Making Good Show

Crockett County Herefords On Tour Of Middle West Circuit

That really fine cattle are raised in Texas seemed to be a distinct surprise to many breeders of the north and northwest when they viewed the Crockett County herd of Joe T. Davidson on the Middle West fair circuit, according to Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Davidson, who left the herd at Des Moines, Iowa, returning here early this week. Mr. and Mrs. Davidson were gone four weeks.

The Davidson herd is making a good showing against stiff competition on the Middle West circuit, Mrs. Davidson said. The first showing was at Aurora, Ill., where the Texas cattle took five ribbons. At Springfield, Ill., the local herd took fourteen ribbons and at Des Moines a still better showing was made, and they stood well in Lincoln, Neb. The herd is now in Topeka, Kans., where they are showing.

There is only one animal in the herd of thirteen that has not yet placed in the money, Mrs. Davidson said. This is a new addition to the Davidson herd, recently purchased. All the rest have stood up well against strong entries in their classes. The cattle are doing well on the travel, improving in appearance and gaining a better coat of hair, Mrs. Davidson declared.

There are thirteen head in the Davidson herd, seven bulls and six cows. The herd will be on the fair circuit until about the middle of October. Other shows in which the cattle are entered are at Hutchinson, Kans., Oklahoma, City, Muskogee, Okla., the Dallas State Fair, and Shreveport, La. From Shreveport the herd may be taken to still another show or may be brought home, depending on their condition at that time, Mrs. Davidson said. The herd is in charge of Neil Wickizer.

Rev. Fulmer Given Surprise Dinner On 30th Birthday

Deacons of the Ozona Baptist Church were guests at a surprise dinner and stag party given Wednesday evening by Mrs. M. M. Fulmer at her home honoring Rev. Fulmer's 30th birthday. It was a stag affair and a tasty dinner had been prepared by Mrs. Fulmer for the occasion.

Deacons present were H. O. Word, A. C. Hoover, Ira M. Carson, R. J. Cooke, J. H. McClure, J. T. Keeton, Ernest Dunlap and A. W. Jones. During the course of the evening Rev. Fulmer was presented with a Dickson's Master Bible as a gift from the church congregation in honor of the occasion and as a token of appreciation for his work in behalf of the local church as its pastor.

THE OUTLOOK

We notice that the President's Emergency Committee on Employment is telling people over the radio to keep all the young people in school this coming Winter instead of letting them go to work and take jobs which might otherwise go to men and women who have family responsibilities. We think that is sound advice, unless the head of the family is out of a job and the boy or girl can get one where the old man can't.

Governor Huey Long of Louisiana has got his law passed making it illegal to grow cotton in that state next year if three-quarters of the other cotton states will do the same. That ought to help, if somebody will show how the cotton growers who depend upon that crop for their sole cash income are going to get along during the cotton "vacation."

The Farm Board, which has more wheat on hand than it knows what to do with, is asking the Shipping Board, which has more ships on hand than it can use, to lend some of those ships to take wheat to China, where the people are starving but will be able to pay for the wheat, in time, if the wheat gets to them in time to save their lives. That sounds like good sense to us, especially if the wheat is packed in cotton sacks, which will help the cotton growers some.

Governor Roosevelt of New York has got his Legislature to agree to appropriating twenty million dollars to aid the unemployed. The money will be raised by increasing the state income tax fifty percent. That is one good way to help. Another is to increase the inheritance taxes on dead men's estates.

Henry Ford is putting 50,000 men back at work at once and says he will be running to full capacity in a few weeks. The New England textile mills are increasing their output and hiring more help.
The automobile tire business is picking up strongly. Electric refrigerators are selling well. People are beginning to buy new clothes everywhere. We've noticed a lot of house painting and building repairing going on, and so many roads being improved that you have to ride the detours to go anywhere, almost.

There's no doubt that we'll all be called on to help the unlucky ones this coming winter, but we seem to notice that as fast as they do get jobs they fasten themselves to them. We would guess that more people are doing real honest work for their money now than any time since the war, and that's the most encouraging sign for the future that we've seen yet.

Lee Wilson of Ozona, accompanied by Misses Lucille and Inez Rogers and Miss Maimie Kirkpatrick, of Ozona, were the week-end guests of his daughter, Melba Wilson. Melba and Irma Lee Wilson returned with them. Mr. Wilson is leaving Ozona for El Paso, where he will be connected with the Buick agency in that city.

SCANDALS

By The Town Gossip

One of the local boys lugged home a dozen bottles of home brew and a pint of alcohol the other night. His wife had told him to bring home something for a stew.

A man from Saratoga placed his town on many lips; he sliced potatoes thin and called them Saratoga Chips. Their fame traveled far and wide, from Maine to Mexico, but we wonder what he'd called them had he lived in Buffalo.

The unemployment problem in Ozona is now solved, says Tom Smith. What part of our unemployed who were not taken care of by the pool and domino halls are now amply provided for in the bowling alley.

Ben Lemmons says whether you are a Jew or not you should take advantage of his big sale prices and do your shopping Thursday and Friday of this week because his store will be closed Saturday in observance of a Jewish holiday.
But even a Jewish New Year can't stand entirely in the way when it's Saturday before school opening Monday and a big sale in progress. Anyway, Ben says, opening the store just a tiny bit, from 5:30 to 8:30 Saturday wouldn't hurt anybody's chances to get to play on a cash register in the hereafter.

Gossip nominates John Pettit
for the post of mosquito catcher.
He claims ability to catch them at the rate of a quart a day. It is evident, especially about dusk each day, that he hasn't been practicing at his art any this summer.

Headline in The Stockman last week said "Woman's Club to Fight Mosquitos." Now if they haven't been fighting them all summer they won't be able to put up much of a scrap now.

Bryan McDonald adds this one to recent mosquito records in these parts. Bryan used to be a farmer, and one day he was out ploughing, according to his tale, using a team of husky horses.
Going to the house for a drink of water, he left his team standing between the rows. Upon returning, his team was gone. He examined the ground about the plough and found the harness scattered about, but there were no horses in sight. Then he looked to one side and saw two big mosquitos pitching horse shoes. They had eaten the horses and these

PUTTING AMERICANS ON THE JOB

There is food for thought for all state governments in a recent action by the Federal Government taken at the instance of the State of Massachusetts. Briefly, Massachusetts asked the Federal Commissioner of Labor to stop issuing labor permits to French-Canadian workers until times improve, and Washington thereupon cancelled all existing permits and issued an order to refrain from granting any more for a time. As a result hundreds of American workingmen are back on the pay-roll.

The situation arose from the closing down of many newsprint mills in Canada, where paper for most of the newspapers in the United States is made. This action threw hundreds of French-Canadian wood-choppers out of work and they flocked across the border into Maine and readily got jobs cutting timber for pulpwood for American mills.

French-Canadians have a special aptitude for chopping down trees. It takes a special knack to fell a tree so that it will not injure standing timber in its fall, and this is an art that has long been mastered by Quebec workers. They are much sought after by all companies who are felling forests.

In former years many of these men emigrated to New England and became naturalized, pursuing their former calling. Recently, however, they found work slack and flocked by the hundreds to Boston and other Yankee coast towns, waiting for hard times to end. Meanwhile hundreds of French-Canadians have been working in the Maine woods while their American fellow-workers were idle. This has all been changed by action from Washington.

Other states might profit by following Massachusetts' example.
It might pay Florida to investigate how many Cuban cigar-makers are working in Tampa; Texas might study how many Mexicans are riding herd while American cowboys are whittling; Kansas may be employing many Canadian harvest hands, and so on.

There is hardly a state in the Union which might not be able to return many of its taxpayers and citizens to work by uncovering a similar situation to that of the alien wood-choppers in the Maine woods and following the lead set by Massachusetts.

that, you will in time.

Youth is the O. K. time, but it will not last. Old age is

ROWENA

Rides The Rumble

BY ETHEL HUESTON

They find Bobbie awaiting them in the hotel at Seattle and she travels with them to Los Angeles where they are met by an unfriendly hotel clerk, who summons the police

"Mr. Blande here?"
"His room is over there. He's in the bath now, I think."
"Call him in, will you?"
"Peter!" Rowena called at the closed door. "Can you come in a minute?"

Peter came at once, the towel still in his hands.

"Hello," he said cheerfully. "What's what?"

"That's what we want to know. Are you Peter Blande?"
"I most certainly am."

"Is one of these ladies your wife?"
"Yes. This lady—Rowena—is my wife."

"Did you register as Mrs. Blande?"

"No, by my maiden name. I am a writer and use my own name for professional reasons."

"You admit that you are his wife, however?"

"Absolutely," said Rowena. "I even brag about it."

"Why, they gave them the bridal suite in Spokane," put in Bobby helpfully.

"Yes, we heard about that. Are you Miss Lowell?"

"Yes, Roberta Lowell."

"Well, I'm sorry, but you're under arrest. All three of you. We have a complaint against you from New York. They say you're not married at all, traveling under false pretenses and want us to hold you. They say you're keeping this young lady by coercion and that you have a demoralizing influence over her."

Rowena and Peter glowered at Bobby.

"What," they demanded sternly, "does this mean?"

"I haven't the faintest idea," said Bobby. "I never saw anything demoralizing about you."

"That," said the officer kindly, "is because you are so innocent. But that lady out there"—and at his indication they turned and a uniformed woman on guard in the corridor just outside their door—

"that lady is from the Juvenile Court. She will take charge of you."

"See here," said Peter angrily, "what sort of tommyrot is this anyhow? This lady is too old for the Juvenile Court. Why, she is her own mistress. She's twenty-three years old."

"Well, according to the complaint from New York, there is nothing we can do about it. Our orders are to put you under arrest. You'll have to talk to the judge."

"But, Peter," cried Rowena, "are you going to let them arrest us for not being married, when we are married! Look at all the trouble we've had. That's proof enough."

"But why should they say you are only pretending to be married if you really are married?"

"Well, who says so? That's the first question. Where did the complaint come from anyhow?"

"From a gentleman in New York by the name of Carter Wellman—"

"You can fix this up," said the officer. "You got influential friends, ain't you? They'll fix you up all right. All they got to do is swear they know all about you and everything's jake and there you are. You just hop down private in your own car with Bill here to show you the way—this is Bill Harmon—fine chap, too—he'll go down with you and introduce you to the judge. He's a swell gent, the judge is. He'll see how things are in a jiffy."

It was the simplest way out, and the officers made it as easy for them as possible, allowed them to walk unescorted through the lobby of the hotel and waited at a respectful distance when Peter stopped to send a telegram, which he wrote with a very firm hand and signaled for Rowena to come and read. It was addressed to Carter Wellman.

"Are you going to marry Roberta Lowell immediately on her return to New York, or are you not? If your engagement is cancelled, as she believes, I shall marry her myself immediately. A rolling brown dumpling gathers nothing but trouble for all concerned. Please state your exact intentions."

"But you can't marry her," protested Rowena. "You're married now."

"Well, he doesn't believe it—and Rackruff, Inc., will pay for that wire if I have to steal a spare tire to get it."

The judge proved extremely sympathetic and agreed with Peter that it was an outrage, no less, the way people in love embroiled innocent bystanders in the tangled web of their affairs. He had his secretary send off a wire to Denver to verify the marriage, and to Rackruff Motors, Inc., in New York, for details of the trip and complete information regarding Rowena and Peter. He even sent for the local Rackruff dealer, who fortunately turned out to be both a native son and a brother Elk. He was willing to stand entirely responsible for their appearance if required. Besides seeing to their freedom he made Rowena a present of a friendly little dog which he had found in his showrooms that morning and which Rowena promptly proceeded to call Constantine. Peter grumbled at the addition to their party but was overruled. And so Rowena had a companion on the rumble seat from then on. By the salesman's good offices they were enabled to return to the hotel without police escort or surveillance of any kind. In the early morning Peter read to the girls the answer to his personal telegram. "Such has been and is my intention," read the telegram. "I am probably the last man living entirely honorable in my dealings with women. Our engagement most certainly is not ended and if you interfere I shall sue. Plan to marry her instant of her arrival."

New York Prisoners

Small towns, with their one-cell "hoose-gows" in which tramps are the usual inmates for a one-night sojourn, think of New York as a terrible place, with its many thousands of prisoners. These men are held in police stations, the notorious Tombs, where Harry Thaw was held for the many months of his trial, the old Blackwell's Island, in the East River where sentences over a month and less than a year are served, and many other houses of detention.

Two Federal prisons are also located in the city, Governor's Island, where soldiers and sailors under sentence are immured, and Fort Wadsworth, which ranks with Leavenworth and Atlanta, although very much smaller. There is also the Federal House of Detention, at West and Eleventh Streets, where men are held for trial.

No Conversationalists

Fort Wadsworth, which has been used as a Federal prison for only a year, recently has been under fire in the newspapers. Charges were openly made that millionaire convicts had paid various sums ranging from $500 to $1,000 to be transferred from the gruelling hot penitentiaries at Atlanta and Leavenworth to the cool confines of the jail located at the Narrows.

A trip there to uncover the truth of such charges netted practically nothing as far as official information goes. Everybody at the lovely fort refused to give out the slightest bit of information. They even declined, pleasantly enough, to discuss what uniforms the inmates were forced to wear, although one could see it consists of a white broadcloth shirt, well laundered, and a pair of well-made blue trousers.

The only admission vouchsafed was that the place was run as an honor farm. The men were free to come and go within the confines of the quadrangle, which comprises about three acres of beautifully kept gardens tended by the men. There seemed to be no locks and bars, although we did not get to see the cells.

No Escape

The records show there have been practically no escapes from the fort in the year it has been used as a prison. The guards, one can readily see, carry no firearms and could be overpowered by the men who outnumber them one hundred to one.

Instead, there is a lack of any seeming restraint. For instance one of the guards wanted the chairs in which the convicts had been sunning themselves taken back into the building, and we expected to hear a sharp order. What we actually heard was this: "Some of you fellows hustle those chairs inside, please."

The prisoners nearest to empty chairs merely picked them up and they melted out of sight in an instant. It all looked like a scene at a barn dance when the floor is cleared for dancing. Just one man to another.

Not Any Soft Snap

Whatever truth there may be in the report prisoners paid to be sent to Fort Wadsworth from other hot prisons, there cannot be any idea the place is a summer resort. In the day time the breezes are balmy, the scenes of New York Bay beautiful, and the surroundings delightful. But the hidden hand is present.

All mail and packages are censored; prisoners are allowed to receive their families and friends only in the public room, and then only at stated intervals. Paraphrasing the soldier's army slogan during the war, "They're in the prison now!"

Studying the men, one was disturbed by the hang-dog expressions on their faces, the lagging walk, the lack of ambition. One prisoner alone showed signs of mental activity. We observed him furtively watching us from a distance. His expression was that of a snarling wolf behind bars. It made us sorry the guards were so noncommunicative as we would have liked to learn what he was serving time for.

Maybe he had crashed a national bank; or headed a rum running fleet; or was a notorious forger. Beyond question, he was a man of high mental attainments.

An Antisocial Deduction

Sizing up the convicts as a body forced the deduction that they formed a splendid body of men.

They averaged away up in intelligence and social graces. In their well-kept "uniforms," they looked like men at a tennis match or yachting event.

Some of the younger men were handsome. Real heart-breakers. We saw one of these young chaps taking leave of a girl, at the end of the public reception hour. They clung to each other, sobbing pitifully, utterly oblivious to the convicts around them.

A desirable summer resort say the critics. Oh, yeah!

Attention of the Ozona Lions Club was called Monday to the announcement of the Ozona Woman's Club that it plans a campaign to rid Ozona of the mosquito pest and the club agreed to work with the Woman's Club in achieving this end. The Club also named a committee to investigate local utility rates and find out whether or not this town is entitled to reductions that are being urged in other towns.

Misses Louise Henderson and Elizabeth Perner will leave this week for Nashville Tenn., where they will enter Waid Belmont.

Miss Willie Ann Wheat, who formerly taught school here and is now employed in the Mark schools, is spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Oberkang.

Mrs. Jake Short of Bandera is visiting her sister, Mrs. Fleet Henderson, and other relatives.

ENGINES

A young man named Cramer astonished the world the other day by flying from Detroit to Greenland without telling anybody that he was going. The important thing about that flight is that he didn't use any gasoline. His engine is of the Diesel type, which uses anything in the form of oil for fuel. As he put it, he could fly it on butter or whaleoil if necessary.

The best gasoline engines today are only 8 per cent efficient—that is, they utilize only 8 per cent of the power in the fuel. Crude oil engines of the Diesel type are more efficient than that but still far from perfect. The next thing in engines will be one in which the waste of energy necessary to convert reciprocal motion into rotary motion will be done away with.

CONTRAST

The city of Chanute, Kansas, is probably the most prosperous community in America, if not in the world. Its people pay no taxes whatever.

The city of Fall River, Massachusetts, is in the hands of a receiver, because of inability to meet its obligations out of tax receipts.

Chanute gets enough revenue from municipally-owned gas, electric and water utilities to pay all the running expenses of the town as well as support an airport and a brass band. The city is run by business men. Fall River has been run by politicians for generations. The principal argument against public ownership of public utilities is that they would be run for the benefit of the politicians instead of for the benefit of the people. That is not always the case, at Chanute is proving.

Other guests present were: Mesdames Richard Flowers, Hugh Childress, Jr., Alvin Harrell, Misses Carolyn and Helen Montgomery, Louise Henderson, Elizabeth Perner, Mildred North, Wayne Augustine, Ellen Schauer, Jessie Hunter, Jessie Ingham, Linora Dudley and Maurine Rankin. Punch with orange ice and cakes were served.

PENSIONS

Today every man who served in any of our wars before the World War is receiving a pension. Soon all the World War veterans will be on the pension roll. Employees in the civil service of the Federal Government now get pensions at the age of 70. Most states provide pensions for dependent mothers. Many states have old-age pension systems. Nearly all school systems now retire aged teachers on pensions. Many industries pension old employees. Firemen, policemen and other municipal employees in the big cities all get pensions after a given term of service. Even Al Smith is on the New York State Civil pension roll.

Much of the worry of middle age would be eliminated if everybody could look forward to a peaceful old age not dependent upon charity. Perhaps the incentive to thrift would be impaired, but I doubt that. And I believe that eventually some such system will be adopted everywhere.

SEAPORTS

Chicago got greatly excited a short time ago when the Swedish freighter "Anna," with a cargo of barbed wire and sardines entered the Chicago River with the Swedish flag flying. It has long been Chicago's dream to become a seaport. Chicago enthusiasts picture a deep-water channel from the St. Lawrence through the Great Lakes to the very heart of the United States.

That is an engineering possibility, but whether it would pay is another question. Ocean transportation is always a risky venture. Very few shipowners are making money these days. The demand is constant for greater speed and quicker "turn-around" between ocean terminals. The passage through any inland waterway is necessarily slow.

However, Chicago has set her heart on becoming a seaport and what Chicago goes after she usually gets.

PARALYSIS

The East this year is having another epidemic of infantile paralysis. The West is comparatively free from this terrible scourge. It is one of the few diseases of which the exact cause is still unknown to science, and for which no effective preventive measures have been devised. Cure is uncertain, and complete recovery practically unknown.

While it cripples the bodies, especially the legs, of its victims, infantile paralysis sometimes seems to sharpen the brain. Governor Roosevelt of New York was infected by this disease, which seldom attacks adults, eight years ago. He is able now to walk without leg braces, with the aid of a couple of canes, while his mind is as active as ever. I know one girl who was infected in the 1916 epidemic who refused to be licked by her affliction and has succeeded in establishing herself as

It is small consolation to a mother whose child is deprived of its normal physical life by infantile paralysis, to realize that it still has a chance to develop its mental activities, but there is always that ray of hope.

Hints for the Home

Rhubarb Dumplings

Wash and cut the rhubarb in inch pieces, and stew with little more than half its weight in sugar and just a little water. While it is cooking mix a flour batter in the proportion of a pint of flour, a half teaspoonful of salt, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, and a scant cup of sweet milk, then drop it by the spoonful into the boiling rhubarb. The result is delicious. Eat hot with or without cream.

Beet and Rhubarb Jelly

This is a fine relish to serve with the meat course. Take equal parts of young beets, boiled tender, and rhubarb sliced without peeling. Cook together until very tender, put through a sieve, then through a jelly bag. Measure the juice, and to a pint allow a pound of sugar. Heat the sugar in the oven, add to the hot juice and cook five minutes longer. Turn into heated glasses and cover when cold with paraffin.

Rhubarb and Orange

Cut the rhubarb in short lengths and cover with sugar for an hour before cooking. Then cook in a double boiler, with the juice of one orange squeezed over it, and no water. When tender, cool and serve.

Sweet Baked Custard

Make the same as the above, mixing 1 1/2 teaspoonfuls sugar with the egg and of course omitting the beef extract.

Cucumber Salad

Chill the cucumbers and slice them thin and place them on crisp white lettuce leaves. Sprinkle over them some chopped pimentos and serve with French dressing.

MELONS

You may, if you have patience, cut balls from watermelon with a French vegetable cutter. The balls should be carefully cut so that they will contain no seeds. If a French vegetable cutter is not available, then the watermelon pulp may be cut into solid little cubes. The balls or cubes are used in salads and in fruit cups.

For a watermelon fruit cup, pile the chilled balls or cubes in dessert cups or glasses, sprinkle with a little lemon juice and powdered sugar, and serve. Or sprinkle with minced mint leaves and serve.

For watermelon on salad, put the cubes or balls on lettuce, crisp, white heart leaves, and serve with French dressing made with lemon juice or with mayonnaise.

Watermelon balls or cubes may be combined with other seasonable fruits in fruit cup or salad. It is delicious combined with peach, pear, orange and grapefruit. Balls or cubes of cantaloupe or honeydew are also good in salad or fruit cup, served just as watermelon would be. Occasionally a fruit cup containing so many fruits where there are hardly two pieces alike in each serving is good. One that I ate of that sort not long ago contained watermelon and cantaloupe, peach, pear, red cherries, white cherries, grapefruit, pineapple, maraschino cherries and red raspberries, oranges and banana. It was really delicious.

SARDINES

You have no idea how many varieties of sardines are to be had at the large grocery stores. There are domestic sardines from California, French sardines with and without bones. Sardines that are both skinless and boneless, sardines in oil and sardines in tomato, sardines in tin and in glass, Norway, and for sandwiches and appetizers there is sardine paste that comes in glass jars and in tubes.

SAY "HELLO" TO DALLAS

SAY TO LONG DISTANCE:

"I'm calling Dallas." Then give her the number if you know it or say: "I'll talk to anyone who answers at the home of (name of friend)." That's how to place a station-to-station call. Usually the call goes through while you hold the line.

TIP ON RATES

Such calls cost less than calls on which you ask for a specific person. After 8:30 p. m. station-to-station rates are about half the day rate. Use station-to-station service when you are reasonably sure the person you want will be near the called telephone.

Modern Electrical Refrigeration Keeps Vegetables Crisp and Tasty

HAPPY electric refrigerator owners have eliminated the problem of preserving fresh fruits and vegetables during these hot summer months. They merely place perishables in the spacious moist-air compartment, where their fresh-from-the-garden taste and appearance is maintained for an indefinite period. Even wilted and unusable greens become firm and fresh after over-night storage in the moist-air section!

Just imagine the hot-weather-convenience of this one advantage alone—think of the substantial economies that will result from the savings to be gained. And the moist-air compartment is just one of many Electric Refrigeration advantages.

Ask a salesman to show you the new Frigidaires. Ask for a demonstration of the Hydrator, Cold Control, acid-resisting porcelain-on-steel and many other superiorities of the beautiful new models. No obligation, of course, and terms can be arranged to suit the most modest budget requirements.

Do you know that your increased use of Electric Service is billed on a surprisingly low rate schedule . . . and adds only a small amount to your total bill?

ROWENA Rides the Rumble

In fact, expect to meet here with license, ring and minister. Wire what train."

So at ten-ten Peter and Rowena stood side by side under the quaint tiled portico of the Santa Fe station and waved a fond—and not ungratified—farewell to little brown Bobby.

The misadventures of Bobby's return and their legal entanglements in Los Angeles had keyed them to a high nervous tension, but when they had left the limits of the city a sudden quiet restfulness descended upon them. Rowena drooped drowsily against his shoulder.

"Shall I put up the umbrella in the rumble seat?" Peter asked facetiously.

But Rowena pretended she was asleep.

By the time they reached the outskirts of San Diego, Peter as well as Rowena confessed to a complete exhaustion, mental as well as physical.

They pulled up at the U. S. Grant Hotel. There was no boy in sight and Peter, unwilling to waste a moment, himself carried their bags into the lobby and hurried over to the desk. He was surprised at being immediately accommodated with two single rooms.

Their good fortune followed them and they both had a real good night's rest.

Peter had all the bags stowed neatly away in the car the next morning, ready for their start for the East, when Rowena tripped out of the hotel, leading the freshly washed Constantine on a brand new leash attached to a brand-new collar.

"Gosh, Rowena," ejaculated Peter, "what'll we do with the mutt? I forgot about him?"

"Do with Constantine!" she echoed. "Why, we'll buy him a nice silk cushion to ride on, and get him a fresh bone every day. And charge it all to Rackruff."

Peter did his best picture at Grand Canyon, one which brought him no small amount of praise and profit. It was the Rackruff and Rowena riding through the rainbow fringe, with Constantine's queer, quaint black and white head nodding approbation beside her.

Rowena was not having the best of luck with her work in those declining weeks of their tour. She kept a pencil and note-book constantly at hand, even teaching Constantine to carry them for her on command, but ideas were not coming to her with much frequency. For the first time in her life, Rowena did not feel like writing, did not want to be bothered, and it may as well be added, her writing was far below its usual standard.

They lapsed into comfortable silence. They did not quarrel so much when they were alone—there seemed less point to it. To be sure, when occasion required, they would wither each other with a scathing word, but they never went to the old lengths.

In Albuquerque, when Peter had registered and called for their mail he was handed half a dozen telegrams and two or three letters.

"Nothing for Miss Rostand," said the clerk.

"What?" ejaculated Rowena. "Nothing for me? Not anything? Why, Buddy always—he surely must have written. Oh, please look again! There must be at least one!"

The clerk obligingly ran through the mail again.

"Sorry—not a thing," he said again.

"Dear me," said Rowena thoughtfully. "How—extremely—odd!"

Alone in his own room, Peter took off his coat and settled down to his mail. A quick glance at the letters told him they were of no especial importance and he turned to the telegrams. The two that he opened first were from the Company, but the third started off on an odd note.

"Darling, I hate to ask you again," Peter read, his eyes starting with surprise. "Devil's own luck. Lost fifty bucks at craps. Got to have it this week or they will chuck me out. Rush it by wire. Wish I hadn't played." It was signed "Buddy."

To Peter it made no sense at all. He turned it over and scrutinized the address again. Ah! That explained it. It was addressed not to "Mr." but to "Mrs. Peter Blande."

His mind traveled back over the trip. Buddy—that was her brother—Ronald Rostand. Ready for his third year in college and taking summer courses to cut down the time and expense. Rowena had received a letter or telegram from him at every stop en route. He remembered her subsequent counting of bills and rush for a telegraph office—her complete financial stringency—the way she starved herself, eschewing all desserts—her thousand painful small economies.

Now Peter realized fully what it meant—this thing that he was going to do. Knew quite well that when Buddy wrote back in complaint of this unwarranted outside interference, Rowena's rage would be beyond bounds.

They had talked sometimes of the future when their motor tour was over, thought they would probably be good friends in later years when their business vicissitudes were separate and distinct, and no longer bound up by compulsion in each other's work and wish. But if Peter flung open insult at Buddy—"The sacred cow!" he sneered—all such hopes for the future were null and void. Well, Peter told himself, he didn't know that he cared. After all, he didn't get on so very well with Rowena. But she was a good sport—the best sport he had ever seen—and deserved a better break than Buddy was giving her.

Peter's grip on the pen made it a sword as he gave form to his scathing thoughts.

"Granting to begin with that it is none of my business," he wrote heavily, "it nevertheless affords me great pleasure to tell you that in my opinion you are an unspeakable cad. You may not know—of course you do not know, for Rowena is one Rostand who is a rousing good sport and would not throw up her privations to you—that in order to meet your insatiable demands for money, your sister, tired and exhausted as she is by hard work and long driving, has saved money by doing her own laundry in the bathtub at nights; has starved herself on soup and coffee and gone without a proper meal for days at a time.

"Better men than you have worked their way through college

For Rowena's sake, I myself am sending you the fifty bucks.

"It is of course quite necessary for me to explain that Rowena does not know that you wired for this money nor that I am sending it. Your telegram was handed me by mistake and I opened it under the impression it was for me."

And without an instant's hesitation he endorsed his sentiments with the signature that would one day be worth thousands—"Peter Blande."

Peter was pretty uncomfortable about the whole business. He was not used to any sort of double dealing and was not at all sure but at any moment officers of the law—or perhaps the telegraph company—would hale him away to jail to expiate his unwarranted manipulation of other people's affairs by telegraph.

At El Paso Rowena had two letters. She sat right down in the nearest chair to read them, and Peter stalked moodily from cigar stand to desk and back again, and watched her furtively.

Peter could stand it no longer. "Buddy O. K.?" he inquired anxiously.

"He's entirely too O. K. I'm worried." "You can't be too O. K." protested Peter. "Nobody can.—What do you mean?"

ARE ALL THE CHANCES GONE?

You run across all sorts of surprises in the course of a business week. For instance, the vice-president of a big chain store organization was telling me a business story. And what do you suppose he based it on? The Bible.

He has charge of the company's personnel. It is a job to sort over a hundred young fellows in order to find the one who will start at small wages, work long hours, and fight his way up to the top.

The prizes are big, but the battle is hard, and only the toughest survive.

The part of the Bible to which the vice-president referred was the Feeding of the Five Thousand tired and hungry people. The Lord said, "Feed them."

His disciples, who were practical men, were aghast. "We can't do it," they protested. "It would take too much money."

Others urged: "Send them away."

Finally a boy was discovered in the crowd with five small loaves and two fishes. Said my friend: "All they had to work with was what that boy had."

"So with our company," he continued. "It's one of the leaders, yet there isn't a really brilliant man in it. We've all come up from the ranks."

"We can get money to do anything that we need; but money alone won't do it."

"We can get materials and equipment."

"But all we really have to work with is what our four thousand boys have. They are going to decide what this business will be in the years to come."

When we had this conversation business was booming and all big industries were employing more people. Since then we have had a heart-breaking period of unemployment.

But, good times or bad times, the search for ability goes on. At the bottom of the depression the president of one great industry asked me if I knew where he could find a twenty-five-thousand-dollar man. The president of another said: "We have installed a system of compulsory pensions. We must make sure that this business will continue in the future to be run by young men."

The size and the set-up of businesses change, but their message to youth is just the same:

"Come on with your five loaves and two fishes. All we have to go on is what you boys have."
